Campaign Ends Next Week

Readers Give $430 For "Carol Ann" Fund

Contributions are rapidly approaching the $500 mark in the drive to secure medical funds for three-year old Lukemia victim Carol Ann Donnelly.

The drive, which ends Wednesday, July 11, had already brought contributions totaling $430 as this tributions will help the Donnelly family meet the large medical expense, involved in the treatment of the child's fatal disease. This drive, unlike many others, gives Northville and Novi residents a chance to see their contributions in action. Their money will buy medical supplies that will enable a child in this community to live a little longer.

Doctors say that Carol Ann, who lives with her family, 43350 West Ten Mile Rd., does not have long to live—maybe a few weeks, a month, possibly even a year. Blood for transfusions is furnished by The Lukemia Foundation but lukemia is an expensive disease and the bills keep coming in.

Council Acts Immediately On Recommended 4 Point Program

The Northville City Council authorized Councilmen John Stubenvoll and Earl Reed to negotiate for the purchase of two pieces of property to be used for an alley and municipal parking.

Councilman Allen To Negotiate For Last Well Site

"We have put a couple of thousand dollars in dry holes and have no potential water," Councilman Mike Allen said Monday evening. A letter was received by the city council from John E. Vogt, sanitary engineer for the Michigan Dept. of Health, confirming his inspection of the proposed well sites for Northville.

Vogt had this to say about the four sites:

1. On the Yerkes Farm in the Bencke and Krue Subdivision on Hill street. Any site utilized would have to provide an area either 400 feet square or 200 feet square, depending upon whether the test well showed that there was a substantial clay layer overlying the water bearing formation. The isolation area would, of course, have to be owned by the village. Under such circumstances, the site could be approved.

2. The Chase property, on the east side of Novi Road could be approved if the specifications for Site No. 1 were adhered to.

3. Ford Athletic Field is a potential site. It would be necessary to obtain a lease or some other equally binding agreement with the Ford Motor Co. for a 200 foot radius around the well, whereby there would be no sewers or any other source of pollution constructed within the isolation area as long as the village continued to obtain water from the well.

4. The Schulz property at the southeast corner of the intersection of Baseline and Novi Roads. There is not sufficient property available for the development. This site is not approved.

Councilman Allen said that the only alternative the city had was to try to negotiate a deal with Mr. and Mrs. Chase. "A well on site No. 1 would cost approximately $25,000," he said, "and a contract with the Ford Motor Co. is out of the question."

PRICE PER ISSUE INCREASES JULY 12

Because of increased printing and production costs, we find it necessary to raise the price of this newspaper to ten cents per issue. The new price will take effect with our July 12 issue. Our yearly rate of $3.00 (a saving of $2.20 over the newsstand price) will not be affected.

the city is now operating on " . . . is the weakest in terms of executive or administrative functions. If the city manager form is not accepted we should amend the charter," he said.

Councilman Reed said that the charter was written this way because the writers expected that Northville would have a city manager within a year.

If the council approves these recommendations and expands on the idea, Councilman Canterbury said that a committee could be appointed at the next meeting. The committee would then write notices to recruit applicants. Councilman Canterbury said that advertisements could be placed nationwide without cost.

Northville residents will be invited to express their opinion at a special public hearing on this subject in the near future.

Garbage Ordinance To Be Enforced; Violators Fined

City residents will be held responsible for having the proper garbage containers and for the correct placement of their garbage cans on pick-up day. Failure to comply will result in a fine.

A notice to householders in the form of a published notice and/or handbills will be distributed as soon as the city attorney writes it.

After publication there will be a two week trial period. Those persons not complying with the ordinance will be reported to the police department by the garbage collector. The police will follow-up and violators will be taken to court.

Councilman Stubenvoll said that the committee recognized the garbage problem as being difficult, but " . . . the city is hopeful to have the cooperation of the residents and the garbage collector."

Councilman Allen said, "None of us want to see garbage cans on the street, but the people will make the final decision. If they don't cooperate with this plan their garbage will have to be put

The two properties comprise half of a four point program recommended by the finance committee and presented by councilman Stubenvoll.

The properties to be purchased include the lot on E. Dunlap street directly in back of the A & P store. Owned by George Miller, the space would accommodate 25 cars.

The second piece of property includes the south 30 feet of the McKinney property recently purchased by the Methodist Church. The land is adjacent to the church on the west side. It would be used for the proposed alley.

The city council will have a special meeting next week to discuss the parking situation and consider action on the remaining two points of the program which were recommended. They include the possible condemnation of the Hill property; and utilization of the present city park for parking. It is not expected that the parking plan for the park will detract from its appearance. Councilmen discussed the use of circular driveways and mentioned that only a few trees would have to be removed. Band concerts would also be able to continue.

At present, the council has no definite plan to raise funds to purchase all of the properties needed to complete the parking program. The total cost was estimated at approximately $25,000; however $30,000 was appropriated in this year's budget for a start. Three other possibilities were discussed: special assessments, pay as you go, and revenue bonds, or possibly a combination of the three.

Councilman Stubenvoll said that the four point program is the first step in a long-range plan to solve the parking situation.

City Buys Sweeper
The city council voted unanimously to pick up the option on the street sweeper which it has been renting since last fall. The total cost of the sweeper is $10,000. Approximately $2,600 which has been paid for rental services will be applied toward the purchase price.

To Audit Twp. Accounts
The city council voted to request and authorize an audit of the Northville Twp. accounts including assets and liabilities as of May 26, 1955.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie said that the township agreed to let the city look at the books, but they (the Twp.) refused to pay for an audit. The city agreed to pay for it.

"This is not intended as a slap at the township," Councilman John Canterbury said, "it is just good public business in both of our interests."

To Price Gerald Ave. Property
City attorney Philip Ogilvie was instructed to get estimates on certain pieces of property on Gerald Ave.

Band Director & Students Visit Instrument Factory and Bring Home Their New Horns

By Robert Williams
NHS Band Director

Last Tuesday, June 26, John Schwartz, Harold Hately (official photographer), Jeff Schoof, Richard Drew, Tucker Williams and I made a quick trip to Elkhart, Indiana.

Elkhart is the center of the band instrument field. Sales and production centers are in Elkhart with smaller subsidiaries in New York and Wisconsin.

The purpose of our trip was to pick up some new instruments for the band. According to the retail agent, delivery on the horns was impossible for at least ninety days. After two phone calls on the preceding Friday we were invited to the C. G. Conn plant to see the horns in production.

We hoped as a result of the trip to get delivery on at least one or two of the horns.

At 7:30 a.m. the day of the trip, five rather sleepy people were on the road . . . the sixth person was the wide-awake driver. Excitement mounted early in the trip and just as quickly subsided. Tucker complained that the reed from his clarinet was lodged in his throat. He accompanied his complaints with appropriate sounds. Most amusing after 75 miles.

We arrived in Elkhart about 10:45 a.m. and went right to the Conn plant. The receptionist said that we were expected and called a company representative immediately. The vice-president of the company came to meet us. Mr. Echols showed us an instrument display and some of the other products of the Conn Company.

Pilots, bombardiers and naval captains from the last war used Conn compasses, bomb sights and releases. Apparently Conn is still carrying on a great deal of research for the government because several areas were marked "restricted".

Chuck, a sales co-ordinator, took us in tow for a quick tour of the plant. He assured Harold that he could shoot anything he saw during the tour . . . in the way of pictures that is.

Some of the interesting explanations of production methods were rather technical. We learned that it took a minimum of $100,000 to get a new model instrument into production and on the market. Chuck explained that the metal used in making instruments has a tendency to get brittle; therefore, during production the instrument has to be re-tempered after each working step is completed. This takes nearly four hours at temperatures up to 2,500 degrees F.

An acoustical engineer explained the thorough research and testing going on to find new ways to produce sounds that have been musically similar for the last two hundred years. The array of scientific apparatus was most impressive. His parting words were, "An instrument is just a hunk of metal until a musician plays it." Very true words sir.

After lunch in the company cafeteria we were surprised and pleased to get delivery on all four of the horns we had ordered. A fond farewell and we were on our way home about 1:30 p.m.

The trip itself was uneventful except for a haulaway truck we saw. It turned over on the highway and was carrying four new Cadillacs on the back.

See you next week at our concert in the park . . . 8 p.m.

Miss Austin chose a waltz length gown of net and lace over satin for her wedding. The sleeves of the fitted bodice were long and tight and formed points over her wrists. The high neckline featured a tiny lace collar and satin buttons fastened the bodice down the back. Points of lace fell from the waist half way down the bouffant skirt. Her shoulder length veil fell from a lace covered pearl and sequin cap. She wore cultured pearl earrings, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses and stephanotis.

The Camerons came to Northville from Detroit two years ago in September and think Northville is an ideal place to live. The friendliness of the people and the rolling countryside are some of the things they especially enjoy. They have a small son, Tommy, who is five months old, and they reside at 760 Spring Dr.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
Main and Dodge Streets
Plymouth, Michigan

Humanity's need for effective prayer will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from Psalms (19:14): "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer."
The importance of earnest prayer to God is brought out in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, which will include the following (4:3-9): "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love and good deeds. To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him, and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done."

NORTHVILLE

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

The Rev. Peter Nieuwkoop, Pastor
First Baptist Church, Northville

This week I would like to share with the readers a matter which may well cause some concern on the part of Christians. This matter, to my knowledge, did not receive any great publication in our area by the Detroit papers. This article was taken from the Methodist Challenge magazine. It was entitled...

THIS IS COMMUNISM

"I do not write as an alarmist. I write as a man who seeks to honestly deal with the truth. Any man who writes honestly today writes alarmingly. I have just read a decision of the Seventh Circuit of the Federal Court, convening in Chicago, in which decision the right of religious people to work without pay, in furthering the gospel message which they seek to send out to the lost world, is questioned, if not nullified."

This case seems to have originated in an act of the Pilgrim Holiness Church, members of which church volunteered their labor free in furthering their efforts to spread their Christian services throughout the nation. As a result the Secretary of Labor took the church into the district court on the ground that they did not pay the minimum wage.

DECISION BY THE FEDERAL COURT

The court decided for the church and the Secretary of Labor appealed, the appeal resulting in a reversal of the lower court and a higher court decision sustaining the claims of the Secretary of Labor that the church must pay the minimum wage to its members as well as others who actually work for it. By this decision the Secretary of Labor and the Federal Court have decided that a man's services as well as his time are not his own but belong to the state and are subject to the control of the state. Call this decision what you please, it is actually Communism.

It violates the First Amendment to the Constitution which declares, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." The court in its decision states that this Amendment gives "only limited power to act pursuant to that (its religious) belief." In other words, we haven't religious freedom at all. We have only limited religious freedom.

A TEXAS NEWSPAPER—

Editorially commenting on this decision, says, "The Federal Court and the Secretary of Labor have concurred that the amount of money a person makes and what he does with his time is not his own business. It is — according to them—the business of the government! If this comment is correct, then Russia has very little on us. Gradually organized labor is taking over and our freedom is disappearing. If this trend continues, some Federal Court will soon decide that singing in a choir is work and labor unions will soon be deciding who shall and who shall not sing in a choir. The same of all volunteer workers in the church.

A nationwide campaign is now on seeking to force all people who work to belong to a union and pay dues thereto. This is Communism getting his foot in the door. The American people are the slowest people on earth, it would seem, to become aroused at the encroachment of enslaving elements in governing agencies. But the time has come to awaken. When a man can no longer volunteer his time and labor to his church, something is happening to us."

Twin Sisters Together Again ... After 15 Year Separation

Mrs. George Newman and Mrs. Desmond Jackson

Mrs. George Newman and Mrs. Desmond Jackson, twin sisters, saw each other last week after a 15 year separation.

"We waited for this day a long time," Mrs. Newman said. The sisters were born and educated in London, England.

Separated in 1941

Their separation began in 1941 when Mrs. Jackson (Kathleen) entered the British army as a nurse. She was sent to Egypt and it was there that she met an Australian soldier who was to become her husband. "We were married in 1942," Mrs. Jackson said, "and I never did return to England."

Mrs. Jackson is visiting the states alone. Her husband and two sons, Peter and Timothy, have set up bachelor quarters at their home in Melbourne, Australia.

Mrs. Newman (Joan) had been planning to visit her sister, but in 1945 she met and married Dr. George Newman who was a member of the United States Air Force and they came to America. Dr. Newman is a member of the psychiatric staff at the Northville State Mental Hospital. The Newmans live at 39550 Haggerty Court and have three children, Penny, Susie and John.

22 Day Trip
"I left Australia June 1 on the S. S. Orsova," Mrs. Jackson said, "and I arrived in San Francisco three weeks later, right to the day." Mrs. Jackson traveled to Detroit by train and met her sister on June 23.

"It was a wonderful trip and I had a magnificent rest," she said.

Koala Bears
"If you ever visit Australia," Mrs. Jackson said, "you must see the Koala bears. They are cuddly little bears that never grow very big. They live in trees and carry their babies in their pouch like a kangaroo. When they get upset they cry real tears."

"The Koala bears live on food from a certain type of gum tree that doesn't grow everywhere. The bears are dying out, but there are still many, to be seen in the bush."

"How about kangaroos? we asked."

"There are quite a lot of kangaroos," Mrs. Jackson said. "Of course they're not hopping all around, but they are in the bush, the same as wild parakeets."

We heard the word "bush" mentioned a number of times and Mrs. Jackson explained that the "bush" in Australia is comparable to what we would call "the country, or farm".

Life In Australia

"Australia isn't really very different from the states," Mrs. Jackson said, "except that here everyone is so 'go ahead,' it really is marvelous."

"One of the things that impressed me here was the automatic door in the food store. I was just fascinated with the way the door opened as I was leaving the store."

"Then there's your television. We don't have any in Australia, but I expect that they will by the time that I return. Everyone is looking forward to it. Right now though we get many of your radio programs like Hopalong Cassidy, Roy Rogers, Superman, and Arthur Godfrey. The children just love them. We see a lot of your films too and the people go crazy for your entertainers when they visit our country."

According to Mrs. Jackson, farming, sheep and cattle raising are the primary industries in Australia. "You can recognize a farmer when he comes to town," she said, "because he wears his hat with his brim turned down all the way around."

The Weather

The northern part of Australia has tropical weather. In the southern part, like Melbourne, the climate is much the same as England. "We never see any snow," Mrs. Jackson said, except in the hills."

One Big Store

One thing that Melbourne has that we don't have, according to Mrs. Jackson, is a huge store where a shopper can buy anything. "No matter where you travel," she said, "there's nothing you could buy that you couldn't buy in Myers."

"The store is composed of two buildings about 20 stories high and you can do all of your shopping without moving out of it. You can buy clothing, furniture, meats, groceries, imported articles... just everything. Myers was modeled after Hudson's in Detroit," Mrs. Jackson said, but Myers has much more."

Keen On Sports

"Australians are keen on sports," Mrs. Jackson said. "Night trots (harness racing) are a great thing in Melbourne. We also play quite a lot of tennis, Australian football and swim. We're just taking on baseball. Of course there's a strong American influence in Australia, especially in Sidney."

"We're very sports-minded," Mrs. Jackson said. "We're going to have the Olympic games in Melbourne this year. Most of the sporting events will be held at the Cricket Mound, our main arena. We're building several colossal swimming pools in preparation."

Mrs. Jackson is planning to visit with her sister until September. A trip to New York is being planned. "... then she'll have been coast to coast," Mrs. Newman said.

Frosted cakes are a bit hard to handle in transit. One good way is to bake a loaf cake in a shallow pan, frost it, and carry it in the pan. Another idea is to do an "inside-out" frosting job. Cut cupcakes or squares of loaf cake into layers. Spread the frosting in between, and wrap these individual servings in a waxed paper. Pack in a box or pan for safe carrying.

South Novi Farm Bureau met Tuesday evening, June 26, at the Novi Community Building. The discussion was "How Can We Make Citizenship Work at Home?"

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ross Carroll and Mrs. Andy Burgess to the fifteen members present.

Sewage Disposal Plant Discussed

The feasibility of a half-million dollar sewage disposal plant to serve an estimated 15,000 people in Novi township was recently discussed with engineers, Supervisor Frazer Staman announced at Monday night's township board meeting.

Although no definite action is being taken on the project at this time, long range plans for waste disposal throughout the area are now being considered.

Tentative plans call for locating the half-million dollar disposal plant in the western end of the township provided the board of health will approve the Huron River as the ultimate outlet for the treated waste.

Willowbrook Idea

Another sewage disposal plan for Willowbrook Village was recently considered by the developer of the area, Paul LeBost.

Staman said that LeBost's idea involved a five to ten acre drain field which would be tied in with individual septic tanks, thus eliminating the need for a separate drain field for every dwelling.

In other action Monday evening the board approved rezoning a strip of land along the eastern side of Wixom Road between the expressway and West Road. The land, previously R-1-F for small farms, will be M-1 for light industry.

Health Insurance

The board also voted to offer township employees health insurance with the township paying the entire premium in the case of a single employee or half of the total premium in the case of a married employee who wished to include coverage for his wife and family.

Clerk Hadley Bachert suggested that the township pay election inspectors at the rate of $20 per day for the coming primary and general elections. He told the board that the inspectors often work 16-18 hours and that the $20 per day would actually amount to less than $1.50 per hour. The board unanimously voted to grant the request.

Mobile Radios

Two additional mobile radio units were also ordered after Staman told the board that the federal government has been paying 50% of the cost for all such equipment used in police work. The township took advantage of the offer last year also. Staman explained that the government would be valuable in civil defense work.

TO KEEP THE CUSTOMERS IN and the insects out, Jack and Al Harnden worked hard last week-end putting up screen doors (above) and getting the new store ready for business. Al's Quality Market, formerly located at 43553 Grand River just east of Novi Rd. is now about a block further east at 43025 Grand River. The new location, says Al ("the poor man's pal"), features a lot more parking space and bright cheerful surroundings. Known as Harnden's Confectionery for most of its 20 years in the former location, the business was founded by Jack and Eta Harnden.

The summer season finds the beaches crowded with swimmers and splashes; motor boats cruise along, sometimes with a water skier tagging behind making grooves in the rushing water; sail boats drift lazily along, a warm summer breeze making the sails puff out; fishermen stand on the shore and in the water, they sit on bridges and in row boats . . . waiting for that "big catch".

All sorts of things are found in the water like rubber inner tubes, rafts, bottles with notes in them, fish that bite, girls without curls, sun-browned life guards, flowers on bathing caps, and by all means we must mention the junior frogman who, with his aqua lung, flippers and goggles, has become quite the thing in many beach circles.

Yes, it's water water, everywhere, but when you want a drop to drink you forsake the lakes and rivers and get a "double pure thirst quencher", you know, water from the faucet with chunks and chunks of ice.

Water, Water, Everywhere

DRIFTING LAZILY on the still water at nearby Newburgh Lake are Richard Gardner and Patrick Green.

COOLING HERSELF with water from a garden hose, our junior pin-up, Lynn demonstrates an effective way of beating the heat.

THE ROUGE RIVER isn't very deep at Cass Benton park, but then if it was we wouldn't have been able to take this picture of pretty Pat Hix, wading.

A FATHER AND HIS two sons enjoy a day of fishing near a waterfall on Northville Road near Edward Hines Drive.

What Happened To "The Northville Star"?

MYSTERY PAPER. The Northville Star, Pictured above, was published in Northville in 1897-1898, at least those are the dates on the copies in the Northville Record office file. What happened to the Star is a mystery. Do you know the answer?

Reservations Open for 3-Day Y-Teen Bicycle Trip

Four reservations are available for the second Y-Teen overnight bike trip, which is scheduled for three days, July 10-12, according to Constance Lewis, teen-age program director at Northern Branch YWCA. The girls will leave early Tuesday morning, July 10, to bike to the Saline Valley. The following day they will travel on to Erie, Mich., spending both nights at youth hostels. They will return to Detroit Thursday, July 12. Adult leaders accompanying the girls will be Miss Lewis, Janet Morrison and Judy Webster. Cost of the trip is $9 and reservations are being accepted by Miss Lewis at Northern Branch YWCA.

Do you remember the Northville Star?

It's not likely, because no one in the city seems to know anything about this eight-page weekly which started Thursday Publications May 19, 1897.

The Northville Record has two copies of the paper on file. The pages are yellow and crumbly, but then why shouldn't they be? 1897 was a long time ago.

Begun 29 years after the first publication of the Northville Record, it is unknown how long the Star stayed in business. The publisher, editor, and business manager was E. Wm. Balch. The paper was six columns wide.

The second copy on file, dated October 7, 1898, was the first edition published and edited by the new owner A. H. Herron. That paper was five columns wide and was published every Friday.

In the "Local and Neighborhood News" column that week Herron stated as follows: "Subscribers to the Star will please withhold their criticisms a little until we fully get our bearings, so as to know where we are at. We expect to make The Star equal to any paper ever published in Northville as a local news paper, but we do not flatter ourselves that we shall reach the height of our ambition the first issue. Also, our readers will place us under special obligations to them for any items of news that may be in their possession from time to time."

Had News And Ads

The two available copies carry general news of the county state and country as well as several advertisements. They also had a one page short story.

Among the news items in the October 7, 1898 paper are the following: "Col. Theodore Roosevelt, of the famous Rough Riders, was nominated for governor of New York by the Republican state convention. He was chosen on the first ballot. Roosevelt received 753 votes and incumbent Governor Black received 218 votes."

"Brighton's school board is making a special effort to stop the use of tobacco on their school premises and during school hours. The modern cigarette is working sad havoc upon both mind and body of the boys of this country."

"The Mexican War Veterans association of Michigan met in Grand Rapids with 13 members present ranging in age from 73-90 years."

"General Maximo Gomez is quoted as saying the insurgent forces will disband and apply themselves to farm labor as soon as the Spanish troops evacuate the island."

"A 90 year old woman was found dead on a nearby farm. She had got into the lot where two ugly sheep were pastured and they made an attack upon her. Being old and feeble she could not escape and they soon pounded the life out of her."

"The state fair at Grand Rapids was not up to expectations, but the exhibits were better than usual."

"Three Detroit men were expected in town yesterday, but failed to come in the interest of the Grand River Electric Road. Those who claim to know, say that the company means business, and is intending to come to Northville. The franchise which they desire Northville to grant stipulates for a 30-cent fare from here to Detroit."

No Pictures

There were no pictures, but there were sketches for the advertising. Some of the more interesting ad copy reads:

"Better than gold and better than any other chewing tobacco ever made. You are not obliged to dig for it. The 10-cent piece of Battle Ax Plug."

"Good, palatable, wholesome ice-cream always leaves a pleasant lasting memory. G. M. Thorn makes it and you will make no mistake if you buy it. He makes colored ice-cream for parties, weddings, etc."

"A 10-cent barn. A rare opportunity for farmers to stand or feed their horses when in Northville. Go to the 10-cent barn. Water works connection."

"Tender faces carefully and artistically cared for at our tonorial parlors."

Advice For Children

The following bit of advice was printed on the children's page: "Children dear, when you hear dropping rain upon the pane, never fear: sunshine always follows rain. Children sweet, when your feet make the grown-up people fret at the noise of girls and boys, tell them you'll grow up soon. Children pray, when the day does not go quite right at school, think of this, that perfect bliss comes of minding every rule."

What happened to the Northville Star? Do you have the answer, or will it remain a mystery?

ENTERING A BAPTISM, the Rev. Fr. John Wittstock is kept busy with his duties as the new pastor of Our Lady of Victory Church.

Former CYO Chaplain Takes Over As Our Lady of Victory Priest

The Rev. Fr. John Wittstock took over the duties of parish priest for Our Lady of Victory Church Friday, June 22 replacing the Rev. Fr. Anthony J. Heraty who was transferred to Hazel Park.

Father Wittstock was born in Detroit and attended St. Elizabeth's elementary school. His high school and college training was received at the Sacred Heart Seminary. He attended Mount St. Mary's of the West in Norwood, Ohio four years and was ordained June 7, 1936.

His first and only job prior to being assigned to Northville, was chaplain for the Catholic Youth Organization in Detroit, a home for homeless boys. Father Wittstock was specifically assigned to juvenile court work.

During his 20 years he interviewed and gave counsel to over 15,000 boys and girls involved in some sort of delinquency. For the past 15 years, until last week, he was also the chaplain for the Catholic Girl Scouts in the Detroit diocese.

To Start Youth Activities Father Wittstock said that he anticipates starting youth activities in the parish when new facilities become available.

"Father Heraty's shoes will be hard to fill," Father Wittstock said, "he was a good manager."

Speaking about the building fund, Father Wittstock said, "... it is very encouraging. The most difficult part is over and that has made it a lot easier for a novice like me to take over the management of the parish."

About the City of Northville, Father Wittstock said, "I never visited here before my appointment, but I drove through several times and always enjoyed the beautiful scenic views."

Father Wittstock met the members of the Young Ladies sodality Wednesday evening, June 20. He also met many parishioners at the OLV Strawberry Festival Friday evening, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kaiser. "This is a new job for Father Wittstock," but he seems to be taking it in his stride. He was in Northville less than three days before he had visited the three hospitals in the parish to give the last sacraments; he also officiated at a wedding and at a baptism. He has attended various organization meetings and is now trying to meet all of his parishioners, as well as becoming acquainted with the church records. Father Wittstock has promised to contribute to the Pastor's Study for this paper as Father Heraty had during the past year.

ous driving hours on the clock. The experts who build our roads and highways know this. They also know, however, that many drivers won't believe this proven fact. Therefore, the scientists and engineers try to protect these drivers against themselves by building into our highways safety factors especially designed to save lives at night.

There are the flashing red lights at railroad crossings, the special traffic signals that function only at night, and the reflectorized, 24-hour signs that warn of sharp curves, crossroads and other highway hazards. In addition to these after-dark safety devices, many states are painting center and shoulder highway lines with light-reflecting material that gives drivers continuous safety guidance — day and night and in all weather.

The men who work to make your life safer on the highway know they don't have cat's eyes. They believe in their signs. You will drive farther and live longer, if you believe in them too.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

Don't worry about me, I can see in the dark. I can see like a cat."

With these words, the man started his car, drove off, down the highway and, ten minutes later, wrapped himself around a telephone pole. He couldn't see in the dark; he only thought he could.

The idea that some people are peculiarly gifted with "night sight" is a fallacy, apparently firmly fixed in our national folk consciousness. Another one is the belief that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place."

Act on either of these notions and you're headed for tragedy. Night vision is far from being merely the simple matter of seeing your hand before your face, or of distinguishing the headlights of an approaching car.

What do you mean when you say you can "see" at night? Do you mean you can distinguish objects clearly under low illumination? That you can recover quickly enough from the glare of oncoming headlights to keep yourself—or someone else—from being an accident statistic? That you can judge accurately at night the distance between you and the objects you see?

If you can't do all of these things, you can't see at night—you only think you can. And the driver who acts what he thinks he sees has a date with disaster.

The fact is, most traffic fatalities occur at night. The "ten hours of trouble" between dusk and dawn are the most danger-

BIG WEDDING STALLED!

A recent article in the "Now" magazines relates the following story.

A big wedding was under way in Saints Peter and Paul Church in San Francisco. When the bride was asked: "Do you take this man for your lawfully wedded husband?" she murmured: "I don't know, I just can't make up my mind."

It was then announced to the audience: "There will be no wedding." The reception had been arranged to follow the ceremony. Hundreds of dollars worth of food had been purchased—but the reception was cancelled. A person's mind must be made up and a willingness to accept the partner must be expressed before a legal marriage can be performed. The "I will" or "I do" must be spoken without a note of uncertainty before the ceremony is consummated. The same is true spiritually. When God asks: "Will you have My Son to be your Lord and Savior?" the answer must be a definite "I will" before the link is formed. It is only to as many as receive Him that He gives authority to call themselves the children of God. (John 1:12)

If you never have taken this definite step of receiving Christ as your Savior, will you do so right now? Would you drop me a card telling me of your decision?
