Throughout the state many special events have been staged this week in observance of Michigan Week, which takes on added stature each year as a period for inventory-taking by those residents who count it as their good fortune to live within the state's boundaries.

Each part of the state offers something unique to those who reside there. The Upper Peninsula has its unspoiled natural beauty that appeals so strongly to the fisherman, the hunter and the summer vacationer. The same is true of the Lower Peninsula north of the Saginaw-Muskegon line, which from now until Labor Day will be the Mecca of hundreds of thousands of tourists, and during the winter months is noted for its hunting and outdoor sports.

The southern part of the Lower Peninsula varies from the level, fertile farm land of the Thumb area to the gently rolling country near the Ohio-Indiana boundary and the picturesque Irish Hills vacationland. Dotting the entire area at intervals of only a few miles are hundreds of small villages and medium sized cities, with a few large centers of industry which are at once a source of employment and an enormous waiting market for the products of the farms.

Scattered throughout the entire state are colleges both large and small, plus three great universities. Each in its own way and within its means offers ambitious boys and girls ready access to higher instruction in technical subjects or the liberal arts.

Michigan has been favored by chance and economic circumstances in becoming one of the world's greatest industrial centers with employment and payrolls normally at a high level which radiates prosperity throughout the surrounding area. As the birthplace of the automobile industry around the turn of the century, and of the technique of mass production only a few years later, Michigan has perhaps had more to do with changing the lives and habits of America and most of the civilized world than any other single state.

It is natural, of course, to appraise the state's advantages from a personal and a local community standpoint. In the latter respect, Northville is most fortunate and once a year is not too often to take stock of ourselves. Nor is it an unpleasant prospect to enumerate the many advantages for which we who live here should give thanks.

First, Northville is located within easy commuting distance of Detroit for those who must earn their living in the city but wish to come home at night to a community which preserves its small town flavor and is far away from the city's smoke and noise. It is a city whose churches welcome the newcomer and draw him into the circle of friendship with older residents. Its stores are good and its merchants friendly. Its many service organizations maintain a lively interest in local affairs and invite as members those whose interests run along kindred lines.

Second, Northville is a city in which the percentage of home ownership is unusually high. This is an advantage in that property owners generally maintain their homes well, and Northville is in most respects a slightly community of small homes.

Third, Northville is maintaining and enlarging its school system to meet the needs of a growing area, its teachers will be better paid next year in relation to those in surrounding communities, and there seems to be a healthy public interest in meeting the educational requirements of our youth.

Fourth, the city seems to be developing a stronger civic consciousness of the fact that it is in a transitional period that is to encompass far reaching changes. Adoption of a city charter last fall was a tangible evidence of this change. Recommendation a few weeks ago by the Northville Improvement committee that serious consideration be given to construction of a 200-car parking structure for the convenience of those who wish to shop in Northville was another sign that civic leaders are looking to the future. The comprehensive street improvement program to be carried out this summer is still another indication of progress.

If we were to sum up the relationship of Michigan Week to Northville, or to Northville to the statewide observance of Michigan Week, it could be aptly done by referring to the banquet in the Community Bldg. last Monday evening, which was attended by approximately 250 city and township residents. In addition to the capable and interesting talk by Judge Nathan Kaufman (Continued on Page 10)

City Rolls Out Red Carpet

250 Attend Mayors' Day Banquet

Approximately 250 residents of Northville and Northville township attended a banquet at the Northville Community Bldg. Monday evening to commemorate the third annual Mayors' Exchange Day held as part of Michigan Week.

Guests of honor at the banquet were Councilman Milton Hartman of Saline, personal representative of that city's mayor, Henry Leutheuser, who is in Germany, and Saline City Attorney Stanton G. Roesch.

Judge Nathan Kaufman of the juvenile division, Wayne county probate court, was the featured speaker of the evening. Clifford D. Hill acted as toastmaster.

George Clark, chairman of the local Michigan Week committee, introduced those at the speaker's table, including Councilman John F. Stubenvoll, mayor pro tem, Councilman John Canterbury and City Attorney Phil Ogilvie. The meeting opened with an invocation by the Rev. Father Anthony Heraty of Our Lady of Victory church. The Rev. John O. Taxis pronounced the benediction.

Judge Kaufman described the work of his juvenile court and discussed the causes of delinquency among the younger generation, notably failure by parents in their responsibility, and lack of proper recreational facilities in many areas which causes many boys and girls to go to "hangouts" where they form into gangs.

Kaufman pointed out that one out of eight boys in the 15 to 17-year age bracket in Wayne county get into trouble that brings them into juvenile court and that over 50% of all automobile thefts are by boys under 16 years of age. He made a strong plea for a return by parents to the family type of life such as was prevalent when they were young. He exhorted (Continued on Page 10)

Saline Visitors Have Busy Day

Northville rolled out its "red carpet" Monday for the Mayors' Exchange Day visitors from Saline.

The mayor of Saline, Henry Leutheuser, left for a visit to Germany recently. Representing the mayor Monday was Saline Councilman Milton Hartman. Mrs. Hartman accompanied her husband as did Saline City Attorney Stanton G. Roesch and Mrs. Roesch.

Flag Raising

The officials met at the Community Bldg. at 10:30 a.m. A few minutes later the flag raising ceremony started.

George L. Clark, chairman of the Michigan Week committee, presented the Michigan flag to the School Mayor Jim Allen and the student council. Allen in turn handed the flag to the VFW and American Legion color guard who attached it to the flag rope.

The VFW and American Legion firing squad fired a volley as the color guard raised the flags. The high school band played the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Michigan, My Michigan".

Get Key To City

Councilman Hartman was given a key to the City of Northville by Councilman John Stubenvoll, mayor pro tem.

Following lunch the guests visited Northville State hospital.

Later in the afternoon the ladies were entertained at a tea at the home of Mrs. John Stenson. The men toured the city, had a "Men's Hour" and were then entertained by Elmer Wilson.

The Mayor's Day banquet, held at the Community Bldg. climaxed the day's program. See Banquet story in next column.

City Council OK's Record Budget

Durfee Electors Ask District Split

Residents of Novi's Durfee District No. 6 voted 34 to 22 to permit annexation of the portion of their district south of 8-Mile Rd. by the Northville School District in a special election held May 16 at Northville's Amerman school.

Although results of the election bore out predictions of informed sources, most of the objections raised came as a surprise to school officials conducting the election-meeting.

Soundly Defeated

The other two propositions on the ballot, annexation of the 1/2-mile wide strip north of 8-Mile and annexation of a triangular piece of land southeast of 9-Mile and Novi Rd., were soundly defeated with votes of 20 to 36 and 22 to 34, respectively.

Paul Beard, head of the Durfee school board, conducted the meeting, assisted by board members Edmund Yerkes and Richard Davis.

The main objections from residents present at the meeting did not deal, as expected, with issues on the ballot.

They dealt with the question of the election itself, and came from a handful of residents living along 9-Mile Rd. and just north of the areas being considered for annexation.

Would Be "Stranded"

A number of these residents spoke out strongly against splitting their district and annexing all but a small portion including the area where they lived to the Northville district. They voiced the opinion that such a move would leave them "stranded."

In order to prevent this split, the protesting residents said their only alternative was to vote against all three propositions and hope something could be done in the future to annex the district as a whole to Northville.

They asked Beard to change the propositions to be voted upon to include the WHOLE Durfee district.

"Out of Order"

Beard, upon advice of other school officials present, ruled this request "out of order," telling the group that according to law, only the three propositions pub-

Bids Out For Fire Engine

A record budget of $275,560 was unanimously adopted by the Northville city council at a public hearing Tuesday night.

In addition, the council voted to seek bids on a new fire engine and a new police car for the city. The sealed bids are to be opened at the June 4 meeting.

The budget, the largest ever adopted by Northville was passed with little discussion. Although notice of a public hearing had been published, neither of the two spectators present had any question. Clerk Mary Alexander said not a single person had examined the detailed budget on file in her office.

"I don't know of any changes," Councilman John Canterbury said. "I think the budget director made any recommended changes," Councilman John Stubenvoll added. "Hearing no objections, I move that the budget...be adopted."

Deadline Cited

Earlier in the evening, Brake had spoken out in favor of immediate action of some sort. He also cited tax problems involved in a district crossing county lines.

"There is good reason," he said, "for taxing and bonding purposes...why adjustment of territory should be made before any new consolidation goes through."

"Unless you take action by July 1, 1957, the county boards will have to annex your district to some 'live' district. We much prefer you settle your own problems."

In mentioning the July 1, 1957 date, Brake was referring to an act of last year's state legislature. The act ruled that "closed" districts (districts not operating their own schools) must either open schools or join nearby districts by July 1, 1957. If the closed district makes no move by that date, the county boards will annex them to a nearby district.

No Burden In Past

Beard opened his remarks to the group by saying that in the past Durfee students were no burden to Northville and the tuition received gave Northville (Continued on Page 10)

25 NHS Teens In Road-e-o

Twenty-five teenagers enrolled in driver training classes at NHS will participate in a teenage road-e-o in Livonia Thursday, May 31.

Accompanying the students will be Al Jones, NHS driver training instructor.

According to Jones, the road-e-o will consist of a series of skill tests designed to help the students realize what they can and can't do with a car.

The morning session will be held at Bentley high school and the afternoon series will take place at the Detroit race track.

"What we would like to do eventually," Jones said, "is put driver training on the same level as inter-scholastic athletics, but we're not to that point yet."

Approximately 100 students are scheduled to participate in the road-e-o: 25 from Northville, 25 from Clarencville and 50 from Bentley. This is the first time that Northville will be entered in competition

$75,000 Expansion Program Gets Started At OLV Church

The Rev. Fr. Anthony J. Heraty pastor of Our Lady of Victory, Roman Catholic church, Northville, announced a major fund raising campaign to raise a minimum of $75,000 to help finance the parish's proposed new church. The new church of contemporary design, will accommodate approximately 600 persons on the main floor and 126 in the balcony. Included in the plans are separate sacristies for the priest and the altar boys; a sound proof room and baptistry. A basement, to serve as a parish hall, is also being contemplated. The drive, under the guidance of John V. McCarthy and Associates, although just one week old, has already realized $25,000 toward its goal. This, Father Heraty said, is due to the fine work of the Memorial Gifts committee and generosity of those parishioners visited thus far. Martin Kaiser is general chairman for the campaign and John McGuire is working as associate to him for coordinating the two phases around which the campaign will resolve.

Bob Herter is chairman of the Memorial Gift phase of the drive. Assisted by Dr. R. G. Wetterstroem and Joe Jendrisak, this phase is setting the pace for the campaign. Under their leadership, 15 executive workers will continue to function for one more week. The general phase of the campaign will then take over. Heading this phase of the campaign is Joe Dunnabeck as general chairman with William Bartski and Dick Janes as his associates. Under their direction the remaining parishioners, who have not been visited, will be contacted. The six teams that have been set up to facilitate the work of this phase will be headed by William C. Higgins, Jr., Captain Team No. 1, with August Wickes as his associate. Bruce L. Turnbull, Captain Team No. 2; Joseph J. Gill, Captain Team No. 3; Clifford B. LeFevre, Captain Team No. 4; Sam Stremich, Captain Team No. 5 and Edward J. Fornwald, Captain Team No. 6.

Ground Breaking for Easter Seal Center To Be Held May 20

Ground breaking ceremonies are scheduled to be held Sunday, May 20 at 3 p.m. at Hyde Park in Inkster, for the new Easter Seal Center which will serve the crippled children and adults in Western Wayne county.

The new Center will be the headquarters of the Wayne Out-County Chapter, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which now conducts its offices at 31433 Ford Rd., Garden City.

For several months 22 Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs throughout the county have spearheaded fund raising projects to raise $112,000 which the Easter Seal Center will cost to build.

Two years ago five lots in the Hyde Park subdivision in Inkster were turned over to the Wayne Out-County Chapter for the Center by the Wayne County Road Commission.

Last summer, architectural drawings were made by Bennett and Straight, architects and engineers, as part of their contributions to the project.

Harry Birchard, of Birchard and Roberts, contractors, will serve as general contractors for the building.

All members of service clubs in Northville and the out-county area as well as the general public are welcome to attend the ground breaking ceremonies.

Construction on the multipurpose building is expected to begin in the near future.

Rainbow Girls Hold Public Installation Of Officers

Genevieve McGee

Bride-Elect Honored

Alice Woodruff of Beck Rd. was hostess for a miscellaneous shower honoring Gail Peters Saturday, May 12. Gail and James Davis will be married June 30.

Red, white and yellow spring flowers decorated the dessert luncheon table. Among the guests were two mutual friends of Gail's and Alice's, from Cleveland: Margaret White, who used to live in Northville and Irene Olson, college roommate of Alice's. Mrs. Alton Peters and Mrs. Clarence Davis, mothers of the bride, were also guests.

Mrs. Mark Gardner gave a family party and shower for Gail the latter part of April.

A public installation of officers of Assembly No. 29, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was held at the Masonic Temple Tuesday, May 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Genevieve McGee succeeded Penny Niece as Worthy Adviser. Other elected officers are Corrine Dickerson, Worthy Associate Adviser; Roberta Schroeder, Charity; Janice Dixon, Hope and Penny Young as Faith. Carol Lemon is the recorder and Elsie Sedan the treasurer.

Appointed officers are Barbara Rollings, chaplain; Rebecca Kellogg, drill leader; Nancy Kellogg, assistant drill leader; Linda Cutright, organist; Judy Boyd, prompter; Joan Dunstford, confidential observer, and Sharon Allen, outer observer.

What's Cooking?

(What's your favorite dish? If you will share it with other Northville housewives, please call The Northville Record's society editor, telephone 200.)

Mrs. Clifton Hill, native of England, has supplied the recipe this week and it is a famous one—Yorkshire Pudding. This pudding seems to be misconceived by a great many Americans who are under the impression that it is an English dessert. Yorkshire pudding is as English as the roast beef with which it is always served and the recipe will prove to be a surprise to anyone who has ever tried it.

If properly made and immediately served, it literally floats—it is so light.

The Hills, with their four children, live on 17740 Beck Rd. June is 21 and will graduate from Michigan State Normal college in January. She is majoring in speech and Spanish. Sharon is 15 and is in Northville high school; Daley, who is seven, is in grade school, and Beverly, a diminutive four, will enter kindergarten next year.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING

with ROAST BEEF
1 pint milk
2 eggs
4 heaping tablespoons flour Salt to taste and drippings from a roast of beef

Mix flour and salt into a bowl making a well in the center. Break in the eggs and stir gradually, mixing in the flour from the sides adding milk by degrees until the mixture is smooth and thick. Beat well for ten minutes. Add the remainder of the milk. Cover and let stand for one hour.

When the roast is done and 25 minutes before dinner is to be served, take three or four tablespoons of drippings from the bottom of the pan containing the roast of beef and pour in the pan in which the pudding is to be baked. Set the oven at 450 degrees and heat the pan. While the pan is heating in the oven, beat the pudding again for about five minutes. Remove pan from the oven and pour in pudding batter and bake 25 minutes. Meantime, do NOT peek in the oven, if you do the pudding will fall. The pudding should rise about six inches and be hollow inside and tender and crispy and must be served immediately while it is still hot.

"What I appreciate is the room in my eight-passenger Country Sedan. With nearly nine feet of space, I can tote a half-ton of cargo or half a pack of cub scouts!"

"My Ford Custom Ranch Wagon does something I never thought any wagon could do: gives me as comfortable a ride as I get in our family sedan! And I appreciate its rugged scuff-resistant upholstery, too."

"I chose a 225-h.p. engine for my Ford wagon. And what a performer! It whisks me from 'whoa' to 'GO' in less time than I can tell it."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By The Rev. Father Anthony Heraty
Our Lady of Victory Church

In the business world today, it's doubtful that we can get very far with excuses. Business must be conducted along business lines.
Contracts must be lived up to, engagements must be met and There is too much competition in business to permit the shiftless, irresponsible concern to survive.

So, in business dealings we will find that excuses and alibis are "out".

In the military world we will also find that excuses are not accepted. We wage our wars, not on the volunteer system, but with the aid of conscription and draft.
If we depended on volunteers to defend our country, we would by this time be a nation of slaves—because the average person of military age would "begin all at once to make excuses." By the time a respectable army had been assembled the war would be over, and we most certainly would not be the victors. We learned many years ago that conscription is the only way. In cases of conscription, the conscript thinks long before he "begins all at once to make excuse."
Such excuses will be shaken down hard and fast; and if they do not hold water, Johnnie will be marched off quickly with a gun at his shoulder.

In the social world, people are expected to keep their engagements. Invitations are sent out.

The guest list is carefully selected. Arrangements are made for dinner for so many. The cost of the dinner is not insignificant.
The hour of the dinner is clearly stated on the invitation, and the RSVP is carefully printed in the corner. If you accept the invitation, you are expected to appear, and appear on time. You had better think a long time before you offer an excuse. If your excuse is not ironclad, your name is blacklisted, and you find yourself with a reputation of being ill-bred. Once such a reputation is established it is hard to live down. People think hard and fast before they offer a lame excuse in present-day society.

Strange to say, in the political world the excuse is still more or less in vogue. It is still being used, still being accepted, by a lazy electorate. Before elections, our political candidates come out with a glittering array of promises. When running for office and facing keen competition in the primaries, candidates are rash and extravagant in their promises. They ask for no sacrifices, only for votes. Once the election is over, the successful candidate "begins all at once to make excuse." The great gulf between promise and fulfillment grows wider every day. There seems to be little or no shame attached to the record of unfulfilled promises. The gullible electorate appears to accept or tolerate excuses, and not infrequently returns to office a candidate with a reputation for broken promises.
Certainly it is about time that our political world catch up with the business and social worlds, and put an end to this business of excuse and alibi.

We come now to a consideration of excuses and alibis as we find them in our religious life.
People who never consider making excuses in business and society because they realize only too well that they cannot get away with it—these same people, in their dealings with God resort to the device of excuses.
What is an excuse? It is something you advance instead of a reason when you have no real reason to give. An excuse is an hypocrisy, an attempt to escape from some obligation when there is no real reason to be given. In our religious life, all the excuses that are given amount to the same thing—occupation with present interests, duties, possessions or affections. To sum up quite simply, they imply little or no interest in religion; they crowd God out. Now, here we are in this year of grace 1956, still resorting to the excuse as a substitute for real religion. In times of crisis or catastrophe, the old slogan "Christianity has failed," is trotted out. As the late Gilbert K. Chesterton said in reply: "Christianity has not failed, it simply has not been tried." If more people stopped making excuses and begging off from their religious obligations, certainly we would see a better world.

Are we not running close to a deadline? How much more time can we allow ourselves to make excuses? For 15 terrible years there has been war in one form or another. War has been worldwide, and has brought ever closer the universal reign of something much like Antichrist. Certainly if there is a war with Russia, not only will our way of life in this country be under attack but our religion will be at stake.
The bitter hatred for the Church of the powers that be in Russia is no secret. "He who is not with Me," said Jesus, "is against Me."
We have reached a point where we need a hurried line up, to find out where we stand. Who can be counted on, and who is to be left out? Certainly the time for excuses is at an end.

Most excuses are due to bad planning. The lives of many are badly confused about many

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

Two men are ending their careers this week as employees of the United States Government, post office department in Northville.

D. J. Stark, assistant postmaster, and Fred Wendt, dispatch clerk, have been employed at the local post office for 32 and 28 years, respectively.

An interesting sidelight is connected with Stark's retirement. By some strange quirk in the post office retirement plan, if Stark did not retire by June 1 he would have to work 20 additional months before receiving the same amount of pension. "I don't understand it myself," he said.

No Retiring Life

D. J. Stark is retiring from his job in the post office, but his life is certainly not going to be a retiring type.

Stark was appointed Northville Township Clerk last December. As if those duties aren't enough to keep him busy, Stark has approximately 100 income tax clients and he is also a real estate broker.

Began In 1924

Stark began working in the post office as a clerk in 1924. "I looked after the finances of the office," Stark said, "but I also did other things. In those days a clerk had to be a 'jack-of-all-trades'."

Remembering the days when he first started, Stark said, "There were no city deliveries then. Everyone had to pick up their mail in the post office. We had 400 call boxes and 300 lock boxes."

"Back in 1924 there were about four people employed in the post office," Stark continued, "today there are approximately 15."

Business has zoomed in the post office too. In the 20's the department grossed about $7,000 in the stamp business. This year Stark said that the post office stamp business will be more like $80,000.

Stark was appointed assistant postmaster in 1928.

Stark has been married for 37 years and lives with his wife at 900 Scott Ave. He has two married children, Mrs. David Hazlett and John, who is also a post office employee.

Started As A Career

Fred Wendt began his post office career as an all-around substitute in 1928. "I was a substitute carrier, clerk and rural route man," Wendt said.

In the 30's Wendt was promoted to letter carrier and serviced the west end of town. After eight years "on the road" he was appointed dispatch clerk, at which job he has worked for the past six years.

Likes Gardening

When asked about his future plans, Wendt said, "I'm not going to do much of anything except garden. I like to plant things, anything . . . flowers . . . vegetables. I have a garden at home and I also have an acre of land I'm planning on using for the same purpose."

Wendt has been married for 25 years and lives with his wife and daughter, Lucretia, at 410 River St. Lucretia will be graduating from Northville high school next month.

P-TA To Question Candidates Tonite

The following questions will be directed to the four candidates seeking election to the Northville Board of Education: E. Jane Wagenschutz and Nelson Schrader, incumbents; and Martha Milne and Robert Shafer, at the regular P-TA meeting tonight, Thursday, May 24, 8 p.m., in the Community Building.

Mrs. Paul Schulz will be the moderator.

Questions for Candidates for Board of Education

1. Without specific reference to the Northville school system, do you think today's public schools generally are doing as good a job, a better job or a poorer job of preparing children for life than the schools in your day? Why do you feel the way you do about this?
2. What experience and ability do you have which causes you to feel qualified to be a School Board member?
3. Do you feel that board members, as elected representatives of the people should be governed by the views of the parents and citizens of the district? Assuming you do, how would you as a member of the board propose to determine specifically these views after you had been elected?
4. Some people feel the public schools should offer a program built primarily around "classical" curriculum aimed at those children who take advantage of their opportunities, and not coddle the other children who do not have the ability or interest to complete successfully such a basic course. How do you feel about this?
5. How important is a hot lunch cafeteria in Northville schools, in your opinion.
6. What should be the role of the Board of Education in determining the methods of instruction used?
7. How do you feel about the annexation of additional school districts?
8. What are your views regarding policies of the Northville School Board?
9. How do you feel about having a written set of by-laws or policies available to the public?
10. How do you feel about Federal Aid to Education?
11. As a School Board member, what is your attitude toward the maximum size of a single administrative unit? Do you favor neighborhood type schools as opposed to a larger central unit?

Firemen and Officials Attend Wixom Road Housewarming

KEEP THE HOME FIRES BURNING. At least that's what they were trying to do in Novi township last week when more than 40 firemen from Novi, Northville, Lyon township and Plymouth gathered at the Wixom Rd. site of the new Lincoln plant to practice fire-fighting techniques on a "real live house" scheduled for demolition. The above picture sequence was taken during the 2 1/2-hour "training session". The fire was started and extinguished three times during the session. Fog fire-fighting methods were used, employing special nozzles which break up the stream of water into a fine spray, under 60 pounds pressure. The "fog" system, developed during the past decade, is considered one of the most effective ways to fight house fires, according to township fire-fighting officials. In the far left picture, firemen wait for the fire to gain sufficient headway before extinguishing it (next picture) with their fog nozzles. Only the skeleton framework was left (third picture) by 8:30 and shortly afterwards even the framework gave way reducing the unoccupied house to a mass of rubble with only the brick chimney still standing.

One Day Term Ends; Mayor Returns Home

School, Factory, City Tours Highlight Mayors' Exchange Day Visit In Saline

Mayor Claude N. Ely returned to Northville Monday evening with several honorary memberships, a new set of cuff links and memories of a very interesting day spent serving a one-day term as the mayor of Saline.

The trip to Saline was made as part of Mayors' Exchange Day, a special day that is celebrated during Michigan Week. Accompanying the Mayor was his wife, Councilman Earl Reed and Mrs. Reed.

Met At Restaurant

The group was greeted at a restaurant in Saline by Mr. Robison, chairman of the Michigan Week committee in Saline; Mrs. Robison, Councilman Everett Wolfen, Mrs. Wolfen and approximately 14 merchants and council representatives.

Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Ely were presented with corsages of white carnations.

The group enjoyed a snack of coffee and sweet rolls as guests of the proprietor.

The ladies went on an inspection tour and Mayor Ely and Councilman Reed toured the city in a convertible.

Saline One Year Older

"Saline is one year older than Northville," Mayor Ely said, "and it has many beautiful trees, well kept old-time houses and big yards. One of the showplaces in the town is the bank president's home. He has hundreds and hundreds of tulips in bloom around his house now and he invited me to visit him this summer to see his roses."

Visited Schools

The delegation visited the new grade school just before noon recess and Mayor Ely was impressed to see over 400 students being served lunch, in shifts for 25 cents. "The cafeteria was remarkably operated by five women," Mayor Ely said, "and the kitchen was as well equipped as any fine restaurant."

The men had lunch in a restaurant and the ladies ate in the high school home economics room. Their lunch was prepared and served by members of the home economics class.

Toured Factories

Mayor Ely and Councilman Reed toured the Universal Die Castings and Manufacturing Co. and saw the production details and processes of making car ornaments for the Ford Co., Lincoln and General Motors. The men were given a gift of cuff links from the factory owner.

The group also toured a tool and die company which re-tools large machines.

Chicken Dinner

The Mayor's Banquet began at 6:30 p.m. in the Saline Hotel which is owned by the mayor of Saline.

"We had a very good dinner of tomato juice, fried chicken, French fries, cole slaw, orange ice and coffee," Mayor Ely said. "They started their banquet program in a very interesting way," Mayor Ely said, "and I would like to see Northville adopt the practice. They had a woman, Saline's historian, give a history of Saline. She also gave a good history of Northville, mentioning 1927, the year we celebrated our centennial, and last year when we became a city."

Honorary Memberships

The president of the Rotary club presented Mayor Ely with a Rotary banner. The Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce gave him scrolls which named him an honorary member of their organizations.

"The people were very friendly, we had a nice time and enjoyed the trip very much," the mayor said.

The group left for Northville at 9:30 p.m.

TOP CHOICE of the Novi AMVETS to represent them at the organization's statewide beauty contest in Grand Rapids next month is Willowbrook beauty Ann Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams of Mill Stream Rd.

Pontiac Att'y. To Speak At AMVET Banquet May 25

Anthony Renne, Pontiac attorney, will be guest speaker at the Novi AMVETS Annual Past Commanders banquet Friday, May 25.

The banquet, a dinner-dance affair, will be held at the post home in Wixom from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m.

A few reservations are still available according to Charles Trickey, Jr., AMVETS publicity chairman.

Republicans Elect Officers for Club

A May 14 meeting of the Novi township Republican club was addressed by John Emery of Birmingham, vice-chairman of the Oakland County Republican Party committee, who pointed out the value of the township club in the dissemination of information on the party at the "grass roots" or neighborhood level.

Elected to head the club were D. H. Groenenberg, president; Mrs. J. P. Malley, vice-president; Jack Crawford, treasurer and temporary secretary.

16th and 17th, respectively.

Novi school is planning their annual observance of Michigan Week.

The second and third grades are discussing Michigan camps and recreation areas and how to care for these places. "Do not be a litterbug," they say.

The sixth grade has a display of Michigan posters.

Will New Budget S-T-R-E-T-C-H?

Board Members Cite Need for More Help for Township Fire and Assessing Dep'ts.

The problems of stretching an already tight budget to include additional fire-fighting and assessing personnel were discussed by the Novi Township Board at a hot but uneventful Monday night meeting.

Representatives of the Novi Democratic club and the Novi Civic Ass'n., highly critical of the board at the May 7 session, sat through Monday night's meeting with very little comment.

Under the heading of new business, Supervisor Frazer Staman told the group, "I think we're ready for a full-time fireman...similar to Commerce township..."

Trustee Harold Miller said he thought one full-time fireman "could keep the equipment in better shape."

It was pointed out that volunteer firemen are now getting paid only for the actual time they are fighting fires, and not for the time spent training or maintaining equipment.

Treasurer Charles Trickey suggested to the board that a set of personnel regulations be written in the near future to serve as a guide.

"Now is the time to start," he said.

He advocated written examinations for jobs, physical examinations, and job preference for township residents when qualified.

It was suggested that little could be done until the township budget, now in Pontiac for approval, was okayed. A motion was then made to table the issue until the next meeting.

Staman then brought up the question of additional help in assessing property. At present, Staman, as supervisor, does all assessing in the township in addition to his other duties.

Trustee Frank Clark, formerly supervisor for several decades, agreed with Staman's request, saying, "...we don't need a full-time assessor...but from time to time the supervisor certainly needs additional help. That was one of my recommendations before I left office."

John Flannery, Walled Lake publisher, told the board that he understood a bill was now before the Michigan legislature to financially aid areas wishing to hire an assistant assessor.

"The question is how far can we go on the money we've got," Staman ventured.

Herbert Koester, Novi resident, asked the board at this point if they had been able to do anything to forestall the June 21 election on annexing Novi land to Northville. Koester suggested the township take the matter to court.

"We'll probably challenge it...but how far we'll get, I don't know," Staman answered.

In other business during the evening the board reviewed the possibility of having the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson inspect sewage and water systems installed in the township.

MSU Offers Radio, Dramatics and TV Courses To Students

High school youths eager to take advanced work in forensics, dramatics, radio and television will be served by the eighth annual Michigan High School Speech Institute at Michigan State this summer.

The one-month course, from June 24 to July 20, will make use of the Fairchild Theater, the Outdoor Theater, campus radio and TV stations and other university facilities.

Sponsored by the MSU Dept. of Speech, Dramatics and Radio Education, the course is open to high school juniors, seniors and June graduates. Applications must be dated before June 10.

Students interested in forensics will specialize in debate, oratory and extempore speaking, getting platform experience and profiting from guidance of trained specialists.

Those enrolled in the dramatics class will climax their work with the presentation of a series of plays, open to the public.

The radio and television course will develop the skills of interested youths and will familiarize them with professional radio and television work. And they'll participate in programs over WKAR and WKAR-TV on the Spartan campus.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Cummings:
The Northville P-TA Carnival was a huge success. This was possible because of the unselfish efforts of a number of the local citizens and merchants. No matter how hard they worked, however, the Carnival could not have been successful unless the community at large was aware of the time, place and activity.
As a good citizen the Northville Record gave publicity to our efforts. We of the P-TA are sincerely grateful to you and your staff for your efforts on our behalf.

In other action during the evening, the council voted to send a member of the Northville police force to a special police training course at Michigan State university next month.
They also discussed and agreed to ask for new bids on construction of a bridge on High St. north of Randolph.

Band Will Play At Wixom P-TA

The Wixom school band, under the direction of Mr. Holland-Moritz, will furnish entertainment for the May 24 meeting of the Wixom P-TA.

In addition, the fourth graders will play several musical numbers on their song flutes.
A varied list of Wixom school activities were also disclosed by P-TA, spokesman, Wilhelmina Lahti this week.

Getting the idea from Mother's Day the fourth graders at Wixom school celebrated Teacher's Day last week by surprising their teacher, Mrs. Rita Choquette, with a party planned and executed entirely by themselves. Having carefully observed during lunch that Mrs. Choquette had a certain weakness, the girls delighted her with a chocolate cake which they baked themselves. Also on the party list were cupcakes and cookies. Each student made an appropriate greeting card which they presented to the teacher, plus the gift of a coffee warmer.

Field trip time is here again and first to venture forth were the fourth and fifth graders who took in the sights of the museum in Ann Arbor. Tuesday, the first graders went to the Detroit Zoological park. The sixth graders are planning a trip to Wayne County Airport, where they will get to view the interior of a variety of planes, including jets.

Novi Girl Scouts

Brownie Troop No. 493 met at Novi school May 16. The girls had a discussion on the fly-up requirements. This week they concentrated on fires and handshakes.
Brownie Troop No. 602 met at the school and made Indian headbands for the pow wow. They also made plans for next week's hike. Carol Wicks brought treats.
Intermediate Troop No. 491 opened with the flag ceremony. Badges were presented and they played games. They closed with a good night circle after treats by the leaders.

The Senior Troop met at the home of Shirley Snow. The girls made additional plans for their hike in June.
Brownie Troop 149 had to postpone their cook-out. The girls learned two new songs: English "Hiking Song" and "We're On the Upward Trail". Treats were furnished by Mrs. Schwartz, 3rd grade teacher.

Intermediate Troop No. 492 met in the basement of the school May 16. The girls made fancy fly swatters. They closed with a good night circle.

additional revenue. However, he pointed out to the group that Northville is now crowded and it is not practical to expect them to pass bond issues to build schools and also take tuition students.
Beard said there is no way possible for Durfee to open a school because there are not enough children to support a good school. "Northville wants to know what we are going to do," he continued, "and Novi also wants to know."

Other school and civic officials present at the election-meeting were Novi District No. 8 Supt. William Medlyn, Oakland County Assistant Supt. Claude Elmore, Northville Supt. Russell Amerman, Northville School Board President Robert Coolman, Novi No. 8 Board President James Mitchell and Novi Supervisor Frazer Staman.

MSU Pres. Deplores Uniform Teacher Pay

School administrators who dislike paying teachers uniform salaries have a supporter in President John A. Hannah of Michigan State university.
"Equal pay for unequal performance is a vicious perversion of the concept of equality," President Hannah pointed out in a recent address to Michigan schoolmasters. "This is not equality...it is enforced regimentation at best."

He said the public should beware of "imposing a deadening uniformity on our school systems and discouraging individual demonstrations of capability and ambition by teachers."

To observe Michigan Week the fifth grade made maps of the state showing: resources, Bobby Taylor; birds, JoAnn Miller, Kenneth Hayes; counties, Ginger Cheeseman, cities, Gerrit Steenhagen; fish, Rita Crawford and Judy LaFond; trees, Carolyn Mairs; sports, Carol Newbegin, and farming, Diane McCollum.

These maps are on display in the school library.
The fifth graders have finished their bird studies and one of the best pictures, according to the teacher, was drawn by Lonnie McQueen of a red winged black bird.

Carolyn Mairs and Carol Newbegin are absent from school because of illness.

A pair of cardinals have made a nest outside one of the school windows. The pupils are watching with keen interest.

Mrs. Wilcox was ill Friday and Mrs. Donough substituted for her. Russell Taylor, Sr. gave oil paintings of an old locomotive and an old car to the Novi school library.

James Frisbie and Jack Boyd of the sixth grade assisted Mrs. Sharpe when the kindergarten went to the Methodist church to give a program May 17.

The Northville Masonic Lodge were guests at Novi Methodist church for services last Sunday.

man of Wayne county juvenile court, and the presence of two Saline (Mich.) city officials as honored guests, the banquet was a huge success as a civic get-together.

Looking ahead to next year, might it not be appropriate for Northville to examine itself as a community in which to live and bring up a family, just as we have been examining and discussing the State of Michigan from these standpoints this week?

What an opportunity a banquet like the one this week, attended by a large cross-section of city and township residents, would afford for a down-to-earth review of community affairs. It could be handled as a joint city-township affair, with its program centering around discussion of municipal, township and school problems by capable public officials. With adequate advance preparation, such an event could be a potent force for uniting the community's viewpoint on common goals and aspirations, and in getting concerted action to bring them about.

Community Living

NORTHVILLE DOWNS had its beginning in 1944. Since then, thousands of people have visited the track to see scenes like the one above. The race track employs local people during the season who share in an approximate $85,000 payroll. In addition, Northville also receives racing revenue. Last year's race track revenue netted the city a total of $105,463.

The following report was prepared by students in Miss Florence Panattoni's third hour speech class as their Michigan Week project for Education Day, May 24.

Northville is a showplace of community living. Why a showplace? Look around and you will find the reasons.

Five churches, three schools (and one in the planning stage), and many industries are to be found in this "homey, friendly, all-American city."

We have done a little research and learned the following things about our city:

Early Industry

John Miller and Israel Nash built the first flour mill in Northville which was believed to be third in territory.

In 1832 Charles Rogers erected a milk condensing plant on Fairbrook Ave. This plant became the first in America to successfully condense milk and sell it commercially. This company took top rank for milk condensing in the western hemisphere during its existence.

Northville was the site of the Globe Furniture Co., the world's largest manufacturer of school furniture at that time. The building changed hands many times during its long existence from 1860 and today it is the Michigan Powdered Metal Co.

In 1870 a private fish hatchery was established by Nelson W. Clark, a few feet from the site of the present one. In 1897 the United States government erected the present hatchery which is one of the largest fish propagation stations in the world.

J. A. Dubuar erected a lumbering business in 1890. This company made ship fittings such as mast hoops, pulleys and pulley blocks. In 1919 this mill was sold to the Ford Motor Co., which at present manufactures valves.

Today there are 18 industries in Northville ranging from food flavorings and gravel trucking concerns to a harness race track.

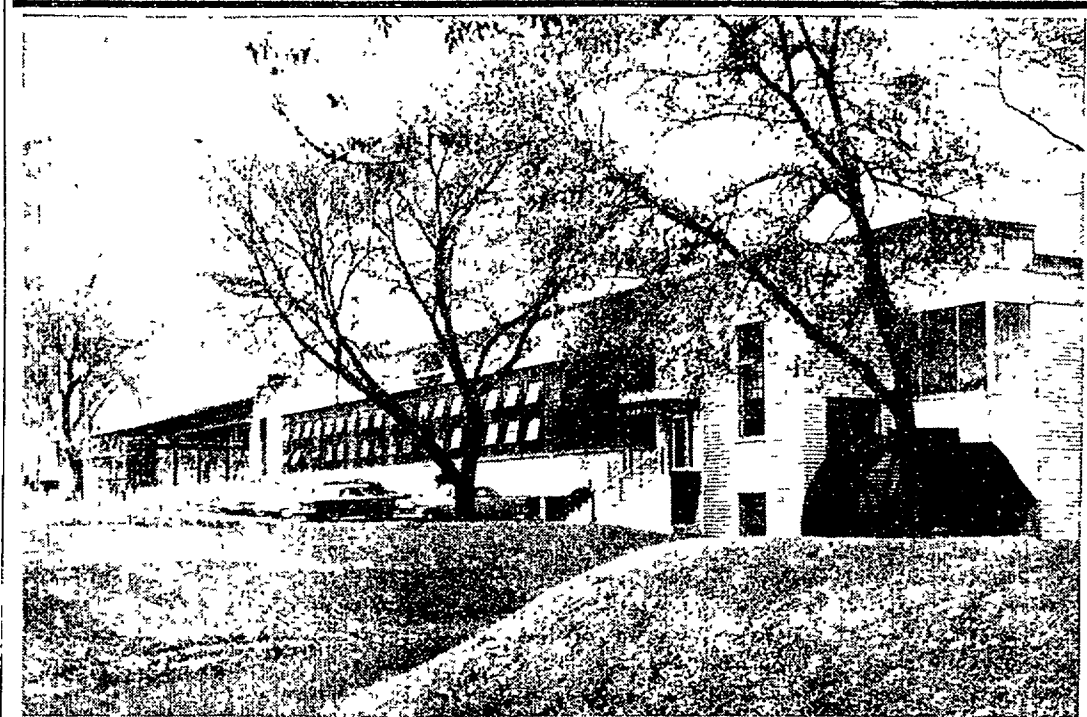

Churches

Northville provides five churches which the people of this city and its surrounding area may attend. Included are the Presbyterian church, founded in 1812; the Methodist church founded in 1834; the Baptist church founded in 1844; the Lutheran church founded in 1896 and the Catholic church founded in 1925.

Schools

Our first form of education in Northville was the old elementary school built in 1865. The school stood at the site of the present high school until it burned in 1916.

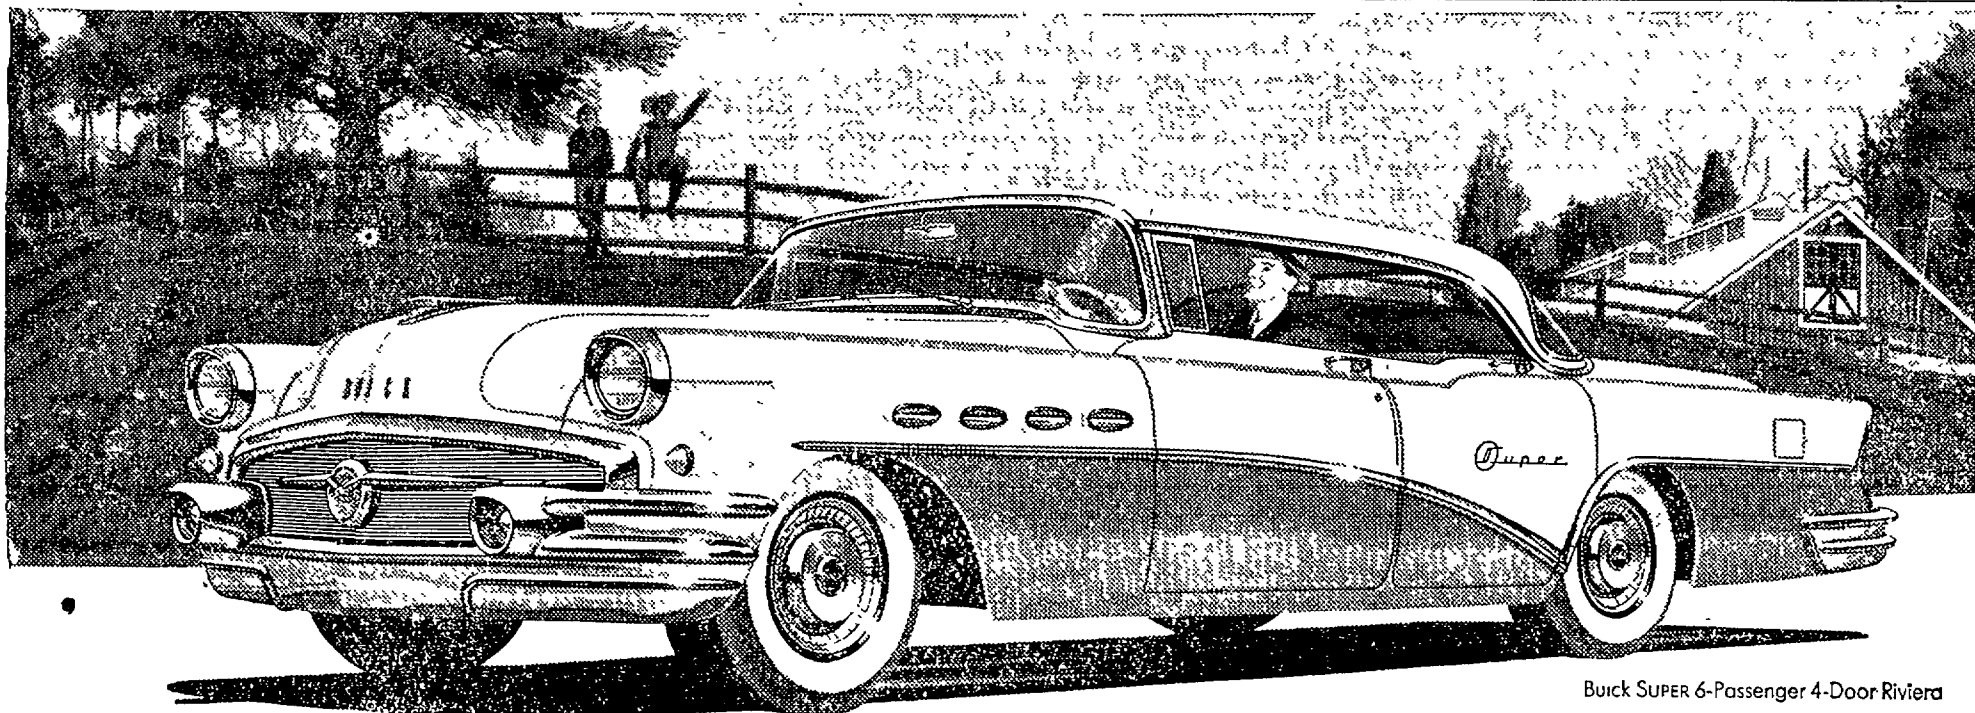

A new school was immediately started and the students were temporarily enrolled in the old building which faced West St.

The high school was built shortly after 1900 and was the first in town to have a gym. The cost of the new building was approximately $75,000.

The grade school building which faced West St. burned January 24, 1936. Temporary quarters were provided in several local buildings. The same year, (Continued on Page 13)

NHS STUDENTS writing their Michigan Education report wished to include a picture of a church; however, not wishing to show any favoritism, chose the above drawing by NHS student Jayne Hammond to typify the five churches located in Northville.

It's power almost without limit—power that humbles the hills, melts the miles, makes you monarch of all you survey.

For this is a new Buick—a '56 Buick—sparked by the most potent engine in Buick annals—a 322-cubic-inch V8 with a crackling high compression of 9.5 to 1.

And that's just part of it. When you need a still greater flow of get-up-and-go for safety's sake, you merely switch the pitch and you zoom out of tight spots.

So come rule the roost in this '56 Buick.

Come drive a car with 127 gorgeous inches of wheelbase to give it regal room and a ride that's fit for a king.

Try out Buick's new steering—new center-grooved brakes—new direct-acting shock

Learn how it feels to boss a car that looks like royalty and acts the part to perfection.

We promise—you'll practically purr with delight at the wheel of this dazzler—especially when you discover how easily you can make it your own.

Takes the BUMP Out of Winter Fuel Costs!

WHY BE AT WINTER'S MERCY?

The weather is no respecter of your pocketbook. If the temperature drops, you have to safeguard the health and comfort of your family. That's why there are bound to be some months when your bill for heating fuel soars a lot higher than you ever expected... and this can really upset your plans!

THE ELY BUDGET PLAN

is based upon the simple principle that the average family's total fuel oil bills for the entire heating season can be estimated with close accuracy. It's not an installment plan—and it doesn't cost you a penny more than you'd normally pay for the fuel oil needed. things, including religion. If they would only make an honest effort to put a little more order into their lives, they would be a lot better off—in business, in society, with their friendships, in their homes and in religion. Another fundamental reason for excuses is laziness. The lazy person finds almost everything an effort, and quickly forms the habit of trying to "beg off" from as many things as possible. The lazy person makes commitments, but when the time comes he finds it easier to make excuses than to keep engagements. No matter how you look at it, excuses are bad. Form the habit of refusing to make excuses. Excuses are bad business, bad social form, and likewise bad religion.

Rhubarb At Baseball Game Sends Two Players To Showers

Two baseball players were ousted from the Plymouth-Northville merchants baseball game Sunday at Riverside park "after a fight involving all the players," according to the Northville manager, Joe Kritch.

"It was a hotly contested game," Kritch said, "and the rhubarb came in the eighth inning. The Northville first baseman and the Plymouth shortstop were ejected."

Plymouth won the game in the ninth inning with a steal to home plate.

Northville will play the River Rouge team at home this Sunday at 3 p.m. Kritch said that he will start Kenneth Kisabeth on the mound.

YOU'RE A MAINLINER!

Whether you live in a tiny village in the northern part of Michigan or on a heavily traveled street in one of our major cities or right out on the farm, you're a mainliner so far as your convenience of living and doing business is concerned.

That's because the highly-developed, fast, flexible trucking industry which serves the concentrated population centers of this great state of ours provides equally thorough and complete service for sparsely-settled, out-of-the-way places.

Yes, trucks provide the only freight transportation which reaches all of Michigan—bringing merchandise and materials to every Wolverine household, farm, and business concern, no matter how far off the beaten path it may be.

Thanks to trucks, you can live or do business anywhere in Michigan you please and still be on the main line!

TELEPHONE lines

WE CERTAINLY get a kick out of teen-agers. It's a fascinating time of life for them and for parents, too. Take the matter of telephone conversations. Is anything more earnest, more confidential, more important? That's probably why telephones right in teen-agers' rooms have proved so popular. The youngster is able to speak in relaxed privacy. And the rest of the family isn't distracted from what it's doing. An extension phone in your teen-ager's room will cost about $1 a month. And by the way, they make very welcome graduation gifts.

EVER BEEN CAUGHT

when you wanted to make a phone call but couldn't because all the places with public phones were closed for the night? You'll usually find the answer now in new outdoor phone booths, lighted and open 24 hours a day, every day of the year. You'll find them handy wherever you are. About 2,800 of them are now located in Michigan towns and on main highways, and many more are on the way to make a telephone available for you—any time—in the most convenient places.

WHAT DO YOU DO with the workshop tools that get badly damaged or worn? Toss them in the trash can? Here at the telephone company we send work-worn tools to the Detroit repair shops of Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. They are returned to our telephone installers, repairmen and construction people as good as new. Is this better than buying new tools? You bet. Tool repairs save us thousands of dollars a year. That's the kind of economy that helps keep down the cost of telephone service.
