Production of the 50,000,000th General Motors vehicle last Tuesday was at once a tribute to the engineering, manufacturing and managerial skill displayed by the world's largest corporation over the past 35 years, and a testimonial to the benefits which the whole world has derived in one way or another from our American system of free enterprise.

While G.M. was specifically commemorating the production of its 50,000,000th vehicle, the celebration also spotlighted how the mass production techniques of the automobile industry have been adapted to the manufacture of so many other everyday necessities—refrigerators, washing machines, radios, television, etc. Though these are commonplace necessities in the United States because they are manufactured so cheaply they can be purchased by almost everyone, they would be luxuries of the highest order to the peoples of countries that have been backward in developing manufacturing skills.

Using the auto industry as an example of how fully a nation can benefit from its ability to produce efficiently, these facts are interesting:

70% of all U.S. families own automobiles.
There are 70 million drivers of cars, trucks and buses in the U.S.; one third of drivers are women.
In 1953 for the second time, motor vehicles were driven more than 500 billion miles.
29% of all school children ride to school in buses.
One out of every six businesses in the U. S. is automotive.

Insurance premiums paid by motor vehicle owners exceed $3.6 billions annually.

Highway users paid $6 billion in taxes in 1953.
1953 traffic fatalities of 7.1 persons per 100 million vehicle miles were at the lowest point since records have been kept.

28% of the delivered price of a new car consists of taxes.

Despite all these impressive statistics from the Automobile Manufacturers Association, one thing puzzles us about the G.M. celebration. How did the public relations department figure out just which car would be the 50,000,000th when the assembly lines of all G.M. divisions are supposedly humming along at a rapid pace. It must have taken some split-second timing to pick the umpteenth Chevrolet coming off the line on Tuesday, Nov. 23.

And what if this umpteenth Chevrolet had come off the line at 7:45 in the morning at Chevrolet's St. Louis assembly plant? The corporation surely was lucky that the happy event transpired at Flint at 10:10 a.m. so the special "Golden Train" carrying notables from Detroit and elsewhere could arrive just after its guests had finished a leisurely breakfast in the dining car.

But as we said before, G. M. is singularly blessed with the highest type of managerial skill.

State Attorney General Frank G. Millard's staff filed a motion with the State Supreme court Monday to dismiss the Turnpike Authority suit to test the new Toll Road act. This suit was started several months ago by the Turnpike Authority to test the legality of certain steps and procedures which the Authority proposed. Clarification of these matters is necessary before the Turnpike Authority can proceed with construction of the proposed toll road from Rockwood to Saginaw.

The Attorney General's office now contends that Turnpike Authority attorneys have not followed the proper legal procedure in taking their case to the Supreme Court.

What the facts are we do not know, but it is to be hoped they do not prevent the Supreme Court from making an early determination in the matter. We hope our first judgment of the Attorney General's action as being a delaying procedure designed to stymie starting construction of the toll road in 1955 is wrong. That will be the practical effect of a dismissal of the Turnpike Authority's suit by the Supreme Court next Monday.

Noted MSC Coach To Speak at Football Fete

Unsung gridiron heroes and heroines of Northville—those who work behind the scenes to make possible the actual touchdowns on the field—will have their inning Dec. 4 when the first annual Northville High school Football Bust will be put on at the Community Center.

John Kobs, noted baseball coach and assistant football coach at Michigan State college, will be one of three speakers. Others are Roy M. Miller, associate professor of musical education at Wayne university, and Miss Pauline Hess, of the Girls' physical education department of MSC.

Buckley Chairman

Allen J. Buckley, originator of the event, will act as chairman, while Supt. of Schools Russell Amerman will be honorary chairman. Awards are to be presented by the coaching staff of the high school: Director of Athletics Al Jones, Richard Kay, Ronald Schipper, Stanley Johnston and H. Weber.

Buckley said the primary purpose of the affair, which will include a banquet at 6:30 p.m., is to honor all those who participate in gridiron activities in any capacity, from pushups to writeups. These include the following:

Guests Honored

A number of special guests also will be present. These include: Principal Elroy V. Ellison, Edward Angove and Dr. L. W. Snow of the committee; Rev. Fr. Anthony Heraty, Our Lady of Victory church; Ida B. Cook and Alvin Skow, in charge of cheerleaders; Stanley Hench, James Madigan, Edward Mollema, and La-gene Quay; tickets; Harry Smith and Charles Yahn, scoring; Frederick Stefanski, student council; and G. R. Johnston, managing editor of The Northville Record.

The banquet is to be served promptly at 6:30 p.m., Buckley said, with the following Northville women assisting: Mrs. Jack Dewsbury, Mrs. Dewey Burrell, Mrs. Ed Angove, Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Mrs. Ed Riley, Mrs. Russell Clark, Mrs. James Green, Mrs. H. Hartner, Mrs. Robert Coolman, Mrs. Robert Dearing, Mrs. Eldon Biery and Mrs. Buckley.

Sponsors Listed

Organizations and individuals participating in sponsoring the event are:

Methodist Church women; Optimists; American Legion; American Legion Auxiliary; Driving Club; D.A.R.; Northville Women's Club; Retail Merchants; Catholic Mothers; Eastern Star; Holy Name Society; Northville High School; Northville Mothers Club; Rotary Club; Exchange Club; the VFW; VFW Auxiliary; Business Women's Club; Lutheran Women; Northville Downs; Mayor Claude Ely; Gill Glasson; Mrs. Robert Jearling, Northville Downs.

The banquet is being financed through the sale of Booster buttons. Buckley emphasized that

Northville Youth Now on Okinawa

OKINAWA — Pvt Adolph C. Neuman Jr., 19, whose parents live at 1931 Clement Rd., Northville, Mich., has arrived at Fort Buckner, Okinawa, for duty as a patrolman with the 98th Military Police Bn.

A strong U. S. outpost in the Far East, Okinawa is located off the coast of China between Formosa and the southern tip of Japan.

Pvt. Neuman, last stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., entered the Army in February, 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Noted Violinist To Play Sunday In Plymouth Concert

Josef Lazareff, noted violinist, will be the featured soloist at a concert to be given by the Plymouth Symphony orchestra Sunday.

The concert will be in the Plymouth High school auditorium, beginning at 4 p.m. There will be no charge, and Northville music lovers are invited.

possession of a button does not entitle the holder to a seat at the banquet, which will be open only to ticket holders. A number of buttons still are available, he said.

Permit Issued In Docksey Case

Issuance of a building permit to Ralph Docksey, of Ridge Rd., has ended a suit brought against him for violation of a Northville township regulation, Mrs. Mollie Lawrence, township supervisor, said Monday night.

At a hearing held before Circuit Judge John V. Brennan in Detroit, Docksey was given a week to obtain a permit for a single dwelling. Previously, he had been denied a permit for a multiple dwelling, and suit was filed against him when the building inspector reported that he was proceeding with construction despite the refusal of the township zoning board.

Now that he has complied with the ruling, Mrs. Lawrence said, the suit will be dropped.

Time To Play Santa Claus Is Here Again for Residents of Northville

Once again Northville residents are given an opportunity to play Santa Claus to children from Maybury Sanatorium and the convalescent home at Farmington. Letters from these children have begun to come in to Mrs. George V. Chabut of Sheldon Road and she counts on Northville residents to make the holiday season a little brighter for these youngsters who must spend months in lonely hospital rooms away from their families and friends.

The older children in the two hospitals, compose their own letters to Santa Claus, while the smaller ones dictate their requests to nurses. Letters are delivered to Mrs. Chabut who acts as a clearing house to make sure that no child is forgotten.

Anyone interested in answering individual requests should contact Mrs. Chabut at 131 as soon as possible. She will see that they are supplied with the name of a child and what he or she wants for Christmas.

Gifts should be wrapped in Christmas paper with the names of the children placed on the outside of each package and they should be marked "From Santa Claus." Any additional information regarding the letters and the packages may be obtained from Mrs. Chabut.

Northville Given Boost By Village Study Group; 13 Problems Are Listed

Northville compares favorably with other communities across the nation in an educational, economic and religious sense, members of the Northville Community Development class have concluded.

The class, which has been meeting for the past ten weeks under the guidance of University of Michigan community relations experts, summed up its study of local conditions with a report that while the Village is ahead of the national average in some things, there are others which constitute community problems.

All Participate

"One of the interesting and thought provoking activities of the community study course," said Ed C. Welch, acting chairman in the absence of Mrs. Samuel Geraci, "was the comparison of local facts and statistics with known national averages or standards. All members of the group participated in obtaining and discussing economic, educational, religious, health and other data pertaining to the Northville community."

In almost all cases the group found the local community to be above average. For example, the five local churches have a combined membership of 2,470, where as, nationally, only 54 per cent of the total population are church members. Nationally, 60 per cent of those attending church are females but in Northville the males comprise 45 per cent of the average church attendance.

Originally, Northville's share of the expense of maintaining the library branch on S. Wing St. was computed at between $2,500 and $3,000. This was based on assessment figures given the county, but new figures furnished by Assessor E. M. Bogart have shown this to be in error, and the actual sum Northville must pay in future will be approximately $1,000, she said.

Cost of the service annually is $13,274.95, she told the commission. This is for salaries of two librarians and maintenance personnel, and for utilities, books, binding, etc. The library building itself is furnished by Northville township.

Reason for the special meeting was because of a demand by the county for action prior to Dec. 1 when the new fiscal year begins. Alternatives to agreement to pay its share of the cost would mean cessation of service. Mrs. Wagenschutz indicated, however, the commission felt that even at $1,000 annually, the library is a "bargain," and swiftly passed the required resolution.

The action will have no effect on the present budget, however. Payment is due Dec. 1, 1955.

Thanksgiving To Be Quiet Here

Thanksgiving will be quiet in Northville, in keeping with tradition.

Families will gather together for the customary feasting and good cheer. There will be the usual turkey and all the trimmings; boys will be home from the army, navy, air force and other services; and relatives will gather from far and near.

Many of the churches will have special services, but otherwise there will be little activity.

Seniors Give $131 To Community Center

The Community Center fund has been enriched by $131.58 which has been given by the Senior class of Northville High school. The sum represents the balance in the class treasury upon graduation.

Prin E. V. Ellison, in transmitting the sum to the Village commission, recommended that the money be applied toward purchase of a stage curtain. Cost of the curtain is estimated to be about $750. A letter of thanks was sent to the class.

Northville merchants who sponsor these decorations have made extensive plans to give Northville one of the most attractively decorated business districts in the entire area.

Further plans provide for a visit by Santa Claus at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 17. This is another annual event sponsored by local merchants.

With respect to schools, teachers' salaries, expenditures per pupil and average daily attendance are above the national averages. On the other hand, local schools have slightly more pupils per teacher, 26.9, than the national average of 24 pupils per teacher.

The medical needs of the community, the report indicates, should be well taken care of since there are in excess of three doctors per 1000 population in the service area compared with the national average of one doctor per 1000 population. The ratio of public health nurses, however, was estimated to be under the national norm.

The popularity of the local library branch is borne out by the fact that its circulation last year was in excess of six per capita, compared with the national circulation ratio of 3.4 books per capita.

Problems Listed
In the concluding sessions of the community study course members of the group suggested a preliminary list of Northville problems or what might be labeled "Unfinished Business of the Community." Opinions varied with respect to the degree to which particular problems exist locally. However, there was a general consensus that the list which follows is worthy of consideration and further study:

Substandard housing, health and sanitary conditions in some areas; Lack of forward (long range) planning; Need for equitable property tax assessments; Inadequate financing of local government; Village charter revision; Inadequate local government structure and organization; Curbs, streets, gutters and public lighting improvement; Inadequate enforcement of traffic (speed) and dog ordinances; Need to encourage light industry to locate here; Lack of a Citizens' League or Civic Ass'n; Chamber of Commerce; Need for vocational and personal counseling service; and Inadequate news coverage.

On the subject of news coverage, Welch said the group recognized that only a daily newspaper, with an adequate editorial staff, could possibly cover all community happenings. The item was included for discussion along with others which the group agreed might not be feasible in a small town.

May Continue
Should the community study group decide to continue with its meetings or perhaps arrange to study an advanced course under

Merchants Plan Yule Festivities

Northville Merchants will again offer thousands of bargains on Friday and Saturday Dec. 3 and 4 as an introduction to the Christmas season.

This will be the third of a series of Hometown Bargain Days, and again there will be a group of prizes offered. The prizes will be on display in the Depositor's Bank lobby.

Shoppers from Northville and the surrounding area have been fitted from the previous bargains offered and plans underway indicate that shoppers on the Bargain Day will save on many items which are ideal for Christmas gifts.

Work is now underway decorating the main streets in North-

ROBERT LEE LILES

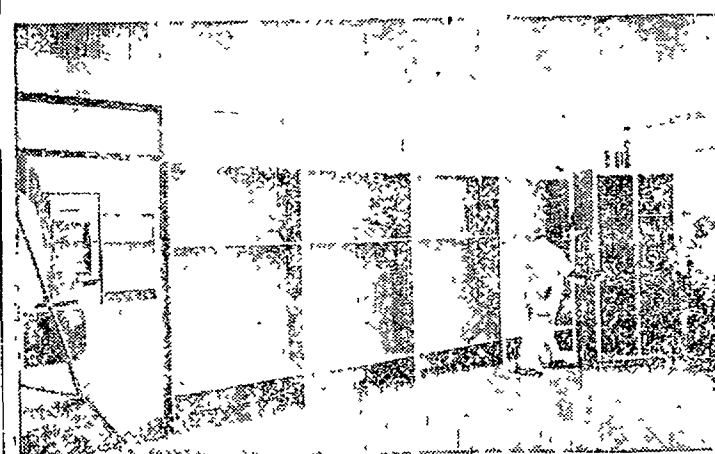

Robert Lee Liles, age 63, died Saturday at the Detroit Memorial hospital. He was born Nov. 17, at Evansville, Ind., and resided on 19880 Maxwell for the past three years. He was a painter and decorator and prior to coming to Northville, had resided in Detroit.

Besides his wife Dora T. at the above address, he is survived by three sons and one daughter: Robert Leland of Detroit, Claude E. of Hazel Park, Harold E. of Ferndale and Mrs. Charles (Martha) Ranes of Royal Oak. A sister, Mrs. Leona Scott, of Martin, Ill., and 14 grandchildren also survive.

Rev. Ivan E. Hodgson will officiate at the funeral services Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Virgil E. Kinsey funeral home in Royal Oak. Burial will be at Oakview cemetery.

The deceased was a member of Lodge 186 F & AM and of the Methodist church. The Masonic lodge will conduct the services.

How a School District Stretched Its Dollars

School boards everywhere today are faced with the need for many new schools to be built within tight budgets.

Here is the way one Michigan school district has solved the problem of stretching the school dollar.

The South Lake School District told H. E. Beyster & Associates, Detroit architects and engineers, of the need to build the Pare School in St. Clair Shores within a $165,000 budget and yet provide eight classrooms, a kindergarten, an office and a teachers' room.

Calling upon their experience with industrial methods and materials, the Beyster firm produced what the South Lake district needed and yet came up with a good-looking school. Through the use of color and glass panels with an overhanging roof for light control, a very well-lighted, home-like atmosphere has been created in this low-cost elementary unit.

One of the prime examples of the architect's ingenuity is the use of portable partitions. The accompanying picture shows how flexibility of space arrangement is provided by these movable partitions, which also serve as storage spaces.

They can be installed and chored at five foot modules to provide various classroom sizes or they can be removed entirely should the requirements change in the future.

Each partition contains coat storage for one classroom and teachers' closets for the adjoining room. Chalk and tack board may be hung on the smooth surfaces. Like magic, therefore, an empty space can become a classroom with coat storage, teachers' closets, chalk and tack board and shelves by moving two of the partitions into place.

Then, if in the future, the school board desires to move classrooms elsewhere it could easily have a large clear space for shops, recreation facilities or other purposes by simply removing all the partitions.

This feature, plus the use of metal roof decks, plastic bubbles on the roof for interior lighting and other items used commonly in other fields, has provided a sleek, good-looking school which simultaneously accommodates 290 South Lake School District pupils at the real "stretch-the-dollar" price of $165,000.

Wild Life Notes...

LANSING.—State conservation department workers are urging that hunters planning northern trips this year carry at least a compass, matches and a map of the country being hunted.

These three items may spell the difference between life and death for even the most experienced woodsman. Mixed with a little common sense, they have often saved hunters from a gloomy woodland doom.

The compass and map have to be trusted. When the compass seems to be going the wrong way, the hunter should follow its lead.

Law officers, who help find lost persons, say panic is the most dangerous enemy facing the hunter.

"The best thing to do is to build a fire, sit down and consider the situation," says E. E. Tucker, in charge of law enforcement work. "Keep warm and conserve energy," he adds. "And when you decide from the map and compass which way to move, go in one direction by lining up trees ahead and guiding on them."

Teen-age hunters are well on their way again this year to being the most dangerous group afield.

To date in Michigan's month-old hunting season, five youngsters have been killed and 19 wounded. In comparison, four adults have been killed and 49 wounded.

Most of these accidents have been self-inflicted wounds or wounds inflicted by other members of the hunter's party.

No person under 17 years of age may purchase a hunting license without written approval of parent or guardian, but this year about 100,000 youngsters have received such approval.

Hunters have bagged 449 Canada geese at the Swan Creek highbanks shooting area and 210 at the Fennville game area this year.

The total is well ahead of the pace set by hunters in both 1952 and 1953.

At present, about 4000 geese are in the area, highest total yet this fall.

Reports of 228 convictions of conservation law violators were received in conservation department headquarters last week.

Nearly all were convicted of game law infractions. The previous week, officers reported 271 convictions.

Michigan's state police and conservation departments cooperate in providing a message service during hunting seasons so sportsmen can keep emergency contact with their families.

Hunters should tell their families where they plan to hunt, how long they intend to stay and other general information. Then they must register at the conservation or police post nearest where they hunt.

Each year, conservation and police officers deliver hundreds of emergency messages to hunting camps.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The vital importance of detecting the false suggestions of evil and correcting them with the spiritual truth concerning God's un-failing goodness and all-power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

In the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," the following passage will be read from the Bible (Isaiah 8:20): "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!"

From "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy the following passages will be read (469:13): "Mind is God. The exterminator of error is the great truth that God, good, is the only Mind, and that the supposititious 'opposite of infinite Mind—called devil or evil—is not Mind, is not Truth, but error, without intelligence or reality."

The Golden Text is from Romans (8:31): "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Tribute To A Newsman

One of the Smith boys has passed from the Michigan newspaper scene.

Edward F. Smith, star reporter for the Jackson Citizen-Patriot for many years, widely known and deeply respected in news circles, retired last month from the paper he served so long.

Michigan has had many great newspaper reporters and editors. Ed Smith never thought of himself as "great". He'd probably object to the designation of "star reporter", which after all connotes something of a glamorized character. He preferred, instead, to be known as a "good" reporter, and he was rightfully proud of his calling.

South-central Michigan was his "beat." For years he was a correspondent for Detroit papers, first for The Free Press and then The News. Beyond that, and covering his own area for The Citizen Patriot, he had no ambition to become a nationally famous newsmen. He was content to live in his own ballroom, where everyone in seven counties who knew him, liked him and respected him.

In our book, Ed Smith was one of the most capable all-around newspapermen Michigan has ever produced.

When we first met him, during the "Dirty Thirties", he was handling the telegraph key, at which he was adept, as well as writing. For six eventful years we worked with him. We'll never forget the sly twinkle in his eye late on a Saturday afternoon when he'd offer to bet that Michigan would whip Princeton or Yale or whatever team the Wolverines were playing. Then he'd reveal that his keen ear had picked up the score from the muffled telegraph key in an adjoining room.

Mildmannered, friendly, unobtrusive — as a good reporter should be — he gained stature increasingly as news editor, city editor, feature writer and columnist. Even the inmates of Jackson prison, which was on his beat for the past 15 or 20 years, admired and trusted him. When the latest of a series of prison riots at Jackson occurred there was just one man the inmates would trust to open negotiations with Prison officials—Ed Smith.

Ed was always on the job when trouble happened. There was only one time another newsmen beat him to the scene. We happened to be refereeing a football game inside the walls in the late thirties a game between a fine inmate team and the Little Flower semipro squad from Detroit. An inmate halfback had just scored on a 90 yard run when guards swarmed onto the field and began herding the 3,000 "spectators" into their cells.

Six convicts had gone over the walls, blowing the chief inspector or of guards apart with a shotgun. It was quite a story. We were there first, right on the spot, but it was Ed's story, and he handled it in masterful style, as he did all his stories.

Yes, in our book, Ed Smith ranks with the best of them. As a "good reporter," he had no peer.

Defender, Etc. Dept.

In our role as Defender of the Bastion, we confess a raised eyebrow at the current tour by the Old North Church weather vane to collect $150,000 for a steeple to replace the one damaged by Hurricane Carol.

The original one, according to conservative estimates, cost less than $500. Despite present-day prices a whole church could be built for $150,000.

Even in a land where somebody is always dipping into your pocket for a "worthy cause", this one would seem a mite apocryphal.

The fleet exercise extended over much of the Eastern Atlantic, and culminated in an amphibious assault on Onslow Beach, N.C., Nov. 16-20. Some 50,000 Navy and 26,000 Marine personnel and more than 200 surface ships, submarines, Naval and Marine air units took part in the maneuvers.

The exercise was designed to test the readiness of the fleet to carry out its war-time job of controlling the vital Atlantic sea

Children's Story-Book Land Recreated In Christmas Fantasy at Rotunda

A children's story book land, complete with a huge castle for Santa Claus, will be recreated in a Christmas setting Saturday, Nov. 27, with the opening of a Christmas Fantasy show in the Ford Rotunda at Dearborn.

The show in the industrial display building on Schaefer Rd. will continue through Christmas Eve. It will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and from 1 to 9 p.m. on Sundays. Northville residents and children have been invited to see the show.

Approximately twice the size of last year's Rotunda Christmas pageant, which attracted nearly 500,000 people, the fantasy will include 25 animated characters, live reindeer, a multi-story castle in which Santa will visit with youngsters and several three dimensional dioramas.

The animated displays will feature—in Christmas and winter settings — Hansel and Gretel, Robin Hood, Wee Winkle, Bo-Peep, Little Boy Blue, Puss-in-Boots, Mary and her "little lamb," and Humpty-Dumpty.

In addition to the life-size story book figures, also animated will be a group of tiny elves along a moving toy assembly line.

Santa's castle will be approximately 45 feet high, and youngsters will walk up a curved ramp to visit St. Nick. Each youngster will receive a Christmas Souvenir book from Santa.

Special displays in three-dimensional dioramas will feature the Nativity scene, the story of "The Night Before Christmas" and the traditional tree cutting story.

Other features of the fantasy will include a 35-foot Christmas tree with approximately 700 lights, a television and radio theater with

Scouts To Collect Clothing Nov. 27

Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Northville area, distributed several thousand paper bags, to homes Saturday in their first annual Thanksgiving good turn for Goodwill Industries. This is the first time since 1938 that Scouting and Goodwill have joined forces to keep hundreds of handicapped people busy during the winter months when salvage donations usually are at a low ebb. In 1938 the one and only Goodwill warehouse completely burned out and Detroit Area Scouts came to the rescue in making thousands of house-to-house calls to keep Goodwill Industries going.

Collection Day is next Saturday, November 27, when the filled bags are to be collected by the Scouts and Explorers and taken to trucks and trailers spotted in their area. Citizens of this community are asked to fill their bags with cast-off, worn, or unwanted clothing and place the bags on their front porch. Only clothing is desired in this drive as shoes, paper, books, furniture, and other items cannot be conveniently handled by the scouts.

All this - and more miles per gallon too!

Be sure to test out the phenomenal effect of "variable pitch propellers" in Dynaflo Drive!

MAYBE—among the upcoming crop of new 1955 models—there's another car with an advance that can hold a candle to this one. But we doubt it. We doubt it because nowhere—among the rumors of what's cooking in automotive laboratories—is there anything to compare with what's actually happened at Buick.

It all started with the fact that modern air liners get two big advantages because they can change the pitch of their propellers.

First, they get off the ground hundreds of feet sooner than they used to.

Second, they can stretch their gasoline by setting propeller blades at just the right "pitch" for cruising.

JACK SELLES BUICK

200 Ann Arbor Rd. PLYMOUTH, MICH.

So Buick engineers asked themselves—"If you can do it with air, why can't you do it with oil—the oil inside a Dynaflo Drive?" And to make a long story short—they could, and they did.

They designed and engineered the propeller-like blades inside the "stator" of a Dynaflo Drive so they can change their pitch as much as 75 degrees.

That provides one setting for more—miles-per-gallon, and another for an instant safety-surge of power when it's needed.

Allyou have to do is push the accelerator pedal down to the last half-inch beyond the full throttle position—and a-ways you go!

Of course, there's a lot more to make a visit to our showrooms the "must" of the new-car year.

There's a step-up in styling as sensational as the step-up in power. And the step-up in horsepower is this: 236 in the ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—188 in the low-priced SPECIAL.

Pay-off on progress!

Buicks today go a lot farther on a gallon of gas, thanks to constant improvement in Dynaflo and in engine design. Even the new 236-hp ROADMASTER averages 4.8 more miles per gallon than Buicks of six years ago.

New Cars Aid Economy

New car stocks in automobile retailers' showrooms last month totaled only about 300,000. This was the lowest inventory of new cars in dealers' hands in several years.

Other reports show that used car lots also had been thinned out. This should mean a healthier situation among automobile retailers in 1955 than was experienced in 1954.

These figures are the basis of predictions in the automobile trade that approximately 5,300,000 units will be sold in 1955. Last year there were estimates that 1954 sales would total as high as 6,000,000 units, but this proved over-optimistic and to sell even the smaller total, many dealers this year had to give large discounts and high trade-in allowances.

Faced with the biggest problem in 1955 are the independents, and the Chrysler Corporation, which saw its total sales shrink from 19.7 per cent in the first nine months of 1953 to 11.8 per cent in the same period this year.

None of the independents made money this year, and Chrysler lost money in the third quarter of this year—when it shut down to completely change all its models.

Since Henry Ford II, the president of Ford Motor Co., and General Motors executives have announced their intentions to make their lowest priced car the biggest seller in the nation, a fierce battle between these two widely-modernized cars is in view and another tough year of competition for the independents and Chrysler looms ahead.

will be the Packard Co., which will introduce a completely new line of Packards around the first of December.

Considering the fact that new car inventories are at a low of several years, and that used car inventories are also down, chances for a good year in 1955 are high—especially since so many models are completely new this year. We believe 1955 will be a healthier year for the automobile industry than was 1954, and if it is not, the American economy will then be seriously affected by the continuing plight of the automobile industry.

Investing In The Future

Our country continues to grow at such an amazing rate that it's predicted we will have a population of at least 200,000,000 by 1975.

An increase in population will bring about an increase in the labor force, and it is estimated that more than 20,000,000 new jobs will have to be made in the next 20 years—at least a million new jobs a year!

American industry is going to have to make those jobs, and it will take a lot of money: an average of $12,000 to furnish a single job in manufacturing. It will have to come from investors, and it will come if a healthy economic atmosphere is created.

That means the federal government must continue to make efforts toward eliminating wasteful spending, balance the budget and cut taxes. All of these will be factors in leaving more money in the hands of Americans—to invest in the future of America.

Clever People, The Chinese

A trick which the Chinese Communists appear to be using on foreign visitors is the display of large numbers of American cars everywhere the foreigners go in China. An Australian business man, A. A. Griffith, reveals the Communist method, and explained how the Communists used the American cars as part of their propaganda to divide the United States and Great Britain.

Griffith said he had discovered the Chinese Communists bought 719 American 1954 model cars in Eastern Europe last summer and that they rushed them to China just ahead of the distinguished British group which recently visited that country. They sent these cars by rail everywhere the Atlee mission was to go, and demonstrated them in front of the British visitors' eyes on every occasion.

The same experience, on the part of other distinguished visitors, has been reported. Several Australian women, who recently arrived in Hong Kong, after a month's tour of China, reported they had seen fleets of late model cars. They report these cars include Buicks, Studebakers and Chevrolets, among others.

The Communist idea is to show British citizens, and citizens of Commonwealth countries, that the Americans are doing a big trade with the Chinese, while attempting to prevent the British from trading with the Chinese.

Griffith, a commonwealth citizen, has rendered this country and the British Commonwealth a service in exposing this Communist ruse. One can imagine the reaction of Britishers, and other foreigners, at seeing large numbers of new U. S. cars in China—a country with which we are not supposed to be trading.

Unfortunately, such dishonest tricks sometimes achieve results, since there is not always someone with the inside facts to expose such methods.

PROCLAMATION

DIABETES DETECTION WEEK

November 22-27, 1954

WHEREAS The dread disease of diabetes afflicts thousands of persons in this country today who are wholly unaware of what ails them, and who could be treated and relieved if given the proper care, and

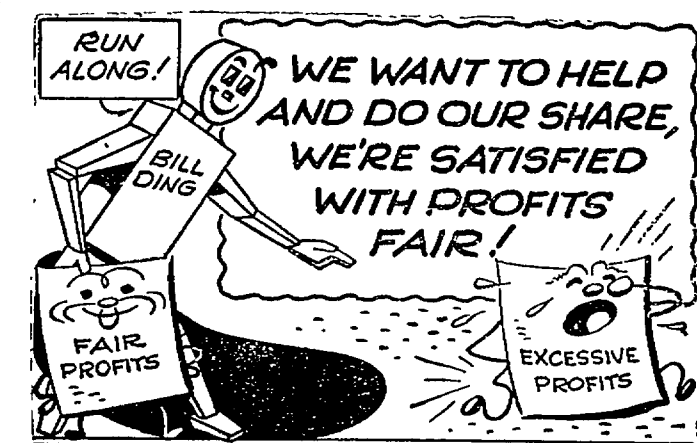

WHEREAS Although the causes of diabetes are still unknown, it is cheering to know that modern medical science has learned how to care for and relieve diabetics, many of whom are suffering needlessly, with skilled treatment available, and

WHEREAS The Wayne County Medical Society is sponsoring an Annual Diabetes Detection Week, fully convinced that the search for these unknown diabetics is one of the major tasks of modern medicine, and

WHEREAS It is of prime importance that every possible effort be made to find those who, unknown to themselves, are diabetic, and acquaint them with the facilities now available to them,

THEREFORE, I, Claude N. Ely, Mayor, do hereby proclaim the week of November 22-27, 1954, inclusive, as Diabetes Detection Week, and urge that it be observed as such.

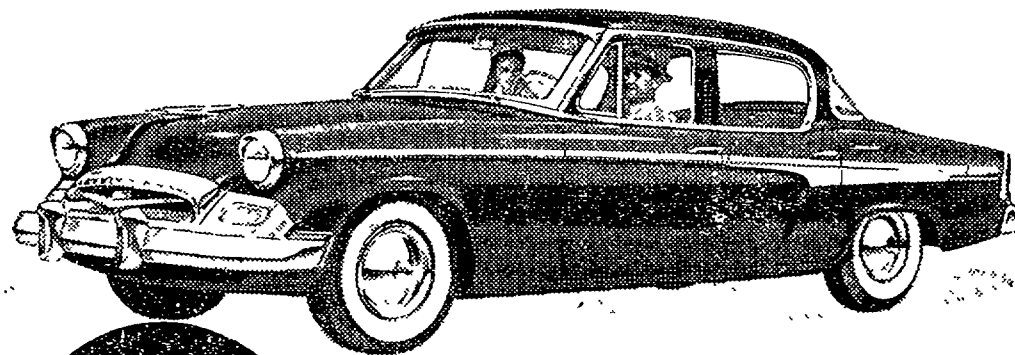

Claude N. Ely, Mayor

Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona has been congratulated for the excellent job he did in the Senate to dispel the myth of the Tennessee Valley Authority

Among the "absurd claims" for T.V.A., he said, is that it is returning handsome dividends to the federal government. The fact is, he showed, that the government has advanced or authorized appropriations to T.V.A. in the amount of $1,900,000,000. To date the agency has paid back $82 million.

At this rate it would take several hundred years to get its money back if it stopped advancing money now. But T.V.A., said the Senator, wants more money right along. It now demands $100 million to build steam plants near Memphis which private industry is ready to build.

He said that an examination shows that Tennessee has not improved economically as rapidly as some of its neighboring states. For example, he noted, Tennessee stood sixth among 10 neighboring states in 1933 in total income taxes paid, but despite T.V.A. it had reached only fifth in 1951. In retail sales, Tennessee stood first among her neighbors in 1935, but had dropped back to fifth place in 1948.

"In addition," the Senator pointed out, "whenever unemployment is prevalent in our country, Tennessee and the Pacific Northwest—a public power region—are usually classified as 'critical areas.'"

WOMAN'S WORLD

Homework Outfits
Are Smart Styles
That Go Anywhere

GRANDMOTHER never had it so good. She wouldn't believe her eyes if she saw today's cottons, so smart, so stylish that they don't have to be confined to the kitchen.

In grandmother's day a house dress was that and nothing more. She wouldn't be seen in it outside her domain. Her choice was limited to a small print trimmed with white cotton or lace. Dyes were unstable and prints faded. Because of shrinkage, the dress was cut like a potato sack. No wonder she didn't want to be seen in it.

Today's housedress is not necessarily a dress at all. It can be, but it will go shopping, calling or anywhere because it fits and is colorfast and attractively styled. However, today's homemaker can buy her homework outfit, and frequently does in the sportswear section, the separates shop, the brunch coat department or in active playclothes.

Separates Important

Matching separates are becoming very popular because they can be comfortable while you're doing

Here's a "workin' jerkin" with plenty of pockets that slips on and off with just two buttons at the waist. It's worn here with calfskinners in a contrasting color, both in sturdy sailing cloth. There's a matching sun bra so that you can peel for the jerkin for easy sun tanning.

ing work around the house as well as participating in any number of sports.

You can wear button knee pedal pushers for heavy work such as doing floors or laundry, then change into shorts for gardening or sunning, then slip on a gored skirt and go on a quick shopping trip. You can even have a jacket and hat to match the outfit to take care of weather changes.

Coveralls are another fashionable item. They're comfortable for the house jobs and will go on picnics, to the beach or be perfect for gardening.

Fancy Pants

Fancy pants are another outfit which are favored by women. They're designed with slim tapered legs which flatter and at the same time are cooler and more comfortable than slacks.

Frivolous trimmings give these pants their name. One pair in sleek black sanforized poplin have thick self ruffles around deep knee bands. Another swoops thick gold braid (washable, of course!) all the way down the side of the trousers. These pants will do wonders for your morale while you work.

Season Dishes
With Careful Hand

If you're fond of using several budget-wise main dishes in your menus, at least several times a week, then season with a careful hand. Carefully blended flavors resulting from a wise choice of foods spell favor for main dishes.

Families which like their foods with an occasional foreign accent will go for this tuna chow mein, hearty but not too heavy eating for this time of year.

Chow Mein with Tuna
(Serves 4-6)

- 1 7-ounce can solid pack tuna
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 large onion, sliced thin
- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced thin
- 1 No. 2 can Chinese vegetables
- Water
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- Chinese noodles

Drain tuna and reserve oil; break tuna into large pieces with fork. Melt butter over low heat and add tuna oil. Add celery, onion, mushrooms and saute until mushrooms are tender. Drain Chinese vegetables and reserve liquid. Add enough water to vegetable liquid to make 2 cups. Add to celery, onion and mushroom mixture. Bring to a boil and cook over low heat for 10 minutes. Add tuna and Chinese vegetables, stir to a boil. Continue cooking until soy sauce, salt and oil mixture and continue to boil until oil is drained. Serve hot with Chinese noodles.

(What's your favorite dish? If you will share it with other Northville housewives, please call The Record's society editor, Telephone 206.)

Most family gatherings will be eating turkey Thursday, and after you have had it hot, sliced and made into hash for a week you will be ready for something different. Mrs. Othal Baggett bakes ham with sugared carrots and ginger ale and if you have never tried it this way, you will enjoy its unique flavor.

HAM AND SUGARED CARROTS

- Shank end of ham, or butt
- 2 cups dark brown sugar
- 1 small bottle of ginger ale
- 2 cups of water
- 15 or 20 carrots

Pack brown sugar on ham and then pour the ginger ale over the ham. Add water. When the ham is about half done, turn the ham over and add sliced carrots (the long way) in the liquid around the ham. When the liquid becomes too thick, add more water.

For a more highly flavored ham, cut it in four or five pieces and bake until tender, at about 350 degrees.

The Baggetts, with their two children, Darlene, aged 5, and Ronnie, aged 3, reside at 319 Randolph St., but expect to move into a new home the first of the year.

Triumphs With Thrifty Tid-Bits

Seasoning is the secret of the best cooks, and frequently they turn out dishes to delight gourmets with the most economical of ingredients, flavored with distinction and a knowing hand.

You don't need a long list of seasonings, either, to achieve good results. Matter of fact, three familiar friends, Tabasco, salt and onion will do the trick with almost any meat dish you can name. You've probably used Tabasco most often with sea food, but it has a way with meat, just as have salt and onion. Chop the onion, add it, a good pinch of salt, and about ¼ teaspoon of Tabasco to chopped steak when making hamburger patties. Include these three seasonings in stews, vegetable soups, and shepherd's pie when you're making the most of left-over bits of meat, and you'll find they add an elegant flourish to such economy dishes.

Shepherd's Pie

- 4 tablespoons fat
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1-lb. can peas
- Water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups cooked carrots
- 1½ cups cooked white onions
- 2 cups diced cooked meat
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- 2 cups hot mashed potatoes

Melt fat in skillet; stir in flour gradually; continue cooking until browned, stirring constantly. Drain peas and add water to liquid to make 2 cups. Add liquid, salt and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils. Mix in carrots, onions and meat and heat slowly, stirring occasionally. Stir in Tabasco. Turn into 2 quart casserole. Place mashed potatoes around edge of casserole and bake in a moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 15 minutes until potatoes are light brown.

YIELD: 6 servings.

Santa Claus Travels Faster Than You Think

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Of all the traditional goodies served during the Christmas season, the cookies seem only at Yuletide seem to bring a special flavor of Holiday to almost everyone.

Inasmuch as many varieties are "keepers" that improve with age, it's not too early to start baking your supply in the near future.

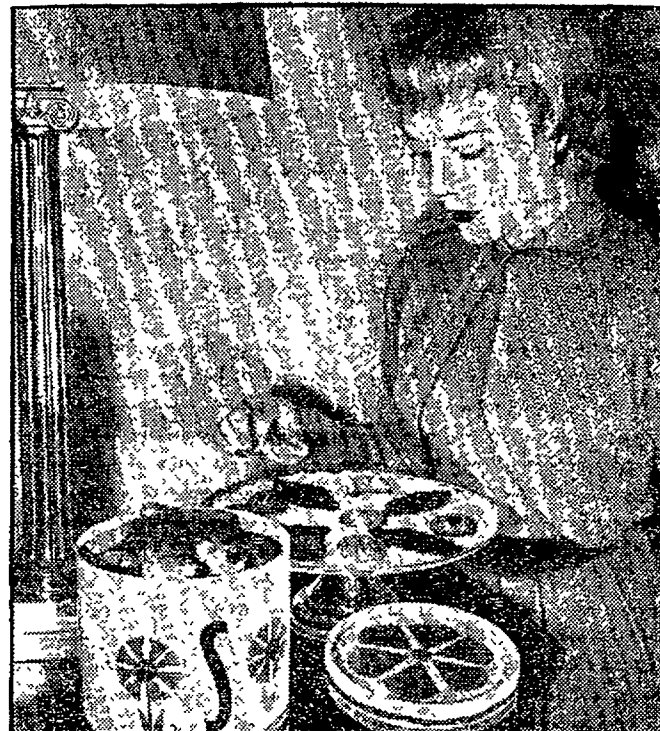

Here's a cookie that you can make up about three weeks ahead of time.

Lyle's Favorite
Raisin-Nut Drops

One cup brown sugar, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 egg, ¼ cup sour milk or cream, 1½ cups bread flour, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon ground cloves, ¼ teaspoon soda, ½ cup chopped raisins, ¼ cup chopped nut meats.

Cream butter and sugar. Beat egg and add to the mixture. Add flour slowly, while stirring. Then add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly.

Drop batter from teaspoon on well-greased cookie sheet, and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 15 minutes.

Start baking early, if you'd enjoy the cookies that are traditional with the Christmas season. Many varieties are long-keeping.

Love Intangible,
Says Professor at Michigan State

Would it surprise you to know that none of us fall into love? We learn to love just as we learn to walk and talk.

Dr. Elmer Knowles, of Michigan State college's department of home management and child development, explains it this way: We grow into love and it grows in us beginning with birth. So, most of us have had considerable experience in loving and being loved by the time we feel grown-up enough to get married.

Dr. Knowles makes these points: As children we learned to love mom and dad and our sisters and brothers. Then we learned to love our playmates, uncles who brought us presents and friends of the family. Most of us became very fond of one or more of our school teachers. And then came the first big crush of puppy love. Even though you know what love is, it is very difficult to explain it to someone else. So how do you know it's love!

Dr. Knowles says research findings and the feelings of parents and students indicate this: Chances are that you are in love if you are suited to one another and have much in common, if parents approve of the match, if your whole personality is involved, if there is a "we" feeling and mutual trust, if you are realistic, and if the relationship can stand the test of time.

Love tends to involve the entire personality. On the other hand, Dr. Knowles explains infatuation as focusing on a few traits — mostly physical. When young couples enjoy each other only in a parked car in the moonlight, they discover they have little in common in everyday life.

True love is outgoing. When a couple brings new energy and ambition into each other's lives—that includes real love rather than infatuation.

Hunter Gets Buck

When there are easier ways to hunt, Ivan Ely will try them. The first morning of deer hunting this year Ivan started out armed with a small oil stove, a book and a rifle. Once in the woods, he sat down by a pine stump, lighted the oil stove, took out his book and began to read.

A few hours later came a rustle in the bushes and out stepped a 160 pound buck. It was an easy matter to bag it.

It was not so easy, however, to convince his skeptical hunting companions that it was that simple. Harold Bloom, Cliff Boyd, Bill Boyce and Jack Taylor of Plymouth thought Ivan must have taken more than a book along; or perhaps the deer up around Skanee on Lake Superior are not suspicious of readers in the woods.

Northville Marine
In War Games

Cherry Point, N.C. — Marine Pfc. James E. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, Sr. of Northville, with the 2nd Marine Division is participating in the Atlantic Fleet war games more than 200 ships, plus Marine ground and air units involving 10,000 Navy and 26,000 Marine Corps personnel.

The exercise designated LANT "LEX" (Atlantic Fleet Exercise) began early in October and will end Nov. 20.

Two amphibious landings will highlight the operation. More than 20,000 Marines from the Air-Ground Task Force, supported by a task fleet and opposed by air and submarine forces, will assault Onslow Beach, Camp Lejeune, N.C., to climax the exercise.

come just below the knee. Both men and women are wearing these. With smart women, the Bermuda shorts have almost replaced slacks as well as short shorts.

Hair styles are in keeping with the trend toward easier fashions. They are all above the collar line, with some versions a little softer and others more severe like a little boy's cut. Often in the suburbs, you will see a mother and daughter both wearing the same simple, easy-to-care-for style.

THE CASUAL CAR

"Suburbia" has fostered a new range of style in cars as well as in clothes. For these families, the station wagon has really come into its own.

In 1936 the station wagon made up less than one tenth of 1% of the total output of the automobile industry. By 1954 the total zoomed to over 5% of all cars made.

Demand for these station wagons was created largely by the new move to the green-grass areas. The housewife lived farther away from her needs, and she wanted a special kind of car for carrying shrubs for the garden, for carting the children to school and taking the dogs to the vet, not to mention shopping trips. The suburban station wagon was the answer.

The automobile industry watches the fashion world carefully, because fashion tells much about the living patterns of America. From different ways of life come needs for different car designs. The colorful and sturdy suburban wagon is an answer to a way of life.

(Fashion writer, artist, and TV personality, Miss Chapman is a native of Detroit and has spent the last several years working with automobile stylists, designers and engineers at Chrysler Corporation.)

WOMEN AND WHEELS

Changing Modes and
The Suburban Look

By Mary Lou Chapman

The suburbs of almost every American city have expanded with great vigor in the last ten years. Whole new communities have sprung up, and with them new ways of living.

The casual way of life is evident everywhere in the suburbs, where there is more space and more trees and grass than in our cities.

Suburbanites are doing more gardening, generally have more children and more pets, take more interest in sports, and do more traveling than their city-dwelling cousins. Shopping centers have appeared to cater to the needs of suburban dwellers. Sports wear and casual dress departments in women's clothing shops have expanded phenomenally since World War II.

CLOTHES GO SUBURBAN

Women are wearing looser clothes for a more active existence. Sweaters are more popular than ever and they are now worn over everything from a pretty cotton dress to an evening gown. Midway type sweaters go to the beach and jeweled sweaters are worn to the theater and to parties over silk dresses. Even women's suit jackets are designed to resemble the loose cardigan sweater.

Shoes, too, reflect the pattern. One manufacturer came out right after the war with a moccasin type shoe with a well-shaped wedge heel. This sold extraordinarily well — mostly to suburbanites — because it was smart but comfortable and could be worn almost anywhere. Since then the design has been copied by every shoemaker across the country and in every conceivable color.

"LONG" SHORTS POPULAR

Bermuda shorts are another item currently making a big hit. These stop just above the knee, and are usually worn with British type walking socks which

Mark-Wick V. s Spoken at St. Paul's Lutheran Church

Inez Mark and Frederick E. Wick were married in a candlelight service at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Northville, Oct. 16. The eight o'clock service was read by Rev. Edgar Hoenecke before an altar of lighted tapers and baskets of mums.

Carolyn Ratliff and Huston Butler Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ratliff of E. Eight Mile Rd. announce the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn, to Huston Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Butler of Neeson St. The wedding ceremony was performed Nov. 21, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Due to illness of the bridegroom's father, the wedding reception was held at the Butler home.

The young couple will reside on the Foreman Orchards property.

Visit to WWJ Follows
Surprise Birthday

Mrs. J. E. Straus, of Beck road, was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robertson of Detroit last week. Besides the Straus', the guest list included: The Dick Richardsons, Gordon Arthurs, Charles House-lys, Al Grimshaw, Al Clossons and Jack Williams.

Following the dinner, the guests proceeded to the studio of WWJ to attend the square dance being broadcast by Al Dinger. For another surprise, the studio audience and Al Dinger sang Happy Birthday and all joined in the birthday celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hopkins
Announce Birth of Girl

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hopkins, 7 Normal street, Ypsilanti, announce the birth of a baby girl, Nancy Ellen, on Nov. 18 at the Meyer Memorial hospital. Nancy Ellen will be the fifth generation of Hopkins to live in Ypsilanti.

Inez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Henson of Nimmons, Ark., and Frederick's parents are Mrs. Doris Wick of Plymouth and Henry Wick of Northville.

Miss Selma Schnute presided at the organ and Mrs. Florence Miller sang "O, Perfect Love."

Inez wore a navy blue suit with white accessories, with a corsage of white carnations. She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, William Gramcomb of Plymouth.

Clarice Henson, the bride's sister and maid of honor, wore a grey suit and corsage of yellow mums. Laura Black, sister of the bridegroom was bridesmaid and wore a grey suit with corsage of rust colored mums.

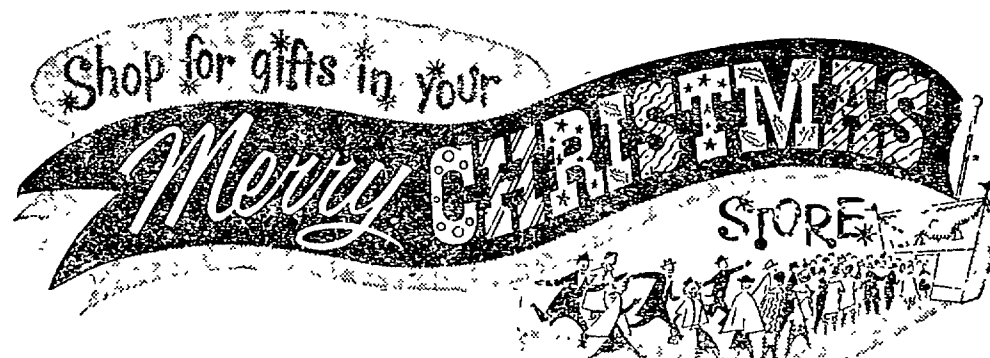

Lyster Wick, the bridegroom's brother acted as best man and Jack Miller was second best man. Seating the guests were David Bell and William Croil.

Mrs. Wick chose a gown of old rose with navy blue hat and accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses.

Following the double ring ceremony, a reception was held at the American Legion hall in Northville for 150 guests. Guests were present from Breedsville, Kalamazoo, Hartford, Detroit, Walled Lake, Plymouth and Waukesha, Wis.

For the honeymoon trip to Waukesha, Wis., the bride wore a grey dress.

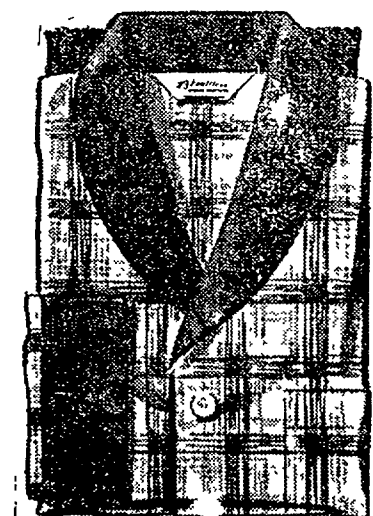

Inez graduated from Piggotte High school Arkansas and Frederick from Northville High school. They are both employed at the Beyer Memorial company in Plymouth and reside at 9284 Northern, Plymouth.

Northville Sailor Back From Far East

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Jerry A. Freydl, aviation ordnance airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Freydl of 43095 Seven Mile Rd., Northville, Mich., with Fighter Squadron 51 is scheduled to return here Nov. 19 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Philippine Sea from an eight-month cruise in the Far East.

The carrier and her air groups were off the communist held island of Hainan during the rescue operations of survivors of the British Cathay airliner.

More than 60,000 miles were traveled during the cruise. Visits were made to ports in the Philippine Islands, Japan and at Hong Kong, British Crown Colony.

Richard Gunsell Honored at MSC

Richard M. Gunsell, Michigan State college senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gunsell, W. Main St., Northville, was among 11 senior Army ROTC cadets honored as "distinguished military students" by ROTC officials at Michigan State college recently. The 16 cadets will receive pins at a future ceremony.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL

by Gene Alleman

WHEN POLITICIANS TOOK a fresh look at Michigan's new state government this week they wondered when the rolling pins would start to fly.

For the first time since 1937, the administration would be Democratic from top to bottom, giving Gov. Williams his long-sought "team" on the state Administrative board.

Williams was overjoyed at the thought. Republicans were disappointed, but thoughtful.

Republican leaders in the legislature already are planning to expand their House and Senate staffs to do work they previously could count on from state officers.

"It's too tempting for a Democrat in state office to do what Williams wants and forget the legislature," said Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek).

Best bet is that the auditing staff of Comptroller C. J. McNeil will be increased and an informal "watchdog" committee will be created for the legislature.

At the same time, Republicans are leaning toward giving Williams what he wants in the way of legislation this winter and letting him live with the record.

He has earned the right to have to explain himself, said one GOP leader. He will have no one to criticize but himself.

The Senate also is ready to confirm 38 holdover appointments they ignored last year in the hope of putting the posts at the disposal of a Republican governor.

Helmshmen in the Senate predict that 38 will be brought out on the floor and confirmed quickly in the 1955 session and 32 others appointed last spring will also get the nod.

Republicans are itching to see what Williams does with his "cabinet", a handful of comparative unknowns who have only limited experience in government.

"Now instead of blasting a Republican every time things don't go as he wants, Williams will have to be a leader," said one Republican.

LAW ENFORCEMENT officers over the state are jumping at what they consider a mandate to chase charitable bingo out of their counties.

The Nov. 2 election turned down a proposed constitutional amendment which would permit the legislature to legalize lotteries for non-profit charitable organizations. The vote was close, however.

In Oakland county, Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem has ordered a stop to bingo games, which have been running openly in defiance of an unenforced state law for years. It's the same in many other parts of the state and more crack-downs are expected every day.

NOW THAT ELECTION DAY is history, Sen. Clyde W. Geerlings (R-Holland) is going to move along with recodification of the code and proposals for some major changes.

"I didn't want to get started before the election on anything that would confuse the voters," he said. Working with Geerlings are several of the top elections experts in the state. The changes however, will have to clear the legislature before they go on the books as laws.

Republicans in state offices still are sniping at Democrats and probably will until Dec. 31 when they clean out their desks and bid adieu to state government.

Aud. Gen. John B. Martin, who spent the fall digging into the insurance department with embarrassing results, has taken off on the Democratic-controlled Liquor Control Commission.

He said that up to 3,000 cases of liquor are turned loose as gifts every year by the commission. This figures out of 60,000 bottles.

"This is too good a thing to call samples," he said.

Commission executives say that Martin is exaggerating the situation, that liquor salesmen and vendors are permitted only a restricted amount to distribute each year.

Martin asked one embarrassing question, however: How many of the "samples are going to politicians?"

LATEST ATTEMPTS to relieve the overcrowding in Michigan prisons came when the corrections commission decided to take over the abandoned tuberculosis hospital at Pinecrest, near Kalamazoo.

The hospital, when fitted out like a prison will house 100 inmates — joining a long list of make-do installations that have been built or remodeled in the past year.

Corrections Director Gus Harrison, with commission approval, has rebuilt and expanded one prison work camp, built six more cottages for youthful offenders at Cassidy Lake Training School, a new 100-man barracks at Jackson State Prison, started work on a 150-man dormitory at Ionia State Reformatory. But to keep the prisons from overflowing, he has juggled inmates from here to there, taking advantage of every possible cell.

STRICTLY FRESH

POLICE in Edmonton, Alberta, are wondering about advantages of the machine age. A combine on display at an agricultural exhibition yielded a harvest of 12 empty wallets discarded by pickpockets.

Lady in St. Paul, Minn., has been giving away a bottle of 3.2 beer with each bag of popcorn she sells. Police object because she has no beverage license, and perhaps because they feel there's enough "pop" in the corn.

The number of typewriters and mimeographs aboard a battleship outnumber its guns. A typewriter is mightier than a 16-inch rifle, to bring the old saying up to date.

Fellow we know will be out of the hospital any month now. Caught up in the home-handyman boom, when the little woman told him to take out the garbage, he said: "Do it yourself."

Burglars in Santa Cruz, Calif., really got the bird. They stole $235 worth of canaries. Trying to feather their nest, maybe.

There were about 70 teenagers present for the teenage dance at the IOOF hall Saturday night. The lodge will sponsor another dance in December.

Novi School News

The Novi School open house was well attended. All the rooms had more than 40 visitors. The seventh grade had the most visitors with 66 registered; eighth grade, 63 visitors. The kindergarten had the most visitors in the new building. A program was held in the community building.

Members of the "N" club, who are the students receiving letters for sports, had initiation Nov. 15. The members are Bonnie Belling, Allen Geer, Sandy Moody, Claudia Mairs, Hugh Crawford, Sharon Clarke, Sharon Edelmann, Mary Crot, Roger Cheeseman, Ronnie Loynes, Joan Pawlitzki, Tom Lien, Judy Wood and Jackie Bailey.

Four seventh grade pupils, Karen Kolk, Joyce Klein, Bonnie Pratt and Richard Schneider, accompanied the eighth grade class on a visit to a tropical fish store Nov. 11.

The fifth grade is glad to welcome back Marian Slentz who has been ill with pneumonia.

The fourth grade had 54 visitors at open house, of which number 42 were parents.

Philip Varn Hahn is a new pupil in the fourth grade which makes 39 pupils at the present time.

Mrs. Boyd's first grade class has a new girl, Sherry Lee Jones from Plymouth. Quite a few first graders are out of school with the flu.

The fifth grade gave its opeteta Nov. 19 for the Novi school. Mrs. Ed Slentz and Mrs. Floyd Darling attended.

Four new metal book shelves arrived at Novi school just in time to have the books arranged for Book Week Nov. 14-20.

Noel F'Geppert's mother, Mrs. Erwin F'Geppert, arranged a surprise birthday party for Noel's classmates in the sixth grade. He birthday was Monday, Nov. 22.

Mrs. Celia Sharpe and Mrs. Rowena Salow of the Novi school faculty attended a banquet for Education Day in the Rackham Memorial building at Wayne university last week.

Twenty-two youngsters of the seventh grade and their teacher and Mrs. Kolk went horse back riding Tuesday.

Jee Barnhaven is a new pupil in the seventh grade class.

Eight seventh grade girls have one out for basketball.

The second grade room has new bulletin board. It was given to the class by the Mothers club.

Mrs. Boyd's first grade is enjoying a puppet stage which Mrs. Bailey of Novi made for them. The pupils are busy making Thanksgiving booklets.

Girl Scout News

Troop No. 492 met in the basement of the school Nov. 17. The girls completed their sock dolls. Leola Neely, one of their members is in the Ann Arbor hospital. Marguerite Nail brought the treats.

Troop No. 493 had a short business meeting in the seventh grade room Wednesday, followed by a nature hike behind the school. Sue F'Geppert brought treats. The girls played a new game, Brownies and Fairies. The girls who flew up are to bring in their money for half-year registrations. Mrs. Ritter helped the leader.

Intermediate troop worked on the Christmas project in the Community Building. Patrol No. 1 had opening ceremony and worked on their health project. Patrol No. 3 has closing. Mrs. M. Skellinger passed out calendars. Orders may still be taken.

The new Brownie troop met in the kindergarten room. They made wigs, drums and turkeys from gum drops. Suzanne MacGillivray brought out cakes because it was her birthday. Dorothy MacDermid and Mrs. MacGillivray helped the leader, Mrs. Lulu Whittington.

The following leaders attended the regional conference in Grand Rapids for three days: Jack Eby, Mrs. Vincent Hayes and Mrs. Leslie Clarke.

Rotary News

Visiting Rotarians last week included Curt Copeland, Walled Lake, and Russ Hoffman, Charles Finland and Blake Gillies from Plymouth.

Gillies, who has missed the last few meetings, was unaware that the tables had been shifted, and to be near the door, inadvertently seated himself at the speakers' table. When he discovered his mistake, he offered to make a speech, but Northville Rotarians, who know him well, refused to listen.

Charles Carrington gave an interesting talk on an article by Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., in the Rotarian, which outlined some of the many exasperating problems which continually face the United Nations.

To raise funds for the club, Rotarians have been collecting $1 from members who get their pictures in The Record or other papers. A motion introduced to eliminate this practice on the theory that public servants and those willingly engage in projects helpful to the community and the club should not be penalized, was defeated.

Among those who voted against the motion were Clyde Dethloff and Cy Frid. Dethloff appeared in two pictures the following day, Frid once, and Art Schnute twice. (He also voted against the motion.)

Others "eligible" for donations are: Wally Westerfield, Gerry

Niece, George Lockhart, Fred Anderson, George Simmons, Pres. Harry Smith (twice) John Miller, James Brummel, Leland Smith, and Elmer Wilson.

Thanks of the club were extended to Clyde Dethloff for his work in painting cross walks near the schools with an eye-catching green paint in the Rotary project to "Save-A-Child."

The walks can be clearly seen by motorists far enough away for them to stop while children are crossing on their way to and from school.

Stanley Muczynski also was tendered thanks for his work in putting on the variety show, which cleared $335 for the club's community service fund.

Attendance was at a low ebb at the start of the deer hunting season. Approximately 15 members were absent.

Thanksgiving Service Planned In Plymouth

A special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving day in First Church of Christ Scientist in Plymouth.

Following the usual order of service there will be a brief period in which members of the congregation may express their gratitude for healing and other help which they have received during the past year.

The Golden Text from Psalms 50:14 is appropriate for the occasion and reads: "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High."

COLOR PRINT SERVICE

Kodachrome and Kodachrome print orders are quickly serviced. The average delivery time does not usually exceed 7 days. Special delivery shipments sent and received each day make this possible. Ektachrome and Ansco color film are processed or printed in about the same length of time. A trial will convince you.

Prompt service on 35mm. duplicate slides and 8mm. and 16 mm. duplicate movies as well.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE WEST POINT PARK AREA

YOUR CORRESPONDENT — MISS L. A. AULT
Phone Farmington 1461-M

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chavey of Mayfield Ave. enjoyed a hunting-vacation in northern Michigan last week.

Mrs. John Varhol of Shadyside Ave. was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. George Ring, in Detroit Nov. 16.

Terry Lynn, infant daughter of Mrs. Alice Vance Davis, Mayfield Ave., has been very ill with bronchitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hardy and their youngest son, Duane, from Wayne, were guests of Mrs. Walter Rehahn on Mayfield Ave. Nov. 14.

While her husband was enjoying some deer hunting in northern Michigan, Mrs. Ralph Houtz and her young son, from near Ypsilanti, spent much of last week with Mrs. Houtz' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher on Mayfield Ave.

The young son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. "Red" Kraemer of Redford recently spent several days with their great-aunt and uncle, the Dumans on Farmington Rd. The Kraemers were away on a hunting trip. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Seger of Farmington Rd. were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ault on Brentwood Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Deloid Ramage of Robinson Ave. are vacationing and deer hunting in northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ault of Hubbard Ave. were guests of cousins in Redford Nov. 13.

The neighborhood was somewhat excited last week when the three pre-school age children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laughman of Mayfield Ave. disappeared. After some time they were found playing in a garage belonging to Robert Diehle on the next street, Shadyside Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brugman and their three children from Novi recently visited Mrs. Brugman's mother, Mrs. Grace Simpson, on Mayfield Ave.

Mrs. Carl Reiser and her two children, "Chuck" and Pamela of Rougemont Ave., were guests at a dinner given recently by Mrs. Reiser's mother in Redford.

Louis Jennings of Norfolk Ave. spent a few days of last week hunting in northern Michigan.

The property recently occupied by the Buckinghams at the corner of Mayfield and Norfolk avenues is now being remodeled.

The Neighborhood Bible school conducted a Thanksgiving service Sunday. A large number of boys and girls took part in the program.

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. William Wiltzie, Mayfield Ave., were all ill and confined to their beds last week.

Mrs. Herman Schult, who recently moved to Ellwood, Ind. he returned to her home on Shadyside Ave. The housing situation in Ellwood was found to be quite difficult.

Mrs. John Varhol, Shadyside Ave., is suffering with a painfully injured hand. While attempting to chain up the family dog she accidentally caught a finger in a clamp on the chain and in endeavoring to extricate herself mangled the entire hand.

A poly-party at the home of Miss Freda Ault, Norfolk Ave., last week was both pleasant and profitable. About 20 women of the neighborhood were present. Gingerbread with whipped cream was served. This party was a benefit for the Neighborhood Sunday school.

Miss Pamela Reiser, daughter of Mrs. Carl Reiser, Rougemont Ave., is convalescing from a severe bronchial condition.

Kindergartners at the Pierson school were given an informative lecture regarding the U.S. Mail last Tuesday. It seems a group of them are in the habit of standing near a long line of mail boxes as they wait arrival of the school bus. Owners of the mail boxes have been finding their mail strewn on the ground, dropped into ditches, or just plain missing. The climax came when a school bus driver found on the school bus floor a sizable check made out to a local resident. Mrs. Wheeler, principal of Pierson school, promptly informed the check's owner. Things have now been straightened out, and the youthful meddlers now know better.

Much speculation has been going on regarding the identity of persons who indulged in some most aggravating after-Halloween pranks Thursday night, Nov. 11. Two mail boxes were knocked down, a large sign carried away; a two-wheeled cart drawn to the middle of Norfolk Ave. where it almost caused an accident; and the seats and tools removed from a parked car. Culprits simply went beyond bounds, and unfortunate results may yet follow.

Twice this last week, Mrs. Walter Rehahn of Mayfield Ave. came near being struck by bullets sent on their way by someone unlawfully hunting in the locality. Mrs. Rehahn, who has been in a poor state of health, was made ill by the shock.

Mrs. Robert Diehle of Shadyside Ave., who was recently reported quite ill, has now returned to her usual activities.

Mrs. Austin Ault of Brentwood Ave. reports that her granddaughter, Phyllis Read, of South Lyon is ill with bronchitis.

Vernon, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dolmage of Eight Mile Rd., has progressed so far in his convalescence from polio that he was able to visit Pierson school last Wednesday. It is believed he will soon be in a fairly healthy condition.

Four-year-old Donna, daughter of the Wallmans on Mayfield Ave., and who was ill last year with polio recently appeared at the United Torch drive dinners in Detroit and at one of them was presented with a beautiful doll.

The Ruth Circle of the Livonia Methodist WSCS met at the home of Mrs. Walter Wessman on Farmington Rd. The Naomi Circle met at the home of Mrs. George Harmon on W. Seven Mile Rd. All circles are busily sewing for the bazaar which is to be held in the church Dec. 3.

A D Ahler of Detroit called at the home of his uncle, E. W. Stange on Mayfield Ave. last Thursday evening.

Due to a fall down a flight of steps, Mrs. Dave Kelbert of Hugo Ave. is suffering with an injured ankle.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sweizie of Farmington Rd. are leaving shortly for a vacation visit in Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Sweizie has been convalescing from the flu.

Mrs. Norman Doss, who for years has been a bedfast invalid at her home on Farmington Rd., has been most uncomfortable with a severe cold, but is now greatly improved.

After several days of hunting in northern Michigan, Ernest and Charles Ash of W. Seven Mile Rd., have both returned to their home.

Mrs. Mary Dawson of Farmington Rd. recently entertained some friends from Iowa.

One day last week Mrs. George Knipple gave a very nice luncheon party at her home on Farmington Rd. Guests were Mrs. Anthony Salerno, with her son and grandson, and a sister, Sophia; and Mrs. A. Wallingford, all from Detroit remained for evening dinner at which time Mr. Wallingford was also a guest.

Mrs. Ervin Bohlinger of Mayfield Ave., but who is spending the winter at the home of her sister, Miss Esther Middlewood in East Lansing, is being tendered a birthday card shower by her friends in this community. The birthday is Nov. 28. Mrs. Bohlinger is in a critical state of health and confined to her bed much of the time.

Get Car Ready for Winter, Says Chief

Don't wait for icy streets before getting your car ready for winter, Chief of Police Joseph E. Denton warned all motorists yesterday. He also reminded all drivers that President Eisenhower has declared Dec. 15 as "S-D Day," the date on which it is hoped the public will be so careful that no serious accidents will occur.

"We join President Ike and urge all citizens to cooperate on Safe Driving Day, and show what can be done when everybody cares and tries especially hard. Then we'd like 'em to continue trying 365 days a year," the chief declared.

"This pleasant fall weather lures lots of people into a sense of false security," he said. "They think it will last forever. But it won't. All motorists know that, yet every year, the first snow finds thousands of them unprepared. It might even occur on S-D Day."

It's lots easier to have brakes, headlights, and other mechanical features of the car checked before the cold weather rush starts, Chief Denton pointed out. But he added that getting the car ready for winter means more than changing the oil and grease, and putting in anti-freeze.

"It's just as important to check safety factors of vision and traction," he said. "Live rubber windshield wiper blades that don't streak, defrosters in working order, and good headlights are all for the cold weather rush starts, vital for adequate vision in winter rains, fogs, smogs, sleet, and snow."

Let's Reason

by A. M. Smith

ABOUT OUR ESKIMOS

Maclean's Magazine of Nov. 15 in a saga startling, amazing and of tremendous significance for the future of the North American Continent. Reading it, one feels as Columbus must have felt on Oct. 12, 1492.

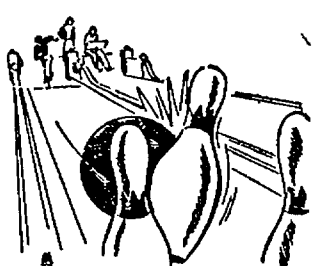

There is described a vast area rich in resources of gold, silver, lead, zinc, iron, coal, oil, uranium, a great variety of natural products of the soil besides fauna, manufacturing industries of a rapidly growing scale, and possibilities of great expansion of agriculture.

A very impressive and depressing note in the story is the social and economic condition of the Northland's native Eskimos, Indians and breeds. The problems of their lives parallel exactly those of our natives of northern Alaska. I lived among our Eskimos at Point Barrow from March 25 to June 6, 1927 (Detroit News Wilkins Arctic Expedition), and quickly found myself greatly admiring the native character and talents of the Eskimo and bitterly deploring the effects of "civilization" on them.

They have been spoiled, exploited, despoiled by our "trader" brand of society. With great native handicraft, always kindly and neighborly to the point of sharing anything they have with anyone in need, they are still desperate—more desperate each new year—for means of independent livelihood. We have "raised" (?) their standard of living, but have greatly lowered their chances of continuing to live.

Down here, where no Eskimo could long survive our climate, we bemoan our city slums and spend billions to erase them. On our Arctic shores, existing through nine months of the year in temperatures between 30 and 60 degrees below zero, are these thousands of despoiled people of the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada. Their lot of hardship and hopelessness is not matched by any other racial or social groups in these lands of freedom and opportunity.

Altar Society to Have Card Party
A pre-Christmas card party sponsored by the Rosary Altar Society of St. Williams church, Walled Lake, will be held at 8 p.m. on Dec. 4, in the church hall. Mrs. Ed Garland, chairman, will be assisted by the parish guilds. There will be table and door prizes and refreshments. The public is invited.

Advent Wreath Custom Renewed
Use of the Advent Wreath custom is being promoted by the Rosary Altar society of St. Williams church in Walled Lake. The wreath consists of evergreen boughs attached to a wooden hoop on which are arranged four wooden blocks, hollowed out as candleholders. In general appearance it resembles a holly wreath and is used as a centerpiece for the family dinner.

Hold Cana Conference Dec. 5
A Cana Conference for married couples will be held at St. Williams church Dec. 5, from 1:30 to 4:30, ending with renewal of marriage vows and benediction. The moderator will be Father Robert Koch, S. J. president of U of D high school, Detroit. A nursery for children will be conducted during the conference. Local parishes are invited to participate and reservations should be made as soon as possible by calling Market 4-1082.

Use of the Advent Wreath custom is being promoted by the Rosary Altar society of St. Williams church in Walled Lake. The wreath consists of evergreen boughs attached to a wooden hoop on which are arranged four wooden blocks, hollowed out as candleholders. In general appearance it resembles a holly wreath and is used as a centerpiece for the family dinner.

The wreath has deep symbolic significance. The evergreen circle represents the unceasing flow of time. The candles divide it into four eras during which the world waited for the coming of Christ. The four eras are marked in the liturgy of the Church in the four Sundays of Advent. The candles themselves symbolize Christ, the light of the world.

If you have never heard of the custom, nor ever used it, why not begin this year? It will serve as a reminder of the spirit of the present liturgical season. It will help to counteract the non-religious commercialism of the "shopping days before Christmas." And it will help as a preparation for the fullness of joy and happiness of the coming of Christ on Christmas Day.

Altar Society to Have Card Party
A pre-Christmas card party sponsored by the Rosary Altar Society of St. Williams church, Walled Lake, will be held at 8 p.m. on Dec. 4, in the church hall. Mrs. Ed Garland, chairman, will be assisted by the parish guilds. There will be table and door prizes and refreshments. The public is invited.

Advent Wreath Custom Renewed
Use of the Advent Wreath custom is being promoted by the Rosary Altar society of St. Williams church in Walled Lake. The wreath consists of evergreen boughs attached to a wooden hoop on which are arranged four wooden blocks, hollowed out as candleholders. In general appearance it resembles a holly wreath and is used as a centerpiece for the family dinner.

Hold Cana Conference Dec. 5
A Cana Conference for married couples will be held at St. Williams church Dec. 5, from 1:30 to 4:30, ending with renewal of marriage vows and benediction. The moderator will be Father Robert Koch, S. J. president of U of D high school, Detroit. A nursery for children will be conducted during the conference. Local parishes are invited to participate and reservations should be made as soon as possible by calling Market 4-1082.

The wreath consists of evergreen boughs attached to a wooden hoop on which are arranged four wooden blocks, hollowed out as candleholders. In general appearance it resembles a holly wreath and is used as a centerpiece for the family dinner.

The wreath has deep symbolic significance. The evergreen circle represents the unceasing flow of time. The candles divide it into four eras during which the world waited for the coming of Christ. The four eras are marked in the liturgy of the Church in the four Sundays of Advent. The candles themselves symbolize Christ, the light of the world.

If you have never heard of the custom, nor ever used it, why not begin this year? It will serve as a reminder of the spirit of the present liturgical season. It will help to counteract the non-religious commercialism of the "shopping days before Christmas." And it will help as a preparation for the fullness of joy and happiness of the coming of Christ on Christmas Day.

Farm Bureau To Seek New Members

A drive for new members of the Wayne County Farm Bureau was announced today by Pres. Ray Hunter of Wyandotte. Farm owners in the Northville area are invited to join the bureau, and will be visited during the week of Nov. 29 by members of a committee headed by Walter H. Scott. The drive will be extended throughout the 64 counties in the state where a farm bureau exists, in an effort to obtain 10,000 new members.

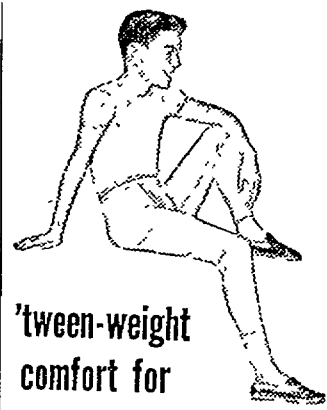

Mrs. Henrietta Burch, of Plymouth, is chairman of the woman's Committee. A "kickoff" meeting of workers is to be held in Belleville at 8 p.m. Nov. 29.

TASTY COFFEE

Flint, Mich. — Mrs. Annie Mae Hill, 34, had the "tastiest" coffee in town, but it got her in trouble. Two plainclothes officers said they paid Mrs. Hill seventy-five cents for two cups of coffee — charged with whiskey — and arrested her and an assistant who served them, on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

Way Found to Put Colorful New Roof On Modern House

The man who owns a modern house with a nearly flat roof now has a new opportunity when it comes time for him to reroof his home.

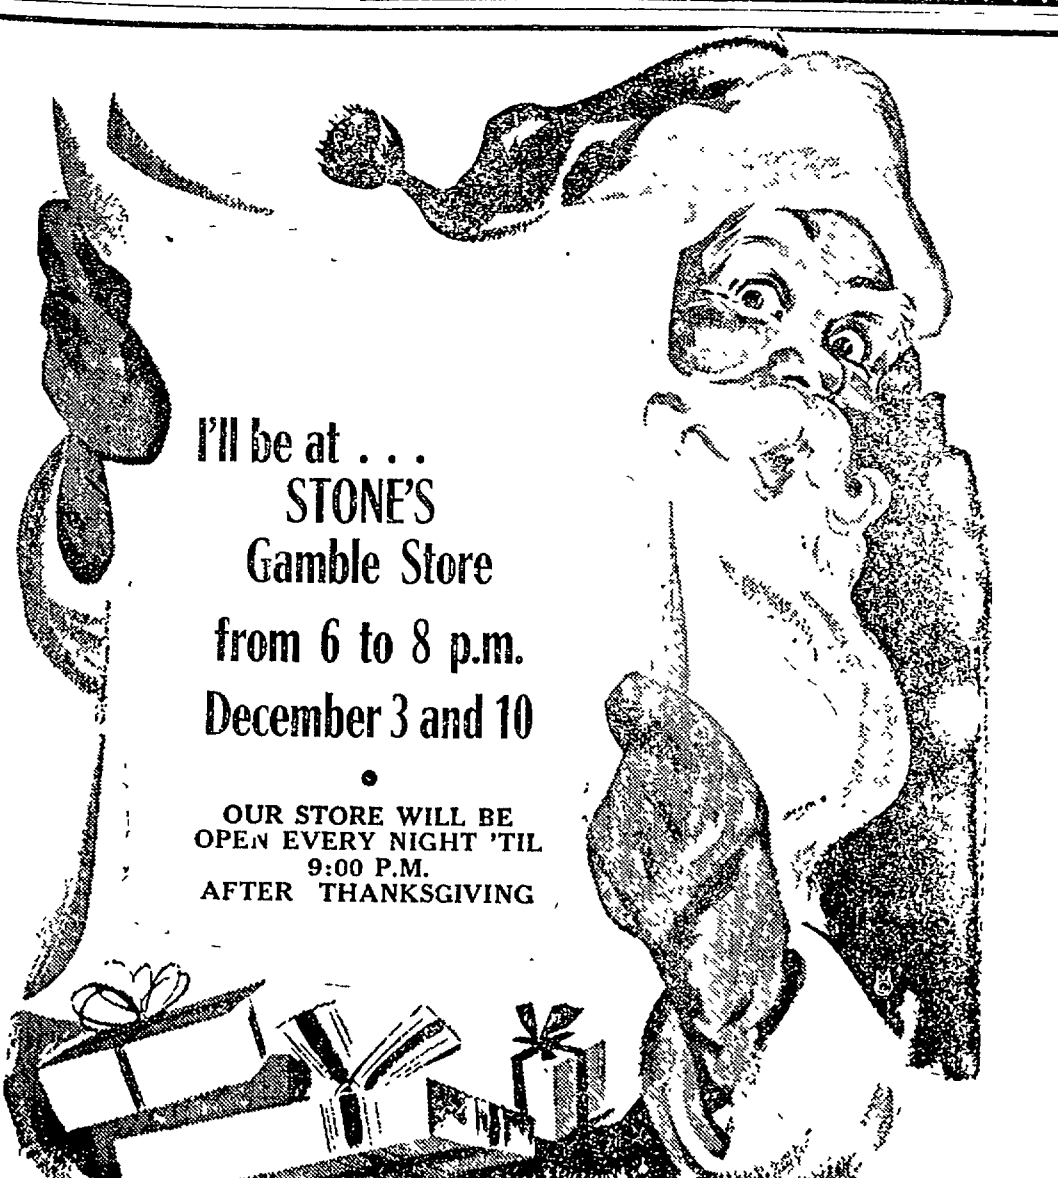

The opportunity lies in the fact that a new roofing application method for the first time permits the use of colorful shingles on low-slope roof decks. It is suitable for new construction as well as for new roofs on old houses.

The method makes possible the use of three-tab, square-but asphalt strip shingles on roofs with slopes as low as two inches per foot. Previously, a four-inch-per-foot pitch was the lowest for which asphalt shingles were recommended.

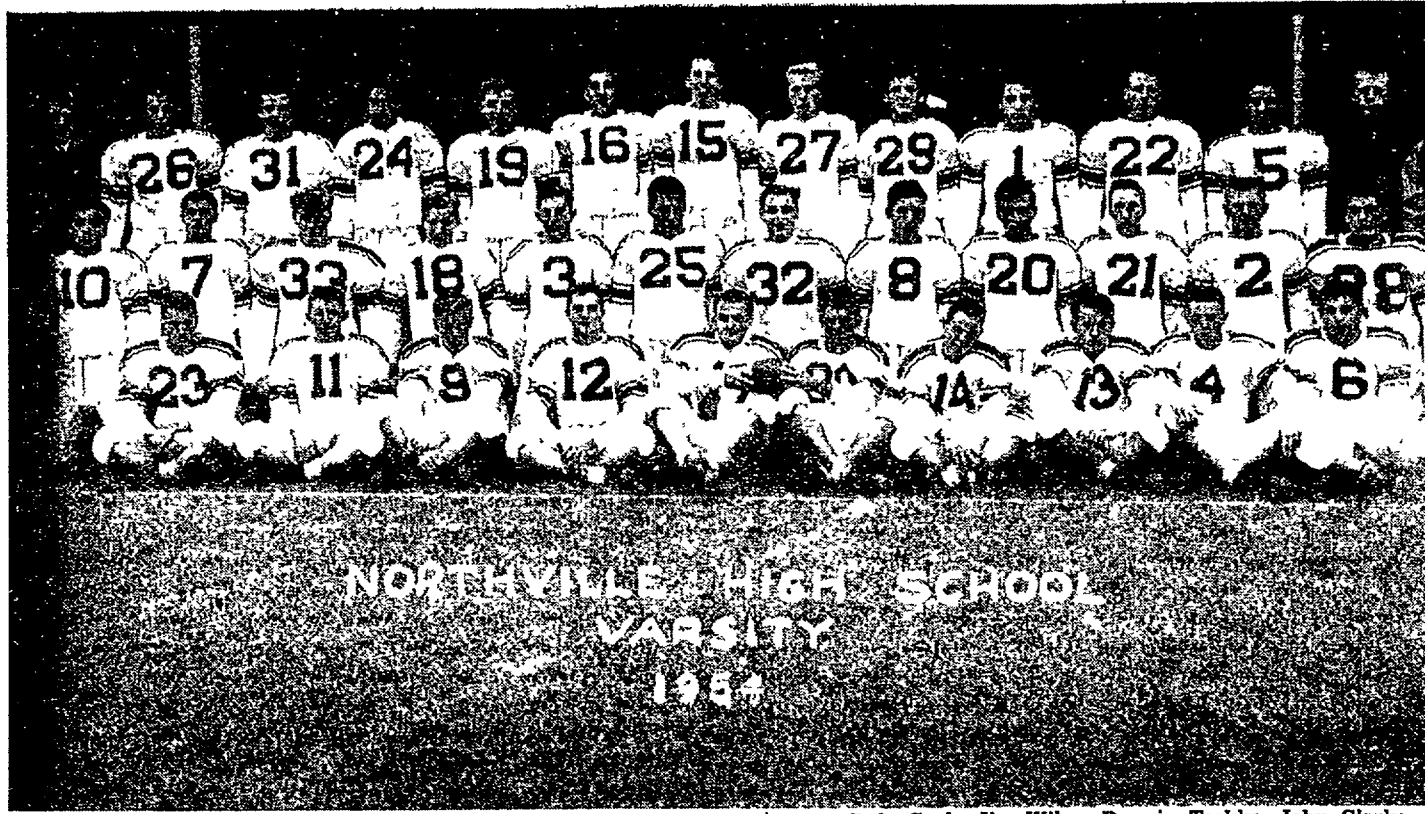

Unlike the materials that had to be used for low-slope roofing before, asphalt shingles offer a wide selection of solid and blended colors, ranging from subtle pastels through deeper shades of green, blue, and red to blue-black and black. The light colors are often chosen for one-story houses because a light roof tends to make a low house look larger.

Asphalt shingles can usually be applied directly over the old roofing, saving the expense of removing the old material and also retaining its considerable insulation value.

Low-slope application calls for two layers of asphalt-saturated felt to be laid on the roof deck before the shingles are applied. These two layers are cemented together along the eaves, in areas where the temperature averages below 25 degrees F. in January. As a final step, each shingle tab is cemented to the one beneath it.

Hypnotism —

that all those who were susceptible were asleep—and many of them were. Those that were not got up silently and resumed their places in the audience.

The fingernail biters then were told that after they awoke, every time they put their fingers in their mouths they would encounter a bitter taste. Awakened, a convincing look of repugnance came over their faces as they put fingers to their lips.

Walters declared he could cure cigar smokers the same way but for only ten days, when the bitter taste wore off. After that, the smoker must use will power.

On Hot Seat

Several boys, under Walters' spell, squirmed realistically as he told them the metal chairs or which they were sitting had become hot.

Evelyn Witt, a tenth grader from Novi, raised her hand when Walters asked if any of the entranced group could play the piano. Led across the stage, she played "This Old House" and another selection, and was completely bewildered to find herself there when a snap of the fingers awakened her.

Edna Jones and Delores Klein went through all the motions of driving a car through traffic. When told that a man in a red convertible was trying to pass her, Edna instinctively "stepped on the gas"—exhibiting a natural human contrariness—which brought a laugh from the audience.

Describes Party

Carole Beller described a Christmas party when she was four, named the guests and gave minute details of a doll and its dresses, yet could not do so when awakened. She was instructed that when she awoke, she was to attempt to awaken her classmates—to her, unaccountably sleeping—and then, at the count of five, to resume her seat and fall asleep again. To all appearances, completely spellbound, she obeyed the letter.

Sharon Budd, told that she was wading in a stream, gingerly raised her skirt to keep it from getting wet—something Walters said she would be too embarrassed to do if she were conscious.

Teachers and students alike were of the opinion that the demonstration was both convincing and educational.

THE MORAL STANDARD

How do we know when an act is moral or immoral? Who sets the standard? Recently in a panel discussion on the subject of legalized gambling in the state, one of the participants said "I do not believe anyone has the right to set a moral standard for someone else. Each man must determine for himself whether a thing is right or wrong." What a wreck this would make of our society. The police would never be able to arrest anyone—each person doing what was right in their own eyes would never consider themselves in the wrong. For the major part the standard of morality in our nation comes from the standard given to us by God and revealed through the written Word called the Bible. Stealing, murdering, adultery, cursing and such are all forbidden in the Bible, and these along with many others have been accepted as the standard of morality. Now when a good number of people begin to violate one of the moral laws, then it soon ceases to be immoral in the eyes of many. For example, when our fourth marriage ends in divorce, many for unscriptural reasons, the ordinary person does not feel he has done anything morally wrong. Do you suppose God has changed His mind too? Never!
