Open Letter To Ford Valve Plant Workers

This newspaper last week printed a letter from J. T. Stone, president of the UAW-CIO Local 896, on the subject of automation in the local Ford valve plant. Mr. Stone had apparently given considerable thought to the manner in which automation may affect the individual members of his union. He expressed the fear that Ford will require fewer workers in the future and that this will hurt Northville merchants.

We have heard other individuals—not employed by Ford—express similar concern and the matter appears to be assuming some importance locally.

Let us examine this subject of automation (installation of labor-saving machinery) and see what its effect has been in the past. Possibly this may give Stone his answer for the future which he fears.

Biggest Automation Feat

Those readers who are old enough to remember when Henry Ford installed the first moving assembly line, or who may have read of that momentous event, are familiar with the biggest single automation feat in the automobile industry. It was the moving assembly line which gave Ford a much higher efficiency than his competitors, and permitted him to be the first manufacturer to lower the price of his cars within reach of the men who made them.

Automation has been going on since Man first invented the wheel, which made it possible for him to carry loads on rough carts instead of on his back. The sailor who learned how to propel his boat by capturing the wind in a sail was following the same principle of automation which some of us fear today.

Another example is the farmer, who now uses a gang plow to turn several furrows at once. When the writer was a kid, farmers plowed one furrow at a time, walking slowly behind a team of horses day after day.

Ford's Automation Plans

A more pertinent example, and the one Mr. Stone uses in pointing out what he believes to be the "danger" in automation, is the current installation in the Ford valve plant here of machinery which will enable one man to produce 51,500 valves per day as compared with 3,500 which he produced in 1947 on the machinery Ford had then.

We have not checked the accuracy of Mr. Stone's figures but we assume they are correct. Such a gain in efficiency is outstanding. If it could be equalled by Ford and other automobile manufacturers on other parts all down the line, it would enable the industry to lower the price of its cars so much that the all-time production record which seems likely in 1955 would look like a depression figure. Fifteen million passenger cars per year would be a distinct possibility, and employment would be even higher than it is now.

Or—if we look at it from the standpoint of Ford and other automobile industry employees only—such a great improvement in efficiency would enable the companies to go much farther than Ford and G. M. have this year on the guaranteed annual wage. Not only this—they could pay higher wages, and perhaps shorten the work week from the present 40 hours. Men worked as many as 60 hours a week years ago before labor-saving machinery was developed to increase their efficiency and ease their labor. Even so, they were not able to earn enough to purchase the cheapest cars.

UAW Shares Automation Benefits

Twenty years ago this argument might have been contested. That was before the UAW-CIO had become the powerful bargaining force that it is today. Now, Walter Reuther is so familiar with the economic situation of Ford and the other companies that he would be quick to ask for labor's share of the constant improvement in efficiency. In fact, the "annual improvement factor" which was put into G. M.'s contract five years ago upon Reuther's insistence, and later accepted by industry generally, has given annual increases in pay as the workers' share of the industry's improving efficiency.

If Ford is installing more efficient machinery at Northville, we may rest assured that one of the reasons this is being done is to enable the company to maintain the efficiency necessary to meet the UAW-CIO's demands for higher wages and greater fringe benefits.

However, the improvement in efficiency which we are now calling automation, has been going on for years. Fortunately for all of us, it will continue just as long as the system of free competitive enterprise survives in our country.

Mr. Stone is concerned, of course, with whether the North-

Ask Warrant for Driver of Car That Killed Two

The office of the Wayne county sheriff said Wednesday, it planned to ask the Wayne county prosecutor's office for an involuntary manslaughter warrant against Clark Van Nort, 53, 112 Temple Ave., Detroit, driver of the car in which two persons were killed here last Saturday.

Van Nort's wife, Mrs. Marietta Van Nort, 46, and Charles Smith, 38, 7740 Gratiot died shortly after admittance to hospitals.

Van Nort, a truck driver, was released Tuesday from the Wayne County General hospital and made a statement to the police, according to Deputy Sheriff Tom Bagot. Traveling at a high speed, the driver failed to make the turn at West Seven Mile Rd. and Fish Hatchery Rd. The car went over a guard rail and overturned.

Police said that Van Nort had been drinking and that a half of a fifth of whiskey was found in the car. Another occupant of the car, Ronald Showalter, 25, Detroit suffered severe bruises, but was released from Wayne County General Monday.

Mrs. Lee E. Pierce, 41, 11626 Woodward Ave., Detroit, is still confined to University hospital at Ann Arbor. She received head and chest injuries.

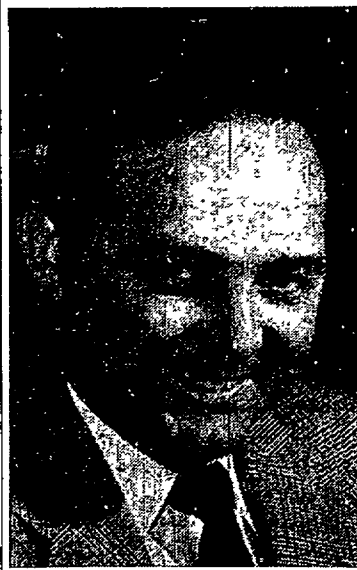

In addition to Bagot, deputy Harry Sparks of the sheriff's department was assigned to the accident.

Clark Reelected To School Board

Eural F. Clark, a member of the Northville board of education for the past 12 years, was reelected in Monday's school district election to fill the vacancy on the board, due to the expiration of his term. Of the 373 votes cast, Clark received 130.

The other three contestants for the office and their vote totals were Robert L. Hart, 122; Bruce Turnbull, 81, and Drake Older, 40.

Gray Heads Credit Union

Jack Gray

Jack Gray 120 West Cady St., Northville, has been appointed full-time treasurer-manager of the Burroughs Plymouth plant employee credit union, it was announced by Bob Gresehover, credit union president.

Gray's appointment establishes full maturity for Burroughs Plymouth Credit Union after less than 18 months of operation, during which it grew from 11 charter members and $55 in capital to an organization of over 2,100 members and more than a quarter million dollars in assets.

Gray was one of the original charter members who organized the Burroughs Employees Credit Union. He was elected to the board of directors and appointed Treasurer in January 1954 when the group was officially chartered.

Until his appointment as treasurer-manager, Gray was a Burroughs machine operator and handled all of his credit union responsibilities before and after regular working hours. He now has a clerical staff of three to help maintain credit union operations.

Gray has been married for the past three years to the former Velma Dayton, daughter of one of the owners of the Northville Laundry.

No Plans Now To Move Hatchery, U.S. Bureau Says

"To my knowledge, there are no plans to close the Northville hatchery this year or next year," D. H. Janzen, regional director of the U. S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, according to a letter to Charles W. Bahnmiller, president of the Northville Exchange club.

In answer to a letter submitted to the service signed by Mayor Claude N. Ely and local service clubs and others, protesting against a rumored closing of the hatchery, Janzen pointed out that: "It is very impracticable for us to predict the decisions which may be reached in the future by Congress or by individuals in policymaking positions in Washington."

"If and when such a proposal would appear to be practicable, you may be assured that you and other interested individuals and groups in Northville will be consulted."

Although Janzen's letter stated that "I am sorry to inform you that such an increase (increase in personnel) is not possible at this time," E. R. Widmyer, superintendent of the hatchery said this week that the addition of part time help for upkeep of the grounds had been approved.

Commenting further on the personnel problem, Janzen stated that "It is our considered opinion that such an increase is not warranted at the present time, the existing staff being large enough to handle the production and maintain the facilities to appropriate standards."

Brighter Outlook On Charter Reflected In City's Moves

The Northville City Commission appeared this week to have become more confident that no move is likely to be made by Novi township or Oakland county to upset Northville's status as a city.

As a result, its members individually are understood to favor going ahead at the next commission meeting June 20 with awarding a contract for installing water mains and sewers in the Yerkes subdivision in Novi township. Likewise Messrs Richard Beneicke and Robert Krue, who are planning the Yerkes subdivision, and have a considerable investment at stake, are reported to be going forward with plans for petitioning Northville for annexation of the subdivision at a special election.

Reason for the improved outlook of the Northville city fathers was the prompt action taken by the Wayne County Road Commission to grant the city's petition for extension of the Middle Rouge Interceptor Drain District to include Northville's Oakwood subdivision, the Yerkes subdivision and the new grade school property, all of which are in Oakland county.

Some officials in both Northville and Novi township had "wondered" whether this extension of the drain district across the county line might become the subject of a court battle. Others had argued that the annexation vote when the Oakwood subdivision was taken into Northville in 1924 was illegal might be made a focal point for legal action.

Novi officials have made no comment on the matter, but they are understood to wish there were some legal way to block annexation of additional township areas by Northville. They are not believed likely to initiate any legal action, however, unless there is reasonable assurance of success.

Beneicke and Krue, accompanied by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie and Leland V. Smith, went to Lansing last week immediately after the city commission delayed action on the sewer and water contract to talk with state officials on various legal aspects of the annexation situation.

They are now getting signatures on petitions asking for annexation of the Yerkes property. This is the first step toward bringing annexation proposal to a vote of the residents in the area to be annexed, and of electors in Northville.

The sewer and water main contract is expected to be awarded to Russell Button, of Novi, doing business as the Novi Building Service. This firm was second lowest bidder for the job but was recommended by Atwell and Hicks, Northville's consulting engineer, over the low bidder on the basis of performance on other jobs. Further consideration of the awarding of this contract will be on the commission's agenda for the next meeting June 20.

Two Residents Given Degrees By Michigan

Two residents of Northville received degrees at the University of Michigan commencement program Saturday. They were Miss Alice Newton, 325 First St., who was given a bachelor degree in education and Miss Beatrice L. Ware, 49209 W. Seven Mile, master of arts.

Earl Warren, chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court gave the commencement address. There were 2,713 graduates in the June class. Doctor's degrees were awarded to 139 students.

Improving Plymouth Route

BEGINNING A PAVED, shorter Route 14 to Plymouth—these scenes show the first steps in preparation for building a stone base this year and applying a black top surface next year on Sheldon Rd., a distance of about 1 1/4 miles from Phoenix Rd., to Edward Hines Drive. The paved road will be 20 feet wide, same width as before the construction started, but the width of the shoulders is being increased from an average of five feet to 10 feet, according to M. M. Brown, Wayne County Road commission official. Sheldon road's connecting with both Territorial Rd., and Ann Arbor Trail will provide a paved, shorter route to Plymouth. The estimated cost of $36,000 a mile will be borne entirely by Wayne county, Brown said.

Seek Tightening Of R-2 Zone Law In Township

Prompted by protests from residents on Ridge Rd. between Six Mile Rd. and Seven Mile Rd., the Northville township planning board has taken under advisement the amending of the zone code to limit multiple dwellings in (Residential)-2 areas to two families throughout the township.

While no definite plans were reported for construction of homes for more than two families, residents of the area sought by petition at the meeting of the zoning board Tuesday night to have the regulation changed to a definite limitation to two-family residences.

Legis officials will open Boys' State Saturday, June 18, with brief addresses.

Swedish Theme Highlights Chase-Hartmann Wedding

Mrs. Ernst Jan Hartmann

Carrying out the Swedish theme, Patricia Byer Chase wore a small gold Swedish crown with her gown of imported candlelight Italian silk taffeta for her wedding June 10 to Ernst Jan Hartmann, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernst Johan Hartmann of Stockholm, Sweden.

They were married at four o'clock in Christ Church, Cranbrook. The Rev. Walter Young officiated at the ceremony.

bridal veil was perhaps the most unusual feature of her costume. It was fashioned around the traditional gold crown which held the finger-tip veil of illusion and added a regal Scandinavian touch to the bride.

A cluster of phalaenopsis orchids, trailing stephanotis and ivy were combined in the bridal bouquet.

Miss Nancy Thoms, University of Michigan Medical school student from Masqat, Arabia, Miss Elizabeth Greensmith, Highland Park; Mrs. Ruthford Everest, Galion, O., and Miss Ann-Mari Hjorth, Stockholm, Sweden were the bridesmaids and were dressed in identical crystalline shantung. The dresses were in a refreshingly summery color with square necklines and very full waltz-length skirts.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Stadler, wore citron yellow and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of green majestic daisies. The bridesmaids wore light apple green and carried identical bouquets of daisies. The bridesmaids' hats were fashioned from the same material as the dresses and fitted in a narrow band over the head with a slight perky veil over the forehead.

The bridegroom's best man was the bride's brother, William Byer Chase. Arne Koch, Stockholm, Sweden; Roert Woerner, Lexington, Ky.; Pierce Olson, Minneapolis, Minn., and Reginald Horsman of England, ushered.

The brides mother chose a Ceil Chapman gown of French silk organza in camelia pink. The dress was fashioned entirely from fine bands of ruching. Accessories were of a matching shade of pink.

The bridegroom's mother wore an original gown made for her in Stockholm of rose-brown lace over silk taffeta of the same color.

The reception was held at Meadowbrook Country club and carried out the Swedish theme with a large smorgasbord and champagne. Swedish colors, blue and gold, were carried out in the floral decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartmann will travel to Sweden in September on their honeymoon, after Mr. Hartmann has completed his summer studies at the University of Michigan.

They sail on Sept. 3 and plan to spend several months in Sweden visiting friends and relatives and will travel through parts of Europe and Scandinavia before returning to make their home in Detroit. The couple will live in Ann Arbor for the summer and after that their address will be Birger Jarlsatan 6, Stockholm, Sweden for the duration of their stay abroad.

An international touch was added to the wedding by the unusual Swedish highlights: by the arrival of the bridegroom's parents who flew over for the wedding, and who plan to tour the U.S. for six weeks before returning to their home in Stockholm the latter part of July, and also by the attendants to both the bride and groom who hail from all points of the globe.

The great end of all human industry is the attainment of happiness.

Exchange Student Arrives from Germany July 23

Northville's German exchange student for the coming year, Friedemann Ernst Roland Kuhnau, of Bingen on the Rhine, will arrive in Northville July 23 with other students coming to this country under the auspices of the Urban Teen-Age project, the formal name of the plan.

Friedemann's foster parents here will be Mr. and Mrs. Donald Severance, 392 Fairbrook Court. Age 17, he is the son of a doctor, from whom he and other members of his family were separated during World War II because the parent was a prisoner of war.

He has two step-sisters, Ingeborg and Gabrielle. Two aunts are in the U.S., one at Laurel, Md., and the other in Cincinnati.

He will enroll at Northville high school this autumn. In his homeland he attended Stefan-George Gymnasium.

In a letter Friedemann stated that he breeds fish and birds, likes books about expeditions and adventures and favors skiing, swimming and riding a bicycle.

In Church Group "In our long summer vacations," he said, "I travel by bicycle. The last two years I was in Sweden, France, and Belgium. I am a member of a Protestant Youth group, but we are not only interested in religion, but politics, music and literature. My father is a doctor, maybe I will become a doctor too," he said.

Sponsoring agency in this area for the student exchange program is the Ann Arbor Council of Churches. The purpose of the project is "To acquaint German high school age students with American family and community life by having them live with American families for about one year, to enable them to gain an understanding and appreciation of the American way of life through participation in typical high school family and other aspects of community life.

"To enable the students to engage in general high school studies combined whenever possible with participation in student government activities as an integral part of their academic schedule, and to acquaint the students at first hand with the philosophy and operation of American schools and community organizations and the places they hold in a democracy."

Each student signs an agreement to "decline all invitations to remain beyond this period (one year) as the guest of Americans or American institutions and shall discourage any and all well-meaning Americans who present such proposals to me by informing them immediately that I have signed this agreement."

The youths sign that it is their intention to remain permanently in Germany after their return from Germany within three years file application for emigration from Germany within three years of my return."

The man who trusts men will make fewer mistakes than he who distrusts them.

NEWEST SAINT ENSHRINED—A crystal casket containing the remains of St. Pius X, Roman Catholicism's newest saint, is set in place in the Basilica of St. Mary Major, in Rome. Enshrinement of the silver-masked body of the late Pope took place following his canonization before St. Peter's, witnessed by perhaps the largest throng to assemble for a religious ceremony in modern times.

This is the first in a series of thumbnail sketches of Novi business people. In addition to their businesses, these people make many contributions to their community. They serve on school boards, they are youth leaders, they promote civic activities, they are active in lodge work, and in many cases they are the community leaders. They help to make Novi a better place to live as well as work.—Ed.

Burroughs Wins Citation for Food Service

The Burroughs Corporation's Plymouth plant was given an honor award in the Ninth Annual Food Service Contest conducted by Institutions Magazine for excellence of its employee cafeteria. The magazine is the official publication of the National Restaurant Assn.

Specifically, the award was presented for "Highest Standards of Sanitation and for Superlative Achievement in Storing, Handling, Preparing, and Serving Food."

Represented in the contest were the best kitchens and dining rooms among restaurants, hotels, hospitals, industrial plants, schools, colleges, and other types of feeding establishments. Award winners came from all areas of the US and Canada.

Competing entries in the contest were judged by leading authorities in various segments of the mass feeding field. Judgments were based on highest standards of sanitation, superior efficiency and superlative achievement in storing, handling, preparing and serving food.

Robert A. Niemi, of Northville, manager of Burroughs Plymouth plant, stated that "we are naturally happy that our employee cafeteria has achieved national recognition. It is our policy to provide top quality food to employees at reasonable prices, served in pleasant, relaxing surroundings. We are constantly seeking ways to improve this employee facility and hope that our efforts in this direction may always be counted among the best."

The cafeteria went into operation on May 10, 1954. Its seats over 700 diners at one time and serves them at the rate of 48 a

E. R. Widmyer, superintendent of the US Fish Hatchery here and Robert Hume of the Northville Exchange club when a conservation department movie, "Better Fish in Michigan," was shown. Hume is conservation officer for this area.

Also guests of the club were high school boys who assisted the club at its annual planting of 5,000 trout in streams in the vicinity of Northville last spring. They are Edward Mollema, Larry Green, Bob Watson, Donald Atwood, Harold Wilson, Bob Bake, Bob Gillick, George Hawes and Charles Hawes.

Robert Ruth was the guest of Harry Sedan and Ivan Ely, the guest of Carl Ely.

TWEED — AND LOVELY! Tweed, fashion's favorite standby, appears this year in a black-and-white, wool-and-nylon fabric. Style can be followed by homemakers to fashion a tweed coat-dress, suitable for wear with or without coat as spring breezes dictate, say New York City fashion experts.

STRICTLY FRESH

FELLOW in Denver, Colo., got a divorce on grounds that his wife had not permitted him to wear shoes in the house for five years and had allowed him to sit on a new sofa for only 10 seconds. Touchy, isn't he?

School principal in Walsenburg, Colo., received a note from a parent asking that her son be excused because "he gets spring fever every year at this time." We'd like to try this one on the boss, but can't—he's gone fishin'!

ville Ford plant will continue to employ as many persons in the future as it has in the past. He believes the present rate of automobile production is abnormally high and will cut to a lower level one of these days.

Of course car production will decline some day, and when it does Ford won't need as many men until business picks up again. This is one of the hard economic facts of life that Ford workers with low seniority must face. There is no such thing as absolutely stable employment, nor can there be under an economic system based upon the incentive motive. It is to lessen the blow of unemployment that the UAW-CIO is now battling for a guaranteed annual wage throughout the auto industry.

However, even if Ford's new equipment makes it unnecessary to employ as many men making valves in the future, Mr. Stone can bet his bottom dollar that Ford will be employing more men five years from now than today. The company's present automation program is a virtual guarantee that this will be the case.

Mrs. Watson also furnished some interesting sidelights on the history of the Novi post office. Originally in west Novi just beyond the present corner of 12 Mile Rd. and Grand River, the post office was in existence before the township was organized in 1834. Among the postmasters since the turn of the century were Lee Wooster, John McCowan, Claude Walters, his wife Belle Walters, and Mrs. Claire Renrick.

It was after the death of Mrs. Renrick that Marjorie Watson took over the postmastership. The post office at that time was in a small white frame building just east of the Shell station at Grand River and 11 Mile Rd. Mrs. Watson worked there until the winter of 1953 when the present modern post office was completed.

Northville Seeks Top Spot in Inter-County Loop

The Northville nine in the Inter-County league will play Garden City at Cass Benton park Sunday at 3 p.m. and attempt to share top berth in league standings with Garden City club.

The visiting team has five victories against one loss; while Northville has been in the winning column four times, having lost two in the season so far. Joe Kritch of Northville, a scout for the New York Yankees, is manager of the Garden City team.

He will send his brother, Tom Kritch, to the mound Sunday. Tom was formerly with Automobile Club of Michigan team in Detroit. Steve Folino, manager of the local team had not decided by Wednesday what hurler he would use.

Folino said that Wally Messina, 17-year-old second baseman, with his team and with the St. Bernard high school team in Detroit last year, tried out with the Boston Red Sox on their last trip to Detroit to meet the Tigers.

With the Michigan-Ohio tournament set July 2-3 at Monroe, sandlot teams will be bearing down for the title at the National Baseball Conference tournament at Wichita, Kans., in Sept., Folino stated.

Kensington Opens Fishing Contest Sat., June 18

Kensington Metropolitan Park on US 16 near New Hudson announces its second annual Fishing Contest starting Saturday, June 18, the day the bass season opens.

Monthly prizes of tackle are offered in June, July and August for the heaviest largemouth bass, smallmouth bass and panfish, and 24 trophies will be grand prizes at the close of the contest Sept. 11, for the same three classifications and also for northern pike.

The awards will be made by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, five-county park and agency of which Kensington park is a unit.

Catches will be weighed, measured and registered at the Boat Rental Dock on Kent Lake on the day of the catch. The dock is open daily from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. Both 1,200-acre Kent Lake and smaller Wildwing Lake may be fished.

The contest is open to shore-fishermen, those using rental boats and those launching private boats at the free launching ramp. H-C-MA employees and their families are excluded.

Six tackle prizes will be given each month, one for adults and one for juniors, age 16 and under, in three classifications. Largemouth bass, smallmouth bass and panfish.

Northern pike is a fourth classification in the competition for grand awards. There will be three engraved trophies for adults and three for juniors in each of the four divisions.

A five-pound, nine ounce largemouth caught on a spinning rod while still-fishing with a night-crawler harness won the top bass award last year for John R. Schwartz, 19720 Conley. A 14-ounce bluegill landed on a flyrod with a flatfish by Lester Hull of Allen Park was tops for panfish last year. A 14-year-old girl, Carol Tapp of South Lyon, got an eight pound, 11 ounce northern pike, shorefishing with minnows, for honors in the pike division.

Legion All Stars Double Header at Detroit July 2

Wrigley stores, and the American Legion have joined forces for the second year to sponsor the 12th annual American Legion All-Star double header ball game Saturday, July 2 at Briggs stadium.

Free tickets for the event will be available June 23 to youngsters and their parents at Wrigley stores in Detroit and nearby communities, according to Nathan Lurie, secretary of Wrigley's and an active member of the Bear V. Pittinger American Legion Post No. 119.

The All-Star event will begin with a parade of American Legion bands, drum and bugle corps, the young ballplayers and Legion members. Beginning at Detroit city hall, the parade will move west on Lafayette to Trumbull, then north to Briggs stadium.

First game of the double header will see the 16th District All-Stars pitted against the Detroit Districts All-Stars, managed by Eddie Lubanski. Cy Kort is the chairman of the Detroit Districts Baseball league.

Lubanski's team is comprised of the top players selected from the 1, 13, 14 and 15 Districts. These districts follow the boundaries of congressional districts and include metropolitan Detroit. Lubanski managed the Turnsted team that won the American Legion Junior Baseball state championship last year.

Michigan Studies Care and Feeding Of Muskies

Michigan fishermen will watch the state conservation department's musky rearing experiment with interest this year in hopes the big game fish can be established in various parts of the state. But state fish workers are making no promises about turning Michigan into a musky-fishing paradise.

One of the biggest problems is that Michigan has so many pike. Pike and muskies are natural enemies and pike have an advantage in spawning dates. By the date in the spring when young muskies are just hatched, young pike and other predator fish are well started in life and eating everything small enough including the tiny musky fry.

Also, proposed plantings in certain southern Michigan lakes will help answer other question about the musky. Water temperatures, lakebed vegetation and animal life in waters where the musky will have to live will determine Rouge, Wyandotte, Trenton, Lincoln Park and Ecorse.

The second game of the double header, which signals the winding up of the American Legion season, features the top players of the 2nd District (Washtenaw County area) versus the All-Stars of the 17th and 18th Districts (Pontiac, Birmingham and north-west suburbs.)

For his third consecutive year, American Legioner George E. Dygert is director of activities for the All-Star double header.

whether he can be established throughout the state.

Michigan already has fair musky fishing in a few places, such as the Indian River in Choboygan county, Torch River in Antrim and Kalkaska counties, on Elk and Round lakes in Antrim and Grand Traverse counties and on the "flats" of Lake St. Clair.

Last year, the Department was unable to hatch more than a handful of muskies, none of which survived. This year, 400,000 have been hatched and are in rearing ponds at Wolf Lake and Drayton Plains hatcheries. If natural foods such as insects and water mites are abundant, a fair percentage of these will survive; otherwise only a small percentage will live through the summer.

Remember back to the good old days when a charity was a virtue...instead of an industry?

"Hello, Mr. Rooter? ... How about a guaranteed annual rainfall for us farmers?"

SINCE OL' DIZ mentioned a few ball players' pet superstitions on the air recently, there has been so much comment that I decided to explore the subject further. The results are extremely interesting.

Tiger Manager Bucky Harris pats a resin bag with two fingers when the team is in trouble. If we're winning games, he insists on the same player writing down the line-up that Bucky dictates for the umpire. But the moment we lose, he has a different player write it down.

Bucky is a good housekeeper and dislikes scraps of paper littering the dugout. He's always picking them up.

Speaking of scraps of paper, Bobo Newsome, the former Tiger pitcher, hated seeing them around the mound and wouldn't pitch while they were there.

So it was bound to happen: Doc Cramer, then our centerfielder, tore up a score card and littered the mound as he trotted to the outfield.

Bobo, now a Baltimore radio announcer, made a big show of refusing to pitch until the ground crew had cleaned up the debris.

Another of Bobo's superstitions was touching the foul line with his right forefinger on the way to the pitching box.

Ray Boone never kneels in the batter's circle, always just outside of it. Bill Tuttle wears the same sweatshirt when the team is winning and the same shorts when he's hitting consistently.

Our trainer, Jack Homel, opens a pair of scissors and jabs the points in the direction of the opposing pitcher if he thinks the enemy hurler is doing too well against our batters.

Ferris Fain has a superstition that many others subscribe to. When he sees a white horse, he licks his thumb, presses the thumb against the palm of his other hand and then pounds the dampened palm with his fist. This is supposed to bring him many base hits.

Ol' Diz never stepped on a foul line, always picked up my glove with the left hand and never walked between the catcher and the umpire when going to bat.

The two most universal superstitions in baseball are never allowing bats to get crossed in the bat rack and never putting away the bats until the game is over—no matter how many runs you're ahead.

Harvey Kuenn is convinced that chewing tobacco helps his batting. At the trainer's insistence, Harvey gave up the habit in the spring of 1954 and bet him $100 he wouldn't renew it. Thereafter he couldn't buy a hit.

Finally, in desperation one day, Harvey took a chew and got three-for-four. He continued to chew and wound up the season with a .306 average.

Harvey lost a hundred bucks but more than made it up in his 1955 Hickory and Horsehide contract.

FARMER-HUNTER PROBLEM

It won't be long before Mr. Michigan Farmer will be facing the old, old problem of how to deal with the trespassing hunter, and as we face the summer months it might be a good idea to look for a two-way answer. There are unquestionably some slightly blunt-witted hunters who figure they're doing the farmer a favor by ridding his land of pests such as crop-eating pheasants, rabbits and coons. There's another group that concludes the farmer will refuse their permission to hunt when they ask so they don't ask and hunt anyway. However, for the moment at least, let's consider these two types in the minority, and consider the problem from the viewpoint of the average sportsman.

Obligation Created

Just as soon as Mr. Farmer grants permission to hunt his lands there is an obligation created. The sportsman is indebted to the farmer for a favor. That's a sociological fact, and there's no denial of it! Yet, in the face of this fact, how many sportsmen ever discharge the obligation by returning the favor in one form or another? Some may consider this inconvenient beyond the powers of processing. Some may say the farmer doesn't expect it. In the latter instance the writer will agree, because farmers are big-hearted people who aren't looking for compound interest on every lick of effort they put forth in life. But it's a lame excuse for the hunter.

To those who agree that an obligation has been created let's look for a practical way to say "thanks!"

Help the Farmer!

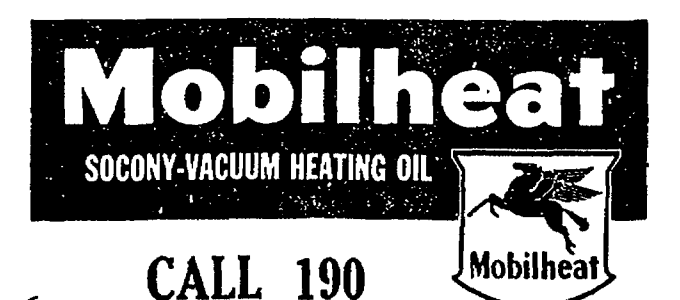

If you've ever lived around a farm—or if you've ever known a farmer well—you'll realize his tasks are many and varied. A thousand and one little jobs have to be done from dawn 'til dark, many of them pointing upward toward harvest time in the fall, and the fruition of another year's work. The farmer could always use a few more hands around the place, just for the day, now and then. There's where YOU step in! Give a day to the farmer whose land you'd like to hunt in return. Drive out there some day soon and offer to help. Chances are he'll set a later date for a little "work bee" around the farm when you and your hunting group can stop by, help with the chores, enjoy learning a little about farm life in general, and go home with a feeling of satisfaction that more than outweighs the pain of a few blisters here and there! Come hunting time next fall and your farmer friend stands ready to "pay you off" with a welcome that's warm and real!

The books are balanced! Try it this year.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

May 10, 1955

The Honorable Commission
Village of Northville, Michigan

Gentlemen:

We have examined the balance sheet of the Village of Northville as of February 28, 1955 and the statement of receipts and disbursements and income for the fiscal year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We did not consider it practicable to verify taxes and accounts receivable by direct communication with the debtors.

The accounts of the Water Department Fund are kept on the accrual basis. The accounts for all other funds are kept on a modified cash receipts and disbursements basis; all assets and liabilities are recognized in the accounts, but revenues are recognized only when cash is received.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and related statements of income or receipts and disbursements present fairly the position of the Village of Northville at February 28, 1955 and the results of operations for the fiscal year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted governmental accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Very truly yours,

ICERMAN, JOHNSON & HOFFMAN

MICHIGAN MIRROR

A REPORT FROM THE CAPITOL

By Elmer White

MICHIGAN WILL HAVE a Fair Employment Practices Commission, for better or for worse.

After 13 years of trying, the supporters of the plan to outlaw discrimination, succeeded in getting the bill through the legislature.

By definition, it is aimed at employers who overlook qualifications of job seekers and make their decisions on the basis of race, creed, color, national ancestory or origin.

Michigan will organize a six-member bipartisan commission to administer the law. There will be qualified powers of subpoena to compel witnesses to testify and obtain business records.

The law will make it illegal to inquire into a job applicant's religion, race or ancestry. The commission will hear complaints but cannot start action on its own.

But what about enforcing the law?

No employer can be punished directly, except through contempt of court when the issue goes that far on appeal from the commission findings.

Actually, conciliation is the stock in trade of the new Michigan FEPC law.

Employers will be asked to take another look at a disappointed applicant. The key will be his qualifications and the law has a number of interesting loopholes on that one.

Another of the informal enforcement weapons will be publicity and the ignominy of being called in before the commission for a hearing on discrimination.

Its enemies are intent on crippling the law, a carryover from legislative wars. One said:

"This is merely employment by embarrassment."

Politically, both Democrats and Republicans expect to benefit.

Democrats have been campaigning for FEPC for years in Michigan and the proposals always have had a Republican sponsor. The leader in Michigan was Rep. Louis
C. Cramton (R-Lapeer).

Both parties have included an FEPC plank in party platforms in the last few years.

The next year will tell whether FEPC will be successful in Michigan. Republicans, Democrats, employers, minority groups—and the public will be waiting for the answers.

GOV. WILLIAMS is displaying something less than reluctance toward becoming a presidential candidate in 1956.

Chronologically, he first mentioned he could be drafted by the Democratic National Convention in a speech in the West. When the papers said he was going for the nomination, he said he was misquoted.

Later, back in Michigan, he said
Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, was the odds-on choice but that Williams would be proud to be considered "just as any other American would."

That was the official line out of Williams' office until last week.

In Augusta, Ga., where he lambasted the administration's foreign policy, Williams said he would be happy to be the candidate in 1956 "if the opportunity arises."

Gail Blackburn Feted By Friends

Gail Blackburn, whose marriage to Robert Scheffer of Farmington will be an event of August 13, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. William Crump and Mrs. William Davis at the Crump home on Timberlane June 14.

Gail, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackburn of Orchard Dr., received many miscellaneous gifts. The table was centered with a replica of the wedding party with the bride and four bridesmaids made of angel-food cake with a background of flowers, and with a color scheme of blue and silver.

Gail's two grandmothers were present: Mrs. C. L. Blackburn from Dayton, O., and Mrs. Jennie Snyder, of Monroe. Other guests were from Huntington Woods, Allen Park and Detroit. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. R. E. Scheffer of Farmington, was

WOMEN AND WHEELS

Car Air Conditioning Growing in Popularity

By Mary Lou Chapman

Have you ever walked to your car on a steaming hot day, hoping for a cool breeze once you started off, only to open the door and find that it was so hot inside you could bake a cake on the seat?

It has happened to almost everyone, and this experience, along with the fact that today's air conditioning units for automobiles are becoming less expensive, explains the amazing upswing in demand in the last two years.

Miss Chapman

Southern States used to account for the greatest volume in sales of air conditioning systems, but today many sales are being made in Northern states as well.

You can now find a cooling unit for almost every car made. The deluxe units draw fresh air into the car from the outside, and smoke and stale air are drawn out. The less expensive units recirculate the air that is already in the car.

Some deluxe units can reduce the temperature inside a car from 115 degrees to approximately 80 degrees in two minutes while you drive 25 miles an hour. And in five minutes, you can take the temperature down even further if you desire. Even with the engine idling, the unit cools the car effectively. You can set the controls to virtually any temperature you wish.

(Fashion writer, artist, and TV personality, Miss Chapman is a native of Detroit and has spent the last several years working with automobile stylists, designers and engineers at Chrysler Corporation.)

If at first you don't succeed, you're running average.

Mrs. Paul Terry New President of Mothers' Club

Mrs. Paul Terry, newly elected president of the Northville Mothers' club, presided at the business session of the club's final meeting of the year. Mrs. Hugh Godfrey was hostess to the annual picnic at her home on Eaton Dr.

Other newly elected officers are Mrs. Fred Collins, vice-president; Mrs. William Davis, secretary, and Mrs. Karl Karg, treasurer.

It isn't the minutes at the table that makes one fat. It's the seconds.

FRESH BUTTERMILK

secret of good pancakes!

Morning comes early—and a bright morning it can be, too, if you have a good day to look forward to. One way to assure just such a day is to start out in a cheerful mood with a tempting pancake breakfast.

Your whole family—and especially Dad and Junior—will welcome this new recipe featuring Half 'n Half Pancakes. Combining equal parts of buckwheat and plain pancake mix and made with fresh buttermilk, the pancakes have a mild pleasing flavor that always makes a hit with the menfolks.

A colorful variety of fresh fruit sauces—apple, peach or raspberry—provide delicious toppings while bacon curls add a cheery touch to the platter. What a send-off for the day ahead!

HALF 'N HALF PANCAKES

Makes 14 to 16 medium pancakes

1 cup pancake mix
1 cup buckwheat mix
½ teaspoon soda
2½ cups buttermilk

1 egg
2 tablespoons melted butter

Combine unsifted mixes. Dissolve soda in buttermilk. Add all at once to pancake mix with egg and butter; stir lightly. (For thinner pancakes, add a little more buttermilk.) Somewhat lumpy batter makes light, fluffy pancakes. Pour ¼ cup of batter for each pancake onto a hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once. Serve with butter, bacon curls and a fruit sauce such as raspberry, peach or apple.

Michigan Tops Other States in Fish Permits

Michigan is still the nation's most popular fishing ground, according to Herbert W. Coopes, Automobile Club of Michigan license division manager. The state issued a total of 1,259,925 licenses during the last fiscal year.

Figures furnished by Sport Fishing Institute show that Michigan residents last year purchased 952,788 licenses. Tourists and vacationers from every state in the union bought another 307,137. In total number of licenses issued, Michigan ranked well ahead of such other popular fishing states as Minnesota, Wisconsin and California.

"This year is expected to be even better," Coopes said. "Auto Club division offices all are reporting increased demands for Michigan fishing licenses both from state residents and from out-of-state tourists."

"Fishermen are the nation's most intrepid motor travelers. Many drive thousands of miles to find the right spot and the right catch. They will do much to help bring Michigan an estimated $60 million in tourist revenue this year," Coopes added.

Now's Time for Annual Check-Up

Be Systematic When Cleaning Heating Plant

Have a system for cleaning your heating plant? If you don't you should have. Say engineers at the Coleman Heating Institute, Wichita, Kans. They point out that a systematic way of attacking this spring or summer chore makes sure no essential step will be skipped.

Here's their advice. It's a method for making an annual check-up of forced warm-air heating. Because forced warm air is the fastest-growing heating system for homes, many home-owners aren't fully familiar with it;

1—Clean registers with a hose-type vacuum cleaner. Reach down inside the air ducts as far as you can.

2—Change the air filter unless it has been in service only a month or two. If it is reasonably new, remove it and tap it on the ground to knock surface dirt off, then use the vacuum cleaner to pull deeper dirt out.

3—Use the vacuum cleaner—handy gadget, isn't it?—on the gas burner, too. But don't do this until the pilot has been extinguished, the Coleman people caution.

4—Oil fan bearing assemblies and the fan motor as recommended by the manufacturer (his instructions are posted on the furnace). Check alignment and tension of the fan belt. The householder who's not sure of his competence here will be wise to let a service man do it.

5—Have a service man inspect and adjust controls and check for proper functioning of the burner.

6—Check the chimney flue, cleaning it if necessary. Repair cracks, replace loose bricks.

Because roof and heating plant have had a hard job all winter, they are the two most vital parts of the house to check as soon as warm weather comes.

corrosion, physics, and plant science.

The research grants total $150,000. This is the largest single item in the Foundation's educational program. Each grant consists of a donation of $5,000 to the designated school department to assist in expanding fundamental research and a supplemental donation of $2,500 for use in any manner the school determines.

Southworth pointed out that this extra grant need not be expended on research if more pressing needs exist elsewhere in the school.

The fund for higher education provides 49 fellowships and 20 research grants in designated fields and allied study. Schools are given full responsibility and latitude for selecting the fellows and for utilizing the funds provided for basic research.

Fields designated for 1955-56 support include business administration, chemistry, chemical engineering, engineering mechanics, geology, geological and petroleum production engineering, geophysics, mathematics, mechanical engineering, metallurgy, corrosion, physics, and plant science.

Each morning, before the distractions of the day begin, let us look to the sun which unfailingly has risen again, and know and affirm that God is; let us thank Him for the new beginning, and ask for His guidance, His mercy and love.

Watch Roof Deck For Damp Spots After Heavy Rain

Ever stop to think that the roof's been outside all winter long, exposed to the worst the weather can throw at it, while you've been inside cozy and warm and dry? For this reason, the roof should be the starting point for the annual spring check-up, just to make sure ice and snow have caused no damage.

A good time to check the roof is after a heavy rain, when wet spots indicating damage are likely to show up. Look at the underside of the roof deck and pay special attention to the areas around the chimney and soil stacks. If there are signs of moisture, the roof might be leaking. It's wise to call in a reliable roofing contractor for a thorough inspection to see whether reroofing is necessary.

It is usually false economy to patch up an old leaky roof. Since all parts of a roof tend to weather equally, the first leak in an old roof usually indicates others are on the way. Patching a weathered roof is a temporary measure at best—and added expense, for sooner or later reroofing will become necessary anyway.

In most cases, a new roof of asphalt shingles can be economically applied right over old roofing. This eliminates the time, trouble, and expense of removing the worn material, and preserves the insulating value of the old roofing.

TRUCKERS CAST CODE FOR KIDS SAFETY

Miss Gladys M. Wright, president of the Michigan Trucking Assn., said last week that the association offers the following points for "keeping footloose offspring happy, contented, out of trouble and out of danger."

1. Know where your children are playing. Keep younger children under your own supervision or that of a reliable adult.

2. Instruct them to use a playground or play street for recreation.

3. Warn them particularly of the danger of suddenly running into the street for any reason.

4. Do not let young children use wagons and tricycles in the street. Remind older children who may be riding bicycles that under the law, they have much the same duties as the drivers of motor vehicles.

5. Set a good example for the younger generation.

Social Security Tips Offered for Young Workers

Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office offers the following information to students who will be working this summer:

1. You will need a social security card.

2. If you have lost your card apply now for a duplicate card which will show your original number.

3. Be sure to show the card to your employer. He can then copy your name and number exactly as they are on the card. This will insure the proper crediting of your earnings to your account.

4. If you change your name be sure to take your card to the social security office to get a card showing your new name but the same number. You need only one number throughout your lifetime.

The Detroit-Northwest office is at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27. It is open between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Schools Share as Shell "Shells Out" For Science Study

The University of Michigan has been named to share in the $350,000-a-year program of the Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., according to J. W. Southworth, manager for Shell Oil in this state. Michigan is one of 41 colleges and universities throughout the U S benefiting from the program.

Southworth said that, since the inception of the program in 1947, Shell has sponsored 407 fellowships and 89 research grants with a total value of $1,500,000, and that the 1955 allocation was the largest ever provided for support of higher education.

The fund for higher education provides 49 fellowships and 20 research grants in designated fields and allied study. Schools are given full responsibility and latitude for selecting the fellows and for utilizing the funds provided for basic research.

Mich. Mail Trucks Carry Messages Of Dairy Month

At least 600 mail trucks in Michigan will carry more than just letters and packages during the last half of June.

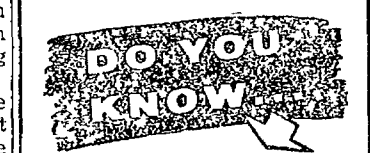

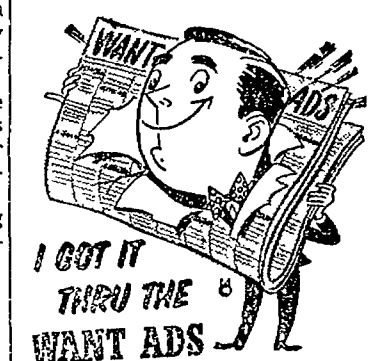

They will be bringing a message to people all over Michigan that June is Dairy Month in the state and the season to eat more dairy products.

Through the cooperation of the U. S. Post Office Department and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the mail trucks are being permitted to carry posters on each side of them as reminders that dairy products are necessary in the diet and that dairying is the country's leading agricultural industry.

Providing the posters is the American Dairy Assn. of Michigan, one of the leading sponsors of the June Dairy Month program in the state.

According to Charles E. Stone, secretary-manager of the American Dairy Assn. of Michigan, and chairman of the June Dairy Month committee, at least 1,200 posters will be placed on mail trucks in the state as part of a nation-wide event from June 16 through June 30.

Consumers Power Gives $5,000 for 4-H Projects

Michigan's 60,000 4-H Club boys and girls will reap fun and education from the $5,000 contribution of Consumers Power to the Michigan 4-H Club Foundation.

The contribution, explains Howard Worthington, executive director of the foundation, "will help us reach our 10-year goal of $5 million." This money will be used to expand the present 4-H Club program in Michigan.

Funds will go towards the promotion of urban 4-H Club work, establishment of a state 4-H Club center somewhere in the north-central part of the state, aiding the International Farm Youth Exchange program and the support of the awards program of 4-H Clubs.

Worthington said Consumers Power has helped in the past years by furnishing equipment and personnel for teaching the 4-H electrical project, by donating cash awards and projects pins for the electrical project, by holding schools on electricity and giving money for trip awards to National 4-H Club Congress.

High time you discovered the difference in Dodge!

Next time you're driving around town, just notice the number of gleaming new Dodge cars you see on the street!

Then ask yourself: "What is it these people have found out about the new Dodge that's causing this landslide of popular favor?"

Part of it, of course, is the new Dodge styling. You can see at a glance how much bigger and more luxurious this car is—up to 9 inches longer than its competitors.

But the real story behind the rush to Dodge is this: People are discovering the difference in the way Dodge cars are engineered and built!

They discover it in the solid, substantial feel of the car—the way it handles and rides. They learn to appreciate it in the deep-down goodness of every part and feature: Doors that don't rattle. Body joints that don't squeak. Windows that work smoothly.

There is really no substitute for the dependability that is built into Dodge. Isn't it time, you discovered this difference for yourself?

State Expects 1.2 Million Hunters

The Michigan Conservation department is ordering 1,700,000 hunting licenses in anticipation of the coming fall seasons. The order this year is about the same as last year.

About 1,200,000 of the licenses were sold last year and state workers anticipate little change from that total this year.

THISTLES AND SIN

Years ago there was not a single thistle in the whole of Australia. A Scotchman who admited thistles thought it a pity that such a great island should be without that glorious and marvelous symbol of his nation. He therefore collected a packet of thistle seed and sent it over to his friends. Now the whole island is covered with it, and it has become a great plague. You know, dear reader, that sin is just like the seed of the thistle. It is a small thing but it has such great potential that it will ruin and blight your early life, and condemn your soul for all eternity. Sin, like the thistle seed, breeds faster than human beings can destroy it. One sin leads to another, and then another; it divides and multiplies until at last the sinner finds himself hopelessly entangled in a life of sin. Even though he may choose to "go straight" or to "change his course", he finds himself helplessly enslaved. Then like the thistle which has a pretty flower, but the leaves prick, so sin has its allurements and pleasures, but along with it one must take the unpleasant results. Christ is the Saviour from the penalty and power of sin—you need Him now.

Season for Bass Opens June 18

The 1955 bass fishing season opens June 18, the last major game fish to be removed from the closed list this year.

Conservation department fisheries workers expect a large number of anglers to take part in the opening.

Largemouth and smallmouth black bass are common in lower peninsula lakes while upper peninsula lakes have few largemouths but a fair proportion of smallmouths.

"Fishing in Michigan," a state publication, points out that the usual method of angling for largemouths is to cast plugs, spinners and live bait into areas of lily pads and other aquatic plants in shallow lake waters. Smallmouths are also often taken in this way, or by trolling with spinners and live bait in moderately deep water. Both species are often caught during the late evening or at night.

The Michigan record largemouth weighed 11 pounds, 15 ounces and the record smallmouth tipped the scales at 9 1/4 pounds.

Balsa is the lightest wood that is commercially useful.

The United States hopes to have a temporary "West Point of the Air," an Air Force Academy, in operation by 1955 and the permanent organization activated by 1957.

Dakota and will be guests of Notre Dame college for a day and night before coming back to Northville.

Seven of the boys are from Detroit and the eighth is Ray Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hood of Grace St., who is a freshman at U of D High School. Madigan is a teacher at U of D and this will be his 14th trip of this kind. He has covered nearly every state in the Union on these annual treks.
