Clouds of Dust From Street Repair Work Anger Center St. Residents

A badgered Village commission listened patiently Monday night as an irate citizen complained heatedly about its lack of action on the improvement of Center St. and the clouds of dust raised by a Wayne County Road commission crew making repairs.

Grover C. Peters, 225 S. Center St., got some sympathy when he said that he had started painting his house, in which he has resided for ten years, only to have the job spoiled by swirling dust and bits of sand and powdered stone.

He had the job about three-quarters completed, he said, when the work crew began using a mechanical sweeper to smooth off crushed stone which had been pulverized by a heavy roller.

The dust and dirt raised by the sweeper blew like a desert sand storm over his house. Just spite work, he charged.

"The paint now looks like sandpaper," he declared. "People along the street are all pretty mad about it. Many of them have had to take down their curtains and send them to the cleaners."

Holding the floor for nearly 30 minutes, Peters gave the commission a verbal "dressing down" over the "horrible condition" of S. Center St. during his residency here.

All of the residents along Center St. have fought a "pretty bad situation" for years, in the expectation that at some time the street would be paved, Peters told the commission.

During storm, a flood of water comes down Cady St. off the school ground, and rushing down Center St., washes out driveways, ditches and across lawns, he asserted.

Now the county has decided to do some work on the street, but "what they have done is absolutely useless," he declared.

He said the work crew had sprayed a thin, bituminous liquid on the road surface, and then had spread crushed stone.

When a heavy roller was run over the surface, however, it crushed the stone to a flour-like powder, he declared. This powder, stirred up by the sweeper, Continued on Page 10

Old Time Threshing Bee Is Project of Novi Odd Fellows Lodge

Thirty members of Novi Odd Fellows Lodge No. 487, tired but happy from the completion of an unusual project, tumbled into bed Saturday night and dreamed of streams of wheat and cascading chaff.

The 30—lawyers, carpenters, merchants and those of other occupations—late Saturday finished the harvesting of more than 20 acres of wheat on the farm of Glenn Salow, Sr., Taft and Ten Mile roads.

The project was a unique one, brought about by the need for funds to support the lodge following the abandonment of bingo games and similar fund-raising devices.

Donates Ground

Salow, who is a member of the lodge last August said he would donate a plot of ground if the lodge would consider growing a crop of wheat. Businessmen, who could not devote time to the project gave money instead.

By Aug. 17, a committee headed by L. J. Putnam and composed of Salow and George Atkinson, reported that 12 acres had been plowed, including a five acre plot near the Novi school. By Aug. 31, all of the ground had been prepared.

Certified seed was purchased at a cost of $113.80 from the Wisconsin Cooperative, plus $108.50 worth of fertilizer. A total of $240 was raised by donation, and expenses in all amounted to $318.

On Sept. 28, all the wheat had been drilled, and the Odd Fellows sat back to await results. Harvesting started last July 10, with many members of the lodge on hand to collect calluses in various places.

The Big Day

Then came the big day last Saturday. Together with 21 members of the Rebekahs, the Odd Fellows, with tools and equipment and a separator and tractor furnished by William Manns, 79, a veteran thresher, started in early in the morning.

Some loaded trucks from the shocked wheat on the two plots of ground, and hauled it to the separator near Salow's cherry orchard. Others pitched the bundles into the yawning mouth of the separator while still others sacked the grain as it came out of the machine, and stacked the bags on a waiting truck.

Naturally, there was time out Continued on Page 10

Owls Stump Village Wiseacres; Are They Methodists or Just Plain Owls?

Wiseest of birds, according to tradition, is the Owl.

Whether it was a suggestion that Northville could use their counsel, or whether it was just happenstance is uncertain, five of the ungainly creatures turned up at the Village commission meeting Monday evening.

Patrolman Frank Thomas said he had apprehended the birds holding an unauthorized "meeting" behind the Village clock in the steeple atop the Methodist church on Dunlap St.

He brought them in a cardboard box to the Village hall, where two of them were introduced to the Village commission during a discussion as to the ownership of the Methodist church steeple.

Just babies, they were, all white and fuzzy and wobbly. Dubbed "Peter" and "Mortimer", they had no particular comment at first, apparently believing— young as they were, (and which, in effect, was mute testimony to their reputed intelligence)—that a closed mouth gets no foot in.

"The Methodist church people want us to print the steeple and fix the clock," observed Comm. John Stubenvoll. "Bids on the job are around $600, and the birds don't care if they get the work or not. That's too much money."

Pety and Mortimer seemed to nod agreement. After all, they'd been living there, and probably knew best whether the quarters were worth fixing up.

Mayor Claude N. Ely recited a little history, saying the steeple had been built on the church by a man named Gardner years ago, and had been deeded to the Village.

There was some question as to whether the Village actually owns the steeple, since it is on a church owned by the Methodist congregation. Although the Village has been paying insurance premiums, and the cost of repairs for some time, doubts were raised as to whether the Village actually is responsible.

Why not deed the steeple to the church? Church officials take a dim view of that, since they would then acquire the expense of maintaining it.

"What about these here owls?" someone asked. "Are they Methodist owls or Village owls?" Mayor Ely and Comm. F. Alton Peters leaned over the box for a closer look.

Pety—or maybe it was Mortimer—hissed loudly, seemingly representing the intuition into their private affairs.

It was their only comment. Afterward, the owls were ordered turned over to Marvin Guntzville, noted taxidermist at Taft and Ten Mile roads, who said he would care for them until they were older, and perhaps wiser.

Then, he said, he would turn them loose, since owls are now protected and are considered quite an asset in the destruction of rodents.

There's no telling how long Pety and Mortimer and the rest of the family have been living in the Methodist church steeple, according to Guntzville.

Entirely nocturnal, the owls would not normally be noticed by humans. Of the barn owl variety, the only ones that nest in buildings, it is not uncommon to find them in lofts or steeples in small towns, Guntzville says.

New Gas Well on Butler Farm Ready to Produce

Final cleanup work on the Butler gas well between Six and Seven Mile roads on Napier Rd. was under way this week as preparations were being made to cut the well into the old Carroll well pipe line which runs nearby.

Don Butler, Jr. said that more than 7,000 gallons of acid had already been used to clean out the well, which when it came in just before July 4th was producing approximately one million cubic feet of gas per day.

Cleaning Effective

Now Butler said, the cleaning process has been so effective that the output is more than triple the initial rate. He said he understood that William Taggart, in charge of operations, has entered into an agreement with Consumers Power Co. for the purchase of the gas.

Consumers Power has been taking gas from the Carroll well for about 12 years, and that from the Butler well is of the same quality, Butler declared. The gas is of the type known as "sweet" gas with no impurities, so that it can be used direct from the well.

The Carroll gas is being used in Plymouth and at the Wayne County Training school on Sheldon Rd.

The Butler well, at the intersection of the Butler, Stroh and Angel farms, is a cooperative venture of the three. The well was drilled by the Muskegon Development Co. to a depth of 2980 feet, into the Niagara formation.

This formation is approximately 1100 feet above the Trenton formation, from which the LeMaster well a mile north is now producing oil. No oil has been found in the Niagara formation in this area.

Prevents Exhaustion

Under state law, Butler said, only 17 per cent of the maximum capacity of the well can be used. This prevents exhaustion of the well within a short time, permitting the use over a long period as in the case of the Carroll well.

A second well is being drilled by Taggart between the Butler and Stroh farm, and is now down to 2100 feet. Whether this well will be drilled only into the Niagara formation, or will go on to the Trenton, has not been decided.

Bad Check Passers Are Sought Here

Northville police are seeking two persons who reportedly passed bad checks here last week.

John Poulos, of the Northville restaurant, reported he had cashed a $200 check for Bruce Wells, of Detroit, who a week before had cashed an identical check at Northville Downs. Investigation revealed that Wells, who with a brother is said to own a service station in Detroit, is now in Kentucky.

In the second case, a check for $18 made out to Harold B. Lacy and signed Anne Lee Black, of Plymouth, was returned marked "No account."

Northville Man Hurt In Accident

Robert A. Smith, 103 N. Rogers, is in Wayne County General hospital with severe injuries suffered early Friday morning when his car was run off the road on Northville Rd. just south of Seven Mile.

Unnoticed until a passing motorist reported the accident to Patrolman Eugene King, Smith lay in the car, overturned in a ditch, for nearly two hours. He said two cars, one passing the other, forced him off the highway.

He suffered a broken hip, a cut on the forehead, and other injuries.

41 Oil, Gas Wells Now In Northville Field, State Conservation Dept. Says

Forty-one oil and gas wells are scheduled for the Northville oil field at this time.

The field has one producing oil well, the original LeMaster discovery well which has a rated capacity of about 600 barrels per day. Four other wells have been drilled into oil pay formations but are not yet producing. Five gas wells also have been opened, but are shut in until pipe line facilities are available. Six wells have turned out to be dry holes.

This is the score for the Northville oil boom to date.

It changes from week to week as new wells are started, others now being drilled either come in or become dry holes, and new permits are taken out with the state.

Four Hit Oil Pay Formation

The wells put down to oil pay formations are the Williams well, put down by Schiffman near the southeast corner of Chubb and Base Line roads, the Kehri-LeMaster well in the northwest corner of Napier and 7-Mile roads; the Balko well in the northeast corner of Base Line and Chubb roads; and the Malley well in the southwest corner of Beck and Nine Mile roads.

Five Gas Wells

They are thegm. hgHI D.fg The field has five gas wells capable of commercial production. They are the Davidson gas well brought in by Wm. J. Morriss on the southeast quarter of Section 36 in Lyon township, near Base Line and Napier roads; the Butler-Angell-Stroh well on the northeast quarter of Section 12, Salem township, west of Napier between 6 and 7-Mile roads; and the Wilson-Buers well brought in by Taggart Bros. on the southwest quarter of Section 1, Salem township, north of 7-Mile between Napier and Chubb.

The fourth gas well is the Nerretter well west of Chubb road between 7 Mile and Base Line roads and the fifth is the Merritt well east of Chubb between 7 Mile and Base Line roads.

None of these wells is producing at the moment because of lack of pipe line facilities. It is understood that the Butler-Angell-Stroh well will have a pipe line connection shortly.

Three Non-Commercial

Three wells put down to the Dundee sand several years ago are rated by the conservation department as non-commercial gas producers.

Five wells have been completed and officially rated as dry holes.

The foregoing information has been obtained from records of the state conservation department and local sources. It is believed to be fairly accurate. In some cases, however, there may be discrepancies between the official record and local reports and knowledge. These will be concerned with the status of individual wells, which according to state records may still be in the drilling stage, even though oil or gas have been discovered but not fully developed by the operator. Thus, there may be local reports of a new well which may not appear on the state's official record until the well has been fully developed and proved.

Map Published

The Record is publishing on Page 2 a map of the Northville oil field, brought up-to-date with state records within the past few days.

Each well carries a number and below the map in tabular form is a brief resume of the status of the well.

Delores Bell Weds Ronald Jennings

White chantilly lace over satin was worn by Delores Ann Bell for her marriage to Ronald Francis Jennings. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a rounded neckline edged with pearl beading and long sleeves buttoned at the wrists with pearl buttons. Her satin and tulle skirt was floor length. The shoulder veil of tulle fell from a satin and pearl beaded cap and she carried Fleur de Amour, glamelias and ivy.

The rites were read at 8 p.m. on June 26 in the First Methodist church in Northville with Rev. Ivan Hodgson officiating. Mrs. M. Somers played the wedding march and Carl Stephens sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Delores is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bell, 530 E. Eight Mile Rd. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Jennings of Clarkston, Mich.

Mrs. Clair Brown of Northville was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Gail Bemish and Marjorie DeJohn, both of Northville.

Clair Brown was best man. Ushers were Mark Bell, Jr., brother of the bride and her cousin, Carl Dyar, Jr. of Walled Lake.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bell chose cocoa brown lace with pink hat and gloves and brown shoes and purse. Mrs. Jennings wore a gown of light blue lace with matching accessories. Both Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Jennings wore shoulder corsages of pink roses.

Following a reception for 250 guests in the church parlors, the young couple left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan. For traveling, Delores wore a navy suit with white accessories. They will make their home on W. Eleven Mile Rd., Novi.

Delores graduated from Northville High school in 1951 and attended Dearborn Junior college. Ronald was a graduate of the class of 1950 of Northville High school following which he attended Alma college and served in the U.S. Navy.

Priscilla Older at Ypsilanti Normal Music School

Priscilla Older, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Drake Older, 364 S. Rogers St., spent three weeks at the Ypsilanti State Normal college summer music session for high school students. Priscilla occupied first chair in the oboe section.

These summer sessions are under the direction of Dr. Fitch, who is band director at the Ypsilanti college. Students study in both band and orchestra and practice eight hours a day. Priscilla studied both piano and oboe and besides playing in the band and orchestra was piano accompanist for one of the concerts.

Northville is fortunate in being close to Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor so that high school and college students have available these splendid opportunities for summer study.

Several other students are taking advantage of summer vacation for furthering their studies in chosen fields; Sally Wagon-schutz and George Rambeau have been attending a four week speech session at Michigan State college; Marilyn McCarthy is at Interlochen Music camp, and Barbara Couse is playing flute with the University of Michigan orchestra.

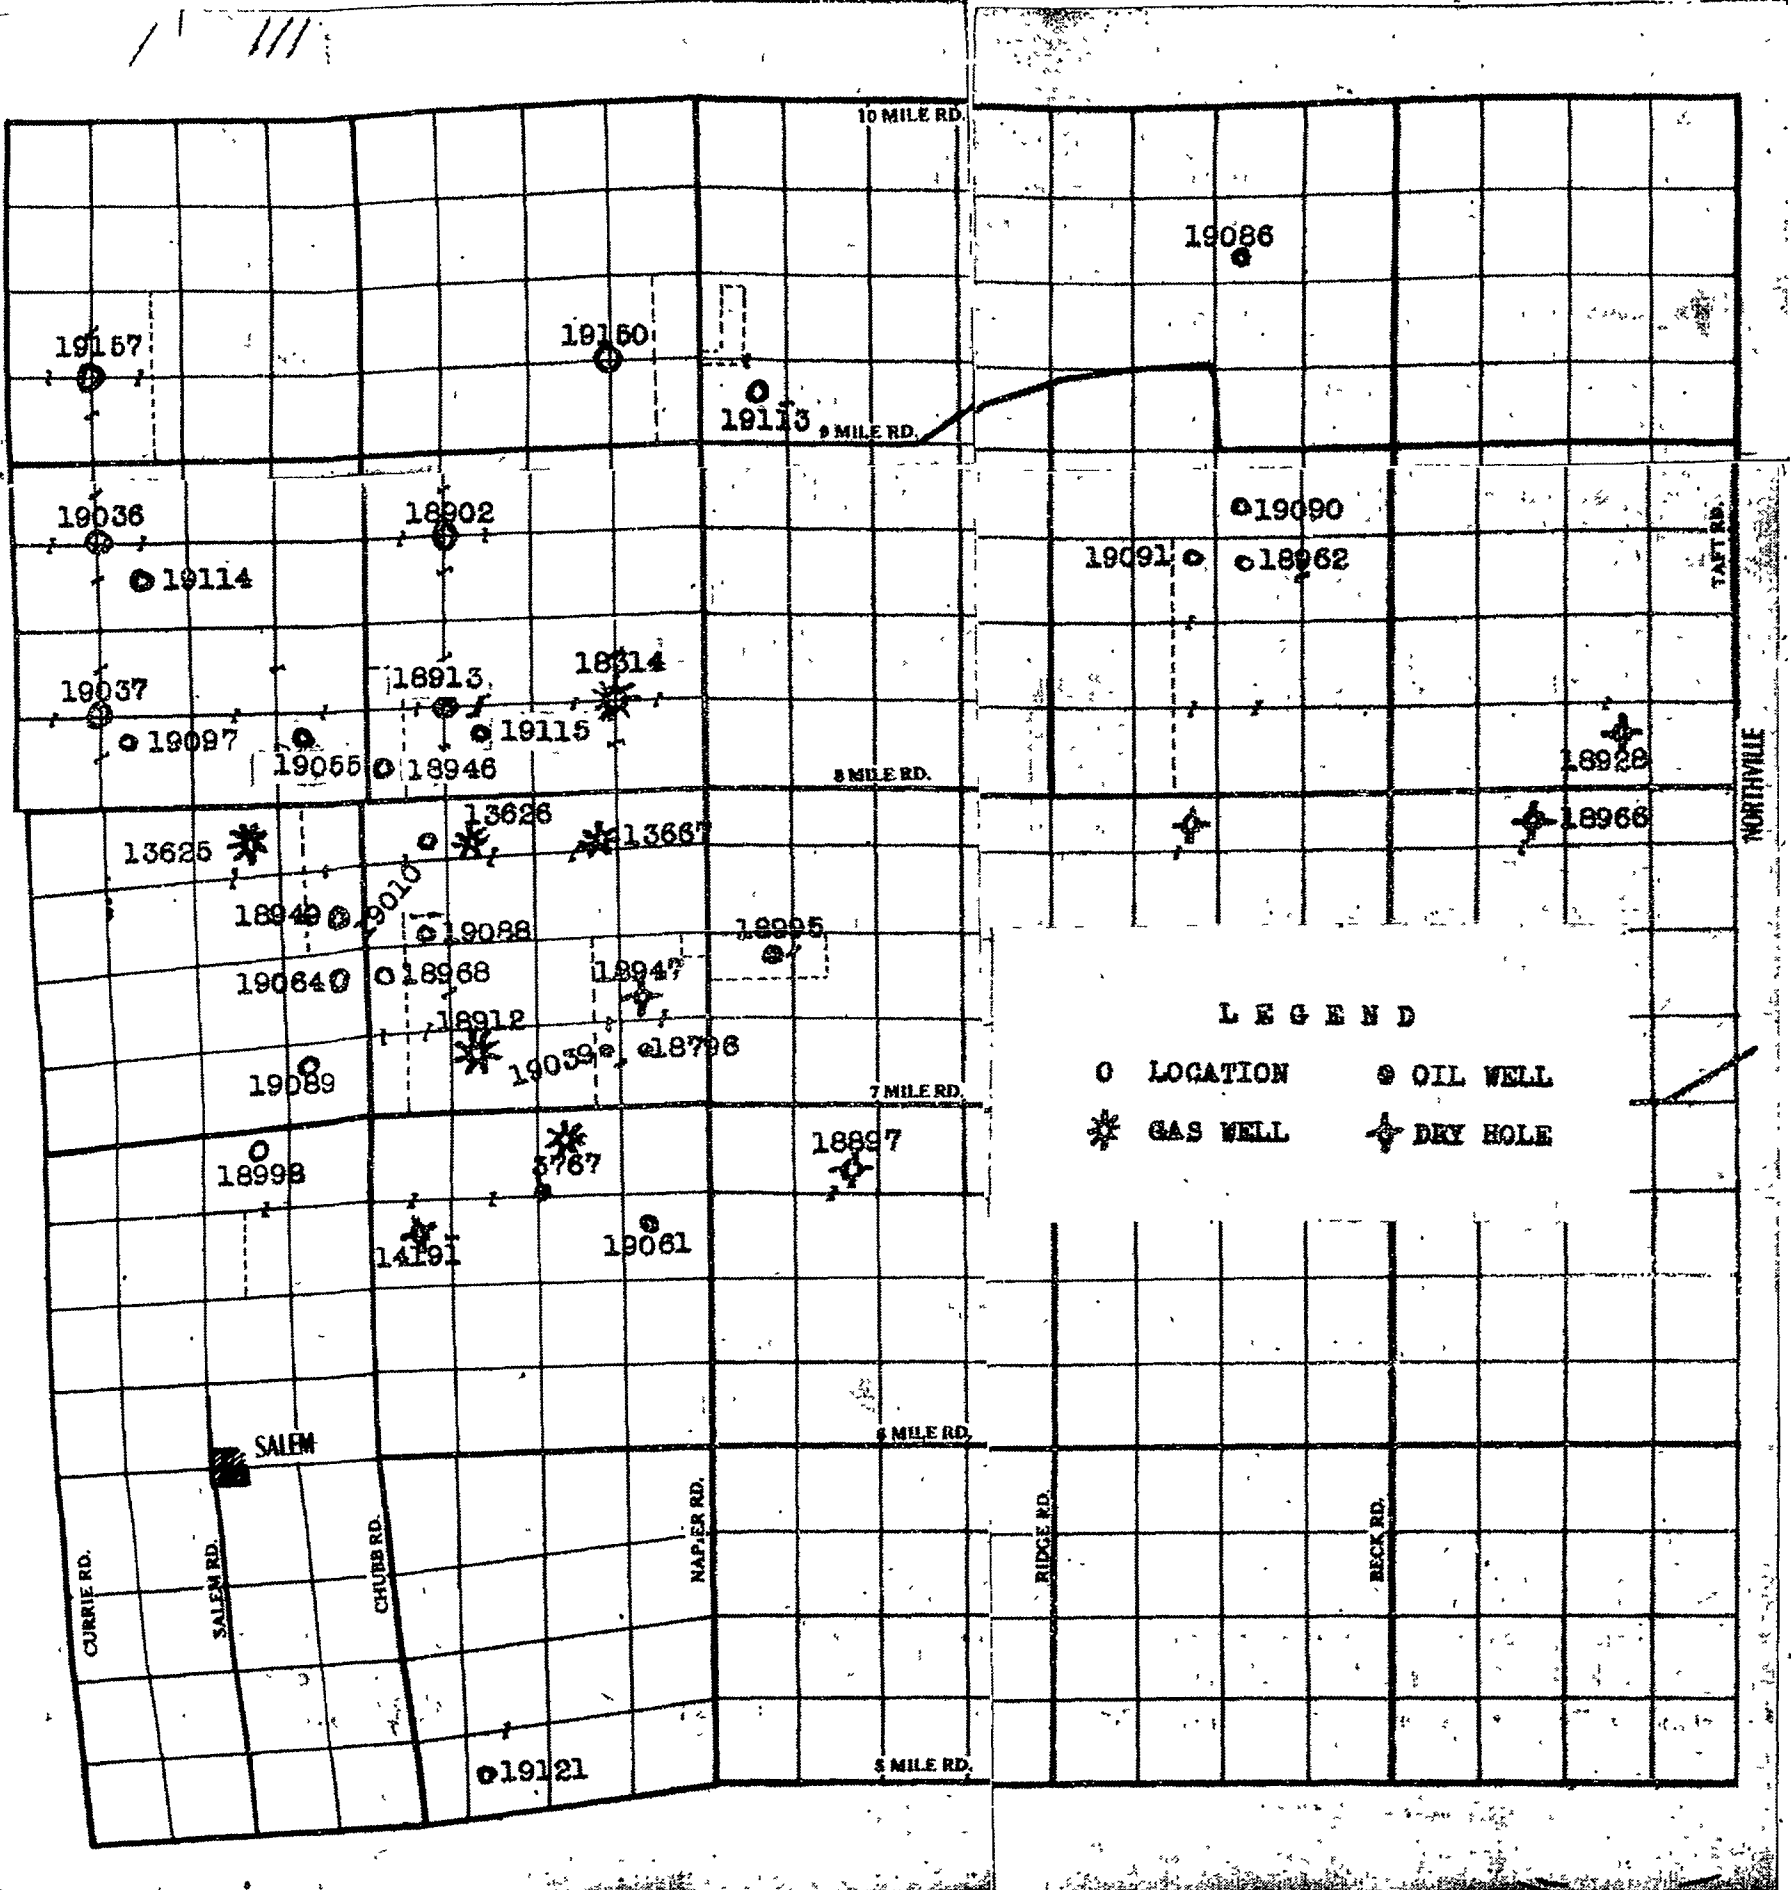

Mrs. Sands Painting on Exhibit at Hudsons

Mrs. Joseph Sands' oil painting, "Summer Breeze", has been selected to hang in the Palette and Brush club show at the J. L. Hudson company gallery on the 11th floor, July 19 to 31. The paintings for the show were all selected by two prominent Detroit artists, Kenneth Hines and Joseph Franz.

Mrs. Sands has been painting and studying for several years and her fine work is well known in Northville.

The Sands reside at 22800 Napier Rd.

You get Tomorrow's Style in Today's Buick

It's a Million Dollar Ride - and no foolin'!

YOU can see for yourself the gay and gorgeous styling that's sure to be the fresh note next year, too.

And you can easily learn that here is power a-plenty—the highest V8 power, Series for Series, in the annals of Buick history.

But what you can never know, till you try it yourself, is the feel of a Buick in motion.

It's a ride as precision-soft and firm as only coiled steel can make it.

Yes, coil springs on all four wheels. And a full-length torque-tube drive for true tracking. And a massive X-braced frame for solid steadiness. And specially calibrated shock absorbers, V-braced struts, wide-rim wheels, a unique front-end geometry—plus a host of other betterments too numerous to mention.

You feel the result of this advanced engineering every mile you drive—in what is literally and figuratively a Million Dollar Ride.

You feel it in the superb and buoyant cradling. You feel it in the serene levelness of your going over ruts and ridges. You feel it in the precise snubbing of jars and jounces. You feel it in a new kind of steadiness, handling ease, curve control.

Only thing for you to do, we believe, is to come try this miracle of motion—and we'll be glad to oblige.

That way you'll also learn firsthand about the style, the power, and the value that have made Buick such a best-selling success this year. For Buick today is out-selling all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

Death on a Bicycle

Not many weeks ago a Northville boy of 13 was killed when he ran his bicycle into the path of a Salem automobile.

The tragedy was the topic of discussion for quite a while among children who had been his playmates, and parents of children of the same age group.

Yet, the lesson that should have been learned from this poignant tragedy appears to have been almost forgotten.

Within the past month, no less than three accidents have been reported involving children on bicycles who either ran into cars or were struck by them.

Only the circumstance that in all the cases the motorists were driving with extreme caution, prevented another possible tragedy.

While the burden of responsibility for a bicycle-car crash is generally considered to be that of the driver, invariably the blame is that of the child—or, more appropriately, the parents who fail to educate their children as to the dangers of bicycle riding, and do not exercise sufficient control.

Children at play, living in a sort of happy, secluded dream-world, are not always conscious of the dangers existing in modern traffic.

Parents, therefore, must continually seek to instill an alertness and vigilance in children, with one thought uppermost in their minds:

Death never takes a holiday.

Baruch on Wartime Economy

Bernard Baruch, who probably knows more about supply and demand in peace and war than any other man in the country, recently told a group of students our failure to have a fully worked-out mobilization plan at the outbreak of World War II, and to impose such a plan in the early days of the Korean War has probably cost this country $140,000,000,000.

Mr. Baruch said World War II could have been ended a year quicker, and $100,000,000,000 saved, if the Government had immediately put into action a complete mobilization plan when the war began. Instead, he said, the country faltered and tried various measures—unsuccessfully in World War I—which allowed both inflation and profiteering and, only finally came around to the mobilization plan which should have had in the first place.

In the Korean War, by refusing to enact stringent controls at the war's outset, the country lost another $40,000,000,000, Baruch declared. Mr. Baruch stated flatly:

"Taken together, in other words, more than half our national debt, which burdens us so heavily today, represents a needless tribute exacted by inflation."

We do not claim Mr. Baruch has all the answers to problems of mobilization, but we do believe he is basically right, and that his ideas on this subject—if implemented—could have saved the country over a hundred billion dollars. The lesson is obvious. The country should have a fully worked out mobilization plan, as well as a system of decentralized war industries—which would be effective and operating at the outset of a new world war.

Larger Defense Expenditures?

One result of the fall of Dien Bien Phu and the obvious Communist stalling tactics at Geneva is active consideration in Washington of a broader defense program. It is believed that President Dwight D. Eisenhower is now seriously considering a larger defense budget and possibly a cancellation of proposed reductions in strength for the Army and possibly the Navy.

For a time it was believed that a compromise, or truce, could be worked out with the Communists in Indochina. Such hopes now appear to have been unjustified, and the only alternative seems to be a strong united front by the democracies in Asia.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is now engaged in an effort to line up this united front in Asia, but this effort will take time and if the war in Indochina continues, the flow of war materials to that area might be increased.

If the United States is to join a NATO-type organization in Asia, and continue to supply large quantities of aid and technical assistance to French-Union forces in Indochina, the defense budget might have to be raised. Moreover, the ominous lesson learned at Geneva is that Russia and China are now partners in an aggressive effort which matches the best efforts of Adolph Hitler and Benito Mussolini in the 1930's.

The one positive result of the Geneva Conference is confirmation of the suspicion that China has embarked on an expansion program in Asia which dwarfs even the dreams of Japanese military leaders in the 1930's. The United States, as a result, might have to reorientate its defense program and thinking concerning Asia. It is altogether a somber prospect for the American people, and one which may demand new sacrifices in the future.

rights but for some fundamental values in life."

As businessmen and as educators, we have been unwilling to be clear and coherent about what we want the United States to be. Consequently, the confusion in the schools and among businessmen is getting worse and worse. The Army-McCarthy hearings in Washington were an illustration of this useless confusion.

Since businessmen say our youth are coming to know less and less about less and less, perhaps a research project to determine exactly what our schools do teach might be a starting point. This might be followed by a movement to overhaul courses of study in the light of what research may reveal would best serve the interests of all.

WHAT ABOUT DISCIPLINE?
Discipline is a major national need. General S. L. A. Marshall, of the Detroit News, intimates that our soldiers on the Korean battlefield lacked discipline—which had something to do with the way things went in Korea. There are further implications that lack of discipline in our schools contributes to juvenile delinquency and is a threat to our national security.

Are these the real problems or are they the symptoms of a fundamental problem? May it not be that inability to comply with regulations, whether of the Army, the home, or the community, stems from lack of self-mastery? Should not our society develop people with qualities of self-discipline to develop initiative and intelligence?

SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS

The teacher shortage is another problem. During 1954, it is indicated there will be a shortage of 72,000 teachers in our elementary schools alone. In the next three years, 45 states will run short of elementary teachers and 20 states will find themselves short of high school teachers. On Oct. 12, 1953, Newsweek reported that "in the past year, 60,000 teachers left the field . . ."

Tie this in also with a New York Times editorial of last August which discusses the Summit, N. J. high school teacher who left his $85 per week teaching job to drive a brewery truck at $137.50 per week. Obviously, there are some problems here.

BUSINESSMEN'S NEEDS

Or, for the businessman there are such problem areas as executive development programs; research on personnel selection techniques; problems of industrial morale, diet, and health; union-management relations; more effective distribution of goods—these and a multitude of others should be research and training areas.

I am really writing this column as a "trial balloon" to locate readers who are willing to give time toward a solution. The curse of both education and business today is INDIFFERENCE. Some new non-profit organization may be needed to help bring these changes about. I greatly feel the need, but do not know how to bring it about. Suggestions from readers will be appreciated. Address me at Babson Park 57, Mass.

The Federal Government operates more than 100 business-type activities, and has stores inventories comparable to those of all private enterprises, according to an intermediate report of the Congressional Committee on Government Operations.

The report goes on to assert that the Government is the largest insurer, the largest lender, the largest tenant, the largest holder of grazing land, the largest owner of grain, the largest warehouse operator, the largest shipowner, and the largest truck-fleet operator in our land.

"When one analyzes the reasons given against the facts for the initiation or continuation of business-type activities in the Government," the report points out, "the conclusion is reached that they are frequently excuses. For example cost is often given as the reason for starting or continuing an operation such as coffee manufacturing, rope manufacturing, paint manufacturing, etc.

"When agencies are asked for comparative costs analyses on which conclusions are based, it is frequently found that either the statement is incorrect, that adequate costs have not been kept, or that all elements of direct or indirect costs are not included in the statements, which are obviously designed to prove a point."

WALKING IS HER JOB

Watertown, Mass. — Joan E. Trott, 26, has walked a distance equivalent of from Boston to Los Angeles during the last year, although she has not left town. For five days a week, she is a shoe-fester for a rubber firm. After a day's work, she often spends half the night dancing.

BUSINESSMEN TO BLAME FOR OUR INEFFICIENT SCHOOLS

Babson Park, Mass. — Schools and colleges cannot be divorced from business. In the long run, business has only the kind of leaders and workers that the schools produce. Today, many business and educational leaders are expressing concern about the education product. Free public education appears to be watering down our great tradition of discipline and struggle.

Yet, others say that while we have taught people how to make money, we have failed to teach them how to use it properly. The most damning criticism is that our system is one of education for mediocrity; we pull the bright child downward as we try to drag the dull child upward. This results in a mediocrity of conformity.

Marylin McCarthy at Interlochen

Marylin McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McCarthy of W. Main St., is attending the famed National Music camp at Interlochen for two weeks this summer. Marylin occupies first chair in the clarinet section.

About 1,100 students will attend the camp's regular season where a staff of specialists will guide and train them in their respective arts activities. Some 250 public performances and radio broadcasts will be presented by the students during the eight-week season.

The National Music camp was phonic orchestras, three symphonic bands, 12 choral organizations, an opera company producing 50 operas each summer, and numerous other activities which provide training and experience in the arts. A complete recreation program, with instruction in land and water sports, provides an ideal balance between work and play for the campers.

Northville Woman In Play at MSC

Mrs. Lois Tobin, Northville, will participate in the Michigan State college summer term play to be presented July 22 and 23 at 8-15 p.m. in the college union parlors.

The play, "Arms and The Man", a romantic satire by George Bernard Shaw, set in the 1880's, was not originally intended to be produced as a "theater in the round" production, but has been adapted to the arena style for MSC's presentation.

Garden Club Picnic

Several members of the National Farm and Garden Assn., Northville branch, motored to the home of Mrs. Fran Jennings at Waterford for the annual Garden club picnic Monday, July 12.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Bowman of Green Ridge nursery presented their landscaping plans for the Northville Community center.

After the business meeting, the club members and their guests, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Schrader and Mrs. O'Leary, made a tour of the estate and stopped at the lake cottage for refreshments. Everyone enjoyed the wonderful view and the beautiful evergreens and many other types of trees on the estate as well as the bountiful picnic dinner.

What's Cooking?

(What's your favorite dish? If you will share it with other Northville housewives, please call The Record's society editor, Telephone 200.)

Waistlines staying about the same? No? Let's forget about the pie and cake recipes for a time and try this delicious beef casserole dish which is a favorite of the George Zerbel family. It will please you no end if you have some left-over meat on hand. Mrs. Zerbel had a yummy sounding Ambrosia recipe which belonged to her grandmother, but we decided to be practical this week. Perhaps we can have the Ambrosia recipe later on.

Beef Casserole
 1 1/2 cups leftover beef
 3/4 cup onion slices
 1/2 green pepper

Saute the above mixture until a golden brown and then add:

1 can mushrooms
 1 cup of tomatoes (more or less—as you prefer)
 1 1/2 cups thin gravy

Combine the above with two ounces of boiled noodles. Season with salt and pepper and pour into casserole. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

The Zerbels with their daughters Barbara 6 and Susan 4, reside at 543 W. Dunlap St.

No Compromise This Time!

It was over twenty years ago that he took title to his first motor car—and, since that time, he has owned and driven almost a dozen different automobiles.

And yet, every time he accepted the keys to a new car, he knew in his heart that it was a compromise.

For—like so many millions of his fellow men—he had his heart set on a Cadillac!

Well, there's no compromise this time! The magic moment has arrived. The papers are all in order... the keys are in his hand... and the car of his dreams is waiting for him to take the wheel. It's his!

And, if you could but ride with him on that first journey, you'd understand what it means to have a motoring dream come true.

You'd see excitement in his eyes as he rolls majestically through the city's traffic—and puts his Cadillac through its thrilling paces on the open road.

You'd see honest pride in his face as he sits, calmly and, serenely in the driver's seat, and catches the admiring glances of his fellow motorists.

And you'd sense the joy in his heart as he turns down that familiar street and heads for the happiest homecoming of the year!

In short, you'd witness a motorist in his finest hour—living out an experience that has no counterpart in the world of transportation. It is a thrill and an inspiration and an education—all rolled into one.

A friend of ours put it this way. "There are two kinds of automobiles," he told us. "There are Cadillacs—and there are all the others."

Whether or not you've driven "all the others," we can't say. But of one thing we are certain: Until you've spent an hour in the driver's seat of a 1954 Cadillac, your motoring education is not complete.

Why not come in soon and do so?

Carrington was present to discuss with the Commission the subject of insurance rates for the new school being built on No. Center St., and presented a resolution which he requested that the Village adopt which would make it possible to get better insurance rates for the school; Moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Welch, that the following resolution be adopted.

"BE IT RESOLVED, that the Village of Northville hereby agrees to furnish fire service to the territory embraced within the Township of Novi, (No. Center St. school only) being expressly understood and agreed that such fire department response is binding upon the Village of Northville at all times, except in the event that the fire department is unable to respond for reasons beyond its control;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village of Northville shall provide for response to fire calls to No. Center Street School, Novi Twp., with fire apparatus having a minimum of 500 gallons per minute pumping capacity and four men, and that the fire department will respond to such calls without delay and under the same conditions as to fire alarms within the village limits;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that inasmuch as a reduction in fire insurance rates on certain properties under city hydrant protection, but outside the incorporate limits is recognized in connection with and on account of the above described response to fire calls, that should this resolution be rescinded, the Village Clerk is hereby instructed to notify the Michigan Inspection Bureau." Motion was carried.

Insurance on the Northville Community Bldg. was also discussed with Mr. Carrington, and after due consideration, it was moved by Comm. Stubenvoll, supported by Comm. Allen, that insurance on $185,000.00 valuation on this building be divided between C. Harold Bloom and T. R. Carrington. Carried.

D. J. Stark, representing the Methodist Church, stated that the church was figuring on painting their building and requested that the Village paint the clock tower at the same time to complete the paint job. Moved by Reed, supported by Allen, that if the job can be done for less than $300.00, that Comm. Allen be authorized to have it painted. Carried.

Reports of the Police Department, Village Treasurer and the Health Comm. were submitted for the month of June 1954, and it was moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Welch, that these reports be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

Upon recommendation of A. R. Clarke, Village Treas., it was moved by Allen, supported by Reed, that the Trust Fund of Rural Hill Cemetery buy a $500.00 Series "K" Savings Bond. Carried.

Police Dept. was instructed to place "No Parking" signs on both sides of E Cady St. from the property of Earl Patterson at 360 E. Cady St. around the corner and including Park Place, paper signs to be put up until permanent signs can be installed.

The trash pick-up situation was again discussed, and it was decided that the committee appointed by Pres. Ely should work out a method of getting the information to the residents as to how this matter is to be handled.

Comm. Allen reported that Northville Downs wanted the Village to make an 8" water main connection to the village mains at Village Exports. It was agreed that the Village would furnish the labor for such connection, but not the materials.

No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned.

at noon for a family-style dinner served by the Rebekahs in the Salow yard—great bowls of potato salad, platters piled high with sliced ham and other meats, mounds of bread, dishes of various kinds of vegetables, several kinds of pie, and buckets of iced tea.

The "farm hands" took to it like oldtime farm hands. Then they trudged back to the fields.

Grain Threshed

By night, all of the grain had been threshed and hauled away, 350 bushels of it. The Wixom Cooperative will pay approximately $672 for it, leaving the lodge about half of that in profit.

Will they do it again next year? "I doubt it," said one member, holding up a hand and grimacing ruefully. "Look at those blisters! I won't be able to hold a pencil for a week."

But he grinned as he said it. Those who participated in the project were Gale Enders, Noble Grand, Ray Eno, Vice Grand; Ernest C Pitchford, recording

Bible Comment:

Jesus Taught The People With True Authority

At the conclusion of the Sermon on the Mount it is said that the people were "astonished at His doctrine; for He taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes."

Among the amazing things concerning the teaching and ministry of Jesus none is more remarkable. The scribes were the official interpreters of the law, and were supposed to speak with authority.

Jesus, in fact, recognized their authority as those who "sat in Moses seat," though He warned the people that they should do as the scribes said, but not according to their works, for they said, and did not.

But even in what was said, those who heard Jesus realized a difference. They felt that He had an authority which those who claimed authority did not possess.

He had had the good education that was the heritage of every Jewish boy of that time in the schools associated with the synagogues.

But He possessed, apparently, none of the outward credentials of authority which both then, now and always have assumed so much importance in the eyes of men. He was neither a scribe nor a rabbi and it is certain that no school of the time would have given him an honorary D.D.

Yet to those who heard Him He spoke with an authority which none of the possessors of the outward credentials of authority could command.

The secret of the authority of Jesus was that it rested on truth. His authority was that of the great Revealer of God, speaking in harmony with the truth of God and the universe, the foundation upon which all authority must ultimately rest.

HONORING GOD'S NAME

Swearing is a terrible sin. When a man blasphemes God's name he shows his utter contempt for God. I suppose the worst place on earth for swearing is the army. Young men who curse so violently during their leisure time and then expect help from God when in trouble shows how utter ignorant many of our men are of the holiness of God. The first commandment has a warning attached to it for those who violate it. It says "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain." In other words, God says that he will not get away with it. The reason swearing is so terrible is because all the names of God have a meaning which expresses something of his character. To use it lightly or in blasphemy shows an utter disrespect for his person and character. Of all the sins which men commit this is the most useless. No person ever gained anything by cursing in fact he loses the respect of those who hear him. It shows a coarseness of character and a rudeness of manner. It shows the nature of this persons moral being and labels him as a God-hater. SO STOP SWEARING!

completely enshrouded houses in the area.

"I can't understand why they'd do it that way, and do nothing about the ditches," he exclaimed. "We've tried for years to get something done to the ditches, and if something isn't done, I feel there is something wrong with the Village management!"

Comm. F. Alton Peters, the complainant's brother, pointed out that Peters' charge of lack of action was unfounded. He said that there had been much correspondence with county authorities, several meetings, and many other attempts made to rectify the situation.

Crux of the matter appears to be inability of the Village to defray its share of the cost, approximately $35,000.

Mayor Claude N Ely thanked Peters for appearing, and said he wished more citizens would attend commission meetings so they could get all the facts.

"We can't control what the county does," he explained

"Center St. is a county road, and they don't tell us what they're going to do. They just come in and do it. However, we'll see what we can do to stop this dust business."

Comm. Allen suggested that he and Comm. Peters talk to the foreman of the work crew.

"At least he can tell us who to go to," he said.

"Or where!" interjected Comm. Stubenvoll, amidst laughter.

Mayor Ely appointed a committee including himself, Allen and Peters to confer with county authorities and report back at a subsequent session.

In other action the commission:

Extended the tax deadline to Sept. 1 on motion of Comm. Stubenvoll.

Ordered the installation of 32 additional parking meters in the Village parking lot at Main and Center streets.

Considered a proposal to change speed limits on Plymouth Rd., now 25 MPH, to 35 MPH, and from 20 to 25 where the highway enters the business district.

INCREASING IRRITATION AMONG PEACH growers of the state is responsible for a campaign to encourage housewives to "put off until tomorrow what they could do today."

Peach people here have been stewing, sweating and swearing for several years about the break they get on National Peach Week. This year the promotion was scheduled for July 19-25. . . . weeks before a Michigan peach is picked. The early date is a distinct advantage to southern growers, whose orchards are ready for picking early in summer.

This season, for the first time, the Michigan Department of Agriculture took some definite steps, to help the Michigan grower market his product.

"We have long been concerned over Peach Week publicity coming a month ahead of Michigan harvest," said G. S. McIntyre, director.

The department made available $2,500 in funds which could be matched by the peach growing industry and used to remind housewives that Michigan peaches would be ready about Labor Day.

"Michigan grown peaches are worth waiting for," states McIntyre. "They are excellent in quality, and low in price. The crop this year is expected to reach 2 1/2 million bushels, somewhat smaller than other years."

Conferences to provide a better market for northern peaches were arranged. Representatives from independent and chain groceries, growers and packers met, with ag department leaders to see what each could do to help out.

If Mrs. Housewife cans peaches later this year than others, there is a good chance she is doing so because several Michigan groups cooperated to help the Michigan peach grower.

A JAIL BREAK ATTEMPT is responsible for a ruling that Wayne County guards will now wear clip-on bow ties.

Four-in-hand ties worn previously proved a handy weapon for two prisoners. They grabbed two guards by the long ties, twisting them tightly around their necks.

Alarm was given in the ensuing scuffle, and other guards arrived in time to prevent serious damage.

Henry and Assistant Carl Short

A disciple of cleanliness is Henry Klingenberg, operator of Henry's Market, 148 N. Center St.

Although he has been in Northville only about 18 months, his establishment already has gained an enviable reputation for its spotlessness. He specializes in meats, although his store carries some grocery items.

Klingenberg has been in the meat business for 45 years. For 18 of those years he worked for a Chicago firm as buyer and supervisor, and operated various markets.

Then he moved to Grand Rapids, where he stayed about 13 years. After that he went to Redford, and was in business there prior to coming to Northville. He purchased completely new equipment when he took over his present market.

So well does he serve his customers that people have been coming to him repeatedly from all over this area—from South Lyon, Walled Lake Redford and Redford township!

Klingenberg lives on Five Mile Rd. with his wife and one son.

Your Congressman Reports

By Representative CHARLES G. OAKMAN
17th District, Michigan

Speaker Martin's unique luncheon on last Thursday pointed up a little recognized fact which I thought would be of interest to my readers. At the end of this term, a dozen Republican Congressmen will have a total service record of 340 years in Congress. Speaker Martin was host to his colleagues for luncheon. Those present are the only Members of the House who served when a previous Republican President occupied the White House—prior to the last 20-year Administration. Their average service is more than a quarter of a century. (No Republican Senator in the U. S. Senate was in the Senate during a Republican Administration until Dwight D. Eisenhower came into office on January 20, 1953.) Michigan's distinguished Chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, Jesse Wolcott was a guest at the luncheon. You may be further interested in the Congressmen who have chalked up this service record—next December they will have completed these years: Daniel A. Reed of N. Y., 35; John Taber of N. Y., 32; Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio, 30; Speaker Martin, 30; Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, 30; Carroll Reece of Tennessee, 29; Charles A. Wolverton of N. J., 28; Clifford R. Hope of Kansas, 28; Richard B. Wigglesworth of Massachusetts, 27; August H. Andresen of Minnesota, 25; Jesse Wolcott, 24; and Dewey Short of Missouri, 22.

Progress of Legislation Proposals - At the request of Detroit's City Government, in my year and a half in Congress, I have introduced two bills (H. R. 5796 and H. R. 2128) of great importance to our citizens. I have been encouraged by the progress these measures have made in the long process of shaping an idea into an actual law.

H. R. 5796 would amend the Federal Bankruptcy Act to cure an existing injustice to State and their subdivisions. Last Thursday the House Judiciary Committee voted this bill out of Committee and requested Chairman Chauncey Reed to seek an immediate rule. Mr. Reed and I will testify in behalf of the bill before the House Rules Committee and we hope to get final action soon. This bill would validate tax liens instituted by States, Counties, or Municipalities, against personal property in bankruptcy proceedings. Some Federal Courts have held that the only tax liens valid in such cases are those of the Federal Government unless the local Governments have actual possession of the personal property. States, Counties, and Cities, thus are seriously hampered in the collection of substantial sums due them in personal property taxes. This bill has been given the support of every major municipal organization in the country.

H. R. 2128 would amend the Internal Revenue Code to permit home owners to write off depreciation of their homes for income tax purposes. Last year the House Ways and Means Committee held hearings on this bill. It too has widespread backing, particularly from Detroit as well as Michigan and other cities that point to a high degree of home ownership.

Detroit has a higher percentage of owner-occupied homes than any other city. This bill would give the home owner a real break as it would allow him to claim an annual income tax deduction for depreciation of his home, much the same as the owner of rental or business property is permitted to amortize that property for Federal income tax purposes. The estimated annual cost of my bill in Federal Revenue is $500 million. In view of this year's new tax reductions, including the January income tax decrease, which will benefit citizens by $7.5 billion annually, it appears that this measure may have to await action by the next Congress.

Jackson's Freedom Week Celebration - It was my pleasure to be present at this event which attracted thousands of citizens to Jackson. Vice President Nixon was the guest speaker. Together with Senator Ferguson and Potter, Congressman Meader and I accompanied the V. P. from Willow Run to Jackson where he received a most enthusiastic welcome. Mr. Nixon had words of encouragement for the Freedom Week celebrants. Communist dictators everywhere, he said, are sleeping less easily because the boot has been applied to the Reds for the first time in Guatemala.

Off Hand - - - And Casual Like

by John Stone, D.B. Up & To Arms!

Small businessmen throughout the nation are irate these days because no one has risen to defend them, give them a kindly pat on the back and say, in effect, "You fellows are the backbone of our economy; keep up the good work."

Crux of the matter is the continual harassment by state and federal agencies which demand any number of practically meaningless reports, returns and bits of information not helpful to the small business itself.

By small business we don't mean those that gross over $200,000—which once was the annual stipend of people like the president of General Motors or maybe AT&T. We mean "little factories, machine shops, processing plants, even small daily and weekly newspapers and printing shops—those that employ six or seven persons and gross maybe $25,000, $50,000 or $60,000 annually."

It used to be that the owner of such a business could run his own affairs in his own way, keep his own books and records and possibly eke out a modest income.

No more. Congress and the state legislatures have seen to that. Take the owner of a small establishment, employing seven people, who does a mixed processing and retail business. Here are some of the things he has to do that do not contribute to his business:

Make out multitudinous tax forms throughout the year: Withholding statements, quarterly returns, annual returns, deposits, social security reports, and handle frequent correspondence concerning them—on which HE pays the postage.

Make wage and hour reports, and keep them two years—in file cabinets he must buy and provide space for. If his accuracy of integrity is doubted, a field agent will visit him, and he must call his employees off their jobs and give his own time to answering questions.

Make quarterly sales tax returns. At year's end, he must consolidate the quarterly returns, although there may be no change in any of them—in effect, must do the clerical work for the government agency involved.

Make state unemployment tax payments (facetiously termed "contributions" by the government). This tax is up to three per cent, depending on employee turnover, and is borne entirely by the employer. Some of the forms required, and the attending correspondence, would baffle a certified accountant.

In some states, the owner must make periodical "business census" reports. These provide jobs for state-employed "analysts" and clerks who compile the data and publish an annual book listing the names of businesses by categories. It makes a book as thick as a mail order catalog, but unlike the latter, is customarily printed on stiff paper and has little use except to burden the files.

These are just some of the things harassing small business. There are many more, and if a small businessman fails or neglects to make a required report—even if the bureau delays getting the proper forms to him—there are stiff penalties provided. It's all very cozy—for the bureaucrats.

If all this paperwork is too much for the badgered employer, he can, of course, hire a secretary or bookkeeper he never needed before. But now he runs into more complications. The addition of the bookkeeper gives him a total working force of eight. So he comes under federal statutes, and must make additional returns and reports.

And maybe have to hire still another bookkeeper.
