

Board Expands, Hastens New High School Plans

Board Refuses Parents' Bid For School Transportation

A group of Northville parents this week was looking for a way to transport their children to school following a school board decision that the children may not ride its buses.

Some 15 parents attended the board's meeting last Thursday to ask for bus service for their children, who otherwise must walk "hazardous roads" to school.

The board denied the request, but agreed to work with the parents in seeking other transportation.

Honor 32 New Voters At Dinner

"Never take your citizenship for granted," warned Rev. David Davies at the 16th Annual Citizenship dinner of the Northville Coordinating Council on Wednesday, September 19.

The speaker for the evening, Rev. Davies could well speak for the four naturalized citizens honored at the dinner. He immigrated himself from Wales, and stressed the point that changing one's country is a "serious matter."

Twenty-eight persons who have reached the age of 21 were also honored at the banquet. All those honored are residents of Northville and Northville township.

Preceding the address by Rev. Davies, the National Anthem was led by Mrs. Drake Older, and the Girl Scouts led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

Musical entertainment was provided by the Northville high school band.

As a memento of the occasion, those who can vote for the first time in November were presented with facsimiles of the Bill of Rights and the Constitution and a copy of the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and its history.

They also received certificates signed by Claude Ely, mayor; Russell Amerman, superintendent of schools; Ed Welch, president of the council; Mrs. Leo Lawrence, township supervisor; and Mrs. Ernest Shave, chairman of the dinner; signifying their eligibility to vote.

Mrs. Samuel Geraci presented the following with their naturalization certificates:

Eleanor Kaiser (Canada), Brigitte D. Muller (France), George H. Muller (Switzerland) and Wilmar Young (Germany).

These received their certificates from Mrs. Shave for reaching the age of 21 and being registered. Those who were not present at the dinner were mailed certificates.

Citizens Voice Protests To Township Zoning Board

Nearly 50 residents of the eastern portion of Northville township showed up Tuesday evening at a public hearing meeting of the township zoning board to let their desires be known.

Called to consider the request by the Bernard Orchard company to rezone approximately 80 acres lying north of Six Mile road and adjoining the east line of the C & O railway right-of-way, the meeting became a beehive of protests. The proposed zoning amendment would change the property from agriculture to R-3, reportedly for the purpose of creating a trailer camp site.

Most vehement in his protests to the change was Robert Haass, 42142 East Six Mile road, whose property abuts the area in question. Haass pointed out that the change and creation of a site for involved are 60-80 students who live on West Main, West Seyen Mile, Clement and other streets and who must walk to school along heavily-travelled streets.

The board explained it cannot offer bus service because of a new state regulation that allows state reimbursement only for bus-riding students who live outside a city or more than a mile from school. The students involved do not live in such areas.

Board members said they could not afford to provide bus service without receiving reimbursement. Such free service would cost the board upwards of $4,000, it was stated.

A spokesman for the parents said they would be willing to pay for service, but a school board member said such payment is not allowed by state regulations.

E. V. Ellison, transportation director, added that Northville school buses are already overcrowded, with many buses carrying more passengers than they should.

School board members agreed with parents, however, that safety of the children should be placed above considerations of money and crowdedness. For this reason, they asked Ellison to work with parents in finding some other answer.

It was suggested they try to hire a special bus from a private owner. Ellison said he would contact prospects as soon as possible.

Superintendent R. H. Amerman explained further that state regulations on school transportation have been tightened considerably in the past year. Though reimbursement was received last year for the students in question, he said, the new regulations prevent it this year.

Hold Final Rites For Daisy President

Funeral services were held in Plymouth Wednesday for Charles H. Bennett, president of Daisy Manufacturing company and the last of the 12 original stockholders in Ford Motor company. Mr. Bennett, 93, died Monday at his Main street home in Plymouth, just one block from his office in the air rifle plant.

Until recent weeks, Mr. Bennett appeared at his office daily and also maintained an active interest in community and area affairs. He had been president of Daisy since 1912.

Mr. Bennett is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Lawrence Lyons and Pauline Peck, and a grandniece, Mrs. Richard Daniel of Plymouth. Mrs. Bennett died in 1937.

Councilmen Cover Variety of Subjects In Lengthy Meeting

City councilmen waded through a pile of routine business Monday evening in a four-hour session that got off the track when a resident asked for an explanation of the status of the Community building.

Clayton Myers, past commander of the local VFW post, started the councilmen on a discussion of the Community Building. He stated that his organization had numerous requests for the use of their hall. After Councilman John Stuhenvoll asked Myers if he specifically wondered why more meetings couldn't be scheduled for the Community Building, Myers answered affirmatively.

From here the council jumped into the possibility of selling the building to the school board. Councilman Reed dropped this thought into the open discussion that appeared to go far beyond the answer which Myers sought.

The VFW representative was satisfied with the council's explanation that the school board had a one-year lease on the building. "They (the school board) have always bent over backwards to make the building available to local organizations," Stuhenvoll pointed out. Myers said that increasing numbers of cub scouts might make it necessary to schedule certain meetings for the larger Community Building.

Finally Mayor Claude Ely, directed Councilmen Stuhenvoll and Allen to investigate the manner in which the Community Building is made available to local groups. He replied negatively, however, to Stuhenvoll's question of whether or not the sale of the building should be discussed.

Two other citizens had complaints for the councilmen. Sidney Frid, 865 Grace, said that the collector of garbage in his area was too noisy and "wakes me up at 5:00 a.m." He also complained that garbage from his Main street apartments was not being collected even though the containers were in plain sight. He then suggested that all homes should have garbage disposers.

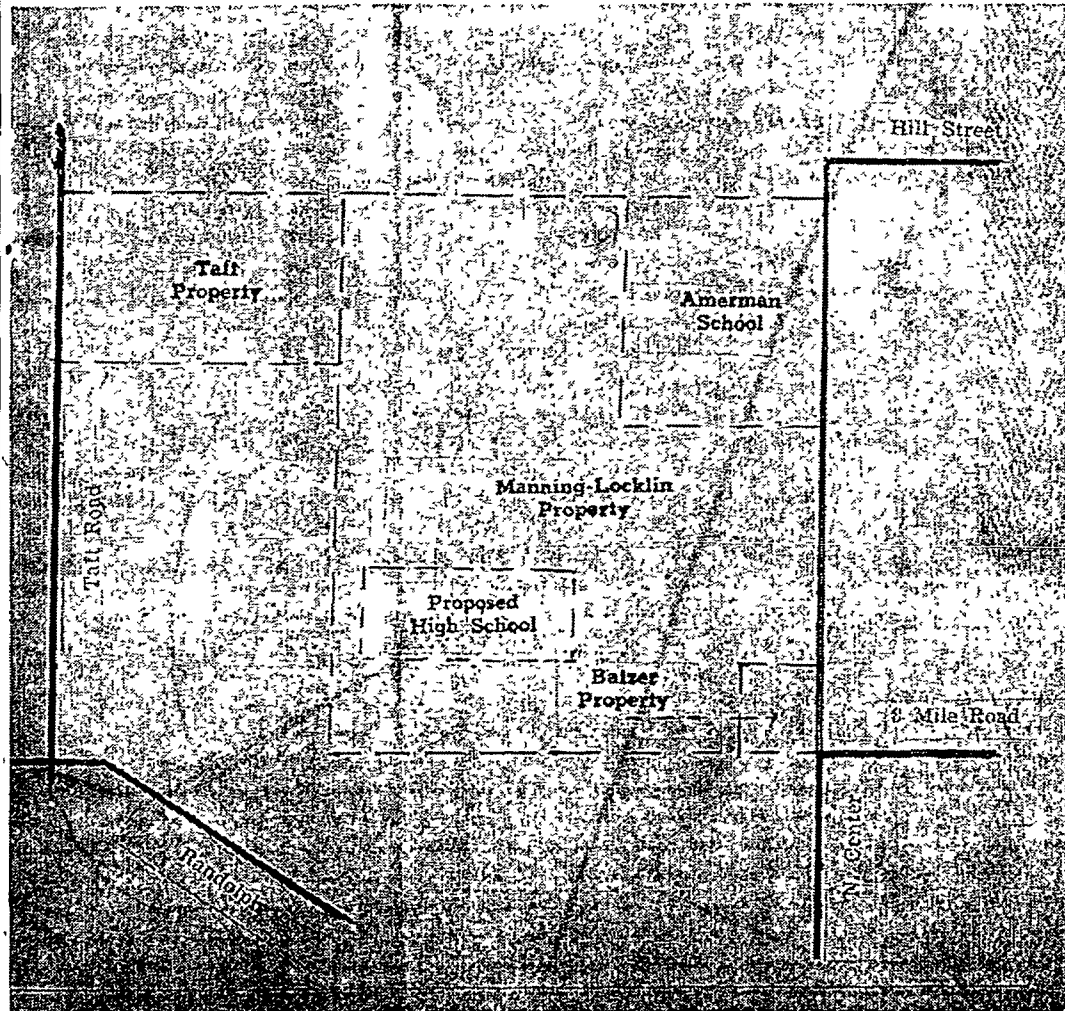

E. C. Welch, 222 South Wing, asked the council why a parade was permitted to march down Main street during church services. Councilman John Canterbury was ready for this complaint with a suggested letter of apology to the churches disturbed by the parade. He pointed out that the conflict was unintentional by both the organization sponsoring the event and the city itself.

Getting down to routine business the council approved $6,779.64 in current bills before Councilman Reed reported on the progress of property purchases in the Gerald avenue area. The relocation of the city's public works storage facilities from Cady street is being planned for this area.

Possible condemnation action was discussed in connection with a proposed alley to run from Main street through to Dunlap and also west to Wing street. The proposed alley would enter from 114 West Main street, at the site of the Frank Hill real estate office. Councilmen noted that such an alley would provide access to the rear of buildings for fire protection. Councilman Reed was instructed to make an offer for the property. It was indicated that should purchase negotiations fail, condemnation proceedings would be initiated.

Coach Ron Schipper had one word for the Howell squad: "Tough."

Howell rolled over Fenton last Friday night in what observers called a powerful show of strength. Though the score stood at 18-6, it was presumed that

FACING POSSIBLE CONDEMNATION are these three parcels of land which the Northville school board hopes to use for its new high school. The board voted Monday to condemn the Taft, Manning & Locklin and Balzer properties unless a sales agreement can be reached.

NHS Overflows with Students

"They're studying everywhere except in the vestibules."

Such was the description of overcrowding in Northville high school made by Principal E. V. Ellison before a meeting of the board of education last Thursday.

Ellison said the high school has an enrollment of 728, or 71 more than were enrolled last year at the same time. Most of the increase is in the ninth and tenth grades, he said, which means the high school will continue to be overcrowded in coming years.

The unexpectedly high enrollment has had many consequences detrimental to good educational methods, Ellison told the board. Among them, he listed:

—all rooms in both the high school and community building are in full use;

—an English class and machine shop are taught at the same time in the industrial arts room, with the classes separated only by a partition;

—the average class load has jumped from 22 last year to about 28 this year. The smallest class is a reading course for 13 students, while the largest is a 42-student class in American history;

—some elective classes have had to be curtailed or taken off the curriculum to provide teachers for required courses;

—tardiness has become a problem because students cannot push through the crowded hallways in time to reach class by the bell. Class-time may have to be cut to allow more time for passing in the halls;

—the high school curriculum has been adjusted to meet the problem, with the result that some tenth grade students are taking eleventh grade courses;

—one teacher has had to cancel her consultation and conference hour so as to take on another class;

—students next year may have even more trouble in taking desired courses. Courses as well as class hours may have to be cut at that time.

Ellison said he had anticipated and provided for an increase in enrollment this year but that the actual attendance has been even higher than expected.

He added that plans for the new Northville high school now seem to be inadequate in light of registration this year. A special curriculum committee is currently revising its estimates of how large the school should be and what facilities it should offer.

Specifically, Ellison said that plans will have to be changed for the new school's cafeteria, library and home economics room. Other schools are being visited to get ideas for solving the problems, he said.

Newly-Naturalized Citizens Offer Thanks to Northville

Shortly before its annual citizenship dinner last week, the Northville Coordinating Council received a letter from two newly-naturalized citizens — Mr. and Mrs. George H. Muller, 215 Hill, Northville. The letter reads in part:

"It will be a privilege, indeed, for my wife and I to join the new citizens of Northville for 1956 in the annual citizenship banquet . . .

"For many years did we plan our coming to the United States of America, as a matter of fact since 1939 . . . My wife and I were born respectively in France and Switzerland where freedom is cherished. But we were seeking better stability, and a dynamic and constructive way of planning life . . .

"We have not been deceived. We are also grateful. My wife and I recognize that we could not have succeeded in our attempts to understand our new surroundings, appreciate their quality and conform to their rules, without the help and friendship of many.

"It is with pride, we can assure you, that we received our naturalization certificates in February this year and were permitted to extend the same privilege to our children.

"Northville played a great part in this story. I do not know of any one we met, worked with, talked with, played with, or prayed with, who did not contribute to our education within a delightful blend of feeling of freedom and mutual respect of local or national institutions.

"(The banquet) will remind us of the wonderful human experience we had in the past six years and, no doubt, will continue to live from now on.

"We extend our deep feeling of gratitude to the Northville Coordinating Council and remain,

Sincerely yours,
(s) George H. Muller

Mustangs Prepare to Meet Howell

The Northville Mustangs journey to Howell this Friday night for their second straight game against a non-conference opponent.

Coach Ron Schipper had one word for the Howell squad: "Tough."

Howell rolled over Fenton last Friday night in what observers called a powerful show of strength. Though the score stood at 18-6, it was presumed that

Howell is capable of even better efforts.

The Mustangs will be without the services of first-string end "Cap" Pethers who was sidelined for the season in the 13-12 Plymouth loss last week as he suffered a broken leg after being blocked hard. Schipper said he still has found no suitable replacement for Pethers.

The Mustangs this week spent most of their time sharpening up on both offense and defense. Schipper said he was pleased with the team's play against Plymouth and that there have been no major problems to correct.

Main problem for the Mustangs, Schipper said, will be figuring out how to stop two Howell gridgers who figured heavily in that school's victory over Northville last year. They are fleet half back Jack Humphries and mammoth center Don McMacken.

McMacken will be opposed across the line by Northville's own giant center, 235-pound Bob Wagenschutz.

Howell went undefeated, untied, and unscored upon last year in one of the best football seasons in its history.

They came close to defeat against Northville, however, as they barely squeaked out a 7-0 win on a freak pass interception. Game time at Howell is 8 p.m.

May Condemn Land Unless Owners Sell

The Northville school board moved decisively toward a new high school last Thursday when it voted to condemn 50 acres of land for a school site if necessary.

At the same time, it was forecast that construction of the school could be started next spring if this and other legal and technical problems are solved speedily and without complications.

Council Hurries Manager Choice

Rapid progress in the selection of a city manager for Northville was made Tuesday evening as councilmen met and narrowed the field of applicants to six.

Called by Committee Chairman John Canterbury, the meeting was held to screen some 25 applications. Three candidates from Michigan cities, and one each from Ohio, Massachusetts and New York were chosen for interviews. It is believed that these candidates will be interviewed by the council within a week for an early selection.

By unanimous vote, the board authorized Attorney James Littell to begin condemnation proceedings as soon as possible if he finds the land cannot be bought from the owners immediately.

Facing possible condemnation are three parcels of land: 43 acres owned by the Manning & Locklin Gravel company; seven acres owned by Gerald Taft, and one acre owned by Rolf Batzer. Together, they form an area lying north of the city line and extending west from Center street.

Littell indicated the property owners might be willing to sell, but said that such a procedure possibly would take too long. For this reason, he said, condemnation may well be necessary.

Previously, only the Manning-Locklin and Batzer properties were under consideration by the board. It was decided, however, that the Taft property would be needed to provide an access to the high school from Taft road.

The board also voted to hire assessors to evaluate the land and determine a fair purchase price.

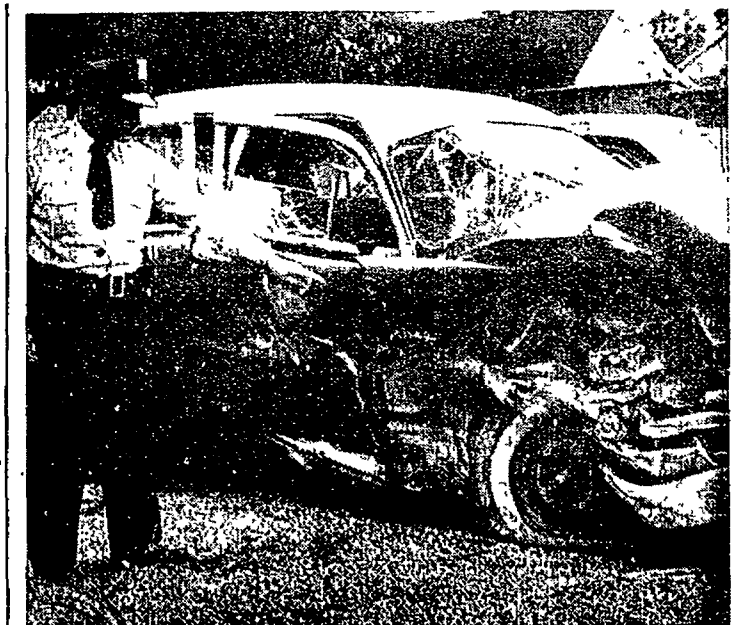

At the same time, board members indicated they will revamp plans for a new school to provide a larger building and more facilities. Unexpected overcrowding this year has upset estimates of future enrollment and made previous plans obsolete already, it was explained.

Superintendent R. H. Amerman said the board now will attempt to offer a qualified bond issue within the next two months. The bond issue would provide only for necessary building and equipment and would not include such "extras" as a swimming pool and cinder track.

Before a bond issue vote is called, Amerman said, Amerman said, plans for the school must be brought up to date and must be approved by the state department of public instruction in Lansing. This is expected to be done within the next month.

Board members also agreed to take advantage of a special state ruling by which the state covers any millage above 13 mills. This will allow Northville to use an average of as much as 17 mills for construction each year, while levying only 13 mills. The remainder would be paid back to the state in future years.

This provision, it was stated, will allow Northville to construct future facilities at the present moment and will allow acquisition of land for future development.

OFFICER RAY NOWICKI points what is left of one of the automobiles involved in an accident at Eight Mile road near the entrance to Meadowbrook last Saturday morning. One of the injured, Loren Hunt, of Griswold street, is now in satisfactory condition after being on the critical list at Henry Ford hospital with a fractured skull and a severe knee injury sustained in the accident. Thomas Wilmot, 18, of Wayne, was treated for injuries and released from the hospital.

The trustees and board members were also introduced. Rev. and Mrs. Nevins gave a gracious response to the welcome extended to them. Mrs. J. M. McLucas was then presented with a gift from the church for the many years of entering service to the church in Novi.

The lined area in the above map indicates the extended area which the Novi School District would include should the proposed consolidation win support. An October election date is expected to be set to determine the outcome.

Petitions in for Consolidation

The controversial proposition for consolidation of four Novi township school districts reached a new stage this week as petitions favoring the consolidation were turned over to county school authorities.

The petitions were submitted to the Oakland county school superintendent with the required number of signatures, according to Novi School Superintendent William Medlyn.

Medlyn said state regulations require that an election be called within 45 days after submission of petitions. That means the county school board will schedule an election around the end of October, he estimated.

For those favoring the consolidation, the signed petitions were a definite victory. For several months they had canvassed residents to get enough signatures. They were successful only a few days before their chance would have expired September 14.

Involved in the consolidation move are the following districts: Novi No. 8, East Novi No. 2 (Willowbrook Village), Putnam and Durfee.

Most opposition reportedly came from the Durfee district which would provide somewhere around 25 students for the proposed consolidation.

Sources were confident but not optimistic about chances of the consolidation going through. Backers of the move have said

Willowbrook Group To Meet Tuesday

Residents of Willowbrook Village will hold a non-partisan meeting next Tuesday to discuss Novi township problems and formulate initial plans for the spring elections next year, it was announced this week.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Sylvia Klerkx, newly elected Democratic delegate from Precinct 1.

At the meeting, Willowbrook residents will discuss a slate of ten township problems. They reportedly will chart a course of action against the possibility of a race track establishing in the township.

they will undertake a door-to-door campaign to get voters to cast a "yes" for the consolidation.

Medlyn said that the consolidation, if passed, will not necessarily mean an immediate change in school programs or facilities.

Students would continue to attend the same schools this year, he said, but all elementary children would attend Novi school next year.

Medlyn added that, while school construction would have to be undertaken in the next few years, none would result immediately from the consolidation.

A high school, he said, is definitely out of consideration at present. High school students would continue to attend Northville high for several years at least. At that time, he stated, the proposed district's population might warrant a high school.

Woman Injured On Grand River

A Walled Lake woman was injured Saturday morning in a two-car accident at Grand River and Taft road, according to Novi township police chief Lee BeGole.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Coleman, 1316 East Lake drive, is being treated for head and shoulder injuries at University hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Coleman was injured when she pulled onto Grand River and was struck by a car driven by Fred A. Systma of Grand Rapids. Systma was not injured. In another accident, two cars collided Monday night at Twelve Mile and Haggerty roads when an "obviously drunk" Detroit youth failed to stop for a stop sign, BeGole said.

Given a court summons for driving under the influence of liquor was Earl E. Dittmer, 22, of 18334 Brady, Detroit. Driver of the second car was James W. Beall, 26, of 41881 Twelve Mile.

Neither motorist was injured, but Beall's car suffered an estimated $1,500 damage, BeGole said.

Mobile Homes Are Allowed Under Very Strict Conditions

The Novi township board reluctantly passed a zoning ordinance amendment Monday night that will allow the establishment of trailer parks in the township under very strict conditions.

The vote was unanimous but came only after board members expressed regret that trailer parks must be allowed in the township.

Though the ordinance permits such businesses in Novi township for the first time, it was felt that its strict terms might discourage many park owners from entering the township.

In answer to questioning by the board, Supervisor Frazer Staman explained that recent court decisions in Michigan have stated that outright prohibition of any legitimate business is unconstitutional. He added that many townships already have passed "regulation" but - not - prohibition" amendments similar to Novi townships.

The amendment previously had been passed by the township zoning board and the Oakland county coordinating committee.

Staman said no tracts will be zoned for trailer parks at this time. Rezoning of any territory will be considered only after application has been made for a trailer park license.

Township residents' will thus have a chance to be heard on each proposed trailer park, he said.

Among the provisions of the new amendment are the following:

—trailer parks must be licensed by the township;

—occupants may not remove wheels or tires or construct lean-tos;

—air contamination, sewage, odors, gases and noise must be strictly regulated;

—yard space of 3,000 square feet must be provided for 80 per cent of the lots and 2,400 square feet for the rest;

—no trailers may be closer than 50 feet to a public highway right-of-way;

—parks must have paved streets, curbing, sidewalks, street lights, paved off-street parking and concrete aprons for each trailer;

—to stay longer than three months, each trailer must have approved toilets and plumbing, running water, an outdoor patio of 180 square feet, outdoor laundry, drying space and a tie-in with a sanitary sewer system;

—all electric lines must be underground;

—parks shall provide 100 square feet of recreation space for each trailer;

—parks must have a 20-foot-wide greenbelt planting strip on all sides not facing on a street and the latter must have landscaped yards;

—trailers may not be used for business or for immoral or unlawful purposes.

Novi Residents Asked To Give Blood Today

The Novi Community Blood Bank will sponsor a round-trip journey to Ann Arbor Thursday for the purpose of donating blood to a blood bank there.

Those persons interested in donating blood should meet at 6 p.m. tomorrow at either Harwood's service station or the Oddfellow hall.

Transportation will be provided to and from Ann Arbor.

Race Track Opposed By Willowbrook Group

A controversy arose this week over a Novi township race track that doesn't even exist, as a community group went on record as opposed to any move that would establish such a track in the township.

The group-statement came at a meeting September 11 of the Willowbrook Community Association and a number of other township residents.

Among reasons given for the opposition were the following:

—that a race track would lower property values;

—that it would have bad moral effects;

—that it would be a sore spot in the community.

A spokesman said letters have been sent to State Racing Commissioner James Inglis and township supervisor Frazer Staman informing them of the opposition.

Staman said that no new developments concerning the race track have occurred since last July when the township board discussed the possibility of establishing a track. No action was taken at that time.

It had been proposed then that a track be set up near Grand River and Meadowbrook road, but that plan reportedly has been abandoned. Whether a new site is under consideration could not be determined this week.

Staman said, however, that the township might have a hard time blocking a race track even if it wanted to. He said the interested racing syndicate has spent $50,000 developing the site under a previous permit issued by the township several years ago. To prohibit further development after so much money has been spent might bring legal action against the township, Staman said.

He added that the land in question already is zoned for industrial use, so that such a track would not involve rezoning.

Staman further stated that the track that had been under consideration also would include sites for other sporting events and recreational activities.

"They optioned some 600 acres of land," Staman said. "It stands to reason that not all of that would be used for a race track."

Continuing, Staman pointed out that a race track would very likely bring great amounts of revenue to the township in the form of both taxes and business.

Meanwhile, no new steps have been seen that would indicate a race track is soon in the offing.

Novi Board of Commerce Hears Problems of Aged

A way to help the aged find content and a sense of belonging was outlined to members of the Novi Board of Commerce last Thursday evening by Lloyd R. Johnson, owner of the Whitehall Convalescent Homes.

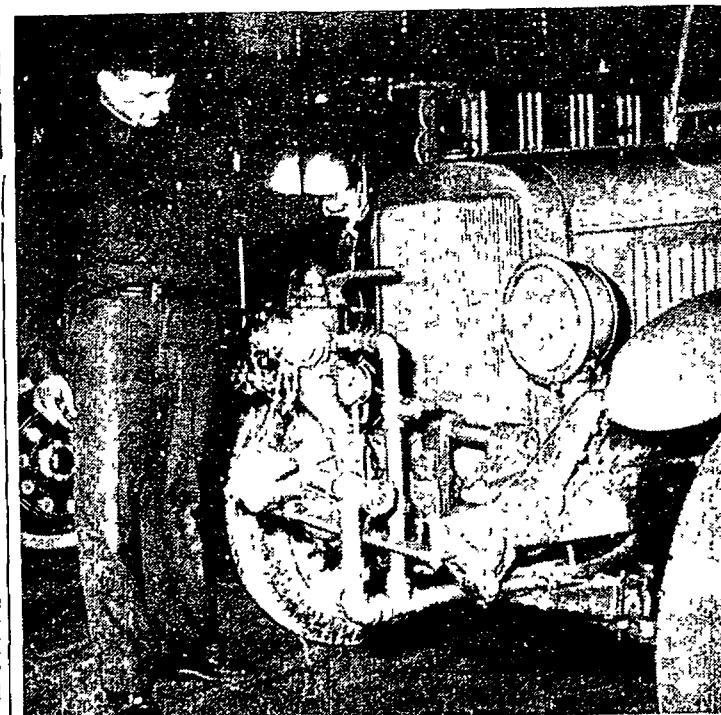

Speaking before the initial meeting of the year of the Novi businessmen's group, Johnson named five needs of the aged. "They must have a sense of belonging; common interest; a chance to carry on a normal life without incurring obligations they cannot repay; association with other age groups, and activities to keep the mind alert," Johnson said. He pointed out that more people reside in convalescent homes for the aged than occupy our hospitals.

To meet the problem of caring for our increasing numbers of aged persons, Johnson called for each individual to help create for them a place in our communities. "We should consider the 'problem of old age' just as we do the 'challenge of youth,'" he concluded.

President Leo Harrawood presided at the meeting and called upon three guests for brief comments. The Rev. George Nevin, pastor of the Novi Methodist church, and William C. Slinger, publisher of The Novi News, were introduced as newcomers, while Superintendent of Schools William Medlyn told the group of consolidation plans. He called upon the businessmen to help in the drive for consolidation to provide adequate schools for Novi children.

President Harrawood reminded committees of their duties and announced that plans are underway for the annual Halloween party for children at the Community hall. Next meeting of the Board of Commerce is October 14. Dinners for the board meetings are prepared and served by the Blue Star Mothers.

THE GRAND OLD LADY of the Novi Township fire department—a 1928 Reo "Flying Cloud"—is getting a face-lifting these days. Here volunteer fireman Jack Page puts on a final coat of dazzling red paint. The engine has been in the department since it came off the assembly line and is still going strong.

Football Season Means Cider, Color and Cheers

TO THE CHEERLEADERS falls the task of getting student spirit behind their team. A hearty pep rally ends the school week each Friday, as the students give their warriors a final sendoff. Northville's cheerleaders this year are (front to rear): Mary Welch, Betty Wilson, Dorothy Welch, Judy Junod, Virginia Kwasek and Giannine Bertoni.

There's a lot more to football than just the game itself.

In one way or another, almost every student in Northville — and many of their parents — have a hand in football night. And when the Orange and Black trots on the field, more than just a team is represented. In one respect, the whole city is showing its stuff.

Some students are cheerleaders, and rally fellow students behind them. Others march with band instruments and provide thrills that often match anything that occurs in the game itself. A few help out behind the scenes — the managers, scorekeepers, and the like — and in their own way give quiet but vital support without which no game could even begin.

But more than anything, football is a game for all students to enjoy. Whether or not they are on the field, with the band, or behind a score book, every student feels that the team on the gridiron is his own team.

Football season is a time when the baffled English student at the next desk suddenly emerges as the hero of the week. It's a time when the crew-cut wisecracker who cut your lawn during the summer carries the glory of the city on his shoulders. It's a time when the most dignified businessman in town lets his hair down and turns up at work the next day with only a slight croak for a voice.

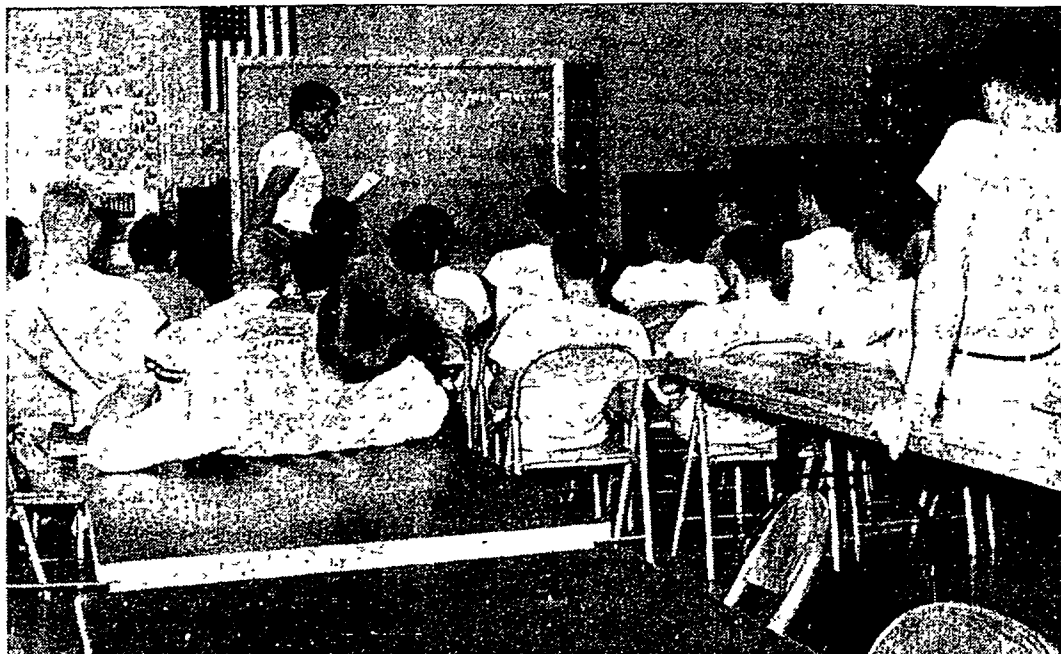

For some, a football game is over and forgotten ten minutes after the final game.

For others, it's a deadly serious matter. Armchair quarterbacks argue about certain plays right up until game-time the next week. Players think and rethink about what they did wrong, and feel a quiet thrill about the things they did right. The coaches — to whom football is a business as well as a game — analyze, interpret, study, figure and plan, all in hopes that they will repeat the good plays and correct the bad ones by the following week.

But however they take the game, most people agree wholeheartedly that there is nothing quite like football when it comes to arousing a town and making it realize that it stands for something. "Those are Northville kids out there."

FOOTBALL WEATHER means cider, warm clothes, and even blankets. Here, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wagenschutz and 10-year-old Dick, of 225 Church, get ready to watch son, Bob, start at center for the Mustangs. Mrs. R. E. Parmenter of the Parmenter Cider Mill wishes them good luck.

LAST MINUTE STRATEGY is mapped by Coach Ron Schipper at a "chalk talk" late in the afternoon. It is here that the Mustangs go over the offensive and defensive tactics they will use against their opponents. After a light meal, they have only to wait for game time to roll around.

NO FOOTBALL GAME would be complete without a marching band to perform at halftime and lead the team with rousing fight songs. As game-time nears, the smartly dressed bandmen gather outside the school and get ready for their triumphal moment.

NERVOUS AND EXCITED, the Mustangs at last dress in their colorful orange and black uniforms in the locker room. Nothing seems to be right: shoulder pads slip, shoe laces break, and someone takes someone else's helmet. Here are (left to right) fullback Jim Strange, tackle Jeff Goodrich, guard Bob Neimi and halfback Bill Walker.

AT LAST THE GAME STARTS, and the players settle back on the bench to keep a close eye on the events on the field as they await their turn to do battle for Northville. It's great to win and not easy to learn, but regardless, there isn't a player on the team who doesn't feel a thrill of pride in knowing that he is wearing the Orange and Black of Northville.

Section 1.39. TRAILER COACH PARK OR MOBILE HOME PARK. This term applies to any lot or tract of land upon which three (3) or more occupied trailer coaches or mobile homes are harbored, either with or without charge and shall include any building or enclosure intended for use as a part of the equipment of such park.

(e) No mobile home or trailer coach shall be used for any immoral or unlawful purpose, or the harboring of any undesirable person or persons.

(f) This section shall not prohibit the storage of one unoccupied mobile home or trailer coach or a small utility trailer, which is the property of the occupant in the rear yard.

"FALSE RELIGIONS"

The Devil is selling a bill of goods to the peoples of the world today. He is saying, "All religions are good." "All faiths are essentially the same." "All Churches are good" and we be to the "unbrotherly cult" who dares to say otherwise. Now just use a little sense. 1) If one says there is no heaven or hell, they cannot both be right. 2) If one faith says, Salvation is attained alone by faith in Jesus Christ and another says that salvation is attained by faith plus works, or another that salvation is alone by the good that one does, all three cannot be right! We cannot state opposite opinions and be in agreement. False religion is that which is contrary to the teaching of the Holy Scriptures. False religions also misuses the Bible by violating principles of interpretation. Read this rendering of II Peter 2 (Phillips translation). "But even in those days there were false prophets, just as there will be false teachers among you. They will be men who will subtly introduce dangerous heresies. They will thereby deny the Lord who redeemed them, and it will not be long before they bring on themselves their own downfall." False religions will be eternally fatal!

Unlike their big brothers on the varsity, Northville's reserves were trampled by a bruising Plymouth reserve team Tuesday afternoon in a 28-0 romp.

Despite the score, coaches felt the Colts looked good on offense against the bigger Plymouth squad.

Coach Stan Johnston's charges never were in contention after Plymouth scored two points on a first period safety. From then on, the Plymouth reserves played steady football and scored another safety and four touchdowns before the game ended.

Two Young Friends Re-United In Germany

A long-awaited reunion took place in West Germany recently when a young Northville student visited the home of a German girl who lived with his family in Northville five years ago.

Michael Petz, 16, returned last month from southern Germany where he spent ten weeks with the family of Ingrid Haenzel in Karlsruhe, a thriving city on the fringe of the fabled Black Forest.

Ingrid had lived with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Petz, 39900 Sudbury, from 1951 to 1952 while she studied at Northville high school, as an exchange student. From the day she left for home, she and the Petzes have been making plans for their son to visit Ingrid.

Though not enrolled as a student in the Karlsruhe school system, Mike spent many hours in class learning German and observing that country's educational methods. The greatest difference, he found, was that German students study the same subjects year after year, though new subjects are added each year.

"But I was surprised," he said, "that the German students were not as rigidly disciplined as we think they are. A lot of their monkeyshines just wouldn't be accepted in American schools."

Mike also found time to travel in Germany and adjoining countries.

With the Black Forest so close, he spent many hours in that legendary land of misty valleys, half-timbered houses and Hansel-and-Gretel-like woods.

During a three-day trip taken to Bavaria, he visited the Passion Playhouse in Oberammergau, the Hofbrauhaus in Munich, the Olympic stadium and ski run at Garmisch and "Mad" King Ludwig's golden palace within sight of the Bavarian Alps.

Mike also found time to travel across to France, where he bought peasant dolls for his sisters. Another trip took him to Basel, Switzerland.

He and Ingrid passed many hours reminiscing about their days together in Northville. Now 21, she plans to become a doctor and will soon enter medical school at the University of Freiburg.

When Mike returned, his gifts for his family included dolls for his twin sisters, a camera for his father and a set of silverware for his mother. And, of course, he picked up a pair of lederhosen for himself.

Ford tandem axle BIG JOBS are rated to carry more payload than comparable tandems of any of the leading manufacturers. T-800 model has max. GVW of 45,000 lb.—GCW is 65,000 lb.

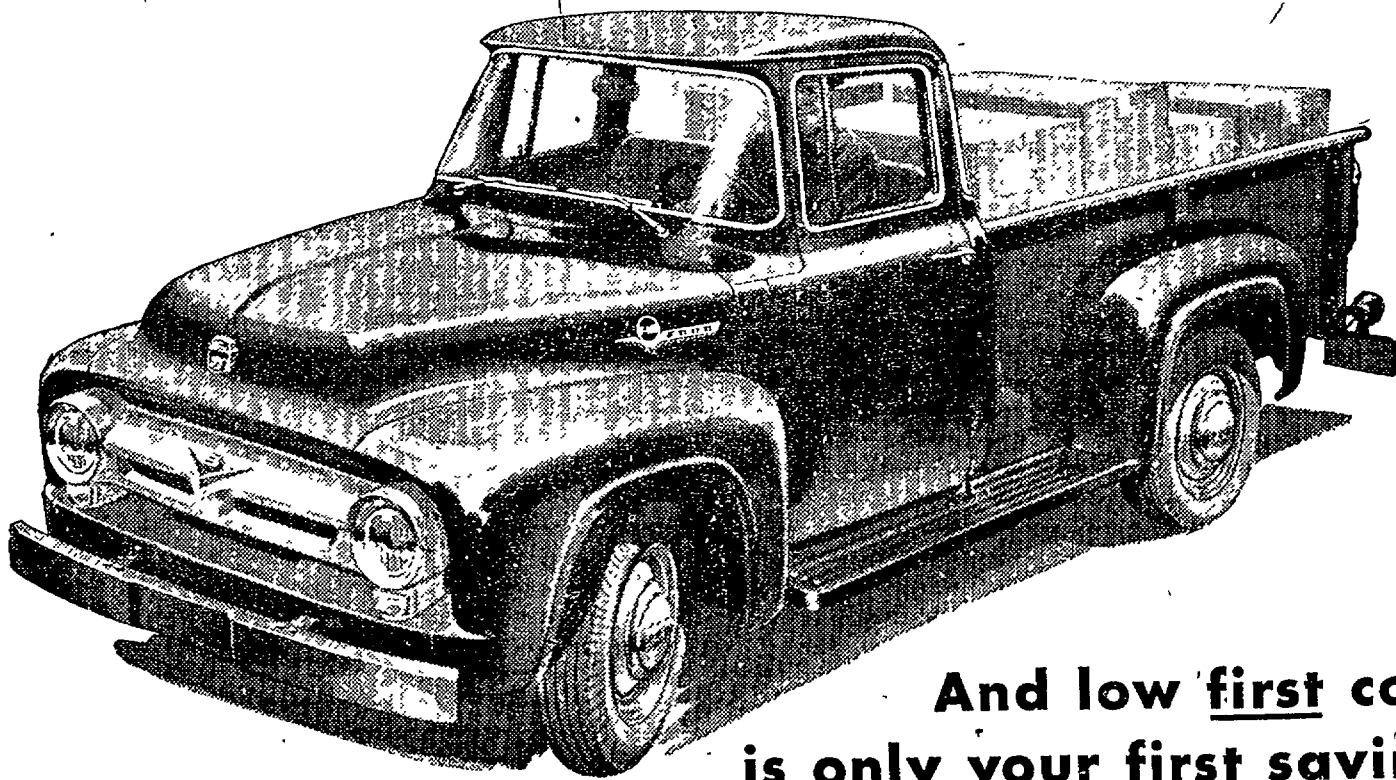

Ford's F-100 Custom panel is one of the top load carriers in its class. It provides 155.8 cu. ft. of cargo space in a smooth, fully lined interior and hauls up to 1,535 lb. of payload.

The hardest-working, biggest-saving "two-tonner" of them all is the Ford F-600. Only Ford offers a Short Stroke Six and three Short Stroke V-8's in this field. Max. GVW is 19,500 lb.

FOR BIG JOBS... SMALL JOBS... ALL JOBS

Ford Trucks cost less

Ford's F-100 pickup with 8-ft. box is the biggest in the half-ton field—up to 19 cu. ft. more loadspace than the others. Regular 6½-ft. box with a full 45 cu. ft. capacity also available.

COME IN TODAY!

And low first cost
is only your first saving

Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value. Check what you get and what it costs. You'll like what you see.

Look at the costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Modern Short Stroke engines—V-8 or Six—are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life. And a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more in a Ford. For example, more horsepower per dollar—proved by a comparison of factory-suggested list prices and net horsepower of all truck lines. You get more comfort with a Driverized Cab, and more safety with Ford's exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully... consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

Hey, Mom—Ever Wonder What a 'Belly Series' Is?

Sooner or later, mom, you're going to have to give in on this matter of football.

It doesn't matter if your own son doesn't play. Maybe one of his buddies does. Or the big bruiser next door. Somehow, football will come a-knockin' at your door.

And if you want to get through the season with the least possible confusion, it would help if you knew what all the double-talk is about. After all, it really isn't double-talk.

Besides, you might even find that those after-dinner discussions about "Gargoyle cutting over tackle" and "L. a. s. a. g. n. e. smashing up the center" actually are interesting, once you understand a few basic terms.

So if you decide to brace up to the task, and follow the game a time or two, here's a few sample phrases that might make your plight a bit more endurable. These aren't all the terms, of course, but if you master these, you'll very likely be on your way to becoming a football addict.

SINGLE WING — This has nothing to do with wounded birds or crippled airplanes; it's an offensive formation built around a halfback who stations himself four to five yards behind the line and is flanked by the three other members of the backfield.

T-FORMATION — another offensive formation built around the quarterback who stands directly behind the center and either passes or hands the ball off to one of the other performers who arrange themselves in a horizontal row behind him, thus giving the appearance of a "T".

STATUE OF LIBERTY — a deceptive, though age-old play, in which a back or an end takes the ball from another back who has assumed a passing stance. The next time you get a chance to see the old girl with her torch aloft you might recall her likeness to a frantic halfback looking for a friendly campaigner who will take the pigskin off his hands before he becomes bloodied by a determined foe.

FLAT PASS — a short pass to either side of the field which travels a greater distance laterally than it does beyond the line of scrimmage.

BELLY SERIES — No connection with "Medic". This is a series of T-formation plays built around the fullback who tried to create the impression that he has the ball on every play. Sometimes, he does until the other team gets a bellyfull and bends his suit.

So many — four out of five — men over 20 are bald or balding, says a toupee manufacturer, that hair pieces with an "Ivy League crew cut" are on sale.

Northville's Offensive Clicks But Penalties Aid Plymouth

The Northville Mustangs didn't come up with a victory Friday night, but they served notice to all that they are a team to be reckoned with this year.

In taking a jinx-like 13-12 defeat from Plymouth, the Orange and Black showed a well-rounded team that performs equally on offense and defense and that can uncork a powerful attack when it wants to.

Only a severe case of the jitters kept the Mustangs from walking off the field victorious, walking off the field victorious. Plymouth, except for fullback Ken Calhoun, proved to be an uninspired opponent for three quarters of the game.

Northville's over-eagerness — which took the form of eight penalties for 70 yards, four critical fumbles and three interceptions — cost the Mustangs at least two touchdowns and nipped several other drives.

ON HIS WAY — Northville end Bill Yahne takes off after receiving a pass from quarterback Bud Bell in the second quarter at Plymouth Friday night. The play covered 37 yards.

TOUCHDOWN — Plymouth fullback Ken Calhoun crashes across the Northville goal in the fourth quarter to give the Rocks their second score. Seconds later, Calhoun converted for the winning point.

Added to this, Northville suffered a momentary loss of spirit when giant end "Cap" Pethers was put out of action for the season with a broken leg midway in the third period. By the time the Mustangs regained their spunk the game was lost.

Northville outplayed Plymouth in almost every department during the first half, but bogged down after the second half resumed.

The Mustangs scored first on a dazzling 60-yard pass from quarterback Bud Bell to Pethers. Racing into the clear, Pethers hauled in a perfectly thrown pass and outdistanced two Plymouth safety men to the goal. Gary Holman's attempted conversion failed.

Northville continued to push Plymouth up and down the field throughout the first half, but was stymied at every turn by penalties.

One drive featured two long passes from Bell to end Bill Yahne for 37 and 41 yards. But four penalties totaling 30 yards kept the eager Mustangs from a touchdown.

In the first half, Plymouth failed to enter Northville territory until a last second 27-yard pass brought the ball to Northville's 35. The half ended with Northville leading 6-0.

The half-time recess apparently gave Plymouth time to catch its breath, for the Rocks came on to recover a Northville fumble and march 43 yards for the tying score. Halfback Jerry Hearl failed to make the extra point.

Northville took the kickoff and rushed to a quick first down. But on the next play, Bell's pass fell into Plymouth hands and Pethers lay crippled on the 50-yard line.

Plymouth took advantage of Mustang demoralization to gallop goalward in 10 plays. Calhoun, who alone played a consistently good game for Plymouth, took the ball across and moments later scored what was to be the winning point.

Northville burst to life again with a spectacular 66-yard pass from Bell to left half Dick Biery that took the ball to Plymouth's 6.

But two offside penalties erased the threat, as the Mustangs' jitters again got the best of them.

Plymouth, however, returned the favor seconds later by fumbling on its own 5. Three plays later center Bob Wagonschutz was handed the ball in a surprise play and crashed over from the 1. Wagonschutz tried the conversion but was stopped short. And the score stood at 13-12.

The final four minutes saw Northville lose the ball on a desperate pass after which Plymouth ran the clock out.

Ironically, Northville lost a chance for a tie game earlier when a Mustang penalty gave Plymouth a second and successful opportunity for the conversion after its second touchdown.

Statistically, Northville had a wide margin over Plymouth as the Mustangs rolled up 321 yards against 183 for the Rocks. The hard running of Holman, who averaged almost five yards in 11 carries and steady passing of Bell, who completed seven of 17 passes for 237 yards, gave the Mustangs a well-balanced ground and air attack.

On defense, the mighty Mustang forward wall held solid until early in the third period when its strength ebbed momentarily.

Coach Ron Schipper unveiled what would have been a formidable set of pass receivers until Pethers was hurt. He, Yahne and Biery pulled down passes good for about 80 yards each.

Schipper, though eager for a victory, had only praise for the Mustang's play. "We were just a bit too jumpy," the Northville mentor said.

SET TO TEE-OFF in the Northville-Plymouth golf tournament held at Brae-Burn Sunday is Bob Morse of Northville. His fine round of 84 left him a stroke off the pace in first flight competition. A final 18-holes will be played this Sunday. In the background is Harper Stephens of Plymouth. Stephens scored a 78 to trail championship flight leader Elton McAllister by two strokes.

City Tourney Golfers Find Brae-Burn Tough

High scores coupled with the disqualification of the championship flight medalist marked first round play Sunday of the 36-hole Northville-Plymouth golf tournament at Brae-Burn golf club.

Leading the pack for the two-city title is Elton McAllister of Plymouth with a six-over-par 76. Two strokes back at 78 are Northville's Jim Bacon and Bill Benjamin and Harper Stephens of Plymouth.

Tournament Chairman Jerry Walsh stated that Saturday's qualifying medalist Ty Caplin was eliminated Sunday after he had turned in a first round 78. According to Walsh, Caplin failed to hit a provisional ball at the ninth hole where his tee shot went out of bounds. Instead, Caplin played the ball from an out-of-bounds fairway. Caplin reported the incident, but refused to go back to play a second ball. He led all qualifiers Saturday with a 73.

Other leaders in the championship flight are Tom Lock, 79; Jerry Walsh and Ken Cockin, 80; and Ray Hartner, 81. Defending Champion Jim McAllister skied to an 85.

In other flights the leaders are Russ Egloff, 83, and Bob Morse, 84; second flight—Chris Collins, 85, and C. Rockefeller, 86; third flight—R. McLeod, 91, and J. Thomas, 97.

All flights will play a final 18 holes Sunday using the same starting times that prevailed in the first round.

Injured 'Cap' Decides To End Football Days

From the hospital bed where he is resting quietly with a broken leg, "Cap" Pethers has told his parents he will never again play football.

The big, blond end who electrified Northville fans with his play Friday night, has decided not to risk his brilliant basketball future by taking to the gridiron again.

Cap's football days ended under the lights at Plymouth as he lay writhing with a double fracture on the 50-yard line. He had been blocked hard and clean after a Plymouth safety man intercepted a pass intended for him.

Only a few minutes before, he had brought Northville fans to their feet by racing into the clear and grabbing a long pass for a 60-yard touchdown that put Northville into an early 6-0 lead.

Cap, who stands 6' 5" and weighs 205, is in Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital in Detroit. A noted bone specialist is tending to his badly broken leg.

According to his mother, Cap may undergo surgery if it is found that the bone is splintered. The doctor told her Cap will wear a cast for four to six months.

Mrs. Pethers said her son told her he didn't see the block coming and was unprepared for the shock. When he fell, his leg twisted under him.

The injury stunned players and fans alike Friday night. When play finally was resumed, the Mustangs were noticeably jolted by the accident and did not recover their confidence until after Plymouth had scored the winning point.

At this writing, Coach Ron Schipper was hardpressed to find a replacement for the valuable junior end. Cap had been counted on heavily as both an offensive and defensive threat.

In combination with end Bill Yahne and halfback Dick Biery, Cap provided a fearsome pass-receiving threat for the Mustangs. In Friday's game, the trio received passes totaling 237 yards.

The Northville-Plymouth game has been a jinx for Cap. Two years ago, he suffered a broken collarbone in the same encounter. And last year, he broken an elbow in a basketball game.

But Mrs. Pethers discounted rumors that Cap has "brittle" bones or is prone to injury. As a doctor explained, "long, tall bones" break easier than short bones, just as a long stick snaps easier than a short one.

The injury will keep Cap out of basketball this season, but he fully intends to be on the hardwood for his senior year.

"After all," his mother said, "basketball is his 'baby' and it would take more than a broken leg to keep him away from it."

TROPHY WINNER — Mrs. Julia Cova, wife of Midge Cova, pro at Bob-O-Link golf course, polishes up the two trophies she won in recent tournament of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association. She won the Stricker Trophy (left) in the WMGA match play tournament in August, and took the Hawthorne Valley trophy (right) for the 3-day WMGA medal play tournament in July.

"I'M ALL RIGHT," says injured Northville end "Cap" Pethers shortly before he was carried off the field in Friday's game against Plymouth. Pethers' leg was broken when a Plymouth back blocked him after a pass interception.

Northville City Proceedings

A regular meeting of the Northville City Council was held at the City Hall Tuesday Eve., Sept. 19, 1956, at 8:00 P.M.

Present: Mayor Claude N. Ely, Councilmen Stubenvoll, Reed and Canterbury.

Absent: Councilman Allen.

Minutes of last regular meeting were read and approved.

Bills amounting to $36,189.93 were presented for payment. Moved by Reed, seconded by Stubenvoll, that same be allowed and paid. Carried.

A petition was read from residents of Walnut and N. Center Sts. requesting that the City of Northville provide for improving Walnut St. by installing curb and gutter and re-surfacing same, to eliminate the unsafe driving conditions now prevailing at that location. The Council explained to those present the position of the City as to the street improvement program, stating that the streets which were used most, they felt, should receive priority. The group present stated that their object in making this petition was to have this street included in the planning for improvement in the near future. They were assured that temporary measures would be taken to alleviate the conditions before winter weather sets in.

Councilman Canterbury stated that a number of gas stations were using the city sidewalks for parking, etc., in connection with their business and suggested that sidewalk lines be painted in front of these stations.

Councilman Stubenvoll discussed the revising of fees and method of collecting parking meter fines. He suggested that a system be adopted whereby a ticket be issued with envelope attached for payment of fine, which can be deposited in boxes for that purpose placed in strategic spots on the streets in business section, as well as in parking lots. The boxes can be purchased at a cost of $12.95 each. Atty. Ogilvie was instructed to revise the parking meter ordinance to cover the situation, making the fine 50 cents if paid within 48 hours, and $2.00 if not paid within that period, same to be presented at the next regular meeting.

St. Supt. Hartner reported that alley on north side of E. Main St. is to be blacktopped as ordered, and was instructed to obtain prices from the A & A Asphalt Paving Co. for doing this work. A special meeting will be called in order to waive advertising for bids, so as to facilitate getting this work done before cold weather sets in.

Harvey Willard, Contractor, Garbage Contractor, reported that he had passed out hand bills regarding garbage containers, etc. and that citizens on the whole were complying very well with instructions. However, there are still some violators and their names will be turned in to the Police Dept. so that the ordinance can be enforced.

Councilman Reed reported that four lots had been acquired in Green Valley Acres on Gerald Ave., and that the Geo. Miller property deal at 18 E. Dunlap St. will be completed by Oct. 1st.

Chief Denton submitted his report for the month of August, 1956, which was accepted and placed on file. Chief Denton was instructed to enforce the "No parking in alley" ordinance by the Altman Beer Store, as it is being violated by patrons of this store.

A resolution was introduced by Atty. Ogilvie, to be submitted to the Wayne County Road Commission, requesting that the property located in Novi Twp. which was annexed to the City of Northville at the Special Election held Aug. 7th, 1956, be added to the Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor Sewer District. Moved by Reed, seconded by Stubenvoll, that this resolution be adopted. Carried.

Moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Reed, that the City of Northville advertise for bids on the house located at 118 E. Dunlap St. which is to be removed from this property recently purchased by the City of Northville from George E. Miller. Motion was carried.

No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned at 11:30 P.M.

Signed

Mary Alexander, Clerk

TV TIPS

Now that fall is here again and there are fewer hours of daylight for outdoor chores and fun, the family TV set is about to resume its position as No. 1 entertainment provider for the American family. If you're like most folks and haven't spent too much time with your set during the summer, it might be a good idea to have it checked over to be sure it's in top condition, check the lighting around your set to help avoid eyestrain, use eye drops from time to time to ease some of the fatigue that inevitably comes from TV viewing (and don't try to watch everything that comes along. Save a little eye energy for the shows you really want to see.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Main and Dodge Streets
Plymouth, Michigan

How spiritual understanding of the real nature of man and the universe brings harmony in human experience will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality" will include the following selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (335:27-29): "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."

Among the passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible are the following (Psalms 33:1,4,5): "Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright. For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord."

Contemporary U.S. Homes Designed To Fit Terrain

The United States is in the throes of a revolution in home design. During the past decade and a half, a completely new form of home styling has been projected and widely acclaimed. Called the contemporary home, it is the first major change in design in more than 200 years.

At least one nationally known home designer, Paul Thiry, fellow of the American Institute of Architects, sees in the new contemporary home an opportunity for the development of new designs with a regional flavor.

He points out that there is an increasing awareness of the wonders of the country with a greater desire for more expansive living — living that will associate the house with its surroundings and allow for a more abundant use of space. He observes that the people of the Northwest, for instance, are building their homes to fit the irregular terrain, and are becoming newly conscious of orientation and the inclusion of the panoramic views of lakes, sound and mountains that lie in every direction.

Out of this awareness, Thiry states, is developing an architecture that is definitely regional. Each section of the country has regional assets which can be exploited in the new contemporary home design.

In the Northwest, he observes, industries have pioneered the use of wood and indigenous materials. The design potential of wood Thiry continues, is such that the regional flavor of the country may be adapted to any pace or degree of sophistication. The natural colors and textures of wood may be used to create homes of warmth and individual expression.

Thiry observes that woods like Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and western red cedar, adapt well to other building materials, such as native stone, brick, marble. It is particularly well suited to a casual way of life, providing greater utility as well as beauty in the use of built-in furniture and installations.

Thiry says wood, with its infinite variety of grain, texture, degrees of hardness and coloring is one of the most flexible of all building materials.

The future, he states, presages a further development of current thinking in the contemporary home design based on the use of new structural methods and the ever-improving devices for insulating, heating and lighting. He forecasts that as a result of research now being carried on in the use by-products, materials of greater unit size, lightness and strength are being made available and will have their effect in the form of things to come.

The contemporary home, marked with its spacious rooms, open areas, wide glass wall sections, wide over-hanging roof sections, ingenious storage facilities, greater living comfort, all point up the American trend to more casual living. The contemporary home fits the needs of a people with more leisure time and more desire to live indoors as well as outdoors. That is where the real potential of wood becomes apparent, for houses sheathed in this natural substance have an immediate affinity for their natural surroundings.

The trout you catch this year may have been reared in wooden tanks. California's largest state-run hatchery keeps hundreds of thousands of baby trout in circular wooden tanks until the fish reach "catchable" or "planting" size.

WHAT SHALL I SAY FIRST? Angela Edte wonders what will interest the people in her home city of Lahr, Germany, the most. She has been sending articles about her traveling in the United States back home in hopes that the local newspaper will publish them.

German Hotel Student No Arm Chair Traveler

Whether she speaks of France, England or cities of the United States that she's seen, Angela Edte's warm eyes radiate the unique excitement of the adventures of travel.

Her study of hotel administration has taken her from her home in the town of Lahr, in the Black Forest of Germany, to Switzerland, France, England, and finally to America.

Spending a few days in Northville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Altenberg of Marilyn street, she has been touring the U.S. since February when she first said "hello" after alighting from a plane in Texas.

Angela began her studies in 1949 at the Swiss hotel school in Lucerne, spent a year in England, learned dietetics at the Sorbonne in Paris and is now in this country gathering knowledge of American cookery and American hotels.

But her trip hasn't all been the effort of learning. There have been times of fun — and sometimes mishaps that one always encounters away from home. She's traveled entirely by bus — "You can see so much more," she said.

She enjoyed the Mexican atmosphere of San Antonio and suffered her first sunburn in Texas. She visited Canal street in New Orleans and visited its famous French quarter.

In Miami, she appeared on a radio program.

She spent a day touring Washington, D.C. and the historic city of Philadelphia.

And when finances were getting low, she worked for two weeks in an Italian restaurant in Baltimore to catch up on her budget — which allotted $50 a week. (Looks like foreign cookery is quite a handy thing for a girl to know when traveling.)

Angela left the exciting city of New York on a rainy afternoon. "I tried to take a picture of a squirrel in Central Park before I left — and he just kept backing away," she remembers with a smile.

Then to Niagara Falls, where, after a passport mixup, she took the opportunity to set foot on Canadian soil. "It's the first place I was really cold," she added.

Angela came to Northville Sunday, September 9 and after a visit to Detroit she planned to leave for points west — Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Las Vegas. She then plans to return to Texas to begin fulfillment of a year's contract to work.

One of the most rewarding aspects of her visits, Angela says, is the meeting of new friends in each place. They directed her to their friends in other cities — in some cases persons they had not seen in many years — and through her, contact was made anew and correspondence began again between them.

Angela may decide to stay in the United States permanently. But not until she makes another trip to the Black Forest to say "hello" to her parents and tell them about America.

News Items Taken from the Files of the Record

ONE YEAR AGO—

The W. A. Ely's celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary this week.

The Northville policemen received a $400 pay raise after the city almost lost three patrolmen.

Donald B. Severance was elected president of the State Court Recorder's Association in Grand Rapids.

Nelson Schrader and Orson Atchinson flew to Sheridan, Wyoming to hunt deer and antelope.

State Police Cars Carry Cameras To Snap Violators

Two Michigan state police unmarked patrol cars have been equipped to take pictures of more flagrant traffic violations to prove that they occurred. They are presently assigned to the Brighton and East Lansing posts. The Brighton car is equipped with a Polaroid camera, which develops a picture instantly. The finished print can be shown to a violator, even while the officer is issuing the ticket.

The other car has a movie camera, with which one picture, or frame, can be taken at a time or a moving sequence. In this case, however, the film must be developed and printed later.

The cars will be used only in the daytime, which is also the policy with respect to other unmarked patrol vehicles operated by the department. The cameras are so set up that only one officer in a car is necessary.

While use of the cameras is somewhat experimental, the pictures will not only be of value as evidence when drivers protest that they did not commit the offenses, but will also provide a record of how violations occur and how they can and do cause accidents.

After a period at Brighton and East Lansing, the cars will be rotated among all posts.

There's nothing that someone cannot make a little worse and a little cheaper.

FIVE YEARS AGO—

Dr. Hugh Godfrey won the golf championship at Brae-Burn. The police department was urged to crack down on traffic violators by the city council.

Chief of Police Denton urged parents not to allow dogs to follow their children to school.

Jack Stubbenvoll and D. Harper Britton presented the pros and cons of Northville becoming a city at a Rotary-Exchange luncheon.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—

Coffee sold at Kroger's for 17 cents a pound and a car wash job at Ransom Super Service was 49 cents.

Jane Withers was appearing at the Penniman-Allyn theater in "Little Miss Nobody."

Bumper Crop of Pupils Jams State's Schools

A "BUMPER-CROP" of Michigan students greeted school administrators as classroom doors swung open to greet the proverbial "eager new faces". The largest enrollment in Michigan's history did not catch school officials napping. In fact, great efforts, long underway, permitted school systems to be well prepared.

Now, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Clair L. Taylor is busy counting noses to check exact enrollment. He estimates this year's public school "crop" at approximately 1,454,000 children in the elementary secondary grades.

Some 2,200 additional teachers and 2,000 new classrooms were utilized this fall to take care of the 70,000 pupil increase over last year's enrollment. Generally, schools are meeting the new demands made upon their staff and facilities, Dr. Taylor says.

Since last September, schools throughout the state added more than $100 million worth of classrooms, additions and buildings to existing plants, he states. This rate of expansion is a continuation of the growth that began shortly after World War II.

The lot of the teacher continues to improve. Practically all teaching positions were filled when classes resumed, but many schools found higher salaries were necessary to attract qualified personnel.

Teaching salaries around the state will average $5,000 this year, according to Dr. Taylor. Many schools, particularly in urban areas, are starting new instructors at $4,000, with almost all schools offering at least $3,500.

In comparison with other states, this means teaching salaries here are among the highest in the nation. "None of the states surrounding Michigan offer pay rates comparable to most of our schools' salary schedules," Dr. Taylor comments.

Not all of the state's 51,000 teachers meet the highest standards of qualification set up by the State Board of Education. The department still receives many cases where special certificates must be issued. However, the number is down from last year.

"It is the aim of the department to gradually eliminate special certification as trained personnel meeting regular qualifications standards are obtainable," Dr. Taylor states.

Most areas are forced to cope with the larger birthrate that began during war years. Other communities must also absorb many new families with children of school age.

New suburban areas where there is little industry supporting the tax base are straining to build adequate facilities. Reports from school districts indicate that expansions are completed or in progress in virtually every community throughout the state.

Each year is a new challenge. Enrollments projected into the future show continuing increases. The earliest "war babies" are now entering the first and second years of high school. Teachers and classroom facility difficulties, once centralized in the primary grades, are spreading into secondary education.

Growing pains will not stop. Plans are being laid now to absorb the huge college enrollments expected in another two or three years. Some 117,000 students, the largest group ever to enter Michigan colleges and universities, are enrolled for the 1956-57 academic year. Educators know this is just the beginning of a bigger boom.

All in all, "Johnny" is getting good attention here, say leading educators. With a more rapid population growth than many other states, Michigan taxpayers are meeting successfully their obligations to the younger generation.

SKEPTICS WHO FEAR that the Mackinac Straits bridge can never be built strong enough to withstand winds and storms at the site can be reassured by the comments of Dr. D. B. Steinman, designer of the bridge.

According to Dr. Steinman, the critical wind velocity for the bridge is 632 to 966 miles an hour, a figure high above the most violent, natural winds. In comparison, most bridges are constructed to withstand velocities of 30 to 76 miles an hour, at which point swaying begins.

In preparing meals for large crowds you can plan on ten quarts of ice cream serving 100 portions of pie ala mode, if a small dipper is used. Two quarts of heavy whipping cream, whipped, will top 100 desserts.

Not all of the state's 51,000 teachers meet the highest standards of qualification set up by the State Board of Education. The department still receives many cases where special certificates must be issued. However, the number is down from last year.

"It is the aim of the department to gradually eliminate special certification as trained personnel meeting regular qualifications standards are obtainable," Dr. Taylor states.

Farm Progress

Every schoolchild learns of the industrial revolution—a revolution that utterly transform man's way of manufacturing goods of every kind. The agricultural revolution has been equally thorough-going—and should be given equal attention.

A Boston bank sums up what has occurred in a single century. One hundred years ago two-thirds of all the workers in this country devoted their efforts to producing our food and fiber. Now that production is accomplished by only 10 per cent of the working population. Thus, 90 per cent of all workers can turn to doing other jobs and making and processing and distributing other things.

This almost unbelievable change has been brought about by better farming tools and methods. Among them, mechanized farm equipment dominates. It is not too much to say that the first workable tractor ended one era and began another. Then came all the other modern machines and attachments, to make possible production at maximum efficiency with minimum labor—and to provide the means for conserving the land for the future.

The industrial revolution continues, with ever-improving tools and techniques. So, in exactly the same way, does the agricultural revolution, thanks to farm equipment and the other aids.

Worth Repeating

PARK CITY, UTAH, RECORD: "There is no cut and dried formula for a country newspaper . . . We know papers that seldom print pictures on Page One. And we know papers that have almost as much art on Page One as they have copy . . . Some papers carry over stories on Page One. Others never do. Some papers run hundreds of little items reporting that 'Minnie Gooch went across the road' for Sunday dinner. Others read like small editions of the New York Times . . . If you are looking for variety you'll find it in the nation's press."

WAVERLY, VA., DISPATCH: "We were at a fellow's house recently who boasted that he never had taken hand or rod to this three year old son, who at that very minute was trying to snip off the cat's ears with a pair of scissors. Regarding this new conception of child raising; which says don't touch Junior, let him be a free soul to develop his natural whims, we are reminded of the Chinese proverb: 'Give a pig and a boy all they want and you will end up with a good pig and a bad boy.'"
