

Post Has Problem With Legion Home

The fate of another Northville building is at stake this week, and its owners would like some suggestions from the public about what to do with it.

The question this time is: what can be done with the American Legion Memorial Home at Center and Dunlap streets?

Warns Peddlers Must Have Permits

The annual rush of door-to-door peddlers brought a word of advice from City Manager John Robertson this week.

He urged all residents who are suspicious of transient salesmen to request that they show a permit license to sell in the city of Northville. This permit is required under a city ordinance and must be signed by the city clerk, Mary Alexander, Robertson said.

Several calls have been received by Robertson from residents reporting "gimmick" salesmen.

Connors Returns For Downs' Meet

Bill Connors, racing secretary at Wolverine and Hazel Park Harness Raceways, will return to Northville Downs after a four-year absence to take charge of the 38-night meeting which opens April 18.

Appointment of Connors was announced by General Manager John Carlo.

Connors succeeds Harry Hatch, who served the last two years but gave up the post because of a winter job at Santa Anita Raceway in California.

Connors resigned at Northville in 1953 when the Downs took over the mid-summer dates and brought a conflict with other assignments in Kentucky.

The appointment of Connors placed the soft-spoken Kentuckian in charge of all harness racing in the Detroit area. He has served as racing secretary at Wolverine and Hazel Park meetings since the tracks first opened.

He expects to arrive at Northville late in March to make plans for the meeting.

Board of Appeals OK's Immediate Use Of New Barns

The new Northville Downs' barns were quickly occupied last Friday after a unanimous decision Thursday evening by the board of appeals lifted the zoning regulation restricting their use.

Michigan horsemen, represented by Dr. L. W. Snow, requested the right to use the barns prior to the 15-day limit to prepare for this year's early season.

It took the board just 30 minutes to reach a decision. Chairman Elmer DeKay pointed out that the waiver did not represent a change in zoning. "It's just a case of granting emergency use," he emphasized.

The question was brought before the board by Dr. Snow at the request of Michigan horsemen who will race at the Downs. A petition signed by 27 horsemen accompanied his request.

The barns, located on the St. Lawrence property, southwest of the Seven Mile-Sheldon road intersection, were built last year. Zoning restricts their use to a period starting 15 days before opening of the racing season until 15 days after the final day.

Two answers to notices sent landowners within 300 feet of the barn area were heard at the meeting. Chairman DeKay read a reply from Frederick Sober opposing a zoning change. DeKay again emphasized that the zoning was not being changed.

Bruce Bradshaw of Sheldon road stated that he had no objections to the request and considered it "a minor issue."

"The issue is how it fits into the whole picture," Bradshaw said. "I understand that originally the barns were built with the stipulation that there would be no winterizing of horses. After the newspaper changed hands, an article appeared stating that the barns were built to answer the criticism of quartering horses the year-round in the city."

Bradshaw went on to compare the situation with the "camel pushing his nose in the tent and eventually squeezing the Arab out."

"If this is the first step, then it's dangerous," he concluded. "A spokesman for the track stated that plans call for construction of new winter barns at the track this fall."

Bradshaw was given support by Arthur Prodder who regarded the waiver as "a step in the wrong direction."

Before taking a vote, the board reiterated that the approval was being granted as a "temporary emergency measure." They waived five-day notification, making the action effective immediately.

Local Dealer Attends Auto Sales' Clinic

TURNING OVER THE FIRST SPADEFUL of earth at Sunday's ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Our Lady of Victory church is Father John Wittstock. Looking on are Father Wojcik (far left) from Maybury sanatorium and altar boy Thomas Dunnebeck.

New Catholic Church Started

Groundbreaking ceremonies for a new home for Our Lady of Victory Catholic church were held last Sunday afternoon at the Orchard drive site.

Construction on the $215,000 structure will begin immediately, and is expected to be finished in mid-December of this year. It

"Trial of Christ" Planned for Tonight

Northville residents will have an opportunity tonight to witness one of the most noted presentations of the Lenten and Easter season — the nationally famous discourse "The Trial of Christ" by Judge Frank A. Picard.

The program will be presented before a joint assembly of the Northville Optimist, Rotary and Exchange clubs.

The public has been invited to attend. The program will begin at 7:30 in the Lutheran church house.

The presentation of the events of Passion Week recently was published by The Detroit Free Press as a Lenten series.

Judge Picard, a U.S. district judge in Detroit for the past 19 years, has made a detailed study of the historical and Biblical accounts of the times and sums up the results of his research in this address.

will lie between the present church and the Rectory.

Seating capacity for the new church will be 700, including a "crying" room and choir loft. The church will have a full basement, including a social hall and kitchen.

Three hundred families are now members of the parish, which began in a downtown store building in 1921. In 1922, the present church was built. It will be removed from the premises when the new building is finished.

According to Father John Wittstock, parish priest, signs of growth several years ago indicated plans for a new church. The drive for funds did not begin until last June, however, ending with a total pledging of $130,000.

Goodwill Pickup Planned Tuesday

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Northville is scheduled for next Tuesday.

Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up, call the local Goodwill representative Miss Edith Sorenson, Northville 571.

So far, he added, $70,000 has been collected from pledges.

Present at ground-breaking ceremonies last Sunday were presidents of each of the parish societies and Father Wojcik of Maybury Sanatorium.

Mark Anniversary Of Exchange Club

The founding of the Nation's first Exchange club 46 years ago will be commemorated by the Northville Exchange club at a special anniversary celebration at its meeting next Wednesday.

Wilson Funk, president of the local club, said the first club was founded in 1911 by a group of Detroit business and professional men who had been meeting informally to exchange ideas and to plan projects for the improvement of their community.

"Today," he said, "Exchange clubs are to be found in towns and cities throughout the United States of America, and membership runs into the tens of thousands."

Program chairman Harold Wagenshutz said the cutting of a large birthday cake iced in Exchange club blue and gold colors, a traditional feature of their anniversary celebrations, will be observed.

Council Awards Improvement Bids On Wing, Fairbrook

City councilmen awarded contracts for construction of the Wing, First and Fairbrook street storm sewer and curb and gutter project Monday evening.

The contracts, awarded to two firms, totaled $39,869. Work is scheduled to begin following the closing of the racing season, June 1. The contract stipulates that work must be completed by August 31.

Contractors whose bids were accepted by the council are Ray L. Welch of Allen Park and William J. Kloote, Jr. of Pleasant Ridge. Welch submitted a bid of $21,650.50 for storm sewers. Kloote's bid for the curb and gutter was $18,218.50.

Fifteen construction firms bid for the project in a record response March 4. Kloote's bid was the lowest submitted for curb and gutter, although one contractor bid lower than Welch for the storm sewers. The low bid was submitted by a firm which the city's consulting engineers, Atwell-Hicks, did not consider sufficiently experienced in projects of this size.

Even with added engineering costs, the cost of the project appeared to fall well within the estimated $49,500.

Councilmen delayed taking any action on City Attorney Philip Ogilvie's report that the city had lost the decision in the Warren Products annexation case (see story, column eight). Ogilvie reported that the city has 20 days to appeal the decision. It is also possible to petition for a new election. Councilmen indicated that they would study these possibilities.

In other business the council postponed any action to a request by Harold Hartley, 602 Randolph, for city sewer services. Hartley, whose home is in Novi township, reported that the proposed Eight Mile cut-off would leave his home five feet from the highway. The road would take away his septic field, thereby necessitating hook-up to city services some 125 feet away if the house is to be used as a residence.

Councilman John Canterbury stated that it was his belief that if residents were to receive city services they should become a part of the city and pay municipal taxes. Hartley was quick to agree, but pointed to a city obligation by reason of agreeing to the route of the cut-off.

"I prefer not to provide services outside the city — everybody has a problem," Canterbury concluded.

Hartley's request was ill-fimed. It came immediately after the council officially learned that the proposed D & R 200-home subdivision would lie in an area returned to Novi township. The council has agreed to provide city services to the subdivision.

In other business the council approved a forestry ordinance for publication. Complete text of the ordinance will appear The Record next week. The council voted to waive the building fee for the new Catholic church and gave final approval to a newly adopted building code (see page 13).

"Unpleasant appearances" brought other action by the council. They directed the city attorney to see that a real estate office located on the corner of Plymouth avenue and the Seven Mile cut-off is removed. A temporary permit expires Wednesday. City Manager Robertson was instructed to write Northville Downs and the Northville Driving club regarding their plans to alleviate the appearance of barn property along Seven Mile road and River street. It was suggested that a fence be built around this area.

Vandals Smash Store Windows

Three plate glass windows at Glenn Long plumbing and heating on Seven Mile road were reported smashed last Sunday about 4:45 a.m.

Rocks were thrown through the windows, making replacement necessary. Mr. Long reported that this is the second time in three months that the windows have been broken, previously by air rifle shots.

It has also been reported that two windows of the Fred Shack hardware on Six Mile road near Haggerty were broken about the same time.

In a long-awaited decision Judge Frank L. Doty returned 95 acres annexed by the city of Northville from Novi township last June 21 to the township.

The Oakland county circuit court judge ruled the election void by reason of a vote fraud.

The suit was filed by Warren Products, whose plant lies in the area north of Baseline and west of Novi road. The trial was held in January.

Judge Doty based his decision on two of the three points charged by company attorneys as reasons for terming the election illegal.

In addition to citing fraud, Judge Doty ruled that the secretary of state had acted illegally by holding petitions eight months. He noted that the petitions had been filed under one law and the election granted under another. The election to annex the land passed by a wide margin in Northville. Residents in the affected area voted for it five to one.

An agreement between Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burkman, owners of a 12-acre tract in the area, and the D & R Building company called for sale of the land to the building company for $2,000 an acre. Judge Doty ruled that the Burkman's influenced the vote of their son, Conrad, and two tenants living on the property, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Sample. He ruled that at least four of these votes were cast in favor of the annexation.

His ruling stated: "While both the son and the tenants denied they had not been influenced in any manner by the Burkman's to vote in favor of the annexation, it is impossible to believe such testimony, or that their votes were not 'procured' by the Burkman's in fulfillment of the option agreement."

Judge Doty's ruling does not change the status of the Burkman sale. Mr. and Mrs. Burkman retained a 3-acre site in the area on which they reside. Burkman stated this week that the agreement containing the clause "to procure and vote for the annexation" was signed only after attorneys advised him that it was not improper. "We did not seek to procure or influence anyone's vote," Burkman stated.

Judge Doty did not rule on the third point raised by the Warren Products attorneys, "was it necessary that the question of annexation be submitted to the electors of Novi township?"

In bringing the suit Warren Products charged that the annexation would "tend to make it difficult to continue in business" because of increased taxes.

Details are now being completed by the D & R Building company to begin a 200-home subdivision on 93 acres of the area. Northville councilmen recently granted permission to the subdividers to connect their sewer and water systems to the city. Approximately 50 homes are expected to be built this year.

Decision in still another annexation suit between Novi township and Northville is expected soon. An 88-acre site west of North Center street and north of Baseline annexed by the city is being contested by the township. The township claims in its suit that all residents of the township, not just the area affected, should be allowed to vote in an annexation election. The American elementary school and proposed new high school lies within this area.

Outline Athletic Facilities, Philosophy for New NHS

If architects can convert ideas into reality, the new Northville high school will have one of the most up-to-date athletic plants in the state.

What's more, the high school athletic program will probably be expanded to include both new varsity sports and new physical education classes.

That's the gist of two reports covering the proposed athletic set-up at the new building which have been outlined by Northville athletic director Al Jones and NHS coaches and physical education teachers.

One report, covering proposed athletic facilities, was submitted to architects along with suggestions from other departments at NHS. The second was compiled by Jones and other athletic officials as a statement of the principle on which sports are conducted at the school.

Study Committee, a group of lay citizens studying school problems, has submitted its final report to school officials. According to Superintendent Russell H. Menman, this report and the two NHS reports do not duplicate each other's work since the former refers only to a proposed physical education curriculum whereas the latter two look into actual facilities and such problems as varsity athletics.)

The physical education and athletic plant as outlined in the report would be logically arranged so that full or even double-duty use can be made of all facilities and so that they can be made to serve such future facilities as a swimming pool.

Drawn up through consultation with school architectural advisers and by visiting other nearby schools, the proposed facilities would include:

—a gymnasium seating 1,500 to 1,750 spectators with bleachers so arranged that they can be used for classes during the day and for varsity sports after school. By using a movable stage and portable chairs, the gym could be used as an auditorium seating 2,000.

—a movable partition dividing the single gym into two areas each with regulation size floors (85 by 50 feet).

—a public address system, electrical scoreboard, recessed drinking fountains and facilities for hanging decorations.

—a spring-suspended floor with solid-colored markings and such apparatus as chinning bars, ropes and ladders.

—a lobby containing trophy cases, picture areas, a ticket office and refreshment facilities.

—boys' and girls' locker rooms accommodating 600-900 students and complete with lockers, showers, body-drying areas, forced ventilation and warm floors.

—a varsity room for 100 boys with clean-up and group discussion areas and a training room containing a whirlpool, training tables, waiting tables, heat lamps and first aid facilities.

In the statement of principles, Jones and his staff told what they believe should go into a well-rounded physical education program.

"Children develop as total beings and it is essential to mental well-being and development that a well-rounded physical and health education program be a part of every good school program," the report said.

The paper listed seven objectives of Northville's physical education program:

—to promote good sportsmanship, both as a spectator and participant.

—to develop appreciation of democratic practices.

—to develop better coordination through games, skills and other activities.

—to develop and stimulate interest in recreation and leisure activities.

—to encourage interest in community health problems.

—to encourage participation in organized physical activities and provide facilities and equipment for the program.

The Northville program was broken down into four phases, each with its own particular emphasis.

The physical education classes eventually will include activities ranging from such group sports as softball and field hockey to individual activities such as archery and gymnastic exercises.

are usually carried out after school, would include cheerleading, dance clubs, Pep clubs and Girls Athletic Association meetings.

Recreational programs for the community as a whole would be made possible through the new high school facilities.

"Most recreational programs cannot meet the financial burden ... of carrying out a sufficient program."

Interscholastic competition would include, in addition to present varsity sports, wrestling, cross country, tumbling, rifle, girls' golf and co-ed bowling.

"This program should be provided for the students who excel in various activities," the report said. "But it should in no way be used to exploit students who participate, nor should it be emphasized to the neglect of other programs for students of lesser ability."

Charles Westerfield Wed Last Sunday

Marriage vows were repeated last Sunday by Charles William Westerfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Westerfield of Nine Mile road and Gertrude Marie Wittstock of New Hudson, daughter of Clarence J. and the late Mrs. Henrietta Wittstock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Pennell at her home on West Lake street in South Lyon.

Miss Maxin Wrubel of New Hudson was honor maid for the bride, and Mr. Westerfield was his son's best man.

A family dinner at the bridegroom's home followed the ceremony. The only member not present was Robert, who is serving in the navy.

The newlywed Westerfields are living in Northville, where he is employed by the post office.

A cosmopolitan salute to spring awaits Northville early next month when a display of foods, music and flowers from around the world will be presented at the Community building.

Built around a "Spring Food Style Show", the affair will be presented by Black's White House for the Metropolitan Detroit chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation on Sunday, April 7.

Mr. and Mrs. William Black, proprietors of the White House, lost their granddaughter to the incurable "C-F" as the disease is known. Mrs. Black is executive secretary of the Detroit chapter of the foundation.

Those attending will be able to sample international foods displayed in a smorgasbord. In addition, some tables will suggest themes for parties for spring-time "special occasions" — Easter, graduations, Mother's Day — and of course, June brides.

Appropriate flowers, arranged by a florist member of the Detroit chapter, will help to usher in the season.

Heading the musical portions of the day will be Dr. Nellie Huger Ebersole, director of music, radio and television for the Detroit Council of Churches. Dr. Ebersole was one of three music chairmen for the 14th annual brotherhood conference held in Detroit last year.

Also cooperating will be the music department of the Northville schools, the International Institute in Detroit and the International Center in Ann Arbor.

Chorus Girls Dance for Woman's Club

Lovely calendar girls, and lightly dancing feet of chorus girls graced the stage at the Presbyterian church house last Friday for the final Woman's club program of the year.

The program was aptly titled "Housewives Folly".

More serious business, the election of officers and presentation of the annual report preceded the fun for the day. President is Mrs. E. A. Chapman; Mrs. Charles Yahne, vice-president; Mrs. A. J. Verschaev, recording secretary; Mrs. Mark Gardner, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Alfred Millington, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. R. M. Atchison, Mrs. Claude Crusoe, Mrs. H. A. Boyden, Mrs. Frank Beeks and Mrs. Merrill Sweet.

The program for the day was directed by the music committee composed of Mrs. Edwin Langtry, Mrs. Richard Kay, Mrs. Leslie Lee, Mrs. D. H. Britton and Mrs. Frank Martin, Jr.

Calendar girls depicting the housewife's activities during the year stepped on stage accompanied by verses written by Mrs. Richard Kay.

A TYPICAL SPRING DAY IN APRIL will probably find many Northville housewives in garb similar to Mrs. Maxwell Austin's, who portrayed the carefree fourth month in the Woman's club review of calendar girls at the final meeting of the year last Friday.

Attending a flower and garden club workshop in Birmingham Thursday in preparation for the fall flower show will be Mrs. George Alexander, Mrs. Robert J. Scott, Mrs. Glenn Cummings and Mrs. Edwin Muller.

AAUW To Hold Dinner Meeting

Dinner at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth will precede tonight's meeting of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women.

An annual spring tradition honoring the fellowship aspect of AAUW, the dinner also helps members become a little better acquainted.

Mrs. C. C. Wiltse, chairman of the scholarship committee, will explain the AAUW fellowships—how they are awarded, what they are, and where funds originate. Also on the agenda is election of the first and second vice-presidents and the treasurer.

The AAUW reports that the recent used book sale was very successful. Funds from the project will be used for the scholarship fund. Anyone wishing to donate used books at any time during the year may contact Mrs. L. T. Scharmen or Mrs. A. E. Gulick.

In addition to speaking at the local BPW meeting next Monday night, Mrs. Lucille McKinney, grapho analyst, lectured before the Plymouth chamber of commerce, the Altar Society of St. Michael's church in Livonia and the Garden City BPW club. Mrs. McKinney recently attended a circuit court session in Lansing where grapho-analysis was used to detect forgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Atwood of High street were in Williamson Sunday visiting Mrs. Atwood's sister, Mrs. Ralph Baker.

Miss Hazel Anderson of Los Angeles left Monday for an extended stay in Europe after spending several days at the home of Mr and Mrs. Fred Van Atta.

FOOT-SAVING EDUCATION
By JIM HOUK

Does sleeping posture affect walking habits?

I have heard only one lecture that touched upon the subject. It was the opinion of this authority that there has been an increase of cases of pigeon toes and splay-foot (like a duck) since it has become popular to train babies to sleep on their stomachs. The speaker pointed out that other animals that are anatomically similar to humans sleep on their sides.

My experience in the shoe store has been that almost all pigeoned toe children sleep on their stomachs with their toes turned in. Three mothers who retained their children to sleep on their sides have commented on improvement in walking.

It is interesting to note that the left foot of a right handed child is more likely to toe-in than the right foot is.

Cummings, president; Mrs. Pauline Smith, high school contest (for original ideas); Mrs. Harry Richardson, grade school posters, and Mrs. Carrol Mulligan, parochial schools.

No Trucks --- No Heat . . .

WHEN THE COLD WINDS blow and the snowflakes fly and you call on your furnace to keep your loved ones cozy and warm, remember —

If you burn coal, trucks keep your bin full — if you've an oil burner, trucks see that your fuel oil tank is never empty.

Yes, it would be a long, cold winter without motor transport — in more ways than one. Any way, you look at it, you just couldn't live as you do without motor trucks, using Michigan's fine highway system to serve you night and day, to keep you and your family fed, clothed, warm and comfortable.

If you've got it, a truck brought it!

Look who upset the "Low-price" Applecart!

This one's had them rubbing their eyes ever since it landed smack in the middle of the "low-price" field! The handsome rebel you see right here is upsetting tradition right and left on what a modest budget should buy. It's pricing a big 122-inch wheelbase right down with cars from four to seven inches shorter! It's adding a big bonus of extra road-hugging height—and powering it with an all-new 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 for highest horsepower per pound in the field! A lot of might and muscle for sure—but it's gentled like nothing else on the road by Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride and Precision-Touch Controls. And remember—the Chieftain's standards of luxury and quality were set by the same men who gave America the incomparable Custom Star Chief Catalinas. What we're leading up to is this: If smaller cars have gotten you down, you can actually buy a Chieftain Pontiac for less than 30 models of the "low-price three"! Why wait any longer to give your spirits and your budget the lift of a lifetime?

Natural GAS YOUR SILENT SERVANT

"Packing Houses" Aid Natural Gas Service

Natural gas is carefully "packed" as it travels along the 2,000 mile trip from the southwestern gas fields to Michigan customers.

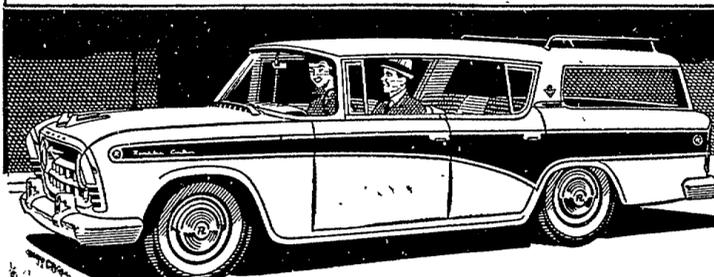

Taking care of the "packing" operation are gas compressor stations about every hundred miles along the pipeline route. Here engines with thousands of horsepower squeeze the gas under as much as 1,000 pounds of pressure and force it through the pipelines. The pressure drops, as the gas moves along, until another compressor station "repacks," cleans, and pushes the compressed gas toward the next "packing house."

The never ending work at the compressor stations speeds natural gas to consumers, improves service and helps keep gas rates low.

Only GAS does so much, so well... the modern fuel for automatic cooking... refrigeration... water-heating... house-heating... air conditioning... clothes-drying... incineration.

I believe to integrate police and firemen into a single department which will give residents more efficient police and fire protection. Replace our present scout cars with station wagons equipped to handle police work and fire and rescue runs, along with proper facilities to convey the injured to the hospital.

I believe we should take a forward look toward our water front (Walled Lake) perfect setting for a year around park, sports activities, plus a bathing beach for residents of the township only. A possible relocation of the amusement park so Novi road could be rerouted on an angle and the frontage used to accomplish the above feat. This intersection now is very much a traffic hazard, along with the entire Novi Rd.

Recorded Lecture For Camera Club

A tape recorded lecture, "My Camera in Search of a Subject" by Fred Archer will be presented at tonight's meeting of the Northville Adult Camera club.

Mr. Archer leads the viewer into strange places — including a trash basket, around the feet of a model used in a landscape shot, a trash basket — the common spots photographers are apt to pass up.

Tonight's meeting begins at 7:30 at the library.

WINNERS IN THE OPTIMIST ORATORY CONTEST last week were Robert Niemi, third; Douglas Whiteford, second, and Frank Muller, first. Frank will go to the district judgments in Grand Rapids next month, where a win will give him a place in the International judgments in Philadelphia in June.

TO ADDRESS OPTIMISTS — Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president of the Daisy Manufacturing company in Plymouth, will discuss air travel — past, present and future — at the Northville Optimist club meeting Thursday, March 28. His talk will include the potential of inter-planetary space travel. Hough has a long record in aviation dating back to 1921 when he first learned to fly. He flew more than 100 combat missions in World War II and served as a colonel on the staff of General James Doolittle. He was awarded the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross and other citations for his service. From 1947 until 1951 Hough was chairman of the Michigan Aeronautical Commission.

Suffers Slight Injury In Grocery Theft

A case of beer was reported stolen Monday evening from the rear of the Spagnuolo grocery, 111 East Main street.

Mrs. James Spagnuolo reported seeing four boys fleeing with the beer when she parked her car behind her son's store about 7:25 p.m. When they saw her, the youths ran toward Dunlap street, knocking Mrs. Spagnuolo to the ground. She suffered slight injuries.

Mrs. Joseph Spagnuolo, wife of the owner, was waiting on customers at the time of the robbery.

CARELESS LIVING

We hear a great deal about careless driving in these days and the tragic accidents that such carelessness brings. Have you ever considered the tragic results caused by a life of carelessness about spiritual things? Many people who are careful in things which relate to this life often are complacent about the welfare of their souls. These people do not deny God's existence but they live as if there were no God. They never take Him into their transactions or considerations. They seldom if ever attend public worship services though churches may be within reach of them. The only time some people attend any kind of religious service is when respect calls them to attend a funeral. Then there is another class who are not quite so careless and yet are satisfied with religious forms. They satisfy their souls by going through the motions of ritualistic worship but are strangers to the vital things of salvation. They have not ever taken the time to check what the church teaches or the minister preaches with their Bibles to see if they have spoken the truth. When we see that our eternal destiny depends upon knowing the Truth and obeying it, then we will be able to see how important it is to be careful about spiritual things.

Frank Muller Wins First In Optimist Oratory Contest

A Northville student will go to the district judgments in the annual Optimist oratory contest as a result of a local victory last week.

The winner was Frank Muller, who spoke on "Optimism and Invention", followed by Doug Whiteford, who won second, and Bob Niemi, third.

Of 17 students who participated in the previous eliminations, five others spoke in the final judging: Doug Ware, N. C. Schrader, Chuck Hix, Bob Bradshaw and Richard Drew.

All were coached by Miss Florence Panattoni, who coincidentally received the Optimist "Bouquet for the Living" award on the same program. The award was presented for her outstanding work with speech and oratory students at the school.

Frank will now go to the district judgments in Grand Rapids next month. A win there would take him to the Optimist International contest in Philadelphia June 19 through 26.

Judges for the local competition were Miss Patricia Bubel, Mrs. Violet Bradford and Clarence Mason, all teachers at NHS.

Motorist Fined For Reckless Driving

Robert William McCarthy, of 20817 Midway, Detroit, was found guilty of reckless driving by Judge E. M. Bogart last week.

He was fined $25 and had his driver's license revoked for 60 days.

Political Adv. Paid By Friends

Cadillac

Speaks A Language All Its Own!

Take a good look at this gentleman as he strides out into the early morning to his waiting car.

In all probability you feel—as we do—that you know a goodly number of things about him.

First of all, we would be willing to venture that he is a man who holds to high standards of achievement.

We would guess that he is held in high personal esteem by his friends and associates.

And we would also suppose that he is a practical man who is keenly aware of the basic value and worth of the things around him.

The reason for all this is not far to seek.

For the motor car that awaits him at the curb-side bears the beautiful crest of Cadillac. And here, beyond all conjecture, is the most eloquent spokesman in the entire realm of possessions.

In fact, the Cadillac car has, over the years, been so closely associated with the leading citizenry of our land that the two have become all but inseparable in the public mind.

And just as these motorists have placed their trust in Cadillac, so Cadillac has given them everything they could hope for in an automobile.

Cadillac has given them unduplicated beauty and luxury . . . unsurpassed performance and comfort . . . and extraordinary quality and value.

Have you driven a 1957 Cadillac? If not, we urge you to come in and let the car tell you its own thrilling story on the highway.

We think you will agree that this year, more than ever, Cadillac speaks a language all its own!

A Visit from Paddy O'Wain

The Northville Record

SECOND OLDEST NEWSPAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY—EST 1868— Thursday, March 21, 1957—9

ST. PATRICK'S DAY VISITOR — Paddy O'Wain, a true Irish leprechaun, passed the holiday in Northville and Novi Sunday with his pretty mistress. Though Paddy ordinarily appears only for the Irish, he obligingly did an impromptu Irish jig for our camera.

Many people didn't realize it, of course, but St. Patrick's Day was a very special day for Northville and Novi.

While all the Irish in these parts — and even a lot who were Irish only for the day — were donning their green and singing their praises of the Emerald Isle, an amazing thing was happening in their very midst: a true Irish leprechaun stopped by to pay a visit.

His name was Paddy O'Wain, and he hoped to join in the celebration. But for the life of him, he couldn't find a place to get a bit of Irish whiskey on Sunday. So instead, he settled for a visit at our office, and that's where we found out what it means to be a leprechaun.

We really didn't meet him, of course, for only the true Irish and the very young can see a leprechaun, and even then only part of the time.

But we did learn a lot about this friendly pixie from the colleen he serves — a pretty, auburn-haired lass named Martha Nixon Genevieve O'Taughner, who is herself a breath of old Erin.

"Paddy O'Wain is kind of minute, but sometimes he is very big," Martha told us. "When he needs to be, he just takes me by the hand and in a flash he IS big. But he only does it when I need him most. His favorite way is to be teeny because then I can't catch him."

His blue eyes, Martha says, are round and twinkling. But you don't like to look into them too much because they see so deep. Still, they're always kind and they never condemn.

Paddy's eyebrows are red and bushy, his nose tiny and pug, and his mouth wide and long. His ears stick out of his head like handles on a pitcher, and a little fringe of red hair curls around his bald pate. Martha suspects there is a big dimple in his chin, but Paddy has a long red beard and she really can't tell.

His big strong hands are kind of wrinkled and knobby, she says, and he can do peculiar things with them—like picking things out of the air just by reaching out and grabbing.

Paddy's spindly legs have all they can do to support his little pot belly which gets bigger and bigger with each bite of barley bread and Irish potatoes. (Martha isn't sure just what he ate before Raleigh discovered potatoes, but then she never really asked him.)

He dresses all in green, from his battered silk top-hat to his little buckle-shoes. Long ago he used to have a pixie cap, but when he came to the New World he thought he'd best be making a good impression on the other leprechauns, so he bought a new hat. Now he never takes it off except on St. Patrick's Day or when he's attending the graves of those he once cared for.

From his little green-checked waist-coat hangs a great gold watch-chain and at the end of it is a pot of gold, which all leprechauns have.

"Technically," Martha says, "he's supposed to hide it. In Ireland he kept it behind a huge moss-covered stone in the churchyard at Parish O'Toumbs. But for the life of him, he can't find a place sacred enough for it in the New World. So he keeps it with him all the time."

Paddy has been in Martha's family for centuries, though he wasn't always a leprechaun.

Once he was wild and young and unafraid, and he did so many terrible things that he would have lost his soul and gone to hell. But his mother went to the church in Parish O'Toumbs and asked the good Lord not to condemn his soul but to keep it until Paddy should be worthy of it.

"So on St. Witham's Eve, when the leprechauns roam," Martha continues, her bright eyes glowing, "Paddy was called before the Council of Leprechauns. You see, Paddy had harmed his friend, Michael O'Taughner, and poor Michael was killed in a fight that Paddy started."

"So Paddy was told that he was to become one of them and that thenceforth he was to care for all the O'Taughners, whichever one should need him most. And if ever he should save one of them from the eternal fire, he would gain back his soul," Martha goes on.

"But the O'Taughners have been a good lot of Irishmen, and Paddy hasn't had a chance," she says.

Only once has anyone thought ill of Paddy, and even that time it wasn't his fault. That was when Martha's grandfather, Daniel O'Taughner, was courting Mollie Ryan, the fairest colleen in all Ohio. Some boys in the neighborhood were having a time for themselves and decided to give Dan a start. So they lit a ball of brush and rolled it down a hill toward Dan as he crossed a cemetery on the way to Mollie's house.

Dan blamed Paddy and thought he was getting even because Dan hadn't been to church that Day. Mollie got mad because Dan would think that of a leprechaun — especially a good one like Paddy — and she wouldn't speak to him for days.

"And do you know," says Martha, "to this day Grandfather Dan still thinks Paddy O'Wain sent a ball of fire after him?"

Today Paddy serves Martha because, of all the O'Taughners, she needs him most. But sometimes Martha lowers her eyes and, for a moment, looks a bit sorrowful.

"Paddy often isn't with me nowadays," she says, "because, you see, so many people teach you not to trust in such things. And if you don't trust in him, Paddy will have none of you and will not help you."

"But when you see again how young and little you are," Martha says, her eyes brightening, "Paddy will be there some night sitting on your clock or dancing on a table-top or whispering encouragement in your ear."

Martha knows much more about Paddy, but if you are like us you probably aren't sure you should have heard about him in the first place. He must be a wonderful little fellow, but it's rather sad to think that most of us — those who aren't Irish or very young — will never know what it is to have a leprechaun.

FIRST NIBBLE — The ice on the Northville mill pond wasn't even completely melted last Wednesday when Terry Kingsley, 6, 542 Rouge, tossed in his line for the first time this year. About 10 minutes later, Terry felt a tug on the pole and pulled out a hungry sucker that apparently couldn't wait to come up for some warm spring-like sunshine.

Mustangs Boasted Successful Season

The road was rough toward the end, but the 1956-57 basketball season is certain to go into the record books as one of the best in Northville Mustangs history.

Despite a season full of cut-throat competition, several crippling injuries, and the pressure of a long winning streak, the Mustangs came through in the clutch each time and chalked up an imposing overall record. Among the highlights:

—Northville tied for the championship of the Wayne-Oakland League with a record of 10 won and two lost.

—the Mustangs season record stood at 12-3.

—Northville won 10 straight victories before tumbling to Holly.

—The Mustangs bounced back from their only two league losses to drop West Bloomfield in the final game and tie for the title.

—The Mustangs defeated each of the three teams which beat them in regular season play except for Plymouth, against which Northville played only one game.

In December, however, when the Mustangs were first working out, the picture did not appear quite so bright. Though Coach Stan Johnston had a promising squad, there were a number of problems to be faced.

The Mustangs were a tall squad, with five players over the 6' mark, but for the most part they were inexperienced. Only guard Bud Bell had seen continuous action the year before. The rest of the squad either had been on the bench or was playing junior varsity ball.

The Mustangs would have to do without all-league forward "Cap" Pethers who was still on crutches with a broken leg sustained in football.

Finally, Northville did not have a strong attack. As a team, they had not yet devised a method of playing in which each member could be at his best.

PLYMOUTH 62 — NORTHVILLE 44

The jittery Mustangs could not get going until the third quarter, and by that time the small but fast Rock squad had rolled up a commanding margin. The loss gave Northville an attack, however, as Johnston revised his strategy to cope with a zone defense.

NORTHVILLE 76 — HOLLY 66

Northville embarked on its 10-game winning streak by overpowering Holly with a booming first half. George McDaniel put in 24 for Holly, but Dick Biery countered with 23 for the Mustangs.

NORTHVILLE 78 — WEST BLOOMFIELD 47

The Mustangs smothered a doomed Laker squad by running up 30 points in a fantastic first quarter. Northville, red-hot from start to finish, hit on 58 percent of its shots.

NORTHVILLE 55 — MILFORD 45

Northville rolled over the defending W-O champs with ease, though the Redskins pressed throughout and tried to use their own crackerbox court to good advantage.

NORTHVILLE 82 — BRIGHTON 67

High-flying Northville knocked off its closest rival in a tight contest highlighted by giant Jeff Goodrich's 25 points — the highest total for a Mustang during the entire season. ven so, Bryan Watson put in 26 for Brighton.

NORTHVILLE 54 — CLARENCEVILLE 47

Northville ended its Christmas' layoff by staying on the winning path with an easy-going triumph over the Trojans. The victory gave the Mustangs a solid grasp on first place.

NORTHVILLE 71 — THURSTON 52

In a Class A test all five Mustang starters scored in double figures. It was the sixth straight win for Northville.

NORTHVILLE 43 — CLARKSTON 37

The Mustangs and Wolves played so cautiously that the first-quarter score stood at only 4-3. But Northville went ahead in the third quarter and stalled off a last-minute Clarkston surge to keep its winning streak intact.

NORTHVILLE 51 — BRIGHTON 47

Bryan Watson again was Brighton's big gun, sinking 22 points, but Northville hung on tight and rode the Brighton squad into defeat. The loss broke Brighton's back and all but put them out of contention for the title.

NORTHVILLE 62 — CLARENCEVILLE 52

A pesky Clarenceville team, paced by little Larry Andrews, played the Mustangs on even terms until midway through the last quarter. But Bud Bell helped himself to 20 points, and the Mustangs were in again.

NORTHVILLE 65 — MILFORD 56

Milford too had hopes of upsetting the Mustangs, and went off at half-time with a 39-39 tie. But once more the Mustangs poured on the steam, and with Goodrich's 19 points, rolled over Milford for the second time.

HOLLY 66 — NORTHVILLE 61

Amos Bradsher was a one-man wrecking crew as he put in 26 points and helped Holly and Northville's streak at 10 wins. The Mustangs put on a 19-point final period, but it still left them short at the end.

CLARKSTON 72 — NORTHVILLE 48

The Wolves demolished the Northville express in no uncertain terms and pulled into a first-place tie with Northville. Clarkston's Terror Twins, George Lang and Leroy Parks, counted for 50 points between them.

NORTHVILLE 61 — THURSTON 59

While Clarkston was assuring itself of a tie for the league title, Northville had to face non-conference Thurston again. Dick Biery hit 23 points, and the Mustangs had it in the bag — although Thurston got out on a 20-point fourth-quarter drive to make it interesting.

NORTHVILLE 71 — WEST BLOOMFIELD 51

The hapless Lakers almost upset the Northville applecart, but the Mustangs came back with a 28-point effort in the last quarter to take the game and tie for the championship. Bill Yahne joined with Biery in leading the Mustang scorers.

NORTHVILLE 60 — MILFORD 41

In the district title play the, Mustangs breezed past Milford for the third time during the season, dumping the Redskins on the strength of a powerful first period. That was Tournament Victory Number One.

WALLED LAKE 81 — NORTHVILLE 57

Tournament Victory Number Two never came. A mighty Wallied Lake squad demonstrated its all-round superiority, and a couple of referees demonstrated their ability to blow a whistle. When it was over, Northville was short-five men and a district championship.

BILL YAHNE

BUD BELL

Two Northville Mustangs shared in post-season honors passed off last week by three Detroit newspapers.

Meanwhile, the official Wayne-Oakland League team is yet to be named.

The Mustangs who raked in plaudits for Northville's co-champion squad were guard Bud Bell and center Bill Yahne.

Bell was named to the Detroit Times All W-O squad and to the Times' All-Suburban third team for Class B schools.

Yahne picked up a spot on the Detroit News All W-O team and was given honorable mention on the Detroit Free Press All-State squad.

Bell earned his rating by leading Mustang scorers with a total of 206 points in the regular season. His 13.7 average was second best on the squad. In addition, Bell gained a reputation as one of the scrappiest guards and best play-makers in the league.

Yahne, who placed third with a 12.7 average, led the Mustangs in free throws with 49. In addition, he dumped in a total of 191 points for the season. Known as a "heads-up" player, Yahne often was given the key role in bringing a given strategy to a particular opponent.

Other Wayne-Oakland players who racked up season honors were Clarkston's brilliant Leroy Parks, Brighton's high-scoring Bryan Watson, Clarenceville's little Larry Andrews, and Holly's Amos Bradsher.

Wayne-Oakland coaches have named the official all-league team, and confirmation by the league board of control is expected soon.

Next week The Record will present the season's records of the Northville high school junior varsity and freshmen basketball squads. Under coaches Al Jones and Don Van Ingen, the two teams both ended the season with strong records to round out a year of successful cage competition for NHS squads.

Award Rifle Letter To Rick Atchison

Rick Atchison, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Atchison, 332 South Rogers, has been awarded a varsity rifle letter at Kemper Military school in Missouri, for outstanding performance on his team this season.

He was given high recognition for his marksmanship ability by his coach.

Atchison competed in the Kemper high school rifle team in the 22nd annual Camp Perry Midwest Indoor Rifle Meet at Kemper. About 300 marksmen from 58 teams representing nine states, competed in the meet.

Clean Carpets Save You Money

IF RUGS and carpets are to wear well and stay attractive they must be kept clean. Dirt on the surface dulls the color of the rug. Embedded grit wears and cuts the fibers. Damage from clothes moths and carpet beetles is less likely to occur when rugs are kept clean. The time to spray rugs against these insects is after they have been thoroughly cleaned.

The Rev. Peter Nieuwkoop, Pastor
 First Baptist Church, Northville

"A MAN OF SORROWS"
 Seven hundred years before Christ's first coming the Prophet Isaiah wrote of this one who was to come. He said, "He was despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief; and we hid as it were our faces from Him; He was despised and we esteemed Him not." Jesus Christ was not a very popular man in His day. There was not a man in all the land of whom so many spoke contemptuously. The recognized religions of the day let it be known in no uncertain terms that they considered Him an imposter and a heretic. Openly they declared that He performed His miracles by the power of demons. When people met Him on the open road they turned their faces from Him so they would not need to salute Him in recognition. He was unwanted. "He came unto His own but His own received Him not" says the Apostle John in general summary of His reception. He was rejected by the Roman Governor who saw in Him a threat to his throne. He went to His home town of Nazareth and before He left they were preparing to hurdle Him to death from a high cliff. The Pharisees, a denomination of the Jewish faith, sought early in His ministry to do away with Him. His own half brothers did not believe in Him.

On one occasion it appeared that His mother had her doubts about Him too. It is true that the common people heard Him gladly at the first when they thought He would furnish bread for them and throw off the yoke of Roman bondage. But when He announced a different purpose for His coming they joined the mob who said, "We have no king but Caesar". These same people lined the streets as He passed by dragging the cross appointed to Him. Even the members of His cabinet forsook Him in the hour of crisis. Again, I say, He was a man unwanted!

Is it any wonder that His heart was heavy? He not only bore His heart the prospects of the cross where He would become the Sin bearer, but at the same time He bore the pains of rejection from those He came to save.

Wonder if you have been willing to take your place beside this man of sorrows in this same sort of world today? Are you willing to taste of His sorrows by being rejected, misunderstood and unwanted? If so then, "Let us go forth therefore unto Him without the camp, bearing His reproach." Hebrews 13:13
*Man of sorrows, what a name
 For the Son of God who came Ruined sinners to reclaim

Red Cross Seeks Station Wagons, Trainees

You might be the one who needs a pint of blood this year—not your next door neighbor.

Northville could be the next Michigan city to be hit by a tornado—not Flint or Grand Rapids.

And making you realize that you might be the next to need the helping hand of the American Red Cross is the first step in preparedness for the Northville chapter.

Letters were sent to Northville residents recently by Mrs. Arthur Carlson, local branch chairman, reporting on the preparedness of your local chapter for aid to individuals in case of a natural disaster. Mrs. Carlson is also heading the month-long drive for Red Cross funds.

In some ways, she reports, Northville is prepared.

"We are one of the few small communities to have its own blood bank," she said. "In case of an emergency, blood is available as quickly as a call can be made to the Detroit chapter to have it released."

"The Home Service branch of the chapter is often at work," she added, "making contacts between servicemen and their families, arranging transportation home for them, for example, when they lack the necessary funds."

However, she pointed out, the rest of the Red Cross program is not functioning and needs the personal attention of everyone.

We are not prepared to meet a serious emergency.

If a disaster should strike, only trained people would be able to help, no matter how willing others might be.

For basic preparedness, Northville needs:

—Ten station wagons as emergency ambulances with drivers trained in first aid. If you have a station wagon and wish to volunteer for this service, call Charles Carrington.

—First aid volunteers, men and women to assist doctors and nurses.

—Women trained in home nursing.

—Registered nurses. If you are a registered nurse and are not employed, register with the local branch.

—Blood donors. Put your name on call as a regular donor.

Training classes for first aid and home nursing can be conducted right here in Northville as soon as 15 or more persons register for training. Unfortunately, no one registered during the three day period when local members were stationed at the Carrington insurance agency to accept names.

To conduct classes, operate blood mobiles, and put the ten services of the Red Cross as full operating capacity, of course funds are needed.

Collection of contributions in the business district and schools will continue throughout the month of March. Personal contributions are being collected through the mail—hundreds of letters have already gone out with their call for help.

Over $1300 was collected in Northville in last year's drive, and Mrs. Carlson is hoping that this year's figure will be equally as impressive.

"Let's not only make the monetary drive successful," she said. "I have been advised to urge Northville citizens to prepare to help themselves until outside help can come in case of a disaster — let's be prepared to do the job WHEN IT COUNTS."

Chicago Museums Await NHS Students

Under the guidance of LaGene Quay, 44 members from his NHS science classes will journey to Chicago April 17 and 18. They will take a train to Chicago and back, and will spend the night at the Palmer House hotel.

While they are there, they will visit the planetarium, the field museum, Buckingham Fountain and the Museum of Science and Industry.

In order to raise funds to partially finance this trip the students sold fire extinguishers, and are planning to hold a car wash.

Library Holds "Bargain" Day

Last Monday and Tuesday the school library held a bargain day for the students. On those days overdue books were allowed to come in without the charging of a fine.

The main idea of the bargain days was to bring in the overdue books so that students that had held the books would be able to get their report cards at the end of the semester. There were 150 books out and about 100 were turned in.

Other Choirs Heard By NHS Group

The choir of NHS went on a trip to Royal Oak on Tuesday, March 12 to hear several other choirs and decide whether or not they would like to participate in the choir festivals next year.

In addition, several members also attended the Wayne-Oakland county league choir last Thursday.

Students Tour Chrysler Building

General science classes of the high school were conducted on a tour of the Chrysler Engineering building in Detroit last week.

The class was shown every part of a car is tested to find out where the weak spots are. Students noted that in one of the rooms used for testing engines, there were holes in the ceiling and floor where an engine had blown up.

All through the huge laboratory, parts were being tested for stress and strain — which showed how much work is being done to insure safety. One of the many interesting testing devices was a metal ball which had to be dropped 13 feet before it could break the rear window of an automobile.

Come on, moms and dads! The kids are inviting you out Saturday night for an evening of dancing, entertainment and refreshments.

The Teen club is doing pretty well on its young legs, and wants you to have an "inside" look into its activities.

So far, the kids have had help from Mrs. Sid Junod and Stan Johnston. Student leaders for the group are Richard Drew, president; Scott Adams, vice-president; and Elsie Sedan, secretary-treasurer, newly elected officers.

The evening promises to be a good one — dancing to the music of Bob Williams and his dance band, and a floor show of talent picked from the students themselves (just who will be on stage is being kept a secret until the big night).

So come on, moms and dads — drop in Saturday night at the Community building. The fun begins at 8 p.m. and lasts until 11:30.

The way of the world is to make laws, but follow customs. —Montaigne

Junior Red Cross Calls for Members

Once again, it is time for students to renew their memberships in the American Junior Red Cross by giving what they can — and by urging others to do the same.

Forty years ago, this self-supporting organization was introduced in schools across the country, and was made a separate group from its "parent" organization.

A large share of Red Cross money last year went to Hungarian refugee relief. Funds also went to India, Iran, Japan, Korea, Okinawa and Puerto Rico.

Purely voluntary workers of the Red Cross give help to members of the armed forces, and, right here at home, emergency help in times of national disaster.

Conservation Films Shown Last Week

Have you often wondered what the United States is doing about the conservation of wildlife and fish?

Last Wednesday, students of Northville were given an opportunity to learn. Mr. Johnson, a conservationist from the University of Michigan gave a brief description before showing two colored motion pictures.

The first portrayed preparing refuge for waterfowl by the conservation department of "Mud-lake National Wildlife" in Minnesota.

The second was a showing on extensive work that is being carried on to rid our lakes of the lamprey eel.

Offer Scholarships To Future Nurses

Michigan Blue Cross announced recently that for the seventh straight year it will award 10 nursing scholarships of $300 each, with winners to be chosen by the Michigan League for Nursing on a competitive basis.

William S. McNary, executive vice-president of Blue Cross, said that the contest — open to all high school seniors and graduates in Michigan — will run until March 31.

Application blanks together with rules and regulations for entering the 1957 competition are available through high school principals, Future Nurses clubs, approved schools of nursing, all Blue Cross offices, or by writing directly to the Michigan League for Nursing, 567 Hollister Building, Lansing 8.

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

Voters of Northville and Novi will decide April 1 what officials will lead their respective governments. The responsibility is one that every registered voter should regard as irrevocable.

At no other level of government do the decisions rendered bear more directly upon the people. At no other level is it possible for the voters to know their candidates so intimately.

As comparative newcomers to the area, we shall not attempt to tell our readers HOW to vote. This is a decision only they can make. We shall, however, do everything within our resources to encourage a heavy turnout of well informed voters.

In both Northville and Novi our March 28 "Election Edition" will carry pictures, biographies and statements from major local candidates. We hope that every reader will take time to consider their qualifications and vote according to their best judgment.

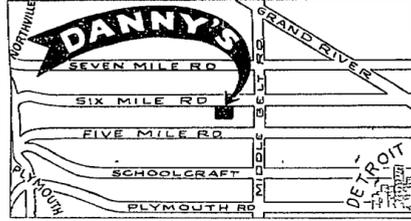

The approaching years in Northville and Novi are ones of important decision. Perhaps at no other time has the area given greater promise of immediate and significant growth. The officials you choose will determine policy to govern the manner in which this growth takes place.

Make it your business to know every candidate personally. If you have questions, ask him. These candidates are your neighbors and would probably appreciate your interest in their work for the community.

Above all, don't forget to vote April 1. You owe this vote to yourself and the future of your community.

Dem Highway Candidate May Face Detour!

THE TERMS "qualified engineer" and "registered engineer" may be batted around in front of Michigan's Supreme Court if John C. Mackie, Democratic candidate for state highway commissioner, receives the voters' approval for that office.

Currently, the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers (MSPE) is doing a slow burn because Mackie is not registered as an engineer. MSPE contends that according to Michigan law, this makes his ineligible for the highway post.

An MSPE attempt to force Democrats to select a new candidate for highway commissioner failed when the state Supreme Court refused to issue an order to Secretary of State James M. Hare to keep Mackie's name off the April 1 ballot.

The Mackie-MSPE dispute appears to be heading for further legal tests if the Democratic candidate is elected.

Robert E. Childs, attorney for the professional engineering group, says he assumes the court refused to rule on the issue before the election because the usual method of ruling on a candidate's qualifications is to wait until after he is elected.

Charges of "politics" were leveled against the suit by Democratic State Central Committee Chairman Neil Staebler. Childs refutes the statement saying, "A. C. Friel, president of the MSPE, has instructed me that the suit must be brought against any man running for highway commissioner, regardless of political connections, if he isn't a qualified, registered engineer."

The bone of contention centers around the word "registered". Mackie holds a degree in civil engineering from Michigan State university. However, he is not registered as an engineer. At present he is a registered surveyor at Flint.

Main basis for filing the original suit (and for any future legal action should Mackie be elected) is a 1937 law which requires the highway commissioner to be a registered engineer. This in turn is supported by a ruling of the Attorney General in 1945 that county road commissioners must be registered engineers.

If Mackie were elected and then disqualified, the appointment of a successor would be up to Governor Williams.

MICHIGAN'S NEW teen-age driving law is off to a flying start according to reports from schools around the state.

Since Feb. 1, no person under 18 can qualify for a license without an approved course in driver's education.

Few complaints have been received from either parents or students that the new law is creating any hardships, says Norman E. Borgerson, deputy superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction.

All schools have successfully instituted the program. Prior to the adoption of the law in February some of the larger schools were afraid they could not provide adequate facilities. However, these fears did not materialize, Borgerson states.

About 68,000 students will receive the required course by the end of 1957. Many experts believe that driver education is a contributing factor in the reduction of accidents Michigan experienced during the first two months of the year.

As the pioneer in this compulsory driving education, Michigan is being closely watched by other states contemplating the adoption of similar legislation.

Some changes are suggested for the present law. The Michigan State Safety Commission had heard recommendations that:

1. All students who have driven for a year or more under temporary permits be granted a license without the formal training.
 2. The mandatory $3 fee for a driving permit be eliminated.
- This fee can be collected when the student applies for the regular license, Borgerson suggests. At present, the $3 is returned to all those who take the course but do not choose to apply for a license.

One conflict exists with present driving regulations.

Under the training program a student is eligible to take instruction any time after his 15th birthday. Some students complete the course within eight weeks after they become 15 years of age. Law then prevents them from driving for the next 44 weeks until they reach 16.

The Department of Public Instruction is recommending a change to grant restricted permits to any "graduate" of the driver training course.

PHOTOGRAPHS may soon be necessary on Michigan driver licenses if a proposed bill meets with favorable legislative action.

Currently, the State Highway Committee is taking testimony on the proposal which would require that a motorist's photograph be imprinted on his license.

Trade groups and safety organizations are generally in favor of the bill. Rebuilders, bankers and liquor licensees point out that driver licenses often used for identification of customers. They believe a photograph would assure positive identification.

Retail spokesmen also believe bad check passers, who often rely on stolen or counterfeit licenses would be greatly deterred.

Big questions to be answered are how much would such a program cost and how can it be handled efficiently? No information exists at present because other states do not require photographs.

Sidney H. Woolner, deputy Secretary of State, suggests that such a program be put on a trial basis. By limiting the requirement to only a few counties at first, costs and administrative problems could be determined.

Population to Increase by 50 Million in 20 Years

Babson Park, Mass., In 1950, our U.S. population was about 150,000,000. Today we are 170,000,000 strong and the prospect is that our rapid expansion in numbers will continue. The 20,000,000 more Americans added since 1950 are equivalent to twice the present population of the six New England states!

Tremendous Growth Ahead

I am told that a baby is born in this country every eight seconds, and that, if present rates of increase continue, we could well have a population of 220,000,000 by 1975. This huge gain means that demand prospects for our products are good. Each new birth, each immigrant, and each person living a longer life than had previously been considered normal, adds to the potential demand that American manufacturers and merchants can attempt to satisfy.

This growth in population far exceeds earlier predictions. I well remember the experts telling us in the depression days of the thirties that the U.S. population would hit a peak — probably around 1980 — and then decline. As I recall it, they thought that peak might be around 154,000,000 — a mark we actually passed about five years ago!

What About Our Labor Force?

The current boom in people is the result of an unexpectedly high birth rate and a steadily declining mortality. Modern medicine conquers many of the diseases which in the past have cut life short. Thus the area of our greatest population gain is among the very young and among our senior citizens. The adults who form the labor force are a decreasing segment of the total population. That being the case, we should be more concerned about labor-management relations in future years. I forecast that labor-force growth may continue to lag the total population rise to an increasing degree during the next 20 years. This widening gap will create problems for management except as the automatic factory becomes a factor in the situation. This is especially true if too small a proportion of the labor force possess the scientific and engineering skills required to keep us abreast of the technological developments.

Instead of paying too much attention to the expensive frills of education (as we do now), we need to encourage high school boys and girls to become scientists, chemists and engineers, as well as economists, business managers, merchants and teachers. We ought to find out whether our schools are actually doing the type of educational job that needs to be done. If we do not mend our ways in this respect, we shall pay dearly in coming years for our foolishness.

Will More People Mean More Sales?

Growth in population suggests a rising demand for products and services. However, we should not be too quick to assume that this increase will always be translated into actual buying power.

Much will depend on the economic conditions during the years ahead.

More people will not necessarily mean more sales if the government does not curb its spending. Such spending, makes for highly progressive taxes which undermine profits and cripple business incentive. Neither will more people mean more sales unless we are able to adjust as a nation to the vast changes which are ahead. I have in mind the further development of atomic power, automation, speedier transport, and other new manufacturing and marketing techniques. Mere bigness in numbers and in potential resources will not assure our prosperity. Hence, my repeated emphasis on the need for more religious training of our children.

Are There Too Many People?

Our rapid population growth scares some folks. They fear we cannot produce enough food for all these people. I do not share those fears. We have learned during and since World War II how to step up our crop yields to levels not dreamed of a generation ago. We now have food and feed surpluses. Irrigation and phosphate can produce miracles.

Surely more people in future years may well solve our current farm problem of overproduction. In fact, I forecast that the time is not far distant when we shall be eager to increase our farm output. We will step up our crop yields to new record highs through an intelligent use of irrigation and fertilizer and other other soil crop builders. I am optimistic about the future of American farmers.

It has been carefully figured—a gift of $5 to the American Red Cross will provide travel expenses for approximately 280 of the long miles of a trip home by a serviceman called from duty because of a family emergency.
