for the Record

by G. H. C.

The tragic death of Roger LeFever this week under the wheels of an automobile should bring home to parents and motorists alike the ease with which a life may be snuffed out as a result of a moment of carelessness. Although there were no witnesses to the accident, the skid marks of the car's tires bore mute testimony to the probability that Roger had ridden his bike out of a blind street directly into the path of the oncoming car, whose driver had then veered sharply to the left side of the road into a deep ditch in a fruitless attempt to avoid hitting the child.

Like most accidents, it would not have happened if... Every accident, however, has its "if"—faulty brakes, excessive speed, a momentary lapse in the driver's mental processes, or on the part of the victim some failure to give heed for an instant to elementary safety precautions. Though the cause may have endured only for an instant, the consequences can last a life time.

How important, then, is the instruction in safety precautions that is given in our schools, and by parents to their children even before they are old enough to go to school? Too much cannot be done along these lines to instill in children, and grownups too, a healthy respect and regard for the fact that both an automobile and a shot gun have the same potential for causing serious accidents or death.

If safety lessons for children are important, so too is instruction to adults in their responsibility for careful driving when they are seated behind the wheel of an automobile. And although it was not a factor in the present instance, we sometimes wonder when car manufacturers proudly advertise the greater power of their new engines, if the responsibility for safety rests only with the car owner and his potential victim.

Efforts of the committee in charge of raising funds for construction of the proposed St. Mary's Hospital have been suspended in favor of seeking to have the project underwritten by the Metropolitan Building Fund of Detroit, according to Sterling Eaton, general chairman. This new organization got under way at the same time as the St. Mary's drive. It was set up by the large corporations in Detroit to screen the many requests that are made each year for donations toward various public undertakings.

The St. Mary's fund raising committee learned of the Metropolitan Building Fund of Detroit only when it went to some of the large companies in this area for financial support. The committee was told that to qualify for aid, it must discontinue its active fund raising campaign.

To date, the Detroit organization has held a hearing on the project and decided that there appears to be no immediate community-wide need for acute care hospital beds in the area. The St. Mary committee has appealed this decision and has made a second presentation of its case, but has not yet received a reply.

Chairman Eaton says the rank and file of people in the community have supported the hospital project generously, with gifts and pledges of more than $300,000. This fund has been placed in escrow and, should the hospital not be built, will be returned to the donors.

City Status To Be Object of Village Survey

Whether another campaign will be launched in an effort to gain city-status for Northville will be determined following a village-wide survey to be conducted in the near future, it was decided at the Village commission meeting Monday night.

A delegation from the Retail Merchants Assn., including Pres. Carl Johnson, Nelson Schrader and George Clark, appeared before the commission to request formation of a committee. All three made suggestions, saying that the merchants did not want any greater part in the campaign than any other organization or group of citizens, but was merely acting to bring the issue before the people.

After much discussion, it was decided that a committee would be formed to make tentative plans. Taxpayers will then be polled, given information as to what city-status means, and asked for opinions. Results of the poll then will be laid before the commission, which agreed to act accordingly.

Northville Residents Back from Capital

Business in the plumbing industry throughout the United States continues at a high level with no sign of a recession. This is the opinion expressed by delegates attending the 72nd annual convention of the National Assn. of Plumbing Contractors in Washington May 10-13, according to Glenn C. Long of Northville, who has just returned from the convention. Long was accompanied by Mrs. Long who attended the convention of the women's auxiliary, which was held concurrently.

Public Hearing Set On Walled Lake Incorporation

Citizens of Walled Lake will meet Monday evening in the Walled Lake High school gymnasium to discuss incorporation of the community.

The meeting has been called by the Walled Lake Committee on Incorporation, and will be in the nature of a public hearing. The session is scheduled to begin at 8:15.

Supt. of Schools Clifford Smart will act as moderator of a panel discussion which will include Harry Thomas, Walled Lake resident, an engineer from the City of Oak Park, and a member of the Michigan Municipal League.

Members of the audience will be asked to note questions on cards, which will then be passed to the panel for discussion. Results of questionnaires from 23 other communities sent out by Thomas, publicity chairman of the committee, will be available also for discussion.

Livonian Commits Suicide Here

A Livonia man who was a patient at Sessions hospital here committed suicide Tuesday night, according to Police Chief Joseph Denton.

Eric Lilpa, 55, of 30025 Curtis, Livonia, died at 8:27 p.m. after he had slashed his throat and both wrists with a razor blade. Death was due to loss of blood, doctors reported.

Chief Denton said that Mrs. Elsie Jackson, of 611 S. Lake Rd., Walled Lake, who was visiting a friend across the hall, heard Lilpa call for help about 7:05. She in turn called hospital attendants, but efforts to save the man's life were futile.

Nerreter Gas Well Rumor Is Discounted

Rumors that production of natural gas from the new Nerreter well on Chubb Rd., will be restricted or banned, and that the well may not develop into the $5,000,000 "bonanza" expected, was scotched Wednesday by State Conservation Dept. officials in Lansing.

Oil circles around Northville were buzzing Tuesday with the report that the Nerreter well had been drilled on an oil "license" only, that since it had come in a gusher, the owners and operators would be forced to close it down unless oil could be struck at a greater depth.

"There's absolutely nothing to it," an official of the conservation department told The Record over long distance telephone Wednesday morning. He said that no "license" as such is ever issued, only permits, and that while a driller might take out an oil permit, there was nothing to prevent him producing or selling gas from a well provided certain regulations were observed.

"If it is so determined that a well is a natural dry gas well," he said, "even though the well has been drilled on an oil permit, gas may be taken from it in direct proportion to the number of acres leased by the operator. For example, if the operator cannot communitize more of the 160 acres than 80, then he is allowed to use only 50 percent of the well's capacity."

"If the well is not a natural dry gas well, gas may be taken from it providing the well has been tested by the Public Service Commission and it has been determined that gas removed from the well will not in any way affect the pressure of an oil reservoir."

Mass Meeting on Novi's School Problems Set

Parents and property owners of Novi School District No. 8 have been asked by the Board of Education to attend a mass meeting to be held at the Novi Community Bldg. at 8 p.m. Monday, May 24.

This meeting has been called for the purpose of presenting facts concerning the shortage of rooms in the present school building, and to determine the best possible solution to the problem.

In 1951 five rooms were added to the original four room building. During the coming year there will be a shortage of two classrooms, Novi school officials declare. Before a new school can be built there will be a shortage of three classrooms.

"If the number of pupils in several of the present grades were to increase slightly, we would find ourselves short several additional classrooms," one official said. The cost of five additional rooms to the building in 1951 was approximately $87,000. When the 1954 taxes were paid this debt was reduced to less than $10,000.

"The only alternative to an adequate building program is half-day school sessions. The children in this community deserve the best that we can give them."

A building program can only be accomplished by the cooperation of all the property owners and parents in the school district. Let us meet the challenge after a careful evaluation of all the facts."

All property owners were urged to attend the meeting.

Northville Newsboy Dies In Auto Accident

MUTE EVIDENCE of tragedy, telling its own story, is this photograph of a boy's bicycle and a battered, overturned automobile. Seconds before the two machines came to rest as shown, the bicycle was being ridden by Roger C. LeFever, 13, a Northville newsboy. The car was driven by Oliver Nichols, 29, of Salem, who with his brother, Charles, escaped with only minor injuries. The boy was killed.

Roger LeFever Killed Instantly When Car Hurls Bicycle 50 Feet

Death struck a Northville family suddenly late Monday when Roger C. LeFever, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence LeFever, 501 Cady St., was killed instantly in a violent automobile-bicycle collision at the intersection of Clement Rd. and Frederick St., on the western edge of Northville.

Wayne County Detective Harry Cummings, who investigated the mishap, said the boy apparently had ridden his bicycle out of Frederick St. directly into the path of a southbound car driven by Oliver Nichols, 29, of Salem.

Although there were no witnesses except Nichols and his brother, Charles, 24, also of Salem, time of the accident was placed at approximately 4:05 p.m.

Slams On Brakes

Nichols told officers and a Record reporter that his car was travelling between 35 and 40 miles an hour when the boy dashed out of the side street unexpectedly. He said he immediately slammed on his brakes and swung to the left in an attempt to avoid a collision. The right front bumper struck the bicycle, however, inflicting a deep gash in the boy's throat and injuries on the head.

The car then ripped through several highway safety posts, plunged down a steep embankment on the left side of Clement Rd., somersaulted through a wire fence, and turned over. The automobile was demolished, but both Nichols and his brother miraculously escaped with only minor bumps and bruises.

The bicycle was found wrapped around one of the safety posts when Northville police and sheriff's officers reached the scene. The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Atchison Memorial hospital.

Story Substantiated

Skid marks on the pavement from the point of impact to the edge of the embankment substantiated Nichols' story, police said. He was held overnight in the Wayne county jail, but after making a statement Tuesday to the Wayne county prosecutor he was released.

The boy is believed to have been hurrying along his newspaper route in an effort to reach home in time to go fishing, as he had mentioned that intention to schoolmates. He was a pupil in the seventh grade of junior high school.

Funeral services are scheduled to be held at 2 p.m. this afternoon from St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, with the body lying in state at the Casterlin Funeral home until noon. The Rev. E. E. Rossow will officiate, and burial will be in Oakland Hills cemetery.

Before entering the Army in August, 1953, he attended Western Reserve university in Cleveland.

Novi Veteran Seeks House Seat

A Novi veteran of World War II will be a candidate for state representative from the fourth district of Oakland county, it was announced today.

He is Charles Trickey, Jr., of 43475 First St., Novi. Married and the father of three children, Trickey is 31 and served four years in the U.S. Marine corps. He took an active part in the occupation of Okinawa.

A Republican, Trickey is a member of the Novi Board of Commerce, IOOF, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and is now serving out a term as state commander of AmVets, American Veterans of World War II and Korea.

Mrs. Harry F. Wagenschutz of Northville was elected chairman of the Wayne County Public Library board at a meeting in Detroit Friday.

A member of the board since 1943 following its reorganization, and a member of the old library advisory board of three persons from 1921 to 1943, Mrs. Wagenschutz' election came as the result of her lengthy service and interest in library work. In 1942 she succeeded Mrs. Ethelyn Lapham, also of Northville, who had served two years. With the exception of Dr. Fred C. Fisher, retiring chairman, Mrs. Wagenschutz is the senior member of the board. She has been re-elected three times by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Her term as chairman will begin in July, following the retirement of Dr. Fisher.

"Give Back Our Living Room", Housewife Asks Commission

"Give us back our living room." That was the unusual request made by Mrs. Wilfred Becker, Northville housewife, as she faced a startled Village commission near the close of its regular meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Becker was not being facetious, not in the least. She was in deadly earnest, though possibly a bit nervous.

She explained to the commission that when she and her husband purchased property at 543 Dubuay St. from Mrs. Jennie Cousins of Ann Arbor last December, they were not told that a 24-foot strip across the front of the property had been deeded to the Village years ago when a street widening project was being considered.

"It was quite a shock to us," she said, "to discover later that if the street were widened, it would go right through the middle of our living room."

The commissioners agreed that it would indeed be disconcerting to have street traffic suddenly converge on one's living room while the man of the house was reading his favorite evening paper, and the housewife was darning socks or watching television or whatever housewives do nowadays.

Assessment books were hurriedly brought forth and spread before the commissioners. Sure enough, the plat of Dubuay St. showed a narrow strip across the front of the Becker property, running not only through the house, but through a nearby barn as well.

A deed could not be found immediately, but a map of 1938 showed the applicable entry. One of the commissioners said the house was at least 75 years old; therefore Mrs. Cousins, a widow, unwittingly perhaps had deeded away her own living room at the time the agreement was made with the Village—whenever that was.

The widening project, it developed, had not gone through partially because the Village had not been able to obtain a similar deed for a strip through the adjoining Cy Frid property.

Commissioner Earl C. Reed suggested that if the facts were as Mrs. Becker represented, the Village should deed the Village property back to the Beckers. Comm. John F. Stubenvoll, however, was for holding out until Mrs. Cousins could be prevailed upon to give the Village a strip on the north side of the street, where she still owns property.

Mayor Claude N. Ely called upon Village Atty. Philip Ogilvie and Comm. Reed to investigate the matter, and report back at the next meeting.

Injunction Halts Housing Project at Walled Lake

A temporary injunction restraining a Detroit building firm from proceeding with erection of prefabricated houses has been granted by Circuit Judge Frank Doty of Pontiac at the request of a group of Walled Lake property owners.

A committee of the property owners, headed by Supt. of Schools Clifford Smart, instituted the action through Atty. Ray Munde of Walled Lake and Pontiac, to prevent further construction in Walled Lake Heights subdivision. The committee was appointed following a protest meeting held in Walled Lake grade school, and which was attended by more than 100 irate citizens of the community. Also on the committee is Stanley Voorheis, treasurer, and Beatrice Avey, secretary.

Smart said Tuesday that the injunction granted by Judge Doty was good until next Monday, and that suit already has been filed in circuit court seeking to have it made permanent.

The Walled Lake group contends that the new housing project, on land owned by Manuel Solomon of Detroit, is substandard, will tend to decrease the value of adjoining property, and violates building restrictions.

Unloading of a portion of the prefabricated units from a truck was halted by a number of residents who objected so strenuously that the driver took the units to a similar project on E. Walled Lake Dr., where other housing already had been erected. The protest meeting followed.

Incumbents File for School Board

Only two candidates have filed petitions for vacancies on the Northville Board of Education, Supt. of Schools Russell H. Amerman announced this week. The deadline for filing was last Saturday.

Both of the candidates are incumbents, Robert Coolman and Don B. Severance. Coolman, who is completing his second three-year term, is president of the board. Severance, present board secretary, is completing a three-year term, and served an additional year of the term of a previous board member who resigned four years ago.

The election has been set for June 14, Amerman said.

Northville Woman Heads County Board

Dry Shampoo Brightens Up Rug Carpet

Thinking of including that rug or carpet in your spring cleaning campaign? If you are, here is some how-to-do-it advice from home management specialists at Michigan State college.

"Surfact-brightening" can be done with a dry suds shampoo on Axminster - and and Wilton-type rugs and also on rayon and cotton rugs with a cat pile.

However, if your rug or carpet has an uncut pile or twisted pile, the specialists advise testing the shampoo on an inconspicuous spot to see how it affects the pile.

Choose a nice, clear day for the shampoo treatment. And before shampooing the rug, give it a thorough vacuum cleaning.

Prepare dry suds made with a soapless detergent. This shampoo is easily prepared and leaves no sediment or scum.

To make dry suds, dissolve ¼ cup of mild soapless detergent in 1 cup of hot water in a large mixing bowl. Whip to a dry suds with a rotary egg beater or electric mixer. It will be necessary to beat them up several times during the shampoo process to keep them dry.

Apply the suds liberally to a small area of the rug surface with a soft scrubbing brush, using a circular motion. Excess suds may be scrapped off the surface with the straight edge of a spatula. Wring a soft cloth or a sponge out of warm clean water and rinse the shampooed area.

Brush Nap

First, wipe with a circular motion; then against the nap; and lastly, with the nap. Finish off by brushing with the nap, using a clean brush. Be sure to overlap adjoining areas slightly in order to prevent rings, or light and dark spots in the rug.

Allow the rug to dry thoroughly before using. Usually 24 hours is sufficient. You may want to place an electric fan so that it will circulate the air and speed drying.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* tunes your engine without tools!

Actually releases up to 15% more power by overcoming lead and carbon deposits constantly accumulating in your engine

Acts before you've finished your second tankful

Think of it! Without touching a tool—you can get up to 15% more power from your engine automatically.

The major cause of power loss—pre-ignition and misfiring—can now be overcome by the gasoline you use.

It's an engineering fact

All of today's gasolines—because they are designed to meet the needs of modern high-compression engines—contain deposit-forming compounds. This means that lead and carbon deposits are constantly accumulating in most engines. These deposits rob you of power two ways!

In combustion chambers the deposits get so hot they set off the fuel mixture prematurely. The explosion hits the piston before it's reached the proper firing position.

When this happens, power works against you, not for you. It is called pre-ignition, and it occurs most often when you actually need more power—for accelerating or climbing a hill.

The second way these deposits steal power is by coating the ends of your spark plugs. Because the deposits divert electricity, the spark "shorts out," the plug misfires. Fuel is unburned, produces no power—just wastes your money!

Now you can get that power back—tune your engine without tools with a new kind of gasoline.

You do this by using Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP—the greatest gasoline development since the introduction of tetraethyl lead.

TCP additive breaks through the power barrier set up by the lead and carbon deposits. It "fireproofs" the hot spots in combustion chambers, preventing pre-ignition. Power works for you again.

And on spark plugs, it changes the nature of the deposits to prevent misfiring. You get a full spark again and the spark plug fires every time. Your engine smooths out and delivers up to 15% more power.

TCP acts quickly

Before you've finished your second tankful, you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up. Remember, because these lead and carbon deposits accumulate constantly, continued use of Shell Premium with TCP is essential to retain its full benefits. Shell Premium with TCP is available only at your Shell dealer's.

Many a water system in operation today is like a small boy trying to do a grown man's work. It was probably just right when the owner installed it. But now, because running water offers so many benefits, the system may be given more jobs than it was made to handle.

During May, check up on your system's capacity and pressure. If you want suggestions for increasing them, your Edison Farm Service Advisor will be happy to oblige. Just phone, write or visit any Edison office. No obligation.

Police Seek Park Vandals Near Pontiac

Lansing — A vicious waste of public property occurred at Rochester-Utica recreation area east of Pontiac recently, state parks workers report.

Vandals entered the park at night and broke everything possible in a toilet building, including 32 panes of glass in the windows.

It took parts workers two days to put the building back in condition.

Three nights after repairs were completed, the performance was repeated; all the windows were again smashed and the other equipment broken or torn loose.

The problem of vandalism has long plagued parks work, and has been particularly bad in recent years.

Police efforts to stop the trouble have been increasing, though all such work only means a further drain on already-pinched park budgets.

The Guild members are planning to visit the Multiple Sclerosis and American Cancer agencies on the twentieth of May — another tour which is organized by the United Foundation. By discussion and demonstration the above named agencies outlined the methods used in aiding the once helpless to regain a useful position in life, thus giving the Guild members a better understanding of how the Torch Drive contributions are used.

Unique Instrument Aids U-M Forest Research

LITTLE KNOWN facts about the state's forest history are being uncovered at the University of Michigan through use of this unique recording micrometer, the only one in the nation. Swedish-made, it enables researchers like Stephen H. Spurr, professor of silviculture, to find all the age rings in a tree cross-section or boring, even the hard-to-find ones that can be overlooked in ordinary measuring methods. It also automatically measures and records the distances between the rings, providing highly accurate information about growth rate. Hence, investigators can note years in which drought, storms, fires or other factors influenced growth—as the pins stuck in the wood indicate—and can map out what probably happened in Michigan forests hundreds of years ago. The instrument also can be used to measure insects and is helpful in surveying forests because with it can be determined the size of tree crowns appearing in aerial photographs.

Seek New Inventors Among Our Youth

Inventors are not necessarily dreamers or mechanical wizards. For instance, a school teacher invented the telephone, a bank clerk the hand camera, and a dentist the stock ticker.

Some of our greatest inventors have been young men. Westinghouse invented the air brake at 21; Whitney the cotton gin at 28; McCormick the harvester at 22; and Howe the sewing machine at 27. That is why American manufacturers promote, in high schools and colleges, searches for bright youngsters for special training in science and industry.

The price spread between alfalfa and clover this year is unusually small. M. S. C. specialists believe this should encourage the establishment of alfalfa seedings.

What's a HILL to POWER like this?

You've climbed hills before, we know:

You've come to many a long rise in the road ahead and tramped down on the gas pedal to make the grade.

But did you ever head a ROADMASTER up a hill—a 1954 ROADMASTER?

You seem to sail when you touch off the great V8 power that gives life to this finest of Buicks;

You move ahead and up that long steep pull in a silken, smooth sweep of almost effortless ease—and the thrill your spirits get from such magnificent ability is a precious thing.

And you realize, of course, that a wealth of advanced high-compression V8 power—the (highest horsepower in all Buick history, in fact)—is the heart of this stirring performance.

But you also realize soon enough that your tremendous satisfaction at the wheel of a ROADMASTER comes from more than great power alone.

It comes from the instant response and absolute smoothness of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo.

It comes from the velvety luxury of your all-coil-spring ride. It comes from the superb ease of Safety Power Steering. It comes from the comforting feel of ample roadweight—brought to feather-light handling precision by a new geometry in front-end engineering.

And very definitely, it comes from the eye-catching beauty in which you travel—the look-of-tomorrow styling that graces ROADMASTER today—and with the spectacular new panoramic windshield that is fast becoming the mark of true automobile modernity.

We'll be delighted to seat you at the wheel of a new ROADMASTER—so that you can drive it, try it, feel it.

It costs you nothing to do so—and it can open your eyes to the finest buy in fine cars today. Drop in, or call us this week!

That spiritualization of thought and action is necessary for real progress will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body".
The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite—in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (265:5).
From the Bible will be read the following counsel given by the Apostle Paul to the Corinthians: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (I Corinthians 2:12).
The Golden Text is from II Corinthians: "What agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God" (6:16).

The big car eases out from the boulevard and comes to a soft, silent stop. A man steps out from behind the wheel and heads for his destination.
The license plate reveals him to be a person from another state—a "stranger," so to speak.
But the golden crest on the hood of his motor car tells everyone something about him. For it is the famous crest of Cadillac—and no man is wholly a stranger, wherever he be, when he drives this distinguished car.
Any owner can tell you, out of his own personal experience, that a Cadillac is a virtual "letter of introduction" for the man who sits at its wheel.
He becomes, in a sense, the "stranger" everyone knows—a member of the most distinguished motor-ing fraternity in all the world.
This priceless aspect of Cadillac ownership is but one of the many rewards which come to the owners of Cadillac cars.
In fact, it might even be considered an extra dividend—for it comes in addition to the car's great and distinguishing beauty... its brilliant and inspiring performance... its magnificent comfort and luxury... and its remarkable economy of operation.
As a matter of fact, it would be a formidable task to recite even a basic portion of Cadillac's cardinal virtues for 1954—for the car is superlative in every respect and has been markedly advanced in every phase of appearance and operation.
Of course, it would take only an hour on the highway to understand what it all means in terms of pleasure and satisfaction—and that's why we suggest that you come in and see us—soon.
Why not make it today?

And Confusion Reigns

A bewildering array of events in the Army-McCarthy hearings in Washington this week has left the nation considerably befuddled.

Just when everything was going smoothly and as expected—charges and countercharges, verbal brickbats and mental aberrations; with nobody getting anywhere—President Eisenhower upset the proverbial dope-bucket. His executive order effectively silenced Army Witness John Adams on the subject of a mysterious meeting of high army and executive brass last Jan. 21.

The order understandably threw the McCarthy camp into consternation. It upset the entire Senate subcommittee conducting the hearings, so that it was deemed wise to adjourn until next Monday.

But more than that, it led the American people, and particularly the millions who have followed the hearings in newspapers and on radio and television, up a blind alley into a morass of confusion and conjecture.

Was it at the Jan. 21 meeting that a decision was made and a plan of battle drawn up against McCarthy? If so, was it someone other than Army Secretary Stevens—as we have been led to believe—who made the decision? Will this lowering of an Iron Curtain on information, as McCarthy claims, deprive him of rightful evidence? Will it doom the hearings, and render the results inconclusive?

The American people—who foot the bills—are entitled to know the answers regardless of varying opinions on the hearings themselves.

Predicts Good Year in 1954

The new President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Clem D. Johnston, says business this year will be good by any standards other than those of 1953—an all-time boom year. Johnston says the nine-month business decline is already showing signs of a reversal.

The new president of the organization which represents over a million business men says figures might not have caught up with the actual business trend, but that an improved situation is particularly noticeable in the housing field—where building is at an all-time peak.

We agree with Johnston that there is going to be no major depression in this country in the next year or two, and that business will be good for most firms in 1954. We also agree that the United States can achieve unprecedented prosperity in the years to come, and a better life in the decades ahead.

To do this, Johnston says, we must allow those who achieve outstanding success a proper reward and maintain a free and competitive business atmosphere. There is only one thing that takes precedence over this, in our opinion, and that is defense of the country.

At present, income taxes on successful men and women, and businesses, are at a level which certainly discourages initiative to some degree. However, there could be no success in a country in which individual freedom had perished. Therefore, these ideals can be achieved only as defense expenditures are reduced, and the Communist menace eliminated. It may be a long pull, but the price of self-defense must be paid, and there is no way out of meeting this country's defense obligation.

Is The World Getting Warmer

Dr. Hans Ahlmann, director of the Swedish Geological Institute, says the earth's climate has been warming steadily for the past century. He says the warmer temperatures have caused significant developments in all parts of the world and that the warming-up process has been accelerated in recent years.

Other weather experts agree that average temperatures are now about two degrees higher in winter and about one degree higher year-around than they were in 1885. The warming-up process has melted major glaciers and has thawed out areas in Siberia, Canada, Alaska, and Northern Scandinavia, which were hitherto uninhabitable and treeless.

Long-term predictions indicate that if the present trend continues, the United States may experience a dust-bowl situation in a few years such as that experienced in the 1930's. Many experts also believe that temperatures will continue to warm up and that, in the not-too-distant future, semi-tropical weather will extend into the middle regions of the United States.

This later condition would require centuries of time to be attained, but if the trend is not reversed, the ultimate prediction is that semi-tropical and tropical weather will extend all the way up to New York and New England, and that palm trees and cocoanut could be grown in those regions.

Two Parties Held for Hammond Children

The home of the C. M. Hammonds on Timberlane was the scene of two parties last week-end when their daughter, Julie, entertained Friday and their son, Jim, on Saturday. Friday, Julie invited 30 classmates to her home for breakfast after the Senior Prom.

Jim invited 65 seventh and eighth graders to a party from 4 to 8 p.m. Saturday. The Hammonds have their own baseball diamond and a baseball game was one of the features of the party. Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Schipper and Stanley Johnston were also guests.

Tiny Rabbits Fed from Doll's Bottle

Susie and Buddy Collins, children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Collins of N. Center St., are breathlessly watching the progress of two 2-inch long baby rabbits presented to them by Andy Orphan. Andy was cultivating "some ground in back of the George Price home when he discovered the tiny animals. Price is the grandfather of Susie and Buddy.

Mrs. Collins is acting as nurse and feeds the rabbits milk out of a doll's nursing bottle every two hours. She reports that they are always hungry and eat just like any baby would.

She was puzzled at first as to how they should be fed and frantically called animal lovers, friends and a veterinarian; and was told just to feed them as one would a baby—milk, pablum, etc. on a two-hour schedule.

MICHIGANDERS?

A reader takes pen in hand—or to be literal, typewriter on table—to write thusly:

"MichiganDERS? Oh! No! 'I enjoyed your article 'Know Your Michigan', but the above is in error. It should be Michigan-ERS."

"It would be timely, close upon this very same article to print a short information column on Michigan listing the very things you mention. This would give the children, and adults too, information which they would not go to a library for very often. Also after reading it, it would create an interest in SEEING what you wrote about. Thus it would result in more mileage and travel in our home state, more revenue, etc., rather than give to out states. * * * Even a contest might prove worth while. * * * Marie L. McKenna, 619 Orchard Dr."

Thank you, Miss or Mrs. McKenna, as the case may be.

Could be you are right about MichiganERS being the proper designation for residents of Michigan—but possibly only technically so. Someone undoubtedly would rise to a point of order and tell you: "Ask any 50 people what they'd call Michigan residents, and we'll wager a battered French franc they'll all say MichiganDERS."

We're not saying they SHOULD. Analyzing the word, should Michiganers be restricted to the male, thereby making our women friends liable to be called Michigooses or Michigees? After all, what's sauce for the goose, etc.

Michiganers are not alone in this portentous predicament. What would you call the residents of Alabama? AlabamANS? Huh-uh—AlabamIANS. Any Alabamian will give you a hot argument as to why that is so.

The English language—and particularly the American—has many peculiarities. If the plural of mouse is mice, for example, should not the plural of moose be meece?

Usage, however, is the ultimate test. On that basis I'm afraid we're stuck with MichiganDERS.

We'd be highly interested, though, in hearing opinions of other readers. What do YOU think?

LO! THE POOR TAXPAYER!

We've lost a little of our respect for Fritz Crisler, et al, at the University of Michigan. Also the boys at Michigan State, and some of the other Big Ten universities.

Time was when we looked upon Fritz and his Wolverine football teams with something akin to awe—and rightly so. And we somehow—when we were younger and probably less cynical—acquired the idea that Michigan and such schools were big in principle as well as deed.

Comes disillusionment. All because of a little 67c tax.

A few weeks ago Congress voted to eliminate certain luxury and excise taxes, including levies on admission tickets. A gesture to "the little fellow" now that the war is long over and the need for extra revenues is less. In these days when everybody is gouging everybody else—and

Merchants Nine Whips Food Fair; Ties for Lead

The Northville Merchants nine maintained its torrid pace in the Inter-County baseball league Sunday by blasting the Food Fair squad, 4 to 1, to run its string of victories to three. The Northville entry has not lost a game.

Next Sunday the Merchants will tackle Wayne on the Cass Benton diamond at 1 p.m. Manager Steve Folino said he hoped that more Northville residents will go to see the team play. Thus far the crowds have been small. Northville is tied with the Taylor Township Merchants and the Grandale Merchants for the league lead.

Folino said Tuesday that a number of Northville merchants and business men had rallied to the support of the team, but that he still was approximately $280 short of meeting the season's expenses. He hopes additional businessmen will become sponsors to insure Northville remaining in the league.

The schedule for the next few weeks follows:

Sunday, May 23:
Wayne at Northville (1:00)
Local 49 at Plymouth (1:00)
Wyandotte at Lincoln Cubs
Food Fair at Dietrich
Farris at Auto Club
R. Rouge at Teamsters
Grandale at Taylor
Sunday, May 30:
Northville at Local 49
Wayne at Wyandotte
Plymouth at Food Fair
Auto Club at Cubs
Teamsters at Dietrich
Farris at Grandale
Taylor at R. Rouge

government is gouging the most, it was something of a triumph for "the little fellow" in view of the old axiom: "Once a tax, always a tax."

What happens? Believing that Congress meant to give the battered taxpayer a needed "lift", grocers passed on the reduction to the customer. So did the appliance man, the automobile dealer, even the theater owner.

Not so the great University of Michigan, Michigan State, and other big schools. They announced they'd charge the customer the same, pocketing the difference. In Michigan's case, 67c per $4 ducat; $100,000 for the season.

Fortunately, some do not believe in gouging the public to the limit. For instance, there's Nick Kerbawy, general manager of the Detroit Lions, with whom we used to referee football contests around Jackson in the days preceding Global Embroglio No. II. The Lions announced they'd drop the ticket tax, in keeping with the obvious intent of Congress. And the Lions, being a private enterprise with no state subsidy, undoubtedly could use the extra dough to greater advantage.

So, to Nick, the Lionhearted, we award the proud title "Holder of the Fort".

To Michigan and MSC, the dubious accolade "Gouger, First Class."

Traffic Trouble

To the Editor:

Could it be our overzealous traffic officials are driving business out of town? For the benefit of the storekeepers who are working hard, making more parking space, staying open certain nights, etc. here is an example of what I mean.

On April 25, going south on Clement I stopped at the stop sign on Fairbrook and waited for five cars to pass west. After all had gone I went east to the intersection from Rogers. There is there a stop sign and a flasher.

Mind you Rogers does not cross Fairbrook at all. The stop sign there should read Stop before turning left. Only a drunken man could cause trouble by driving EAST on Fairbrook all day without stopping. And this is practically in the country. In the country probably three-fourths of the drivers make a taxi stop—slow down so as to be able to stop before the crossing is reached, look both ways and if no cars are in sight go on through. This is what I did. There was only one car in sight—going west on Fairbrook and he had stopped to see if I was going to make a LEFT turn.

As a courtesy to save him waiting any longer than necessary I went on through. Only a technical violation which would have been overlooked as justified by most traffic officials. Doesn't past record mean anything? I have lived in Northville 11 years, never a ticket, in Plymouth 30 years and no ticket. In fact I was never the cause of an accident of any kind on the highway. Have had but one ticket in 45 years of driving. It is not the cost of the ticket but what this lack of courtesy will do to our city.

Lois Mitchell whose marriage to George Dingman will be solemnized May 22 at the Methodist church in Northville, was feted at a miscellaneous shower for 28 guests at the home of Mrs. Paul Ginst on 12 Mile Rd. May 6. After playing several games the guests watched Lois open her gift packages.

Mrs. Ginst chose pink and white for her color scheme. The white tablecloth with pink roses was centered with pink and white snapdragons and a white lace umbrella. The candles were white and the cakes were iced in white with colored flowers.

Lois is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mitchell of Whipple St. in Novi.

PSYCHIATRY VS. THE BIBLE

I'm sure all of us are acquainted with the contribution that psychiatrists have made in the field of mental therapy. For this they are to be commended. However there is a growing trend to reduce the public on the matters of responsibility and morals. It is being fed to us piece meal through many secular publications. For example, a drunkard is no longer considered a drunkard, he is an "alcoholic". He is sick and therefore is not responsible. "Psychiatric research shows that a chronic gambler is a sick man who possesses an unsatisfiable urge for possessions, a striving for power and prestige." Some psychiatrists regard infidelity as an emotional disturbance or neurotic tendency and some advocate adultery as a safety valve! What psychiatrists call sickness—the Bible calls sin. The reason for man's sin is his inner nature that is corrupt and in rebellion against God. Jeremiah says, "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked. Man is responsible for his sins and shall be judged and condemned for it. The remedy that the Bible offers for such victims of sin is not a course of treatment but a living Saviour who by the exercise of His power can break the shackles of sin in any persons life."

So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed Him. —(Matthew 20, 34.)

So filled completely with God's grace, so perfect in his belief and faith, so pure in his life and motives, Christ Jesus performed miracles through the power of Divine love. Each of us today, in the measure that we strive for the perfection that Jesus attained, may know within ourselves the miracles possible through God's love.

Science and Your Health

Summer Health Problems

By Science Features

Beautiful summer weather and pleasant vacations often bring a variety of special health problems. Usually minor, these ailments can be avoided, by taking simple precautions.

Sunburn is, perhaps, the most common annoyance. Overexposure to the sun, particularly the first time out, will not make up for the long winter indoors but will only result in a severe burn. However, short sessions under the sun have the effect of thickening one layer of skin to give the body protection while developing the pigment that produces that healthy "tan" color. To aid this process, there are protective ointments that filter the burning rays of the sun and allow the body to tan at the same time.

A certain group of shiny, red-tinted, green leaves may be nice to look at but not to touch—for they're poison ivy. Contact with the toxic plant results in a severe itching skin rash. Dr. Leon F. Goldman of the University of Cincinnati and other skin specialists have found that hydrocortisone compounds such as Cortril can halt itching within hours and clear up severe cases within a few days.

There are many precautions that should be taken to avoid other maladies. Sufferers of hay fever and seasonal asthma should get special desensitization shots. To lessen chance of catching athlete's foot, toes should be kept dry and clean.

If anyone in the family happens to suffer from car sickness, the U. S. Armed Forces say that a single dose of a new drug, Bonamine, protects most people against motion sickness for at least 24 hours. It's also a good idea to carry a first aid kit on auto trips. And, when you arrive at your destination, check on the location of the nearest physician just in case.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

DISSENTION IN CONSERVATION administration has cooked up some lively controversies during recent years . . . and more can be expected until some changes are made.

This seems the opinion of several newspaper people close to the scene as well as other observers who have watched the wrangling.

A RUGGED FIGHT was expected at the most recent meeting of the Conservation Commission May 6-7 at Higgins Lake. That it failed to take place doesn't mean that all the ingredients for continued controversy aren't still present. In the opinion of most people qualified to judge, they are.

BASIC TROUBLE seems to be a deep seated difference in philosophies about the way the department should be run.

Gerald E. Eddy, director since 1951, believes that the future of conservation depends on technical application by trained men to problems that develop. He defines the most fundamental problem at present as "supplying more game and fish to a rapidly increasing population with more time to spend in the woods and with money to spend on outdoor equipment and trips."

THIS APPROACH CONFLICTS, consistently and all too often with attitudes usually championed by Commissioner Joseph Rahilly. These might be described as "the practical approach" as contrasted with administration policies based on sound scientific research. Rahilly does not exactly ignore research, but he is reported as taking it with a grain of salt—particularly if its findings do not coincide with what he learned "from the folks back home."

Rahilly has the longest record in service of any member of the commission and has been chairman several times. He opposed Eddy's appointment, Rahilly was quoted as saying that "he would be back in the saddle within a year."

There were indications that skids were being greased to demote Deputy Conservation Director

Wayland Osgood at the May meeting. Although sources were difficult to prove, the word definitely was out that Osgood's "poor handling of legislative matters during the session demanded that he be replaced."

Handwriting on the wall was so clear that a number of supporters rushed in to supply strong backing. Among them were some well known newspaper men and some legislators.

The situation was headed off at the May Conservation meeting by positive action. Rep. Hugo A. Nelson, Republican from Indian River, appeared at the meeting accompanied by Rep. Walter G. Nakkula, (R-Gladwin), a member of Fish and Fisheries and Geological Survey Committees. Nelson, who is a member of the House Conservation Committee and chairman of the House Fish Committee, and Nakkula both spoke in favor of Osgood's activities with the legislature, stressing the high regard they had for his ability.

Commissioners received the report happily, and no more was said at the meeting about replacing Osgood. Presumably, the issue of his demotion or discharge is now a dead one.

This fight is but one battle in the deeper conflict about who is going to run the conservation department and how it shall be run.

Personalities have long been involved. They still are. There is no reason to imagine that this hard feeling will subside. Peace can come only when there is relative harmony among commission members and the department administration. This will probably require a change in the membership of the Conservation Commission.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

Edmond C. Powers, traffic accident and crime analyst of Cleveland, O., asserts that both accident tolls and street crimes continue to rise because of faulty illumination of streets and thoroughfares.

The Cleveland analyst cites studies which show:

1. 55 percent of fatal traffic accidents occur at night when only 25 percent of the nation's vehicles are operating;
2. 50 percent of night traffic accidents are chargeable to unsafe visibility for modern vehicle operating speeds on existing thoroughfares;
3. 22 improvements in visibility by relighting brought a 68 percent reduction in night traffic fatalities;
4. Applying a conservative 50 percent reduction to the nation's night accident experience indicates a possible yearly saving of 10,000 lives, 370,000 injuries and a billion dollars of economic loss;
5. Safe visibility for modern traffic at night can be provided most economically by modern illuminating engineering. Costs would be less than one-half of one year's accident toll; for cities the lighting cost would be $2.20 to $3.17 per capita per year; for expressways and critical areas of rural roads from $2822 to $8073 per mile, depending upon requirements.

Reporting police chief comment from leading cities, Powers says "dimming darkness by illuminating protects the public, particularly women and children, from criminal attacks at night. Powers is a member of federal, state and local committees working to reduce traffic accidents and crime."

U-M Professor to Address Novi Eighth Graduating Class

Dr. Frank L. Huntley, associate professor in English at the University of Michigan will give the eighth grade graduating address at the Novi Public School June 2.

Dr. Huntley spent 23 years in China and Japan as a boy and teacher which gives him an excellent background for an understanding of Far Eastern affairs. He spent his first 17 years in China, coming to the United States to complete his education. He received his BA degree from Oberlin college and his MA and PhD from the University of Chicago.

In 1929, Dr. Huntley went to Japan for a six-year study as professor of English at Dosheisha University in Kyoto and at the Kyoto Imperial university. During that time he published three text books of English literature for use in Japan. He came to the University of Michigan in 1944 as an instructor in Japanese on the staff of the Army's civil affairs training school and joined the university's regular faculty in 1945 as associate professor of English.

Prior to his connection with the university, Dr. Huntley had also been on the faculties of Washington university, Oberlin college, University of Chicago and Carleton college.

To Make 'Classifiers'
IN THE well-ordered home, there is ample opportunity to use "classifiers" in cabinets and drawers. Probably the simplest kind is the egg-crate type illustrated. As shown, these pigeonhole classifiers are first-rate for a tool or storage cabinet. In a flat position, the same style of classifiers may be used in a drawer.

One-eighth-inch slots should be sawed into pieces of Masonite 1/2" Tempered Duolux, a strong, smooth, two-sides hardboard which won't snag the finest fabrics and which wears indefinitely. Each slot should be cut half the width of the hardboard. To make the egg-crate construction, fit the slots together

Altman's Death Caps Thrilling Stage Career

(Editor's Note: The following tribute to Northville's Charles A. Altman, which appeared in The Detroit News Sunday, is so interestingly told by one who knew him that it is reprinted here in its entirety.)

By GEORGE W. STARK

Funeral services have been held for Charles A. Altman, who died at his home in Northville at an age so advanced that even he had lost count of the years. So the mourners were few, and what accolades were voiced took no count of what he had meant in the legitimate theater here.

Amends are indicated and out of my memory of a brave and gay spirit, I try to reconstruct the life and deeds of one who came to be the oldest veteran of our theater and who became nameless before his course was run.

He will be remembered by a few of us as that gnome-like fellow who hustled around the lobby of the Cass Theater doing those myriad, mysterious jobs that need to be done around a theater and take a deal of doing. He superintended the distribution of window cards, "back-ups" and three-sheets. To dignify his work, he

KNOW YOUR EYES

This is No. 8 in a series of articles published to provide information which will give the reader a better understanding of ocular difficulties and explain how professional eye care can be beneficial in helping to overcome these difficulties.

Department of Public Information
Wayne County Society of Ophthalmists
1924 Dine Bldg., Detroit 26

CHILDREN'S VISION

Unfortunately many parents have the erroneous impression that their child's eyes must be good because of their age. This attitude often times leads to actual neglect of his vision.

Actually, one's age has no direct relationship to the absence or presence of errors of refraction. We are of course, excluding the difficulty one has in reading after the age of 40 or 45, which is not due to a refractive error but merely a normal loss of physiological function.

If there is any time in one's life that his eyes can be helped, that time is in his childhood and youth. The period in which the eyes develop both monocular and binocular functions of vision is the best time to receive help if it is necessary.

The child whose vision or visual efficiency is impaired is at a distinct disadvantage in respect to other children. We use the eyes for learning, experience and acquiring knowledge more than any other organs in the body. The knowledge and experiences we gain during our childhood and youth does more to influence our life than any other age period. A visual handicap can and does affect one's personality and attitude on life.

The child who doesn't learn as readily as he should senses his inferiority. This has its consequences in his relationship with other children and his outlook in regard to a vocation. The schools to a large extent have recognized the problem. However, their tests are far too inadequate to be of real value.

A check-up on children's eyes by an ethical optometrist should be made periodically to see that he is visually equipped for his development and health.

1. Hygiene: Avoid both poor and excessive illumination, take short rest periods if doing a great deal of close work, don't rub your eyes with dirty hands, have your physician or someone qualified, remove particles and occasionally cleanse the eyes by washing.
2. Have periodic examinations and always secure ocular advice from professional optometrists and ophthalmologists.
3. Prompt care of general disease and disorders by your physician and dentist may forestall or remove ocular manifestations.
4. Children showing difficulty in school should have their eyes examined.

They did two numbers, one with Sam twanging a banjo, the other with no musical accompaniment at all. The banjo obligato was in deference to a romantic number that began, "Meet me, darling Kate, at the Cottage Gate".

Charley's acrobatics were so good that they got him a job with Beckett Bros. Circus, where all that was required of him was a song and dance in the concert program, a snare drum solo in the orchestra and a bar act during the athletic program.

He was in high-class company when he joined up with those famous comics, Ward and Vokes, as understudy for the unpredictable Vokes. To the end of his days, Charley always insisted that it was Hap Ward who originated the world's worst joke on domesticity: "Who was that lady I seen you with last night?" "That was no lady; that was my wife."

With the Tony Pastor outfit, Charley suffered a broken knee cap, resulting from a sudden and unpremeditated descent into the orchestra pit. The accident prematurely ended what doubtless would have been a brilliant song-and-dance career.

It sent Charley out in front of the op'ry house, where he became a sort of Boswell of the truly great ones of his time.

DUCK MOTHER IS DUE FOR BIG SURPRISE SOON

Lansing — There is going to be one surprised duck wobbling around this area in a few weeks—when the 19 eggs she's parked on finally hatch out.

Eleven are duck eggs, the others were laid by a pheasant.

The mixed-up nest is at the rural home of J. H. Stephenson, assistant chief of the conservation department's game division.

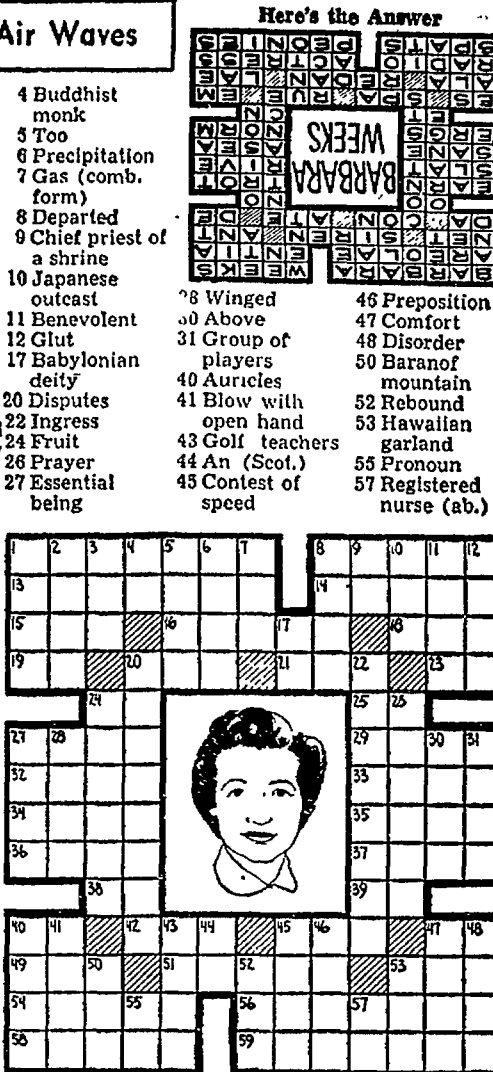

Almost every laying flock in Michigan could be reduced by 10 per cent by good culling without hurting production, and M.S.C. poultryman asserts.

New driver comfort! New driving ease!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything.

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper... new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High compression power saves you money! The "Thrifmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop. Chevrolet you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

Come in and see how much you're ahead with America's number one truck. You'll like the way we're talking business!
