Northville Exchange Club Threatens 'War' Over Racial Issue

A controversy over dictatorial attitudes of the National Board of Control of the National Exchange Clubs erupted into virtual civil war at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Northville club when Clifton Hill, prominent attorney, introduced a motion to surrender the club's charter.

Basis for the motion was a threat by the board of control to expel any member or club which disagreed with announced policies limiting membership to "white males."

Last summer, club officials said, the national organization expelled a California club because it refused to exclude a Chinese doctor and another man of Chinese extraction. The Northville club sought to bring the matter before the annual convention at Louisville. In a letter signed by Elroy Ellison, the club asked that the constitution be changed in view of a recent Supreme Court decision barring segregation.

Constitution Upheld
At the convention in Louisville Sept. 29-Oct. 4, delegates voted unanimously to uphold the action of the board of control in reaffirming that article of the constitution restricting membership to white men in business or the professions.

Members of the Northville club objected to the tone of a letter from national headquarters, and to the attitude of a representative from Toledo, a man named Adams, which is said to have been of the "like it or lump it" variety. They also objected to a paragraph in the letter, while conceding that members have a right to their individual opinions, said they do not have the right to create discord or disruption within the Exchange club by foisting opinions contrary to the principles of the organization itself.

Threat Issued
Clubs having dissident members or those with disruptive tendencies were directed to expel such members, "or else". Threat of revoking a club's charter was held forth as possible should the club fail to take action to restore "Unity of Service" which is the Exchange motto.

Presentation of the following resolution by Hill precipitated the virtual "civil war" Wednesday: "Resolved That the Northville Exchange Club surrender their charter to the National Exchange Club as of January 1, 1955:

"(1) Because the provisions of the Constitution of the National Exchange Club concerning qualifications of membership are repugnant to the principles of Christian citizenship.

"(2) Because the National Board of Control of the Exchange Club

Also, featured in the program, is the Nut Cracker by Stuart Hample, nationally known cartoonist, who will sketch the various characters of the Nut Cracker Suite on large scale at the time the orchestra is playing the music.

Another feature of this program, will be three well known light rides, the classical of Mozart the romantic of Tchaikovsky and the popular modern music of Leroy Anderson. The program will be the first of four concerts for the young people.

New Subdivision Plan Submitted To Village Council By Burkman

A completely revised plan for a new subdivision originally proposed last September was presented to the Northville Village commission Monday night by Jack Burkman, Northville builder.

The subdivision would be located on a six-acre plot of ground formerly owned by Mrs. Jennie Cousins of Ann Arbor, with the entrance at the west end of Dubuar St.

The plot has been completely redesigned, Burkman said, to contain a total of 24 building lots on which he plans to erect a number of duplexes and single dwellings if he can gain approval.

As provided in his first proposal, 66 family units would have been constructed, including three multiple units. The latter would have required rezoning, and Burkman said that under his new plan, with the multiple units eliminated, the project complies with existing zoning regulations and therefore no action by the Northville Zoning board will be necessary.

Cost Not Revealed
First figures announced were that the project would cost approximately $500,000. Cost figures of the new proposal were not revealed.

Although he had no prepared plat, no survey having been made of the property as yet, Burkman asked the commission to give him informal approval so that he could proceed at once on ground leveling operations before frost settled deeply.

He offered blueprints to show how he intended developing the housing project, and based his request on the promise that if the commission gave its informal approval, he would proceed to have a plat made that would conform to the blueprints.

Questioning by commissioners elicited information that both Cyril Frid and E. Kator, owners of land at the west end of Dubuar St., had refused to sell footage to permit widening of the entrance to the project. This now is provided only by a 27-foot continuation of the existing street.

Beyond this, Burkman said, the street would be 50 feet wide, and would continue at that width throughout its winding course within the subdivision. He indicated that probably later some solution might be found to the problem of widening the entrance itself.

"If the commission will just give me an informal approval," he stated, "I can start work next week on grading, and upon final approval would start construction of the houses in January."

Reed Objects
Comm. Earl Reed, however, objected to giving such swift approval in the absence of a plat, which he pointed out must be passed upon by state authorities as well as the commission. Such action, he said, probably would take about three months.

Burkman said that the cost of making a plat would be several hundred dollars, and he hesitated to go to that expense unless he could obtain tacit approval.

"We don't want to hold up anything that means progress for Northville," interjected Mayor Claude N. Ely, "but we don't want to get into another mess like we got into with Fairbrook Court and others. We were promised the same thing, but the survey is not right yet. We're not going to stick our necks out again. I don't blame the commission for wanting to be cautious."

In answer to a question by Comm. John Stuhenvoll, Burkman replied that if the could not get a go-ahead at once, he would immediately start work putting in the sewers and water system. He said he had enough faith in the commission's word and his engineers to justify starting work even before final approval is given.

"There's a big bill that has to be leveled off. If I wait, frost will make it more costly. If started now, it can be done very reasonably."

Reed was still of the opinion that quick action was not indicated, and Stuhenvoll agreed that the commission should be given

Carmi Benton Dies Wednesday At Age of 82

Carmi Benton, 82 years of age, died early Wednesday morning after a long illness at Atchison Memorial hospital. The funeral has been set for 2 o'clock Saturday at the Phillips-Bahnmler Funeral home, pending the arrival of two sons from California.

Mr. Benton was a pioneer resident of this vicinity, and was a farmer up to the time of his death. The Michigan State hospital on Seven Mile Rd., was erected two years ago on part of the old Benton farm. Cass Benton park is named for Mr. Benton's brother.

Three years ago Mr. Benton was seriously burned when a drum of gasoline ignited while he was drawing gasoline from it, but despite his advanced age he recovered.

Equestrian Team Banquet Planned By Optimist Club

The Northville Optimist club will be host to the Junior Equestrian League members and their friends at the Northville Optimist annual Equestrian Award dinner Dec. 15. An imposing array of championship trophies will be presented to the 1954 winners, both teams and individuals. Approximately 50 out of town guests will be present.

The Junior Equestrian team league was conceived and put into execution by J. P. Melley, and sponsored by the Northville Optimists in 1952. The objective as stated in the rules are as follows:

"This competition has been organized and sponsored by the Equestrian committee of the Northville Optimist club to promote the interest of Junior horsemen in International and Olympic type of Equestrian competition."

The results of this activity have been extensively successful. One of the first members of the Grant 1952 team, Frank Duffy of Birmingham, has been made a member of the United States Olympic Equestrian team.

This is an outstanding achievement of Optimist Youth work, Optimists believe.

This outstanding junior activity, together with the Northville Optimist Junior Horse show embraces a total of over 200 juniors who participate in these events.

The fine results achieved over the past two years in the Equestrian league, prompted Melley to expand the competition to an International phase, and for the first time in the history of equestrian activities among the juniors, the International Challenge trophy was out for competition in 1954. The Canadian Junior Champion team competed with the Michigan champions for the title of North American Junior Equestrian team champions. The Michigan champions, Grant's Irishmen, were the 1954 winners.

Shown at the dinner will be a complete color film of the International trials which were held in September.

Donald Severance is president of the Optimists. Other officers are first vice-president, William Milne; second vice-president, Max Austin; secretary, Alvin Skow; and treasurer, Drake Older.

To assure a smooth product when mixing dry milk solids with water, use a bowl and beater, a quart jar, or one of the specially designed shakers on the market. If you use a bowl, sprinkle required measure of milk powder on top of designated quantity of water, explains Household magazine. Beat slowly with rotary beater only until powder is dissolved. Frequently scrape powder from sides of bowl. A quart jar with tight screw lid may also be used. Place 2 cups of cool water in jar. Sprinkle ¾ cup milk powder on the water and screw on lid. Shake vigorously only until lumps dissolve. Mix in remaining 2 cups of water. Store in refrigerator.

Christmas Star, Winter's Coming, Are Attractions

ANN ARBOR — The beginning of the winter and the mystery of the Christmas Star are the main astronomical points of interest during December, according to Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy.

Winter begins officially in the northern hemisphere Dec. 22 at 4:25 a.m. At this time the sun arrives at the winter solstice, the most southerly point that it reaches during its apparent yearly journey around the Earth. There will be 15 hours of darkness and only 9 hours of daylight on the 22nd.

At this time of year the earth is closer to the sun than during the summer months. Prof. Losh points out, so northern hemisphere winters are a little milder and southern hemisphere summers a little hotter than they would be if the sun were always equidistant.

Popular interest in astronomy reaches its peak this month with curiosity about the Star of Bethlehem. There has never been a satisfactory natural explanation of this phenomenon because the narrative about it is too incomplete and the date of the appearance of the star and the early calendar too uncertain to give a basis for definite conclusions, says Prof. Losh. Many astronomers suggest that an unusual configuration of bright planets give an extraordinarily bright star.

Some of these bright planets are easily visible this month: Venus now the "morning star," will get brighter until Dec. 21 when it reaches its greatest brilliance and rises three hours before the sun. Mars, orange in color, has moved eastward among the stars and is now in the constellation Aquarius in the southwestern sky. Jupiter, rising at about 8 p.m. in the northeast, is in an almost vertical line below Castor and Pollux in the constellation Gemini.

The eastern horizon is host to some of the most beautiful and colorful stars in the December sky. The yellow star Capella in Auriga, the orange Aldebaran in Taurus, the giant red star, Betelgeuse, in the shoulder of Orion, the bright Rigel in his knee and the twins, Castor and Pollux, all are above the horizon before Sirius appears outshining them all. Sirius can be located on a line down through Orion's three "Belt Stars" pointing to Canis Major, the Greater Dog, in which Sirius shines.

Safe Driving Day Edict Is Issued

Mayor Claude N. Ely today proclaimed Wednesday, Dec. 15 as "S-D Day" — or "Safe Driving Day" — and pledged the full support of the city government in making the project a success. He urged all citizens to do their utmost to keep Northville entirely free of accidents on Dec. 15.

"S-D Day" is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety in Cooperation with various national organizations, and State and local officials. It is a day to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially when all motorists and pedestrians do their part.

Following is the Mayor's proclamation:

"Whereas the President of the United States has asked all Americans to unite in a Nation-wide demonstration that traffic accidents can be avoided if all motorists and pedestrians do their part; and

"Whereas, the Governor of our State has asked all of the communities in Michigan to support this worthy effort;

"Now, therefore as Mayor of the Village of Northville, I hereby proclaim Wednesday, December 15th, as 'S-D Day' in this community, and ask all citizens to drive and walk on this day so as to keep the entire 24 period free of traffic accidents."

In pledging support for the program, Mayor Claude N. Ely said:

"This is an opportunity for every citizen to join in a common effort against a common enemy: the traffic accident toll. He can help as an individual, and as a member of groups with which he is associated: his church, his PTA, his club or fraternal society, his union, his association — any and all individuals and organizations can be and should participate actively.

Wild Life Notes...

Lansing — A befuddled snowy owl will probably catch the dickens from the boys when he gets back to the arctic after his current trip to Michigan.

He is a year late. Last year was snowy owl year, not this year, and 1957 is scheduled as the next one.

Every fourth winter, the little mouse-like lemmings, native to the arctic and major food item of snowy owls, troop off on a death march to the ocean. Having nothing to eat, the owls trickle southward to munch on Michigan mice.

The wayfarer was seen last week in Traverse City and verified by conservation department workers. It was white with a few flecks of dark feathers.

Raccoon hunting has proved unusually productive throughout Michigan this fall.

Game workers report 'coon numbers are still high despite a dieoff that has cut the population somewhat.

Trappers are permitted to take 'coons until Dec. 15 in the northern lower peninsula and until Dec. 31 in the south.

An average of one hunter in every ten bagged a Canada goose in the Swan Creek-Fennville area this year.

Conservation department workers issued 22,000 daily permits to hunters and a total of 2243 birds were killed during the recently-ended season. Last year, 18,000 permits were issued and 751 birds were bagged.

Veterans To Get NSLI Dividends

Detroit — The Veterans Administration has announced it will pay regular dividends next year on National Service Life Insurance, which originated in World War II, and on U.S. Government Life Insurance, which originated in World War I.

The NSLI dividend will amount to $200,000,000 and will be payable to holders of approximately 5,000,000 participating term and permanent plan policies.

The USGLI dividend will amount to $26,000,000 and will be payable to holders of approximately 380,000 permanent plan policies only.

Social Security Change Described

A new law about earnings while receiving payments was explained today for readers of The Northville Record by Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwestern social security office.

"Persons who receive social security checks," he said, "will be able to earn as much as $1200 a year starting with 1955 and still get all of their monthly payments. The new law is the same for employees and self-employed persons. Earnings are figured on a yearly basis. It doesn't matter how much is earned in a month as long as the total earned in the year doesn't exceed $1200. Earnings from any type of work must be considered, whether or not the work is covered by the social security law."

If yearly earnings are over $1200, Baltuck said, benefits are not payable for some months of the year. The number of checks that are payable depends on the amount and the number of months worked.

In addition, after Jan. 1, 1955, anyone aged 72 may receive social security payments regardless of the amount he earns.

Persons receiving payments will get further information about this provision before it goes into effect on Jan. 1. A booklet explaining these changes is available at the social security office. The Detroit-Northwestern office is located at 14600 Grand River.

New Congresswoman To Be Feted Dec. 11

Five Democratic women who were elected to public office from Wayne county in November will be honored at a holiday luncheon Saturday, Dec. 11 at 12:30 p.m. at the downtown YWCA, 2230 Witherell. Northville women and others from the Detroit metro politan area are invited to meet U. S. Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, State Senator Cora Brown, and State Representative Charline White, Josephine Hunsinger and Lucille McCullough.

The luncheon is sponsored by the Wayne County Democratic Women's committee under the direction of Elsie Gilmore. Guest speaker will be Mrs. G. Mennen Williams.

Michigan Opera To Tour 6 Cities

ANN ARBOR — The Michigan Opera, 35th all-male musical extravaganza, given by some 150 University of Michigan students, opened here Dec. 8 and will tour six other Midwestern cities.

Titled "Hail to Victor," this year's Union Opera was written a year ago by Murray Frymer, U-M student from Cleveland, Ohio.

Started in 1908, the Opera has a long tradition of top-notch entertainment where "boys will be boys," but some of them play the parts of "girls." Dancing in high-heeled shoes and keeping their hair-wigs on straight are their major concern.

"Hail to Victor" is the story of the first coeds' coming to the University of Michigan campus in 1870. Victor, the hero, is a miserably shy young man who flounders among the big hats and bustles of the young "ladies." Cathy Rambeau, 40100 E. Eight Mile Road, Northville, is in charge of the programs.

When it's an automatic bed covering, it takes only ONE to keep you warm—one electric blanket, or one electric sheet with a regular blanket. Either takes the place of the umpteen heavy, smothering covers you'd ordinarily use. ## A PYRRHIC VICTORY?

Who won the battle between Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Communist-hating warrior from Wisconsin, and the United States Senate?

Sen. McCarthy, of course, lost. In his own words, the action of the senate in condemning him for rebuffing two senate investigating committees was "not exactly a vote of confidence".

Who won?

The senate? By its overwhelming vote, that body in large measure abrogated the right of free speech that is traditionally American. It condemned one of its members for words, however thoughtless or belligerent or even untrue, that were far less biting and vitriolic than many an exchange between senators in the past. Some will remember the gentleman from Virginia who said a colleague was so corrupt he "stank like a dead fish".

Sen. Flanders? He acknowledged a partial victory, but lost considerable prestige by being forced to admit that his original 33 charges were prepared by the American Committee for an Effective Congress. This organization has been tabbed by the American Legion as being a Communist lean-to.

Sen. Watkins? He and the rest of the censure committee may feel gratified at slapping down McCarthy for saying they were "unwitting handmaidens of the Communists." But after all, weren't they? Many Americans think so.

The Democratic party? Every Democratic senator voted in favor of condemnation, in some measure substantiating McCarthy's charge that they voted the party line against him because he had laid the responsibility for Communists in government directly at their door.

The Republicans split straight down the middle, they could not truthfully acclaim: "It was a hard fight, Maw, but we won!"

The American people? Hardly. Whatever of value may have developed in the ten months since the start of the Army-McCarthy imbroglio—one not of McCarthy's choosing—not one iota of it accrued to the nation.

The Communists? There, at last, is a winner.

The Daily Worker and other Communist papers are jubilant over the senate action. So, undoubtedly, are their Communist masters in the Kremlin. And well might they be, for the arch-foe of all they stand for has at last been discredited.

We hold no grief for some of McCarthy's methods—a phrase representing a line of attack, by the way, reportedly developed in the office of Sen. Lehman, bitter foe of the Wisconsin senator. We cannot condone McCarthy's castigation of Gen. Zwicker as an officer "not fit to wear the uniform".

But neither can we condone stubborn "hand-in-glove with Communist tactics" which—unwitting handmaidens or not—have delayed and reduced the effectiveness of the fight against the "Red" menace personified by Joseph McCarthy.

Rep. Martin Dies, once head of the House Un-American Activities committee, suffered the same fate. Hot on the trail of traitors and saboteurs, he met more opposition than he could master, and no longer is in public service.

The parallel is one on which millions of Americans will ponder.

To them, the victory over McCarthy is of the pyrrhic variety if ever there was one.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL

by Gene Allemen

MICHIGAN REPUBLICANS are looking for a knight in shining armor to revive the party for 1956.

Confused and hurt after their fourth straight loss to Democratic Gov. Williams, Republicans from the top to the doorbell-ringers are preaching revival.

"We've got to do more than rest on our oars and place our faith in tradition," said Treasurer D. Hale Brake.

It was the valedictory of a sincere party stalwart who was swept out of office in the Democratic landslide after 14 years as guardian of the states pursestrings.

He has seen politicians come and go and at one time figured to be the Republican rallying point. Others differed and rather than split the party, Brake went along. Now, in the debris of another election in which all Republican candidates for state office met political disaster, Brake is back with ideas to put the party on its feet again.

Brake wants to fight fire with fire.

He suggests recruiting an outside man—"a popular figure"—as state chairman and insists he be well-versed in publicity; a man who will capture the imagination of a new kind of voter.

It's the same step Democrats took years ago with Williams, the boyish-looking idol of the younger people: the trademarks of politics—the bow tie and square-dance calling.

The technique made Williams a popular vote-getter, a politician everyone would like to have live next door and it won him four terms in the executive office.

Democrats had the keen Paul W. Weber to guide Williams' footsteps and write his speeches. Weber feints the opposition off balance and crosses with a well-turned phrase.

It's the pattern that Michigan politics has taken in the past decade.

But who is the man or men around which this new and fresh Republican party can be constructed?

One choice is Congressman

Gerald Ford, the young man from Grand Rapids. His backers say he has the energy, the youth, the foresight to breathe new life into an old philosophy.

Others claim that because Republicans are out of the main state offices, the mantle of leadership will naturally fall to party members in the legislature.

There the Republicans have Senators Creighton R. Coleman, Battle Creek; Edward Hutchinson, Fennville; Carlton H. Morris, Kalamazoo. All are among the "Young Turks" who gained power two years ago.

Coleman admits privately he would like to run for Congress but might stay around for extra party duties. Morris is young, a lawyer, and admits to no ambitions beyond the state borders.

Hutchinson, whose grandfather once sat in the Senate, will work in Michigan for the next 1,000 years, if necessary, for Republicans.

The House of Representatives has Rep. Harry J. Phillips, Port Huron; and Herb Clements, Deckerville, Reed Orr, Battle Creek; and a number of other young men ready for battle with Democrats.

Whatever happens, it's a certainty among Republicans that those at the head of the party organization from Detroit will be of less importance when the 1956 convention is held.

COUNTIES which have been turning their heads the other way for years are suddenly cracking down chasing bingo out of clubs—under the theory that they have a mandate of the people.

The most telling argument in favor of bingo during the campaign was

"If Michigan can control legalized gambling at the horse tracks,

Letter To The Editor

THE TOWN CLOCK

Princeton, N. J.

Editor, Record

Northville, Mich.

Dear Sir:

I was interested to read in the Dec. 2 issue of the Northville Record that Rev. Richards had found the program which recorded the dedication of the clock in the Methodist church and I like to recall that each and every name mentioned represents an outstanding member of the community at that time.

The donor of the same was not just a man named "John Gardner"—but a distinct personage in Northville.

While the clock may have outgrown its use as envisioned by him, let us try to teach the present generation to respect the memory and loyalty of past citizens, and although it may never strike another hour may it be preserved as a symbol of appreciation to those who have helped in the development of Northville.

Respectfully

Eliza M. Northrop
(Mrs. Floyd A. Northrop)

why not if the game is bingo?"

Now that their election battles are past one legislator is carrying the torch against all gambling.

Rep. Willard I. Bowerman (R-Lansing) said he would ask the 1955 legislature to outlaw pari-mutuel betting at the races, wiping out a multi-million dollar operation.

Michigan gets up to $7,000,000 a year from the tracks in taxes. Bowerman said:

"That's a paltry sum when morals of our citizens are involved."

PRISONS AND MENTAL HOSPITALS are both overcrowded in Michigan and a battle is brewing over who will get the 200-bed addition to the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

"We want it all," said Corrections Director Gus Harrison.

He has a law on his side, one passed two years ago which said that the addition would be turned over to the use of the corrections department, Mental Health Director Charles F. Wagg said:

"We also need more space, and we shall see."

Mrs. Becker, 35, was granted a divorce on the grounds of cruelty — the same grounds named in her previous divorces on Dec. 20, 1950, and March 30, 1951. They were married July 1, 1944, January 30, 1951, and January 23, 1954. Mrs. Becker says she'll marry him no more.

ABOUT POLITICAL STEW

Election in Bavaria and Hesse two weeks ago gave some promise that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer may control enough votes in the Federal Parliament to secure ratification by West Germany of the Western European Union agreement. He may gain the support of Bavaria by a coalition of various factions, but apparently lost Hesse. The number of political parties and their "Principles" give one pause for serious thought.

In Hesse seven parties were represented at the polls: Socialists, Christian Democrats, Free Democrats, Refugee Party, Communist, German Party, Pro-Communist League of Germany. In Bavaria, beside those parties, were three more: Bavarian, Bavarian Rightist Bloc, Fatherland Union. If we, with only two parties of appreciable strength can be in a dither and mess resulting in continuous headache for the Chief Executive in the effort to secure enough coalition to get some important things done, what must be Adenauer's state of mind—and the outlook for Germany are largely duplicated in the other States. Each party has its own main objective, ideas and ideology, theory of government and administration, factional and local interests to press legislation. And every one of them has a bitter quarrel with one or several or all the other parties. A "political stew", all in the name of democracy, is the correct label for it. However, some stews turn out palatable, given time to cook.

The hopeful factor in West Germany is that the people are having a real hand in the shaping of government, and are obviously trying to find their way to a workable democracy. It may be ventured that they will never arrive at that objective until there is deeply embedded in the minds of the people generally that a real democracy has only two legs to stand on—the freedom of the individual and equal rights and opportunities for all. In other words, the principles of government and national life laid down in the Constitution of the United States. No need of more than two parties in a government based on that.

Interesting Exhibit of Art Put On By Adult Beginners At Marion Sober Studio

Interest in art took a decided jump here Sunday when Marion Sober, of Sheldon Rd., held a Christmas exhibit of paintings, done by the Beginners Art class of the Plymouth Adult Education group.

The exhibit was held in Mrs. Sober's studio, and attracted much favorable comment.

With the exception of Eugene Jordan of Plymouth, the majority of the class of 12 are young married women, some with two or three children, who had no idea when they enrolled that they could accomplish on canvas the results that were on display.

Mrs. and Mrs. Eugene Jordan, being newcomers to Plymouth, each joined a class in the Adult Education program. Mrs. Jordan chose one in cake decoration. Her husband, an accountant at the Chevrolet plant in Livonia, had no previous training in art. His still life in three basic colors, and a ballerina done in an impressionist manner, assured Mrs. Sober that she had unearthed hidden talent.

Mrs. J. W. Fowlkes, who has resided in Plymouth about a year, did a study in brown, an autumn still life of gourds. A difficult assignment for one who had taken only six lessons previous to this course, it was an outstanding piece of work in the exhibit.

Mrs. Fred Harit painted a woodland path which might have been called "First Snow". Mrs. N. L. Williams, of the Northville Training school, did a geranium plant. She is the mother of Mrs. Harit, so this has been an enjoyable hobby for them to share.

Mrs. Arthur Gardner's first venture in the field of painting was a wicker covered wine jug holding a green philodendron plant against a deep brown background. It was bold and strong in feeling and appealed to the spectators.

Mrs. Robert Cleveland, also a novice, did a nostalgic deserted street scene with a crab tree in bloom for a spring color accent.

Mrs. Charles Martin, mother of two boys and a girl, had some previous training at Madonna college. Her ballerina done in impressionistic style was an excellent likeness of Sarah Mellen.

Sarah, daughter of the George Mellens of Northville, modelled for the class in her ballerina costume.

Mrs. Richard J. Bennetts has had previous work in oils at Ball State college in Muncie, Ind., but she has been away from it for several years. Her still life with books, candles and a bowl of philodendron was done in strong colors and showed firmness and purpose.

Mrs. Howard G. Beach, mother of three small children, has had no previous work in art and was a true beginner. She did a white velvet jewel box against a dark blue background with a simple string of red beads. Her picture in its simplicity was one of the most striking at the show. Her husband formerly lived in Northville.

Mrs. Joseph Webb of Ann Arbor has two children, one 11 and the other 13. She has always had a desire to paint and only now has found time to try her hand at it. She expresses a desire to continue with her painting since Mrs. Sober makes each one of her students feel that painting is in every one's power, and that painting should be done for the pleasure each one derives from it. Her still life was done in shades of brown with yellow and green accents.

Mrs. Homer Benoit did a landscape from memory of a camping trip she and her husband had taken together in the north country. This is Mrs. Benoit's first art course and her picture had excellent color and design, showing remarkably good imagination.

Mrs. Sober will offer another class for beginners in January at a date and time to be announced later.

Realtors Invited To Christmas Party

Northville realtors have been invited to a Christmas party to be held Dec. 20 at 42390 Ann Arbor Rd. The affair will be sponsored by the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors.

Collapsed Meringue?

Do meringues on your pies always fall rather than stand up stiff and light? Be sure to use 2 tablespoons of sugar per egg white and allow 2 egg whites for an 8-inch pie or 3 whites for a 9-inch pie. The filling should be cool before topping with the meringue, reminds Household magazine. Spread the meringue to the edge of the crust to prevent shrinkage. If a meringue is baked too quickly in a hot oven, it will collapse because its center is not baked. Bake meringues in a moderately slow oven 325° F. about 20 minutes.

At Fort Hood

PVT. DAVID DEJOHN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. DeJohn, 17637 Beck Rd., Northville, is now at Fort Hood, Tex., as a clerk typist with the First Reconnaissance Division's 81st Reconnaissance Bn. Pvt. DeJohn entered the Army in June, 1954, and received basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Cancel Blood Bank

Thomson and Bailey Promoted To Corporals in USMC

Donald A. Thomson and William C. Bailey were recently promoted to corporal in the U.S. Marine corps. Both boys entered service in August of 1953. Bill is serving at Quantico, Va., while Don is at Camp Del Mar, Calif.

Ends Tour of Duty

Aisugi, Japan (FHTNC)—Marine TSgt. Robert W. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Green, of 8762 Napier Rd., Northville, and husband of Mrs. Marjorie B. Green of 1441 Papin St., Oceanside, Calif., shoulders his seabag prior to boarding the attack cargo ship USS Skagit. Having completed a tour of duty with the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing at the U.S. Naval Air Station here, he was scheduled to arrive in the states the end of November or early in December. Green enlisted in 1947.

THIS pedal does more than just feed gas to an eager and high-powered V8 engine.

When you give it the extra nudge that moves it beyond the full throttle position, something happens that never happened before in an automobile.

You hear a businesslike purr, which tells you that twenty power vanes, deep inside the 1955 Dynaflo Drive,* have changed their pitch—just like the variable pitch propellers on a modern air liner.

And with the same result in the way you get-up-and-go, with a safety-surge of power for pulling out of a tight spot on the highway.

Words can't describe it. It's a new sensation—something you simply must try for yourself.

There's nothing like it on the 1955 new-car horizon.

Fact is, there's a whale of a lot to see and sample at your Buick dealer's.

There's fresh new styling. There's higher horsepower in every Buick V8 engine. There's a new Airpower carburetor. And beneath it all there's good old-fashioned integrity in every nut, bolt and rivet.

But, this year, don't simply make a visit to the showroom where these trim and thrilling new beauties are on display.

The smart thing to do—if you want to know what's what in new automobiles—is to get behind the wheel of a 1955 Buick and drive it. How about doing that soon?

Plymouth Rocks Whip Mustangs By 65-36 Score

Ron Clifford poured in seven field goals and added six free throws to lead Plymouth's Rocks to a 65-36 victory over Northville Friday night in the opening basketball game for both teams.

The Mustangs were completely outclassed, and were never in the game from the opening whistle. Although the score was fairly close at the half, Plymouth leading by only five points, 32 to 27, from there on it was a runaway.

Except for two free throws in the third period, Northville was blanked by the visitors. The Mustangs managed to score only two baskets in the entire second half, being held to nine points by an almost impregnable defense.

Darwin Teska was high scorer for the Mustangs with 12 points, eight of them in the first half. Clayton Pethers tallied four field goals in the second period or eight points, while Jim Wiley hit on seven out of 11 free throw attempts to lead in that department. Score by quarters:

Plymouth: 15-32-53-65
Northville: 11-27-29-36

Sporting Dogs To Be In Detroit Show

Dog lovers in the Northville area are invited to the state fair grounds Coliseum in Detroit Sunday afternoon when the second annual Sporting Dog Special show will be held. The show brings together the outstanding bird dogs of the middle west for competition.

A record entry of 270 will be on hand in the six breeds exhibited. They are: English Pointers, German Shorthairs, English Setters, Irish Setters, Brittany Spaniels, and Weimaraners. All dogs are of the pointing breeds.

A special feature of the show will be a pointing exhibition, in which two dogs of each breed will locate live pheasants concealed in a simulated hedge row of corn stalks and bush. These breeds work differently and spectators will have a chance to compare the bird work of the various types of pointing dogs.

To show the all around versatility of the sporting breeds, an obedience exhibition of each breed will be held.

An outstanding panel of judges will be on hand to pass on the qualities of the breeds. Pointers will be judged by Jerome Halle of Cleveland, William F. Hartnell of Akron, Ohio, German Shorthairs; John A. Stocker, Chicago, the English Setter; E. W. Averill, Birmingham, Weimaraners; Hartley of Okemos, Irish Setters; and Fred Jackson of Oak Park will pass on the Brittanys.

Judging will start at 12 noon. Immediately after the judging is completed, the two exhibitions will be put on.

Mrs. Mary Ginstre and Mrs. J. P. Malley of Northville are members of the show committee.

New Regulations Are Set For Mail

New postal regulations for the handling of mail during the Christmas season were announced this week by Postmaster Leland Smith and are printed below.

Notice is given that names must be printed, or printed with some other substance, on all mail boxes on the rural routes. This is a set rule by the Post Office Department and mail may not be delivered to that box if this order is not carried out.

The City Boxes must have either calling cards or other means of putting the names of the residents on the box. Substitute carriers will be given orders that where the names are not visible and the occupants are unknown to them to return the mail to the Post Office. The Patron will then be compelled to call at the Post Office to obtain the mail.

Patrons are advised that the mail and parcel post will be delivered on scheduled runs and that the clerks are forbidden to make special searches for any mail or parcel post.

In case of snow, sleet or ice, patrons must keep a walk cleared. In case of the box being up steps they must be free of ice and snow.

The mail-man's job is a tough one and at Christmas time the great increase of mail he will be grateful for any assistance that you may give.

Remnants, Ties Give Material For Nice Gifts

WORKBASKETS that yield material remnants and closets that give up old ties offer excellent opportunities for you to make many a useful gift.

What can you make from just scraps of material such as these? Pullman shippers, glass cases, needle books, pin cushions, cases for desk shears and envelope purses, are a few ideas that can lead you to think of others.

The cost of making these is nothing in dollars and cents and most of the gifts mentioned will take an hour or less to make. What a marvelous way to take care of your gift list.

Women Who Sew

Women who sew, and that includes almost every woman in your circle, will like little gifts to make their sewing box neat. Take needle books for example. You simply take a small piece of cardboard and cover with remnant or the silk in a lovely pattern. Line with pinked flannel to hold the needle, then fold as a book.

Needlebooks can be made in several different shapes. One of the most attractive is a heart shape which is very pretty covered with red solid or red print material.

Strawberry pin cushions take only a little longer to make since they must be stuffed with cotton. Make a tie from which to hang the cushion so it can be placed in the closet to hold hat pins.

The excitement and wonder of a certain special morning can be caught for keeps in a snapshot. Pictures make perfect keepsakes. That's why cameras and photographic accessories make such good presents. If there's an adequate camera in the household, concentrate on such things as film, field cases, flash attachments or film boxes for storing slides.

Glass or Shear Cases

Draw a pattern for spectacle cases from one in the family, the rectangle shape with rounded corners. Cover with the silk from an old tie, using a different but harmonizing print for outside and one for the lining. Whiptitch together leaving one end open.

Shear cases for the desk are made in much the same way except that the shape is different, narrow at the tip and open at the wide end. These make a very attractive accessory for the desk. The same kind of case can be made for a letter opener.

Fruit Garnishes Will Enhance Meats

Meat is a handsome, savory dish when brought to the table, but it will be even more special when it's brought in with an appetizing fruit garnish.

There's something very good, too, about with flavor of meat and spicy fruit. Try some of these suggestions during the next few weeks:

Cinnamon Orange Slices

1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup water
Juice of 1 lemon
2 cinnamon sticks
3 oranges

Make a syrup of sugar, water and cinnamon. Wash oranges and cut in thick slices. Place in hot syrup and boil gently without covering until rind is clear. Chill in syrup; serve as meat garnish.

Spiced Prune Garnish

1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups hot water
1 piece stick cinnamon
12 whole cloves
12 large prunes

Combine sugar, water and spices. Heat to boiling point. Add prunes and cook until tender, about 20 minutes. Remove prunes from syrup and cool slightly. Carefully remove stones, then chill and serve as garnish.

Hot Apple Sauce

1 1/2 cups chopped apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Few grains salt
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup cold water

Place all ingredients in saucepan and stir. Cook together 15 minutes over low heat, stirring frequently. Strain and serve with roast pork.

Growing Old Is A Privilege Denied To Many

Although she will be 96 on Dec. 12, Mrs. Inez Parker, grandmother of William B. Chase, 43300 Eight Mile Rd., has a clarity of mind that is truly remarkable.

Despite her advanced age, Mrs. Parker loves to have her grandson's wife drive her around the Chase property in a small, motorized "Go-cart". She also loves to watch television on a set given her by Mr. and Mrs. Chase.

In 1858, before the Civil war, when James Buchanan was president and Abraham Lincoln was debating about slavery with Stephen Douglas, Inez Smith Parker was born in Volney, N.Y. At the age of 18 she became the wife of William C. Byer and for 25 years devoted her vigorous energies to the work of the Baptist church.

When Rev. Byer died, she went to Unadilla Forks, N.Y. to live with her only daughter, Jessie Byer Chase. She taught school in Plainfield Center, N.Y. and then entered YWCA and social settlement work in Rochester and New York City.

In 1904 she married William T. Parker and they lived in Brooklyn, Mich., for 34 years. Since the death of Parker 13 years ago, Mrs. Parker has lived her life in Brooklyn, n Florida and, during the most recent years, in Northville with her grandson, William B. Chase.

To quote from a tribute to Mrs. Parker by her grandson: "She is a member of a generation which believed that serenity comes from working hard for the sole benefit of others—which believed in the homelier of the human virtues, in neighborliness, and in the Puritan precepts of sacrifice and humbleness."

This is a fine tribute to one who lived her life by the ideal that it is better to give than to receive.

CARD OF THANKS

A Woman's Eye-View

by M. B. J.

Once again we approach the season of Christmas, of Santa Claus, of happiness and good will. And once again, a Northville friend reminds us, wide-eyed children will be listening to the traditional Christmas stories of The Three Wise Men, and The Babe in the Manger.

There's another story, too, that bears repeating, of a Christmas classic that is famous in newspaper circles of how 50 years ago, Francis P. Church, editor of the New York Sun, received the following letter from a child who was disturbed by the skepticism on the part of her playmates:

"Dear Editor: I am 8 years old. "Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. "Papa says if you see it in the Sun, it's so. "Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

Church answered with an editorial as beautiful as it is lasting: "Virginia your little friends are wrong they have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they are man's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours is a mere insect, an ant in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be like dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they catch Santa Claus coming down what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but there is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see the fairies dancing on the lawn?"

"Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance can ever push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural and glory beyond. Is it real? Ah, Virginia, in all the world there is nothing so real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now he will continue to make glad the heart of of childhood"

Garden Club To Sponsor Sale of Yule Decorations

Members of the Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden Assn. are busy these days in the work shop at the home of Mrs. Fred Collins, chairman of the Greens Market, making decorations for Northville homes.

Mrs. D. Hurd Clark is co-chairman and the committee consists of Mrs. R. J. Scott, Mrs. W. L. Howard and Mrs. Charles Walker.

A variety of items are being made for sale. One of the most useful is a candle board centerpiece for the Christmas table. Numerous holes have been drilled into the board to allow for candles to be arranged in various ways. These are surrounded by a variety of greens and cones, which may be removed after the holidays, and other seasonal foliage or leaves substituted for use as a centerpiece throughout the year.

One of the most attractive articles is a cornucopia shaped gold wire basket decorated at the top with greens and cones. This may be hung at the side of a fireplace to hold cards or as a unique door decoration where the mailman may leave the Christmas mail.

Another unusual door decoration could be made of the red oil cloth Christmas stocking filled with greens. There are also red felt stockings to be hung at the fireplace for Santa to fill.

The swirl type 13-inch candles, hand decorated with sequins, would enliven the Christmas spirit at any mantle. There is a variety in these, including some of the snowball candles which give out a red glow as they burn.

The wreaths are decorated with natural cones and tied with weather-proof ribbon. Loose greens and large cones will be available.

The doors of the Greens Market will be open from 9 to 5 at the Community Building on Friday, Dec. 17. Funds derived from the sale will be used to finance the college education of some worthy Northville student.

Plymouth Corners Society Entertains State Board Meeting

Plymouth Corners Soc. of the Children of the American Revolution, was the hostess chapter for the State Board meeting of CAR held Dec. 4 at Arbor Lil's restaurant in Plymouth. Young people and adults from Marshall, Jackson Lansing and Detroit represented their societies. Those attending from Northville were Becky Coolman, Betsy Merriam, Gail Lawrence, Mary Ellen Cruse and Mrs. Claude Cruse.

Car national projects for the year include raising money for the doll cases in the Car National museum and for the travel fund used for national representatives. Besides working for the Mountain schools in India, each local society is going to have an opportunity to adopt and help one Michigan and Indian child.

Mrs. Henry B. Joy has given the organization a Michigan banner in honor of her ten grand-grandchildren. It will be carried for the first time at the State conference in Grand Rapids on April 2.

Livonia Bumper Plant Described

The new Livonia Spring & Bumper plant features the longest plating line in the world. Chevrolet officials said this week.

Located on the western edge of the City of Livonia, it also adjoins the eastern limit of Plymouth Township, and is convenient to the whole Detroit metropolitan area.

Its construction was part of nearly 5½ million square feet of new plants in additions, which Chevrolet division has completed within recent months. In all, Chevrolet added 25% to its total plant capacity for production of the 1955 models.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. But it wasn't an easy one to carry out. For Chevrolet and General Motors set out with the idea of building the first low-priced car that would do all these things:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
- bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, the skills, the resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new concept? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your own ideas about cars!

Real Show-Car Styling!

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside . . . there's more room for hats and hips . . . exciting fabrics and trim harmonized with the whole car . . . as carefully as a bride matches carpet to curtains.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly . . . you glide . . . actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering.

And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front . . . you get more level stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.

Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly . . . quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) . . . you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The effectiveness of scientific prayer in meeting human problems of every kind will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from II Timothy 4:18: "The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (16:7-11): "Our Master taught his disciples one brief prayer, which we name after him the Lord's Prayer. Our Master said, 'After this manner therefore pray ye, and then he gave that prayer which covers all human needs.'"

From the Bible will be read the account as given in Matthew of Christ Jesus' instructions on how to pray which includes the following (6:7, 8): "But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him."

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—Is there any thing I can do to keep a hammer from slipping out of my hand?

A—Drill several small holes in the handle. A vacuum will be created when the hammer is held in the hand, giving a better grip.

Another way is to wrap waterproof tape around the handle.

Q—We recently remodeled the exterior of our house with the exception of the asphalt shingle roof, which looks as good as new. The appearance of the house, however, is hurt by the porch roof, which is covered with black roof roofing. Is there a more attractive material that we could use here? The porch roof slopes very gently.

A—Yes. Thanks to a new method of applying three-tab, square-but asphalt strip shingles, you can use the same shingles on the porch roof as on the roof of the house proper if the porch roof slopes at least two inches in each horizontal foot. Asphalt shingles come in a great variety of solid and blended colors. Thus, you can match the house roof in color, pattern, and texture.

Q—Someone spilled oil on my concrete walk. How can I remove the stain?

A—To remove a have destroyed the processes of democratic action by their prevention of any amendment to National Constitution."

Verbal warfare ensued when Sec. Merritt Meaker, observing that four members of the press were present—two from a Detroit newspaper, one from the magazine Time, and the other from The Northville Record, introduced a motion that they be excluded.

Atty Hill immediately objected. There followed a heated exchange between Hill and Meaker. The remarks included one about "washing dirty linen in public." Sidney Frid, gaining the floor, said:

"What are we ashamed of? Are we going to be a secret organization?"

"It has been my experience that if everything is on the level, we have nothing to fear from the press."

Might Cause Suspicion

Others remarked that if at all possible, the proceedings should be kept secret, suspicion would be cast upon the club's motives, and misunderstandings might occur.

Upon Meaker's insistence, however, the motion was not a vote by Pres. Joseph Zwinck. Only three members—Fred Vanatta, George Sinclair and Essie Nider—voted with Meaker to exclude the press.

Carl Ely attempted to sound a less belligerent chord by suggesting that precipitate action not be taken, that the club take up the matter with the Detroit Metropolitan Exchange club and see what opinions its members had.

"Let's not just secede," he said. "Let's stay in the organization and fight this thing. I believe in abiding by the constitution, and I don't think this is the way to settle the matter."

No Choice Left

A. Russell Clarke, however, reminded members that the letter from the board of control left no choice, that further discussion on a national level was banned. Frid interposed: "Yes, and if we do not take action here, Hill and I and others must be expelled from the club at once."

Hill stressed that he had nothing against the opinions of any opposition member of the club. "I'm just fighting for a principle. If you vote against the motion we who are termed dissident will be expelled."

Additional verbal warfare broke out when Dr. Len Howard, head of Maybury sanatorium, declared: "The prime issue is the challenge that has been thrown at us in this letter. If they want to throw us out because we dare to take issue with them, then let them make the first move. The voluntary surrendering of our charter is not the way to do it."

"Whether or not white males are correct, it has been in the constitution for many years. If someone in the national office has enough power to wave a magic wand and tell members what to do, then we should fight that power."

More Argument

Directed to read the resolution, Sec. Meaker injected expressions of his own, in Hill's opinion, and the latter objected. An argument over which knew parliamentary law better followed. Hill reminded Meaker that he was supposed to read the motion as presented, and not act as a debater. Leo Mainville, Northville druggist, objected to Meaker leaving out of the resolution the reasons for the club's contemplated withdrawal.

"The way it reads now," he said, "we're a bunch of nincom poops!"

When Hill stated that it appeared the motion would fail because the opposition had thrown in roadblocks against it, George Clark offered a motion to table the resolution to permit further study.

Further argument ensued as to whether the issue would be tabled indefinitely, thus effectively killing it, or whether it should be brought up again next week.

Pres. Zwinck settled the matter by ruling that next week's program would be cancelled to permit bringing Hill's resolution to a final vote.

Tire Slashers Are Sought By Police

A reward has been offered by the Northville police department for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of vandals who have slashed tires on three automobiles here.

Chief Joseph E. Denton said Wednesday that all three were damaged Dec. 4, apparently after dark, and that in the case of the car belonging to Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonald, 157 E. Main St., all four tires were found deflated when the couple started for church Sunday morning.

Both rear tires on the car of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vineyard, 149 E. Main, were slashed between 7 and 11 p.m. Saturday night, and tires on the car of Clifford Gray, 150 N. Center, were punctured about the same time. Officers said apparently an ice pick and a knife had been used.

Chief Denton said he had ordered patrolmen to keep a strict watch of the area, especially at night, to prevent similar damage to other cars.

Jesus Taught True Worth Of Giving

WHEN Saint Paul was leaving Miletus after having called the elders of the Christian Church at Ephesus to hear his words of farewell before his last visit to Jerusalem, he bade these Christians to remember the words of the Lord Jesus: "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

No words could express more accurately the spirit of all that Jesus had said and exemplified in His life and death. Nor could any words express more pointedly the challenge of Jesus and His teaching to the ideas and actions of what He called "the world."

Getting and receiving is such a normal process of life and is so natural to happiness and welfare that we might well ask whether Jesus was right in declaring that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

We may ask, but there is only one answer. And the answer is found not only in some spiritual blessedness that compensates for the giving or renunciation of some material possession or, treasured thing.

Jesus offered men rest. "Come unto me . . . and I will give you rest."

Yet rest is the one thing that men, rich, poor, old, young, sick, or well, cannot do without. That offer of rest by the Master was supreme in its insight into human need.

So, in this matter of the blessedness of giving in any large and spiritual reality, the assertion that it is more blessed to give, than to receive is an extension of much that is true in normal living. The giving of parents to their children, the giving by lovers to loved ones, the innumerable acts of graciousness and self-sacrifice in which men and women find supreme satisfaction, bear witness to the testimony of Jesus.

"GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY"

From the pages of the "Missionary Review of the World" comes the following article:

"Some years ago a prominent French jurist was attorney for a murderer. In his final address to the jury he said: 'Gentlemen of the Jury! My task is very easy. The accused has confessed; a defense is impossible, and yet I want to add a few words. There, on the wall, I see the picture of the crucified Christ and I pay homage to Him. There hangs the picture in the hall of justice, where you condemn the guilty. But why do we not hear any thing of Him in our public schools to which we send our children? Why does the murderer, for the first time in his life see the crucified one here on this hall's wall, where the law will punish him? If the attention of my client had been directed to Christ when he sat on the benches of the school he would not now sit here facing disgrace and infamy. Yes it is of you, gentlemen, whom I accuse. You who brag with your education and your culture, and yet are barbarous who spread atheism and lust among the people and then are astonished when the people reply with crime and vulgarity.'"
