

Need Active Entrants For $3,500 Contest

This is "entry week" in the $3,500 Northville Record-
Novi News $3,500 circulation contest.

Announcement of the area-wide promotion brought scores of inquiries but few active contestants last week.

The list of prizes is headed by a 1957 Ford sedan, now on display at the Marr Taylor Agency. In addition a cash prize of $500, two $500 Savings Bonds and a Philco portable television set are being offered contestants selling the most subscriptions to either The Record or News.

Even those who work in their spare time and fail to win a top prize will be given cash commissions for their efforts.

The fact that the initial announcement has attracted but a small number of participants indicates that the average resident, a potential winner, thinks someone else will take the prizes.

But regardless of the number of contestants, the prizes will be awarded to the participants who secure the largest vote totals. In other words, if you can help in this drive to gain more subscribers to the Record and News, you may be driving a brand new Ford as a reward!

So start gathering the 500 FREE VOTE COUPONS and subscriptions today. This is the week to enter and become active. Every reader of these lines is urged to read the advertisement on page 13 and then act on this liberal offer.
No one can help you unless you make the first move to help yourself. It takes very little of your time to get the details

SWELL SITTING! The long, new curb extending from Cady to Fairbrook on Wing street gave children in the area a front row seat to observe the construction crews. All new curbs and gutters are scheduled to be completed on Wing, Fairbrook and First streets by August 31. Storm sewers have already been installed. Junior sidewalk superintendents shown above are Sally Sliger, Suzie VanSickle, Kim McCoy, Jack Peat and Tip McCoy.

Carol Ann Wears Favorite Dress On Her Last Day

Wearing the dress that was her last birthday present, Carol Ann Donnelly was laid to rest Saturday.
In her arms was cuddled her favorite doll.

More than 50 friends and relatives attended the funeral of the pretty blond four-year-old, who died last week after struggling with leukemia for more than a year.

Nearly 15 cars made the procession to Holy Sepulchre cemetery, after services officiated over by the Rev. Father Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory church.

It was the final tribute to the courageous little girl who captured the hearts of Northville and Novi without quite realizing what all the excitement was about.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Donnelly, 45350 West 10 Mile, have extended their appreciation to the scores of people who helped make Carol Ann's last months happy.

The Donnellys, though their unhappy ordeal is over, are still in need. In a sense, they are still faced with the unfortunate burden of covering the costs of medicine, special treatment and funeral expenses.

In the past, Northville and Novi residents have contributed selflessly to help them through their trying days. And in the past week, several anonymous contributions have been received.

But since no formal benefit has been planned, The Northville Record-Nov News office will receive further contributions from anyone who cares to give and will pass them on to the Donnellys.

Remind Residents Of Trash Ordinance

Residents are reminded by city manager John Robertson that rubbish collection in Northville is conducted on alternate Fridays for the north and south sides of Main street.

According to the Northville rubbish collection ordinance, the following regulations are to be observed by residents:

1. Garbage, rubbish and ashes shall be kept in separate containers.
2. Garbage is collected on Mondays at the rear of the house; rubbish is collected every other Friday at the curb line. (Tomorrow is collection day for those north of Main street).
3. Containers for rubbish should be covered and of such construction as to prevent scattering of the contents.
4. The weight of any containers shall not exceed 100 pounds.
5. Branches shall be cut into four
(4) foot lengths and tied securely.
Yard trimmings shall be in a container or tied securely.
6. Old building materials and trees (unless cut in four foot lengths) are to be removed by property owners or lessees.

Two Cars Collide On Randolph Street

Wet pavement on the sharp curve on Randolph street just east of Taft road resulted in an auto collision Tuesday in a spot that has been the scene of many auto crashes and several deaths.

Judith Marie Kelley, 17, of Plymouth, told police she applied brakes to avoid contact with a car driven by Julius James Zayti, 38, of West Eight Mile road, Northville.
Zayti stated to police that Miss Kelley's car was straddling lanes and he swerved to the shoulder of the road to avoid hitting it.

Zayti was treated for lacerations of the chin and forehead at Atchison Memorial hospital and has been released. Miss Kelley was uninjured.

In another accident Tuesday, a car driven by Margaret A. Fritz of 740 Carpenter street, struck a tree on Carpenter, one block north of Baseline.

ON TO VICTORY — Cheering their turtles on to victory in Tuesday's race were Pat Modes and Bobby Hicks, proud owners of entrants in the annual turtle sweepstakes. Pat's encouragement paid off when his turtle placed third in the recreation department event. For another picture, see page 5.

Add Chemical to Local Water

Northville's water will be given a "new look", and perhaps a new taste if the chemical additive installed in the system
this week proves effective.

The chemical, approved for use in the local system by the city council some weeks ago, will not effect the hardness or soap consumption of the water.
According to John Robertson, city manager, it will not clean up stained fixtures, but should prevent any future or continued staining. The chemical itself has no taste or odor, he said.

Approved by the U.S. Public Health Service and the Michigan Department of Health, the additive is supposed to produce these benefits:

1. Prevention of staining of fixtures;
2. Prevention of scale in mains and household water pipes; also eliminates scale in hot water heaters thereby increasing efficiency;
3. Zeolite water softeners should not need recharging as often;
4. Clothes from washing machines

Sold Immediately

"Sold on Thursday," our advertiser reports of his typewriter — only a few hours after the Record had been delivered by the postman and on sale in local stores.

He placed the following classified ad in last week's issue for only 60 cents:

ROYAL portable typewriter, in good condition, 8 yrs. old, $20.

Which shows that for their needs, people read the Record's classified pages. Phone Northville 200 to place your ad — today.

CRASH ON CURVE — Police check the aftermath of a two-car collision that occurred Tuesday on Randolph street just east of Taft road. The car on the left was driven by J. J. Zayti of Northville, who was released after treatment at Atchison Memorial hospital.

Municipality May Cover All of Present Township

Novi township this week was on the verge of one of the most significant developments in its history, as plans were outlined for incorporating almost the entire township as a charter village.

The move would make Novi the third largest incorporated municipality in the state — ranking only behind Detroit and Livonia.

Under present plans, the village would cover more than 32 square miles, or all of the township except two small sections which lie in Wixom and Northville.

Some estimates have placed the incorporation date within a year.
Others have put it within six months depending on how smoothly the legal and technical matters can be carried out.

The plan was outlined last week by a five-member committee of the Novi Board of Commerce, which has been studying the possibility of incorporation for several months.
Chaired by Walter Tuck, the committee included board president Dirk Groenenberg, Keith Metcalf, Russell Buton and Dieron Tafraian.

The committee has called for contributions totalling $2,000 to pay for hiring an attorney, posting bonds, and carrying through the election procedures.

The committee noted that incorporation of the 32 square miles would leave present boundaries intact, and for the most part, end Novi's worries about being absorbed by adjoining communities — a cherished desire of many Novi officials and leaders.

In addition, it would have these benefits, according to the committee and other spokesmen:

— it would bring in roughly four times as much gas and weight tax money for road repairs.

— it would consolidate the area,
and provide machinery for action
on many pressing problems.

— it would help to provide greatly-needed facilities, especially sewers.

But Novi township supervisor
Frazer Staman, though a long-time advocate of incorporation as a village, had a word of caution this week.

"Novi shouldn't expect incorporation to be a cure-all for its problems," he said. "Residents of the township should remember that they are only going to get what they work and pay for."

If incorporated, Novi would be in the unique situation of having both a township and village government covering roughly the same area.

The village body, Staman said, would assume most functions of the present township government — police, fire, building inspection, and the like — and would have power to tax all but the Wixom and Northville sections.

The township government, he added, would continue to exist and would have jurisdiction over the entire area — including the Wixom sections. But its powers would be greatly decreased, and township board members would serve on a restricted part-time basis.

He Who Laughs Last...

A check on an overtime parking ticket showed Northville chief of police Joseph Denton that those on parking meter detail were a pretty conscientious bunch.

It seems that one of the crew, driving a car borrowed from a local auto dealer while the official police car was being repaired, parked the car at a local meter while on official business.

Spotting the red "expired" sign on the meter when he returned, he promptly filled out one of those little yellow tags and fastened it to the windshield wiper.

The mistake wasn't discovered until this week — when the dealer had to explain why he hadn't paid up.

First Dial Phones To Come to Area On September 8

The first dial telephones in the Novi-Northville area will go into operation in five weeks — on September 8 at 2:01 a.m.

Michigan Bell manager John Ka-mege announced this week that service will begin then for some 600 users in an area bounded by Haggerty and Napier roads and by 9½
Mile and roughly 13 Mile roads.

Michigan Bell installers this week began the job of preparing the Novi telephones for dial service.

Service will be provided temporarily by a mobile dial exchange van now located at Novi road and Paul Bunyan. Kamege noted that the mobile van will provide dial service a full year sooner than possible.

A permanent dial exchange building, to be completed next year, is now under construction near the Northville-Novi border.

The Northville-Nov exchange will be included in the national two-letter, five-numeral numbering plan.
All phones will have a "Fieldbrook"
exchange plus five numerals.

The new service, Kamege said, will permit Novi "Fieldbrook" users to dial each other, Livonia, South Lyon, Walled Lake and Farmington on a non-toll basis.

In addition, they can dial time service and can dial direct to Northville and Plymouth switchboards for connection with non-automatic numbers.

Rotary Clubs Contribute $18,000 to Easter Seal Fund

A check for $18,000 was turned over to the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne county Monday evening to help in the completion of the $125,000 Easter Seal Center to serve physically handicapped persons.

The money represented the proceeds of the Rotary Club Builders show held in Livonia in May and sponsored by the Rotary clubs of Western Wayne county.

Presentation of the check was made in the new Easter Seal Center, 2545 Hyde Park drive, Inkster, by K. W. Heintzman, president of the Livonia club. Cyril N. Frid, a director of the Easter Seal Society, attended as a representative of the Northville Rotary club.

The Rotary clubs, working closely with the board of directors of the Crippled Children Society, have spearheaded the drive for funds to construct the new building.

The specially designed multi-purpose Easter Seal Center will be the first and only building in Western Wayne county where a voluntary health agency, supported by its local people, will be in a position to embark upon an intensified program of recreation and socialization, which makes an important contribution in the over-all rehabilitation of physically handicapped individuals. The building will be a headquarters for out-of-the-home activities for the homebound socialization groups teen-age and adult clubs. The kitchen is unique in plan whereby there will be workshop classes where persons with physical limitations will be assisted in methods of simplified homemaking practices as well as other flexible opportunities according to their unmet needs.

Early this month the Easter Seal Society will occupy the new Center at 2545 Hyde Park drive near Michigan and Middlebelt roads, in Inkster.

The dedication will take place on Sunday afternoon September 8, at which time the public may visit the Center.

Couple Wed Saturday At Evening Ceremony

Wedding vows were exchanged at seven o'clock Saturday night at the Congregational church in Pinckney by Patricia Ann Thayer and Raymond Howard Stillwell with the Reverend J. W. Winger officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Thayer of Pinckney and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stillwell of South Lyon.

Mrs. Raymond Howard Stillwell

of South Lyon sang "At Dawning", "Thine Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bridegroom was of imported rose-point lace over nylon tulle with a sabrina neckline. The bodice was trimmed with sequins and the long sleeves came to points over the wrists. The bouffant lace skirt was worn over French hoops, with a ruffled peacock chapel length train. A crown of seed pearls, sequins and rhinestones held the bride's embroidered rose-point lace veil. A single strand of pearls at her neck was a gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid carried on a white Bible.

Miss Roberta Ackley of Pinckney was the maid of honor. Her dress was of white embroidered organza over turquoise taffeta, featuring a sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt was worn over a Spanish type hoop. She wore a picture hat to match the dress and carried a cascade arrangement of pink glamelias.

Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Palmer of Pinckney, Miss Sandra Stillwell of South Lyon, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Maudie Meyers of Mentor, Ohio, cousin of the bride. Their dresses were white embroidered organza over shirring colored taffeta with sabrina necklines and the bouffant skirts were worn over Spanish type hoops. Each had a matching picture hat and carried pink glamelias.

Duane Bush of Northville was the best man and the ushers were James Stillwell of South Lyon, brother of the bridegroom; Leon Short of South Lyon and Thomas Neff of Ann Arbor.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Thayer wore an aqua colored dress of silk organza over lace with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother had a dress of blue silk organza with matching hat, pink accessories and a pink corsage.

The reception following the ceremony was at the Pilgrim hall in Pinckney. Mrs. Harold Meyers of Mentor, Ohio and Mrs. James V. Dailey of Manitowoc, Wisconsin, aunts of the bride, served the cake. Miss Greychen Tasch of Pinckney poured coffee; Miss Elaine Collier poured punch, and Miss Anne Marie Dailey of Manitowoc, a cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

When leaving for a two weeks honeymoon trip to northern Michigan the new Mrs. Stillwell wore a white linen suit and a hat with the orchid from her bouquet as a corsage. They will be at home August 1 at 9200 McGregor road, Portage lake, Pinckney.

The bride attended Michigan State university. The bridegroom is a graduate of South Lyon high school and is employed at Western Electric, working in Howell and Lansing. Out of town wedding guests were from Wisconsin, Ohio, Grand Ledge, Detroit, Lansing, South Lyon, Plymouth, Ferndale, Royal Oak, Salem and Farmington.

Mrs. John Robertson of Carpenter street is now in Amherstburg, Ontario visiting her parents.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pilarz of Chubb road announce the birth of their fourth child, Anthony Edward, on July 13 at New Grace hospital. The baby will be baptized on Sunday, August 11 at Our Lady of Victory church. Godparents will be Miss Wanda Mrozek and Walter Zawislak of Detroit.

Fan Under the Bed Helps Child Sleep

For the family with children, an electric fan can be one of the most valuable of home appliances during the summer.

Parents know how difficult it is for youngsters to rest during the warm days. Home economists at Arvin Industries suggest placing a fan under the child's bed or crib so the flow of air is directed at the bottom of the mattress.

This provides circulation of air around the youngster without placing him directly in the path of the breeze. Also, the quiet hum of a fan motor acts as a lullaby, helping the child go to sleep.

Kitchen Remodeling Tops Home Repair

Kitchen remodeling is the most popular type of home improvement work in Wayne county this year, according to Harold C. Church of the Nowels Lumber and Coal company, and member of the Public Affairs committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers association.

"The women are taking the initiative in planning kitchen improvements, seeking changes that will save steps, reduce working and clean-up time, and making the kitchen a brighter and more cheerful place to work," he said.

"Retail lumber dealers now have house plans, based on the recommendations arrived at in the Women's Congress on Housing held in Washington last year, that recognize the kitchen as the heart of the home."

"The modern kitchens in the Women's Congress houses feature floor to ceiling cabinets, a maximum of counter space, easily cleaned materials, room for two people to work at once, and a large window designed to facilitate supervision of children playing outside, as well as to admit a maximum amount of sunlight."

"The kitchen is part of the house that is most susceptible to remodeling because it receives heavy wear and because attractive new materials and equipment keep coming on the market."

FAVORITE RECIPES OF NORTHVILLE HOMEMAKERS

A TREASURE CHEST — That's what his mom's recipe box is to Philip Skow, shown here with his mother, Mrs. Alvin Skow. She contributed this week's recipe for "Braided Bread".

A recipe from her grandfather who was a baker is shared this week by Mrs. Alvin Skow of Horton street, who remembers it as a standard feature of her childhood Christmas dinner, but suggests that it is appropriate enough to serve anytime.

This "Braided Bread" is attractive as well as tasty — a fine addition to a supper, luncheon or snack table.

Mr. and Mrs. Skow are the parents of four children: Lila Lea, Rita Kay, Delano and Philip, shown in the photo. Lila Lea is now a graduate nurse, while Rita Kay has one more year to complete her nurses training. Delano is a 1957 graduate of Northville high school and will enter Olivet college this fall, and Philip attends Amerman school.

And here's the Swiss bread that the whole family likes so well.

BRAIDED SWISS BREAD

1 cake yeast
½ pound butter
1 pint milk
6 or 8 eggs
salt
1 cup sugar
flour to make soft dough

Scald milk and cool until just warm. Dissolve yeast in milk. Melt butter, add sugar, salt and butter to yeast mixture. Add beaten eggs, then enough flour to make dough sticky. (Mrs. Skow suggests that a stickier dough makes the final bread more moist than if too much flour is used.)

Let raise, knead and let raise again. Roll into strips about 1½ inches in diameter and braid. Let raise. Snip each loop of the braided bread with scissors; this makes dough raise into small points. Brush with beaten egg white. Bake at 375 degrees for 1½ hours.

Auxiliary Hears Annual Reports

At the last regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary, annual reports were given and the year which began last September was reviewed.

Credited to the local auxiliary were a total membership roll of 69 members including three gold star and four junior members.

Other accomplishments of the local group included sending five girls to Wolverine Girls' State in Ann Arbor, and sponsorship of a Girl Scout troop.

In community service work the organization took part in the P-TA carnival, the cancer drive, the blood bank, the cystic fibrosis dinner and the Red Cross drive. A total of 142½ hours were donated by members to local hospitals and 300 hours to the Red Cross.

As a result of selling 2,000 poppies, $502.92 will be spent on helping veterans and their families.

Reports of the annual state convention held in Grand Rapids this year were given by delegates Hazel Wright and Clara Alexander.

Long Career Ends For Frank D. Clark

Novi's oldest and most influential political figure, Frank D. Clark, died Wednesday morning at the age of 79.

Clark, a township trustee, had been active in township government affairs for nearly 50 years.

A heart condition that caused Clark to miss recent meetings of the township board had confined him to Sessions hospital until last week. On Friday morning Clark was rushed to the hospital again after a new attack. He succumbed at 8:10 a.m. Wednesday.

Frank D. Clark

A resident of Novi township for 50 years, Clark worked his 80-acre farm on Whipple until some 10 years ago when he began subdividing the land for residences. He also was active in the insurance business.

A popular figure throughout all of Oakland county, Clark began his political career as township treasurer. He served as supervisor for 18 years before handpicking his successor, Frazer Staman, five years ago. During his reign as supervisor, Clark was chairman of the Oakland county board of supervisors for two years. For the past five years he has been a trustee.

His knowledge of area affairs made his opinions widely respected throughout the county. He never lost his alertness and fervor for local affairs and remained as a powerful force in the area until his death.

A Republican, Clark withstood a split in his own party in last spring's election. Along with Staman, Clark won out over an opposing slate of Republicans in a keenly fought primary election.

He was a member of the Masonic order, Oddfellows and Novi Board of Commerce.

Besides his wife, Clark is survived by a niece, Mrs. Daisy Roberts of Detroit, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. R. H. Johnson of Northville. His wife is confined to the hospital in poor health and has not been informed of his death.

Funeral services will be held at the Casterline Funeral Home in Northville Saturday at 2 p.m. Complete details of the funeral have not been arranged.

No Appointment Planned at Present

No action toward filling the vacant trusteeship caused by the death of Frank D. Clark yesterday is expected at the Novi township board meeting Monday.

Supervisor Frazer Staman said the matter may be discussed, but suggested that it should be tabled out of respect to the former trustee and so as to give time for thorough consideration of a replacement.

The vacancy presumably will be filled by appointment, rather than by public election.

FOURTH LANE A'COMIN' — US-16, one of the most treacherous highways in the state, was getting a face-lifting this week as contractors moved ahead with construction of a fourth lane on the south side.

The new lane, which will extend from Farmington to Kensington Park, will relieve traffic tie-ups which have plagued Grand River much of the summer. Completion is expected within two weeks.

Wixom Rolls Up Sleeves, Goes to Work

Wixom officials, sitting at their first full-fledged meeting, delved into a host of problems Monday night in an effort to get their new community off to a good start.

Moving cautiously, they explored matters ranging from the mountainous — incorporation as a city — to the minute — what to do about official village stationery.

President Joseph Stadnik and the six-member council tabled more action than they actually approved, but they set the stage for considerable legislation within the next few weeks.

The council was emphatic on one matter, however. Voting quickly and unanimously, members named councilman Bill Abrams as president pro tem, to serve in the absence or disability of Stadnik.

The most far-off matter on the agenda was probably also the most far-reaching: discussion of incorporation as a home rule city. Though the council took no action toward such a move, Stadnik said he hoped the question could come to a public vote by "the next general election."

At the same time, the council requested attorney David Utley to look into the laws which cover the absorption of a village by a city. This was prompted by the announcement that Novi township will soon seek village status, and by rumors

Prepares Reports For New School

Novi school superintendent William Medlyn this week continued wading through the mountain of paperwork required by the state before permission is granted to sell bonds for Novi's new elementary school.

Medlyn must prepare elaborate reports for the state department of public instruction and the Municipal Finance Commission, showing Novi's tax picture and explaining how the proposed $825,000 issue would be used.

He estimated that approval of the bonding program would be granted by the two bodies within six weeks.

After that, bonds will be out for sale and construction of the new school can begin.

Medlyn said Novi's reports are complicated by the consolidation last year of four school districts into the present single district. This has made quadruplicate reports necessary in some cases, he said.

A challenge of the recent election in which the $825,000 bond issue was approved has been dropped. Deadline for legal action against the election passed Friday without incident.

The new school, to cost $425,000 will be built near Willowbrook Village. Medlyn hopes to have it open for classes in the fall of 1958.

The remaining $400,000 will go for new sites and remodeling of the present elementary school.

that Commerce township is ready for the same.

Stadnik and council members indicated they hope to prevent absorption of Wixom by the two communities if they should later become cities.

Village planning came in for careful consideration, with the council agreeing unanimously that the time is ripe for a look at Wixom's future. In this regard, the council favored joining the Michigan Municipal League and retaining a planning consultant firm.

The Michigan Municipal League — an organization of cities and villages in the state — assists its member municipalities with governmental problems and keeps them informed of current legislative developments in Lansing.

Along the same line, Stadnik recommended that the council begin work on a planning ordinance as soon as some 27 state-required ordinances are enacted.

Turning to the question of filling such appointive offices as clerk, treasurer, assessor, and zoning board members, the council agreed to meet informally to discuss possible candidates. The positions must be filled within the next month.

The council also agreed to seek volunteer policemen to serve until a full-time police force is needed. Volunteers would serve without pay, and would not be uniformed.

Councilman Walter Tuck urged that a full-time force be set up immediately, claiming that Wixom "needs a little law and order."

Stadnik argued that the village treasury — which contains not a dollar — could not afford it and that Wixom does not need it at present. For the time being, he added, police protection will be provided by Novi township, the Oakland county sheriff, and the state police.

In other business, the council: — agreed to meet temporarily at the real estate office of councilman Abrams until a permanent village office is found.

— arranged for an initial supply of village stationery.

— agreed to look into the question of naming an official village newspaper at the next meeting.

— discussed calling an election of the proposed eight-mill tax limitation clause, but held off on a decision until seeing if the Wixom Civic Association preferred to make the move instead.

— heard Stadnik discuss zoning problems involving a new machine shop, and a proposed trailer camp.

— appointed Tuck to attempt to get authorization for a village telephone number as soon as possible.

What's in a Name

Confusion's brewin' in Wixom and Novi.

There are two many Walter Tucks in prominent positions. One of them — Wixom councilman Walter Tuck — called attention to this Monday night.

His reason: the other Walter Tuck is a leader in the movement to incorporate Novi township as a village.

Just wouldn't do for a Wixom official to be beating the drums for Novi, it seems. Nor vice versa.

The Wixom council will meet every Monday night for the time being. Meeting place: Abrams real estate office in the village. The time: 8 p.m.

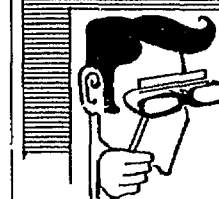

Wixom's first ordinance will be designed to curtail a non-existent problem in the village — vice.

Then will come 27 others dealing with everything from peddlers and saloons to bonding of officials and even hitching posts for horses. The 28 ordinances are required by state law.

Wixom has received its first bill — a request for $30 from Commerce township for use of voting machines in the village charter election.

NEW SUBDIVISION — The three men behind Echo Valley Estates, a 225-home development opening this week, look over plans for the new subdivision. Left to right, they are: developers Henry Entin and Harry Nicholas and Novi real estate dealer Keith Metcalf. To Meet Tonight On Incorporation

Further details of the proposed incorporation of Novi as a village will be presented to the public tonight by the five-member Novi Board of Commerce committee behind it.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Novi Community building.

Novi residents have been urged to attend, so as to become familiar with the background of such an important proposal.

Contributions toward a $2,000 fund to cover costs of the incorporation proceedings will be accepted by Harry Watson, treasurer of the incorporation committee. He may also be contacted by telephone at Northville 9161.

Echo Valley Estates Opens For Sale of 83 Homesites

The anticipated building boom in Novi picked up tempo this week as another new subdivision came a step nearer to reality.

Echo Valley Estates, a 120-acre development in the rolling countryside southwest of 10 Mile and Beck roads, has been opened for the sale of lots.

The subdivision will eventually have 225 homes in the $22,000-25,000 range. Completion of the entire development is expected within several years.

All homes will be built in the popular ranch home and split level type of contemporary architecture. They will cover 1,200 square feet, will be of brick construction and will have attached two-car garages.

Some 83 lots are ready for immediate development. Each home will be custom built according to the desire of the owner.

Keith Metcalf, real estate dealer for the project, said four or five models will be open within 60 days.

Developers Harry Nicholas and Henry Entin said they will make arrangements for building the homes, unless owners desire to select their own contractors.

Echo Valley Estates will have paved streets, as required by township regulation, and several cul de sacs to keep through-traffic to a minimum.

Graders and bulldozers have been clearing and leveling the area for nearly a month, but recent rainy weather delayed the opening of the subdivision until this week.

Several other subdivisions are either on the drawing board or ready for construction in Novi. Announcement of other large-scale projects is expected soon.

"He's Been Bothered"

In Daytona Beach, Florida, a dog warden admitted that after a day of beer-drinking he jabbed into his wife's stomach 2 shots of anesthetic he kept to dispose of dogs. She died an hour later. He said he had no idea why he did it. "My wife was the best woman in the world," he said, "that's why I cannot understand any of this. I've been begging the Lord to give me an answer." Well, now, that sounds very religious doesn't it? It also shows how ignorant this man is about that which God has already written. God says that drunkenness is a sin. It's a sin that leads to all sorts of other sins, including murder. It trips the level of man's reason, it silences man's moral consciousness. It makes a fool out of him, and in this case a murderer. God will not give this man an answer, but He will give this man a sentence of eternal duration if he does not repent and seek forgiveness through the Saviour. What a warning this tragedy should be to those who think their drinking to be smart. This same thing could happen to them. "Sin when it is finished, always brings forth death." It's much better to leave it alone.

TERRIFIC TURTLE — "Cedar Lake", the well-dressed turtle held here by Elaine Manzel of Novi, not only took first prize for the best-decorated turtle in the Northville recreation department turtle race Tuesday, but took second in one of the speed races too. In case you can't tell, "Cedar Lake" is wearing a miniature garden chair on which are resting two baby turtles.

New State Hospital Clinic Saves Time, Aids in Crisis

A unique new department at Northville State hospital has been set up to transport patients to and from clinics and to cope with such crisis and escapes and emergency transfers.

Known as the "Clinic Coordination Center", it is the first such service ever established in a state hospital in Michigan.

In addition to its transportation and emergency functions, the center serves as a messenger for such articles as markings and medication.

The program stemmed from a meeting of department heads this spring, called by John Wick, R.N., director of nursing at the hospital, to discuss ways of coordinating clinic services and thereby saving time and personnel.

The new center, established on June 5, is headed by clinic coordinator Homer Jones. Assisting him are Mrs. Iva Royal, Clifford McLeod, Charles Campbell, Miss Constance Walker and Mrs. Elvera Isaacson.

According to Wick, the program has meant a saving of time and labor in at least three departments: — the nursing office, much of whose work can now be channeled to the center, leaving the nursing staff more time for administrative duties.

— attendants, especially in out-laying buildings, who now do not have to leave their wards and attend a single patient while he or she is taken to the dental clinic, x-ray, medical clinic, surgery, or the like. — the clinics themselves, which now are assured that patients will be present for treatment at the proper time.

Dan Freytag and Walt Pinner caught some fish Friday evening at Proud Lake.

Subscription Contest

about something that can mean hundreds of dollars to you; something in which you help yourself, your friends and your community.

You can enter this contest now and get well started toward winning the Ford while others hesitate and wait to see who is going to enter and become active. Hearing that others have entered or are going to enter does not mean that they will enter or become active after entering. It's action that counts — not thoughts or talk of action.

CLOSING DATE SET

The closing date of the contest has been set. The schedule of vote credits that will be issued for new and renewal subscriptions has been announced. The vote credit schedule is on a declining basis, but every entrant has the same voting opportunity the first week after entering.

The first period of the contest ends August 24. By entering now and taking advantage of the FIRST WEEK CASH AND VOTE COUPON you get a winning start. This coupon entitles you to a special $3.00 cash bonus and 100,000 extra votes toward winning.

FIRST WEEK IMPORTANT

The first week after you enter is the most important week. You get the extra cash and vote bonus and become a contestant instead of just another entrant. No one can win by entering and putting off starting a campaign from day to day. It's what is done after entering that counts.

All who enter and become active will get something according to the rules of the contest. The only way to lose is to fail to enter or to become active after entering.

There is plenty of room for real, live-wire, active men and women in this contest. The Northville Record and Novi News wants entrants who realize that they have all to gain, absolutely nothing to lose by entering and making their candidacy known.

The ultimate winners of the prizes will be the people who won't find reasons for being unable to enter. They will be the people who have self-confidence, initiative and not quite enough time. Such people are few and far between in the average community. If you're busy, if you know lots of people and talk with them, you should come forward and make yourself known by your own actions.

"I don't have time" is the most overworked phrase of this day. The majority of people that are invited to participate in this contest say, "I don't have time." None consider the fact that it is not a matter of time, but a matter of getting sufficiently interested to do some campaigning among the people you see and talk with anyway. You see your friends and neighbors or the people with whom you do business every day. Winning this contest is just a matter of asking them for the 500 FREE VOTE COUPONS out of their copies of the paper, and their subscriptions.

EVERYONE SAFEGUARDED

All who enter the contest now and make an effort to win will have an equal opportunity. Votes will be credited to all alike in accordance with the published schedule. As an inducement to enter and start campaigning, a cash bonus has been offered. Investigate this offer. You will find that it is impossible to lose.

All entrants are safeguarded against unfairness. They will deposit the votes that are issued to them in a secret ballot box on the final day. These votes will be counted by a board of judges that the leading contestants approve. The ones obtaining the largest vote totals will receive the first and second prize. Then the district prizes — two $500 Bonds — will be awarded, and the next largest vote total will win the other prizes. All who don't get prizes will receive their earned commissions. No entrant will lose.

The quicker you make up your mind to enter, the better will be your opportunity to win the new Ford. Right now it will be easy for you to get your friends pledged to save the 500 FREE VOTE COUPONS out of their copies of the paper. And subscriptions will be more plentiful. You can enter now and "skim the cream" by getting your friends to give you their subscriptions and votes while others put it off.

All that is necessary to enter is to come to The Northville Record office and get a working outfit or phone 200. It costs you nothing.

Think this over. Then act! Don't sit back and wait for someone else to do it. Try it yourself and let others wait to see who is going to try.

Fred Wenkers Return From Texas Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wenker of Sunset avenue returned last week from Houston, Texas where they spent their vacation with their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wenker.

Among the national historical sites they visited were the Alamo mission and the Spanish governor's palace at San Antonio, Queen of the Missions at San Jose, and the Sam Houston monument and the battleground at San Jacinto where both Houston and Davy Crockett fought.

The Wenkers also enjoyed fishing at Galveston, Texas.

Novi Incorporation

Incorporation has been discussed in the past several years, but it took the incorporation of Wixom and the loss of the tax-rich Lincoln plant to spur township residents into action on the matter.

Staman, who urged the Board of Commerce last fall to sponsor the incorporation move, was philosophical about the loss of Lincoln and its effect on Novi's future.

"Maybe some will say we're locking the barn after the horse was stolen," he said, "but there's good reason to expect that another 'horse' or two will come along soon."

Before an incorporation election can be held, an attorney must be hired, a census of the township must be taken, prospective boundaries must be established, and petitions calling for the election must be filed.

If the charter should be accepted, Novi would be in business as a village.

BIDS WANTED

Novi Township is accepting bids for painting and repairs of the Novi Community Building and for repairing of the electrical wiring in Novi Township Park. Specifications may be obtained at the Township Hall, 25850 Novi Road, Novi Township. Bids will be opened August 5 at 8 P.M. The township board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

NEW TASTE? Making the first test of Northville's chemically improved water are Bud Hartner (left), public works supervisor, and John Robertson, city manager. The additive will be pumped into the city's water system to eliminate iron, improve taste and color. See story on page one.

Two Northville Students In MSU Honors College

An educational adventure awaits 300 Michigan State university students — including two from the Northville area — who will enroll this fall in the university's new honors college.

Because of their outstanding academic records, these undergraduate honor students are being given a chance to map out their own independent courses of study — a privilege ordinarily reserved for experienced graduate students.

The two from the Northville area are:

— Lynn R. Matzen, a sophomore in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Matzen, 21937 Novi road;

— Mary V. Lovewell, a junior in elementary education, daughter of Dr. Paul Lovewell, 148 East Main.

All requirements for graduation from Michigan State university — except total number of hours — are being waived for these sophomore and junior students. They will be assigned faculty advisers to help work out programs of individual study to best meet their own interests and talents.

Although various colleges within the university have had honors courses for students who show aptitude for independent study in some fields, this is the first attempt at M.S.U. to establish a complete university-wide program.

"It is doubtful if any university in the United States has an across-the-board honors program of this scope," stated Dr. Stanley J. Idzerda, Honors College director.

"We want to allow the serious student at Michigan State to move as fast as his talent and desires dictate — no matter what his field. All students will be eligible, whether their educational field is practical or classical, in science or the arts."

Episcopal Committee Meets

By Mrs. John Parent
GReenleaf 4-2060

The Bishop's committee of the Episcopal Mission met July 25 at the William Dean home on East LeBost. Those present were Archdeacon Parks, Mrs. Ethel Hogle, Bill Dean, Mims Campbell, Tom Dukes, Ed Frutchey, Tom Johnson, Bill Gould and Angus Helgeson.

Paula Swenson was hostess at a tea given at her home on LeBost Wednesday afternoon. The tea was in honor of Helen Waugh and Mrs. Hollyoke. Helen, we are sorry to hear, will be moving to California next month. The neighbors presented her with a lovely white sweater. Mrs. Hollyoke, who comes from Canada, is a houseguest of her daughter, Glenna Grant, for the summer. The neighbors from LeBost who were present were Joyce Benjamin, Sarah Soule, Eva Kurr, Fran Snyder, Skip Boyer, Dottie Flattery and Marie Good.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Goyt of McMahon celebrated their second wedding anniversary Saturday, July 20 by dining out at Devon Gables.

Al and Ann Diebel celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary July 26.

Home from their vacation are the Bob Flattery family of LeBost. They spent two and one-half weeks at Whetmore Lake.

Murray and Rosemary Yaco and their three youngsters pioneered on their vacation. They had a cabin way up in Algoma, Canada.

The Al Diebels of East LeBost have returned from a three week camping trip in Montana and Wyoming. They camped at Yellowstone National Park and Glacier National Park and enjoyed viewing the Grand Tetons.

Harsens Island was the vacation spot for Bill and Sue Dean of East LeBost. Bill and Joan Gould of Glen Ridge joined them for a week end.

New in Willowbrook are Charles and Nancy Cousins of 41200 Ten Mile road. They have two children, Vickie Lynn, who is three and Kim, who is eight months old. The Cousins have moved here from Lansing where Charles graduated in journalism and advertising from MSU. He is now employed by American Concrete Institute in Redford. Nancy is a graduate nurse. The Cousins both enjoy photography and golf.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hart of Chicago are here to see their new granddaughter, Patricia, and visit with their daughter and family, the Robert Byrds of Mooringside.

Mrs. Gladys Foley of Detroit was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Foley of East LeBost over the week end.

Mrs. Eva Hillis of Chicago is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Elizabeth and Bud Brines, of Meadowbrook. Elizabeth has been receiving many lovely baby gifts from friends and relatives in England.

Walter and Pat Pinner of West LeBost had a picnic supper at their home Sunday. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters of Livonia and their daughter. The two men spent the early part of the day fishing.

Bill and Kay Reiss of West LeBost enjoyed an evening of cards Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Baker of Dearborn.

An early breakfast was cooked Saturday morning at Kensington park by the Ed Frutchey family of Malott and the Al Diebels of East LeBost. The children enjoyed swimming and fishing afterwards.

Coffee and rolls were served Thursday morning by Jean Radtke of West LeBost to Eleanor Freytag, Pat Pinner and Bea Diem.

Edith Voelker of Long Island and Jennie Licursi of New York City are houseguests of the Philip Rannos of McMahon.

Over the week end, company at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Black were their daughter, Mrs. David Butler and children, Bill, David and Julianne from Sandusky, Ohio; also their niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan and children, Carolyn and Sonny from Lawrenceburg, Kentucky.

OUT OF THE BLUE DROPPED this Marlian-looking contraption the other day. It was found by Jim (left) and John Morris near their home at 42797 Nine Mile road, and turned out to be a radio transmitter and parachute which had been sent aloft by the U.S. Weather Bureau. A few minutes after the picture was taken, the equipment was on its way back to the weather experts.

* * *

Not a Bird, Not a Plane; Just Common Radiosonde

Three young Northville explorers found a gadget from outer space Monday — well, at least from 16 miles up in the atmosphere.

They are Jim Morris, 13; John Morris, 9, and Bob Bosak, 11, who were hiking in a field at Nine Mile and Novi roads and came upon a strange looking object labeled, "RADIOSONDE".

Investigation and the proven method of reading the directions told them that it had been sent up by balloon from the United States Weather Bureau in Flint the same day. A radio transmitter attached to it beamed information on temperature, pressure and moisture back to Flint before the balloon burst.

and the transmitter parachuted to the field.

The whole works is now on its way to Joliet, Illinois weather bureau where finders were directed to send it.

Jim and John are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Morris of Nine Mile road and Bob's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Bosak, also of Nine Mile.

Rackov entered the Army last December and received basic training at Fort Carson, Colorado. He attended the University of Michigan.

Missionaries Visit Church

By Mrs. Luther Rix
Phone Northville 2741

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vaughn and children of Bunkerhill, Illinois were the house guests of Rev. and Mrs. Cook at the Baptist parsonage over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn are missionaries from French Equatorial, Africa and were speakers at the Baptist church Sunday morning. They showed a film on their medical work and the native life in Africa. They also showed many curios, some of which they left at the church. The Baptists are planning a show case for curios from all the mission fields. They are also making plans for a youth crusade in the fall. An increase in attendance at junior church has been noted. There were 51 boys and girls from four to ten years present Sunday morning.

Two Novi boys have joined the U.S. Navy and left for Great Lakes Naval Training Station last Wednesday morning. They are Thomas Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Bailey of Novi road, and Lee Roy Moody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moody of 12 Mile road. A going-away party for Tom and Lee Roy was held at the Moody home last Monday evening to which their friends and high school classmates were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles VanEvery of 11 Mile road are the parents of a son, Scott Richard, born Thursday, July 18 at Art Center hospital in Detroit.

Mrs. J. W. Chandler of Wixom was the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. E. Ward on Monday. They spent the afternoon in Detroit.

The South Novi Farm Bureau had their annual picnic at the "Willows" in Cass Benton park last Tuesday evening. Approximately 40 were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walters and daughter, Sharon, had a corn roast supper with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Lockwood's last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher returned last week from a vacation spent at their cottage at East Tawas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gardella have a new granddaughter, Kay Ann. She was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis of Taylor township at the Wyandotte hospital Sunday, July 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Race visited the latter's brother-in-law, Roy Tomlinson, at McLouchlin hospital in Lansing last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnston and granddaughter, Beth Ann, spent last week visiting friends in Cadillac and other places in northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Joe St. Onge visited Mr. Johnston's brother, Adam, in Adrian last Saturday.

Mrs. Joe St. Onge and Mrs. Clyde Johnston entertained a group of Blue Star Mothers by serving them a noon day dinner on Monday. After dinner they played games. Those who won the prizes were Mrs. Joe Gardella, Mrs. Russell Race, Mrs. Clare Lockwood, Mrs. Ethel Smith and Mrs. L. C. Rix. Others present were Mrs. Fred Mandlik and granddaughter, Renee Bartholomew, Mrs. George Fisher, Mrs. Ralph Walden, Mrs. Gertie Lee and Mrs. A. McCollum.

Mrs. James Greenwood of Plymouth, niece of Arthur Kreger, was soloist at the Novi Methodist church Sunday. After church services Mrs. James Greenwood and their three daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kreger also from Plymouth joined with Mrs. Greenwood and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kreger for breakfast at the Kreger home on Clarke street.

Dean Sanford of Plymouth will be the soloist at the Methodist church this coming Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ward and children are vacationing for two weeks in northern Michigan near Lewistown.

Mrs. Ernest Black entertained her sister, Mrs. Lillian Bader, from Memphis, Tennessee all of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rix and son, Leon and daughter, Beth Elaine, returned to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rix, Tuesday night after spending two weeks at the Rix cottage at Pretty Lake, Mecosta. Wednesday evening the Victor Rixes, Luther Rixes and Mrs. Ed Rix and son, David, of Plymouth had a steak roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David O'Leary in New Hudson. After a get-together with friends and relatives Thursday evening, the Victor Rix family will return to their home at Falls Church, Virginia on Friday.

OPTICAL ILLUSION — Novi's force of police cars isn't really as large as it looks here. In fact, instead of three cars, Novi still has but one. It's the 1957 model in the foreground, which was delivered last week. The second car was traded in — after putting on a rugged 80,000 miles in seven months. The third belongs to police chief Lee BeGole, but is used in emergencies. Shown with the cars are (from front) officers Vern Loeffler, Richard Noble and chief BeGole.

Summer Time Is Camp Time

The Northville Record

THE OLDEST WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY — EST. 1868 Thursday, August 1, 1957—9

DOWN TO THE FISHIN' HOLE — Poles held high, a group of young fishermen head down a hill in search of their afternoon's catch. Many of the youngsters had never been fishing before.

For Training School

On a secluded hillock in Kensington Park stands a small campsite that could well be the field headquarters of an infantry company.

But instead of soldiers, it houses groups of boys and girls from the Wayne County Training school who, for perhaps the first time in their lives, have a chance to go fishing with a cane pole, wander through sunlit fields, and listen to the sounds of the woods at night.

In groups of 40, the children go out to the campsite to spend two days and nights of outdoor living. With three groups attending each week, almost every youngster at the school will make the trip two or three times this year.

The expanded program was possible primarily through the efforts of child care director Tom Rossett, vocational training supervisor Lynn Sullivan and their staffs and assistants.

Sleeping tents were made from plain canvas, cut and sewn together by Northville shoemaker Josh Wagner. A horse watering trough was converted into a deep-freeze. A two-wheeled trailer holds more perishable food.

War surplus stores supplied such essentials as field stoves, cook stoves, and even an old army truck.

There's nothing fancy about the camp. Its directors see plenty of room for improvement when there is time and money.

But for the time being, the scores of Training School boys and girls — whose contact with the out-of-doors was often limited to the movie screen and comic books — think it's just about tops.

CHOW TIME COMING UP — Mrs. Ruth Davis (left) and Mrs. James Rhea prepare a meal for their 40 hungry charges in the cook tent. The camp is supplied with army field stoves.

And Novi Girl Scouts

Under a tree, four young girls were making things out of wood. Under another, a little brunette was finger painting.

Here and there, mothers bustled around, answering questions, getting cans of paint from a supply truck, and helping smaller girls make Chinese hats.

It was the annual Novi Girl Scout day camp, concluded last week after eight jam-packed days on a lot adjacent to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hayes, 44009 12 Mile road.

Here, some 40 girls from Novi's eight troops came daily, arriving at 9:30 a.m., eating noon meals cooked by themselves over open pits, and leaving at 3 p.m. after lowering the flag and cleaning up the camp.

"Camp Mindokwan," now in its second year, offered the Girl Scouts almost everything they could find by going to one of the larger Scout reservations, but had the convenience of being almost in their backyard.

With trained Scout leaders looking on and assisting them, the girls went on hikes, cooked, worked on arts and crafts, played games, joined in songfests, and had plenty of time for just plain tom-foolery.

Even tasks that would ordinarily be shunned were fun at Camp Mindokwan. Cooking on the open ground, cleaning pots and pans on a lashed-together table, and washing up in a basin supported by a makeshift tripod had something that made them almost enjoyable.

Now it's over for another year. The camp is just a vacant lot. The cook pits are covered over. And the campers themselves are spending their days watching television or going with mom to the supermarket.

HELPING HAND — Janice McKinney (left) and Sharon Clark, program aides at the camp, clean up the supply truck at day's end. In addition to helping with clean-up chores, the girls assisted with all other features of the Camp Mindokwan. Both girls attended special Girl Scout training sessions in recent months to prepare for the day camp.

CLEANING UP — Where there are meals, there are dirty dishes. Washing them on their homemade table are (left to right) Dianne Eby and Debra Harwood. Even this was fun for the girls.

ARTIST'S EXPLANATION — Patty Dye (center) tells Janice Paquette (left) and Jackie Miller the fine points of finger painting, using her own junior-sized mural as proof that she knows her stuff.

OFF FOR A SWIM — Loaded into an army surplus truck, a group of boys take off for a dip at one of Kensington's beaches.

POINTERS ON WATER SAFETY — Counselor James Rhea gives a group of boys some pointers on what to do and what not to do at the beach. Even so, the program is designed more as a vacation than a training session, and the boys are generally allowed to enjoy themselves as they want.

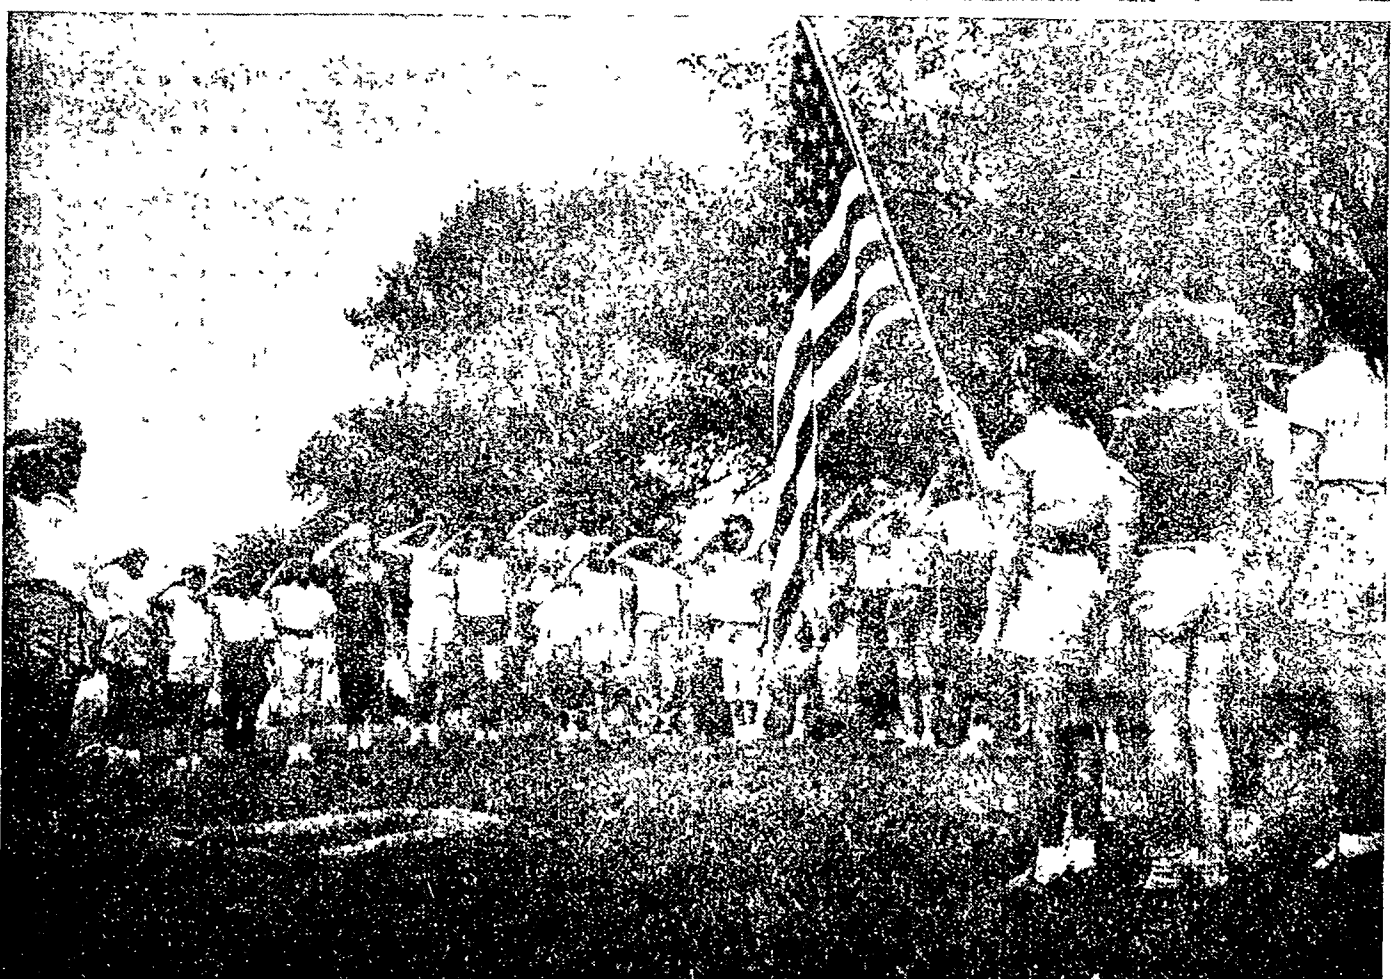

FIRST DAY'S BRIEFING — Shortly after their arrival at the camp, the boys are given a few instructions by Training School recreation director Bob Usher. Actually, they need few instructions, for the boys are probably better-behaved than most children their age.

TIME OUT — The men behind the camp — Lynn Sullivan (left) and Tom Rossett — take a moment to catch their breath.

EXECUTIVE SESSION — Five leaders of Camp Mindokwan relax over a cup of coffee while checking their records and planning the next stage of their daily program. From left to right are: Mrs. Hadley Bachert, camp nurse; Mrs. Jack Eby, camp director; Mrs. Vincent Hayes, on whose property the camp was held; Mrs. William Paquette, business manager, and Mrs. Erwin F'Geppert, counselor.

In addition to the camp officials pictured at right, 10 other Novi Girl Scout leaders took part in the eight-day program. They were: Mrs. Kenneth Bassett, Mrs. Fred Loyne, Mrs. Lloyd Coleman, Mrs. William MacDermaid, Mrs. Elsie Hall, Mrs. Dan McGilivray, Mrs. Burl McHaffter, Mrs. James McCormick, Mrs. Leslie Clark and Mrs. Harold Tuck.

RETREAT — The end of each day found the 40 Girl Scouts and their leaders performing traditional retreat ceremonies. In keeping with Girl Scout tradition, this was as important a part of the day at Camp Mindokwan as craftwork, cooking and games.

Brown Hurls No-Hitter For Braves 10th in Row

Danny Brown, a young pitcher with a stout arm, hurled a piece of Northville sports history last week.

Showing near-perfect control, he pitched the Northville Braves to a no-hit victory over the Rosedale Dodgers to keep his team's winning streak going at 10 straight games.

With the win, both the Braves (10-0) and the Northville Class E nine (6-0) are undefeated and in first place in their leagues. The Braves led the National League in midweek recreation play, while the Class E squad is on top in its division.

In Class F play, the Northville club (5-1) held on to second place in its tough nine-team league. And in the midweek American League, the Northville Orioles clung to third place with a 7-5 showing for the season.

Brown, in addition to pitching the no-hit 4-0 win over Rosedale, aided his own cause by collecting one of his club's four hits—a booming double.

Brown struck out 10 and walked only two against the Dodgers—the second place team in the league and victims of only one other loss.

until they bumped into Northville and Brown.

In Class E play, Northville picked up two victories last week as local pitchers limited the opposition to only four hits. Northville rolled over the Columbia Squires, 9-0, on Bill Boyd's three-hitter, and dumped Livonia Police, 12-0. Joe Kritch held the opposition to a single hit.

Bill Yahné and Bob Starnes were the big guns against the Squires, pounding out three hits apiece. Yahné again led the club against Livonia.

In Class F competition, Northville had an easy time against Wayne County Training School, winning 15-4 on only six hits. Butch Willing's home run and 14 walks by the WCTS pitcher wrapped up the game.

Northville "peewee" softball was due to close yesterday after a highly successful first season.

In league playoffs yesterday, the first-place Panthers and Lions were to meet for the title, while the Bears and Tigers were to battle in the consolation game.

That's how it shaped up Monday when the Lions toppled the Tigers, 11-2, and the Panthers defeated the Bears, 13-7, in the first round of playoffs.

Hefty Averages Highlight Novi Little League Season

The stirring battle for first place in the Novi Little League was reflected this week in team and individual batting averages compiled by officials of the league.

They show that Fiberglass and Paragon—the two contenders for the league's top spot—are also leading the way in hitting.

Both are batting well over .300. Paragon has an astounding .323 average, while Fiberglass is rolling along at a healthy .305.

Elsewhere in the league, National Bank is batting .246 and Young Door has a .235 average.

In the individual department, 16 young sluggers are above the .300 mark.

Leading them all with a phenomenal .652 average is Paragon's Jeff Crawford.

Fiberglass' Paul-Rosé, at .621 is close behind. John Walters of Paragon (.555), Dennis Marshall of Young Door (.536) and Gary Spencer of Fiberglass (.500) are also among the top batters.

The complete list of over-300 batters (more than 10 times at bat):

Jeff Crawford, Paragon652

Paul Rose, Fiberglass621

John Walters, Paragon555

Dennis Marshall, Young Door .536

Gary Spencer, Fiberglass500

Paragon Steelers Regain First Place

After a week's absence from first place, the Paragon Steelers regained the Novi Little League lead this week by breaking Fiberglass' eight-game winning streak with a spine-tling 9-8 victory.

Fiberglass nearly tied it in the last inning, but a base-runner was called out at home plate and the win went to the Steelers. Ralph Caligiuri's four-hit pitching effort for Fiberglass went to naught.

Paragon continued its winning ways earlier by dropping National Bank, 17-4, for the Bandits' ninth straight loss. Tom Morrison allowed National Bank only three hits, while the Bandits' Jack Boyd struck out 10 Steelers.

Fiberglass, now a half game out of first, won its eighth in a row by downing Young Door, 10-9, in an extra-inning thriller. Ron Bearden, one of the league's leading hitters, lashed out three triples for the Steelers.

In the final game last week, Young Door defeated National Bank, 7-3, to come within half a game of third place. Dennis Marshall limited the Bandits to a meager four hits.

The standings:

Paragon 9 4

Fiberglass 9 5

National Bank 4 8

Young Door 4 9

Pet and Doll Show, Field Day Coming Up

Northville and Novi's fluffiest cats, biggest dogs, best decorated bicycles, and prettiest dolls will go on display next Tuesday.

And this Saturday, upwards of 100 youngsters from the area will attend the annual Detroit Policemen's Field Day at Briggs Stadium.

More than 50 boys and girls from the two communities are expected to take part in the traditional pet and doll parade sponsored by the Northville recreation department.

The show, open to children of all ages, will begin Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the park behind the Northville city hall.

Prizes will be awarded for first, second and third places in the following categories:

— Cats: prettiest, blackest, fluffiest, largest family.
— Dogs: smallest, largest, largest family, prettiest.
— General pets: most original, smallest.

— Floats: most original, prettiest.
— Bicycles: most originally decorated, prettiest.

— Dolls: best dressed, smallest, largest collection, oldest, biggest, prettiest.

"If a child brings a pet, and we don't have a category for it, we'll make one," said recreation director Stan Johnston.

Children may enter as many events as they desire, but each pet, float, doll, or bike may be entered in only one event.

In addition to prizes, all children who take part will receive a special treat, Johnston said.

Children who need help with their decorations and floats may bring them to the recreation day camp at Ford Field for assistance, he added.

Children who wish to attend Detroit Policemen's Field Day at Briggs Stadium will gather this Saturday at 11 a.m. in the Northville Community Building parking lot.

Johnston said, 100 tickets are available. Children of all ages — both boys and girls — are welcome. There will be no charge.

Johnston urged that Northville Junior Policemen — the organization sponsored by police chief Joseph Denton — sign up for the famous field day.

A full list of 10 fathers have signed up for the Detroit Tigers-Cleveland Indians game at Briggs Stadium on August 8. There is still room for some 15 boys, however.

The final major event on the summer recreation program will be the annual water carnival at Groome's Beach, Whitmore Lake, on August 16. Full details will be announced later.

Their 'Family' Takes 300 Hours a Week

The largest and most rambunctious family in this area is a brood of some 850 Northville and Novi youngsters who run from early morning to late afternoon without stopping, ask questions that would stump an encyclopedia, switch from knot-tying to finger-painting without losing stride and never want to go home because they are having too much fun.

Their foster parents are the seven teachers and teen-agers who make up the Northville recreation department's summer staff.

The job of providing summer fun for such an always-on-the-go bunch of kids — and at the same time saving their parents the trouble — takes up nearly 300 of their collective hours both during the day and at night.

It's a job which sometimes makes the recreation staff wonder why they didn't go to a lake for the summer, but which also offers satisfaction which they could hardly find anywhere else.

The bulk of the job falls on the shoulders of recreation director Stan Johnston and his chief aide, day-camp Ken Conley. Between them, they usually put in anywhere from 110 to 120 hours a week.

Johnston, who spends the rest of the year as a teacher and coach at Northville high school, must first organize the program and figure out how to make his $10,000 budget stretch. He must order equipment, make arrangements for trips to the zoo or a Tiger game. He must keep records of attendance, line up parents for activities, and decide on rules for special events.

In between he coaches softball goes along on swimming trips, and rushes equipment to wherever it's needed.

Finally, he must handle requests or complaints from parents, and report regularly to his bosses — the five-member Northville recreation committee.

Conley, a science and math teacher at Oak Park high school, is almost as busy — though he happily doesn't have the organizational worries that take up so much of Johnston's time.

Instead, he spends most of his day — and often part of his evenings — working directly with the kids. He coaches ball teams, teaches water safety, goes along on swimming trips, teaches archery, and helps plan many of the department's special activities.

His wife, Mary, keeps things going at the Ford Field day camp, where scores of youngsters come each day for activities ranging from painting and leatherwork to group games and story-telling.

And when two small girls disagree on who had the jump-rope first, or when one of the little tykes trips and bumps his nose, Mary must be right there with a soothing word or a solution worthy of Solomon.

Helping her at the day camp are three other counselors — Judy Diew, who'll soon study nursing at Henry Ford hospital; Marcia Doeksen, a junior at Michigan State; and Mary Welch, a senior at Northville high school.

Up at the Scout hall where the program has its headquarters amidst boxes of equipment and dozens of records and charts, NHS senior Mary Hill sits at a desk and answers the phone, takes messages, tells late-comers where they can find the rest of the kids, answers parents' questions, and struggles through the odds and ends that no one else quite gets to.

Those are the full-timers. There are others whose help is essential to the program. Merritt Meaker, also an NHS teacher and coach, takes the youngsters out to Brae Burn for golf lessons. Glenn Long and Mike Willing, Northville businessmen, coach baseball teams — and very successfully, for both teams are leading their leagues.

In the background the recreation committee itself administers the activities — integrating them with the rest of the year-round program. Chairman Robert Merriam, Mrs. Janette Lawrence, Mayor Claude Ely, Richard Kay and Clayton Myers have this responsibility.

All this effort has paid off amazingly well. And if the smiles on the children's faces isn't enough to prove it, a few facts and figures will do just as well.

In the four years that Johnston has been director and the program has had full-time support, attendance has more than tripled — from about 250 to the present 850, of whom about 100 come from Novi.

Instead of one baseball team, there are four — for all ages. And for the first time this year, nearly 100 young boys are playing organized softball in the program's new "pee-wee" league.

Part of it, of course, is due to growth in the area. But most of it, seems certain, is because the program now offers such a lot of summer fun for Northville and Novi youngsters that the old swimming hole, a sandlot "scrub" game, or a morning of harrasing nam just don't stand up by comparison.

MENTAL PRAYER

It has been the observation of some of you that a person who has recourse regularly to mental prayer experiences notable spiritual growth. For the average person, a very simple and fruitful form of meditation would be to read a chapter of the Gospels each day. It should be at a time and in a place that is free from distractions. It should be read thoughtfully and slowly. Then a few minutes should be spent in turning over in one's mind what has been read; giving it time to be digested, applying it to one's own life; permitting it to lead to a resolution of some kind.

Besides meditation there is another form of mental prayer—a still higher form of prayer—which we call "contemplation." We are used to thinking of the saints as "contemplatives." We are prone to think that contemplation is something reserved to convents and monasteries. Actually the prayer of contemplation is a form of prayer which every sincere Christian should try to use.

Contemplation is that type of prayer in which the mind and heart are raised to God, and rest there. The mind is not very active in this case but the heart is. God can operate now quite freely in this heart which has fastened itself so closely to Him.

Before anyone says "Heavens, I never contemplate!" let me ask this: Have you never knelt or sat in a quiet church, before or after the service or on your way home from work; have you never remained there for a few minutes and just anxiously yearned for God's love; and left church, finally with a feeling of renewed strength, and courage and peace of soul? If this has been your experience, then you have contemplated, whether you knew it or not.

So let us not conclude that contemplation is beyond our reach, that we have no time for it. It is the kind of prayer that God wants all of us to strive for; vocal prayer (whether private or liturgical) is designed to lead us to contemplation. Yes, mental prayer is the kind of prayer that will most richly contribute to growth and grace.

Hartley Pays Poetic Tribute To Renowned Ornithologist

A poetic tribute to one of the nation's leading ornithologists has been paid by a Northville resident who knew him well and followed his studies for years.

Harold S. Hartley, P-TA president and an avid student of ornithology himself, wrote the poem following the death this year of Dr. Josselyn Van Tyne, whose bird studies at the University of Michigan brought him nation-wide fame.

Hartley's poem, entitled "Ornithologist," was published in the current issue of "Artesian," a magazine dedicated to free expression in the creative arts.

Dr. Van Tyne is remembered in Northville for his appearance before the P-TA several years ago, during which he showed slides of and discussed his final expedition—a sojourn to Baffin Island.

Dr. Van Tyne was president of the Wilson Ornithological Society and editor of the Wilson Review. As a memorial to him, the American Ornithologist's Union has established the Van Tyne Research Fund.

The poem in his honor:

ORNITHOLOGIST

Eyes
That drank the crimson of an Ibis band
Up-oaring from green parasoled slopes
To burn the azure with its winged hopes
And drop pink parachutes on silver sand:
Resting now from flight,
Sheathed now in night.

Heart
That found and bid each incandescent spring:
Whose flower-lighted brush, wind-swirled,
Splashed green laughter on the April world
And voiced voices taught again to sing:
Quiet now and riven,
Blood to cardinals given.

Mind
That sought to know this planet's rainbowed flights:
Which crossed the mantled Mesozoic moon?
Which deck the Arctic's bridal veil at noon?
And which will wing the future's secret nights?
Eternal in design,
It's tasks now yours and mine.

New Industry Brightens Northville's Gerald Avenue

With faith that a new product will sell, Les Diesem has staked his future on a plot of ground that many Northville residents would have shunned a year ago.

Diesem has gone into business near the north end of Gerald street, where a tumble-down shack stood until last fall and where a rusted-out school bus once sat forlornly in a field.

In a new $27,000 building that doubles as his home, Diesem is manufacturing two new concrete products which he believes will find a ready market among Michigan home-owners: a small backyard-sized incinerator, and a trim modern barbecue pit.

Both are constructed of four sides of heat-resistant concrete, held together by imbedded pieces of hightensile wire. They are simple, yet efficient and attractive.

Diesem has a five-county franchise for the incinerator — designed and patented by a Philadelphia company. Manufacturing them in his Gerald street plant, he distributes them throughout Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Monroe counties.

Though he doesn't have a patent on his second product — the barbecue — he has something almost as good: a patent on the frames in which the concrete slabs are poured. His specially-designed frame allows him to pour up to 10 sides at a time, instead of the single side possible under former methods.

To have adequate room in which to work, Diesem last year built his two-story concrete block building at 19340 Gerald street.

Since then, he has dismantled the shack that had stood there, cut down weeds, put in a large gravel driveway, and even planted several well-tended flower beds around the building.

Upstairs, Diesem has his home. It's a pleasant place, consisting of five knotty-pine rooms with such extra items as cedar closets and a sparkling kitchen that would do any housewife proud.

Diesem lives there alone, having moved from his former home in Livonia after his wife died.

His new business takes up most of his time, for Diesem not only manufactures the incinerators and barbecues, but distributes them, handles his books, prepares his advertising and checks out further markets for expansion.

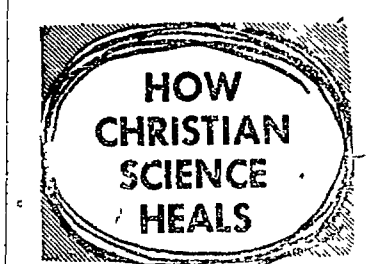

At present, his niece helps out in the office and he has one employee assisting him part time. But Diesem foresees a period of expansion in the near future, and expects to have several more employees helping him soon.

Meanwhile, he is studying an offer to become his home company's representative for the entire mid-west area and to handle the 16 concrete products now included in the company's line.

Diesem isn't sure if he wants to bite off that much right now, however. He almost thinks he would rather operate out of his quarters on Gerald street for the time being.

Considering the amount of work he has put into his new business so far — work which has given new life to a formerly blighted area — who can blame him?

Cancer Claims Life Of Richard Ramsey

The six-year old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ramsey of Wixom, owners of Ramsey's Bar on North Center street, died last Friday, two years after it was discovered he was a cancer victim.

He was Richard E. (Ricky) Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Ramsey of Walled Lake. Special treatment was given him last November to fight against the two types of cancer doctors said were in his body.

Private funeral services were held Saturday at the Richardson-Bird funeral home, Rev. Louis Toller officiating. Burial was in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

This edition of the Record and Novi News marks the beginning of my second year at pounding out this column. Regular readers probably will say that it seems like a lot longer, but I'm finding it hard to recall what happened to the time.

Some days have dragged like the month of January, but the year itself simply disappeared.

Our biggest sense of satisfaction comes from the realization that more and more people in key positions in Northville, Novi and now Wixom, are studying their problems in an area-wide manner. This is true, not only between the separate governments, but also in separate spheres of jurisdiction within the communities.

While we must look at each community individually to appreciate local problems, we can't help but see an overlapping where inevitably an exchange of ideas and resources benefits all sides.

And that's why, as we begin our second year, we're making a determined effort to gain NEW and REGULAR readers of the Record and News.

Our $3,500 circulation contest in Northville and Novi has created a great deal of interest and discussion, but few contestants. Apparently, everyone believes that someone else will win the new car, cash, savings bonds and television set.

Contest Manager Bill Lancaster tells me that such promotions are generally won by people who devote just a few hours each day for four or five weeks to selling subscriptions. We know it's easy to do, because we have done it.

Somebody in Novi and Northville will win these prizes; it might just as well be you!

Lancaster related an interesting conversation to us concerning our Novi paper. A lifelong Novi resident told him that her shopping habits had been changed by the Novi News. Having shopped elsewhere all her life, she began taking the Novi News to read of the happenings of her area and subsequently began shopping in Northville because the local merchants carried their advertising messages in The News.

It's all part of the area picture, as we see it. And, actually, it's the very reason we're conducting this circulation contest. We want more people to become regular readers of The Record and News. If we can get our paper into their homes for one year, then it is up to us to provide them with the kind of a community paper that will bring regular subscription renewals.

Even if you do not choose to enter our circulation drive as a contestant, you can do your part by helping someone else get NEW subscribers. That way, we'll not only have a better newspaper, but an area that's better informed of community affairs. An informed public cannot help but produce a better community for everyone.

State's Mental Block

MICHIGAN WILL SPEND $63,362,007 for mental health programs during the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The field always has been a battleground of controversy between Governor Williams who claims needs are not being met, and Republicans, who claim they are.

* * *

Republicans this year said the spending program for mental health will be $3,575,114 more than last year and places Michigan in a leading position in the country in mental health care.

Democrats retorted that the mental health department would have to stop taking new patients at Northville State Mental hospital and make other cutbacks if more money were not provided.

In their report, Republicans said the hospital received more than it did last year; that Hawthorn Center, at the hospital, will get $800,000, an increase of $260,000.

After conferences, the plan to stop taking new patients at Northville was dropped, without any more money forthcoming.

* * *

The legislature provided $1,578,000 for the Lafayette Center in Detroit, training location for psychiatrists. This is an increase of $278,000.

To further their program of "brains instead of bricks," legislators turned over $225,000 to the neuro-psychiatric institute at Ann Arbor for research into the causes and treatment of mental disorders.

In addition, the mental health department received $30,000 for research and was authorized to set up an $85,000 training program with the help of Federal funds.

Republicans said they had added 579 new employees to the mental health system in two years.

* * *

A start was made on construction of a new hospital for mentally retarded children at Plymouth with an appropriation of $1,250,000. Total expansion will net more than 1,000 new beds.

"The Republican legislative program was designed to treat and cure the mentally ill so they can return as quickly as possible to society — rather than being confined to our state institutions for lengthy periods of time," said House Speaker George M. Van Peurse (R-Zeeland).

"We have a mental health program we can be proud of."

* * *

Van Peurse, a legislative veteran who has risen to its top position of leadership, has been designated as the party's spokesman for the House.

Some party spokesmen indicate strongly that the young lawyer from Zeeland is a fast-rising star in partisan politics and could be tapped for higher state office — maybe, for governor.

It was VanPeurse's interim committee on labor which last summer exploded the battle over whether Gov. Williams' tax ideas were forcing business and industry out of Michigan.

The theory then, as now, was that business and industry are paying their limit in state taxes. Williams' proposed six per cent corporation profits tax would tip the scales, they said.

The issue boiled along through the summer and fall, until industrial leaders, including Harlowe Curtice, president of General Motors, publicly stated his position.

He said that his corporation is considering expansion in other states rather than in Michigan partly because of the tax structure.

Political experts saw the resulting uproar as the most damaging attack on Williams since he took office in 1949.

Whether or not it was, leaders of both parties are keeping in mind that Van Peurse was one of the early leaders in the fight.

What has happened to Van Peurse since has done nothing to dim his rising political star.

* * *

MICHIGAN'S new Democratic highway commissioner, John C. Mackie, has found himself bound by some of the commitments made by his predecessor, Charles M. Ziegler.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled the day after Mackie took office July 1 that bond issue money raised for limited-access expressways cannot be diverted to any other purpose.

This was a legal blow to Mackie, whose platform was to start afresh with the new funds available in Michigan.

The net effect will force the new commissioner to finish many of the jobs already started by Ziegler — some of the projects under heavy criticism from Democrats.

What's Happening to Your Savings Dollar?

Babson Park, Mass. — Statistics can be used to prove what you want to prove — or they can be used to show what they do prove. Money is used universally, and its fluctuations must always be considered in all calculations. The problem is to find a stable unit of value. On the basis of a dollar worth 100 cents in 1939, it is now worth 50 cents and is going lower.

The money unit — whether it be a dollar, pound, or franc — has a tendency to become less and less valuable. Money is always a problem to every one, from the paper boy to the President of the United States. The Government has debts even as you and I. As the dollar becomes of less value, so do our savings accounts and life insurance.

The National Debt

Wars are the Government's most expensive cost item. They destroy wealth, take the best youth of the nations, settle nothing, and are supported by borrowed money. This debt must be paid by the youth of the country yet unborn. These Government obligations are known as the National Debt. In 1914, the National Debt was a little over one billion dollars. Today it is around $275 billion and it costs about $9 billion annually to pay the interest on the debt. We have fought wars to end all wars, but the next one may end everything else!

Printing-Press Money

There are many people who think that the National Debt and the money problem could be solved by printing more money. When you stand in the balcony of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, watch a worker hold up a blank sheet of paper, push it into a machine, pull a lever, hold the sheet of paper up again transformed into $1,000 bills, you can readily see how they get that idea. The end of printing such money may be complete repudiation and catastrophe.

Labor Unions

In 1933, Labor Unions had a membership of around 3 million; today it numbers around 18 million. Since we have a civilian labor force of almost 70 million, this means that less than 30 percent of the workers are unionized. However, the leaders of this 30 percent practically set the standards for a large majority of the nation's workers. Some of the union activities are harmful both to the general welfare of the nation and to their own members as well. Labor should get a fair wage but its production should increase in line with its wages. Otherwise, these workers reduce the value of your savings and life insurance.

The Vicious Spiral

The Union demand is always for higher wages or shorter hours. Employers are willing to grant increases so long as production is being increased, but otherwise such raises are just like printing-press money and are followed by a rise in the prices of consumer goods. Increased prices are soon met by another demand for an increase in wages, and the spiral goes round and round. The vicious circle continues: Increased wages, increased costs of production, increased prices, then increased wages. This will go on until the consumer ceases to buy and we have unemployment and depression.

money. We should all encourage the Board in its effort to protect the dollar, our savings, and our life insurance. Inflation does not increase the volume of business; it just increases the number of dollars necessary to carry on business.

Creeping Inflation

This gradual increase in prices lessens by so much the value of the dollar and of your savings deposits... and life insurance. This situation is going on at the present time, and unless it is controlled it will cause trouble in time. The Federal Reserve Board is trying to stem creeping inflation with tighter

Conclusion
The Administration likes to speak of the Gross National Product, which is measured in dollars, because it probably makes everybody feel better; but remember that it is measured by a 50-cent dollar rather than by amounts of food, clothing and shelter.
