

12 Contest Entrants Top $30 Club Level

Below is a list of the men and women of this area who signed entry blanks and officially entered as contestants in The Northville Record and Novi News $3,500 Subscription Contest.

Forty-nine were entered, but nine of them immediately withdrew upon hearing that others had entered, leaving 40 in the list below. Only 12 of these have started in the race with more than a $30 club of subscriptions, 6 have received votes on from one to four subscriptions, and one has been credited with free votes. This leaves 22 entrants who have not added to the 5,000 votes given for entering.

A $30 club is composed of any combination of $3.00, $5.00 or $10.00 subscriptions amounting to $30 worth. Each $30 club yields between 425,000 and 625,000 votes.

THIS LIST MERELY SHOWS WHO HAS BECOME ACTIVE. All entrants who do not become active and add to their 5,000 entry votes within the next week will be dropped from the list of contestants. No entrant has a start that could not be overcome in a short time by even a new entrant. Just watch this list narrow down to the few with the initiative and courage to start a real campaign to win.

Council Names Harold Penn To Act as City Engineer

Harold W. Penn, partner in the Detroit engineering firm of LaPorte and Penn, was named Monday evening as city engineer for Northville.

Penn, who resides at 46150 West Main street, will be employed by the city on a retainer basis. The move has been under consideration by the council for many months. Councilmen believe that the city can save money by employing an engineer on a retainer basis instead of employing firms as consultants on individual projects.

While the agreement with Penn has not yet been signed, the engineer is already at work on the design of a storm sewer down East street to carry storm flow from the new high school.

In an agenda of routine business the council also heard proposed new sidewalk and water rate ordinances introduced by John Robertson, city manager. The sidewalk ordinance would outline responsibility for repair and determine whether the city or resident must pay for maintenance and new walks. Councilman Malcolm Allen and Robertson were appointed by the mayor to study ordinances in other cities.

Water rates will also come under the scrutiny of Councilman Earl Reed and city attorney and city manager. They will seek a reasonable local rate and service charge for persons living outside the city limit. Mayor Ely also suggested a provision for a flat rate to apply to new buildings before a meter is installed.

A request by Ernest Seaman, owner of the Center Cab company, to increase local taxi rates was also turned over to a committee for study. Seaman asked that the rates be changed from 40c to 50c per mile.

The council adopted a resolution reaffirming their support of the proposed route of the new Eight Mile road cut-off. The action was taken after rumors that the route might be changed to follow down Randolph street.

City Gets $4,116 For Street Work

Northville will receive $4,116.46 as its share of state gas and weight tax rebates for the second quarter of 1957.

The money must be used for road and street work within the city, and already has been included in the Northville budget.

The figure includes $3,363.65 from the state motor vehicle highway fund and $452.81 from the state highway construction fund.

Both funds are accumulated from state gasoline and weight taxes. Four times a year, they are distributed to state, county and municipal agencies.

A total of 44 percent of the state motor vehicle highway fund — set up in 1951 — goes to the state highway department. Some 37 percent goes to counties, and 19 percent goes to cities and incorporated villages.

The breakdown of the highway construction fund — established in 1955 — has 75 percent going to the state highway department, about 17 percent to the counties, and about eight percent to cities and incorporated villages.

$1,000,000 Fire Guts Northville Plant

HOLOCAUST — This was the scene shortly after firemen arrived at the Northville Allied Products division to battle a fierce flash fire Tuesday afternoon. The rapidly-spreading blaze swept through the building in minutes and was almost uncontrollable by the time firefighters arrived. It was the most spectacular fire in Northville in years. See other pictures on page 8.

Loss of Allied Products Called 'Jolt to Economy'

One of the most spectacular blazes in Northville history broke the noon-hour calm Tuesday, causing an estimated $1,000,000 damage and putting some 65 people out of work.

Firemen battled throughout the afternoon and into the evening to conquer the stubborn blaze, which left the Powdered Metal Parts division of Allied Products company, 456 East Cady, in almost total ruin.

No persons were injured, but three firemen were overcome by smoke and had to rest.

It was the second largest industry in Northville. Its loss was termed a "jolt to the city's economy" by city manager John Robertson.

Four fire trucks and some 40 firemen from Northville, Novi and Plymouth answered the alarm. Despite thousands of gallons of water — which emptied one tanker and sent it for more — the structure was thoroughly gutted.

The blaze broke out shortly after noon, when all but a handful of employees were out of the building on their lunch hour. No one was in the main shop.

Northville fire chief William McGee said the fire could have been a disaster.

"It flashed so fast that even the man who discovered it didn't have a chance to turn off gas lines," he said. "If the employees had been there, many of them may not have come out alive."

Ironically, plant general manager John V. Roberts, of Plymouth, labeled the absence of employees a "misfortune."

"If someone had been there," he said, "the fire would have been put out immediately. But as it was, it had a head start before it was discovered and consequently was nearly impossible to control."

The cause has not yet been determined, Roberts said. He added that an acetylene tank may have figured in somehow.

McGee said investigators are still looking into the cause. He denied published reports that he had laid the blame to a furnace blast.

Roberts stressed that very little combustible material is used in the plant's operation. He discounted reports that the blaze was helped along by open oil drums, pointing out that the plant's drums were still sealed and intact after the fire.

"In fact, I was amazed that it spread so rapidly," he said. "We used very little material that could burn. Most of it was metal."

The fire was discovered by three employees in a distant part of the plant. They dashed out, telling switchboard operator Mrs. Doris Maltby to call the fire department.

The blaze, which began in the center of the building, swept through the structure in minutes. By the time firemen arrived, the entire building except the main office was a roaring inferno.

Though the concrete-block and aluminum walls themselves did not burn, the wooden roof apparently provided an easy course for the blaze.

McGee said the blaze apparently was helped along by oily equipment, exploding ammonia and acetylene tanks, and possibly by wall insulation which got so hot it burned.

The fire seemed to be under control at times, only to break out anew as firemen moved to another part of the building.

Finally, an hour after it began, the blaze roared into the office. Most filing cases and records had been removed, but thousands of dollars worth of personal items, valuable blueprints and office equipment was destroyed.

The heat was so intense that one section of aluminum wall collapsed into what seemed a grotesque piece of modern sculpture.

At least two explosions rocked the air. Roberts assumed they were oil drums exploding. Though the explosions were not felt outside the building, spectators were continually warned by police to stay far back.

A nearby garage and several homes were endangered. Residents grabbed garden hoses and watered down their roofs and extinguished blazing embers. Tree tops were scorched leafless by the billowing flames.

After the blaze was brought under control, the gutted structure was a chaotic scene of water-covered floors, singed office furniture, and sooty equipment. A picture of someone's family was half buried in the black rubble.

Although the fire was seemingly extinguished by late afternoon, firemen were called back an hour later.

Oh, for the Life Of a Fireman

Northville firemen were a busy lot Tuesday afternoon and evening.

As if the huge Allied Products fire was not enough, they had to leave it and quench an oil furnace blaze about 5 p.m.

The fire, at the home of Frank Beeks, 690 Thayer, was put out quickly and the truck returned to Allied Products.

Later in the evening, firemen were called back to the plant to extinguish a fresh outbreak in the office.

And at 1 a.m. Wednesday, they returned to Allied Products company to douse a smoldering tree which suddenly broke into flame.

3 Northville Teams Win Positions In Rec Tourneys

Three Northville recreation baseball teams are on their way to tournament play as a result of games played this week.

The midwest Northville Braves pulled even with the Livonia Indians Tuesday night as pitcher Tom Brown led them to a 4-0 win over the Wilcox Redlegs.

The Braves will meet Livonia tonight for the right to represent the league in the Michigan Recreation Association tournament. The loser tonight will participate in the Wyandotte Inter-City tourney.

Joe Kritch pitched the Northville Class E squad to a 4-2 win over Ford Civic Tuesday night. The victory assured the league-champion Northville team of a spot in the state-wide MRA tournament.

Kritch tossed a four-hitter and pounded out a two-run bases-loaded double.

Monday night, the Northville Class F squad lost to Livonia to miss out on the MRA tourney. But the Northville team is expected to enter the Inter-City playoffs.

The 4-3 game was called because of darkness — a decision that has prompted a stern protest by Northville recreation officials.

Recreation director Stan Johnston hailed the work of coaches Ken Conley, Mike Wiling and Glenn Long in making the 1957 baseball season so successful. All told, their teams have won a total of 28 games while losing only three.

See other details on sport page.

Local Auto Clubbers Plan Outdoor Dance

A "Summer Festival" with dancing, music and refreshments will be sponsored by Northville's Modified Auto Club.

The young auto clubbers plan the outdoor public party Saturday, August 17 in the parking area next to the First Presbyterian church.

The club has 20 members and is sponsored locally by the Exchange club. Its directors are Eugene King, Northville police officer, and William Taft. The boys are all interested in mechanics, automobiles and good driving habits. They will use funds from the festival to promote activities of the club. As an added attraction, a portable television will be given away during the evening.

Tickets are available from any of the following members: Don Atwood, Kenneth Beyer, Dave Dahl, Ron, Dethloff, Warren Feole, Greig Chapman, Bob Loynes, Bill Miller, Victor Miller, Robert Wagenschutz, Keith Steinhebel, Bill Pratt, Tom Slaven, Dick Mitchell, Roy Hamer, Neal Pike, Bill Allen, Dave Louton, Frank Dempsey and Duane Busch.

Day School Established For Retarded Children

Digging through a packed agenda Monday night, members of the Northville board of education highlighted their meeting with the announcement of a new program for mentally retarded children that will begin next fall.

The Northville district will join five other school districts in sending children to day sessions at Wayne county training school. Other districts represented will be Plymouth, South Redford, Redford Union, Livonia and Clarenceville.

The board announced that probably two students from Northville would be included in a group of 45 beginning sessions sometime between September 1 and December 1. The tentative age limit is between five and eight years, although some four-year-olds may be included.

The individual districts will be billed for students who will be able to live at home while attending school.

In a matter regarding finances, the board processed a resolution calling for the sale of $37,000 of tax anticipation notes. Bids have been advertised for this week, the opening date being August 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the board office.

This is in addition to $50,000 borrowed against future taxes earlier this year and brings the district to its borrowing limit for 1957.

Two important matters related to the opening of school in the fall were acted on Monday: bus transportation and a rate setting for elementary school book rental.

After hearing a report of road and walking conditions from the transportation committee of the Parent-Teachers association, the board decided that most students who live beyond the city limits, kindergarten through 12th grade, will be transported by bus to school.

The committee has been studying the situation at the request of the board for several weeks. A problem arose when a new state aid law passed this spring provided that the school district would not be reimbursed for transporting students who lived within one and a half miles from school. The limit set for the previous year was one mile.

According to the board, new transportation boundaries will mean a loss of money to the district, but the cost should be no more than last year's.

In the new book rental program, students in grades one through six will pay a flat rate of $6 a year for books.

A flat amount for kindergarten pupils is yet to be determined, but it is estimated to be higher than $6.

Boundaries Set For School Buses

After hearing a report of the transportation committee of the Northville P-TA, the board of education has set up the following boundaries past which students will be transported to school by bus:

North Center and Oakwood subdivision — all walk

West Eight Mile and Taft — ride

West Seven Mile and Clement — ride

West Main, west of Clement — ride

Sheldon Road south of Hines Dr. — ride

Seven Mile and railroad tracks, south and east — ride

East Eight Mile and Griswold — all east ride

Novi Road at Nowels Lumber — elementary students ride

North on Novi Road — all ride

Nine Mile, north of Center — all ride

Chairman of the committee which has been investigating road conditions and safety-hazards was Kenneth Conley.

Committee members included Mrs. Mary Conley, Mrs. Crispin Hammond, Mrs. N. K. Pattison, William Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. William Secord, George Hill, John Lemmon, Mrs. V. G. Chabut, Mrs. Robert Beaseley, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Walter Stroud and Robert Davis.

Amerman Returns From Mayo Clinic

Superintendent of schools R. H. Amerman returned to Northville this week from the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota where he underwent treatment for what doctors determined was a bone injury resulting from a fall.

Amerman reports that his condition is improved and that the diagnosis shows that he is on the road to recovery.

High school principal E. V. Ellison, who has been acting superintendent in his absence, will continue to assist Mr. Amerman.

EVACUATION — Volunteer firemen and Allied workers managed to remove most of the firm's records before the fire swept into the main office. Despite their efforts, many documents, blueprints and personal items went up in flames.

Three Local Men Injured In Northville Road Crash

One Northville boy lies unconscious and two others are seriously injured in the University of Michigan hospital as a result of an automobile accident Monday night.

They are Glen Howarth, suffering from concussion; Bruce Rose, who has minor bone breaks and multiple lacerations of the scalp and hands, and Richard Alkire, who was X-rayed for a possible spinal injury.

According to the Wayne county sheriff's department, the car was traveling south on Northville road at a high rate of speed when it hit a tree about 8 p.m. Monday.

The car, owned and driven by Rose, was totally demolished. Police and U-M doctors both report no evidence of drinking. The boys themselves are unable to remember what happened still being somewhat in a state of shock.

Howarth, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Howarth of Seven Mile road, is a senior at Alma college. Rose, a junior of the same school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rose of Meadowbrook road. Alkire, discharged from the armed services in May, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Alkire of Fry road.

Doctors report that barring complications and discovery of internal injuries, all three are progressing rapidly and well.

NEW RESIDENTS — Mr. and Mrs. Milton West, their son, Paul, and "Rosemary", the cocker spaniel, have been making their home in Connemara Hills for a little over two weeks now.

Newcomers this week are Mr. and Mrs. Milton D. West and their seven year old son Paul who moved into their new home in Connemara Hills subdivision two weeks ago.

The Wests are from Cincinnati, Ohio where Mr. West was with the Ford Motor company as editor of the employee publication. In his new position at the Lincoln plant in Wixom, he is director of employee publications.

The Wests both claim Illinois as their home state. Mrs. West is from Mokena and her husband from DeKalb. She attended the University of Colorado and was a teacher, and Mrs. West is a graduate of Northern Illinois Teacher's college.

The Wests both enjoy bowling, and Mrs. West also finds time to get in a few hours on the golf course now and then.

Besides the three members of the family, a cocker spaniel named "Rosemary" makes her home at 21800 Connemara Drive.

New Voters to be Honored

Those who will be privileged to vote for the first time this year — newly registered voters who have become 21 since last September and naturalized citizens — will be honored on Wednesday, September 21 at the Northville Community building.

This is the date set for the annual "21ers" banquet and citizenship dinner, sponsored this year by the service clubs of Northville. The banquet is a yearly undertaking of the Northville Coordinating council.

Chairman for this year's affair is Russell Clarke. Committeemen include John Canterbury, Leland Smith, Carl Johnson and George L. Clark.

New voters receive a certificate signifying the responsibility of their new status.

Those who will be eligible for the dinner — both the "21ers" and newly naturalized citizens — are invited to submit their names to Northville post office box 277.

Chairman Clarke has indicated that the speaker for the dinner will be announced soon.

Last year's banquet was sponsored by the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, when some 32 new voters attended and received certificates.

If you reside in Northville or Novi Townships or the nearby area served by The Record and Novi News, you are invited to enter the $3,500 contest. See the ad in this paper. You can't lose.

The Lowes' residence is located between Middlebelt road and Orchard Lake road on the south side of 13 Mile.

Those planning to attend are requested to phone reservations in to 1077-M.

Noted Cellist Is to Perform At Final Summer Concert

The last of three concerts in the summer outdoor music festival series sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony Society will be held next on Sunday afternoon, August 11. As with the preceding two concerts, the time is 5 o'clock and the place, Plymouth Colony Farms.

On this occasion, the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra directed by Wayne Dunlap, will present the Academic Festival Overture by Brahms; and with Mr. Olefsky, The Concerto for Cello and Strings by Vivaldi; and Tchaikowski's Variations on a Roccoco Theme.

Featured as soloist will be Paul Olefsky, first cellist of the Detroit Symphony. Mr. Olefsky has been described by critics as "... a most exceptional cellist"; "... a master of the intense style"; and "... a performer of real talent." His list of accomplishments include principal cellist positions with such symphony orchestras as the Philadelphia, Chautauqua, Robin Hood Dell, and of course, the Detroit Symphony.

Site of the concert, as before, will be Plymouth Colony Farms about three miles west of Plymouth on Joy road. The area, made available by Dr. Ralph Pino, noted eye surgeon, is easily reached and includes vast parking facilities close to the concert site. The area is sprayed before each performance, chairs are available for those who do not bring their own, and a refreshment stand is operated by members of the Plymouth Junior Symphony.

Tickets may be purchased by mail from the Plymouth Symphony Society, Box 99, Plymouth, Michigan, or they may be secured on the site at the concert.

Novi May Have Sewer System Soon

To Serve Project First; May Eventually Expand

Novi township may be nearing a solution to its pressing sewer problem.

Supervisor Frazer Staman this week outlined partial plans for a sewer system and disposal plant that may serve as the groundwork for an eventual township-wide sewer system.

At the same time, other board members agreed — though reluctantly — to assume control of the proposed system after it is developed and brought up to township specifications.

Though Staman said he could not reveal all details of the plan, inasmuch as it is being developed by a private concern, he did make this much public:

— the initial system would center around a new subdivision to be built in western Novi. Plans for the development are expected to be announced soon.

— its heart would be a sewerage disposal plant which would purify waste and deposit the run-off in a nearby stream. Some $300,000 in private capital is available for the plant.

— the system would be designed primarily for the new subdivision but could probably be expanded to serve other areas of the township.

— the plant would use the "Hayes system" — a revolutionary filtration process now in use in Texas, Ontario and other parts of the nation.

— if everything goes well, construction of both the subdivision and the sewer system could begin yet this fall.

Staman said the system would be built to serve units of 5,000 users at a time. It might have a capacity of 15,000 or 20,000 users depending on the capacity of the stream into which it empties, he added.

For this reason, Staman was skeptical of the possibility that it could be tied into by other major users — notably Willowbrook Village and the proposed Novi race track.

"This is only a temporary answer to our sewer problem," he said. "Its capacity is limited. But at least it would be the groundwork for a township-wide system that could tie into the Wayne county system."

Staman was referring to the possibility that Novi may become part of the Middle Rouge interceptor system — which would eventually do away with the disposal plant since waste would be piped directly to the Detroit river.

"Until then, we'll have to do something," he said. "And a disposal plant looks like the solution."

Staman and the concern planning the system are scheduled to present their plans next week to the state board of health — the last legal stumbling block to construction, Staman said.

The board of health also will determine the system's limit and decide whether it could serve other parts of the township.

Much of this information was revealed as the result of a strong clash between Staman and three other board members — clerk Hadley Bachert, treasurer Ray Harrison, and trustee Stan Balon — at Monday night's board meeting. Until then, the plans had not been made public.

When Staman asked the rest of the board to go on record as approving eventual township control of the sewer system — which he said is necessary before the state board of health will act — Bachert immediately asked, "Well, what is this all about?"

Staman explained the proposed plan briefly but said that, at the request of the developers, he could not go into detail.

Bachert, Balon and Harrison accused Staman of withholding township information from them and said they would not approve the proposal blindly. Staman countered by charging them with being deliberately obstinate, and insisted he could not reveal all details.

Finally, township attorney Anthony Renne clarified the matter. "You would be safe in doing this," he told the threesome. "Even if you yourselves don't know all the background, it's certain the state board of health will not approve the plan unless it is a sound one."

"All the supervisor is asking," he added, "is this: if a subdivision is built, if the sewer system meets all requirements, if it is installed, and if it pays for itself, would the township be willing to take it over?"

Staman agreed with Renne's interpretation, then asked and received the support of the other board members.

Urge Group to Act On Incorporation

Novi township's village incorporation movement was given the go-ahead by a near unanimous vote of more than 100 citizens Thursday evening at a Community building meeting (See "Speaking for the Record", page 16).

The residents heard Dr. Louis L. Friedland of Wayne State university outline corporate possibilities. By a show of hands only three opposed a motion to organize procedure towards incorporation as a charter home rule village.

A committee composed of Walter Tuck, Russell Buton, Dirk Groeninger, Keith Metcalf, Diron Traftarian and Harry Watson was empowered to start proceedings. Watson was named treasurer to collect $5.00 memberships from residents interested in belonging to a "citizens group" to help finance the incorporation program.

New Association To Study Effects Of Incorporation

Herbert Koester has turned his guns on the proposed incorporation of Novi as a village.

Koester announced the formation this week of the "Novi Township Farmers and Landowners Association" and said it will investigate the question of incorporation and its possible effects on township landowners.

He said he formed the association at the request of at least 15 Novi farmers whom he contacted during the past week.

Koester has called a public meeting of the association for August 15 in the Novi Community Building. It will begin at 8 p.m.

At that time, he said, officers will be elected and the group will begin investigating the incorporation move.

He said Walter Tuck, chairman of the incorporation committee, has been invited to the meeting to explain further details of the proposal.

"At present, we're against it," he said. "But we'll keep our minds open and, if guarantees are made, we may have a change of opinion."

"One problem," he said, "concerns the farmer who finds a subdivision going up next to him. Then people start complaining about pigs and cows under the nuisance ordinance, and he's told to clean them up. Suddenly he's out of business as a farmer."

He cited other "squeezes by developers" that will be looked into. Koester brought up similar arguments at a meeting last week at which the incorporation proposal was presented in detail.

At that time, Dr. Louis C. Friedland of Wayne State university replied that homes and developments will be built in Novi whether it is a township, village or city. Blocking incorporation will not stop expansion in Novi, he said.

Townships to Have Five New Powers

Novi township attorney Anthony Renne informed the township board Monday night of five new state laws which will go into effect in September.

They require the township to appoint a health officer and give it limited authority to construct sidewalks, trim and spray trees and shrubs, tax trailer parks, and set up an inter-municipality study committee with nearby communities.

Novi Patrolman Faces Three-Month Suspension

Novi township patrolman Vernon Loeffler faces a 90-day suspension unless he can convince three township board members that he was not engaging in political activities while on duty.

Clerk Hadley Bachert, treasurer Ray Harrison and trustee Stan Balon moved Monday night to suspend him from August 20 until November 18.

But they offered him a chance to appeal to the board at its next meeting on August 20.

The three accused him of carrying out political activities against them "while on duty, while in uniform and while using a police car."

Specifically, Balon said after the meeting, they accused him of trying to talk Novi residents into packing Monday night's meeting so as to forestall any move by Bachert, Harrison and Balon to name a replacement for former trustee Frank Clark.

Their action drew an angry retort from supervisor Frazer Staman.

"I don't know a thing about this," he said. "But whether Loeffler did what you say or not, you should have told me of this action. As supervisor, I have a right to know about any measure as drastic as this."

Staman further claimed that action was illegal.

"It's a matter for the three-man township safety board," he said. "You wouldn't find the Detroit common council trying to fire a policeman. It would be the responsibility of the police commissioner."

Though Loeffler could not be reached for comment Tuesday or Wednesday, Staman said he believes the policeman "will make a showdown of it."

In addition, Staman hinted that the action may blow Novi township politics sky-high.

Bachert claimed Loeffler had acted similarly just before the township primary election this spring. He claimed Loeffler campaigned for Staman while in uniform.

If suspended, Loeffler will be the third Novi public official acted against by the three board members since they took office in April.

Attorney Arch Leonard resigned under fire, and building inspector Cameron Lodge withdrew from office after the board had moved to fire him.

Clerk Hadley Bachert, treasurer Ray Harrison, and trustee Stan Balon have tried to require the justices to pay for services of the township receptionist and for use of the hall as a courtroom. Justice Robert Anderson has agreed to it, but Justice William MacDermaid has threatened to move the court to his home rather than pay.

Bachert moved Monday to charge the justices 10 per cent of the costs they receive, but later withdrew the motion. Harrison suggested making it 10 percent of everything they receive over $100, but no action was taken.

Supervisor Frazer Staman has consistently opposed the action on grounds that the justices do not earn enough to warrant a fee.

In other business, the board: — discussed division of township assets with Wixom attorney David Utley.

— asked for new petitions for blacktopping first street since previous petitions were incorrectly filled out.

— gave final approval of a small commercial section near Willowbrook Village for use as part of a shopping center.

— discussed ordering a township land-use map and setting up a seven man planning commission.

— heard a letter of thanks from Russell Taylor, who represented Novi at Wolverine Boy's State.

— heard representatives of fire-truck companies offer tentative terms for a new Novi fire engine.

— discussed a possible need for reducing the police budget because of a shortage of funds, and heard Renne agree with Staman that the budget cannot legally be changed inasmuch as it was approved by the public at the spring annual meeting.

— voted to ask the county for "no parking — fire route" signs near the township park.

— heard police chief Lee BeGole explain that the Novi boat patrol will definitely not make arrests on Walled Lake unless accompanied by a uniformed policeman.

— asked building inspector to arrange for a final inspection of the new Lincoln plant so as to get the large inspection fee due the township.

The lights of law and order will be burning in Novi each Thursday night.

Justice Robert Anderson began holding night court at the township hall last Thursday as a supplement to Justice William MacDermaid's day court each Thursday afternoon.

Between the two of them, they went through a docket last Thursday that ranged from disorderly conduct to assault and battery of a Novi patrolman.

During the afternoon, MacDermaid: — fined Richard Alberton, 46689 West road, $50 for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

— fined Robert Short of Detroit $125 for reckless operation of a motor boat on Walled Lake.

— fined Richard W. Hill of Detroit $125 for assault and battery of patrolman Vernon Loeffler after Loeffler had tried to arrest Short for the wild boat-driving.

During the evening, Anderson: — fined Manfred Krueger of Detroit $25 for reckless driving of his souped-up car down Grand River.

WIXOM APPOINTEES — Attorney David E. Utley and Mrs. Jesse Byrd were appointed to the Wixom official family Monday evening in the second meeting of the newly formed village council. Utley, who practices in Pontiac and was a candidate for Oakland county prosecutor last year, was named village attorney and Mrs. Byrd assumes full-time clerk duties.

Wixom Council Approves Attorney, Clerk Appointees

Wixom councilmen waded into a mounting agenda of details Monday night in a four-hour-long session that saw several pressing preliminary matters get attention.

Moving to clear the decks for pending legislation, the council named a village attorney, clerk, tentatively chose a village hall and acquired a telephone number.

Zoning and planning matters along with the proposed 8-mill limitation amendment also came in for long discussion.

A petition containing 30 names was presented the council by Charles Curtis, 1708 Wixom road. Curtis' petition objected to a proposed trailer camp at Wixom and Charns road. He told councilmen that every resident of the area was opposed to the development and that the land was not suitable for a trailer camp.

Still another structure, a gasoline station, was outlined to the council by the attorney for the owner of land on Wixom road at the proposed site of the station.

President Joseph Stadnik noted that both projects were covered by the charter which stipulates that zoning in the village was covered by existing ordinances in Commerce and Novi townships until the village adopted its own ordinances.

The proposed gas station site is presently zoned industrial which would prevent construction of a station. The matter was turned over to the village's newly appointed attorney after the gas station interest hinted that they would test the legality of the zoning.

The council was divided in its reaction to the proposed 8-mill limitation amendment. Councilmen Jesse Birchard objected to recommending an 8-mill amendment "until we have all the facts and figures concerning the assessed valuation and budget before us."

President Stadnik and Councilman Bill Abrams pointed to the pre-election action of the Civic Association for an 8-mill amendment as a "mandate to the Night Court Begins in Novi

Police said Alberton, driving a car marked "Dragon Wagon", struck Cindy Lynn Curl, 1, 595 South Lake Drive as she crossed the road. The girl suffered multiple cuts.

— fined Robert Short of Detroit $125 for reckless operation of a motor boat on Walled Lake.

— fined Richard W. Hill of Detroit $125 for assault and battery of patrolman Vernon Loeffler after Loeffler had tried to arrest Short for the wild boat-driving.

During the evening, Anderson: — fined Manfred Krueger of Detroit $25 for reckless driving of his souped-up car down Grand River.

Krueger said he was "blowing carbon" out of his motor.

— fined Detroit youths Daniel Griffin and Albert Jones $20 each after they were convicted of disorderly conduct at the township park. Police accused them of being drunk and making advances toward several young girls. The youths were ordered to stay away from Novi.

— fined Robert Kimborough $10 and ordered him to pay costs for repairing a automobile into which he smashed while making an "incorrect turn" on his way from a picnic at Walled Lake park.

Wixom Council

council". They stated that the council could save the association the trouble of circulating petitions by starting action itself. Councilwoman Lottie Chambers agreed with Stadnik and Abrams, while Walter Tuck fell in line with Birchard. The latter pointed out that the council should be sure of its recommendations and that "possibly we don't need an 8 mill limitation".

The matter was tabled after Herbert Abrams, chairman of the Civic association committee to circulate the petition, agreed to give the council time for study.

In other business the council named David E. Utley of Pontiac as village attorney and Mrs. Jesse Byrd of Wixom as clerk. Utley is married and has four children. He has practiced law since 1930 and was a candidate for Oakland county prosecutor last year. Mrs. Byrd has lived in Wixom since 1930 and is secretary of the Eastern Star of Walled Lake and past matron of the organization. She is married and has three children and seven grandchildren.

Before adjourning the council agreed to rent the Abrams' building at 131 Wixom road for a village hall. The offices would include the house, but not the present real estate office. Remodeling plans will be discussed before reaching a lease agreement.

While the council will continue to meet weekly temporarily, official meeting nights will be the second and fourth Mondays. Phone number for the village hall will be Market 4-3091.

Readers Speak Up:

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT

To the Editor:

The following is an open letter from the Northville branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom to President Eisenhower which may be of interest to readers of The Northville Record and Novi News.

Dear Mr. President:

Remembering the devastation of the first atomic bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki at the close of World War II, we wish to thank you for your efforts to ban nuclear tests and to outlaw atomic war.

The world, increasingly aware of the dangers of these tests, looks to you to lead the nations in plans for immediate cessation of nuclear tests.

The risk, if it be a risk, we believe to be on the side of life and of all humanity.

The Northville Branch of the U.S. Section of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Copies of the U.S. Section's statement on nuclear tests will be sent on request. Write to WILPF, 2006 Walnut Street, Philadelphia 3, Pa.

KILLING OF DOG WAS 'HEARTLESS'

To the editor:

To the person driving the green 1953, '54 or '55 Ford on Sheldon road between Six Mile and Northville at approximately 11:30 a.m. Sunday, August 4, that hit the collie dog and left it bleeding on the road: Did you sleep well Sunday night?

You could not avoid the dog as he ran in front of the car. However, had you not been driving so fast you could have slowed up sooner. I did not blame you for not slamming on your brakes and running the risk of having the Oldsmobile following you hit you from behind. However, you sped away so no one could get your license (unless the people in the Olds did.)

Had you had the decency to stop

as I did, you would have discovered the following things: the dog had only been bought that morning for a little girl; it had had an operation on its eyes, so was temporarily blind. The poor dog did not even know where it was — let alone who hit it — and you did hit it with quite a bang didn't you?

We drove back to get the man who was trying to catch the dog, pulled the dog off the road so no one else could hit it, then took the man to Northville to get his car.

If you had stopped, it would have been so much easier wouldn't it?

Perhaps you would be pleased to know that the dog died — not from the terribly lacerated tongue and the broken leg, but from shock — thus emphasizing the fact that a little help to get quicker treatment might have saved the dog's life.

I ask you again — did you sleep well Sunday night?

Because I do not know where you live, I am sending copies of this letter to the Detroit News as well as the Northville and Plymouth papers. I hope you will realize what a heartless thing you did.

Sincerely,
Mrs. L. E. Hilts

PRAISES WORK OF NOVI POLICE

As long time residents of the Lake area of Novi township, a vote of thanks is given to the Novi police department, Chief BeGole and his men Loeffler, Nobel and Young, for their efficient handling of accidents and cases of violations.

This department, inaugurated under Supervisor Frazer Staman, has done a highly commendable job of cleaning up this area and returning it to an area of livability for all of us on the shores of Walled Lake, giving notice to the lawless element that this area can no longer be considered as the "wide open spaces" for their action.

(Signed)
Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Crawford

City's Second Largest Industry Now a Charred Hull

SYMBOL OF THE FIRE'S DESTRUCTIVENESS was this ugly black cloud which bloated up from the doomed factory. Smoke hung heavily over the city for hours and was visible as far away as Farmington. At times, the flames leaped nearly as high as the smoke, scorching overhanging trees and endangering nearby homes.

COLLAPSED METAL WALL shows the intensity of the flame in the rear of the plant. Though the rest of the building remained standing, the interior was thoroughly gutted. Even heavy equipment was charred by the flames. Several explosions also rocked the interior.

OVERCOME — Firemen Lee Owens, of the Plymouth fire department, catches a breath of fresh air after getting too much smoke while fighting the blaze. At least two other firemen were overcome. Four trucks and some 40 firemen from the Northville, Novi and Plymouth departments answered the alarm.

CRASHOUT — A fireman smashes office windows at the plant to relieve pressure inside and provide a draft to help control the flames.

later and again that evening to fight a fresh outbreak in the office rafters. Northville fire fighters and plant employees watched for new flare-ups throughout the night.

Clean-up operations went on far into the night, as plant officials tried to estimate the extent of damage.

Roberts said he will meet with Allied Products officials to discuss the plant's future. The building is completely useless now, he said, and would have to be entirely rebuilt if operations are to continue.

Until a new plant is built — if ever — its 60-65 employees will be out of work, Roberts said. Many of them will help clean up the debris, however, he added.

The plant which was established in 1945 and came under Allied Products in 1951, produced gears and other small parts, primarily for automobiles. Its equipment included massive presses and hulking furnaces which heated up to more than 2,000 degrees.

Roberts said there have been small fires at the plant in the past. But they usually occurred, he said, in heat-treat furnaces during quenching operations — a fairly routine and easily controlled type of fire.

THE NARROW TRUTH

Truth must have dimensions in order to remain truth. For example, if I were to describe the typewriter before me and be truthful, I would have to remain within bounds. I could say that it has 52 keys and 2 space bars. I could say that it is a Remington and that it is made up of metal, plastic and rubber. I would be at liberty to say a number of different things about this typewriter and still be truthful. But the moment I step beyond those bounds, I become a liar and am not telling the truth.

Jesus said plainly in John 17:17 "Thy Word is truth." In other words the Divine Revelation is the yardstick of all truth in the catalog of things which it covers. It contains the true historical record of creation, of the Jewish people and Gentile nations which are mentioned. It tells the truth about the heavens above. What it says about life after death is also true. Now there are a number of different things that we are at liberty to state and still be true because we have stayed within the bounds of truth dimensions found in the Bible. However, when we contradict the facts of the Bible, that moment we are outside of the dimensions of truth.

Here Comes the Building Boom

The Northville Record

THE OLDEST WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY — EST. 1868 Thursday, August 8, 1957—9

TWICE AS LARGE — Paragon Construction company, one of Novi's leading industries and the state's third largest producer of structural steel, is doubling its plant area with this new 69,000 square foot addition. It's the third time since 1951 that Paragon has expanded. The addition will front on the new expressway.

NEW HOMES IN NOVI — Some 225 homes eventually will be built at Echo Valley Estates in Novi. The development opened last week for the sale of lots. Meanwhile, earthmovers and other heavy equipment are still going to work on the project, located on 10 Mile near Beck road.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP'S first full-scale subdivision will be built on the rolling land near Bradner and Franklin roads. It will bring with it the first sewer line in the township — an 1,800-foot main extending from the Middle Rouge Interceptor. Some 370 homes will be built.

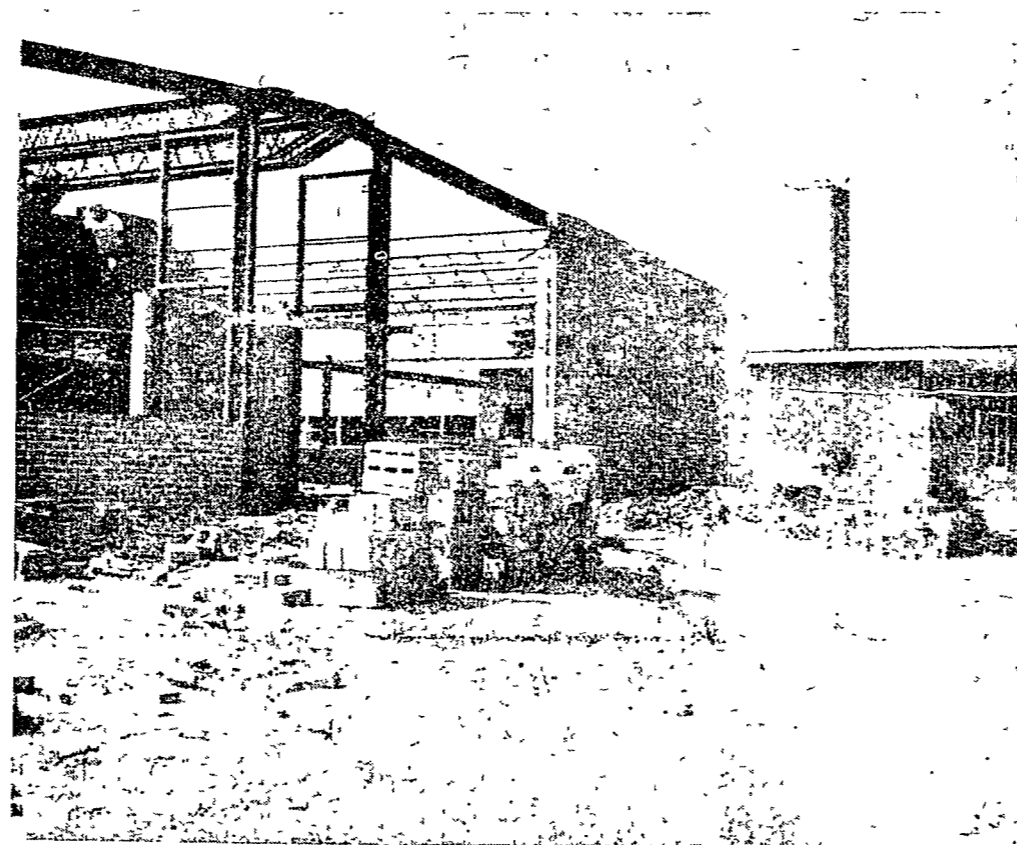

Throughout the 70-odd miles that comprise the Northville- Novi-Wixom area, new homes are rising, steel girders are making geometrical patterns against the sky, and new roads are being slashed through fields and woods.

The long-anticipated building boom in the area is at last beginning to pick up steam. It's not here yet. But from the sounds of the bulldozers and the sight of the construction sheds, it's easy to see that it's not far off.

Novi has shown it the most. Its half-dozen subdivisions are growing steadily, and a new one opened last week. One of its leading industries — Paragon Construction — is almost doubling its plant. A new super-highway is nearly ready to open. A haulaway plant is going up out Grand River. In all, Novi has had $1,585,642 worth of construction in the last four months.

In and near Northville, it's the same story. Michigan Bell has started a new dial exchange building. The new D and R subdivision got underway. An addition to Amerman school is going up. Two other subdivisions of fine homes are filling up. Northville had $345,000 worth of permits in July alone.

Northville township is getting its first full-scale subdivision — with its first sewers to boot. Elsewhere, the new St. Mary's home for retarded girls is almost completed.

MORE CLASSROOMS FOR NORTHVILLE — Up go the walls on the new Amerman school addition which, upon completion, will provide facilities for some 400 students. The $191,000 addition is part of a building program that includes a new high school and remodeling of the present high school for a junior high. Novi's Willowbrook school will get underway soon.

The Area-Wide Picture

Though new buildings are going up on every hand in Northville and in the townships of Novi and Northville, the three communities still are not experiencing the home building boom being felt elsewhere in the Detroit area.

Figures compiled by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Planning Commission show that the Northville- Novi area has been well down the list in numbers of new homes constructed in the first half of 1957.

Northville — with only five new homes in that period — ranked 42nd of 46 communities in Wayne county. Northville township, with 15, was tied for 35th.

In Novi, the picture was somewhat brighter. The township issued 40 permits for new homes during the first six months, and ranked 18th among the 56 communities surveyed.

All this is expected to change soon, however. Developments are scheduled to get underway soon in all three communities — including perhaps as many as 200 homes in the next six months.

derway soon in all three communities — including perhaps as many as 200 homes in the next six months.

Detroit itself led the entire area with 1,358 permits. Otherwise, Dearborn township led Wayne county with 936 and Royal Oak paced Oakland county with 760.

Other leaders were Nankin township (787), Warren (698), Livonia (673), Madison Heights (516), and Bloomfield township (357).

Elsewhere in the Northville- Novi area, Walled Lake had 17, Plymouth accounted for 34, Plymouth township totalled 100, Farmington had 28, Farmington township showed 210, and South Lyon had 7.

Building in the entire Detroit area has dropped off by nearly 30 percent in the past year. Total permits for the area was 8,837 for the first six months last year, and only 6,218 in the same period this year.

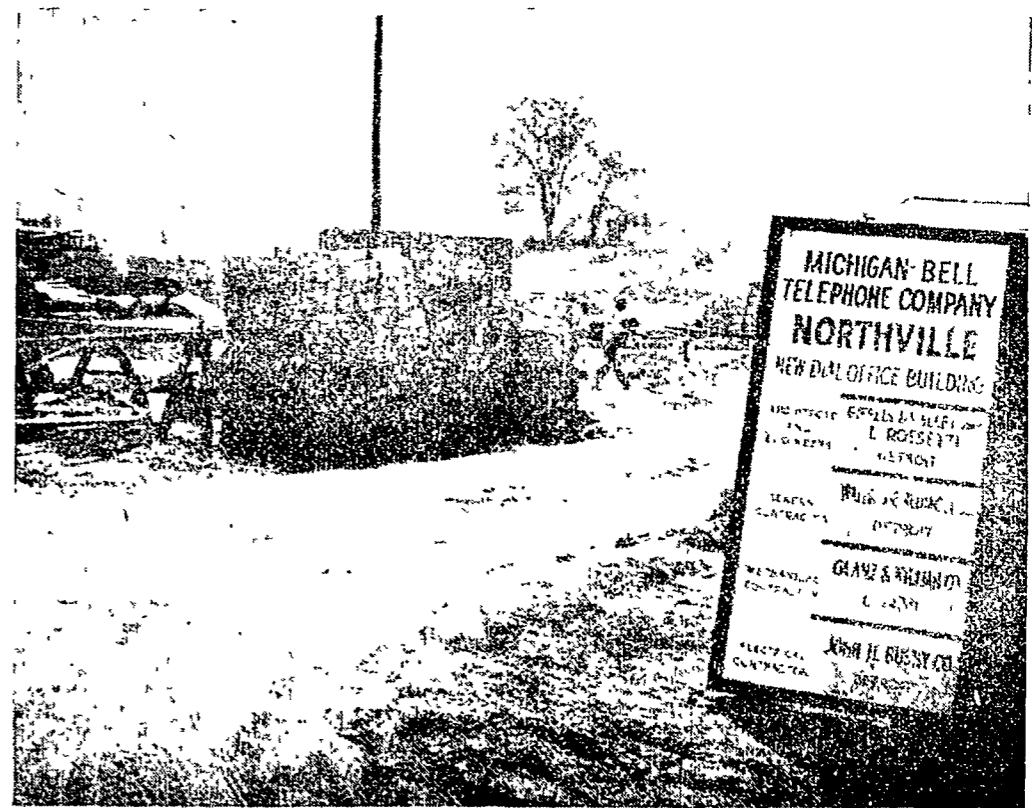

A SECOND HAULWAY FIRM to serve the new Lincoln plant is going up in Novi. It is the E and L Transport company, now being built southwest of Grand River and Wixom road. Here subcontractors Robert Skalski (left) and Fred Thayer go over construction details. The haulways will carry Lincolns to points all over the nation.

NEW SUBDIVISION NEAR NORTHVILLE — Homes will start to rise on this site within 60 days as the long-awaited 250-home D and R development gets underway near Baseline and Novi roads. Talking over details of the construction this week were construction foreman (left to right) Don Martin, developer Richard Benicke, contractor Russell Button and city manager John Robertson.

HAULWAYS FOR NEW LINCOLNS will operate from this structure on Wixom road. The 25,600 square foot headquarters of the Automobile Transport company includes offices, driver quarters, and truck and trailer garages. It will open in about two months — just in time for the '58 models. In the distance is the Lincoln plant.

DIAL PHONES FOR NORTHVILLE AND NOVI will be possible after completion next year of Michigan Bell's dial exchange building on Center street between Baseline and Nine Mile roads. The building will replace a temporary exchange — installed in a van near the Novi township hall — that will soon begin serving dial phones in Novi.

Steelers, Sluggers to Battle For Little League Crown

The Paragon Steelers and the Fiberglas Sluggers will meet Monday night in a game that will probably determine the championship of the Novi Little League.

With the Little League's first season due to end next Friday, Paragon has a slim one-game lead over the Sluggers.

A win by Paragon would very likely give the Steelers the title. But if Fiberglas wins, the two teams would probably tie for the championship.

Both teams should win their other remaining games, if they run true to form.

Paragon took another stride toward the title during the past week by chalking up two more wins. Fiberglas kept pace by winning its single contest.

Paragon won its first against Young Door in a close 6-3 tilt. Pitcher Jim Mazel was tight in the clutches and got good support from Jeff Crawford and Jack Carter, who batted out three hits apiece.

The Steelers picked up their second victory by dropping National Bank, 17-7. Carter again paced the Steelers, as John Walters got credit for the win. It was National Bank's

26 Turtles Win Prizes in Race

Some 26 youngsters from Northville and Novi shared in the winnings during the 1937 running of the Northville recreation department's annual turtle sweepstakes last week.

The races, co-sponsored by the recreation department and The Northville Record-Now News, drew nearly 50 applicants.

Each first, second and third place winner received a cash prize for his or her turtle's efforts.

The winners:
First race: Dennis Cook ("Spin"), Tommy Ling ("Oscar"), Pat Modos ("Sarge").

Second race: Donald St. Clair ("Henry"), Robert Burton ("Corporal"), Jackie Phillips ("Rowdy").

Third race: Mike Turnbull ("Pinky"), Elaine Manzel ("Cedar Lake"), Sharon Hlohinec ("White Tip").

Fourth race: David Cook ("Sailor"), Susan Conley ("Muddy"), Ricky Ambler ("Freddy").

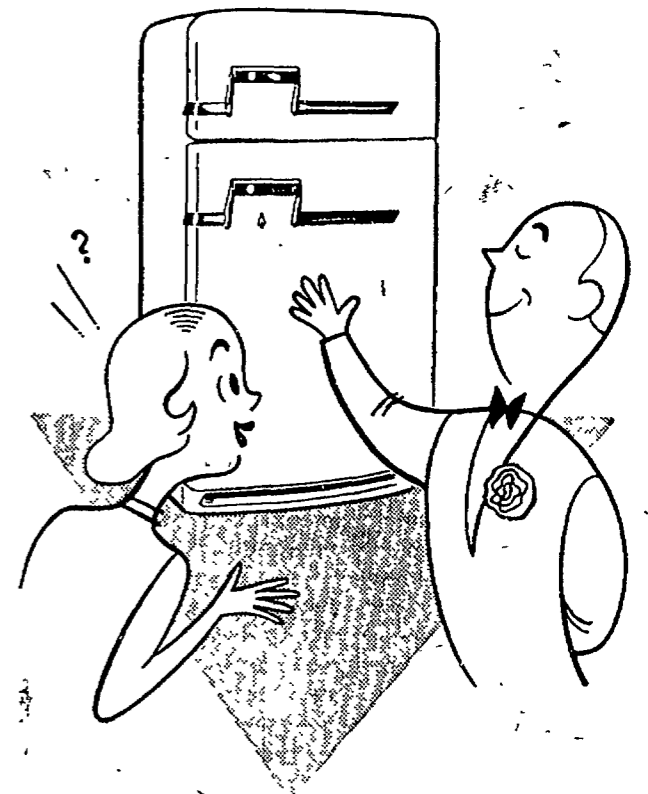

Fifth race: John Hinman ("Scorpion"), Elaine Manzel ("Little Indian"), William Van Ee ("Thunderbolt").

Sixth race: David Wright ("George"), Mike Conley ("Jack") and Larry Horton ("Elmer").

Largest turtle: Tommy Ling ("Oscar"), and Pat Modos ("Sarge").

Smallest turtle: Joanne Kenney ("Trouble"), Elaine Manzel ("Sip") and Robert Burton ("Slowpoke").

Best dressed turtle: Elaine Manzel ("Cedar Lake") — lawn chair and baby turtles on back, Ricky Ambler ("Freddy") — clay turtle on back, Diane Ambler ("Marie") — doll on back.

Novi Earns a Pat on Back For Little League Success

Each week this summer, nearly 100 Novi youngsters have taken to the baseballs, pitcher's mound and batter's box on a well-kept diamond behind Novi school.

Dressed in uniforms complete from initiated caps to distinctively striped socks, they play regulation games with trained umpires calling the decisions and experienced managers coaching them in the game's fine points.

This is the Novi Little League — a vivid example of what a community can do for its youth once it puts its collective heads together. The Novi Little League is part of an international program — a program so successful that tens of thousands of youngsters now compete under it, and so highly-regarded that the U.S. armed forces have set up Little Leagues for American dependants in Germany, France and Japan.

In Novi, the program is nearing the end of its first year. And from the looks of things, it will be around for quite a few years to come. From its beginning until the present, it's been a grand-slam success.

The league is organized into four teams, each with 15 players — a small enough number that every boy can play regularly. Each team plays a full schedule of 18 games, extending from late May until mid-August. Games are played in the evening, so that mothers and fathers can watch their boys strike out the opposition or slam a base hit.

When Novi league officials first issued a call for tryouts, they aimed for four teams. To their surprise, some 90 boys signed up, and they were forced to form two more teams — "minor league" squads — to accommodate the turnout.

A Little League in Novi had been discussed for several years, but like so many things, it never seemed to get past the talking stage. Finally, in March, a group of Novi men headed by William Hansor, Jr. began looking into the program in earnest.

Hansor met with national Little League officials, worked out the administrative details, and eventually arranged for a charter.

In the meantime, other men were working on other problems. Vice-president Charles Trickey, Jr., secretary Ken Rippey, and treasurer Hansor (his other job in the league) struggled with finances and organizational problems. Roy Granzow took over the diamond, bringing it up to playing shape. Duane Branch lined up equipment. William Hansor, Sr., made ready to keep score for the three games a week.

Some 12 men were lined up to umpire the games: Les Ward, Jack Crawford, John Crawford, the MacDermaids — Jim, Ed and Sam — Cleo Strader, Edwin Steinburger, Herb Dryer, Tom Arnold, Ken Bassett and Granzow.

Then came the job of organizing the teams themselves. Four Novi firms offered to sponsor teams and pay expenses for uniforms and equipment. From this agreement evolved the Fiberglass Sluggers, the Paragon Steelers, the National Bank Bandits, and the Young Door Tigers.

Next, league officials began organizing the teams themselves. Four managers were named: Len Berardi for Paragon, Roy Hallock for Fiberglass, Earl Burchfield for Young Door, and Phil Simenton for National Bank. Trickey and Jack Speer were selected to manage the minor league squads.

In the meantime, there was a need for still more funds — for first-

Northville recreation baseball entered the stretch drive toward playoff berths this week as two dazzling no-hitters were hurled by Danny Brown and Mike Zayti of the Northville Braves.

The Braves and two other Northville teams — the Class E and Class F squads — appear to have good chances to represent their leagues in district recreation playoffs.

If they win there they will go on to the state recreation championships.

The standings and results as of Monday:

Midget American
Livonia Indians	13 2
Rosedale Tigers	9 5
NORTHVILLE ORIOLES	8 7
Jefferson Yanks	4 10
Garfield Athletics	2 12
Clarenceville White Sox	0 14

Midget National
NORTHVILLE BRAVES	12 1
Rosedale Dodgers	9 4
Wilcox Redlegs	8 5
Jefferson Giants	7 6
Pierion Cubs	6 7
WCIS Phillies	4 9

The Braves were to play the Wilcox Redlegs Tuesday (see front page). A victory would allow them to represent the American and National leagues in the state recreation tourney. A loss would force a playoff game with the Livonia Indians, American League champs, for the tournament spot.

The Braves were assured of first place in their league when Brown and Zayti hurled their masterful no-hitters. Brown tossed his — the second in a row for the young pitcher — in a 13-0 rout of Garfield. Zayti came through with his hitless effort in an equally-overwhelming defeat of Clarenceville, 14-0.

Zayti and Brown both starred at the plate as well as on the mound. Both drilled out two hits in the Clarenceville game, with both of Zayti's going for triples.

The Northville Orioles ended their season with a solid hold on third place in the American League. They defeated Pierion, 17-5 last week and then dropped two in a row — to Rosedale (3-2) and Jefferson (18-4).

Class E
NORTHVILLE	7 0
Rosedale	5 3
American Legion	4 2
Plymouth	4 3
Police	2 4
Ford Civic	2 4
Squires	0 7

Northville was an odds-on favorite to represent the league in the district Class E tournament. Only a complete collapse in the team's last two games could keep them out.

Northville took its seventh straight without a loss last week on Joe Kritch's four-hit 6-2 win over Rosedale. Earlier, Northville tied 1-1 with Plymouth before the game was called after eight innings.

Class F
Livonia Center No. 2	9 0
NORTHVILLE	7 1
Police	6 2
Fisher's	6 3
Clarenceville	6 4
Livonia Center No. 1	2 5
WCIS	1 7
Garfield	1 8
Plymouth	0 8

Northville still has a chance to take the title from Livonia. The teams will meet twice before the season ends, and wins by Northville would give them the crown.

The Class F squad took two last week, dropping Garfield 9-5 on Butch Willing's two hitter and Steve Juday's three-run homer in the second, and belting Plymouth, 21-7, as Northville racked up 16 hits and pushed across nine runs in the fourth inning.

Water Carnival Ends Program

The 1957 Northville recreation program will close next week with the traditional fun-filled water carnival at Whitmore lake.

The day-long spectacular — designed for children of all ages — will be held next Friday (August 16) at Groomer's Beach, where the recreation staff has sponsored swimming parties throughout the summer.

Buses will leave the Northville Community building at 9:15 a.m. and will return at 4 p.m.

Recreation director Stan Johnston said the carnival will include wading races, swimming races, canoe racing, canoe boxing, and a host of other water activities for all age groups.

A full schedule of events will be announced next week.

Most other activities in the recreation program will end after next Wednesday. This will be the last day for the Ford Field day camp and for headquarters operations at the Scout hall.

Calling All Women Bowlers

An organizational meeting for the Thursday night women's bowling league will be held August 22 at Angie's Northville Lanes at 7:30 p.m.

Those interested in joining the group, which will meet every Thursday at 7 p.m., are asked to attend.

First and Third Tuesday of Each Month

The Detroit Zoo trip, originally scheduled for today (August 8) has been cancelled because of a conflict with the Detroit Tiger game.

Upwards of 100 Northville boys and nine of their fathers will make the trip to Briggs stadium this afternoon to see the Tigers battle the Cleveland Indians for possession of a first division spot.

The zoo trip will not be rescheduled.

The annual pet and doll parade was held Tuesday evening, with several score Northville and Novi youngsters taking part.

Prizes were awarded in a number of categories, ranging from the fluffiest cat to the best decorated bicycle.

A complete list of prize-winners will be published next week.

Nearly 100 youngsters — including a host of Northville Junior Policemen — attended the Detroit Police Field Day last Saturday.

The popular show was even more spectacular than usual. A pack of dogs broke loose during their act and went after what was supposed to be a tame, trained bear.

By the time the melee ended, several dog handlers had been bitten, the bear was a nervous wreck, and the dogs were scheduled for two weeks of quarantine while rabies tests were conducted on them.

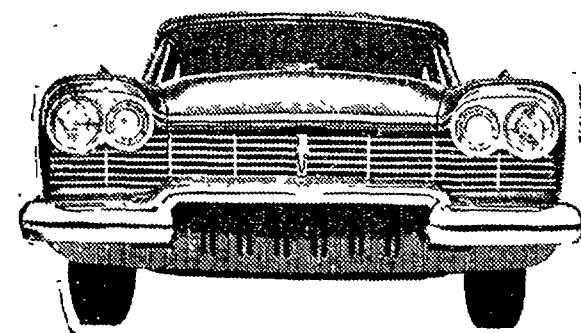

It all happened right in front of the Northville delegation.

GNATS AND CAMELS

The fearless Christ in denouncing the domination of the Pharisees of His day for their inconsistencies said, "Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat and swallow the camel." The Pharisees had been very careful to pay their tithes out of the incidental herbs of the garden but had been careless about the more important matters of rendering righteous judgment, showing mercy and the exercise of true faith. They were guilty of great inconsistencies.

There are a number of ways that this proverb can be applied. We shall consider but one. Any person who makes the question of time more important than the question of eternity is guilty of straining the gnat and swallowing the camel. The Lord sketched one such character in Luke 12. He told of a successful farmer who had the good fortune to have a bumper crop. He didn't have room enough in his barns to store all of his increase. So he said to himself, "This will I do; I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and goods. And I will say to my soul, 'Soul thou hast much good laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink and be merry.' Then we read that God said to him, "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?" He had made more than adequate provisions for this life but neglected the most important, the salvation of his soul. He had strained out the gnat and swallowed the camel.

Several years ago while visiting in my home town, a man getting along in years stopped me as I was coming out of the Post Office. He called me by my first name and said he would like to ask a favor of me. I replied that I would be happy to favor him if I could. Then he told me that he wanted me to preach his funeral sermon when he died. I felt honored that he should make such a request but since there was more involved than that I said, "Well . . . I appreciate your invitation, but tell me what will I be able to say? How is it between you and the Lord?" He hung his head when he replied, "I'm afraid not so good." I endeavored to deal with him there but appeared to be no more interested than former years. Then I said, "You have the most important thing! You want me to preach your funeral sermon because you have confidence in me that I tell the truth, and yet you haven't taken the way of truth." I reminded him further that anything I might say over his casket would not change the eternal destiny of his soul. He too had strained out the gnat and swallowed the camel.

Come now, confession is good for the soul, how many of you that are reading this column are making the same mistake? The mistake of providing for the body while neglecting the soul? Making the question of riches down here greater than the laying of treasures up in heaven? The question of, How shall I pay my debts to man, greater than the question of, How shall I pay my obligation to God?

Yes, let's strain out the gnat, but let's stop swallowing the camel, too.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. No salaried employees of these newspapers or their immediate families or families of firms furnishing prizes are eligible to enter this contest. This does not apply to correspondents.

2. Any reputable person over 18 years of age residing in Northwestern Wayne County or nearby in Townships or Towns or Villages in Oakland or Washtenaw Counties, is eligible to enter and compete for the prizes.

3. Contestants are not confined to their township or community in which to secure subscriptions, but may take orders anywhere in Wayne, Oakland or Washtenaw Counties or the United States.

4. Vote credits issued for subscriptions will be in accordance with the schedule published in this issue, including the first week cash and vote coupon, which will become a first period coupon minus extra cash, 1 week after a contestant makes his or her first cash report. This coupon will decrease in value 25,000 votes every week, starting one week prior to the close of the first period. Right is reserved to issue extra votes not to exceed the value of 10 each of these coupons, also on extended subscriptions.

5. Votes are not transferable. One contestant cannot withdraw in favor of another contestant or give subscriptions to another contestant. Contestants violating this rule are subject to disqualification.

6. Any collusion on the part of contestants to nullify competition or any other combination formed to the detriment of these newspapers or contestants is forbidden. Contestants taking part in such combination are subject to disqualification at the discretion of the management.

7. All votes issued to contestants may be held in reserve and be published at the discretion of these newspapers. Published standings will show only enough votes to show the leaders for the prizes.

8. The winners of the prizes will be decided by their earned vote credits, said credits represented by votes issued for cash subscription collections, extra votes for turning them in at certain intervals, and the free coupons clipped from these newspapers.

9. Contestants in this contest are authorized representatives of these newspapers but it is understood and agreed that they will be held responsible for all money collected and will remit such amounts in full on regular report days to the Contest Department. Right is reserved to take reports daily after first period.

10. No statement or promise made by any representative varying from the rules and statements appearing in these newspapers will be recognized by the publisher. In case of typographical or other error in a rule or statement, it is understood that neither the contest manager nor the publisher shall be held responsible except to make necessary corrections upon discovery of same.

11. To insure absolute fairness in awarding the prizes, the contest will be brought to a close under a sealed ballot box, in which the final returns will be placed and opened by a board of three impartial judges at a given hour. By doing this, no one — not even the contest manager, can possibly know who the prize winners will be. This precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures absolute fairness in awarding the prizes. The decision of the judges shall be final. Subscription sales are also final.

12. In event of a tie for any of the prizes, a prize identical in value will be given each tying contestant.

13. ALL CONTESTANTS will be paid $3.00 for each "club" during the first week of activity. Active contestants who do not win prizes will be paid 10 percent (10%) cash commissions on the amount of cash collected for subscriptions, after first week. It is distinctly understood, however, that in event any contestant becomes INACTIVE, failing to make weekly cash report, he or she will at the discretion of the management, become disqualified and forfeit all right to a prize or commission.

14. These newspapers guarantee fair and impartial treatment of all contestants, but should any question arise the decision of the management will be final.

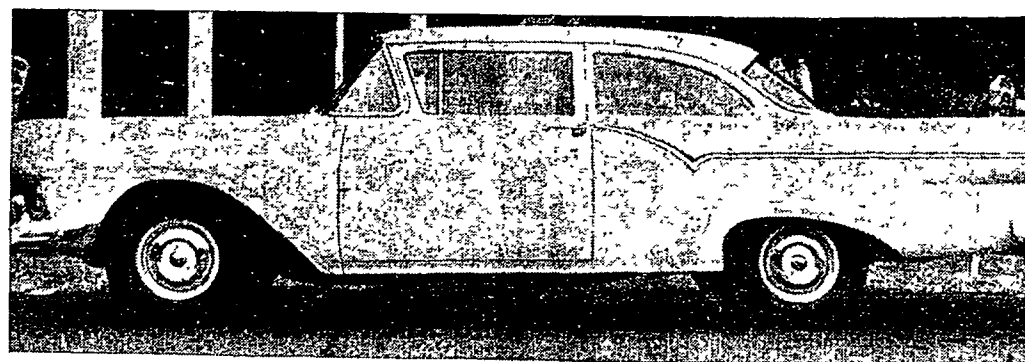

15. In becoming a contestant, each person agrees to abide by the above rules and conditions.

16. This contest officially opens with the first published list of contestants, and continues until September 21, 1957.

GNATS AND CAMELS

The fearless Christ in denouncing the domination of the Pharisees of His day for their inconsistencies said, "Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat and swallow the camel." The Pharisees had been very careful to pay their tithes out of the incidental herbs of the garden but had been careless about the more important matters of rendering righteous judgment, showing mercy and the exercise of true faith. They were guilty of great inconsistencies.

There are a number of ways that this proverb can be applied. We shall consider but one. Any person who makes the question of time more important than the question of eternity is guilty of straining the gnat and swallowing the camel. The Lord sketched one such character in Luke 12. He told of a successful farmer who had the good fortune to have a bumper crop. He didn't have room enough in his barns to store all of his increase. So he said to himself, "This will I do; I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and goods. And I will say to my soul, 'Soul thou hast much good laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink and be merry.' Then we read that God said to him, "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?" He had made more than adequate provisions for this life but neglected the most important, the salvation of his soul. He had strained out the gnat and swallowed the camel.

Several years ago while visiting in my home town, a man getting along in years stopped me as I was coming out of the Post Office. He called me by my first name and said he would like to ask a favor of me. I replied that I would be happy to favor him if I could. Then he told me that he wanted me to preach his funeral sermon when he died. I felt honored that he should make such a request but since there was more involved than that I said, "Well . . . I appreciate your invitation, but tell me what will I be able to say? How is it between you and the Lord?" He hung his head when he replied, "I'm afraid not so good." I endeavored to deal with him there but appeared to be no more interested than former years. Then I said, "You have the most important thing! You want me to preach your funeral sermon because you have confidence in me that I tell the truth, and yet you haven't taken the way of truth." I reminded him further that anything I might say over his casket would not change the eternal destiny of his soul. He too had strained out the gnat and swallowed the camel.

Come now, confession is good for the soul, how many of you that are reading this column are making the same mistake? The mistake of providing for the body while neglecting the soul? Making the question of riches down here greater than the laying of treasures up in heaven? The question of, How shall I pay my debts to man, greater than the question of, How shall I pay my obligation to God?

Yes, let's strain out the gnat, but let's stop swallowing the camel, too.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO . . .

Northville's voters approved by a 369 to 52 margin the annexation of an 82-acre Novi tract of land to the city of Northville.

Three walls of the Farm Crest Farms home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haas collapsed as the second floor was completely destroyed by fire.

FIVE YEARS AGO . . .

Northville township electors smashed all previous voting records by casting 1,397 ballots at the two voting places in the village.
Further action toward incorporation of Northville as a city were delayed until attorney general Frank Millard ruled on procedure to be followed by a village located in two communities.

Carl G. Denton of Northville, general superintendent of baking for Farm Crest Bakeries, was featured in the magazine, "Baker's Review", monthly publication of the baking industry.

TEN YEARS AGO . . .

There were no cases of tuberculosis shown in Northville by the 741 X-rays taken by a mobile unit. Following the first million dollar pari-mutuel week of the season at Northville Downs, it was obvious that the half-mile track was on its way to its greatest racing season.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO . . .

Three afternoons at the Northville county fair were given over to harness races, bringing to the track past favorites.

A sugar rationing center for residents of Salem township who could not get to Ann Arbor conveniently was set up in the home of Mrs. George Henning on Seven Mile road.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO . . .

Prince Louis Ferdinand and Prince Frederick of Germany, sons of Crown Prince William and grandsons of Kaiser Wilhelm, came to Northville to inspect the Ford plant and to call upon Frederick Hoffman, who some years ago had trained the horses of the Emperor's stables.

Robert C. Yerkes was a Republican candidate for Congress, 17th district, in the primary election.

FORTY YEARS AGO . . .

The Loan and Building association held its annual meeting, electing the following officers: J. A. Dubau, president; Spencer Clark, vice-president; I. E. VanAtta, secretary; F. S. Neal, B. A. Wheeler, S. E. Cranson, Peter Barley, J. W. Perkins, L. D. Stage and G. H. Baker, directors.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. No salaried employees of these newspapers or their immediate families or families of firms furnishing prizes are eligible to enter this contest. This does not apply to correspondents.

2. Any reputable person over 18 years of age residing in Northwestern Wayne County or nearby in Townships or Towns or Villages in Oakland or Washtenaw Counties, is eligible to enter and compete for the prizes.

3. Contestants are not confined to their township or community in which to secure subscriptions, but may take orders anywhere in Wayne, Oakland or Washtenaw Counties or the United States.

4. Vote credits issued for subscriptions will be in accordance with the schedule published in this issue, including the first week cash and vote coupon, which will become a first period coupon minus extra cash, 1 week after a contestant makes his or her first cash report. This coupon will decrease in value 25,000 votes every week, starting one week prior to the close of the first period. Right is reserved to issue extra votes not to exceed the value of 10 each of these coupons, also on extended subscriptions.

5. Votes are not transferable. One contestant cannot withdraw in favor of another contestant or give subscriptions to another contestant. Contestants violating this rule are subject to disqualification.

6. Any collusion on the part of contestants to nullify competition or any other combination formed to the detriment of these newspapers or contestants is forbidden. Contestants taking part in such combination are subject to disqualification at the discretion of the management.

7. All votes issued to contestants may be held in reserve and be published at the discretion of these newspapers. Published standings will show only enough votes to show the leaders for the prizes.

8. The winners of the prizes will be decided by their earned vote credits, said credits represented by votes issued for cash subscription collections, extra votes for turning them in at certain intervals, and the free coupons clipped from these newspapers.

9. Contestants in this contest are authorized representatives of these newspapers but it is understood and agreed that they will be held responsible for all money collected and will remit such amounts in full on regular report days to the Contest Department. Right is reserved to take reports daily after first period.

10. No statement or promise made by any representative varying from the rules and statements appearing in these newspapers will be recognized by the publisher. In case of typographical or other error in a rule or statement, it is understood that neither the contest manager nor the publisher shall be held responsible except to make necessary corrections upon discovery of same.

11. To insure absolute fairness in awarding the prizes, the contest will be brought to a close under a sealed ballot box, in which the final returns will be placed and opened by a board of three impartial judges at a given hour. By doing this, no one — not even the contest manager, can possibly know who the prize winners will be. This precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures absolute fairness in awarding the prizes. The decision of the judges shall be final. Subscription sales are also final.

12. In event of a tie for any of the prizes, a prize identical in value will be given each tying contestant.

13. ALL CONTESTANTS will be paid $3.00 for each "club" during the first week of activity. Active contestants who do not win prizes will be paid 10 percent (10%) cash commissions on the amount of cash collected for subscriptions, after first week. It is distinctly understood, however, that in event any contestant becomes INACTIVE, failing to make weekly cash report, he or she will at the discretion of the management, become disqualified and forfeit all right to a prize or commission.

14. These newspapers guarantee fair and impartial treatment of all contestants, but should any question arise the decision of the management will be final.

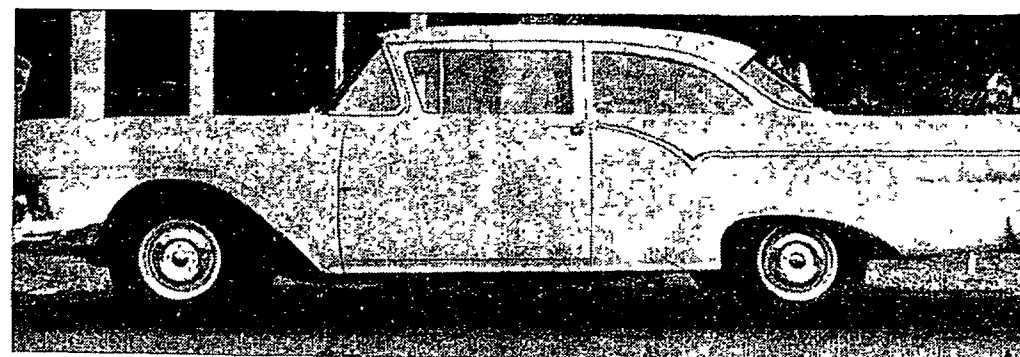

15. In becoming a contestant, each person agrees to abide by the above rules and conditions.

16. This contest officially opens with the first published list of contestants, and continues until September 21, 1957.

Contestants Seek $3500 Contest Votes

The list of men and women who have entered as contestants in the $3,500 Subscription Contest appears in this newspaper. (See page one). As the contest is just getting started, it is too early to determine who will be the real contenders for the array of prizes to be awarded for securing the largest vote.

The list published today does not contain active participants from all communities in the Northville-Novl areas, but it should. People who have thought about entering should not hesitate because someone else is already entered. Chances are ten to one that the majority of the ones listed as contestants today will not get started or be in the race at the finish.

Contestants who have already started may have seen all of their friends and relatives and think that there is not anyone else left to give subscriptions. Many of them will lack the determination to fight it through to the finish.

Come to The Record office today and enter — before it is too late. See a few of your own friends and you will be on even terms with the people who are now entered as contestants.

New entries will be accepted for the coming week to make sure that there will be enough active participants at the finish to take the prizes offered. More than two-thirds of the people who enter a contest of this kind lack the courage and the confidence in their own ability to start and battle it through to the finish. Most entrants become discouraged after the first flash of enthusiasm wears off or is brushed off by some idle talk or rumor that gets into circulation.

The men and women now entered are either known or will make themselves known through their own efforts. Those who do some campaigning will find that they have many friends who will support them. Those that do not have the courage, self-confidence, ambition and energy to start campaigning will soon fall-out of the race.

Within the next week, the people will know who has it within them to participate in a fair competition where courage, self-confidence, ambition, energy and ability determines the winners, and will back them with their votes and subscriptions.

Enjoy Campaigning

Contestants who have had the courage to start campaigning are enjoying the affair immensely. Several of them say that they are having lots of excitement and more fun than a circus. What some feared would be a task and burden has turned into a jolly adventure. Alluring awards and extra money is so easily earned that it seems too good to be true.

Delay Is Costly

Delay in starting a real campaign NOW will be costly indeed. The present vote offer is the largest of the entire contest. At no other time will a contestant's efforts be so richly rewarded in both votes and money.

It is possible now to run up a huge vote total and pave the way to final success. As the present vote offers are the largest of the entire contest, contestants who want to win will take full advantage of them. The winning votes can be obtained while most contestants are trying to make up their minds to start campaigning in earnest.

Time To Win

The time for real, productive effort is now here. It's fun to talk with your friends and neighbors about taking their "home newspaper". You know that your efforts will be rewarded and that you give each person who takes the paper from you full value for his money. At the same time, your friends will be proud that you are performing a community service. In getting people to take this newspaper, you are getting more people interested in community affairs.

Votes To Drop

The first drop in votes issued for $30 clubs of subscriptions will take place Saturday, August 17. Contestants who have it within them to take advantage of the present vote-getting opportunity will get every available subscription to get the high club votes.

As vote credits win the new Ford and other prizes, the most resourceful and energetic contestants will make a special effort to get as many $30 clubs of subscriptions as possible before the votes drop in value. Starting August 17, each $30 worth of subscriptions will yield 25,000 fewer votes. Starting August 24, the end of the first vote period, each subscription will yield fewer votes each week.

Enter Now

If you are a live-wire, active man or woman with self-confidence and the will to work, you can enter this contest TODAY and win the Ford. No contestant has a vote lead that could not be overcome in a short time. All entrants have so many "easy subscriptions" that they can get from their neighbors and friends. But after getting them they do not know where to get any more. They will say "everybody has subscribed" when there are thousands of prospective subscribers for every subscription that has been secured.

Just because you hear that someone has been campaigning is no indication that he has seen many

OFF FOR THE POLICE FIELD DAY — Nearly 100 Northville and Novi youngsters attended the Detroit Police Field Day last Saturday under auspices of the Northville recreation department. Their trip was unexpectedly exciting, as a pack of dogs and a giant bear tangled during the show. Several handlers were bitten, and the dogs were quarantined.

Ellison Attends "Chewing Match"

Northville high school principal E. V. Ellison attended the "Principals' Chewing Match" last week end at Higgins lake.

The annual conference sponsored by the Michigan Secondary School association, gives secondary school administrators a time to meet informally to discuss mutual problems and their solutions.

Keynoting the 1957 conference was Dr. Charles R. Kaller, director of the association's advanced placement program, whose topic was "Practical Program To Meet the Needs of the Gifted Child".

During the conference participants discussed various topics including utilization of college sources and resources, curriculum problems, education of exceptional children, athletic activities, utilization and improvement of professional staff and staff relations, scheduling and co-curricular activities, and other administrative procedures, practices and problems.

Senator Potter Calls on His Boss

When you have a business appointment with President Eisenhower, you do not enter the front door at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, but turn the corner to the "west wing". Here, back in 1902, President Theodore Roosevelt set up the offices, removing them for the first time from the official residence and here the offices have remained.

YOU WALK or drive up a curving roadway, past a neat white frame guardhouse, manned by a fine-looking White House police officer. He checks your name against his list of expected callers. Inside the gracious French doors, you are greeted by Secret Service officer William Simmons, who has served as Chief Receptionist for two decades. He, too, must clear your name. If you arrive a few minutes early, as most White House callers do, you are invited to sit on one of the comfortable leather couches which flank the room.

At the appointed time, you turn left down a corridor to the office of Bernard Shanley, Appointments secretary, located just next to the President's room. When the Chief Executive is ready to receive you, Mr. Shanley escorts you into the handsome oval office.

The hearty handshake, the wide grin, the quick grasp of your problem, the sympathetic attention as you state your case — all these are familiar, remembered from other visits. This time, however, you launch into your problem at once. The proposal you are about to make is so important that you have prepared a short memorandum to leave with the President. Here it is:

"MAY I RESPECTFULLY direct your attention to a problem which affects the laboring men and women of the United States and particularly those in the State of Michigan."

"The rapid pace of scientific advance has produced machines which in many instances can entirely take over the work of men. Automation, as this process is termed, has reached a point where whole factories can be operated by a mere handful of persons. While automation is expected to bring miracles of production at the same time it wipes out the need for certain types of jobs.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the need for prompt measures, so that dislocations in the economy may be avoided. I respectfully urge that a federal commission be created to study the impact of this dynamic new force of automation and that it be empowered to make recommendations in the interest of all segments of our society. I further urge that while such a commission is being set up that you direct the Department of Labor to immediately initiate a pilot study in Michigan, one of the most highly industrialized states in the union, where the effects of automation are becoming increasingly apparent."

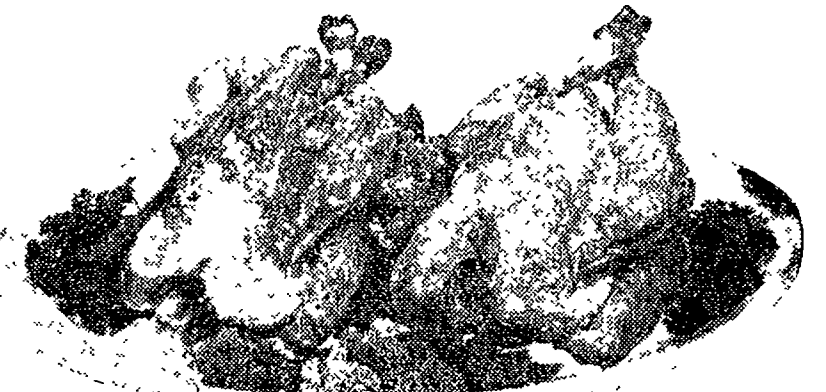

THE PRESIDENT, his arm around your shoulder, says, "Charlie, this is a fine idea. We'll follow through with Jim Mitchell." As you leave, you see him pick up your memorandum and begin to read it again.

SPEAKING

for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

About 150 Novi township residents sat in a very warm Community building last Thursday evening and listened to an authority on incorporation talk about his specialty.

The meeting was called after a committee of five men, appointed by the Board of Commerce, studied the idea of incorporation and unanimously suggested it for Novi.

These men — Walter Tuck, Dirk Groenenberg, Keith Mercalf, Russell Button and Dicron Tafrahan — obviously spent many hours of research and study before presenting their recommendation. Their work cannot possibly bear them any reward except from the satisfaction that is gained from serving the community.

We suspect there will be some opposition to incorporation and to motives behind it. Opposition is fine. Incorporation is a big step for Novi and should be studied carefully. But we believe that the pros and cons of incorporation should be kept on a constructive level and that politics and personalities should be set aside.

While the vast majority of the citizens attending, the meeting voted in favor of proceeding with incorporation steps, it was obvious from their questions that they want to know all the answers before the matter comes up for a vote. This questioning should be continued, and the final answer must come from what the voter believes is best for his community.

Even the authority, Dr. Freidland of Wayne State university, would not promise that incorporation as a village would be a "cure all" for Novi's ills. It will protect boundaries from further annexations, but it will not provide additional services unless the people are willing to pay for them, he pointed out.

Perhaps even more significant was Dr. Freidland's words for the farmers who fear that higher taxes and demand for their land might put them out of business. "There is no protection against this," he said. "People — not township, village or city status of government — bring about this condition. And there is no way to stop people from moving to Novi."

We're looking forward to a big day at Briggs stadium this Thursday afternoon. It will be the first game we've seen this year and because we're attending with youngsters from recreation program and junior police we know it will be a rowing one. And we expect to pick up plenty of material for next week's column.

The Wednesday evening band concerts that many families have been enjoying brought this suggestion from C. B. Turnbull: why not take up a collection to provide a bandstand for Northville's high school players? A shell and a bandstand could even be portable and stored in the winter months, he adds.

We'll pass along these two facts which tie in nicely with our present circulation contest:

1. Surveys by press associations and economists show that in communities where everybody takes the local newspaper business conditions are much better than in communities principally served by dailies coming in from larger towns;

2. And from Roger Babson comes the observation that your hometown newspaper is the biggest value that you can buy.

Keeping these thoughts in mind, we hope you'll encourage the contestants who are working to obtain more readers of The Record and Novi News.

Personally, we're deeply appreciative of their efforts. Some have entered into the contest with as much a desire to gain wider circulation of our two papers as to win a prize. That attitude might be difficult for some people to understand. We only know that it's the kind of thing that makes the job of putting out a newspaper worthwhile.

Williams in Command

DEMOCRATS ARE now embarked on their first complete operation of state government for the first time in two generations. Gov. Williams voiced a warning:

"We are on the spot to produce. We welcome that."

To the top six administrative offices won in 1936, the Democrats added the department of public instruction and the state highway department last spring.

The party celebrated by staging the first spring inauguration ceremonies in Michigan history.

Taking office were Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, new superintendent of public instruction, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, and Chris Magnusson, new member of the state board of education.

Williams spoke of a "mandate of the people," said the victories at the polls meant that the public wanted Democrats to build their highways and administer the education of their children.

It was made plain that major policies and decisions would be made in a position not too far away from the office Democrats have held for almost nine years — that of Williams.

The Democratic take-over in Michigan was a step-by-step process.

Williams shocked Republicans in 1948 when he handily defeated former Gov. Kim Sigler, bringing in with him his own lieutenant-governor John Connolly and Atty. Gen. Steven J. Roth.

Roth and Connolly fell by the wayside two years later, but Williams remained — alone but in a commanding position as chief executive.

Came 1954 and Williams won again with his full fall state, leaving only the department of public instruction and the highway department still in the hands of Republicans.

Last spring, the full sweep was completed.

"Now we've got no one to fight with, except the legislature (still Republican controlled)," said one Democratic chieftain.

LADIES NOW CAN BE appointed as officers in the Michigan National Guard.

Major Gen. George C. Moran, the state's adjutant-general, asked Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh for the legal ruling which resulted in the decision.

Kavanagh went back into the law books and discovered that only "able bodied males" were considered officer materials in the National Guard.

This, he ruled, did not take into account the need for nurses. So, he informed Moran he was perfectly proper in appointing women as officers, so long as they were designated as nurses.

ARMY WORMS INVADED central Michigan this year in the worst assault on crops in the past 10 years.

Strangely, they are not under a state control program, though thousands of dollars have been spent to eliminate the gypsy moth, and other insects that threaten to denude farms of crops and foliage.

The experts said the army worms invade in cycles, every three to five years, starting in July, multiplying by millions and attacking grain fields until early in August.

The 1937 invasion was on a line between Muskegon and Bay City, affecting large segments of the Saginaw Valley.

The worst concentration was in the Mt. Pleasant area where communities were asked to get together to finance an aerial spray program proven effective in other parts of the country.

One state official said the invasions normally follow mild winters after which the foliage stemmed crops — what, oats and barley — develop and mature early.

MICHIGAN'S CAMPAIGN against trespassing on state-owned submerged lands in the Great Lakes has taken another turn.

Months ago, the state started legal action against owners of the S. S. Western States, a former lakes passenger ship now tied up at Tawas City and described by its owners as a "float."

The boat is used as a hotel, meals are served and other facilities provided.

But because it rests on the bottom of Lake Huron, the state has ruled it is trespassing on land reserved for hunting and fishing by an 1898 state law which never has been repealed.

The case against the boat is still pending.

Now comes another boat, this one is a scow in Lake St. Clair which is towed out into the lake by a power boat and used as a floating fishing dock.

The state ruled that because it floats and does not touch bottom, it is legally a boat and therefore does not trespass on state-owned property.

"That's the only difference," said one state legal expert.

Part Time Retirement

Babson Park. The present system of retiring faithful and efficient workers is probably good for the junior employees. It gives them a better chance for promotion. But the younger ones must indirectly contribute to the support of those being retired through paying one half of their Social Security and other benefits. Some one must pay the bills.

EVERY CASE DIFFERENT

In many cases compulsory retirement is a blessing to all concerned. Many workers are physically unable to continue at their usual manual labor or even at office work. This, however, does not justify children putting such parents into nursing homes. This procedure is becoming too common. There is money in nursing homes for the operators; but they are sad places to visit. When I see children ruthlessly put a parent into a nursing home, it makes me feel very sad.

It seems as if some semi-retirement, or half-time plan could often be used instead of full retirement. When I discuss this with employers they state that such an arrangement would upset their "streamlined" production system and their efficient office systems. This may be true in a few cases; but if this half-time arrangement were applied to all competitors, no one concerned would be handicapped.

LONGER VACATIONS

Another suggestion is that retirement systems be based upon longer vacations, in both summer and winter. Instead of a worker going on half-time by working half a day every day, he could work all day when going to the plant or office but take two months off in summer and two months or more off in winter.

With some businesses this would be a less disrupting method of adjustment; but with other industries it would be more of a handicap. Therefore, why not amend the retirement regulations to give corporations their choice? Undoubtedly, labor unions would want to be a party to such decisions; but that, too, could be worked out.

AN IMPORTANT WARNING

The most valuable advice which I can give to readers who are approaching retirement is to avoid the temptation of going into business for themselves. If you want to take a salaried job with some other concern this is OK, provided it is not a company competing with the one from which you are retiring. Certainly it is bad ethics to retire from one company on a pension and then work for a competitor or start in business yourself as a competitor. In my opinion, this comes close to plain dishonesty.

I issue a special warning against starting or putting any money into a new business of any kind. I have seen thousands of cases where able retired persons have lost, after retirement, the money which they had earned and saved before retirement. This applies equally as well to successful businessmen as to employees. They have thought that because they made a success of one business, they could make a success of some other business. This has often proved a costly mistake.

LUCK VS. ABILITY

Although these men had business ability when operating the business from which they had retired, their success was not due entirely to business skill. Other factors contributed to that success. A man may have entered his former business when the industry was young. The times, political atmosphere, or tax system, may now be very different. They may have operated at a different period in the business cycle, but styles and demand for the product may now have completely changed. The person himself may be less vigorous or progressive due to advanced age; while competition is now such that more vigor and capital are needed.

I especially warn retired persons not to go to California or Florida or to some other booming state unless they can count on a check of at least $200, besides Social Security benefits, coming from home each month as a pension or as interest or dividends. Also, before you take any job anywhere after retirement, ascertain how it will affect your Social Security and other benefits. In most cases, if you earn more than $1,200 per year you will lose your Social Security.

Water continues to increase in importance and value as a mineral resource. Each citizen in modern society requires more than 1,300 gallons daily to meet direct and indirect needs. For example, it takes 65,000 gallons of water to produce one ton of finished steel.
