

School Wins Out In Contractor Suit

A suit filed by the low bidding construction firm protesting the school board's selection of Walter L. Couse & company as contractor for the new high school was dismissed in Wayne county circuit court Friday.

Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy granted school Attorney James Littell's motion for dismissal after citing the law governing awarding of contracts by fourth class school districts.

Just Sign Here . . . 1,850 Times!

It's no pleasure trip that school board President Nelson Schrader and Secretary Robert Shafer will be taking to Chicago next Thursday, March 6.

All they have to do is sign their names on school bonds—a breeze, you might say.

But each must pen his signature on 1,850 bonds, face value $1,000 each.

They add up to two cases of "writer's cramp," spots before the eyes, and a slight flinch when the school officials find it necessary to sign anything within the next few weeks.

But they also add up to $1,850,000 — to cover the cost of the new Northville high school.

Spring Is Fine, Except for Roads

Many Northville streets turned into quagmires this week as a sudden thaw followed last week's cold wave.

City Manager John Robertson said public works crews will try to fill in the worst roads with gravel, but added that little can be done until the frozen ground is completely thawed.

"We had a deep frost this winter, and it will probably be a bad spring," he said. "Our streets will very likely get worse before they get better."

Trucks were spreading gravel and slag on several bad streets early this week, especially on North Center near Amerman school.

"But it doesn't do much good until the thaw is complete," Robertson said. "We can only try to live through it until it dries up — and until we can get the streets paved."

100 Idled at Ford To Return Monday

Some 100 employees of the Northville Ford plant were idled this week, but have been notified to report for work next Monday.

The layoff was designed to adjust inventory in the face of slipping car sales, a company spokesman said.

This week's layoff was the second within the past month. In January, some 20 afternoon shift employees were laid off for a six-week period.

The plant normally employs about 220 production workers. The current layoff meant a shut-down of about 75 percent of the plant's production operations, the spokesman said. But production was expected to be back to near-normal next week.

"By adjusting this week, we'll probably be able to work a full five-day week for the foreseeable future," the company spokesman said. "It will bring us back into line again."

Meanwhile, the Lincoln plant in Wixom was humming at full steam. Many employees are working overtime, and until two weeks ago most employees were working Saturdays.

100 from Northville Get Novi Polio Shots

More than 100 Northville residents received Salk polio shots Thursday and Tuesday at a special poho clinic in Novi.

More than 750 persons were inoculated altogether.

The second in the three-shot series will be given in March. Exact date and hours will be announced later.

The program is sponsored by the Novi Mothers' club for Novi and surrounding communities.

The Northville Record

IF IT'S NEWS...AND IT HAPPENS IN NORTHVILLE...YOU CAN READ IT IN THE RECORD

Volume 87, Number 40, 12 Pages

Northville, Michigan, Thursday, February 27, 1958

10c Per Copy, $3.00 Per Year In Advance

LOSS SET AT $8,000 — Northville firemen worked for two hours Monday night to douse a blaze which destroyed the second story of a house at 127 East Cady. Owner Paul Palmer of Walnut street said that no one was in the house, which he was converting to a three-apartment dwelling. Cause of the fire, which apparently began under stairs leading to the second floor, was undetermined.

2 Plan to Seek Swainson's Seat

At least two candidates will seek the 18th district state senate seat being vacated by Senator John B. Swainson, who will run for lieutenant governor this fall.

The two candidates who so far have announced their intentions of seeking the seat are State Representative Ray D. Dzendzel and Weldon O. Yeager, a war veteran and Detroit businessman.

The 18th district includes Northville, Northville township, Plymouth, Livonia, Redford and part of northwestern Detroit. Long a Republican stronghold, it went Democratic in electing Swainson two years ago.

March of Dimes Nets Over $2400

Final tallies of the 1958 March of Dimes campaign in Northville showed a total of $2,425.11 for the drive, over $200 more than was collected last year.

The 1957 total was $2,186.16. During the Mothers' March at the end of January, a total of $1,175 was collected. Canisters and dime cards yielded $364.46, and peanut sales, $193.39. Total collected from Northville and Our Lady of Victory schools was $339.66, and from bowling tournaments, $212.00.

Other contributions totaled $352.60. Chairman of this year's drive was Mrs. J. W. Reynolds.

Clean-up Program Committees Named

A primary list of 12 committees, and 39 projects has been drawn up for the proposed "Keep Northville Beautiful" campaign in the spring, by the Coordinating Council.

The project is scheduled for the last part of April and the month of May, with a Memorial Day target date for its climax.

Committees formed include an eyesore committee, health and safety, retail and commercial, industrial, school and student, rural beautification, alley, street and highway, vacant lot, contest and stunt publicity, residential advisory and special projects.

Among the projects suggested to improve Northville are to clean up the city garage and expedite its transfer to a new location, to complete fill and make a park on Seven Mile and Eaton Drive, beautify entrances to the city, conducting an anti-litter campaign, improving store entrances, and tree and shrub planting promotion.

Committee members will be named next week.

Wixom to Vote May 19 On New City Charter

Wixom's proposed city charter, which would put the year-old village in business as a city, will go before voters on May 19.

At the same time, voters will elect a mayor and city council that will serve only if the charter is approved.

The May 19 date was set by the charter commission Tuesday night as it put the finishing touches on the lengthy document.

Area Planners To Meet Here

A joint meeting of the planning commissions of Novi township and the city and township of Northville has been called for next Tuesday evening.

The planners will hear J. D. Cruise, director of highway planning for the state highway department.

The meeting was called by Thomas Carrington, chairman of the Northville planning commission. It will be held at the city hall.

The group will also discuss mutual area problems.

City, Township Set New Assessments

15 Contractors Bid For Two City Sewer Projects

Fifteen contractors submitted bids for two city sewer projects Monday night at the city hall.

The projects, estimated by the city engineer at $70,000, brought bids ranging from $35,000 to $101,000.

Councilmen will award the bids Monday night.

The new sewer facilities will be installed down Hill and East streets serving the new high school and Northville Heights subdivision. Storm and sanitary sewers will be built down East street with the major portion of this expense being paid by the school board. Subdividers of Northville Heights will participate in the cost of the Hill street storm sewer. The installation will also provide badly needed drainage for the Oakwood subdivision area.

Venus Construction company of Hazel Park entered the low total bid of $55,791.45. Other low bidders were: Novi Building Service, $59,961.61; W. Stockton of Melvindale, $63,166.08; Mole Construction company of River Rouge, $66,201.80; Chris Nelson & Son of Royal Oak, $68,645.25; and Joseph A. Girard Construction company of Detroit, $69,129.75.

By accepting the lowest bids for Hill and East streets submitted by two contractors the low combination cost of the project would be $53,716.47.

Bobby Still Faces Heart Operation

Bobby Wilson saw Santa Claus last Christmas, after all.

And now it's almost certain that he will even see the Easter Bunny this spring.

Bobby, 8, is suffering from a rare and probably fatal heart disease. Doctors gave him only a slim chance of recovering.

They had wanted to operate at University of Michigan hospital last December. But when Bobby came down with a bad cold, the operation was put off and he was sent home for Christmas.

He's been there since. His doctors, faced with a burgeoning schedule of heart surgery, have had to postpone the operation until April 25.

There's no hurry, however. The real worry is the operation itself, for doctors will have to give Bobby a mechanical heart while they work on his own.

Bobby is not really worried. He understands how his heart is ruptured, and how he will have to go through the operation.

But he's used to it, for he spent 18 months in the hospital in Northville until his family moved to Detroit in December.

So now it's just a matter of waiting. But in the meantime, he'll at least get to see the Easter Bunny.

City and township residents of Northville will learn next week of the results of a complete re-appraisal of land and real estate in the area.

The new assessments were established by the Wayne county bureau of taxation last year and will become effective on the 1958 tax rolls. The Oakland county section of the city was reassessed by the city assessor using the same standards.

Residents of the city will be informed of the assessment change by letter. Township residents may check their assessments at the township hall after next Monday.

Officials of both the city and township emphasize that the new assessments do not mean higher taxes.

Actually, the tax is determined by the millage rate applied to the assessment. These rates are set by the city council, county board of supervisors and the school board.

Therefore, if assessments in the city and township are doubled, it is logical to assume that millage rates could be cut in half to raise the same amount of tax dollars.

Officials point out that reassessment is desirable to accomplish these important factors:

1. Assessment on an equal basis. Under the new appraisals each piece of property, building or home will be appraised on the same basis. The assessed valuation of real property will be set on a basis of 43 percent of its worth and land at 40 percent.
2. Reduction of the equalization factor.

The new appraisals should greatly reduce, or eliminate, the state equalization factor, which last year multiplied the value of property in the city and township by 1.73, 1.8 and 2.4. In the city the reappraisal is aimed at eliminating the difference between the Wayne and Oakland county sections, as well as reducing the factor.

Officials point out that application of the equalization factor increases inequities under poor assessments. The property owner who is properly assessed is penalized by the equalization factor because other property in the tax area is under-assessed.

They also note that school and county taxes, unlike the city, are collected on the basis of the state equalized value. The new assessments should bring local values near the state value.

City councilmen are apprehensive that taxpayers receiving notices of assessment increases next week will not understand what the change means. While they do not control millage rates applied by the county and school board, they emphasize that these rates are determined by need. Therefore, regardless of assessments, the millage produces the same amount of tax dollars.

Thus, higher assessments will mean lower tax rates.

The council must determine a new millage rate for city taxpayers before budget time in May. The new appraisals should nearly double the assessed valuation of the city. Councilmen look forward to reducing the city's 19.5 mill rate by a considerable margin.

Personal property assessments will also be placed on an equalized basis. According to the city assessor, the ratio has varied from 50 to 100 percent. A rate of 75 percent seems probable on these inventories of businesses.

Taxpayers who care to protest their new assessments may do so at the board of review hearings. In the city the hearings are scheduled for March 11, 12, 13 and 15 at the city hall. The township board of review meets March 3, 4, 11 and 12 at the township hall. For exact times see advertisements on page 6.

$40,000 'Saved' On Novi School

Contracts totalling $331,746 were awarded last week for construction of Novi's new elementary school near Willowbrook Village.

The figure is some $40,000 lower than the $377,920 estimate made by the school board in January.

Ground for the 14-classroom building will be broken next Sunday. The first unit is scheduled to open for classes next fall, with the final two units to be completed during the winter.

Mustangs End Cage Season Against League Champions

There'll be no title at stake tomorrow night when the Mustangs meet Clarkston in the final game of the regular season.

The Wolves wrapped up the Wayne-Oakland league championship Tuesday night with an easy 69-47 victory over Clarenceville.

So Northville will have to settle for second place after pursuing the Wolves right down to the wire. Last year, the two teams tied for the title.

After tomorrow night's encounter on the Clarkston court, Northville will turn its thoughts to the state program series.

All parents are urged to attend the meeting which begins at 8 p.m. at the community building.

Lots of Licenses Are Coming Due

Licenses of all kinds are in the news.

Dog licenses for Northville township pups must be purchased by tomorrow (Friday) or dogs may be impounded. City dogs do not need new licenses until March 31.

Automobile and truck licenses for 1958 must be on bumpers by tomorrow night, or drivers will risk a ticket and fine. (See picture.)

And drivers licenses will again be offered at the Northville township hall next Monday, after a one week's absence.

THAT'S THAT FOR ANOTHER YEAR — Lynn Johnson, 316 Griswold, happily florishes a screwdriver as she finishes putting on her 1958 license plates. Tomorrow (Friday) is the last day to put on the plates before tickets will be issued. The license plates are available at Litsenberger's Shell on North Center.

Mrs. Chabut Titles Book 'Preacher Mike'

When Mrs. V. George Chabut speaks about her recently published biography of her father, Dr. Mer-ton S. Rice, she talks with the same humility she attributes to him.

"We were all proud of him," she says, and a glance at the tributes to him by men of the world and men of God would indicate that he was most certainly a father, a minister and a man to be proud of. The biography was published several weeks ago.

She has titled her book, "Preacher Mike", using the name by which Dr. Rice was known to many friends and admirers.

Dr. Rice, who died in 1943 at the age of 70, was pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist church of Detroit for 30 years.

Mrs. Chabut, one of his six children, makes her home in Northville on Sheldon road with her husband, Dr. V. George Chabut, four children and two regal-looking Dalmatians.

She earned her bachelor of arts degree at Albion college, did graduate work at Wayne university and is a former teacher.

She is known mainly in Northville for her work each Christmas season as one of "Santa's" most untiring helpers — coordinating a gift program for confined children at Maybury sanatorium.

She began her book a few months after her father's death. His letters, diaries, sermons — and her own memories provided her with stacks of research material.

"Most of the work was done at night — and sometimes during the night," said the alert mother of four growing youngsters. "The bound volume is the result of seven re-writings — and each time I thought it was finished."

Retracing her father's life took Mrs. Chabut, her oldest daughter and her mother back to Kansas, the scene of his birth, boyhood and first three churches.

Dr. Rice also served two churches in Iowa and nine years in Duluth, Minnesota before answering a call to preach in Detroit to a congregation of 200.

At the time of his death, his flock had grown to 7,000 — making the Metropolitan Methodist church the largest in North America.

Among the acquaintances, friends and admirers whose tributes to him appear on the book-jacket are Norman Vincent Peale, Secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker, Bishop Arthur J. Moore, of the Methodist church, south, and Daniel Poling, editor of the Christian Herald.

In his praise of Dr. Rice, Dr. Poling calls Mrs. Chabut's story the "love-gift of his daughter, the glorious story of the glorious life of one of the pre-eminent preachers and personalities of the generation in which he lived."

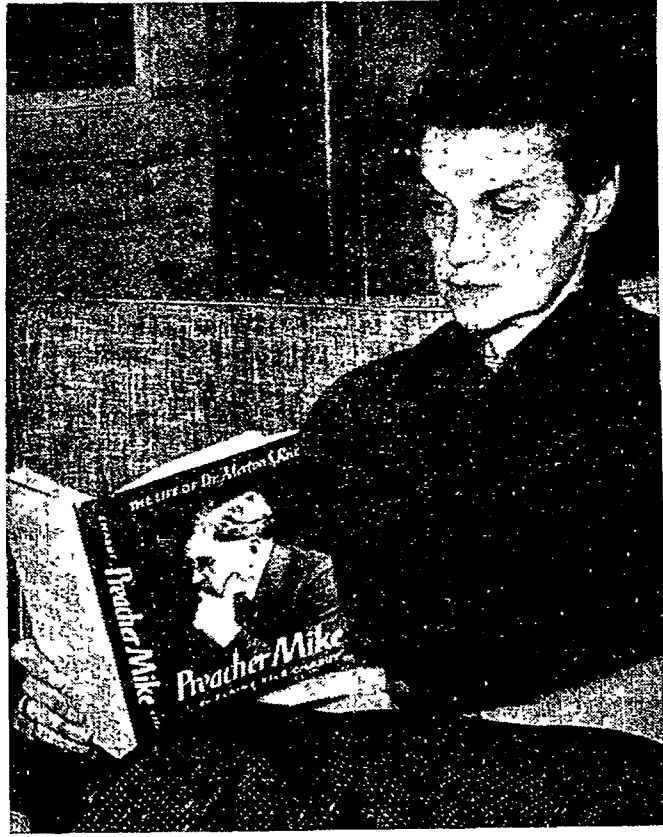

In the foreword to her book, Mrs. Chabut states:

"It is because of my two beloved parents that I have tried to write the story of my father's life and thus to show how greatly we the children were blessed by our inheritance.

"The Methodist church, which he served for 50 years in the ministry, considered him one of the greatest preachers of this century. But to claim him for Methodism alone, would be an error, for he was God's man, and people of all faiths felt it in their relationship and contact with him."

"Preacher Mike" is available in Northville at Johnson's Jewelry & Gift Shop.

Newcomer's Corner

"I took upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

—Samuel Johnson

NEWCOMERS — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sommer of West Main street, new residents since September, have on their hands the patience demanding job of training springer spaniel "Jeff" for field trials.

A straight and narrow lane off West Main street leads to the home of Bob and Gerry Sommer, who moved to Northville from Louisiana in September.

The young couple occupies the former Charles Haynes home at 46355 West Main, and are awaiting the arrival of their first child.

Both are originally from near Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, but an "on the job" training program for Bob kept them on the move until they settled in Northville.

As a salesman for Jones and Laughlin Steel company, Bob served for a time in Indiana and then for two months in New Orleans.

Training two active brown and white springer spaniels — their own "Jeff" and a friend's dog — takes most of their spare time. They belong to several springer spaniel training clubs in Michigan.

The Sommers both enjoy all types of winter sports.

Hi-Fi Extension Members Study Care of Flowers, Plants

The Hi-Fi extension group met February 13 at the VFW Post with a lesson on care of flowers and house plants.

Mrs. George Weeks presented the lesson on the care of house plants, Mrs. Oscar Simmons, the care of roses and perennials, and Mrs. Paul Salo, house plants and African violets.

Mrs. Eino Pilo, Mrs. Ollie Wahamaki and Mrs. Ray Lahti, presented a skit on "Car Talk" describing what goes underneath the hood of the family auto.

To demonstrate the mechanical function of various car parts, the ladies raided their kitchens. The gas and air mixing job of a carburetor was illustrated with a spray gun; the pistons' power thrusts by an onion chopper; the spark plug by a flashing flashlight, and the whole ingeniously synchronized with a hand operated egg beater to illustrate how the power is transmitted through gears to propel the car.

Mrs. Paul DePodesta of Lakeridge avenue will be hostess on March 4 at a meeting when a representative of the Detroit Edison company will give power saving pointers on the use of large and small appliances.

On February 28, a group of 28 residents of the Hickory Hill area will acquaint themselves with the problems of civil defense at the home of Mrs. DePodesta. A civil defense representative will be present to answer questions.

Two members, Mrs. Jack Wesch and Mrs. Nancy Blake who have resigned from the group have been replaced by Mrs. Ray Lahti as treasurer and Mrs. Ollie Wahamaki as safety chairman. They will fill these offices until the end of the year.

Lenten Concert to Feature "Childhood of Christ" Oratorio

On Sunday, March 2 the 90-piece Plymouth Symphony orchestra under the direction of conductor Wayne Dunlap will combine with the 50 voices of the Plymouth Civic chorus directed by Fred C. Nelson to present "L'Enfance du Christ", the oratorio-trilogy by Hector Berlioz.

This is a major work by the French composer, who is only recently beginning to receive worldwide acclaim as one of the great "romantics" of musical history.

In addition to the orchestra and chorus four soloists are featured in this story of the childhood of Christ. Rosemary Murch, mezzo-soprano, who sings the part of Mary, received her bachelor of music degree at the University of Detroit and has appeared in oratorio and chorus performances in Ohio, Colorado and, extensively in Michigan. This is her first appearance with the Plymouth Symphony.

Robert Waterstripe, baritone, who plays the part of Joseph, is well-known in this area as conductor of the Western Michigan college choir, member of the University of Michigan radio quartet and soloist in the First Church of Christ Scientist in Ann Arbor.

Another major role, that of the father of a peasant family in the story is sung by Nat Sibbold, baritone, formerly a star in musical comedy and currently known for his church and chorus work in this area. Also familiar will be the lyric tenor voice of Richard Miller, who will sing the role of narrator for the entire trilogy.

The complete program will include the "Symphony No. 8" by Beethoven, "Spring" from "The Seasons" by Vivaldi, performed by the orchestra alone.

The concert will be at 8 o'clock in the Plymouth high school auditorium. Admission is free. There will be baby-sitting service available.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

The Rev. John O. Taxis, Pastor
First Presbyterian Church, Northville

"An Institution or an Instrument?"

Recently it was my privilege to attend a conference in New York designed for Laymen, it was the National Council of Presbyterian Men—about 3000 strong! During the course of this week end program many able speakers proclaimed many facts and facets of the Christian life. One, among the many, I would share with you now. Dr. Herman Morse, former Moderator of our Denomination and General Secretary of National Missions, jarred my complacency with this concept, "The Church is not an INSTITUTION—it is an instrument!!!"

Elementary, you say and I agree; but also provoking in light of our common slogan in our society that there are three major institutions in every well regulated community, "The Home—The School—The Church". When we "take a second look" at this generalization, we reflect how mediocre this makes the Church. But when we think of the functions of the Church in terms of an "instrument" we gain a new dimension of this great Gift of God to man.

The Church, yours and mine, is more than just an institution with organizations, families, people dedicated to making the Gospel known, it is an INSTRUMENT of God through which His vital power flows touching each of our lives in prayer, worship and service. An INSTRUMENT through which His Holy Spirit is constantly at work in the world, teaching, persuading and converting man's heart. — An INSTRUMENT OF HEALING the broken spirits, the wounds of indifference, the thoughtless barbs of malicious tongues — An INSTRUMENT enabling man to "ascend unto the Hill from which cometh our help." An INSTRUMENT affording the means that bring man into the presence of His God. It is an instrument because it is the "visible Body of the Resurrected Lord". You are not challenged by the voice of the Church to support an institution—but to be supported by an INSTRUMENT, a part of an instrument that brings God and man together.

It is thus, no popular slogan, nor prosaic urge that the Scriptures admonishes us "do not neglect the assembling of yourselves together"—but a vital call to a vital relationship. Be an "instrument" of God, be regularly in His House of Worship!

Lenten Observances Begun

The Beatitudes of Jesus are the basis of Sunday morning sermons during Lent at St. Paul's Lutheran church of Northville, and mid-week meditations at the church carry the general theme, "With Jesus".

The meditations at 7:30 p.m. are preceded by Lenten organ music and are accompanied by the singing of the mixed choir.

At the First Presbyterian church, Lent is being observed by a series of "family nights", centering around the theme, "Japan". Discussions and guests are preceded by cooperative dinners at 6:30, those attending bringing their own table service and a passing dish.

Remaining family nights will be held next Wednesday, March 5, and March 12 and 19.

In Novi, a series of Lenten lectures titled "A Short Course in Christian Fundamentals" is being held each Wednesday night at the home of Orlo Johns, 24280 Coral Lane, Willowbrook.

The lectures are followed by discussion periods and all are welcome to attend. The lectures are sponsored by the Holy Cross Episcopal church.

At the First Methodist church of Northville, a series of Thursday evening Lenten programs will begin this evening at 6:30. Programs will be held each Thursday beginning with a pot-luck supper, and will conclude Maundy Thursday with Holy Communion. Speakers will be guest ministers from area churches.

Seventeen Members Join St. Paul's

During the past few weeks 17 adults have joined St. Paul's Lutheran church of Northville. The new members are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin F. Geppert, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gray, Mrs. Jo Ann Guenther, Mr. Robert Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long, Jr., Mrs. Hilma Verville and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilkie and daughter, Janice.

Believe that you are a brother to all men and that all men are brothers to you. You'll like yourself better if you do.

Mustangs Finally Hot, Wallop Milford, 67-35

AND AWAY WE GO — Bob Williams put down his baton last week to join the NHS faculty's donkey basketball team at the community building. Northville Optimists and Rotarians also appeared on the program, proceeds of which went to buy athletic equipment for the high school.

The Coach's Corner

by STAN JOHNSTON
Northville High School Basketball Coach

There isn't much doubt that the Mustangs displayed their real potential last Friday night at Milford. The only regret we have is that this form did not materialize earlier in the season. Team work, ball handling and speed were the main factors in the 67 to 35 victory over the Milford Redskins.

We end the regular season of league play this Friday night with Clarkston on the latter's home court. Clarkston's victory over Holly last Friday assured them of at least a tie for the title and at the time of this writing it is doubtful if Clarenceville could do anything about stopping them from clinching the championship last Tuesday night on the Trojans' home court. However, that does not mean that the Mustangs will not go all out to take Clarkston, even though there is nothing at stake but proving that we can beat them.

Next week the state-wide tournaments will open three weeks of hectic basketball fever. Newspapers will be picking the favorites (wrong as usual), fans will be scrambling for those precious state finals tickets and coaches will be hoping for that one miracle which will put their team at the doors of the Macklin Field House at East Lansing.

Our team will compete with Milan, Flat Rock, Airport Carleton and Willow Run on the latter's home court. Rumors are floating about that the Mustangs are the favorites in this district but the team and coach have had enough of the "favorite's role" for one season. We are going to play them one at a time. The first opponent is the greatest of them all. Teams that forget weak opponents often don't get to play the strong one for which they pointed.

Colts Squeeze To Fifth in Row

The score was no indication, but the Northville Colts sailed through one of their best games of the season Friday night as they racked up No. 5 in a row.

The Colts barely edged Milford's junior varsity, 47-44, but had solid control of the game after the first quarter.

It was their own shooting that held down the score. Had the Colts connected on an average percentage, the tally may have been in the 70's.

Larry Nitzel, with a 12-point first half and an 18-point total, led the way for Northville. Gary Morgan, a standout throughout the night, put in 12.

The win put Northville's record at 11-3 for the year.

NORTHVILLE 8 25 10 4-47
Milford 15 16 6 7-44

It took nearly a full season, but the Northville Mustangs finally proved Friday night that they can be a basketball power-house.

"For the first time this year, I could sit back and enjoy the game," said Coach Stan Johnston after the Mustangs had handed Milford a 67-35 lacing.

The score easily could have soared into the 80's, but Johnston flooded the court with reserves in the final stages. In all, 10 Mustangs saw action.

Meanwhile, the Milford bench was employing even more rapidly than Northville's, as the Redskins coach sent in 12 players in an effort to find the right combination.

The game was marked by the return of big Jeff Goodrich to action for the first time since mononucleosis laid him low just after Christmas. Though he saw less than eight minutes of action, the 6' 8" center sank 10 points and gave an indication that he'll be a valuable addition when tournament play begins.

Center Cap Pethers led the Northville attack with 21 points, to sustain his 18-point season average. Ten of them came in the third quarter, when he hit the bucket from all angles.

Northville took a 5-1 lead in the first few minutes, but it was up to Fred Schwarze to send them on their way for good. Schwarze stepped to the free throw line three times in succession, and each time lifted a high, arching "picture" shot through the hoop.

With that, the Mustangs were off. While holding Milford to three field goals in the first half, Northville roared away to a 38-15 lead.

Fouls hurt the Redskins in the first quarter especially, as Northville picked up eight of its 20 points via charity tosses.

The Mustangs, with Pethers' quick 10 points, iced the game in the third quarter. At the end of the period, they led 54-25.

The fourth quarter was just a matter of tying up loose ends. Though some Northville fans were hoping for Johnston to roll up the score, he turned the game over to reserves who had seen only limited action in earlier games.

Defensively, Northville recorded its usual good game. Milford notched only nine field goals during the night, and scored 17 of its 35 points on free throws.

Larson Wins NASCAR Test

Mel Larson proved recently that he can win races as well as promote them.

Driving a new Plymouth, Larson won the 1958 NASCAR maneuverability tests at Daytona Beach and came in second in the passing tests.

Time magazine praised Larson's performance last week by noting that he "tooled his 1958 Plymouth Savoy down the course so skillfully that he never kissed a course marker, never crossed a white line marking the 11-ft. traffic lanes."

The brand-new national driving tests are designed as a yardstick of automobile safety. Instead of using the standard straightaway dashes, NASCAR now uses a test based on maneuverability and passing.

Larson became familiar to many Northville residents last year when he promoted the Northville '100' and two motorcycle races at Northville Downs.

Clarkston Pours It On To Take Share of Crown

At least a share of the Wayne-Oakland league championship now belongs to the Clarkston Wolves.

And if the Wolves got past Clarenceville Tuesday night as expected, the title is theirs alone. (See page one for Clarkston results.)

But if the Wolves tumbled to the Trojans, Northville will have a chance to move into a tie for the championship tomorrow night when the Mustangs meet Clarkston.

Clarkston gained its title share Friday night by breezing past the same Holly team that had upset Northville two weeks ago. Led by Leroy Parks' 25 points, the Wolves notched an easy 78-58 win.

In other Wayne-Oakland league action, Northville nailed down at least second place by swamping Milford, 67-35.

West Bloomfield upset Brighton, 63-58, in the nip-and-tuck battle for third place in which four teams are struggling. John Lucadam put in 25 for Keego, and Brian Watson had 24 for the losers. Clarenceville kept in contention for third place by downing Bloomfield Hills, 58-48, as Larry Andrews sank 22 points.

COUSE WAS GOOD CHOICE

To the Editor:

I have read with interest the recent comments and advertisements in the Record concerning the awarding of the contract to build the new Northville High School to Walter Couse. I would like to try to answer the criticism which seems to be levelled at the Board of Education.

To my way of thinking the advertisement in the last issue of the Record which implied that we could use the monies voted for the new building for current expenses is all wrong. No money voted in the last bond issue can be used for any part of current operating expenses.

Anyone who knows Walter Couse cannot help but realize that our building program is in most capable hands. The Eberle Smith Company, our architects, would be the first to admit that in any building of this nature, adjustments will have to be made during its construction. Some of these adjustments may be large, others small, but a contractor is bound only by what is written into the specifications. Our Board of Education has run into this problem with other builders in the past and the results have not always been pleasant nor completely acceptable. Their dealings with the Walter Couse firm, on the other hand, have always been completely acceptable and I'm sure that any adjustments that must be made during construction will be handled in a most cooperative manner.

By answering the criticism of the Board of Education I do not mean to imply that the low bidder or any other of the bidders would not do an acceptable job. Our architects would see to it that specifications were met. However, there are different grades of acceptable work and why should we settle for just acceptable work that meets specifications when we know from past experience that we will get an A-1 job from Mr. Couse?

I would like, as a taxpayer and citizen, to commend the Board of Education for awarding the contract to Walter Couse. I feel that the extra $21,000 they have spent is good insurance and that we will have a fine job done on our new high school. Contrary to the belief of some people this contract was awarded only after very careful and sincere study. Our Board of Education has spent countless hours on behalf of the citizens of Northville and I would like to thank them for their efforts in sincerely

A Northville Democratic club is being formed and will hold its first meeting on March 31.

Exact time and place will be announced later.

Herbert Koester, former president of the Novi Democratic club, is spearheading the organization. So far, some 25 persons have indicated an interest in the club, he said.

Koester, a resident of Novi, said officers of the club would be Northville residents.

trying to do a good job in what everyone knows is a thankless job. If any citizen of Northville has any constructive criticism why not see the Board of Education? I'm sure these gentlemen will be glad to hear from you.

CHOICE IS QUESTIONED

To the Editor:

$21,000! As a taxpayer and parent, I believe further explanation with concrete evidence must be supplied to the citizens of the community to swallow this sum of money in these times. It seems rather evident under the information supplied, there are questionable reasons for awarding of the contract to the third lowest bidder. There has been much controversy relative to the "Palaces" which have been built at school buildings in the past and present. I, for one, request further explanation.

Bruce McAllister

BUS PROBLEM: ROUND THREE

To the Editor:

In reply to the comments on the O.L.V. bus transportation question: Mr. Sedlow Sr.: There would be no more additional expense. The buses travel the same route, whether they carry a full or half load. And we help pay for them. What competition is there between the parochial and public schools that you speak of? I am not aware of any.

If we are discriminating, sir, it is better to be so than to be bigoted and prejudicial. You and every person discriminates every day of your life between what you like and dislike, between what pleases you or displeases you.

Mr. Bennett: You have the facts straight like the helical spiral on a mill cutter. And defending yourself with constitutional rights and democratic principles which you deny to others is very poor indeed.

Assuming that the school board is acting in good faith does not necessarily make it so. Gov. Williams had a law passed in 1949, allowing public schools to give transportation to the parochial schools because of the burden they have been carrying. More information is forthcoming when I get a transcript.

No individual has to subject himself to another's personal whims and wishes and send his children to a school of your choice in order to be treated equally under the law.

Are you aware that we had bus service the first few months that O.L.V. was open? The fact remains that the school board could have continued this service if it desired.

JOHN ROBERTSON, Assessor

If "the public school board does not refuse to transport children to the public school," then my children are available for this transportation, and so are other O.L.V. children. They could walk from the parking grounds to O.L.V., then back to board the buses back home. That is all we ask. No special privileges. No prejudices. No levy to support our private school. Just transportation for which we pay, and to which we are entitled. Transportation by the public school system has been given to parochial schools in other places, and it can be done here. But it's up to home rule — primarily the school board.

Edward Pilarz

OF BUSES AND IDEALS

To the Editor:

In debating the issue of the public school vs. private schools, we should not suppose that the public school, as presently constituted, is the ideal. Rather, it is the minimum standard which can be accepted by all segments of a nation founded upon democratic ideals.

Western civilization, from which our ancestors came, was based upon the Judeo-Christian concept of man — of man's equality under God, and his duty to obey and give reverence to a personal God.

At the time the public school system was instituted, the home in America was a religious home which needed only the supplement-tary help of the secular classroom to produce worthy and dependable citizens.

The waning influence of the home has left a vacuum in the teaching of religion and morality, which the public school system cannot fill. If the public schools are barred from teaching religion, they are not barred from teaching irreligion. Atheists and communists and fellow travelers have felt free to expound their theories in the classroom, while being paid by Christian and non-Christian alike.

In a democracy, no public institution is sacrosanct. When it no longer serves its purpose, it may be either changed or eliminated. It may be time to review the purpose and accomplishment of our public school. If it doesn't measure up to the needs of today, we should seek the answer without prejudice.

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

It shouldn't come as a surprise to anyone who witnessed the school board-Smith & Andrews hearing in Wayne county circuit court Friday that Judge Thomas J. Murphy handled more cases than any of Wayne county's 18 circuit judges last year.

The veteran of 30 years on the bench swiftly and skillfully disposed of the low-bidding construction firm's claim that the Northville school board acted wrongly in awarding the general contract for the new high school to Walter L. Couse & Company.

The hearing ended in five minutes on a clear point of law (see story on page one). Northville Attorney James Littell, although naturally happy to have the case dismissed, must have been somewhat crushed after many hours of preparation. His entire presentation was about four sentences long. It ended with a request for dismissal based on the law governing such matters in fourth class school districts.

Legally, the case is closed. But there are overtones that remain. And before jumping to any conclusions, every taxpayer who is concerned should look at all the facts fairly and soberly.

Let's examine the rather unique and unusual set of circumstances surrounding the proposed Northville high school from the very beginning.

More than a year ago voters of the school district approved a $3 million bond issue to build a badly needed high school. Under the bond issue the board was also given permission to revamp the present high school for junior high school use and purchase property for another elementary school in the future.

About this same time the state was casting a critical eye our way and decided to boost our land and property values. Result: the state equalized valuation of our school district jumped from $10 million to $18 million in one year.

All this was almost too much for the taxpayer to consume. When he voted for the high school bond issue he was fairly certain how many more mills he would be expected to pay. But then, equalization, and in many cases reassessment, came along. In some instances in the township taxes were doubled.

The situation became so difficult and perplexing that it prompted Roy Terrill, township treasurer, to write a letter to The Record. Too many people were paying their taxes under protest and expecting him to answer their grievances.

The huge jump in valuation enabled the school board to LOWER its tax mill rate and still obtain the extra dollars it needed. County and township mill rates remained the same as former years, thus the taxpayer was giving more to these agencies, too.

The taxpayer, burning under the new burden, hasn't been satisfied with answers complicated by terms such as "equalization" and "re-assessment". He has become ECONOMIC-MINDED and wants to know how and where his tax dollar is being spent.

At one point during the school board's presentation of the proposed high school several citizens protested to its design. "Too expensive," they proclaimed.

After a meeting with the board they were partially, but not entirely, convinced that the new Northville high school was what the community wanted and needed, both educationally and financially.

The final touch to our story came when the school board awarded its general construction contract to the third bidder.

The situation was brought into sharper focus when Smith & Andrews, low bidder for the contract, challenged the board's decision and took them to court. The firm, through letters and an advertisement, appealed to the tax paying public for support. They could hardly have found a more sympathetic audience when they asked "Mr. and Mrs. Northville Taxpayer" . . . "should you pay a $21,000 premium?"

The low-bidding construction firm knows that it has no legal leg on which to stand. But its officials have asked this writer if he believes that the board was "morally" right in its choice.

To determine this let's put ourselves squarely in the position of the school board. First of all, you must admit that every member of the board acted in good faith and to the best of his ability.

The question must necessarily boil down to one of judgment. Ask yourself, "Did the board use good judgment in awarding the bid to Walter Couse?"

Is it morally wrong to select a contractor with whom you are thoroughly familiar . . . one who has demonstrated his ability locally and who also has deep community interests?

The question naturally arises as to how much value in dollars and cents can be placed on these factors. Especially when the lower bidder is admittedly a qualified contractor.

This much is certain. The school board, faced with the pressure of a difficult decision under the foregoing local circumstances, did not take the easy way out.

Each member, voting individually, decided unto himself that Northville would be financially ahead in the long run and that they would have a greater sense of security, if an individual with deep rooted local interest was building their high school.

After months of preparation and countless hours of study they decided that it was worth $21,000 to have their final plans for this important structure in the hands of a community resident.

Before registering a complaint I hope that every taxpayer will place himself in the position of a board member and try to UNDERSTAND his reasoning.

Then if you believe the board has made a mistake in judgment, call it that and nothing more. It is no disgrace to be concerned over the expenditure of public funds and, if you are sincere, you deserve to be heard. Actually, the board should commend your interest.

On the other hand, those who agree with the board's action should not be silent. Let them know you stand behind them.

In the middle of the controversy stands the Walter L. Couse company. An innocent bystander, the Couse company submitted its best competitive bid and, upon selection, found itself haled into court.

As a local resident and a contractor who can sympathize with a losing bidder, Mr. Couse undoubtedly felt the pressure of the situation more keenly than anyone.

Strangely, his high personal integrity is principally responsible for the quandary. Had he not stood so high in the minds of the board members, the choice would not have been difficult.

Under the circumstances Northville's new high school will almost certainly receive extreme attention and supervision. Can't you just see a team of experts examining each brick for color, content and dimension?

$15 Million Coffee Break

THE POLITICAL HATCHET is buried when Michigan's Industrial Ambassadors sing praises of the state in an effort to interest other manufacturers, both large and small in settling in Michigan.

At a kickoff luncheon which sends some 200 of the state's leading industrial leaders "abroad", the emphasis was on a "unity of spirit". It was pointed out numerous times that what Michigan has to offer is much more important than disagreements within the state regarding the labor climate.

These positive factors were listed as: trained people; clean government, free of graft; one of the best educational systems in the world; a good and improving road system; the long coast line and wonderful supply of fresh water.

It was emphasized repeatedly that all Michigan citizens gain when the state secures a new industry; that everyone should be interested in seeing this accomplished.

MICHIGAN'S ECONOMY is developing the biggest issue of the 1958 legislative session.

Records show that thousands have been out of work in industry and the pinch of decreased buying power is being felt by businessmen on many streets.

Effect on state government is difficult to assess, because of conflicting claims of rival parties.

Republican finance experts are working to develop a policy which makes sense to them: when the people are forced to tighten their belts, state government should do the same.

Senator Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) has charged that too many of Michigan's 30,000 employees are abusing coffee breaks and having breakfast on the job. He says the practice costs the state $15,000,000 per year. Other GOP leaders have suggested that the number of state employees can be reduced by not replacing those who retire.

Administrators deny abuses; point out that the cost of corporate operation is upwards and the same must be expected in the case of public administration.

LABOR UNIONS are fighting against new controls in Michigan. There are bills in the legislature to prohibit the use of union dues money for political purposes, to outlaw the secondary boycott and to require audits of their funds, including pension and welfare money.

In the interests of partisan peace in an election year, most of the bills are expected to die — though nothing ever is certain in the legislature.

The audit of union funds bills are direct reflections of the Washington hearings which attacked Dave Beck, former Teamsters Union president.

The ban against the use of union funds for political purposes dates back to the 1956 election campaign when Republicans charged that Democrats used dues money improperly.

Democrats and labor leaders have denied the charge, claiming that no dues money is spent for political candidates or campaigns without a vote of the membership.

RIGHT-TO-KNOW legislation is now in the House after passing the Senate with only one dissenting vote.

The bill as it passed to the House requires all state and local governing bodies, boards and commissions, to hold public meetings.

It permits "executive sessions" while public officials iron out "delicate" questions in private, but requires that all final decisions be made in public.

PRICE FIXING on milk is all but dead for the 1958 session of the legislature.

Once a major question, it has evaporated as an issue before the outspoken opposition of the Michigan Milk Producers association and other powerful farm groups.

Sentiment for price-fixing came following the milk strike two years ago when relations with dairies were strained by two major factors—the low price to farmers and the high price to consumers.

Since that time, farmers have gotten along with the dairies though they feel the middleman is taking too much of a share from the product.

A worker age 72 or older may receive his social security checks each month even if he works and regardless of his earnings.

THE TEST
FOR CHRISTIANS

All true Christians have been perplexed at times as to whether certain practices are proper or whether they should indulge in certain things. A good test in making the right decision is to ask yourselves the question whether Jesus would enjoy such a pleasure or practice with you? In John 14:23 Jesus said, "If a man love me, he will keep my words; and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him." Christ has His hope in the body of every believer by means of the Holy Spirit. He goes where you go. He sees what you see. He hears what you hear. He does not leave you for a single moment so that you may indulge in some sin and then seek His company again. A certain Christian man once picked up a sex magazine so common on the newsstands these days. As he poured over its pages he became aware that his mind was being contaminated by unholy desire. The thought occurred to him, "Jesus Christ knows what I am reading. I would be ashamed to have others see me reading this, how much more should I be ashamed to have my Saviour see what I am reading." This is a good test—try it.

Dr. Bartlett Tells Of School Needs

Michigan is the nation's seventh wealthiest state but its budget for education ranks 17th in the country, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn Bartlett said last week.

Furthermore, the state's education budget was cut last year instead of being increased, he said. Addressing the Plymouth Democratic club last Friday, Bartlett made these other points about the state's educational system:

— Michigan is short on classrooms, equipment, and science laboratories. Self-liquidating dormitories and stadiums have been built, but no new appropriations for college classrooms were made last year.

— summer sessions will not solve the shortage because they would not be popular.

— the state cannot bank on proposed federal aid, since it covers only scholarships and not construction. Even scholarships must be matched 50-50 by the state, he said.

While stressing the need for concern since Sputnik I, Bartlett said he would not recommend copying Russian educational methods.

He conceded, however, that Russian teachers hold greater esteem than those in America, and that their salaries compare favorably with salaries in other professions. "Our people do not seem to recognize the value of the teaching profession," he said.

League Council
Meets in Holly

The Wayne-Oakland League student council had their last meeting on Thursday, February 6 at Holly high school.

Present at the meeting representing Northville high school were Dick Stuber, Elsa Couse, Mary Hill, Mike Willis, Jurgen Hamacher and Doug Ware.

They discussed the problem of the sportsmanship award for the Wayne-Oakland league. Many of the schools were having trouble with the alumni "boosing" at the referees during the basketball games. But they said this problem has been improved.

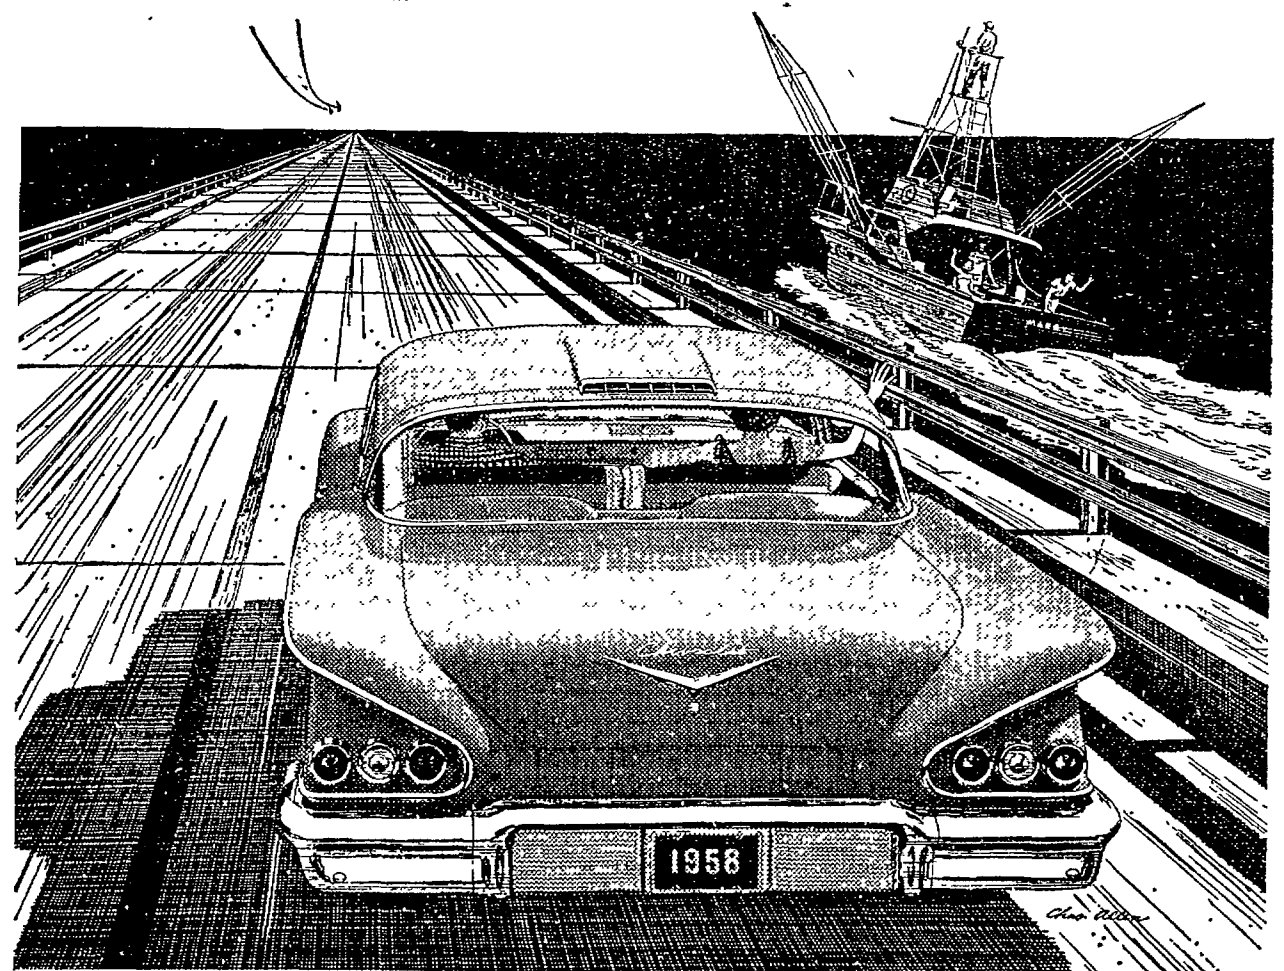

Some high schools were having trouble with the referee's rating them. After every basketball game the referees are supposed to rate the high schools for sportsmanship.
