

State Law Controls Cost of New NHS

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of four articles in which Northville school officials will present the background of their request for a $3,000,000 bond issue. Next week's article will sum up the entire story in preparation for the December 18 vote.

When Northville residents talk about the proposed new Northville high school, they will probably ask one question more than any other:

In plain terms — disregarding talk of "millage limitations" and "debt retirement funds" — what will the new school program cost the average person if it is built?

The answer: only $10.50 next year for every $1,000 that your property is valued at, although the actual increase in school taxes next year would be only 8.50 per $1,000.

That is the guarantee with which state law backs up the Northville school board's request for a $3,000,000 bond issue.

The request will come to a public vote December 18 — and it is then that voters will decide whether Northville will have a new high school, an addition to the Amerman school, a rejuvenated high school to be used as a junior high, and a site for a future school.

To back up their claim that the four projects would cost taxpayers only $8.50 per $1,000 next year, Northville school officials point to a recent state law. Here's how it works:

In 1955, state voters realized that Michigan schools faced a desperate classroom shortage and had little money to meet the need. With this in mind, they passed a public act with these provisions:

—needy districts could set up a school construction program based on an assessment of only 13 mills.

—any additional money needed by the district could be borrowed from a newly-created $100,000,000 state school loan fund.

—the whole financial program could cover 25 to 30 years instead of the previous 20-year limit.

Northville has received tentative state permission to come under this program. That means Northville residents need pay

Registration Reminder

Residents of the Northville school district are reminded that the final day for registration for the December 18 vote is this Friday.

Those who voted in the recent presidential election need not re-register. Residents may register at the Northville city hall or local township halls, depending on where they live.

Absentee ballots may be obtained from the office of Superintendent Russell Amerman.

only a total of 13 mills annually, and that the state will loan the remainder.

Furthermore, Northville's program would be spread out over 25-30 years. In this, officials say, are two advantages: initial payments are lower, and future payments will decrease as more people move into the area and begin to share the tax bill.

But what of the $8.50 and $9.50 figures? A chart will explain them.

ITEM	1955-56	1957-58
1949 bond issue	$1.50	— (paid off)
1954 bond issue	$3.00	$2.50
1956 bond issue	—	10.50

Thus the answer is that the 1949 millage of 1.5 will no longer be paid, while 1.5 is subtracted from the 1954 millage. And since the total of all construction cannot total more than 13 mills, only 10.5 can be levied for the new high school and other projects.

But the actual difference between the two figures — 4.5 and 13 — is only 8.5, which means school construction taxes would increase only $8.50 per $1,000 next year on the state equalized valuation.

In the future, as the 1954 bond issue is retired, more of the 13 mills would be applied to the 1956 millage. But the total for all construction can never exceed that amount.

On the other hand, assessments could even be less than 13 mills if principal and interest payments taper off in the future.

Added to these figures, of course, are two operating millages which would give these total school tax figures:

ITEM	1955-56	1957-58
All bond issues	$ 4.50	$13.00
Operating millage	10.00	10.00
Allocation millage	7.95	7.95

Total school taxes $22.45 per $1,000 $30.95 per $1,000

One other provision is included in the proposed bond issue: bonds would be sold only as money is needed. It thus may be possible to pay off bonds in the future by using tax revenue only. But if not, Northville will be able to turn to the state and receive the needed loan from the $100,000,000 school fund.

So when Northville voters cast their ballots on December 18 for or against the $3,000,000 bond issue, they will have an iron-clad state guarantee: that never will they be asked — or required — to pay more than 13 mills a year for all new school construction in Northville.

Youths and Parents Invited to Meeting On Military Service

Young men and their parents in Northville will get a chance next Monday to learn the why's and wherefore's of the military services and duty with them.

In a meeting sponsored jointly by five communities, a top Army official will explain the military obligations confronting every young man today and how those obligations may be met.

He is Colonel Irwin Greenbaum, commandant of the Detroit U.S. Army Reserve School, who is considered one of the best-informed men in the armed services.

Cooperating in the "military information meeting" are the high schools and PTA's of Northville, Plymouth, Clarenceville, Bentley and Thurston.

It will begin Monday at 8 p.m. at Bentley high school, and is expected to draw more than 600 youths and their parents.

Each branch of the armed services will be represented at the meeting. After Col. Greenbaum explains military obligations as set forth in selective service and reserve laws, each branch will be assigned a room in which to discuss military duty more thoroughly.

"It is a meeting that no young man of military age—or parent—should miss," said a spokesman. "It is better to learn where the best opportunities exist than to enter a branch of the service hurriedly and then regret it."

"During recent years," said the spokesman, "there have been many a heartache and disappointment because the young men of the family have made hasty choices for enlisting in the armed services only to find out that it was not what they had pictured it to be."

Banquet To Honor Northville Students

The 95-member Northville high school marching band, Homecoming Queen Judy Junod and her court, and the Northville cheerleaders will be feted next Wednesday in the second "booster" banquet of the year.

The banquet will be sponsored jointly by the Northville Optimist club and the Northville Boosters.

Feature of the evening will be movies of the Michigan State marching band's trip last year to the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena. Included will be scenes of the band's various performances on the trip to California as well as sequences showing band formations and training techniques.

A similar banquet was held several weeks ago in honor of the Northville football team and two others in the future will spotlight other boys' and girls' athletics in Northville.

PARKING FINE boxes which will save violators 50 cents for prompt payment were installed in Northville this week. Herman Hartner, superintendent of public works, is shown above installing the first of eight containers on parking meters in the business section. Overtime parkers will find an envelope on their windshields which will permit them to pay the fine promptly for only 50 cents. After 24 hours the fine becomes $1.00. (See story, page eight).

Downs' Race Dates May Be Protested

A Detroit horseman has indicated he may protest the rescheduling of trotting dates at Northville Downs next year because it blocks his own plan to bring runners to the track during the same period.

Mark Leach, a well-known figure in racing circles, said he will make the decision after talking to Downs' manager John Carlo this week.

Leach had requested 41 running dates at the trotting track next year from state racing commissioner James H. Inglis, but was turned down last week on grounds that the plan is inadequate for runners. Leach had asked for the dates of April 27 through May 18 and from October 7 through October 31.

Inglis followed that decision by "suggesting" that the Downs' dates next year be April 19 through June 1. (His "suggestions" for racing dates are usually followed in setting up track schedules in the state, it has been reported.)

This would automatically end Leach's plan to have running dates during the same period.

Leach said he has been unable to decide on any action this week because his attorney was stricken with a heart attack last Saturday.

Agree to Accept Tuition Students

The Northville school board has agreed to accept tuition students in the proposed new high school "as long as facilities will permit it."

Board members made the agreement Monday night in reply to a letter from the state department of public instruction asking what Northville's policy would be in regard to tuition students at the new building if it is built.

But board members stressed that Northville soon would need all facilities for its own students, and that after several years tuition students might not be accepted.

"The new high school has been designed to accommodate our needs up through about 1960-65," said board member Nelson Schrader later.

"While we may be able to continue accepting tuition students for several years," he added, "figures show that Northville itself will need all facilities in the not-too-distant future."

Watch It!

Northville merchants were warned this week to be on the lookout for shoplifters during the holiday season.

"There is always an outbreak of pilfering in stores around Christmas and New Years," police chief Joseph E. Denton said, "and merchants should keep a careful eye out for it."

City to Appeal Annexation Issue To Supreme Court

The controversial Novi township annexation election of August 7 Monday evening took one more turn, which may be a side track, down its legal trail to settlement.

Northville councilmen directed City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to appeal to the state supreme court, a decision rendered by Judge Clark J. Adams of the Oakland county circuit court.

Judge Adams' decision cast out a claim by Ogilvie that the suit filed by Novi township to invalidate the election was itself invalid because such action must be brought by a "citizen", and that Novi township is not such a citizen.

Ogilvie told the council that he believed the decision of Judge Adams to consider a township the same as a citizen might not receive the same interpretation by the higher court. If Northville should win a reversal of this decision, the election would stand and the 82 acres surrounding Amerman school would legally become a part of Northville.

If the supreme court upholds Judge Adams' decision, the case would then return to the circuit court for trial of the Novi township suit against the city. Although residents of the area voted unanimously for annexation to Northville, the Novi suit claims the rest of the township should have been allowed to vote in the election.

Cash Total May Reach $10,000 in Northville

An elderly woman today is sought by police for questioning in connection with allegedly obtaining as much as $10,000 and additional in merchandise from Northville residents in the past seven months.

Sought is "Mrs. Yvonne Chauvin", 65, who lived at 238 Church street in Northville from April until last week.

"Yvonne Chauvin" is one of 22 aliases listed in state police records of the woman—who also has a record of forgery, larceny by trick, insufficient funds, uttering and publishing and parole violation dating back to 1936.

According to Michigan state police lieutenant Howard Whaley, "Mrs. Chauvin" is suspected of having left Northville with between $8,000 and $10,000 in return for checks with total face values of as much as $85,000. Most of the checks are believed held by Northville residents, Whaley said.

"Mrs. Chauvin" is now being sought by Cleveland police on request of Michigan state police, according to Whaley. She is thought to have flown to Cleveland last week, he said, but police as yet have no lead on her there.

Whaley said state police have names of at least 30 Northville area residents who are believed to have had dealings with "Mrs. Chauvin". Many of them refuse to give information, apparently not wishing to become involved, he said.

One person who has signed a complaint to state police, according to Whaley, claimed she gave "Mrs. Chauvin" $4,855 in return for only a $2,500 check.

"Mrs. Chauvin" apparently came to Northville in April, Whaley said, after being discharged from the Detroit House of Correction where she had been in detention off and on since 1943.

Since April, he added, she had become well-known to many Northville residents and apparently had taken a number of them into her confidence. She was a familiar figure to many Northville businessmen.

According to Wayne county assistant prosecutor John Mowatt, legal action might be taken against her either in the form of a civil suit for recovery of funds or a criminal suit for a possible so-called "confidence game."

State police have reported these additional allegations, Whaley said:

—"Mrs. Chauvin" owes rental and telephone bills.

—She received considerable merchandise in return for checks. Much of the merchandise has been returned.

—One Northville resident is holding a check for $50,000 but will not say whether he gave "Mrs. Chauvin" cash for it.

—She had frequent use of an automobile owned by a Northville businessman.

—She paid plane fare for the same businessman, to fly to California to tell his son she would send him a certified check for $70,000 as a gift in two weeks.

—She claimed to be interested in buying downtown buildings to house a corporation which would include Northville residents as officers.

—"Mrs. Chauvin" claimed to be ready to receive a $500,000 trust fund, and gave out checks to be held until the trust fund was legally hers. She was said to have received cash for the checks—often for as little as half their face value.

—She owes Robert Wrenn, 136 East Main, and his wife—who served as her chauffeur and housekeeper for at least five months—upwards of $1,600 in back wages.

Whaley said the last person in Northville to see "Mrs. Chauvin" was Wrenn.

Mrs. Chauvin

apparently is Wrenn.

According to Wrenn, he drove her into downtown Detroit last Wednesday because she wanted to sell diamonds to meet one of her outstanding checks. He was to meet her later in an airline office.

"But when I returned," Wrenn said, "she was gone. I checked through the airlines office and found she had bought two tickets for Cleveland. One was a round-trip ticket, apparently for me," he added.

Wrenn said he had driven her at various times to Ann Arbor, Plymouth and Farmington, in addition to other trips into Detroit and around Northville.

He described her as "well-versed, intelligent and very convincing," and added that she often seemed to be "living in the past."

"The story of 'Mrs. Chauvin's' dealings first came to light the day after Thanksgiving when Northville attorney Clifton Hill reportedly evicted her from his office after she had asked him to represent her in legal matters concerning her supposed trust fund.

She apparently had come to Hill to give credence to a story, told to one of her acquaintances, that Hill was her attorney.

But, Hill said, he began investigating her recommendations and found that her "bookkeeper" had been dead for seven years and that her "former attorney" denied ever hearing of her.

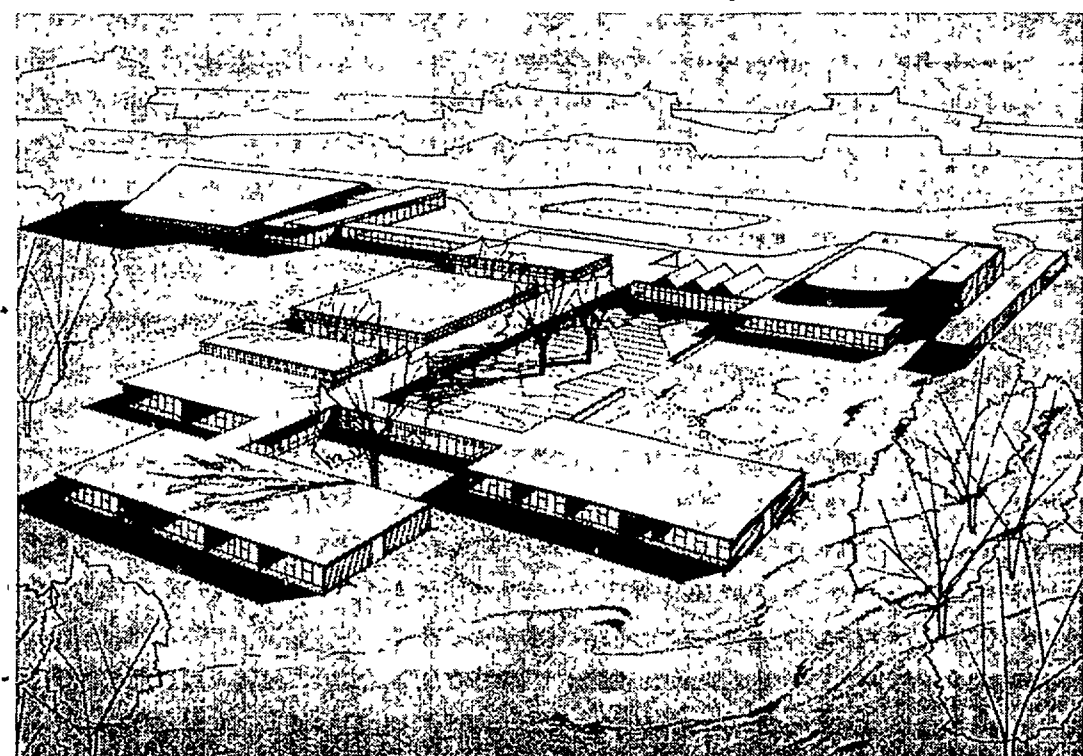

Hill said he then investigated around Northville and discovered the wide-spread extent of her dealings. State police were contacted shortly after that, he said.

Police list 22 aliases, most of which used "Elizabeth" as her first name. She also used "Chauvin" in the past spelling it as "Shovin" or "Shovan".

Acquaintances describe her as about 5 feet, 4 inches tall, rather heavy, and with a peculiar rasping voice that comes out as a barely audible whisper.

SAYS TRICKEY WASTES TIME

To the Editor:

I was at the Novi Township Board meeting Monday night and listened to Charles Trickey, Jr., Novi Township treasurer wasting the time of the Township Board condemning Cameron Lodge, the building inspector, for his fancied interference in an alleged traffic violation. It seems that Mr. Trickey has plenty of time to follow Mr. Lodge around the township trying to find fault with him but from Mr. Trickey's own statement he doesn't have time to make a proper financial report which is his duty as treasurer. In fact I have attended many board meetings and for a self professed expert on efficiency it has happened many times that Mr. Trickey has failed to have a proper financial report prepared for the township board meeting.

New Circuit Judge Is Record Director

The eight-post judicial appointments of Governor G. Mennen Williams, announced earlier this week included the name of a director of the Northville Record, Incorporated.

Chosen to fill one of the Wayne county circuit court judgeships left vacant by retirement was George E. Bowles, attorney from Plymouth.

Bowles is well known for his

endeavors as state labor mediation board chairman. He has served as legal advisor to The Record and as a member of its board of directors since the purchase of The Record and Novi News by William C. Sliger in August.

A devoted family man, Bowles has also shown an intense interest in community and area affairs. In addition to chamber of commerce, school and church activities he has worked with civic groups devoted to better area-wide planning. His experience in mediation conference has proven a valuable asset in community group discussions aimed at bringing harmony to city-township problems in Plymouth.

Bowles is a member of the State Bar Association, Detroit Bar Association, American Judicature Society, National Academy of Arbitrators and a council member of the Labor Relations law section of the State Bar. He has written for numerous legal periodicals and lectured at Michigan and Michigan State universities.

The new appointees will take office December 30. Named with Bowles as circuit judges in Wayne county were Horace W. Gilmore, Joseph G. Rashid and Victor J. Baum. Four other appointments filled judgeships in Monroe and Ingham counties as well as probate court in Wayne county and the Detroit Common Pleas court.

Striking photographs of rocky coastlines and a German cemetery won top honors last week in the first amateur contest ever held in Northville.

A total of 180 35mm slides were shown Wednesday night before 80 viewers, after which some 25 judges cast ballots for the winning entries.

The contest was sponsored by Northville's junior and adult camera clubs in cooperation with the Northville Optimist club. Actual winner, with 17 votes, was attorney Clifton Hill with a photograph of a rock-bound coastline, entitled, "Acapulco Shores". But Hill, chairman of the event for the Optimists, later withdrew from the judging.

In all, 10 contestants tied for the four top spots — two for first, three for second, three for third, and two for fourth. They were:

First Place

—An ocean coastline, with breakers smashing against rocks: Georgianna Couse, 45875 West 7 Mile road.

—A sunlit cemetery gleaming in the hazy Black Forest of Germany; Robert Webb, news editor of the Record.

Second Place

—Twin waterfalls at Yosemite park: Dr. W. J. Steininger, 20145 Beck road.

—Water lilies floating in a pond: Edward Grieger, 16110 Northville road.

—Autumn woods, seen across a placid lake: Mrs. George Jerome, 743 Horton.

Third Place

—A single cloud, shimmering in sunlight: Harold D. Hartley, Jr., 602 Randolph.

—Lightning dancing on a rooftop during an electrical storm: John Wortman, 231 Wing street.

—A view far down upon the buildings of a large city: Charles Ely, Jr., 603 Randolph.

Fourth Place

—A still life scene of corn, gourds and other vegetables in a tipped-over basket: Mrs. Betty Dearing, 561 Carpenter.

—A dog and cat resting peacefully together before a blazing fireplace: Ken Snyder of Northville.

Winners in the first four places will receive cash prizes.

The Record here prints copies of the first place winners. It should be noted that the originals were colored slides, and that reproductions cannot capture their beauty accurately.

Hill said the turnout both of entries and viewers was "very pleasing" and that another contest probably will be planned for sometime in the spring. He expected such a contest would draw at least 500 entries.

The 10 winning slides will be shown three times Friday and Saturday evenings at Gamble's by means of a special projector which casts the pictures onto a screen in the window.

Mrs. Betty Dearing, president of the Northville Adult Camera club, acted as master of ceremonies of the program and supervised the showing of the slides.

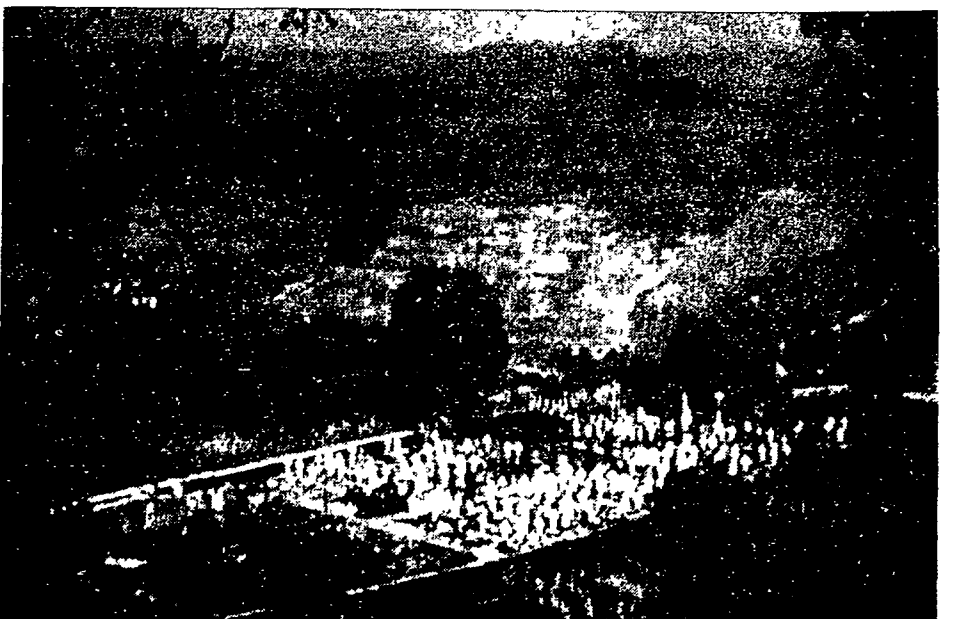

All slides were described by number only, so that judges were unaware of the entrants' names and voting was done by number only.

"ACAPULCO SHORES" won first place for attorney Clifton Hill in the photo contest sponsored last week by the two Northville camera clubs and the Northville Optimists. Hill, co-chairman of the contest, withdrew his photo from competition.

ANOTHER ROCKBOUND COASTLINE gained a first-place tie in the contest for Mrs. Georgianna Couse, 45875 West Seven Mile road. In all, 180 slides were entered. Optimists plan another contest next spring and expect upwards of 500 entries.

SUNLIT CEMETERY, against an otherwise hazy valley in the Black Forest of Germany, brought a first-place tie for Robert Webb of the Record. Ties also occurred for second, third and fourth places—including 10 contestants altogether.

Marines to Collect "Toys for Tots"

The annual "Toys for Tots" program is underway in Northville to collect Christmas toys for needy children.

The drive, sponsored nationally by the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, began last week and will continue through December 15. Those who wish to contribute may turn toys in to three locations in Northville: Northville Shell station, 446 Plymouth avenue; Litsenberger's service, 340 North Center, and the H & G Trading Post, 9760 Seven Mile.

The toys will be collected from the stations by Marine reservist James P. Fisher, 21501 Currie road, and will then be distributed to needy children in time for Christmas.

The nationwide program was started in 1948 in Los Angeles by three Marine officers and has spread to more than 250 units throughout the country.

Michigan to Flock to Florida

Florida is due for at least a 10 percent increase in visitors from Michigan this year — including several score from the Northville-Nowi area, estimates indicated this week.

Last year, the Sunshine State drew over 300,000 Michiganders and advance indications point to an additional 30,000 this year, Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager, reports.

He said Michigan drivers to Florida this year will have a choice of two main routes. The eastern route through Cincinnati, Knoxville and Atlanta covers 1,425 miles from Detroit to Miami but includes some mountain driving. The western route through Louisville and Nashville is 12 miles longer but takes only 35 minutes more, driving time.

Most drivers prefer the flatter routes after mid-December when mountain roads may be slippery or snow-covered but like the hilly route during late fall and early spring because of added scenic qualities, he said.

He also cautioned drivers from Michigan that plans are underway to rearrange some route numbers in Alabama early in 1957. He advised drivers after January 15 to obtain new route maps or check with Alabama officials on possible changes.

Motorists this year may use four turnpikes in their Florida trips, he said. These include those in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and the new Sunshine Parkway, scheduled to open January 1 between Fort Pierce and Miami in Florida.

Florida is also expected to be the first state in the nation to standardize signing of all U.S. routes by color with the program slated to start with green markers on US-27.

Army Announces New Program For Enlistments

Local United States Army Recruiter SFC "Hank" Zaleski has announced a new plan for Army enlistments during the coming holiday period.

Young men may be enlisted after December 15 and placed on furlough at once at their homes until after New Year's Day when they will leave for basic training. For the leave period at home they will receive full Army pay, allowances and benefits.

Present enlistment options in the Army provide for regular three year enlistments and enlistments for two years active duty.

In addition, men between the ages of 17 to 18½ may enlist in the Army reserve and have only six months active duty. This plan is particularly interesting to high school students whose six months active duty will be deferred until after graduation. High school graduates may still apply for a technical school of their choice before enlistment and thus have "choice, not chance".

Parents of local young men are reminded of the "military information" night to be held at Bentley high school at 8 p.m. on December 10. Complete information on present military obligations and the Reserve Forces Act will be available. Local schools and parent and service groups are sponsoring this event as a public service.

Sgt. Zaleski works from the United States Army Recruiting office at Grand River and Southfield. He is in Plymouth at the Junior Achievement building on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Information may also be obtained by calling VERmont 5-3243.

WINTER WONDERLAND? — It was last week, at least, as even the picnic tables at Cass Benton park bedded down for the winter. But Mother Nature turned the tables this week with a few warm days, and the tables came out from under the blankets of snow along with highways, sidewalks and front porches.

"Courtesy Boxes" Installed on Meters For Overtime Parking Violators

Northville will start using yellow "courtesy boxes" located in the business district this week for the depositing of fines for overtime parking.

Police chief Joseph Denton announced that new parking violation tickets — in the form of yellow envelopes — also will be issued when the boxes are installed. Parking violators may pay fines by placing money in the envelope and depositing it in the "courtesy boxes".

The fine for overtime parking has been reduced to 50c if paid within 24 hours. If not paid by then, the minimum charge is $1. The "courtesy boxes" will be placed on strategically located meter posts just below the parking meter.

Main purpose of parking meters is to insure a change-over parking in specified areas and not as

Men and Women In Uniform

PVT. ROBERT L. REUTER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Reuter, 3100 Benstein road, Walled Lake, is receiving basic combat training with the 9th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colorado.

Reuter entered the Army last October. He is a 1951 graduate of Walled Lake high school. Reuter was employed by the Ford Motor company before entering service.

"I DON'T UNDERSTAND—"

So many times good, sincere people get interested in becoming a Christian and getting right with the Lord. They have set about to read the Bible hoping that they can find the answers to their hearts cry. They were disappointed — not because the Bible does not contain the answers but because they could not understand what the Bible said, and because they did not know where to look. Perhaps you, dear reader, are in that position now? If so — let me give you a tip. Choose out a preacher in your town who preaches the Gospel, one who Pastors a Church whose souls are saved and the lives of such are changed. Then call this preacher up on the telephone and tell him plainly that you would like him to call and explain the Gospel to you. Imposing on him? Not on your life, he will thank God for the opportunity of presenting Christ to an interested person. Read the account in Acts 8 regarding Phillip and the eunuch. The eunuch was reading the Bible and didn't understand it. So the Spirit directed Evangelist was invited up into the chariot to explain it to him. There are thousands of good sound Gospel preachers that stand ready to help you. Why not avail yourself of their services?

A Fireman's Holiday in Novi

IN ITS DYING MINUTES, an old house begins to burn as it steps aside for the sprawling new Lincoln plant (background) near Novi. Standing by are volunteers of the Novi township fire department, who used the opportunity to gain further experience.

FIELD DAY FOR PHOTOGRAPHERS — Two Detroit newspaper lensmen pose a gag shot with Novi volunteer William Paquette who chomps on a cigar, leans on his hatchet and waits for the blaze to consume the building.

It's not every day — or even every year — that firemen get a chance to sit by and watch a beautifully blazing building.

For Novi township volunteers, however, one such day came along last week when they set fire to an ancient house near the new Lincoln plant and then warmed their hands while it burned to the ground.

Occasion for the twist-about fire was the desire of Lincoln officials to raze the old building on the site of the new plant. Novi volunteers were called in for the task — and given a chance to improve their fire-fighting techniques as well.

Under fire chief Fred Loyne and director of public safety Lee BeGole, firemen set two small blazes and then entered the house to extinguish them with "fog" — vaporized water.

But the third ignition was the big one, and as it took hold, the chilled firemen stood back and let the rickety structure burn brilliantly into a pile of ashes.

BRILLIANT FLAMES lick over the doomed building, and an ugly black cloud of smoke rolls skyward.

...AMERICA'S MOST WANTED CAR!

Most stared after, most longed for car in the country! And no wonder! If you're like everybody else, you'll find it hard to believe that this breath-taking new Plymouth is a low-priced car instead of a much more expensive make. And when you see and drive it you'll prove to yourself that this Plymouth is actually three full years ahead of anything in its field. For example, there's the unequalled comfort of Torsion-Aire Ride that tames any road . . . the surging power of the mightiest V-8 in the low-price 3—now up to 290 hp . . . the extra safety of Total-Contact Brakes. # Mustangs Look to Holly after Losing Opener, 62-44

Plymouth Wins in a Walk; Northville Fails to Click

"Why couldn't you do that against Plymouth?" was the byword this week as coach Stan Johnston put his Northville Mustang cagers through their practice paces.

It was a timely question, for the Mustangs were still licking their wounds from a 62-44 defeat by Plymouth Friday night in which the Northville basketball squad never quite seemed to click.

Behind from the start, the Mustangs appeared jittery and unsure throughout the game except for a brief third-quarter spurt.

Northville played Plymouth on even terms (19 points for the Rocks, 17 for the Mustangs) in the third period, but other than that Plymouth ran away with the game. First quarter score was 10-6, while it stood at 24-18 at the half. The Rocks wrapped up the game with a 21-point total in the final period.

High scorer for Northville was guard Mac Burns, who dumped in five field goals and two free throws for a total of 12. For Plymouth, forward Ken Calhoun matched Burns' output.

The Mustangs' accuracy left much to be desired as they managed to hit on only 23 percent of their shots.

"If we could have scored on about 35 percent of them—as we did last year—it could have been a different story," Johnston said.

The Mustang coach took no credit away from Plymouth.

"They just plain ran its ragged," Johnston said. "Plymouth has about 10 men of equal ability, whereas we had to go with only 10 players on the entire team. After awhile, Plymouth's ability to substitute and keep the pressure on got the best of us." Johnston conceded that the Mustangs were not in mid-season form. But once the jitters wear off and sureness of play comes to the squad, their play should improve, he added.

"We made a lot of mistakes," the Mustang coach said, "but part of the loss was due to the defense Plymouth used. We had been practicing a man-to-man defense, but for the first time in years they threw a zone-defense at us. And it worked."

The Mustangs this week were working hard in preparation for their opener against Holly—and included in the strategy was an offense keyed against a zone defense.

"It looks as if our opponents will keep using that against us this year because of our height," Johnston said. "But if we can get ahead and make them come to us for the ball, so that the center is opened up, then maybe we will have a bit of operating room."

"But with the center bottled up as it was by Plymouth, there isn't much we can do," Johnston added.

Northville will journey to Holly Friday night for its league opener, and then will meet West Bloomfield next Tuesday on their home court in the community building.

UP THEY GO — Northville's white-uniformed forward Dan Howell (32) and center Bill Yahne (23) go up after a rebound in Friday's opener against Plymouth, won by the Rocks 62-44. Despite the Mustangs' height, Plymouth consistently kept control of the backboards as they coasted to the easy victory over the jittery and inaccurate Northville squad.

Conference Play Begins

With a week end of non-conference games under their belts, six of the seven Wayne-Oakland teams will swing into a full round of league basketball this Friday.

Northville will meet Holly while Brighton takes on West Bloomfield and Clarkston tackles Milford. Clarenceville goes to Farmington for a non-league affair.

Last week, three league teams emerged with opening victories against non-conference opponents. Clarenceville beat Oak Park, 54-27, while Brighton hung a 48-31 defeat on Pinckney. Clarkston also came through handily as the Wolves dumped Ortonville 67-57.

Northville was the only W-O team to lose, as the Mustangs succumbed to Plymouth, 62-44. Three Wayne-Oakland teams were scheduled for non-conference games Tuesday night, but results were not available at press time. The games: Brighton vs. South Lyon, Clarkston vs. Waterford and Holly vs. Hartland.

What's it Got that Everyone's After?

WE figured folks would go for the '57 Buick—and big.

But we sure didn't figure this—the most rousing reception we've ever seen in all our years of selling new Buicks.

We're getting more enthusiastic talk—along with the signed orders—than ever before. And, neighbor, if you want to know why—listen:

This '57 Buick has that sleek low-sweep styling that today's moderns want—and it's here in extra-long measure, in the lowest Buick yet.

It has the room they want—for Buick's new wide-frame chassis permits a sports-car silhouette with more interior roominess than even last year's spacious Buicks.

It has newness everywhere, and newness that's wanted...

A smart new panoramic windshield. The surety of a new "nested" ride. A brilliant new handling and leveled braking that come of an ingenious new ball-joint suspension. It even has a new Safety-Minder* that watches your miles-per-hour for you.

But even more important, this rakish sweep of automobile has a new kind of instant response—and that's the biggest reason for the soaring popularity of the newest Buick yet.

For here is performance—smooth as spun silk—unleashed by a totally new V8 engine 364 cubic inches big, and with the highest compression, torque and horsepower in Buick annals.

And here, to deliver that might, is the power-pitch action of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* A Dynaflo of such instantaneous obedience, such smooth and versatile control in "Drive"—the need for "Low" is virtually ended.

In all truth, you've never bossed a car so keenly alive, so smooth in motion, so solid in feel. It's ahead of its time, ahead of the industry—even ahead of your great expectations.

Come check up on all this. Come drive this shoulder-high sweetheart—today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder standard on Roadmaster, optional other Series.

Some Parents Are Not Grown Up

If I were to ask a teenager this question, "Are your parents good to you?" the answer would be, "Yes, they are." If I asked another question, "Are they too good to you?" the response would come quickly, "Don't be facetious. How could parents be too good?" Actually you've probably never given this much thought. It's true that your parents have been on the giving side ever since you were born. A few crocodile tears or a bit of high-pressure coaxing

Practical Religion To Be Discussed At Detroit Meeting

Meetings Planned To Tell Problems Of Mental Health

A series of meetings to inform the public of the problems of mental health employees and patients will begin soon throughout the state, with one scheduled for Northville early next year.

The meetings will be sponsored by the Mental Health Policy Committee of the Michigan State Employee's Council No. 7 of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO).

Exact date of the Northville meeting will be announced later.

The committee includes two representatives from each state mental hospital as well as two from Wayne county institutions. It was a dual role of elevating the status of mental health employees and improving the care of patients.

Three employees of Northville State hospital are members of the committee. They include vice-chairman Conrad Springer, who heads the union's local at the hospital, treasurer Nellie Bowen and Norine Leudtke.

In addition, committee members include Leonard Leudtke of the Wayne County Training School and Glen Coleman of Wayne County General hospital.

A spokesman for the group said Northville residents should be particularly interested in the programs, since figures show a greater degree of mental health activity in the Northville area than anywhere else in the state.

Model Train Exhibit Steals Show

The Soviet-sponsored 1955 "World Youth Festival" in East Berlin went floozy when thousands of the Reds hustled over to see an American model train exhibit set up by West Berlin's mayor as a counter attraction.

Christmas Fantasy Opens At the Ford Rotunda Again

The fourth annual Ford Rotunda Christmas Fantasy, one of the largest and most elaborate Yuletide shows in America, was opened to the public in Dearborn recently.

The 1956 exhibit fills the entire Rotunda. The center is entirely occupied by the Nativity scene, with life-size figures of Mary and Joseph, the Christ child and the Wise men of the East. Animal figures also are full scale.

The religious theme of the show is carried out further by a simulated cathedral facade at the east entrance of the Rotunda center court. Visitors enter the Nativity scene through the cathedral doors.

Carillons in the top of the 40-ft. cathedral spires ring at intervals, and recorded Christmas music in stereophonic sound comes from choir lofts occupied with mannequin singers.

The Rotunda theater this year features continuous showings of Mickey Mouse movies in cinema-scope.

More than 1,500 dolls which have been dressed by members of the Ford Girls' club for later distribution to underprivileged children, fill a portion of the Rotunda perimeter court.

Other attractions include a barn dance performed by animated characters dressed as Santa Claus' helpers, and a merry-go-round with toy tractors hitched to reindeer.

The west side of the Rotunda display court is occupied by life-like characters of fairy tale—Wee Willie Winkle, Puss-in-Boots, Robin Hood, Hansel and Gretel and the famous cow jumping over the moon.

The Rotunda is open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays, and from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sundays. The building closes from 3 p.m. Christmas Eve until Wednesday, December 26.

Beware Carbon Monoxide Poisoning, Northville and Novi Drivers Warned

This is the time of year when carbon monoxide declares open season on human beings, Northville and Novi residents were warned this week.

Carbon monoxide is a dangerous and silent killer, the Michigan Department of Health advised. It sneaks up on its victims and suffocates them before they realize they are being attacked.

Accidental deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning show a sharp increase when the weather turns cold, the health department said. One reason for the seasonal upsurge is the habit — often fatal — some people have of running their car's engine inside the garage with the garage doors closed.

Other leading causes of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning are faulty mufflers and tailpipes on cars and trucks, improper venting of home space heaters, and improper ventilation of factories and workshops.

Carbon monoxide creeps up silently because it can't be seen, smelled, or tasted. Besides being odorless and colorless it has no irritating and therefore warning effect on the nose, throat or eyes.

Carbon monoxide is formed whenever materials containing carbon are incompletely burned because of insufficient oxygen. Common fuels containing carbon are coal, gasoline, natural gas, oil and wood.

If the amount of carbon monoxide in the air being breathed is small, a person may notice a tight feeling across the forehead. This is followed by a throbbing headache, dizziness, a flushed face and redness of the eyeballs. The person may become sick enough to vomit.

Finally he passes out and, if he continues to breathe the gas, dies.

If the carbon monoxide concentration in the air being breathed is high, death can result in a few minutes and without warning symptoms.

Carbon monoxide enters the body through the lungs and is absorbed by red blood cells in preference to oxygen, which the blood cells normally carry to the tissues to sustain life. Thus carbon monoxide actually kills by suffocation.

Persons found unconscious from carbon monoxide should be carried into the fresh air. A doctor should be called immediately and artificial respiration started. The patient's clothing should be loosened and he should be kept warm. It will help to rub his hands and feet.

If he regains consciousness before a doctor arrives he should be kept at rest. Many persons have died because of trying to resume normal activities too quickly after being overcome by carbon monoxide. Medical treatment following non-fatal cases of poisoning may last four or five weeks.

Carbon monoxide poisoning can be avoided by following a few simple rules, the health department said. These include:

1. Open the garage doors before starting a car inside a garage.
2. Check the muffler and tailpipe of your car or truck for leaks. In winter, drive with at least one window partially open. It is particularly important to open windows when parking with the engine running.
3. Vent all space heaters to the outside.
4. Always ventilate a room in which a gas space heater is being used.
5. Don't burn propane or butane gases in stoves designed for natural gas, or vice versa.
6. Check furnaces annually for leaks and poor fittings.
7. In factories and other indoor work areas, take air samples frequently.

In guarding against this unseen killer, the health department said. It is better to be conscious about carbon monoxide than unconscious from carbon monoxide.

News of Northville High School

Debaters Join in Tournament

Last Saturday the Debate team of Northville high school traveled to Thurston high school in Redford.

Here they participated in the first practice tournament conducted in the Wayne-Oakland county area. This was an experiment that proved to be extremely successful and beneficial, to all debaters.

Northville, Thurston, Cranbrook, Hazel Park, Troy, Avondale, Dominican, Farmington, Inkster, Shrine of the Little Flower, Warren and the University of Detroit were the schools represented.

The debaters who participated for Northville high school were Lillian Zinicker, Becky Coolman, Sandy Strasen, Bill Chizmar, Phyllis Buonticonto, Chuck Hix, Kathy Farley, Diane Luchtway, Claire St. John, Fred Schwartz, David Nash and Marianne King.

Last year Northville's team went as far as the state quarter finals — and they show much promise this year, reports indicate.

Seniors Sponsor Basketball Bounce

A dance, aptly named the "Basketball Bounce" followed the opening basketball game between Northville and Plymouth last Friday night.

Plymouth, however, beat the Mustangs and the "Basketball Bounce" flattened out at the start. But soon the student band playing at the dance consoled the low spirits of the team and students.

Every so often, a "bang" echoed throughout the gym, mingled with the music of the band. It's becoming a custom to burst all balloons used as decoration for dances.

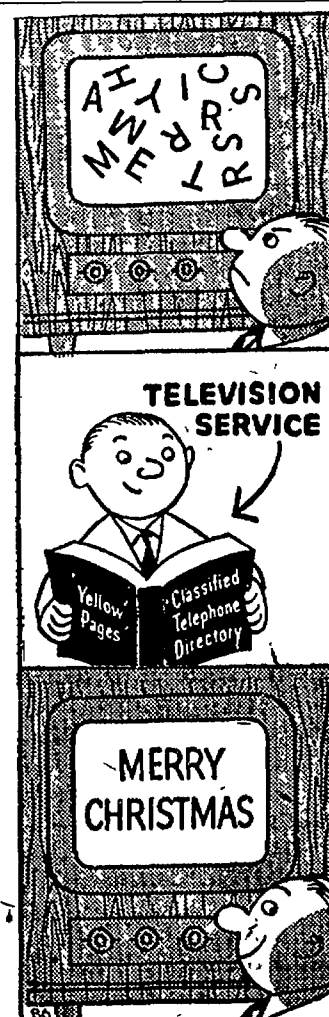

The dance was sponsored by the senior class in the old gym in the high school building. There will be more dances of the same nature throughout the basketball season.

"Hoof Prints"

"Mustang Hoof Prints" is prepared and written by the Northville high school students under the supervision of Miss Florence Panattoni.

LIT Representative Tells NHS Students About Engineering

Edward E. Wood, instructor and counselor of the Detroit board of education from the Lawrence Institute of Technology, recently visited Northville school.

His purpose was to talk with all students interested in entering courses in engineering after graduation.

The Lawrence Institute, located at Ten Mile and Northwestern highways, is a small college and has many advantages for the students in this area who are interested and plan on going into engineering, Wood said.

Wood pointed out that the college facilitated every phase of engineering with its college of engineering, industrial management program and the technical institute.

Students may attend evening course if preferred, but it was stressed to attend day classes if possible because of the overcrowded evening classes.

Oh Joyous Day: It's Time Again For Report Cards

The second marking period of the school year has ended for junior and senior high school students.

There were mixed feelings among the students as this milestone was passed, for the report cards will be handed out this Friday. Each teen-ager is feeling either eager or apprehensive as the "big day" approaches, for each is fairly sure of what the final verdict will be.

Many will be proud and triumphant as they show their cards to their parents, but many are already planning ways to try to minimize the importance of their not-so-good marks!

"Cinder"—That is, "Flush"—Stole Show at Senior Play

As the curtain rose last night on the senior play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", the audience saw not only an invalid Elizabeth Barrett and a concerned Doctor Chambers, but also a small, black cocker spaniel.

This canine show-stealer is christened Cinderella Maltby I and is three years old. Her owner is Allan Maltby, a graduate of Northville high school.

Cinder, as she is called for short, played the part of "Flush", Elizabeth Barrett's pet dog. It is an important role, for "Flush" was one of the few real comic-forts to Miss Barrett during her long years of illness.

Cinder - alias - Flush was a source of amusement and distraction to the seniors as they rehearsed because of her tendency to whine pitifully for her master or to leap suddenly out of her basket in the midst of a scene. For the most part, however, Cinder was a regular trouper, and the seniors felt she added greatly to the interest and enjoyment of their production.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be presented, complete with dog, again at 8 p.m. in the Community Building to-forts to Miss Barrett during her

Bonus Checks Await Korean Vets

MISSING — 23,000 Michigan Veterans! That's the number who have yet to apply for their state Korean bonus.

Maj. Gen. George C. Moran, state adjutant general, warns that the time is now growing short. According to the terms of the act, formal application must be in the mails before midnight of March 6, 1957.

Except for stragglers, most of the Michigan bonus money is paid. General Moran states that payments now total more than $56 million to some 204,170 veterans. There were 3,948 claims rejected and 1,646 are still being processed.

When the state bonus act first took effect, 14 Army officers and 177 civil service employees were needed to handle the avalanche of claims. Now only one officer and 14 civilian employees remain on the staff.

About 35 to 50 claims are received weekly. At this rate only some 700 will be received by the March 6 deadline. The question remains: where are the 22,300 other eligible veterans?

"CHRISTMAS TREE Boulevard," a stretch of US Highway 27 in Otsego County, is once again open for a one month season that will provide an ultimate $5 million crop and happiness in thousands of homes throughout the state.

Ordinarily a normal part of the state highway system, Christmas Tree Boulevard gets its name from the many trucker's depots that once each year set up shop, stockpiling the sweet-smelling greenery that means Christmas throughout southern Michigan and parts of Ohio and Indiana.

Some 1,350,000 trees make up the 1956 crop. By December 14 most will be in city lots or already reaching homes for decoration.

While the selling season is short — approximately one month — it is the result of long years of hard work in a risky business. A scotch pine may bring around $1.75 at depots, but first it must survive eight years of weather, insects and fire.

That $1.75 isn't all profit either. Such expenses as taxes, spraying, cutting and trucking costs must be deducted first. And there is no accurate guide to anticipate the market in advance. Some years, supply can't begin to meet the demand. Other years the market may be glutted with trees.

The Yuletide tradition that makes the Christmas tree an important part of every home, also makes a valuable annual crop for Michigan.

THE "BOILER ROOM" salesmen are busy again in Michigan. Latest story comes from Grand Rapids where they sold more than 100,000 booklets supposedly "for" Kent county civil defense. Now the complaints are rolling in to the city's Better Business Bureau.

A boiler room salesman gets his name from the operation he carries on — usually from a temporary office using a telephone to make all contacts. In the trade they're called "phonemen."

Operating just within the law, the professional phoneman finds civic organizations, businessmen and the general public easy pickings.

His method follows a similar pattern wherever he sets up operations. First he finds a civic organization or some legitimate group who wants to raise money for a worthy cause or promote a worthwhile project. He promises the group he will do the job "professionally" and raise more money than could be obtained otherwise. The gimmick: he gets a percentage of all the money pledged.

Next step is to start telephoning. It may be calls to merchants to "sell" advertising or it may be to the general public asking for "pledges" of money for the worthy cause. Phonemen use the name of the organization freely and drop names of well known local personages to warm-up their "victims".

They collect their percentage as soon as they finish, move on to another town and leave the civic group to collect all the "pledges" as well as the woes that follow. In the case of pledges, many groups learn to their sorrow that they have a difficult time collecting the money once the professionals are gone.

The Civil Defense booklet in Grand Rapids is a typical example. There, they promised that the book would be "local" in nature and assured officials that no boiler room tactics would be used.

They followed up their "promises" by selling 600 local merchants 150 of the books at $49.50 for distribution to customers. Each manual was to have the merchant's name on it.

Instead of providing the booklets, merchants received 150 stickers to distribute. Customers had to send to a firm in Illinois for the book. When it was received, the original mailing sticker with the merchant's name was stuck to the book to fulfill the promise of the "name imprint".

Of course, if not all 150 orders were mailed in, the Illinois company didn't have to apply that many manuals.

What's your best defense against the phonemen? The Better Business Bureau urges common sense caution.

Know the organization or charity requesting the donation. If you are a merchant, be careful of special advertising schemes. When you have doubts, call to your local BBB, Chamber of Commerce or newspaper may keep your money out of the "phonemen's" pocket.
