

COUNCIL ABANDONS QUICK VOTE ON RE-ZONING

for the Record

by G. H. C.

Record's Position Towards Racing

Two events that have occurred recently make it in the public interest that the Northville Record state its attitude toward racing at Northville Downs.

One of these occurred Oct. 23, when the publisher refused to sign a petition being circulated by a friend in protest against rezoning the St. Lawrence property so it can be used for horse barns needed by Northville Downs.

The second event occurred last Saturday morning, when the publisher was told at 8:30 a.m. that the city commission was to meet at 9 a.m. to vote on rezoning the property. Because of the publisher's vigorous protest, the meeting was called off and action postponed until the commission's regular meeting Nov. 7.

In neither instance did we relish taking the stand we did. It is much easier to agree with everyone, and certainly a great deal more popular. So that the Record's position may be fully understood, we cite briefly the following facts.

1. We believe the residents of the City of Northville want racing at Northville Downs and that they, and the city government, realize very substantial financial benefits therefrom.

2. We do not agree with Northville township residents who object to racing in Northville. If they were residents of the city, and paid city taxes, they would be entitled to vote against racing and to urge the city commission to do likewise. As township residents, who pay a township tax of only $1 per $1,000 compared with the $14.90 per $1,000 which city residents pay, we feel that they are not looking the facts squarely in the face when they argue that Northville residents shouldn't want racing.

3. We feel that the City Planning Commission acted wisely last week when it listened to objections of township residents and then dealt with the re-zoning application on the basis of its relative advantages to the city and its disadvantage to individuals who are so unfortunate as to own property that probably will be depreciated by the erection of horse barns. The effort of the Planning Commission to come up with a compromise plan that would give Northville Downs the barn site it must have, and at the same time cushion the depreciation to adjoining property which these barns will cause was a goodwill move that should not be shrugged off lightly.

4. We believe that the public should have an opportunity to learn about the planning commission's recommendation, and other pertinent facts about the background for the Northville Downs request for re-zoning; also that the city commission should hear at least one representative of the planning commission before the final vote is taken on re-zoning. It would also seem both courteous and fair to give the two property owners who will be directly affected by the re-zoning an opportunity to ask for such protection as the city commission can make available without sacrificing the city's interest.

None of these things would have been possible if the city commission had passed upon the re-zoning Saturday.

The Record objects to the attempt of the racing group to get the city commission to vote on re-zoning for its benefit without adequate information being given the public. More particularly, it feels that Northville Downs and the Northville Driving club withheld from the planning commission pertinent parts of the State Racing Commissioner's ultimatum that they must build barns before the next racing season. When the racing interests urge fast action on re-zoning for their benefit, it is proper for the public to know some of the background which led the racing commissioner to hand down his ultimatum. In the same letter telling Northville Downs to let contracts for barn construction before Jan. 10, 1956, Commissioner Inglis said in effect:

"We told you in the spring of 1953 to fix your barns so they would not be a fire risk.

"The State Fire Marshall told you on June 18, 1954 to tear down six barns.

"No action was taken toward tearing these barns down until Feb. 1955 when the Fire Marshall's office threatened court action and the Racing Commission threatened loss of 1955 racing dates.

"When it appeared there was insufficient time to construct permanent barns before the 1955 racing meet you leased the St. Lawrence property, but so far as is known, neither the Racing Commission, the State Fire Marshall, nor any other governmental agency approved the arrangements for these tent stalls and the water and sanitary facilities pertaining thereto.

"State Fire Marshall Arnold C. Renner said in a letter dated July 29, 1955: '... the wiring in these tents is in a very hazardous condition, in fact, it is rank amateur job and very dangerous. The manner in which the hay and straw is piled adds greatly to the hazard. It is the officer's opinion that these tents are a much greater hazard than the barns themselves.'

State Veterinarian Lee Davisson said in a letter dated Aug. 9, 1955: '... an inspection report dated July 29, 1955 ... makes reference to the manure situation and drainage of water from ditches which are badly contaminated with flies and mosquitos, and outhouses in their vicinity which had a very distinct odor that was said to smell to high heavens. ... If some contagious and infectious disease were to break out as a result of this type of stabling, I believe that the race track association could be held responsible.'

Amerman Elementary School

Public Invited To Dedication Nov. 7 of Russell Amerman Elementary School

Parents, educators and interested area people are invited to attend the dedication program at the Russell H. Amerman Elementary school Monday, Nov. 7 at 7:45 p.m. The program is conveniently scheduled during American Education Week, Nov. 6-12, the time when all parents are urged to visit the schools and talk to their children's teachers.

The ten room school, long needed for the increasing number of school children became a reality last year when Northville people vote a $300,000 bond issue.

Through the efforts of the school board, its committee, the architect, Eberle Smith, and the voters, Northville now has a new ten room building which is beautiful as well as functional. The school situated on a ten-acre plot on North Center St., has as some of its outstanding features bi-lateral lighting, sight-saving chalk and bulletin boards, brightly colored rooms, and modern furniture. Each classroom is equipped with its own drinking fountain and has an adjoining lavatory. The multi-purpose room is equipped with laminated wooden beams, folding lunch tables and benches, and a stage.

The Russell H. Amerman Elementary school bears the name of the Superintendent of Northville Public Schools. Because of his tireless devotion and distinguished service to the children and adults of Northville, the name of Russell H. Amerman was chosen as a highly respected, and honored name for Northville's newest school.

The dedication program will consist of music by the high school band; invocation by the Rev. John Taxis; acknowledgments by Robert Hart; introduction of speaker by Richard Kay, principal; address by Russell Isbister, superintendent of Plymouth schools; presentation of keys by Peter Tarapata; representing the Board of Education, Robert Coolman; acceptance of keys, Russell Amerman; benediction by the Rev. John Taxis, and closing organ music will be furnished by Grinnells.

Following the program, the public is invited to participate in a tour of the building.

Citizens Advisory Committee Gives H. S. Report To P-TA

The Citizens Advisory Committee to the Northville Board of Education gave its first progress report on the proposed new high school at the P-TA meeting Oct. 27.

REPORTS GIVEN

Robert Shafer reported on the population trends of the next 10 years in the Northville school district.

Georgiana Couse followed with tentative suggestions for financing the project.

Charles Yahne discussed the philosophy and curriculum being studied by his sub-committee. Taken into consideration was the future high school based on standards as recommended by the University of Michigan and the North-Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Eural Clark closed with comments on the problems facing his Building and Site sub-committee.

URGENT LARGER ATTENDANCE

George Clark, chairman of the C.A.C., indicated that more meetings of this type would be held as the work of this committee progressed. He expressed the hope that more citizens of the community in addition to P-TA members would be in attendance.

Harold Hartley, president of the P-TA proposed the following resolution which was endorsed by the P-TA members:

RESOLUTION

In view of the fact that the number of classrooms in the present high school are insufficient for the student body, and whereas, a number of courses including economics, second year shorthand, shop, auto mechanics and home

Twp. Officials Give First Approval To Subdivision

The Northville Township Board gave tentative approval Tuesday evening to a proposed 56-acre subdivision in the Clement-Ponner area.

The land, owned by Gerald Taft, is now being considered for rezoning. The zoning board will review the proposed plans and decide on their recommendation to the township board Tuesday, Nov. 8. The change being asked is from R1E to R1.

The road commission has given tentative approval of the road set-up, but final approval will be considered if and when the township board accepts the plan.

Taft has plans to build 39 homes immediately and 72 homes eventually.

CITIZENS COMPLAIN

A township resident came before the board to ask action on a complaint which he made six months ago concerning the parking of a house trailer on the property of Grady Thompson.

The board instructed attorney James Littell to start legal action at once. "Thompson was served with a notice and has had sufficient time to remedy the situation," board members agreed.

Don Nutten, building inspector, was instructed to investigate the trailer parked on the Frank Hill property. If the law is being violated a notice will be served by the township attorney.

SCOUT BUILDING

The township board received a letter from the Scout Building committee asking for "$920, the

Plymouth Twp. Votes "No" On Annexation

ELECTION RESULTS

	City	Twp.
For Annexation	799	169
Against Annexation	373	1569

An affirmative vote by both city and township residents to have annexation of the township to the city was needed. Since the city residents approved it and the township residents turned it down, annexation cannot be effected.

Annexation of the Cassidy farm was passed with a vote of 913; opposed were 246 voters.

Annexation of the 85-acre farm paves the way for the Western Electric Co. to construct a multi-million dollar plant on about 35 acres of the site. The plant will employ about 600 people.

Western Electric said previously that they would not be interested in building unless the city of Plymouth would furnish them with water and sewers. Now that the property has been annexed it will be possible.

Mix-up on Saturday Date Embarrasses Everyone

Commission Members Agree Saturday Meeting Would Have Prevented Public Knowing About Planning Board Restrictions

Members of the Northville City Commission gathered briefly at the city hall last Saturday morning to discuss re-zoning the St. Lawrence property for track purposes but did not hold a formal meeting. Instead, they disbanded in less than five minutes after deciding not to take up the re-zoning until the regular meeting at 8 p.m. next Monday.

This Is No Secret

Do you want something to talk about?

Spread this around. Everyone can come to the 2nd annual Football Banquet and Bust Nov. 12.

Chairmen of the event Allan Buckley reports that only 343 of the 1,000 Booster Buttons have been sold.

BUCKLEY SAYS

"Remember, folks," Buckley said, "you all must be wearing a Booster Button to gain entrance to the Community Bldg. for the entertainment and dancing at 8:15 p.m. If you want to go to the banquet you have to buy an additional ticket for $1.50."

SEE THE MAGICIAN

Featured entertainer of the evening will be Roy Rew, magician, who will perform Dunninger feats (something similar to mental telepathy), and slight of hand tricks that will keep you puzzled, amazed, and probably awake all night trying to figure them out.

251 WILL BENEFIT

A group of 251 Northville boys and girls and adults will be benefited when you buy your Booster Button. That group will be guests at the banquet. The honored guests include athletes, band leaders and members, cheerleaders, Homecoming Queen and her court, coaches and other groups.

Ford Co. Announces Expansion Program

A 20,000 square foot expansion program for Ford Motor Company's Northville valve plant was announced Wednesday by John S. French, general manager of Ford's parts and equipment manufacturing division.

Plans call for construction of a one-story addition to be located on the west side of the plant. Construction will start late this year and completion is scheduled for late 1956.

French said machinery for the production of engine intake valves will be installed in the new addition. The plant now produces exhaust valves.

Employment at the expanded plant, French said, will increase approximately 30% by 1957.

This announcement comes less than a week after Ford's announcement that they are planning to close their Milford and Manchester plants in 1957 upon completion of a new 600,000 square foot manufacturing plant southeast of Ypsilanti.

"This is not going to be a meeting of the city commission. It is just a get-together. I would like to explain that I acted hastily the other day in calling a special meeting for 1:30 this afternoon to vote on rezoning the St. Lawrence property. All of the commissioners could not attend at 1:30 so I changed the time to nine o'clock this morning. I did not consider the meeting a secret one and I notified the Northville Record of the time and place.

"Mr. Cummings pointed out that it would not be in the public interest to vote on the rezoning before the public had had an opportunity to learn about the restrictions which the City Planning Commission had recommended to the City Commission. He also told me that the State Racing Commissioner's ultimatum that Northville Downs must construct barns called only for

Pumpkins & Pranks Give Local Police The Run-Around

"Pumpkins to the right ... pumpkins to the left ... pumpkins to the front ... and pumpkins to the rear. Everywhere we looked on Halloween night we saw pumpkins," Police Chief Joe Denton said this week, "and when we were through confiscating the darn things we had a pick-up load at the city hall."

Halloween day was celebrated in Northville not only on Monday, but during the entire preceding week end.

"Those young rascals really pulled some Halloween pranks," said Chief Denton, "luckily though they were just pranks and not serious acts of vandalism."

What happened? Besides waxing every window in town:

Three people reported that hub caps were taken off their cars. Signs were put in the middle of the road on Edward Hines Dr. and the lights put out several times.

WHILE RESIDENTS COMPLAINED about having no water Sunday, DPW workers, Herman Harner, superintendent, Robert Moe and "Jigger" Austin, were up to their waists in ice-cold water from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. to fix a six inch water main that broke. The water was squirting out of the ground in the alley between Horton and Novi Ave., north of 8-Mile Rd. Commissioner Allen said that there was "... evidently a flaw in the pipe when it was installed years ago, combined with pressure and years of use." A temporary sleeve was put on and Monday a permanent sleeve was added.

Scouts To Help Goodwill, Nov. 26

Goodwill Industries trucks will be in Northville Monday, Nov. 7 for the regular pickups. Contributors are asked to call Miss Edith Sorenson, local representative, at Northville 571, to arrange a time schedule.

Miss Sorenson said that traditionally the winter months are slow at Goodwill Industries, endangering steady employment. For this reason, the Boy Scouts in this area have completed plans for a Good Turn Day for Goodwill Industries.

The scouts will distribute Boy Scout Goodwill bags on Nov. 26. The drive is not aimed at regular contributors but at new people to acquaint themselves with the work that Goodwill does in offering jobs to handicapped employees.

The bags will be left by the Boy Scouts, but the contributor will be asked to call Goodwill Industries when the bag is filled with useable discards.

This is the time of year when it will be getting too cool to do the things that it was too hot to do during the summer.

County May Give Local Land for Institution Site

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors offered land Monday for a new institution for the mentally retarded.

One possibility of land the County might provide is in the Wayne County Training School area at Northville. The school, with a population of 750, has more than 1,000 acres of grounds. Some legislators have reported that some of the 1,000 acres might be used for a new facility to be built by the state.

It was pointed out that about 900 of the 1,210 retarded children on the waiting list for admission to State institutions are in the Detroit area.

The resolution called upon State officials to follow temporary measures with "development and projection of a long-term comprehensive program in the whole field of mental health."

More than one out of four grade and high school students in the U.S. rides to and from school by bus. The total is nearly 8 million. This is four times the total recorded in 1930.

Co-op. Nursery News

On Oct. 21, Beverly Hill celebrated her fourth birthday with her nursery school classmates. Party favors and refreshments were enjoyed by all the children.

A very successful Halloween party took place on the morning of Oct. 31 with the youngsters arriving in a variety of colorful costumes. The school rooms were decorated by the children with the assistance of teachers and mothers. They played games and chose Halloween favors from a grab-bag box. Mrs. Francis Gazlay told a Halloween story with slides which was followed by movies of last year's Halloween party. Pumpkin cookies and chocolate milk was served from a gaily decorated table. Each child carried home treats of popcorn, candy and noisemakers.

The Parent Education Institute, sponsored by the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and the University of Michigan Extension service held meetings Nov. 2 and 3 at the University in Ann Arbor. Their theme was "For a Lifetime of Mental Health". Mrs. B. William Secord, president of the Northville Cooperative Nursery, attended.

WHITE CEILINGS MAY HAVE TOO STRONG CONTRAST
Color brings light into a room. The ceiling is usually made lightest in color so that it will reflect light. White, tinted with a little of the wall color, ties the ceiling to the color scheme. White alone may make the contrast too strong, say Michigan State University specialists.

Got Kids? The V.F.W. Is Your Best Insurance Buy

This is a true story. The man, whose name is changed, could be YOU, your neighbor or anyone you know. After reading this short narrative, we feel confident that you will wish to pay your 1956 dues in the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

JOHN LARRAMIE was a veteran of World War II. He had served overseas with an engineering outfit in the Pacific. John's record was not studded with war medals but he had served honorably overseas and was eligible for the VFW. He was discharged in 1945. After taking two years in his GI bill training, he quit school and got a job in an engineering firm as an apprentice draftsman.

John never became an affiliated veteran although he drew a disability for malaria, which he had contracted overseas. He had been asked to join the VFW but said he just didn't have the time.

Twenty-six year old John Larramie married Jane Whetlock, a girl he had known most of his life from his home town. Now at 33 John had a pair of fine youngsters, Bobby, age four, and little Diane, who was two years old.

As an apprentice draftsman, John Larramie just didn't have too much money so he didn't take out any life insurance on himself for the protection of his young family. Things were going better for him but two kids and a wife had to be clothed, fed and there were medical bills, a modest car, and other expenses. And insurance was rather high.

Two months ago, John was on a short motor trip to an adjoining town. He had worked hard and was tired as he left home-ward bound. John never reached home. Midway he lost control of his car and crashed into a concrete culvert. He was dead before they got him to the hospital.

THERE WERE funeral expenses. The meager savings were gobbled up and a young wife faced the tremendous task of raising two fatherless children. Where to turn.

John Larramie was dead. His family was left without anything. But if John would have joined the Veterans of Foreign Wars, what would have happened? His widow could have applied for admission to the VFW National Home. The family would have been accepted and the children would have been brought up and cared for at the Home. The mother would have been close to her children.

John Larramie did not have enough money to invest in private life insurance. But he certainly had enough money to invest in VFW LIFE INSURANCE, so his widow and children would not need to worry about their future in the event the breadwinner was suddenly taken from them.

HE COULD have obtained these services by merely paying his dues—about $5.00 each year—into our organization. In addition, he would have had the help of our organization services as well as a knowledge that he was a member of a fighting organization which has fought for veterans' rights since 1899.

So for about $5.00 a year, YOU TOO CAN INSURE THE FUTURE OF YOUR FAMILY.

Each youngster who gets into the National Home stays for an average from 10 to 14 years. At $2,500 per child per year, some of the large families at the home receive more than $100,000 back in tangible investments. All of this for a few dollars each year.

IS IT WORTH IT TO YOU? If it is, then renew your membership in the VFW TODAY. Don't put it off another day. If your membership should lapse, THE INSURANCE IN YOUR FAMILY'S FUTURE WOULD BE LOST.

Humorous Book Slated for Review at Woman's Club

Mrs. Harvey Whipple will review a humorous story of early New England life at the next meeting of the Northville Woman's club on Nov. 11. The book is titled "John Goff's Legacy" and the author is George Woodbury, a great-grandson of John Goff.

The club members may remember another humorous book by Woodbury, "John Goff's Mill", which was reviewed for the club several years ago. The "Legacy" covers the early history of the author's family, particularly his great-grandfather who built the "Mill" and who was a sturdy pioneer and Indian fighter. The book reveals, with Woodbury's charm and humor, much family history that was omitted in the first book.

The music portion of the afternoon, will be supplied by the Methodist Harmony choir.

The junior class of Northville high school has done it again! This time they have set a new record in the annual magazine sales, topping last year's juniors by about $100.

The drive, which began Oct. 11 was anxiously awaited for by the whole class. During the 10 days that followed the juniors were busy as bees trying to win the watches which are to be given to the top boy and girl salesmen. The winners of the watches will be announced when the watches arrive.

The number of magazines sold amounted to about $2,400 with a profit of over $800.

letting the construction contracts by next Jan. 10, which would allow ample opportunity for the public to be fully informed.

"Accordingly, I told Mr. Cummings the proposed meeting for 9 o'clock this morning would be cancelled and I sent notices to this effect to the home of each commissioner Friday afternoon by police messenger.

"I am not calling a meeting this morning to pass on the rezoning and I feel they have had plenty of time in the past so there is no such rush at this time.

"I would like suggestions as to when we should take up the rezoning."

Commissioner Earl Reed mentioned the next regular commission meeting Nov. 7 as an appropriate time and the mayor ruled it would be taken up then.

The mayor did not disclose publicly who had called the meeting after he had cancelled it, but Commissioner Reed said later it was he who had telephoned the other commissioners Friday evening to be at the city hall at nine o'clock Saturday morning.

"I had been told by the mayor Thursday afternoon to get the commission together Saturday. The mayor's notice of abandonment of the Saturday meeting, which I received Friday afternoon, attributed it to the inability of one commissioner to be present. I went ahead and set it up for nine o'clock Saturday because I knew the commissioner could be present at that time. Had the cancellation notice said anything about undesirability of holding it from the public's standpoint I would not have gone ahead with it. The mayor had worked until midnight Friday so I did not attempt to contact him until the following morning."

That Ely was badly upset by what had happened was obvious when he immediately called the Record to notify it that his Friday cancellation had been nullified and that the commission was to meet at nine o'clock.

That the city commission gathered Saturday morning without giving thought to the possibility that they might be rushing into a change of zoning without having the public fully informed was evident from the freedom with which they discussed the circumstances under which the meeting was called. All agreed that there was no need for the haste and that it would have been advisable to take action without giving the public and neighboring property owners a chance to express their views.

Another unfortunate aspect of the hasty meeting was the implication that it was dictated by the Northville Driving club. This implication arose from the fact that at least one commissioner received his notification from Reed over the private telephone line of Dr. Snow, president of the Driving club. Reed had been confined to his bed Thursday evening with a cold and had gone to economics have been entirely eliminated in specific grades because of inadequate facilities; and other courses, such as language, cut down, whereas this classroom and curriculum inadequacy endangers Northville high school's rating with colleges and universities and whereas the Citizens Advisory Committee has made such excellent progress in its planning efforts, therefore, the Northville P-TA assembled in meeting this 27th day of October, 1955 commends the Citizens Advisory Committee and School Board for the progress made and urges them to complete their planning and proceed with the financing and erection of a new high school in the nearest possible future and we further urge the people of Northville to support the School Board and Citizens Advisory Committee in this project.

amount as given in the past, for maintenance of the Scout Building." Board members were puzzled at the figure and at a loss to understand how it was compiled. "We gave them a couple of hundred dollars before," members said, "but that was before we found out that we didn't own the building."

Mollie Lawrence, supervisor, said, "We did agree to support the recreation program in the city of Northville."

"The recreation program and the Scout Building program are divided," said R. D. Merriam, trustee, "and the money is not interchangeable."

Township Attorney Littell said, "You can't invest money in something you don't own, lease, rent, or have any possession in. The township has no further use for the building and spending money for its maintenance cannot be justified."

"We have a moral obligation," said Mollie Lawrence.

"If you feel that way," said Attorney Littell, "you can make a monetary contribution to the Boy Scouts of American and instruct them to spend it locally."

The board instructed Fred W. Lyke, clerk, to notify the secretary of the Scout Building committee that the board cannot legally spend money for maintenance.

Dr. Snow Friday evening for a treatment.

Reed told the Record that both Northville Downs and Dr. Snow wanted the meeting held Saturday to approve the zoning change so foundations for the barns could be poured last Monday. Reed quoted Dr. Snow as saying when he was told the Saturday meeting had been called off:

"It doesn't matter too much. If the Downs had been on the job they could have got this whole thing settled two months ago."

A woman reported that her garbage can cover was taken; Oil pot flares were removed from the Plymouth-7-Mile Rd. cut-off and put on lawns of private homes, increasing the chances of lawn fires.

Pumpkins, which were "evidently stolen from the roadside", according to Chief Denton, were thrown out of cars on the streets and sidewalk.

A motorist reported that some children threw a pumpkin through his windshield. Commissioner Peters had the same experience driving between Northville and Plymouth. Luckily the flying glass caused no body damage, but it could have been responsible for a killing had these motorists lost control while driving.

The regular police force and the auxiliary force patrolled the city until after midnight protecting property of the city and private residents, and trying to curb any vandalism ready to bud in the "gangs" walking the streets.

Walled Lake Theater Badly Damaged By Fire

Early Estimate Sets Damage At $80,000, Building To Be Rebuilt Immediately

Fire raged through the empty interior of the Lake Theater just north of Walled Lake Friday morning doing an estimated $80,000 damage.

Walled Lake firemen fought the blaze for over an hour before bringing it under control. The front end of the theater and the roof suffered heaviest damage, firemen reported. The stage area was completely gutted.

Ford To Close Milford Plant

Ford Motor Co. parts plants in Milford and Manchester will be closed in the summer of 1957 and their operations will be transferred to a new 600,000 square-foot parts plant soon to be built at Rawsonville, four miles southeast of Ypsilanti, a company spokesman announced last week.

When in full operation, the Rawsonville plant will produce clusters and carburetors, now made at Milford and Manchester, plus other automotive parts and accessories. Eventually, the plant will employ 3,000 people, the company said.

All 850 employees of the two plants to be closed will be able to transfer with their jobs to the new plant if they want to, the spokesman added.

Building In Flames
Mrs. Geraldine Graham, 108 Coalmont, Walled Lake, discovered the blaze. She had left the building about 8 o'clock Friday morning and returned several hours later. Upon returning, she found the front of the auditorium in flames.

Mrs. Graham immediately called firemen and then received slight burns when she entered the blazing building to recover her purse.

Roof Destroyed
Although the fire did little apparent damage to the exterior of the building, one contractor estimated that the roof would have to be entirely replaced.

Upholstery had been completely burned off most of the front seats and debris from the ceiling and walls littered the floors. The lobby and rear of the building suffered extensive smoke damage.

To Be Rebuilt
The theater will be rebuilt immediately, a spokesman for the owners said. Cause of the blaze has not yet been determined.

LUCKILY, THE DRIVER LIVED. James D. Fox, 19, of Wayne escaped with only minor bruises, cuts and shock when his car collided with a dump truck at Novi Rd. and Nine-Mile Rd. Friday afternoon. The dump truck, driven by Vincent Schneider of Wayne, was going north at a low speed when the accident occurred. Fox was approaching from the opposite direction. He told Novi police he swerved to avoid hitting a car making a left turn in front of him and his car went out of control. Fox's car did not fare as well as the driver. It was totally demolished.

Halloween Party Attracts Over 300 Novi Children

The Halloween party given by the Novi Board of Commerce this week was successful. Approximately 300 children attended. There were many lovely costumes and the judges had a hard time picking the winners.

Judges for the event were Mrs. Dora Eby, Mrs. Agnes Morrison, William MacDermid and Arthur Karschnick.

Boxes of candy were won by Ann Thorn for her fancy Top Hat costume; Ginger Cheeseman, who was dressed as a fancy baton; Melanie Simenton, dressed like a small angel; Claude Carle, in a corn husk costume, and Richard Ritter, dressed like a girl.

All of the children in the costume parade received suckers. Refreshments of cider, hot dogs and apples were served by the hosts and hostesses: Phil and Lenora Barardi, Bernice and Leo Harwood, Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mrs. Gerald Trotter, Mrs. Phil Simenton, Mrs. Dick Ritter, Mrs. Clyde Wyatt, Mrs. Viola Bellinger and Mrs. Marietta Goble.

UNCLE SAM SEEMED TO BE SURROUNDED by a rather motley crew of witches, pirates, spooks, cannibals, and even the devil himself (upper left) Monday morning when Mrs. Celia Sharpe and her kindergartners staged their own Halloween party. Dressed as Uncle Sam, Mrs. Sharpe did her best to maintain law and order among her crew members whose only thought was how much loot they would be able to get hold of in the evening's prowling.

FOUND
$1,000,000

The Chicago City Treasurer

says that he found a million dollars the city did not know it had. He said the money was found in one of the city's bank accounts during a routine check of the finances. It had been there from five to eight years! Surely one wonders how such a large amount could go unnoticed for such a long time. As I thought about this there came to my mind the "lost treasures" that people have in their beautifully bound but seldom used Bibles. Practically every home in these United States has a Bible. Yet how few people there are who are acquainted with the treasures found between its covers. What wealth is there that compares to the knowledge of how to become possessors of eternal life? Or the assurance that one's sins are forgiven and that things are right between ourselves and God? Where do I find all this? Well, if you are interested, I would suggest you open your Bible and read through the Gospel of John. It will not take you more than a couple hours to read it. As you read, search out passages of scripture which tell us of salvation. Mark them as you go along. Believe them—obey them! What a treasure will be yours!

Letter to the Editor

To the Civic-Minded
Residents of Northville:

After carefully investigating the zoning ordinances of Northville and Northville Township, I purchased four months ago, a home on Sheldon Road immediately adjacent to the St. Lawrence property. The race track was reasonably close but after due consideration, I felt the slight detraction from our location was overcome by the advantages of living by a city such as Northville. The citizens and merchants welcomed us warmly and I and my family were happy to have at last realized a dream of long standing — to affiliate with a fine moral and progressive community like Northville, one that was not likely to become commercial.

I was disturbed during the summer by the quartering of horses in tents; and the noises, smells and flies emanating from the property next to me. Upon inquiry, I was told this was a temporary arrangement pending the erection of new barns at the race track. I therefore made no protest — I could sacrifice one summer for the future enjoyment of my home.

It now develops this was no temporary affair but that Northville, contemplates rezoning the St. Lawrence property to build permanent stables for multitudes of horses. This I do protest! The section under consideration could provide homes for many people seeking, as I did, suburban living, in fact several of our friends are awaiting the results of our venture into this new situation. Our property and the property beyond is zoned residential and many fine people live along Sheldon Road. They also would be affected adversely by this proposed rezoning.

It appears shortsighted to prevent the development of a residential area with its natural influx of business to the Northville merchants and to lower the standards of existing property. Good residential property should not be rezoned to a lower level. Rezoning should be contemplated only when the surrounding areas are indicative of a change to a lower or higher standard.

We trade in Northville; are interested in the future of Northville. Consider well before you sacrifice future progress for present needs. The stables could and should be a part of the existing track.

Sincerely,
Bruce B. Bradshaw

For the Record . . .

Such statements by state officials certainly should be given considerable weight by the city commission when it hears objections to building barns for 300 horses adjacent to what otherwise would be come a high class residential area.

The St. Lawrence property is the only available area in the city that is large enough for the barns, and therefore it will undoubtedly be re-zoned for them. However, the city commission cannot, shrug off lightly the fact that flies and mosquitos can carry contamination and disease from manure piles during the warm months before and after the racing meet, nor that odors can be equally objectionable during early and late summer if 100 horses are stable on the property the year around, as Northville Downs proposes.

It also should bear in mind that the city will get no more money from Northville Downs in the future than the law allows if Mr. Carlo has his way. Carlo has already said Northville Downs will no longer pay the city $500 per night of racing for water, special police and fire protection, as was the Down's policy for the past nine or ten years. The city might as well make up its mind that its revenue from the race track is quite likely to be limited to its share of the state's tax on pari-mutuel betting, which is assured by law. This ran about $90,000 for the 1955 racing season and was a welcome addition to the city's budget.

Northville' Downs' arguments for using the new barns to stable 100 horses the year 'round were not impressive. Mr. Carlo said it is just a goodwill gesture toward horsemen who can't afford to take their horses south for the winter and that he won't make any money on the deal. George Zerbel, of the Planning Commission, pointed out that year 'round use of the barns to stable 100 horses would be a year 'round nuisance to neighboring property owners. Zerbel's opinion makes sense to us.

Getting back to the original purpose of this editorial—to state the Northville Record's position toward racing—it can be summed up this way.

First, the Record is published for all the people of the City of Northville, Northville township and Novi township. It is not a newspaper just for city residents, nor for township residents, nor will it attempt to serve the interests of any individual or organization unless it believes those interests are identical with those of the majority of persons residing in the territory it serves.

Second, the Record believes that the people living in the City of Northville want racing to continue at Northville Downs, and as long as they feel that way, the Record will support their right to deal cooperatively with Northville Downs and the Driving club.

Third, the Record takes the position that the city should regulate racing to hold within bounds certain aspects which can become a public nuisance. Even though the city derives substantial income from the track, it should be treated the same as any other company or individual.

Fourth, the Record takes the position that what Northville Downs does in the city, its plans for the future, and its dealings with the State Racing Commission are matters of public concern locally and should be published in considerable detail.

In the present instance, we feel that the public interest will be served if the city commission gives consideration to testimony developed by the Planning Commission, and to the latter body's recommendations for holding use of the barns to the racing season only and keeping the Sheldon Rd. frontage zoned residential.

Driving Club Is Opposed To Winter Stable Restriction

Objection was voiced by the Northville Driving club last week to two of the three restrictions proposed by the City Planning Commission in connecting with re-zoning the St. Lawrence property for track use.

Dr. L. W. Snow, president of the Driving club, told the City Commission in a letter dated Oct. 27 that if the Planning Commission's recommendation that the barns be used only 15 days before, during and 15 days after the race meet is adopted it will defeat one of the very purposes for which they are being constructed.

(Note: The State Racing Commission's ultimatum to Northville Downs concerning the construction of barns did not require that they be used to stable horses in the winter. Both Hazel Park and Livonia, where there are much better equipped tracks than in Northville, do not permit year 'round use of their racing stables.)

Objects To Recommendation

Dr. Snow also objected to the Planning Commission's recommendation that if racing ceases, the St. Lawrence property automatically revert to an R-1 classification. He pointed out there should be a time limit sufficient to permit the Driving club to find a new lessee for the track in case the present Northville Downs group was to lose its racing license.

He said the Driving club had no objection to keeping the portions of the property not under lease to Northville Downs under an R-1 classification.

The Driving club's letter to the City Commission outlined four requirements laid down by State Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis with respect to the new barns. It did not include the fact that Inglis has required only that Northville Downs enter into binding contractual commitments (for construction of the barns) some time before Jan. 10, 1956.

Harsh Criticism

Neither did the Driving club letter mention harsh criticism leveled at the Northville Downs management by Commissioner Inglis when he demanded that barns be constructed. The following are pertinent quotes from the Commissioner's letter:

"Let me briefly summarize our past efforts to secure compliance of Northville Downs with minimum health and fire safety requirements.

"During the spring of 1953, Chief Renner (State Fire Marshall Division) and I made an inspection of Northville Downs, and shortly thereafter Chief Renner issued a series of recommendations for fire safety improvements . . . some of which were carried out and some of which were not.

"Following the barn fire at the Michigan Racing Ass'n. plant in May of 1954, Chief Renner . . . issued a series of orders to Northville Downs . . . Paragraph No. 1 of this letter read as follows: 'Raze the group of barns from the track grounds known as P, Q, R, S, T, and U . . . These barns are in a very deteriorated condition and are a serious fire hazard. If these barns are involved in a fire, it would cause a serious conflagration involving the City of Northville.'

Action Threatened

"Although this letter specified that all orders were to be complied with in 30 days, there was no action . . . until February, 1955. It was only after the Fire Marshall's office threatened court action and the Racing Commission threatened loss of 1955 racing dates for failure to comply with the Fire Marshall's orders that a contract was finally entered into for the demolition of these hazardous barns. The barns were demolished in March of 1955. However, no work was started at this time to construct new barns to replace the stall capacity eliminated by the demolition, the excuse being that Northville Downs was having difficulty obtaining the necessary loan.

"When it became apparent that there was insufficient time to construct permanent barns . . . before the start of the 1955 meeting, you made arrangements to lease the St. Lawrence property . . . on which tent stalls were erected. So far as it is known, neither the Racing Commission, the State Fire Marshall, nor any other governmental agency examined the plans or approved the arrangements for these tent stalls and the water and sanitary facilities pertaining thereto.

"During the 1955 meeting at Northville I personally inspected the tent stalls on the St. Lawrence property . . . and observed the hazardous fire and sanitary conditions. As a result, I asked for a further inspection of this area by both the Fire Marshall's division and by the State Veterinarian, the results of both inspections being summarized in the two attached letters. . . ."

Fire Danger

The Fire Marshall's letter contained this paragraph:

"The (inspecting) officer found that the wiring in these tents is in a very hazardous condition, in fact, it is a rank amateur job and very dangerous. The manner in which the hay and straw is piled adds greatly to the hazard. It is the officer's opinion that these tents are a much greater hazard than the barns themselves."

Planning Commission Votes Limited Re-Zoning of St. Lawrence Property

The Northville Planning Commission voted Wednesday, Oct. 26 in favor of limited re-zoning for track use of the St. Lawrence property on Sheldon Rd. at the south edge of the city.

Before doing so, several members of the Planning Commission explained that they believe it explained that they believed it zone the property so Northville Downs can build barns for 300 horses. They also said they hoped the re-zoning can be done in a manner that will not unduly depreciate adjoining property in Northville township.

(State Racing Commissioner James Inglis has given Northville Downs an ultimatum that it must let contracts for barns to house at least 180 horses by Jan. 10, 1956 or face loss of its racing dates next summer. The barns must be ready for occupancy prior to the 1956 race meet.)

The Planning Commission passed a resolution favoring the re-zoning, subject to the following restrictions:

1. That use of the re-zoned property be limited to a period starting 15 days prior to the race meet and extending 15 days after it closes.
 2. That the east 450 feet of the property, bordering on Sheldon Rd., remain zoned for residential use only.
 3. That if racing is discontinued, the property revert to a residential classification.
- Hear Testimony Two Evenings
- The Planning Commission's restrictive recommendation came after two evenings spent hearing testimony for and against the re-zoning. The first meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 25 was devoted to hearing objections, all by Northville township residents. (The south boundary of the St. Lawrence property is also the south boundary of the city, and abuts selves."

Lee Davisson, State Veterinarian on August 9, 1955, wrote John Carlo, general manager of Northville Downs, as follows:

"Smell To High Heavens"

"Reference is made to an inspection report to this office dated July 29, 1955 at 3:00 p.m., particularly to the tent situation and the drainage around these tents. It also makes reference to the manure situation and drainage of water from ditches which are badly contaminated with flies and mosquitos, and outhouses in their vicinity which had a very distinct odor that was said to smell to high heavens. . . ."

"If some contagious or infectious disease should break out as a result of this type of stabling, I believe the race track association could be held responsible."

property in Northville township owned by Bruce Bradshaw and Donald Sober.)

Sober and Bradshaw led the discussion by the township group, but were supported by neighboring property owners, including Walter Couse, F. H. Wiesmyer, Herbert Froger, Robert H. Shaffer, John Haller and others. Their arguments dealt with the depreciation of adjacent property which they believe will result from the construction of barns, the nuisance of having a large number of track followers living only a short distance from their high class residential property, the possibility of offensive odors from manure, the general undesirability of racing stables in the neighborhood, and their feeling that if the re-zoning is granted it will be but the first of many future encroachments.

City Tried To Be Fair

They were told by Tom Carrington, chairman of the Planning Commission, that while the re-zoning is strictly a city affair, it was the Commission's desire to be as fair as possible and to hear all arguments for and against the proposed re-zoning.

Other Planning Commission members pointed out that their duty was to weigh all the factors, including the Racing Commissioner's ultimatum that barns containing 300 stalls must be constructed, the unavailability of any suitable alternative site for the barns, the revenue which the city receives from racing each year and the extent to which the re-zoning may injure adjoining property.

No decision was reached by the Planning Commission at its Tuesday night meeting. After lengthy discussion it was decided to re-convene the following evening and to ask Don St. Lawrence, John Carlo, general manager of Northville Downs and Dr. L. W. Snow, president of the Northville Driving club, to be present to answer questions.

Year 'Round Stables

At the second meeting Carlo disclosed that 100 of the 180 stalls he plans to build this year will be for year-round use and that he expects to let any horse owners stable their horses here at any time. George Zerbel of the Planning Commission pointed out that this would make the barns a year-round nuisance to adjoining property owners, as well as bring a considerable number of stablemen and trainers to the St. Lawrence property as more or less permanent residents during the winter months. He said:

"I believe it is desirable to limit occupancy to the period starting 15 days before the race meet and ending 15 days after it ends. It will be a nuisance to other property owners that should be minimized as much as possible. Both Hazel Park and Livonia limit the use of their racing property by horsemen and I see no reason why Northville should do otherwise."

L. M. Eaton agreed with Zerbel. Carlo said he would save about $3,000 per barn if they were not built for winter use.

Admit Depreciation

T. R. Carrington, chairman of the Planning Commission said: "We'll grant it is a nuisance to Sober and Bradshaw. It will depreciate their property. It's going to be obnoxious to the neighbors. But after November there is going to be no odor or noises. I can't see any justification for closing it down in the winter."

Under questioning, St. Lawrence told the Planning Commission he had inquired from Carrington how to go about getting his property re-zoned. Carrington told him, he said, to ask for the entire property to be re-zoned, even though Northville Downs planned to put barns on only the back portion. St. Lawrence said he would have no objection to having the front portion of the property bordering on Sheldon Rd. kept R-1 (residential). "I don't want any barns nearer my house than these will be," he said.

Carlo described the front property as being 30 feet higher than the rear portion and not suitable for track use. He made no objection to keeping it zoned residential.

Eaton voted against the re-zoning. Other commissioners present voted in favor of it. They were Zerbel, Ernest W. Ebert, Harry Wagenschütz, Carl Ely and Carrington.

CHILDREN LEARN WHILE HAVING FUN IN KINDERGARTEN

SINGING can be fun and is fun for these tots. The children raise their hand and name a song. Miss Pollock, the teacher, plays the song on the piano and the children sing loud and sweet.

RESTING on their little rugs, kindergartners in Miss Pollock's class were photographed, enjoying their rest period, one day last week. A few seconds after this picture was taken the children put their rugs away and treated this reporter to a singing demonstration.

First Teacher Important For Child's Impressions

Every year the school bells ring for the first time for a select group of this country's population — the new kindergartners. Thousands of five year old children from all parts of these United States start a new chapter in their lives when they skip along to the school house with their older brothers and sisters, or take tiny halting steps, squeezing their mother's fingers, not quite convinced that school is the happy place they heard about.

Some people think that kindergarten is not necessary, "... they don't learn anything there," is an oft repeated remark. The people who say that usually think of school as a place where children first learn to read and to write, but, as in most things, there are basic fundamentals that have to be learned first. Starting in kindergarten makes the transition from home to school a pleasant one.

Educators have long realized that a kindergarten teacher must be carefully chosen, for it is from the teacher that the child gets his first impressions about school. The teacher must be a disciplinarian, kind and patient, smiling and soft-spoken, instructive with a flair for explanations, and a believer in equality.

Kindergartners at the Northville Elementary school are fortunate in having such teachers.

The children respond with adoration towards Mrs. Leah Sturmont and Miss Grace Pollock because they evidently possess the above qualities and make school hours such fun.

There are four classes of kindergarten at the Northville Elementary school; two from 8:30-11 a.m. (when the pictures on this page were taken), and two from 12:40-3 p.m.

During this time the children enjoy a varied schedule of activities. They play games; learn songs and participate in group song fests; learn rhythms, which means doing things to music like skipping and hopping; they have a story period; a rest period, and a lunch period. Each week two new lunch helpers are named and they set the tables with napkins and straws and the children drink milk together.

FREE ACTIVITY play is one of the most popular periods in kindergarten. In this picture, students in Mrs. Sturmont's class do what they enjoy: build, paint, play with clay, and . . . just have fun.

One of the most popular periods is the free activity period when the children do whatever they desire. Among the offerings are drawing, building with wood blocks, puzzles, painting, looking at books, working with clay, and playing with the numerous dolls, wagons and other toys.

The children have fun and they learn. They learn to function in a group, to share, to follow instructions, and many other important things. All of which brings us ready to conclude that the tots entering the first grade are happier and more successful than they would have been had they been denied the opportunity of getting to know school as kindergartners.

Best Buick yet

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

IT COMES upon the heels of the most successful Buick in history—and beats it on every score.

In shimmering steel and solid sinew, it's Buick for 1956—and there's never been anything like it for pure automobile.

You get a good hint of what we mean when you take in the sweep-ahead styling of it—from the air-splitting prow of its V-front grille to the robust rake of its canted rear profile.

You get an even better hint when you open the doors and see the dazzle there—in the decorator fabrics and décors—in the jewel-like finish of the fittings—in the precisely shaped steering wheel and controls—in the rich new instrument panel with soft-padded top and glowing dials that detail your progress in changing colors.

But it's when you put this beauty to the city streets and the open highways that you learn the best of it.

Performance Without Parallel

A new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo* goes airplanes one better—steps up your get-away in normal driving without switching the pitch. But when you need that extra surge, it's there, instantly—and in extra abundance.

The might of big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines in every Series brings new record high power to all Buicks—ROADMASTER, SUPER, CENTURY, and the bedrock-priced SPECIAL. Yet this is such high-compression power, such dynamic driving power, such completely usable power at the rear wheels—the whole rear end has been endowed with extra brawn and heft and solidity to handle it.

We could spread before you an acre of blueprints on the engineering gems that spunk the spectacular performance and ride and handling and roadability of these great Buicks for 1956.

We could tell you about a new double-Y manifold of the engine for more usable power. And about a brilliant new front-end geometry that adds a whole new "sense of direction" to the car's travel. And about massive new direct-action shock absorbers that move three times more oil to cushion your all-coil-spring ride that much more buoyantly.

But you can get the full story right now, at our showroom, in a face-to-face meeting with the best Buicks yet—now on display, and setting a dazzling new pattern for 1956.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

RIDING to school is fun now. Formerly known as "mudpatch" of Northville, the site around the Amerman school was improved last week with the addition of a black top sidewalk.

National Education Week A Year 'Round Project

National Education Week, November 6-12, is being publicized all over the nation this week. Most schools will be holding "open house" and invitations will be sent to parents to visit their children's classrooms.

Mothers and fathers in Northville don't have to wait for that one week, once a year, to visit schools, they continue their visits and keep a close relationship in existence the year 'round.

Richard Kay, principal of the Amerman school, told the Record about the program which has recently been initiated in his school.

with the purpose of building a closer relationship between the home and the school. Pot-luck dinners and afternoon teas have helped parents and teachers to become better acquainted and better able to understand each others problems.

"Parents and teachers are working with our most precious commodity and the product of their labors are going to be dependent on how well they can work together," Kay said.

During the month of October, four pot-luck dinners have been given, in addition to three teas, at Amerman school.

"The one outstanding feature of all these activities," Kay said, "is the wonderful cooperation the room mothers in each of the rooms rendered. They completely organized and carried on the task of providing for these teas and pot-luck dinners. Without such splendid cooperation and enthusiasm it would have been impossible to realize such success."

With parents and teachers cooperating and working towards the same goal, Northville residents can be proud that their schools observe National Education Week, not just for a week, but the year 'round.

Teeny Bits

By Emilie Seguin

Couple of the week:

A well-known couple around Northville High is Jim Allen and Pat White. These two, both seniors, have been going together for over two years. Jim holds the office of Student Council mayor, which is a very distinct honor. Most of the kids have noticed one particular quality that stands out in both Pat and Jim. That is, they both look alike. Here's to ya', kids!

The popular items around school this week seem to be "hayrides", and "cooning apples". The latter is rather unmentionable, but the preceding are two in number. They are: the Girl Scout's hayride, and Phyllis Buoniconto's. This is pretty good assurance that most of all the kids went on at least one, if not more.

This is a "WHO ARE THEY" game:

Dark and gay, sweet and fair,
Each is blessed with curly hair.

One steps high
In front of the band,
To lead the rhythms
For those in the stand.

The other was chosen
To sit, mid splendor and pomp,
In the Court of the Queen,
For the Home-coming romp.
I tell you all,
They're cute as a button
You must know by now
That their name is Sutton.
There is going to be a "new look" at the J-Hop this year. Some of the girls are starting a modern trend. The sheath and its variations will be worn instead of the traditional tulle and lace and net.

Some of the couples who will be going to the J-Hop are Sandy Strassen and George Rambeau, Becky Coolman and Lynn Matzen, Mike Willis and Nancy Morrison, Lois Rody and James Rambeau, Linda Smith and John Schwartz.

Seniors At Work Behind The Scenes

Rehearsals are well under way for the senior play, "Mr. Barry's Etchings". The play will be presented on Nov. 17 and 18 at 8 p.m. in the Northville Community Center.

Many seniors have been working behind the scenes to make the play a success. The committees are as follows:

Stage crew, Walt Palmer, chairman; Ken Krezel, Larry Green, Joe Hayes, Jerry Davis, Rollin Gaab, Anthony Olivich, Forrest Pretzer, Dave Biery.

Furniture, Judy Huff, chairman; Uppy Clark, Donna Batchelder, Bill Heslip, Gail Lawrence, Larry Graham, Jan Owens, Pat Hix.

Lighting, John Chapman.
Programs, Jim Allen, chairman; Sandy York, Jan VanAtta, Jerry Dresselhouse, Pat White, Charles Early.

Tickets, Jan Owens, chairman; Uppy Clark, Bill Heslip, Larry Graham, Barbara Archer, Elaine Butler, Phyllis Howard, Judy Huff, Evelyn Johnson, Margaret Johnson.

Props, Lil Mair, chairman; Greig Chapman, Warren Feole, Bill Heslip, Larry Graham, Dave Biery, John Chapman.

Make Up, Glenda Nitzel, Faye McGee, Norma Wagenschütz, Elaine Butler, Donna Batchelder, Kathleen Heatley, Janice Morgan, Dolores Tesheka.

Advertising, Nan Bowen, chairman; Suzie Mairs, Kathleen Heatley, Lou Wendt, Dave Mosher, Jim Mosher.

Forensic Club

The Forensic club debaters traveled to the U. of D. debate clinic Saturday. Those attending were Bernhard Muller, Sandy Strassen, Lillian Zinnecker, Murray Lyke, Brody Humphries, Suzie Dewsbury, Elsa Couse, Phyllis Buoniconto, Miss Lance and Miss Panattoni, director.

"N" Club

The "N" club has just finished one of its biggest events of the year—the Annual Queen contest and Homecoming dance.

Junior Student Council

The Junior Student Council offered a float in the Homecoming parade. They are now waiting to find out about buying a milk machine.

Senior Student Council

The Senior Student Council headed by Jim Allen, mayor; Janyth Horwarth, secretary, and Roger Nieuwkoop, treasurer, are selling booster buttons and tickets for the football banquet. The three officers and sponsor traveled to Ann Arbor to a National Student Council meeting last week.

G.A.L.

Eighteen G.A.L. members traveled to Clarenceville Oct. 11 for an all league play day. They have completed speedball which ended with the 11th grade team winning. Volleyball started a week ago Monday and bowling started.

Man's true nature as a child of God will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Adam and Fallen Man" will include the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "which had a spirit of an unclean devil"
as recorded in Luke (4).
Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (259:6 The): "The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the true reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-models would allow, — thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning, and dying."

The Golden Text is from Ephesians (5:8): "Ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

From the study window is seen a cross. It occupies the loftiest point on the chancel gable. Another has its base on the very peak of the church tower. By day these crosses gleam in the sun. At night they are illuminated against the dark sky.

Why is the cross given such a prominent place in church architecture? Because it represents the central message of Christianity—that Christ died for our sins on the cross of Calvary. This message is revealed to us in the Bible, in the Gospel of Christ. In the Gospel we are told the story of the cross.

CHRIST DIED FOR ALL

In one particular Bible passage the story of the cross is related in four simple, monosylla-ble words: "He died for all." (2
Corinthians 5: 15). A few examples will help us understand this brief statement.

A farmer was found kneeling at the grave of a soldier. He was asked why he paid so much attention to this grave, whether perhaps his son was buried there.
He answered: "No; rather a neighbor." He continued to explain: "During the war I was drafted; but everyone in my family was sick. I knew not how to leave them. Then one of my neighbors came over and said:
'I will go for you; I have no family.' He went. He was wounded, carried to the hospital, and there died. And, sir, I have come a great many miles that I might write over his grave these words:
'He died for me.'"

A poor widow had been threatened to be ousted from her highland home. With her son she set out to walk the ten miles over a mountain pass to the home of friends who, she knew, would help her. When she started, the weather was mild. But on the mountain pass she was caught in a blizzard. She never reached her destination. She was found the next morning at the summit of the pass, where the storm had been the fiercest, lying in the snow, stripped almost to nakedness, dead. In a sheltered nook nearby was her only child, safe and well, wrapped in the clothes the mother had taken from her own body. She died that he might live.

Jesus died that we might live.
"He died for all," as our Bible passage declares. Jesus was our great Substitute. He took our place, just as that soldier enlisted and died for his neighbor and as that mother gave her life in the place of her child. In this substitution lies the secret of our salvation. Jesus volunteered, saying, as it were, "I'll go for you.

I'll drink the bitter-dregs of the cup of suffering. I'll sweat my blood for you. I'll be accused falsely and be condemned for you. For you I'll be mocked, jeered, spit upon, scourged. For you I'll bear the cross. I'll climb that grim hill of Golgotha. I'll hang on the accursed tree. I'll die that shameful death and on the third day rise again for you and for all!" And he did! With but one purpose in mind: that by believing this we might have eternal life and now and forever live unto Him and serve Him. The

New Gulpride Select is further refined by contains the new super-refined oil that gives

MUSTANGS WALLOP HOLLYITES 32-0

Bell Runs For 3 Touchdowns Biery & Holman Up The Score

By Thomas McGuire and Patrick Heslip

After our Mustang's three resounding setbacks, they came through with flying colors to defeat Holly at their homecoming.

Northville, receiving the kick from Holly showed right from the beginning their determination to win. Play after play of first downs, Bell succeeded to go over for our first touchdown. Extra point went over and the score stood at 7-0.

On the kickoff Holly fumbled the ball. Northville recovering it sent Bell down for a second touchdown. This time the extra point was 13 for Northville and 0 for Holly. At the end of the first quarter, Holly was not able to get a hold on the ball.

The second quarter opened with Northville again pushing. Holly came through then on our Mustangs fourth down and took the ball.

On Holly's first play Buckley "stole" the ball and our Mustangs were off again.

Fighting hard Northville was able to score another touchdown on a pass from Bell to Biery. The extra point was converted.

The second quarter closed with the score Northville 20 and Holly 0.

The third quarter went scoreless. However, Holman made a spectacular plunge through the line for a 32-yard run which gave our Northville spectators the assurance that the game was really ours.

Northville showed their positive desire to win right to the end. Holman showed that he was going to plunge right through. He succeeded to make his first touchdown of the season. Again the extra point was converted and the score was 26-0.

The game continued with hilarious excitement. Our quarterback Bud Bell (in a sneak play) ran 45 yards for the final touchdown. The extra point was no good and the final score stood at Northville 32 and Holly 0.

Although the score might indicate a one sided dull game—our ball carriers and line both offensively and defensively gave all a mighty sensational game, which both Holly and Northville enjoyed.

1956 Clippers Offer Push-Button Motoring

The 1956 line of Clipper models makes available the first real concept of electric push-button motoring with an electrically-responsive push-button ultramatic transmission. Heading the medium priced Clipper line of five models which will be in dealers showrooms in November is the Constellation hardtop, (pictured). This new push-button driving system overcomes the frailties of human temperament and reflexes and does the driver's thinking for him. It opens the door for the first time to the ultimate in push-button, atomic-age motor car operation. With push-button ultramatic, it is impossible for a driver to select a wrong driving selection.

Winning Streak Zooms To 3 As Jr. High Gridders Win Again

By Philip Jerome

The Northville Junior High school football team ran its winning streak to three games by defeating Ford Junior High of Inkster 21-0. The game was played last Wednesday afternoon at Henry Ford field.

Northville scored late in the first half on a 20-yard pass from Gary Morgan to Kent Frid. Joe Gotra made the extra point to give Northville a 7-0 lead at half-time.

In the fourth quarter, Northville drove deep into Ford territory. Joe Gotra went across from the five yard line for the touchdown. David Hay skirted around end for the extra point.

Gary Morgan completed the scoring with a 13-yard run around end for the tally. Fred Mitchell then rammed across for the extra point and the 21-0 victory.

Northville dominated play throughout the game. In the first half, Northville scored on a pass play, but an offside penalty nullified the score. Another Northville drive failed when the team lost the ball on a fumble on the opponents 5-yard line. Ford was unable to gain consistently through the Northville line and the alert defensive backs of the home team intercepted two of the three passes attempted by this visitors.

City council of Hugo, Okla., has voted to cut members' salaries from $100 to $1 a year. Rumor has it that raise-seeking solons in the nation's capital are meeting all incoming trains, and burning every paper which contains this dangerous bit of thought-provoking intelligence.

Fellow at the other end of the line says that he spent the holiday in honor of the truthful Father of His Country thinking up some good, substantial alibi-backed lies that might become useful come baseball season.

TOO FEW SEATS HERE...

BECAUSE TOO MANY HERE!

On the top you see an overcrowded school classroom—unfortunately all too common in these days of rapidly growing enrollments.

Below is pictured a citizens' meeting on schools—not too well attended, as you can see.

There's a cause-and-effect relationship between these two pictures. When citizens are "too busy" or too indifferent to take an active interest in school affairs, their children suffer. And when a child is short-changed on education, he can be hurt for life.

Let's make sure that these two pictures are never true of this community. Let's keep our educational standards high, by joining our neighbors in community educational conferences... in PTA meetings... at school board meetings.

Want to know how other communities have solved their school problems? Enlightening "case histories" of local school improvement campaigns that worked are yours for the asking. Please indicate the nature of your local school objectives so that we may send you the material that best fits your needs. Write: Better Schools, 2 West 45th Street, New York 36, N. Y.

Polio Vaccine To Be Distributed

The following note was presented to the Record this week from the school nurse, Miss Knapp:

The first dose of government supplied polio vaccine for the five to nine group of children is now becoming available. Unfortunately insufficient amounts are released at present to allow an unlimited distribution to all physicians. To meet both the requirements of Federal and State governments, the following method of distribution will be followed in Detroit, Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties:

1. A number of cards equal to the number of doses of vaccine available will be distributed to children in the five to nine age group.

2. Each family is instructed to bring or send these cards to the family physician and make an appointment for the administration of the vaccine.

3. The physician or his messenger can exchange the cards for an equivalent amount of vaccine at any of the three counties or Detroit's distribution points. Cards will have significant coloring so that any necessary reallocation of vaccine can be made between the counties.

While polio vaccine remains in short supply the following must be observed:

1. No vaccine can be given to any child not receiving a card from the school indicating eligibility.

2. Dosage from the 9 cc vials must be carefully measured so only 1 cc is given to each child. Vaccine must be kept under refrigeration.

3. If through error a child received a card who had previously received vaccine under the N.F.P. program, additional injection should not be given at this time.

If God be for us, who can be against us? He that spared not His own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall He not with him also freely give us all things?—Romans 8:31,32.

Eastman Lecture Scheduled for Camera Club Nov. 3

The Adult Camera club Eastman Kodak lecture for this evening, Nov. 3 will be "Practical Christmas Cards by Photography". Dr. W. J. Steinenger from Maybury sanatorium will narrate this slide illustrated talk directed to the novice or experienced picture maker to guide both in planning and making photographic greeting cards for every occasion.

The illustrations throughout the lecture are examples of photographic methods; each card suggests an idea for subject matter and for carrying the message. The ideas for subject matter are classified as seven types: portraits or informal pictures of family or sender, home, architecture or outdoor scenes, abstract design, hobby, table top, and cartoon.

There are examples of putting the greeting or message into the setup to be photographed, adding the greeting through the multiple negative method, or by copying the message photographically. How to copy this material, as well as continuous-tone subjects, is explained, and a copying setup is shown in diagram form. How to produce a card which looks like a pen-and-ink sketch is also explained.

Pastor's Study ...

passage quoted before continues: "that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him which died for them and rose again."

LIVING UNTO CHRIST
"... not ... unto themselves, but unto Him ... "The unselfish love of Christ, which knew no bounds, creates in the believers a desire to live unto Him and no longer to serve only themselves. They realize that their life is no longer their own but that they owe it to Him who redeemed it. Their aim, purpose, and motto in life is but one, that of the Apostle Paul: "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." (Philippians 1:21). Gratitude to Jesus for His sacrifice causes the Christian to exclaim, as did the poetess Havergal:

"Take my life and let it be Consecrated, Lord, to Thee;
Take my moments and my days
Let them flow in ceaseless praise."

How beautiful is the life that is dedicated to the Crucified and Risen Lord!

That is what the story of the cross does to one. It can do the same to many more. We are happy that the good news of salvation is available to all in this community.
