$2.50 Per Year in Advance

for the Record

by G. H. C.

The annual audit of Northville's municipal finances which was published in last week's Record showed the Village's financial condition as of last Feb. 28th, in detail and its receipts and disbursements during the fiscal year which ended then. The audit was completed April 30 but was not published earlier because the village has been hard up for ready cash until the 1954-55 taxes began to come in.

Particularly interesting is the financial status of the water department, which has a net valuation of $156,874 and operated under rates which yielded a net profit of only $1,323 for the year. This was less than 1 cent per dollar of investment. No private business could survive if it earned this little, nor by any stretch of the imagination can it be said the Northville water system is in sound condition when it earns less than 1%. The weakness lies in the fact that these earnings are after depreciation charges based upon the original cost of village water mains and other equipment twenty, thirty and more years ago. If depreciation rates were high enough to provide a reserve fund to defray the cost of replacement at today's prices when that becomes necessary, the water system would be on a sounder financial basis but instead of an apparent profit the audit would show a sizable deficit for the year.

Nearly a year ago the Record pointed out that residents of Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth pay enough for their water to provide for replacement requirements and modest growth of their water systems. It also said:

"The argument can be made that it is just as well to go ahead from year to year on a break-even basis, and face up the problem of future expansion or large scale replacement of water mains and other equipment when the need arises. This argument would have greater validity were it not for the fact that Northville has skated so close to the ragged edge that it has lost money in 11 of the past 15 years.

The Village Commission last fall appointed a consulting firm of engineers from Ann Arbor to make a study of the water rate structure here, presumably as a step toward putting the system on a sounder financial basis. This firm many months ago asked the village to supply certain data about the water department which it needs to make its report but to date this information has not been entirely compiled by village employees. Naturally, no report can be made until the village provides such information.

Because we can't help wondering how long a private firm could survive under similar circumstances, we are reminded of an old friend's story about the Maine farmer who witnessed a head-on collision of two freight trains. Later, on the witness stand, he was asked what he thought when he saw the trains coming toward each other from opposite directions. His reply: "I thought it was a heck of a way to run a railroad."

New Northville Labor Relations Manager Is Announced by Ford

Appointment of C. P. McKelvey as industrial relations manager of the Parts and Equipment Manufacturing Div., Ford Motor Co., has been announced by Walter H. Simpson, division general manager.

McKelvey, who joined the company's labor relations staff in 1945, formerly was industrial relations manager of the Dearborn Assembly plant. In his new position he will direct industrial relations activities at division plants in Northville, Ypsilanti, Monroe, Manchester, Milford, Waterford and Brooklyn, Mich., and Green Island, N.Y.

Richard M. Gunsell Named Cadet Officer

Cadet Richard M. Gunsell, son of M. C. Gunsell, W. Main St., Northville, who is attending the 1954 Reserve Officers Training Corps Summer camp at Fort Campbell, Ky., has been appointed Cadet Regimental Intelligence Officer, it was announced Tuesday.

Cadet Gunsell is a student of Michigan State college.

Northville's TB Rate on Decrease

Fewer people in Northville caught tuberculosis in 1953 than did in the previous year, figures compiled by the Tuberculosis and Health Society and Wayne County Health Dept. show.

Last year there were 5 cases of TB in the Village with one person dying from the disease. In 1952 there were 15 new cases of this infectious illness.

Medical science is aiding in the reduction of death from TB which is the No. 1 killer among the infectious diseases today. An enlightened people who take more care with their health and know the value of periodic X-ray examinations of their chests are helping to find the disease early and preventing the spread of it to other children and adults.

The TB and Health Society, which is supported through purchase of double bar cross Christmas Seals during the holiday season, is continuously at work to educate both children and adults in the importance of being aware of TB. It also works with physicians and health departments in an effort to ferret out TB cases. The more cases which can be taken out of the community early the less chance for infection.

As an example, an epidemic of TB swept a small town in upper state New York recently. Both children and adults were catching the disease at an alarming rate. After on investigation which revealed the police work of Sergeant Friday of TV fame it was found that a school teacher was the source of the infection which had periled the entire community.

The TB and Health Society is constantly alert and works to keep other agencies alert to the dangers of the idea that "TB is licked." TB is a constant threat as long as one case remains in a town.

7-Mile Cut-Off Contract Awarded; Cost Is $143,053

Cost of the 7 Mile Road cut-off which is scheduled for completion next December will be $143,053, according to construction bids received by the Wayne County Road Commission last week.

The cut-off is to run west from Northville Road just north of the Rathbun Chevrolet Sales to the Edward Hines Drive just east of its intersection with Sheldon Rd. It will be slightly less than one-half mile long.

Two Jobs

Construction will involve two separate jobs. One is a bridge over the Rouge river, for which the Richard L. Smith Co., Dearborn, was low bidder at $47,473.50. The other involves road grading and paving and is to be done by Brighton and Wing, Detroit contractors, for $97,580.80.

Opening of the cut-off late this year will mark the culmination of efforts made by local residents over a period of many years to get rid of the heavy gravel trucks traffic over Rogers and Main streets in Northville. Henceforth, such traffic will be routed over that portion of the Edward Hines Drive between the Rogers-7 Mile intersection and the Hines-Sheldon intersection, then over the cut-off to Northville Road.

Cost Is Split

Cost of the cut-off is to be defrayed jointly by Wayne County, the Village of Northville and Northville Township. The township is contributing $20,000, the village $37,000, and the county $86,000.

Announcement of plans for the cut-off several months ago resulted in cancellation of plans for sale of several pieces of residential property along Rogers and Main streets and general firming of real estate values along those thoroughfares.

Improvement Of Gerald Ave. Area Voted By Board

The Northville Township board moved toward improvement of housing and sanitary conditions in the Gerald Ave. subdivision, at its meeting Tuesday evening. It also discussed improvement of Gerald Ave. later this summer by spreading gravel to fill bad ruts in the road.

Supervisor Mollie Lawrence told the board that the first step toward corrective action in the Gerald Ave. section would have to be adoption of an ordinance establishing stricter housing and sanitation standards. She pointed out that the proposed new township zoning ordinance will provide such standards, but that it will not be presented for adoption until fall. She recommended adoption for the interim period of the state's housing law which sets minimum standards for housing, sanitation and health measures and told the board the Wayne County Health Department has promised to bring action against property owners in violation of such standards.

Upon motion by board member Robert Merriam, seconded by Ralph Hay, the state housing law was unanimously adopted. Mrs. Lawrence also suggested improvement of the road through the Gerald Ave. subdivision, saying "it is in such terrible condition it is a disgrace." After some discussion Merriam was delegated to investigate the cost of putting the road in minimum shape. He is to report at the August meeting so work can be done before the fall rains start.

The board also instructed Township Attorney James E. Little to draw up a "dog ordinance" for consideration at its August meeting. Such an ordinance will provide for licensing dogs owned by township residents. Upon its adoption, township officials plan to consult with village officials about joint enforcement.

The township board also: (1) Tabled a request by the City of Livonia that it join with other Wayne county government units in petitioning the Federal government for a new census of Wayne county. (2) Decided that it is not the

Mrs. Harold Hartley (right) and Marion Sober appeared to be enjoying the art exhibit at Mrs. Sober's studio last Sunday. On the wall are Mrs. Hartley's water colors of wild flowers. More than 100 persons visited the exhibit to inspect the work of Mrs. Sober's students.

Over 100 Visitors at Summer Art Exhibit by Marion Sober's Students

More than one hundred persons from this community attended the art exhibit at Marion Sober's studio on Sheldon Road Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

The exhibit included work done by her students in charcoal, water color and oil; also handicraft done in a summer craft class which Mrs. Sober has conducted.

The fact that many paintings represented familiar subjects added considerably to the local interest. Mrs. Marjorie Owen did the little red school house on Ann Arbor road. The gravel pit on Wiswold St. was the subject chosen by Peggy MacGivern. Mrs. Frank Hibbard's water color was a quaint interpretation of a Northville store as viewed from the parking lot on East Main St.

Marjorie Owens and Catherine Hartley each did an interesting composition in water color of Louis David's threshing machine engines on 7 Mile Rd. Mrs. Peters' still life of antiques was done in oil in soft wood tones. Mrs. Frogner's work in oil was in soft mauve tones framed in antique white wood. Ann Peterson did a pleasing sketch of a tree in charcoal and Mrs. Hartley's wild flowers done in water color created much interest. Mrs. Crump's oil on canvas her impressions of Western Montana as she remembered it from a recent trip. In all, there were about 50 exhibits by local artists.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Harvey Whipple, Mrs. Herbert Frogner, Mrs. Alton Peters, Mrs. Harold Hartley, Mrs. Frank Hibbard, Miss Gail Peters. Mrs. Owen presided at the tea table.

Mrs. Sober will open her studio again in September for classes in oil, charcoal and water color; also a class in handicraft.

Children's Photos To Be Published Free In The Record

Next Wednesday and Thursday are the big days for the picture taking of your youngster! The Northville Record is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Community Building between noon and 7 p.m. absolutely free of charge. The United Studios of Elkhart, Ind., nationally known children's photographers, well equipped with the new speed lights and considerable experience in this particular field, will be in charge of the photography. The Record wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to The Record nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, though you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with the studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you.

Northville Turtle Tournament To Be Run Here Next Saturday Morning

Northville boys and girls will compete for cash and other prizes in a unique "Turtle Tournament" to be sponsored jointly by The Record and the Northville Recreation Dept. next Saturday morning.

As tentatively planned, three races will be run on a specially designed "track" in the Village parking lot at Main and Center Sts. "Post time" for the first race, the "Turtle Trot", will be 10 a.m. The "Waterwing Crawl" and the "Terrapin Tangle" will follow.

Director Stanley Johnston, in charge of the "Summer of Fun" recreation program, said that children living in and around Northville, of 15 years of age and under, will be eligible. There will be no fee of any kind. Instead, there will be $27 in prizes, and Northville merchants have contributed ice cream, candy and other items.

Many Prizes

"First prize for each race will be $5," Dir. Johnston said. "In addition, there will be prizes for second and third places, for the most original design painted or otherwise made on the backs of the entries, for the smallest and for the largest turtle entered in the meet."

Second prize will be $2.50, third $1, and for the best design, $1.50. Fourth and fifth prizes for the first two "heats" will be a half gallon of ice cream from Cloverdale Dairy and Paul's Sweet shop, and for the third, a surprise package from Stone's hardware. A box of candy will be given for the largest and the smallest entries, and Essie Nirider, manager of the D&C store, has contributed a whole case of candy which will be given to contestants.

Rules of the tournament are simple, Johnston explained. "The first rule in the Turtle derby," he said, "is something

FIRST ENTRIES in the Northville Turtle Derby, sponsored by The Record and the Northville Recreation Dept., were submitted by Gary Kohns, (Right) and John Spletz, (Center). Recreation Director Stanley Johnston (Standing), Stephen Johnston, and Dir. Johnston's little son, David, look on. Gary's entry, "Tiny Tim", could win the "smallest" prize. John is counting on "Creeping Paralysis" to show his legs to the other "speedsters".

Free Telephone Service to Livonia To Be Up for State Hearing July 14

Northville telephone users may get free calls to Livonia but if they do they will pay from 25 to 50 cents per month more for their phone service.

This is the plan of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., to be submitted to the Michigan Public Service commission on July 14 for approval. It results, in considerable measure, from a resolution adopted a year ago by the Northville village commission urging the phone company to institute free service to Livonia.

Dean Sipson, manager of the phone company's Plymouth

Plymouth Seeks More Water in Northville Twp.

Acquisition by the City of Plymouth of a 10-acre area in Northville township upon which to drill wells for an additional water supply was announced at the Northville township board meeting Tuesday evening. The site is a portion of the Hi Dawson property on the south side of Six Mile road 1100 feet west of Beck road.

Board members saw no objection to use of the property for this purpose, provided Plymouth obtains a building permit for the pump house that will be necessary.

Drivers Warned Of High Summer Toll On Highways

Northville drivers who plan vacation trips throughout the summer have been asked to exercise extreme caution in an effort to keep the annual death toll from exceeding last year's.

Michigan state police officials said that they expect summer weekend traffic to equal or exceed last year's, and that state police operations have been geared to hold down accidents as much as possible.

Heavy Toll Expected

"But even with the best efforts of every enforcement agency, we can still expect a heavy accident toll unless drivers cooperate by doing the very best job they know how at the wheel," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. "Traffic will be heavy and driving much more hazardous."

Childs pointed out that 30 persons lost their lives in highway accidents over the three-day Fourth of July week-end last year as compared to 20 during the four-day Memorial holiday week-end this year. The average for each summer week-end last year was 22.5 deaths.

Can Do Better

"Our Memorial holiday record indicated improvement and showed that when they wanted to drivers can do better," Childs stated. "It is our hope they make an even greater effort during the summer to stay alive."

Childs urged drivers to plan their trips so that they do not have to rush, use extreme care in passing and "watch out for the other driver, because he can cause an accident, too."

"The only way to avoid an accident," he said, "is by driving as if your life depended upon it, because it does."

All state police enlisted personnel including detectives and others on special assignment, will be on duty, which will mean a 20 per cent increase in patrol strength over the week-end.

Swimmers Warned

Vacationers also were warned to be extremely careful while swimming, since drownings usually add to holiday death tolls.

Last year there were 309 deaths by drowning in Michigan. July and August were cited as two of the most dangerous months. Most of those drowned were males, 63 being recorded in the five to 14 age group, and 35 from 15 to 19. In the same age groups, 22 females lost their lives. Under five, 20 boys and eight girls were drowned.

From statistics compiled by the Michigan health department, it has been determined that the greatest danger from drowning is mouth office, explained that monthly phone service rates in all localities are based upon the number of phones that can be reached on a local call basis. Northville is now in the Outstate Group 4 (6,001 to 12,000 telephones) but if free Livonia calls are granted it would move into Outstate Group 5 (12,001 to 25,000 telephones).

If the phone company's application is approved the following monthly service charges will prevail:

| Business, | Present | Proposed |
|-----------|---------|----------|
| 1 party | $7.25 | $7.50 |
| PBX trunk | 10.75 | 11.50 |
| 2-party | 6.25 | 6.75 |
| Rural | 5.25 | 5.50 |

Residence, 1 party 3.50 3.75
Two and four-party and rural residence service charges would remain unchanged.

Sipson also pointed out that if a rehearing of the phone company's application for a general rate increase turns out favorably to the company, the foregoing increase in monthly service charges for free service to Livonia would be slightly higher than shown above. They would range between 15 cents and $1. for residential and business service, except for business PBX lines, whose cost would increase $1.50 per month.

Business Women Donate $300 To Community Bldg.

The Northville Business and Professional Women's club contributed $300 to the Village commission at its meeting Tuesday night, for use in the Community Center fund.

The club is composed of school teachers, nurses at various institutions around the Northville area, secretaries and other business and professional women. The money was raised through a number of activities, and constituted the club's "Project for the Year", Miss Ruth Knapp, chairman of the project committee, told the commission. The organization now has 82 members, larger than any of the three men's clubs.

In consideration of the club's action and of her interest in the Community Center, Miss Knapp was appointed a member of the building committee, which includes Robert Coolman, R. H. Amerman, F. Alton Peters, and Malcolm Allen.

On behalf of the club, a check for the $300 was presented to Mayor Claude N. Ely by Mrs. Mabel Cooley, B&W president.

In other action, the commission: Received reports for June from department heads.

Discussed the application of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to extend telephone service for users in this area to Livonia, thus eliminating present toll charges.

Heard a representative of an Ann Arbor engineering company on a proposal to put in curbs and gutters on N. Rogers from Dunlap to the Ralph Hay property, and on nearby streets. Bids are to be asked.

The GREEN THUMB

by Paul Newton

There is no rest for the wicked, they say, and the same goes for the gardener. The annuals which have started to bloom now, become rather raggedy looking by the last of August. It is well to have some young plants coming on to replace the old ones. Calendula seeds can be planted the last of June. They are slow growing but generally get under the line and give orange and yellow colors to the fall garden. When the iris leaves are clipped back, there is space for a quick growing annual baby's breath which gives a cool, misty white look to the garden. Annual poppies planted in drifts will still bloom before frost.

Biennials for Next Year

Biennials grown from seed planted in July will bloom next summer. Foxgloves, Canterbury bells, pansies and sweet williams are only a few to mention. Since I have no cold frame outside, I grow the seeds in 12-inch flower pots. The pots are filled with a soil mixture of one-third leaf mold or peat moss, one-third sand, and one-third good loam.

A small 3-inch pot with a cork in the lower opening, is placed down in the center of the larger one. This smaller pot is kept filled with water. The seeds of the biennials are planted in their respective pots, covered very lightly with a layer of sand, then watered. The water carries the seeds down into the soil. This is the only direct watering they need as water from the center pot seeps into the soil and keeps it sufficiently damp. When the seedlings have their second pair of leaves they can be transplanted into the garden. They should be protected from direct sun by inverted flower pots or tree branches for a period of a week or so while they are becoming established. In the fall a few oak leaves placed around and underneath the foliage, will protect them through the winter. The Canterbury bells and foxgloves are especially needed in a garden for accents.

More Pruning Now

Remember, now is the time to prune the yews, hemlock and arbutus, by cutting back half of the new growth. This makes a more compact shrub. The branches should be cut individually at a bud or behind a needle so the cut is not noticeable. Avoid a sheared look. On spruce and firs that produce needles singly, about half of each new twig that has grown this year may be cut back.

Northville, Plymouth Women To Attend Conference at MSC

Wayne county women are making plans to take a turn at the halls of learning.

The annual Homemakers' conference is slated for July 20-23 at Michigan State college. More than 1,300 rural and urban homemakers from over the state are expected to attend the educational event, according to Emma DuBord, home demonstration agent.

Thus far, 45 women from Wayne county have registered for the four-day program of fun and learning. They include Mrs. Forrest Olson, Plymouth; Mrs. C. L. Mortimer, Farmington; Mrs. Stephen Chorne, Northville; Mrs. G. F. Wright, Plymouth; Mrs. Frank Platz, Farmington, and Mrs. Robert Widmayer, Plymouth.

Sponsored by the MSC Cooperative Extension service, the sessions are open to any interested woman. Miss DuBord emphasizes that women need not be members of home demonstration groups to be eligible to attend the conference. Registration is open until July 16.

In addition to special speakers and entertainment, women will be able to enjoy their choice of a wide variety of classes being offered.

Class subjects range from art to world trade, investments to flower gardening, household equipment to parliamentary procedure. A total of 18 different subjects are listed for the 1954 conference, reports Miss DuBord. And a special class is offered for women who can only attend a day instead of the entire four days. Women enrolling for the full conference period will reside at Shall hall on the MSC campus.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Prompt Action Removes Stains From Most Clothes

ON MOST picnics and outings you'll be wearing washable, not-so-good clothing, but just in case you're going to be on a church or club outing for which you'll wear something better, you'll want to know what to do about common clothing stains.

Prompt action saves most clothing from becoming badly stained. Washable materials should always be sponged with water for most stains, and the sponging method may also be used on non-washable materials which will not water-spot.

Grass, Foliage Stains

If you're wearing a non-washable fabric on a picnic, it's wise to go along with a small bottle of alcohol. Grass and foliage stains can be sponged with this immediately and they will undoubtedly disappear with such prompt action.

Washable fabrics which have been stained from grass or other greens should be rubbed with heavy suds, preferably with a soft brush. If any stain remains, use a chlorine bleach or hydrogen peroxide.

Should the stain be stubborn, several applications of the bleach may be necessary. If the material is prone to fade with bleach, use mild solutions over a period of time.

Bleeding Water Treatment

Fruit and berry stains often take their toll of picnic clothing.

As soon as you get home, stretch the garment, if it's washable material, over a bowl, holding in place with a rubber band. From a height, pour boiling water over the stained portion. A kettle is excellent for this because of the spout by which you can direct the water to the spot.

Non-washable materials which have berry or fruit stains on them should be treated by a professional.

Watch the Clock For Better Steaks

Steak is one of the simplest of meats to cook, and to perfection as long as you keep an eye on the clock or set a timer. Other than that, you need only seasoning to serve at its best.

Traditional seasonings for steak have previously been only salt and pepper, but another has been added to bring out the rich natural goodness of the meat. It's called monosodium glutamate, and it's rubbed into the meat before broiling.

Broiled Steaks

Turn heat to broil and preheat broiler. Cut fat edges of meat. Rub monosodium glutamate into the meat, allowing 1/2 teaspoon per pound. Place steaks on broiler rack in broiler pan and place under the heating unit so that the top of the meat is 3 to 3 1/2 inches under the heat. Broil for half the required time, season cooked side with salt and pepper, turn once and finish broiling.

To turn steaks, stick fork into fat of meat so no juices will be lost by pricking the meat. Cooking time will depend on the thickness of the steaks rather than weight. Season finished side and serve immediately.

Steak Timetable

For steaks one inch thick, broil 8 to 10 minutes for rare, 12 to 14 minutes for medium.

For steaks one and one-half inches thick, broil 14 to 16 minutes for rare, 18 to 20 minutes for medium.

Steaks two inches thick should be broiled 35 to 40 minutes for rare and 45 to 50 minutes for medium.

If steaks are frozen or icy cold, that is, removed directly from the refrigerator a few more minutes time may be necessary to give the desired degree of doneness.

Merchants Nine Cops 2 Victories

Northville Merchants took two games in the Inter-County baseball league over the holiday week-end, and moved into second place by virtue of the victories.

Sunday, the team journeyed to River Rouge, defeating the home team there 6 to 2. Northville led 1 to 0 going into the sixth, and then drove across four runs to put the game on ice. Pitcher Buckholtz retired 13 opposing batters in a row to notch the victory.

In a Fourth of July thriller at Cass Benton park, the Merchants took on their arch-rival, Detroit Auto club, and won in the tenth 4 to 3. The visitors outthrew the Merchants, 12 to 9, but Northville led 2 to 0 until the eighth inning, when a single and a home run tied the score.

In the tenth, the Auto club catcher walloped a home run, but when the visiting hurler weakened and loaded the bases in the bottom of the tenth, Second Baseman Bob Mrozinski singled sharply to drive two runs across the plate.

515,000 Muskrats Taken Last Season

Lansing — Michigan trappers harvested 515,000 muskrats during the 1953-54 winter season, about a 20 percent decrease from the previous year, computed hunter report cards show.

About 15,500 trapping licenses were sold during the recent season and computations of information from a percentage of the trappers indicates nearly all trapped muskrats.

Game workers said the take was smaller last winter primarily because of adverse weather conditions, but added that the total was not unusual. In the last 17 years, the lowest take was 343,000 muskrats, bagged in 1942 and the highest was 995,000, taken in 1943.

THE BAIT PROBLEM

If you're an average fisherman you've probably faced the bait problem many times—a problem that really breaks down into two parts. First, how to get it, and next how to keep it. You've probably learned from experience that you can't always buy bait you need at the lake or stream you've chosen to fish—so it's always safest to take your own.

Night Crawlers

Catching night crawlers is done best with a flashlight, on a well-watered lawn. You'll find you'll catch 'em faster if you DO NOT allow the beam of the flashlight to strike them directly. A little sand or moist dirt on the fingers will help pull them from their holes.

New chemical compounds, harmless to lawns, are on sale. Usually sold as small tablets, they are soluble in a bucket of water. When the bucket is emptied the crawlers come out within one minute—and if they are washed off quickly they are apparently unharmed.

Transportation of night crawlers is simplified by using damp moss in a container well insulated against heat.

Keeping Minnows

Minnows are natural fish bait—and are preferred by anglers who are going after the "big ones." Keeping them enroute to a lake is not too difficult. Use a standard minnow bucket about half filled with water. Keep a block of ice on top of the bucket, allowing the melting ice to drip thru the perforated holes in the top, thus aerating and cooling the water at the same time. Minnows will live a long time in this manner. "Oxygen" tablets are available for the same purpose. Dropped in the bottom of the bucket they will give off oxygen and keep your minnows in good condition for as long as 4 hours without change of water.

Catching Minnows

The fresh-caught minnow will live much longer than one that has been taken from a lake or stream a few days ago and kept in a tank. Minnow traps of glass or wire are effective if set properly—but minnows taken should be sorted to make sure there are no game fish fry present. Great care should be taken to prevent minnows from escaping in the lake in which you are fishing. Sometimes the introduction of a new species in that lake will upset fishing completely after a few years, and may ruin the sport almost completely. NEVER dump your minnow bucket, with remaining contents, into the lake after a day's fishing.

SPORTS FLASHES

Although Roy Campanella previously announced he had decided against a post-season barnstorming trip, the Dodgers catcher has changed his mind and will make another tour next October, reports The Sporting News. The trip will be far more extensive than any he has headed in the past. Campanella revealed that the jaunt will take him to Hawaii, Manila, Japan and Central America. Campy said he would try to interest Curt Simmons and Robin Roberts in making the trip, indicating it would be worth $7000 to each of the Phillies pitchers.

Milwaukee continues to mean money — big money — to visiting clubs. Leo Ward of the Cardinals says that the $30,000 check he picked up in Sudsville for a recent series with the Braves was the largest he had taken out of a city since he became traveling secretary of the Redbirds back in 1938. And Bob Rice, the road secretary of the Pirates, was handed a $20,000 check for the Bucs' share over the June 5 week-end, which represented the largest taken by a Pittsburgh club in Rice's eight years on the job.

Five years ago, Gabe Paul, general manager of the Reds, claims Branch Rickey, then with the Dodgers, offered him $300,000 for Herman Wehmeier. On June 11, this year, Herman was sold to the Phils for a wee trifle over the $10,000 waiver price.

Baseball's newest iron man, 28-year-old Eddie Yost of the Senators, has played more than 700 consecutive games since July 6, 1949, which is only nine years behind Lou Gehrig's record of 2,130 games in a row for the Yankees.

Dizzy Dean says he was in a drugstore once when it was held up. One of the hoodlums recognized him and called him by phone later to apologize, then mailed him a dozen neckties. "I figured the ties were stolen," Dizzy says, "and I passed them out to the umpires."

The Washington Senators can't be blamed for any ballyhoo they might put out about their new bonus baby, 17-year-old Harmon Killebrew of Payette, Idaho. They paid him 30 thousand dollars to sign. Young Killebrew was scouted by no one less than Senator Herman Welker of Idaho. And Welker was so lavish in his praise of the boy that Clark Griffith sent Ossie Bluege, boss of his farm system, to do the looking over. What Bluege saw while watching Killebrew in a semi-pro game was this: The young third baseman was up 12 times in three games and got 12 hits, including four home runs and three triples.

We're Ready For Tomorrow

Yesterday's railroads made today's America possible.

Without today's railroads tomorrow's America hardly would be possible.

Yesterday's railroads enabled America to become a single nation spanning a continent — our amazing America of today.

Tomorrow's America will be as dependent upon railroads as it was yesterday. A greater America is unlikely without railroads capable of caring for its vast, vital, growing traffic needs.

Today those railroads are preparing for tomorrow's task. They have poured billions into their plant—no adaptable mechanical, technical or scientific detail that can make them adequate for the nation they must serve has been left out.

America and its railroads are marching hand-in-hand to meet tomorrow.

with an ELECTRIC farm freezer

MRS. DESMOND WALTERS farm about 90 acres in St. Clair County. They are general farmers with a milking herd of 12 cows. They also keep 200 to 500 laying hens, and raise 500 broilers a year.

The Walters keep their farm freezer packed with meats, fruits and vegetables, either home-grown or purchased. Mrs. Walters says she doesn't know how they would get along without it. She finds freezing easier than canning, and loves the convenience of always having tasty food at her finger tips.

You, too, can enjoy better meals and extra convenience the year round with a farm freezer. For full information see your Edison Home Service Advisor.

Your Congressman Reports

By Representative CHARLES G. OAKMAN
17th District, Michigan

The 1954 Highway Act "Is On The Road" - Secretary of Commerce Weeks last Wednesday announced the apportionment of $875 million in Federal Highway Aid, to be State-matched and distributed over a 12-month period beginning July 1, 1955. Secretary Weeks predicted "the greatest surge in highway construction in the history of America." He further reflected that this would have a "favorable impact on our economy." I was delighted to have assisted in the creation of this legislation and its ultimate passage. The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1954 was considered by the House Public Works Committee and its Subcommittee on Roads and, as you know, I am a member of both. Michigan will receive $30,012,851 - more than a 50% boost - which means a $60,000,000 Federal-State road building program for Michigan next year.

H. R. 9695 - Chairman George Dondero of the House Public Works committee has promised me that he will refer the bill I introduced last week (pertaining to the truck reciprocity problem which I have previously discussed with you) to the Subcommittee on Roads. The Chairman of this Subcommittee is Congressman Harry McGregor of Ohio and he has assured me he will schedule hearings on H. R. 9695 just as soon as it is referred to his Subcommittee by Chairman Dondero. Many of my constituents and colleagues have expressed their enthusiastic support of this measure to me. Many also have inquired about the 'third structure' tax. A motor vehicle tax schedule consists of a gasoline (fuel) tax, and a registration or license fee, these are generally known as first and second structure taxes. Any additional tax or fee is called a 'third structure' tax.

Fiscally Improving - The United States Government ended its fiscal year (1954) on June 30th with a deficit of approximately $3.3 billion. This is $6.6 billion less than the deficit-estimate made by the previous administration. While we will never be content with anything less than a balanced budget, I believe it is remarkable that in the first full fiscal year of the Eisenhower Administration the deficit has been reduced by two-thirds. During this same period of time, wages, prices, material and rent controls have been removed. Inflation has been halted. In 1954 the American taxpayers will have been given the largest tax cut - about $7 1/2 billion - of any year in the history of our Republic. These have been possible only because the Eisenhower Administration and the Republican 83rd Congress reduced the 1954 budget by $13 billion, and the 1955 budget by $5 3/4 billion. I believe we have progressed toward fiscal sanity in these first 18 months of this Republican Administration. Rome was not built in a day. Nor can our inherited deficits be corrected overnight. For instance, the House of Representatives on last Thursday voted to reduce farm supports from 90% to 82%. Many Congressmen would have preferred to see a further reduction to 75%. However, when the farm economy has been built for a long time on producing for sale to the Government rather than to the consumer, the adjustment should be gradual the majority maintained. Eternal vigilance is the price of our liberty. Believe me, it must be an ever continuing day-in and day-out vigilance.

Burroughs Plant Closed Two Weeks

Manufacturing operations at the Burroughs Corp., Plymouth Plant will be suspended during the last two weeks of July for the purpose of employee vacations and annual inventory, it was announced by Robert A. Niemi, Plant Manager.

The plant will officially shut down at the end of the July 16th night shift. Operations will resume on Monday morning, August 2.

During the first week of the shutdown a skeleton force of about 300 employees will be working. About 175 of these will be taking inventory.

During the final week, personnel will be reduced to only those necessary for plant protection, powerhouse operation and building and tool maintenance.

Approximately 200 of the plants employees live in the Northville area.

Water Supply to

New Non-residents

The Farmington city council has voted against supplying water to additional non-residents to the city limits.

The action was taken after a report from the city manager that ever-increasing demands were being made for the extension of water service outside the city and that the Farmington water system is inadequate to meet such demands and also care for the needs of new homes being built inside the city limits.

Storm Destroys Three Millions of Michigan Trees

Lansing. — A total of nine inches of rain fell on the 35-acre Higgins Lake state nursery during a recent 10-day period and destroyed 3,000,000 young trees, conservation department foresters estimate.
The worst of the several storms was a 50-minute cloudburst that dumped two inches of water on the nursery.
"The air looked like it was just filled with water," says Paul Brigham, nursery manager.
Debris around fenceposts where the torrent finally drained off was stacked 15 inches high and foot-deep gulleys were furrowed through the nursery by the rushing water.
Full extent of the damage will not be known until later, when a badly-hit area of new seeding begins to show above ground.
A 22-man nursery crew worked three straight days to salvage trees and repair the damage, after the rain stopped. Their work kept the loss down to the relatively low figure; a total of 23-24 million trees were growing in the nursery before the storm hit.
Brigham rough-estimated that two million trees were lost in a 14-acre area of new seeding and that 1,500,000 trees in an area of growing stock were destroyed.

The Farm Program Battle

Now that the Army-McCarthy hearings have concluded, Congress must get down to the less sensational, but equally dangerous, business of passing or defeating the rest of the President's legislative program. One of the hottest fights left on the agenda (Congress will probably adjourn in August) is that over a farm program. The Republican administration wants a farm bill which would allow the Secretary of Agriculture to adjust price supports in an effort to prevent piling up surpluses, and if this program is enacted supports on the basic six crops could go down to 75 percent of parity, or could, if the Secretary so ordained.

The President has now grown highly sensitive on the farm issue, and says emphatically that he never said he favored supports at 100 percent of parity. He tells reporters to read his 1952 speeches, and points out that what he said was that he was in favor of farmers getting 100 percent of parity in the market place.

The main question to be resolved is whether the administration can lower price supports and not prevent farm conditions from getting worse than they are now. The answer to that question determines the future of the Republican group now steering the ship of state.

U.S.A. - - A State of Confusion

One of the tragic realizations of this day is that the American people are currently in a state of almost thorough confusion. Perhaps at no time in our history has the country been so mixed up in a time of peace.

The issue of Communism in government in the last administration and its efforts to rid the country of Communists, the question of loyalty of the high members of government, and many such issues have thoroughly worried millions of voters. Investigations, threats of war, the Communist menace, a mild recessionary business cycle, and an apparent decision in Washington on some major issues, and the even split in Congress between the two parties, has led to a state of almost utter confusion.

In the memory of many veteran Washington reporters the nation has not been so perplexed, so divided, and the average voter so confused, in many a year. Democracies in this day need strong leadership to survive. That is the trouble in France today. It was the trouble in France in 1939, and cost that country its very existence as a free nation.

Every American citizen has the duty to keep faith with his country's system of government, and to vote in elections and support men who represent honorable conduct and a decent code of ethics. We also have the responsibility, as free people to maintain as much unity as possible, and to refrain from wild charges, sensational attacks and accusations on loyalty and treason counts that divide and confuse other Americans. We should trust the leaders of each party as being patriotic Americans, even though we attack their mistakes as vigorously as possible.

The confusion and uncertainty among Americans today is not a healthy sign and we must all do what we can to regain our sanity as a democratic nation.

Suppose the government should confiscate all the income of everybody in the country who is taking in more than $20,000 a year in salary, profits, or from whatever source.

Such a drastic step would yield the U.S. Treasury less money than it would lose should Congress vote even a $100 increase in personal income tax exemptions.

And yet there are those in the bustling legislative halls of Congress who are plugging to have the personal income tax exemptions boosted as much as $400!

A Large Assumption!
If the Government were to confiscate all income over $20,000 a year, the Treasury would gain only $2.2 billion, according to figures presented by Delaware's Senator Williams.

"And that's assuming that the taxpayer is going to keep on working just as hard as he does now to earn money which he would have to turn over to the Government 100 percent," the Senator remarked.

Increasing personal income tax exemptions from the present $600 to even $700, would cost the Treasury about $2.4 billion a year in lost revenue. And an increase in tax exemptions up to $1,000 would deprive the government of a much needed $8 billion a year.

THE VILLAGE --- AT WORK

A Visit With Your Neighbors On the Job

Do you remember when you used to buy gasoline or naphtha and do your own dry cleaning—a little fearfully perhaps—in the back yard? Does any woman remember when she cleaned her own long, white, kid gloves with naphtha and French chalk? Can you forget how the fumes clung to the articles cleaned for days and days? Nowadays clothes are cleaned and pressed and brought back odorless, and people take such service for granted, but, there was a time . . . !

When Charles Freydl started his dry cleaning business in 1916, methods were much different than they are in his shop today. He began his own little shop back of his father's dry goods store and has continued in the dry cleaning business for nearly 40 years.

Now he has six and sometimes seven employees besides Mrs. Freydl, his son, Charles, and himself. Modern steam pressing machines and dry cleaning equipment, which is in a separate building in back of the store, turn out thousands of garments a year. All kinds of dry cleaning and finishing is done right there on the premises.

The front part of the store carries almost a complete line of men's sports wearing apparel besides a nationally known line of luggage.

Spring and fall finds the racks filled to capacity with forgotten garments, and the Freydls have to send out cards to customers to come and get them. Occasionally, there will be a few articles that are completely forgotten and never called for.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Freydl were born in Northville and have always lived here. They have two sons, Bob, who is a senior in the forestry department at Michigan State college, and Charles, who is now working in the store after spending two years in the armed services.

Women's Views Stir Car Makers In Automobile Design, Operation

By Carmina Brooks
Men will probably always be taking the bows for putting America on wheels, but it is doubtful whether the automobile could have been driven to its important place in the nation's economy had not women climbed into the driver's seat. Considering that two decades ago it was necessary to operate a crank with a kick like a mule, and take a chance of being knocked down, run over, or surviving with a broken arm—most women would have just as soon had their head sent away for a mad-dog test, rather than live to face the ordeal again. Thinking back, it is small wonder that women were hesitant to brave the gasoline alley, unprotected.

Tribute to Women
The self starter was as much a tribute to women as it was an outstanding invention. Following in steady progress came the multitude of other changes in automotive engineering, styling, and design, up to the present-day automobiles that practically run by themselves. In the last year, emphasis has been put on interior decoration. Automobile manufacturers now hire women consultants, knowing that it is good judgment to ask the women themselves what they like and dislike about car features.

Always in the background, however, there has remained one dismal factor—the overwhelming threat of a flat tire, leaving the woman stranded, white-gloved, helpless, and delayed until a rare descendant from the Age of Chivalry stopped to help her. But things are going to be different from now on. Flat tires may soon be as obsolete as wooden car bodies. One automobile company has made the move that will smooth the wrinkles from the motoring mother's brow. The newest thing in standard equipment on cars is tubeless tires.

Packard Motor Car Co.'s president, James J. Nance, has announced that, effective immediately, tubeless tires are standard equipment on all models.

Excuses Out
The time is coming when the old excuse, "I'm sorry I'm late, dear, I had a flat tire!" might be used as incriminating evidence. The 'faux pas' will be obvious, because a tubeless tire isn't likely to have a flat during normal wear before 70,000 miles. This will practically make flat tires obsolete in cars until they get to their sixth and seventh owner.

Automobile manufacturers are paying more and more heed to the desires of the female-of-the-species and her auto instincts. The advent of tubeless tires in a large part a direct result of the recommendations of Packard's national Women's Choice Panel, and with their adoption as standard equipment, the company has taken another step in its long range program to design its product to appeal to women.

American women are entering a new era of motoring safety. Tubeless tires make it possible to accomplish greater safety through added driving control; better balance and easier steering; increased tire strength with protection against puncture leaks. Longer road life is achieved with tire strength up 30 percent. The standard tire failure point is at 19,000 miles, while the tubeless tire failure point, 70,000 miles, increases tire life by 73 percent.

Important to women, who voted "comfort and convenience" the third most-favored feature in a car when surveyed on the Packard Women's Choice Panel, is the improved ride qualities credited to the tubeless tire since road shock is absorbed by more-air-at-less-pressure. A gal can go a-knitting these days and never drop a stitch, while the car floats merrily 'round the turn.

The knitting, of course, should be done when a man is behind the wheel.

Let us design a one or two-color letterhead you will be proud to use in your business. Best quality, reasonable prices. The Northville Record.

Northville's Favorite Recipes

(What's your favorite dish? If you will share it with other Northville housewives, please call The Record's society editor, Telephone 200.)

Mrs. Charles Conklin has consented to part with this very special recipe for Apples-on-a-Stick, for which she has become famous in Northville. She made 800 of these apples for the PTA carnival last spring, preparing the syrup and doing all the dipping herself. There is a secret, of course, and it is included in the following recipe:

Apples-On-A-Stick

10 red apples ¼ cup water
10 wooden skewers red food coloring
2 cups white sugar 2 sticks of cinnamon
½ cup light corn syrup

1. Stick skewers in stem end of apples.
2. Place sugar, syrup and water in a small deep saucepan. Stir until dissolved, then cook quickly without stirring until—and here is the secret of the success of the Apples-on-a-Stick—a few drops of the cooked mixtures SNAPS when dropped in cold water. It must crack or snap so that you can HEAR it.

3. Dip the apples in the syrup and twirl until smooth. Set on well greased cookie sheet until cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Conklin are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Walter Constable of New York, and Mrs. Harry Rodgers of Burbank, Calif. They are the proud grandparents of six grandchildren.

CARELESS LIVING!

We hear a great deal about careless driving in these days and the tragic accidents that such carelessness brings. Have you ever considered the tragic results caused by a life of carelessness about spiritual things? Many people who are careful in things which relate to this life often are complacent about the welfare of their souls. These people do not deny God's existence but they live as if there were no God. They never take Him into their transactions or considerations. They seldom, if ever, attend public worship services though churches may be within easy reach of them. The only time some people attend any kind of religious service is when respect calls them to attend a funeral. Then there is another class who are not quite so careless and yet are satisfied with religious forms. They satisfy their souls by going through the motions of ritualistic worship but are strangers to the vital things of salvation. They have not even taken the time to check what the church teaches or the minister preaches with their Bibles to see if they have spoken the truth. When we see that our eternal destiny depends upon knowing the Truth and obeying it, then we will be able to see how important it is to be careful about spiritual things.

TO NORTHVILLE TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company will present an application to the Michigan Public Service Commission in Lansing on July 14, 1954, for authority to furnish extended area service between Northville and Livonia.

If the Commission approves the Company's proposal, calls between Northville and Livonia will be on a local basis without the payment of toll charges. However, since exchange rates are based on the number of telephones that can be reached on a local basis, the addition of Livonia to the Northville local calling area would move Northville from Outstate Rate Group 4 (6,001 to 12,000 telephones) to Outstate Rate Group 5 (12,001 to 25,000 telephones) and rate increases would result for all business and semi-public coin box services and individual line residence services. The rates for the other services would not change as they are the same in both Rate Groups 4 and 5.

The Company's request of June 9, 1953 to the Michigan Public Service Commission for general increases in rates was recently denied but the Company has petitioned the Commission for a rehearing of the matter. If the rate schedules requested June 9, 1953 were in effect, Northville would move from Outstate Rate Group 4 (8,501 to 17,000 telephones) to Outstate Rate Group 5 (17,001 to 35,000 telephones) with the extended area service to Livonia and rate increases would result for all business, semi-public coin box and one, two and four-party line residence services. The rate for rural residence service would not change as it is the same in both Rate Groups 4 and 5.

Comparison of the rates applicable before and after the extended area service are shown below under present rate schedules and under the schedules proposed June 9, 1953.

"You can expect the most raiding in the best melon patch"

You can bet your bottom dollar on it.

Come next year, or the year after that, you'll be seeing on other cars some of the styling features you see in Buick today.

We expect it. It has happened before. And there is good reason for it—popular appeal.

Take, for example, the car model shown here.

We call it a Riviera. Most people call it a "hardtop."

When Buick introduced this body type in 1949, it was a completely new thing. And it was an instant hit.

Today, Buick "hardtops" outsell all other models in the line. It's the styling America has taken to its heart.

So today you find that every major car maker has his own version of this Buick original. (And we can't blame them a bit. They know a good thing when they see it.)

Maybe you've noticed other such borrowings from Buick.

reflected in the styling of other cars—or will be soon.

For you can be sure that the great panoramic windshield first shown by Buick this year will be copied. It's too good to pass up.

And you can be sure that the full rear-wheel cutout now on every 1954 Buick Riviera and Convertible will show up elsewhere in the future. It's a sports-car touch that hits a really popular note.

We're sure of such things.

We're sure because the tomorrow-styled Buick of today seems to be just what people want. Because Buick sales are soaring. Because Buick now outsells every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

So to you we say—why wait another day to see and drive a new Buick? It's the beauty of the year. It's the buy of the times. And it's a wonderful way to head up the parade.

Drop in this week for a demonstration, won't you?

Bible Comment:

We Often Forget To Follow Jesus In Family Life

IT is interesting to see how much in the ministry of Jesus is associated with homes and families.

Jesus, who in contrast with John the Baptist, described Himself as having come eating and drinking, would seem to have accepted freely invitations to various homes.

He was at the marriage in Cana of Galilee, and evidently had close contact with Peter's family.

After the famous incident of the little man climbing a tree to see Him, He went home with Zacchaeus.

He was the guest of the Pharisee, who invited Him to the home where the "woman who was in the city, a sinner," with apparently an evil reputation, washed His feet with her tears and dried them with her hair.

This occasioned His striking rebuke to the Pharisee, who for some reason had invited Him in, but had failed in the usual courtesies to a guest.

But the home and family most intimately associated with Jesus was in Bethany, where Lazarus lived with his sisters, Mary and Martha.

These and similar incidents suggest that there were probably many unrecorded occasions of the contacts of Jesus with homes and families.

Parental authority and discipline were probably greater determining factors for all the family than they are today.

Possibly the faith and zeal of the head of the family were not so evident in its members, but of that we have no means of knowing. What we do know is that there is a great lack of family religion today.

Are the parents, the schools or the children themselves responsible? Whatever factor is responsible, there definitely is a lack of family religion where one might, most expect to find it—in the home.

Turtle Derby

still, hanging onto somebody's finger.

Already many children have obtained members of the terrapin family, and are busy decorating them. Some have been seen training their "fiery steeds" in hope that they could inject a little more speed.

Turtles Elusive
 A number of expeditions into the "wilds" of Waterford and other nearby spots have been conducted. Tuesday, Dir. Johnston took members of his junior baseball team in a school bus and started out in search of the wily turtle. He reported that "wily" was the correct term, since at one spot where they saw "hundreds" of turtles, the creatures saw them coming and ducked for cover. Three promising specimens were captured, however, and Johnston said the boys were going to use nets in a second attempt to outwit the turtles.

Other rules for the contest are: Select a name for the contestant (i.e., Jumping Joe, Space Cadet, Soupy Sales, Lightning — as if any turtle could be named Lightning!).

Make a design on the turtle's back: (Use paint, chalk, adhesive tape, etc. to make a diamond, cross, picture or other design.)

Put your initials somewhere on the shell so you can identify your entry.

Must Register

Register your entry at The Record office Friday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock, or at the parking lot — (Pardon, race course) — Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Parents will be admitted only if accompanied by a child.

Registration will be in charge of Miss Jean Campbell, assistant recreation director.

There will be one race for girls, another for boys, and a third for all entries. Entries will be placed in a box in the center of a huge ring. At a signal from the judges, the box will be lifted, and the first contestant "galloping" out of the ring in any direction will be declared the winner.

Judges Named

Chief judge will be Stephen L. Lockwood, of Omaha, who is visiting relatives in Northville. Mr. Lockwood, an official of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad for many years, said he is used to judging faster things than turtles, but remembers times when trains travelled over the Great Divide at something like a turtle's pace.

Other judges are Dir. Johnston and Mayor Claude N. Ely.

Police Chief Joseph Denton said the Village parking lot will be blocked off Saturday morning for the use of the children, and that motorists should use the parking space around the Community Center.

Serve broiled tomato halves and rounds of onions with broiled lamb chops. Dribble melted margarine over both vegetables. Then sprinkle the tomatoes with a little crushed basil and the onions with a bit of brown sugar.

U of M Box Lunch Social July 22

The picnic grove at the Waldo Johnson farm on Novi Rd. will be the scene of the Northville University of Michigan alumni club's "Box lunch social" Thursday, July 22. Members of the club are urging all U of M alums to come and get acquainted and join in the fun and activities of the club.

Just in case you have forgotten the rules of "box lunch socialing", the ladies of the attending couples prepare a box lunch for two, complete with service and dessert. Her name is attached so it cannot be seen by the bidders. The men bid for the boxes, having the honor or privilege of sharing the lunch with the maker. All proceeds of the auction are added to the scholarship fund for the benefit of Northville's boys and girls on scholarship at U of M.

The entertainment committee is planning one or two surprises featuring the famous Wistert Note Twister, a barbershop quartet, and possibly some "but-side" attractions. A good time is assured all alumni who attend.

Any woman worth knowing has a savings account of her own on which she can draw when she gets tired of you.
