$2.50 Per Year in Advance

for the Record

by G. H. C.

Shortly after the Wayne County Road Commission installed new traffic lights at the corner of Main and Center streets late last summer, pedestrians started stopping in at the Record office to tell us that from one area on the sidewalk at the Record corner the lights were almost invisible. The Record called attention to the situation on two occasions, and the Village Commission twice asked the Road Commission to correct the situation. Not until last Friday, five days after W. E. Forney sustained a fractured skull when he stepped off the curb and walked into the side of a moving car, and one day after the Village's second request for action, did a Road Commission crew appear on the scene to fix the lights. Forney was the second person to be injured at the corner after the new lights were installed. Fortunately, neither accident resulted in a fatality, but it seems regrettable that two persons had to be injured to induce the Road Commission to correct the situation. Now, we are told, the Commission plans to install pedestrian lights also at this corner.

Those persons in the community who are interested in Northville's early history should make it a MUST to buy the new History of Northville, which is being published next week by students of the Northville Junior High School. Directed by Junior High Principal Alvin Skow, the young people have done a very considerable research job on the Village's early history and have assembled many pictures of village scenes before the turn of the century. The brochure will be on sale next Thursday evening at the Northville Public Schools open house.

Again this week-end Northville merchants are staging a two-day "Hometown Bargain" sale which is being promoted throughout the area by a special Northville Record Shopping Guide. The shopper is jam-packed with special bargains offered by 33 stores, and the sponsoring firms are looking forward to even larger crowds than attended the first "Hometown Bargain" sale a month ago.

"Tide of Toys" Is Korean Project

"Tide of Toys" is the title of a project sponsored by the Northville American Legion, Post No. 147. Local residents are asked to contribute used or discarded toys. They will be repaired and mended if necessary, but it is requested that no war toys be included. Toys may be taken to the American Legion hall on Dunlap street, or they will be called for by contacting Con Springer, James Madison or Richard Davis.

These discarded toys are to be sent to Dr. Bung Soo Han, a former resident doctor at Maybury Sanatorium, who has started a small TB hospital in Korea and toys are to be distributed to Korean children.

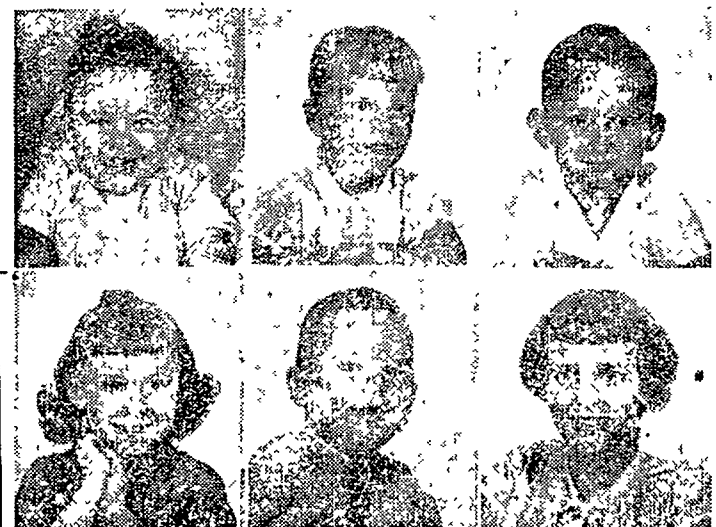

As all shipping expenses are to be paid for by the American Legion, any cash contributions will also be gratefully accepted.

Open House To Be Feature of Education Week

American Education week will be celebrated in Northville schools from Nov. 8 to 12 with an open house to which all parents are invited, and with displays, demonstration classes and other activities.

Alvin Skow, general chairman of the observance, said that during the week, selected classes would appear before the three service clubs, Rotary, Exchange and Optimists, and that demonstration classes would be conducted in school hours daily in the lobby of the Community building. These classes are open to any interested spectator between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Display Planned
In addition, a display will be erected in a downtown store window, depicting educational advances, Skow said. Open house will be held in both the elementary and high school from 7 to 9:30 Thursday evening.

In connection with the observance, Village Pres. Claude N. Ely has issued the following Proclamation:
"With an ever growing need for improved education for our youth, it is only natural that our school system should want to show the citizens of Northville what has been accomplished and what remains to be done."

"In-as-much as a specified time is needed for this, we have set aside the week of November 8-12 (Continued on page 5)

"Bargain Days" Start Tomorrow

Shoppers in the Northville area again will have an opportunity to benefit from numerous bargains offered by the merchants in a two-day "Hometown Bargain Day" program sponsored by the Retail Merchants Assn.

Bargains will be offered on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6, in 33 of the more progressive Northville stores. Thousands of items in most lines will be involved.

A feature of the event will be the usual drawing for prizes. All that is necessary to participate in the drawing, which will be held Saturday night, is completion of the coupon at the top of this page, which can then be dropped in a box in any of the participating stores.

Prizes include a Pendleton blanket, value $35; an electric clock, a Sunbeam electric frying pan, and a basket of groceries, all values at $25 each. Winners need not be present at the drawing.

The two day event is coupled with the annual Homecoming of Northville High School, which will be held Friday afternoon and evening.

Mr. Boyce's death was attributed to a heart attack while he was on his way to Novi.

Banquet Will Honor "Unsung" Grid Participants

A banquet to honor the forgotten and unsung heroes and heroines of Northville High school gridiron activities will be a community project for early December, Allen Buckley, 425 Yerkes St., announced Tuesday.

"Deciding that it is not fitting for Northville to pay homage only to those who score touchdowns, Buckley said that a banquet will be held in the Community building at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 4, to which everyone who participated in football activities—from water-boy to the superintendent of the schools—will be invited.

While the Varsity squad will not be neglected, sharing the limelight with them will be the following:

Reserve and Junior High school football teams; the High school band, cheerleaders, band leaders and ticket sellers, coaches, principal and superintendent of schools, the football queen and maids of honor, scoreboard operators, football program personnel, and various invited guests.

Following the banquet, an extensive program will honor the various participants.

Cost of the banquet will be derived from the sale of 1,000 "NHS Booster" buttons which Buckley already has ordered.

All of the Northville civic organizations have been invited to participate, and all have promised their support. Twelve more of the 23 in the community are expected to join in the project, Buckley said.

Heart Attack Fatal to Northville Banker John A. Boyce; Automobile Hits Tree

Funeral services for John A. Boyce, well known Northville banker, were held at the Casterline Funeral home Monday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Boyce suffered a heart attack while driving his car on the Novi road last Wednesday night, causing the car to swerve out of control and hit a tree. He had lived in Northville for the past 18 years.

Born in LaSalle township, Monroe county, March 9, 1892, the son of John C. and Florence Boyce, he was graduated from the law school of the University of Michigan in 1925. He was a practicing attorney in Detroit for eight years.

Boyce came to Northville in 1932 to represent one of the large depositors in one of the closed banks. When reorganization of the banks took place, he was elected president, a position he retained for 22 years.

A veteran of World War I, he suffered shrapnel wound while in action at St. Mihiel on Sept. 12, 1918.

He was past president of the Redford Exchange club and past president of the Northville Rotary club. Graveside services were held by Redford Masonic Lodge, No. 152, King Cyrus Chapter, of which he was a member. He was also first Knight Templar of a Detroit chapter, and a member of the VFW.

Surviving are two brothers, Herbert, of Monterey Park, Calif., and David D. of Laguna Beach, Calif.; and one sister, Mrs. Alta M. Spaulding of Monterey, Calif.

The Rev. Harold Fredsel conducted the funeral services. Burial was at Rural Hill cemetery.

Plans for a musical variety show to be held in the Community Center the evenings of Nov. 11 and 12 were announced by the Northville Rotary club Tuesday following the arrival of Miss Sherry Eason, of St. Louis, who will direct the show.

The most ambitious production to be undertaken here in several years, the show, entitled "You Can't Beat Fun", will feature an all-local cast, with ten of Northville's most prominent business and professional men participating, along with 30 other Northville residents.

Everyone Friendly
"I am most enthusiastic over this production and the possibilities for an outstanding show here in Northville," Miss Eason said. "Everyone seems so friendly and cooperative I know I shall enjoy my stay here."

A master of ceremonies keeps things moving at a rapid pace throughout the show as he introduces a variety of acts. Twenty-four teenagers will be selected to appear as chorus girls, and outstanding local and specialty acts will be spotlighted in the show. These will include music, singers, dancers, impersonators and others.

Anyone Eligible
Any resident of Northville or the surrounding area is eligible to compete, and there is no age limit, Miss Eason said. Auditions will be held Friday, Nov. 5. Those interesting in appearing in the show are requested to contact Miss Eason at 759-R.

A "shaving" race will be one of the highlights of the production, and the winner will be awarded a prize each evening.

According to Miss Eason, who has produced the show in many localities across the nation, "You Can't Beat Fun" has proved popular wherever it has been presented.

Proceeds from the show will be used for the Rotary Community Service Fund.

Traffic Lights Changed After Formey Mishap

Following a serious accident to W. E. Forney, well known Northville resident who was struck by a car while crossing the intersection at Main and Center Street last week, a crew from the Wayne County Road Commission visited Northville Friday and trimmed the traffic shades so that the red and green lights can now be seen by pedestrians.

Action was taken after a second request was sent by Village authorities, pointing out that inability to see the lights constituted a serious traffic hazard.

At the Village commission meeting Monday night, it was announced that the county also will erect four pedestal traffic lights at the intersection in the near future, for the benefit of pedestrians.

Forney suffered a fracture of the skull and other injuries, but is now reported recovering in Sessions Hospital.

Northville Voters Set Off-Year Record, Both Leonard & Oakman Lose

Northville township voters turned out in unprecedented numbers Tuesday in an off-year election which saw Gov. Mennen Williams presented with a tradition-breaking fourth term.

Republican candidate Donald S. Leonard, who several times campaigned in this area, ran ahead of Williams in both precincts, as did most of the Republican candidates for various offices.

Democrats, however, turned out in greater force than in any election, including presidential campaigns, since 1940, according to Township Clerk Fred Lyke.

Democrats Gain
"I've never seen so many Democratic voters in the 14 years I have held this office," Lyke said. "Precinct No. 1, comprising the western part of the township (the village of Northville) went Republican 'two to one or better. Precinct No. 2, however, toward Detroit, showed the Democrats gaining in strength at about a 55 to 45 ratio, with the Republicans gaining slightly stronger."

An analysis of the figures shows following: First precinct—Leonard 701, Williams 338; secretary of state, Owen J. Cleary 741, James M. Hare 284; U.S. Senator—Homer Ferguson 735, Patrick V. McNamara 297; 17th Congressional District—Charles G. Oakman 711, Martha W. Griffiths 316.

Second precinct: Leonard 444, Williams 430; Cleary 488, Hare 375; Ferguson 486, McNamara 383; Oakman 468, Griffiths 395.

Records Broken
Both of the precincts reported that the total number of voters had set records for any preceding off-year election. At Precinct No. 1, the Village hall, the number exceeded 1,000 for the first time. The 1,000th voter was O. C. Collins, 335 First St. Three election clerks who got in on the tail end of the line at precisely

Homecoming To Feature Parade, Football Game

If it takes enthusiasm to win a football game, Northville High school's Mustangs expect to whip up more than a modicum of the stuff for the annual Homecoming tilt with Brighton here tomorrow night.

Friday afternoon will be devoted to parades, pep talks and other ceremonies calculated to instill needed "Will to Win" spirit in the faltering Mustangs, who have lost two games by identical scores of 19 to 13.

Bargain Day visitors to Northville will be treated to three outstanding activities—the monthly special sales in Northville stores, parade, and a good football game Friday evening.

Parade at 1:30 p.m.

A number of floats have been constructed by student groups and others for a parade through the downtown area to begin at 1:30 p.m. The floats will represent the seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen, the Pep club, Varsity club, Junior High, student council, Library club, Commercial club, Science classes and the driver training class.

They will assemble on the parking lot behind the school and proceed down Main St. to Cady, thence west on Cady to Rogers, C. Main, down Main to Rayson, and up Rayson to Ford field. The high school band will lead the parade, and at Ford field a roving trophy will be awarded for the best float. Judges will be Essie Nirider, Charles Freydl Jr. and Alfreid Sibley. Parade marshals will be Prin. E. V. Ellison and Leslie Lee.

Field Events Set

The afternoon program includes field events on Ford field beginning at 2 p.m. There will be pushball games for boys in the various classes, a tug of war between girls in the 9th and 10th and the 11th and 12th grades, a demonstration game of speedball for the girls, to be announced by Gayle Ashburn, and a skit at a pep rally to be presented by the Pep club.

The Northville-Brighton game will begin at 8 p.m., and between halves the high school and assembled spectators will pay homage to beauty. Eight Northville girls—Peggy Hammond, Pat Hix, Mary Lovewell, Janet Malott, Marianne Ratliff, Carol and Virginia Sutton, and Dorothy Welch—already have been selected as candidates for Homecoming Queen. From this group, four will be chosen Friday afternoon, and the events.

Figures Tell Story of Election

Election returns Wednesday, although incomplete, indicated that besides Donald S. Leonard, GOP gubernatorial candidate, Sen. Homer Ferguson and Rep. Charles G. Oakman, both Republicans, also lost in Tuesday's record off-year election.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams was expected to have a 240,000 vote plurality; Patrick V. McNamara 42,000 over Ferguson; and Mrs. Martha Griffiths of Detroit about 5,000 over Oakman.

8 p.m., when the polls closed, and 36 absentee ballots, swelled the total to 1,039. At Precinct No. 2, the Boy Scout building, the total was 874, another record.

The complete township vote for the various offices follows:

GOVERNOR

Donald S. Leonard 1145 G. Mennen Williams 768

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Clarence A. Reid 1161 Philip A. Hart 736

these will appear on the field between halves of the football game.

Only then will the identity of the Homecoming Queen be announced, and three others will be named maids of honor. Petz Bros., Packard dealers, furnish the Queen's car. The Queen will be sponsored by the Varsity club, with Ron Schipper as advisor.

To Reign at Dance

Following the game, the Queen will be escorted to the Community Center, where she will reign over the Homecoming dance. A 13-piece orchestra, "The Down-towners," composed of Northville and Detroit musicians, will play from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets to the dance are $1 per couple if obtained in advance, or 75¢ each at the door.

Alvin Skow and E. V. Ellison are general chairmen of the Homecoming program; Student co-chairmen are Ed Mollema, Jr., Rita Kay Skow and Virgil Houtz; co-chairmen of floats, Miss Florence Panattoni and Bill Renard; field events, Stanley Johnson and Miss Lemoyne Markham; tickets and advertising chairman, Al Jones.

The public is invited to all of the events.

NORTHVILLE'S TEENAGERS had a time for themselves Halloween night, and after the Rams and Kats football game, gathered at the Community building for a party sponsored by Northville organizations. Gathered on the stage for determination of prize winning costumes are those shown above. Winner of first prize was the pretty "girl" at right, next to the scarecrow, Nancy Beard, who won second prize. The "girl" is actually David Smith. Third prize went to the "high class bum" at left, Mike Castle.

TRICK OR TREATERS gather in front of a downtown store where second prize for the best Halloween store window went to Jackie Campbell, Nancy Stamann and Dianne Matthews.

He replaces Dean Sipson who becomes commercial customer relations supervisor in Detroit.

The Plymouth area includes Northville, Farmington and Livonia.

During World War II, Maurer served in the U. S. Army Signal Corps in the China-Burma theater.

He lives in Plymouth with his wife, Bernice, and two children.

SECURITY RISKS

The Civil Service Commission has announced that 6,926 Federal employees have been dismissed as security risks or resigned while adverse information was in the commission files. Of this number, 1,743 were said to be cases of involving subversive activities.

Educator Stresses Importance of Full Effort by Children

EAST LANSING — An insistence that children do their best, and they not be allowed to work only half well, was the challenge issued by Dr. Harry Newburn to delegates of the Michigan School Board Conference at Michigan State.

Dr. Newburn, president of the Ford Foundation Fund for Adult Education, educational Television and Radio Center at Ann Arbor, discussed "The Citizen and the Community" at the conference.

His contention that "any task worth accomplishing is worth doing at the highest possible standard."

He declared that the school is the most important element in the world outside the home and pointed out that "all great men are the products of their schools, their churches, and their local communities."

Dr. Newburn said that in order to have good communities and good nations, there must be good men. "There is little hope for the world, if we are not convinced that man can be improved," he said.

A GAS DRYER will do it better

In home after home, in city after city... old-fashioned laundry methods have been replaced by modern automatic Gas dryers. That means no more worries about bad weather or falling soot.

A Gas dryer doesn't just remove moisture from your clothes... it processes them... prepares them just right for ironing... keeps them fresh and clean!

Only Gas, the modern wonder fuel, gives you dependability and economy... erases "blue" Monday from your calendar... makes you independent of outdoor weather conditions.

Plan To Boost Milk Sales Is Proposed By MSC

How do you get people to drink more milk—to help wipe out the surplus?

Two Michigan State college agricultural economists believe they have a partial answer. They call their solution a two-price plan. Here's the way Economist E. B. Jones and Gerald G. Quackenbush say their plan would operate.

The milkman would sell customers their regular quantity of milk at the regular price. But to increase sales, the routeman would offer the same family more milk at a discount.

The routeman would use the amount of milk usually purchased by the household during the fall and winter months as a base, say three quarts every other day. Then in the flush milk season of spring and summer, the milkman would tell the housewife that she could buy an additional quart with an 8-cent (more or less) discount.

The economists think that both the dairy industry and the family would gain—the former from increased sales and the family from a better diet.

The two-price plan is detailed in the current issue of M.S.C. Agricultural Experiment Station Quarterly Bulletin.

Experts on the subject say that a girl with slim and shapely ankles has a good heart—organically, that is.

FREEDOM'S SHRINE—Thousands of Americans each year visit the National Archives Building in Washington, D. C., where the nation's three most precious documents are enshrined. In the frame at top of the display is the Declaration of Independence, and in the slanted top of the case are the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Guard at right is symbolic of the extreme care taken of the documents. The cases are hermetically sealed, and contain an inert gas under pressure which preserves the fragile paper and retards fading of the ink. The whole display is mounted on an elevating mechanism, which raises it from a 50-ton safe below the exhibit during visiting hours.

WASHINGTON NOTES

WHEAT

Price supports on the 1955 wheat crop set at not less than 80 per cent of parity have been indicated by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Wild Life Notes...

Lansing. — Only 725 permits remained out of 40,000 early this week for hunting in area D of the northern lower peninsula during Michigan's special Dec. 1st any-deer season.

Five conservation department field workers recently counted 539 deer while driving 92 miles of roads in Otsego county.

The weekly list of convictions for conservation law violations soared to 271 last week, highest in a year.

The list included only 14 convictions for fish law violations; the remainder were nearly all for game law infractions.

A number of persons were convicted on charges of transporting weapons in vehicles in an illegal manner. It is illegal at any time to transport a strung bow or a loaded shot-gun or rifle in a vehicle or in a boat with a motor attached.

During open hunting seasons, however, hunters may carry empty shotguns or rifles and unstrung bows in vehicles. When seasons are closed, weapons must be broken down or encased in some manner.

Hunting seasons in Michigan this year extend from October 1 to March 1.

Small game hunters in Southern Michigan are receiving benefits this fall from taxes they have paid on hunting equipment purchased since 1937.

The taxes have been collected under the Pittman-Robertson federal wildlife restoration act. A portion of the money has been used in Michigan's farm game habitat restoration program, started in 1948.

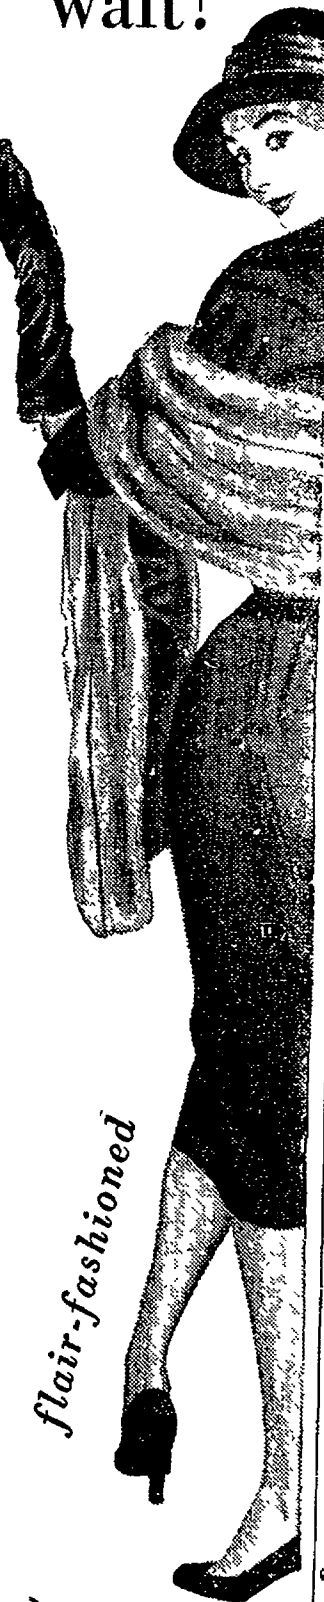

Hunting on the first full weekend of Michigan's 1954 pheasant season proved somewhat less rewarding than on Oct. 20, first day of the season.

Apparently, birds were sitting tight in heavy cover and not giving hunters the easy pickings found on opening day.

In general, however, most hunters still agree there are more pheasants this year than have been available in a long time.

"The harvest should give some unusually good shooting late in the season," said Ralph Blouch, conservation department game specialist. "Usually," he added, hunting falls off toward the end of the season. This year it will probably be better than usual during the later days."

WOMAN'S WORLD
Pudding, Cream
Help Decorate
Angel Food Cake

HAVING a birthday at your house soon? A gala cake is in order for the occasion, especially one that's delectable enough to please everyone.

Ice cream cakes are popular, particularly those which can be made at home in advance of the party. Here's one that's a perfect choice because it can be stored in the refrigerator freezing section or freezer.

- Ice Cream Cake
(Serves 10-12)
- 1 10-inch angel food cake (may be purchased)
 - 1 cup heavy cream
 - 1 cup cold milk
 - 1 package homogenized instant vanilla pudding

Place cake on a circle of cardboard or leave in paper carton. (The important thing is to have the cake on something to protect the bottom as well as to make it easy to move.) Insert a sharp knife about 1/2 inch from outer edge of the cake. Cut to within 1/2 inch of bottom all the way around the cake. Make a similar cut 1/2 inch from center hole. Using your fingers, remove the cake between these two cuts, leaving a cake base of 1/2 inch. Pour milk and cream into deep mixing bowl. Add pudding and beat until well mixed, about one minute. Spoon mixture into cake. If desired, decorate top with pudding pressed through a pastry tube. Freeze until firm in freezing compartment of refrigerator with control set for fast freezing or in the freezer. If left in the freezer for a future date, wrap in foil or freezer wrapping paper.

It will be a happy birthday when you fill an angel food cake with ice cream made from homogenized pudding mix which requires no cooking. When prepared with heavy cream and milk, the mix gives a rich mixture which is like ice cream when frozen.

Return refrigerator control to normal for storage, if the cake is to be used within a short time after preparation.

Fine Dishes Need
Special Handling

You don't have to hide away your fine dinnerware if you handle it carefully during usage. If you leave this dinnerware stored only for your best occasions, you're losing much of the value of owning and enjoying it.

Daily use will give you many years of service from high-quality ware. You need only handle it with some care and wash it gently.

How to Wash Dishes

Dishes washed after the meal is over are the easiest ones to wash. Food will not have a chance to stick and dry to them and they will need little more than a swish of the cloth. If this isn't always possible, then do rinse them at least and stack carefully. It will be so much easier to do them later.

Contrary to many notions, water for dishes does not have to be hot. It should be comfortable to the hands. Strong soaps are taboo, and so are other harsh ingredients like harsh laundry soaps and washing soda.

Be careful of the use of water softeners, too. In small quantities they're fine, but overuse is harmful to dinnerware and wasteful also. Most detergents have softener in them so it really isn't necessary to use them at most times.

Dry or drain dishes, one at a time. Slipping one under the other tends to scratch them. Dishes should be separate from silverware in the sink or dish pan to lessen the risk of breakage.

Dishes don't do well when subjected to sudden changes of temperature. If they're stored in a warm place, they can be placed in a warming even before a meal, but never in the oven itself. Submersion in warm water is quite all right, too.

Scalding rinses will craze most earthenware and will dull the glaze of china. Rinse with the same temperature of water at which they were washed.

Crowding dishes in a small space for storage causes more breakage than actual use. If your cabinets or shelves are crowded, then do get racks which will keep the plates separate, vertically. These racks are excellent space savers. Cups should not be hung from the handles as this is their most vulnerable spot and they can easily be knocked down.

HAS SAME FOOD VALUE

Low-score butter doesn't rate as high in flavor and texture as butter with a higher score. The original quality of cream—sweetness or sourness and absence or presence of food flavors—determines the butter score. Sweet cream butter scores 92-93, while sour cream butter scores are lower. The food value, however, is the same regardless of the score. All butter sold must contain 80 percent butterfat.

If your new winter cotton has a dull or textured finish, you'll get best results by pressing it on the wrong side of the fabric, advise clothing specialists at M.S.C.

"Show your interest in school affairs by attending classes at the Northville schools during National Education week."

Started in 1921 American Education week was inaugurated, Skow said, in 1921 at a meeting of representatives of the American Legion and the National Education Association. It has been observed in November of each year during the week that includes Armistice Day.

At the present time American Education week is sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the U.S. Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The purpose of this special observance of education is to inform the public about their schools, the accomplishments of the school, the needs of the school, and to secure the cooperation and support of every individual.

The credo of the observance reads: "This year as we set about to observe American Education week, let each one dedicate his efforts to the thought that: 'The School Is My Responsibility.'"

"And in the task of living up to that belief let each one as teacher, parent, student, administrator, or layman, say unto himself: 'I will have faith in my school and in American education.'"

"I will take an interest in the school and will work to promote every program that is good for the school."

"I will weigh all questions regarding the school carefully and will be fair to all in my conclusions on them."

"I will be thoughtful, understanding, and kind so that all may seek my fellowship."

"I will be honest, sincere, and at all times conduct myself so that I shall be worthy of the respect of others."

"All these things, I will practice, not only during American Education week, but every day of the year."

Legion Auxiliary To Sponsor Contest

"The Master Link: Our Constitution" will be the title of the 1955 Americanism Essay Contest, which is sponsored by the Michigan American Legion Auxiliary.

The Lloyd H. Green Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, urges Northville students to enter the contest, and as soon as results governing the contest are received they will be forwarded to interested students.

The Lloyd H. Green Unit will hold a Potluck Dinner Nov. 9 at 6:30 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial building to commemorate the beginning of the Auxiliary, in Northville. All members and their families are invited to attend.

The 17th District meeting of Legion Auxiliary will be held in Plymouth at 8 p.m., Nov. 5, with the Passage-Gayde Unit.

There will be worn clothing for children and adults and many miscellaneous articles in good condition.

It is refreshing to find a girl, these days, who has learned to cook and bake and to help her mother in the culinary arts. And to find a nine-year-old who can bake a cake every bit as tasty as those concocted by grownups is so unusual that recognition is warranted.

Little Heidi Handorf often bakes a Chocolate Upside Down cake for the family dessert at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. Handorf, 800 Wing Ct. It is exceptionally good, too, as those who have been lucky enough to sample it can testify.

In the photograph above Heidi is shown at right in the mixing process, while her girl friend, Emily Canterbury, 8, removes meringue rings made by Heidi's mother from the oven to make room for the cake.

Smoky, the Handorf cat, sits on a stool waiting to sample a bit of Heidi's handiwork.

Here is Heidi's own special cake, one that is recommended for adults to try:

Times Have Changed

If you are a typical family man who earns $4500 to $5000 a year and works the usual eight-hour day, the Tax Foundation has some news for you.

Two hours and thirty-five minutes of that day go to earn the money needed to pay your taxes, direct and indirect. That's much longer than you need work to buy your food, almost twice as long as it takes to pay your housing costs and four times as long as for your clothing or transportation.

It used to be argued that only wealthy people had any particular interest in the tax question, and that the way to meet government costs was to soak the rich. How times have changed! There aren't enough rich people if you took their total income. Today everybody is soaked to the limit. It is the masses of people who have the greatest interest in cutting government spending and the tax bite.

Warning To Smokers

The Public Health Cancer Ass'n, an organized scientific society, meeting in Buffalo, adopted a resolution urging Americans to stop smoking cigarettes. It is thought to be the first formal action by such an organized body in the lung cancer-smoking controversy.

The resolution read as follows:
"Resolved, that there is sufficient evidence available of a relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer to justify advising the public to stop smoking cigarettes as a means eventually of lowering the incidence, and to advise the youth of America to ponder well the question whether the risk entailed is worth the pleasure derived."

The resolution, by a vote of thirteen-to-three, came after a panel discussion at which several public health specialists agreed that smokers were risking lung cancer. Six medical men, included in the panel discussion the morning before the resolution vote, concluded that the evidence gained from studies all over the world "is in favor of the conclusion."

While we do not propose to be medical experts, we view this action, after a panel discussion by medical experts, as very significant. No doubt there will be many Americans who prefer to take the risk involved rather than stop smoking but it seems to us that they no longer can deny the evidence which warrants at least the sober appraisal of every smoker.

We especially advise youngsters—who do not yet have the habit of smoking—to consider medical words of caution in developing their habits, so that they will at least have full scientific knowledge of all the latest facts and consequences.

The Flat Look

This year—as is the case every year—there is something new in women's fashions and it happens to be the flat look. Those going according to this Paris edict will dress so that their appearance will resemble that of a flat board.

This was the fashion back in the Twenties and was definitely frowned upon by health and medical authorities, who found that it was definitely bad for young girls to wear clothes designed to give them a flat, unnatural look.

We do not believe the flat look has a ghost of a chance of being accepted by the majority of American women, but unfortunately, there are some who follow the fashion edicts from Paris so closely they will be sucked in on this latest fashion-designer's whim. We hope the number will not be large, and that this editorial will serve as encouragement to young ladies, and elderly ones as well, to resist this latest dress-selling line.

American males are not interested in the Paris designer's idea about flat looks. We hope America's females are more interested in looking normal, and healthy than they are in playing the sucker for fashion designers, who annually reap windfall profits from their ability to lead female sheep into a never-ending circle of fashion purchases, necessitated by the idea they must have the latest thing, or be dressed in the latest style.

Grass Roots Opinion

PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y., TIMES: "The Zenger memorial gallery in the old Customs House has become a classroom for teaching school children the meaning of freedom of the press. Teachers daily take their pupils through the dusty rooms of the old federal building where treasures commemorating the birth of the republic are on display."

ST. JOHNS, ARIZ., INDEPENDENT-NEWS: "Whether one reads a country weekly or a metropolitan daily newspaper, it is still apparent that at no time in man's history is a free exchange of information more urgently needed than right at this moment at the midpoint of the Twentieth Century as we embark into the Atomic Age... We of the newspaper world are doing our best to keep America strong by telling the truth..."

WEST BEND, WIS., NEWS: "Where newspapers are free from government restrictions, as they are in the United States, you are free to select the reading matter of your choice. You are privileged to have a voice of protest."

It's a fact money cannot buy happiness, but it places the possessor in an excellent bargaining position.

It would be a nice world if everyone behaved like they acted in church.

Strengthening the Dike

Let's Reason

by A. M. Smith

ABOUT THE SCHIZOID PATRIOT

Republicans are convinced that farmers in general will support a farm program that is in the best interests of the nation, including the farmers; despite arguments by many Democrats that the farmers will be penalized by the Eisenhower flexible parity program.

It follows that the Republicans believe that the farmers in general will support the Republican candidates for Congress in the November election.

One of the most effective Senate speeches for flexible parity was made by Senator Wallace Bennett (R-Utah), who presented startling evidence of the positive harm done by farm legislation which flouts simple economic principles. He showed that:

The price support program in 21 years cost $4.5 billion, and would have cost far more but for war.

High rigid supports failed to bring about parity prices for farmers.

Acres control and rigid high supports did positive harm to many farmers. For example, high supports caused planting of wheat outside traditional wheat growing states because it could be sold to the government. This was true of corn and other crops.

Rigid high supports were followed by a decline in consumption of milk and dairy products.

There was the harassed but hopeful home-owner who took pen in hand and wrote this to his Congressman:

"Dear Sir—Please do something about our house. The roof leaks."

And the trusting Soul who addressed himself to his representative in the nation's capital in this peremptory fashion:

"I am returning the false teeth they gave me at the Veterans' Hospital. They are not mine. I want you to send them back and make them send me mine."

What about the indignant taxpayer who wrote his Senator:

"I read about all that money the government has down in Washington, D. C. As my Congressman, I demand that you send me some!"

And the lady constituent who wrote:

"I understand that you have free mailing privileges, so I am sending you all my Christmas cards to mail for me."

These are excerpts from actual letters written to members of Congress, garnered from their wastepaper baskets and their files by Juliet Lowell and published in a book entitled "Dear Mr. Congressman."

Wryly humorous, the law makers admit—but examples of understandable misconceptions bolstered by two decades of something-for-nothing legislation, under administrations which fostered the belief that there is a Santa Claus and his name is Uncle Sam!

He is the citizen who at one time prizes above all else the personal freedom guaranteed by a Government by and for ALL the people. He lustily sings "My Country, 'Tis Of Thee!" then votes his demand for special benefits for himself, reason displaced by rampant self-interest.

This shift is a complete denial of the foundations of our democratic republic; it is a cancer in politics, a mental and moral aberration so proliferated in the psychology of the people that it has come to be one of the greatest, if not the chief, of motivations in election campaigns. It is political schizophrenia, the most dangerous enemy of democracy.

This is not to say that political sanity depends on being a dyed-in-the-wool partisan. It is to point the fact that there has come to be the cardinal sin of voting a certain way because of the belief, that "it will be best, materially, for just ME AND MY GROUP." This is cutting loose completely from normal and sane political thinking and action.

The experiment of democratic government has failed repeatedly in history, in every case because of the growing repudiation of the ideal and practice of government for ALL the people. Democracies have risen gloriously then rotted away because of abandonment of their fundamental principles by a growing multitude of turncoats who decided that government should favor their particular groups or classes, voted that way, or created open revolution.

It is unsound thinking to assume that because we have a Constitution and Bill of Rights proclaiming freedom and equal rights for all, under the law, freedom is therefore guaranteed and protected forever. The laws in a democracy are made and changed by the people through their representatives. To make or change laws for class benefit is insanity.

The growth and force of this political insanity were glaringly patent in the campaign speeches, television, radio broadcasts and reported "opinion-taking" in the campaign just closed. The ruling motif was: "What will this or that candidate do for US, just ME and my CROWD, if elected?—and to hell with the rest of the U. S.!"

A.A.R. BIRTHDAY

The Association of American Railroads celebrate the twentieth anniversary of its founding on October 12th. The Association launched formally on Oct. 12, 1934, brought into a single agency half a dozen separate groups dealing with such things as freight-car, passenger standards. The A. A. R.'s membership now includes 196 major Class 1 rail systems—those doing $1,000,000 or more gross business annually.

PARTNERS—The pilot of an F-86 Sabrejet at Selfridge Field, near Detroit, Mich., gazes thoughtfully at his partner in the job of defending America's cities from air attack. The newcomer on the defense scene is the guided missile, "Nike," which, in case of attack, would be used to intercept any aircraft at high speed.

Building Papers Do Household Duty

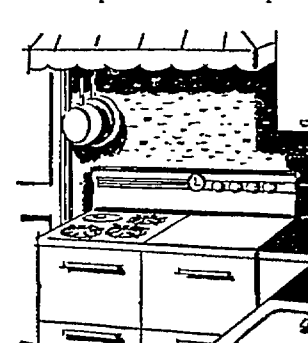

It takes tricks to triumph in this world of homemaking. Now house-holders have discovered new uses for building paper, previously thought of as belonging to the building profession. And the wise men of the industry have recognized their needs and packaged four types of building paper for household use in Leatherback Handi-Rolls, available in lumber yards and hardware stores. Here are some ways to use them:

Asphalt-impregnated black "tarpaper" is tough and waterproof. Strips placed between rows of plants keep weeds down and conserve soil moisture. Line window boxes and planters, to prevent rot and rust. Make disposable seed flats or plant containers by folding paper to desired size and securing corners with staples or waterproof adhesive tape.

Reinforced building paper is extra-tough, with a thick core of asphalt strengthened with glass fibers. It's fine for outdoor uses like the shade and windbreak for young plants shown in sketch above, or for protecting boats or equipment stored in the open. It makes a wrapping that resists high humidity and attacks of vermin—even mice and termites.

The silvery aluminum-foil surface of reflective insulating paper makes a pretty and highly practical protection for the wall behind the kitchen range, or in back of radiators and heaters.

When you wash or paint walls, protect the floor with strips of red rosin paper. It fits snugly against the baseboard and stays neatly in place without shifting or bunching up.

Halloween Activities Here Pronounced Double Success By Village Officials

Northville's 1954 Halloween program was a double success, members of the Village commission and civil organizations declared Tuesday.

Not only did hundreds of Northville children enjoy themselves at the various parties and activities provided, but there were no cases of vandalism or malicious mischief and instead of being left a shambles, the business district suffered no ill effects from the annual invasion of ghouls, witches, specters, hobgoblins, elves, leprechauns or assorted ghosts.

Some Soaping

Even the residential areas escaped practically unscathed. Many windows were soaped by disgruntled "Trick-or-treaters" who found so many ahead of them that householders ran out of goodies.

No buggies were found on rooftops, no gates hung on telephone poles and no cows in church steeples, as used to be the custom. All considered, small fry and teenagers alike comported themselves in excellent fashion, police and Village officials said, and are deserving of the thanks of the entire community.

More than 400 children up to the sixth grade level attended a special costume party held at the Community Center, Halloween evening. The Northville Mothers club sponsored the affair, with the following organizations participating: Exchange club, Our Lady of Victory Mothers, Optimists, American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Business and Professional Women's club, Girl Scouts, VFW, King's Daughters, and the Rotary club.

C. R. Ely & Sons contributed ice cream, while Stone's Gamble store and Stanley Johnston of the Northville Recreation Dept. provided various prizes.

205 Attended Party
Approximately 250 teenagers attended the special masquerade party held for them following the young children's affair. Committees assisting General Chairman Mrs. Eldon Biery were headed by Mrs. Hugh Godfrey, Mrs. Alfred Parmenter, Mrs. Edward Angore and Mrs. Robert Wetterstrom for the early party, and Mrs. Adrian Willis, Mrs. Russell Clarke, and Mrs. Russell Atchison for the teenagers.

Included in the teenage activities was the painting of store windows by talented high school students, depicting colorful Halloween scenes. First prize went to Karen Austen, Elaine Drew, and Marilyn Engel for their Halloween scenes in Kroger's. Second prize was awarded Jackie Campbell, Nancy Stamann, and Dianne Matthews for the window at Freydl's Cleaners. Cap Pethers and Mac Burns received third place for their job at Paul's Sweet Shoppe.

First, second, and third prizes for costumes were presented to David Smith, Nancy Beard, and Mike Castle.

Novi, Northville, Walled Lake Teenagers Put On Talent Show Before 450 Persons

Teenagers from Novi, Northville, Walled Lake and other nearby communities provided an evening of fun and entertainment for more than 450 persons last Friday evening at the Walled Lake Community building.

Under the sponsorship of the Novi Board of Commerce, the "Teenage Talent Show" was a decided success, according to Frank Watza, president of the board.

Interest Gratifying

"The purpose of the show was to encourage the youth of Novi and the surrounding communities to express themselves in a creditable manner," Watza said. "The enthusiasm and interest displayed by the participants and the audience was most gratifying."

Six prizes totalling $205 were distributed among the 28 teenage contestants from Novi, Walled Lake, Farmington and Northville.

First prize of $100 went to Northville's Lucien Lovewell, talented young pianist and now a freshman at the University of Michigan. Lovewell was graduated from Northville High school last June, and has played at public events for several years. He is a student in the University's Liberal Arts college.

Second prize was awarded to another Northville youth, Richard Drew. An eighth grade student,

Richard plays a clarinet in the school band and has appeared on several radio programs.

Janie Clark, of Novi, won third prize of $25.

Fourth and fifth prizes went to Farmington residents. "The Coon Hunters", composed of Werner Maki, Gordon Ayres, James Hill and Gerald Brumm, were dressed in costumes befitting their title. They won $15. Diann Karris, a songstress, won fifth prize of $10.

Sixth prize was taken by Robert Goudeseune, of Walled Lake, for an accordion solo.

Act as Interlocutors

William Morris of Ypsilanti acted as interlocutor of the first half of the show, and Al Porritt of Northville served as master of ceremonies for the second half.

Porritt has been invited by the Plymouth Kiwanis club to bring four of the talented young people to appear on a show to be given in Plymouth Saturday evening. Those who have been invited are Diann Karris, Carolyn Smith, Judy Dowdy, all of Farmington, and Richard Drew of Northville.

Lord's Prayer

Change...

Recently someone suggested a change in the words of the Lord's prayer which reads "And lead us not into temptation" to "Let us not fall when tempted" . . . Strange that someone would think that could be changed by human legislation.

Various councils in times past have been called, both political and ecclesiastical, to endeavor to change or delete certain portions which people do not like, but without success. God's Word is truth and truth shall endure forever whether people agree with it or not. Translations may be improved upon from time to time but the principles of truth shall remain for time and eternity. How comforting it is in a changing world that we have God's unchangeable word to look to. I am reminded of the lines of an old favorite song which says "How firm a foundation ye saints of the Lord, is laid for your faith in His excellent Word." It will never be out of date! For years it has stood the test of a changing world. Men have become critical, they have contradicted, denounced, they have ridiculed and scoffed. And yet after centuries God's Word remains the standard which contains the Gospel that shines as a ray of hope in a dark and sinful world.

"Save-A-Child" Project Started

Painting of crosswalks near Northville schools in the "Save-A-Child" campaign is progressing, according to Clyde Dethloff, Rotary club project chairman.

The project was initiated several weeks ago in an effort to prevent traffic accidents to children by providing a vivid green strip across the pavement on which school children were directed to walk.

Six of these have now been completed, and others will be done as soon as more paint arrives, Dethloff said.

Is Nature Confused? Forsythia Blooming

Are the seasons changing? A trifle confused because of the warm and damp weather the past few days, Nature appeared this week to be rushing the season.

Mrs. John Gibson, 44420 W. Seven Mile Rd., reported that a forsythia bush in her yard had begun sprouting springlike, yellow blossoms, well ahead of the customary time. She brought a bouquet of the flowers to The Record office Tuesday to prove her story.

Two weeks ago, another resident of this area brought a pink rose, in full bloom, to The Record - just for the record.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL
by Gene Allemen

MICHIGAN'S INSURANCE department has been the unwilling target of what Democrats call "a desire to protect the industry and policy-holders."

For weeks, Auditor General John B. Martin and Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre have been in a tussle, the result of which is still in doubt.

It all started when Martin, a Republican, said Navarre, a Democrat, was permitting unlicensed firms from other states to sell high risk and mail order policies in Michigan.

Navarre decided to be patient, objective and courteous about the whole thing. First he agreed with Martin that unlicensed firms operate in Michigan—but are permitted to do so by the state laws.

He said high risk policies—like a policy paying off if it doesn't rain tomorrow—are seldom written by Michigan firms. Lloyds of London, among others, sell them anywhere, including Michigan.

The only requirement is that no out-of-state company can operate here until Navarre's department has an affidavit that the policies cannot be placed with Michigan firms.

"Navarre has made no real effort to get the affidavits," said Martin.

"We can't keep track of every agent," said Navarre.

Martin switched to the other foot and claimed that Missouri firms were flooding the state with mail order insurance policy applications and it was costing Michigan between $50,000 and $500,000 in taxes each year.

Navarre said Martin had his decimals in the wrong place; that all Michigan could possibly lose was $5,000 a year.

He said Michigan cannot control the Missouri insurance department, and if people want to take a chance on collecting a claim in another state, it's their money.

Martin said he figures federal legislation will be necessary.

Navarre said he guessed so too.

But until Nov. 2, Republicans will still be after the Democratic Navarre and Democrats will be yelling "politics."

MONEY LEFT OVER after all the bills have been paid is usually diverted into a pet project of the agency involved.

Legend has it that one department, finding itself with $3,000 in the kitty at the end of the year, carpeted the floor of a storeroom, rather than admit it couldn't spend all its money.

That's why it was refreshing when The Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority turned back $24,057 from funds it received to pay for plans and specifications for the span between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

HIGHWAY SAFETY begins behind the wheel, a new point of attack in Michigan.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary is dedicated to the idea and his new Driver Division is weeding out bad drivers by the thousands.

First offenders go through the normal court process, pay a fine and get back on the highway—but it all goes into the precise records kept by Cleary's new division.

The second time, the offender gets a stiff warning and a letter from Cleary—a last chance letter.

With Cleary, it's three times and out.

Third offenders get a hearing before an examiner and the license is suspended or revoked, depending on the seriousness of the case.

"Ultimately, we'll either have fewer or better drivers, but in either case, we'll have safe highways," he said.

MICHIGAN'S COLLEGES and universities are having growing pains with an enrollment boom expected to overflow every four-year institution in the state by 1960.

Faced with the democratic belief of an education for everyone who wants one, they're looking for a way out.

First idea out of the hopper was to provide state support for the 15 community colleges now in operation. They offer the first two years of college, making room in the four-year schools.

The second alternative was to expand the four-year colleges, a plan already opposed by legislators, the public, students and colleges themselves.

It was left for Dr. Clarence C. Hilberry, president of Wayne University, to come up with the idea that some key lawmakers like best.

"We'd be in favor of a year-round college, with a full schedule of courses during the summer," Hilberry said.

Rep. Clarke E. Davis (R-Vermontville) was all in favor of it.

"I don't mind a summer vacation for professors, say three, but not all summer," he said. "That idea might just help us solve our overcrowding problem on the campuses."

Hammond Named To Legion Post

C. Oscar Hammond, of 511 N. Center, Northville, Michigan was appointed this week by national American Legion Commander Seaborn Collins, New Mexico, as a member of the national Marksmanship Committee of the Americanism Commission for the term ending in the fall of 1955.

Hammond was appointed to the commission by unanimous approval of the National Executive Committee which held its annual conference in Indianapolis, Indiana recently in conjunction with a meeting of commanders and adjutants from the United States and foreign soil. Fifty-six national and international departments were represented.

"My choice of Hammond—one of 153 Michigan Legionnaires similarly honored to hold down a key position on the national team is based primarily on his outstanding service and leadership toward furthering Legion principles within his own community and throughout the state of Michigan," said Commander Collins.

"Hammond's performance as a top-flight Legionnaire in Michigan," continued Collins, "marks him as an American Legion member and American citizen of great promise, and I am more than pleased to have the opportunity and privilege of appointing a man of caliber with such a wealth of experience on my 'first' team."

Before you do your fall wardrobe shopping, take inventory of the clothes on hand, urge M.S.C. clothing specialists. Women's wardrobe inventories need to be detailed because they want many combinations and lots of variety. Winter's Coming Is Heralded By Shortening Days

ANN ARBOR — The rapid shortening of the days from now until the middle of December will be the astronomical feature during November, according to Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy.

The sun will be moving south this month, causing a decrease in the daylight hours. By the end of the month the day will have shortened to about nine hours and 20 minutes and the sun will be swinging in a very short arc across the sky in its daily path.

In the evening, Mars will still be with us. Moving steadily eastward among the stars it will be on the meridian around sunset and with no other bright objects near in the sky, it may be easily identified by its orange color. Jupiter will be rising at about 10 o'clock and will be a bright object for the rest of the night. Observers with small telescopes will be able to get a glimpse of its four satellites which appear in almost a straight line in the plane of Jupiter's equator. Venus is now too close to the sun to be seen.

The sky will be liberally dotted with familiar constellations during the evenings. Orion will dominate the eastern and southern sky when he comes up at 9 o'clock. Always easily recognizable by the unmistakable three "Belt Stars," arranged like steps in the sky, Orion points upward through these stars to Alderbaran, bright orange star depicting the eye of Taurus, the Bull, who rises about an hour after sunset. Orion's belt points downward to the Dog Star, Sirius, brightest star in the whole sky, rising at about 10 o'clock.

Another well-known constellation which will appear in the eastern sky is Gemini, the Heavenly Twins. Two almost parallel lines of stars make up this constellation which boasts the two bright stars Castor, blue-white, and Pollux, faintly yellow. Rising slightly north of east at about the time the sun is setting is the little Pleiades group of six stars resembling a small dipper.

SAVES BABY

Frederick, Md.—Millard Buckley Lamb, 16 year old white boy, heard the explosion that set the frame house of Mrs. Charles Weedon, 19 year old Negro woman, on fire. He rushed to the burning house to find the woman in flames on the ground outside the kitchen door. The youth burned his hands beating out the flames on the woman, then crawled on his hands and knees into the furiously burning house after the dying mother mumbled that her baby daughter was still inside. Lamb found the infant and carried her to safety just seconds before the walls of the house caved in. The mother died of burns.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Man's true selfhood as the spiritual image and likeness of God, ever free from sin, sickness, and suffering will be emphasized at Christian Science services on Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" includes the following passage from the King James Version of the Bible (Genesis 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

The unchanging perfections of the man of God's creation will be brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (476:28-32): "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you,' that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is un-fallen and eternal."

First Federal To Extend Its 20th Anniversary Fete

So many people have responded to First Federal's 20th anniversary open house that it has been decided to continue the celebration through Wednesday, Nov. 10th, it is announced by Perry W. Richwine, manager of the Plymouth branch at 843 Penniman.

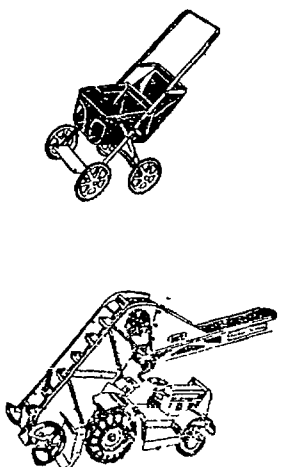

Since the anniversary open house began Oct. 10, people visiting First Federal offices have been presented with a complimentary copy of Edgar A. Guest's favorite verses. First Federal reports that 25,000 copies of this 32-page book were given out in a hurry, then 10,000 more, and a third printing of books has been needed to accommodate a steady flow of visitors to all First Federal offices. Verses in this book were personally selected by Detroit's "Eddie" Guest, for First Federal, and the book has been published especially for this occasion.

The people at First Federal's seven offices feel that they are doing a worthwhile thing in encouraging the public to save. Starting with about $10,000 of savings in 1934, First Federal has enlarged and expanded its savings service so that today the Association's assets exceed $130,000,000, and there are some 78,000 savings customers, as well as 16,000 mortgage loan customers who are using First Federal's financing service.

Your Child and Reading . . .

By Dr. Byron H. Van Roekel
Assistant Professor of Education
Michigan State College

One of the problems facing teachers in the early primary grades is the tendency on the part of some children, especially those that are quite immature, to reverse letters and words. Children with reversal tendencies often say "d" for "b"; and "q" for "p"; "y" for "m"; "no" for "on"; "was" for "saw", etc.

A number of investigators have tried to determine why children make reversals. Some thought it might have something to do with the child's vision; some felt that it might be related to the theory that the right side of the brain controls the left side of the body and vice versa, and that sometimes there is confusion as to which side will dominate. Some looked for still other reasons.

The home can do much to help children in regard to this problem. That is why I suggest that when you read to your child, point to the words you are reading. As you move your hand from left to right across the page, he will get the idea that that is the way we move our eyes along the line of print.

Helping children learn left from right will contribute to the correction of reversal tendencies. There are many opportunities for this in the home and children learn this quite readily. For example, when children first learn to eat by themselves, they often hold the spoon in the left hand. So many times the parent will say, "Put the spoon in your other paddy or other hand." It is just as easy to say, "You are eating with your left hand, hold the spoon with your right hand." With repetition, the child gradually learns which is left and which is right. If the child knows left from right, it is much easier for his teacher to explain left to right movement across the page than if he lacks this knowledge.

This is not to suggest that it is good to change hand preference but rather to show how we can use situations in the home to prepare a child for activities in the school.

A game that occurs in many homes can be adapted to help children learn left from right. Many of you probably have held your hands behind your back and asked your child which hand he wants. The choice of one hand produces gum and the choice of the other, candy or some other reward. Most children indicate their choice by pointing. Next time you play this game, ask your pre-schooler if he wants the left hand or the right. As soon as you do this, you have him started in learning left from right.

Small children usually need help in the putting on and taking off of shoes or sometimes children put the right shoe on the left foot. Use this opportunity to help children learn to distinguish left and right. Say to your child, "You have your left shoe on your right foot," rather than "You have that shoe on the wrong foot."

Being able to distinguish left from right not only contributes to readiness for reading, but it also helps in learning to follow directions. Every good readiness program in the early grades includes activities designed to develop the ability to follow directions. You can give your child a good start by using opportunities such as those suggested here.

The schools of Farmington, Northville, Walled Lake, Milford, Waterford, and Keego Harbor will gather to hear representatives from 25 colleges. Letters are being sent to the parents of 11th and 12th graders, asking them to attend with their children.

Since many of the school bus runs are badly crowded, the school has purchased a new bus. Rescheduling information will be issued soon. This bus is already in use as a substitute for the buses undergoing repairs.

Thursday, Oct. 28, Miss Clarke, Mr. Ellison, and Mr. Renard visited the schools at Rockford and Grand Rapids to inspect the program for rotating classes. This year there are both boys and girls in the shop and home economics classes.

FEET MISMATCHED

Los Angeles — Forty-nine per cent of the people have mismatched feet, according to Dr. Lawrence E. Moorehouse, professor of physical education at U.C.L.A. Of 600 students' feet studied, 49 per cent were found to have one foot larger than the other, with the variance ranging from one-half a size to two and a half sizes.

Halloween Is Past, But Northville Pupils Had Lots of Fun Preparing for Event

Halloween is past, for which parents probably sigh with relief, but Northville grade school pupils spent a lot of time getting ready for the event—dear to the hearts of all children.

In preparing for the time when witches and ghosts roam the land, children of the lower grades had an opportunity to go all out in expressing themselves and in using their imagination to the fullest, according to Stanley Hench, of the Northville grade school faculty.

In the fourth grades, the children have made masks, either spooky or funny, fantastic or realistic, according to their choice, using tagboard with colored paper and crayon.

In the sixth grades, the masks were made of paper bags and the children used various schemes to add a beard, attach a 3-dimensional nose, curl the eyebrows, etc.

It is interesting to observe how each child develops his masks and elaborates different skills. The children were encouraged to wear their masks for Halloween instead of buying commercial masks.

In the third grade the children made highly imaginative faces on large paper with unusual colors. Mrs. Egge's third graders worked at a technique which lends itself well to Halloween. On the huge sheet of paper they made a Halloween scene, applying bright colors very heavily. Then the whole scene was painted with black paint. The wax crayons resisted the paint and adhered only to the white paper. The result was a spooky night scene. The fifth grade of Mrs. Huff's room made a Halloween scene with brilliant colored chalks on black paper.

Some of the first and second grade rooms made a mural by cutting out bats, trees, ghosts and witches, and arranging them on a large sheet of black paper. The first grade children in Miss Sour's and Mrs. Reimer's rooms made a "Halloween tree." A large dead branch was used for the tree and the children cut out the Halloween symbols and tied them to the tree. Whenever the children work together on a project, the idea of working cooperatively and considering the other child's contribution is discussed.

These different approaches and techniques aroused a great deal of excitement in an already exciting theme and the students accomplished two big goals; they used their own ideas and worked creatively, Hench said.

Student Council Meeting To Be Held This Week

ANN ARBOR — Northville representatives will join with over 350 representatives from 185 high schools and junior colleges at the University of Michigan's 26th annual Principal-Freshman Conference Wednesday and Thursday (Nov. 3-4).

They will interview close to 2,000 University students, graduates of their own schools last year, in order to evaluate their preparation for the university. The students will discuss their orientation and adjustment to the campus and how previous training is helping them in their present studies.

The theme, "Counseling The Student," will be carried out in a workshop and discussion group

Mothers' Club Is Lauded by Students

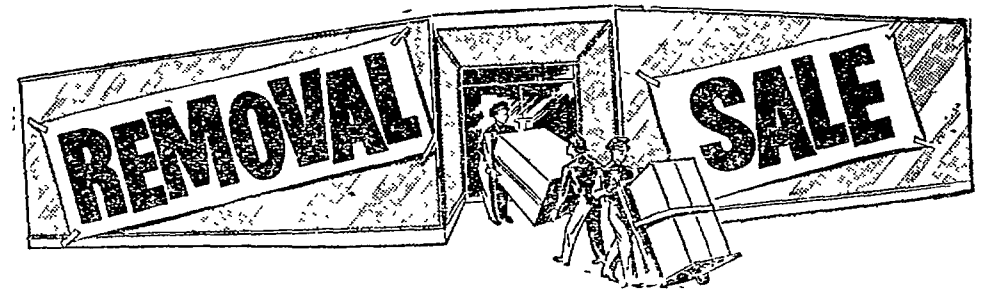

The student body would like to express its appreciation for the wonderful evening the Mothers' club provided. Both the school children and the parents think the project was very successful and hope it will be repeated next year.

We noticed there was less soaping of windows and believe it is because the merchants were kind enough to let us paint them. First prize went to Karen Austen, Elaine Drew, and Marilyn Engel for their Halloween scenes in Kroger's. Second prize was awarded Jackie Campbell, Nancy Stamann, and Dianne Matthews for the window at Freydl's Cleaners. Cap Pethers and Mac Burns received third place for their job at Paul's Sweet Shoppe.

First, second, and third prizes for costumes were presented to David Smith, Nancy Beard, and Mike Castle.

NHS Mustangs Seek Homecoming Victory Over Brighton

Holly '11' Trims Mustangs' Tail By 19-13 Score

It will be Homecoming day Friday, and Northville's determined Mustangs have resolved to send Brighton back home at the short end of the score.

That, at least, was the word going around high school football circles following the Mustangs' loss to Holly here last Friday night, 19 to 13. The same score pertained to the Clarkston game the previous week, and the Mustangs see a chance to reverse it against Brighton.

Runs 64 Yards

The second time the Hollyites got possession of the ball last Friday night they blasted it over for a score. Following a punt on the Holly 36 yard line, Hunter smashed through right tackle, put on a burst of speed, and outran all of the Mustangs on a 64 yard jaunt. He missed the point.

Co-Capt. Joe Girardin teamed with Bud Lovett and John Chapman to scoop up some yardage after the kickoff, but eventually bogged down and had to punt. On the first play from scrimmage, however, Holly fumbled and Paul Hamlin fell on the ball for Northville on the Holly 7.

Girardin raced around end to score, and when Lovett made the extra point on a line plunge, Northville led, 7 to 6.

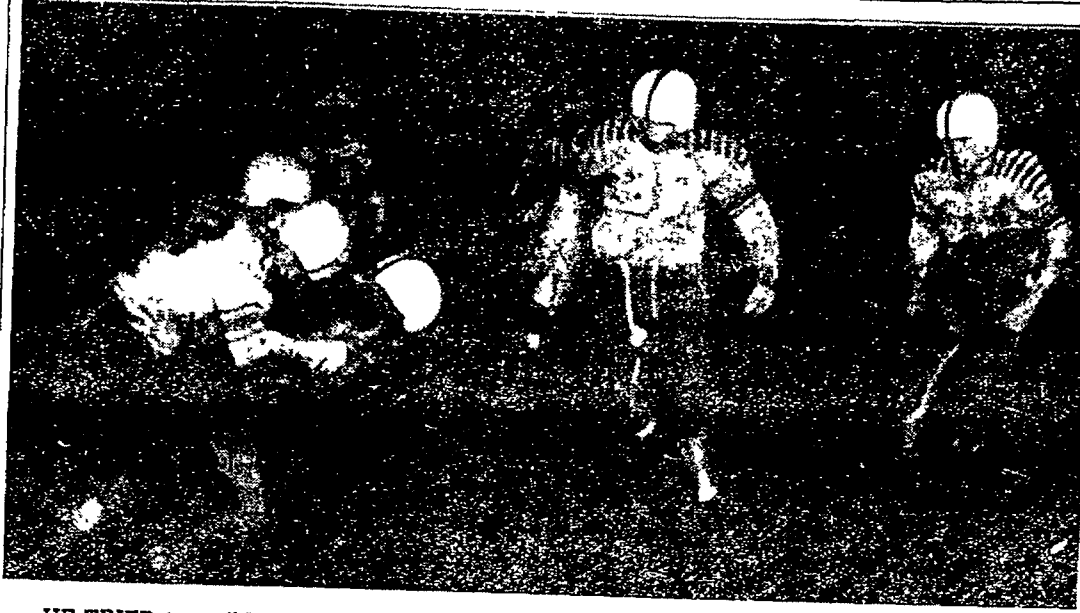

The two teams pushed each other back and forth throughout the second quarter, neither getting anywhere until, with 25 seconds left, Hunter again tore around end and raced 35 yards to cross the Northville goal. Again the point was missed, and the half ended with the score Holly 12, Northville 7.

Hunter Scores Again

After two exchanges of punts, Holly again worked the ball close to the Mustang goal, and Hunter crashed over from the one yard line. This time his kick was good.

A 17 yard scamper by Larry Meyer started another Northville drive, but Bell's pass was incomplete on the Holly 42 before he was able to get off a ten-yarder to Paul Schulz. A 19 yard pass to Dale Cook and a 3 yarder to Chapman was followed by a 17 yard run by Bud Bell to the Holly nine yard line. Chapman lost seven on an end run, but Bell then pitched 15 yards to Schulz, who scampered over. He missed the point, and the game ended, 19 to 13.

First down statistics favored Northville, 10 to 5, but Holly rolled up 199 yards rushing to the Mustangs' 137. Bell completed 5 of 15 passes for 53 yards, while Holly completed 2 of 4 for 41 yards.

HE TRIED to go "thataway", but a burly Holly lineman grabbed Joe Girardin, Mustang co-captain, in the second quarter of last Friday's game with Holly, and said "Huh-uh." It was that way most game from the sidelines.

Rams Whip Kats In Annual Game

The Kats tried hard, and there were many frustrated tears at the end of the game, but the Rams of Northville Junior High school emerged an 18 to 0 victor in the annual gridiron tilt at Ford field Saturday night.

The participants, all 12, 13 and 14 year olds, showed some mighty good football at times, considering their youthfulness and inexperience. An officiating mixup in the second period prevented a possible score by the underdog Kats, in the opinion of Kats' parents, who were hopeful that their team might manage a victory in the six-year-old series.

Coach Al Jones of the Rams, however, explained that the two young officials used had become confused on a previous play, and had placed the yardsticks on the wrong lines. What looked like a first down on the ten yard stripe, he said, actually fell short, and the ball therefore went over to the Rams.

In the second half, the Rams broke through to score twice on runs by Jimmy Strange, but the "heartbreaker" for the Kats was a 49 yard dash by "Spike" Walker for the final tally. Dick Gray coached the losers.

Team members and their positions were:
Rams: Nash, Q; Morgan, B; Juday, C; Parrish, T; Hix, G; Ashby, E; Cherne, G; Aenchbacher, T; Searfoss, T; Fraser, T; Strange, B; Chizmar, G; Lamp, T; Walker, B; Rayl, E; Beardin, T; Smith, C; Clarke, E; Batzer, T; Patterson, E; Eastland, Q.

Kats: Burns, Q; Mitchell, B; Nitzel, B; Atchison, B; Gotro, B; Yerkes, C; Nash, D. G; Janchick, C; Hartley, T; Nichols, E; Kohs, G; Gornall, E; Goodrich, T; Bondy, E; Schrader, T; Ware, G; Tegge, B; Johnston, E; Putnam, G; Muller, E; Page, C; Jurod, C.

SPORTS FLASHES

That late November date with Ohio State still looms large for Michigan and the Big Ten championship, despite the Wolverines' loss to Indiana. Michigan should take Illinois this week, and Michigan State next week, say the experts. If they do, the Wolverines can tie for the title by whipping the Bucks if both teams win their other conference contests.

Danny Letwhiler built a reputation as a long-ball hitter in his 11 years in the majors, but he's remembered in the Hall of Fame for something else. The glove he wore in setting a major league record of 187 consecutive games without an error now rests in the Cooperstown museum. Letwhiler began the record with the Phils in 1942. He carried it through that season, 151 games, and into June of 1943 when, with the Cardinals, he broke his string on a comparatively easy chance.

It's routine for Detroit Red Wing hockey players to order steak dinners the afternoon of a game. On the road, they dine at 3 or 3:30, then take a nap until time to take to the ice. The players say they find big steaks about the most relaxing thing they can find.

Which college team has the winningest record for the past dozen years? It's Georgia Tech. Figures show that Georgia Tech won 99 games while losing 31 and tying two in the years 1942 through 1953. The team, however, doesn't have the best winning percentage for those years. It's mark is .762. Notre Dame, with 94 wins, 15 losses and nine ties, is tops in percentage with .862.

Joe McCarthy, the famous former manager of the Cubs, Yankees and Red Sox, says Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey were his favorite Yankees. "They were the greatest," he says, year after year. McCarthy's reminiscences are being published in The Sporting News. Among other players he talks about, he says Earle Combs was the most nearly ideal player. Joe DiMaggio needed less tutoring than any, and when it came down to pitchers who could win the "blue chip" games, he picks Vernon Gomez and Red Ruffing.

SNAKE IN RADIO

Shelby, N. C. — J. B. Jolley looked up to see a snake's head protruding from the back of his radio. Looking again to be sure he wasn't just "seeing things," Jolley took the set out of the house, shook it and taped on the cabinet, but the stubborn snake refused to budge. Finally, Jolley hooked up an extension cord and turned on the set. The heat from the tubes caused the snake to slither out.

Figures for the first half of this year indicate that the Soviet Union will have a record trade deficit with the free world countries despite surpluses being pulled up in the United States, Britain and France.

Adult Education Class Delves Into Problems on "You and Your Community"

The Northville Adult Education class held its seventh class Tuesday evening in the Community building, with two more meetings to go. This course, which was offered to Northville, was one of only three Adult Education courses allotted to the State of Michigan by Dr. Howard Y. McCluskey. Dr. McCluskey represents the Adult Education program made possible by the Ford Foundation under the University of Michigan extension service.

The course entitled "You and Your Community," which is a series of two hour long lectures, once a week for nine weeks, stimulates discussion on community problems and their solution.

Leaders Named

Each member was presented with eight study books on community development and the class is conducted according to these books. Each week it is directed by a leader selected from the members. Local community problems are brought up and improvements and faults discussed. A film is shown each week pertinent to the subject matter in the lesson for that week.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Samuel Geraci, who, with Mrs. William Milne is a charter member of the organization, a representative from the University of Michigan is present at each meeting. When a deadlock is reached in discussion, he is called upon for his opinion. In the Oct. 26 meeting, University Student Michael Denny was present to observe along with Allen Menlo, the University representative.

In recognition of her untiring efforts in organizing the Adult Education classes, Mrs. Geraci has been given the title of "Major" by headquarters, of which Blue Carstenson is co-ordinator for Michigan.

Enthusiasm Shown

Such enthusiasm has been shown that it is the desire of the class that they continue these discussions of community problems. Dr. McCluskey has stated that he would consider preparing another series of lessons which would fit this community.

The series will be entitled "Advanced Community Development."

"The clock always seems to run too fast, and so many problems and their possible solutions arise that it is difficult to complete each lesson in the allotted time," Mrs. Geraci said.

Tremendous interest has been shown at these meetings and it is hoped that a permanent organization will grow from them.

Members of the class are:

Dr. Wilbur Johnston, Lynn Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mollema, Mrs. Robert Coolman, Mrs. William Milne, L. V. Smith, Mrs. Harvey Richie;

Mrs. A. Carlson, George Clark, Mrs. Samuel Geraci, Claude Ely, Carl Johnson, Russell Amerman, Nelson Schrader, Mrs. Robert Niemel, John Canterbury, Charles Bahnmiller and Abe Brickner.

Farmington Players To Present Play

The Farmington Players will present "January Thaw," the delightful three-act comedy by William Roos, adapted from the novel by Bellamy Partridge, on Friday and Saturday, November 5 and 6, in the Farmington Methodist church auditorium. Curtain will go up at 8:30 p.m.

In the cast are Mildred Sullivan, Ernest Rickman, Mary Stoll, Mary Ann Perry, Hope Nahstoll, Dorothy Miller, George Mullin, Wesley Orr, Marion Hamilton, John Rogers, Ron Jackson, William Wilson, Owen Martin, and Franklin Sullivan.

The play is being directed by Mrs. Farrel Weber and Richard Stuntz.

DATE CHANGED

The social security representative of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office will not make the scheduled visit to Plymouth on Thursday, Nov. 11, due to the Veterans (Armistice) Day Holiday. All residents of the Northville area who have social security matters to discuss should call at the Plymouth Post Office between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon on Wednesday, Nov. 10.
