Weber Machine Tool Co. Plans Removal To Novi

Northville will lose one of its major industries between now and May 1, 1955.

This was revealed this week when the Weber Machine Tool Co., 455 E. Cady, scheduled a liquidation sale of all its machine tools and equipment, to begin yesterday morning.

Operations of the company in Northville will be moved to a nine-acre plot in Novi, where a modern plant will be erected, according to John A. Weber, owner of the firm.

The company has been in operation here since 1945, employing approximately 90 persons. A Detroit auction firm is handling the liquidation sale.

Expiration of a lease on some of the property now occupied by the firm, prohibitive renewal rates, and a desire for expansion beyond limits possible here, were given as reasons for the removal from Northville. The company owns one building, and leases another adjoining.

Weber said that he regretted leaving Northville, because he liked the community and had been treated well here. However, he added that the price asked for the renewal of his lease is prohibitive, and since his business is expanding, he was left no choice but to seek another location. He already has purchased the Novi site, and plans to move there as soon as possible. Temporarily, the firm is terminating its tool making operations; and the liquidation of its tool equipment will permit the move to be made at less expense. The foundry division, to be located on the Novi property, probably will employ about 125 persons, he said. The company also owns a plant at of his lease is prohibitive, and

Fire Siren To Signal Civil Defense

Demonstration at 7:20 P.M. Monday

Plans have been completed for Northville's civil defense demonstration, to be held Monday evening, October 26, at 7:20 p.m. Oscar Hammond, civil defense director for the Village, announced Wednesday. Red Cross representatives and members of the Northville B & PW club will assist in various aspects of the demonstration.

Observing operations here will be Wyatt Barnes, Wayne county civil defense coordinator, and others from the county staff. Barnes also will give a short talk at the meeting of citizens which will follow the demonstration, as will Charles Carrington, Red Cross Disaster Co-Chairman, and Comm.

John Stubenvoll, acting as mayor in the absence of Claude N. Ely.

Approximately 40 persons gathered at the VFW hall on Plymouth Ave. Monday evening to discuss the plans.

First intimation that Northville is "under attack" will come at 7:20 p.m. when there will be one continuous blast on the fire siren.

The all clear will be sounded ten minutes later with three blasts, after which interested persons are invited to the Community building to see three motion pictures which civil defense authorities say are striking in their realism. The complete program:

7:20 P.M.—Red Alert—Continuous blast of fire siren. (All cars to pull over to the curb and pedestrians to seek shelter until "All Clear" signal.)

7:30 P.M.—All Clear Signal—Three one minute blasts of siren at one minute intervals. Everyone is urged to proceed to Community Building for Civil Defense Rally.

8:00 P.M.—Opening of Civil Defense Rally at Community building by Civil Defense Director Oscar Hammond and introduction of Mayor, followed by:

Remarks of Welcome by Mayor
Showing of the following important Defense and Disaster Films:
"Raped", "When Disaster Strikes" and "The House in the Middle."
Remarks by Wayne County Civil Defense Coordinator Wyatt Barnes.
Remarks by Red Cross Disaster Co-Chairman Charles Carrington.

Present Limits Key To City Incorporation Campaign

3000 Barrels of Oil Sold From Nerreter Wells

Nearly 3,000 barrels of oil were produced and sold from the Nerreter No. 1 well on Chubb Rd. during September, officials of the Edward Torosian & Associates firm reported this week.

The oil was purchased by the Aurora Refinery of Detroit, and payments to those who own interests in the well, including Charles Nerreter, owner of the farm on which the well is located, are scheduled to begin Nov. 10.

No Cause to Worry

Keith Kriser, superintendent of operations, said that necessary papers had been drawn up, and that there was no cause for worry on the part of the farm owner, who was quoted in a Detroit paper as complaining he had not received any revenue.

"This is the second gusher they've brought in on my land," the farmer is quoted as saying. "The first was nearly two months ago. They say it's producing about 35 barrels a day. I've seen them truck some oil away, but I haven't seen any money yet."

Kriser said that arrangements with the refinery naturally took some time, but that they have now been completed, and Nerreter will begin receiving payment shortly.

An offset well, 600 feet north of Nerreter No. 1, also owned by the Torosian firm, brought in last week, now is producing 200 barrels a day through a quarter-inch choke, Kriser reported. Under restrictions imposed by the state conservation department, that is all that can be taken from the well, and not more than 1000 cubic feet of gas to a barrel of oil.

Has Trouble

Due to paraffining trouble, Nerreter No. 1's production has slowed down, but cleanout work is continuing, he said.

Woodson Oil Co.'s Daughter of St. Mary of Providence 1, Northville township, Wayne county, a semi-outpost to the Northville pool, was being drilled 4,140 feet, in the Trenton formation, after a drill-stem test was run for two hours from 3,990-4,140 feet. Well showed gas to the surface in five minutes. Gas was estimated from 70,000 to 80,000 cubic feet a day. Top of Trenton was logged at 3,989 feet. Well was still drilling in dolomite at last report.

Meanwhile, Woodson Oil, high bidder for the Detroit House of correction's acreage spread surrounding this well now completing, was reported to have received the official lease from the Detroit Common Council and company officials were reported to be in conference with DEHOCO Warden working out details for starting a test on this spread. The Pure Oil Co. high bidder on the Wayne County Training school property in this general area, also received the official lease from the governing board of Wayne county, which has jurisdiction over this property.

Le Masters Paid

Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeMaster, who have two producing wells, are the only persons in the area who said they have received money from the sale of oil.

The discovery well, drilled last January, has been producing 200 barrels daily since—the limit allowed.

William Taggart, of Big Rapids, who drilled both LeMaster wells, said the discovery well still is capable of producing more than 200-barrel limit. The second well is producing less than the limit. Neither well requires pumping.

The LeMasters decline to say how much money they are receiving, but a conservative estimate—based on their one-eighth share, at $3 per barrel, plus money from Consumers Power Co. for natural gas from the same wells—places their income at about $100 a day.

LeMasters retired three years ago after working 37 years for Ford Motor Co.

NEW VOTERS and citizens were honored last night in the annual "21ers banquet" held at the Lutheran church. Serving on the committee in charge of the affair: (seated, left to right) Mrs. Samuel Geraci, Mrs. Fred Lyke; (standing) Fred Lyke, F. W. Sterner, and Dr. W. H. Johnston. Two other members, Mrs. William Canfield and Mrs. Alex Lawrence, were absent when the picture was taken.

School Building At Walled Lake To Be Discussed

A bond issue to provide for additional construction in the Walled Lake school district will be discussed at a special meeting of the board of education to be held Monday night, Oct. 25.

At the meeting, the board will make a study of the financial needs of such a program in an effort to decide the size of the proposed bond issue.

Completion of the new high school, now being built, will be discussed by Walter Anicka, of an Ann Arbor architectural firm.

To Train in Texas

All Young men from the Northville area who enlist in the Air Force in future will receive their basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. Detroit recruiting headquarters announced this week.

Legion Names Worthwhile Man On State Group

George R. Simmons of 46320 Ten Mile Rd., has been appointed as a member of the Wolverine Boy's State Committee.

In choosing Simmons—one of 98 Michigan Legionnaires similarly honored—to fill a key position on his "big" team, Com. Kent T. Lundgren stated his choice was based primarily on his outstanding contributions to the community of Northville to which he has dedicated his interests toward sustaining liberty and assuring continuance of the American Way of Life.

"With the Michigan Legion aiming for 100,000 members this year, and campaigning to elect its candidate for national commander—J. Addington Wagner, Battle Creek—in Miami, Florida next October, it was my responsibility to choose the most competent Legionnaires in the state to serve on our 26 top-level committees," said Lundgren.

Livonia Mayor Is Faced With Recall Campaign

A campaign to oust Livonia Mayor Elbert M. Hartom gained impetus Tuesday as opponents stepped up circulation of recall petitions which also named City Atty. Russell C. Ashmore.

Ten counts of alleged malfeasance and misfeasance in office, and inefficiency were named in the petitions, including a charge that Mayor Hartom has established a private "Gestapo" to keep him informed of various activities and to enforce his decisions.

Squandering of a $480,000 general fund surplus left by the preceding administration emerged as one of the principal accusations. The petitions set forth a claim that Livonia is now "in the red", and that thousands of dollars have been wasted by retention of Atty. Ashmore.

The recall movement was started by Robert L. Greene, a member of the city planning commission, which has been at odds with Hartom since the municipal election last spring.

Hartom recently demanded that the planning group resign because it had concealed the details. He denied many of the allegations made in the recall petition, and that others could be satisfactorily explained.

Presbyterians To Hold Fete Tonight

A banquet commemorating the 125th anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church in Northville will be held at the church this evening.

All the living ministers who have served as pastors of the church will attend. They are Rev. Edward V. Belles (1917-23), Rev. Harold G. Whitfield (1929-36), Rev. J. Leslie French (1944-46), Rev. Harold P. Fredsell (1941-43 and 1947-Sept. '54), and Rev. W. P. Lemon (Interim Minister at present).

The pastors have all indicated their pleasure in being part of this significant event as well as their keen anticipation of meeting friends of other years who worked with them in carrying forward the programs of this church in this community.

The Rev. Henry J. Walsh, of the Presbyterian church in Plymouth, will be toastmaster, and Rev. Whitfield will present the principal address of the evening.

The general public is invited to participate.

Invitation Is Extended To Adjacent Areas For Inclusion In Proposal

Unless outlying areas specifically request incorporation into the proposed City of Northville, boundaries will be those of the present Village, it was decided at the first public meeting of the City Incorporation committee Monday evening.

Besides committee members, only four citizens appeared at the meeting, which was held in the High school. Two of these were opposed to any attempt to include their property, while two others appeared to be "on the fence", though willing to consider any possible benefits they might gain from the proposition.

Following the decision, the committee, headed by Lynn D. Sullivan, 405 Eaton Dr., adjourned to the Village Hall, where a report recommending acceptance of the findings was made to the Village council.

Defeat Cited

Factors entering into the decision, committee members told the councilmen, included the experience gained two years ago when the sponsors took in too much territory, the irregular slices of ground, and the opposition to progress of any sort.

"I think we have a mandate from the people on what has happened before," said Cyril Frid, a member of the committee. "Not only did voters in the township vote against the proposition then, but people in the Village as well."

Village Atty. Philip Ogilvie recalled that residents on Gerald Ave., one of the districts included in the area two years ago, apparently were in favor of the incorporation—until election day. Then they voted solidly against it.

Discussion centered on a possible cleanup of the Gerald Ave. area when Dr. V. George Chabot, Village health officer, mentioned that for ten years neither township nor county authorities had done anything to improve conditions.

Don't Want Help

"Those people are living just as they want to live," put in Mayor Claude N. Ely. "They don't want help, and they resent any offered them."

There are approximately 25 families in the 62 acre area. Most of the dwellings were described as "shacks," with no sewer or water facilities.

Sullivan asked if his committee was not discharged, but Mayor Ely gave an emphatic negative.

"Oh, no," he said. "Your committee was appointed to decide on the course to be followed, and we will continue until the issue is brought to a vote of the people next spring."

He outlined continuing efforts of the group as follows: Compiling and providing information to the people on matters affecting city incorporation.

Holding of public meetings, with speakers on both sides given an opportunity to present their opinions.

Door Held Open

It was suggested that the door not be closed for adjacent areas to come into proposed city area if they desired. Another two weeks or so will be allowed, therefore, for requests of this nature.

Comm. Ed Welch said that he would like it on the record that outlying areas could come in as part of the city if they wish. "We owe it to posterity," he declared, "to make this the best city we can. I would feel guilty the rest of my life if we didn't hold forth the benefits of a city to all those around us. I'd hate to look back five, ten or twenty years from now and hear someone say: 'If the commission of 1954 had done better planning, Northville would really be a better city.'"

He said the City of Detroit, although possibly 200 years old, was still being criticized because of mistakes made again and again by early planning groups. The ideal situation, he stated, would be one where the entire township could be incorporated into a city, as Livonia and others have done.

Although agreeing to hold open an invitation to adjacent areas, most of the members of the council and the committee were of the opinion that to extend the proposed limits would jeopardize the success of the incorporation campaign.

"It's not the ideal situation to incorporate only the present limits," observed Ogilvie, "but half a loaf is better than none."

At the close of the discussion, Mayor Ely thanked the committee for its efforts, and promised the full cooperation of the commission in its future activities.

Tax Measure To Be Discussed At PTA Meeting

An amendment to the state constitution designed to benefit the schools will be discussed at a meeting of the Northville Parent-Teachers Assn. at 8 p.m. Oct. 28. The meeting will be held in the new Community Center.

State Rep. Rollo Conlin, of Lenawee county, will be the speaker. He is the author of an amendment which would divert two cents of the three cent sales tax to school funds.

The money would not be divided on a census basis as is now done, but rather on an enrollment basis, and schools would receive funds from the current year's tax collection. This also differs from the present amendment which is based on the previous two years' tax income.

It would also assure a larger amount of money for the Public School Employees Retirement fund.

Arguments against the Conlin proposal are that because of increased school enrollment and more or less stable tax revenue, the amount each school would receive would actually decrease.

It does not satisfy all the problems of the retirement fund program, those who argue against it state, and they also say that there are still large problems of school finance that the bill does not solve.

Parents and educators interested in the Conlin bill are urged to attend the meeting to hear Rep. Conlin discuss his proposal, prior to voting upon it at the November election.

To find it blooming in October was a happy surprise and a bit confusing. No doubt the rosebush was confused too.

1000 YEARS TO LIVE

If we had 1000 years to live, we could be more careless with our time. We could delay the time of getting right with God. But, experience has informed us that none of us have 1000 years to live on this old earth. The Bible compares our short span of life to grass. Psalm 103:15-16 says, "As for man his days are as grass; as the flower of the field, so he flourisheth. For the wind passeth over it and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more." The time of our departure is unknown. It comes to the infant, in youth, the middle of life or in old age. Death often comes suddenly, and some linger for months on beds of sickness. In view of the fact that we do not have 1000 years to live, it is a point of wisdom to prepare now. Do not delay to make things right with God. Hell is full of people that someday expected to be a Christian but they delayed too long. Will you not come to God's terms even now as you read this message? He is willing to save you and make you a new creature if you will receive Jesus Christ as your Lord and Saviour.

The Basic Idea Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

ABOUT 30 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

No Chamber of Commerce?

Visitors to Northville, particularly those in the various business fields, frequently comment unfavorably upon the fact that the Village has no Chamber of Commerce.

"How can you expect your community to grow and attract new businesses and trade if there is no one to look after the interests of the area?" they ask.

It's a good question and one that progressive citizens should ponder.

Of course there are those who do not care whether Northville progresses or not, and there are others who would rather it did not. But most of these have businesses elsewhere. Those who earn their living in the community naturally favor progress—more growth in home building, more local business.

At present, there is no central office where visitors may inquire about housing, possible store locations, whether water and land is available for factory or plant, and the thousand and one questions with which a Chamber of Commerce usually deals. And there is no one whose duty it is to seek possible tenants for vacant stores, or to prepare and publish brochures and other literature describing the area both as to its residential possibilities and its business advantages.

Northville shortly will lose one of its precious few industries, the Weber Tool Machine Co., which is moving to Novi because it has no room to grow here.

A growing industry is a boon to most communities, and usually is eagerly sought. An alert Chamber of Commerce might have been able to keep the Weber Co. here.

Even little Novi has its Board of Commerce. So has Walled Lake. The matter has been discussed here previously, but thus far no action has been taken. As it is, Northville visitors cannot even buy a postcard showing Northville scenes to send to their friends.

Leadership Needs Cooperation

In all of the varied history of this nation, no one man has ever run its affairs singlehanded. Americans, who traditionally abhor totalitarianism have never countenanced anything approaching dictatorship. We hope they never will.

As the chief executive officer, the President wields great power, of course. However, the success of his administration, in terms of public welfare, depends far more upon the cooperation his leadership receives than upon his power alone.

No one man dominates the Congress. Not even the most influential senator or representative runs the country.

Consequently, Americans enjoy the best and most useful government when the President, sensible and well-advised, applies sound thinking toward constructive leadership, and when a cooperative—though not subservient—congress, gives support to his program.

How can this nation assure itself of such a government?

Primarily, by electing to the senate and house of representatives those who will not tie the President's hands—as did the bitterly partisan 72nd congress in 1931-32. Then, congressional leaders stubbornly refused to support the urgent measures proposed by the President, even though they knew more and more people would suffer in the deepening depression. The 73rd congress hastily passed some of the very measures recommended, but the delay was costly.

Now, in another situation, the country can ill afford an obstructionist congress whose members may think first of party, and second the welfare of the nation.

Will or will not the one you vote for in November support President Eisenhower's administration when the show-downs come in the next two years?

Eisenhower has justified the hope that his course would follow basic American principles. He believes that government should do for the people the necessary things they cannot do for themselves; beyond that, that it should not undertake what the people can accomplish for themselves.

His hands will be strengthened, and the nation benefited if he is provided with a constructive instead of an obstructionist congress.

Grass Roots Opinion

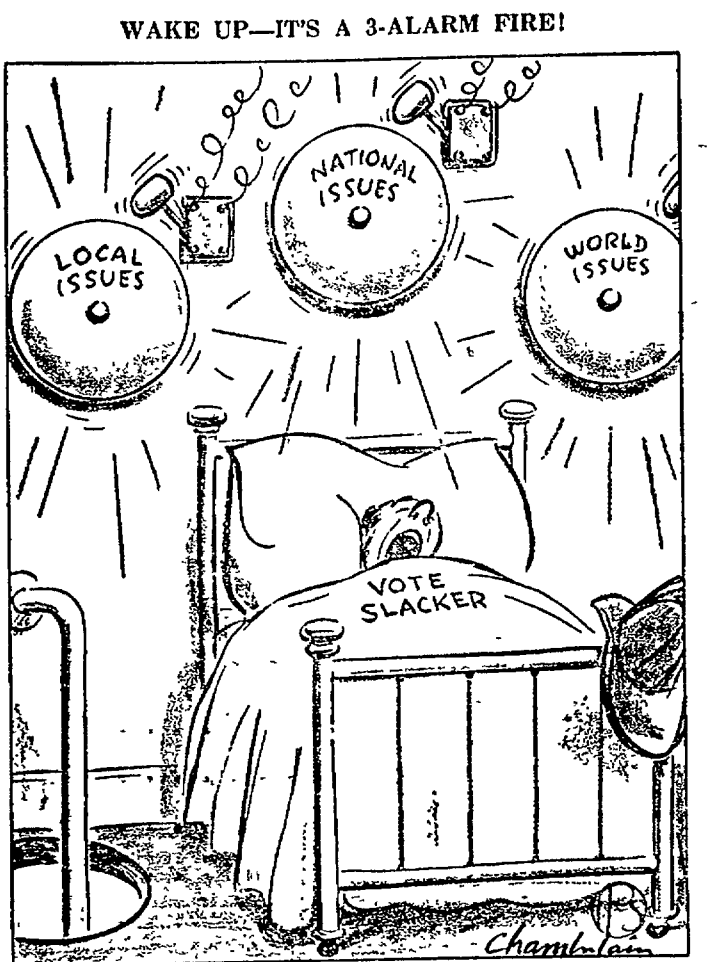

Democrats now would have us believe that they want to get Communists out of government. We are not inclined to forget that the FBI warned the New Deal of Communist infiltration. On Nathan G. Silverman the FBI issued 28 reports; on Irving Kaplan, 24 reports; on Jacob Adler, 21 reports; on Harold Glasser, 18 reports; on V. Frank Coe, 13 reports; on Victor Perlo, 10 reports; on William Ullman, eight reports; and on Harry Dexter White, seven reports. That totals 129 reports on which the New Deal and Fair Deal Democrats took absolutely no action. Which party wants to rid the government of Communism?

Every man has his price, every woman her figure—it's only time that makes it problematical.

Many women suffer discomforts because they buy shoes to fit the occasion, rather than the feet.

People who try to keep up with the Joneses should first find out which direction they are going.

It is fine to think you are usually right, as long as you can keep it a secret.

Religion often suffers as much from the actions of those on the inside as from on the outside.

Most people go along with the crowd, lending support to the theory that man is merely a higher form of animal life.

While we have no objection to this year's Oscar awards, we nevertheless think the best performance rarely wins.

The GREEN THUMB

by Paul Newton

Moles have been blamed for the loss of many of our best bulbs, and I still blame them for 75 per cent of the destruction, but field mice account for the remaining 25%.

The moles, in search for food which consists of grubs and beetles, make the tunnels in the lawn. The mice use these tunnels in search for their food of tender roots, bulbs and tubers.

Cut Food Supply

To get at the crux of the trouble the extermination of the grubs and beetles which attract the moles might be the answer. Chlordane, lead arsenate and DDT will control grub population although chlordane will also kill earthworms which are considered beneficial in aerating the soil. Chlordane is applied as a 5 per cent dust at the rate of 5 pounds per 1000 sq. ft. Chlordane also comes in a wettable powder, and an emulsion. The 50 per cent wettable powder may be used at the rate of one half pound in 25 gallons of water for each 1000 sq. ft.

If DDT is used, a 10 per cent dust at the rate of 6 pounds to 1000 sq. ft. has been effective. Lead arsenate should be used at the standard rate of 10 pounds to 1000 sq. ft. of lawn.

Traps

These insecticides should be timed so their application precedes a rain, or is hosed in well after it is applied. This removes the danger of children or pets being poisoned. Cutting down on these insects and grubs, which are the main source of food of the moles will cause them to go to your neighbors' lawn in search for food. An insidious way to get even with the neighbors. Lawn in search for food. An insidious way to get even with the neighbors.

Mrs. Joseph Gill Entertained by Mother's Club

Our Lady of Victory Mother's club held the October meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Gill on Haggerty. Refreshments were served by eighth grade room mothers. Mrs. William Madigan, chairman of the committee appointed to purchase playground equipment, reported their purchase of a merry-go-round and slide which has been installed.

The Mother's club would like to thank everyone who helped make this possible.

To Protect Children and Pets

We have caught only three moles with traps during the summer. However, others have been more successful with this method. The important thing is to set the trap over the main burrow which is traveled daily. To locate this, all mole ridges should be lightly tamped down in the morning. Then later in the day the moles will raise some of the tunnels and the traps can be placed over this run. Before placing the trap, tramp.

Poison Bait

Poison peanuts, purchased at your nearest nursery, have been most effective in control of both moles and mice. With a sharp bladed knife a small opening is made at three foot intervals in the runs. Into each opening about 3 poison peanuts are dropped and the earth lightly replaced. Avoid touching the earth as the mole senses any tampering with the run.

Any methods or suggestions which have been successful for you in dealing with moles would be greatly appreciated and will be printed in this column.

P. S. Mrs. Alice Burlingame, who spoke to the Garden Club last week, told us that her neighbor always cuts the foliage off the tulips two weeks after they finish blooming. To recompense for this loss of food value stored in the leaves, she gives the tulip bed an extra heavy feeding of milorganite.

Garden Club Meets at Beck Road Home

The Northville Branch of the National Farm and Garden Assn. met at the R. D. Merriman home of Beck Rd. last week. Mrs. Alice Wessel Burlingame of the J. L. Hudson Co. Speakers bureau was the speaker. One of her topics was the interesting and constructive work being done in horticultural therapy timely for the fall season, was the potting of house plants.

Mrs. Merriman's home was attractively decorated with fall flowers. Assisting her at the table were Mrs. Orson Atchinson, Mrs. John Haller, Mrs. R. J. Castlerline, Mrs. Schultz, and Mrs. M. L. Hoystradt.

The Northville Mother's club entertained the High school and Grade school teachers and their wives and husbands at a dinner in the Community building last week. Over 75 guests and members of the Mother's club were served a delicious spaghetti dinner which was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Rano Papini. Following dinner, games were played and the evening was spent in getting acquainted.

Contributions to "Hole In The Head"—original four-line verse, a sample of which can be found in the upper left-hand corner of this page—are beginning to come in from budding Northville poets.

One of the contributions caused Ye Ed's face to redden noticeably when, after urging readers thusly: "You can do better than that—write a four-line verse" (which the printer made "vise" and the proofreader didn't catch) the following was received:

I CAN DO as well
Wherever newsprint's to be found
Typographical errors abound;
And though I can't write a 'vise',
In spelling I don't do much 'worse'.

—A. Anonymous.
The printer has been admonished, and the proofreader made to stand in a corner for ten minutes.

However, Ye Ed is undismayed. Contributions still are solicited, but please attach at least your initials.

Address "Hole In The Head" editor, The Northville Record.

Mrs. Hugh Godfrey and Mrs. William Weidner were co-chairman of the hostesses.

Oakman Outlines His Accomplishments

It was due in some degree to the untiring efforts of Rep. Chas. G. Oakman that the St. Lawrence Seaway bill, which had been gathering dust in Congress for 50 years, was finally passed this year.

Rep. Oakman, running for re-election in Michigan's 17th Congressional District, was in Northville Monday in the interests of his candidacy.

"No member of the House of Representatives did more to aid the passage of the St. Lawrence Seaway bill than Congressman Oakman," said House Majority Leader Charles A. Halleck.

The Seaway legislation is but one of many efforts promoted by Rep. Oakman.

In the 83rd Congress, he introduced legislation designed to afford special tax relief for home owners. The House Ways and Means Committee has already held hearings on this bill, which would permit depreciation of owner-occupied homes for income tax purposes.

Other important legislation introduced by Rep. Oakman has included special efforts for repeal of Federal excise taxes, highway improvement and family budgets.

For car buyers, he presented legislation to repeal excise taxes on automobiles, trucks, tires and parts.

Two highway bills call for increased Federal highway aid to states for highway improvement and development and Federal funds on a matching basis for elimination of railway-highway crossings in urban areas.

To protect family budgets, Rep. Oakman introduced one bill amendment and fought another.

He proposed amending the National Gas Act to establish a rule for the valuation of gas reserves for the purpose of rate-making. The measure is designed specifically to aid home owners as well as those who rent apartments, flats or houses and must pay for their own utilities.

In effect, Rep. Oakman's amendment would protect families against windfalls to natural gas pipeline companies.

The local Congressman successfully fought a proposed amendment to the Federal Milk Marketing Order, that would have washed out the remaining small dairies and increased the price of milk to its biggest purchaser—the housewife.

Martha Griffiths Speaker At Rotary Meeting

Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, candidate for the U. S. House of Representatives, spoke to the Rotary club at its regular luncheon meeting on Tuesday.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Fred Van Atta, Mrs. R. H. Johnson and Mrs. John Litsenberger were co-hostesses at a get-acquainted gathering at the home of Mrs. Van Atta.

Mrs. Griffiths, a former state representative, told Rotarians she favored greater aid to farmers because the last depression showed that when the farmers suffer, the nation's economy does also.

She also said she favored greater use of television and radio in bringing congressional activities to the people, on the theory that the people have a right to know what their representatives do, and are now denied that right to a great extent.

On the question of party line followers, she declared she would definitely not be an obstructionist, but would judge and vote on the issues presented by the Eisenhower administration on their merits.

As for taxes, she said she believed that tax relief benefits should be passed down to the lower income brackets. Those who clip coupons, she intimated, are not affected by high taxes, whereas those who have a portion of their low incomes taken away are deprived of "bread and-butter" money.

She was introduced by Program Chairman Cyril Frid. The speaker next week will be Rep. Charles Oakman, whom Mrs. Griffiths is opposing.

Walled Lake "11" To Select Queen

Walled Lake High school's "Homecoming Queen" will be chosen by members of the Viking squad this week.

However, the selection will be kept secret until Friday night, when it will be announced between halves of the Homecoming game.

Qualifications include: Scholarship, leadership, cooperativeness, democratic behavior, and friendliness.

Farewell Party

Thirty neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lyke of 51000 W. 8 Mile Rd. gave them a surprise-farewell party Saturday evening and presented them with a combination sandwich and waffle iron. The Lykes are moving to South Lyon. Cards were the diversion of the evening.

Novi 4-H Club

The Novi 4-H club met Oct. 12 at Mrs. James Wimmers. The following officers were elected: president, Marilyn Sharpe; vice president, Rosemarie Willis; secretary, Sue Tobin; treasurer, Janet Stephens; reporter, Marilyn Sharp; recreation chairman, Brenda Wortman; Health and Safety, Sue Tobin and Janet Stephens.

At this meeting, it was voted to buy a new slant needle sewing machine. Also, projects were chosen for the coming year. A hayride is planned for Oct. 26 and all members are to meet at Mrs. Wimmer's at 6:30.

1:30 o'clock. All adults affiliated with Scouting are invited with their families and all Girl Scouts and Brownies and their families are also invited to attend.

U. M. Club Changes Party Meeting Place

The U of M Club's old fashioned Halloween party planned for the Botsford barn on Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, has had a change of scene, the entertainment committee announced. The same idea, same actors, same date and time, 8 p. m. but it will be held at the home of Alvin and Nancy Wistert, 10250 West Seven Mile Rd.

Motion pictures will be shown, some of them possibly of U of M origin. Proposed plans for the balance of the club year will be discussed and approved. Hospitality, games, cider and doughnuts are on the agenda for the evening, for which there will be no charge.

Please check in by phone with Nancy Wistert, Northville 373 XW.

French Seeks Post Of County Coroner

Dr. Albert French, for many years Chief Medical Examiner for Wayne County, is Republican candidate for County Coroner this year.

Dr. French previously served five terms in this office.

He is widely known as a medical-judiciary expert, and he has testified in major courts throughout the country on medical evidence. This evidence has never been refused or reversed by a higher court.

Band to March

Because of the unpredictable weather we have had this fall the band has been unable to march at two of the games. They are planning two bang up half time shows for the Holly and Brighton games, the latter being homecoming.

So far this year the band has made trips to the Michigan Band Day and the Wayne County Training School where they have performed. Mr. Williams has organized a pep band, which plays at the pep assemblies, and an orchestra that is available for dances. The band plans to give this winter many concerts that we hope the people will enjoy.

Our children are sharing their Halloween of the world by sending their coins to NICEF please co-operate with children by having plenty of small change ready for them. They will call at your door on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 30.

The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Lloyd H. Green Unit No. 147, will be held at the Veterans Memorial Building Oct. 26, at 8 p.m., at which time plans will be made for the Armistice Day Service Baskets, to be given to the veterans at Marbury and Eastlaw Sans.

Due to the generosity of the people of Northville, and the Auxiliary members, the Lloyd H. Green unit had a very successful bake sale, at Freydl's store Oct. 15.

The unit members are looking forward with anticipation to Halloween, when they expect to enjoy a Halloween party with the American Legion post.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

Ever heard the expression, "We eat with our eyes?" It is true that fruits and vegetables, bright with their own natural color, are much more appetizing and more likely to be eaten in larger amounts than drab looking foods. Not only are colorful foods more likely to be eaten, but they are more nutritious, too.

For example, the yellow color found in carrots is called carotene. From it our bodies produce vitamin A. So if we destroy carotene we lose a valuable source of that important vitamin. Fortunately carotene is not lost into the water when we cook vegetables nor is it affected by acids or alkalies.

Green vegetables are the ones that give us the most trouble. Often green beans, asparagus, broccoli and many other vegetables containing the green coloring, chlorophyll, turn a drab olive-green color when cooked. This happens because acids are present. Most of the time these vegetables are cooked without adding any acid to the water. Then what causes it?

When overcooking green vegetables, the acids in the food itself react with the chlorophyll to give off the color, more mature vegetables, we are tempted to overcook them to get them tender. To remedy this, try removing the cover of the pan during the early part of the cooking period to let some of the first steam escape, but the best way to keep an appetizing green color is to choose young, fresh vegetables and cook them only until just tender.

Fall weather and leather coats and jackets seem to go hand in hand. Besides being fashionable, leather clothing is warm and comfortable on brisk autumn days. There are many things to look for when buying these leather pieces.

Pastic imitations may cost less, but genuine leather is more comfortable and durable, especially for active people and children. In real leathers, air will circulate, allowing perspiration to evaporate. Imitation leathers will not do this. Look for good garment construction when you buy. Be sure it has a full, generous cut and nearly finished buttonholes. The seams should be sturdy with even, close stitching using heavy thread. Check the underarms and other hidden places to be sure a good quality leather has been used.

Along with good construction in jackets go well shape collars, cuffs, and pockets. It is wise, too, to inspect the lining to see that it is high quality. The kind of leather you choose for your coat or jacket will be determined by its use. For hard wear select a smooth leather such as caeskin, goatskin, or cowhide. Suede leathers, made mostly of sheep and lambskin, are for luxury or dress wear. After buying a good leather garment, give it proper care to keep it good.

Never let the leather get too dirty. Send it to a dry cleaner who is especially equipped to clean it. If your garment should get wet, stuff it with tissue paper and dry it away from the heat.

SCENE STEALER

Sure to steal the scene wherever she goes, this striking young lady wears cotton "pair offs" designed by Stephanie Koret of California. The slim, tapered pants, called "wallpaper pants," and the matching scarf are made of Everglaze taffeta cotton in a gay print. The boned corset is designed in solid cotton.

A PERSONAL MESSAGE

From

CONGRESSMAN OAKMAN

CHARLES G. OAKMAN
17TH DISTRICT
MICHIGAN

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

To the People of the 17th District:
During my first term in Congress, I have had the unique experience of serving on two very important Committees of the House of Representatives - Banking and Currency and Public Works.

The House Public Works Subcommittee on Roads drafts the legislation dealing with all phases of the federal highway program. In view of the President's "grand plan" for a $100 billion highway building program during the next ten years, this assignment now looks as one of the most important jobs in the 84th Congress, (the Congress 1955 will elect on November 2nd). The legislation when enacted will provide five million Americans with jobs for ten years.

Also, as a Member of the House Public Works Subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors, I hope to be able to assist in getting favorable action on the legislation to provide for the deepening of the connecting channels of the Great Lakes in the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, St. Clair River and the St. Mary's River. This legislation is necessary if we are going to get the larger ships that will use the new Waterway, which the 83rd Congress authorized, from Montreal to the mouth of the Detroit River.

In my first term in the Congress, the St. Lawrence Seaway became a reality. In my second term, I hope and believe we can get the legislation to provide for these vitally needed connecting channels.

Regardless of the results of the general election to be held in every one of the 48 states this November 2, President Eisenhower's Administration will continue in office for another two years. The President would have little chance of carrying forward his program - which is the program of the people who elected him - without a Republican majority in both the House and the Senate.

With confidence in your judgment, with pride in the accomplishments of our President and the 83rd Congress, and with great faith in even greater strides forward in the future, I seek your endorsement at the polls on Tuesday, November 2nd.

Sincerely,

Charles G. Oakman
UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVE

Wild Life Notes...

LANSING—Hunters are urged to check limitations placed on game that can be imported into the United States from Canada and Mexico before hunting in those countries this fall.

Ten ducks, five geese, eight woodchuck and eight jacksnipe are included on the list of birds that may be imported by any one person during one calendar week.

An estimated 2000-2500 Canada geese have been counted in the Allegan-Fennville area.

The big honkers arrived late last week and 324 hunters bagged 40 at the Swan Creek High Banks during the weekend.

At Fennville, during the weekend, 37 were taken.

Until mid-week, only a handful of geese were seen in the area. Then large flights arrived on four successive days to get the 1954 season well under way.

Elsewhere during the first full week of the small game and waterfowl seasons hunting continued generally only so-so. Weather was clear and cold over much of the upper peninsula in the late days of the week, but hunting activity was only moderate.

Three reported fires burned about five acres of Michigan forests and grasslands last week.

Seven top speakers in the field of fisheries research and natural resources are lecturing in a University of Michigan extension course at Washington high school in Pontiac this fall.

Dr. S. W. Allen professor emeritus of the school of natural resources, leads the group, which includes speakers from the conservation department's Institute for Fisheries Research, the University's School of Natural Resources, and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

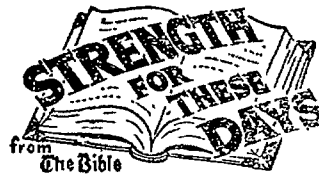

It has been a long hard spring, summer and fall for Smokey Bear and it seems the only rest he gets is in the hospital.

Poor Smokey! The five-foot mechanical bear wears himself out nearly every year in the cause of forest fire prevention. At present, he is recuperating in the conservation department's forest fire experiment station at Roscommon. All appointments to meet with school children and other groups have been cancelled until Smokey returns to normal.

Conservation workers say Smokey should be back on his

Dormer Windows Make Attic Usable

Extra living space for a growing family can be obtained by adding a pair of dormer windows to an expansion attic. Dormers increase the headroom and usable floor space in the attic, and they provide the light and cross-ventilation needed to make the space pleasantly livable. Ponderosa pine windows are recommended because they can be painted or stained to fit the present color scheme of the house. For ease of installation, wood windows are made as units, with sash and frame combined and factory-weatherstripped.

One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.—(Ephesians 4, 6.)

Whatever be our individual concept of God, the Bible's statement that He is within each one of us when we, through cleansing ourselves of sin, open the doors of our souls, is a blessed assurance in the knowledge of His presence within us, peace, and strength.

Everybody Goofed! Centerline Wallops Mustangs, 26-0

Clarkston "11" Seeks Victory Over Northville

"There'll be some changes made."

That was the tune Coach Dick Kay was humming this week as he ran the Northville High school Mustangs through their plays in an effort to sharpen them for an expected Clarkston onslaught tomorrow night.

Coach Kay, together with Asst. Coaches Ron Schipper and Stan Johnston, was grimaced after seeing the Mustangs do everything wrong in the 26 to 0 debacle at Centerline last Friday night.

Although Centerline is unbeaten, the Northville coaches had expected that the Mustangs would kick up their heels at least a little bit. As it was, the Northville line was as fluid as the rain that beat down on the gridiron all through the game, and Northville's best backs pro-ed somewhat backward whenever they tried to advance the ball.

No Go

Co-Capt. Joe Girardin, who usually can be counted upon to gain yardage whenever he has the ball and can hang on to it, wound up with a minus 15 yards. None of the other backfield men could do much better, and Northville came out of the game with the dubious distinction of a net gain of just three—count 'em, three—total yards.

"We did everything wrong," said Coach Kay. "The line played just like Michigan's did against Army and Northwestern. No charge. No get-up-and-go."

The other coaches agreed that the Mustangs' get-up-and-go had "got-up-and-went."

"They'd better get back to playing football," said Kay grimly, "or we'll sure enough have some changes."

He said the team already was "pretty sore" at themselves, and might snap back into the smooth working unit it was in other games.

"Clarkston will be a tough test," he declared. "They've scouted us every game—even in the downpour at Centerline. They want to beat us pretty badly."

Out of Element

Northville was really out of its element at Centerline. A 15 yard penalty on the kickoff set Northville back on its heels, and on the next try, Moore returned the ball to the visitors' 33 yard line. Centerline picked up 12 yards on three plays, and then Moore scampered 21 yards for the first touchdown.

Three tries at the line following the kickoff netted nothing, and Bell's kick was blocked. Centerline recovered on the 49. A drive highlighted by a 17 yard run saw Moore again going over from the one.

Another punt was blocked before the half but Bell recovered, and Northville managed to escape further humiliation.

Moore took the second half kickoff back to the Northville 11 yard line, however, and on the next play skirted end for the third score. Larry Meyer, who had sparked against Clarenceville the week before, skipped through the rain for 20 yards, but Girardin lost ten on three tries, then recovered his own fumble, and Bell had to punt.

A few minutes later Moore ripped through the Mustangs, and raced 60 yards to the one yard stripe. Vettraint plowed over for the final touchdown.

KILLED ON TRAIN

NEW YORK — Robert McDonough, 12, and his brother, John, 13, were en route to Coney Island via the subway. Robert stood on the seat and put his head out of the window as the train crossed the Manhattan Bridge. His head struck a girder and he slumped back into the seat in front of his brother. An ambulance was called, but at the next station, but Robert was dead by the time he reached a hospital.

On The Sidelines

By John Stone

Northville's Mustangs have rarely played in worse weather than they have in two of their games this season.

Three weeks ago at Milford a storm drenched the gridiron just before the kick off, and left pools of mud and water through which the Mustangs sloshed to a 9 to 6 victory.

Last Friday they journeyed to Centerline, north of Detroit, a trip they'd like to forget. A steady rain beat down throughout the contest—or rather, no-contest—dampening the team's spirits so that it dropped to a 26 to 0 decision.

The Mustangs are hoping for better weather tomorrow at Clarkston. They'll need it, for Clarkston, say our scouts, are looking for Mustang meat.

'M' Needs Something, Too...

Michigan's Wolverines will face those bad, bold Gophers from Minnesota Saturday. Barring an upset, the unbeaten Gophers should again take home the Little Brown Jug, symbol of gridiron supremacy which was Michigan's until last year when, boasting an identical 4 to 0 record, the Wolverines were whipped, 22 to 0.

Time was when, year after year, Minnesota had the brawn, and rolled up the most yardage, only to be outscored by the Wolverines.

Coach Bennie Oosterbann undoubtedly will remember another game when Minnesota was touted as being allconquering and faced Friedman, Oosterbann and Co. at Minneapolis. Late in the game, at the next station, but Robert was dead by the time he reached a hospital.

The story goes—we don't vouch for it—that as Oosterbann left the field an irated Minnesota Coed stepped up and slapped his face! Michigan this year has shown little of the one time might that made it "Champions of the West." Its game with Washington was a lackluster affair. Against Army, which it was supposed to defeat, it had no punt, no pass, and no prayer.

True, the Michigan line had moments of greatness in knocking Iowa from the undefeated ranks, 14 to 13, but against Northwestern last week it was outplayed by a wide margin, yielding some 260 yards which Michigan could gain only 63.

Only the fact that a lucky fumble—one of many the Wildcats made—was turned into a score, enabled the Wolverines to keep from being snowed under. The Wildcats had no less than five scoring opportunities, and muffed every one.

Of course Michigan always plays its best against Minnesota and Ohio State. But it will have to be good if the Little Brown Jug is to remain in Ann Arbor.

Pooh! Pooh! Purdue!

Michigan State's heartbreaking loss to Notre Dame by one point, 20 to 19, once again points up the fact that the foot has been virtually taken out of football.

With the goal posts on the end line ten yards back of the goal, high school and college coaches waste little time teaching a player to boot the ball between the uprights for a goal or point after touchdown. Many high school coaches, in fact, rely more on a plunge, end run or a pass to score than they do on a placekick.

And the dropkick is a lost art. The last one in a major game that Michigan rooters remember was a 40-yarder made by Roy Hudson against Wisconsin in a depression-charity game—the first time Hudson had tried one in a game.

Many football fans would like to see the goal posts returned to the goal line to encourage more field goals. To those who watch from the sidelines, there is nothing more beautiful than a high arching kick between the uprights for three points. The professionals solved the injury problem by setting the posts several yards back, with the crossbar offset. Why not the colleges?

NHS Reserves Beat Clarenceville

The Northville Mustang Reserves rolled over the Clarenceville yearlings last Thursday by the score of 20 to 0.

To date, the contest was the best effort for the Colts as they blocked out four of their opponents' punts and threw the passers for a number of losses. The offensive team ran well and the blocking was much improved.

Ben Mosher pushed over the first touchdown from the one on a quarterback sneak with Dave O'Neil adding the extra point. The second score was set up by a blocked punt. Then, O'Neil bowl-eled over from the five as the half ended.

Early in the fourth quarter Bill Yahne scampered into the end zone from the 12 yard line on an end sweep. After adding the extra point the score stood at 20 to 0 with the second team taking over and holding the Clarenceville team scoreless.

Northville Beats Plymouth Golfers

Operating in a heavy dew, a team of Northville golfers "sank" a Plymouth squad during a weekend match at the Meadowbrook Country club.

Because of the heavy mist, at least in the opinion of the rival team, and despite the fact that Northville had to loan the Plymouthites two players to even up the sides, the Northville squad came out on top in total team statistics.

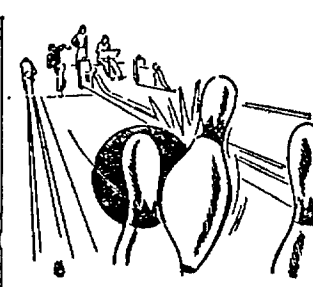

Ralph Lorenz, Plymouth hotel manager, shot a 77 to lead all the participants, but his teammates could not hold their opponents—dew or no dew.

Trash Collection Schedule Is Set

Public works crews will make their trash pickups on the south side of the Village tomorrow, Village authorities said today.

Collections are now made on an every other week basis in the residential district, with Main St. as the dividing line. Residents on the north side will be served next week.

A study is being made of service to be rendered in the business district, now a twice-a-week basis. Extra collections probably will be put on a fee basis, councilmen indicated, the charge to be determined later. Where trash is not bundled, baled or boxed to facilitate handling, an extra charge probably will be made.

Residents are asked to put trash out Thursday nights, since the crews start the pickups early Friday morning.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Alleman

Republicans and democrats both were nervous but determined as they went into the last weeks of the 1954 campaign.

They sent Donald S. Leonard, former state and Detroit police commissioner, out to unseat Gov. Mennen Williams in his try for an unprecedented fourth term in the capitol.

As they went into the final days of the campaign, the issues are these.

Republican
1. Leonard would give Michigan a chief executive of the same political faith as the Republican-controlled legislature and end the "stalemate in Lansing."

2. Democrats are claiming credit for achievements of the Republican legislature, including the Straits of Mackinac bridge, balancing the budget, improving prisons and mental institutions.

Williams is supporting a highway building program long sought by Republicans. The governor wants to name a special commission to spend highway money while Republicans want to turn it over to the highway department.

4. Republicans are answering the state unemployment crisis with greater payments in unemployment compensation, enacted last year by the legislature.

Democrats:

1. Williams stands for building roads now when they are needed and not waiting, as he charges Republicans have, for additional surveys and studies for the needs.

2. Building agriculture by promoting the sale of Michigan-grown products.

3. Williams claims that progress made in his six years in office could not have been possible without a political split between the governor and the legislature. He says he has needed the legislature into action.

4. Williams says the only Republican answer to the "Tighten your belts."

The campaigns of each party will be a fever pitch until Nov. 2 when an anticipated 2,500,000 citizens go to the polls in Michigan.

Experts on the political scene at the moment are predicting everything.

They say that Leonard is the strongest opponent the Republicans have put up against Williams since 1948, that, with his Detroit background, Leonard can split off Democratic urban support.

Others predict a swing toward Williams greater than ever in metropolitan out-state districts; that he might carry in with him some others, including a lieutenant governor and perhaps one or two of the state administrative board.

Republican incumbents on the state level—the attorney general, auditor general, secretary of state and treasurer—are campaigning hard to keep from being unseated by Democrats for the first time since Williams' first term, 1949-50.

Observers are confident that the winner of the gubernatorial race will be far enough ahead to avoid a third consecutive recount.

Best bet: The winner will be ahead by at least 35,000 when all the votes are counted.

At stake in the election is control of top appointive positions in state government.

The Republican Senate refused to act on almost 100 top appointments as a stated policy in the hopes of electing a Republican governor Nov. 2.

"We've saved enough so that the next governor can get control of all the top agencies with his appointments in the first two years," said Senator Edward Hutchinson, of Fennville.

And what if Williams returns for a fourth term?

"We'll probably confirm most of them," said Hutchinson. "He will have deserved it if he wins." Among the agencies the next governor can control by appointment are the Liquor Control Commission, the Public Service Commission, the Social Welfare Commission and others.

"How do you cure your husband from staying late at the club?"

"When he came in late one night, I called out, 'Is that you, Jim?' and my husband's name is Frank."

Campaign trails will criss-cross with both key candidates taking to the air to keep far-distant appointments.

Both parties have completed schedules for all their candidates, with the entire slate getting together at important spots for major platform appearances together.

Senator Ferguson, the Republican incumbent, faces a challenge from a relatively unknown Patrick V. McNamara, a Detroit political figure who became the nominee of the Democrats after the death of the former Senator Blair Moody.

Democrats claim that all is peaceful between Williams and McNamara, after early difficulties and the race will be furious. On the surface, at least, Williams has adopted McNamara wholeheartedly as a running mate and has planned several platform appearances with him late in the campaign.

"You're the coach—
Put in the whole team!"

Spirit, know-how and teamwork are what it takes to make a winning team; a team that knows its job, that carries the ball—and scores!

That's the kind of team you can field in Lansing and in Washington on November 2.

Top to bottom, you'll agree here's a lineup that will give Michigan the type of government to make you proud.

But—remember—you need the whole team. You need Donald S. Leonard as Governor to coordinate the effort, to provide the inspired leadership. You need the powerful voice of Senator Homer Ferguson in Washington to continue the fullest cooperation with President Eisenhower's Administration. And you need the full roster of capable, experienced, energetic Republican state officers working together to get things done for a greater Michigan.

Don Leonard has pledged his administration to action—on highway improvements—better school facilities—augmented retirement funds for teachers—broader agricultural representation at policy-making levels—a preventive mental health program—a strong youth guidance program—additional industry for Michigan to increase employment—care for the aged in their own communities—removal of politics from prison administration—sound, non-political conservation policies and increased promotion of Michigan's famed tourist attractions.

These are a few of the team's objectives. The team cannot function without leadership. For too long your needs have been thwarted by bickering and confusion in the Governor's office.

Now is the time for action!

Give the team your "go ahead" on November 2—Vote Straight Republican . . . for progress . . . for a greater Michigan!

Think straight—vote straight—

And just to keep sales soaring — we're willing to give a whole of an allowance this month — to keep success rolling in high. So come in — get a car and a deal that are too good to miss.

Higher resale value

Year after year, Buicks have always carried a high resale value. But the 1954 Buick has an even bigger edge in its year-ahead styling. It will still be fresh and new-looking when other '55 models come out. So the new Buick you buy today will keep you plenty of dollars ahead when you trade it in.

Tomorrow's styling today

You can see it on every new Buick on the road — glamorous new-day styling keynoted by that broad panoramic windshield that most other cars won't have till 1955 or later. And with this advanced styling, you get Buick's record-high V8 power, luxurious room and comfort, that famed Million Dollar Ride — and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Result: Buick is now outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three!"

The spectacular 200-hp Buick CENTURY — America's highest-horsepower-per-dollar car — and priced next to Buick's lowest.

About Whiskers

"Father voted Democratic all his life," says one. "Decision how to vote was made for me before I was born. Me for the Dem donkey forever!" Another says the same thing except that it is Republican and the elephant.

There are other ridiculous political motives besides prenatal fixations. The silliest of the times is this general confab about the "personal popularity" of candidates. "I like X," says one voter. "He kisses all the babies. There's a real human. Me for him!" Another says "I like Y. He is so darned good-looking, has such an engaging smile." (Which they all try for—the widest, showing all the teeth possible.)

Now, suppose all candidates wore whiskers, as the majority of campaign stumpers did of yore. Some would have long whiskers and mustachios, others short. Short ones popular (personally!) with some voters, long with others. Some long hirsute drapery would be parted in the middle and beautifully curled. Some would be short and sawed off square like U. S. Grant's. And the variety of colors! — black, red, brindled, streaked, mixed, marvelous whisker galaxy for voters to admire or condemn—and to vote on!

Lincoln had whiskers part of the time. Grover Cleveland never wore them, nor did Washington. They got elected, with or without. In those days people voted for the man they believed most capable of solving the nation's problems. The voters' guide was popularity of principles and ability demonstrated by candidates, not "personal popularity," good looks, crushing hand-shake, face-splitting smile. Heaven knows Abraham Lincoln was not handsome.

If we are to favor a certain candidate because of his personal popularity, let's be fair and have a return of whiskers. Make it a law! It is not only easier to compare candidates if they are be-whiskered, but most candidates without false teeth, in this toothy smile contest, are terribly handicapped. Also, whiskers would help eliminate these campaign germ-spreading kisses. No baby would want to be kissed by a peck of whiskers.

Jane Stremich-Donald Hay

Jane Stremich - Donald Hay Wed in Impressive Candlelight Service.

Gowned in white lace and satin, Jane Louise Stremich became the bride of D. Donald Hay in an impressive candlelight service at the Presbyterian church in Plymouth on Saturday evening, Oct. 9. Rev. Henry Walch, D. D. officiated. Fred C. Nelson presided at the organ and "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Nat Sibbold. Bouquets of white mums, palms and tiered candelabra enhanced the chancel of the church and the pews were decorated with clusters of white baby mums tied with satin streamers.

Jane is the daughter of Mrs.

Margaret Stremich of West Liberty St. and the late Jacob Stremich. Donald's parents are the Dallas F. Hays of West Seven Mile road, Livonia.

The bride's floorlength gown had a fitted bodice of lace with a portrait neckline encrusted with seed pearls and rhinestones and the long fitted sleeves extended to points over the wrists. The very full satin skirt fell into a Cathedral train and had an overskirt of lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of rhinestone and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of two white orchids, stephanotis and ivy tied with long satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a two-strand pearl necklace, the gift of her bridegroom.

All attended wore matching gowns of emerald green silk crystallette.

Mrs. Robert Janes, matron of honor, carried a basket of bronze mums with matching flower headpiece. The bridesmaids, Miss Saxie Holstein, and Mrs. Duane Branch, carried baskets of mums in various shades of yellow in their hair. The little girl, Mary Jane Shirkey, wore a yellow silk crystallette floorlength frock and she carried a basket of varicolored baby mums.

Clifford Boyd, brother-in-law of the groom, served Donald as best man and the ushers were Gunnar Bjaresen and Thomas Stremich, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Stremich chose a floor-length gown of beige lace and crepe with pink accessories. Mrs. Hay wore a floorlength beige crepe lace gown with bittersweet colored hat and brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of brown orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 was held at the Redford Golf Club house. Guests attended from Northville, Detroit, Canada, Farmington, Livonia, Ann Arbor and Plymouth.

The young couple are spending their honeymoon at Daytona Beach, Fla. For traveling the new Mrs. Hay selected a red and black tweed suit with black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Jane is a graduate of Plymouth high school and Don graduated from Northville. They will make their home for the present at 358 West Liberty St. Plymouth.
