

A KISS FROM MAMIE landed right there on the forehead of little Leanna Callis last month when the First Lady stopped to admire the baby in a Washington hotel lobby. Her mother, Mrs. James Callis — formerly Leanna Doeksen — and father visited in Northville this week.

Even Mamie Can't Resist Those Big, Brown Eyes

Little Leanna Callis has big, beautiful brown eyes, and it's not unusual for people to come up and tell her so.

Even an occasional tweek of her nose or pat on her tummy doesn't surprise her, for she's accepted all that as part of the job of a seven-month-old baby.

So when the nice lady with bangs kissed her on the forehead in Washington last month, she regarded it aloofly as just another show of affection.

But to her mother it was a day of days, for not everyone's baby is kissed by the Nation's First Lady.

Visiting in Northville this week, her mother — formerly Leanna Doeksen, a 1955 graduate of Northville high school, and now Mrs. James Callis — retold the story to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Doeksen, 490 Orchard drive.

It happened like this:

The Callis' and their daughter, who now live in Washington, had gone to the Sheraton Park Hotel to see Jim's brother and talk about his new job there. While Jim parked the car, Leanna and little Leanna waited in the lobby.

"Everyone had to stop and smile at Leanna and say how cute she is," she wrote in a letter to her parents.

"One of the women who stopped had a very distinctive haircut — tight, smooth bangs — just like Mrs. Eisenhower's. In fact, she LOOKED like Mrs. Eisenhower, except younger."

"As she and the three women with her were leaving, I asked the last one 'Am I mistaken or can I tell my mother and father I saw Mrs. Eisenhower?'"

"You can tell them that," she said, smiled, and walked out to the outer lobby with the other three women.

"Then I saw all four smiling and talking and looking back at us. Mrs. Eisenhower turned and came back toward us, said hello, and took Leanna by the hand and kissed her on the forehead. She said she had never seen such beautiful big brown eyes."

"I was so surprised: my little daughter kissed by Mamie Eisenhower! And to think she made a special trip back to do it."

And what did little Leanna think about all this?

She wasn't talking herself, but the twinkle in those eyes seemed to say flirtatiously, "Oh, it was nothing . . . really nothing . . ."

Allied Officials Ponder Metal Products Future

The question of whether the fire-gutted powdered metal division of Allied Products corporation would return to Northville was still unanswered this week.

It was certain, however, that if Allied did resume operations here it would be in a new location.

Frank Bishop, president of the diversified corporation, said this week that the company had not yet decided whether to continue to operate a powdered metal division. "We do not care to be a powdered metal parts supplier unless we have a profitable 'captive product' of our own," he stated. Powdered metal plants located in lower cost labor areas eliminate any profitable operation on the open market here, he added.

If Allied decides to produce powdered metal products for its own use, Bishop said that a new building would be constructed. "Our old site was not large enough and would not be suitable for a new building," he said. The possibility remained that the company would rebuild in Northville, however. Bishop indicated that Foundry Flask & Equipment company, located on Cady street next to the old Allied plant, had taken over the site. Officials of Foundry Flask have not indicated to what use they will put the area.

Allied's operations were abruptly halted August 6 by a $1,000,000 fire. The industry employed 65 workers and ranked second to the Ford valve plant as an employer in Northville.

Marines to Collect 'Toys for Tots'

Northville Marine reservists will again conduct a "Toys for Tots" campaign this Christmas season.

Purpose of the campaign is to make sure that all less fortunate children in the Northville area will receive gifts of toys at Christmas.

The campaign will start next Wednesday and end on December 7. Although "Toys for Tots" is a nationwide campaign of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, with 269 ground and air reserve units participating, each campaign is local in conception, scope and direction.

In Northville, the toy collection will be conducted in the following manner:

— Barrels will be placed at all Shell gasoline stations displaying the "Toys for Tots" banners and posters.

— Pickups of bulk donations can be arranged by calling the Marine Reserve Training Center, LUzon 2-4636.

— Donors desiring to deliver toys in person will be welcome at the training center.

Financial contributions cannot be accepted, and the public is urged to donate only new toys or toys in good condition. Since all work by the Marine reservists is volunteer activity, they will have no time to repair toys.

All toys received will be distributed by Northville King's Daughters.

Catholic Church Nears Completion

Our Lady of Victory parishioners will soon have full use of their nearly-complete new church building.

Now worshipping in the church basement, they will move upstairs a week from tomorrow for a confirmation service — the first function in the new nave.

The first mass will be said the following Sunday.

Father John Wittstock said this week that altar furnishings are now on their way from Italy, and that statuary from Spain probably will arrive early in December.

Services have been conducted temporarily at the Northville community building until two weeks ago when the basement was made ready for occupancy.

Brief Meeting For City Council

City councilmen had only routine business, and little of that in a short regular meeting Monday night at the city hall.

Longest item of business was a water ordinance prepared by the city manager. The council reviewed the ordinance and Mayor Ely appointed a committee to study suggested changes and present the ordinance at the next council meeting.

The ordinance is based on recommendations made by water consultants in 1955. It would raise local water rates by approximately one-third.

An agreement with the city engineer to develop plans and specifications for the Hill street storm sewer and water line to the new Northville Heights subdivision was signed by the council. Final contractual agreements with the subdividers were also signed.

The council tabled a recommendation of the Northville recreation committee that ice skating be banned on the mill pond this winter. Before acting on the request, the council will meet with Stan Johnson, recreational director, to determine possible alternate skating sites.

An editorial appearing in the November 7 edition of The Record was reviewed by Councilman John Canterbury, who stated that a strong "clean-up" campaign for the city had previously been given support by local civic groups. He pointed out that the city could do much to improve the general appearance of the business district and streets with existing ordinances.

Mayor Ely prodded the public works department with the statement that "our streets have never looked worse." He called for street sweepers to remove leaves and debris. Councilman Ed Welch stated that a "no parking" time during early morning hours should be enforced by the city to allow better street cleaning. Councilman Malcolm Allen said the city had a "no parking" ordinance for street cleaning and snow removal, but that it was not being enforced.

Although no definite action was taken, Canterbury suggested the formation of a committee to study the general problem of community improvement.

FROM NOVI INTO NORTHVILLE — As a result of Tuesday's annexation election, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hartley, 602 Randolph, and a group of their neighbors will now officially be residents of Northville rather than Novi. The Hartleys, shown above with Novi township clerk Hadley Bachert, and other voters in the affected area favored coming into Northville by a 9-5 margin.

City Is Praised for Torch Drive

Northville residents and Torch Drive leaders were saluted this week for going over the top in the first Torch Drive ever held in the city.

Northville not only registered 121 was the first western Wayne county community to go over the top.

"Northville deserves a great deal of credit for the way its residents responded to the campaign," said Mrs. Worth Kramer, chairman of the west Wayne county region.

In recognition of the drive's success, residential chairman Ed Welch and his committee were dinner guests of Torch Drive officials Tuesday night. An ashtray and table lighter bearing the Torch Drive symbol were presented to Welch.

"The credit should really go to the 80 women who got out and rang the doorbells during the 10-day drive," Welch said.

Attending with Welch were committeewoman Mrs. George Ramshaw and city clerk Mary Alexander, who sat in for Miss Ruth Knapp. A third committeewoman, Mrs. Philip Brown, was unable to attend.

The residential drive which Welch led collected $2,549. Its goal was $2,100.

In the overall Torch Drive campaign, which included school, government, commercial and industrial categories as well as residential,

Northville contributed $5,981 to top its $5,950 goal by $31.

The commercial and professional drive, under A. Russell Clarke, had a goal of $1,600 and brought in $2,201.

The government drive, with a goal of $350, registered $511 under John Robertson.

The school campaign, led by William Hensch, contributed $322 and industry, under R. T. Martin, gave $398.

Merchants to Open Christmas Season With "Sell-A-Thon"

Christmas is coming to Northville Thanksgiving week end!

And to make sure it receives a resounding start, local merchants are planning to stay open all night Friday, November 29. Actually, their stores will not close from Friday morning until the closing hour Saturday evening.

The Christmas "kick-off" will introduce the holiday shopping season and most stores will remain open evenings from Thanksgiving until Christmas.

President Leland Smith of the Retail Merchants association stated that Santa Claus will make a preview visit during the early evening hours of the all-night "sell-a-thon" greeting the children and "taking orders" for Christmas.

"Most of the stores will offer hourly specials after midnight Friday," Smith stated. He added that 17 stores had already indicated they would participate.

Lighting decorations in the business district will be delayed this year because of difficulties in acquiring permanent installation posts. Work has begun on the lights, but they will not be ready for the Thanksgiving week end.

Complete details of the Christmas opening will appear in next week's edition of The Record.

The city of Northville became 220 acres larger this week, while the size of Novi township was decreased by the same amount.

Voters in the city and those residing in the township area approved the annexation by a large majority Tuesday. The vote in the city was 159 YES to 32 NO. Registered voters in the 220-acre township site voted nine to five for annexation.

It marked the second annexation of Novi township property into Northville this year. Eighty-two acres surrounding the Amerman elementary school became a part of the city when a suit contesting last year's annexation election of the property was dropped by Novi.

Specifically, the new 220-acre section of Northville lies between Novi road and a line 1000 feet west of Taft road. It extends north to the 8½-mile line.

The area includes the new D & R subdivision which has begun development at Baseline and Novi street, Northville Lumber company and Warren Products. Warren officials had opposed a similar annexation election of the area last year and won a reversal of the vote in circuit court.

R. T. Martin, partner in the firm, stated that he still considered the annexation a "mistake." He did not indicate that Warren Products would take legal action, saying that an investigation of the results and procedures would be made.

Referring to the tax problems that arise between the Oakland and Wayne county sections of the city, Martin said that the city had taken "a short term gain that will become a long term administration headache." He even offered a solution to the problem.

"In my judgment there should be two cities of Northville, one in the county of Oakland and one in Wayne county. Each would be governed by the same single administration, but remain separate for tax purposes," he stated. "It would be very much like two corporations within the same company," Martin concluded.

The annexation will become official with the canvassing of votes by the Wayne County Board of Canvassers today. Any action protesting the election must be brought within 30 days.

Some solution to the tax inequities between the Wayne and Oakland county sections of the city has been brought forth by a reappraisal of properties in the city limits.

Northville city fathers will probably breathe easier with the D & R subdivision annexation. The council had already entered into a contract with the subdividers to provide city services in the area.

For Novi it will undoubtedly add fuel to the incorporation movement. Backers of the plan have encouraged the action to avoid further annexations of township property.

Holiday Deadline

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday a week from today, The Northville Record-News will go to press early next week.

Both papers will be on the newsstands Monday evening and will be delivered in the mail Tuesday.

For this one week only, the news and advertising deadline will be 5 p.m. this Saturday. The Record-News office will be open all day Saturday.

Art Course Dates Are Clarified

About the adult art course. Last week The Record stated that a new sketching and painting course for Northville adults would be taught every evening for eight weeks beginning next month.

That's not quite right. As instructor Jack Van Haren was quick to point out, it'll be taught every Monday evening — a much more appealing arrangement for students and instructors alike.

Otherwise the information is the same: it will start December 2, cost $10 for the eight weeks, and be taught by Van Haren at the scout hall. Recreation director Stan Johnston is now taking registrations.

Northville Teacher Takes Audio-Visual Aid Award

A puppet display depicting the American Revolution has won top honors for a Northville teacher in a recent state-wide judging of audio-visual aids.

The display, originated by Miss Margaret DeKett, a fifth grade teacher at Amerman school, was judged best of 46 "three-dimension" displays entered in the judging.

For her work, Miss DeKett received one of five "Dr. Arthur W. Stenius Memorial Awards," named in honor of the late Wayne State university professor who pioneered audio-visual education.

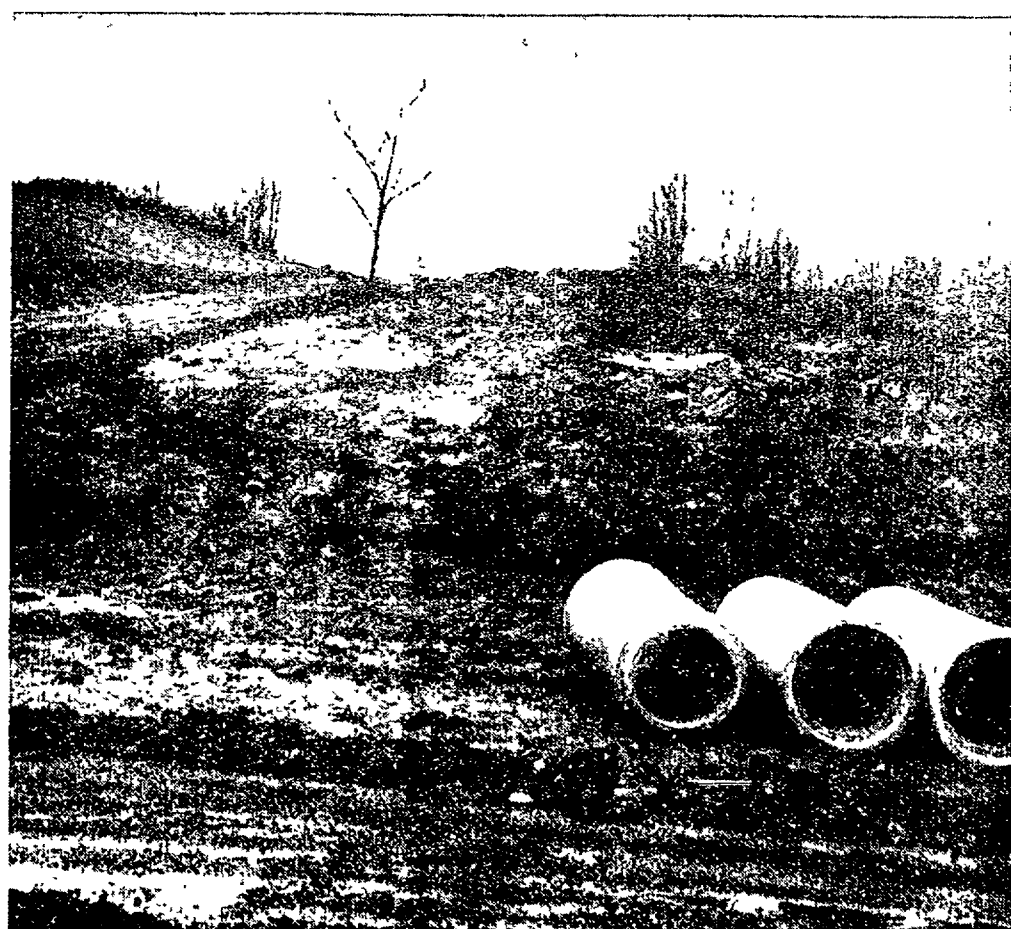

Miss DeKett received the award last Thursday night during a banquet at the Rackham building in Detroit. Guest speaker was George Seaton, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences in Hollywood.

The "three dimension" category was one of five in the judging. The others: charts and bulletin boards, motion pictures, slide sets, and best-of-all.

Miss DeKett's winning work will soon go on display at Wayne State university, which originated and conducted the judging.

The display — "Forming a New Nation" — depicts the American Revolution, including scenes of George Washington and the writing of the Star Spangled Banner, and is accompanied by a tape recording. It was constructed by Amerman fifth graders for fifth and sixth grade history classes.

Though still maintaining a regular teaching schedule, Miss DeKett has devoted many extra hours in her role as audio-visual aid consultant to the Amerman and Main street elementary schools. This week, for example, she will attend a state visual aid conference at the University of Michigan.

NEW LOOK TO AN OLD HILL — There are changes being made just west of North Center street nowadays. In preparation for construction of the new Northville high school, a road is now being chiseled over the top of the plateau on which the school will sit. Sewer pipes in foreground will connect the school to the city's sewer system.

Anthony Olivich Married to Joan Blacklaw

Joan Kathryn Blacklaw and Anthony P. Olivich, Jr. were married November ninth in a candle-light double-ring ceremony by the Rev. Robert Secrest, pastor of the Southfield Methodist church, at the home of the bride's parents.

Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Blacklaw of Birmingham. Anthony's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Olivich, Sr. of Novi.

Joan, given in marriage by her father, James A. Blacklaw, chose a bridal gown fashioned of imported Viennese lace bodice, fitted, with high neckline featuring tiny bow tie of same material festooned with seed pearls, short sleeves trimmed with flowerettes from the lace pattern and seed pearl centers, a multi-layered nylon net and lace inserted bouffant skirt over satin with train. Her nylon net veil was secured with a crown of seed pearls over satin.

Her cascade bouquet was an arrangement of white roses and ivy nesting a corsage of pale pink miniature roses.

Annette Blacklaw was maid of honor in a blue crystalline taffeta gown with fitted bodice over a full-hooped skirt with which she wore a matching headpiece and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses. Carl Tornow of Novi was best man and James E. Blacklaw of Berkeley was organist.

The mother of the bride chose a celon-blue sheath of crysta-satin with which she wore white gloves, white feather hat and a white button mum corsage. The mother of the bridegroom chose a pale pink-beige lace sheath with which she wore white gloves, pale pink feather hat and white mum corsage.

Guests present included Mrs. Margaret Olivich, 81, of Detroit, grandmother of the groom; Edward Blacklaw, 81, of Ferndale, grandfather of the bride; Gustena Spiller, 83, grandmother of the bride; Patricia Tornow, of Novi, sister of the bridegroom; Mamie Blacklaw, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Robert Secrest and Mr. R. Dennis of Farmington.

The wedding supper was held at Guffins House of Beef. The group returned to the Inkster road residence for the cake cutting ceremony and the viewing of gifts.

Joan chose a grey and white stripe wool sheath for her going-away costume.

Sixteen classmates feted the bride-to-be November 6 with a bridal shower planned by Edna Perkins of Tyler road. Each guest was presented a miniature picture hat and picture of a bride upon arrival.

Joan attended Taft school in Ferndale, Angling road school and Southfield high school and was graduated from the Patricia Steven's finishing school, Detroit. Anthony was graduated from Northville high school. He is employed in Novi and is majoring in engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

The newlyweds plan to make their home in Northville.

Legion and Auxiliary Plan Pre-Thanksgiving Dinner

Next Tuesday evening, November 26 local Legionnaires and their families will gather for a pre-Thanksgiving social co-operative dinner at the Veterans' Memorial hall at 6:30.

Mrs. Lorraine Steimel is chairman of the dinner arrangements and asks that members bring their own table service, rolls and a passing food dish. The auxiliary ladies are hostesses for this evening and urge all to attend and bring the kiddies for an evening of fun and sociability. Mrs. Oscar Hammond will be in charge of entertainment after the dinner hour.

At their auxiliary meeting last Wednesday evening reports were given of the visit to Maybury sanatorium on Veterans' Day. One hundred and thirty-two patients were visited by Plymouth, Livonia, Redford township and Northville post and auxiliary members and treated to ice cream sundae cups and homemade cookies as well as cigarettes, toilet articles, etc. Birthdays of seven patients were also remembered for November.

Next on the agenda is the Christmas "Gift Shop" at Ann Arbor Veterans' hospital on December 2, when ladies will assist in selecting and wrapping gifts for the veteran's family members and mailing them. This program is of no cost to the veteran patients as each auxiliary throughout the state purchases 23 gifts and sends them to one of the five veterans' hospitals in the state. Several local auxiliary members will be in Ann Arbor on December 2 to assist in the gift shop.

Mrs. Lena Hammond is hospital chairman of this project as well as Maybury representative. The Maybury veterans will also be remembered at Christmas time as well as local needy families. Anyone knowing of a needy family wishing assistance may call Northville 897.

Residential Growth In Future for Novi

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles on the history of Novi township, originally written as a master's degree thesis by William O'Brien, a Southfield high school teacher who lives in Willowbrook Village.)

PRESENT LAND USE

In the Detroit metropolitan area, growth and expansion have generally followed railroads and such arterial highways as Woodward, Gratiot, Michigan and Grand River. Since Novi township not only lies on one of these arteries, but also on the only railroad which crosses or follows Grand River between here and Detroit, growth of the township is certain.

In the broad sector of land between Woodward and Plymouth road — the northwest Detroit area — growth in recent years has been rapid and mainly residential, although a few industries are sprinkled throughout the area. Consequently, Novi township can well expect to be part of this pattern — primarily a residential area with enough industry to support its economy.

In fact, this trend already is underway.

Since 1950, the population of Novi has increased to more than 6,000. Eighteen new subdivisions — 15 of them south of Grand River — are either planned, underway, or already developed. The largest is Willowbrook Village, which accounted for 250 of 534 new homes built in Novi between 1950 and 1956, an increase of more than 50 percent over pre-1950 days. Of course, not all dwellings are in subdivisions; some are in the "rural estate" category, and others are simply small homes.

At the same time, farms are decreasing, and many farm houses are now owned by persons working elsewhere in the Detroit area. General observation also shows many land-sale signs, and only recently two tracts of 80 acres were sold near a new industrial site.

And, since a recent study has shown that the average worker travels only five miles to work and spends less than 30 minutes doing it, it can be expected that increased industry will mean even more residential growth for Novi.

New industry generally has followed the previous pattern of small-parts and tool shops, but the establishment of the new Lincoln plant, with a work force of some 5,000, has altered this picture considerably. The new plant already, for example, has helped bring two auto haulaway firms, another spur of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, and a branch of the National Bank of Detroit to Novi.

Therefore, the establishment of a primary industry in Novi has given the township an extremely favorable industrial future as compared with its diminishing agricultural outlook in recent years.

Of course, industrialization creates rapid change, and rapid change creates problems. But this will be discussed in a later installment.

As for shopping centers, a 1956 study indicates that the Detroit region seems to be developing "integrated" centers rather than traditional "strip" centers, and that such centers usually follow major highways where population is becoming dense. Furthermore, the fact that only three of 28 planned centers were completed in 1955 and 1956 indicates that such firms are hesitant to build until the population is there. As a result, Novi will probably have to rely on Northville and a new $1,000,000 center in Farmington until its population shows a considerable increase.

Thus, a present land-use map of Novi would show four patterns:

- intensive residential growth on the eastern border, south of Grand River;
- general rural-residential and small-farm use in the western half;
- industrial use along the southeast-northwest route of Grand River and the railroad;
- general agriculture in the southwest quarter.

Totally, the pattern shows agriculture giving way to the westward residential movement, and industry moving out the township's railroad and highways. With this will possibly come a fifth central place within the township — the place where Farmington growth is now expanding westward into Novi.

Wixom City Election Tuesday

Wixom voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to decide whether their infant village shall become a city.

At the same time, they will elect nine charter commissioners from a field of ten candidates.

If Wixom approves the change from village to city, the charter commission will go to work on charter document immediately. It then would be presented to voters for approval, after which Wixom would officially be a city.

But if voters do not approve city status, the charter commission will not serve and Wixom will remain under its present government.

The 10 candidates for the nine charter positions are: Herbert Abrams, Jesse Birchard, Eleanor Bourgeois, Delbert Geyer, R. W. Lahti, Wesley McAtee, Gunnar Mettala, Everett Pearsall, Joseph Stadnik and Fred Thayer.

Stadnik is president of the village, and Birchard and Mettala are councilmen. Abrams, Pearsall and Lahti served on the village charter commission, while McAtee and Pearsall were presidential candidates in the village election.

A total of 527 Wixom residents are registered to vote Tuesday. Polling places at the Wixom elementary school will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The move of the ninth-month-old village to become a city began in September when petitions were submitted to the village council.

Village fathers have endorsed the move as protection against encroachment of the village boundaries, which include the tax-rich new Lincoln plant as well as choice sites for a surge of new industry.

The shift to city status also has the endorsement of two other key sources: the Wixom Civic association, which gave unanimous vocal support to the move two weeks ago, and Professor Arthur Bromage, University of Michigan political science expert.

Organized opposition, on the other hand, appeared this week to be slight. Novi township leaders, though unhappy over the probable loss of the Lincoln plant as a tax source, have taken a water-over-the-dam attitude toward the city vote. Unless it has been going on behind the scene, there has been no effort by Novi to induce Wixom to remain a village.

— agreed to rent a bank safe deposit vault for valuable township papers.

— requested attorney Anthony Renne to investigate whether an ordinance covering the acceptance of private water systems by the township can be made to apply to sewer systems as well. This would empower the township to take over the proposed Thompson-Brown sewer system when it is built.

— heard Renne report that attorneys for developer Paul LeBost are now drawing up conditions under which the Willowbrook Village water system might be turned over to the township.

— received notification from Wall Lake that the city's fire department will assist Novi's department on a reciprocal basis. Novi agreed to the same proposal last month.

— received a state board of health permit for a 12" well on the Thompson-Brown site. The board of health also requested further plans for a pump, pumphouse and distribution system, and asked for a letter stating that the township will assume control of the system upon completion.

— heard that building-inspector-in-waiting Thomas Needham will take an electrical contractor's test as soon as verification of his journeyman's license is received from outstate. In the meantime, Harold Ackley is continuing as temporary inspector.

DIAL PHONE CENTER — Northville and Novi soon will be served by this new telephone exchange building on North Center street. Construction has been moving along well, Michigan Bell officials say, and it will be in action for dial phones next summer.

Work Starts on 'Lincoln Village'

The proposed 2,000-home development in western Novi has been named "Lincoln Village".

It will honor both the Civil War president and the famous automobile produced nearby.

Ross Campbell, vice president of Thompson-Brown company, said present plans call for many of the development's streets to bear names associated with President Lincoln.

Those would include names of battles, cabinet officers, political associates and opponents, and the like.

Campbell said a ceremony may be held at Lincoln Village in 1959, commemorating the 150th anniversary of the former president's birth.

Meanwhile, Thompson-Brown officials are going ahead with plans to get the development underway.

Aerial photos of the 700-acre area, located south of Grand River and straddling Wixom road, were taken this week, and engineers are now preparing a topographical map. The map, showing two-foot contours, will be completed in about two weeks.

Using this, engineers will complete final plans for the development's sewer system and sewerage disposal plant, and bids on the plant will then be sought.

If all goes smoothly, Campbell said, construction of the disposal plant can begin in approximately 60 days. It will take about seven months to complete.

"We intend to have homes started next spring," he said, "but they can't be occupied until the plant is ready for use. So it's imperative that we get the plant finished as soon as possible."

Thompson-Brown officials presented their plans to the Novi school board last week in an effort to make the assimilation of some 3,500-4,000 children into the Novi school system over the next five years as smooth as possible.

Superintendent William Medlyn said afterward that the development does not pose any immediate problem.

"About 180 acres of the 700-acre site are in the South Lyon district," he said. "And as for our own area, the new Willowbrook school should handle an additional 200 students without being strained."

"But it won't be long before we have to start thinking about new school system over the next five years," he added.

Straw Vote In Favor Of Village

It took less than 15 minutes to sound a possible death knell for plans to oppose the incorporation of Novi township as a village.

In that time, "straw ballots" on the question were counted by Novi supervisor Frazer Staman and opposition leader Herbert Koester.

The result: 50 votes for incorporation, and 32 against it.

Koester said Tuesday he has yet to contact all members of his group but that he probably will recommend that they discontinue their formal opposition.

"It seemed to be a cross section vote, and I feel the actual vote will show about the same percentage," he said.

Incorporation chairman Walter Tuck had no comment on the vote, but said his committee is continuing work on plans to get the question before the public as soon as possible.

The straw vote represented about 3 percent on Novi township's estimated 2,500 registered voters. On a direct-mail sample such as this, a one percent return is generally considered good.

The straw vote was conducted by Koester's group through space provided by The Northville Record-Nowi News as a public service.

Meeting Scheduled On Civil Defense

A call went out this week for volunteers to join in the re-organization of the Novi township civil defense program.

D'Arcy Young, Novi civil defense director, said all interested volunteers should attend a re-organizational meeting at the township hall on December 4 at 7 p.m.

The Detroit and Novi civil defense program, somewhat inactive in recent months, was spurred back to life by current Soviet missile and satellite achievements.

Young, who is to report to the township board at its next meeting, said interest in Novi's civil defense program has increased greatly within the past few weeks.

Novi Republicans
Hear Van Peurse

Seventy-two Republican party members of Novi township and Farmington attended a luncheon at Botsford Inn last week to hear George VanPeurse, Speaker of the State House of Representatives.

VanPeurse discussed the problems of the industrial move from Michigan and the tax conditions of the state. He stated that Michigan has lost 158,000 factory jobs while the national state average was a 12 percent gain. Only two other states, Rhode Island and the District of Columbia, showed drops, he added.

Attending the meeting from Novi township were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Malley, Mr. and Mrs. Frazer Stanton and Mrs. Marjorie Watson.

New Directors

Northville Optimists have two new members on the board of directors. Bob Hart and Alvin Skow were appointed to fill vacancies resulting from the resignations of Merrill Sweet and Don Hamilton.

Joe Crupi also has been appointed as the Optimist representative on the Northville coordinating council. The membership has voted to cancel meetings that would have fallen on Thanksgiving Eve (November 27) and Christmas night.

Correction

The report of a three car accident in the Record last week incorrectly stated that Mrs. Shirley Baxter was driving her car when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Baxter's car was parked on East Main when it was hit by Clifford E. Strasser of Detroit.

Mayflower Owner Wins Food Honors

Plymouth's Mayflower hotel manager, Ralph Lorenz, won national acclaim last week as one of the top four hotel men in the country in the field of food promotion.

In a contest conducted by the national Hotel Management Trade magazine, Lorenz tied for third. He divided the $500 prize with Robert F. Quain, manager of the world's largest hotel, The Conrad Hilton in Chicago. Announcement of the winners was made at the nation Hotel Exposition in New York City.

Top honors, an all-expense paid trip to Europe for two and $1,000 in cash, were won by J. Frank Birdsall, Jr. of Rochester, New York. A $1,000 second prize was given Jeanne McCaffrey of Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Promoting food sales at the Mayflower has been a pet project of Lorenz. He has been given national hotel recognition for his "Johnny Billington Clean-Plate Club" program. Thousands of children from all over the country have joined the club and each year are awarded prizes by the hotel.

The Mayflower was among the nation's first hotels to provide free television in every room and Lorenz' "room-improvement" program has been widely adopted throughout the industry.

Why does my baby walk on her toes?

The almost universal tendency of babies to walk on their toes indicates that it is a normal thing. The fact that doctors and physical education instructors recommend a similar exercise for strengthening weak arches tells us that the babies are strengthening their arches "doin' what comes naturally." Toe dancers have wonderful arches.

Very, very rarely a baby may have a shortened Tendon of Achilles or heel cord. These babies cannot get their heels down to the floor at all. It is a condition that should be seen by a doctor without wasting time trying suggestions of shoemen (like me) or omiscient neighbors.

Church On Thursdays

Recently two ministers in Cleveland recommended that church services be held on Thursdays instead of on Sunday. They pointed out that that shorter work week and increasing leisure time encouraged thousands of Americans, particularly in the suburbs, to take off for the resort areas on Friday and return to work on Monday. They pointed out that the worship patterns "had never been tied to one specific day." A careful examination of the History of the Early Church, both from the book of Acts and secular Church History will reveal that Christians have always set apart the first day of the week for worship. It was on this day that Jesus Christ arose from the dead. Actually there are 52 memorial days to the resurrection. Now it is doubtful whether a change from Sunday to Thursday would be of any help to these pleasure seekers. The competition of television, or of bowling leagues and the like would also be too much for them. The trouble lies in a heart that has never surrendered itself to Jesus Christ as the Lord of their lives. These are described in II Tim. 3:4-5 as "lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God; having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof." Let's keep the Lord's Day a Holy Day.

School Addition Opens

It's probable that grandparents, parents and even older brothers and sisters of elementary school students now housed in the Amerman addition would have to say, "It just wasn't like this when I went to school."

The children who moved over from Main Street school last Friday to the newly completed addition will benefit from the planning of principals, architects and many suggestions from teachers.

There are eight rooms in the addition, larger rooms than in the older half of the building. And much more storage space, a heaven sent item to the elementary school teacher.

A combination library-closet and audio-visual center included in each room, for example, is one new feature experimented with before the decision was made to include it.

With the new combination facility, films can be shown on a screen shielded by the doors, which act as "blinders" to light from windows and skylights. The closet becomes a library corner when movies aren't being shown with plenty of shelf space provided for books.

Each room is also equipped with its own sink (with attached drinking fountain) with a cabinet underneath it to provide more convenient facilities for instruction in such subjects as art and science.

There is an art and music room in the addition — 1000 square feet of soundproofed space where grade-schoolers can sing, foot and bang away at instruments and display their artistic creations on long stretches of green-toned bulletin boards.

Space for working with students individually away from distractions has been provided in the form of two conference rooms (actually three, since one can be divided).

Here the school psychologist, speech correctionist, reading consultant and other special educational workers may be alone with a small group of students for more effective treatment.

For the teachers, a room complete with kitchenette has been included in the addition.

Throughout the building, tinted glass not used before in Northville schools has been installed.

All these new features, however, are in the same colorful atmosphere as the older building. Multi-colored alcoves for wraps line the corridor, sunny-yellow skylights overlook each room, and "eye-ease" green chalk boards and bulletin boards are used throughout.

No, it just wasn't like that when most of us went to school.

MOVING DAY for Main Street students was last Friday, when they packed up and headed for new quarters in the Amerman addition.

To Explain New Rules At Cage Clinic Tuesday

If you're a Northville basketball fan, you'd do well to drop in at the community building next Tuesday evening.

Otherwise, you'll probably have a tough time following the action as the Northville Mustangs go out and defend their league co-championship this year.

The reason: state high school basketball officials have given the rule book its most thorough going-over in years, and everything from free-throws to players' numbers is subject to a new regulation.

All these changes will be explained Tuesday night at a basketball clinic specifically designed for Northville sports fans.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., athletic director Al Jones, basketball coach Stan Johnston and other officials will:

— explain Northville's basketball program, which extends from the seventh-grade through the senior varsity.

— introduce both the varsity and junior varsity teams.

— give a rundown on the teams' schedules.

— explain the reasons behind several items of new equipment.

— explain new rules, violations, and the reasons behind them, with the junior varsity acting them out.

— put both the junior varsity and varsity through a two-quarter scrimmage.

"The important thing is the change in rules," said Jones. "There are so many changes this year that the average fan just won't be able to follow the game unless the new rules are explained beforehand."

What are some of the changes? For one, the "keyhole" is hardly a keyhole any longer. Instead, it's almost a square, and the lane is 12' wide instead of 6'.

For another, no player, whether he has the ball or not, can stay inside that area for more than three seconds at a time.

For still another, players' uniforms will be re-numbered for easy score-keeping.

There are others concerning fouls, score-keeping, and what is to be shown on the scoreboard. In many respects, it won't be the same game it was last year.

During the program, contributions will be taken to buy new sweaters and skirts for Northville cheerleaders. Jones also will announce preliminary plans for a game in January which will pit the NHS faculty against the world-famed Red Heads, a professional girls' team which appeared here several years ago.

The Mustangs will open their 1957-58 season two weeks from tomorrow when they meet West Bloomfield here. The following night, they will journey to Plymouth for their traditional non-conference encounter with the Rocks.

Northville shared the Wayne-Oakland championship with Clarkston last year, and reports have it that the Mustangs are just as strong as they were then. The Record will preview the Mustangs' coming season next week.

Kritch Wins Quiz; Final Test this Week

Upsets were the rule last week-end as contestants in The Record's Football Contest found picking the winners a tough chore.

While nearly all of the entries had at least three misses, two contestants stumbled on only one game.

First place and $10 went to Joe Kritch, Northville high school senior quarterback. Joe missed only the Notre Dame-Oklahoma upset. Still he was hard-pressed to win over Sylvia Wilkinson, 413 Beal street, who picked all the upsets but thought Stanford would beat Oregon State. Joe narrowly won by more closely predicting the outcome of the Lions-49'ers game.

Nearly every contestant stumbled on the Rice-Texas A & M and Notre Dame-Oklahoma games. Other games that most entries had wrong were Ohio State-Iowa and Illinois-Wisconsin.

This week is the final test of the season. And because so few readers followed Ye Olde Editor's advice and picked Rice to upset Texas A & M, we'll give one final chance. Heed these words and you're well on your way to winning $10: Iowa over Notre Dame; Michigan to top Ohio State; and the big bad Bears over Detroit.

The main difference in the physical structure of the dog and the wolf is the eye. The pupil of the dog's eye is round, that of the wolf is oblique.

Basketball Starts At Novi School

Novi school turned to basketball this week after the school's football team tumbled to South Lyon, 27-0, in its final game of the year.

Coach Gail Perkins said his team ran into "a lot of real beef" against South Lyon.

Basketball practice began Tuesday evening as Novi eyed its opener on December 13 against Northville eighth-graders.

Perkins hopes for an eight or 10-game schedule this year. In addition to two against Northville, Novi probably will play two with Dublin, Hartland, and one or two undetermined schools.

The Coach's Corner

by RON SCHIPPER
Northville High School Football Coach

Winning our second consecutive league championship Friday night was certainly a thrilling experience. As the final whistle blew to end the game the tensions that had built up within the players, coaches and fans were released in happy celebration.

The game with West Bloomfield certainly was of championship caliber, with crisp blocking, good rough tackling and sparkling runs. Different from the past few weeks, our boys came back and played a brilliant second half of defensive football. The fourth quarter of the game was the best final period we have played this year and clinched the championship for our school.

The success that our team has had this year is due to a tremendous team spirit and unity. The group of young men that make up the 1957 Mustang team is without a doubt the finest aggregation of football players that I have ever had the opportunity to coach. All the boys were deeply concerned with each other and all had a common goal of having fun playing football and winning a championship for NHS.

There is no doubt that we were blessed with some exceptional football talent which throughout the year has led us to victories. However, each boy, as he had a good night, was quick to point out that without his teammates the success he enjoyed would not have been possible.

With this type of attitude in a group of young men who I know to be the best, coaching has been a pleasure throughout this season.

'57 Wayne-Oakland Race Almost a Repeat of '56

Except for the meaningless Northville-Clarkston encounter last night, the 1957 Wayne-Oakland league schedule was history this week.

And with only three differences, it was a repeat of the 1956 campaign.

The first three places went to the same teams this year as last — Northville, Holly and Milford in that order.

West Bloomfield moved up a notch from fifth to fourth, improving vastly after a slow start in which the Lakers lost two and tied one in their first three games.

Newcomer Bloomfield Hills got off to a satisfactory start in the conference, edging Brighton for fifth place after wallowing in sixth and seventh for much of the season.

Brighton and Clarkston held the same sixth and seventh positions they did last year, and Clarkston tumbled all the way from fourth to last as the Trojans were unable to come through with a single victory (unless the underdog Clarkstonville squad did the unthinkable and upset highly-favored Northville last night). Only two games were on the Wayne-Oakland card last Friday. Northville held back West Bloomfield, 26-12, to sew up their second straight title. And Bloomfield Hills, in a mild upset, trimmed Brighton, 13-7, to gain fifth place.

The standings, with only the Northville-Clarkston game to go:

NORTHVILLE	6 0 0
Holly	5 1 1
Milford	5 2 0
West Bloomfield	5 2 0
Bloomfield Hills	2 4 1
Brighton	2 5 0
Clarkston	1 5 1
Clarkstonville	0 6 0

W-O Title Stays with Mustangs

The Northville Mustangs brought home another trophy Friday night when they finally broke their second-half doldrums and turned away an upstart West Bloomfield squad, 26-12.

The victory gave Northville its second straight Wayne-Oakland league championship and probably its second consecutive undefeated league schedule.

(Results of the Mustangs' finale against winless Clarenceville last night were unavailable at press time, but all odds favored Northville by a wide margin.)

The Mustangs won going away, but not until their title hopes had been seriously jolted by the aroused Lakers. Overcoming a 12-0 deficit, West Bloomfield tied the score by halftime and came within yards of going ahead in the third quarter.

It took a halftime tongue-lashing by coach Ron Schipper and a third period injury to the Lakers' brilliant quarterback John Lucadam to insure the game for Northville. Then, with the tide turned, the Mustangs struck for two touchdowns in the last quarter while holding West Bloomfield to a complete standstill.

Most of Northville's offensive punch came from speed merchants Dick Biery and Bob Starnes, who again proved themselves the best halfback combination in the league. Biery, a probable all-league selection again this year, garnered scoring honors by tallying twice, passing for a third, rushing for 70 yards, taking two passes for 18, and returning punts and kickoffs for 109 yards.

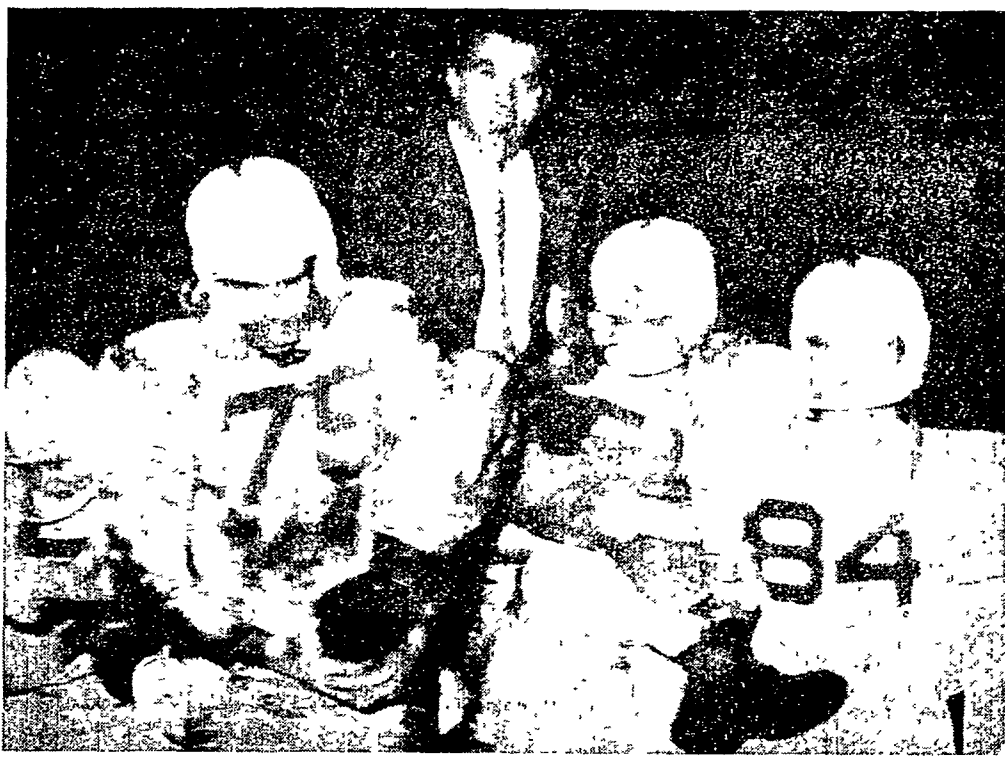

To Starnes, whose rushing (74 yards) and punting (35-yard average) alone would have been a good night's work, fell the additional job of providing an extra spark when the Mustangs needed it. Time and again he came through with a game-saving or morale-boosting play.

At one point, the junior halfback recovered a fumble on the run and moved to the Laker 6 to set up Northville's final score. At another, he intercepted a pass deep in Northville territory to fend off West Bloomfield's last threat. And when a Laker back rammed 55 yards toward the Northville goal, it was Starnes who tripped him up with a shoe-string tackle on the 1.

Ironically, both Biery and Starnes had an off-moment which cost Northville a touchdown.

Biery's came when he dropped a perfect pass from quarterback Pete Gross on the Laker 8, with no one between him and the goal.

Starnes' resulted in one of the CARRIED AWAY BY IT ALL—Don't be fooled by that agonized look which Northville coach Ron Schipper wears. He may have been a little uneasy, propped up there on the shoulders of N. C. Schrader (75), Jeff Goodrich (51) and Larry Clark (84), but it was well worth it. Moments later the Mustangs returned to give assistant coach Don VanIngen a victory ride off the field.

strangest penalties of the year at Ford Field. With Northville on the Laker 2, a Mustang back took the handoff and hurtled into the end zone.

But instead of signalling a touchdown, officials ruled that Starnes had pushed the ball carrier across, and stepped off 15 yards against Northville.

The two blows wouldn't have hurt if the Mustangs had kept up their first period pace in which they scored twice and threw West Bloomfield for a total 13-yard loss. Northville scored on its first drive, going 61 yards on the strength of some hard running by fullback Spike Walker and a surprise pass to tackle N. C. Schrader who lined up at end for the play. Quarterback Pete Gross took it over from the 1.

Wade Deal missed the conversion, his first bad kick in nine previous efforts.

After a Laker punt, a Northville fumble, and another Laker punt, the Mustangs barged goalward from the West Bloomfield 34 and sent Biery across for the last three.

Then came the storm. With Lucadam directing the Lakers brilliantly, West Bloomfield smashed back with a vengeance.

Unexpectedly sticking to the ground, he sent his backs on runs of 13, 20, 55, and finally one yard for the score.

Before Northville could regain its feet, the Lakers moved again. Two bullet-like passes and two long runs took the Lakers to the Northville doorstep, and seconds later the score was tied.

The Mustangs' came back from their halftime lecture with Schipper's words still burning in their ears. But not until West Bloomfield moved to the Northville 17 did the words take effect.

With Gary Morgan, Schrader and Jeff Goodrich breaking through, Northville pushed Keego back 23 yards in three plays. As Lucadam moved back to punt, the snap-back sailed over his head. He got the kick off, but the ball fell dead a yard behind scrimmage.

Lucadam, heart and soul of the West Bloomfield team, was shaken up on the play. Though he returned to action later, the Lakers were never the same.

At the same time, Northville snapped back to life. In the final quarter, the Mustangs yielded not a yard as Deal, Bill Chizmar, Dick Stuber and Bill Yahne repeatedly stopped the Lakers cold.

The Mustangs' jarring tackles caused three Bloomfield tackles, two of which turned into the game-winning touchdowns.

After one fumble, fullback Spike Walker went for one yard and Biery slashed around end for the last 16 and his second touchdown.

Starnes' interception broke up the Lakers' next drive, and after the two teams had exchanged fumbles the Mustangs moved to the 1.

West Bloomfield 2. With 18 seconds left, Biery swung out and dropped a pass across the goal line into Starnes' hands.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO

MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

We knew this car was tough.

We designed it that way.

That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest test run of all time... with all America as the "track."

We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states.

The time limit? Only 58 days.

A thousand miles a day!

The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 8 weeks!

Three times this Plymouth crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way up and down across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes... creeping through city traffic... arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through 500 miles of rutted detours. And when the drivers turned the key to end the marathon, it still looked, ran and rode like new.

This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"... and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Star of the Forward Look... Plymouth ahead for keeps!

THE MAGIC TOUCH

Human beings have a magic touch. Be the things ever so unimportant, good or evil, when we turn our minds and energy to them they come to life.

Let us suppose twins are born to a mother. One twin is normal in every way, but the other is hopelessly deformed in mental capacity and body. The mother turns her attention, out of pity, to the malformed child and completely neglects the normal child. The idiot child grows into a huge hulk of a boy, well fed and cared for; while the normal child is poorly fed, underdeveloped and weak. One day the malformed giant turns against his mother and beats her to death. The undernourished weakling boy tries to prevent it but he is no match for the son which received all the attention from his mother.

Here indeed is a parable of human experience. So often we give our time, money, love and attention to evil and worthless things which soon become so strong and powerful they rise up and control or destroy us.

The fairy godmother who turned Cinderella's pumpkin into a coach had no greater power than we have. Everything we touch comes to life. We will sometime learn to touch those things which will bring blessing instead of death to us. Be careful what you give your attention to. . . . It will come to life before your very eyes! Be sure you know what you are feeding. . . . it may grow up to be a monster that will destroy you!

MAKE A WISH

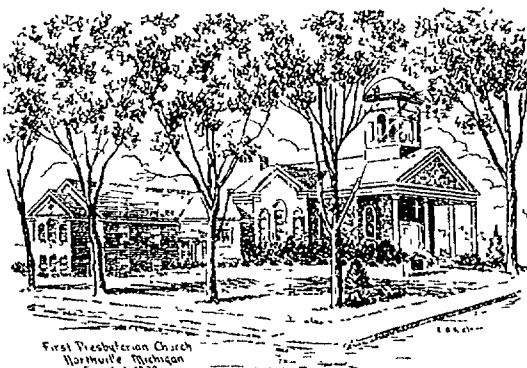

Think of Thanksgiving and you think of turkey. Think of turkey and you're apt to think of that perennial custom of wishing on the wishbone. Much of Thanksgiving hasn't changed. But, thanks to trucks, the kind and character of the various foods that make up the typical Thanksgiving dinner have changed—and for the better, of course.

Turkey is still the main dish—but it's tastier and more tender today. Vegetables are fresh or fresh frozen—hence much more flavorful. There's a crisp tossed salad and fresh fruit "out of season." And for dessert—the choice is wide and the quality high.

All this has been made possible largely by the facilities of modern truck transport. Trucks bring you everything you eat, wear or use—and they'll help make the "eatin'est" day in the year a happier one for most Michiganders. Just sit back and make a wish—and trucks will make it true.

News of Northville High School

A REAL BARGAIN — That's what Cap Pethers (with black hair) is trying to explain about the house he bought in the senior play, "George Washington Slept Here", to Ron Lahr, Mary Hill, Sandy Strasen and Mike Willis (l. to r.). The comedy will be presented tonight and tomorrow night (Thursday and Friday) at 8 p.m. in the Northville community building. This will be the first senior play in which there is a complete set change between the first and second acts.

Class Notes...

Science

The physical science classes of LaGene Quay made a trip recently to the University of Michigan observatory in Ann Arbor. The classes are now studying astronomy.

Art

On December 5, Jack VanHaren, NHS art teacher, will take 60 students to the Detroit Institute of Arts for a tour.

Football

The Northville Exchange club will hold the annual football banquet on December 2 for all the varsity players.

The banquet will be held at the Methodist church at 6:30 p.m. Members of the faculty are invited as guests. Fathers of players are also invited to attend.

Honor Society

Last week members of the NHS National honor society ushered at the Northville high school "Know Your School" night.

They also have a student teaching program which is progressing very well.

Forensic Club

The Northville high school Forensics club held a meeting last week.

Lillian Zinnecker, Sandy Strasen, Becky Coolman and Marianne King debated on the economic value of foreign aid.

A MAJOR ROLE in the senior play will be taken by a pesky fly, whose buzzing will be created electronically by Mike Petz. Aiding Mike in finding the right pitch is Harry Sedan.

"See Yourself as Others Do" Begins in Speech Classes

An innovation of filming students while they are speaking has begun in Northville high school speech classes.

At a recent Michigan Speech association conference in Lansing, Miss Florence Panatoni, high school speech instructor, found that one of the most effective ways of helping students was to point out their faults on film.

By co-ordinating the use of a new tape recorder with the filming, a student can see himself exactly as his audience sees him and can improve more quickly.

The type of film to be used and the lighting arrangements necessary will be determined upon the return of the test films.

Since students did not have to buy textbooks for the course, they will divide the cost of the film.

G.A.L. Members Hold Bowling Session

G.A.L. bowling started today at the Northville Bowling Lanes with members participating.

An instruction session began first with the older members demonstrating the grip, approach and delivery of the ball.

There will be a club tournament consisting of a girl with the highest game, the girl with the highest average and a team with the highest average.

Annual J-Hop

The junior class is busily preparing for the annual J-Hop of Northville high school.

This year the J-Hop will be held November 29 from 9 to 1 a.m.

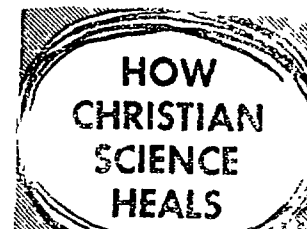

All of the juniors urge alumni and residents of Northville as well as students from ninth to twelfth grades to attend.

Tickets can be obtained from members of the junior class.

Miss Giltner Attends Teachers Conference

Joining Dr. Julius Robinson, head of the business studies department of Eastern Michigan college, and the college business studies staff last Saturday was Miss Kathryn Giltner of Northville high school.

Miss Giltner, along with other business teachers in this area participated in the fifth business education conference which will feature the topic: Streamlining Your Teaching Technique for Increased Classroom Efficiency.

Taxes and Politics

TAXES and their impact on Michigan's business and industrial life are becoming the biggest political news of the year.

The issue has been blown into the hottest off-year fight between Democrats and Republicans in decades.

Republicans got in the latest blow, citing the departure of the Daisy Manufacturing Co. of Plymouth, and a small firm in Crosswell for other states where taxes are lower.

They charge that companies are leaving the state because Gov. Williams is threatening new fiscal policies and additional expenditures which will force new business taxes.

Democrats retort that the Republican-controlled legislature must pass all tax bills and if business is leaving, it is the fault of Republicans.

Since the legislature, no matter which party controls it, must pass all tax bills, the Democrats are accurate when they point out this fact. The real issue Republicans try to press home is this: It is the general economic atmosphere created over a long period by Williams with what they regard as his constant effort to soak industry and business that is causing concern in the mind of the employer. In short, Republicans claim, it is not only the present tax and labor situation which makes the employer uneasy. It is not knowing how and how much he will be taxed or hampered by union activities next.

Cass Hough, top man in the Daisy firm, which manufactures air rifles and toys, said he was taking his company south to shed high labor costs and taxes.

He said labor comes for about $75,000 a year in taxes.

The Crosswell firm says substantially the same thing.

The added element of high labor costs to the issue that has been concentrated on taxes is a more direct attack on labor unions, the political allies of Democrats.

Williams' aides quickly remember that Hough was a member of the State Aeronautics Commission whom the governor replaced. They said this was his way of getting revenge.

Political seers in Lansing are waiting to see if Republicans can keep the issue alive for another year — long enough for effective use in the 1958 state campaign.

MEMBERS of the Michigan Milk Producers association announced their opposition to a state milk marketing law. This is a reverse of last year's stand.

The organization of more than 25,000 dairy farmers, representing the most powerful of three such forces in the field, is expected to have the final word on the bill.

Last year, MMPA supported the plan which would have created a special marketing department in the state department of agriculture.

The plan would allow a milk administrator to divide the state into regions if requested to do so by farmers, wholesalers and consumers. He then would devise a "fair price to all."

The proposal was defeated in the legislature during the spring.

MMPA, which strengthened its organization following the challenges from two rival groups over the past two years, re-evaluated its position.

"Some of the members feel that a law of that kind would help the consumers and the dairies more than it would help the farmers," said Glenn Lake, MMPA president.

High Taxes Discourage Industry Investments

Babson Park, Mass. — Many ask how high prices can be reduced, or at least be kept from going higher. My answer is that the best way to reduce prices is by producing more goods at lower cost. Then I am asked: "But how can costs be lowered in the face of current high wage rates?" To this I reply: "By increasing the investment in labor-saving machinery. This will raise REAL wages for all who work, not just for those who belong to strongly organized unions."

Lower Taxes The Key

Labor-saving machinery is expensive to buy. Today's tight money situation — and the high cost of borrowing that money if you can get it — make it difficult for many firms to help themselves. Before World War II we outproduced the world, with steadily falling prices, by continually increasing the amount of money per worker invested in labor-saving machinery. We have made further progress along this line since the end of World War II, though not so much as we should have made.

In order to assure the economic future of America, we must have incentive to save and incentive to invest those savings profitably. Unfortunately, our present sharply progressive tax system is destroying capital that has already been accumulated. It is also making it difficult to amass new capital. This destruction of our capital bodes ill for the nation as a whole. It can eventually result in a declining standard of living for all.

England A Warning

The wiping out of capital by high income taxes and by death taxes is harmful enough in itself. But it has a side effect which is even more dangerous. Since profits are cut sharply by ill-advised and poorly conceived tax rates and methods, the flow of new capital into industry is slowed. Investors hesitate to take some risks because they know that, even if they win, taxes will siphon off most of the reward.

Today we are still prosperous. Our economy appears well cushioned against drastic declines. Even though sources of capital are drying up, our people as a whole have not yet felt any pinch. Reassured by high wages and moderately good profits, we are not so disturbed as we should be by high taxes. But I predict that high and runaway taxes can lead to our downfall if we don't watch out. We see in England a classic example of the fate that can befall a tax-ridden nation. Once the proud mistress of the seas and center of world commerce, England has been brought to her knees, not by the breakup of the empire but by burdensome taxation.

The State Tax Bite

As I write this, I have before me some startling figures on the state tax burden and the tremendous rate at which it is increasing. For the year ended last June 30, the average state tax burden on every man, woman and child in the U.S. reached the record high of $86.75. This is an increase of $5.15 or 5.1 percent, over the record set in the previous year.

This heavy state tax bite reflects

'Papa' Broomfield Seeks New Laws

Congressman William Broomfield became the father of a new constituent recently.

Barbara Ann Broomfield was born November 7, just as Broomfield completed his two-month tour of all Oakland county cities, villages and townships in a mobile Congressional office.

As a result of his Oakland county tour, in which one-third of his constituents said social security payments are inadequate, Broomfield plans to introduce a bill extending the $1,500 limit on outside earnings and linking payments to a cost-of-living index.

Broomfield also said he will seek to keep the St. Lawrence Seaway in the hands of the army rather than the Commerce department.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come on in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

SPEAKING

for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

In the light of the year-long building slump and the frequent reports of an industry exodus from Michigan it's refreshing to learn that there's an exception to the rule. Especially when the exception exists in our own area.

In the communities of Northville, Novi and Wixom there seems to be a simultaneous "breaking out of the shell". And while other metropolitan areas may experience a leveling off, there's every indication that here the expansion is just beginning.

In Northville last week the first major subdivision to be built within the city limits in more than 25 years got underway. The K & G Building company has enthusiastically jumped into its project with the promise that three models will be ready for public inspection in January.

Although other subdivisions larger than the 125-home "Northville Heights" may follow, this project must stand as an "ice-breaker" and thus in our opinion represents significant progress for Northville.

While digging began in Northville Heights, an announcement came out of Novi township that makes any development seem small by comparison.

Thompson-Brown company of Detroit, a land development firm highly regarded throughout the country for its Kendallwood projects in Farmington township, revealed it would change some 600 acres of farm land into a city of 2,000 homes.

It may be a little difficult to imagine such a subdivision. It represents a community of homes twice the size of Northville. The project will probably take five years to complete and will include a water and sewer system and a sewage disposal plant.

And while this optimistic outlook is being expressed by builders, business and industry have also shown their confidence in the area.

Frank DePodesta, president of the progressive Paragon Construction company in Novi, has called the area one of the best in the state for industrial development. To back up his words he has added some 69,000 square feet to his steel-fabricating plant and will soon have the new area in use. The firm has grown rapidly since moving to Novi in 1954 and now stands third among Michigan's producers of structural steel.

The National Bank of Detroit has shown its evidence of confidence with the opening of a modern banking facility on Grand River. The bank has served the area from a temporary office for two years. Now Novi has banking service that is second to none for convenience and facilities.

Any appraisal of the development of the area must include the Ford Motor company's Lincoln division plant in Wixom. Its entry into the area is responsible for current activity.

Local businessmen and governing officials might take a long look at the changing scene. If retailers are to enjoy business that this new population will bring to the area, they must prepare now.

School and government officials also realize that more people means more services, more classrooms.

We have time to plan and we have good examples of planning for the future all about us.

We can't reveal the identity of the person who gave us this bit of information, but we can vouch for its authenticity and believe it should be of general interest to all readers.

It concerns the equipment taken north by local deer hunters Garrett Barry, C. B. Turnbull and Charles Freydl, Sr. and Jr. It's probably typical of the average hunter.

They're "roughing it" with these bare necessities: one television set and aerial, radio, electric heater, electric frypan, foldaway bed, electric tea kettle, electric blanket, cards (naturally), cider and donuts (?) and, oh yes, four guns.

TELEPHONE lines

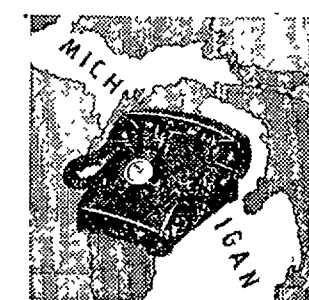

WHAT GIFTS BRING

pleasure every day of the year, make life easier, and are not likely to be duplicated? Additional telephones in color, of course, a welcome solution to the "what to give" problem. Bedroom phones are wonderful for Mother. Dad would get a real kick out of a telephone for his den or basement workshop. And teen-agers think a phone in their own room is tops. Christmas will be here before you know it—a perfect time for giving gift telephones.

THE DISTANT EARLY WARNING LINE—a chain of radar stations stretching 3,000 miles across the Arctic—is now in operation and will give 4 to 6 hours warning if enemy planes approach from the north. The Air Force asked the Bell System to design the DEW line. Among the thousands of men who worked for many months in the cold and desolate Arctic to complete the job on schedule were 4,478 telephone men—many from Michigan. The Bell System skills that produced the DEW line are the same ones that help make your telephone service better and more useful to you every day.

WE RAN ACROSS these figures recently, and we thought you might be interested in seeing how the telephone industry is contributing to Michigan's prosperity. Last year the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit, Western Electric Co., paid $19,325,784 for supplies and materials bought from 1,223 firms in some 146 towns and cities in Michigan. That's quite a lot of business coming into the state, creating job opportunities and helping to keep the factories humming. Since we're all Michiganders ourselves, we're mighty glad to see this.
