What a wonderful world of fantasy we live in! Statesmen of the free world—including the United States—prate about holding the line against Communism and their optimistic utterances are repeated by the press, radio and television to delude the unthinking public into believing that all is well with our side in the cold war we are waging, all over the world.

It appears to us that most of the optimism our politicians express about their policy of containment is wishful thinking rather than realistic. While this may be fine for the party in power, and salve to the pride of those in charge of our foreign policy, one cannot but wonder if greater frankness and honesty on their part might not better prepare the United States for the possibility of war that is inherent in our foreign policy as it relates to Communism.

It is enlightening to review some episodes in our foreign relations that are still fresh in memory. For instance, President Truman's description of the Korean war when it broke out in June, 1950, as a "police action" by the United States. And the glib talk by Washington politicians when it ended that aggression had been repelled and that Communism had suffered a setback.

We recall also that solemn warnings were issued by the United States government that Communist conquest of Indo China must not be permitted to go unchallenged. When the chips were down however, Red China got most of what she was after, and that which wasn't given her when the armistice was signed almost certainly will be taken over in the not distant future.

Now the Communists have started a new war, ostensibly against the small island of Quemoy off the China coast, but possibly as a stepping stone toward conquest of Formosa. Military aircraft supplied to Chinese Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-Shek have been bombing Chinese Red forces on the mainland. As many as 100 jet planes are reported to have been engaged at one time in the action at Quemoy. Other reports, also deemed reliable, are that more than 100 Russian submarines are in the Pacific.

This week we announce that the U. S. will send the big aircraft carrier Midway and 16 destroyers to the Pacific "as part of a long range program to place strength in the two oceans on an even keel."

Two weeks ago, Secretary of State Dulles journeyed half-way round the world to Manila to attempt to work out an eight-power defensive alliance in Southeast Asia (SEATO). Only two powers came to the conference from the Asian mainland: Thailand and Pakistan, and the latter came only to observe. India, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia stayed away. By no stretch of the imagination could the conference be called a success when Dulles returned. It's greatest danger is that it may end up by exposing with precision just how little will be done to ward off Communist aggression, not how much.

In Europe our diplomacy suffered its worst defeat since our cold war started with Russia when France turned down the EDC. Now England is trying to work out a new seven-nation defensive alliance to replace EDC. It also involves rearmament of West Germany, as did EDC, but with France apparently unalterably opposed to German rearmament on any basis there is little likelihood of success.

Furthermore, EDC's defeat now appears to have changed the mood of the West German people, who in local elections in the state of Schleswig-Holstein, have rejected Chancellor Adenauer's policy of cooperation with the West by giving the Socialists a majority in the state legislature. The Socialists want to stall and further negotiations with the West while they discuss German unification with the Soviet Union.

Through all of this foreign involvement runs a story of gradual desertion of the United States's foreign policy by Great Britain, France and other countries. Even in Brazil, where it was thought that the United States was highly regarded, riots that followed the recent suicide of President Vargas made the fallacy of this belief crystal clear.

Now at Quemoy and perhaps later at Formosa, there is the threat of armed intervention by the United States on the side of the Chinese Nationalist Government if Red China tries to oust Chiang Kai-Shek from his Formosan refuge.

Should this occur we will be fighting alone, for Great Britain and other governments which long since have recognized the Red China government, necessarily would abstain from entering the war on our side.

We confess we do not know the answers to the world's many problems, nor do we believe that there is any easy solution. We do feel, however, that the United States has shown a weakness for getting itself out on a limb by talking big and then fading away when a crisis arises. Wouldn't it be more sensible to stop, or at least slow down, in attempting to tell the entire world how to run its affairs, and concentrate on doing the best possible job in keeping our own house in order?

"Save-A-Child" To Be Project of Rotarians Here

Northville Rotarians voted unanimously Tuesday noon to sponsor a local "Save-A-Child" program under which crosswalks near Northville schools will be painted a bright green discernable to motorists half a block or more away.

Originating in Michigan City, Ind., the "Walk on Green" idea already has been adopted in a number of Michigan communities as a safety reminder to both children and motorists. Other states across the nation are expected to institute similar plans, so that motorists everywhere will recognize the bright green instantly as a signal to slow down and watch for children.

To Do Work

Clyde Dethloff, member of the Rotary club and a Northville painter, offered to do the work and furnish the paint, and the offer was immediately accepted by the organization.

Dethloff will confer with Supt. of Schools Russell H. Amerman and Police Chief Joseph E. Denton to determine what crosswalks will be affected. Amerman estimated that there are from five to ten places where the new safety idea will prove valuable. However, it has been suggested that since school children swarm into the business district during the lunch hour, crosswalks at the intersection of Main and Center Sts. and at least one at Rayson and Main, also be painted.

As initially instituted at Michigan City, authorities used two white stripes six inches wide and five feet apart, filling in the five foot strip with the bright, weather-proof green. They found that children, once instructed, readily recognized that they were safest when crossing streets "On The Green", and that adult "jawkalking" also diminished.

Other Projects

Other projects to be undertaken by the Rotarians were discussed at a club assembly at the home of Cy Frid Wednesday evening.

Those already adopted include a talent show to be held some time in November, and the annual rummage sale which will be held at Northville Downs Sept. 24 and 25.

W. A. Westerfield is chairman of the latter project, and anyone desiring to donate worthwhile articles to the sale are asked to call 1405J2. Other members of the committee are Ed Bogart, George Lockhart and N. C. Schrader.

Arthur Huston Dies Here at Age of 86

Arthur O. Huston, father of Mrs. Orson Atchinson of Northville, died at Atchinson Memorial hospital Saturday at the age of 86. He was the son of Oscar and Jeanette and was born on a farm on Canton Center Rd. where he lived his entire life, farming the land on which he was born until he retired some years ago.

Huston occupied many positions in local government in Canton Center township during his lifetime. He was justice of peace and a member of the township board. He also served many terms as a member of the Canton Center township school board. He was a member of the Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F&AM. On the night of the 100th anniversary of this lodge, at which celebration he was honored as a life member, he suffered a heart attack which was the beginning of his failing health.

Besides his daughter mentioned above, he is survived by a brother Edson of Plymouth, four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Schrader Funeral home in Plymouth at 2 p.m. on Monday with Rev. George Nevin of Cherry Hill officiating. Interment was at Riverside cemetery in Plymouth.

Pallbearers were Norman Atchinson, Owen Schrader and four nephews of the deceased; Milton, James, Robert and Maynard Mott.

Jack Helsip was released from service in the army September 10. He was stationed at Camp Leonard Wood for two years and in May was transferred to Camp McCoy in Wisconsin. He will return to Saginaw where he has a position waiting for him.

Mr. and Mrs. James Littell and daughter, Nancy, left Monday for Northfield, Minn. where Nancy will enter her junior year at Carlton college.

Equestrian Title Taken By Irish of Birmingham

Outriding and outjumping the eight other teams of the Michigan Equestrian league and also the international contenders, the Canadian Pony Club of Toronto, the Irishmen Team of Birmingham, swept the International Equestrian Junior Trials Sunday to win the Michigan championship and the Junior International championship.

Approximately 600 persons watched the contests, including some 200 from Canada, a like number from Birmingham and Detroit, and 50 from Toledo.

Starting with the rugged 2 1/8 mile cross country event, the Irishmen took a commanding lead with 436 1/2 points to 300 points for Northville and 300 points for the Michiganders, 297 for Grants, 285 for Toledo, 150 for Outlands, and no score for the balance of the teams.

Girl Breaks Ribs

In the second event of the triple competition, Northville, with Frannie Malley, Jan Schaefer, and Mary Casenhiser riding, won the 1st Stadium jumping class with a perfect score of 100 points. The Irishmen came back in the Big Jumping event to take 94 points. Northville, at this stage of the competition had suffered 3 casualties to their horses, and were 139 points behind.

Only human casualty was Susan Sheridan, 14, of Southfield, a substitute on the Northville team, who suffered two broken ribs when her horse fell.

The Irishmen again picked up 94 1/2 points in the relay and 197 1/2 points in Dressage, giving them a total of 927 1/2 points in the Michigan league standing out of a possible 1050 to win the Championship. Reserve Champions were Grant's girls' team made up of Kitten James, Lou Wilson and Patty Bugas, with a score of 776 points. In third place were the Michiganders with 742 points, fourth, Toledo-Howard, 739 1/2 points, fifth, Northville, 734 points, Outland sixth, 499 1/2 points and seventh Triangle 322 1/2 points.

SCORE IS CLOSE

In the International phase of the competition, with the Champion Irishmen riding against the Canadian team, composed of Cecil Phillips, Howard Hixcox and Carl Dow, all of Toronto, the Irishmen took the cross country with a score of 443 to 436. The Irishmen increased their lead in the Dressage with a score of 197 1/2 to 164 for the Canadians, and in the final jumping competition they won both events to end up with a total score of 816 1/2 points for the Michigan Champions to 751 1/2 points for the Canadians.

The big International Junior Equestrian Challenge Trophy, put in competition for the first time at the Northville International Equestrian Trials, last Saturday and Sunday at Franfield Farm show grounds, is symbolic of the North American junior team championship.

INDIVIDUAL WINNERS

Winners of the individual events were: Local pleasure horses for juniors, Randy Haass of Northville, with Julie Older 2nd. Trail Horses, Randy Haass, with Mike Zayti, second. Local Horseman-ship, Julie Older, with Mike Zayti, 2nd. The 12 year old hunter seat class, Marie Hammill of Franklin, Janie Bugas of Bloomfield, 2nd. Individual Jumping Event, Jan Schaefer. Junior Working Hunters Jan Schaefer. Horsemanship up to 19 years, Marie Lindquist. Final Jumping event, Jo Ann Wallace. Hunters under Saddle, Shirley Wagner of Toledo. Open Working Hunters, Joe Racine of Birmingham. Individual Dressage Competition, Jocelyn Scofield of Birmingham.

The season long competition with a series of five trials, ending with the Northville trials, is sponsored by the Equestrian committee of the Northville Optimist Club, and has as its objective the training of young equestrians with ambitions to make the United States Equestrian Team for Olympic competition. That this objective is being realized is attested by the fact that one of the last year's riders, Frank Duffy of Birmingham is now on the U. S. Olympic team.

Novi to Vote on New $200,000 School; Total Enrollment Here 1,327

Schools in the Northville-Novi area are as badly overcrowded as anticipated, school officials reported Wednesday, and Novi township will hold a special election Sept. 27 in an effort to alleviate the condition.

Qualified electors of District No. 8 will vote on that date on a proposal to authorize the issuing of $200,000 in bonds for the construction of ten additional classrooms.

Enrollment 290

Present enrollment in the Novi school is 290. Some high school students attend Northville High School, but the number is not yet known. The addition to the Novi school, if approved, would provide space for approximately 300 more pupils.

Registration for the election will close at 5 p.m. Sept. 17, according to Georgia H. Larson, secretary of the board of education. Those already on the registration books need not register, Mrs. Larson said.

The proposal to be voted upon includes the cost of erecting and furnishing an addition to the present school, and for an addition to the site.

$8 Increase

Cost to the taxpayers would be $8 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Meanwhile, the School Study group organized last Spring is continuing its work, and will hold another meeting next Wednesday. The group, composed of 36 residents of the Northville-Novi area, already has made considerable progress, members declare, but the report is not expected to be completed until next year.

In Northville, pre-school year estimates of school enrollment already have been exceeded, with a possible 50 pupils yet to be entered.

733 In Grades

Total enrollment as of Wednesday was 1327, two more than expected. This includes 733 in the grade school, 33 more than last year, and 594 in high school, an increase of 31. Fifty children of school age listed as living in the district have not yet entered grade school, and at least half of these are expected to do so. The other half contains names of children who may have moved out of the district.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Fall Silhouette
Needs Petticoat
To Be in Fashion

NOT since the last century have petticoats been as important in the wardrobe as they are this fall. Since women like the grace and ease of full skirts, they'll appreciate the fact that fashion decrees the petticoat as an important framework for both dresses and suits popular this season.

From a suit with a modest flare to the most bouffant skirt, lingerie must be carefully selected to keep the skirt smartly defined.

Wide Selection

Fullness in the fall skirt picture varies. It may start anywhere from the waistline to just a few inches above the hemline. That means that if you can wear several of these types of skirt fullness, you'll have to match the petticoats to the skirts.

If your dress is gathered at the waistline you'll want an underline that gives body to the fullness at the waist widening to full-blown stiffness at the skirt edge.

You need to wear only one petticoat when you wear this type which has a dual silhouette. Nylon tricot is used for the slim sheath under a stiffened nylon net to give proper propping to bouffant skirts for new fall fashions.

The silhouette to watch carefully is the one that hugs the torso to the hips and then breaks into a flare. Choose an underskirt which has a smooth yoke from waist to hips with shirred ruffles or stiffened tiers to keep the skirt swirling.

Designers use a yoke to give a flat line to slim the figure and to avoid the bounciness that can ruin the effect of the dress.

New Materials

One of the most versatile underskirts for fall is a tiered style of stabilized nylon tricot, a satiny-looking stiff fabric. Styled with a figure-bugging nylon tricot yoke it has three tiers of stiff fabric gradually gaining width.

The woman who always wears a slim petticoat under a full one will now find a single underskirt with both features. This one has a slender nylon tricot sheath under tiered stiffened net. The sheath is slashed on each side at the hemline to give complete freedom of stride.

Vegetable Meals
Should Be Varied

Vegetables are too valuable a food for any homemaker to permit them to get into "the same old thing" class. You don't have to prepare vegetables in a different than ordinary way every time you cook, but doing it once in awhile will keep the family interested in vegetables.

Pop your corn cut off the cob into fritters, just for a change. Add some nutmeg to spinach or some oregano to tomato dishes, or spice red cabbage for something different!

CORN-PEPPER FRITTERS

(Serves 6)

- 2 cups cooked, cut corn
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup cream
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

Combine corn, sugar and salt; add cream, eggs, green pepper and then add combined flour and baking powder to corn mixture. Beat well. Drop by teaspoonfuls into greased skillet. Cook slowly until puffed and browned. Serve hot with tomato soup (canned soup diluted with a bit of water or milk, heated).

SPICED RED CABBAGE

(Serves 6-8)

- 2 tablespoons mixed spices
- 3 quarts water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 pounds red cabbage, shredded
- 4 tablespoons brown sugar
- 4 tablespoons vinegar
- 3 tablespoons butter

Place spices in small bag. Heat water and salt to boiling. Add cabbage and spices and cook 30 minutes. Drain. Dissolve sugar in vinegar, add butter and combine with cabbage, then serve at once.

When Northville Rotarians gather around the festive board every Tuesday noon to listen to the customary programs, they are fortified every now and then by especially delicious biscuits baked by Mrs. Charles Hall, a member of one of the Presbyterian circles serving the weekly luncheons.

Baking powder biscuits are not considered exotic or in the same category as Crepes Suzette or Mulligatawny Supreme, but those concocted by Mrs. Hall have made more than one Rotarian mouth water.

Those who taste some of the 200 she bakes each time it comes her turn will attest their lightness and flakiness.

Do You Understand What You Read?

By Dr. Moiree Gompere

Knowing the truth that sets us free has been the motto and the ideal of every group which has worked in any fashion toward a good world and a better life. Knowing how to read has been a basic necessity of that ideal. Those who wished to keep people slaves keep them from reading. When slaves can read, slavery is partially abolished —the first essential step has been taken. "Reading," "ritin," and "rith-metic" were for a long time the three "Rs" of all education and of the three, reading was first.

In America our compulsory school system has seemingly created the impression that most people know how to read and that therefore all can or do know the truth. In general, reading is not taught beyond the fourth or fifth grade. We assume that children can read and let them shift for themselves.

The assumption that they can read is false in a majority of cases. Few people can actually read, and by that is meant a great deal more than merely calling words. It is not enough to know the meaning of individual words; it is not enough even to be able to say them. They must be known in all their relationships, in their shades of meaning. They must be evaluated in their context; they must be real enough that the reader can identify himself with the ideas for which they stand. A good reader is one who can accept or reject content readily and intelligently.

One of the necessary methods of learning good reading is the oral reading method which is called Oral Interpretation. This means that the reader must first find the meaning and then share that meaning with listeners. The little black marks on the printed page come alive only through the understanding of the reader; the meaning is imprisoned until it is set free by the mind and voice.

Every person of every age and grade needs to read aloud constantly. If he is taught Oral Interpretation he is taught to share all the treasures of the world. Words become jewels of worth, tools for use, weapons of defense when they are shaped into being by good oral reading. Ideas become the property of the reader more readily when they are actually formed into sound. Truth is more readily identified and lived when the form of its expression is shaped into being by word of mouth.

The color and fire and loveliness of the imagery is made more apparent when material is read aloud. Poetry was written to be read aloud and loses much of its color, rhythm and music unless it is spoken. Plays and stories can come alive through the use of the voice; the drama suspense, fire, laughter and tears are more readily apparent and vicariously shared in oral reading.

No person at any age can afford to cease studying how to read because that is a sure source of truth and power and beauty. Oral Interpretation is taught so that all people, old and young may possess the entire wealth of the world — its books. This method of reading develops individual personality, makes better citizens, and helps equip our civilization for progress. The method of oral reading is a sure check on the understanding of all students and is a positive way of enriching the content.

The
THUMB

by Paul Newton

It is time for the house plants to return from vacation out of doors. So they may adjust to being indoors before the furnace is started.

Geranium cuttings taken now and placed in a mixture of fine sand and loam will root quickly if kept moist in 4 inch pots in sunny basement window. These will provide plants for your next year's porch box or border.

It is wise to give older plants, which have not outgrown their containers a top dressing of good soil mixed with a tablespoon of bonemeal. It is a known fact that plants bloom better if the roots are confined in a small space. If a plant will fit into a three-inch container don't feel it will do better in a four inch container, for it is a much better flower producer if the roots are crowded.

When the temperature gets below 60 degrees the poinsettias should be brought in and placed in a cool sunny window that will have a temperature around 60 degrees. A basement window that is light but not in full sun might answer these requirements. Experts say that if the plant is given twelve hours of day light and 12 hours of darkness this will insure bloom around Christmas time.

Oxalis can now be brought in and the little bulbs set just below the surface of the soil, about 5 or 6 bulbs to a 6 inch pot. The pots should be kept moist and in a sunny window. When they are rooted, a feeding of water-soluble fertilizer is given. Flowers should appear from November through January or February.

Ivy that is to be grown indoors in water should always be cut before frost. It needs some light but should be in a cool spot away from a radiator.

Artificially softened water kills house plants, so don't use it on your house plants. That's advice from C. E. Wildon, horticultural at Michigan State College. When water is softened, he explains, its calcium has been taken out and sodium added. Most plants can't tolerate much sodium. Weldon suggests catching rain water for watering plants or the use of distilled water. The same advice is good if your water supply contains much salt.

That Teenage Question

Northville's teenagers form a select group, well-mannered, wholesome, orderly.

And Northville's parents and civic leaders can well be proud of the record they have compiled, a record envied by more than a few other communities where teenagers rowdiness had caused considerable worry.

Much of Northville's teenage tranquility, of course, is due to the character of the teenagers themselves, coupled with the efforts of adult groups to provide entertainment and projects to keep them busy.

In keeping with its youth program, the Optimist club is considering additional ways of providing entertainment so that the teenagers will have "things to do and places to go."

Some club members, however, do not believe that entertainment is the sole answer to teenage problems. They suggest two projects to supplement the program already in force: Equipping a Do-It-Yourself workshop with certain items of machinery where boys can tinker about repairing a broken chair or making some useful article, and where girls can learn to sew on a button or mend a ripped dress; and a bureau where homeowners and others can list odd jobs they want done.

Dancing and parties are fine when properly administered. So are such activities as basketball and football games, picnics, and such.

But there is much merit in the suggestion that teenagers be given something useful to do, instead of merely being kept out of mischief.

Want An Oil Well?

Many a property owner has dreamed of striking oil on his land. But what a shock he would get if he had to drill the well himself, a national authority says.

First, the cost of drilling a 10,000 foot well would range from $250,000 to $1,000,000, depending on widely varying conditions. Equipment needed would be a complete rig, weighing about 200 tons; 10,000 to 12,000 feet of casing; 25 to 100 drilling bits; 500 to 1,000 tons of drilling-mud additives; 2,000 to 5,000 sacks of cement; 48,000 barrels of water and 3,000 barrels of fuel oil, plus the services of 125 skilled workers, working full-or part-time. Then he might wind up with a nonproducer.

According to the record, of 49,325 wells drilled in the U.S. in 1953, 25,748 were oil wells; 3,801 were gas wells; 18,509 were dry holes; and 1,267 were service wells. Total footage drilled amounted to almost 200 million feet four times the earth's diameter.

Fortunately for land owners they don't have to risk drilling a well—they can lease to oil companies if they so desire and if prospects seem favorable.

Scientific knowledge and courage are prerequisites for any drilling venture. Risk taking based on the hope of profit is the incentive that spurs American oil companies to keep pace with oil demand and add to the nation's reserves for the future.

You're In It Too

Citizens Public Expenditure Survey defines a taxpayer as "one who doesn't have to pass a civil service exam to work for the government."

The average man in the $4500 bracket works one day in every three to earn tax money alone! If he is employed on the usual 40-hour, five-day week basis, he works more hours to pay his taxes than he does to meet both his housing and clothing needs.

That's a bleak picture. But a ray of sunlight is found in the fact that the new federal budget marks a reduction from its predecessors—and that the tax cut proposed by the Administration and authorized by Congress have provided us with some measure of relief.

Now the hope is that larger cuts in both spending and taxes will be possible in the future. Practically everyone, in and out of government, wants that. But the goal will be impossible of attainment unless it is honestly supported by the public at large. That means we must do much more than just advocate economy as a vague general principle. We must be willing to approve economy moves when they directly affect us—not the other fellow only. Long ago it was said that the people get the kind of government they deserve, and that goes for fiscal affairs as well as everything else.

Grass Roots Opinion

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "The people are entitled to know what their servants are doing—and have a right to be represented at meetings of Governmental bodies by newspaper reporters. That's why the Founding Fathers put into our Constitution a provision guaranteeing freedom of the press."

COATESVILLE, PA., RECORD: "The Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association has announced the appointment of five men to serve with five members of the Pennsylvania Bar Association to make a study of the whole concept of Freedom of the Press and Fair Trial." There is no doubt that there will be some findings which will be critical of some newspapers. But out of it may come a decision that office holders are not always the best judges of what...shall be kept from the public."

HOLLYWOOD, FLA., HERALD: "Home from the capital, a Pittsburgh business man looked out the window and saw a big log floating down the river. He pointed it out to a friend. 'See that log,' he said. 'That's just like Washington. If you examined that log closely you'd find 10,000 ants on it—and each one of them thinks he's steering it.'"

HARMONY, MINN., NEWS: "Those who complain that the hometown newspaper does not print all the news usually find a few times in their lives when they can thank their lucky stars for same."

Let's Save a Child

A new safety idea for schools, originated in Michigan City, Ind., has been adopted by several Western Michigan communities and seems certain to spread throughout the nation.

The idea is simply to paint a five-foot strip at cross walks a solid green, and teach children to "Walk on the Green."

Motorists usually can see the green stripe at least half a block away, and prepare to stop. Sponsors of the idea say the result has been fewer accidents at street crossings, less jaywalking, and less traffic congestion.

The idea is worthy of consideration by Northville school and civic officials for adoption here, now that schools have reopened, with the ever present danger of some child getting hurt or killed.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

DEATH of a Michigan child, whose parents were unable to secure medical attention, emphasizes a basic problem facing the people of this state.

It is a problem that takes on tremendous personal significance, engendering both anxiety and anger in the individual who is faced with the need for a doctor and is unable to engage one.

It is a condition that troubles various civic leaders and some members of the medical world.

The problem defined in brief: The need for more doctors.

INVESTIGATIONS by the State Board of Registrations in Medicine into the case of the Hazel Park four-year old indicated that the parents had delayed so long in calling a doctor that it's questionable whether she could have been saved; that a doctor who was called instructed the parents to take the child to a hospital.

The important point is that no doctor could be found to attend the little girl.

THERE are fewer medical doctors in Michigan now than in 1942, a war year, according to the federal Public Health Service. Latest figures for the state show that in 1942 there were 121 physicians per 100,000 people; in 1949 there were only 111. Another table shows that there was one doctor for every 831 people in 1942; in 1949 one doctor was available for each 904 people.

An editorial in the Ingham County News in Mason pointed out that there are fewer doctors per capita in Michigan than in Ohio and other mid-west states. The Detroit Free Press stated editorially: "The shortage of doctors was cited repeatedly at the National Governors' Conference on Mental Health as one of the main reasons proper care for the mentally ill is lacking."

"IT SEEMS obvious to me," says Dr. A. C. Furstenberg, dean of medical school at University of Michigan, "that we need more doctors if you can't find one when you are sick. The law of supply and demand is fundamental and easily understood by anyone. If a doctor is not available when his services are required, and appointments must be made 30 to 60 days in advance, surely there is something wrong with the supply of medical talent."

The dean says that there are valid reasons for increasing present enrollments in medical schools, but cautions that it must be done in an "orderly manner as budgets will permit".

GREAT worry of some medical school administrators is that the quality of doctors would be lowered under an accelerated training program.

Reminding that "no medicine may be much better than bad medicine," one midwest authority further cautions: "as the quantity of professional men is increased (under undesirable conditions), the quality is likely to go down. This does not mean that we still would not have many outstanding doctors and dentists, but rather that they would be harder to find if the number of professional men were increased."

MEDICAL training is expensive. Technical instruction by skilled doctors to small groups of students is a necessity if a college is expected to produce competent physicians.

U of M medical school for the past three years has admitted 200 students annually. A total of 720 were enrolled the first of this year.

Wayne University, the only other medical school in Michigan, is now admitting 75 each year.

Some 6,737 physicians were reported practicing in Michigan in 1950. If each student who began training graduated and started practice in Michigan (which all do not), only 275 new doctors a year would be available to ease the existing shortage and replace physicians who die or retire.

QUICKEST remedy seems apparent at Wayne University.

"At the present moment, we have physical facilities for taking 100 students per class," states Dean Gordon H. Scott. "We have no funds with which to hire the additional faculty necessary to handle another 25 students per class. When we were granted a new building by the legislature, we were taking 68 students. We have strained every resource since that time so that we might raise the number from 68 to 75. We cannot go further than we have without diluting our instructional program."

COST of increasing the student load at Wayne to 100 per year would be approximately $250,000 per year is the opinion of Dean Scott. It amounts to $2,500 per new student.

NO STATE money is spent to operate Wayne medical school. It is financed by the city of Detroit. Dean Scott points out: "It seems logical that since health is the admitted business of the state, witness a State Health Department, state care of mental patients, persons suffering from tuberculosis and other diseases, that the state cannot separate medical education, an integral part of health maintenance, from these other publically accepted responsibilities."

Since indications are that a higher percentage of Wayne medical graduates stay in Michigan to practice than do those from U of M, there is room for argument that the legislature should help support the smaller medical school.

THE Legislature is less concerned with problems caused by doctor shortage than it could be.

A resolution that would have created a committee to study the subject in general did not receive favorable action despite efforts of Representative Ben E. Lohman, chairman of the Public Health Committee.

Memorial Clinic To Break Ground

At a meeting August 30, the directors of the Dr. O. R. McKenzie Memorial clinic at Walled Lake, accepted a deed from Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Buffmyer who very generously gave a piece of property for the clinic.

The lot is 100x110 feet deep on Ladd Rd., between their home-stand and the Sealtest office in the Walled Lake Heights subdivision. The original site on Pontiac Trail, offered by Mrs. McKenzie, was not accepted finally, because of the building restrictions on the property and because more parking facilities are available on the land donated by the Buffmyers. The clinic has expressed their appreciation to Mrs. McKenzie for her generous

The Eighty-Plus Club

"GROWING OLD IS A PRIVILEGE DENIED TO MANY"

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carlson

The Swords of War were rattling in their scabbards in Europe back in 1888—just as they are now.

Eighteen-year-old Andrew Carlson, a native of Jemtland, Sweden, didn't like the sound. He dreaded the day when he'd be forced into military service, as had been thousands of young men before him. He wasn't cut out for military life. He wanted none of it, even though Sweden seldom was involved in an actual shooting war.

So he wrote an uncle in Muskegon, Mich., to send him a steamship ticket so he could come to America. The uncle did, and he did and he's been in the United States ever since.

It was rough going for awhile, as Carlson well remembers even at the lusty age of 86, which he'll be soon.

Arriving in Michigan, he got a job in a lumber camp at Cadillac. That was the winter of the "Great Blizzard of '88", so celebrated in song and story. Carlson doesn't remember whether there was much snow in Cadillac (though isn't there always?). But he does have a recollection of it getting "a mite chilly"—52 degrees below zero!

The next year cousins in Chicago wrote him to come there "where it was more civilized." But even in those days, he says with a chuckle, it was more civilized in the Michigan woods than it was in Chicago.

He worked in a lumber yard there for a while, and then in the Kimball Piano factory.

Four years later he met a Swedish girl who had gotten the "American fever" in her hometown of Wernmland, Sweden, and had crossed the ocean to see what America was like. She was working for a Chicago family, and still thrilled at being in America, when Carlson "came along and changed my whole life," she says with a smile.

Several years after they were married they moved to St. Paul, where Carlson went to work in a brass foundry operated by the Great Northern RR. He worked there for 35 years, tending four furnaces with an efficiency that made him the envy of many a bigger and huskier man.

When he was 69 he decided he'd had enough of "smoke and dirt and hot ashes", so he told his foreman he was going to retire. The boss tried to dissuade him, but finally wished him luck and said he'd earned a rest.

The Carlsons, who have now been married 61 years, live with one son, Arthur, at 201 Fairbrook. Another son, Harry, is in North Dakota, while a third, Walter, lives in Covington, O.

Mrs. Carlson loves to knit mittens for her great-grandchildren—there are 14, besides 10 grandchildren—and is still active otherwise despite her 82 years.

Her husband, still spry, takes care of the flower garden and the yard, and also looks after the family dog. They're great pals—in fact, the family says he has to have a "little conversation" with Carlson every day before he'll eat.

To Football Game? It's At Plymouth

Going to the Northville Plymouth football game Friday? If you are, warns Prin, C. V. Ellison, don't get sidetracked and stop at Ford field where a game will be in progress.

That will be the game between Bentley High school and Garden City, which have rented the field for the contest.

The Northville-Plymouth game will be played at Plymouth.

Meyer Boys Win Trophy in Drag Race

Howie and Larry Meyer, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Meyer of West Eight Mile Rd. won a trophy in the Drag races which were run at the New Chevrolet plant on September 12. These races are sponsored by Livonia Police. The boys built their own car and worked day and night getting it ready for the race and were naturally proud to win a trophy.

MSC Band To Escort Spartans

EAST LANSING — Michigan State college's marching band, which gained national recognition in the 1954 Tournament of Roses parade and the Rose Bowl football game, will make three out-of-town trips this fall.

Announcement of the joint arrangement was made by MSC Pres. John A. Hannah and J. F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile.

The band will accompany the football Spartans to the opening game with Iowa, Sept. 25, at Iowa City; the Notre Dame game, Oct. 16, at South Bend, Ind., and the Michigan game, Nov. 13, at Ann Arbor.

Special trains will transport the band to the Iowa and Notre Dame games, while the trip to Ann Arbor will be made by chartered buses. The Iowa game is scheduled to be televised over a national network.

Northville Still In Running for Baseball Title

The Northville Merchants baseball team remained in the running for the Inter-County league championship Sunday by white-washing the Food Fair squad of Detroit, 6 to 0.

By losing, Food Fair was eliminated from the playoffs, but Northville still must face others of the five still in the running.

The Detroit Auto club and the Detroit Teamsters entries lead with three straight victories, while identical 2 and 1 records.

Northville tangles with the powerful Teamsters at Cass Benton park Sunday, and must win to stay in the playoffs. Game time is 3 p.m.

Cub Scouting Season Begins

The cub scout season is about to begin and parents with boys eight, nine or ten years of age are urged to introduce their sons to this first step in scouting.

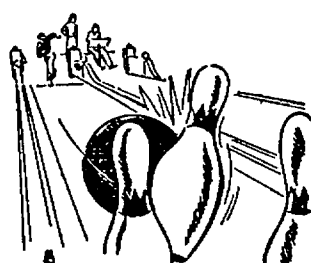

The boys will make new friends, scout officials said, learn how to cook out-of-doors, play a variety of games, work on exciting crafts and most important, learn how to get along with the other fellow and be a better citizen because of it.

Oren Schneider, phone 63, has application blanks and will be happy to take the application of any boy of the above mentioned ages. Parents are urged to call him any time after six in the evening.

"TV" TEETH

London — Parents have been warned by British dentists against a new child ailment: TV teeth. The dentists report said children have the habit of watching TV with their heads held in their hands. When they get excited, they press harder and harder and this, they said, may cause the teeth to go out of proper alignment.

Wild Life Notes...

Michigan's two leading state parks both went over the one-million attendance mark last week, conservation department workers report.

Holland state park went from 982,000 attendance to 1,051,000 and Grand Haven jumped from 982,000 to 1,044,000.

The nearest competitor is Dodge Four park near Pontiac, which to date has had 948,000 visitors this year.

Illegal deer-hunting activity increased in Michigan last week as convictions of 14 poachers were reported to conservation department headquarters here.

Also listed on the department's weekly summary were convictions of 31 persons who were caught fishing without licenses.

Eighteen persons paid fines and costs for violating other game, water and forestry laws and 22 were convicted for a variety of fish law violations.

Representatives from the United States and Canada will confer in Washington, on Sept. 8 on Great Lakes' fishing problems of interest to both nations, the federal government announces.

Leaders from both the U. S. and Canada were hopeful that a settlement agreeable to both sides could be worked out to solve mutual Great Lakes' problems.

Local Boys Have Reunion in Glasgow

It's a smallworld!

When Charles Ely and David Lee were in Glasgow, Scotland, on the last lap of their ten weeks in Europe, they looked around for an interesting place in which to have their lunch. They found a place to their liking, went in and as there were no vacant tables available, selected one where two American soldiers were seated. Upon reaching the table they were surprised to find Cpl. Cleon Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newton.

Cleon said he had just flown over from Frankfurt for a little vacation and that they were the first boys he had seen from home since being stationed in Germany.

Corrections

In last week's Record, the names of the co-captains in the Mustang gridiron picture were given incorrectly.

The caption should have read "Joe Girardin and Paul Hamlin".

In the activities scheduled for the Community building there was a mistake in the Kings' Daughters Hunter's Ball. The date is December 18 and NOT December 10. Sorry.

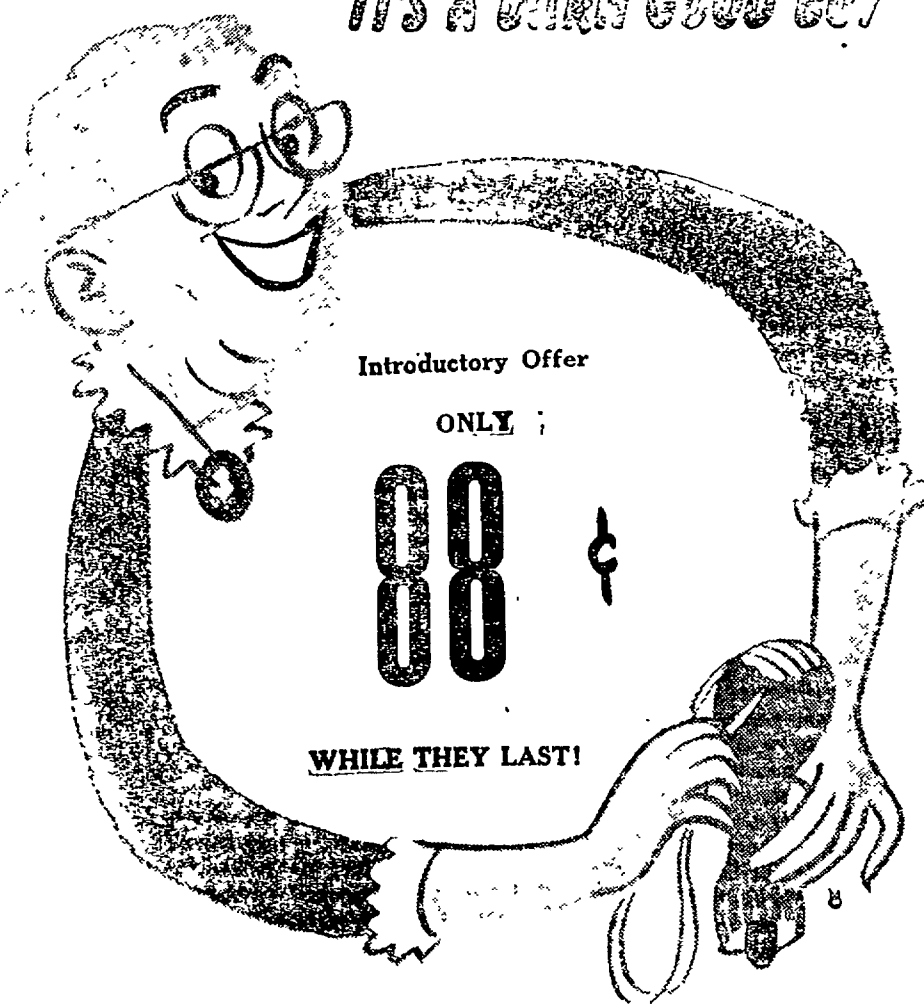

Six young people from God's Invasion army will arrive in Northville next Tuesday. They have just completed their work in Northern Minnesota and will be ready to begin their work here on Wednesday morning. These young people will conduct survey work for the local Baptist church and children's meetings and special services during the second week of their stay. These six young people are a part of the 28 members of God's Invasion Army, sent out by the General Baptist Conference. These young people have been specially trained for this work and their travels have taken them into homes and communities in all parts of the United States and Canada. There they have made over 150,000 interviews to help people with their spiritual needs.

Director Wally Zwemke pointing out to a group of God's Invasion Army members the area in which they will be making friendly calls in the homes during their visit here in Northville next week for the Baptist church.

Talk on Flower Arrangement Is Given Garden Club

A demonstration of color treatment in flower arrangement was given at the first fall meeting of the Northville branch of the National Farm & Garden Assn. held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Frogner on Sheldon Rd. Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Hazel Dunlop, of the J. L. Hudson Co., provided the program. One particularly beautiful display of chromatic color arrangement used polk berries and tiny egg plants to carry out the purple theme.

Another pyramid of gold began with light yellow gladioli, deepening through gold colored gladioli to red center bronze chrysanthemums, complimented by a single bunch of gladioli mundi roses. At the same time, Mrs. Dunlop gave the members an interesting account of the history of color from the time of the Greek philosopher, Aristotle to the present.

Mrs. Frogner's tea table was centered with a colorful arrangement of gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Karen Larson Wed Aug. 14 to Robert W. Massell

Gowned in white embroidered nylon tulle, Karen Larson became the bride of Robert W. Massell, August 14, at 4 o'clock, Rev. J. M. McLucas read the double ring ceremony in the Novi Methodist Church. The church was beautifully decorated with vases of white mums, gladioli and palms. Mrs. Joyce Walker, sister of the bridegroom, sang the "Lord's Prayer" and Grieg's "I Love Thee" assisted by Mrs. Celia Sharpe at the organ.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Larson of 44281 Grand River, Novi, and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Massell of Detroit.

The bridal gown was ballerina length. Her shoulder veil fell from a white taffeta Juliet cap which was beaded with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Miss Lillian Hansor, of Novi, the bride's only attendant, wore a frock of pale blue embroidered nylon tulle ballerina length, and carried a bouquet of peach colored gladioli.

Allen Beck of Detroit assisted the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were Bernie Morgulec and Fred Walker, both of Detroit.

Mrs. Larson chose a suit of gray faille for her daughter's wedding and wore a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Massell wore a suit of beige with corsage of yellow roses.

Assisting at the reception in the church parlors were Mrs. Don Larson and Miss Zaide Larson who officiated at the tea table. The women of the WSCS supervised the serving.

Following the reception, the bride changed to a navy nylon linen suit for the honeymoon by car in northern Michigan.

The bride graduated from Northville High school in 1950, and from Highland Park Junior college in 1952 and has been employed as a medical technician at Wayne University, Heart research center.

Robert graduated from Highland Park Junior college and is a senior at Wayne University.

WHAT PRICE ADVENTURE?

It is, sad to relate, but the United States seems to be drifting more and more toward a police state. If you doubt that, consider the tremendous mass of laws and regulations passed in recent years—some with apparent malice aforethought—whose purpose is to curb and restrict the very freedom of thought and action which is one of the foundations of this great nation.

Time was when adventurous spirit and inventive genius could soar unfettered into the realms of business, science and the professions.

A man of ideas and initiative could count upon at least a modicum of encouragement, garnished with liberal servings of awe and respect. He could found a new business, develop a life-saving vaccine, revolutionize methods, or invent a flying machine unmoled by governmental restrictions or minions of the law.

If you've been classified DAF*, as every American should be, you'll resent some of the changes affecting our lives.

No longer can a man explore the unknown, enter into business, or operate anything from a bicycle to an atom-smasher—without a license.

Take the case of Garrett Cashman, a jaunty young man with an adventurous spirit who decided to look into the mysteries of flight—the same spirit that motivated Orville and Wilbur Wright.

He built a flying machine out of a bosun's chair, a bicycle wheel, 70 surplus Army weather balloons filled with $43 worth of explosive gas, and went soaring into the wild blue yonder above Albany, N. Y.

State policemen chased him for 30 miles along the Hudson river—at a cost of approximately $500 to the taxpayers. They cornered him in an apple orchard and took him before Justice of the Peace George Bigsbee in nearby Guildenland.

Unable to produce any guilders—$100 worth—he was promptly thrown into jail with other "criminals", to await trial on a serious charge.

Flying without a license. What price adventure? Everything seems to have a price, these days, under the law.

If the trend continues, the day may come when you'll have to have your ticket punched every time you go to the rest room.

Science Is Wonderful! Additives for Gasoline Revealed as "New" Discovery

Science has made great advances in the development of gasoline to fit today's motors—or so advertising of the great oil companies would have us believe.

Most modern gasolines now have "additives"—chemicals or solutions developed in the research of the oil companies—which do many things ordinary gasolines of former years were unable to do.

Or so say the advertising men. Take the product of Shell, called "TCP", and termed "the greatest advance in gasoline in 31 years".

Other companies, now adding the same or similar chemicals to their product, call it MP, DR-2, Power-X, or some other combination of symbols.

All claim the following benefits.

More power. Up to 25 per cent. The "up to" is significant—it might be 1 per cent, 11 per cent or 17 per cent, as well as 25 per cent.

More mileage.

Let's Reason

by A. M. Smith

The London Letter of Maclean's Magazine is usually entertaining, informing and in the best literary style. Beverly Baxter, the author, long identified with top political and international activity of England, contributes to the Sept. 15 issue of "Canada's National Magazine" (Maclean's) a tirade against the United States and President Eisenhower because our President does not take over the tedious trips across the Atlantic for Churchill-Eisenhower conferences. Is Beverly Baxter going senile?

He says: "I wonder why it must always be Churchill who makes the Atlantic flight and never the President." The best answer to that is that the horse always goes to the water instead of the water running to the horse. If the English people generally agree with Baxter—and I do not believe the people of Canada do—it would be well for neither Churchill nor Eisenhower, or their representatives, to cross the Atlantic for some time. Let's cool off and regain some mutual respect!

Baxter complains because the United States did not write off the loan to England during World War I. He says: "It was the beginning of Britain's financial collapse. We were driven off the gold standard." (We did that to them!) "unemployment spread across the country, and in reckless despair came the general strike." (We did all that to them!) "The marks of that internecine struggle are still on us." We seem to be the cause of all England's ills and obligated to supply all possible cures.

So, Churchill comes to Washington. It is hard on him because of his advanced years. So, Baxter advises our President to come to Europe—London, Paris, Berlin. "Think," says Baxter, "what strength and confidence the President would draw from the acclaim of the British people if he came here. And think how the bewildered, divided French nation would gain confidence and unity if the President went to Paris." We reply, Think how they wouldn't, unless the President promised to fight all their battles, make them all rich and recreate the condition when all Englishmen sang with ecstacy: "Britannia Rules The Waves".

Social Security Changes Cited

Sweeping new amendments to the Social Security act, signed into law Sept. 1 by President Eisenhower, will affect almost every family in the Livonia, Plymouth, and Northville area, according to Harry Baltuck, district manager of the Detroit-Northwest social security office.

The amendments contain the following major provisions:

Beginning Jan. 1, 1955, Social Security coverage is extended to about 10 million more persons. New groups to be covered by social security include self-employed farm operators, accountants, architects, professional engineers and funeral directors. Many farm workers and household employees who did not meet requirements for coverage will now be included under the law. Other groups such as ministers, and state and local government employees under a retirement system may elect to come under old-age and survivors insurance. Increased benefits are provided for 6½ million persons now receiving payments and for those who qualify in the future as retired workers age 65 and over—or as survivors of deceased workers.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1955, persons aged 72 and over may receive payments regardless of the amount of their earnings. Those under 72 may earn $1,200.00 a year without losing payments.

Starting Jan. 1, 1955, persons who are or become disabled for 6 months or more can have their earnings record "frozen." Then the period of disability does not have to be counted in figuring their average earnings for social security payments. This means a higher benefit when the worker retires at 65 or later.

Future benefits may be figured by dropping out up to 4 or 5 years of low or no earnings under Social Security. This results in a higher average wage and a higher payment.

"To the unknown Operator who saved my life..."

That's how the letter began. It was sent to Michigan Bell by Mrs. Ida Vaughn of Ann Arbor. Here's why.

One evening, Mrs. Vaughn, who then lived alone, suffered a severe heart attack. She was able to reach her telephone but was choking so badly the operator could hardly understand her.

The operator checked the address and notified the hospital. Then she learned the family doctor's name from Mrs. Vaughn and telephoned him.

She asked if there were any relatives she should call. Mrs. Vaughn gave the name of her daughter. The operator called her and soon she was on the way to the hospital with her mother.

Mrs. Vaughn's letter ended this way,

"I frankly do not think I would be living today if that operator had not been on the job that evening. Many, many thanks for wonderful service at a time when most needed."

The "unknown" operator is no longer unknown to Mrs. Vaughn, of course. She is Mrs. Bonnie Walker.

For her alertness, presence of mind and resourcefulness she has been awarded a Vail Citation, a telephone company award for outstanding service.

NHS Sophomores Plan Horse Show

The sophomore class of Northville High school will sponsor a horse show Sept. 25 for the benefit of pleasure riders in the Northville-Plymouth area and to entertain the spectators.

Sponsors of the show hope to stimulate the public's interest in riding while enjoying the scenery in one of the few unspoiled areas in the Detroit region.

Classes in the show will consist of horsemanship gymkana contests and also classes to test the skill of horse and rider over and through obstacles which they would confront on any trail.

The show will be held at Franfield Farms, 46280 W. Eight Mile Rd. from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Sept. 25.

Famous Lady 68 in October

The most famous lady in all the world—Miss Liberty in New York Harbor—is 68 years old this October, and in excellent health and spirits. President Grover Cleveland dedicated the statue Oct. 28, 1886.

It was the inspiration of the Alsatian sculptor Bartholdi who, after visiting the United States in 1871, returned to France to begin work on its design. His mother served as model; contributions amounting to $250,000 in small sums came from French men, women and children. The statue was shipped to New York in sections and reassembled.

It is 305 feet from the base of the statue to the torch Liberty holds aloft, and she herself is 111 feet tall from toe to crown, weighing 450,000 pounds.

New $6,100 Convertible To Be Shown Here

Wilbert J. Petz and William B. Petz, veteran automobile executives, have been appointed Packard dealers here for service and sales. Clare E. Briggs, vice president of Packard Motor Car Co., announced today. The new dealership, Petz Brothers, 200 Plymouth Ave., Northville, has been franchised as the pioneer auto firm's new program is broadened in this key market area.

Highlight of the activities planned for the open house celebration, Thursday and Friday, this week, will be the showing here of Packard's custom, Caribbean convertible. Only 400 were made this year of the model, which is a development coming from the company's prize-winning Pan American experimental convertible. At the same time, the new Packard dealer has invited the public to inspect his modern facilities for customer service.

The two brothers have been in the auto business for 17 years and have had the Studebaker dealership since 1939. They said that their company would operate on a dual franchise basis, adding that the addition of the medium priced Clippers and upper priced Packard cars to his present line of Studebakers would give his dealership wider market coverage with models in every price bracket.

Well known in civic affairs as well as automobile circles, the Petz brothers have been active in church groups in Plymouth and Northville. Commenting on their new business affiliation, the partners cited four major advances since

James J. Nance became Packard's president; the company became re-established in the luxury car field with its Packard cars, while bringing back the Clipper line for the medium price field; a new, young management team now is in place at Packard with

Mustangs Ready for Plymouth

Northville's Mustangs are as ready as they will ever be for Friday night's hassle with Plymouth, Head Coach Richard Kay said Wednesday at the close of a skull session and a limbering-up exercise.

A long workout Tuesday afternoon revealed several weaknesses, but Kay—while not satisfied—agreed with Asst. Coaches Stan Johnston and Ron Schipper that they'd come a long way in whipping a team together for the opening game of the season.

At Plymouth Kickoff time is 8 p.m., and the game will be played at Plymouth. "We'll have a good first string outfit," Kay declared hopefully. "But after that, we don't know what will happen. Our reserves are untried and inexperienced."

Plymouth is the champion of its league and was on its way up after we beat them last year 21 to 0. There is no reason to believe they will not be as strong as they were when they finished the season last year—one of the strongest teams in the area.

"We have an experienced backfield but an almost completely new line. This line is light and untried, but fast. We have sacrificed weight for speed. "Morale is very high despite the overwhelming odds. Everything seems to be against us but we have a determined group of kids."

One Sophomore Kay said the starting lineup will contain one sophomore, Bud Bell, a 150-pounder who has shown considerable promise at quarterback. All the others are seniors and juniors, led by Co-Capt. Joe Girardin and Paul Hamlin.

The tentative lineup follows:
LE—Paul Schulz—senior, 170
LT—Dave Goss—senior, 160.
LG—Paul Hamlin—senior, 165.
C—John Funk—senior, 155.
RG—Jim Wiley—senior, 165.
RT—Virgil Houtz—senior, 150.
RE—Dave Biery—junior, 156.
Q—Bud Bell—soph, 150.
F—Joe Girardin—senior, 170.
LB—Bud Lovett—junior, 195.
RB—Howard Meyer—senior, 165.

Players who will be called upon to see action on defense or as substitutes on offense (in order of their probable appearance): Bill Heslop, John Fisher, Bob Wagenschutz, Jim Burrell, Dave Hartner, John Chapman, Ernest Tush, Jerry Davis, Gary Holman, Howard Banks, Forrest Pretzer, Larry Graham, Jim Rambeau, Duane Busch, Clayton Pebers, Dave Mosher, Ken Krezel, Dave O'Neal, Darwin Teschka, John Clarke.

What's Different About The Baptist Church?

The Baptist Church is a local, self-governing body that believes in the independence of the local church. We have no ecclesiastical hierarchy that settles the policies and program of the Baptist Church. We have the right to choose our own pastor and to terminate his services if we so desire. We have the right to support missionaries of our own choosing. The literature of the Sunday School is selected by the officers of the Church. The property is owned by the members of the Church and therefore we have the full jurisdiction of it. The officers of the church consist of the Pastor, the Board of Deacons and the Board of Trustees. Congregational meetings are held regularly throughout the year at which time members of the Church are at liberty to speak. At present the Baptist Church is in fellowship with the Conservative Baptist Churches of America. It's association with other Baptist Churches is one of voluntary fellowship with those of like precious faith. Every Independent Baptist Church is responsible to God and none other. You will enjoy freedom from man-made rules in the Baptist Church. Will you accept this invitation to attend the services?
