

A Chance To Help...

Tragedy has a habit of striking swiftly and unexpectedly. And it often leaves people thinking quietly, "If only I had known, I would have..."

They go on to tell how they would have been more understanding. How they would have been more kind. How they would have acted more tenderly. If only they had known.

This Sunday, everyone within reading distance of this paper will have that chance — to help, to be tender, to do a kind deed. Because this time, tragedy is striking slowly.

A pretty, blue-eyed little blond, Carol Ann Donnelly, is dying of leukemia. Carol Ann is three years old. She has several months to live. No one knows for sure how long it will be.

Added to the ever-present knowledge that Carol Ann will die, her parents face the staggering task of buying more than $250 worth of medicine for her each month. Just medicine alone.

Sunday afternoon, Carol Ann's parents, relatives and a lot of people she doesn't even know, will gather for a benefit dinner at the American Legion hall in Northville. They will have the knowledge that they are making Carol Ann's last few months a bit more happy — or at least a little less sad.

And you too can have this feeling if you want. For once, you can help BEFORE tragedy has its final moment.

Tickets can be bought almost anywhere: from members of the Northville Eagles' ladies auxiliary, at the Record office, or at the door. They're only $1.25, or $75 for children.

Think about it awhile. And as you're thinking, turn to page 10. The rest of Carol Ann's story is there, reprinted from our June 14 issue.

Then buy a ticket for Carol Ann's dinner — even if you can't go. At least you'll have the satisfaction of knowing that for once you were able to help — and to show a moment of kindness — BEFORE it was too late.

Two Downs Owners Put Stock Up for Sale

Northville Driving Club officials said this week that at least one operating partnership in Northville Downs, and possibly a second, will be sold soon to Michigan syndicates.

Two of the six partnerships were put up for sale on August 4 and negotiations have been going on since then.

The six-party partnership operates the track under a long-term lease from the Driving Club, owners of the track.

According to John Carlo, general manager of the Driving Club, Malcolm and Al Linehan of Adrian will buy a one-sixth share in the track from Mrs. Cecile Goldberg of Buffalo, New York.

It was expected that Malcolm Linehan would resign as state harness racing steward after purchase of the interest.

A second one-sixth interest belonging to Max Brock of Buffalo is also for sale.

William Dee, chairman of the Michigan Harness Horseman's Association negotiating committee, was said to head a syndicate of possible buyers of the second interest. As of Tuesday, the transaction had not been completed.

Selling price of each partnership was reportedly more than $150,000.

Driving Club officials said they expect no immediate change in operation of the track as a result of the sales.

In the Downs' 13-year history, the track had had only two previous changes among stockholders.

Novi Football Coach Drafted Into Army

Plans for extra-curricular football games at Novi school this fall suffered a sudden setback last week when the army drafted a recently-hired teacher.

Philip Hawary, 22, who was to teach and coach at Novi school this fall, was inducted into the army last Wednesday.

Superintendent William Medlyn said he now is looking for a replacement, but that none may be available. Extra-curricular football may have to be cancelled this fall, he added.

"It's hard enough to get well-qualified teachers even without emergencies," Medlyn said. "And with just two or three weeks left before school opens, it's more difficult than ever. But we're trying."

Hawary was signed to teach and coach at Novi after his graduation from Eastern Michigan college in Ypsilanti in June. He had not expected to be drafted immediately.

Sewer Construction Bids Thrown Out

A snag in specifications and confusion in bids resulted in the refusal of all bids Saturday afternoon in the proposed Wing-Fairbrook storm sewer project.

The Northville city council met in special session to accept the low bids in the long-awaited project, only to learn that all county requirements had not been covered in the specifications. At least one low bidder indicated that errors in his bid would require revision upward.

Parents Asked To Register New Students

Northville school officials this week asked parents of non-registered children to register their children for the coming school year.

Parents may register their children in the high school office or in the Main Street school office on August 30 or 31 between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

A physical examination is requested of all new registrants.

Parents of kindergarten children should bring a birth certificate. Children born after December 1, 1951 cannot be admitted.

School officials stressed that re-registration is not necessary for students registered in Northville schools at the end of the school year last June. Registration applies only to new students, kindergarten through twelfth grade.

School officials added that high school schedules made last spring will not be changed at this time.

Teachers will report September 4, though students will not report until later.

Grades 7, 8 and 9 will report at 8:30 a.m. September 6 in the community center gym. Kindergarten through sixth grade students will report to their buildings September 7 at 8:30 a.m.

Twelfth grade students will report September 10 — the first day of classes for all students. Information of bus schedule will be announced next week.

Northville Resident Writes Post Editorial

An editorial on highways submitted by F. R. Sproule of 47500 West Six Mile road will appear in the September 8 edition of the Saturday Evening Post. The article is the third accepted by the national magazine from Sproule, who is a sales engineer for the Wyandotte Chemicals corporation. Most Post editorials are written by staff members and, according to Sproule, the single page space limitation for editorial writing limits the appearance of free lance articles.

School Heads Plan Program To Help Retarded Children

Representatives of Northville and several nearby communities met this week and agreed tentatively to set up a special training program for mentally-handicapped children.

The representatives will now take the plan to their school boards and then reassemble within a month to work out final details.

The program is expected to be in operation December 1.

Meeting Monday were Northville school superintendent R. H. Amerman, Wayne county school superintendent Charles E. Brake, Wayne County Training School's Dr. P. Buoniconti, state department of public instruction representative Harold Wagner and representatives of Redford Union, South Redford, Livonia and Plymouth schools.

Under the proposed program, mentally-handicapped children would travel daily to the Wayne County Training School for special training under the direction of a group of regular staff teachers.

Rotary Club To Hear GOP Candidate Cobo

Detroit's Mayor Albert Cobo, Republican candidate for governor, will be guest speaker next Tuesday noon at the regular meeting of the Northville Rotary club.

Members of the Northville Exchange club will be guests at the First Presbyterian church dinner meeting.

POSTING NOTICE of the special school election in the East Novi No. 2 district are Mrs. Gordon Petersen (left) and Mrs. George Ames. East Novi voters will decide August 30 on a proposed 3.7 mill increase to raise funds so that 41 of their children may attend Northville schools this fall.

Novi School District To Vote on Millage

Whether or not students of the eighth through twelfth grades of East Novi District No. 2 will attend Northville schools this fall will be decided next Thursday, August 30 by the voters of the district.

In action taken by the Northville board of education Monday evening the young board members of the school-less Novi district were told that Northville would welcome the students on these conditions.

1. That the special election in the East Novi district for a 3.7 millage increase wins approval;
2. That the additional tax appears on the current winter tax roll so that the outstanding tuition debt of $8998.23 from 1955-56 can be retired this winter.

The two boards reached this agreement after Kenneth Bernard, secretary of the East Novi district, outlined the plan by which they hoped to meet their year-old obligation and also provide funds for the new year. "After considerable study and conferences with state school authorities we have concluded that this is the only course that we can follow," the quiet speaking Bernard stated. Along with East Novi Board President Robert Byrd, he told the Northville board of the solution devised to solve the district's predicament.

Bernard pointed out that if voters approve the tax boost that $9222 would be raised. The board, he said, has also requested an advance in the state aid money due the district for the coming school year.

The Northville board lauded Byrd and Bernard on their efforts.

Northville Receives Gas Tax Rebate

Northville last week received a few more dollars to use in improving its streets.

The money — $452.12 — was Northville's share of a special state gasoline and truck weight tax collected during the second quarter on 1956.

The tax was provided for in a 1955 state act setting up the "Highway Construction Fund." Tax monies are distributed to counties, cities and incorporated villages.

The fund is separate from the Michigan Highway Construction Fund, set up in 1951, which brings Northville some $16,000 each year for street construction and improvement.

Novi Plans To Contest Annexation

Novi township moved Monday toward a last-ditch fight to keep part of its territory from annexing to the city of Northville. Board members instructed township attorney Archie Leonard to test the validity of a recent election that would give an 82-acre tract of Novi township to Northville.

Presumably Leonard will take the election to court. Township board members indicated they have little hope of having the election invalidated, since court decisions in the past have favored the voters' right to annex.

Board of Education Approves Budget

A general fund budget of $538,892 for the 1956-57 school year won quick approval of Northville's Board of Education Monday evening.

The budget estimate, presented by Superintendent of Schools R. H. Amerman, was based on the 1956 equalized valuation of $10,461,512, an all-time high for Northville.

The approved budget calls for a tax millage of 22.45, a slight increase over the 22 mills levied in 1954-55 and last year's 19.45 mills. 17.45 mills will be used for the general fund budget, while 1.50 mills will be used to retire the 1949 debt and 3 mills for the 1954 debt.

The 1949 bond issue, used to build an addition to the Northville grade school, will be retired April 1, 1957, several years ahead of schedule. The 1954 debt was incurred to build the new Amerman elementary school.

New tuition charges for students outside the Northville district were also given approval by the board. A maximum charge of $350.95 will be paid for elementary students, $160.95 of which must be paid by the sending district and the remainder by the state. Sending school districts must pay $204.82 per student for grades seven through 12 and the state pays $190, bringing the total to $394.82 per student.

Novi Township Officer Receives Commendation

(Editor's note: This following letter was received by the Novi township police and was read to the township board at its meeting mentioned. Police said the youths mentioned in the letter were from Berkley. No charges could be filed against them.)

This to commend Officer D'Arcy Young, badge 34.

Two cars of youngsters, dressed for frolic or fight, had a fight yesterday (August 12) on 12-Mile ers at the school.

The operator of a gas station at the corner had called the police.

When Officer Young arrived, I gave him the license numbers of both cars. One (youth) had displayed a gun... The single officer had a problem. He had to report the car that had the gun, and at the same time handle six youngsters... They, too, might be armed...

The big kid looked especially troublesome but he found himself in the back seat of the officer's car — wondering how and what happened. He continued to be talkative, as did the others.

The officer demonstrated he was enough for all of them... and proceeded to search the boys, the cars, their identification, etc. Cool, calm, restrained — he did not need support...

Having served as a commissioner of police and fire... I consider this job one of the best possible. The air was plenty explosive... but the first 30 seconds proved he was enough.

(I might add he would have been justified if he had laid them out in a row!)

It gives me real satisfaction to write this. We had the finest group in Ferndale. Commendations were few. Complaints — mostly unjustified — were the majority. Best wishes to No. 34 and to all of you.

Plan Northville-Plymouth City Golf Tournament

Dates were announced this week for the annual Northville-Plymouth city golf tournament to be staged at Brae-Burn Golf Club on Five Mile road. A 36-hole medal play tourney with an 18-hole qualifying round is scheduled for September 15, 16 and 22.

Committee members Jerry Walsh, Jim and Elton McAllister of Plymouth and Bruce Turnbull of Northville stated that the tournament will be open to all residents of Plymouth and Northville. Deadline for entries has been set as Monday, September 10. Pairings for the September 15 qualifying round will be published in The Record.

It is expected that four flights will compete with prizes awarded for winners in each flight. Players will be assigned to flights according to the scores they register in the qualifying round.

Owners of the Brae-Burn course, Fred and Lillian Block, have stated that the sporty nine-hole layout will be closed for tournament play only on all three days of the competition. Defending champion is Jim McAllister. Several former winners are expected to compete.

A $3.00 entry fee will be charged in addition to greens fees. Contestants may enter at The Northville Record, Brae-Burn or The Plymouth Mail.

What's Cooking?

(What's your favorite dish? If you will share it with other Northville housewives, please call The Northville Record's society editor, telephone 200.)

Mrs. Al Vradenburg was all ready to make an apple pie one day, but found she didn't have any apples. So she changed the recipe a bit here and there — and used peaches instead.

CANDY PEACH PIE

7 medium peaches, peeled and sliced
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 t. nutmeg
1 cup flour
1 c. brown sugar
1/2 c. ground nutmeats
1/2 c. butter, room temperature
1/4 t. salt

Put peaches in greased 9-inch pie plate. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar and nutmeg. Mix flour, brown sugar, nuts, butter and salt until well blended. Sprinkle over peaches, pressing firmly to form a thick topping. Bake for 50-60 minutes in 350 degree oven or until peaches are tender and top is browned. Makes 8 servings.

Introducing their three children, Jill, 4, Ricky, 3, and Kathy, 7, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMillan, new Northville residents of Dubuar street. The McMillans are formerly of Redford.

Newcomer's Corner

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

—Samuel Johnson

Editors Note: This is the first in a series in which we will welcome, each week, a new resident to this area. If you know of a new member of the community whom you'd like to see in this column, call Northville 200.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMillan is one of the ever-growing group who have taken that popular one-way trip from "metropolis" to "suburbia". "We just wanted to get away from the city," says Mr. McMillan, formerly of Redford and now a five-month resident of Northville.

The McMillans moved into their home at 446 Dubuar last April—and have decided that Northville is a "very friendly and homey town".

A graduate of Wayne university, Mr. McMillan will be teaching junior high school students in Novi. His former position was in Redford Union junior high school.

Three young children keep Mrs. McMillan busy — Kathy, 7, Jill, 4, and Ricky, who is three years old.

The McMillans enjoy their home — which they're now in the process of remodeling. And the man of the house, like other Northville husbands, likes to get away now and then for a little quiet fishing.

Garden Clubs Fight Littering

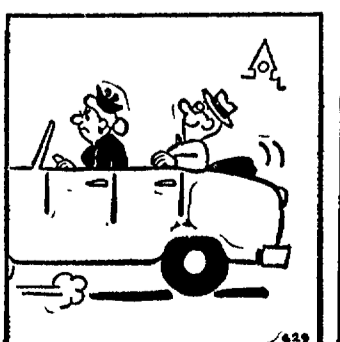

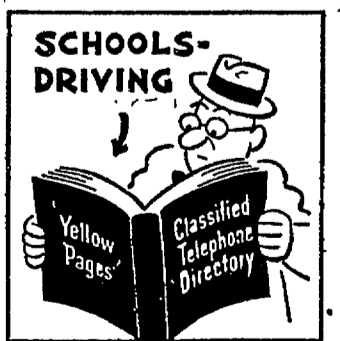

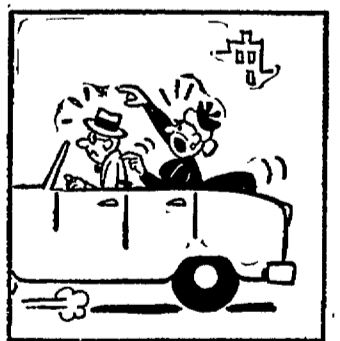

Mrs. Glenn H. Cummings, president of the Northville Garden club, is discussing a more vigorous enforcement of the state law against littering our highways.

"The law," Mrs. Cummings said, "provides a fine up to $100, plus the costs of prosecution, and default of payment can mean up to 90 days in jail."

The Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, the National Farm and Garden Association, and the Garden Club of Michigan have joined forces in a statewide campaign to abolish the "litter bug," who mars the beauty of our highways and roadsides by throwing all kinds of trash out of automobiles.

"The cost of cleaning up this unnecessary and unsightly mess would build several miles of new highway each year," Mrs. Cummings stated.

The garden clubs are appealing to every car owner to carry a litter bag in the car and stop throwing litter on highways. An effort is being made by the garden club members to prevail upon car manufacturers to provide a litter container as standard equipment on cars. In the meantime, litter bags are being made by the Detroit Society of Handicapped and by private business firms and can be obtained. "Even a paper bag will suffice," Mrs. Cummings said.

They Slim Down — And Cheer Up!

The "Buxom Belles," a federated, state-wide, non-profit organization dedicated to help overweight women regain their figures by group therapy, has formed a chapter in Farmington to help women here and in surrounding towns.

Membership is limited to 35 women, who lose weight while having fun at games, contests, songs and prizes.

Guest speakers, including dietitians, psychologists and beauticians help the group with movies and advice.

The "Lady of Charm," an honorary member, features the "Buxom Belles" on her Friday program. The group is planning a TV program of its own, scheduled to appear this fall on a local channel.

For more information, call Mrs. Betty Peterson, GR-4-4850.

Married Friday

Eugene Alfred Hamann of Detroit and Addie Mae DeVries of Dearborn were united in marriage Friday evening, August 17, by Justice E. M. Bogart. Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hamann of Livonia were the attending witnesses.

57th Anniversary Occasion for Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fry of Seven Mile road accompanied by Miss Jessie Hutton, celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary with a short trip to the thumb area.

They visited cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendt of Cass City, who entertained them by driving to the peak of the Thumb and visiting many beaches along the way.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smock entertained the Frys for dinner. Mrs. James Fry of Detroit invited them for lunch on Tuesday.

BOOKS AT A GLANCE

From Northville Wayne County Library

If you haven't gotten around to that reading you planned to "catch up on" during these summer evenings, these new books at the Northville library are worth looking into. Especially if you're hiding from that national epidemic, politic-itis!

Red Over Green, by Robert Henriques. Mr. Henriques looks back at World War II in this novel about a man in the ranks of the Commandos. "Red over green" was the flare signal used by the Commandos to signify "operation concluded; going home." We leave it to you to find out which operation — and where home is.

Texas Tradition, by Ross Phares. This collection of true — not "tall" — tales of wit, wisdom and courage of Texas and Texans could well be part of Texas national literature. You'll enjoy it if you're not from the Lone Star state. You'll cherish it if you are!

Always A River, by Drayton Mayrant. Those who enjoy Historical Romance should find this novel of Puritan Dorchester, Mass., highly entertaining.

The Scene Before You: A New Approach To American Culture, edited and with a preface by Chandler Blossard. Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., Reuel Denny and Lionel Trilling are only three of the many critics in this volume who look upon the American scene with an eye to distinguishing the real from the pseudo-real in our cultural pattern.

Lawns and Landscaping, by Thomas H. Everett. This complete guide to planting and maintaining beautiful lawns includes diagrams and photographs covering all aspects of lawn care from soil to surface dressing.

Youth — The Years from Ten to Sixteen, by Arnold Gesell, M.D., Frances L. Ilg, M.D., and Louise B. Ames, Ph.D. Based on first hand study of a selected group of normal adolescents, this volume analyzes the sometimes bewildering behavior of today's teenagers.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Non-fiction to help younger readers understand people, places and things:

Wild Like Foxes, by Anautia. (grades 5-8). This true story of an Eskimo girl is based on the childhood of the author's mother.

Gettysburg, by MacKinlay Cantor. (grades 6-10). The Pulitzer prize winning author of Andersonville, civil war novel for adults, brings to life the battle of Gettysburg for younger readers.

Meat From Ranch to Table, written and illustrated by Walter Buehr. (grades 4-6). Just what the title says — the journey of the dinner-time staple.

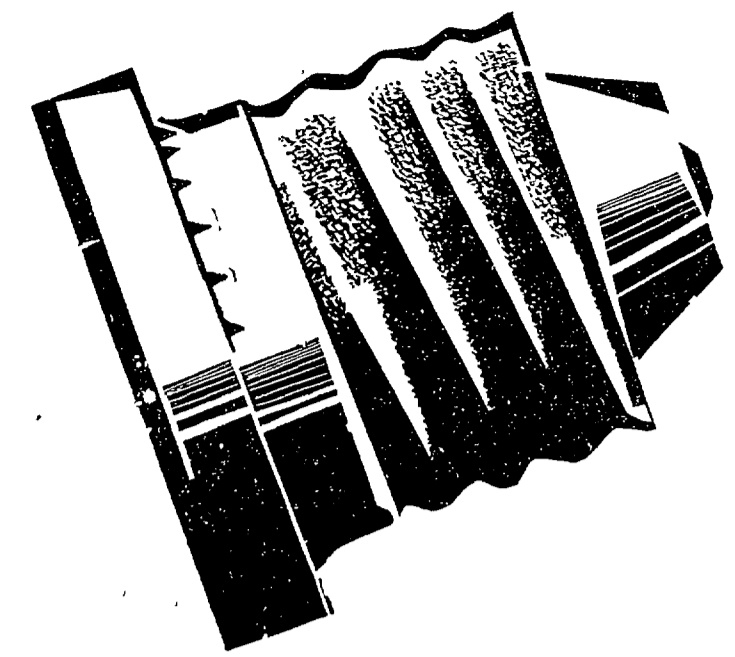

All About the Atom, by Ira M. Freeman. (grades 5-8). This easily understandable explanation of the atomic theory will be especially interesting to a science-bent youngster.

Mrs. Rhea Wilcox, head librarian, and Miss Kathleen Sprenger, assistant librarian, will be happy to help you locate any of these books at the library.

Mary Litsenberger Tells Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. John Litsenberger announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Robert E. Barry, son of Mrs. Marka Barry of New York City. Miss Litsenberger is a June 1956 graduate of Western Michigan college, and is affiliated with Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. Mr. Barry, a graduate of Lehigh university, is employed by Hercules Powder Co., and is now located in Franklin, Virginia. A February wedding is planned.

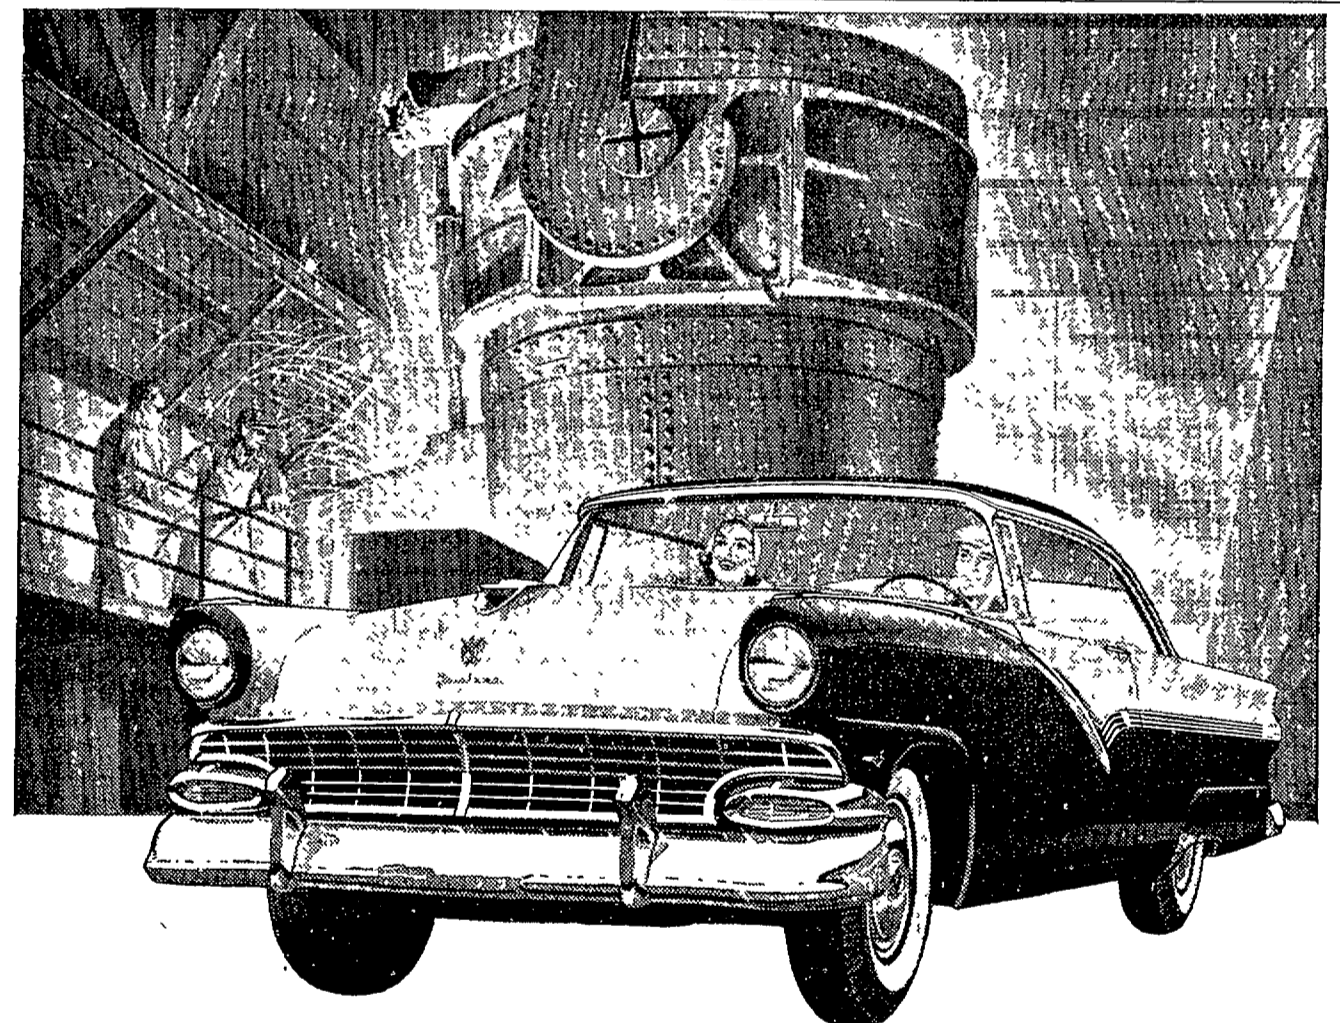

George E. Sinclair, who resigned as manager of the Northville Men's Shop, has joined the staff of Garrett T. Barry, real estate broker.

M.S.U. Co-op. Hall Approved By State

East Lansing — Plans to construct a cooperative residence hall for women at Michigan State university have been approved by the State Board of Agriculture.
The housing project would provide facilities for women students to prepare their own meals and do their own housekeeping to reduce the cost of attending school. The project is to begin with 32 apartments, housing six coeds each, with completion possibly by fall term, 1957.

More Are Covered By 1956 Additions To Social Security

An important change has been made in the old-age and survivors insurance program as a result of the Social Security Amendments of 1956 which President Eisenhower signed into law on August 1, 1956.

This change affects over 200,000 professional people. For taxable years ending after 1955 self-employed lawyers, dentists, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths, osteopaths and optometrists will have social security coverage. This will include professionals in partnerships as well as those in business by themselves. Doctors of medicine remain excluded from coverage.

This newly covered group are now building valuable old-age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families. This protection means both retirement benefits and payments to families in case of death.

Those who do not have a social security card should get one before the end of the year. Cards may be obtained at any social security office. The number will be needed for the first social security report due April 15, 1957, along with the income tax return. The present tax rate is three percent on net earnings from self-employment up to $4,200.

For information about coverage for these professionals, contact your local social security office. The Detroit-Northwest District Office is located at 18260 Grand River, Detroit 23, Michigan. The telephone number is BRoadway 3-7177.

State Fire Loss Low In Michigan

Lansing — Michigan's favorable forest fire record was maintained last week as only three fires were reported in the state. The damage total was slightly more than five acres.

Two fires in the northern lower peninsula burned about five acres while one fire was reported in the upper peninsula, with damage to one-tenth of an acre. No fires were reported in the southern lower peninsula.

The latest fires brought the season total to 429 and the damage figure stands at 2281 acres. Last year at this time, more than 5,000 acres of public and private forests and grasslands had been burned.

IF ONLY I WOULD HAVE . . .

"If only I would have . . . How often these words are used to begin a sentence. People say these words after having passed up what they consider a golden opportunity, one that will not present itself again for years, or perhaps never. Hence, they are filled with extreme regret and mumble words of discontent, all because they experienced the loss of some material advantage.

Can we say that the general public feels an equal concern for losing out on spiritual benefits? One wonders just how many people daily pass up eternal blessings. On Sundays whose doors are open to the traveler and where the invitation to hear the Gospel is more cordial than the standing invitation to the friendliest home.

There are two events that can swiftly bring to a conclusion our allotted time of grace — death and Christ's coming to judgment. The exact time of both are unknown to us. Many millions will in the hereafter without end be plagued with the remorseful thought: "If only I would have accepted God's grace." The story of the rich man as told by Jesus in Luke chapter 16 is a graphic example.

To realize the seriousness of our salvation and to be concerned about our spiritual welfare while there still is time is real wisdom, because such an attitude is encouraged by God's own Word. In 2 Corinthians is found this stirring plea: "We . . . beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain." (ch. 6:v. 1). This is the same as saying that the grace of God is simply so wonderful that we can't afford to neglect it.

The grace of God is God's undeserved mercy toward us. God has always loved us and continues to love us. He saw us ruined in sin and sent His Son Jesus to save us from our utter ruin. When Jesus kept the Commandments for us, died on the cross for our sins, and rose again. He earned salvation for us. This salvation is offered to the world in the Gospel. Did you know that the Bible or some part of it is now available in 1,092 languages and dialects. God made this possible because He "will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." (1 Tim. 2:4).

But God's grace compels Him to do even more for ruined mankind. He is ready to give to all His Holy Spirit who makes it possible for people to repent and accept salvation through faith in Christ. And to accept this salvation means to be happy now and forever. It means heaven, eternal life, bliss without end.

Who would want to forfeit something that means more than all the combined riches, joys and advantages of this world? Therefore God urges us not to accept His grace in vain. To receive it in vain is to refuse to hear God's Word, or it means to worship God and hear His Word merely outwardly (coldly going through the forms, but not believing), or it means to fall away from God's grace.

All of this is so important that God reminds us that, if we are going to act, then no time is better than the present. "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold now is the day of salvation." (2 Corinthians 6:2).

"YOU CAN'T BEAT THE BEST"

CONGRATULATIONS go to the Northville Midget league all stars from Hazel Park Midget Leaguers after Northville had edged them 7-6 to capture the Inter-City championship title at Wyandotte. Each Northville player received a trophy after the game.

Local Midget Leaguers Take Inter-City Crown

Northville's Midget league all-stars ended a victorious season on a note of triumph Friday by edging Hazel Park 7-6 for the Inter-City championship.

It was the third straight victory for Northville in the tournament. Previously they had scored wins over Ecorse 13-4 and Wyandotte 14-3.

The midget leaguers ended their regular season the week before by dumping Garfield 19-7 to tie with Livonia Center for first place. The win gave them a season's record of 16-4 and brought them the invitation to represent the Livonia Recreation league in the Inter-City championships.

Coach Stan Johnston noted that Northville pitchers Steve Juday, Butch Willing and Craig Bell allowed opponents an average of only 2.4 runs per game in the last 19 games.

Among the leading hitters, Johnston said, were Steve and Jimmy Juday, Andy Anderson and Craig Bell. Butch Willing led in the home run department with six four-baggers.

Johnston congratulated parents for their participation in the midget league season. Managers

Mike Willing and Glenn Long "did an excellent job," he said. Other parents turned out often to drive the team to games and to cheer the team on.

"It was a wonderful thing to see this enthusiasm on the parents' parts," Johnston said. "It is this sort of thing that makes a recreation program succeed."

The midget leaguers' season record is as follows:

Rosedale	8-11
Wilson	1-11
Livonia Center	5-16
Wilcox	5-7
Livonia Oil	10-0
Jefferson	9-4
Wayne Ford	6-1
Training School	17-2
Pierston	7-1
Garfield	19-3
Rosedale	5-2
Wilson	8-0
Livonia Center	5-1
Wilcox	7-0
Livonia Oil	16-2
Jefferson	7-1
Wayne Ford	7-6
Training School	18-1
Pierston	8-1
Garfield	19-7

Tournament Results:
Ecorse	13-4
Wyandotte	14-3
Hazel Park	7-6

150 Kids Turn Out for Water Carnival

The Northville recreation department ended its summer program recently with a wet and wacky water carnival at Whitmore lake that saw more than 150 youngsters splash through a day of aquatic fun.

Water relays, balloon contests, swimming races, canoe boxing and other events filled the day from early morning until mid-afternoon.

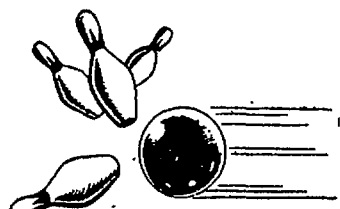

Joe Gotro and Jack Bailey won both the canoe racing and canoe boxing events for boys. The girls' canoe boxing event was won by Sharon Hill and Mary Welsh.

The same two girls also topped the girls' swimming races. Jay Scowden and Joe Gotro placed first and second in the older boy's swimming races while Mike Zayti and Dale Hill took the younger boy's swimming events.

Lions Defeat Bears, Capture Midget Title

The Lions scored a 9-6 victory over the Bears to take the Northville Midget league championship August 13.

The two teams had eliminated the Tigers and Panthers the previous Friday to gain the playoff berths.

CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHIES were presented to each member of Northville's Midget league team for winning the Inter-City title last week.

Vegetable Hints

When buying vegetables, insist on really fresh ones, advises Nina Lou Baird, Wayne county home demonstration agent. Then (with the exception of the dry vegetables, such as onions) wash them as soon as you get them home from the market. Don't cut open and loosen the leaves of head vegetables such as lettuce. Just rinse them under running water, but leave intact until ready to use. You lose lots of food value and flavor when you allow vegetables to stand in water or expose them to the air. So drain the vegetables well, place in crispers or wrap in foil, damp cloths or plastic, then refrigerate until ready to use.

Signs of Football in the Air Already

The first signs of a new football season appeared in Northville this week.

In crisp autumn-like weather, some 80 hopeful gridders turned out yesterday to draw equipment, take physical examinations and look over new series of plays.

First practice for the aspiring football players will come Monday when all three of Northville's teams — varsity, junior varsity and reserve — begin digging their cleats into the gridiron.

Coaches sent out more than 80 letters inviting potential team members to try out. Any other interested students, especially those new to Northville, will be welcomed at the practices, coaches said.

Parents of team members are invited to a pot-luck dinner in the community center meeting room at 5 p.m. next Thursday. At that time, coaches will explain training rules, discuss insurance needs and inform parents about the coming football season.

Northville's first varsity game will be against Plymouth September 14, giving the team three weeks to get in shape.

Terms Now Easier Under FHA Loans

Home modernization in the Northville area may enjoy a healthy increase as a result of more liberal terms on loans insured under FHA's Title I program. This was pointed out this week by Harold C. Church of the Novels Lumber & Coal company, a member of the Public Affairs committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers association.

Recent changes in the housing law permit homeowners to borrow more for repair and modernization work, he stated. If the amount of the loan exceeds $600, owners can now take longer to repay the loan. "For example," Church points out, "a loan of $1000 can be repaid over a 5-year period at the rate of $20.79 per month, whereas a monthly payment of $31.94 was required under the maximum amortization period of three years."

Buyers of newly-built homes now can take advantage of FHA loan insurance earlier than before. The waiting or occupancy period on loans to owners of new homes now does not apply on work costing $600 or less, and has been reduced to 90 days on larger loans.

The home owner has the choice of repaying FHA-insured loans in a shorter period than five years if desired, and amounts as small as $5 can be borrowed under the plan.

BIZARRE END to a goodwill mission came for this plane when it crashed into Walled lake last week as its pilot was helping police look for the body of a drowning victim. The pilot, James Orr, was pulled from the plane shortly before it settled in 10 feet of water, leaving only its tail above surface.

Care Asked for Infant Prematurity

Expectant mothers have it within their power to help bring about a sharp drop in Michigan's seventh leading cause of death—infant prematurity.

How? By visiting their physicians early in pregnancy and regularly from then until the baby is born.

Figures compiled by Dr. Goldie
B. Corneliussen, maternal and child health director for the Michigan Department of Health, reveal that during 1955 a total of 1,272 infants died in Michigan
because of being born too soon.

Dr. Corneliussen defined a premature infant as one weighing 5½ pounds or less at birth. A full term baby weighs about seven pounds.

"About one out of 14 of all babies born in Michigan are classified as premature," Dr.
Corneliussen said. "With proper care both during pregnancy and after birth, these infants have a far better chance to grow into normal, healthy adults."

"But if proper care isn't provided, then the premature infant has trouble surviving conditions a normal-size baby can take in his stride. The high death rate attributed to prematurity can be reduced by proper nutrition and hygiene, as prescribed by a physician."

The need for care is pointed up by the fact that the highest rate of death from prematurity is found among young mothers during their first pregnancy.

"Many premature babies are dying needlessly," Dr. Corneliuson said. "We urge all expectant mothers to see their physicians at their first knowledge of pregnancy. Proper care during pregnancy will prevent many premature births and proper care after pregnancy will enable most premature babies to survive."

By rigid discipline through the years, we managed to live within our income, and then they added a dime here and a quarter there to the price of everything and we became discouraged.

The Carol Ann Story Retold . .

(For those who may not know the moving story of little Carol Ann Donnelly, we reprint here the story that appeared in our June 14 edition, telling for the first time of Carol Ann's fight with leukemia.)

Carol Ann Donnelly is a tiny 3-year old girl with fair skin and golden curls. Her eyes are big, blue and searching. She has dimples when she smiles, but smiles do not come easily anymore. Carol Ann has leukemia.

Three weeks have passed since Carol Ann's condition was first known to her parents, Rene and Lorene Donnelly. Of course, Carol doesn't know. How can you tell a 3-year old . . . and how can you make her understand that she is going to die?

Carol Ann doesn't realize the seriousness of her illness, but she does know that something is wrong. The attention she has been receiving lately from doctors and nurses has been confusing. The visits to the hospital, the needles, the medicine and the transfusions have all contributed to her bewilderment.

Carol Ann had chubby little arms and legs and the spirit to match the healthiest child in this area . . . until January.

It was at that time that she became ill with the flu. An attack of tonsillitis followed and she began losing weight.

Carol Ann lost her vitality and the inquisitive nature of a typical three year old. She spent more time than usual just sitting and playing with her dolls. She always seemed to be tired.

"Matter of Months"

Carol Ann's parents worried about her long-time recovery and consulted their doctor May 25 at Detroit Osteopathic hospital. After taking a blood count, the doctor knew that something was wrong and had Carol Ann admitted to Children's hospital immediately.

Tests were made that afternoon and the next morning a member of the staff in the Hematology clinic at the hospital broke the news to the Donnellys.

"One doctor told us it was a matter of months," said Donnelly, "another doctor gave us six months to a year. We just don't know from week to week."

Carol Ann stayed in the hospital five days. She received blood transfusions and medicines to build up her appetite and strength.

"Carol Ann has gained two pounds in the last week," Mrs. Donnelly said. "She weighs 29 pounds now and the doctors expect her to reach a normal level soon. She has been responding to the medicine very well."

As Mrs. Donnelly explained, the medicine that Carol Ann is now receiving, doses every two hours from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and another dose at midnight, will bring her little body to the normal point; however, it is only a matter of time until she becomes immune to the drugs. "There are three drugs that may be alternated," Donnelly said, "and when they have all been tried and Carol Ann's body resists their assistance there will be nothing left to do."

Carol Ann made her weekly visit to the hospital Monday. "She had a blood count," her father said, "and she didn't need a transfusion this time."

Expensive Disease

Leukemia is an expensive disease and the Donnellys have no hospitalization. "The Leukemia Foundation furnishes blood," Mrs. Donnelly said, "but the medicines cost about $80 a week."

"We received $100 from the Oakland County Veterans trust fund," Donnelly said, "but we're at the end of our reserves now."

"We wanted our children, Carol Ann and Robert, 11, to grow up in the country, with lots of room to play . . ." Donnelly reminisced.

The Donnellys have lived in their Northville township home at 45350 W. 10-Mile Rd., for one year, moving there from Redford township. "We had the shell put up last summer," Donnelly said, "and have been trying to finish it ourselves."

Right now the work has stopped and all attention is being focused on Carol Ann.

Donnelly is a salesman, but because of the slack season now he has only been working part time. "I've got a couple of leads on some full-time work," he said, "and I've been trying to follow through on them this week."

Likes "Pretty Cards"

The Donnellys would like to thank everyone who has been concerned about Carol Ann. "We appreciate the generosity of our friends and neighbors and even strangers who have sent her cards," they said. Carol Ann enjoys receiving mail and loves to look at "pretty cards."

The Donnellys are heartbroken, but what can they do? "We have accepted the situation," Donnelly said, "and we're grateful that we've been told what to expect."

Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly speak calmly about their daughter's fate, but their eyes betray the sleepless nights they have spent watching over their baby, preparing her special diet, giving her the medicine which will help them to keep her a little while longer.

"The doctors said that they're making great gains in the research of the disease," Mrs. Donnelly said, "and someday they will have a cure for it."

Yes . . . someday . . . but too late for Carol Ann.

Ford Postwar Expansion Totals Almost $4 Billion

Ford Motor Company's expansion, modernization and tooling program since World War II will have cost more than $3,885,000,000 when currently planned projects are completed — including the Ford valve plant and general offices in Novi township.

Construction of new plants and modernization of older facilities will account for more than $2,825,000,000 of the total figure. In addition, about $1,060,000,000 will have been spent for special tools for use in manufacturing and assembly operations by the end of 1957.

More than 5,000,000 square feet of floor space will have been added to Ford facilities across the nation when approved projects are completed.

Five distinct vehicle divisions—Ford, Mercury, Lincoln, Tractor and Implement and Special Products — have been established since the end of the war, and modern facilities for engineering and manufacturing their products have been or will be erected.

Projects being constructed include two Dearborn office buildings; a 4,000-acre vehicle testing area near Romeo; six engineering buildings; a new chassis parts plant north of Detroit; a parts manufacturing plant near Sandusky, O.; an engine plant in Lima, O.; a second automatic transmission plant in the Cincinnati, O. area; a new glass plant at Nashville, Tenn.; a new Mercury Division assembly plant near Los Angeles; a stamping plant near Chicago; a Lincoln Division assembly plant and general office building at Novi township; a parts manufacturing plant in Ypsilanti township; a new aluminum castings plant near Sheffield, Ala.; a steering gear and cold heading plant at Indianapolis, Ind.; a new parts depot in the Philadelphia area, and a new Ford Division assembly plant near Lorain, O.

All told, announced projects in the company's postwar expansion program include 39 new manufacturing and assembly plants, 21 parts depots, two huge proving grounds and 19 engineering, research and office buildings and other facilities.

Ford expansion has not been limited to the United States. Additional expansion investments by the company's foreign affiliates will total more than $500,000,000 for new plants, production facilities and tooling between 1946 and the completion of overseas programs. In making this half-billion-dollar outlay, Ford affiliates are preparing to meet growing needs for automobiles, trucks and farm equipment outside the United States.

Most widespread part of the company's expansion program has been its coast-to-coast additions and improvements to automobile assembly facilities and its parts and accessories distribution depots.

Lincoln passenger cars presently are produced for the Lincoln Division at the Lost Angeles and Wayne plants of Mercury Division. However, the company has started construction of a combined Lincoln assembly plant and general office building on a 325-acre site in Novi township. The 1,800,000-square-foot plant, to be completed in mid-1957, will consolidate all Lincoln assembly operations.

Offices, laboratories and styling studios have been expanded mainly in Dearborn where the company's central staff, engineering staff and five manufacturing division staffs make their headquarters.

The company presently is constructing a new 12-story central staff office building at Southfield and Michigan in Dearborn, to be fully occupied by the end of 1956. Another new office building in the Rouge area provided space for staff personnel of five manufacturing divisions. A manufacturing research building was opened in Detroit in July, 1955.

Of all the modernization projects, the one Ford building which most Americans visit is the Ford Rotunda in Dearborn. After two years of designing and construction, the famous exhibit building was reopened June 16, 1953, Ford's 50th anniversary date. More than 4,000,000 persons have visited the showplace since its reopening.

The Right Decision — at the Right Time!

There is good reason why the man sitting in the beautiful motor car above looks so pleased.

He has decided to make the move to Cadillac!

This, to be sure, is cause for great personal satisfaction in itself. For the wisdom of selecting Cadillac is undeniable.

But not only does this gentleman know he has made the wisest possible choice of a motor car—he knows that he has made it at the wisest possible time.

For coming, as he did, at this particular season of the year, he was able to take advantage of some very favorable circumstances.

To begin with, he will be able to obtain delivery of his Cadillac after the shortest waiting period in many, many months.

And, even more importantly, he discovered that Cadillac ownership has become more attractive and economical than ever before. Because of low used-car inventory, it is currently possible to receive an unusually generous trade-in allowance.

Little wonder, then, that this gentleman looks so pleased and happy—just as we know you will when you get the full, wonderful facts about Cadillac today!

In fact, we should like to suggest that you come in and hear them for yourself.

We know you'll agree that the right decision is for Cadillac—and that the right time is now!

'Do-It-Yourself' Must for Early Americans

Ann Arbor — The current do-it-yourself fad is really only a revival of what was a necessary way of getting things done in the 1700's, notes the director of The University of Michigan Clements Library of America.

Pointing to a collection which includes 30 old-time do-it-yourself books, Howard H. Peckham remarks that these books were as important as tools for early Americans as were farm implements or kitchen utensils.

The range of their subject matter is wide, from "The Art of Making Common Salt" through "The American Vine-dresser's Guide" to "A New System of Husbandry".

In addition to these utilitarian guides there are such volumes as "A Treatise on Silk Worms", "The Art of Tying the Cravat", "Demonstrated in Sixteen Lessons, including 32 Different Styles", and "A Sure Guide To Hell". The latter, purportedly written by "Belezebub Himself", is actually a satire in which the author advises the King to "oppress thy subjects at home, distress thy colonies abroad" and see where this road led! In the same negative fashion it gives advice to parents on educating their children.

"The Practical Distiller: or, An Introduction to Making Whiskey, Gin, Brandy, Spirit Etc.", includes recipes and methods from a self-taught distiller, and Peckham notes that "turning grains into whiskey was often a convenient way of transporting a crop to market on the frontier."

"The Family Physician; Comprising Rules for the Prevention and Cure of Diseases; calculated particularly for the inhabitants of the Western Country" was a boon for frontier folk in sparsely settled regions.

Greenfield Village and Ford Museum Heading for New Attendance Record

Dearborn — Attendance at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village appears headed for the best record in its 27-year history.

Visitors for the first seven months totaled nearly a half million, bettering attendance for the same period last year by 30,000.

With figures for two of the best months — August and September — still to be added, it seems assured the 1956 total will reach 850,000 for the first time, according to Dr. Donald A. Shelley, executive director.

Founded in 1929 by automotive pioneer Henry Ford, the museum and village have become one of the nation's top tourist attractions. Located in Dearborn, 15 miles from downtown Detroit, the outdoor village covers 200 acres and the nearby indoor museum an additional 11. Both are dedicated to the preservation and display of historically significant technological, educational and artistic Americana.

The museum is divided into several sections, including American decorative arts, transportation, power and agriculture.

The decorative arts collection includes furniture, clocks, pewter, textiles, ceramics, glass and silver. The latter includes pieces by Revolutionary patriot Paul Revere. A parlor set from Abraham Lincoln's Springfield, Illinois home is among the furniture.

Nearby is a street of 22 early American shops. Included here are those showing how candles, drugs, guns, hats, locks and toys were made by hand.

The 8-acre main gallery of the museum includes agricultural implements, steam engines, air-planes, fire engines, circus wagons, 175 early automobiles, buggies and 10 steam locomotives, including a huge 600-ton Allegheny of 1941.

In the Village, there are nearly 100 famous homes and workshops, transported from their original foundations elsewhere in the United States and reconstructed here. Thousands of miles of travel would have been required to visit them in their original settings. Many of them moreover, would have disappeared by now and hence lost to history.

The homes, many containing original furniture, include those of Henry Ford, George Washington Carver, William Holmes McGuffey, the Wright brothers and Noah Webster. There also is the Plympton House from Massachusetts, one of the oldest homes in America.

Reminiscent of the times when village greens were the centers of communities, a similar area at Greenfield Village is surrounded by historic buildings including the Logan County, Illinois, courthouse where Lincoln once practiced law. The chair in which he was seated in Ford's theater in Washington when he was assassinated may be seen there.

Nearby in Menlo Park, a group of buildings associated with inventor Thomas A. Edison during the years he perfected the incandescent lamp. Most of Edison's inventions are displayed in his restored laboratory, a two-story clapboard structure.

A blacksmith, weaver, potter, tinsmith and glassblower are among the oldtime craftsmen who carry on their bygone trades daily.

On a quiet, circular lagoon at the end of the village, the colorful stern-wheeler, "Suwawnee" puffs around carrying visitors during the summer.

The museum and village are open to the public every day in the year. The hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. During the summer (until Labor Day) the closing hour 6 p.m.

There is no right way to do a wrong thing.

A man has tact who won't change his mind but will change the subject.

Nobody ever gets anything for nothing, but a lot of people keep trying.

Local Man Named To Dean's List

Birchard C. Grimshaw of 21430 Haggerty, Northville, has been named to the 1955-56 Dean's List at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

Grimshaw, an arts and sciences student, and 1,271 other students received the honor for achieving at least a "B" average in the second semester of the school year.

WHY CAN'T I UNDERSTAND?

You settled down to read your Bible. You didn't know just where to look first so you read a chapter or two in Genesis. You thumbed thru Exodus. Perhaps read a Psalm. Pretty hard to understand isn't it? Well, let's try the New Testament. Our Bible just seemed to open to the Gospel of John. We read, "In the beginning was the word and the word was with God and the Word was God". You didn't get it did you? After reading a few more verses you passed to Romans — No, that's over your head too. Let's see, Revelation, that ought to be interesting. But as you read your mind begins to whirl... So you laid it aside and decided the Bible wasn't written for ordinary people. You guessed people had to have a College course in theology in order to understand the Bible. But, wait a minute, have you considered that perhaps you failed to comply with the first rule in Bible understanding? Jesus told Nicodemus, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see" — that is he cannot understand the nature nor even share in the blessedness of — the Kingdom of God. Since the Bible is a spiritual book, its truth can only be understood by those who have been born of the Spirit.

Unless you've never looked through all the nooks and corners of Stone's Gamble Store.

If you haven't, you're in for a big surprise. If we said that Stone's has everything from nuts to bolts, we'd be wrong. There's more. On the first floor for example, there's paint, appliances, lawn mowers, hardware, kitchen utensils, screens, lawn seed, fertilizer, garden tools, general hardware, tools, outdoor grills, light bulbs... well, just about everything you need for the home.

In addition, if Dad's a sportsman, he can't miss at Stone's. Whatever his choice, fishing, hunting, camping, he'll find all his needs at Stone's.

Upstairs the kids will go wild! Stone's has more toys than Santa Claus. One side of the second floor looks like a bicycle factory; on the other side there's every kind of game imaginable plus toys of all descriptions. It's certainly one of the largest toy collections in the State.

Now if this selection isn't enough to satisfy the average shopper, Stone's has one more feature. You may save yourself time and trouble by paying your Detroit Edison, Consumers Power and Michigan Bell Telephone company bills right here at Stone's. And you can by money orders, too
