

Flood Danger Slight In Northville -- So Far

Northville is not in immediate danger of a flood disaster, but conditions are getting worse each year and must soon be tackled.

That was the opinion this week of City Manager John Robertson following recent published articles on the danger of flood conditions in the River Rouge basin.

"It would be senseless to say that Northville couldn't be hit by floods this spring," said Robertson, "for there is always that possibility. But the danger doesn't seem as great here as it is in Livonia or Garden City, where they have real cause to worry."

But Robertson stressed that flood conditions are developing in Northville each year and that before long something must be done to meet them.

The flood warnings were published by the Detroit Free Press last week. A four-article series, based on U.S. Corps of Engineers and University of Michigan studies, warned gravely that the River Rouge basin—with 700,000 inhabitants—is reaching a perilous state.

Northville lies on the northwest fringe of the danger area, which centers in the Livonia-Dearborn-Garden City region.

Robertson noted that Northville waters come from the Upper River Rouge out of Walled Lake rather than the more dangerous Middle River Rouge to the south.

"But in a few years," he added, "we may be just as bad off — especially if the area to the north of Northville is developed."

Robertson explained that increased danger comes from new homes, roads and sidewalks which prevent water from seeping into the ground. Furthermore, new sewers carry water to rivers much faster than natural drainage.

The city manager recently discussed flood conditions in Northville with University of Michigan flood experts. They agreed that the city is not in immediate danger of disaster, but that conditions are getting worse.

Robertson said the problem is being studied by the Corps of Engineers and the Wayne County Road Commission, but no area-wide flood authority has been set up. Federal government approval would be needed to set up such an authority, he said.

Meanwhile, Northville apparently has a civil defense organization that could swing into action in a flood alert.

According to Northville civil defense head Oscar Hammond, limited medical supplies and certain equipment is available. In addition, doctors are standing by in case of emergency.

Hammond said emergency rescue teams are still needed, however.

Commenting such emergency measures, Robertson said that even communities with elaborate civil defense plans must rely heavily on neighboring communities for aid when such disasters strike.

Ice Skating Races To Be Run Sunday

Speed skaters here were again hoping for a break from the weatherman this week as they sharpened their skates in preparation for the annual speed races Sunday.

The race originally scheduled for last Sunday, will be held this Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Northville mill pond.

Spring-like thaws and rains early last year, followed by several inches of snow, made the mill pond unsuitable and prevented scraping of the ice by tractors, according to Northville Recreation Director Stan Johnston.

The races, sponsored by the recreation department and the Northville Optimist club, will include 40 events in seven age categories for both boys and girls.

Winners will receive trophies, and second and third place winners will be given medals.

Greener Pasture

Three Northville residents — Cornelius, Adequate and Captain — have found new homes on the sun-baked plains of Mexico.

The three are Brown Swiss bulls, recently sold to cattle ranches in Vera Cruz by Edward W. Porath, Brown Swiss breeder from Water Cress Farm in Northville.

Justice Talbot Smith to Speak At Judge Bowles' Testimonial

"The Law and the Courts" will be the subject of an address by Justice Talbot Smith Tuesday evening at a testimonial dinner for Judge George E. Bowles of the Wayne Circuit court.

Smith will be the principle speaker at the Mayflower hotel dinner in Plymouth to honor Judge Bowles as the only out-county resident serving on the Wayne Circuit court. John Coyle, Burroughs corporation industrial relations director, will be toastmaster. Invitations have been extended to civic leaders from Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, Redford, Canton, Nankin and Wayne. According to Chairman Nat Sibbold of Plymouth, only 125 guests can be accommodated for the dinner. Additional seats will be available following the 7 o'clock dinner, Sibbold said.

Justice Smith is a member of the State Supreme court. He attended the U.S. Naval Academy and after 14 years of active service entered the University of Michigan Law School in 1931. During World War II he had charge of OPA litigation. Smith has practiced law in Detroit and Ann Arbor and taught law at the Universities of Missouri and California.

Judge Bowles, a resident of Plymouth, was recently appointed.

Justice Talbot Smith

ed to the Wayne Circuit court after serving as state labor mediator and chairman since 1951. He will seek nomination to his new position on February 18.

Water, Sewer Contract Signed by City, D & R

The City of Northville entered into a contract last Thursday evening with the D & R Building company to assure water and sewer services for a proposed 200-home subdivision.

The contract ended long negotiations complicated by the legal status of the 100-acre site in which the subdivision will be located.

Icy Incident

Bud Hartner is having his troubles with the mill pond.

Two weeks ago he had to jump to safety when Northville's giant eight-ton road grader cracked through the ice at the pond and sank to the bottom.

Then last week, while searching for cushions that had been lost in the break-through, Hartner found himself immersed in the frigid water.

Sinking to his neck, the public works supervisor grabbed onto the ice and pulled himself out — wet and cold, but safe. He didn't find the cushions.

According to R. P. Beneicke, partner in the building company, the guarantee of services by the city will pave the way to construction of homes this spring. He estimated that 50 homes will be built this year. The subdivision will have paved streets, sidewalks, curb and gutter, and sewer and water facilities.

Until the Oakland county circuit court hands down its decision the site of the subdivision lies in a virtual "no man's land". The area is located north of Baseline and west of Novi road. It was annexed by the city of Northville from Novi township last June but has been tied-up in a legal argument since.

The annexation election was protested by Warren Products company, whose firm lies within the annexed site. They have changed the election to be illegal. Counsel for Warren and the city have submitted briefs following the trial and now await the court's decision.

To obtain proper financing so that it might begin its building program D & R needed assurance that its sewer and water facilities would be serviced by the city. The possibility that the area might not become a part of the city necessitated the drafting of a special contract.

The lengthy six-page document provides the city with assurance that the homes will meet all specifications of the city's building code. The contractor also guarantees: to construct homes with a minimum living area of 840 feet; obtain city building permits; lay and construct all sewer and water lines from the city mains (which will be extended to the southern boundary of the subdivision); develop all streets within the subdivision and share equally in the cost with the city the development of all streets bordering the subdivision.

The contract specifies that the builder will lay sanitary and storm sewer lines of adequate size to enable the city to furnish sewer service to that portion of Oakwood subdivision which is either not now served or whose service is inadequate. It also provides that sufficient land within the subdivision be sold to the city for locating a municipal well site.

After examining the document carefully the council approved a motion by Councilman Malcolm Allen to accept the contract.

Mayor Claude Ely and Clerk Mary Alexander signed for Northville. Beneicke signed for D & R.

Councilmen were unanimous in their praise of the building firm and the efforts of the company officials to reach proper agreement.

25 City Officials Meet in Northville To Study Planning

Northville played host last week to some 25 city officials from nearby towns who met regularly to study city planning problems.

The group gathers twice a month to delve into planned discussions of problems ranging from what to do about railroad crossings to how to improve sewage disposal.

The 13-session program is set up by the International City Manager's Association. The local group has about four sessions left.

City officials at Northville last week included representatives of Brighton, Farmington, Holly, Plymouth, Garden City and other cities in the nearby area, according to Northville City Manager John Robertson.

A typical session might include a discussion of such utility problems as how to protect railroad crossings or how to insure safety around gas main cuts in streets, Robertson said.

The program also calls for "homework" — which usually involves relating a general problem to each official's own city, he added.

Clothing Collection Planned Next Week

Children of Northville are getting new homework.

School Superintendent Russell Amerman said today, "Our students will be collecting used clothing for ragged little boys and girls after school every day next week — Monday through Friday. This is our contribution to Save the Children Federation's Bundle Drive."

The superintendent explained, "Save the Children Federation is an international agency helping youngsters both in this country and overseas. These Bundle Drives have been held for the past 14 years in schools throughout the United States."

Last year Bundle Drives amassed more than 800 tons of clothing and benefitted thousands of persons in need. Last winter — Europe's worst of the century — the Federation rushed 60,000 pounds of warm garments to France, Greece and Italy.

The Federation last year also made emergency shipments to earthquake and hurricane victims in Greece and Mexico. Over the past four years, the Federation has sent more than 200,000 pounds to Korea alone.

The superintendent urged donations of long-sleeved sweaters, shirts, pants, dungarees, overalls, hats, knit caps, cotton dresses, underwear, socks, pajamas, cloth coats, sheets, blankets, diapers, baby shirts, booties, rubbers, overalls, and work shoes.

Children's clothing is especially wanted, but infant and adult wear are also welcomed. Donations must be clean, wearable and mended if necessary.

MOTHERS' MARCH — Scenes like this will be repeated throughout Northville tonight as local mothers go out on their annual campaign against polio. They will stop wherever a porchlight is on. Here Mrs. Richard Hackett accepts a contribution from Mrs. William Davis.

Early Morning Fire Hits Casterline Funeral Home

Damages totaling "several thousand dollars" resulted from an early morning fire at the Casterline Funeral Home Wednesday. Firemen fought the flames at 122 West Dunlap for nearly four hours.

According to Fire Chief William McGee, a faulty transformer on the building's neon sign caused the 4 a.m. blaze.

Polio Dance Attended by 150

Approximately 75 Northville couples attended the March of Dimes polio dance sponsored by the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce last Saturday night at the Community building.

Final reports of the amount to be turned over to the March of Dimes from the dance have not yet been announced, as all ticket reports from JayCee members are not in.

According to JayCee President Fred Kester, the total so far is $25.

Robertson Speaks To Optimist Club

A first-hand description of what goes into making a city run smoothly was given the Northville Optimist club last night by City Manager John Robertson.

Robertson's address was one of a series in which he has explained the position of the city manager to local service clubs.

The fire was first noticed by an employee of an all-night restaurant who was enroute to work. He notified Fred Casterline who turned in the alarm.

The flames traveled from the transformer through the ceiling of the first floor. According to Casterline most damage was done in the new addition at the home. Only the main chapel escaped serious damage. Smoke and water caused most damage.

Casterline reported that an exact estimate of loss could not be made, but it would run into "several thousand dollars."

Extreme cold weather could be blamed for a second fire call Wednesday morning. At 10 a.m. firemen were called to Eastlawn Resthaven. They reported that frozen pipes in the home's fire-prevention sprinkler system set off the alarms. No damage was done.

Mothers' Polio March Scheduled for 7:00 p.m.

With a flip of a switch Northville residents can do their part to aid the fight against infantile paralysis.

Tonight (Thursday) between seven and eight o'clock Northville mothers will march for polio. They'll call at every house that has its porchlight glowing to receive contributions for the March of Dimes.

The Mothers' March traditionally wind-up to the month-long drive, is conducted throughout Wayne county and will find more than 50,000 women participating.

Local chairman for the Mothers' March is Mrs. Edward Angove. Her crew of mothers will be attempting to top last year's total of $1,396.45 collected on the porchlight drive.

The Mothers' March, traditionally provides the biggest share of money collected for polio. Last year a total of $2,684.22 was contributed in the month-long campaign.

According to Mrs. Angove, the marching mothers will leave a card this year which will serve as a family record of vaccine shots. It contains spaces for names of the members of the family as well as spaces for filling in the dates of the three vaccine shots needed for immunity against polio.

General chairman for the March of Dimes drive in Northville is Mrs. J. W. Reynolds. She reported that, although no goal has been set for the drive, campaign directors are hopeful that a record total can be reached this year.

Members of the Northville Mothers' club will conduct tonight's march. Don't forget them. Do your part to help the campaign against the dread disease. Flip that switch between seven and eight.

Easter Seal Drive To Begin in March

The 1957 Easter Seal campaign in behalf of crippled children and adults will run from March 15 to April 21, John F. Stubbenvoll, chairman of the appeal in the Northville area, has announced.

The 24th annual appeal is expected to be the most extensive campaign in the history of the Wayne Out-County Chapter, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

Easter Seals will reach more than 3,250 homes in the Northville area. Mailing will begin around March 15.

"The appeal will give Northville residents an opportunity to contribute funds for maintaining and expanding services badly needed to help crippled children and adults right in our own community," Stubbenvoll said. "The support of the entire community will be needed."

The goal for the Northville area has been set at $1500. Approximately 90 percent of the funds raised during the annual Easter Seal campaign finances services within the state where raised. The remainder goes to help support a national program of service, education and research.

760' on the Dial

Parents of Northville and Novi school children were advised this week to turn on their radios on blustery mornings for news of schools closing.

Station WJR will broadcast school closing notices on news programs at 6, 7 and 8 a.m. and intermittently during music programs.

The station will accept notices only when told a special code number, in case over-eager students should decide to call in an announcement themselves.

May Seek Firms For Sponsorship Of JA Activities

A local Junior Achievement leader said this week that Northville and Novi firms may be contacted soon for possible sponsorship of new JA chapters in the area.

Sam Hudson, vice president of Evans Products Company in Plymouth and JA chairman for the Northville - Plymouth - Livonia area, said the move may be made as part of a month-long, fund-raising campaign due to begin next week.

At present, there are six active JA groups in the area, sponsored primarily by Plymouth industries.

Many Northville boys and girls take part in the program, however.

Junior Achievement is a national program under which teenagers form miniature corporations — making products, carrying on corporate business, advertising, merchandising, and doing all functions necessary to a successful company.

Hudson also announced the appointment of Frank Henderson as financial chairman for the forthcoming fund campaign. Henderson is co-owner of Plymouth Plating Works in Plymouth.

"Those of us in industry and commerce know the importance of the Junior Achievement movement to boys and girls from Plymouth, Bentley and Northville high schools who use the local center in Plymouth for their operations," said Henderson.

Downs' Official Dies Suddenly

Harold Dennison, a pioneer in Northville Downs and a familiar figure to many Northville residents, died in New York City Monday following an operation.

Mr. Dennison was 62. He was to be buried today in Buffalo, New York.

Mr. Dennison was a partner in the Downs and a member of the executive committee.

So Racing Pays! Downs Earned $983 in '56

So you think horse racing pays. What about a track that earns $983 during an entire season?

That's what the annual State Racing Commission report shows as the earnings of Northville Downs during 1956.

It was a comedown of about 99 percent from 1955 when the Downs, led all other harness tracks with earnings of $103,044.

But before harness enthusiasts start pulling up stakes and looking for a more profitable business, they should check a footnote on the report. It explains that the Downs charged off $196,078 for depreciation.

That paints quite a different picture. In fact, it means 1956 was a pretty good year for the Downs after all.

The depreciation figure for 1956 was some $116,000 higher than the $80,928 charged off in 1955. Looking at it one way, that could mean the Downs actually earned more than in 1955.

The annual report, in which commissioner James H. Inglis computed almost everything that is computable about racing, had some other interesting things to say about 1956 at the Downs.

For example, the Downs had a total income of $1,050,293 from track commissions, admissions, and concessions. It ranked about one-third behind Wolverine and Hazel Park.

The Downs paid out some $335,954 in purses, again placing behind Wolverine and Hazel Park.

The year was a record-breaker in at least one respect, as the Downs had an average daily handle of $255,843 to top the 1955 previous high of $251,808.

But the total handle for the year dropped to $9,954,509 from a 1955 high of $9,568,720. This was due primarily to fewer dates, as the Downs had 35 days in 1956 as against 38 in 1955.

Attendance figures show the same story — a lower total but higher average. Though the total dropped from 217,034 in 1955 to 202,373 in 1956, the actual daily average moved slightly upward from 5,711 to 5,782.

In both daily attendance and daily handle, the Downs thus showed gains on slightly over one percent.

The report showed that for 1956, the Downs represented $358,180 in the pari-mutuel six percent tax and $64,492 in one-half breakage. And for the fiscal year 1955-56, the city of Northville received $84,534 in wagering tax rebates.

No surprise to racing fans is that the number one post position was best at the Downs, as 19 percent of the 315 races were won from that position. Next best was the fourth position followed by second and third.

Of harness drivers with 50 or more races to their credit, Jack Ackerman led the pack. He had a 43 percent win-place-show record for his 61 starts.

Of drivers with more than 200 races, Foy Fundenbunk has a 29.5 percent showing, followed closely by Tom Winn with 29.3 percent.

Inglis noted that total wagering and attendance at Michigan tracks reached an all-time high last year, with wagering up 7 percent and attendance up 7.9.

More than $7,534,000 was collected in racing tax revenue, he added.

The racing commissioner also reported that drastic changes in racing dates at all tracks but the Downs and Jackson Raceway had "good" public response.

(The Downs this year also will have completely different dates this year — April 10 through June 1, instead of the traditional summer months.)

Inglis' report also made note of the August 2 "fixed" race at the Downs which led to the suspension of a driver and an owner, and his denial of a request by Mark Leach for thoroughbred racing dates at the Downs this year.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

KINDNESS
A mother lay dying, and her oldest son, as he knelt by her bedside cried: "You have been a good mother to us." The dying woman opened her eyes and with a feeble smile whispered, "You never said so before, John!" and the next moment she breathed her last.

The lesson, of course, is this. If there are kind words to be spoken, let us speak them today, while our loved ones are yet with us. If there are loving deeds to be done, let us do them now. As one has well said: "A nice epitaph on a tombstone can bring no cheer to the person who has passed on."

HOW AND WHERE DO WE LEARN TO BE KIND?
The Bible has the answer to this question, as it has the answer to all important questions. In Ephesians chapter 4 we read: "Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking be put away from you, with all malice; and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted," forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you." (vv. 31-32).

The kindest act that was ever done was when God gave His Son to be our Saviour. Although because of sin we deserved nothing but punishment, God reconciled us unto Himself through the innocent suffering and death of His Son. In and through Christ God pronounces man's sin forgiven and offers the gift of eternal life. Was there ever kindness like this?

KIND, NOT BITTER
Only the kindness of God can motivate us to be kind; for by nature there is no good in us. Do you feel bitterness instead of love in your heart? Harshness instead of tenderness? Do you want to be kind and yet find no power within you to be kind? Have you tried to be charitable and yet discover that words of malice emanate from your lips? With a repentant heart accept the forgiveness of God that is freely offered in the Gospel. The comfort and peace of God's pardon within you will give you the strength to begin a life of kindness.

Mustangs Take Eighth in a Row

Cagers Pin 51-47 Loss On Brighton

Northville met one of its severest tests of the season Friday night, but came out of it with another notch toward the Wayne-Oakland championship.

Playing before a sell-out partisan crowd at Brighton, and haunted by memories of their hard-earned victory five weeks ago, the Mustangs put on the pressure and led all the way in a solid 51-47 victory.

The win was a major hurdle in Northville's pursuit of the title and all but eliminates Brighton from contention.

It was Northville's eighth consecutive victory of the season, and confirms the Mustangs as one of the top teams in the state. Northville's league record now stands at 7-0, while its season's mark is 8-1.

Victory over Brighton came easier for the Mustangs this time, as they took the lead early and made their opponents come to them.

In contrast with their difficult 82-67 win over Brighton in December, in which they trailed at the half and relied on a third-quarter surge for victory, Northville made it clear early in the contest that they were out to win it.

The Mustangs jumped to a 14-7 lead and built it up to 25-16 at the half. Playing on even terms during the third period, Northville substituted freely during the closing minutes and let Brighton have a brief spurt of glory before the buzzer sounded.

High scorer for Northville was guard Bud Bell, who racked up 16 points in consistent drive-in shots.

The Mustangs' towering Jeff Goodrich put in 12, including four consecutive free throws in the second quarter. Goodrich, who scored 25 in the previous Brighton contest, was a marked man throughout the contest.

Game honors went to Brighton's Brian Watson, who dumped in 22 and was a constant threat from his center spot. Watson scored 26 in the last Northville-Brighton game, but managed to outwit the Mustang defense Friday.

Northville, which has banked heavily on accurate shooting this season, had trouble finding the basket much of the time. Though coming up with a respectable 30.8 percentage, the Mustangs were not as sharp as they have been during most of the season.

In the third quarter, the Mustangs slipped to 19 percent, making only three field goals.

The anticipated slowdown due to the absence of regular forward Dick Biery failed to come about. With Joe Kritch and Dan Howell filling the vacancy, the Mustangs' offense clicked as if the combination had been playing together all season.

Center Bill Yahne again had trouble with penalties and fouled out after racking up eight points.

Colts Get Revenge In Brighton Victory

The Northville junior varsity got sweet revenge Friday night by handing the Brighton JV its first loss in nine games this season.

After trailing at the first quarter, coach Al Jones' squad bottled up Brighton handily and went on to a 41-38 victory.

It made up for Brighton's 46-45 win earlier in the season, when Northville tumbled in the last seconds after leading for most of the game.

Brighton led 18-7 at the end of the first quarter, but Jones switched to a zone defense and stalled the Brighton attack in its tracks.

Scoring was evenly distributed among the Colts, with Bob Starnes counting for 11 and Fred Schrader and Nelson Schrader each notching 9.

The Colts' season record now stands at 5-4.

The "race" for the Wayne-Oakland championship has become almost a walkaway, with Northville more favored than ever to take the title.

Another team all but dropped from contention Friday night, leaving Clarkston the only squad with much of a hope of catching the high-flying Mustangs.

Latest team to fall by the wayside was Brighton, and Northville provided the fatal blow themselves in a 51-47 victory. Brighton, which started the season with five straight wins, now finds itself in an embarrassing third-place tie with Holly.

Clarkston, getting by Clarenceville, 52-46, kept pace with the Mustangs. But unless the Wolves can quickly make up the two-game deficit by which they now trail Northville, they too stand to become an also-ran.

To tie for the championship, Northville now must win only three of its remaining five games — two of which are against West Bloomfield and Milford. And those two teams have won only two games between them.

Clarkston, on the other hand, must face Brighton, Northville and Holly in quick succession — any or all of which could hand the Wolves a crippling loss.

Friday's schedule finds Clarenceville at Northville, while Holly goes to Brighton for a battle for third place. Elsewhere, second-place Clarkston is expected to have an easy time at West Bloomfield. Last-place Milford will be idle.

Injury Jinx Hits Cagers; Biery Is Out

Northville's championship hopes suffered a sharp setback last week with the news that forward Dick Biery will miss most of the remainder of the season.

Biery, who has sported a 13-point average, was put out of action with a broken thumb for four to six weeks.

He had just returned to practice after missing the Clarkston game two weeks ago because of a badly bruised ankle.

Coach Stan Johnston said he will replace Biery with Joe Kritch and Dan Howell, alternating them to meet shifts in opponents' offensive strategy.

Johnston also announced another change in the varsity lineup that had taken his team through seven straight wins.

Ed Wittenberg was brought up from the reserve to replace Nelson Schrader at center. Johnston said he felt Schrader would gain more experience and play more ball than he has as a member of the varsity. A sophomore, Schrader will have two years of varsity play left.

Johnston said he debated whether to bring up Wittenberg or hot-shooting Bob Starnes. He decided on Wittenberg, a junior, since Starnes is a sophomore and still has plenty of time to advance to the varsity.

Throughout the past decade, the University of Michigan has sought to increase the number of teachers and at the same time to maintain the scholarly distinction of its faculty.

Church in Plymouth
To Present Lecture

Liberation from disease, sin, and all discord through understanding and application of the unlimited power of God will be the topic of a lecture to be delivered in Plymouth on Monday, February 4 by Arch Bailey of San Francisco, California.

Mr. Bailey is currently on an extensive tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He will speak under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the church edifice at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Christian Science: A Science for Everyday Living". The public is invited to attend without charge.

A native of Kansas, Mr. Bailey has devoted his time to the practice of Christian Science healing since 1940. Prior to that he had a distinguished career in the field of music. He was a director of the music department of Iowa State college at Ames, and served on the faculty of the Horner Institute of Fine Arts, Kansas City, Missouri, and the Chicago Musical college. He served for two years as Christian Science Worker at the Preston School for delinquent boys in northern California.

Condemns Action
Of Board Member
At Basketball Game

To the Editor:

Mothers and fathers of Northville, this is an open letter to you.

I attended the two basketball games last Friday night in Brighton as I attend every home game in Northville. But Friday night I was really ashamed to see and hear what happened after the varsity game ended—which we won by four points to keep the streak going.

The game at Brighton filled the gym. After all, this was a key game. Then the game ended and we started across the gym floor toward the exit. A lot of arguing was going on near our coaches, so I went up to listen and this is what I heard and saw, as a lot of people did.

A member of our school board, Mr. Robert Coolman, and his son, who I understand doesn't reside in Northville at present, giving Coach Stan Johnston a going over.

Here is what went on and very loud. Mr. Coolman and son said Mr. Johnston was "numb from the shoulders up," he didn't know "how to run the basketball team," he was "dumb from the shoulders up the way he ran the team tonight."

When Coach Johnston tried to reason with Mr. Coolman, he opened his mouth very loud and said, "remember, Stan, I got you your job."

When a coach with a record like Stan Johnston's, and other coaches we have here, are doing the job, win or lose, have to be talked to, or scared by some school board member, then I don't want my boy playing high school sports.

I have been in sports all my life. I was in charge for three years of 4500 boys for the Chrysler recreation program in Detroit. I showed Councilman Bill Rogell how to start his baseball school in Detroit throughout the summer vacation and I worked for him one year. I was always a believer in good sports make good men later on in life.

What does school board member Robert Coolman want to do, coach the basketball team? Then let him. I know if we lose a coach like Stan Johnston, who I know is one of the very best, I would hate to see him pop up at some other school and play against Northville.

Mr. Joe Kritch

A Northville nurseryman served last week as program chairman for "Hortarama", the 1957 convention of nurserymen and landscapers in Detroit.

He was John Miller, of the Green Ridge in Northville. The two-day convention was co-sponsored by the Southeastern Association of Landscape Nurserymen and Landscape Association of Michigan.

- Different
Denominations -

Some people seem to be overly exercised by the number of different denominations found in Christendom today. Though the New Testament Churches did not bear the variety of names that we have today, we need not suppose that ever church believed everything exactly alike. Nor need we suppose further that they all conducted their services just alike. Since God has created such a variety of human beings who vary in likes and dislikes it would not be any wonder that there were some difference among them, even as there is today. However, we must be careful not to carry this toleration for differences to the place where it denies or compromises the clear teaching of the New Testament Scriptures. We are allowed no latitude on the one way to heaven through personal faith in Jesus Christ. Many scriptures teach us how we ought to conduct ourselves after we become Christians, with these plain passages there can be no difference. But as to the order of our services, the time of meeting, whether formal or informal are left to individuals in the local Church to decide. People ought to choose their place of worship by carefully comparing what they teach with the scriptures. Then their choice will be one of conviction rather than convenience.

Novi Home, Barn Damaged by Fire

An expensive Novi township ranch home suffered $2,000 damage last week when insulation between its walls began smoldering.

In a second blaze, a barn was totally destroyed by a fire believed started by transients. The ranch home at 41520 Eight Mile was damaged Saturday when a defective ash clean-out door caused three layers of between-wall insulation to start burning, according to director of public safety Lee BeGole.

Three Novi fire trucks answered the call and firemen put out the fire after ripping out the wall around the smoldering area.

The home was recently remodeled by its owner, Jan Reef. Reef told BeGole he thought at first the fire was started by defective wiring in the electrical heating system.

In the second fire, firemen were unable to save a barn at 26719 Meadowbrook road, but did save two smaller buildings on the property.

The barn was owned by Sam Stollman of Detroit.

A state fire marshal investigator reported to BeGole that the fire apparently was caused by transients living in the barn.

A Report to the People

Last week brought about the finishing touches to the organizational work of the Legislature. Committees were named and arrangements were made for their regular meeting dates. This week will see the first study of the bills before these various groups where they will either be killed or presented on the floor of the house.

About 90% of all the bills introduced actually die in committee and never get further consideration. The fact that speaker George Van Peursen saw fit to name me to the powerful State Affairs committee was a gratifying because almost 80% of all of the bills introduced to the Legislature must be approved by this committee.

Within its jurisdiction come matters pertaining to the creation of, amending or changing State Boards, Commissions, Departments, etc.; bills pertaining to State lands or property, licensing members of the various professions, setting license fees; compensation for board members; racing affairs; trade marks; unfair trade practices; motor vehicle sales finance act; small loan bills; interstate compacts; civil defense; historical shrines; capital punishment licensing nursing homes and homes for the aged; concessions in public buildings; private trade schools; motor vehicle drivers licenses; restricted licenses; etc.

In addition to being so honored by the speaker I was further honored by being named, out of our 116 members, chairman of one of the Legislature's 47 committees, namely mental hospitals which, of course, pleased me no end in view of the fact that the major Northville State Hospital is in my district. Other appointments, as announced last week, were the Public Utilities committee and the Federal Relations committee.

First among our local residents to call attention to legislation in which he was interested was jeweler David Agnew of Plymouth. Dave says all watchmakers and jewelers around this area belong to the watchmakers guild and would like to see a state board established for the same and all members licensed in the state. This will undoubtedly come before our State Affairs committee.

Redford township supervisor, Richard Manning, was also a visitor here on Thursday with proposed legislation to empower townships with the right to repair and construct sidewalks within their jurisdiction in the same manner cities now do. This legislation was submitted for forming and I shall introduce it within the next ten days, it being logical that an area growing as fast as Redford township, with its 57,000 residents should have some method of building and improving walks.

On Friday we ran into Livonia's Wolverine Harness Racing vice-president, Orlow G. Owen of Northville, who invited us into his beautiful suite at the Olds hotel where we watched our second showing of colored television for a brief half hour. While there we renewed acquaintances with Stanton Schaefer, also of Northville, who acts as legislative agent for Harness Racing in Lansing.

And, speaking of Northville, we strongly suspect Elmer Smith down in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida has devious thoughts in his mind in sending us last Sunday's special section of the Miami Herald which dealt almost exclusively with Florida's new turnpike. We'll bet he would like to see something of this nature in Michigan.

In the way of a prediction based entirely on speculation from the comments I have heard Republican Legislators make... There will be no legislation adopted this session which will increase costs to the taxpayers of this State and in this thinking they are most determined. I'm afraid I am on their team, too.

Methodist Men's Club To Sponsor Banquet

STATEMENT BY FRANK DAVIS to THE CITIZENS OF NOVI

In my statement of last week I promised a platform for this week. That was a mistake, for I have no platform to offer. But I have some ideas that I believe would lead to a solution of the many and complex problems facing all of us in Novi Township.

First, and the most aggravating problems, is the desire of our neighbors to cut us up like a pie at a Scotchmen's picnic and leave Novi a four block area around the post office. I would stop at nothing to prevent that. We may have to incorporate the whole township into a village and later a city. But before we could do that, I would suggest we tackle the sewer problem by setting up a committee of 19, consisting of outstanding land developers and engineers, representatives from the metropolitan development authority and managers of our local manufacturing companies — Paragon, Lincoln, Novi Specialty, etc., and some local businessmen with a few farmers.

I don't guarantee this, not Rip Ravel or run down at the heel, but I do think it would lead to a solution. More next week.

Since my statement of last week several people called me and wanted to know something about me, where I was born and one wanted to know why. Well, the facts are, I was born — (the reasons haven't yet been clearly defined) — in Missouri around the turn of the century. Dad was in the lumber business doing o.k. until he got wind of a young whippersnapper wearing thick glasses taking piano lessons up around Independence.

Dad thought, Holy Mackerel, with Frank playing the fiddle, if my brother Bill took up piano we would not be allowed to live in a civilized community. So he sold out and we moved to Oklahoma where we met Will Rogers. (We heard later that the piano player had a haberdashery store in Kansas City, never heard of him after that.) That was worth going to Oklahoma for. He was the finest man I ever knew. It was he who said, "I never met a man I didn't like." It could be said also that he never met a man that didn't like him.

Anyhow, I grew up there and when I was 19, Dad and I was having a talk, I was going to Alaska. Dad said, "son, you are as strong as an ox and sometimes I think you are just as smart, and if I were you, I would go to Detroit and get a job in one of them automobile factories," everybody is going to buy one of those things. So I came to Detroit, got a job at Lincoln's. Six months later they went broke. A year or so later Ford bought the Lincoln Company, and I've been there since.

In the meantime I met and married a little blond, who after 31 years has convinced me the Grandad was right when he said that a good woman was like a barrel of whiskey, both improved with age.

Vote as you please, but please vote. I'll congratulate the winner. I know absolutely nothing about politics and I offer this letter as convincing proof thereof. (Paid Political Advertisement)

Teen Dance Next Saturday Night

Next Saturday's teen dance at the Community building will feature an accordionist, Don Hanson, as entertainment for the evening.

Sponsored by the Recreation department and the Parent-Teachers Association, the teen dances are for grades nine through twelve and are now being organized as a club by the teen-agers, who will begin working on the dances themselves.

A record card to parents of their children's inoculations against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, small pox and polio will be enclosed with elementary school report cards this month.

The card also reminds parents of the next dates children should be inoculated with booster shots against the diseases.

WATER SOFTENERS

Factory rebuilt and refinished softeners of many well known makes at sensational prices. Sizes from 30,000 grains to 100,000 grains — from $50.00. All guaranteed. It is better to buy a good-reconditioned well known make of softener than a new one of unknown quality. These softeners have been traded in on new Reynolds Automatic softeners and we stand back of them.

It will pay you to see us before you buy any softener. Every type and size of manually controlled, semi-automatic and the wonderful Reynolds fully automatic softeners on display. You can't beat the best and you can't beat our values. Come to see us or call collect for a representative to see you.

INFANT SWITZLER

Funeral services were held Tuesday for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Switzler, who died January 27 at Sessions hospital. He was born January 26. Surviving are his parents and a sister, Ann. Also surviving are grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Waterman, and Walter Switzler of Carrolltown, Pennsylvania. Services were held from the Casterline Funeral Home. Rev. Norman J. Stanhope of the First Presbyterian Church, Plymouth, officiating. Burial was in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

LOREN MONTGOMERY

Funeral services were held yesterday for Loren Stewart Montgomery, who died January 25 in Mansfield, Ohio, from injuries sustained in an automobile accident January 18. He lived in Gallion, Ohio, and was employed by the Fisher Body division of General Motors in Mansfield. Mr. Montgomery was born September 15, 1924 at Rose City, Michigan. He is survived by his wife, Eloise, of Plymouth; and his mother, Mrs. Minnie McCordle, of Walled Lake. He was a member of the Gallion AmVets. Services were held from the Casterline Funeral Home. Rev. Peter Niewkoop officiating. Burial was in Rural Hill cemetery, under the auspices of the Novi AmVets.

FRANK THOMPSON

Frank Wesley Thompson, 504 Baseline, died of a stroke in Sessions hospital January 29 at the age of 68. He was a retired employee of the Maybury Sanatorium, and had lived in Northville for 43 years. Surviving are his wife, Ina Cecil; and two sons, Wayne E. and Lee W. of Plymouth. Also surviving are four grandchildren. Funeral services will be held from the Casterline Funeral Home at 3 p.m. Friday, February 1, Rev. Ivan E. Hodgson of the First Methodist church officiating. Burial will be Saturday, February 2 at 1 p.m. in Riverside Cemetery, Union City, Michigan.

Northville Reservist Off to (Mock) Wars

A Northville reservist is off to fight a mock battle at Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

SPC Lynn T. Hazlett, 16611 Meade, will join with other reservists of Michigan's 70th Infantry Division (Reserve) in Exercise Big Blast VI this Saturday and Sunday.

Big Blast will provide a refresher course for unit commanders and their staffs from the eastern sector of the 13-state Fifth Army Area.

Forty generals will participate in this, the biggest of the Big Blast series to date.

A typical field army headquarters will be established at Fort Sheridan, near Chicago.

End of a Flight from Fear

The Northville Record

SECOND OLDEST NEWSPAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY—EST 1868— Thursday, January 31, 1957—11

PREPARING FOOD TRAYS at Eastlawn is one of the jobs of "Jim" Cser. Helping him through the first days is the rest home's director, Mrs. Opal Imonen. Margit and Joseph have similar jobs at Eastlawn.

Three young Hungarians have ended their long flight from fear and cruelty by finding a home in Northville.

They came last week, less than two months after leaving their revolt-ravaged homeland amidst threats of slave camps and starvation, of deportation and even death.

A ticket-seller, a miner, a truck driver — they are typical of the thousands of their countrymen who fled to avoid reprisals from the mighty Soviet machine that was all but pushed out of their country.

From their separate backgrounds, they have joined in a common present. All are working as orderlies at Eastlawn Rest-haven, the extensive convalescent home high on a hilltop overlooking Northville.

There is Joseph Illes, 23, a former truck driver in the village of Level. A blight is on his happiness, however, for Joseph had to leave his young wife, Maria, and their two children behind. Maria's mother wouldn't let them leave.

There is Imre Cser, 28, who worked as a miner. "Jim", as the people of Eastlawn have dubbed him, worked under the Russians in his village of Egyed before the revolution hit.

There is Margit Lipardi, a pretty young woman whose mother is still in Debrecen. Though well-educated, Margit had been given a job as a ticket seller in a Budapest railroad station.

They spend their days working under Mrs. Opal Imonen, a registered nurse who is the home's director. They hang mirrors; help unload trucks; push food carts to the cottages in back, clean rooms.

They appear content in their work, knowing it will take time to learn the language and become accustomed to American life, so that they can find other ways to put their abilities to work.

Over meals, they gather with Mrs. Louise Nagy, one of the home's supervisors and a Hungarian by birth, to begin their studies of English—studies which they pursue eagerly. Long after Mrs. Nagy leaves, they can be seen in the dining room, pouring over an already dog-eared English-Hungarian dictionary.

Says Lawrence Keller, owner of the home and the man who arranged for them to come to Eastlawn

"I've seldom seen such eagerness. They work hard, are anxious to learn, and have a spirit and friendliness that is hard to match. It's a very happy relationship for all of us."

The three have harrowing tales to tell of the revolution and their flight to Austria. But they speak casually and offhandedly, apparently seeing nothing remarkable in adventures which were shared by thousands of others during those several months.

For them, the important thing appears instead to be blotting out those days. They fled to forget, not to remember.

What do they think about their new life? It is too early to say for sure, but they have made notice of some things.

Joe is amazed, for example, by the way Americans seem to live in their automobiles. To him, it was peculiar to see scores of people getting in cars, getting out of cars, driving here, stopping there, parking, moving, always keeping their cars within arm's reach.

Margit was surprised to see Keller bringing in laundry, and even more astounded to see him sitting at their table.

"In Hungary," she says, "the owner would not associate with employees or help with the work. At first, I thought Mr. Keller must be the laundry man."

Jim, a husky fellow mindful of a woodsman, thinks Americans may pamper themselves a bit too much. Coming from a land where warm clothes are far from plentiful, he cannot understand why people here must put on a coat every time they step out into the cold.

Nurses and supervisors at Eastlawn also are finding new experiences with Margit, Joe and Jim. "Why, they're absolutely amazed when we ask if they want 'seconds'," says Mrs. Imonen. "In fact, they even think we are on the fussy side because we have desserts with our meals!"

Keller, who owns two other rest homes, has made arrangements for Jim and Joe to stay on at Eastlawn if they want to. As for Margit, there are hopes that she can begin training as a nurse's aide as soon as she learns the language.

For all three of them, there are many new experiences in store. One of the first will be a trip to Northland. Then visits to Northville basketball games, trips into Detroit, and all the dozens of things that go into getting acquainted with a new way of life.

And Margit is especially anxious to see an American theater—or "opera", as she puts it.

But their excitement isn't all that one would expect it to be. They seem casual and relaxed most of the time—impressed by what they experience, but not overwhelmed by it all.

And then why should they be? After a lifetime of German and Russian domination, a bloody revolution and savage reprisals, life in Northville must seem more like a quiet dream than a startling new reality.

MEAL TIME ENGLISH LESSON—Mrs. Nagy—who speaks Hungarian—helps Margit, Joseph Illes, and Jim pick up a few words of their new language. After hours, the three gather to study English on their own, using an already well-worn English-Hungarian dictionary.

Northville Council Proceedings

Regular meeting of Northville City Council was held at City Hall Monday Eve., Jan. 21, 1957 at 8:00 P.M.

Present: Mayor Claude N. Ely, Councilmen Allen, Reed and Stubenvoll.

Absent: Councilman Canterbury.

Minutes of last regular meeting were read and approved.

Bills amounting to $6,221.25 from the General Fund and $254.65 from the Water Fund were presented. Moved by Reed, supported by Stubenvoll, that same be allowed and paid. Carried unanimously.

Mr. Robertson recapitulated matters pertaining to the taxicab licenses and stated that the City Attorney and he had reviewed the taxicab ordinance thoroughly and believe that as far as possible the Taxicab Co. will comply with same. However, there are a couple of questions they would like the Council to consider: (1) They have a problem complying with Sec. 14 regarding receiving and discharging passengers, mainly at grocery stores. (2) The Ordinance states that the Village Commission shall by resolution set the rates of fare. No resolution can be found where this has been done. Mr. Robertson has secured a list of the rates currently charged by the Taxicab Company. (3) The Taxicab Co. is now carrying liability insurance in the amount of $10,000 to $20,000 and $5,000 for property damage. The Council does not feel that this is sufficient coverage. The City attorney and manager were instructed to prepare amendments to the Taxicab ordinance covering the various points of aforementioned and to present them at the next regular meeting.

It was recommended by the City Manager that the Taxicab license be granted to the Northville Taxicab Company. Moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Reed, that the Northville Taxicab Co. be granted a license to operate taxicabs in the City of Northville, and that same expire on Dec. 31, 1957. Carried unanimously.

The next item to be taken up on the agenda was the division of assets committee report. After talking the Township proposal over at some length, it was decided to reject same, and the committee was instructed to arrange another meeting with the Township Board to see if an agreement can be arrived at as to the proper division of assets. May Ely requested that Mr. Kaiser and Mrs. Wagenschulz, of the Wayne County Library Board, be present at this meeting.

The next item of old business was going over the contract between the City of Northville and the D & R Building Co. as prepared by the City Manager and Attorney. After same was read by Mr. Robertson, some slight changes were suggested by Mr. Benecke, representing the D & R Building Co., and after careful consideration of several changes and additions proposed, it was decided that the contract should be revised, and Mayor Ely arranged for a special meeting to be held Thursday evening, Jan. 24th, 1957, at 8 P.M. for the purpose of acting upon the revised contract.

As to the proposed project to have the AAA make a traffic and parking survey at no cost to the City, Mr. Robertson proposed a resolution asking the AAA to come in and make such a survey. Moved by Stubenvoll, supported by Allen, that this resolution be adopted. Carried.

Regarding the parking in the two lots used by the City of Northville for municipal parking located at the corner of Center and Dunlap Streets and at 118 E. Dunlap St., the committee recommends that these two lots be metered with meters that would take nickels, dimes and quarters, which would provide for all day parking, as well as for a shorter period. Moved by Allen, supported by Stubenvoll, that this recommendation be adopted. Carried.

The question of using parking meters after 6:00 P.M. on Friday was tabled until the next regular meeting.

The financial report for the period from July 1st to Dec. 31st, 1956, was presented to the Council.

Regarding the purchase of the Manning & Locklin property for a well site, Mr. Robertson reported that he had talked with Mr. Manning and he wants the City of Northville to make an offer for this property. Mr. Robertson has also talked to Mr. Chase, who indicated that he did not want to sell. A well site on the property of the D & R Building Co. has been contemplated, and if a water supply can be located on this property it may not be necessary to negotiate for the Manning & Locklin property.

As to the date of meeting on the BOCA Building Code, Stanley Waterloo, Building Inspector, will be able to be present Monday Eve., Jan. 28, 1957, at 8:00 P.M., therefore the meeting is set for that time.

A request was made by Essie Nirider that a fire inspection of the business district be made, which matter will be referred to Fire Chief McGee.

Councilman Reed again brought up the matter of the acquisition of the Hill property. Discussion of this subject is included in the call for special meeting to be held Thursday Eve., Jan. 24, 1957. Mayor Ely then asked if anyone in the audience wanted to bring anything before the Council. Residents of Oakwood Subdivision, Richard Martin and Sydney Frid, stated they doubted if the sanitary sewer system in that location was adequate to take care of future expansion in that area if it is planned to use only a 10" sewer main and suggested that this matter should be considered in planning future development.

No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned at 12:20 P.M.

Phone Northville 55Novi Blue Star Mothers - Annual Report for 1955-1956

In January 1955 the Novi chapter, Blue Star Mothers, began their year with a planning party at the home of president, Mrs. Fred Mandilk. In 1955 the chapter adopted a four year old Korean girl and named her Stella, which means star. The chapter paid $10 a year for her care, also $20 worth of clothing for Christmas. In 1956 another Korean girl was adopted named Julie, 4½ years old. She also received a Christmas package of clothing.

Once a month for several months over a period of two years, hospital chairman Mrs. Joe Gardella and several other mothers made a trip to the Veterans' hospital in Ann Arbor. During the day, the Mothers did personal shopping for the veterans and in the evening sponsored a party serving cookies, ice cream and coffee. Party prizes were canning books and cigarettes, averaging about $125 for each party, labor and cash. Cigarettes were passed out which had been donated by the Camel company. For the two year's hospital work, the Mothers spent $400. 692 dozen cookies, 12 lap robes at $180 values. To Maybury San: one bedside table, three card tables, 15 pairs of pajamas, 125 Easter baskets, 300 plants, three bushel of apples. They worked 685 hours traveled 1,072 miles, visited 2,342 patients and are credited with $1,713.97.

Included in the parties at Veterans' hospital, Ann Arbor, was a party for patients in locked ward with personal shopping and a party with prizes.

The Mothers, Mesdames Gardella, Klaserner, Stephens, Smith and Mandilk took 16 veterans from Ann Arbor to the baseball game at Briggs' stadium and to dinner at Shore's Restaurant. Also during the summer the Mothers had a pot-luck dinner at Isle Lake for 23 A.A. hospital veterans at which time all the Mothers furnished food and were assisted by three visitors. Novi chapter was the first group to help the USO entertain 96 service men stationed at a Union Lake missile and radar base. The chapter visited the base seven times serving cake, cookies and coffee. At Christmas time several Mothers decorated a tree for the hospital furnishing some of the decorations.

Several of the Mothers attended church in a group on Blue Star Mother's National Church Days. They attended southeast and southwest district meetings and school of instructions; orientation classes held at AAV hospital and rehabilitation meetings, state and national president's receptions and state and national conventions. At the state convention Past-President Mrs. R.E. Ward was elected state historian in 1955 and also in 1956.

The Novi chapter participated in the national convention fun night held in Detroit by putting on a skit. At the banquet the chapter was honored by receiving the national championship award for hospital work. A trophy which Novi chapter was justly proud.

The Mothers put on a display at the Novi 4-H pre-achievement program and marched in Memorial Day parades at Novi and Walled Lake. In October, 1955, the Novi chapter celebrated their 13th anniversary with a dinner at Rotunda Inn, Pine Lake. Thirty-six attended including several of the state and national officers. Mrs. John Klaserner, Sr. was chairman of this affair.

The big benefit for the year 1955 was a card party, apron and pie sale with all Mothers donating time and materials. With the profits they bought an 11 cubic foot refrigerator for Ann Arbor Veterans' hospital, cost of which was $230. State President Iva Stringer and A.A.V. Hospital Representative Catherine Woodworth were present.

The chapter contributed and helped with the March of Dimes, Grand Rapids Tornado fund and Hungarian Relief fund; sewed on cancer pads and helped when needed with blood banks. They donated money for the Mariners church window, Navajo Indians and sent CARE packages. They also helped girl scouts and cub scouts and pieced lap robes for hospitals. They also spent money for state hospital work and rehabilitation work.

Gifts were given to men entering service. Gifts and cards were sent to men in the service for Christmas. Gifts of $10 were given to four new babies born to service men's wives.

The Mothers earned their money on card parties, bake sales, board of commerce dinners, Past President's club dinner, Daisy Days and annual bazaars and luncheons.

Service men's hospitality, value of gifts to those in service, $878.72; Total value of welfare and child welfare, $353.11; Total value of rehabilitation work, $248.31; Community service value of work, $155.35.

Total amount of money earned by the Novi Blue Star Mothers since they organized in October, 14 years ago, is $9,034.16.

HOME
VALET SERVICE

Right in step with today's trend toward modern and gracious living is Greene's Cleaners new Home Valet Service. It's Greene's contribution to the homemaker who likes to come and go as she pleases.

Home Valet Service—brought to you by the Men from Greene's—removes completely the need to be "on hand when the driver comes".

Here's how it works: Phone Greene's Cleaners at the number below, tell the operator where you'll leave your cleaning order or shirt bundle, and the rest is automatic. The bonded Man from Greene's will pick up your order as directed, deliver it to the Microcleaning plant, and return it to your home when finished. Your account can be charged and you'll be billed later by mail. It's just like having a personal valet take over for you.

And best of all, Home Valet Service costs no more than conventional dry cleaning and shirt laundry service. It's a bonus offered in addition to the courteous, fine quality work that has made Greene's for 25 years this area's first and finest in dry cleaning.

If you're not now a credit customer, phone us today at the Ann Arbor office, NO 2-3231, and we'll open a charge account for you.

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

The fate of the proposed 200-home subdivision on the Yerkes Farm hung in the balance of a decision rendered Thursday evening by Northville city councilmen.

"Due process of law" being what it is the 100-acre site annexed from Novi township by the City of Northville last June has been tied up in litigation since that time. Developers of the area, the D & R Building company, have been patiently waiting a decision so that subdividing could begin.

The company, with a great deal at stake, reached the deadline for assurance from the city that sewer and water facilities would be available to the subdivision. Without this assurance, necessary financing could not be obtained.

Originally, there was no question. City property is entitled to city facilities. But what if the court rules that the property belongs to Novi township?

The developers plan to build approximately 200 modern homes on paved streets with sidewalks, curbs, gutters and water and sewer systems ready to be hooked-up to the city's.

The homes, councilmen reasoned, are vitally needed. In addition the area will be an attractive improvement. To turn thumbs down on the request might result in a less desirable use of the land in the future.

And, there was still the strong possibility that the property would officially become a part of the city.

With all these points on the favorable side of the ledger, councilmen agreed to provide needed facilities. Cost to the subdivision, should it not be a part of the city, would be determined later.

Councilmen do not deny that the additional homes may make it necessary for the city to expand its sewer facilities. So may a new high school and an addition to the Amerman school. So will the future, regardless of what happens today.

The strange set of circumstances required councilmen to set something of a precedent by their decision. It was done, we believe, with the welfare of the community in mind. Their thorough investigation and consideration of the many problems involved deserves to be recognized. Even those who may oppose the decision should not deny that Northville's council acted deliberately, and with an eye to the future and a better community for everyone.

Last week end we attended the 89th annual convention of the Michigan Press association at Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

Like all other conventions, it gives representatives of the 360 member newspapers a chance to exchange ideas and renew old acquaintances. The latter activity generally takes half the night.

While we missed Friday's program, we enjoyed hearing speakers at the noon luncheon and the All Michigan Dinner in the evening.

Basil L. "Stuffy" Walters, executive vice president of the Knight newspapers, spoke at noon. He told fellow newspapermen something of the inside operation in the expose of Illinois State Auditor Orville Hodge.

Walters related that two key members of his four-man staff seeking proof of misappropriation suffered heart attacks during the pressure-packed job. His Chicago Daily News finally broke the story and a possible Pulitzer prize.

Congressman Walter H. Judd of Minnesota won acclaim from his audience of newspaper people with his analysis of our foreign relations' problems.

A most outstanding speaker, Judd reduced the complexities of foreign policy to an understandable cause and effect status. In calling for a strong stand against Russian aggression he pointed to the peoples behind the iron curtain as our hope for the future. "They do not want equality, but freedom," he emphasized. Judd so impressed the audience that one publisher asked him why he did not accept a position in the state department.

At the Friday evening dinner we had the feeling that we had seen our waiter somewhere before. Finally, we had to ask. It was Charles Wyse, senior hotel student at MSU who also works at Plymouth's Mayflower hotel during vacations.

Grayling Bids for Boys' Vocational School

A "SCHOOL THAT NOBODY WANTED" the state Boys Vocational School at Lansing now finds it has many friends.

BVS, an institution caring for boys with criminal records, has been a controversial issue the last few years in attempts to find a new location.

Pressure mounted beginning years ago to move the school out of Lansing. In 1926 some land was purchased for this purpose, but later diverted to other uses. An attempt to build a new security unit for $300,000 at the present site three years ago was not approved by the Legislature. Last year the legislature turned an ear towards the BVS problem and appropriated money to purchase land at a new location.

A site at Whitmore Lake was selected by the Department of Social Welfare, the controlling office for BVS. W. J. Maxey, department director, explains that the choice was directed by a desire to be near the extensive medical and psychiatric facilities located in Ann Arbor, and also within a reasonable distance from Detroit—where most of the boys live.

Whitmore residents immediately protested the decision. They point out that their present resort area is developing rapidly into a community similar to the present site; that reasons which make Lansing undesirable will exist soon in Whitmore. They also refer to U of M hospital's already over crowded psychiatric facilities, with the suggestion that BVS needs its own psychiatric staff wherever it is located.

Many express valid reasons for not locating BVS at Whitmore Lake. They have placed considerable pressure on their state representatives to bring the matter before the legislature during the current session.

The city of Grayling now enters the picture. There, the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce and the County Board of Supervisors passed resolutions asking for BVS.

Bob Hayes, secretary-manager of Chamber of Commerce, says "The whole town is for it. We'd like to see if we couldn't help these kids."

Several advantages for a site at Grayling are pointed out by Hayes. Construction costs would be less than at Whitmore Lake.

Unlimited space is available. Cost per person a day is lower. Vocational training is available through the Conservation Department. Professional psychiatric help is available 45 miles away at Traverse City.

One important factor is missing say members of the Social Welfare Commission. A location near the city of Detroit is highly desirable. According to C.H. Runciman of Lowell, vice-chairman of the Commission, one of the greatest influences in rehabilitating the boys is regular visits from parents.

Since most of the boys in BVS come from the Detroit area, a northern Michigan location would make weekly visits impossible for most families, Runciman says.

A new struggle may shape up in the legislature. The Social Welfare Commission has authorized Director Maxey to seek a legislative appropriation for construction of a security unit at the Whitmore Lake BVS site.

The request for funds may be defeated by a combination of legislators representing Whitmore residents who don't want BVS, and those from other areas who would welcome the school. Such a move would serve to once again re-open the discussion of a new home for BVS.

MICHIGAN'S ONE MAN grand jury system may be taken before the U.S. Supreme Court to test its constitutionality. Judge Timothy Quinn of Caro, sitting as a one man grand jury has ordered St. Clair Shores Mayor Thomas S. Welsh to jail for contempt after the mayor refused to answer any of the court's questions. He was ordered to testify about reports of corruption in some Detroit suburbs.

Welsh has indicated that he will fight the charge and is "deliberately" seeking a court test of the Michigan law.

Generally specific powers and purposes are vested in grand juries. They hear only testimony by the prosecution and by witnesses important to the specific case. Hearings are held in secret so that witnesses may be more willing to tell all they know. Testimony is not made public.

But the grand jury is limited in purpose. It does not try a case. In effect, its main power after hearing all testimony is to determine if there is enough evidence to bring the case to trial.

"Multiple-man grand juries sit in most states. The Michigan law, passed in 1951, provides for judges to act as one man juries.

Opponents of the system say the law is now distorted from its original intended effect. They contend that grand juries now try to make a witness incriminate himself—contrary to rights guaranteed under the constitution.

In the Welsh case, the issue at point is whether or not Judge Quinn can enforce the contempt charge, thereby making the grand jury testimony public. Welsh's attorney says this is inconsistent with grand jury law.

Many Michigan crimes could not be solved without the one man grand jury, say supporters of the law. They point out that it is the only way possible to protect witnesses from intimidation.

As a matter of policy the U.S. Supreme Court will not judge the constitutional aspects of a law if other ways to resolve a case can be found. The Welsh case may force the issue.
