Carol Ann Given Check For $331 from Dinner

The recent Carol Ann Donnelly benefit dinner brought $331 to help pay medical expenses for the pretty little leukemia victim. That was the total after expenses were taken out, according to Mrs. Helen Robertson, president of the Northville Eagles Auxiliary Aerie 2504, sponsors of the dinner.

A check for that amount was presented to Carol Ann by members of the auxiliary committee Saturday night.

Many other contributions — from $2 to $25 — have come from residents in the area direct to the Donnellys.

The committee expressed its thanks to the many Northville area merchants who contributed to the dinner and to the men, women and children who helped cook, cater and serve the meal. Appreciation was also expressed to local civic leaders who gave their support to the event.

From Carol Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Donnelly, came a special word of thanks for the efforts of everyone who has helped to make their plight somewhat easier to take.

Carol Ann was stricken with leukemia several months ago and since that time her parents have had to spend more than $250 monthly for medicine alone.

The turnout of Northville area residents at the dinner last week brought praise from Congresswoman Martha Griffiths who attended to give her best wishes to Carol Ann and her parents.

Citizenship Dinner An Annual Event For Sixteen Years

Sixteen years ago the first annual Citizenship Dinner of the Northville Coordinating Council welcomed new citizens to the voting population of Northville.

Next Wednesday the 16th annual dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Community building for the same purpose. Honored will be those who can exercise the privilege to vote for the first time — citizens recently turned 21 and those newly naturalized.

That first dinner was held in October and addressed by the late mayor of Detroit, Edward J. Jeffries.

During recent years most young people who had turned 21 have returned to college before October, this year's dinner will be the first September affair.

The Reverend David T. Davies, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church in Plymouth, will be the guest speaker. Rev. Davies agreed to address the meeting after the Reverend Robert Richards, previously announced as speaker, reported he would be unable to attend.

Chairman for this year's dinner is the DAIK representative to the Coordinating Council, Mrs. Ernest Shave. Her assistant is Mrs. Max Austin.

President of the Coordinating Council is E. C. Welch.

Kids Warned To Use Care On Bicycles

Police Chief Joseph E. Denton today issued a plea for parents to impress their children with the need for care while riding bicycles now that school has started again.

"Even though vacation has ended," Denton said, "the kids will be out in force as much as ever. What's more, they'll be hurrying to and from school, to after-school activities, and the like."

"The children are just as responsible as the motorist," he continued.

Denton reminded parents that their children are subject to the same traffic regulations that govern automobile drivers. Bicycle riders must ride on the right side of the road, stop at traffic lights and stop signs and use hand signals.

At the same time, Denton cautioned motorists to be on the lookout for children on bicycles. "You can't always be sure that a child on a bicycle has his mind on what he's doing," Denton said. "Approach each bicyclist as a potential hazard. Assume the youngster has his mind on baseball or beating the last bell at school and you'll be less apt to have an accident on your hands."

Elementary Schools Get $1,000 Worth Of Maps, Globes

Northville elementary students will find more than $1,000 worth of new maps and globes waiting for them when they return to school next week.

The supplies were bought over the summer after an intensive study of the school's map needs last year by a special teachers committee.

Elementary principals say that, since the maps all were bought from the same manufacturer, students will not have to adjust to new types of maps as they progress through the grades.

The new map service also includes such special features as visits by representatives of the map firm to teacher clinics and workshops.

Annexation Faces Legal Test

May Even Reach Supreme Court

Northville sat tight this week as Novi township served notice it will go to the state supreme court if necessary to prevent part of its territory from annexing to Northville.

Novi Supervisor Frazer Staman said yesterday the township will take the fight as far as legal channels allow.

1 Killed, 2 Injured When Car Careens Off Canton Center

A Plymouth man was killed and two Northville men were injured late Saturday night when their car careened off Canton Center road near Joy road while traveling at a high speed.

Dead was Donald L. Johnson, 23, of 764 Adams street, Plymouth.

Injured were:

William A. Gaab, Jr., 23, 105 Fairbrook, Northville, reported in critical condition with multiple fractures.

Dennis Curl, 22, 16928 Franklin, Northville, reported in good condition with a fractured ankle.

Both men are in Wayne county general hospital. Johnson was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Police said a witness told them the car bearing Johnson, Gaab

The township board met yesterday to give Staman full power to act in its behalf in carrying out the legal fight.

The move came just two days before Novi township's chance to fight the annexation would have expired. By law, any challenge to an annexation election must be filed within 30 days after the election. The period ends this Friday.

At question is the validity of an election on August 7 in which residents of, the site of Novi township voted unanimously to annex to Northville.

The tract lies adjacent to Northville, extending west from Center street for one-quarter mile. It includes the site of Northville's Amerman school and the proposed new high school.

The immediate problem, Staman said, is the possibility that the annexation will result in township residents having to repay part of the cost of certain township assets. The annexing homeowners would in effect take township assets with them, he said.

Staman said further that the current battle is designed not only to stop the immediate annexation but also possibly to correct legislation that gives a township no means of retaining its territory if that territory votes to annex.

Township attorney Archie Leonard has drawn up papers that challenge the validity of the August 7 election on grounds that it is "unconstitutional." His line of argument is expected to be that the township has had no voice in a matter which directly affects its own boundaries and assets.

Staman said at least one similar case has gone to the state supreme court, resulting in a decision that annexation is constitutional. But he added that he is optimistic that the township will get a favorable decision if the fight goes that far.

This picture of William Gaab was taken at The Record office on the day of the accident. He remains in critical condition in Wayne County General hospital.

and Curl passed him while he was traveling 60 miles per hour. A few minutes later, the witness said, he came upon the accident. There was no evidence of drinking or drunken driving, police said.

They added that the car apparently careened at least 175 yards after leaving the road before it came to a stop.

Lloyd H. Green Post 147, of American Legion, in Northville, and of the First Presbyterian church in Northville. He served in the air force in Korea.

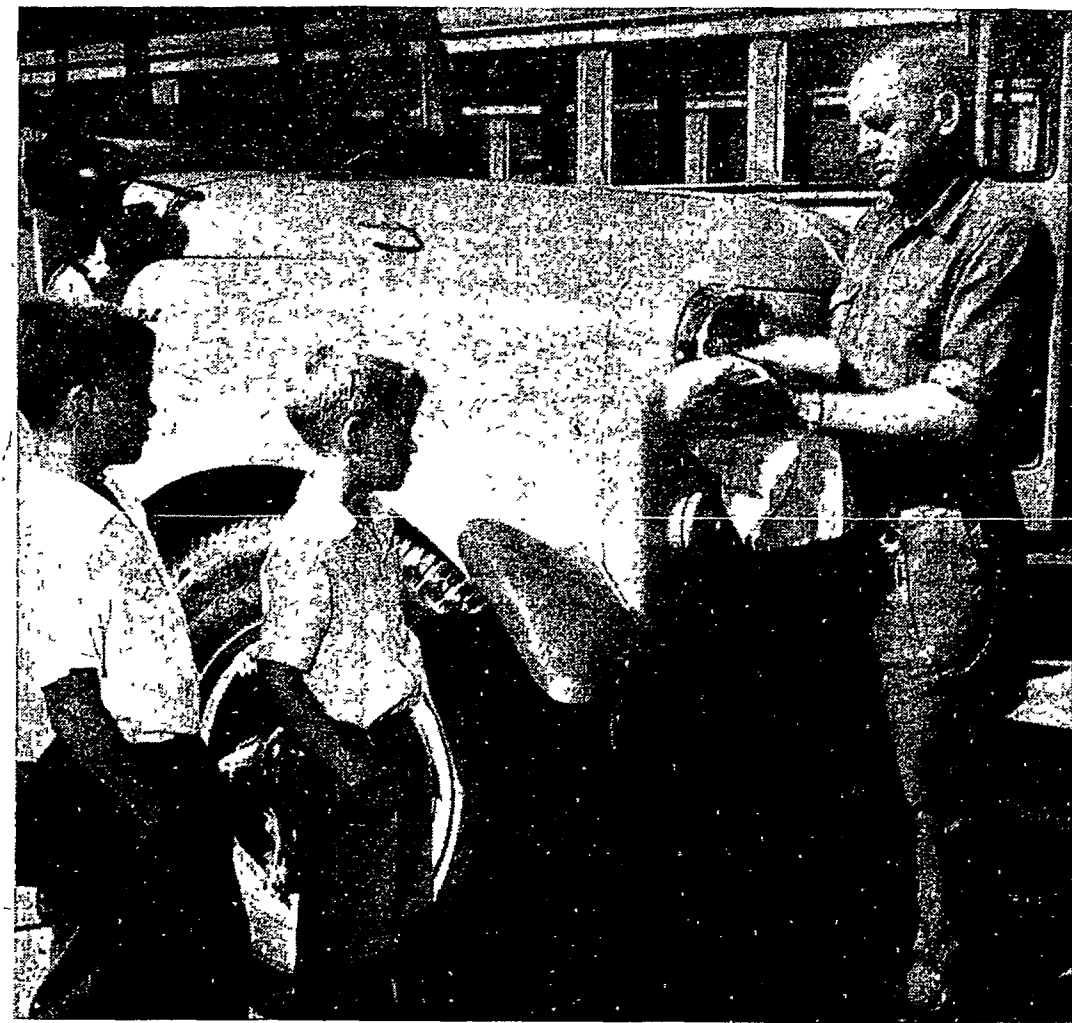

City To Introduce Cut-Rate Ticket

A fifty-cent parking ticket appeared in the offering for local motorists Tuesday evening as city councilmen gave approval to a plan introduced by John Stubenvoll.

Councilmen instructed City Attorney Phillip Ogilvie to develop an ordinance which would allow the installation of downstate parking tickets and a cut-rate parking ticket plan. Presumably the plan will be adopted soon after the ordinance is drawn.

Councilman Stubenvoll explained that the cut-rate ticket plan is used in many cities, allowing a violator to save $1.50 by paying the fine within 48 hours. The price of the ticket goes to $2.00 after two days have elapsed. The officer will ticket the car with an envelope which may be deposited in centrally located depositories throughout the city, Stubenvoll explained.

The new plan was recommended after Chief of Police Joseph E. Denton reported that many parking violations go unpaid under the present system. Tracing violators through license numbers from Lansing has become difficult and slow, he said.

SHINING UP THE BUSES means school is near, and Bill and Dick Hart, 945 North Center, aren't too sure they want to see it happen. Bus maintenance man, Fred Clark, is unperturbed by the skeptical look, however, as long as the boys don't take notion to let air out of the tires.

New Students Pour In; Enrollment Nears 1600

A surge of new student registrations in the past week has pushed Northville's student enrollment even higher than had been expected.

Though final counts were not in, it appeared that almost 1,600 students will attend Northville's three schools this year.

Administrators originally had looked for about 690 in the high school and 775 in the elementary schools.

By Friday, however, the high school had passed the 700 mark, and even more were expected to register.

By comparison, the high school enrolled 667 students last year. "No one will be lonely around here this fall," said Superintendent R. H. Amerman.

Hopes for a light enrollment in the two elementary schools were clouded by an unexpected registration of more than 40 new students, with possibly a few more to come.

Principal Richard Kay of Amman school said the elementary schools very likely will have the same population as last year. It had been hoped that the transfer of some 60 students to Novi school would lighten the load at Northville this year.

"The upper two elementary grades will have close to 35 students per class," Kay said, "although the lower four probably will stay at about 30."

Kay and other administrators had hoped that all classes would be at the 30-student level, which is generally considered close to ideal.

Better comply with the garbage ordinance! That's the advice of city councilmen who report that beginning Monday, September 13 violators will be fined.

Collector Harvey Willard reported to the city that compliance with the regulation has been very good, but that some residents are still in violation. The Girl He Left Behind or All Quiet in the Third Platoon, by Marion Hargrove. The author of See Here, Private Hargrove, now turns his attention to the peacetime draftees and volunteers — of the U.S. Army, of course.

The Ninth Wave, by Eugene Burdick. Mr. Burdick states that his book was started "as a study on the 'irrational' trends in politics," but it developed into the story of a man who calculated that "fear plus hate equals power."

NON-FICTION

The Colossus Again, Western Germany from Defeat to Disarmament, by Alfred Grosser. This nation that received its sovereignty in May, 1955, is analyzed in terms of its political, economic and social development since the cease fire. An Adventure in Education, by Fred M. Hechinger. A total of 38,000 workers aided in the largest and most thorough survey of education in a single area ever undertaken in the United States. The place was Connecticut, which has problems common to all states — and the report was submitted to the state government. Hechinger is the education editor of the New York Herald Tribune.

The Right to Know, by Kent Cooper. A veteran of more than 45 years with the Associated Press, the author here presents an exposition of the evils of news suppression and propaganda, both in time of peace and war.

Northville Teacher Ends Driver Training Course at MSU

A Northville high school teacher recently completed an intensive three-week course of study in the Driver Education and Traffic Safety Workshop at Michigan State University.

He is William R. Hensch, who teaches drivers training, mathematics and science.

The workshop was conducted by the Highway Traffic Safety Center and the department of traffic education of the College of Education.

The course, made possible by a grant provided by the Allstate Foundation, was designed to prepare teachers with a general background in problems and practices in high school driver education and to equip them to organize and operate driver education courses in Michigan high schools.

All but seven of the 68 who completed the course will conduct driver education classes this fall. The other seven are associated with high school driver education programs in various capacities.

Fall courses in driver education of a similar nature will be offered by the Highway Traffic Safety Center of Michigan State University at various key communities throughout the state as part of the Center's continuing efforts to provide competent teachers in driver education programs in Michigan's high schools.

Parents Must Judge If Tots Are Ready For Nursery School

Parents planning to send their children to nursery school this fall must make two important decisions, according to a recognized nursery school authority from Wayne State university.

Is the child ready for group experience, and if so, how is a good school selected?

Mrs. Esther Callard, mother of two children and director of Wayne's home economics department nursery school, says most children are ready when about three and a half years old.

"The mother must be the judge of when her child can make this big transition from home to school," said Mrs. Callard. "Eagerness to be with other children is one of the first indications."

When children reach the age of three, mothers alone cannot usually satisfy their time-consuming needs for "playing games, reading stories, singing, painting and other activities."

Do not send a child to nursery school if they are under-going tension-producing situations such as the arrival of new babies, moving to a new home or environment, or loss of a parent, Mrs. Callard said.

A child needs the security of the home and parent when these unbalancing changes take place. "This is not the time for the challenge of a new experience."

Picking the right school with a good teacher is important. The teacher-child relationship is most vital.

"Nothing is more important to the child than how he feels about himself. This feeling is a reflection of the attitudes of people most intimate in his life."

"Since the teacher acts as a mother-substitute, she must be encouraging, kind and strong enough personality-wise to supervise with loving but firm care."

A good school is always open for parental observation. If after a visit you can answer "yes" to the following questions, then, the school is acceptable: (1) Does the teacher sincerely welcome the parent and urge her to stay until the child has transferred his dependency to the teacher? (2) Are children not only allowed, but encouraged to use equipment freely? (3) Is the teacher able to place clear, firm limits on a child's destructive or hurtful behavior without making the child feel he is an outcast and unwanted? (4) Does the school's program include a rich variety of experience suitable to the age level of the child?

THE FOURTH "R"

The air is full of the familiar little jingle:
"School days, school days
Dear old 'Golden Rule' days
Reading, 'Riting and 'Rithmetic Taught to the tune of the Hickory stick."

I suspect it will be sung with a wide variety of moods from scorn to real enthusiasm. Yet these are those "back-to-school-days" that many harried parents have been looking forward to since mid-summer, and for which the teachers and staff have been industriously preparing.

It would be quite "obtuse" to try and write something that was not "in line" with this annual "migration of young America" so I'll succumb to it too! (As a matter of fact, I always experience a little nostalgia as the young people prepare and depart for various campuses.)

Any way, what is in my heart and mind now is the straight reminder to all of our youth and leaders that there is the "Fourth R" in education. That is, of course, Religion.

James, in his epistle, chapter 1, verse 27 gives us a wonderful definition of this subject when he writes:

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this: To visit the Fatherless and Widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Surely the reasonable and thinking student will agree, that to achieve such spiritual maturity one must "Work at it!" It just doesn't "Grow on you," or you don't achieve it by some process of osmosis, but rather with some effort, or constancy of purpose we achieve it through religious exercise.

There are many ways to implement the "Fourth R" in your life, which all can do regardless of race, color or creed. All can pray silently and reverently — all can read their scriptures regularly — all can make plans now to Honor the Sabbath Day with worship, study and service in their own Churches — all can assume some positions of responsibility to develop their skills in the "Fourth R" — all can ask questions of Parents, Teachers and Religious leaders about their faith and belief these, among many others, are suggestions, and avenues toward achievement in the "Fourth R". It should be noted too that none of these avenues abridges the popular concept of the separation of Church and State, rather these are the expressive ways to make the Freedom a Religion and reality in your life.

In our State of Michigan, as in a few others, the "Fourth R" holds a vital position in the foundations of our public school systems. Emblazoned above Angell Hall on the University of Michigan Campus appear these words from the Northwest Ordinance:

"Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind; schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged."

Thus, we see the timely and important "course of study" — The Fourth "R" is embedded in education, fostered by the spirit of freedom and achieved by personal effort. To all then, who are entering new challenges on cam-

Explorers Return From Canoe Trip

Six boys of Explorer Post 242 sponsored by the local Optimist club, returned last week from an eight-day canoe trip into Canada with their two advisors, Russ Reimer and Len Bogataitis.

Outfitted by the Bill Rom Canoe Country Outfitters in Ely, Minnesota, the boys left August 18 for the trip into Quetico National Forest of Canada.

Ranging in age from 17 to 19, boys who made the trip were Robert Gillick, George Miller, Larry Green, navigator, and Bill Blake, chief portager.

All spinsters know they could get married to somebody if they wanted to, so they are pleased to be alone as they survey the field of those who lost at the track.

Mustangs Look Better as Belleville Scrimmage Nears

Coach Optimistic Over Good Showing Of Bruising Line, Fleet Halfbacks

Northville football coach Ron Schipper looked across the field Tuesday at his Mustangs sweating through offensive drills and let a slight smile cross his face.

Schipper wasn't saying much, but it was evident he is pleased with the way his football charges are shaping up. So far, at least.

From a worried outlook last week, Schipper has changed to a feeling that "if they really want to play football, we can be rough."

Behind his more optimistic outlook were two factors: the rapid development of a bruising defensive line and the sudden appearance of a halfback, transfer student from Ohio.

The five-man line, looking more like a college forward wall than a high school line, averages more than 210 pounds per man. On it are ends Jeff Goodrich, 220, and Nelson Schrader, 210; tackles John Hoose, 206, and Jim Burrell, 222, and middle guard Bob Wagenschutz, 225.

"These big boys are really mixing well," Schipper said.

"Goodrich, at 6' 7", looks especially good at defensive end," the Mustang coach said. "And he's shaping up well as an offensive tackle too."

The halfback is Dave Adams, a senior transfer student, who Schipper says has been running well in offensive plays.

Adams hurt his neck in scrimmage, but is expected to be back in action soon.

Schipper said further that Jim Hammond, halfback letterman, is running well and is expected to fit in well at either end or halfback this year.

"In general," Schipper said, "the line seems to be ahead of the backfield as far as shaping up is concerned. Even so, the backs are coming around."

Schipper still is looking for serenity at quarterback, though three candidates — Bud Bell, Ed Wittenberg and Pete Gross — have been working at the position this past week.

One major problem, Schipper said, is getting the backs and linemen to coordinate their play.

"They can run the plays fairly well separately," he said, "but when we put the backfield and line together, we look a bit ragged. A lot of this is due, of course, to a lack of practice. That's one of the things we'll work on this week."

Though still working at offense, the Mustangs this week turned their attention to defense. Next week, they will combine the two and add the polish that they hope will carry them through their first encounter of the season against Plymouth September 14.

LOT OF BEEF—Northville's defensive line this year may well be (left to right): Nelson Schrader, 210; John Hoose, 206; Bob Wagenschutz, 225; Jim Burrell, 222, and Jeff Goodrich, 220.

HANDOFF — Coach Ron Schipper stands by as Mustang backs run through a series of ball-passing drills in preparation for their scrimmage Saturday.

Grid Team To Get First Tough Test In Preparation for Plymouth Opener

With two weeks of practice behind them, Northville's Mustangs will get their first taste of action Saturday when they meet Belleville's grid team in a pre-season scrimmage.

Coach Ron Schipper said the Mustangs will not pull any surprises in the way of new plays.

"But just the same, we'll test ourselves thoroughly enough so that we know pretty well where we stand," he added.

It will be the first workout under game conditions for the Mustangs this year. A scheduled inter-squad scrimmage was rained out last Saturday, though the Northville team did manage to run through a few minutes of scrimmage drills.

The following Friday, the Mustangs will open their season with what promises to be a tough game against Plymouth. The Plymouth team will scrimmage this week against Highland Park.

With school opening today and classes beginning Monday, the Mustangs will practice only once a day instead of twice as they have since drills began last week.

Colts Begin First Drills

Looking ahead to their opening game less than two weeks away, the Northville reserve team this week began its first practices.

Coach Stan Johnston said it is too early to predict much about the Colts, but added they should be able to win more games than they lose this year.

The Colts will follow the Mustangs in changing from a multiple offense to a balanced-line T-formation offense. Johnston explained this will allow the reserves to step into the same type of football when they move up to the varsity team next year.

The Colts open their season with a contest against Plymouth under the lights September 18.

Golf Deadline

The Plymouth-Northville golf tournament scheduled at Brae-Burn Golf club for September 15, 16 and 23 gained momentum this week as tourney chairman Jerry Walsh reported a host of new entries.

According to Walsh, more than 40 from Plymouth-Northville have signed up for competition thus far. Deadline for entries is Monday, September 10. An 18-hole qualifying round will be played Saturday, September 15. Besides defending champion Jim McAllister, former champs Tom Ilock, Ralph Lorenz and Harper Stephens are competing. Entries may be made at Brae-Burn, The Record, Plymouth Mail or Northville Electric. Pairings for the qualifying round will be published in next week's record.

For big jobs, small jobs, all jobs—

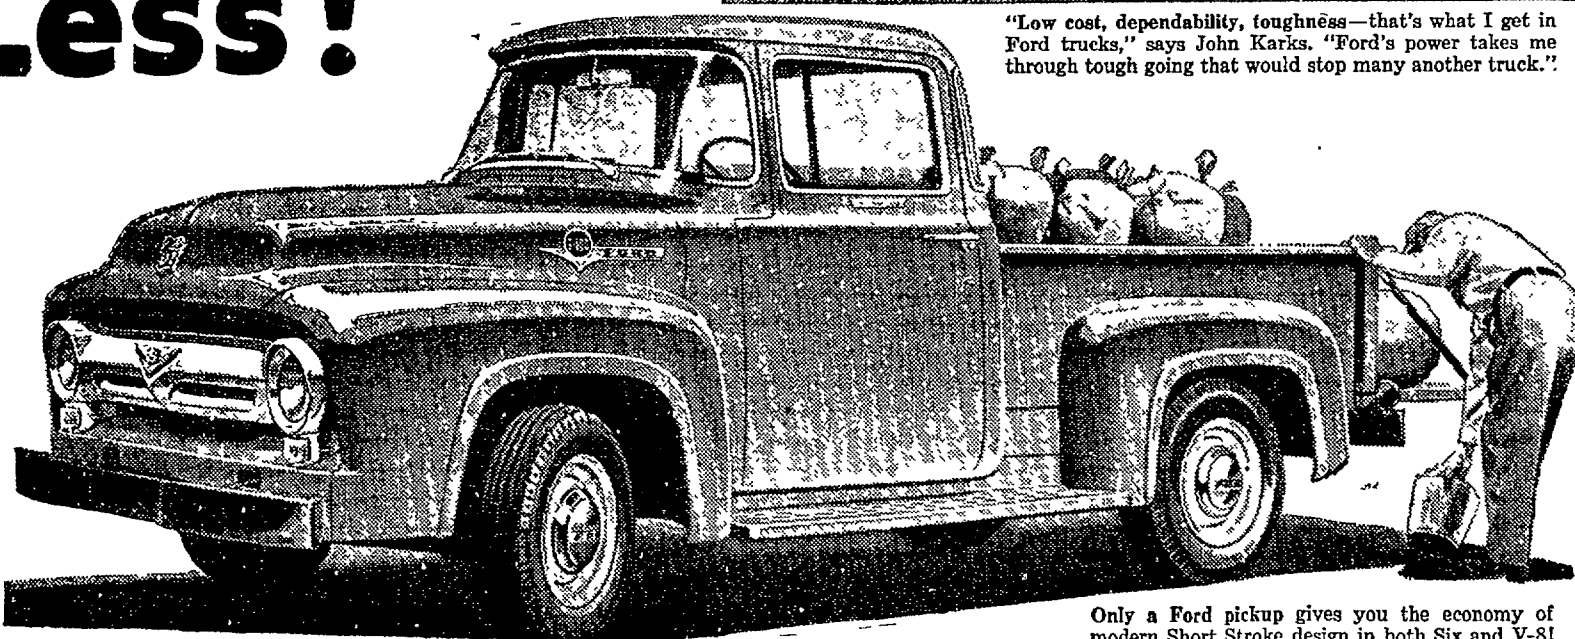

Ford Trucks Cost Less!

"I earn as much as $30 a day more because my Ford T-300 tandem job can carry more payload than comparable trucks," says timber-hauler Clarence Landwig.

"Low cost, dependability, toughness—that's what I got in Ford trucks," says John Karks. "Ford's power takes me through tough going that would stop many another truck."

Only a Ford pickup gives you the economy of modern Short Stroke design in both Six and V-8!

Ford's low initial prices mean real savings, to be sure. But the on-the-job savings you get in Ford trucks count even more!

Take running costs; they're downright low. Because only Ford gives you the gas and oil economy of modern Short Stroke power in every truck. Only Ford offers Short Stroke engines backed by over 5 billion miles of on-the-job experience.

Upkeep costs are low because Ford trucks are built extra strong. They outlast all other leading makes—a fact certified by independent insurance experts. That same stand-up ruggedness means greater dependability, too.

And when it comes time to trade—you'll gain from Ford's traditional high resale value, too. You'll find that, from start to finish, Ford trucks cost less.

THE BIG FLEETS BUY MORE FORD TRUCKS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE

Ford Trucks last longer

Using latest registration data on 10,502,351 trucks, life insurance experts prove Ford trucks last longer.

"When you figure low running and upkeep costs, high trade-in and low price, we feel that nothing can beat Ford trucks for value," Charles Sofer, president of I. Hart & Co.

"Ford's Short Stroke engine design and rugged chassis mean low operating and maintenance costs," says John Coleman, whose firm operates 45 Ford C-750's.

Traffic Losses Would Have Paid For Straits Bridge

Insured loss caused by Michigan's 196,812 traffic accidents in 1955 would have built the Mackinac Straits Bridge, with two millions to spare.

Or it could have provided the most modern, four-lane, divided, limited access highway from Detroit to Bay City, or from Lansing to Muskegon.

Just the increase in loss in 1955 over that of 1954 would have paid the past year's operating cost of the Michigan State Police.

These comparisons are based on a computation by the Michigan Insurance Information Service which estimates 1955 automobile accident losses in Michigan at $101,734,000, an increase of $7,306,000 over those of 1954.

National Homes Model To be Built near Brighton

The 100,000th National Home will be delivered to the Saxony subdivision near Brighton September 13, it has been announced.

The pre-constructed home will arrive at 7:30 a.m. and barring bad weather will be 75 per cent completed by 4:30 p.m.

Saxony, the National Home dealer in the Brighton area, also will show its 1956-57 models September 8 and 9 from noon to 9 p.m. at its model home one-half mile south of US-16 on US-23.

Within the last year, Saxony has built on its subdivision an 85-family community with quarter-acre lots, paved roads and city water. Homes for another 30 families will be built soon.

The subdivision offers a three-bedroom home with air conditioning heat, all-metal kitchens, copper plumbing, fiberglass insulation, sliding aluminum windows and screens, custom interior painting and tile bath.

Saxony subdivision is 25 minutes from Detroit and 10 minutes from the Milford proving ground and the new Lincoln assembly plant on Wixom road at Grand River.

In Planning Picture Windows, Consider Landscape Changes

Ann, Arbor — Planning to build a modern house with a picture window in the near future?

"Care in locating the window to give the best view can not be overstressed," says Harlow O. Whittemore, professor of landscape architecture in the University of Michigan college of architecture and design. The college celebrates its semi-centennial this coming October.

Professor Whittemore advises, "Study all the views your property affords before making your choice, keeping in mind any possible landscaping improvements before planning your home."

He explains that there are two major views through a picture window. "There is the near one, which is completely within your property, and there is the landscape view beyond your lot."

He continues, "Your near view most likely will be an informal landscape, or a formal pattern of walks, lawns, trees, hedges and flower beds. Or it may be a utility area, such as a play yard for the children, a vegetable plot or an orchard.

"If you want to be sure of almost perpetual protection of your view, you will think long and carefully before selecting the site for your house, looking ahead to estimate what may happen to view in front of the house," he says. "In general, it is advisable to own a rather generous foreground. In that case, if a neighbor's house is built within your view, it will still be far enough away to become just an incident in the total picture."

"A far-flung view is especially enjoyable if you are high enough above the city to enjoy the myriad night lights. In this case distance definitely lends enchantment," Professor Whittemore says.

Here are some suggestions to help you choose the trees and shrubs which can be most helpful in constructing your picture:

"Trees of the canopy type, such as American elm, honeyacacia and Bur oak, will frame a large view and cast shade at the same time. Trees with horizontal branches, such as the London plane, Sycamore, Maple and Black Oak will frame a low view. Canopy trees such as crabapples, pears and cherries will frame a garden view nicely.

"Some trees whose branches will stay low and form a complete wall of green are spruces and firs, Swiss mountain pines, Swiss stone pine, European beech or linden and pin oak," he continues. "Shrubs such as lilac, forsythia and honeysuckle can be used to fill in around the trees."

Even in the middle of winter you can have a pleasant picture from your window. "Just choose trees which are decorative in shape all year. And don't think only in terms of foliage masses and bloom when you select the plantings," says Professor Whittemore.

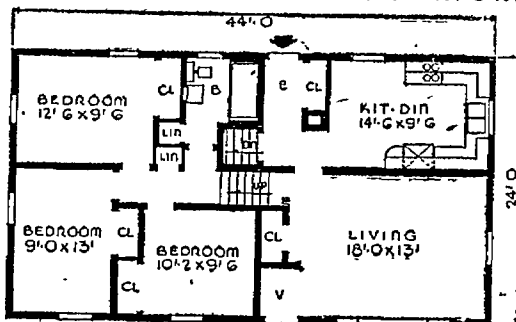

Color and texture are also important. "Pines, spruces and hemlocks keep their green color through the winter where large specimens are needed. The Japanese yew and Black Pyramidal arbutus can be pruned to scale," the professor said.

If you want to produce the visual illusion of greater depth or distance, there's something you can do about it. "Make the scene from your window appear narrower as it goes toward the rear by using trees that are smaller progressively or by using smaller foliaged trees in the distance. You can also capture the feeling of added distance by using strong color foliage nearby and softly blanketed colors or smoky blues and greys farther away," the professor advised.

Complaint Bureau

Like most newspapers, The Record welcomes "Letters to the Editor". Besides making interesting reading, they generally present an opinion on a local problem which many times results in a solution to the problem.

This week we received a letter complaining about the manner in which a neighbor disposes of her laundry water. Because the letter was unsigned, we cannot publish it. Our policy, like that of most newspapers, is to require a signature on a letter for publication, even though this signature may be withheld upon request.

We mention the complaint because our attention was drawn to an article published in the September issue of American Mercury entitled "Has Your Town a Gripe Center?"

The article describes the City of Dearborn's "Complaint Bureau", officially created in 1950 to handle all gripes of the citizenry. Patterned after modern department store complaint departments, the experiment has been highly successful. At least seven other cities have copied the plan.

The article concludes that "Dearborn officials, at first largely opposed to the idea, hail the Complaint Bureau as a remarkable medium for improving a host of services to a city of more than 85 per cent homeowners. They insist that it relieves citizens and officials, extirpates chronic trouble spots and — well, 'it's an idea worth trying in anyone's town.'"

Striking Out Taxes

We've finally discovered a way to lower our income tax. And just to show our readers that we're always willing to pass along a good tip, here's the story right from the pages of U. S. News & World Report.

The magazine says: "A baseball player's angry gesture, during a ball game, may cost the Federal Government $4,200 in income taxes. It also may bring the athlete a personal profit of $4,200."

The world's highest-salaried ballplayer ($100,000 a year) was fined $5,000 by his club for a display of temper toward the fans. This is considered a business expense, for the reason that the fine must be paid if the player is to keep practicing his profession. Thus, his taxable income is reduced by the $5,000.

After deductions, the "top tax" rate on this player's income is 84 per cent. So the fine gives him a tax reduction of $4,200, leaving him only $800 out of pocket.

But that isn't all. Admirers of the player are reported to be making up a fund to pay the fine. U. S. News says: "If they give him $5,000, that amount is not taxable at all. In that case, the ballplayer would stand an $800 loss and a $5,000 gain, for a net profit of $4,200."

2 Motorists Fined $100

Two motorists came before Judge Edmund P. Yerkes at Novi township hall last Thursday and were fined $100 and costs for reckless driving.

Jack Fox, 32, of 216 Wainwright, Walled Lake, pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge brought against him by Police Chief Lee BeGole and Officer Dick Noble.

Fox admitted running a stop sign at Novi and Twelve Mile roads August 4. His car struck a car driven by Norman Heilman, 235 Angola, Walled Lake, throwing Heilman's four-year-old daughter, Deborah, onto the pavement.

Bruce Bell of West Olive also pleaded guilty to reckless driving.

Police said Bell had been stopped by Officer Noble when he jumped into his car and drove away at a dangerous speed. Bell and his car were later apprehended.

Northville Police Continue To Have Fewer Incidents

Police activity in Northville continued to be lighter this year than it was at the same time last year.

A report prepared by Chief Joseph E. Denton showed that August of this year was far less troublesome for police in almost every respect than the same month last year.

July also was reported as a much milder month as far as police business goes.

The only major increase was in parking violations — a drastic jump from 13 to 57. This presumably was due to the installation of parking meters on downtown streets.

Other increases were recorded in accidents investigated (five in 1955, eight in 1956), juvenile cases (3-4), unlocked doors (5-10) and vandalism cases (2-4).

Biggest drop was in traffic violations where police recorded a sharp decline from 96 to 56.

The number of arrests and court cases dropped from 18 to 7. Total fines collected declined from $1,010 to $877.

Other declines were shown in breaking and entering (one), stolen autos (two), uttering and publishing (two), open windows (seven) and missing persons (two).

Still other decreases were shown in dog bite cases (three), recovered persons (two) and dogs under observation (three).

Northville police recorded the same number of instances of the following: grand larceny (one), stolen bicycles (one), destroyed dogs (three), petty larceny (one), prowler calls (two) and forgery cases (none).

Four Drivers Fined For Drunk Driving And Recklessness

Four traffic violators recently appeared before Judge E. M. Bogart and received fines of from $15 to $100 and jail sentences of up to 30 days.

Roving Cow

An uninvited visitor who has little desire to leave has upset the routine of the Floyd Ireland family in Walled Lake.

It all started last Thursday morning when Mr. Ireland was startled to find a white-faced cow in his barn yard. The Irelands don't own a cow. Calls to police, neighbors and farmers of the area have failed to turn up the owner. The cow seems to like his new home and refuses to leave.

The Irelands hope the owner will phone 1202-R and describe the animal. They will be very happy to release it.
