

A Great Week for NHS

Debaters Are District Champions

Northville high school debaters moved well up into the state finals last week by winning out over three class A schools to emerge as district champions.

Northville will now enter the quarter-finals against the seven other remaining teams in the state. Some 200 schools were entered at the start.

Becky Coolman and Lillian Zinnecker, arguing the affirmative side in all three debates, won out over Berkeley, Waterford, and Flint Northern to take the district crown.

The luck of the draw left Northville's negative team — Sandy Strassen and, again, Miss Coolman — idle during the district finals.

The debaters, coached by Miss Florence Panattoni, are debating the question "Resolved: that the United States should limit foreign economic aid to technical assistance and disaster relief."

Northville will begin its quest for the state title by meeting the winner of tonight's Belleville-Marshall debate at a date to be decided on later.

If they get past the quarter-finals, the NHS debaters will go to the semi-finals late in March or early in May. The finals will be held in Ann Arbor on April 19.

The perennially-strong Northville debate team tied for the Wayne-Oakland league championship team this year with a 10-1 record, even though Miss Panattoni turned the debate chores over to underclassmen in mid-year to give them practice.

Northville's previous highpoint in the state tournament was in 1954 when the debate squad won the quarter-finals and entered the semi-finals before being eliminated.

Elsa Couse

Two Senior Girls Named Valedictorian, Salutatorian

Top honors as valedictorian of the Northville high school class of 1958 have gone to Lillian Zinnecker, whose academic average for four years placed her at the top of the class.

Lillian has a B plus average and has been active in the NHS forensic program — participating in class plays and helping to win numerous Wayne-Oakland league debates.

She also was a delegate to Girls' State.

A prospective University of Michigan student, Lil plans to major in speech and English in college and minor in Oriental languages — with an eye to teaching secondary school students in the Far East.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zinnecker of Ridge Court, she has attended NHS for four years.

Ending her high school days as salutatorian of her class is Elsa Couse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Couse of West Seven Mile road.

Elsa's record includes a B plus scholastic average, participating in class plays and Pep club, and twirling a baton with the band.

In addition, she is secretary of the student council and president of the National Honor Society, and was a Girls' State delegate.

She also received the annual D A R. award as the outstanding senior girl at Northville high school.

Elsa plans to enroll at Albion college next fall and at the University of Michigan two years later. She intends to major in either mathematics or chemical engineering.

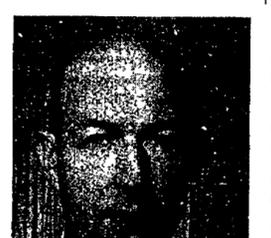

Willow Run, co-favorite with Northville for the district title, won its opener Tuesday night by dropping Milan, 75-61.

NEW MANAGER — Charles F. Strautz has returned to the Northville branch of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit after a year as assistant manager at the Redford office. Strautz will take over the managerial duties of John Stubenvoll, who has been promoted to the operations division of the bank's Detroit headquarters.

Stubenvoll, Strautz Given New Duties with Bank

Promotions for two well known Northville banking officers were announced this week by William A. Mayberry, president of the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

John Stubenvoll, manager of the local branch since its merger with Manufacturers January 1, 1957, has been transferred to the operations division in the Detroit main office.

Returning as manager of the Northville office is Charles F. Strautz, who has served as assistant manager of the Redford office for the past year.

Both Stubenvoll and Strautz were officers of the Depositors State bank before its merger with Manufacturers. Stubenvoll has been associated with the bank since 1939 and held the position of cashier with Depositors. Strautz joined the bank in 1940 and became auditor and assistant cashier.

Leo Kalota becomes assistant manager in Northville. He was transferred from the Joy road-Stahelin office.

A. Russell Clarke is vice president in charge of the Northville branch.

Band Tops 13 Others In Festival

The Northville high school band put on a stunning first-place performance in the district band finals Saturday night to warm up for the state band festival next month.

With judges commenting, "Bravo", "Really something", and "Congratulations", the Mustang bandmen registered a near-perfect score and came out far atop the 14 competing schools.

Northville received a "1" rating from all four judges, and in 24 individual categories they were awarded two A pluses, 20 A's, and two A minuses.

Directors Leslie Lee and Robert Williams were quick to add their own applause to the band, calling the students "an excellent group of musicians." Williams conducted the band during Saturday's performance.

The band will go on as a district representative to the state band festival in East Lansing on April 26.

Though no formal state band championship is awarded, one judge said in his comments, "Keep polishing now until (the Northville band) is the best in the state."

The district festival, held at Royal Oak Kimball high school, pitted Northville against 13 other Class B schools. Two other schools — Troy and Saline — received straight "1" ratings, but neither matched Northville's brilliant string of A's.

It was the second major honor for the NHS band in recent weeks. Earlier, Northville maintained its domination of the all-Wayne-Oakland league band selections by taking 32 of the 70 positions and 11 of 18 first chairs.

In the festival Saturday, all bands were required to play "Toulon" by Pares. For its two other selections, Northville performed "On the Quarter Deck" by Alford and Dvorak's "Symphony No. 5."

In addition, all bands played one sight selection. Commented the judges: "A very outstanding performance showing the result of good teaching and hard work on the part of the band."

Other comments on Northville overall performance:

"It is a real pleasure to hear you play."

"A real 14-carat achievement."

"My congratulations to the group and their directors. You are working at a really ambitious level and making it come off."

"You are doing excellently. Good spirit, balance, rhythm, accent, steady tempo, good contrast. Fine work."

Judges were Alan Squire and Kenneth Snapp of Baldwin-Wallace college, George Wain of Oberlin college, and Dale Harper of Euclid, Ohio.

The NHS junior high band, also directed by Williams, performed in the district finals for the first time and took straight 2's — good for third place.

'Millionaire's Party' Success for Legion

Northville American Legionnaires and their guests took an imaginary trip to Las Vegas Saturday night.

The Legion's "Millionaire's Party" at the Veterans Memorial building saw first prize go to Joe Manica, second to Stan Genik, and third to Fred Floyd.

Cutoff Hearing to be March 19

Negotiations for constructing and safeguarding the long-awaited Eight Mile cutoff are nearing completion and will be finalized at a public hearing in Northville on March 19.

At that time, the Wayne and Oakland county road commissioners will explain plans for the bypass north of Northville and hear any grievances concerning it.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the community building.

Northville school board members and city councilmen will be present to explain their side of the cutoff project.

Senate Bill Threatens City Race Track Funds

FIRST VISITOR — Mayor Claude Ely became the first "official" visitor in Northville Heights subdivision this week. He's shown (left) being greeted by Fred Kaye, project director, at one of the three models open for public inspection this week end.

Northville Heights Sub Opens This Weekend

Northville Heights, the first complete subdivision planned within the city limits, will celebrate its official opening this week end.

The proposed 120-home development will open the doors of three models in a "sneak preview" designed to introduce the project to residents of the immediate area.

Located on North Center street next to the Amerman elementary school, the 32-acre site will offer paved streets, sewers and city water.

Officials of the Glenview Building company, developers of the project, are hopeful that 60 new homes will be occupied this year. Fred Kaye, director of the local development, added that more homes would be built if demand is great enough.

The brick homes will be offered in ranch and split-level designs and range in price from $16,900 to $21,900. Scale models of all designs will be on display.

Kaye stressed that each home will be designed to fit the site on which it is built.

Each house will include a disposal, two-compartment sink, built-in oven and range, exhaust fan, choice of cabinet woods, formica counter tops, copper plumbing, storms and screens, as well as choice of brick and shingle colors.

Kaye added that carpeting will be included in tri-level models.

The tri-level display model now open for inspection has been furnished by Schrader's Home Furnishings of Northville. The models will be open daily from 1 until 9 p.m. and Sundays from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m. The Garret Barry agency of Northville will handle sales of the homes.

"Because great advances in medicine and the allied professions have worked wonders in overcoming severe handicaps, major emphasis is now being placed on total rehabilitation of the crippled," said Frid.

Officials of Northville became seriously concerned this week over a state senate bill that could conceivably cut the city's race track revenue in half.

The measure was scheduled to reach the floor of the senate today. Mayor Claude Ely directed City Manager John Robertson and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to attend the session. He also told the city manager to inform Senator John Swainson that Northville stood opposed to the bill.

Specifically, the measure is aimed at the Livonia and Hazel Park tracks. It reduces the city's maximum track revenue from $500,000 to $300,000 annually. Both Livonia and Hazel Park currently receive the maximum.

The measure further states that towns within three miles of the city in which the track is located may qualify to share in one half of the proceeds from the track.

Presently, the city in which the track is located receives 20 percent of the state's tax take from the track. The proposed ruling would mean that only 10 percent would return to the home city. The other 10 percent would be shared by neighboring communities.

Northville would not be affected by the maximum revenue reduction. Yearly city take from the track has been near $90,000. The provision for sharing revenue with nearby communities has important meaning to Northville, however. Manager Robertson said Wednesday that Senator Swainson assured him that the measure does not apply to Northville or Jackson. The bill, sponsored by Senator Frank D. Beadie of St. Clair, was specifically drawn to force Livonia and Hazel Park to share their revenues with Redford township, Garden City, Detroit, Madison Heights and Royal Oak. These neighboring communities would presumably be given a share of the revenue if they could show expense incurred because of track traffic.

Just how Northville could escape this provision is unclear. Local officials fear that neighboring communities within three miles might be able to claim one half of the city's track revenue. Even if the measure protects Northville and Jackson in some manner, they point out that an amendment next year could change that.

Northville's city budget last year was approximately $280,000. The track revenue represents about 29 percent of the budget.

Two other matters took most of the council's time during the evening.

Establishment of a percentage ratio for taxing personal property inventories led to some lively debate. The ratio used by Wayne county is 85 percent. The city manager had recommended to the council that 75 percent be adopted locally. In the past it has varied with no set percentage being applied to all businesses.

Councilman John Canterbury led the argument that resulted in the council's adoption of the 85 percent ratio. "As long as we have adopted the county's percentage ratios on land and real property, it would be inconsistent and unfair not to follow this procedure on personal property," Canterbury stated.

Councilman Earl Reed took the position that small businesses are over-burdened with taxes. "What does this small business mean to the city?" Reed asked. He argued that the city should help businesses by lowering the ratio.

Canterbury's arguments won the support of Mayor Claude Ely and Councilman Ed Welch when he pointed out that the homeowner would have to pay for lowering the business personal property tax. "If we lower this tax by 10 percent, then everyone will be equalized by the county. The homeowner, paying his full percentage rate, would have to make up this 10 percent difference. It's unfair," concluded Canterbury.

Ely and Welch agreed that the city must remain consistent in its policy and voted with Canterbury. Reed dissented.

Northville race horse owners next entered the tax controversy. About a dozen owners mildly and politely protested the personal property tax on horses. They contended it had never been done locally before and that it was "next to impossible" to place a value on a race horse.

Councilmen pointed out that the law was clear and livestock in Northville on January 1 was subject to the personal property tax. After lengthy discussion the group agreed to meet with the council tonight.

In other business the council gave final approval to an agreement with Northville Downs for the purchase of 2 1/2 acres on River street by the track; approved the appointment of Al Williams as joint plumbing inspector for Northville and the city and township of Plymouth; and repealed the all-night parking ban until a revised ordinance can be made.

Because of Northville's general interest in Novi affairs, The Record this week includes on page 4 the front page of its special Novi News election edition.

On that page will be found an analysis of the issues in Novi's village incorporation election on March 17, a map of the proposed village, a list of candidates for the charter commission, and other pertinent information.

Council Awards Sewer Project Bids

In a busy session that lasted until midnight city councilmen waded through a long agenda topped by the awarding of two new city sewer projects Monday night.

Contracts for construction of the sewers were awarded for a total of $59,422.69. The W. Stockton Excavating company bid of $29,965.38 for the Hill street storm sewer was accepted by the council, along with the Novi Building Service bid of $29,457.31 for the East street storm and sanitary sewer project.

Both projects are scheduled for 50-day completion and will be started as soon as weather allows. Fifteen contractors bid for the projects that fell well below the estimated $70,000 cost.

Two other matters took most of the council's time during the evening.

Establishment of a percentage ratio for taxing personal property inventories led to some lively debate. The ratio used by Wayne county is 85 percent. The city manager had recommended to the council that 75 percent be adopted locally. In the past it has varied with no set percentage being applied to all businesses.

Village Incorporation: A Look at Its Pros and Cons

Novi will vote March 17 on whether to become a village. It's a question that has come in for much critical study, public debate, and cracker-barrel conversation. Its pros and cons vary from weighty philosophical considerations to such cold, hard subjects as tax dollars and sewer pipe.

All of its ramifications cannot be examined in a few inches of type. But, so that its readers can do more than merely flip a coin when they enter the voting booth on March 17, The Novi News here offers an analysis of some of the major facets of the incorporation issue.

The question of incorporating Novi has usually been over-simplified. In most minds, it runs: shall Novi incorporate as a village, or shall it stay a township?

It is oversimplified because Novi, in all probability, will not be able to remain a township even if it wants to.

Since World War II, suburban townships have incorporated and been swallowed up to such an extent that the Detroit metropolitan area is an almost solid block of incorporated communities.

Redford township, it is true, has remained a township even with a population larger than many cities. But it is a peculiar case, and is far overshadowed by dozens of other townships in the Detroit area.

Since Novi very likely could not remain a township, the question at stake on March 17 should read: shall Novi incorporate as a village, or shall it be absorbed into three, five, or perhaps a dozen communities.

As an incorporated village, Novi would enjoy both independence and political integrity. It would have direct control over its own affairs, and its boundaries would be secure against annexation.

It would be a large area — some 32 square miles — and could be developed orderly, with strict control over land use, home quality, services and facilities, and the like.

It could do things that smaller communities — an incorporated Willowbrook Village, for example — could do only with expense and difficulty, such as maintaining a fire department or recreation program.

In a word, it would have the advantages of centralized government.

But on the other hand, might not it be an unnatural unit of government? The interests of Willowbrook do not necessarily coincide with those of farmers in western Novi.

Proponents of this position feel that the various sections of Novi should be annexed to existing communities of which they are already almost a part. The Eight Mile area, they feel has more in common with Northville than with the Four Corners. And the lake area is more a part of Walled Lake than of Willowbrook.

Those cities already have well-established governments and facilities. Why duplicate them in Novi? As for rural central areas of the township, let them be annexed as they grow. In the meantime, perhaps the Four Corners and Willowbrook could incorporate together.

In other words, a village of Novi would be only a conglomeration of strange bedfellows.

Assuming, however, that Novi should be a single, incorporated area, there is still another question, hinted at earlier: is now the time to do it?

On one hand, much of the township is still rural. Should these areas pay for a village government when they are in the heart of the countryside? Why contribute taxes for a public works department when a septic tank or two will take care of their entire 80-acre farm?

Could not Novi wait until it at least looks like a village? Why try to act like a metropolis while much of Novi is still farmland?

Proponents of incorporation have several vivid answers: the Lincoln plant, now in Wixom; two annexations to Northville; an attempted annexation by Walled Lake.

As indicated earlier, the possibility of staying a township for much longer is almost out of the question. It's now or never, they say.

As a township, Novi would be subject to other annexations whenever a choice development came along. The proposed Lincoln Village — with 2,000 homes, a sewerage disposal plant and a shopping center — would become fair game for Wixom.

Only as a village, they argue, would its borders be secure. That's the reason for incorporating now, while there is still something to incorporate.

Furthermore, Novi already has problems that township government cannot handle. Would it not be better to have a village government in existence, ready to meet further problems as they occur?

Taxes come in for as much discussion as anything else when incorporation is mentioned.

Regardless of how limited it is at first, a village government would cost more money and require additional taxes. That alone is proof enough for many voters that incorporation should be tossed out.

On the other hand, those favoring incorporation point out that township taxes would probably be cut if Novi became a village, and would cease to exist if it became a city. In other words, there would be little duplication even at first, and eventually none.

Furthermore, village taxes are limited at 20 mills by the state. The village charter — which must be approved by voters — could limit it still further. And any future hike in the millage rate would likewise be subject to approval by voters.

The tax question, then, is one of paying what you want for services you want. Taxes would go up, but would be controlled by the taxpayers themselves.

In this same vein, incorporation opponents say Novi's industrial tax base would not support a village government. A disproportionate amount would be borne by the individual. Novi should not become a village until it has a sufficient industrial backbone. It's just not economical now.

Answering this, others point again to the Lincoln plant. It was a good tax base — but it's in Wixom now. If Novi does not incorporate, its choicest areas will be annexed by other communities. And Novi will be left with nothing.

What's more, a solidified, well-organized village of Novi probably would be more attractive to industry and land developers than a township of Novi that is governmentally weak and uncertain of its future.

Associated with this is the division of assets problem. Whenever an area is annexed, it takes with it a part of the township's assets. Dollars are transferred from Novi to, say, Northville.

In time say proincorporation spokesmen, Novi would be broke. The Wixom city incorporation alone will seriously drain Novi's purses if it goes through.

Others say, however, that annexed areas are merely taking what is rightly theirs. Their tax money has helped provide the assets, and a share should go with them when they go.

The arguments run long and deep. But basically, those are the issues. In a sentence, they are:

— Novi should split apart and be annexed to other nearby communities instead of trying to lump a number of heterogeneous sections into a huge village-that-isn't-a-village.

— Novi should incorporate but should wait until it is ready for it in terms of tax base and population.

— Novi should incorporate immediately to secure its borders, provide needed services, reduce "fractionalism" among its various sections, and keep direct control over its own affairs.

Which position will win out will be known after March 17.

13 Charter Candidates to be on Ballot

HERE COMES NOVI'S NEW SCHOOL — Nearly 50 persons gathered in a muddy field Sunday for ground-breaking ceremonies for Novi's new elementary school near Willowbrook Village. Left to right are Architect Charles W. Lane, school board members Arthur Hestlip, Mrs. Georgia Larson, President James Mitchell, Jack Crawford, Kenneth Bernard and Superintendent William Medlyn. Construction is to start within the next few days.

Novi township will hold the most important election in its history on March 17.

Two questions will be at stake in the election. First, shall some 32 square miles of Novi township be incorporated as a village? Secondly, which five of the 13 commission candidates shall write a charter for the village?

If incorporation is voted down, the commission will not serve and Novi will continue as a township.

If it is approved, the commission must write a charter within 60 days. It would then be put before voters when finished, and if approved, Novi would be in business as a village.

The thirteen charter commission candidates are:

- J. Philip Anderson
- Hadley Bachert
- Mrs. Guy Boatman
- Russell Button
- Robert H. Davey
- David M. Fried
- Dirk Groenenberg
- Herbert Koester
- Bram LeButt
- Archie L. Marsh
- Dicron Taffallan
- Walter Tuck
- Harry Watson

This election edition is being published well in advance of the March 17 vote to allow time for voters to give careful consideration to both the incorporation question and the candidates.

To reach as many voters as possible, copies of this week's News are being distributed to all homes in Novi township.

Only residents of the proposed village may vote. They must be registered, but need not be taxpayers.

Two polling places will be open. The township hall for precinct one (southern Novi) and the Novi community building for precinct two (northern Novi). Both will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The 13 candidates were reminded this week that they must file a list of campaign expenses with the Oakland county clerk after the election.

A "straw vote" conducted through The News last fall by a group opposing incorporation showed that those balloting favored incorporation by a 5-3 margin. The vote admittedly was not an accurate sample, but gave both sides campaign material.

Merchants Seek Signs On New Expressway

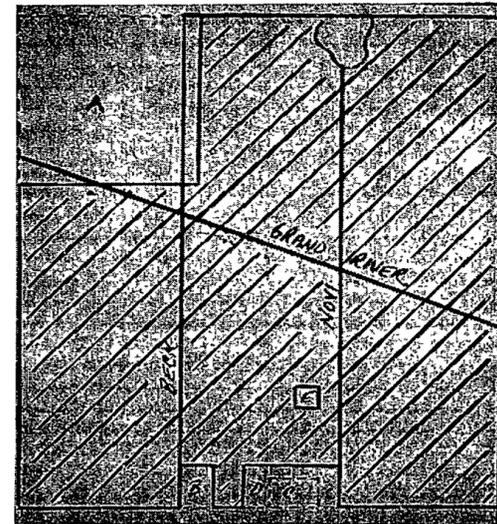

While the state was studying an expressway sign program this week, Novi township was having its own troubles with billboards on the superhighway.

A handful of Novi businessmen have indicated that they want the township to relax its ordinance prohibiting advertising signs along the Farmington-Brighton expressway.

Several have already erected signs in violation of the ordinance. The ordinance limits signs to commercial districts. Only one small portion of the expressway is zoned commercial, which in effect prohibits signs along the route.

The Novi zoning board was to discuss the sign ordinance last night, after the township board spent nearly an hour hashing it over Monday night.

Leo Harrawood told the board then that he had put up a sign on

PROPOSED VILLAGE — Shown here are the approximate boundaries of the proposed village of Novi (shaded area). It would cover all of Novi township except Wixom (A), Northville Estates (B), City of Northville (C), area annexed to Northville but currently facing a court decision (D), and Brookland Farms No. 1 subdivision (E).

Offer Free Chest X-Rays Here Monday and Tuesday

A search for unknown tuberculosis cases in Novi and South Lyon gets underway next week.

A specially equipped X-ray bus will be parked in Novi at the township hall, and in South Lyon at the Detroit Edison company. Free chest X-rays will be available to everyone 18 and over.

72 Now Signed Up For Civil Defense

Novi's civil defense program was booming this week, with 72 persons signing up for courses so far.

Director Leon Dochot said 25 men will soon begin police auxiliary instruction and 25 women will start nurses' aid training.

First aid and fire auxiliary training are also planned. For further information, call MA. 4-1248.

Dochot and his sister, Miss Eugene Choquet, took over Novi's civil defense program three weeks ago with only seven persons signed up.

The X-ray unit will be open in Novi on the following schedule:

- Monday, March 10 2-8 p.m.
- Tuesday, March 11 12-8 p.m.
- In South Lyon, the schedule is: Wednesday, March 12 2-8 p.m.
- Thursday, March 13 12-8 p.m.
- Friday, March 14 9-5 p.m.

The procedure for an X-ray is quick and simple. There is no undressing and no red tape. The whole process takes less than three minutes.

The X-ray unit, operated by the Southeastern Michigan TB Detection Project, is brought to Novi and South Lyon through the cooperation of the Oakland county department of health and the Oakland County Tuberculosis and Health Society. A squad of volunteers is assisting the X-ray drive.

Cases of active tuberculosis which have no symptoms and are unsuspected by the sufferer may be detected by the chest X-ray according to Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland county commissioner of health.

Dr. Monroe estimates that a number of residents of Novi and South Lyon have TB and don't know it.

'Potluck' Meeting In Wixom Tonight

The Wixom Civic association will combine business, a potluck supper and band music at its monthly meeting tonight.

The meeting and supper will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Wixom school. The Wixom area band, directed by Moritz Helmut Holland, will play. All Wixom residents have been invited to attend. Each should bring silverware and a passing dish. Coffee will be provided.

Drive-In Theater Under Fire

Novi may be heading for another court suit — this time, over a proposed new drive-in theater near the northwestern shore of Walled Lake.

A half-dozen property owners claim the theater would be a nuisance and would pave the way for "beer gardens and motels" in an otherwise residential area.

They indicated to the Novi township board Monday night that they will take court action if the drive-in site, southwest of Pontiac Trail and West road, is rezoned from agricultural to commercial.

The rezoning already has been approved by the township zoning board and Oakland county coordinating committee and needs only the board's approval.

Led by Robert Buffmeyer, owner of Lakeside Packing House and of considerable property near the drive-in site, the delegation charged that the theater would lower property values, cause traffic congestion, and be a poor business risk. Their charges were answered by Matt Skender, representing the theater backers. Skender produced an artist's sketch of the elaborate, ultra-modern theater.

Skender said $330,000 is committed for the theater "which should indicate that we are serious about building a drive-in, not a gas station." He said $100,000 is from Wall Street investors, $100,000 from the proposed candy concession firm, and $130,000 from private sources.

He added that $70,000 would be spent for landscaping and that the theater would be set back 400 feet from the road. The entrance would be 1,500 feet down West road from Pontiac Trail, and exits would take cars out through vacant property to avoid traffic congestion, he said.

"In addition, we've offered use of the marquee and theater to civil defense, church and civic groups during the off-season," he said.

Answering a comment that he was connected with backers of the controversial Novi race track, proposed for construction near Grand River and Meadowbrook road, he admitted that he was but added that a commercial zoning on the drive-in site would not permit construction of the race track there.

Township Attorney Anthony Rene suggested that Skender and his associates sign a deed restriction with present owners of the drive-in site, limiting its use to a theater. Skender refused this idea but offered to prove his sincerity by holding back the rezoning request until construction was ready to start.

Rene pointed out, however, that Skender's plan still would not guarantee construction of the theater or prohibit other businesses from going in.

The board, sympathetic to both sides, tabled action until it could look over the site and review detailed blueprints of the theater.

Village Incorporation: A Look at Its Pros and Cons

Novi will vote March 17 on whether to become a village. It's a question that has come in for much critical study, public debate, and cracker-barrel conversation. Its pros and cons vary from weighty philosophical considerations to such cold, hard subjects as tax dollars and sewer pipe.

All of its ramifications cannot be examined in a few inches of type. But, so that its readers can do more than merely flip a coin when they enter the voting booth on March 17, The Novi News here offers an analysis of some of the major facets of the incorporation issue.

The question of incorporating Novi has usually been over-simplified. In most minds, it runs: shall Novi incorporate as a village, or shall it stay a township?

Leo Harrowood told the board then that he had put up a sign on

PROPOSED VILLAGE — Shown here are the approximate boundaries of the proposed village of Novi (shaded area). It would cover all of Novi township except Wixom (A), Northville Estates (B), City of Northville (C), area annexed to Northville but currently facing a court decision (D), and Brookland Farms No. 1 subdivision (E).

Offer Free Chest X-Rays Here Monday and Tuesday

A search for unknown tuberculosis cases in Novi and South Lyon gets underway next week.

A specially equipped X-ray bus will be parked in Novi at the township hall, and in South Lyon at the Detroit Edison company. Free chest X-rays will be available to everyone 18 and over.

72 Now Signed Up For Civil Defense

Novi's civil defense program was booming this week, with 72 persons signing up for courses so far.

Director Leon Dochot said 25 men will soon begin police auxiliary instruction and 25 women will start nurses' aid training.

First aid and fire auxiliary training are also planned. For further information, call MA. 4-1248.

Dochot and his sister, Miss Eugenie Choquet, took over Novi's civil defense program three weeks ago with only seven persons signed up.

Drive-In Theater Under Fire

Novi may be heading for another court suit — this time, over a proposed new drive-in theater near the northwestern shore of Walled Lake.

A half-dozen property owners claim the theater would be a nuisance and would pave the way for "beer gardens and motels" in an otherwise residential area.

They indicated to the Novi township board Monday night that they will take court action if the drive-in site, southwest of Pontiac Trail and West road, is rezoned from agricultural to commercial.

The rezoning already has been approved by the township zoning board and Oakland county coordinating committee and needs only the board's approval.

Led by Robert Buffmeyer, owner of Lakeside Packing House and of considerable property near the drive-in site, the delegation charged that the theater would lower property values, cause traffic congestion, and be a poor business risk. Their charges were answered by

Skender said $330,000 is committed for the theater "which should indicate that we are serious about building a drive-in, not a gas station." He said $100,000 is from Wall Street investors, $100,000 from the proposed candy concession firm, and $130,000 from private sources.

He added that $70,000 would be spent for landscaping and that the theater would be set back 400 feet from the road. The entrance would be 1,500 feet down West road from Pontiac Trail, and exits would take cars out through vacant property to avoid traffic congestion, he said.

"In addition, we've offered use of the marquee and theater to civil defense, church and civic groups during the off-season," he said.

Answering a comment that he was connected with backers of the controversial Novi race track, proposed for construction near Grand River and Meadowbrook road, he admitted that he was but added that a commercial zoning of the drive-in site would not permit construction of the race track there.

Township Attorney Anthony Renne suggested that Skender and his associates sign a deed restriction with present owners of the drive-in site, limiting its use to a theater. Skender refused this idea but offered to prove his sincerity by holding back the rezoning request until construction was ready to start.

Renne pointed out, however, that Skenders' plan still would not guarantee construction of the theater or prohibit other businesses from going in.

The board, sympathetic to both sides, tabled action until it could look over the site and review detailed blueprints of the theater.

Township Studies Proposal To Control Water, Sewers

The Novi township board was urged Monday night to act as middleman in future water and sewer systems built for subdivisions.

Anderson and Johnson, township engineering consulting firm, suggested that the board require land developers to deposit money for such systems with the township. The board then would advertise for bids, and award contracts to the lowest bidder.

This, said the consultant, would prohibit developers from dealing directly with contractors and from "wearing them down" to a too-low price — a practice that often has resulted in inferior work.

The board is now studying the proposal.

In other business, the board: — adopted an ordinance regulating kennels and animal farms. — agreed to study further a proposed youth curfew. — appointed Clerk Hadley Bachert to replace Treasurer Ray Harrison on the board of appeals. — discussed the possible need of another policeman.

— agreed to study a county road work plan under which the county would provide $6,848 for road work if the township will put up an equal amount.

FOOT-SAVING EDUCATION
By JIM HOUK

IS IT POSSIBLE FOR A CHILD TO OUTGROW A PAIR OF SHOES WITHIN 3 WEEKS OF THE DAY THEY WERE BOUGHT?

Yes, "Enraged," it is possible and it happens frequently but the "growth" is not true growth of that short period.

When a child's old shoes are too short, the child will unconsciously draw up his arch to keep his toes from bumping the ends of the shoes. Drawing up the arch shortens the foot. Try it.

Suppose the old shoes were size 7 and he now measures for size 8. An 8 shoe in the proper width will permit him to relax his foot and when the foot settles back to normal it may measure 8 1/2 to 9. The new 8's are outgrown and the shoeman catches a headache because the parents allowed the child to wear 7's when he needed 8's. If the shoeman attempts to anticipate this settling process and fits the shoes a half size too long, it invariably turns out that this child has a natural "hunch" foot that doesn't care to settle. The shoes turn up in front like skis, they look like some a neighbor gave you, and they are worn out before the child grows into them. You can't win.

FIRST BUYERS — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ritchie of Northville became the first purchasers of a house in the new Northville Heights subdivision scheduled for official opening this week end. 130 Attend PTA Session on Learning

More than 130 parents and teachers attended the second meeting of the "How Children Learn" series sponsored by the Northville Parent-Teachers association.

The audience heard Dr. Joseph Hourihan of Wayne State university discuss guidance and present a film entitled "Mike Makes His Mark". The film depicted the case of a boy who wished to leave school.

Audience questions were answered by a panel composed of Dr. Hourihan, Dr. Chester McCormick and Fred Stefanski.

The March P-TA program will discuss reporting to parents.

Twenty-two members and friends of the Sons and Daughters of the Redford Pioneers met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowring of Bradner road. The group was served a pot-luck supper.

Mrs. LaRue Bogart had as her guest her daughter, Mrs. Luella Pashby.

Volunteer Firemen May Get U.S. Help

Volunteer firemen will receive a hand from the Federal Government if Congressman William S. Broomfield has his way.

Broomfield introduced a bill in the House of Representatives which would permit the federal government to donate surplus property to volunteer fire-fighting units.

"The Federal government has a lot of equipment no longer needed which would be of invaluable help to volunteer fire departments," said Broomfield. Such equipment as water tanks for fire trucks, tarpaulins, axes, and pumping equipment could be readily utilized by these volunteer departments said Broomfield.

A STRANGE LAWSUIT

Back in 1940 the Sunday School Times carried a detailed account of the strange lawsuit against the Bible. Doctor Harry Rimmer, President of the Research Science Bureau agreed to pay $1,000 to anyone who would prove a scientific mistake in the Bible.

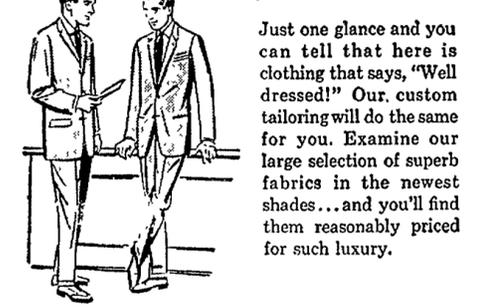

Mr. William Floyd, publisher of a magazine called the "Arbitrator," backed by Atheists, Free-thinkers, Humanists and Liberals, brought suit against Dr. Rimmer in the Fourth District Municipal Court in New York City. This is exactly what Dr. Rimmer wanted so that the evidence could be weighed publicly and decided by judicial procedure. The result of the unique trial was that the Bible emerged with shining glory undimmed by the venomous attacks of unbelief. In this day we are once again being fed the lies of unbelief discrediting Biblical accounts. To confirm them it is often said, "The Scientists say — "What they fail to report is that a number of eminent scientists do not agree with some of the present day fanciful theories. True Science and the Bible do not disagree. It is only the theory of some scientists that would make it seem so. The marvel is that a book so ancient could be so correct about so many scientific things. For my part, I'll stick by what God has revealed in His Word. How about you?"

She Really Knows Her Filters

END OF THE DAY — but not of their work. Mrs. Redner and Mrs. Brooks leave the sparkling General Filters building with briefcases under their arms. Like most executives, their working day doesn't always end at 5 p.m. The plant is located on Grand River near the railroad tracks west of Novi road.

To most women, a filter is an obscure something that fits somewhere into the furnace and somehow cleans the air or oil or something, and you have to get a new one once in awhile.

But when Mrs. Grace Redner talks about filters, she speaks with the precision of a filter company executive — for she is just that.

Mrs. Redner is president of General Filters, a firm which has conducted its quiver—but very successful—operations in Novi since 1952.

Under her guidance, General Filters turns out tens of thousands of filters, water traps, soot removers and humidifiers annually. Some 40-50 employees work in a friendly, family-like atmosphere. New products are designed, tested, and put into production. And in Toronto, a second plant makes similar products for Canadian use.

But Mrs. Redner is quick to give credit to other members of the executive board.

Her sons, Roland and Robert, have grown up with the firm and now run its purchasing and research departments. Vice President Bob Gregory is an engineer who transforms ideas into realities. And Treasurer Mrs. Winifred Brooks keeps tab on General Filters' money matters.

Mrs. Redner makes few moves without consulting with the foursome to get their ideas.

A telephone rang, for example, and she answered it. After a moment, she replied, "That sounds good, but I'd like to check with Roland first."

Mrs. Redner has been president of the firm only since 1953, but her business experience started just after high school when she worked for a vice president of Cadillac.

During the next 20 years, she raised her family while her husband founded, then expanded General Filters in Detroit. In 1941, she went back to work and helped guide the firm through its busy war years.

In 1955, her husband's health failed and she moved into the president's chair. Since then Mr. Redner has spent much of his time in the warm climes of Mexico, content that his wife can handle the business.

Now General Filters is looking forward to expansion, with most of its hopes pinned on a revolutionary home humidifier. The '800' Mrs. Redner says, is something that every home should have — and if enough homeowners see the light, her firm's business could more than double.

What is the secret of General Filters' past success and promising future?

"Well, as my husband says, you have to know your product inside out," she commented. "We'd probably starve to death making door-knobs or running a restaurant... but we do know filters."

"When I started out," she added, "I didn't know the first thing about filters. Now I could probably write an engineering report on them."

"Now take our new '800,'" she says. "Most humidifiers break down because the evaporating pan..."

PRODUCTION PROBLEM is studied by Gregory and Joseph White, foreman of the General Filter shop which employs 40-50 people. The sprayer and conveyor in background are used to coat filters with a special resin paint that is impervious to rust and other metal-destroyers.

BROTHERS IN BUSINESS — Roland (left) and Robert Redner check the production schedule for General Filters' six products. Upwards of 2,000 filters can be turned out in a single day, forming ceiling-high stacks of boxes waiting shipment to all parts of the U.S.

Baseball Registration Saturday

Baseball is in the air in Northville already. First registrations for Northville's extensive recreation baseball program will be taken this Saturday from 8:30 to noon at the scout hall. The hall will be open each Saturday morning from now on for additional registrations.

The registration schedule was moved up this year because of earlier league schedules and an expected increase in the number of candidates, according to Recreation Director Stan Johnston.

Age groups for each league have been revised this year. They are: Midgets — 13 and under Class F — 15 and under Class E — 18 and under

Registration cards will be 25 cents for all city and Northville township residents. Novi youngsters will be unable to participate in the program this year because no funds have been contributed to the program from Novi.

A sanctioned bowling league will be started soon if enough high school boys sign up.

Interested boys should report to Northville Recreation between 8:30 and 9 a.m. Saturday or give their names to Johnston at school. More details will be announced later.

G.A.L. Ends Bowling, Starts Cage Finals

Last Thursday marked the end of G. A. L. bowling and the start of basketball finals.

The four girls with the highest averages and the girl with the highest single game will participate in a league playoff at Bloomfield Hills.

Interscholastic basketball finals will begin tonight at 4 p.m. The visiting team is Bloomfield Hills.

The G. A. L. board will put out a league G. A. L. paper sometime this month. There will be an editorial and typist staff consisting of board and G. A. L. members.

Miss Patricia Bubel, sponsor of the NHS intermural basketball team, was presented with a bowling ball and bag by members of the basketball team.

FEMALE COURT WIZARDS — The Red Heads, a professional girls basketball team, came to Northville last week and showed the NHS faculty how to play the game. The girls had the rules — and the referees — on their side, but it was all in good fun. Here, the Red Heads do a rock 'n' roll number with basketballs as part of their half-time show.

Faculty Falls As Red Heads Roll

NO MATCH — Russ Reimer makes a noble effort, but the Red Heads' 6'5" Jackie Wrage leaps into the stratosphere to get the tip. Al Jones (left) couldn't quite believe his eyes.

HANDCUFFED — There's one way to stop a guy from guarding you: just grab hold of him, as Zethel Keith demonstrated to Stan Johnston. The gals won, but the faculty had plenty of spunk and tricks of its own.

Mustangs End Season in Style

The Northville Mustangs had some discouraging moments this season, but they were all forgotten Friday night.

Putting together good, solid basketball and some smart bench work, the Mustangs rampaged to their biggest and happiest win of the year—a resounding 78-67 triumph over Wayne-Oakland league champion Clarkston.

It was the season's finale for both teams, and left the Mustangs only one game behind the powerful Wolves in the final standings.

Northville had good reason for its wild locker room celebration. The win was perfect revenge for an earlier 49-45 defeat at Clarkston's hands, and was only the second loss for the Wolves this year.

It was the first time in 20 games—going back to 1955—that Clarkston had lost on its own "crackerbox court".

Playing their best game of the season, the Mustangs hit on 45 percent from the floor and notched 26 of 30 free throws.

Ironically, fouls again played a big part in the game, much as they did in Clarkston's win earlier this year.

Not only did Clarkston's 23 fouls provide exactly one-third of Northville's tallies, but they sent two of the Wolves' biggest guns off the court with more than five minutes to go.

Alert bench work on the part of Coach Stan Johnston gave Northville an upper hand. Noting that the officials were calling a close game, Johnston substituted freely and let seven players absorb the fouls. Only Forward Bill Yahne was lost.

Clarkston Coach Don Mauti stuck with his first team, however. By game's end, three of them had fouled out and a fourth had four fouls. Center Cap Pethers stole the offensive show. He hit consistently from the floor, and hauled in 20 rebounds, and bucketed eight of nine free throws for a 26 point total.

And at the end of the third quarter, he barked a roar even from Clarkston fans with a spectacular hook shot from center court that swished through the hoop just as the buzzer sounded.

Northville's free substitution enabled two reserves to see sustained action for the first time this year, and they came through in fine fashion.

Diminutive Joe Kritch, for whom the small court was tailor-made, netted eight points in the last half and was the bulwark of Northville's back-court maneuvering. N. C. Schrader, going in for Yahne, picked off 14 rebounds and helped open up shots for Pethers.

The lead changed hands eight times in the game and was tied another eight times until the Mustangs broke it open in the final six minutes.

But at the start, Clarkston seemed well on its way to another win. The Wolves built up a 5-1 margin, using a full court press at the outset.

Northville soon bounced back, and tied it at 10-10 on two free throws by Dick Biery. But the Wolves resumed the attack and moved to a 20-16 lead at the quarter.

Midway in the second quarter, the Mustangs sank six free throws and took the lead for the first time, 30-27. Clarkston tied it up, but Pethers tipped in two baskets to send Northville to the locker room with a 40-37 lead.

Clarkston came back strong, and barged to a 44-41 comeback. In the next few minutes, the lead saw-sawed back and fourth as Pethers poured in 12 points to keep Northville in it. His stunning hook at the buzzer put the Mustangs in front 57-55.

The Wolves had one more happy moment as they went ahead 60-59. Northville then tied it at 63-63, and that was the end for Clarkston.

From 6:53 to 2:36, the Wolves failed to hit once, and Northville moved from a shaky tie to a 75-63 margin.

Clarkston's doom was actually sealed at 5:25, when Parks—who had connected for 25 points—went out on fouls. Eleven seconds later, he was followed by big Bill Noles, who had 18 for the night.

TWO OF TWENTY-SIX — "Cap" Pethers, head and shoulders above the opposition, goes in for a basket in Friday night's encounter with Clarkston. The Mustangs paced by Pethers' 26 points walloped the formidable Wolves, 78-67, with their best showing of the season.

'58 Season Was Like '57 With One Little Exception

As was the 1956-57 conference race, the 1957-58 Wayne-Oakland basketball season was strictly a three-team affair.

Northville, Clarkston and Holly again held the big guns, and were the only three teams to finish above the .500 mark.

Despite the similarity between the two seasons, however, there was one big difference as far as Northville fans were concerned. The title, held jointly by Clarkston and the Mustangs last year, went to the Wolves outright this season.

Though the Mustangs pasted the league champs in the finale Friday, it wasn't enough to narrow the gap. Clarkston came out on top by one full game.

While Northville was wrapping up Clarkston, highly-improved West Bloomfield pulled away from Bloomfield Hills, 66-55, to post a 7-7 fourth-place record for the year. Last year, the Lakers were in the cellar with a 1-11 showing.

Elsewhere, Brighton — which upset both Northville and Clarkston this year — suffered an embarrassing 62-60 defeat at the hands of last-place Milford and slipped into fifth place.

The league's final action saw Holly sew up third place by downing Clarenceville, 74-62. Holly had won its first five games and lost its next five before coming back strong in its final four, which included a death-dealing upset of Northville.

Colts End Season With 12-3 Record

The Northville Colts heard even more whistles than the varsity Friday night as they held on to a slim lead in the final minutes to drop Clarkston, 50-45.

The win gave Coach Al Jones powerful junior varsity squad a final 12-3 record for the year.

Between them, the two teams picked up 57 fouls — nearly one every 30 seconds. Northville was nicked 28 times, and Clarkston 29.

The Colts broke the game open in the third quarter, but saw Clarkston surge back to a 44-42 deficit in the fourth period. But Larry Nitzel, Gary Morgan and Jim Patterson stepped to the free throw line and swished in six straight shots to salt it away.

Morgan and Fallon paced the Colts with 12 points, and Patterson notched nine.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

WHOM DO YOU WANT?

"Whom will ye that I should release unto you, Barabbas or Jesus?" (Matthew 27:17). This is the question that the Roman governor, Pontius Pilate, once threw out to a raging mob over 1900 years ago. In that critical moment theirs was the choice either to embrace sin or righteousness, death or life, hell or heaven.

How do people answer this question today?
1. "WE WANT BARABBAS!"

Some demand the release of Barabbas and the death of Christ.

Barabbas was a notorious criminal, guilty of treason and murder. The mob at Christ's time, agitated by the elders of the people, was not ashamed to ask for the freedom of this infamous convict instead of the liberation of the clearly innocent Christ.

Here we have a striking picture of what goes on even now. Why do people hate Christ today? Because He gives witness to the truth. They despise His Word because it uncovers their sin and wickedness, their pride and vanity, their hypocritical piety. They decree that Jesus must not merely be chastised but also crucified.

2. "WE WANT BOTH BARABBAS AND JESUS!"

Others are on the border. They vacillate between Barabbas and Christ. Pontius Pilate is an example of such spineless individuals. He was a reed shaken with the wind. On the one hand he was convinced of the innocence of Christ and knew that he should release him. On the other hand he felt that he must curry the favor of the populace. He was more concerned about his position and his temporal welfare — and so he wavered. He wanted to go along half with Christ but also half with the accusers. He thought he was acting wisely, but actually he was playing right into the hands of the enemies of Christ.

This is a picture of all who try to conform their Christianity to the world. They try to remove all points and corners from their faith and principles, so that these will be more agreeable to the worldly-minded. Finally they sell their conscience and allow the world to take over the rudder of their ship. Jesus said: "He that is not with Me is against Me. (Matthew 12:30).
3. "We WANT JESUS!"

God wants us to denounce sin and to disassociate ourselves from worldliness and to keep no unholy alliance with those who cast their ballot against Jesus. God wants us to ask not for Barabbas but for JESUS, because He alone is the Way, the Truth, and the Life — the Holy One of God, who died for our sins and rose again for our justification.

WALLED LAKE, MICHIGAN

Do You Know What to Do When Plumbing Fails?

Knowing what to do in a plumbing emergency can save homeowners unnecessary expense.

The three most common plumbing emergencies faced by homeowners are (1) leaky faucets, (2) leaky pipes and (3) stopped up water closets, sinks and drains.

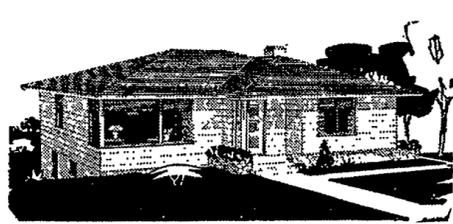

The most economical way of solving the "leaky faucet" emergency is to ask your local plumbing contractor to replace all the washers in your home at the same time. Such "prevention maintenance" is inexpensive and saves repeat calls — especially if a worn valve-seat rather than the washer is causing the trouble.

To keep a little drip from becoming a big problem — late at night when you are trying to sleep — here is a simple first-aid measure that will at least stop the noise. Fasten a strip of cloth to the end of the faucet with a rubber band so that the water runs down the cloth to the sink instead of splashing.

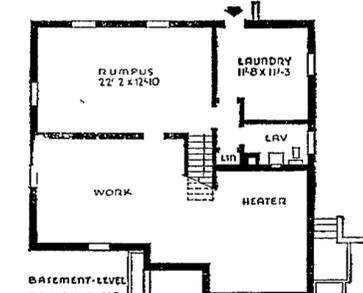

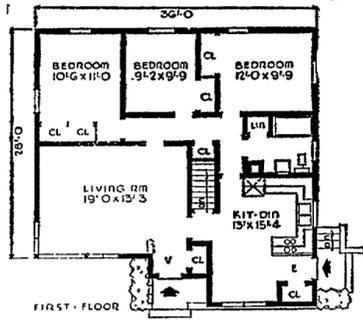

Leaking pipes, especially those hidden in walls and floors, can do serious damage if not detected early. A damp spot on the wall or ceiling should always be investigated. If it results from a leaking pipe, it may spread and cause damage to plaster and wall paper.

When a leak is discovered, the homeowner can prevent further damage by closing the main water cut-off valve and draining the supply lines by opening the lowest faucet in the system. The "lowest faucet" may be the garden-hose connection outside or the laundry-tray faucet in the basement.

Knowing how to close the main gas and water cut-off valves can prevent serious damage during an emergency. Your local plumbing contractor can show you where the cut-off valves are located and how to operate them.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-445

DESIGN C-445. Designed for a lot sloping to the rear, this three-bedroom home can be adapted to a level site by changing the size of the basement windows and eliminating the door from the laundry to the outside. Colorful asphalt shingles on the hip roof combine with the corner living room window, covered front entrance, the touch of brick wainscot joining the brick planters and wide horizontal siding to present a pleasant appearing home. Floor area is 1,110 square feet, cubage 21,000 cubic feet. For further information about DESIGN C-445, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minnesota.

Making Attic Bedroom Is Easy and Economical

The swiftest and most economical way to additional bedroom space is to convert the attic. An attractive attic bedroom for children, or as a guest room or a family hide-away is increasing in popularity.

Most attics are gloomy, disorganized storage rooms for discarded possessions. With a small investment, they can be turned into charming rooms by the average do-it-yourselfer in just two week ends.

Storage space behind the knee wall can be used for trunks, out-of-season clothes, bedding, sports equipment. Through proper shelving and proper planning everything now stored in the attic can be housed.

Insulation, headroom and light are all vital to the use and enjoyment of the attic room. Roof rafters are usually lined with batt insulation, or an insulating tile may be used on ceilings and insulating board on sidewalls.

To assure proper headroom, knee walls should start at least 4' from the eave of the roof, depending on the pitch of the roof. Ventilating louvers or windows at either gable end of the attic should be replaced by large windows to gain as much light as possible. Large windows also give the attic room an illusion of being more spacious than it actually is.

The most perplexing problem to homeowners is how to replace a disappearing stairway with a permanent access to the attic. A permanent stairway can often be built through an existing linen or clothes closet.

IMPROVED TELEPHONE SERVICE PROPOSED FOR NORTHVILLE AREA

When modern dial telephone service comes to Northville this summer, customers with one-party and two-party service will be able to dial many of their own calls across Michigan and across the nation.

With the new equipment it is not possible to provide this service to lines with more than two parties and the Michigan Bell Telephone Company therefore is requesting permission from the Michigan Public Service Commission to discontinue four-party residence service throughout the Northville exchange. Four-party residence customers would be provided with one-party or two-party service as they desire.

The Company also will ask the Commission for permission to enlarge the "base rate area," by adding the territory shown on the accompanying map, and to enlarge the "Novi Locality Rate Area" by adding the territory also shown on the map. This means that mileage charges for one-party and two-party services would be eliminated in the base rate area addition and in the locality area addition, and would be substantially reduced in the remaining rural area (beyond the area shown on the map).

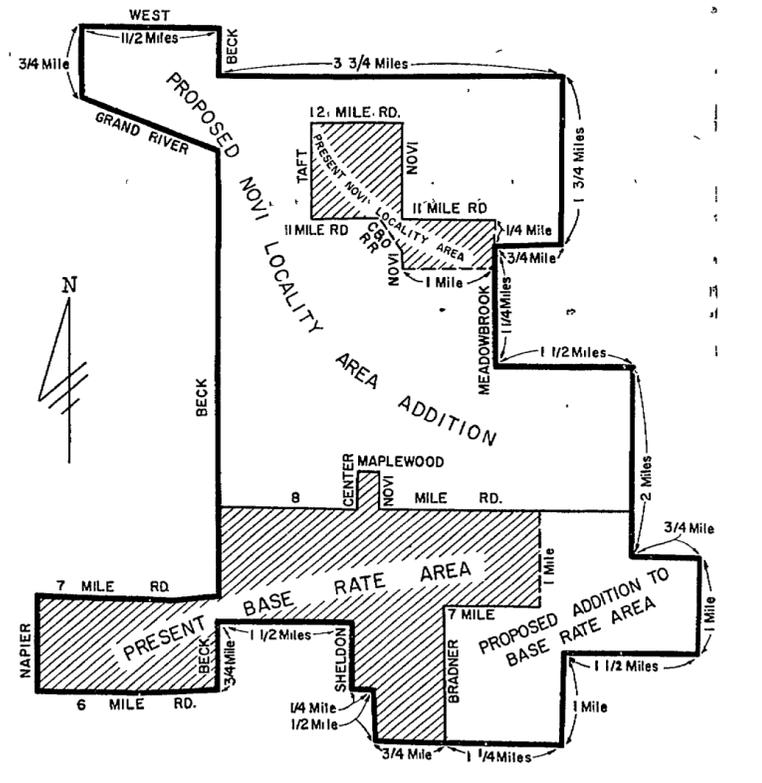

The Company also will make a request to the Commission for permission to reduce Novi locality area rates, withdraw the offering of rural line service and introduce two-party residence service in Novi.

The effect of these changes, if authorized by the Commission, would be to increase the monthly rates of certain customers who now have either four-party or rural service. Rates of the following customers at the following locations would be increased when the change is made to higher grades of service:

- Four-party residence customers located in the present base rate area.
- Four-party residence and rural business and residence customers located in the present Novi locality area.
- Four-party residence customers located in the Salem locality area (not shown on map).
- Rural business and residence customers located in the proposed addition to the Novi locality area.
- Rural business customers located in the proposed addition to the base rate area.
- Four-party residence customers located in the remaining rural area.

Because of the present mileage charges, as mentioned above, four-party residence customers in the base rate area addition, and in the locality area addition could obtain two-party residence service for less than they now pay. Also, rural residence customers in the base rate area addition could have two-party residence service at a lower rate because the two-party residence base rate is lower than the rural rate.

Rural service would continue to be available in the remaining rural area and customers with this type of service will be able to dial calls direct to telephones in Northville, Farmington, Livonia, Plymouth, South Lyon and Walled Lake.

Variety of Woods For Paneling

More than 100 species of wood are now used as paneling. Homeowners can now choose from a wide range of both woods and finishes that complement any decor.

Methods of applying wood paneling have been refined, so that a 12x14' room can be paneled in just one week and by the average do-it-yourselfer.

Woods with an even grain are used to create formal effects in the living room or den. Woods with knots, prominent grains and other characteristic markings are preferred for informal rooms.

To give a small room sweeping and longer lines, you install wood paneling with the boards running horizontally. More conventional paneling features the use of boards running vertically.

Homeowners often achieve interesting effects by combining wood paneling and painted surfaces. Paneling runs only half way up the wall and the upper half is painted. Such wainscoting or dadoing is especially suitable for dining rooms, recreation rooms, and hallways where lower walls take scuffs and kicks. Wood walls withstand abuse, and need little up-keep.

The number of families owning their own homes increased by two fifths from 1949 to 1957, according to the Federal Reserve Board. Families living in their own homes jumped in that period from 44 to 54 percent.

Walled Lake Has Top Home Design

James W. Smith, a Lawrence Institute of Technology junior architectural student from Walled Lake, is the winner of a $1,000 first prize in the 1959 home design competition sponsored by the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit.

Smith, 8221 South Commerce road, designed a two-level home for a sloping site which won over entries from student architects and employees of registered architect's offices from many parts of the country.

Under existing rate schedules, the monthly increases in rates that would result for the customers mentioned above would be as shown in Column A below if they subscribe to two-party service.

The Commission has granted the Company's request for a rehearing of an application filed November 16, 1956 for general rate increases throughout the State. If the higher rate schedules requested at that time should become effective before the elimination of four-party service and the other changes now being proposed, the increases due to such current proposals would be as shown in Column B, below.

	Monthly Increases For Change to Two-party Service
	Column A	Column B
Four-party customers in present base rate area and present Novi locality area.	.70	.55
Rural residence customers in present Novi locality area.	.95	.80
Four-party customers in Salem locality area.	.30	.50
Rural residence customers in proposed addition to Novi.	1.50	1.75
Rural business customers in proposed addition to base rate area.	2.00	2.25
Rural business customers in present Novi locality area and in proposed addition to Novi locality area.

Four-party customers located in the area that would remain rural (not shown on map) would have their monthly charges increased with two-party service under either present schedules or those requested in November 1956. The amount of increase would depend upon the distance between customers' locations and the base rate area or locality area boundaries, and the amount of the mileage charges that would be applicable. No present four-party customers in this area would get an increase of more than 70¢ per month, so increases would be less.

NOTE: The above increases are subject to the 10% Federal tax.

If you have any questions about the proposal, please call the Company's Business Office at Farmington, Greenleaf 4-9900. Our representative will be glad to discuss it with you.

The club also had an Orange and Black day Friday to promote school spirit.

'Scientists' Sell Fire Extinguishers For Chicago Trip

Fire extinguishers, anyone? Approximately 45 high school physics, chemistry and physical science students are selling Speedee fire extinguishers to help pay for their upcoming science trips to Chicago.

The trip will be on April 24 and 25. Among the places they will visit while in Chicago are the Shedd Aquarium, Adler Planetarium, Museum of Natural History and the Museum of Science and Industry. They will also tour Chinatown.

The cost of the trip is over $30, so it is important that the students sell as many extinguishers as possible.

Local Students Lose Howell Radio Show

Two Northville high school students who have been presenting a musical radio show each Sunday are now in the market for a sponsor.

Betsy Merriam and Richard Drew, who played bongo-drum and piano, respectively, on Howell radio for the past several months, lost their air time when the sponsor's contract ran out.

Anyone wishing information concerning sponsorship of the show may call either Betsy or Dick for details.

Student Council Urges Participation

On Monday, February 17, the student council gave a questionnaire to all students to answer during homeroom.

There were four questions: "How can we get students to give student council members more ideas? Do you think the student council and student council have been just in their decisions? What is your opinion of the following regulations? Locker ordinance; one-way stairs; and other questions."

The questionnaire was given to increase student interest in governmental matters. In their answers students felt that court penalties should be more constructive.

Local Explorer Scouts Visit Forging Company

Sixteen members of Explorer Post 755 visited the Michigan Forging company plant in Dearborn last Wednesday.

The trip was a part of the vocational program offered by the Explorers of America. Arrangements for the trip were made by Crispin Hammond, a Northville resident and secretary of the Company.

When the troop arrived at the plant, they met briefly with the vice president, Clair Schaffer, who explained the forging process and explained what would be seen on the tour of the plant.

The first stop on the trip was in the room where dyes are made. The dyes shape the metal when forced down upon it by presses. The boys then visited the room where the large presses are located.

An educational film on forging was shown when the tour was finished. Schaffer then conducted an interesting question and answer period. Transportation for the trip was provided by Mr. Hammond and Joseph Petrock. —Philip Jerome

as authorized dealers for MERCEDES-BENZ motor cars

The most distinguished of the world's motor cars are now available in your community.

Mercedes-Benz cars are automotive masterpieces . . . engineered and crafted for those who can appreciate the most perfect balance between luxury, elegance and performance ever achieved in an automobile.

These cars are not "mass produced" and will never grace more than a limited number of garages. The reason is simply that handcrafting is an essential part of the manufacture of every Mercedes-Benz car.

This has been true for over 50 years and explains, in part, why the three-pointed star of Mercedes-Benz means the finest car in the world. In racing, too, Mercedes-Benz devotion to detail has proved itself through an awesome string of victories. Examine the record and know that the benefits of this experience are passed on to every owner in the form of performance complemented by safety.

On request, your dealer will arrange a demonstration of these internationally-renowned cars and discuss the coast-to-coast service facilities being established.

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

A township taxpayer stopped by the office Monday morning to suggest that many residents of the township do not clearly understand reassessment. "I don't believe they realize the new assessments will not show up until we receive our tax notices next December," he pointed out.

He may be right. And while this particular gentlemen had no argument with his new assessments, he could foresee a storm next winter when fellow residents discovered the change.

Actually, the new assessments on township properties are available to be seen at the township hall now. Any questions residents may want to raise must come before the board of review which met Monday and Tuesday and will meet again next Tuesday and Wednesday.

City residents were notified by letter of assessment changes. The city board of review meet next week on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

While nearly all assessments in both the city and township have been raised, it should not mean that taxes go up. Actually, the school, county and township mill rates should be lowered as the property values approach a more realistic level.

We heartily agree that every resident should be interested in assessments. If you have a question, go to your board of review NOW. Next winter will be too late.

Dilemma in Legislature

Michigan's economic stamina is being tested by a business setback that both parties agree is gripping the nation, either temporarily or on a long-range basis.

The effect on state government is cumulative.

For the second year, Republicans are faced with a need for economy, ranged against demands for expanded services, especially in the fields of higher education and mental health.

"Caucus instructions are to cut the budget. There will be no new taxes." That was the cryptic announcement of Senator Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) after a two-hour conference with the Republican majority. The repercussions started immediately.

Democrats charged it was a trial balloon, a frank pitch for public support; but there was also the opinion that the GOP is making use of the existing situation.

Republicans reason that if the public reaction is against their decision, the party will have a ready-made argument that, despite the anticipated flood of red ink, the public wants services.

"It means that the public will, in effect, be demanding new taxes and we'll have time to pass them," one said.

The final decision can fix state spending on a two-year-old standard with increases only to take care of year-old pay raises, recent promotion adjustments of wage scales and committed buildings.

Another increase will be more than $19,000,000 poured into the school aid from the general fund—that never anticipated.

School aid was handed, until two years ago, by the law turning over two cents of the three-cent on a dollar sales tax to the schools. When the fund ran short, the state made up the difference.

First move to keep the level at $190 per pupil was to advance payments two years ago. Last year, the answer was the $25,000,000 cigarette and liquor tax increases.

The twin tax boost fell $6,000,000 short.

That means that the state will have to raise $6,000,000 to handle current-year payments, then find $14,000,000 more for the $70,000 new pupils expected next fall.

Republican decision anticipates a deficit of some $15,000,000—which party hopefuls described as "manageable."

Republicans said the decision will mean the equivalent of a 10 percent across-the-board decrease in state services.

Because some items like public welfare cannot be decreased, the decreases will have to be spotted heavier in some agencies. Republicans said the 30,000 state payroll will have to be reduced.

As the 1958 session of the legislature nears the halfway point, the question develops: Is this really a trial balloon, or a policy decision that will stick?

Campaigning politicians must develop strategy to toss against their opponents and the opposite party.

Now comes the problem of strategy and timing of the television era. Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, announcing his candidacy for the U. S. Senate, realized that the announcement would automatically cut off his free television time.

As an office-holder, he was welcomed before the cameras. As a candidate, he must pay his way or his opponent gets equal free time under television's code of practice—and some laws.

The office seeker must weigh the advantage of free TV time with that of press coverage as a candidate. He must also consider the advantage of formally staking out his office so far as opponents within the party are concerned.

When it seems wiser to announce, he makes his move.

This situation existed for Senator John E. Swainson (D-Detroit) who announced he is a candidate for Hart's office.

Gov. Williams, who always has waited until the last possible minute to make his announcement, is following a similar practice this year. For him, delay means even more.

As a governor, he can use a limousine chauffeured by State Police aides, ride in a state-owned and operated airplane and get free television and radio time, even without asking.

That's why he will wait, and wait, and wait. . . .

Republicans are a trifle confused by the alacrity with which industrialists and businessmen jumped at the chance to become Gov. Williams' ambassadors.

The program is for the nearly 200 executives who travel about the nation to sell other businessmen on a move to the Water Wonderland, Michigan.

Several of the "ambassadors" are leaders in the Republican party and most vote with the GOP.

The sentiment was expressed by a Republican worker who has watched his party defeated at the polls for the past 10 years in Michigan.

"Williams has got them, and us, over another barrel."

But it is to the credit of the ambassadors that they are willing to overlook party and philosophical difference to work hard to bring industry to this state. They realize that regardless of who gets the credit, everyone can benefit if they are successful; that everyone can suffer if they fail.

Small Business Feels Money Squeeze Most

Babson Park, Mass., I very seldom refer to political matters in this column, but I do wish there were some way I could interest readers in writing Dr. Arthur F. Burns, c/o the White House in Washington, how serious the situation is for many worthy businessmen.

When money is tight, as it has been during the past year, the small businessmen are the greatest sufferers. Bankers are human and loan money first to their largest depositors. These, naturally, are "big businesses." Furthermore, the majority of failures are among small businessmen, rather than large concerns. Hence, your local banker prefers to loan to the big companies and you cannot blame him.

I am not much for more government aid. I believe that the country would be better off in the end to cut it all out,—to farmers, contractors, home owners, and veterans. For a good many years our country prospered on a laissez-faire system. I fear that the present aid to pressure groups will continue until there is one grand collapse, when we must all start over again without government aid. However, that time has not come yet. The contractor and small home owner, because of increased costs, are aided by government guarantee of a portion of their loan when they build a new house. In the same way, the government would be justified in guaranteeing reasonable loans to small businessmen to cover needed inventories, improvements to stores or factories. Washington is responsible for inflation and should protect worthy business against its evil results.

In addition to urging your Senators and Representatives to help small worthy businessmen, every reader can help by patronizing them. "I would strongly oppose boycotting 'bug business.'" Both big business and small business have their usefulness. Each group keeps the other on its toes and provides real competition. The hope of the consumer is to keep both big business and small business alive and prosperous. This means we should divide our trade between them.

The lawyers and lobbyists who are paid to represent "big business" claim that the new inventions come from the big concerns. They point to the large amounts of money which big business is spending on research. Much work may be charged to research for tax purposes. I personally have been very close to the Patent Office in Washington and believe that a larger percentage of new inventions come to the Patent Office from small business than through big business. A man will naturally work harder to invent something for his own little business than he will as an employee of a large concern. Actually, big business watches the new inventions and buys the good patents that small businessmen have taken out. Furthermore, many patents are bought up by big business in order to smother them. We consumers would be better off if the small businessmen, who invented them, had the money to exploit them.

Big business can afford to pay a young man more to start than can am merely urging that our government to a college and hires three young men at $400 a month, with the idea of keeping one and letting the other two go. Small business cannot afford to do this. College graduates should be very careful not to be misled in this respect. Young people who lack the ambition to ever be-perous. Trying to run a country without small business is like trying to run a Church without a Sunday School. Let me further say that if big business becomes too big, it will lead to socialism; while, without big business, the small businessman will go to sleep. Finally, all Trustees should be required to put 10% of their funds in "risk" investments, both for insurance to the beneficiaries and for the good of the nation.

MORNING LIGHT AWAKEN YOU?

Sleeping comfort is, naturally, the essential requirement in the bedroom. The proper furniture arrangement—especially as regards light and glare—can add immeasurably to the room's comfort. Beds placed so that occupants face the early morning light are a poor arrangement, for most folks are sensitive to glare, and consequently rest is disturbed.

ELIMINATE GLARE . . .

. . . by placing beds so that the heads get as little early morning glare as possible. You'll have to experiment a little to determine which arrangement fits your room best. If the only place a bed fits is facing a window, then a tall decorative screen placed at the foot of the bed may be the solution.

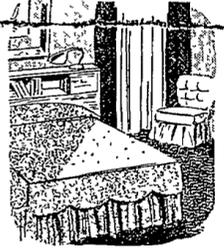

For more helpful ideas that will make your home more comfortable and livable, come in and have a talk with our friendly staff. We're always happy to see you.

We aim, always, to give you the newest and best furniture available at modest prices. Come in and see our wide assortment—new selections of lovely pieces for every room in your home. Every piece has been carefully chosen for beauty, utility and economy.
