

"He who laughs last laughs best" might be an appropriate heading for the lead story in this week's paper to the effect that there will be a special election in both the City of Northville and Novi township on June 21 to vote upon annexation of the so-called "Yerkes farm" to the city.

Such a heading, although perhaps appropriate, would be no cause for self congratulation by either municipality because it would have a flavor that bodes ill for the kind of neighborly relations that should be a source of strength instead of division between the two communities. Unfortunately they seem to be gradually drifting apart as a result of understandable community pride which is reflected inevitably in the acts and policies of elected officials in both Novi and Northville.

The foregoing may be largely unintelligible to those readers who failed to read our lead story last week, which referred to "the slightly amused attitude of Novi officials as they sit back and wait for further developments south of the border." Their amusement arose from an oversight by the Secretary of State's office in notifying Novi township that it must hold a special election on June 5 to vote on permitting annexation of the Yerkes property to the City of Northville. Novi township has been fighting a delaying action since last summer to stall a vote on annexation, while Northville officials have been just as anxious to have the election held. When Novi township refused to cooperate willingly, Northville got the legislature to amend the election law to authorize the secretary of state to call such an election upon petition by Northville.

Upon telephone advice from the secretary of state Northville advertised a notice of registration for special election in the paper last week. Novi township's legal adviser ruled that the township could not run a similar advertisement legally until it had received formal written notice from the secretary of state. The written notice didn't arrive in Novi until one day after the paper had gone to press, so the advertisement wasn't run and the election had to be postponed until June 21.

All of which would be relatively unimportant if it did not point up a conflict of interest between Novi township and the City of Northville that probably will crop up from time to time over the next few years. The area immediately adjoining Northville on the north is starting to grow rapidly with at least four new subdivisions breaking ground this spring within a mile from the city's north boundary. Like the proposed Yerkes subdivision, whose promoters want Northville water and sewage facilities, it is logical to expect a gradual move for annexation by other adjacent areas so they can have city services which Novi township cannot provide at present. That Northville should favor such annexations is quite understandable.

From Novi, township's viewpoint, however, its future can be seriously impaired if Northville gradually nibbles away its land to the south by annexation and the City of Walled Lake starts to nibble along the northern side of the township. As township officials see it, their best chance of developing a community centering in the township is to incorporate as a city as soon as population builds up enough. This may take five years or more, however, and in the meantime they look with a jaundiced eye at any move to transfer portions of the township to either Northville or Walled Lake. In the final analysis, however, there isn't much they can do to prevent this gradual grabbing of their territory except to stall as long as they can and hope for rapid growth.

Regardless of how one may feel personally about such delaying tactics as occurred last week, they are understandable if you put yourself in the other fellow's place. As one Northville observer remarked: "It's sort of like having the measles or mumps when you're growing up. There isn't much you can do about it except grin and bear it."

City To Get New Fire Engine

If all goes well Northville will have a new fire engine next year.

At their regular meeting Monday evening the Northville city council agreed to contact the Board of Fire Underwriters for a recommendation as to size and type fire engine suitable for this community. After receiving specifications the council will advertise for bids and consider the purchase of a fire engine.

Fire Commissioner Earl Reed tried his best to persuade the council to order an engine immediately; however, it seemed to be the general opinion that a little more thought and planning should accompany the spending of over $20,000.

Councilman Reed said that he and Fire Chief McGee visited several communities and had concrete ideas about the kind of fire engine they wanted.

"The fire engine is made to order," Reed said, "and delivery will take approximately 200 days."

Councilman Canterbury said that as a matter of good business the council should accept bids from other companies.

"The fire chief should know what kind of equipment he likes," Reed said.

"...but that's an expensive piece of equipment," Canterbury said, "Don't you think that we should talk to other representatives?"

"The fire chief knows more about it than we do," Reed said.

"He probably does," Canterbury said, "but we're responsible for spending the money."

Councilman Stubenvoll agreed that the council should follow their regular procedure. "This may be a good deal," he said, "but on an item like this we should have bids."

Attorney Philip Ogilvie mentioned that the engine could be ordered immediately and additional bids waived if the council's decision was unanimous.

Councilman Allen said that the city should get some outside help to determine specifications for the fire engine. "I can remember the trouble we had once when we were advertising for a pick-up truck," Allen said.

Councilman Reed agreed to contract the board of fire underwriters and arrange a meeting.

Sewer Bids
The public works superintendent, Bud Hartner, asked the city council to let bids for the installation of sanitary sewers for the new barns at the race track. Hartner said that his crew would not be able to complete the job before the racing season ends.

Because of the time element, Councilman Allen was instructed to contact various contractors by telephone this week, receive bids and relay them to other council members in an effort to begin the job as quickly as possible.

City Budget
Budget Director A. Russell Clarke presented the 1956-57 budget to the council.

The council tentatively accepted the budget as recommended and if there are no alterations made after the public hearing May 22 it will be formally accepted.

Plans were submitted by the city engineer for the construction of a new bridge over the

3 Schools Get Safety Plaques

Three elementary schools in the Northville area received gold plaques from the AAA Club of Michigan last week in recognition of their outstanding safety patrol organizations.

Recipients of the awards were the Russell H. Amerman school, Our Lady of Victory school, and the Wayne County Training school.

Vernon Martin, superintendent of safety education for AAA in Michigan told the Record that gold plaques were given to elementary schools that sponsored a safety patrol organization; registered with the AAA, and reported safety activities to AAA monthly.

"The schools in the Northville area are doing a splendid job in safety," Martin said, "and certainly deserve to be congratulated."

The plaques will be displayed in the respective schools.

P-TA To Question School Candidates

Candidates for the Northville Board of Education will appear at the next meeting of the P-TA to answer a prepared set of questions.

According to Mrs. Kenneth Conley, program chairman, the four present candidates, incumbents Mrs. Eliza Wagenschütz and Nelson Schrader, and Mrs. Martha Milne and Robert Shafer, have agreed to be present. May 12 is the deadline for petitions to be filed. Newcomers in the race will be extended the same invitation.

Paul Schultz will act as moderator for the program May 24 in the Community Bldg. The public is welcome to attend.

Register Now for Coming Elections

The Northville election committee recommends early registrations this year to avoid the last minute rush. Voters can register until May 22 for the special election June 21, and from this date until July 9 for the national primary.

The committee, composed of City Clerk Mrs. Mary Alexander, Councilman John Canterbury, and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, held its first meeting Saturday.

It was decided to accept applications for appointment to the election board. At least 12 people are needed, four to each precinct, and applications may be made at the city hall.

No decision was made concerning the method of voting at the June 21 special election. "We'll use the voting machines if the precinct workers and general public can be instructed in its use in the near future," Mrs. Alexander said, "but if that is impossible we'll use paper ballots."

Police Issue 130 Parking Tickets; Triple '55 Record

Northville police almost tripled their April 1955 record by issuing 130 parking violations during the month. Last year the total was 53.

While parking violations soared however, traffic violations took a slump that was equal, 42 this year, 132 last year.

The police department answered 121 calls last month, 29 more than last year. A breakdown, compiled by Chief Joseph E. Denton follows:

The numbers in brackets represent last year's report. Police calls answered 121 (92), accidents investigated 6 (4), park-

Allows Enough Time For Legal Notices

State Moves Swiftly To Set New Date After Novi Questions Legality of June 5

A special election WILL be held and the date will be June 21. This official word from the Michigan Secretary of State's office Monday was the latest and apparently final development in Northville's attempt to secure a special election for the purpose of annexing the "Yerkes farm", site of a proposed 250-home subdivision.

In notifying Novi and Northville officials of the new June 21 election date, the state said that this new date allowed ample time for publishing the proper notices of registration and election on the dates prescribed by law.

Notices In Paper

With the official notice and the subsequently published Notice of Registration for both Novi and Northville (in this week's paper), Northville officials hoped the last block to Northville's attempt to annex the much disputed property had been removed.

The "on again-off again-on again" furor over election dates began on April 23 when Northville and Novi were notified of a special annexation election set for May 10. Unable to comply with the state election laws prescribing time limits for publication of election notices, Northville requested and received on April 24 a verbal notice of change in date. The election was set for June 5.

Sufficient Time

Whereupon the state set a third date for the election, June 21, and informed both parties that they had sufficient time according to law to properly prepare for the election.

Commenting on Monday's letter from the secretary of state's office, Novi Township Clerk Hadley Bachert said that in his opinion the letter was quite blunt and possibly sarcastic.

"Now We Know . . ."

Supervisor Frazer Staman gave orders to have a proper Notice of Registration prepared by the Oakland county corporation counsel and duly published this week.

"Now we know how the Indian feels when the white man comes along and starts taking his territory," Staman commented somewhat ruefully after it was all over.

4 Counties Involved In May 17 Hearing

A public hearing will be held at the Oakland County School office building, 1025 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, Thursday, May 17 at 4 p.m. to consider changing the boundaries of Northville, Novi and South Lyon school districts.

The swapping of certain territories affects certain residents in four counties: Wayne, Oakland, Washtenaw and Livingston.

According to Northville Schools Supt. Russell H. Amerman, the trading of boundary lines between Northville and South Lyon schools will result in a better school bus schedule.

The public hearing came as a result of petitions circulated by residents in the Stone School district after they had received notice that South Lyon would not accept high school tuition students after June 1957.

Former Red Wing Captain To Speak At V.F.W. Post May 15

Sid Abel, former captain of Detroit Red Wing hockey team, will make a personal appearance before Northville Post No. 4012, VFW, 438 Plymouth Ave., Tuesday, May 15 at 8 p.m.

The program will include film highlights of the 1956 Detroit Red Wing Stanley Cup Playoff games, plus interesting sidelights of hockey. A round-table discussion will be held following the presentation.

Appearance of Abel is part of a state-wide tour designed to enlighten sports enthusiasts concerning the world's fastest game. The tour, sponsored by Stroh Brewery Co., will continue through the months of May, June and July.

L. M. McArthur, 228 Linden St., is chairman in charge of the arrangements for the special sports program. The public is invited to attend.

Abel originally came up from amateur hockey direct to the Red Wings. He was a member of the team for 13 years and was the captain for seven of those years. He centered the famous Lindsay, Abel and Howe line and in 1949 won the Hart trophy for most valuable player.

Abel retired in 1952 and then took over as coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, bringing them into cup playoffs the first year. After a two year stay in Chicago Abel retired to Detroit where he is now a manufacturer's representative in the automotive field.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Main and Dodge Streets
Plymouth, Michigan

How spiritualization of thought brings man enlarged ability and opportunity will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (265:
5-15): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite — in order that sin and mortality may be put off.

"This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace."

Testimony of a Condemned Criminal

The following is a tape recording made by Lester Bartholomew convicted of killing his two children and his wife. This tape recording was played back at his funeral.

"This is Lester Bartholomew
... I'm only 28 years old. I am making this recording praying that God will use it to keep someone from doing as I have done and to keep many of you who hear this from giving your life to the devil as I have done with the exceptions of a few short weeks. Yes, I am the young man who shot and killed his little son and daughter and wife.

"For over 28 years of my life
I have let the devil direct, starting out with just little things I knew were wrong and then worse and worse. I wish that I could make all of you realize that I am now awaiting execution in four days because I chose to follow the devil and not the Lord. On June 2nd I made my complete surrender unto the Lord and now
I can say that I am a Christian.

On August 31 when I shall breathe my last breath here in this earth it is going to be for me

'Good Night' here but 'Good Morning' up there. For the Bible says, 'For we know that if the earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.' Yes, I want everyone to know that the reason I'm not afraid to die is that I know that I'm going to spend eternity with Christ and all of His. I want all to know Him and to love Him as I do, and the earlier in life, the better, so that the devil doesn't use you like he used me—to keep many from Christ. Remember, it is not a matter of doing or not doing Christian things. It's first what you do with Jesus that counts. He wants you right now.
So give Him your life and cheat the devil. You will never be sorry if you do. So do it now."

The Newspaper Report

The following is a newspaper report in the Phoenix Gazette by a newspaper reporter, Easther Clark who was on the scene the morning Bartholomew was executed.

"...I watched a man die yesterday—the execution of Lester Edward Bartholomew, 28. He paid the supreme penalty in the state prison gas chamber here for the slaying of his wife and two children. A handful of stars and a rift of clouds hovered over the gas chamber as the man entered with a smile upon his face. Only a glass partition divide the three feet of space between us. Half expecting to see the doomed man crack under the strain, I kept my eyes riveted on his prison pallid but serene face. Calmly and with supreme confidence that he would soon realize his wish to say

'good Morning Lord' the handsome truck driver watched with interest as two guards fastened heavy leather straps on his arms and legs. I remembered that he told me last night that he was ready 'to meet God' and didn't have any fear of dying. Now, as I watched him and marveled at the easy smile he flashed. The last man to speak to the prisoner was the warden and I could see their lips moving, the warden's highly compressed, Bartholomew's smiling and relaxed. What the prisoner said was later related to me by the warden, 'God bless you and your family. Thank you for all of your kindness. I'm ready to go. I'll see you in heav-

Everybody Gets In The Act At Township Board Meeting

School All Set for Annual Fair Tomorrow Night

Novi school students, teachers and mothers are busily preparing for the Novi School Fair to be held Friday night, May 11.

Festivities will begin at 5:30 with a supper in the school cafeteria. At 7 o'clock the students will present a program of singing and dancing in the Community Bldg.

Following the student program, visitors will have a variety of attractions to choose from. A photographer will be on hand to take pictures, fortunes will be told and refreshments and a movie will be available.

Games of chance such as darts, bingo, fish pond, parcel post and a grab bag will also be featured. The fair committee issued a last minute appeal this week for any contributions for the games of chance or gift shop.

A pie baking contest will be open to all residents of the area. School Supt. William Medlyn, Police Chief Lee BeGole and Novi Businessman Leo Harwood will act as judges for the contest. All entries will be sold after the contest, a committee spokesman announced.

Cakes and various other baked goods will also be on sale through the efforts of members of various community organizations.

The committee also urges visitors to see The Museum of Hobbies. Prizes are to be awarded for the three best exhibits.

Novi Girl Scouts

Intermediate Troop No. 492 met in the basement of the school May 2. Treats were purchased from the troop's treasury. They worked on Mother's Day gifts and closed with Friendship Circle. The cook-out was postponed because of bad weather. Brownie Troop No. 149 made their Mother's Day gifts and the cook-out for next. Jacqueline Miller brought treats of brownies.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: All parents wishing to register girls for day camp in Novi are urged to get them in as soon as possible to Mrs. Jack Eby as the last day of registration will be May 14.

Lots of talk and little action marked a heated, and at times overheated, meeting of the Novi township board Monday night. Polling places, assessed valuations, agendas of coming meetings and township bills were the subjects of much debate as delegates of the Novi Democratic club and Novi Civic Ass'n. packed the bi-monthly meeting.

Democratic Club President Herbert Koester assailed the board for failure to establish a polling place in the north end of the township. (Recent board action established a second precinct with the Community Bldg. on Novi Rd. just north of Grand River as a polling place.)

Democrats Recommend
Koester said that the Democratic club had recommended the northern location to the board because 70% of the voters in the precinct live in the north end of the township.

Supervisor Frazer Staman reached for a copy of the state election laws and read Koester the portions dealing with selection of polling places. "The legislative body of the township shall designate the place of holding elections in the township and shall provide suitable polling places. . . school house, police station, fire hall. . . public buildings shall be used wherever convenient."

Going By Law
"This board has passed the resolution and is going by the law," Staman added.

"The Democratic club agrees you are going by the law, but since most of the voters live in the north end of the township, we suggested Lakeview Motors. . . but it wasn't evidently considered."

"It WAS considered before we passed the resolution," Staman emphasized.

"When was it passed?" Koester demanded.

"We don't have to go back in the books," Staman retorted. Then, turning to the other board members, he asked them if they wanted to change the polling place.

"I don't see any reason to," Treasurer Charles Trickey, Jr. said.

Flannery Speaks
John Flannery, publisher of a Walled Lake paper and president of the Novi Civic Ass'n. asked for the floor at this point. He reminded the board that his association had asked for a north end polling place last year. He pointed out the possibility of a second township fire station in that area some day and suggested that until the polling place could be located in the fire station, it might be located in "other than a public building" for convenience. "But convenience of the voters doesn't apparently mean much," he added.

Then, referring to Koester's question regarding the March meeting, Flannery claimed that he knew three people present at the March meetings and they could not recall such a resolution.

Out of Order
"Would you mind going back in the minutes?" he insisted.

"According to parliamentary procedure, you are definitely out of order," Staman countered.

Clerk Hadley Bachert spoke up at this point telling Flannery to "call the county clerk's office and ask Mrs. Childs. She will give you all the information."

Flannery again demanded an answer, saying "Are they (the minutes of the meetings) not public information? Are you withholding..."

Order Or Else...
Staman cut him short in the middle of a sentence, saying, "You are out of order...either we'll have order in this meeting or you're not going to be here... is that clear?"

"May I read a letter?" Koester then asked.

"No!" Staman snapped. Flannery then told the board that his association requested a

As we write this column Wednesday morning, it is hailing and the outlook for the remainder of the day is equally dismal. In fact, our Michigan spring weather has even ceased to be a subject for polite conversation.

And speaking of the time of year, perhaps it is fitting to review the significant events occurring during the month of May. Along about now, we are rejoicing over a week second only to the Mardi Gras in festivity — National Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up Week. National Family Week is almost over and National Cotton Week and World Trade Week are just around the corner. In the food line, we have just finished observing National Raisin Week and National Pickle Week and are about to enter National Frozen Food Week. And we have only mentioned a few.

Mayor Claude N. Ely recently proclaimed the week of May 7-12 as Burglar Prevention Week.

Chief of Police Joseph E. Denton said that last year there was a burglary about every 1 1/2 minutes in this country. The chief will give us a list of suggestions for next week's paper titled, "How To Keep The Burglar Away."

Calling all Democrats! Kick up your heels and come out of hiding. Twelve appointments to the Northville election board will be made in the near future. By law, membership must be equally divided between republicans and democrats; however, word has reached us that the folks at the city hall don't know where to find six democrats.

We understand that the Northville police department received a letter of commendation from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for assisting in the apprehension and capture of a fugitive in Northville last month. In part, the letter said, "the successful conclusion of this case is a tribute to the efficiency of your department."

For those who feel that Northville and Novi have more than their share of annexation problems, perhaps some comfort can be gained from observing our neighboring city of Plymouth. The current attempt to annex the Burroughs plant property to the city promises to be anything but peaceful.

Dance for Teenagers

The Novi IOOF Lodge will sponsor a teen-age dance at the hall Saturday evening, May 19. Chaperons for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Bachert, Mr. and Mrs. William Rackov, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pitchford and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watson.

Mrs. Margaret Parent of E. LeBost Dr. took a table of bridge to the Marygrove fashion and bridge party Saturday afternoon. Her guests were Mrs. Betty Joe Allaire, Mrs. Jacqueline and Mrs. Betty Johnson.

Mrs. Parent of LeBost Dr. attended a bridal shower Sunday in Van Dyke for her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Ann Hadrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Sommerville of Border Hill Rd. just returned from a three weeks vacation to Indian Rocks Beach near Clearwater, Fla. They returned home Friday. While there Mrs. Sommerville contacted two girl friends with whom she worked in 1918-1919 who also were visiting in Florida.

The Jack Browns of LeBost Dr. had quite a mishap in their home Saturday evening when their oldest daughter, Sara, 7, fell while playing with her mother and dad and broke her arm. They took her to Atchison hospital in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Peters of Kalamazoo were house guests of the Waughas, LeBost, over the week end.

Constance Louise Brondstetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brondstetter, LeBost Dr., made her Holy Communion at Our Lady of Victory church, Northville, Sunday.

The Connelly's, formerly of Willowbrook, were here Saturday from Dayton, O. They have sold their home on Border Hill Rd. They like their new home in Dayton but miss their families in Detroit.

line and long sleeves and a pepum of lace fell in points from the waist line over the full skirt of net. Her shoulder veil fell from a satin bandeau. A nosegay of white carnations and a white Bi-bie, a gift of Rev. O'Neill, formed her bouquet.

Novi Bd. Meeting...

review of assessed valuations in the township.

Trustee Frank Clark told the group that nothing could be done about assessments at this time. "The board of review met four days for grievances. Only six people came in and there were six more phone calls. The tax roll was then approved and certified. It was sent to the state tax commission. They (state tax commission) are your only recourse now," he added.

Spectators Speak

Several spectators spoke up regarding tax inequities and were told by the board that their cases should have been presented to the board of review when it met.

Ernest Pitchford, director of the Novi Civic Ass'n., rose to his feet at this point, saying, "I want to speak on this thing too. Can everybody have the floor but me?"

"It seems you've got it," Staman commented dryly.

"What time of day was set (for the board of review meetings)... morning and afternoon... but no thought to evenings when the working people can come," Pitchford argued.

Staman did not reply, but merely glanced at other board members and asked if they should proceed to the next order of business.

Published Agenda

Flannery then presented another request of the civic association, the advance publication of an agenda for all board meetings. "Insofar as practical," he added. "I don't know how it can be done," Staman replied. "If we come out with an agenda, you people will criticize if we miss one thing."

"The people of the township elect this board and they assume we will run it," Staman added.

Clark suggested that perhaps only items for the agenda submitted in writing one week prior to the meeting be published.

"Our attorney advised us he didn't think it could be done," Staman injected.

Staman Lets Loose

When Flannery protested, Staman let loose. "One thing you and your civic association should get clear... if you and your association think you can run these meetings you're mistaken. This is a meeting of the board..."

Shortly thereafter, Flannery relinquished the floor to Koester, the Democratic club president. Koester offered to assist Clerk Hadley Bachert in registering voters on a door-to-door basis but was told that no help was needed.

Pitchford again took the floor and told the board, "I asked a question at the last (board) meeting and it was adjourned before I was answered. I asked about the new post office (water and sewer facilities) and the county says they were never contacted."

"I'll refer the matter to the building inspector," Staman said. "Next order of business," he quickly continued.

Legality Questioned

The proposed taxi cab ordinance was then discussed and Staman said that their attorney doubted the legality of such an ordinance. He said it wouldn't be fair to take the company's licensing fee and then find that the township was not able to enforce the ordinance. A representative of the cab company asked for and was granted permission to investigate the matter further.

In their last official action of the evening, board members debated whether to read aloud all bills to be paid.

Flannery asked the board for the oral reading.

Clark Objects

Clark objected to this line of thinking, telling Flannery he didn't think we have time to discuss each bill. You've elected a township board to take care of your business... audit the books... publish a financial statement. If you don't trust us, you had better elect a new board."

Flannery explained that his organization didn't distrust the board and didn't ask for a discussion of each bill; just a statement of the amount of each bill, what for and to whom paid.

Trickey then ventured an opinion that "some of the people here (in the audience) will run for political office," and said that he would rather see politics kept outside the board meetings.

Bachert made a motion that all bills be read, but not discussed by other than board members. The motion was carried with Staman and Miller the only two casting negative votes.

A few of the engineer's ideas were not entirely clear to the council and in the absence of Mr. Jagow, engineer, it was decided to call a special discussion meeting next week.

Amend Dog Ordinance

Attorney Philip Ogilvie was instructed to draw up an ordinance to amend the dog license. Instead of requiring that dogs be vaccinated at the time their license is issued, the amendment will require that dogs be vaccinated one year within issuance of the license.

MOVERS*ONLY ONE GOD

"For there is One God—" writes Paul to Timothy. What he writes is but the echo from Genesis to Revelation. There are some today, professing to be great students of the Bible, who teach that there are two distinct Gods. One is Jehovah God; the other His Son, Jesus God. Confronted with the number of scriptures which ascribe Deity to both the Father and the Son and refusing to accept the doctrine of the Trinity, they seek to solve the dilemma by teaching that there are two Gods. Yet, in so doing they are in another dilemma because the Bible plainly says there is only one God. Further, by comparing the application of John the Baptist's prophecy concerning himself in the John 1:23 in which Jesus is called Lord, with the words of the prophet Isaiah in 40:3; in which Jesus is called Jehovah, we see that the reference is to the same person who is none other than Jesus Christ. Thus by comparing scripture with scripture (and this is the right way—I Cor. 2:14), we come to the inescapable conclusion that the Jehovah of the O.T. is the Lord Jesus of the N.T. He is the only one who is both God and man at the same time, both the Father and the Son.

WHEN DISTEMPER STRIKES
by Dr. E. M. Gildow
Director, Friskies Research Kennels

Of the many diseases which threaten dogs, distemper was the one most feared by pet owners until a few years ago. Inoculations and new drugs have lessened the danger of the disease a great deal. However, it still does attack, and it strikes puppies more frequently than older dogs.

The first rule, if distemper is suspected, is to place the dog in the care of a veterinarian at once. In the early stages of the disease he will administer distemper serums which may save the pet's life. Other effective drugs used are penicillin and antibiotics.

Dog of the Week:

Dogs may exhibit several or all of the symptoms of distemper: loss of appetite, vomiting, diarrhea, temperature over 103 degrees, convulsions, shivering, coughing, running eyes and nose. In distemper the dog's normal temperature of 101 rises sharply and falls.

Although the dog is best treated in an animal hospital, there are cases in which the vet may recommend home care. Follow his instructions for medications. The patient should be kept warm and out of drafts. Use an ointment recommended by the vet or a boric acid solution to keep the eyes clear. The nose should be cleaned and you may be advised to use nose drops.

If the animal has trouble breathing, try placing a vapor lamp in the room or rubbing his chest with camphorated oil or substances containing eucalyptus oil or menthol. See that he has nourishing food to build up his strength. Scraped beef is excellent. Other foods that may appeal to him are eggs, milk, cooked rabbit meat, chicken and fish. Vitamins and cod-liver oil should also be given.

Feeding Tips: Dogs recovering from injuries or diseases that cause fevers need twice as much protein as when they are well.

To chicken or not to chicken seems to be a hot subject in Detroit and local areas. Livonia mothers recently appealed to the board of education to allow their children to do the chicken at school dances. What do Northville teens think about it? Here's what we asked and what they said:

"Do you do the chicken?"
"Where did you learn it?"
"Where do you do it?"
"What kind of dancing do you like best?"

JUDY SMITH, 14, freshman, said, "I sure do do the chicken. I learned the dance by watching kids do it on TV. I do the chicken at home or at parties."

"How about school dances?" we queried.

"No," Judy said, "I don't do it at school dances."

"Why not?" we asked.

"I don't go to school dances," she said.

Judy likes the chicken the best of all dances.

DON EAREHART, 14, freshman, gave us an emphatic "No!"

"Why not?" we asked.

"I never did learn it," he said, "my mother doesn't want me to because she thinks it's too vulgar."

"Would you like to learn?" we asked.

"Yes," Don said.

Don attends school dances and likes to waltz and fox trot.

NANCY KELLOGG, 14, freshman, said that she does the chicken sometimes. "It's just another dance to me," she said. "I don't particularly like it, in fact it looks kind of dumb, but I do it."

Nancy learned the dance in school. Her favorite dances are the waltz, polka and fox trot.

RAYMOND DAHL, 14, eighth grade, said that he doesn't do the chicken. "I don't know how and
