Northville To Be 'Bombed' Oct. 25 In Civil Defense Demonstration

Bombs will "drop" on Northville the evening of Oct. 25 as this community's first civil defense demonstration in several years gets under way.

The air raid siren atop the Village fire station will sound at approximately 7 p.m., according to Civil Defense Director Oscar Hammond, summoning those who have been assigned duties in the event of a bombing raid.

Hammond said the demonstration will be designed to test the conduct of the populace, and that of motorists. Pedestrians, under civil defense rules, are asked to leave the streets immediately, and take shelter, remaining indoors until the "all clear" is sounded.

Motorists are requested to pull over to the curb, if driving, and stop until the signal to proceed is given.

Approval for the demonstration was given by the Village commission at a previous meeting.

Preparatory to the demonstration, a meeting will be held at the Community building at 8 p.m. Monday at which the civil defense committee will coordinate plans with other groups. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Owners of station wagons and panel trucks have been asked to register their vehicles with Hammond or Fred Castlerline for use as emergency ambulances.

The Northville branch of the American Red Cross and the National Security and Health and Safety Committees of the Northville Business and Professional Women's club met Monday night at the Village hall to discuss plans for participation in the event.

A display will feature such services of the Red Cross as Canteen, Blood Bank, Home Nursing, and First Aid. It is hoped that this display will create interest throughout the entire community and stimulate each and every person to volunteer for some phase of Civil Defense.

Twenty-six of the new citizens have reached their 21st birthday, according to Mrs. Samuel Geraci, president of the Northville Coordinating council, who is acting as general chairman of the affair. The others have recently become citizens through naturalization.

These are: Mrs. Clifford Hill, 17740 Beck Rd.; Mrs. Ralph Hay, Jr., 383 N. Rogers; and Gordon and Helen McKinney, 218 Lake St.

Those who have just reached 21 are:

In connection with the banquet, Village Pres. Claude N. Ely issued the following proclamation:

"WHEREAS, October 20th is the community anniversary of those reaching the age of 21 and entitled to the full rights of citizenship; and

"WHEREAS, these new voters will affect the lives of 62 million Americans through the exercise of their elective franchise; and

"WHEREAS, the movement is now launched whereby increased emphasis is being placed upon better citizenship thereby subjecting our young people to richer experiences thereby increasing their usefulness to the nation; "NOW THEREFORE, I, Claude

Ely, President of the Village of Northville, do hereby proclaim the week of October 17th to October 23rd as Citizenship week and urge our citizens to recognize the patriotic duties about to be assumed by those becoming of age and further recognize the service they in future years will be called upon to render to their community.

"In Testimony Whereof I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of the Village of Northville to be affixed, this 10th day of October, 1954."

Many Home Fires Are Preventable, Fire Chief Says

If, in the next few moments, your house could catch fire—and one does every 80 seconds—somewhere in the United States chances are somebody was careless with a match or cigarette.

These firebug "somebodies," says Fire Chief William McGee, can be blamed for one out of every three home fires.

They're the folks who unthinkingly toss away lighted cigarettes and matches; they kill themselves smoking in bed and don't give a hoot if their kids play with matches.

But they are only the worst of the six home firebugs who start over 85 per cent of home fires, according to Chief McGee.

Here's how he would grade the other five on the basis of National Fire Protection Assn. studies of home fire causes:

Booby prize No. 2 goes to the chap who doesn't inspect clean and repair his heating system and chimney at least once a year—and thereby cause one of every four house fires.

No. 3 is the electrical wizard—one of the eight homes that burn—who dotes on frayed cords, overloaded circuits, misuses appliances and thinks 15-ampere safety fuses are for sissies.

Then there are the two guys—more like gals—who, between them, manage to start one of every ten house fires; the kitchen firebug has a greasy stove, leaves unwashed burners going to ignite potholders and other easy burning items piled too near the open flames; her sister is the dilly who quickens fires with kerosene, dry cleans with gasoline and keeps these fiery fluids in her home in nice breakable

Halloween Plans Nearly Complete

Preparations for the Halloween program sponsored by the Northville Mothers club and other civic organizations are nearly complete.

Additions to the program, which will include a dance, and a party for younger children, are a project of the school art class and a football game.

The art class will decorate store windows in the business district with traditional Halloween trappings, making many of the decorations as a school project.

At 7:30 p.m., two teams from Junior-high school will clash at Ford field in the annual battle between the Rams and the Kats.

The Rams, coached by Ath. Dir. Al Jones, have won all five games in the series which began in 1949. Last year, although heavily favored, Coach Dick Kay's Kats were ambushed by the Rams' Norman Tibble, who scored the only touchdown on a 25-yard run.

A trophy will be presented to the winner, and receipts from ticket sales will be used to buy new equipment.

Girl Scout Leaders Practice Training

Today is outdoor day for the 14 women who have taken the Girl Scout leader training course.

Mrs. Sheldon Baker, Mrs. William Edgar and Mrs. Wayne Ruby of Plymouth will meet with Northville women who are completing the course at the home of Mrs. Alex Lawrence where they will have a cook-out and take a nature hike.

Mrs. Francis Jennings, formerly of Northville, will teach games and songs to the women.

NORTHVILLE'S P&A THEATER, which has been closed for more than two years, will be reopened next month, the new operators announced at a meeting of the Exchange club. bottles, leaky cans, etc.

Home firebug No. 6 performs his trick with hot ashes and coals—puts them fresh from the stove or furnace into wooden and cardboard containers, or dumps them on the basement floor next to wooden walls, old newspapers and rubbish and thus accounts for one of every 11 home fires.

Then there's the Northville resident who set his house on fire Tuesday when he forgot to protest two beams between which he had wedged a stove pipe. Fortunately, not much damage was done.

How do you stop these home firebugs? Chief McGee has this advice:

"One of the best ways is to have your home inspected for fire hazards by experts. They can help you spot and correct those unsafe conditions which could cause a fire in your home."

Urging everyone's cooperation in preventing home fires in Northville, the chief pointed out that the International Assn of Fire Chiefs is sponsoring a nationwide campaign for just such home inspections as the most effective means for cutting the terrible toll of fire deaths among children.

Salem Soldier At Fort Campbell, Ky.

Fort Campbell, Ky.—Pfc. Richard A. Honke, 9286 Six Mile Rd., Salem, is in the process of taking advanced engineer training in Co. A, 645th Engineer Bn., Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Pfc. Honke is the personal driver for the company commander.

He entered service May 7, 1953 and took his basic training at Fort Belvoir, Va. Prior to his entry in the service Pfc. Honke was employed by Evans Products in Salem.

The 645th Engineer Bn. is now in the process of building a bridge and dam over Lake Tall, the recreation area on the post.

Committee Rules Out Any Move To Force Opponents' Acceptance

No coercion or compulsion will be used in determining what areas outside the present Village limits will be included in the newest attempt to gain city status for Northville.

This was a major decision of the first meeting of the committee, which is headed by Lynn D. Sullivan, 405 Eaton Dr. Sullivan is vocational training supervisor at the Wayne County Training school, and a long time resident of Northville.

There will be no "shotgun" aspects in this campaign, he indicated. "It is the consensus of the committee that no attempt should be made to coerce or force any area outside of the present Village boundaries to come into the proposed city, but the committee members feel that if any of the areas adjacent to the Village should desire to be included within the proposed city boundaries, their requests should be sympathetically received."

Public Meeting Set

The committee will hold its first public meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Room 1, Northville High school.

At this meeting, Sullivan said, it is hoped that interested citizens will appear to give their views, and that representatives of areas seeking to be included in the incorporation will also be present.

"The committee will, at that time," Sullivan stated, "be glad to answer any questions regarding the advantages and disadvantages of becoming a part of a city. The committee would appreciate it if representatives of any areas adjacent to the present Village limits which desire to come into the proposed city would present some

MERCHANTS ENDORSE CITY STATUS DRIVE

The Northville Retail Merchants Assn. has endorsed incorporation of the Village into a city, it was revealed at the group's monthly meeting Monday night in the American Legion hall.

The association went on record as favoring a city form of government because of potentially more substantial financial returns from the state, available only to cities, and for greater benefit to the community and its citizens.

proof, by petitions or personal representation, that they reflect the views of the majority of the people within their respective area. It is sincerely hoped that this meeting will be well attended, since we are desirous of settling boundaries which will be to the best interest of all concerned, both now and in the future."

First Project

Determination of the boundaries is regarded as the first project of the group. After that, other meetings will be held to permit voters to obtain full information concerning the benefits of city government.

Total fines collected, $761.

Al Porritt, former restaurant owner in Novi, is now manager of Al Green's coffee shop at the Willow Run Airport.

P&A Theater To Reopen Its Doors About Nov. 1

Northville movie fans will no longer have to go to other towns to see their favorite pictures when the P & A theater on Main St. reopens next month.

This was the promise made to the community through the Northville Exchange club by Edward Holler, operator of the Farmington theater for the past 15 years, and Ralph Rubin of Detroit.

Holler and Rubin have leased the theater, they told the Exchange club at its regular Wednesday luncheon, and will provide first class motion pictures to this area.

The theater, which was closed more than two years ago because of the inroads of television and poor business, is being re-equipped, and will feature first run pictures.

A wide, cinescope screen is being installed, and also a stereoscopic sound system so that the most modern pictures can be shown.

Holler, who has been in show business for 26 years, said that he and his partner intend to operate the theater on a "merit basis."

They also operate the P & A theater in Plymouth.

Samuel Stremich, former manager of the theater, has been employed by the new lessees in the same capacity. A long-time resident of Northville, he also has a record of 26 years in the business.

The theater has a 750 seat capacity. Under present plans, it will open on Nov. 1, or sooner if possible, Stremich said.

Carrington Buys Old Record Office

The Neal building, 120 N. Center, for 20 years home of The Northville Record, will be the new home of the Carrington Insurance agency.

Sale of the brick structure, built early in the 1930s after its frame predecessor had been destroyed by fire, was announced this week. Thomas Carrington, who started his agency in 1919, said he expects to take possession from the present owner, Gerald Woodruff, next month.

His son, Charles, now is associated with him in the business, which handles fire and other insurance, and serves as the secretary of state's office for the issuance of drivers' licenses.

Watch Out For Children, Says Judge Bogart

Judge E. M. Bogart today announced that his traffic court is cooperating with the Michigan Safety commission on the October Child Safety-Watch Out for Kids program.

As a forceful reminder to motorists that they must drive especially carefully near schools during September when the children have just returned from vacation and are not used to going safely to and from school, Judge Bogart stated that motorists convicted of speeding or any other serious violation near schools during school hours should expect to pay a higher than average traffic fine.

Judge Bogart warned motorists to be on the alert for small children who run out from between parked cars since this is the most common error a small child makes in traffic. Blaming the child, its parents, or the school is no substitute for the adult driver accepting the responsibility of "Watching Out For Kids", the judge concluded.

Former Northville Man Visiting Here

Frederick Kerr, formerly of Northville, and now a chemist with a Standard Oil subsidiary in Venezuela, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Bertha Kerr, 321 Yerkes St.

Kerr has been in Venezuela since being discharged from the armed services after World War II. He and his wife, whom he brought to Northville from Missouri, where she has been visiting her parents, will visit here for about a month.

The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.—(Romans 8, 2.)

Born in each of us is the God-given power to choose between right and wrong. When we choose to do or think evil, we are enslaving ourselves into misery; when we choose God, good, we free ourselves for joyous living.

HELL INCORPORATED

It is reported that a $40,000 lot has been built in Las Vegas, Nevada, where

"Hell Incorporated" will be built. It is to run 24 hours a day, every day in the week and will contain every amusement and vice that exists.

On the front a large $5000 neon sign will advertise the place. It is to be in the form of the devil with an arrow for a pitchfork which constantly moves, pointing the way to "Hell." Also between Los Angeles and Las Vegas are roadside signs which say, "You're on your road to Hell," "This is the way to Hell," "Hell is fun," etc.

The Bible says, "Fools make a mock of sin." Surely this is a reflection upon the spiritual condition of America. The Apostle Paul warns of conditions which will mark the close of the age (see II Tim. 3) and among them that "seducers shall wax worse and worse." The strategy which Satan is using is to make hell a big joke and that sensible people do not believe in a place of future punishment. In this we must either accept what God says in His Word or what Satan says by way of deception. Hell is no joke! Christ will save you from it.

Theater To Reopen

Northville movie-goers—those who have not yet succumbed to the television bug or are recovering from it—no longer will have to go out of town to see their favorite movie stars.

The P&A theater on Main St., closed for more than two years, is to be reopened about Nov. 1. Competition of television and lack of attendance have been given as the reason for its closing, but there have been increasing signs that Northville residents still like the movies, and have been traveling to Plymouth and other towns to see them.

In a talk before the Northville Exchange club, the new operators expressed their faith in Northville and promised that the "Bill of Fare" will consist of Grade A and first run pictures. Lack of the latter also contributed to the theater's closing, residents say.

If Northville patrons are indeed provided with first class motion-picture entertainment, there is reason to believe that reopening of the theater will be of much benefit to Northville.

And, if so, it will deserve support.

The Right Of The States

Federal law, as interpreted by the National Labor Relations Board and even by the Supreme Court, too often supersedes state law. As a result, the rights of the states to regulate strikes and picketing have been over-ridden.

Strikes and mass picketing sometimes lead to violence—yet the states, to a considerable extent, have become powerless to protect their citizens from physical harm and damage to property.

Since Federal boards have no police force to maintain peace and order, it is difficult to see why the states should not have the authority to go with the responsibility to protect their citizens.

The issue is now squarely before Congress as it considers those proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley law which are intended to make it even more fair, equitable, and workable. The right of the states to protect their citizens and their property should be recognized and affirmed.

Why The U.S. Is Wealthy

A foreign newsman from Indonesia, Eng-Kie Tan, visiting in the United States, expressed considerable amazement at the number of poor people living in various United States cities. Shown sections where slum conditions were very apparent, and bad, Tan seemed to be noticeably surprised.

An explanation of this condition to Tan, by an American who was conducting him on a tour of the various slums, is—we think—well worth thought.

He was informed that to have wealth in America, one must work, and that the people of America generally work for what they have. This reflection was not just one opinion, but is the collective judgment of groups of European business men who have visited the United States since World War II to learn why U. S. production is so much greater, per man hour, than production anywhere else in the world.

It is the willingness of Americans to really work, and to work long hours, if necessary, to get ahead, that sets most of them aside from workers in other countries. It is also generally known that U. S. industry employs machinery to a far greater degree than the industries of other countries.

There are always some who are not willing to work hard, and who will live in some areas, or who are not dependable and who cannot keep consistently employed. There is a small number who are the victims of fate, and these deserve sympathy. But the majority of people in the United States who are willing to try hard enough can usually accumulate at least modest wealth, and that is the difference.

Canyons At The Ocean Bottom

Columbia University scientists, headed by Bruce C. Heezen, geological research expert, have announced the discovery of a second vast canyon on the floor of the North Atlantic Ocean. The first canyon to be discovered was found about two years ago.

It ran north-south and was found in about mid-ocean. The second canyon discovered, which was located on a 7,000-mile trip taken by Columbia University scientists recently, runs east-west.

Both the huge gorges are said to converge on a flat mid-Atlantic plain, which is about 18,000 feet below the surface of the ocean. The new canyon, running east-west, is estimated to be from 300 to 500 miles in length.

As a result of these discoveries, the latest theory is that these canyons, and perhaps, others, form a part of a huge network of canyons, which may connect with canyons originating in river valleys. If this theory proves true, some of the mysteries of the depths may be solved, and surprising information uncovered.

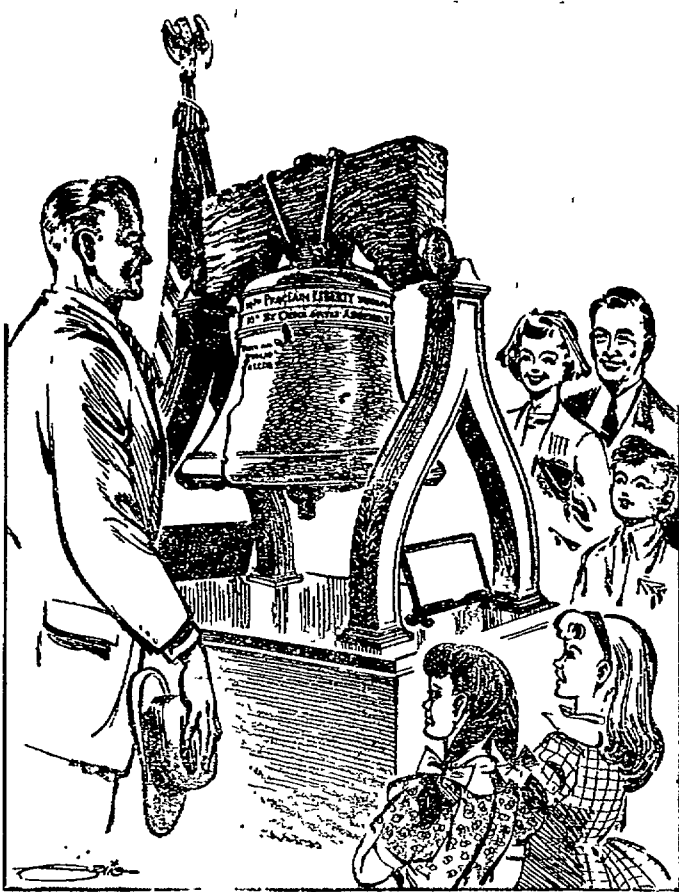

Use Your Right To Vote

Suppose the Liberty Bell should be able to speak today. Might it not say to us, as Election Day approaches: "Freedom, Americans of 1954, is self-government. Self-government is in danger when the people do not use the precious privilege of the ballot."

"Use your vote carefully. Make sure your vote counts for continuation of sound government, national and local, based on individual freedom, opportunity, and responsibility—on truly American principles."

"Don't let your rights slip away. Exercise your American citizenship. VOTE!"

IF THE BELL COULD SPEAK—

Ten Commandments of Good Citizenship

1. Know and defend the rights guaranteed by our Constitution.
2. Know your Government; its functions, its officials, and the issues confronting it.
3. Insist upon the loyalty and integrity of public officials.
4. Endorse candidates who will enact laws you believe to be sound and equitable.
5. Support issues you believe to be sound and equitable.
6. Be active in the affairs of your local, state and national political organizations.
7. Advise your Congressmen of your views on important issues.
8. Oppose those who seek unfair benefits from your Government.
9. Seek public office to serve your community and your country.
10. Qualify to vote, and vote intelligently in every election.

Let's Reason

by A. M. Smith

About Popularity and Elections

A political analyst of national repute currently remarks that "the Republican strategy of sweeping to victory in the November elections behind President Eisenhower's personal popularity must be put down as pretty much of a failure". That may be true.

Question: Would President Eisenhower want the elections to turn on the popularity of himself or anyone else rather than on the analysis of national problems, what the present administration has done and probably will do about them, compared with the performance of the opposition and what it probably would do if given control of Congress? Sentiment or sense?

What is the outlook for this American "government of, by and for the people"? There is one conclusion reached by all students of the history of government—Any government that drifts into collective, communist, totalitarian, socialist or authoritarian administration inevitably becomes a dictatorship which depends on the popularity of the Chief Executive or on his control of armed forces restricting the peoples freedom. Example, Communist Russia. Exit freedom. Enter slavery.

Another conclusion by every serious analyst:—The people of a democratic government must have their hopes, wills, and decisions in the voting booths fixed on the long range good of the people as a whole, rather than on self-interest or PERSONAL LIKING FOR ANY CANDIDATE OR OFFICIAL. Failure in this determination and decision will whittle away their freedom.

Democracy always faces suicide. Voting by "popularity" is one easy way to democracy-suicide. At the close of the Revolution the Army wanted to make Washington King of America. "Have sense!" said he. A woman declared she voted for a candidate in 1952 "because he uses such beautiful language." Another easy way to democracy-suicide:—A selfish majority outvotes then by legislation despoils the minority. This is the easy and well greased slide down to one-party continuous totalitarian administration,—and dictator bossing the party in power and commanding the military forces.

Methodist News

Ministers of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist church are assisting pastors of the Michigan Conference in the Spiritual Life Mission which is an emphasis of Holy Habits in the Christian Life—Regular Church Attendance, Bible Readings, Tithing, Christian Witnessing.

Rev. Ivan E. Hodgson, local pastor, is conducting the Mission in the First Methodist church of Clare, Oct. 10-15. Rev. Nevins of Clare will conduct the Mission in the local Methodist church, Oct. 31-Nov. 7.

Sunday evening, Oct. 3, the Adult Fellowship of the Methodist church met for an inspirational meeting. Dr. Glen Fry, assistant to Bishop Reed, led in an "old fashioned hymn sing" and then brought a message on the meaning of the Spiritual Life Mission in the lives of individual Christians, emphasizing prayers, witnessing and tithing.

The evening was concluded with fellowship and refreshments.

One Track Mind
"In times of trial," said the preacher, "what brings us the greatest comfort?"

The GREEN THUMB

by Paul Newton

Tulip bulbs, beyond a doubt, give the most satisfying results for the amateur gardener who has a limited amount of time and money to spend. From the middle of October to the first of November is the best planting time.

For the best effect tulip bulbs should be planted about 6 inches apart in groups of five. These clumps at intervals of two feet. A low growing ground cover such as arabis, aubretia or evergreen candy tuft placed in front or between the clumps adds color and interest to the planting.

Tulip bulbs have a wide range of color, so pick a basic shade and select varieties that will blend with it. If purple shades are your favorite, use soft shades of lavender and pink for blending. Buy five of a kind, and these might be Georges Grappe, a Breeder tulip; Teles copium, a Triumph tulip; Smiling Queen, a cottage; and Darwin tulips, Blue Perfection, Black Eagle, Princess Elizabeth and King Mauve.

In another bed, perhaps in front of low growing evergreens, plant Red Emperor tulips. These bloom in mid April if planted on a southern exposure.

Tulip bulbs, which are planted about 6 to 8 inches deep, will form small bulbets each year. In three or four years the onseval bulb deteriorates and the small bulbets become too crowded. This results in inferior blooms. If the bulbs are planted 10 to 12 inches deep the bulbets do not form as rapidly and the original bulbs produce consistently larger flowers for a longer period. This deeper planting often escapes the damage done by moles. The moles do not eat bulbs, but their runs form air pockets, which do destroy the bulbs.

Tulips make a much better showing if planted in separate groups according to color. If a cluster of yellow tulips is already planted near a red cluster a planting of white ones between them will take away any discordant feeling. This also holds with other flowers that clash in color.

It is advisable to have a separate bed for tulips as the foliage must be left on until it dries in the summer. It becomes unsightly and can be covered by a planting of annuals, which make the

Evonie Hopkins Weds Bruce Stratton Oct. 8

Evonie Hopkins and Bruce Stratton were united in marriage October 8 in the study of the Baptist church. The double ring ceremony was performed at eight o'clock in the evening by Rev. Peter Nieuwkoop.

Evonie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hopkins of 19320 Gerald, and Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stratton of 19455 Gerald Avenue.

The bride chose a light blue embossed nylon afternoon gown for her wedding. She wore a small matching hat with veil and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Her only attendant, Daisy-May Stratton, was attired in a frock of pink embossed nylon and wore a matching pink hat. Her bouquet was American Beauty rosebuds.

Mrs. Hopkins wore a black crepe gown and a shoulder corsage of pink camillas.

Mrs. Stratton chose navy blue crepe and wore a corsage of pink camillas.

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Jeston Brewer, 138 E. Main St.

After a short honeymoon to Brooklyn, Mich., the young couple will reside in Northville. Bruce is employed by the Warren Products Co. in Northville.

space attractive through the entire season.

Try a group of bright yellow Darwin tulips around the base of the lamp post or gate entrance, with a planting of gray foliage ground cover. Remember that you can make pictures in your garden as well as on canvas.

U of M Club Plan Party at Botsford

A good old-fashioned Halloween get together for the night of Oct. 26 is being planned for University of Michigan alumni club members and guests. The place selected is the historic structure erected by Henry Ford on the grounds of famous old Botsford Tavern, an exact copy of a New England tavern barn. It was opened to public use only a few days ago and the U of M club is the first to use it for a meeting.

All the good old stunts such as bobbing for apples, pinning the tail on the donkey, etc., are scheduled and members and their guests are advised to wear appropriate clothing and red flannels. The party will start at 8 p.m. and members and alumni are urged to check in with Nancy Wistert or Dorothy Yerkes as soon as possible.

PTA To Hear Rep. Conlin Oct. 28

The October 28th meeting of the PTA will have Rollo G. Conlin, representative from Tipton, Mich., speak at its meeting at the Community center.

Representative Conlin is the author of the Conlin Bill which provides for school revenue from the State sales tax.

DAR Meet Oct. 18

The October meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chap, DAR, will be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Mastick, 2360 Lone Tree road, Milford, at 1 p.m. Monday, Oct. 18. Mrs. Ada Murray will review the book, "Soo Canal," by William Ratigan.

Members are asked to bring clothing for the mountain schools' collection as well as old eyeglasses and frames for the "Eyes for the Needy" project of the organization. Also, any old beads can be used for the work in the Indian schools.

Guests are always welcome, and anyone who needs transportation to this meeting may make Sidney Strong at Plymouth 29W or Mrs. Claude Crusoe at Northville 64.

BROWNIE NEWS

Troop 16—Mrs. Cockin's troop met in the Cockin home on Smock Rd. There we elected a scribe, Barbara Marion, reviewed the flag ceremony and cooked on a handcraft project. A nibble box brought by Barbara Marion was enjoyed.

Troop 19—Mrs. Shafer's third grade troop met Tuesday afternoon in the Presbyterian church. They elected the following officers: President, Pamela Denton; vice president, Diane Haynes; secretary, Sarah Ely; scrapbook chairman, Dorothy Budd, and scribe, Susan Shafer. They made lapel pins out of acorns gathered last week and enjoyed the nibble box brought by Pamela Denton.

Fourth Grade Art Class Has Exhibit

An art program can be much more useful and meaningful to the child and the classroom teacher if it is correlated with the other subjects, according to Stanley Hench, art instructor in the Northville grade school. This can be done in a number of ways: design can help make fractions in arithmetic easier to understand; pictorial maps will make geography more interesting; art and handwriting can go hand in hand through poster-work; stories can be illustrated and come alive for the child.

An example of correlation is pictured above. The children of Miss DeKett's Fourth grade read about a little pygmy boy, Bunga, who lived in Malaya. They read about his way of life, what his village and surroundings were like, what animals lived around them, what tools and weapons his parents used and so on.

Miss DeKett suggested that they make a village out of colored paper, and the children were very enthusiastic about the plan. The art teacher offered some ideas and the children developed some of their own ideas. The result was the village, but the real end-product was the children learning. There is no doubt that the children were learning because they applied it in a creative way to their village, and they were not even conscious of learning as such. They were simply having fun.

Detroit Woman To Address Woman's Club

Mrs. Dudley Newton, well-known Detroit book reviewer, will speak at the library Friday afternoon to members of the Northville Woman's club. She will speak on Christmas books for small children, including the very newest books with old favorites.

Mrs. Newton, who began book reviewing in the depression years with a column in the Detroit News and a radio program later, now compiles the Christmas book list for the Detroit News and the Free Press.

She receives advance books from 60 publishing houses and has picked a representative lot to bring with her tomorrow. She will concentrate on books for small children but has some selections for jean-agers.

Presbyterian News

Northville women who attended the Presbytery meeting at the Covenant Presbyterian church last week, East Grand Blvd., Detroit, were Mrs. Lee Shipley, Mrs. A. W. Parmenter, Mrs. George Stanford, Mrs. Robert Orlick, Mrs. R. G. Nelson, Mrs. George Ramshaw, Mrs. Dick Groenberg, Mrs. Charles Conklin, Mrs. Glenn Cummings and Mrs. Howard Meyer. Felicia Sunderlai from India spoke on marriage customs and religious and political influences in their daily lives.

BUNGA IN MALAYA is the theme of a project undertaken by the fourth grade art class at the Northville elementary school, under the direction of Art Instructor Stanley Hench. Bunga is a pygmy Malayan boy, and members of the class have constructed an exhibit depicting his village. Two of the children, Lynn Johnson, 8, and Marshall Clarke, 9, are shown with their teacher, Miss Margaret DeKett.

CUB SCOUTS of Northville gathered at the VFW hall on Plymouth Ave. last week for their first meeting of the season. Many mothers and fathers also attended the gathering. Shown administering the oath is Cubmaster Oren Schneider as the scouts form the traditional three circles.

Somebody Goofed! But Mustangs Whip Clarenceville, 25-13

Meyer Is Star In Tough Game; Centerline Next

Those little Red Devils from Clarenceville nearly played Northville's Mustangs off their mental and physical feet Friday night, but their opening bit of devilment only served to arouse the ire of Co-Capt. Joe Girardin and his teammates. Despite numerous heart-breaking penalties and some rough going, the Mustangs finally emerged victorious, 25 to 13.

Clad in their bright scarlet uniforms, the Clarencevilles took the field—horns and all—to receive the kickoff. All of the red uniforms converged on the receiver on the 15 yard stripe, milled around a bit, and then scattered—like the horseman who rode off in all directions.

The befuddled Mustangs finally took after one apparently resolute young devil, Quarterback Glen Reed, who seemed intent on reaching the north goal line, but they were a little late. In the end zone he raised up an oval object as if to ask: "This is what you're looking for, boys?"

That 85 yard run fired the Mustangs up enough for them to smash right back after Northville blocked a punt on the Clarenceville 35 and downed it on the 7. With Girardin and Fullback Bud Lovett doing most of the ball carrying, on fourth down Lovett crashed over from the one yard line to tie the score. The try for the extra point was wide.

The Mustangs did it again in the second quarter, due to some brilliant running by Larry Meyer, and some excellent quarterbacking and a 24 yard pass by Bud Bell. Girardin fumbled two or three times when his arm was thrashed, but in spite of this, the Mustangs managed to get down to the one yard line again, and Girardin scored.

Schultz' kick hit the goal post, and the Mustangs led, 12 to 6. A few minutes later, however, Bell pitched out to Girardin, who fumbled again when the ball bounced on the ground, and Clarenceville recovered on the 30.

It took only five plays to reach the two yard line, from where Glenn Reed crashed over for the tying touchdown. Reed's kick was good, and the visitors led at halftime 13 to 12.

The Mustangs still were mad when they received the second half kickoff—so mad they started the third quarter with only ten men on the field—until Coach Dick Kay saw Virgil Houtz watching from the bench and hustled him into the game.

Then Larry Meyer took command, with such effect he totalled

HE DIDN'T FUMBLE this time. Co-Capt. Joe Girardin, ace halfback of the Northville High School Mustangs, bobbled the ball three times at crucial moments of the Clarenceville game. This time, however, he hung onto the pigskin with commendable tenacity as he plunged through the Red Devil line for a 15-yard gain.

104 yards rushing during the game. When Girardin and Lovett were stymied by the red line, Meyer took the ball from Girardin on a reverse and scooted around left end for 23 yards.

But somebody goofed. The umpire detected pushing, and nullified the gain, adding a 15 yard penalty.

A few minutes later, Northville had another drive going, and Meyer repeated on his reverse, gaining 27 yards.

Again somebody goofed, and the Mustangs were set back another 15 yards. Meyer tried it again, whirled 34 yards, and you guessed it—somebody did it again. The referee paced off another 15 yards as the quarter ended.

But the Mustangs were not to be denied the next time they tried to reach the Clarenceville goal. Girardin smashed for eight. Lovett tore around right end for 6; Girardin smashed through tackle for 5; Meyer got 11. Bell took the ball to the two, and then Lovett crashed over to make the score 18 to 13.

Schultz's kick was good, but the Mustangs were still befuddled, and a 12th man running on the field nullified the extra point.

Clarenceville surged back with a long series of drives, but was unable to cash in on any of them.

With two minutes to go, Meyer pulled his pet reverse, and this time it was the little red devils who were befuddled. Meyer swung wide to the left while Girardin and Lovett headed right, and before the visitors could locate the ball, the speedy halfback was cutting down the sidelines, outdistancing all pursuers. The run was good for 45 yards. Schultz's kick was good this time, and the game ended shortly after.

This Friday, Northville plays at Centerline at 8 p.m.

Titans To Battle Villanova Friday

Detroit—Three days of Homecoming festivities will surround the University of Detroit's gridiron battle with Villanova Friday night.

The giant float parade with the Queen and her court and a bonfire will start the activities on Thursday night in the Livernois-Six Mile area of Detroit. More than 35 floats will participate in the 1954 Homecoming celebration.

The Alumni of the University will stage their annual get-together on Friday, after which the highlight of the Homecoming will take place in U. of D. stadium with the Titans playing host to the Villanova Wildcats.

Coach Wally Fromhart's Titans are determined to snap a three game losing streak against the Philadelphia rivals, who hold a wide edge in the all-time series between the two schools. Villanova has won 1333 games and lost six to Detroit with ties, in the series which dates back to 1931.

Last year the Titans whipped the Wildcats in Philly 27-0 and are hoping to repeat the feat this week.

Off Hand - - - And Casual Like

Much has been written and said in the past few years about communists and communism.

From where we sit, communism is a way of life completely foreign to American principles.

How anyone born and raised in the United States—or in any other free nation, for that matter—could espouse communism to any degree is beyond comprehension.

Yet, there are among us several hundred thousand persons who, although citizens of the United States, not only espouse communism, but preach it on occasion, and actually betray our secrets to Russia. How they can do it is beyond us, for if they succeeded in their plan to overthrow the democracies, the alternative would be a dictatorship and simple slavery.

One American has written the following in answer to the question: "Why could you never be a communist?"

"Well, for one thing, my roots are too deep in the American tradition of freedom, of fair play, of compassion for the down-trodden, of the dignity of Man—a tradition whose every tenet the communists scorn.

"For another—I remember well the history of our family, as told by my mother to a wide-eyed lad; tales of forebears whose lives have been intertwined with the carving out of our nation since 1630. Of one who was with Washington at Valley Forge; of another who was scalped by a Huron war party while building a home in the Ohio wilderness; of still another who endured the hardships of the long trek to California in the Seventies.

"I remember well the stories of valiant Americans who worked and bled to make America the great nation it is today; the fiery speeches of Patrick Henry; the statesmanship of Jefferson; the brave deeds of Jackson and Fremont, of Boone and Crockett; of Grant and Deway and Pershing; and the thousands upon thousands of others who contributed so much to the nation.

"I remember the great pride of country and the fierce loyalty which led me to enlist at 16. And I remember vividly the loneliness which assailed me during service on Guam and in Germany, thousands of miles from family and country—a loneliness intensified by the recurring thought that I might never see either again.

"All these things the communists ignore or shut aside. They seek to overthrow a system of government under which America has grown powerful and her citizens happy and prosperous. They would grind underfoot the banners of freedom; and slay the spirit which led Stephen Decatur to say: 'My country: May she always be in the right. But right or wrong, My Country.'

"No, I could never be a communist."

That seems to sum up the feeling that should be—and undoubtedly is—in every loyal American heart.

LAST DIP—Though summer is gone, French starlet Noelle Audier braves chilly weather for her final swim of the year at an outdoor pool in Paris, France. The fact that she is the only person in the place does not deter her, proving she's a brave girl.

TOPPER OF TALL TALES

Tall tales of the outdoors, including the best efforts of Paul Bunyan's followers, are all put to shame by the story of "Hickens Fur Bearing Trout," meager details of which we shall supply here. While Michigan, too, has its own claim to a similar fish known as the Prairie Pike, the Hickens variety is still more fabulous!

Native of Western Park

The Hickens Fur Bearing Trout was first found in Glacier National Park, so the legend tells us, in a body of water known as Iceberg Lake. The water there is so cold that it's beyond the point of freezing. In order to fish it, hikers have to be prepared with a blow-torch and then dropped immediately into the lake. The trout will take only one bait—the "bezel," a very rare specimen found only on Prince Edward Island, living on the hum of the hummingbird! Nature has provided for this trout, trying to survive at extremely low temperatures, by giving it a nice coat of fur. When hooked the trout ruffles the fur to add to its resistance, giving the angler the fight of his life! By laying the fur flat, in a stream-lined position, the trout can swim at supersonic speeds causing so much heat that it will drill holes in the ice. However it can stop instantly by reversing the direction of the fur!

If you haven't heard enough, lend an ear to this: Hickens Fur Bearing Trout are like people in the spring. The young trout's fancy turns to thoughts of love! The smart fishermen carry phonographs, playing love songs to lure the trout to the surface. A quick switch to a Stan Kenton recording at this point will cause the fish to shake themselves to death whereupon they may be picked off the surface of the lake.

Fur Useful

Our reporter continues: The change of temperature from the lake to the atmosphere is so great that the fish explodes, the fur and skin coming off in one perfect piece, leaving the body ready for cooking and eating. This trout, taken from Iceberg Lake, may be put in the refrigerator for two or three months, and no ice is required!

Thereafter cooking in an oven at a temperature of 500 degrees for 6 days will make it fairly palatable. To top it all off the fur makes a fine neck-piece which is said to stimulate circulation to such an extent that it's a sure cure for tonsillitis! Such is the legend of Hickens Fur Bearing trout—a most unusual fish!

Michigan Acts To Halt Caterpillars

Lansing—Forest tent caterpillars—the long, blue crawlers that have been chewing their way across northern Michigan forests during the last few years—are definitely on the decline.

"Some increases have been noted in localized areas," says Richard Fox, conservation department entomologist, "but viewing the picture over-all, the infestation is on the way down."

Fox says the caterpillars have been at epidemic numbers for the last three years. They are always present, but increase and decrease in a general 10-year cycle. In the next year or two, if all goes according to past pattern, the epidemic should be about ended.

Next week, state foresters will start a month-long survey of the problem in the upper and northern lower peninsulas.

They will try to determine the extent of the decline and will look for areas that can expect new local outbreaks next spring.

Square Dancing Class Scheduled

He Asked For It

One night a "sob speaker" with tears streaming down his cheeks and his face distorted with anguish, was telling an audience how his little Sarah Ann went home to the angels with her doggie clasped tightly in her arms.

"Oh Lord," he sobbed, arms raised to heaven in agonizing supplication. "Oh Lord, why couldn't you have taken me instead?"

From the rear of the hall came an eager cry, "It ain't too late, Lord; do it now!"

Here's the Answer

It's Fun To Eat An Apple A Day

Want to eat your "apple a day" in new and different ways? Apples can be served as appetizers, main courses, salads, desserts, candies and in-between-meal snacks.

Roberta Hershey, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State College, advises the time is here to store this fruit which is chuck full of vitamins and minerals. Whether they are canned, frozen or kept in cold storage, your apples will be there throughout the winter to prepare just as you want.

Miss Hershey suggests baking apples to take advantage of the large amount of vitamin C in the peel. Varieties which are excellent for baking are: Jonathan, Stayman, Winesap, and Wolf River. Her baked apple recipe includes a meringue topping.

PARTY BAKED APPLES

- 1/2 cup dark corn sirup
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 4 large baking apples

MERINGUE

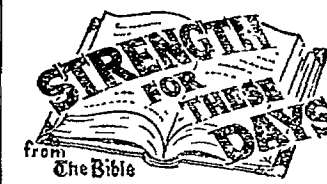

- 1 egg white
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
- Combine first six ingredients and bring to a boil. Remove from heat. Core apples; pare upper half. Place in baking dish. Pour hot sirup mixture over apples. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour or until tender, basting frequently. Remove from oven. Beat egg white until foamy; gradually beat in sugar. Top each apple with meringue, if desired, insert blanched shredded almonds in meringue and dot with chopped, drained maraschino cherries. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes longer.

Apple punch is another way to please family or guests.

- 1 quart apple juice
- 1 cup pineapple juice
- 4 or 5 sprays crushed mint
- juice of 1 lemon
- 1/2 cup sugar

Combine the ingredients; chill thoroughly and serve with ice.

Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. —(Galatians 6, 7.)

Let us rejoice in the positive promise that righteous living and thinking will bring a wondrous reward of day by day happiness here on earth—while knowing well that grief and misery are the sure result—though it may be long in coming—of sinful ways

Wild Life Notes...

Lansing-Winchester dam at the Martiny Lake flooding project east of Big Rapids is scheduled to be completed this fall. Early this week, the state administrative board cleared the project for completion and awarded the $15,000 contract to Northern Builders, a Traverse City firm that submitted the low bid.

The dam will back up water so that 1420 acres in Chippewa River state forest will be flooded. The area will provide food and cover for ducks, muskrats and other wildlife.

To date this year, 932 reported fires have burned about 3600 acres. This total is well below the pace set during the record year of 1951 when an all-time low of only 4491 acres was burned. General rains over the state reduced the fire hazard last week. It was the first perfect week since the fire season started in the spring.

The reports cover all lands in Michigan, public and private, except federal forest acreage.

Michigan's public may gain two fishing and boat-launching sites on the Manistee river upstream from Sharon in Kalkaska county in the near future.

The Consumers Power Co. has agreed to lease the two sites to the conservation department. One provides 130 feet of frontage on the river; the other, about 720 feet.

Only about 17,000 applications for special deer season hunting permits had been received in conservation department headquarters four days before the October 10 deadline.

That total was 64,000 short of the 81,000 permits available.

It is against the law to carry a loaded firearm in a game area within 15 days of the opening of small game season.

It is also illegal to carry a loaded firearm in a vehicle.

Reports were received in conservation department headquarters early this week that 26 persons were apprehended violating those two laws during recent days.

Fourteen persons violated fishing laws and 23 others broke various laws protecting game birds and animals.

Elliott Is Named A&P Manager Here

Appointment of Joseph E. Elliott as manager of its Northville store is announced by A & P Food stores. He succeeds Warren Ottinger who was promoted to the company's Trenton store.

Elliott, assistant manager in a Detroit super market prior to coming here, started with A & P in 1942 as a part-time clerk. In the latter part of that same year, he became a full-time employee.

Since that time, Elliott has been a produce and checker trainer, a sales department representative and a personal interviewer. He also has been produce department head.

Elliott's career with A & P twice was interrupted by military service. He served with the Air Force from 1943 through 1945 in various European sectors. His second stint was from 1951 to 1953 as an Air Force first Lieutenant.

Elliott was born at Van Dyke, Mich. He is married to the former Geraldine Sass of Detroit. They live at present in Detroit, with their three-year-old son, Keith.

Elliott is a member of the Masonic Order's Zion lodge. His hobby is photography.

Hunter's Moon, Meteor Showers Slated for October

ANN ARBOR—The Hunter's Moon, bright competition for the sun, the Milky Way and meteor showers—thus goes the billing of October's astronomical attractions, according to Hazel M. Losh, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

A great boon for hunters because of its plentiful light, the moon reached its full phase on Oct. 11, Prof. Losh says. Popularly called the Hunter's Moon, it strongly resembles September's Harvest Moon.

The sun's competition, she continues, comes from the star Capella, third brightest one visible from the northern latitudes. If the Earth, she explains, were placed between Capella and the Sun, the former would send us as much light as the Sun.

According to Miss Losh, "The early Arabs knew Capella as 'the Driver', referring to its bright appearance in the evening twilight before the other stars, apparently guiding and guarding them in their nightly journeys."

The star, called "The Goat," rises in the northeast at sunset and is followed by the rest of the constellation Auriga, a five-sided figure with Capella at one of its corners. Close and to the right of the goat is a small triangle of three fainter stars, represented on old star maps as the "kids" carried in the goatherd's lap.

while the "Goat" is on his shoulder.

Miss Losh points out that the Milky Way will be an attraction across the sky from the northeast to the southwest, with the Northern Cross almost directly overhead.

Venus also will be in the southwestern sky but several degrees to the left of these two planets. It reached its greatest brilliance on Oct. 11, the professor says. "Mars continues in the southwest sky," she adds, "and Jupiter will be rising in the northeast."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How spiritual understanding of man's scientific unity with God overcomes fear and establishes harmony will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrines of Atonement" includes the following passages from the Bible (Psalms 51:15-17):

"O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it; thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selections will also be read (202:3): "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done."

The Golden Text is from I John (22:1): "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."

Recreation News

Antique and Woodfinishing Class. You can still enroll in the woodfinishing class by coming to the high school shop, located in the basement of the elementary school, next Tuesday night at 7 p.m. Just bring any item of furniture that you would like to refinish and Mr. Renard, the high school shop teacher, will aid you with expert instructions. Antiques are his specialty.

The fee for the course is $10 and this covers the cost of all materials except the item you are working on. This, you must furnish yourself. The course covers a 10 week period.

Recreational Events

This Saturday the youngsters of Northville will have the opportunity to use the spacious gym floor of the Community building. The boys may come in the morning from 9 a.m. to 12 m. and the girls are invited for a period in the afternoon from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Dick Gray is the supervisor with the morning session while Mrs. Robert Quay is in charge of the afternoon girls' group. Basketball, badminton, volleyball, shuffle board, and table tennis will be offered as supervised and free play activities. It is hoped these activities will be well attended so they can be carried on during the winter months.

Future Events

An "adult night" is being planned for the future weeks in the way of recreational activities. We hope to have these on every Thursday night that community building is available.

Arrangements are now being made for swimming groups to use the pool at the Northville Training School.

The Northville Recreation Department is always happy to be of service to those groups or persons desiring recreational aid or help. Just let us know of your problem and we will be glad to help you in any way we can. Phone 687-R.

During the past summer the club helped to sponsor two students to the Michigan State Speech clinic. These two students, Sally Wagenschutz and James Rambeau, will give a report on this clinic at the next meeting.
