"Doc" Cavell... 52 years a veterinarian

His Days as a Veterinarian End at 80 for 'Doc' Cavell

Funeral services were held Monday for Dr. Edwin Brooks Cavell, widely known Northville veterinarian who had practiced in this area for the past 52 years.

Dr. Cavell died at his home at 315 Griswold street last Saturday at the age of 80.

He was known throughout Michigan for his interest in his profession. He served as president of the Michigan Veterinary Medical Association and had been active as veterinarian for the race tracks in this area.

Dr. Cavell was the first practitioner in Michigan to administer a saliva test to a race horse. In 1956, he was honored for 50 years of service as a vet by the Michigan Racing Association.

After graduation he went to Medicine Bow, Wyoming to dig dinosaur bones for a Carnegie Museum expedition. He then spent five years training and shipping horses to the east. During this time he attended night classes at the University of Wyoming where he studied dry farming.

From Wyoming he went to Ontario Veterinary college at Toronto, Ontario, where in 1906 he received his degree in veterinary medicine.

He married Izzetta Cook of Plymouth just one year after graduation, on May 25, 1907. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last May.

Beginning his practice in Northville, Dr. Cavell would make his rounds in a horse and buggy, Mrs. Cavell having a fresh horse ready for the next call when he would return.

Giving freely of his time to civic affairs he served nearly 20 years on the Northville Board of Education, eleven of which he was president. He was a past president of the Northville Exchange club and a Mason, Macabee and Woodman.

He is survived by his widow; a son, Dr. E. B. Cavell, Jr., of Tawas City; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Casady, of San Diego, and Mrs. Sterling Eaton, of Plymouth; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. A brother, James, preceded him in death.

Services were held from the First Presbyterian church of Northville by the Schrader Funeral home of Plymouth with Dempsey B. Ebert of Northville assisting.

The Rev. John Taxis of the First Presbyterian church, Northville, officiated. Interment was made at Rural Hill cemetery, Northville. Pallbearers were Orson Atchinson, Harold Bloom, Herbert Brown, Clair Cook, Mike Gussell, Orlow Owen, Gerald Teschka and Harry Wagenschutz.

City Planners to Meet

A meeting to study four re-zoning requests has been called for next Tuesday evening by Thomas Carington, chairman of the Northville Planning Commission.

The nine-member group met last Tuesday at the City Hall to hear Raymond Eastman, planning director of the city of Ann Arbor, discuss community planning problems.

Young Mother Dies in Sleep; Father Seeks Aid for Girls

Tragedy struck a Northville family last week, leaving a young father a widower and his two children motherless.

Mrs. Norma Rose Noakes, 22, died in her sleep early Saturday morning when a blood clot in her lungs choked off her breath.

Her husband, William, awoke at 6:30 a.m. to discover his wife still clutching their two-week-old baby, who had slept between them.

Noakes returned with his wife's body to Westerville, Vermont for funeral services and burial this week. The children, Margaret, 2, and Barbara, 2 weeks, stayed in Northville.

Noakes plans to return to Northville soon and resume work at Allen Monument Works.

"He wants to stay in Northville," said his employer, councilman Malcolm Allen, "but he is worried about what to do with the children while he's at work. A widow can usually find aid, but a widower is left on his own."

Allen said the baby is presently being cared for by Sessions hospi-

New, Wider Novi Road Is Planned

Treacherous Novi road is on the books to be completely rebuilt and widened from Northville to Walled Lake within the next three years.

It will cost upwards of $500,000 for the five mile route.

In revealing the plans, Oakland county highway engineer Paul Van Roekel called Novi road "one of Oakland county's worst conditions."

Van Roekel said the three miles from Northville to Grand River are scheduled to be completed in 1959 and the two miles from Grand River to Walled Lake in 1960.

The project would cost about $100,000 a mile, he said. But he emphasized that the plans are still in the tentative stage, and that unforeseen developments could throw the project off schedule.

According to the present plans, Novi road will be completely torn up and its road bed will be widened. Hills will be cut down to improve sight distance, and drainage will be improved.

It will remain a two-lane road for the entire distance, Van Roekel said.

Construction of the south end of the road will tie in with construction of the proposed Eight Mile cutoff around Northville, Van Roekel said.

(The cutoff will go across roadless land near the Amerman school in Northville, connecting the east and west sections of Eight Mile. At present, the Eight Mile route dips into Northville for about a mile).

Present cutoff plans also call for Novi road to be sealed off north of the C&O tracks outside Northville, and for Novi-Northville traffic to be re-routed over the cutoff and down an improved Center street into Northville.

Mustangs Triumph, Now Await Holly

With an easy conquest of Bloomfield Hills out of the way, the Northville Mustangs are awaiting the arrival of an unbeaten, league-leading Holly squad here tomorrow night.

The Northville-Holly tangle, one of the top games of the year, will begin at 8 p.m. in the community building. The junior varsity will tee off at 7 p.m.

The Mustangs put their league record at 3-1 Tuesday night with a steady but unspectacular 62-33 defeat of Bloomfield Hills.

Northville sank its first basket with only six seconds gone, and was never headed. The Mustangs built an 8-0 lead, then settled for 15-8 first-quarter edge.

Dick Biery put on an 11-point second quarter to pace the Mustangs to a 30-15 halftime margin. And despite many whistle-blowing assists to Bloomfield by the referees, Northville led 43-25 going into the fourth quarter.

Biery led the Mustangs with 21 points, while Cap Pethers bucketed 17. Bill Yahn had 11.

Holly, tied with Clarkston for the Wayne-Oakland league, has never been pressed so far this year. Last year, Holly was the team which broke Northville's 10-game winning streak and helped keep the Mustangs from an undisputed title.

Speak Up Readers

It struck us rather oddly, but the other day one of our readers seemed surprised to learn that The Northville Record will publish letters to the editor.

Not only does The Record accept such letters, but it encourages them. We realize that an area with 4,000 residents must have many good ideas crying for expression. (See page 10 for a few).

Our policy is this: any letter, providing it is not libelous or in poor taste, will be published. All letters must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request.

For the sake of space, letters should be kept to about 250 words roughly a typewritten page — or less. In some cases, of course, letters must be longer to cover the subject.

Bonds for High School on Sale

Two necessary "approvals" of the $1,650,000 bond issue for the new high school were received by the Northville board of education Monday night and a March 1 target date for construction has been set.

Both the Municipal Finance Commission and the State Department of Public Instruction have given their "okays" to the bond issue.

Bids on bonds will be received and opened at a special meeting on January 22. The board plans to let construction bids on February 20.

Work on the North Center street site for the new school as already begun, clearing the way with access roads for the spring invasion of construction workers March 1.

Architects of Eberle M. Smith Associates have estimated that the structure will require 400 days to complete after bids have been let, so that the new facility should be completed sometime in April, 1959.

Regarding the easement over school property requested by the city several weeks ago, attorney James Littell announced that because Northville is a fourth class

Downs May Get '58 Dates Tonight

Northville Downs may know tonight what dates it will have for racing this year.

Officials of the Downs and other Michigan tracks are scheduled to meet with racing commissioner James H. Inglis for a second attempt to thrash out the state's 1958 racing calendar.

The Downs, required by its lease with the Northville Driving club to seek 60 nights of racing each year, has requested a meeting from June 2 through August 9.

Inglis said it is "doubtful" that the Downs will get that many, but added that it is possible that Northville may get summer dates.

City Night Parking Ban Takes Effect January 17

City councilmen gave final approval to four ordinances Monday evening after hearing citizen complaints about one of the measures.

Roland Tabor, 537 West Main street, told councilmen that the all night parking ban would cause him a hardship. Tabor stated that he rented rooms and that it was necessary for his tenants to use the street for parking. He pointed out that he had a single garage and single driveway. "My renters go to work at different times and cannot all park in the driveway. Besides it's unsafe in case of emergency," he added.

Councilman Ed Welch suggested use of the community parking lot or providing more parking on his property for renters. Mayor Claude Ely pointed out that the council was attempting to enforce a law that would benefit the whole community. "It's a hardship on residents when we do not use our street cleaning equipment properly," he pointed out. The new ordinance will ban parking from 2:00 until 6:00 a.m. to allow snow removal and street cleaning.

Robert Dixon, 234 North Rogers, told councilmen he cannot get his car off the street because the street is 18 to 24 inches higher than the walk. "I would put in a drive and build a garage if this condition was corrected," he told the council. Mayor Ely directed the city manager and Councilman Malcolm Allen to investigate Dixon's problem.

Councilman Allen summarized the council's attitude on the parking ban. "People in the business of renting rooms must take the responsibility of providing parking just like any other business. They can't park on the streets at the expense of the general welfare of the community."

The city manager stated that some residents had already requested the city to cut curbs to allow construction of drive-ways. The council agreed that extreme cases would need special attention, but that no exceptions should be made if the parking ban is to serve its purpose.

Mayor Ely asked that special courtesy tickets be used during the first two weeks after the ordinance takes effect on January 17. "Now it's up to the city to do a good job of keeping the streets clean," he added.

Cleanup Committee To Meet Tonight

A central steering committee for Northville's community-wide cleanup campaign for 1958 was appointed this week.

Mrs. Louise Cansfield, president of the Coordinating Council, named Mrs. Essie Nirider, Mrs. Arlo Hauger, John Canterbury, Joe Crupi, Bob German and Leland Smith to begin plans for the campaign. She indicated that additional members will be added and that the Coordinating Council will seek representatives from all organizations to aid in the effort.

Canterbury, as temporary chairman of the steering committee, called the first meeting of the group for this evening (Thursday) at the City Hall at 8 o'clock.

The board took the action following a request to township heating contractors that a reciprocal code be adopted. Attorney James Littell advised board members that adoption of the model ordinance would provide an immediate answer, but that study should begin on an ordinance designed specifically for the township. Members supported the action unanimously. Trustee Alex Lawrence pointed out that along with a heating ordinance the township should give attention to an electrical code.

Will Build on Allied Site If Business Stays Good

The loss of the Allied Products plant in a $1,000,000 holocaust last summer appeared this week to be in reality a gain for Northville.

Officials of Foundry Flask and Equipment company, located in Northville since 1946, announced this week that they have purchased the former Allied Products site and hope to build a new, modern plant there as soon as possible.

If Foundry Flask's plans go through, it probably would mean new jobs, a newly-beautified area, and another new industry for Northville.

John A. Weber, president of Foundry Flask, said his firm's plans for a new plant hinge on general business activity during the next few months.

"I'm optimistic about our business outlook," he said, "and if it is as successful as we anticipate, we'll go ahead with our plans to expand."

Weber said the plans call for a 20,000-square-foot building to be built on the old Allied Products site. It would put all of Foundry Flask's operations under one roof. At present, they are spread out among several buildings at the east end of Cady street.

Contracts for demolishing the gutted Allied Products plant were let several weeks ago, and razing operations are already in progress. Weber said the site would be cleared in about 90 days.

If the expansion plan goes through, construction of the new plant would begin later this year and probably be completed next year, he said.

"Within two or three years, the new plant could be a genuine beauty spot of which Northville could be proud," he said.

Weber said the firm's present buildings probably be sold to another industry. But he did not indicate whether a possible buyer is being considered at this time.

"Our present buildings would be very desirable for an industry that has not yet expanded to our size," he said.

Foundry Flask manufactures and reconditions tools, flasks and other foundry equipment and supplies several leading automotive, farm implement and hardware manufacturers.

Normally, the firm employs between 75 and 80 persons. Presumably, this figure would increase if the expansion plan goes through.

Another 15 to 20 persons are employed at a smaller plant in Ohio.

Township Adopts Heating Ordinance

Northville township adopted the Reciprocal Heating Council's model ordinance by reference Tuesday evening thereby establishing regulations for design, construction, installation and use of space heating equipment.

The board took the action following a request to township heating contractors that a reciprocal code be adopted. Attorney James Littell advised board members that adoption of the model ordinance would provide an immediate answer, but that study should begin on an ordinance designed specifically for the township. Allied Still Ponders Future

A spokesman for Allied Products corporation said this week his firm is still undecided about its fate in Northville.

"With the sale of our plant to Foundry Flask, we don't own a single piece of property in Northville now," he said. "But we have always liked the city, and it has been a good location for us."

He said the firm probably would not make a final decision until March.

He neither confirmed nor denied rumors that the powdered metal operation, which was conducted at the Northville plant until it was destroyed by fire last summer, would be moved to a plant in Manchester.

Hearing Delayed In Annexation Suit

Action in the Warren Products-Northville annexation suit has been delayed another week until next Monday.

The delay came when Warren attorneys asked Judge Clark J. Adams for more time to file briefs in answer to Northville's motion to dismiss the court action. A hearing on the dismissal request had been scheduled for last Monday.

The suit was enacted by Warren Products officials protesting a November 19 election annexing 220 acres of Novi township, including the Warren plant, to the city of Northville. The trial date was set for December 18 but was delayed when Philip Ogilvie, city attorney, asked that the court dismiss the suit on the basis that the city was not responsible for calling the election and therefore not the proper defendant in the case.

Should Judge Adams uphold the city's position, it is probable that the case would then move to the state supreme court.

Tax Collections

Residents of the city and township are paying their school, county and township taxes at about the same rate, according to collection figures this week.

Township treasurer Roy Terrill reported that he had collected $75,000 of the township's $221,000 roll. City residents have paid $85,000 from a total of approximately $250,000.

Terrill, who collects daily at the Manufacturers National Bank in Northville, reported his biggest single day last Friday when $19,000 was collected.

Friday, February 28 is the final day for payment. City residents pay their school and county taxes at the City Hall.

"JOIN THE MARCH" is the byword in Northville this month as the annual drive for funds for polio gets underway under the leadership of Mrs. J. W. Reynolds. The month-long campaign will wind up with the "Mothers' March" on polio on January 29, when Northville mothers will cover every home in the city. Other activities include a peanut sale and dance by the high school student council, and canister collections in local business places.

Northville Council Brings Christmas To Hospital Patients

Through the Northville Coordinating Council, all of the local church, civic and service groups in Northville cooperated with Northville State hospital so that every patient received a Christmas present of his or her choice.

As has been the practice at the hospital, each patient filled out a slip, indicating the first three choices for Christmas, and these slips were mailed to relatives.

In cases where there were no relatives or friends, the slips were given to groups and individuals, wishing to remember "forgotten" patients, with gifts ranging from $1.50 to $2.00 in value.

Assisted by Miss Ruth Knapp as the volunteer shopper, groups belonging to the Coordinating Council, "went all out", according to Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of social service at the hospital.

She added, "only those of us who work at the hospital and see these same patients, day after day, can really appreciate how much these presents mean to the patients. Anyone who is ill is sensitive to other people's attitudes toward him, and has a feeling of isolation from the community. With psychiatric patients, this is particularly true, and is an area where help and interest from the community is very valuable in a hospital program."

Elsa Couse to Speak To Woman's Society

The regular meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church will be held next Tuesday, January 14 at the church house at 12:30.

Northville high school senior Elsa Couse will speak on her experiences as an exchange student in Germany last summer.

Oakland Girl Scouts Plan Open Meeting

All senior girl scouts of southern Oakland county and their leaders are invited to attend an open meeting of the senior planning board today, January 9.

The program will include an explanation of the senior planning board and its function, and of the manner, wing and service branches of scouting.

The four senior scout delegates to the National Girl Scout convention will report on their experiences. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. and will be held in the Clara Barton junior high school auditorium, Main street and University, Royal Oak.

Under a new program, a girl may complete her fourth year of nursing school at government expense. Accepted candidates are enlisted as Hospitalman (WAVE) and will receive $69.37 monthly. And, tuition, books, incidental fees and room and board are paid by the Navy.

Applicants must be full time students in a school of nursing. Upon graduation, appointees will be commissioned as an officer in the Nurse Corps, U.S. Naval Reserve. Further information may be supplied by the local navy recruiter.

3 from Northville On Cleary Honor Roll

Three Northville students were named to the honor roll at Cleary college in Ypsilanti this week as the school announced a new high in scholastic achievement.

The three from Northville are Sandy York, Norma Stobbe and Dorothy Stubbs.

The business college said 37.7 percent of its 522 students had a B average or better, the highest in its 74-year history. Some 44 students had all A's.

The rise was attributed primarily to a new program of student-teacher counseling.

Garden Club to Hear Talk On Flower Arrangements

The January 13 meeting of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Scott of Seven Mile road.

Mrs. Lewis C. Dibble will talk on flower arrangements and using dried materials. Mrs. Dibble has been interested in art since she attended the University of Michigan.

She has studied design and painting in the United States and Europe under noted artists. She has recently taken courses with Peter Duenas, who is a well known instructor in Birmingham.

Her articles in the New York Times and American Home have indicated that her interests lie in the horticultural side of flower gardening as well as arranging flowers. Her interest in ceramics and sculpture is evident in her garden which she has recently designed at her Birmingham home.

It Says "Greatness"...in Any Language!

Wherever highways exist and motor cars are known, the name "Cadillac" signifies but one thing—the unmistakable leader in its field.

For the motor car that has borne that distinguished name for the past fifty-five years has been so well designed and crafted that it has become a synonym for everything good and desirable in a product.

And never have these virtues been more evident than they are in the Cadillac car for 1958.

A single, sweeping glance at the new "car of cars", for example, reveals a grace and majesty and elegance never before attainable in modern automotive design.

A brief journey at the wheel provides irrefutable proof of the forward strides that have been made in Cadillac performance and in Fleetwood coachcrafting.

And a study of the facts about Cadillac economy and dependability indicates a soundness of investment beyond anything in Cadillac's brilliant past.

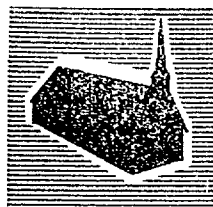

If you haven't as yet inspected and driven a 1958 Cadillac, you should do so very soon.

Whatever your favorite among Cadillac's wide selection of models, which includes the distinguished Eldorado Brougham, you will find it a rare masterpiece in everything a Cadillac can be.

THE DAWN OF GOD'S TOMORROW

We are living in a wonderful age. Never before has man made such wonderful advances in scientific knowledge. The latest of these achievements is, of course, the man-made planet that has been spinning around the world. It will only be a matter of time they tell us before we will have perfected a planet which will carry human beings into space. Then, too, we are just beginning to put atomic energy into use. Soon we will have our homes lighted and heated with atomic energy. Even our automobiles will be powered with this unlimited resource. One often wonders, what will they discover next. It is regrettable however that most of man's energy has been wasted in wars. It seems to be the opinion that these man-made planets will figure greatly in the next war and therefore our defense department rushes to catch up! But think of what a wonderful place this world would be if all this wonderful knowledge discovered by man could be put to peaceful and purposeful use.

Such a day is coming and what a glorious time it will be to live. According to the Scriptures this present age will end when Jesus Christ returns to suddenly and secretly remove the real Christians from all this earth. They will be removed so that God may pour forth judgments upon this earth because of their ungodliness and willful rebellion. After seven years of judgments the Lord Jesus will return with His saints to set up His government upon the earth. His kingdom will be an eternal Kingdom (Dan. 2:44). Jesus Christ will be King over all the earth (Isa. 9:7). Jerusalem will be the world capital (Micah 4:7). There will be no war (Isa. 2:1-4). All handicaps will be removed (Isa. 35:5-6). The wild nature of animals will be removed (Isa. 65:25). The deserts shall blossom like a rose (Isa. 35:5-6). Truly there shall be freedom from fear (Micah 4:4). Righteousness shall spring forth from the earth (Psalms 85:11-13). Everyone will know the Lord (Heb. 2:14).

Perhaps all this may be new and fantastic to this present generation of earth dwellers, but this is plainly the revelation of God concerning the future. Since there will be no war all the energy and materials being spent then can be turned into benefits for man. It seems almost limitless what can be done under such wonderful conditions.

The believers, who will be with the Lord in heaven at that time will live again and reign with Him. (Rev. 20:6) They shall not only see this marvelous age but have a part in administering the affairs of the world during this time.

If the dawn of God's tomorrow is so amazing, how much greater will it be when that tomorrow comes. The best for the Christian is yet ahead. I wouldn't want to miss it!

LOST AMONG FRIENDS—Little Debby Crowe just took a walk one day last week and ended up at the Northville city hall where she sat peacefully content with her dolls while everyone in the city offices tried to find out where "home" was. Mrs. Cecil Crowe, who had been looking for her daughter, was finally reached and Debby was taken home to 677 West Dunlap street.

The Coach's Corner

by STAN JOHNSTON
Northville High School Basketball Coach

One of the toughest jobs a coach has is substituting. When he makes replacements in the ball game and whom he sends in are problems that take thorough consideration before he makes the move.

When should a substitution be made? This depends upon several things. Are some of the players tiring? Has the other team changed its offense to the extent that some player on the bench would do a better job at this time? Is one of the boys not playing up to his ability? Are we far enough ahead point-wise that some of the other fellows should have a chance to play?

It is only right that every player on the varsity squad should have an opportunity to get into the contest. I believe this is true with the exception that it does not jeopardize your chances of winning. I have never known a coach who did not feel badly after a contest if he did not get all of his boys into the ball game — even if he won. A victory is a team victory because if it were not for the fine effort put forth by the second team in practice sessions there would be no victories.

Some people criticize the coach because it appears that he is being unfair in not getting more boys into a game. This is their privilege. I wonder what their comments would be if we lost a game because the coach was too free with his substitutions?

Whom you should put into a contest depends upon the many things too numerous to explain here. Generally you try to match the sub to the general playing characteristics of the man leaving the game and the man he is to guard. Some players have certain attributes which make them more valuable in some game situations. Again it is the problem of the coach to deal with this phase of the game.

It's Been Rough Statistically

A quick glance at the statistics is proof enough that the Northville Mustangs have not been up to par so far this year.

From individual scoring records to a quarter-by-quarter breakdown, they show that the Mustangs' 2-2 record is just about what it should be.

And at the same time, a comparison with last year's statistics yields the not-so-surprising conclusion that the Mustangs played better ball up to this time a year ago.

The individual statistics show: — that only two Mustangs have averaged more than 10 points a game (Bill Yahne, Cap Pethers).

— that only three have managed to hit more than 10 points in a single game (those two and Dick Biery).

— and that the Mustangs have connected on only 51 percent (31 of 66 of their free throws).

Quarter-by-quarter, the Mustangs have a slight edge over their opponents. They have taken eight, their opponents have captured seven, and one was tied — all of which is in line with that 2-2 record.

In their four games, the Mustangs have out-averaged their opponents 46-44. Defensively, it appears, they have what it takes. But offensively, they just haven't jelled.

Therein lies perhaps the biggest surprise, for last year the Mustangs were a hot-shooting club for the most part. They averaged 67 points a game in their first five outings, and all five starters had averages of over 10 points. What's more, three players had 20-point nights in the first five games.

This year, with three of those five (Yahne, Biery, Goodrich) joined by Pethers, who sported a 29-point average as a sophomore, the Mustangs were expected to keep the net swishing all night long. But for some reason, they haven't. And the records show it.

The leading scorers:		FG	FT	Pts.	Avg.

Hunter Bags Birds, Is Bagged Himself

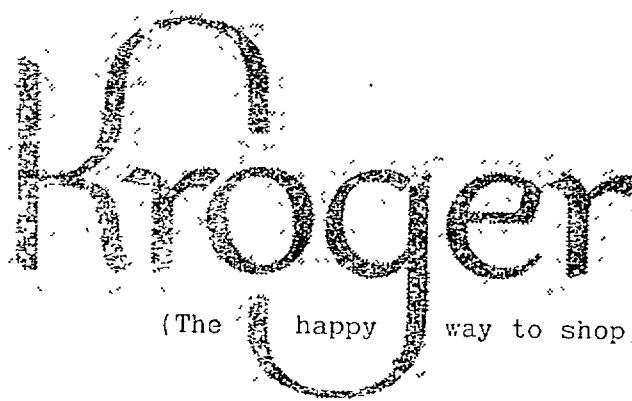

A Plymouth man and a Novi patrolman both found the hunting pretty good near Northville Monday. Raymond E. Brown, 32, 49210 Gyde, Plymouth, managed to bag four quail and two hen pheasants with little trouble.

Novi patrolman Richard Noble, who spotted Brown on Beck road near Northville Estates, found it a bit more difficult to bag Brown, however. But after a half-mile chase he did it.

Brown pleaded guilty before Justice William MacDermid and paid $100 fine and $7.80 costs on four charges: illegal possession of game, shooting hen pheasants, shooting protected birds, and having an assembled gun in his car.

Hatchery Now Open to Skating

The weatherman and the U.S. government joined hands this week to give Northville a place to skate.

A cold snap and a formal agreement between city and recreation officials and a federal representative opened the U.S. fish hatchery on West Seven Mile road to skating Tuesday.

Upwards of 60 skaters jumped the gun Sunday, however, and glided across the hatchery ponds for several hours despite efforts of recreation officials to shoo them away.

In any case, it's official now. And recreation director Stan Johnston has laid down these regulations for use of the hatchery.

— skating will be allowed only on the three or four ponds which are cleaned off.

— skating will be supervised from 8:30 to 8:30 p.m. on week days and from 9 to 8:30 p.m. on week ends, and ponds should not be used at other times.

— since parking facilities are limited, drivers may have to park further on down the road or on one of the side streets; in any case, drivers should not block the hatchery parking lot and should not create a hazard by parking on the Seven Mile road curve.

— skaters should walk on the paths and not across grassy areas.

— no fires are to be built, and loitering will not be allowed near the hatchery building.

— parents should not allow very young children to go skating alone; the supervisors can not watch every child.

"We'll have to honor these regulations," said Johnston, "or else we may not be able to use the hatchery next year. First and foremost, the ponds belong to the hatchery for use in fish experiments and development. If skaters get in the hair of its officials, we'll lose our chance to skate there."

Approval of the hatchery for skating came last week, after the Northville recreation committee had closed the Ford mill pond to skating because of a potentially dangerous open channel.

Do high shoes cause weak feet?

No. Recently a mother quoted the writer as saying that high shoes weaken the feet and ankles but that was a misquote. The writer stated that high shoes do not strengthen the musculature. It is the writer's opinion that high shoes neither weaken nor strengthen the foot because high shoes cannot be laced tight enough to give support.

It would be unfortunate to discourage the use of high shoes for babies. They are cute and appropriate. And you can buy them with plenty of grow room without worrying about the shoes falling off.

I would be guided by the advice of my shoefitter and once I made my choice of high shoes or low ones I would not be disturbed by the advice that flows so freely from the generation that made bunions famous.

DOWNS FIRE — Damage estimated at $600 resulted from a fire Friday evening in the tack room of the William Jones stables at Northville Downs. Firemen worked for an hour to extinguish the flames which were confined to a single room at the end of the stables. Horsemen Howard McVey and Dean Kaecher discovered the fire and helped lead 10 horses from the stables. A cot, harness and stove were destroyed as well as the interior of the tack room. Chief William McGee said cause of the fire was undetermined. The call was received at 5:45 p.m.

Hospital Committee To Hear Speaker

Dr. Peter G. Beckett, assistant medical director of Lafayette Clinic, Michigan's newest facility for research and training in the field of mental illness, will address a meeting of the Citizens' Auxiliary Committee for Northville State hospital next Wednesday.

"Research in Mental Illness" is the subject chosen by Dr. Beckett.

His research work, before coming to Lafayette Clinic, included five years with the Mayo Clinic on mental illness and mental deficiency.

The public is invited to attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m. in room 809 of the Veterans' Memorial building, 151 West Jefferson, Detroit.

WINNERS OF A NEW CONTINENTAL MARK III and their families visited the Lincoln plant in Wixom last week to place an order for the Continental of their choice. The 15 winners were vacuum cleaner distributor representatives, who participated in a nation-wide sales contest for the Scott and Fetzer company of Cleveland.

BACK HOME AGAIN. All I can say is this:

I like to live in a little town, Where the trees meet across the street. Where you wave your hand and say "hello" To everyone you meet.

I like to stand for a moment Outside the grocery store And listen to the friendly gossip Of the folks that live next door.

For life is interwoven With the friends we learn to know; And we hear their joys and sorrows As we daily come and go.

So I like to live in a small town, I care no more to roam, For every house in a little town Is more than a house; It's home.

For the purpose of awarding the amount.

pany and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Attorneys, Penobscot Building, Detroit, Michigan, which opinion will be furnished, without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof, approving the legality of the bonds. The purchaser shall furnish bonds ready for execution at his expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be designated by the purchaser.

Inquiries with respect to the details of the issue should be address-

State on Money Hunt

MICHIGAN NEEDS $50,000,000 to avoid a red ink budget for next year. The legislature is back to wrestle with the problem and has before it a number of suggestions from Gov. Williams.

The whole picture is complicated by the eagerness of both parties to please in an election year.

Williams, who has asked state agencies to spend less to save against the anticipated austerity of next year, chopped dozens of choice items out of his budget.

Projects that could wait for a year were held back and others were shelved indefinitely.

Williams then proposed a long-range bond issue for construction to be retired by belt-tightening. Higher taxes on intangibles — stocks, bonds and other securities — is another plank in the platform to make ends meet, or come close, before voters go to the polls next fall.

Republicans charge that Williams' wrong guess on anticipated revenue for next year and this year created part of the money crisis.

To tighten the screws on the whole situation, Republicans are pledged to no new taxes until they complete two investigations of the state's financial structure next year.

GOP legislators — Reps. George W. Sallade, of Ann Arbor, and Willard I. Bowerman, of Lansing, had the bond issue idea first. Williams' is a variation of both.

Sallade came out for the bond issue to build university projects on a full faith and credit basis. Bowerman would allow students to sign notes, payable after they graduate.

Experts in Lansing predict that the 1958 session of the legislature will be "torrid".

PUBLIC SAFETY in an age of atomic energy for both war and peace has developed as a major target for state government.

Labor organizations were the first to protest two years ago when the Enrico Fermi Corp., organized by a syndicate of power utilities, planned to build a nuclear reactor in Monroe.

The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington said it would be safe for workers and the community.

Repeated complaints from the unions, however, prompted Gov. Williams to create a special investigating commission to develop a master plan for atomic safety.

It has come up with a plan for an atomic energy "czar", a director of Atomic Activities who will use the combined talents of six state agencies to formulate plans and to enforce them.

A safety advisory board will develop safety standards. Another on science will seek to find new ways to use atomic energy in the state's economy.

For instance, the department of agriculture will be asked to determine the uses of atomic energy on the farm.

It will be the state's first attempt to get into the atomic energy field.

Processors, producers, transporters and others who come into contact with atomic energy in the state would be required to get a license from the state in addition to the Federal government.

MORE MONEY for local health departments will be sought from the legislature before spring.

It will be one of the top-priority projects of the state health department which, this year, has an organized group at its elbow.

More than 100 of its leaders met in Lansing last in 1957 to establish the priority list and pledge their support to the health department budget for 1958-59.

FARM LAWS to be proposed by the governor this year will be highlighted by his Seal of Quality proposal — defeated every year since he took office in the legislature.

The theory is to establish standards of all Michigan farm products and to identify those which meet them with a seal for advertising purposes through the nationwide market.

More support for the "Seal" idea than in the past is evident. Since many farm organizations have endorsed it for the first time, it has a better chance of becoming law.

There will be a milk-marketing bill in the 1958 legislature, proposing the creation of a special state system for fixing milk prices.

However, the major farm groups are opposed to any state regulation — and it expected to die.

Parking In The Rear

Readers Speak Up:

WHO WILL PAY FOR IMPROVEMENTS?

To the Editor:

I've just been reading your large plans for Northville's improvement and I can't say I find them very exhilarating or welcome to the citizens who will have to pay and pay.

Haven't we just received a huge increase in taxes of 60 percent for a new school, which we were assured last year would only be a "few mills"? Now the school is expected to buy a white elephant from the city; a thing which they admittedly can't afford to keep going and no use; a building which cost thousands of dollars that they now want to sell back to the people who paid for it in order to further another useless scheme.

And as for an "intangible reason" like civic pride, let me ask the citizen who is paying for $75,000 or more; can your pride stand a new city hall?

And permit me another: what are the taxpayers to do when the city tax becomes more than the county-state tax?

You say overlook the "fly specks". What can that be, I wonder? The man who can't pay for it all? Like the ones who work in heavy industry in which many are laid off and seems to be more than likely a lot more in 1958?

Of course, all the industry seems to be in the act of leaving Northville because of taxes but they must be "fly specks" also.

Mrs. Charles Johnson

BLOCK STREAM

To the editor:

Who benefits from the new expressway between the railroad overpass and Taft road?

If you look to the north side of the road about 300 feet you will see a small drain tube which at one time was filled with gravel and rock and has been again filled since. And if you were to open up the one tube that was left under the new expressway you would find it too full of this gravel and rock. Again this August, because of these, we had to clean muck and slime out of this stream in back of our house to eliminate the smell.

On the south side of the highway about 800 feet, the same stream has been blocked up with a lot of rubbish. That is cement forms and so forth that was left in the stream by the contractor last spring. This, Mr. Tax Payer, is why our officials say we need a new dredge job. It's your money, Mr. Tax Payer.

I received a letter last April 4 from the department of Health (by request of the man who always has time for the little fellow — Gov. Williams) saying a man would be out from the health department in Pontiac to see us. But we have seen no one. Yet these officers are maintained as a service to the public.

When the next rainy spell comes and the frost is out, drive down Taft road from 12 Mile (DO NOT COME IN WITH THE FIRE TRUCK BECAUSE YOU WON'T GET THROUGH. YOU OIL MAN WON'T COME in when it's wet. And this is our only entrance!) You will find it axle deep. The contractor caved in the tube that lets the water through and it was filled with plain dirt. My neighbors have called for over a year only to get the same old buck-pass. It's your tax money that's going to be used to fix these things. Mr. Tax Payer, if they're ever fixed.

Thank you,
D. M. Parkinson
27110 Taft, Novi

SPEAKING
for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

Northville is being well represented on television these days. On January 1 A. T. "Tony" Skover performed coast-to-coast as referee of the Rose Bowl game. He introduced the team captains and otherwise handled the pre-game formalities flawlessly in addition to calling a fine game.

Tony is a great golfing enthusiast and stayed in California to see the Los Angeles Open and play a few rounds himself. He's currently club champion at Meadowbrook.

Pretty Jan Porath, Northville's Miss Rodeo America, will appear on television tonight (Thursday) in Denver, Colorado leading the grand march at the annual Stockman's Ball. The event is part of an annual celebration saluting the livestock industry.

* * *

This Sunday Meadowbrook's Chick Harbert will appear on the nationwide telecast of Bing Crosby's annual Pebble Beach golf tourney. Harbert, who this week played in the Los Angeles Open, will assume dual duties as commentator and player in the Crosby event.

If you're weary from the strain of the Christmas holidays, consider what it's like in Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Jan Reef, both native Hollanders who reside on Northville road, related to us some of the interesting customs of their homeland.

Presents come on December 5, while the Christmas trees and religious observances take place December 24 and 25. On the 26th there is more celebrating and on Christmas Eve church bells all over the country ring for a solid half hour.

The custom in Germany, say the Reefs, is for the merchants to close shop from Christmas Eve until January 5.

Seek Volunteers To Aid Agencies In Service Work

Northville, Novi and Wixom residents were urged this week to donate several hours a week for helping community agencies during the year.

The plea came from United Community Services, which seeks volunteers for more than 600 health, welfare, cultural and civic agencies in this area.

Teen-agers, housewives and career people are needed, as well as groups, the organization said. Currently, United Community Services is looking for:

— recreation leaders to work with children, teen-agers and retirees.

— volunteers with special skills in arts, crafts, cooking, sewing and the like.

— volunteers to care for babies and small children in homes, day nurseries and hospitals.

— receptionists for museums, clinics and welfare agencies.

— hospital aides.

— drivers to transport ill or handicapped persons to hospitals.

— visitors to call on aged people in convalescent homes or their own homes.

— typists for all types of clerical work.

— groups to plan entertainment for mental patients, children in settlements, and old folks.

— volunteers for general telephone and mailing work.

Supported by the Torch Drive, the UCS office is located at 51 West Warren in Detroit. Its telephone number is TE 1-1600.

Readers Speak Up: WANTS INDUSTRY IN NORTHVILLE

To the Editor:

Why didn't they know we needed a City Hall more than a Community building when they built it?

Why didn't they know it would have to be maintained?

You say it would be illogical and highly expensive to convert it into a city hall. It would be the same case if it were purchased by the school district and used for a school.

The citizens of Northville would oppose a tax increase. Our taxes have been increased plenty this year and they tell me they will be raised again next year. Our school tax now is 75 percent of total.

They should improve the tax situation by getting industries to locate here. Novi and Plymouth seem to be able to get them.

The Lincoln plant is not going to pay our taxes and we are not sure of the race track move.

THAT'S ME — The Record's front window was one of the most popular gathering places in Northville this week as hundreds of photographs were displayed during its annual picture sale. Adam and Eve A MYTH?

According to the Associated Press report an Anglican bishop in Southwell, England, says that the Bible story of Adam and Eve is a myth. This is what he said, "It does not describe an event which happened at the dawn of history."

It presents one of the permanent and moral realities of human nature. The author is stating a fundamental truth about man in the form of a story, or as theologians now say, a myth. It is indeed a dramatic presentation of the meaning of sin, and it rings true in all ages." It is regrettable indeed when such criticism comes from those in the Church who are called to be defenders of the faith. It is alarming to see proponents of infidelity and skepticism are often found in the pulpits in these days. The Bible declares itself to be the Word of God. The accounts therein are declared to be God's revelation to man, and if there are mistakes in this revelation then God is mistaken! Perish such a thought — for He is God, infinitely wise and without error. If I cannot depend upon the Genesis account of Creation then I cannot depend upon anything else either. Oh, when will men ever learn to believe what God has written? "Let God be true!"
