Sale of Cut-off Property Faces Public Vote June 10

Voters in the school election June 10 will be asked to approve a request of the Northville board of education for authority to sell school property for the proposed Eight Mile road cut-off.

This proposition will be in addition to the election of two school board members. Candidates for the positions include Clifton D. Hill, Francis Gazlay, Dr. Waldo T. Johnson and Adrian Willis.

The addition was approved at an informal meeting of the board Tuesday night after a report of attorney James Littell on the results of two conferences with the Wayne county road commission.

Littell had been formally requested earlier by the board to present the school requests to the commission. He reported that the commission said it was still not sure whether the cut-off would go through, but that if plans were completed, the commission would agree to —

- build a six foot high chain link fence on the elementary school side of the road;
- build a pedestrian overpass over the cut-off;
- install such traffic control signals as might be necessary;
- construct de-acceleration lanes at the sides of the pavement;
- pay a cash price for the land, based on current market value.

Regarding the improvement of North Center street, the road commission stated that the widening of the street could be accomplished by using the hill on the west side as a borrowing pit for dirt.

They said they would agree to grading, but not paving, the resulting surface.

Explanations by the commission as to why the cut-off may not be built rest on two factors: negotiations with the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad concerning a viaduct that must be constructed if the road is built, and secondly, increased costs that will be incurred complying with the school board requests.

In other business Tuesday night, the board approved plans to purchase approximately five acres of Robinson property abutting the present high school site on the west; and approved tentative architectural plans for the new high school submitted by the staff of Eberle M. Smith associates.

Schools Still Need Operating Dollars

As far as the Northville schools are concerned the money squeeze is still on despite the state legislature's bill for emergency relief.

The local school board published advertisements this week for the sale of $50,000 in local tax anticipation notes to insure adequate funds for the current year's operation.

Superintendent of schools Russell Amerman called the state emergency funds an advance that "is only temporary relief which is postponing disaster."

Amerman pointed out that the emergency money being forwarded the school districts is an advance distribution of the primary school money which normally arrives in September and December. "If we do not sell bonds for the additional operating funds, we will be faced with another shortage at the end of summer," Amerman said.

The schools' shortage of operating funds came about as a result of a drastic drop in sales tax revenue. Under consideration by the state is a cigarette and whiskey tax boost that would provide additional dollars for the schools next year.

Northville, like many other school districts throughout the state faced the possibility of not being able to pay teacher contracts. Amerman stated this week that the board could not meet its May 24 payroll and that relief is expected before the June payday.

Plan Driver Training Here This Summer

Driver training will be offered by Northville high school this summer for students who could not take it during the school year.

The courses also are open to parochial students in Northville.

Plans also include driver training courses for adults, if enough Northville adults indicate an interest.

For further information, call the high school offices at Northville 1130.

For Mentally Retarded

Children's Home Funds Approved

The fate of the proposed $25 million home for mentally retarded children at Sheldon and Five Mile roads was in the hands of state senators this week after the legislature voted to provide $2,826,000 to start the project.

The appropriation came as a surprise and marked the only break by Republicans to hold the line on capital improvements.

To be known as the "Plymouth State Home and Training School" the institution would be located on 250 acres of land deeded to the state by Wayne county. The property lies in Northville township.

The fight to include the amendment for the home was led by Representative Sterling Eaton of Plymouth and Harry Phillips of Port Huron. The twosome gained enough Republican support to go with solid Democratic backing to pass the amendment, 59 to 43. Eaton and Phillips both took the floor to speak on behalf of the institution pointing to the need for facilities for the retarded and the ideal location of the site.

Tentative plans for the hospital call for a 2500-person capacity. It would include a 550-bed custodial unit, service utilities, power plant and administration building. The project would get underway as soon as possible to relieve already overcrowded temporary facilities at Fort Custer and Farmington.

The appropriation of $2,826,000 would give the project a start. Subsequent appropriations would be made as the building progressed.

The 250 acres border on the north side of Five Mile road on both sides of Sheldon. Exact location of the home has not been determined.

Merchants Plan All Night Sale

Northville's "night-owl" merchants are at it again. And this time they've increased their numbers.

For the second time in two months several Northville merchants will stay open all night and offer an array of "sell-a-thon" specials. Anyone who'll stay up to shop after midnight will be rewarded with outstanding savings at some 20 local stores.

The "sell-a-thon" was first tried last month by four merchants. Now, according to Carl Johnson and Essie Nirider, organizers of the promotion, approximately 20 stores will try to lure night shoppers into their stores Wednesday evening, May 29.

"We think more customers may shop on the night before a holiday when they can sleep in the next day," said Johnson.

Advertisements in next week's Record will carry the "sell-a-thon" specials.

Picnic Planned By Legion Auxiliary

A pot-luck picnic for everyone will be held after the Memorial Day parade at the Veterans' Memorial hall by the American Legion Auxiliary.

All that's necessary is a passing dish and table service — so join the fun with your family and friends.

Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch To Address P-TA Tonight

Northville parents and teachers will hear one of the nation's foremost children's psychiatrists tonight — Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, director of Hawthorn Center in Northville.

Sponsored by the Northville Parent-Teachers association, the address is open to the public. It will begin at 8 p.m. in the Northville Community building.

Dr. Rabinovitch will discuss "Some Problems in Meeting Children's Needs."

Before coming to Hawthorn in 1956, Dr. Rabinovitch was chief of children's service at the University of Michigan and an associate professor of psychiatry from 1949 to 1956.

He previously served as a research fellow in child psychiatry at Bellevue hospital in New York City.

A graduate in medicine from McGill university in Montreal, Dr. Rabinovitch took psychiatric training at Toronto university and New York university.

He has written research publications covering a wide variety of studies in psychiatry, including such subjects as foster home placement and adoption, childhood schizophrenia, children's graphic art, juvenile delinquency and reading retardation in emotionally disturbed children.

First Check

City Clerk Mary Alexander reported that the city received its first check from the state for the current racing season Wednesday.

The check covered the first 10 days of the meet and totaled $22,961.16. If betting maintains the same pace throughout the 38-night meet, the city would receive $87,248. This is the same sum received last year in state returned dollars.

Ford Shut Down Only a 'Rumor', Company Says

A Ford Motor company spokesman this week denied rumors that the Northville and Waterford division plants would either close down soon or expand.

"There are no plans to change the operations of either plant in any respect," said William Goodell of the Ford public relations staff.

Rumors have circulated in Northville recently that the local plant would either be shut down or would expand its operations.

Similar rumors had it that the Waterford plant faced either curtailment or expansion.

Goodell said the rumors may have originated with the announcement that two other Ford plants — Milford and Manchester — will shut down soon. Milford has nearly ceased operations, and the Manchester plant will close later this summer. Goodell also noted that a recent Ford reorganization may have prompted the stories.

"In January, the Northville plant was taken from the parts and equipment division in Ypsilanti and put under the engine division," he said. "Perhaps that reorganization caused these rumors, through someone misunderstanding just what it meant."

Teen-Age Road-E-O To be Held Sunday

Northville teen-agers will pit their driving skills against each other Sunday in an effort to win the Northville Road-E-O championship and a chance to enter the state contest.

The road test — in which contestants must display their mastery of all driving skills — will begin Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian church parking lot.

The local Road-E-O is sponsored by the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the national contest.

Contestants took the first part of the test — a written examination similar to a drivers license test — Tuesday at Northville high school. Results will be computed in the final selections.

The winner of the Northville contest will go on to the state Road-E-O in Detroit, and the state winner will then journey to Washington, D.C. for the national finals on August 15. Last year, a youth from Farmington represented Michigan in Washington.

Trophies which will go to local winners are on display at Northville Men's shop. The national winner will receive a $2,000 savings bond.

General chairman for the JCC is Clifford Shoebridge. Cars for the contest will be furnished by G. E. Miller, local Dodge dealer.

Contestants must have a drivers license and must still be under 20 as of August 15 this year.

Early Deadline

Because of the Memorial Day holiday next Thursday, The Northville Record will publish one day early.

All advertising and news copy should be submitted by Monday noon.

Copies of The Record will be on the newsstands Tuesday night and will be delivered in the mail Wednesday.

New Cut-off Negotiations Worry City Councilmen

NORTHVILLE CITIZEN OF THE YEAR — Northville police chief Joseph Denton this week was named to receive the annual American Legion citizenship award for "continued service through the years." The plaque was presented to Denton by Robert H. Eno at Monday night's banquet in honor of visiting Mayor Eno. "I've been presented quite a few things," said Denton, "but I treasure this the most."

Dial Exchange Wins OK

City councilmen approved final adoption of the zoning amendment Tuesday evening that clears the way for the construction of Michigan Bell Telephone dial exchange center for Northville and Novi.

The proposed building will be located on North Center street approximately one-half mile north of Baseline on land recently annexed from Novi township.

Telephone officials stated that construction of the building would begin almost immediately. Dial service for the area can be expected by late summer, 1958.

Located in a residential zone, councilmen had to approve the planning commission's decision to allow construction of the exchange on the site. The property was owned by Elmer Wilson, 860 West Main street, who plans to subdivide other acreage in the North Center street area.

In other business the council heard an appeal by Clifton Hill, attorney for Angie's Bowling Alleys, to reduce the requirement under the building code of five parking spaces per alley to three. Hill stated that his client desires to build an additional six alleys. He asked councilmen to consider a survey taken of parking spaces used by bowlers that indicated "three spaces per alley was more realistic."

Mayor Claude Ely appointed a committee to meet with Hill and the planning commission to determine the number of spaces necessary to provide for each additional alley and the cost of the spaces.

The council delayed any action on two applications for a taxi license in Northville. The matter will be decided after the city manager is released from the hospital. Meanwhile, Northville's taxi calls are being handled by the Plymouth Cab company, one of the applicants for the local franchise.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie told councilmen that with the appointment of Anthony Renne as township attorney for Novi a date for the trial of Novi's annexation suit would be set. The suit is being brought by Novi in protest to annexation of the 88-acre Yerkes farm area. The township maintains that the election is illegal by the fact that all residents of the township could not vote.

City Manager John Robertson is now confined to St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor after suddenly becoming ill last Saturday.

He was removed to St. Joseph's Monday after treatment at Atchison Memorial hospital in Northville.

The sudden illness prevented Robertson's participation in Michigan Week activities, for which he was general chairman.

At last report, doctors were still conducting tests to determine the nature of his illness.

Serious concern over the proposed Eight Mile road cut-off arose Tuesday evening when city councilmen expressed more than casual interest in the school board's negotiations with Wayne county.

The matter came in for discussion after Councilman Malcolm Allen reported that there existed "a possibility that Wayne county would drop the project."

Although Allen stressed his information was not official, he stated that school board demands upon Wayne county may result in a dissolution of the cut-off.

John E. Hiltz, engineer of highways for the Wayne county road commission, told The Record Wednesday that he felt negotiations "were possible" after the school board received voter approval to sell the land.

Hiltz admitted that strong demands from the school "would bear towards dropping the project." He said that Wayne county did not regard Center street as their problem.

Approximately seven acres of school board property between the Amerman school and the proposed high school lies in the path of the proposed cut-off. In addition to a fair cash price for the land, the school board has requested the road commission to:

1. build an overpass between Amerman school and the high school;
2. place traffic signals where necessary;
3. build a fence on the elementary side of the highway;
4. place de-acceleration lanes on the sides of the highway;
5. improve North Center street, which will lead to the school as a main entrance.

School officials are quick to point out that their demands are not excessive. "We consider our requests as essential to the safety of the children and this must be our primary concern," Nelson Schrader stated.

City concern arises from the fact that without the new cut-off, new and expensive obligations will fall upon the city. Allen told other councilmen that the path of the cut-off down Carlyle will provide needed drainage from the school.

The school board has taken the position that the new high school can exist without the cut-off, perhaps more safely. Yet they admit that without the cut-off, the city will face new expense.

Stumbling block in the negotiations appears to be the improvement of North Center street. To widen, pave and curb and gutter the street will cost $50,000 according to Wayne county estimates. School officials are not clear as to how extensive the "improvement" of the street should be. Widening and shaving down of hills on the road may suffice.

Councilman Allen asked that the council give serious consideration to this project this summer. Allen contended that the city would be better off to improve Center street than to allow the cut-off project to die.

Meanwhile, other blocks appeared before the county in its program. The matter of an overpass at the C & O railroad along with purchase of railroad property also presented a problem that could not be laid to the school. Whether this would be settled could not be learned.

Golden Anniversary for Cavells

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell

The memories in the photograph album of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell span nearly 50 married years in Northville—for next Saturday they will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

A party will be held for them at Meadowbrook Country club Sunday, friends and relatives gathering to offer congratulations and gifts.

The words "remember the time when..." will most certainly be repeated many times that day.

Recalled will be the days when Dr. Cavell made his rounds as veterinarian in a horse and buggy—Mrs. Cavell having a fresh horse ready for the next call when he would return.

Of their most recent memories, someone is sure to recall a time last year when Dr. Cavell was honored for 50 years of service as a vet by the Michigan Racing association.

He and Mrs. Cavell, who was born and raised in Northville, were married in 1907 in Ontario, Canada, just one year after the doctor graduated from Ontario Veterinary college in 1906.

Their three children have homes away from Northville now, but they will join in honoring their parents on Sunday.

Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton and children, Cynthia and Randy, will come from Plymouth. From East Tawas will be son, Dr. Ted Cavell, and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Brooks Cavell, III.

The Cavells also have two great-grandchildren who will be there with their parents, Ricky and Wendy, children of granddaughter, Mrs. Richard Palmer of Plymouth.

The daughter who traveled the longest distance to honor her parents is Mrs. Robert Casady, who brought with her her two sons, Warren and Brooks, from San Diego, California.

LANDSCAPE PLANS have partially been completed at the Richard Huston home on Chadworth drive, Brookland Farms. The Hustons have lived in Northville since December, when they moved into their new home from Detroit.

The secluded Brookland Farms subdivision has been "home" to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huston since the middle of December, when they moved here from Detroit.

An administrator in the purchasing office of the new Lincoln plant, Mr. Huston finds the Northville location but a short jaunt from his Novl office. The Hustons both enjoy the small town atmosphere and also like the nearness to Detroit which Northville offers.

Right now, the Hustons are looking forward to seeing grass sprout in their new front yard — like everyone else who has been eager to do a little yard work, they've been held up by the recent, but typical, Michigan weather tricks.

Mr. Huston originally from Huntington, Pennsylvania has also found that studies at the University of Detroit have kept him pretty busy. He did under-graduate work in engineering at Princeton, and will receive his master's degree in business administration from the Detroit school this year.

A former Michigan State student and native of Alpena, Mrs. Huston majored in home economics — learning that's already been put to use in decorating her new ranch style home. We'll bet that she'll be calling on that training a little more when the first Huston child arrives soon.

Club Members To Tour Gardens

An invitation has been extended to members of the Northville Garden club to visit the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson.

The Hudson gardens have been on the Detroit garden pilgrimage for several years. Of special interest to Northville members will be the "Continuous Bloom in Your Garden" factor, which Mr. Hudson emphasized when he spoke before the garden club last fall.

Club members, who may invite friends, are to meet at the Community building at 12:45 p.m. next Monday, May 27.

Lieutenant Richard Gussell, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gussell of Clement road, is home on a 30-day leave from Fort Huachuca, Arizona, visiting his parents. When the leave is up he will be sent to Japan.

Experts See 'Boom Town' Growth in Wixom

Two experts in regional planning predicted this week that Wixom may overshadow all other communities in western Oakland county within the next 10 years, as they revealed plans for a continuing study of the new village's "nearly unique" situation.

Professor Frank Suggett of the resource development department at Michigan State university, and William F. Jewell, of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, had these other startling estimates about the Wixom-Novi - Northville - Walled Lake area.

—Wixom's population may reach 20,000 to 30,000 within the next 10 years.

—Wixom may be the center of a huge business-residential-industrial complex extending as far as 20 to 25 miles in each direction along the new Brighton-Farmington expressway.

—Wixom may become another "River Rouge" — a key industrial area suddenly created out of rural farmland.

Dr. Suggett and Jewell will soon begin work on a long-range two-part study of the Wixom situation which, as Dr. Suggett says, "is a golden opportunity to watch the transition of a community from a rural crossroads to a completely modern industrial complex."

Jewell said the Wixom situation is "almost unique" because farming communities seldom have a $30,000,000 industrial plant dropped into their midst overnight. He was referring to the new Lincoln national headquarters which opened in the Wixom-Novi area last month.

The study will be carried out off-and-on over a period of years, possibly until Wixom is saturated and can go no further.

Jewell and the planning commission will carry out their end by helping leaders in the Wixom-Novi-Walled Lake area plan for future use of their resources. Dr. Suggett and his MSU staff then will study the community as it develops to see what actually happens.

Jewell said he is now trying to set up a regional planning commission composed of representatives of Wixom, Novi, Walled Lake, Northville, Milford and other nearby areas. This body would seek to solve common problems and keep abreast of growing pains before they get too large to handle.

The regional planning group would investigate problems ranging from water and sewers to finances, schools and highways.

"We're not trying to set up a model community," Jewell said, "but we do feel that any area that faces such tremendous growth as this one does should attempt to meet its problems even before they arise."

Jewell said, however, that growth of the area will not come unless the communities use their resources to the best advantage.

"Wixom could possibly be larger than any other surrounding community," he said, "but a lot will depend on how well they provide schools, use their huge tax base, and organize for the future."

At present, he added, none of the communities are ready for large-scale expansion because they do not have facilities to attract industry and land developers.

Jewell said he anticipates a balanced area of industry, residential, and business neighborhoods rather than strictly an industrial community.

"This is part of our 1980 projection survey for the entire Detroit area," Jewell said. "Through it, we'll be able to learn what happens to an area when industry comes in and how we can best advise future communities to solve their problems."

"It's an excellent opportunity to study this," he added, "for we probably could never again find a community in its original state of fields and orchards such as Wixom now has."

In East Lansing, Dr. Suggett was equally enthusiastic about the study.

"Our study will not be grandiose," he said, "but it should be unique. I know of few other cases where researchers should have been able to investigate such a phenomenon. It's almost like watching history unfold before your eyes."

Dr. Suggett said he and his staff will attempt to plot out Wixom as it was two years ago, and then study and re-study the area every two years.

"We'll take aerial photographs from time to time, and in the meantime we'll map and survey, the area, interview people, and study any changes in population growth, land use and development, and government."

He said he already has contacted Lincoln officials to ask their cooperation, and soon will approach business and governmental leaders in the area.

Dr. Suggett said Wixom "conceivably could reach 20,000 to 30,000 people within 10 years and become the leading community in the area."

Two factors which will help, he added, are the new expressway and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad spur which may make it a key transportation center.

On the other hand, he said, Wixom could discourage development by a strict zoning code, high taxes and failure to provide needed service facilities.

At present, Dr. Suggett said, he and his staff are merely "feeling out" the case study. If the state legislature grants requested funds to MSU, however, the study could actually get underway this summer.

"In the long run," he said, "we hope to answer a question of great significance to the southeastern Michigan area: whether, in the long run, industrialization is essentially good for a farming community."

Money Crisis Ends For School District

The Novi school system will weather the current financial squeeze that, for awhile, threatened to leave the school district in the red at the end of the current school year.

Superintendent William Medlyn said this week that teachers will be paid on time, and that other financial obligations will be met.

New Committee To Help Study School Problems

A Novi citizens' committee for schools will be formed tonight to look into problems connected with the proposed new elementary school in Novi.

A meeting has been called for 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday) in the Novi school library.

Superintendent William Medlyn has contacted representatives of a number of Novi organizations, but has added that any resident is welcome to attend the meeting and become part of the committee.

In addition to studying current problems, the committee will have the responsibility of investigating and planning for future school needs in Novi township.

Meanwhile, the school board was due to meet last night to wrap up final details in the purchase of a 10-acre site near Willowbrook Village where the new school will be built.

Once the site is secured, the board will make plans for scheduling a bond issue election in June or July to provide building funds for the school. Estimated cost of the 13-room building has not yet been determined.

Medlyn said the board hopes construction can begin this fall and be completed in time for classes in the fall of 1958.

Novi's state aid allotment still has not come through, he said, but a current bill in the legislature would give districts an advancement on next fall's primary school money.

In addition, the legislature is working on a proposal for special cigarette and whiskey taxes to provide more money for schools next year.

Novi's situation was duplicated all over the state recently when it was announced that state aid checks for this quarter would probably be some 80 percent less than has been anticipated. For Novi, this meant the district would receive $4,000 rather than the expected $23,000.

Medlyn said the current stop-gap special tax measure is not a final answer to the problem of providing funds for education.

"Basically," he said, "it all comes down to this: sooner or later, the residents in each district will have to realize that they must pay for what they get without banking on continued outside support. Either they will have to provide more local taxes for schools, or be satisfied with what the current taxes will provide."

Kindergarten Registration

Parents of children who will enter kindergarten at the Novi school next fall are reminded by superintendent William Medlyn that registration will continue through next Wednesday.

Registration will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. in the school office.

Each child must have his birth certificate at the time of registration, and must be five years of age on or before December 1, 1957.

Renne Named New Township Attorney

Set Deadline Dates For Registration In Wixom Election

Candidates and voters in the newly formed village of Wixom have until June 17 to file petitions and register for the July 15 charter election.

Every qualified voter in the village must register in order to be eligible to vote. Previous registration for township elections has no bearing on the village election.

Hopefuls in the race for council and village president must file petitions between June 7 and June 17. According to Herbert Abrams, member of the charter commission, a site for filing petitions and registration has not yet been determined.

In addition to voting on the charter, the villagers will elect six councilmen and a president should the charter win approval. Under the charter the president will be elected for a two-year term. Ordinarily councilmen will be elected for four years. In the first election, however, the three councilmen polling the most votes will win four-year terms and two-year terms will go to the next three candidates in the voting. Under this arrangement a president and three councilmen will be elected every two years.

The election will complete the incorporation action that began nearly six months ago and was approved by voters on February 5. A move by two Novi residents to block the incorporation failed, as Oakland county circuit court upheld the validity of the vote.

Three Plead Guilty To Driving Offenses

Two motorists pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving and a third for leaving the scene of an accident before Novi justice of the peace William MacDermid last week.

Louis Lindell, 39047 Grand River, was fined $50 for reckless driving. A mandatory jail sentence was suspended because of his superior driving record in the past.

Robert F. Farino of Dearborn pleaded guilty to reckless driving charges after he was arrested for crossing the center strip on Grand River. He was placed on probation and ordered to attend traffic school.

James Gross, 48380 Pontiac Trail, was fined $50 after pleading guilty to leaving the scene of an accident. A 30-day sentence was suspended providing Gross makes full restitution for damages in the accident.

NEW ATTORNEY — Clerk Hadley Bachert (left) briefs Anthony Renne on his duties as Novi township's new attorney. Renne, 43, lives in Drayton Plains and practices in Pontiac. A graduate of Wayne university, Renne has specialized in negligence law. He is a charter member of the Novi AMVETS and a former judge advocate of the state AMVET organization.

Five More Enter Novi Beauty Contest

Five more winsome lasses have been added to the list of candidates for the "Miss Novi AMVET" crown to be awarded at a gala beauty contest on June 14 at the Walled Lake casino.

A total of 11 girls have entered the contest so far.

Applications are still being taken. Blanks are available from Gordon Promo, Trickey's Sporting Goods, or the Northville Record-Novis News office in Northville.

The judging will be followed by a dance featuring the music of Russ Carlyle and his orchestra.

The winner will go on to the state AMVET contest in Detroit, with a chance of representing Michigan in the national judging in Boston in August.

To Hear Request For Trailer Park

The Novi township zoning board will consider a request Monday night to rezone a site near Walled Lake for use as a trailer park.

The meeting will begin at 9 p.m. in the township hall.

It is the first such request since Novi's stiff "regulate-but-not-prohibit" trailer park ordinance was approved last fall.

The park, proposed by a Pontiac firm, would be located off East Lake drive north of New Court—about one-quarter mile around the lake from Walled Lake amusement park.

It would have room for some 70 trailers on 10 acres of land, with an access road from East Lake drive.

The zoning request calls for a rezoning from R-1 to R-3.

18 Organizations To be in Parade

Further plans for the largest Memorial Day parade in Novi township history were announced this week by AMVETS of Perry Kenner Post 76.

The memorial program will center around military services at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

In the line of march will be the following: AMVETS color guards and bearers, firing squad, post members, and auxiliary, Novi Drum and Bugle Corps; Gold Star Mothers; Blue Star Mothers; Walled Lake VFW, Dads, and auxiliary; Novi Oddfellows and Novi Rebekahs.

Also in the parade will be the Walled Lake band; Land-O-Lakes baton team; Boy Scouts; Girl Scouts; Cubs; Brownies; Little League, and army and police equipment.

Further plans will be announced next week.

Appointment Approved As Board Divides Again

Novi township's month-long lack of legal representation ended Monday night with the naming of a new township attorney, but the action caused still another serious breach among township board members.

Anthony Renne, general practice attorney from Pontiac, was named to the position over the strong opposition of supervisor Frazer Staman.

Renne's appointment fills a vacancy created four weeks ago when the board, in effect, fired former attorney Arch Leonard by failing to renew his contract.

The appointment was made by a 3-1 vote, with clerk Hadley Bachert, treasurer Ray Harrison and trustee Stan Balon favoring it. Staman demanded a roll-call vote so that he could insert his opposition to the appointment.

Trustee Frank Clark was not present at the meeting.

The question of an attorney prompted bitter comments from the audience of 25 persons, most of whom backed Staman's stand against Renne's appointment. It ended with two men shouting loudly at each other.

One other attorney had been considered for the position — Philip Pratt, also of Pontiac.

Balon inadvertently brought on the heated discussion when, in nominating Renne for the post, he said he had contacted nearly a dozen high-ranking Oakland county officials to get their opinions of the attorney.

His statement appeared to indicate that the officials had expressed approval of Renne.

But this was angrily challenged by several in the audience who said at least two of the officials were definitely not in favor of Renne. This was backed up by Staman, who said he also had talked to the officials in question.

Balon, quickly said he had not meant to imply that all had approved Renne.

"I merely said I talked with them, and made my decision on the basis of those talks," he said. "I do not care to divulge just what the comments were."

Staman and others then drew the name of former treasurer Charles Trickey, Jr. into the picture by saying Trickey had "promised" Renne the job and had persuaded Bachert, Balon and Harrison to appoint him.

This was denied by the threesome. They said they had studied both applicants thoroughly and had based their decision on Renne's qualifications as an attorney.

Not once was any specific charge made against Renne or about his work. Most of the criticism appeared to be based on hearsay.

Two other attorneys were mentioned by members of the audience as possible candidates — Novi justice of the peace Robert Anderson and Walled Lake lawyer Howard Bond.

To this Harrison replied that on one hand, Anderson has offices in Wayne county rather than Oakland, and that on the other Staman had an opportunity to nominate Bond but had not done so.

A Job Already

Novi attorney Anthony Renne has his work cut out already.

He is scheduled to appear Monday before Oakland county circuit court Judge Clark Adams to arrange the trial of Novi's suit against the annexation to Northville of the 88-acre "Yerkes Farm" site.

The trial has been postponed pending the naming of a new Novi attorney. Renne probably will be given several weeks to brief himself on the case for the trial.

Township Revises Purchasing Set-Up For Better Control

"Red tape" became a part of Novi township official business Monday night when the township board voted to revise its purchasing operations and keep exact track of where almost every cent goes.

From now on, any expenditure over $10 must be approved either by the supervisor or clerk, and a signed purchase order must be issued.

And anything under $10 — except for petty cash items — must have an invoice.

The plan was discussed at length by the board after it was first proposed by trustee Stan Balon, who is a purchasing agent for a Detroit firm in private life.

Balon proposed the plan — which he said is similar to that followed by most businesses — because many large expenditures have been made recently without board members giving written approval. Most were janitorial or police supplies.

The board approved the plan, 3-0, though supervisor Frazer Staman objected that it might mean too much paper-work. He said the previous practice of getting purchase orders only for items more than $100 had worked satisfactorily.

In addition, Staman said, the new plan might make it difficult for township employees to purchase emergency supplies immediately if board members are not present to sign a purchase order.

"Pretty soon we'll have so much system we won't be able to get anything done," he said.

In other business, the board agreed to purchase a tractor and attachments for $848 to be used in maintaining the township park. A total of six bids were received.

NOTES
Sealed bids for the purchase of tax anticipation notes of Northville Public Schools, Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, of the par value of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000), will be received by the undersigned at the Board Room, Grade School, in the City of Northville, Michigan, until 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the 3rd day of June, 1957, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

The notes will be dated June 1, 1957, will mature May 1, 1958, and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding five per cent (5%) per annum. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such notes must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

For the purpose of awarding the notes the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from July 1, 1957, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Attorneys, Penobscot Building, Detroit, Michigan, which opinion will be furnished, without expense to the purchaser of the notes prior to the delivery thereof, approving the legality of the notes. The purchaser shall furnish notes ready for execution at his expense. Notes will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place designated by the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Clean Carpets Save You Money

IF RUGS and carpets are to wear well and stay attractive they must be kept clean. Dirt on the surface dulls the color of the rug. Embedded grit wears and cuts the fibers. Damage from clothes moths and carpet beetles is less likely to occur when rugs are kept clean. The time to spray rugs against these insects is after they have been thoroughly cleaned.

CONTINUOUS SHOWS FROM 2:30-MEMORIAL DAY

ALL ABOARD — Like a former harness driver (which he is) Mayor Eno takes the reins for a quick jog around the track at Northville Downs. The mayor tried to get a good tip or two, but the pony wasn't talking.

Visiting Mayor Eno Has Himself a 'Ball'

Mayor Harvey Eno of Millington breezed into Northville Monday and promptly showed his executive ability to all — even to a pacer at Northville Downs.

Wielding the Northville gavel as the city's honorary head of government during Mayor's Exchange Day, the smiling executive was treated to a full round of activities in his honor.

Ely Gets Gifts In Millington

While Millington's Harvey Eno was taking over the duties of Mayor Claude Ely Monday, the Northville mayor was being royally treated in Millington.

Mayor Ely, who attended the day-long festivities in Millington with his wife and Councilman and Mrs. Earl Reed, came back with a number of souvenirs. Besides the traditional key to the city, Mayor Ely received a white zipper jacket with the high school's blazing red Cardinal insignia, yearbooks of the senior and grade school classes, and a Bible.

The Northville contingent toured Millington schools and business places during the day. Mayor Ely presented the keys to the buyer of the 500th refrigerated truck manufactured by a Millington Firm.

Meanwhile, Northville Mayor Claude N. Ely was presiding over Millington, a small village in the thumb area of Michigan.

Mayor Eno arrived at the city hall behind the orange-and-black clad Northville high school marching band, and was immediately sworn into office for the day.

Presiding over an informal council meeting, he and Millington councilman Art Nicholas questioned Northville officials at length on the city's resources, facilities, problems and expectations.

Serious for the most part, the mayor often brought on a smile with his comments on community problems.

What to do about Northville's water supply?

"Keep drilling, I suppose," he quipped.

After a tour around the city in which he met many Northville business and civic leaders, the mayor was guest of honor at a luncheon sponsored by the Northville Coordinating Council.

The afternoon took Mayor Eno and Councilman Nicholas on a fast trip to points of interest in and around the city: the Northville spring, Northville state hospital, Northville Downs, and others.

At the Downs, the mayor surprised his party by accepting an offer to put one of the trotters through its paces. By the time he had jogged the horse halfway around the track, it was apparent that Mayor Eno knew more about horses than might be suspected.

That evening, he was guest of honor at still another banquet in his honor. With some 90 Northville residents attending, he heard Professor Howard McCluskey set the keynote for observing Michigan Week.

Later, with official activities concluded, Mayor Eno again paid a visit to Northville Downs — this time as a spectator.

His afternoon workout at the track did little good, however, for the mayor found out that his pony wasn't running that night.

Ninety Attend Michigan Dinner

More than 90 Northville residents turned out last Monday evening to salute Michigan and Northville's mayor for the day, Harvey Eno of Millington.

The Community building dinner climaxed a day of activity for the visiting mayor and served as the highlight of the Michigan Week observance in Northville.

Dr. Howard McCluskey of the adult education department of the University of Michigan was the featured speaker. Toastmaster John Canterbury called upon Malcolm Allen, Northville's mayor pro tem, for a message to welcome Eno. The Millington village president replied to Allen's comments by expressing his appreciation for the day accorded him in Northville.

Dr. McCluskey pointed to Michigan as a "state you can't type." "Michigan blends the friendliness and informality of the west with the stability of the east," he stated. Dr. McCluskey said that the typical Michigander is cosmopolitan, friendly and possesses few prejudices. He pointed to many advantages within Michigan including its educational institutions, collection of philanthropic wealth, natural resources and location.

As a word of caution, Dr. McCluskey said that Michigan must "avoid indigestion from rapid growth" and take its "coat off to the future" to develop new processes for expansion.

Mrs. Frank Hamull of North Center street was operated on Monday at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor. Doctors report the operation successful and her condition as well as could be expected.

IGNORING GOD!

Perhaps you are one who has been ignoring God! It's bad enough when men snub and ignore men, but what a contemptuous sin it is for people to ignore God. Psalm 10:4, "The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts."

He lives day by day through the mercies of God. He receives His blessings of the common graces. But does he acknowledge that these are from God and thank Him? God expects worship, thanksgiving and service from you. He did not create man to live on this earth for man's own personal pleasure. "All things were made by Him and FOR Him." We have missed the great purpose of our earthly life if we have not realized this. If you are so busy that you do not have time to think upon Him, then you are too busy. You had better get rid of some of your business before it becomes responsible for the eternal loss of your soul. It is your responsibility to listen to God's invitation to get right with Him by believing and obeying the Gospel. Then it is your responsibility to worship, praise and serve Him all the days of your life. Will you stop this sin of ignoring God?

Sisters, Engineers Meet To Discuss New Hospital

The building committee of the St. Mary hospital called a meeting at the Felician Sisters Convent last week between representatives of the city of Livonia and Merlon Kispert, mechanical engineer of the Ellerbe company of St. Paul, Minnesota.

City officials present were David Meininger, director of public works, Albert Roth, engineer consultant for Livonia, and Dr. Oscar Rosbalt, the mayor's representative and chairman of the Livonia Civil Service.

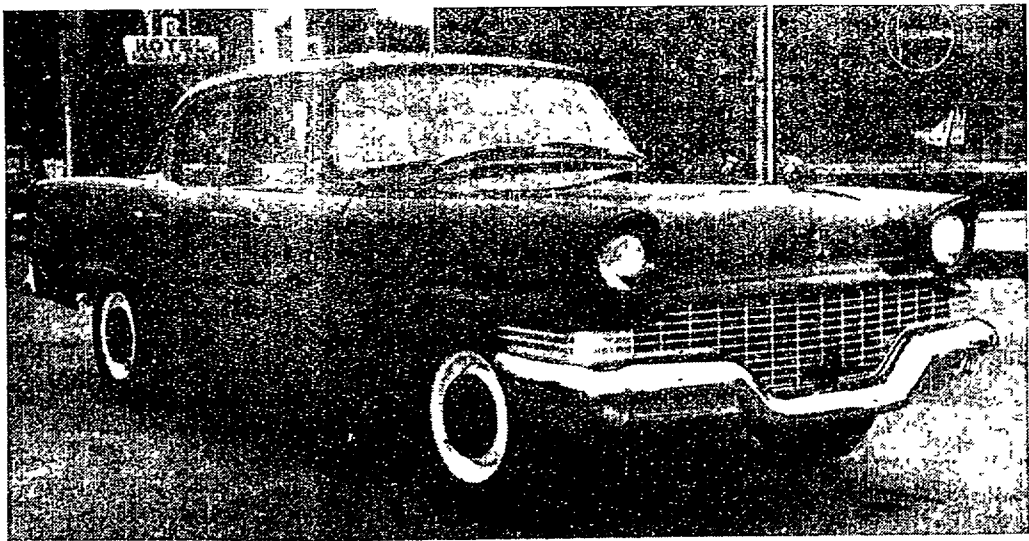

The group discussed water supply, sanitation and storm sewers and roads for the hospital — which will serve the Northville area.

The consensus of opinion of the group was that the land designated for the hospital site is adequate and satisfactory and that the Bell Creek which crosses the property will in no way impair the functional activities of the hospital.

DISCUSSING PLANS for the new St. Mary hospital are: Sister Mary Columbine, administrator; Mother Mary Annuncia, board of trustees president; Dr. Oscar Rosbalt, chairman of Livonia civil service; Albert Roth, engineer consultant; David Meininger, director of public works, and Merlon Kispert, mechanical engineer.

DO ALL MEASURING DEVICES GIVE THE SAME SIZE FOR THE SAME FEET?

Measuring devices are the cause of endless arguments among shoemakers. Some add a half size, others subtract; some have the children stand, others measure them sitting down. There is no one right way because shoe sizes vary. 9C from one company may be as big as 9½D from another. It is a good idea to remember that a measuring device is used to save the shoemaker's feet, not the customer's. Experienced shoemakers can guess the size of eight out of ten feet without measuring them but if they guess wrong they have to make an extra walk to the stock. When they learn how the measuring device can be adjusted to the make of shoes they fit they get the right size the first time and have fewer complaints from their customers.

One thing that no measurer measures is the depth of the foot and that is very important. Nor is there any marking in the shoe to indicate whether it is shallow or deep. Again the best answer is the old one — there is no substitute for the experience of man who is doing the fitting.

SPRINGTIME FRUITS OF THEIR LABORS — First graders Edith Veres, Kathleen Fitzgerald and Robert Beason examine the blossoms of tulips they planted in front of the Main Street school way last fall. The children joined their classmates and teacher for a field trip to the florist soon after school started and with pennies they had saved, they purchased the bulbs. Their careful watching paid off recently when the buds finally burst into bloom.

Michigan Saluted by 'Monitor'

"The Wolverine is really two states in one, with more great cities than any state could expect," said Alex Dreier in his salute to Michigan last Sunday on NBC's "Monitor" over a coast-to-coast network.

The salute was one of the opening features of Michigan Week, which lasts through Saturday.

The Michigan salute was one of a series in a new radio program featuring Alex Dreier as Monitor's "Man on the Go", a top NBC news analyst for 15 years.

Governor G. Mennen Williams extended greetings to the nation's radio audience before the broadcast in an interview recorded at his office at the state capital.

"May 19 to 25 is Michigan Week, when all of us Michiganders say, 'It's great to live in Michigan!'" said Governor Williams. "We mean it! That's why we thank Alex Dreier, for saluting our state this week. But, this week or any week, we welcome you to Michigan. We hope you'll come again and again."

A vivid picture of the Upper Peninsula's lofty forests, wild game, teeming lakes and great mining region was given by Dreier, contrasted with the mighty industrial cities of the southern area.

To tourists and vacationists he recommended northern Michigan's hunting and fishing; Mackinac Island with its horse-drawn carriages, yacht races and historical lore; Detroit's Institute of Art and its Symphony; Holland's annual tulip festival, and Dearborn's Greenfield Village.

Dreier paid tribute to the University of Detroit, Wayne university, Michigan and its mighty Wolverines, and their arch rivals, the Spartans at East Lansing.

He touched on the industries of Lansing, Grand Rapids, Cranbrook, Traverse City, Battle Creek, Saginaw, Bay City, Pontiac, Flint, Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, Muskegon, Marquette, Ironwood and Kalamazoo.

Reprints of Dreier's salute are available to individuals, recordings to clubs and schools, from Michigan Week Public Relations Board, 110 Stevens T. Mason Bldg., Lansing.

Mandate to Schools: Provide Technicians For Armed Forces

(Editor's note: Novi school superintendent William Medlyn was one of a group of civilian educators who recently met with high level military planners in Washington and toured military establishments on the eastern seaboard. Here, in broad terms, Medlyn explains the significance of military — and civilian — technological growth as it applies to the nation's schools.)

The Department of Defense recently conducted an extensive tour of army, navy, air force and marine training centers. The purpose of the trip was to acquaint civilian educators of our country with the rapidly-changing manpower requirements of our armed forces.

In the past, military emphasis has been placed in large concentrations of land, naval and air units in order to deter enemy action against our country. Masses of men and equipment was the order of the day. Now, modern technology is rapidly changing the World War II type of military strategy. Today, emphasis is placed on highly mobile units which are equipped with the latest types of equipment.

Since emphasis is no longer placed on sheer numbers, but on the technical skill of individuals, more and more technical types of training is being demanded by the armed services. Many boys of draft age often quit high school or deter college plans to go into the service. One of the recommendations of the military leaders was that those entering service should attempt to get as much training as possible before their entry into the service.

The modern machines used by the armed services are creating an increased demand on technically competent personnel. This demand will also be reflected in our civilian society, as manufacturers must have these personnel to build and maintain this new equipment. Those of us living in the automotive region of our nation have added a new word to our vocabulary — automation. Where it once took hours to complete a motor block, it is now a matter of minutes. Such technology is bound to have a far-reaching effect upon our society.

The demand for a highly-trained and specialized person is going to continue. Our schools will be called upon to offer more and more training of a technical nature. It is quite possible that four years of high school is going to provide only a part of the training that will be required in the near future. Additional years of training in junior colleges and colleges will become more and more necessary for today's youth.

Community Band To Give Concert

The Northville high school and community band will present its fourth and last concert of the season next Monday evening.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the Northville Community building.

The program will feature a variety of show tunes including selections from such favorites as "Oklahoma", "State Fair", "The Student Prince", "HMS Pinafore" and "Manhattan Serenade".

Traditional band marches also will be on the program.

The band will be under the direction of Leslie Lee and Robert Williams.

The NHS band took nearly half the places in the Wayne-Oakland all-league band last winter.

Recreation Program Expanded

PUTTING PRACTICE — Northville golf coach Merritt Meaker gives Fred Schwarze a few pointers during a practice session on the links at Idlewild golf course this week. The Mustang golfers, like the three other sport squads at NHS, will complete their season next week. Northville, a perennial favorite in the Wayne-Oakland league, was victim of an off-season this year.

Initial plans for a longer-than-ever summer recreation program in Northville were announced this week by recreation director Stan Johnston.

The program this year includes several new features designed to make activities available to as many youngsters as possible. Among them:

— relocation of the day camp from elementary school playgrounds to Ford Field, where arts, crafts, games and contests will be offered daily.

— expansion of the midget baseball program to four teams (two for boys under 12, one for boys under 14, and another for boys under 16) which will compete in the Inter-City League sponsored by the Livonia recreation department.

— creation of a softball league for youngsters who do not make one of the hardball teams. The league will be co-sponsored by the Northville Optimist club and will compete in a full schedule of games.

In addition, the summer-long recreation program includes day and night swimming, trips to the Detroit Zoo, Detroit Tiger baseball games, the Detroit Police Field Day, as well as the traditional turtle races, doll and pet parade and water carnival.

A complete list of events, dates, costs and procedures will be published next week.

Johnston had several words of advice for youngsters and their parents:

— since registration will be required of all participants in the program this year, youngsters should pick up registration blanks at the Northville Community building this Saturday between 10 a.m. and noon.

— parents of boys between 8 and 10 should encourage their sons to participate in the new softball league which will offer organized ball games to youngsters who probably could not make one of the hardball squads.

— boys interested in "midget league" hardball teams should turn out for tryouts and practice at 9:30 each Saturday morning at Cass Benton park.

Pamphlets containing all information on the program will be distributed before school is dismissed for the summer.

Netmen Take 2nd Over Clarenceville

The Northville high school tennis squad made it 2-0 over Clarenceville for the season last week by dumping the Trojans, 4-1.

The Mustangs took all three singles events, with Ed Witenberg (6-0, 6-0), Bob Bake (6-3, 7-5), and Dave Janetzke (6-1, 6-0) taking the victories.

Tom Williams and Jim Hammond combined for a 6-1, 6-2 doubles win, while Dennis Fallon and Bill Scherkey tumbling 2-6, 6-4, and 2-6 for Clarenceville's only point.

- a new grade of gasoline—the successor to Shell Premium
- higher than "high test"
- more aromatics—the power ingredients of aviation fuel
- instantly and automatically supplies any engine with the full octane value needed under every driving condition

High-compression engines in today's automobiles are designed to deliver power undreamed of just a few years ago.

Yet, many of these engines are not delivering all the power their owners paid for, even on premium-grade gasolines.

To meet this critical need for a new, higher grade of gasoline, the Shell Oil Company introduces the most powerful gasoline any car can use—Super Shell with TCP*. It's the successor to Shell Premium.

Higher than any of today's "high-test" gasolines, Super Shell not only satisfies the needs of the highest compression cars but it also enables motorists who have been using premium-grade gasolines to enjoy more power than they ever thought possible from their automobiles.

Super Shell's tremendous energy is made possible by a built-in "power pack" of aviation fuel power ingredients. These are benzene, xylene, and toluene, the most precious power ingredients that can be used in making gasoline.

It is toluene especially, that enables Super Shell to supply, instantly and automatically, the full octane value required for knock-free power under every driving condition.

This means you get all the octane you need for quick getaway from a standing start . . . and instant full power for safe passing on the highway. And when you're cruising along, Super Shell's greater energy converts to extra mileage.

Stop at the new white Super Shell pump at your Shell Dealer's for the most powerful gasoline any car can use.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—Thursday, May 23, 1957—11

Biery Takes State 440 Title

Dick Biery became the first Northville trackman in more than a decade to take a state track medal when he captured second place in the Class B state finals of the 440 at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Biery won his silver medal in a slower-than-usual time on a water-logged track at Ferry Field.

Northville's two other entrants — Bob Wagenschutz in the shot put and Bill Yahne in the 880 — did not place, but were well up in the final standings nevertheless. Biery also was entered in the broad jump but did not place.

The Mustang threesome won the right to make the trip to Ann Arbor when they placed high in the regional championships on the same field the week before.

Wagenschutz took the regional shot put title, while Biery took his heat of the 440 and a third in the broad jump. Yahne placed second in the regional 880 test.

Biery and Yahne both reached the state finals last year, but neither placed in their events.

Four NHS Squads Finish Spring Slates Next Week

The sports year will draw to a quick close next week as all four Northville high school's spring sports teams play the final contests of their seasons.

As of today only seven events will be on the Mustang spring schedule—which ends with the state tennis finals next week end.

Mustang trackmen will run their final meet of the year tomorrow against Thurston. The Northville trackmen were due to participate in the Wayne-Oakland league meet last Tuesday, but results were not available at press time.

The Northville tennis squad will wind up its end of the calendar with a flurry of activity. The Mustangs meet Southfield Monday and Bentley Wednesday, then go on to the state tennis finals next Friday and Saturday.

The Northville baseball team will round out its off-again-on-again season today in a game against Clarenceville. The Trojans previously beat Northville, 9-3.

On the fairways, Mustang golfers were to compete yesterday in the W-O league meet at Brighton. Northville has another match against Oak Park today and will compete for the last time this year against Bloomfield Hills next Tuesday.

Next week, The Record will present a complete won-lost record and W-O league scoreboard of all Northville spring sports teams.

The coming week's schedule:

Golf: Oak Park here today; Bloomfield Hills there Tuesday

Tennis: Southfield here Monday; Bentley there Wednesday; State finals next week end

Baseball: Clarenceville here today

Track: Thurston there tomorrow

Northville Downs to Host TransAmerica Tomorrow

Northville Downs will present one of the most important harness races in the country Friday night — the $10,000 TransAmerica Pace.

The TransAmerica will be the most outstanding pace ever presented at Northville, for the list of 39 nominees includes practically all of the best pacers in competition.

The event, third in the 10-race spring series, will bring in the stars from New York, Maryland, Illinois, Ohio and California.

The TransAmerica nomination list includes such elite as Noble Adios, 1956 winner of the Little Brown Jug, and Adioscot, who was second.

Until the entry box is opened, racing secretary Bill Connors will not know definitely how many will race for the $10,000 prize. But he is expecting 10 or 12.

The rules of the TransAmerica series provide that the 10 horses collecting the most points in the qualifying stakes will be eligible for the $50,000 finale at Yonkers Raceway in New York July 12.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. Fr. John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

LET US PRAY FOR THE PEOPLE OF CHINA!

Communism went to China to fill up a spiritual vacuum, and we can win over the hearts and minds of the Chinese only by offering them a better spiritual ideology. China has never claimed to have a true religion of its own, as most of the Asian peoples do, but the Chinese are among the most religious-minded people in the world. The religious thought of the East can never be tolerant of a materialistic ideology, and this incompatibility of atheistic Communism with the traditional Oriental belief in supernatural goodness is of great significance in the struggle against Communism. It is a struggle between those who believe in God and those who do not.

With China completely behind the Bamboo Curtain and thousands of foreign missionaries expelled, how can the free world, under present conditions, exercise its influence spiritually over the people there? Mostly through prayer. It must be a spiritual force that is able to penetrate beyond the curtain. It springs immediately from supernatural grace and ultimately from our devout prayer, which is conditioned by our Faith.

Scattered over all the countries of the world, there are more than eleven and one-half million Chinese. They represent a great force in the national life of China. Dr. Sun Yat-sen succeeded in achieving the revolutionary movement and overthrowing the Manchu dynasty in 1911 chiefly on account of the moral financial help of the Chinese overseas. They have a strong sense of loyalty and solidarity and are anti-Communist to the core. As many of them are intellectuals, esteemed by their fellow countrymen, they are a major source of moral strength in the conflict with Communism, which attacks and rejects everything sacred in Chinese tradition.

In the past, the church has done a great work among the Chinese residing in various foreign countries. The re-enforcements from the missionaries who had earned their experience in Red China by their tears and suffering and have been evacuated to the free world may enable the church to intensify its program of supplying the spiritual needs of the Chinese overseas, so that they may be more than ever a tower of strength to the fatherland in these dark days. Let us pray sincerely for the peoples of China!

The City Council informed them that it is their intention to call a meeting of the Northville Driving Club, Northville Downs and members of the City Council, with the Wayne Co. STUDYING ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of the new crippled children's home which is being constructed as a joint effort of 19 Rotary clubs in western Wayne county, are Leland Smith (left), and Harry Smith, both of the Northville club. The $125,000 building, which will be used for rehabilitation and recreation of crippled children in the area, is rapidly nearing completion. However, the clubs need more than $50,000 to complete the financing and hope to raise most of that amount in a builder's show at the Detroit Race Course tonight through Sunday.

For Crippled Children's Home

Rotary Clubs Open Building Exposition

Northville Rotarians today join with Rotarians from throughout western Wayne county in kicking off a gigantic four-day building exposition with a double purpose.

On one hand, it offers hundreds of tips and dozens of displays on the latest word in home building and decoration.

On the other, it will raise funds for completion of a new home for crippled children in Wayne county.

The show opens today and will last through Sunday is being staged at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia.

It includes more than 140 booths, exhibiting the newest types of materials and the latest designs and plans for construction of new homes and for modernization. Builders and contractors from the area and west and northwest Detroit are co-operating.

The entire proceeds of the four-day affair will be turned over to the crippled children's home, prize project of all Rotarians in the district.

The building, rapidly nearing completion at the Michigan and Middle Belt site, is being erected at a cost of $150,000. The clubs need $50,000 to complete the financing.

The 48-member Northville club is one of the most active in promoting the building project. With various hospitals and sanatoriums surrounding the city, Northville members are probably more conscious of the need for the home than most.

They have been busy working on the show projects for the past several weeks with the idea that a combined effort will help the Rotarians raise all of the money needed for the home.

President Leland Smith and project chairman Art Schnute have been prime movers in the work. Other club members who head committees for the show are: Carl Johnson, entertainment; Lee Eaton, finance; Gil Glasson, tickets; Bill Sliger, publicity, and Schnute, booths.

A huge list of prizes awaits visitors at the exposition, highlight of which will be a special event Sunday at which a pony will be given away.

In addition, the exposition will feature a wide variety of carnival rides for children.

The home will have a double purpose. It will be used for rehabilitation and convalescent work with the children during the days and for instruction and rehabilitation of crippled adults in the evenings.

The building has two large patios that will enable the youngsters to enjoy the sun during the warm summer months. Three large recreation rooms will serve the classes and other types of activities during the winter months.

The builder's show program will be featured by a western horse show Saturday and Sunday afternoons, highlighted by the appearances of the famed Oakland County Sheriff's Posse and the Oakland county girl's drill team. The competition will start each of the two afternoons at 1 p.m. on the racing strip in front of the grandstand.

Good Investment

The growing of trees is one of the best investments available today, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. The association suggests tree growing as an excellent hedge against inflation, since the trees and the land on which they stand are likely to appreciate in value as the economy expands.

Painting Pays Off

It is estimated that unpainted and exposed wood will wear away at the rate of 1/4 inch in 100 years when exposed to heat and cold, rain and sun, freezing and thawing. When protected with paint, exterior house siding of popular western red cedar or Douglas fir will last indefinitely.

Why I'm Glad I Live in Michigan

by Sharon McKarnes
10th Grade English Student

I live in the best state in the whole United States — Michigan! I enjoy living in my state for several reasons. First of all, Michigan is a picturesque state of hills and mountains, low-lying lands and swamps, fresh, virgin forests, rushing rivers and thousands of inland lakes.

It makes me very proud to be able to boast that our state leads in the production of automobiles, in high-grade furniture, in educational institutions, and in recreational attractions. Seeing cars from many different states parked at our great University of Michigan hospital, which is famous for its medical research and well-trained staff, I gain a feeling of security, knowing such a highly-regarded institution is at my service. Of course, this is only one of the many resources that make me proud to be a "Michigander".

Michigan is often referred to as the most comfortably "air-conditioned" state in the union because of its cool summer breezes from the shores of the Great Lakes, as well as its temperate, varied climate. I think most people feel secure in Michigan's climate because there are no slashing hurricanes, molten volcanoes, earthquakes, and very few tornadoes in comparison to other states. The snow, heavy or light in winter according to each vicinity, is always beautiful and rarely causes problems. The weather gradually tapers off in the spring and the fall, making for any enjoyment one desires in climate or recreation.

Lastly, I enjoy most the recreation facilities. How many of you realize the extensive recreational facilities within an hour's drive from your home? For example, Cass Benton park and Kensington park provide enjoyment for thousands daily. Outdoor recreation has become an important part of everyday life, with population growing, with more leisure time, with larger earnings, and with appreciation of outdoor recreation. A family's vacation can be at their back door with extensive recreation areas, parks for camping, land reserves for hunting, resort areas, and points of interest, making for any type of vacation one desires. A family may be visiting the busy automobile center of the world and in less than four hours drive to a tranquil resort of fishing, swimming, hunting and boating, or whatever one's pleasure may be. In traveling tourists come from near and far to visit points of interest such as: the historical Mackinac Island, Soo Locks, Greenfield Village, assembly lines and soon the Mackinac Bridge, the longest span in the world, just to name a few. Now the straits of Mackinac gives pleasure to many who ride the ferries for the first time. Beautiful swift rivers, which form water falls and rapids, or other placid, smooth-flowing streams, makes a relaxing vacation of fishing and boating. There are many roadside parks and picnic tables which furnish outings with little expense. I enjoy and am proud of living in Michigan, because of its physical characteristics, its temperate climate, and its many recreation facilities available to the public.

Tourists --- Stay at Home For A Michigan Vacation!

by Nancy Morrison
Michigan's great natural attractions have made it a leading state for tourist travel, resorts and general recreation. There is every indication that Michigan will hold an increasingly prominent place in recreational activity in the future. Its climate, its Great Lakes' shore line, its many streams and inland lakes, its large area of untouched land, and its abundance of game birds, animals and fish are all great inducements to the vacationist. Delightful natural attractions are within one day's driving distance to millions of urban and farm dwellers. The state is putting forth great efforts to meet the increasing demands for outdoor recreation. Michigan, known as "Water Wonderland", is the ideal spot for the eager "picnicker". The state park system now includes 58 park units, with a total land and water area of 115,384 acres. There are 15 state recreation areas of 61,607 acres, making a grand total of 176,991 square miles under jurisdiction of the parks division of the Department of Conservation.

Over 20,000,000 tourists visited the state park areas in 1956, and even more are expected this year. Northville and the communities around Northville are fortunate in having a park close by, where a day of fun can be had for just a few minutes of travel. At the present time, state parks are inadequate in size and facilities and do not exist in sufficient numbers in some regions to meet the present needs of our people and the thousands of vacationists from other states. However, plans are now in progress for increasing the park areas in Michigan available to the public. Since Michigan is such a perfect place for pleasurable relaxation, why not this year spend your vacation in Michigan and get to know your own state.

First School Built in 1826

by Mary MacDermald

As I look around Northville I wonder about the history of different buildings, the schools, the stores, industries and the churches of our faith.

The history of Northville's schools dates back to 1826, when the first school was built on Baseline. It differed quite a bit from our modern schools. The floors were wooden, and the desks were flat boards connected to the sides of the building. The school was rather a novelty in those days.

Editor's Note: What better time to take a closer look at our state—and city—than during Michigan Week. The "Hoof-Prints" staff has looked into the history of Northville, dug out some interesting facts about Michigan — and have set down the reasons why they think Michigan — and Northville — are a pretty nice places to live.

The first store was a millinery shop. The first industry was the manufacture of boots and shoes, which for 32 years was taken care of in this section of the country by Northville Mills. Northville was also the birthplace of the first plant in America to successfully condense milk and sell it commercially. A pottery and tile plant was erected where the Fish Hatchery now stands. These first manufacturing companies were a far cry from the industry we now have.

The history of Northville churches dates back to 1829, when the First Presbyterian church was organized. The first building of this church was constructed on Wing street.

In 1844, the Baptist church was started. The congregation consisted of 17 members, and it has been said that these 17 people were the best singing group in Northville.

The Methodist church is the oldest organized religious group in Northville, but its members didn't meet regularly until 1834. In 1839, the first church building was finished.

In 1896, the Lutheran church was organized. The first service was held June 3, 1897.

The Roman Catholic church was built about 1925. It recently completed a modern school in 1950. It has great hopes as to its success.

In Northville the oldest club is the Business and Professional Women's club. The purpose of the club was, and still is, the advancement and improvement of women in all phases of life.

Among some of the newer clubs are the "Boys" club, organized in 1953, and the Aeronauts club, also organized in 1953.

Yes, Northville has grown up in the past few years, but the friendliness and ambitious pioneer spirit is still present.

First Businesses In Northville Were Mills and Farms

by Mike Peitz

As part of their research for "Michigan Week", the Michigan Historical Commission sighted Northville as a typical prosperous suburban community. Upon investigating, "Mustang Hoof Prints" found the following to be the commission's opinion of Northville:

Before 1826 Northville was a forested area of the Oak Hickory association — the only visits by white man were caused by the sporadic hunting and fishing seasons. Then, in 1826, Abe Markham and several Northville land owners from Plymouth decided to build crude roads to their land and to clear it for its possible sale. The town began at once to grow, and in 1867 it was officially incorporated into Northville township.

The earliest residents were mainly farmers who concentrated on basic crops, such as corn, wheat and potatoes. Northville's abundant natural resources were soon noticed, and the people began to make use of them by building a grist mill for the wheat that was grown in the fertile soil, by starting lumber mills, and by digging small-scale gravel pits.

Gradually, as the supply of lumber diminished, the mill lost business, and a furniture factory replaced it. The "momentary" loss of industry greatly decreased Northville's population. However this loss was soon regained through the increased need of laborers at the Ford plant and at the numerous growing public organizations.

The Historical commission stated that if Northville can adapt herself to future changes as she has in the past her future is undoubtedly bright.

All students to report for full day on the 9th.

New Business:

1. Tuition students from Salem District No. 1 Fr. — It was decided to table the request of Salem No. 1 Fr., regarding enrollment of Seventh and Eighth Grade students, until the next regular meeting.

2. Curriculum Committee — Mr. William Crump, the new chairman of the Committee, brought to the Board a list of new officers and of candidates for election to the committee for the approval of the Board. Mr. Crump also advised the Board that, for the purposes of the new study now commencing, it has been decided not to split up into sub-committees. The names submitted for approval are seven in number and the new officers are W. B. Crump, Chairman; R. Hart, Vice-Chairman; E. Hammond, Corresponding Secretary and Librarian; and M. Petrock, Recording Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Shafer moved that all the names submitted be approved. Mr. Schrader supported the motion, which was carried.

3. Salaries — Mr. Van Ingen, of the Salary Committee of the Teachers' Club, brought forward a request from the teachers who have reached their maximum for a promise from the Board that if any extra money is received it will be applied to the salaries of these people. The Board and Superintendent Amerman felt that the request of the teachers is justified, but could not see any possibility of there being enough money coming in to make any change in the salary schedule. However, a motion was made by Mr. Severance that a rider be attached to the contracts of teachers who are now on their ninth increment (i. e., have been at the present maximum for one year) stating that if funds become available for salary use, they will be applied to these contracts. Mr. Schrader supported. Motion carried.

4. Resolution to Borrow — the financial situation demanding some solution, it was moved by Mr. Schrader that a resolution be passed authorizing the School District to apply to the Municipal Finance Commission for permission to borrow the sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000), in anticipation of the collection of the operating taxes for the next succeeding fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, which taxes are first due and payable on December 1, 1957, for the purpose of obtaining funds to meet the June payroll, since the amount of the last installment of State Aid is unknown, the loan to be at the rate of Five Per Cent (5%) interest. Mr. Severance supported the resolution, which was passed as follows: Ayes: 5; Nays: 0.

5. School Calendar — Mr. Clark moved that the calendar for 1957-58 proposed by the Superintendent be adopted as submitted. Mr. Schrader supported. Motion carried.

6. Constitutionality of Michigan Unlimited Bond Qualification program — Mr. Littell described to the Board a law suit which is now before the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan which is seeking to prove that the bond qualification program in Michigan is contrary to the Constitution of the State of Michigan.

7. Additional property needs for high school site — Mr. Schrader brought up the matter of another piece of property being necessary to the high school site should the proposed Eight Mile cut-off be completed. Approximately 600 feet of a piece of property owned by Mr. Frank Robinson on Taft road will be required, to be used as a playing field.

Mr. Schrader moved that he be authorized to contact Mr. Robinson with regard to a possible purchase of part of his property for use as part of the high school site. Mr. Shafer supported. Motion carried.

Unfinished Business:
1. Wayne County Road Commission: Mr. Littell was instructed by the Board to continue his talks with the Commission relative to the proposed Eight Mile Road cut-off.

Treasurer's Report:

Treasurer Clark reported the following receipts and balances:

Cash received during April, 1957 (All Accounts), $561,077.85;

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

Councilmen got down to some plain talk last Thursday evening during the "public" hearing and approval of next year's budget.

Perhaps it was the complete stillness of the council chambers broken only by an occasional citizen looking for another meeting that stirred city fathers into a talkative mood.

Whatever the cause, before okaying the $275,000 budget councilmen took a long look at the city's future and didn't like what they saw.

For one thing there would be no capital improvements under the 1957-58 budget. More alarming, race track revenues would have to be used to operate the city.

Councilman Allen said what the others were thinking: "If we use racing revenue for current expenses, what position would we be in without the track?"

The question is not unanswerable. The city manager warned that "we must stop doing everything for nothing... if we build streets, we must stop paying for sidewalks."

An increase in taxes was also discussed. Councilman Allen held that enough taxes should be collected to run the city without depending upon race track funds.

Next councilmen tossed around the idea of a bond issue. Some $500,000 in street improvements face the city. As cost of labor and materials go up, each year this sum increases.

Most councilmen seemed to feel that a general bond issue was worth investigating. Councilman Reed pointed out that by doing the complete job in one program the city would save more dollars in the face of rising costs than the amount of interest on the loan.

While Welch agreed with this thinking, Allen took another view. He favored the slower, surer method. Get enough in taxes to operate the city and use track revenues to improve streets. This way, he reasoned, if anything happened to the track operation the city would not have a bond indebtedness.

Advocates of the bond issue pointed to the dollar saving and the increased cost of maintaining the present dirt roads in the city. Their plan was the same as Allen's; operate the city on taxes, but pay off a bond issue with the track revenue.

It all boiled down to the realization that if the city is to meet its improvement commitments, it must either (1) borrow money, or (2) raise taxes, or (3) do both. The fastest method — a bond issue — would take three to five years.

The final vote for approval of the budget, though unanimous, carried little enthusiasm. You could tell that by next year, there'll be some changes made.

Constitution Vote

VOTERS WILL get a chance in 1958 to rewrite the constitution which has guided Michigan's state government since 1908.

Whether to call a constitutional convention will automatically go on the November, 1958 ballot.

Dozens of major amendments have been made to the constitution in the last 50 years, including state civil service, sales tax distribution, and reapportionment of the legislature.

The latter, adopted in 1952, is the crux of a new fight between political parties and will, in effect, determine the makeup of a constitutional convention if the voters order it.

Under another section of the constitution, a convention to write the basic law is composed of three delegates from each state senatorial district.

Democrats already are fighting for another system.

The 1952 amendment created the "balanced legislature", with the House (110 members) representing people or population and the Senate (34 members) representing areas.

Democrats charge that a constitutional convention will be peopled by Republicans because traditionally, outstate voters send Republicans to the Senate.

Republicans retort that the voters approved the reapportionment amendment in 1952, thus tacitly agreeing to the procedure for electing delegates to a constitutional convention.

Despite their hold on the Senate and the makeup of a convention, the Republicans are fearful that any rewrite of the constitution might upset the reapportionment process.

Civil service, in effect since 1941, has a growing number of critics, and its champions fear the way Michigan hires its 27,000 employees would be changed.

Both parties agree that the voter has it in his power in 1958 to alter Michigan's government.

There have been numerous proposals in the past, including the adoption of the Nebraska system of a one-chamber legislature. Or a generous convention could legalize bingo, a proposition defeated in 1954; it might add a member to the Supreme Court to end 4 to 4 decisions.

One major point: No legislator may be a delegate to a constitutional convention, placing Michigan's government for a time squarely in the hands of the governed.

And, under the present constitution, the voters have a chance to vote automatically for or against convention — every 16 years.

EXPERTS IN LOCAL property valuation will help fix property tax rates next year.

Gov. Williams has signed into law a bill reorganizing the state board of equalization to include two new members, recognized experts in the fields of rural and urban property tax assessment.

The bill was sponsored by Senator John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), a former member of a county board of supervisors who listened to the woes of local taxpayers.

"We will now have men on the board who know the local problems," he said.

The two new members will replace the state auditor general and the director of agriculture.

Enactment of the law came too late for the change to take effect this year. The board approved a 10 per cent across-the-board increase, totaling $70,000,000 in new local property taxes.

PRISON TROUBLES again plague Michigan. There are no riots at Jackson State Prison, no mass escapes from Marquette State Prison, and things are quiet at Ionia State Reformatory.

This time the trouble is at the Detroit House of Correction, where the state houses all its women prisoners and a number of male trustees.

The state corrections commission has asked for an investigation of conditions following a sit-down strike by the women and Detroit penal officials have agreed.

In addition, Corrections Director Gus Harrison is worried about overcrowded conditions at all prisons. The total inmate count is expected to reach an all-time high of 10,500 next year.

Good Investments

Babson Park, Mass. — During the past winter I have used my spare time trying to decide what industries have the best opportunities. Among these, the following seem the leaders. The Oil Industry, represented by any of the large companies. The Chemical Industry, in which I consider the American Agricultural Chemical Co. of Florida one of the best. Household Heating by uranium, with American Radiator & Standard Sanitary the most conservative and National U.S. Radiator perhaps the best speculation. Electronics and Thermodynamics, with Westinghouse Air Brake perhaps the best speculation. Earth-moving Machinery, with Caterpillar Tractor the most speculative and International Harvester perhaps the most conservative purchase. The Microwave Industry, of which Hughes Products of Los Angeles and the Motorola Co. of Chicago are among the leaders. Greeting Cards, with a Gibson, Hallmark or Norcross trademark. The Broadcasting of Power for small kitchen utensils may be developed by the Radio Corporation of America.

Reasons For The Above Selections There are four basic factors which I am considering in selecting these industries:

(1) Labor Shortage. This will continue due to the desire for four more years of education and for retirement at 65, and to other factors which will offset the population growth. This will further strengthen the power of Labor Unions.

(2) Automation. At first glance this should cause unemployment, but automation will be so expensive that it will come about only slowly. Furthermore, although automation reduces greatly the number of employees needed, yet the quality of the employees needed will be considerably upgraded. Automation for many years will barely offset the possible shortage of labor under present conditions.

(3) Inflation. We ought to fight inflation in any form, but it will slowly creep up on us, resulting in a gradual increase in the cost of living. Of course, if World War III should come, the value of the dollar will drop from 50 cents to 25 cents, but I am not looking for anything like this now.

Government Expenses, barring World War III, should hold fairly steady. The development of missiles should reduce defense expenses in both the Navy and Army. This should offset any increase arising from the growth of bureaucratic government.

Other Trends To Watch

(1) Higher Education will be considered a necessity. Not only will teachers receive higher salaries, but they must work harder to earn the same by having double sessions, by the further use of television, and by proper grading. Anytime there may be discovered a completely new revolutionary system of education. Colleges will cease as residence schools and become day schools with elaborate parking facilities.

(2) Automobiles and Parking. Unless the trend for larger cars and automobile accidents soon turn downward, with greatly increasing "4 lane" highways, the automobile industry will be leveling off. There will be more money in providing parking facilities than in the sale of automobiles.

(3) Community - Churches. The Church is the hope of America, but young people are giving less attention to formal creeds and the old religious dogmas. Denominations are meaning less to the coming generation. I forecast a great growth in community churches, attended by a large number of people of different denominations. Churches will be located adjacent to municipal playgrounds, lakes, rivers, etc.

(4) Shopping Centers for retail stores will be followed by brain centers for insurance companies, legal firms, architects, etc. The suburban population definitely will increase, attracting churches, YMCA's, and other organizations, as well as retail stores. As the working population grows and working hours lessen, the time given to sports will increase; in fact, the sale of sporting goods will increase. Stores in the downtown metropolitan cities will gradually appeal more to men who have not the time to visit shopping centers. With self-service properly developed, there will always be a field for self-service specialty stores, variety stores, and the up-to-date "dime store" in the dense downtown districts of all cities.

on wheels are being used in a number of fast-growing communities. Eight of these large trailers, carrying complete dialing equipment, are now in use. They were wheeled into rapidly built-up towns where the demand for telephone service increased faster than anyone could foresee. They serve up to 1,200 customers apiece. These trailers were put into operation in a matter of weeks. Michigan Bell was one of the first telephone companies to use this ingenious mobile central office to help provide service until telephone buildings can be enlarged to house permanent equipment.

BELL SYSTEM Credit Cards are now more convenient than ever. They make it so easy to telephone Long Distance when you're away from home. Just say to the operator: "I want to make a Credit Card call. My card number is..." Your call goes through and is charged to your own telephone. You'll find it comes in mighty handy when you're traveling or visiting in another home. So, if you don't already have a Bell System Credit Card, call our Business Office and ask for one. Credit Cards are furnished free of charge, of course.
