Sometimes we wonder if radio, television and newspapers may not be mighty contributors to world tension and unrest—if in fact, much of the fear of war which haunts us today might not be greatly diminished if mankind's tree of knowledge could be pruned back to that happy state of "ignorance" which prevailed less than a century ago. This questioning of the value of modern means of communication comes when an incident occurring half-way around the world is portrayed throughout the nation within minutes by radio, in newspapers and on television screens. Human nature being what it is, distortion, misunderstanding and alarm are the natural sequel. Demagoguery runs riot at such times and understanding between men of different races and nations becomes almost impossible.

Such an "incident" was the shooting down of a United States patrol bomber off the Siberian coast Saturday by two Russian fighter planes. The Navy at first denied that our plane had fired any shots in the encounter; then one day later acknowledged that one of the patrol plane's gunners had fired about 100 rounds of ammunition at the Soviet planes. Meanwhile, Senator Knowland, Republican majority leader from California, had rushed into the headlines with a demand that the United States break off diplomatic relations with Russia, and the State Department had sent two protest notes to Moscow, one asserting that "at no time did the United States Navy aircraft open fire on the Soviet aircraft".

Such an incident happening 50 years ago would not have been reported back to Moscow or Washington for days, or even weeks, and blood pressures quite probably would have remained near normal while the pertinent facts were being brought to light. One point on which we believe a great many Americans would like to be further enlightened is why it is necessary to have our Navy patrol bombers flying so close to the Soviet shoreline, where there always is danger of an encounter with Russian planes.

It is all well and good to talk about freedom of the seas and the skies, and to say that so long as our planes do not technically cross an intangible line they should not be molested by the Russians. If, however, a Russian patrol bomber were sighted off the U.S. Pacific or Atlantic coasts, we would be quick to suspect the intruder plane, and reluctant to find fault if a trigger-happy gunner downed the enemy craft.

We are reminded of two schoolboys facing each other, each with a chip on his shoulder which he dares the other to knock off. What must be the thoughts of the parents of Ens. Roger Henry Reid, the only missing crewman of the Navy bomber, as they consider the Washington-dictated political policy which brought about the death of their son?

On the happier side of life, the Lions clubs are reported to be working quietly toward the creation of an "eye cornea bank" to alleviate blindness in the United States, in much the same manner as blood banks are used throughout the world to save lives. The proposal is still in an initial stage and has not been publicized because a final decision as to practicability has not been reached.

Essentially, the plan provides that a man or woman may bequeath the corneas of his or her eyes upon death to a cornea bank for transplanting to the eyes of some blind person to restore that person's sight. Medical science now makes such transplanting possible under certain conditions, one of which is that the cornea must be removed quickly after death occurs.

The possibilities for good in this Lions club plan are potentially very great. Greatest obstacle to putting it into effect will be the natural repugnance which some may feel toward the thought of having corneas of their eyes removed after death. Objections of relatives also will have to be overcome. However, even if the project moves slowly at first, it is conceivable that an intelligently directed educational campaign can establish it on a firm footing in a comparatively brief span of years. Certainly the plan merits the most careful study, as well as the active support of all of us who are blessed with good vision.

Church Weddings Unknown In Northville Until 40 Years Ago, Records Reveal

Forty-one years ago nobody got married in church in Northville. Hard to believe, especially when Northville is the site of the oldest Protestant church in the Detroit area—the First Presbyterian—and had a number of other churches of various faiths?

But on Sept. 2, 1914, a few days over 40 years ago to be exact, the Methodist church was the scene of the first church wedding ever held in Northville.

On that date Miss Grace Pierce, sister of Rev. R. M. Pierce, pastor of the church, was married to the Rev. Dow Nagle of Albion, pastor of the Tracy M. E. church of Detroit.

In its issue of Sept. 14, 1914, The Northville Record published pictures of the couple, and an account of the wedding, which it characterized "Northville's first church wedding, by the way."

Where did couples get married before that time?

In their homes, or at residences of justices of the peace, oldtimers say, though some may have been in the pastors' studies. At any rate, no one apparently thought of getting married in church.

How is it now? Northville pastors say there still are comparatively few weddings in community churches.

The Presbyterian church has about ten a year, as does St. Paul's Lutheran. The First Baptist church has had none this year, and statistics from other churches are not available.

CONSTRUCTION of the new elementary grade school on N. Center St. is proceeding on schedule. In the above picture, workmen are shown building a brick outer wall, while some of the inner walls are taking shape in the background. The school should be ready for occupancy next spring, and will care for 300 pupils.

Much Activity Scheduled for Community Bldg.

Northville's new Community Center will be the scene of much activity next fall and winter, Supt. of Schools Russell H. Amerman indicated this week.

Believing that citizens of Northville might be interested in information concerning the community and school use of the new center, the following details have been made available:

The high school band and music classes have moved in as planned, thus freeing classrooms in the high school for other purposes.

Also, the boys' physical education department will hold its classes in the new gym and play all basketball games on that floor. This frees the old gym for a more complete physical education program for the girls and will also make it available for evening activities. School plays, forensics, dances, parties, etc. will be scheduled in the new building during the season.

It will be the policy of the Board of Education to encourage local organizations to make use of the facilities of the Community Center, Amerman said, whenever they do not conflict with previously scheduled activities. A glance at the calendar reveals the popularity of this new building and demonstrates the truth of the above statement, he declared.

Reservations scheduled to date are as follows:

Sept. 23—PTA, first fall program.
Sept. 24—Home Demonstration program.

Oct. 11—Mothers' Club, entertaining faculty.

Oct. 14—Blood Bank.

Oct. 16—Nursery School, benefit dance.

Oct. 25—Red Cross, Civil Defense, Business and Professional Women, joint meeting.

Oct. 28—PTA.

Oct. 30—Mothers' Club, Halloween party for Northville children.

Nov. 18—Coordinating Council.

Nov. 30 or Dec. 10—Kings' Daughters dance.

Dec. 16-17—Garden Club.

Jan. 20—Coordinating Council.

Feb. 14—Eastern Star Ball.

Mar. 14—Bird House contest, Garden Club.

Mar. 19—Mothers' Club, St. Patrick's dance.

Apr. 21—Coordinating Council.

Also, nine Tuesday evenings, dates to be determined, will be taken by Coordinating Council for a series of Adult Education classes.

Girl Scout troops may arrange to meet in the late afternoons.

For reservations, contact R. H. Amerman of E. V. Ellison.

BEGGING PAYS OFF

Newton, N.C. — A blind beggar told welfare department workers that he has a $4,000 annual income from begging, which was considerably more than he could draw through any of the aid programs.

Salem Girl Swimmer Drowns In Gravel Pit

The Northville area contributed one death to the annual Labor day week-end toll across the nation.

Luella Beth Moomey, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moomey, 8089 Chubb Rd., lost her life Sunday evening when she drowned while swimming in the Wheeler-Washtenaw gravel pit on S. Salem Rd.

The girl had graduated from the Salem eighth grade in June, and had planned to enroll in Northville High school this semester.

Although swimming is prohibited in the gravel pit, a number of children have been doing so for some time, county authorities said.

Luella had gone to the pit with Virginia Blunk, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Blunk of Godfredson Rd. Other children were swimming there, but all of them left around 6 p.m.

Companion Frightened

The two girls continued swimming until shortly before 7, when Luella dived under the surface and became stuck in the mud, Virginia told authorities later.

Virginia, frightened, ran down the road until she found Kenneth Rich, 18, who returned with her to the pit. Diving in, Rich brought Luella's body to shore.

Firemen from South Lyon and members of the Ann Arbor police department worked on the body with a respirator for more than an hour, but were unable to revive the girl. Coroner Edwin C. Gantzborn, of Ann Arbor, pronounced death due to drowning.

Born In Grand Rapids

Luella was born Sept. 1, 1940 in Grand Rapids. Besides her parents, she is survived by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Moomey and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Giles of Grand Rapids, and two brothers, Jimmy and Donald.

Luella was a member of the South Salem 4-H club and of the Sunday school of the Salem Federated church. She had resided in Salem with her parents for the past five years.

The body was to lie in state at the Casterline Funeral home until noon Thursday when it will be taken to the Salem Federated

Detroit Woman To Address Garden Club

The Woman's Farm and Garden Assn., Michigan Division, will hold its first meeting of this season on Sept. 13 at the home of Mrs. Herbert Frogner on Sheldon Rd.

Mrs. Hazel P. Dunlop, author and lecturer from the J. L. Hudson Co. Speaker's Bureau, will talk on "Color in Floral Art." This informal talk will include history of color, color combinations, color theory and how it is used in floral arrangements.

Mrs. Dunlop studied art, music and horticulture in public and private schools in her home state of Indiana. For the past 25 years she has lived in Detroit where her name is well known in garden club and other circles.

Junior Riders Will Compete Here Sept. 11-12

The Northville International Junior Equestrian trials, to be held at Franfield Farms, Sept. 11 and 12 will crown two champion teams. First, the Michigan league champions, with four teams tied for first place, will not be decided until the finish of Saturday's events, and on Sunday, the Michigan champions will ride against the Chicago champions from Oak Brook Polo club and the Canadian champions from Toronto. The winner of Sunday's series will be declared the North American Junior Champions and will receive the huge International Junior Equestrian Team Challenge trophy.

Northville Entries

Tied for first place in the Michigan league are Grant's Equestrians, The Irishmen, both of Birmingham; The Northville Equestrians of Northville, and the Michiganders of Livonia. Each of these teams have won one series of games.

Riding on the Northville team is Frannie Malley, Jan Schaefer, Mary Casenhiser and Patty Haass. Mrs. Robert Haass is the coach of the local team.

The Junior Equestrian competition, which is sponsored by the Northville Optimist club, is run under the rules of the F.E.I. which is the governing body of the Olympic Equestrian games, and is the initial training grounds of future Olympic riders from Michigan.

Nine Michigan teams are in the league, and the competition is still wide open. If one of the teams at present without a win should take the final series, a five-way tie will result, and will have to be decided by a "sudden death" jump off for the Michigan championship, and the team that will compete in the International series on Sunday.

Canada Sends Three

Representing Canada, and the favored team to win the big challenge trophy, are the following: Miss Janet Spenceley and her horse, Atomic; Miss Cecil Phillips with Teslin; Carl Dow and Dog Wood, and Howard Hiscox with Constellation.

Chicago will be represented by Ray Oppenheimer, Miss Ann Willem and Miss Wendy Green.

The events for Saturday, starting at 9 a.m. will be the cross-country competition over a 2 1/8 mile steeplechase course. While this is being run local classes for Northville-Plymouth juniors will consist of horsemanship, trail horses, and local pleasure horses.

Saturday afternoon will start with stadium jumping for Michigan teams, followed by Junior Working Hunters, Michigan team relays, horsemanship and individual jumping competitions.

Sunday morning at 9 will be the final jumping competition for Michigan teams and elementary dressage. Sunday afternoon begins the International Junior "Prix Des Nations", followed by individual jumping competition, and then the final International event, the relays. Final events of the two day competition will be open working hunters and hunters under saddle.

The exercise, designed to test the island's defenses, involved British naval units U.S. naval and air units, and the Marines.

Northville Marine On Maneuvers

Malta — Marine Cpl. Thomas A. Moshimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Moshimer of 355 E. Base Line St., Northville, participated with the 1st Battalion, 6th Marine Regt., in amphibious assault in this tiny Mediterranean island Aug. 11 and 12.

The exercise, designed to test the island's defenses, involved British naval units U.S. naval and air units, and the Marines.

March of Dimes Donors Thanked

Citizens of Northville and the rest of Wayne county may well congratulate themselves for the way in which they responded to the appeal of the Emergency March of Dimes to continue the fight against polio, Charles L. Gehring, who directed the campaign in the county said today as he expressed thanks to everyone.

"All of our loyal volunteers and the public, who have shown their confidence in the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—really the people's Foundation—by their unflinching support of the March of Dimes each year, have demonstrated they want polio fought to a finish," he said.

In Northville, teenagers took over the reins from mothers and collected more than $500 in the annual house-to-house drive.

30,000 Homeseekers Visit Willowbrook As Building Plans Expand

More than 30,000 eager homeseekers have visited Willowbrook village at Meadowbrook and Ten Mile roads since it was opened ten days ago, Supt. of Construction William Parker, of Redford, said Tuesday.

The new village, a "planned community", originally was laid out to contain 1,000 homes, but this has now been expanded to 1,100, Parker declared.

Already visitors from Northville as well as Detroit and other areas have snapped up all the houses and lots situated on the north side of Ten Mile, and 170 lots out of 216 laid out on the south side between Ten and Nine Mile roads.

He's Amazed

"I've never seen the like of it in the 30 years I've been a builder," Parker asserted, with something akin to amazement in his voice.

"We're taking orders faster than we can build houses, and that's not just sales talk. We planned 67 on the north side of Ten Mile, and now have about 20 built or under construction. All of these, and every lot in the section, have been taken."

"I don't know where all these people come from. We can't begin to take care of all of them—we'd have a city of 40,000 to 50,000 here if we could."

"I've never seen the like of it," he repeated.

Close To Northville

Willowbrook, a community in itself, will be approximately two and a half miles from Northville when completed. It will have its own water system, schools, churches, a shopping center and all the other appurtenances of a municipality.

The water system, important in any community, already is provided for, Parker said. Wells have been dug north of Ten Mile, the water tested and approved, and will be piped to the residences from a central location when materials are received.

"The wells will provide plenty of uncontaminated water, and will be ready for use when the first homes are turned over for occupancy in November," Parker said.

Within 30 days he expects construction crews to begin houses on lots already sold between Ten and Nine Mile roads. By the first of the year they will be building more than three units per day, the original plan, if all goes well.

Six Models Offered

Six different models are included in the plans, to sell from $13,490 to $15,490.

So enthused is Parker over the future of the community that he has remodeled a farm house included in the 350-acre tract and moved his family into it Wednesday.

Only one "fly in the ointment" has appeared thus far.

Vandals destroyed several lamp posts, and someone stole $500 worth of evergreens with which the grounds were being landscaped.

Uniformed policemen are now on duty at all hours to prevent a recurrence.

Holiday Here Quiet, Unmarred

Northville folks comprised "a good group"—as TV star Jackie Gleason would put it—over the holiday week-end.

Usually, reports of accidents, burglaries or disorderliness makes readable items for newspaper columns.

But this time their absence makes news.

According to Sgt. Gill Glasson of the Northville police department, there was not a single call for officers either Sunday or Monday.

"I've never seen it so quiet," Sgt. Glasson said, pointing to a police blotter absolutely bare of entries. "No traffic accidents, no drunks, no break-ins, nothing!"

Nearby parks were crowded with picnickers from Detroit and other nearby areas, but there was no rowdiness and everybody seemed to be conducting themselves with complete decorum.

Which speaks well for the citizenry involved.

Events Of The Past In Northville

ONE YEAR AGO—

Pvt. Jack Andrews, former Northville resident freed after more than a month in a Communist prison camp, was enroute home for a 30-day furlough.

Two German exchange students, Viktoria Schmidt and Karl Hofmann, arrived for a year-long stay in Northville.

No traces of Dutch elm disease were found in Plymouth, it was reported by the State Department of Agriculture. Northville's elms were declared free of disease in a survey conducted previously.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Campbell moved to their new home at 845 Spring Dr.

Miss Edith Sorensen and her mother, Mrs. Martin Sorensen, were entertained at a luncheon and tour of Goodwill Industries in Detroit.

FIVE YEARS AGO—

Barbara Groon, of Eight Mile Rd., took honors with her Morgan horse, "Shady Lawn's Spice", at the Illinois State fair, Aug. 17.

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Rossow of Northville announced the engagement of their daughter, Leila, to Charles J. Billmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Billmeier of Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hart and three sons, James, Richard and William, formerly of Detroit, moved to 945 N. Center St.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurd Sutherland and family, formerly of Berkeley, moved to their home at 418 W. Dunlap St.

The Warren Huff family, who resided on S. Rogers St., moved to Ypsilanti.

TEN YEARS AGO—

Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson of Taft Rd. received word that their son, Staff Sgt. Fred Robinson, had been taken prisoner by the Germans.

Joanne Kitchen, Betty Snow and Geraldine Wolf attended Girls' State at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Major Thomas R. Carrington returned home from India after 27 months in foreign service. Visitors at the Dr. Linwood

Snow summer home at Bois Blanc Island were Mrs. Jean Cole and son, Lieut. Scott Cole, and Mrs. Sid Frid.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—

Mrs. Thadd J. Knapp, who had been on a Mediterranean cruise for several weeks on the Swedish-American Line's SS. Volendam, returned to Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hess left for their home in Hamburg, Germany on the SS City of Baltimore.

Another popular, home-cooked penny supper was held in the Methodist church house.

Dr. H. S. Willis, head of Maybury sanatorium, waited all his life until this summer to attend his first major league baseball game. He saw the Detroit Tigers in action.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hay and two children, Ralph and Robert, returned from a nine day motor trip in northern Ontario.

FORTY YEARS AGO—

The Record had secured a large quantity of State fair tickets which were being sold for 35 cents each or 3 for $1.00.

Mrs. Will Ely and little son visited in South Lyon.

Mrs. Fitzgerald of Detroit, formerly Miss Jennie Blair of this place, visited in Northville.

All summer the State Highway department has been constructing a new bridge over the river at Redford and traffic has been shunted over and around through the fields.

The Wabash railroad ran an excursion from Toledo to Chicago for a round trip fare of $4.00.

Fire Disrupts Operations of Kroger Store

Fire in the Northville Kroger store disrupted operations and inconvenienced some customers, but did little damage last week, according to Manager Eddie Barnes.

The blaze was discovered at the height of the rush hour at 7 p.m. when Barnes smelled smoke and found a fuse box on a rear wall in flames from a short circuit.

He immediately pulled the main switch to prevent further damage. With the aid of an employee, Bob Storer, the flames were extinguished. However, electrical service could not be restored for nearly an hour, and all lights were out, and cash registers, scales and other electrical devices unusable during that time.

John Hotchkin, another employee, solicited the aid of Dick Juday, owner of an oil station across the street. Juday drove his wrecker to the front of the store and directed the headlights through the windows to provide some illumination.

Clerks borrowed flashlights from neighboring stores, and guided shoppers about with their aid.

Had the blaze started two hours later, the store would have been closed and the fire probably would have done serious damage, Barnes said.

Crying Towel Comes Out As Mustangs Prepare for Grid Season

Northville High school's Mustangs will lose every football game this fall.

Plymouth High school, which lost to Northville last year 21 to 0, will be out for revenge this year and probably will run up a 50 to 0 score.

Those were two of the predictions going the rounds as the Mustangs got down to serious work for the opening embroglio—with Plymouth—one short week from Friday.

Admittedly Green

But members of Coach Dick Kay's squad—admittedly green and weak in spots—do not subscribe to such gloomy predictions. Not while they're still all in one piece, and able to stagger around the gridiron.

"They may lick us," said one youngster stoutly, sticking out his jaw, "but they'll know they've been in a battle!"

With only two regular linemen returning, and three from last year's backfield, Coach Kay, and Asst. Coaches Ron Schipper and Stan Johnston, know they have a job cut out for them.

The two linemen are Co-Capt. Paul Hamlin and Paul Schulz. In the backfield will be Co-Capt. Joe Girardin, at left half, Larry Meyer, right half, and Bud Lovett, fullback. Bud Bell, a sophomore, looks to be the best of the quarterbacks. He was used sparingly last year, but his coaches look for a fine job of signal-calling from him.

Definite Underdogs

"We'll definitely be the underdogs this year," said Coach Kay, picking up the proverbial crying towel and daubing his eyes. "Our line is extremely weak. The backfield may come through, but they'll have to have something in front of them."

"Plymouth looks strong—the toughest team we'll play all year. And we're not kidding ourselves—they'll be out to avenge last year's defeat. I just hope we'll be able to give a good account of ourselves."

Hamlin, at guard, will be a good leader in the line, Kay believes. Lovett and Girardin are the hopes of the backfield.

Returning lettermen who were not on the first string last year include Dave Goss, Bud Bell, Dave Biery, John Fisher, Bob Wagenschutz, Ernie Lusk, Virgil Houtz, John Funk and Forrest Pretzer.

Two Lost

Promising youngsters lost to the team are Jim Mosher, who broke his collarbone in scrimmage and Dick Biery, out with an appendicitis operation.

Coach Stan Johnston's reserve team has several players who show promise, Kay said. One is the team's heaviest member, Jimmy Burrell, a 220-pound tackle. Others who may win promotion to the varsity before the season is over are Cap Pethers, a rangy end, Bill Yahne, another end, and Richard Buckley, center.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends and relatives for the lovely cards, flowers and gifts sent me during my stay in the hospital and long illness, and the doctors and staff at Atchison Memorial hospital.

The President On Business

President Dwight D. Eisenhower was asked in a news conference late in August whether he would comment on the possibility of a "business pick-up" in the near future. A reporter for the New York Herald-Tribune asked him if he had conferred with his economic advisers to such an extent that he could so comment.

The President commented briefly. He said he had just read an article by W. I. Myer, of Cornell, the dean of agriculture at that school. Mr. Eisenhower quoted Myer as saying he thought business would have an upturn this fall, and he further restated his thesis that the upturn would not be so sudden that another inflationary spiral would result. In spite of the fact that it would not upset the economy, the upturn would be a healthy one, and bring prosperity, according to the article, the President said.

Mr. Eisenhower then said he did not want to quote anybody else and made it clear he was not trying to put anyone on the spot. Nevertheless, he said he believed a mass of opinion—from the experts—seemed to hold the view that the economy was already beginning a mild upswing.

These are encouraging words, in view of the fact that the President has access to the opinions of economists in every branch of the Government. Moreover, President Eisenhower is not in the habit of going off the deep end on statements before he has given his subject considerable attention. For this reason, then, there seems reasons for guarded optimism as a result of the words of the Chief Executive of the country.

New Tax Law

Enactment of a new tax bill, revising the tax laws for the first time in many years, means that most citizens will pay their taxes next year on a new form—perhaps Form 1040, for most of us.

The new tax bill, contrary to some opinion, does not provide general tax cuts, but gives relief to most businesses and many individuals in various forms. The new law becomes effective as of last January 1st, and in case of income from dividends, the first $50 of such money is excluded from taxes. There is an additional four per cent cut on dividend income received after July 31.

We believe a revision of the tax laws has long been overdue, although it is not yet apparent—at this early date—what the strong points and weak points of the new tax bill are. Undoubtedly many inequities were cleared up in the bill and many of these revisions were long needed.

But the main meaning for many Americans will be the fact that the new tax form will have to be faced next April 15th (the date has been moved ahead a month). Instead of the old form, a new form will be required, and many lawyers expect it to be a "lulu". Some lawyers believe the new form will, of necessity, be more complicated than the former one, and, if this is so, we believe the result will be a boom for accountants and the like.

Leaders Needed In U.S. Industry, NAM Head Says

One of the needs of our day is "true industrial statesmanship in the front office of every company in the country," H. C. McClellan, president of the National Association of Manufacturers told NAM's more than 20,000 members recently.

The three qualities that should be common to all statesmen are leadership, honesty, and humility, McClellan said, and he continued, "I would describe an industrial statesman as an employer who, exercising these qualities, works steadfastly toward the goal of improving, through better understanding, human relations in his plant and office."

"I believe that each of us should continually remind ourselves, that own industrial family to see whether or not that family fully understands our enterprise system and truly feels justification to support it."

"We should realize, and continually remind ourselves that people in our plants have need for a sense of accomplishment in their tasks, a feeling of worthwhileness; that they are people who want the admiration and respect of others."

Leadership Needed
"When I talk about a sense of satisfaction on the job, I don't mean merely giving employees a square deal. That should go without saying. Nor am I talking about whether they are being fairly paid. That, too, should go without saying."

At the head of the list of things which employees rightly expect of employers, McClellan placed leadership.

"Men want their employer to be a leader—someone they can follow and be proud of, not just because he has the power to hire and fire, but because he is somebody they can trust and respect for the kind of man he is, for his integrity, his leadership and his vision. A leader not only because he has an acknowledged grasp of the business but also a leader from the human standpoint—a leader who brings out the best in others."

Special Responsibility
"Today we in industry have a very special responsibility in human relations. Each one of us should make a very real effort to prove that he can be a true industrial statesman in his own front office."

"Employees everywhere are apt to judge our business system by the satisfaction they find in their own jobs."

About Fighting Communism

By action of the French Assembly the European Defense Community project is in a state of coma. It is well to note that it is not yet completely dead, buried, kaput. It would conform to French traditional impulsive action suddenly to reverse the recent attitude of the assembly when it meets again in November.

While nursing that hope, let's remember that the French action on EDC was not because of fear of losing the political integrity and independence of the French democratic state. EDC has nothing to do with the formation of a United States of Europe which would require the complete revision of the Constitutions of all States joining the Union.

EDC is a proposal of agreement on united defense preparation and all-together action in case of armed attack by Russia and—or—her satellites. France postponed final action on this proposal because of fear of a German dominating part in case of such an emergency, and the assumed possibility of future aggression by the more powerful Germany. This fear is understandable, for France and Germany have been suspicious of each other, hate and envy again and again flaring into war over a period of 1,000 years.

The talk now is of arming Germany as a sovereign State, freed from internal supervision by her enemies of World War II, and making Germany a vital factor in the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

That is doubtless a logical move, in view of the fact that there is an increasing Communist world-wide threat.

It should sink deeply into the minds and hearts of all lovers of freedom that Nato and EDC are only emergency measures—for defense in case of armed aggression. Emergencies occur in the lives of all individuals and nations. But emergencies are not the essence of living. World-wide strengthening of the understanding of precious INDIVIDUAL LI-BERTY is the noly permanent defense against Communism, the deadly destruction of liberty. Copyright by Arthur Maxson Smith

You'll always be glad you bought a Chevrolet now!

YEAR AFTER YEAR, MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

You'll stay proud of Chevrolet's lasting good looks

Other low-priced cars just don't have the air of quality you see in Chevrolet. And if you like Chevrolet's looks now, you'll like its looks always. For there's fine design in those clean and smoothly curved lines (no "boxy" look about Chevrolet!). And fine design, you know, never really goes out of style.

You'll enjoy exclusive features for finer motoring

Here's the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. Here's the highest-compression power of any leading low-priced car, for more ginger in the going and more miles out of the gas. Here are the biggest brakes and the only full-length box-girder frame in the low-price field. Only Chevrolet gives you that smoother, softer Unitized Knee-Action ride—and it's even the only car in its field with Safety Plate Glass in all windows of sedans and coupes!

You save when you buy and when you trade

Even so, Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. (That's possible because Chevrolet builds the most, and can build 'em better to sell for less.) And at trade-in time, you'll be ahead again from Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value!

You'll get a special deal right now

Right now, we're in a position to give you the deal of the year on a new Chevrolet. Come in and let us show you how much you'll gain by buying now!

Now's the time to buy! Get our big deal! Enjoy a new...

WOMAN'S WORLD

Serve Breakfast
Out-of-Doors
For Real Treat

EATING in the open still has a little time to go. What about having a breakfast out-of-doors? It's one of the easiest meals to prepare, fun to serve, and according to a camping survey, pure heaven to eat!

Using a portable grill or any open campfire, you can prepare giant size pancakes, warm maple syrup and little pig sausages. Include a basket of fruit and some coffee and your fresh air menu is complete!

A package of buckwheat mix is easy to carry for such a meal and will keep without danger of spoil-

Hiking, fishing or just relaxing in the early morning will make folks feel extra hungry for a fresh-air breakfast. The meal will be extra good when coffee is brewed and pancakes are baked on a portable grill. While these cook, let the family nibble on fresh fruit brought along in a basket.

age. You can carry fresh milk in a thermos or evaporated milk in cans for mixing.

CAMPFIRE BUCKWHEATS
(Makes 15-18 pancakes)
3 cups ready-mix for buckwheats
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk
(1 1/2-ounce can)
1 1/2 cup water

Add evaporated milk and water to buckwheat ready-mix, stirring lightly. If thinner pancakes are desired, add more water. Pour 1/2 cup batter for each pancake onto a hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once. Serve with butter and syrup.

If desired, non-fat dry milk solids may be substituted for evaporated milk. Mix 1/2 cup dry milk solids with buckwheat mix, then add 3/4 cups water and mix as above.

To make Deluxe Buckwheats served with fried eggs, add 3 tablespoons melted shortening with 1 egg to recipe for Campfire Buckwheats. Mix and bake as above. Stack 3 pancakes together, topping each stack with a fried egg.

Drawer Dividers
Keep Things Placed

Tired of trying to keep drawers from becoming cluttered? Always hunting for a small item buried under a mass of larger things? There are nice drawer dividers at your notion or dime store counters that will amaze you!

Any drawer, and of course, that means most of them, contain assorted items which do not in themselves lend neatness and orderliness. However, when they're placed in compartments according to their size, you can keep them neat and find them in a moment.

Start in Bedroom
Bedroom chests and dressing tables are usually cluttered in the average household, so plan to start the project there. You can get a plastic knife box to keep your hose well assorted. Another and smaller plastic box such as is frequently used for spoons and buttons can be used for jewelry. This fits into dressing table or shallow chest drawer.

For lingerie, handkerchiefs and scarves, use small plastic bags designed for this purpose. These will fit neatly behind the plastic compartments described above.

Sewing machine drawers can be kept neat as a pin with partitions made of plywood. Inside these compartments you might place plastic boxes which are divided to hold a spool or several buttons, pins, needles, etc.

Divided plastic boxes are wonderful for restoring order to desk drawers. You might plan to use one box to hold address book, ink bottles, stamps and address labels. Another divided box will hold pencils, pens and rubber bands. Another drawer can then be used, without compartments for stocking stationery, envelopes and postal cards.

Should your desk require more organizing, you'll find that a leather file made like a bound book will hold all manner of bills, statements, paper and memos. This is attractive enough to sit right on top of the desk.

(What's your favorite dish? If you will share it with other Northville housewives, please call The Record's society editor, Telephone 200.)

Mrs. George Muller, who is a native of Paris France, supplied this typical french main dish recipe this week. As it must be served hot, it is well to make it so it can be served immediately upon removing from the oven. With a crisp, tossed salad, hot rolls and Quiche (pronounced Keesh) Lorraine, you will have something delicious and different.

Quiche Lorraine

9 inch pie shell.
2 eggs
1/2 pint unwhipped cream
3 slices of bacon
1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper

Beat the eggs, adding cream, salt, pepper and mix well. Add chopped bacon to this and put in the pie shell and bake for 15 to 20 minutes.

For a different flavor, you can replace the bacon with 2 teaspoons of finely chopped chives.

The Mullers with their children, Frank 13, Christine 10 and Phillip 5, have lived in Northville the past four years. Muller was employed by Ford Motor Company in Paris for ten years before being transferred to this country. They love their adopted country and are very happy living in Northville.

Granddaughter of
Mrs. Charles Smith
Weds on Coast

Miss Gwen Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Walker of Yakima, Wash., and Arnold Kom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kom, also of Yakima, exchanged wedding rings and vows at a ceremony Aug. 15, relatives and friends in Northville have been informed.

The bride wore a formal-length dress of white satin with a net yoke, bridal point sleeves and cathedral-length train. Her dress was worn by her aunt, Mrs. Larry Wood of Northville, several years ago.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Northville. Mrs. Smith went to Yakima for the pre-wedding festivities and was to return to Northville early in September.

The
THUMB

by Paul Newton

The gardener at this time of year is apt to think it is high time for a let up in work, and just take it easy. Time and effort spent now pay off three fold next spring.

The perennials divided now will form a good root system with the fall rains coming on, and the cooler days. Bearded and Japanese iris, oriental poppies, day lilies, shasta daisies and coral bells head the list.

There can be a let up in fertilizing, because feeding stimulates tender growth on roses, evergreens, and deciduous shrubs. The early flowering perennials such as peonies, oriental poppies and iris could use a couple hands full of bone meal worked into the soil in a ring, far enough away from the stalks so the fine feeder roots can use it.

Amount of Lawn Fertilizer

There is a rule of thumb for estimating the fertilizer for lawns on the basis of 1,000 square feet. The first figure of a fertilizer stands for the amount of nitrogen per 100 pounds. If this figure is divided into 100, the answer will be the number of pounds of fertilizer that can be applied safely. For example, 20 pounds of 5-10-5 per 1,000 square feet would be the correct amount.

Reconditioning Soil

More important than fertilizer is the reconditioning of the soil. For new gardens, this is of major importance. The old method of trenching in animal manure is still a fine practice (except around the bulbs and iris), but animal manure is extremely difficult to obtain. A method recommended by the U.S. Department of Soil Conservation is less expensive and easier to do. In using this recommended method of reconditioning the soil, first sprinkle over the space a light snow a 4-10-4 fertilizer (made up at farm stores) or a 5-10-5, but this is more expensive. Then cover with 6 inches of sawdust. Next is applied one pound of ammonium sulphate or aluminum sulphate mixed with enough water so that the sawdust may be covered. The space should be left all

Saturday after spending a few days with Geraldine in Washington prior to her departure for California.

Robert Hay Weds
Wisconsin Girl

Dorothy Joan Schwabke and Robert J. Hay were married in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church in an afternoon ceremony Aug. 1. The Rev. Martin Mueller and Rev. Karl Barth officiated at the wedding.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Hay of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schwabke of West Allis, Wisc.

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of nylon lace and net over white satin, with a train of net with lace inserts. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a spray of white orchids.

Marlene Schwabke, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a frock of yellow net over taffeta and carried yellow roses and pink carnations.

Serving as bridal aids were Nancy Hartwig, cousin of the bride, and Lois Lucht. Their blue net dresses were fashioned the same as the maid of honor's. They carried red roses and white carnations.

Serving his brother as bestman was Ralph Hay, Jr. Louis Chamberlain and Robert Stover, both of Northville, served as ushers. A reception at the bride's home was followed by a trip to Canada. The couple will make their home at 521 W. Main St., Northville.

Dorothea graduated from the School for the Deaf in Delavan, Wisc., and Robert from the School for the Deaf in Detroit.

winter without digging it in. In the spring the soil will be dark, rich and full of humus.

When fertilizing, please remember this analysis: for flowers and non-leafy vegetables use 5-10-5 fertilizer (5 percent nitrogen, 10 percent phosphate and 5 percent potash). For grass, evergreens and leafy vegetables such as spinach and cabbage use 10-6-4. For root vegetables, such as potatoes, carrots, etc., use 5-10-10. Whenever possible this should be supplemented by soil conditioners such as well rotted manure or compost.

Fall, Winter and Spring insulation saves you money on your heating bill. The added comfort both summer and winter gives double return. We sell all kinds. Check the areas to be insulated and give us a call. Insulation gives a big return for the money spent.

Movie Stars' Make-Up Aids Can Be Yours

-BY EDNA MILES

WHENEVER you envy the porcelain prettiness of your favorite movie star, just remember that the make-up tools available to her can be yours, too.

Stars are made-up especially for the screen by experts. But off-screen, they must look just as they do in the movies. They achieve the loveliness that the public expects by learning how to use make-up tools most effectively.

Such tools are not expensive and they are highly effective in helping you to obtain a natural look when using make-up. You might begin by buying a sable lip brush, one that looks like a fine paint brush. With a little practice, you can learn to apply lipstick deftly, for a subtle effect. Follow up with a lip liner, which looks something like a red lead pencil but is actually a cosmetic crayon designed to give your lips a long-lasting outline.

For the eyes, there's another especially-designed paint brush with which to apply and smooth eye shadow on the lids. Use a delicate, outward stroke, working toward the temples. Then apply mascara with a moist mascara brush and follow with use of a dry brush.

Use a larger-sized brush to smooth the eyebrows, after you've feathered them with light strokes of your eyebrow pencil. A miniature comb for the eyelashes is a handy aid and an eyelash curler will make even short lashes look longer.

The powder brush, which originated in Paris, will take off loose particles of clinging powder, leaving your skin with a soft, velvety look.

Last of the make-up tools you should own is a magnifying mirror, which will show up any small defects so that you can correct them. In a way, the magnifying mirror is your best friend, and is certainly a fine make-up guide.

Actress Sally Forrest takes make-up experts' advice, uses a sable lip brush when applying lipstick, to gain that natural look.

Lynda Harnden
Weds J. D. Green

The First Methodist church of Novi was the setting Sept. 4 for the wedding of Lynda Harnden and Judd D. Green. The Rev. McLucas read the double ring ceremony.

Lynda is the daughter of John A. Harnden of Novi.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown trimmed with lace. Her fingertip veil of tulle was fastened to a tight fitting lace bonnet trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Susan Harnden, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bride's only attendant. She wore a mint green dress of dull taffeta with matching pumps and wore a corsage of yellow tea roses. Her headress was the same mint green color of her dress.

William Sullivan of Northville was the bridegroom's bestman. Donald and James R. Green, brothers of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Mrs. Lucene Harnden, mother of the bride, wore a steel blue taffeta dress adorned with a corsage of white gladioli.

A reception for about 200 guests was held in the American Legion hall in Northville.

The bride attended three years of high school at Bedford High and was graduated from Northville High school with the class of 1954. The bridegroom is a graduate of Northville High school with the class of 1953. He is employed as an illustrator with the

Old-Time Molasses Cookies Taste Just as Good Today

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

REMEMBER those soft molasses cookies we used to enjoy when we were children? I still love them. So do a lot of other people. Maybe you do, too. So here's a recipe:

Soft Molasses Cookies
(Yield: 4 dozen cookies)

One cup shortening, 1½ cups unsulphured molasses, ¼ cup sugar, 4 cups sifted, all-purpose flour; 1½ teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons soda, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1½ teaspoons ginger, ½ teaspoon cloves, 1 egg.

Melt shortening in saucepan large enough for mixing cookies. Stir in molasses and sugar; cool.

Sift together flour, salt, soda, cinnamon, ginger and cloves. Mix in small amount of flour; beat in egg. Add remaining flour, blending until smooth. Chill dough about 2 hours.

Shape into 1½-inch balls. Place on cookie sheets about 2 inches apart to allow cookies to spread during baking. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes. While warm, spread half the cookies with confectioner's sugar glaze. Store in closely covered container.

Here's another cookie with a delicate molasses flavor.

Butter-Molasses Thinies
(Yield: 18 dozen)

Four cups sifted, all-purpose flour; 1½ cups sugar, 1½ cups butter or margarine, ½ cup unsulphured molasses, 1 whole egg, plus 1 egg yolk; ¼ cup sugar (optional), 1 teaspoon cinnamon (optional).

Sift together flour and sugar. Cut in butter with pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Combine molasses and eggs; stir into flour-butter mixture. Chill dough overnight.

Roll out on pastry cloth sprinkled with confectioner's sugar to 1/16-inch thickness. Cut with cookie cutters; place on cookie

Molasses cookies taste just as wonderful today as they did back when we were children.

sheets. (If desired, mix sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle lightly over unbaked cookies.)

Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 5 to 6 minutes, or until edges have lightly browned.

Cool. Store in tightly covered container.

Note: To make cookies without chilling, form dough into small balls, using ½ teaspoon of the dough. Place on cookie sheets, flatten cookies to 1/16-inch thick with bottom of glass covered with damp cloth. Dip bottom of glass in water when cloth sticks to dough. (These cookies will keep for a long time, but you may make a smaller quantity by cutting the recipe in half.)

TEENAGERS of Northville have won the approbation of parents and civic officials alike by their willingness to do constructive things. A group of those who took over the duties of mothers in the March of Dimes drive gathered in the Community building after collecting more than $500 in a house-to-house canvass.

News Around Northville

Leaving Sunday for Michigan State Normal college is Margaret Jean Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campbell of Wing Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Straus of Beck Rd. entertained Mrs. Margaret McDonald and Tim Cullinan from Chicago over the holiday week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Taft and daughter, Barbara, of Detroit, visited Labor Day guests of Mr. Charles Tibble and Mr. and Mrs. R. Watson. The Tafts formerly resided in Northville.

The J. E. Strauses of Beck Rd. and ten of their square dance club members enjoyed a moonlight picnic at Cass Benton park Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wilcox were on a three week cruise in Georgian Bay with the Robert Webbers and their son, David, from Grosse Pointe on their yacht "Maroda". They report smooth sailing and good fishing.

Christopher Morley Smith of Newcastle on Tyme was a Monday caller at the home of the Clifton Hills.

The Ralph Ayers of W. Main St. were Labor Day week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Westover of Plymouth at their cottage on Lake Ticon near Otsego.

Visitors at Mackinac Island and the Soo were the Othal Bagbotts who took a four-day Labor day trip through the Straits area.

John Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackburn of Orchard Dr., spent several days in Detroit last week visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Keskey.

The C. M. Hammonds and six children of Timberlane Dr. returned Saturday after covering nearly 9,000 miles motoring through the western part of the United States. They went as far south as Tia Juana, Mexico and north to Seattle, Wash., visiting Mrs. Hammond's sister in California and her father in Washington. They had perfect weather the entire trip and were gone four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Hahn, have returned to Northville after spending several weeks at their cottage on St. Joseph Island, Ont. Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Howard, who had been visiting the Hahns, returned this week also.

The Gerry Woodworths entertained the Harold Blooms on their boat at Wallaceburg, Ont. over the Labor Day week-end.

Tom Johnson, junior at Wooster college, will leave for Wooster, O. Sept. 19.

David Lee and Clancy Ely returned Tuesday from their Scandinavian and British Isles trip. Both boys should have a great many interesting experiences to relate. Through a friend, they were presented bicycles from a manufacturer with the understanding that they were to send back pictures taken on their bicycle tours—the pictures to include the bicycles. This was a rare opportunity and one with great appeal to young tourists.

Donna Luoma of Detroit is spending a few days with Carolyn Burkman on Eight Mile Rd.

Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Johnson are spending a few days at Leeland, on the Leelanau peninsula, supervising their cottage which is under construction there.

Dick Willis, son of James Willis of Linden St., will leave soon for Alma college where he will take a CPA course.

Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Libbing and son, Frederick, and daughter, Karen, of Fremont, O. have recently moved to 15512 Lakeside Dr. in Plymouth Gardens. Mr. Libbing is associated with Allied Engineers, Inc. in Detroit.

Opening of school has a real significance at the Clifton D Hill home this year. Beverly Ann is starting in Cooperative Nursery school and Daley will enroll in kindergarten.

Neighborhood picnics seemed to be one way to avoid the congested traffic on highways over Labor day. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Matzen and son, Lynn, Mrs. Estelle Montgomery, the William Templetons, the Kalin Johnsons and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Jardine and Tom Johnson, all gathered in the Waldo Johnson yard on Novi Rd. for a good neighbor celebration.

Dr. Irene Sparling and daughter, Carol Ann, returned Aug. 30 from a five-weeks' tour of France, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Holland, England, Scotland and Ireland.

Girls Scouts To Sponsor Dancing

The 24 members of Girl Scout Troop No. 8 will launch their fall season by sponsoring a 10-weeks' Arthur Murray dance class which will start next Wednesday evening, Sept. 15, at 7 o'clock, in the "meeting room" of the Community building. The course is being thrown open not only to the members of the troop but also to all high school teenage boys and girls from the 9th through 12th grades.

William C. Dishner, Jr., manager of the Flint Arthur Murray studio, will instruct the class, commuting to Northville each Wednesday evening from Sept. 15 through Nov. 17.

Any teenager interested, who has not already registered for the course, may do so by contacting Troop Leader Mrs. Alex M. Lawrence, or one of the following new officers: president, Janice Howarth; vice-president, Lois Rody; secretary, Cynthia Mellen, or the treasurer, Lucille Pullen.

The troop held its first meeting of the fall season last Thursday at the cottage of Penny Niece on Silver Lake.

In addition to the above-named officers, a new scribe also was selected—Roseanne Perrault. Mrs. James D. Howarth will continue her help as co-leader.

Pictured above are members of God's Invasion Army as they are preparing for the different phases of ministry in Northville. Left to right: Ernie Gonzales, Roscommon, Mich.; Ivan Moyer, Pine Bluffs Wyo.; Marilyn Tuill, St. Louis, Mo.; Minota MacKay, Winnepeg, Manitoba; Jack Nelson, Duluth, Minn.; Elaine Wallin, Minneapolis, Minn.

DURING THE WEEK of Sept 21 to Sunday, Oct. 4, the Northville Baptist church will be hosts to six members of God's Invasion Army. In 1948 many young people throughout the Baptist General Conference (former Swedish Baptist) responded to the challenge of giving God one year of their lives without financial remuneration. God's Invasion army volunteers come from various walks of life to bring the Gospel to people throughout the United States and Canada. While in Northville they will conduct survey work during the first week and in addition to this they will conduct special meetings for children after school and evening services during the second week.

Keep Piggies Cool!

SUMMER sun is tough on both man and beast. A simple shelter for pigs or calves will keep them more comfortable on scorching hot days. Also, they'll hold their weight better.

An old wagon wheel assembly is an excellent start for a portable shelter. The top should be made of Vasconite 1/4" Tempered Preswood fastened to framing and mounted on the wheel assembly.

The same principle can be used in erecting a permanent shelter, with the weather-resistant top fastened to posts. Tempered Preswood is an all-around farm fix-up and paneling material with dozens of uses. Among them are liner for truck or wagon boxes, liner for grain bins, dividers in storage bins, workbench tops, new facing for doors, room dividers, walls for new rooms.

Parents Are Urged To Teach Children Safety Habits By Setting Example

Children should be seen — not hurt! If your child is going to school for the first time this year, teach him how to get there and get back safely.

This warning came from the National Safety Council Monday as the nation's schools prepared to open their doors to more than 30 million pupils.

More than 200,000 children under 15 years of age were injured or killed in traffic accidents in 1952, the latest year for which the Council has complete information.

And of these 83,000 were child pedestrians. This is how they were hurt or killed:

Playing in road, 23,000.
Darting from behind parked cars, 22,000.
Crossing at intersections, 12,000.

Walking in road, 1,000.
Hitching on vehicles, 1,000.
Other causes, 4,000.

In 1952 more children were killed in traffic accidents in rural areas than in cities and towns. A total of 2,600 children were killed in rural areas. Of these, 750 of the accidents occurred while the victims were walking, and 920 while they were riding bicycles.

Parents are urged to teach children safe traffic habits by their own example, the Council said. They should always cross streets at intersections, waiting for the signal and making sure there is no danger from approaching or turning cars.

They also should:

Emphasize that safety rules must be given the same respect and obedience as other rules of conduct at home and school.

See that children play only in approved areas—never in the street or near moving traffic.

Teach children the safe use of roller skates, tricycles, bicycles, scooters and wagons.

Parents should teach children to:

Take the safest route between school and home.
Walk on the left side of the road, facing traffic signs, signals and pavement markings.
Obey all traffic officers, school any kind.

Have a good light and rear reflector if riding at night cannot be avoided.

Obey all signs, signals and traffic laws.

Keep bicycles in good mechanical condition.

COLOR PRINT SERVICE

Kodachrome and Kodachrome print orders are quickly serviced. The average delivery time does not usually exceed 7 days. Special delivery shipments sent and received each day make this possible. Ektachrome and Ansco color film are processed or printed in about the same length of time. A trial will convince you.

Prompt service on 35mm. duplicate slides and 8mm. and 16 mm. duplicate movies as well.

by John Stone, DB*

They Asked For It, By Golly! We've always considered ourself a friend of the working man—having once had some personal experience—and we still think the laborer is worthy of his hire.

But we find ourselves singularly unconcerned over the howls now going up from those in the building trades—the carpenters, painters, plumbers, masons and what-not—because of the booming "Do-It-Yourself" trend.

As a practical demonstration, look in on the "Do-It-Yourself" show at the National Guard Armory near Northland Sept. 11 to 19. It will be an eye-fu!

Drive Own Nails
More and more housewives are driving their own nails, instead of calling a carpenter. Painters, plumbers, electricians and others are left twiddling their thumbs as home owners learn how to make repairs and do things for themselves. Seems John Q. Public would rather do it himself than pay exorbitant rates and be downright insulted by some of the gentry involved.

It's pitiful, perhaps, to see some of them reduced to constructing "Do-It-Yourself" kits to make a livelihood.

But they asked for it, by golly! Back in the early days of the cinema, the scene about the plumber who forgot his tools and had to go back for them was always good for a loud guffaw. Or the painter who painted himself into a corner and either had to crawl out a window, swing across to the doorway on the chandelier or, as a last resort, back helplessly across the newly painted surface, obliterating the marks of his brooms as he went.

The big, brawny men who plied what they termed the "skilled" trades, always denied indignantly that there was any truth to such malicious gossip. I always thought there must be something to the tales, though, due to their sheer persistence.

There's Evidence
Now I have evidence, some of it personal experience, and some of it observation.

Here's the Answer

Pretty soon, though, after another conference, work starts. Forms are built for the foundation. Like cooks preparing a mammoth cake, the workers mix a batter of concrete and pour it. But something is wrong with the ingredients. The mixing instructions have been misunderstood. Instead of two equal parts of gravel to one of cement, they've put in two truck loads of gravel to one tablespoon of cement. And no salt, either. So that all has to be dug out.

At last, however, the work is "fin-nee", as our French friends say. There is a beautiful foundation, strong and solid all around. Solid? Oh—Oh. Something she's wrong again, I think! Where will the water, gas and sewer pipes run, through the windows? Highly impractical.

The beautiful foundation has to be pierced here and there. Hammers ring on chisels, hour after hour. That concrete is hard, you know it? A pneumatic hammer has to be called into play before the plumbers can go to work.

Take Plumbers

Plumbers. There's a brand of gentry a congressional committee should investigate. Ever see one who could run a straight line of pipe between two given points? That's not in the code, apparently. Every two feet or so there has to be a union or an angle connection to get around obstructions, even if said obstruction is no more than a wall of air. Connections cost the customer more dough, of course. Besides, they take time to put on, and time is worth about four bucks an hour plus a buck more for a pickup truck with which to hunt tools with. Fellow was telling me his spouse has declared war on all and sundry plumbers because of a trifling incident that happened to her. They've just moved into a new house, and the little woman decided to take a bath. She turns up the gas in the new water heater in the kitchen, and waits. Soon there's plenty of hot water—spraying out of the top of the heater all over the walls and floor.

Very Simple

Helpless and frantic, she calls her husband on the phone. With rare masculine wisdom he tells her the safety plug has melted out and to turn off the valve on the top of the heater. H'm. No valve? Well, run outside and turn off the water where the pipes enter the house. No valve there either? Then call the blankety blank plumber.

One finally arrives. Not the pne who installed the thing, though, and so he doesn't know where the waterline from the street is. He has to send his helper off for a divining rod or something. All this time the dishes in the kitchen are getting washed free, but the cat is floating around on the ironing board and yowling fit to kill.

They finally find the main cut-off, though they have to dig up the street to turn off the water. Then the plumber inserts a tiny plug in the safety thing, gives it a tap and all's as it were again. Except the cat, which will never be the same. Ditto the housewife, who wonders in exasperation why they can't put a valve on the heater so the water can be shut off if it happens again.

Real Trouble
"Impractical," says the plumber in lordly fashion. "You might get the framus mixed up with the dingus, and then you'd have real trouble."

Oh, well. Life must go on. The community house? They've stopped work no that again. The plumbing's in, and the foundation's patched up. But no walls yet. A shipment of materials has been delayed somewhere. Some sky hooks.

They want to put the roof on first. (*Defender of the Bastion)

News No Saturday Matinee at the P & A Theatre.

Friend of ours hired a painter to do some interior walls. Think the painter would use the new roller technique? Not he. He'd always used a brush. None of these newfangled inventions for him. Besides, a brush took twice as long, at $3.75 an hour.

In a town we know of, there's a big community house in process of erection. For weeks before the head man of the project stamped his heel in the ground and proclaimed "This is the spot," there were more conferences than you can shake a stick at.

There's one where the committee in charge gets together on the ground with the mayor, a few assorted aldermen, an architect or two from a neighboring city, and some construction men.

They go into a huddle over some blueprints. Somebody calls signals, and they all come out of it nodding their heads and looking pleased as all get out.

No One Has Ball

Nobody seems to have the ball, though, and days pass. Then some trucks move in and deposit a huge mound of concrete blocks on the site. That's all. "More days pass."

Suddenly, a gang of construction men appear. They're baffled by the blocks. The damned things are right in the middle of the dance floor! So a covey of laborers has to be enticed to move the blocks one at a time over to the side. Natchery, that delays operations a mite.

THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1954 SHOW MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING FORDS THAN ANY OTHER CAR

*Source: R. L. Polk & Company. Registrations for January through June, latest month for which figures are available.

Ford's first in "GO"

Ford's Y-block V-8 is the most modern in the industry

Ford's first in Ride

Ford is the only low-priced car with Ball-Joint Front Suspension

Ford's first in Style Ford's long, low look sets the trend for tomorrow's cars

Ford's first in Resale Value

Used car prices show FORD returns a higher percentage of its original cost at resale than any other car

F.D.A.P.

COME IN FOR A TEST DRIVE!

The cost of a car to you is the amount you pay for it less the amount you get for it when you sell it or trade it in. And recent-model Ford cars return a greater portion of their original cost at resale than any other car in the low price field. That's why it costs you less to own a Ford!

18,500 Expected To Enroll at U-M for Fall Semester

Ann Arbor — Classes will open Monday, Sept. 20, for the fall semester at the University of Michigan.

Predictions based on reports from the deans of the 15 schools and colleges indicate the resident credit enrollment should climb to 18,500 this fall, an increase of 1,000 from last fall.

Adding further support to Pres. Harlan Hatcher's often-stated assertion that the university will continue to offer a strong undergraduate program is the report that a third record-breaking freshmen class in a row will enroll this September.

Freshmen entering directly from high school are expected to number 2,850, an increase of 250 over last fall. Transfer students will bring the total of new students on campus to better than 5,000.

As has been the custom for years, the university will hold a week-long orientation program for the freshmen and transfer students. Campus tours, tests, physical examinations and registration are included in the program.

PEACHES! Peaches! Peaches! Big Albertas! $1.89 a bushel for canning. Hill Top Market, half mile east of Novi on Grand River.

It's WHERE you buy a used car that counts and You can DEPEND on FORD DEALER USED CARS and TRUCKS

It stands to reason a Dealer you can trust sells a used car you can trust.

We Ford Dealers are established businessmen. We don't depend upon used car profits to stay in business, and we can price our used cars at rock bottom. Actually it's good business for us to keep prices low. For we have to make room for a constant stream of trade-ins.

See Your FORD DEALER'S A-1 USED CARS F.O.B. MARR TAYLOR FORD SALES Northville

Schools Reopen; Safety Stressed

Northville schools reopened Tuesday, with members of the faculty and staff holding preparatory meetings and getting everything ready for the start of classes later in the week.

Grades 7, 8 and 9 were to resume their studies today, while the kindergarten morning class is to report Friday at 8:30 a.m., the afternoon class at 1 p.m., and grades 1 through 6 at 8:30 a.m. for the entire day. No other classes are to report on Friday, Supt. Russell H. Amerman said.

Monday, all classes will report, and the fall semester will be in full swing.

Since the start of school again brings danger to children trooping back and forth, Police Chief Joseph Denton has urged all parents to give their children instruction in general safety, and to caution them to look carefully before crossing any street.

Legion Protests Scout Blame

A delegation of American Legionnaires and scout leaders appeared before the Village council Tuesday night to protest blame put on Boy Scouts for alleged damage and disorderliness in the former Scout building at Rayson and Dunlap streets.

Led by Donald B. Severance, commander of Post No. 147, and Merrill Sweet, the delegation pointed out that other organizations also used the building, and that it was unfair to attribute all the damage to the scouts.

It was decided that when the Northville schools relinquish the building when the new elementary school on N. Center is completed in February, definite responsibility for the building will be assigned.

In other action the commission: Heard a report by John Miller of Green Ridge Nursery, that 69 trees infected with Dutch elm disease had been destroyed on the grounds of the new school, and that other reports of infection had been received.

Directed Village Atty. Philip Ogilvie to prepare a tree ordinance for the protection of the Village.

Passed a resolution raising fees of the electrical inspector approximately 50 cents per inspection.

Awarded a contract for $842 to John Northup and John Priami for repairs to sidewalks condemned in a recent survey, the cost to be slightly less than 40 cents per square foot.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The practical value of understanding God as the source of all true substance will be stressed at Christian Science Services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance".
Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (301:17-20): "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter."
From the Bible will be read the following passages from Psalms (37:3-5): "Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass."

Tizzard Death Still Probed

Results of the autopsy ordered in the death of James A. Tizzard have not yet been received, and the investigation is continuing, Police Chief Joseph Denton reported to the Village commission Tuesday night.

Unless the results of the examination show death due to other causes than carbon monoxide, the man will be listed as a suicide, the chief indicated.

Patrolman Ray Nowicki, assigned to the case, said state police photographs reveal the presence of a pillow in the car in which Tizzard's body was found Aug. 28, heightening an indication that he had taken his own life.

However, he said, certain factors in the death, including the statement of a physician that he believed Tizzard physically incapable of bodily action, have caused the investigation to be continued.

New Lutheran Church Formed In Detroit

First service for the Good Shepherd Lutheran church, which belongs to the Augustana Synod, will be held Sept. 12 at Bulman school, Delaware and Puritan. This is a new church in this area which is just forming, with the Rev. Albert Weidlich as pastor.

The Rev. Weidlich graduated from the Augustana Seminary in Rock Island and was ordained in June. The parsonage is at 16132 Inkster Rd.

The church services will be at 9:30 and Sunday school at 10:45.

Presbyterians To Dedicate Church

The First Presbyterian church of Northville will open its fall services Sunday with the dedication of the restored church building. The chancel has been redesigned and enlarged; the organ has been rebuilt and a new and more complete console installed; new floors and new carpeting provided; seven new classrooms under the sanctuary and two in the church house have been built; the seating and the balcony have been redesigned.

Dr. Harold F. Fredsell will preach the dedicatory sermon at the 11 o'clock service Sunday.

Among the many gifts given toward the beautification of the church and comfort of its members are the following:

Organ console given in memory of William Wheeler Thayer by his family;
The Lectern given in memory of Arthur B. Pohl by Mrs. Pohl;
Pulpit Bible and markers in memory of Richard Pohl by his mother;
Choir loft in memory of Dr. Charles Trothan;
Drinking fountain in memory of Cassius M. Chase and friends;
Initial gift towards the restoration of the church spire by Mrs. C. H. Paul and Mrs. C. L. Blackburn;
Carpet given by N. C. Schrader;
Castle light on console by James Brummel and LeRoy Masters;
Folding chairs by Charles Bahnmiller;
Modern fold entrance doors;
Two new Sunday school rooms in church house;
New furnace room;
Rebuilding and enlarging of the organ.
A recital and demonstration of the new organ will be given later.

Jobless Included In U.S. Forecast

East Lansing — Most Americans in the months ahead are going to be satisfied with an economy containing some unemployment in place of an inflationary condition of full employment.

This was the forecast of Dr. Richard W. Lindholm, professor of economics at Michigan State college, as MSC's summer Workshop on Economic Education ended.

Calling his statement "a prediction," Dr. Lindholm declined to say whether he considers such a situation to be good or bad. But, he said, economists have come to believe—based on past conditions—that "full employment" is "over-employment" and that a normal economy includes some unemployment.

"The point is, he said, 'in order to have full employment, you have to have such inflationary pressures that you would sooner have the undesirable element of unemployment than inflation.'"

Therefore, he predicted, "we are going to have larger groups of unemployed in the future than we have had in the past ten years. People would not be in favor of an inflationary program that would be required to put these people back to work."

Dr. Lindholm pointed out that the economist's view of "over-employment" generally is in discord with the view held by many people that a "normal economy" is one of full employment. But, he said, the economist's view is strengthened by actual economic happenings in war and peace.

What's Different About The Baptist Church?

The Baptist Church is a congregation that not only talks about Missions but is doing something about Missions. Of the $13,717 received last year, $4,533 was given for the support of Missionaries. The Baptist Church supports fully, two Missionaries in Africa and partially supports a Home Missionary in the State of Michigan. Throughout the year Missionaries from various Faith Missions are invited to come to the church to present their mission fields thus enlarging the Missionary vision of the congregation. We are interested in Missions because we believe that it is the task of the Church, individually and collectively to carry out the Great Commission of the Saviour to preach the Gospel to every creature. This is the big responsibility of every church, and the Baptist Church is moving to assume their responsibility. Missionary offerings are made through voluntary contributions from the congregation and missionary envelopes are provided for that purpose. Not one cent of missionary money is spent to build up huge church machines in this country or abroad. All the missionaries we support are born again believers with a God-given passion to reach those outside of Christ with the Gospel. If you believe that others have a right to hear the Gospel as well as we, then we invite you to join with us in our missionary endeavor.
