

Eaton to Chairman State Racing Study

A thorough investigation of Michigan's racing laws was scheduled for this summer with the naming of a three-man study committee Monday by the house of representatives.

Sterling Eaton, Northville's representative who lives in Plymouth, was named chairman of the group. He'll work with Representatives Edson V. Root (R) of Benton Harbor and Representative Walter McMahon (D) of Detroit.

Asks Contributions For Easter Seals

Send in your Easter Seal contributions now!

That is the plea to residents of Northville by John F. Stubenvoll, chairman of the crippled children committee of the Northville Rotary club.

"The Easter Seal cause is the hope of crippled children and adults in our community," he said. "Their future is at stake and we must not let them down."

"Your Easter Seal society in western Wayne county has made great strides during the past year since the completion of its new center, made possible by gifts from sources other than Easter Seals," he added.

Break-In At Township Hall

Burglars entered the Northville township hall sometime Tuesday night breaking in the front door and badly damaging a large floor safe.

The break-in was not discovered until 1 p.m. Wednesday when Margaret Tegge, deputy clerk, went on duty. Clerk D. J. Stark told The Record at press time Wednesday that officers were checking the safe for fingerprints. At that time officers had been unable to open the damaged safe, so presumably no money had been stolen.

PREVIEW OPENING — Northville residents are invited to a preview opening of the city's newest subdivision this week end. Trend Homes, located on Baseline at Novi street, will introduce the first models of a proposed 250-home subdivision.

Open 250-Home Subdivision

Trend Homes will make their debut in Northville this week end in the official opening of the proposed 250-home subdivision.

Located on Baseline road at Novi street, the subdivision will offer three-bedroom brick homes ranging in price from $14,990 to $16,300.

Twenty-seven homes are planned for the present site known as subdivision number one. Another 120 homes are in the planning stage directly to the north. In all, the development includes nearly 70 acres extending up to Center street. The project, under the development of the D & R Building company, will introduce a new wall paneling product. Known as Dylite, the paneling has a chemical core developed by Koppers corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. It is covered with mahogany.

Robert Krue, official of D & R, stated that the new product offers more beauty, easier cleaning qualities and definite soundproof and insulating advantages. D & R is using the product exclusively in their Trend Homes.

Eleven homes are already constructed and ready for inspection. In addition to the paneling feature they offer aluminum storms and screens, built-in oven and cooking top and disposers. The project design was handled by Benicke & Lorenz, while Powers Studios provided the color styling and interior design.

The project will have city sewer and water facilities as well as paved streets. FHA financing will be available. Sales representative for the houses is John Beuparlant of the D & R Building company.

The developers are hopeful of building 100 homes this year. The opening of the project climaxes nearly four years of effort by D & R. The company has been plagued by annexation troubles which began when a 220-acre area in which the development is located was voted into the city. The election was reversed two years ago on a suit brought by Novi township.

The area was again annexed to Northville last year. Another suit for reversal of the action has been brought by Warren Products (see story elsewhere) and awaits court action.

D & R has since obtained a contract with the city insuring use of city water and sewer facilities, even if the area should revert to Novi township.

The models will be open for public inspection daily from 1 p.m. until 8 p.m.

Northville Teachers Seek Seven Percent Pay Raise

Northville teachers asked the board of education for a seven percent increase on their present salary schedule this week.

The request, made on behalf of the Teachers' club by James Madigan, was accepted by the board and tabled for further study at a special meeting April 17.

In their request the teachers urged the board to consider percentage increases in the future. They pointed out that they did not feel that across the board increases were fair to teachers near the top of the salary schedule.

An eventual goal of $5000 minimum and $11,000 maximum salary is sought by the teachers. Only through percentage increases can this spread be obtained, they pointed out.

Superintendent Russell Amerman said that an acute shortage of money was causing most school districts in Wayne county to postpone any salary increases until September. "While we do not wish to have any teacher sign a contract blindly, I believe most would be willing to accept the word of the board that raises would be made if possible," Amerman stated.

Madigan urged that teachers be notified as soon as possible and Dr. Waldo Johnson, acting as president in the absence of Nelson Schrader, assured him that the matter would be carefully considered.

In other business the board waded through a long agenda of business concerning equipment and details for construction of the high school. Members expressed approval and pleasure at the progress of the new building.

Approval was given to purchase of $46,000 worth of kitchen equipment for the new school from Great Lakes Hotel Supply company, low bidding firm.

The board reviewed possible landscaping drawings for the Amerman lot of Green Ridge Nursery. A plan for blacktopping of the Amerman parking area was also presented by Richard Kay, school principal.

The board heard reports from Principals Elroy Ellison and Kay on recent trips to educational conventions in Chicago and Philadelphia. Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, administrative assistant, also submitted reports on results of the Otis mental ability tests given in grades eight through 12.

The meeting was interrupted on several occasions by representatives of the Northville Township Tax committee. Leon Bonner and Mrs. C. M. Wilson quizzed board members on the school tax and expenditures made by the board. The questioning finally developed into an hour-long discussion of taxation, state equalization and basic school financing problems. Amerman, Ellison and Kay took turns in answering questions and explaining how state aid, bus transportation and distressed district aid has been withdrawn or reduced placing a greater financial burden on local taxpayers.

Board members agreed with Mrs. Wilson and Bonner that they, too, disliked higher taxes. They named lack of industry, growing population and lessening state aid as the principle reasons for heavier local school taxes.

Schedule Hearing Of Annexation Suit

Council Purchases Well Site; Eyes Lots On Gerald Avenue

City councilmen ran through a brief agenda in less than two hours Monday night. During that time they decided to purchase nearly five acres of land for a well site and condemn several lots in Green Valley Acres for purchase by the city.

The well site purchase was made from the D & R Building company. The land is located near the C & O railroad west of Novi road. An agreement to purchase the land if water was available was made by the city with the building company last year.

Cost of the land to the city is $2400 an acre. While a producing water well is already developed on the land, councilmen feel that another well may be established.

Councilmen decided to give up long-running negotiations to purchase seven additional lots in the Gerald avenue Green Valley Acres area. On a motion by Councilman Malcolm Allen the council directed Attorney Philip Ogilvie to start condemnation proceedings.

The additional lots will bring the total of city-owned land in the area to approximately 14 acres. The site will be used for a public works terminal and dumping.

In final business the council approved an expenditure of $328.24 for partial payment of wiring for Christmas decorations in the city.

Petitions Ready For School Election

Nominating petitions for the June 9 school board election are now available at the board of education offices at the Northville Main street elementary school.

Lone member of the board whose term expires this year is Eural Clark. As yet, he has not indicated whether he will seek re-election.

Although no petitions for board membership have been taken out, general interest in school affairs has been keen in recent months. Rising taxes and community-wide reassessment has given birth to at least one organization which has taken on the role of "watch dog" over school and township government affairs.

Petitions must be filed with the secretary of the board of education by 4 p.m., May 10. Final day of registration for voters is June 2.

State Plans Extension Of Hines Park Drive

A short extension of Edward Hines drive into Detroit is scheduled for completion this October.

The $73,258 project includes a bridge under Telegraph road near Ann Arbor Trail and 0.8 miles of concrete pavement from Telegraph to West Outer Drive.

When completed, the beautiful parkway drive will extend from West Outer Drive, through Livonia and Plymouth, to Northville.

The city of Northville and Warren Products were scheduled to return to court today in another legal step towards settlement of an annexation election held last November 19.

The Baseline road firm took the city to court for the second time last December in an attempt to avoid annexation to the city. The November 19 vote favored annexation of the 220-acre site in which the plant is located by a 159 to 32 majority in the city and nine to five in the area annexed.

Today attorneys representing Warren and the city are expected to appear briefly before the Oakland county circuit court after which they will probably be asked to submit briefs for court study.

The case has met a series of delays which began in December when the city asked for dismissal of the suit. In January the request was denied.

Warren's suit challenges the law that provides for annexations by cities. Specifically, the firm's attorneys contend that all residents of the township, not just the area to be annexed, should be allowed to vote.

In 1956 Warren won reversal of an annexation vote of the same area by charging that the vote was fraudulent.

The annexed area lies in Novi township and includes Northville Lumber & Coal company and a new subdivision under construction by the D & R Building company in addition to the Warren plant.

The area is considered in the city of Northville at present and was placed on the city's tax rolls this year. Since the annexation election Novi township has voted to incorporate as a village. If Warren was successful in winning reversal of the annexation, the area would return to the township, but would not be included as a part of the proposed village.

The case will undoubtedly attract the close attention of other cities planning annexations. It marks the first time that the law has been challenged in court. Numerous annexations have been completed under the law. Some 82 acres surrounding an Amerman elementary school was annexed under this law from Novi township to the city last year. Novi dropped its efforts to fight the annexation on the advice of its township attorney.

Plan Fire Inspection Of Business Firms For Clean-Up Drive

A fire and health inspection of Northville's commercial establishments will be conducted as part of the community's clean-up campaign in May.

Fire Chief William McGee, chairman of the Health and Safety committee for the drive, reminded homeowners that they can make their own inspection.

"The easiest fire to control is the one that never starts," McGee points out. He suggests that residents check their homes for newspaper piles, rags, clothes and boxes that may be cluttering up the attic. "All oily rags should be kept in metal containers and unprotected wood surfaces should be painted," he stated.

The "Beautify Northville" campaign is headed by John Canterbury and Joe Crupi. Committee chairmen will meet again Thursday, April 17 at 8 p.m. at the city hall. Final arrangements will be made at the meeting for the community-wide drive beginning May 1.

HOSPITAL UNDERWAY — Ground was broken Monday for the $3,500,000 St. Mary's hospital in Livonia, which will serve Northville and other western Wayne county communities when completed in 1960. The ground blessing and ground breaking ceremonies were presided over by Msgr. Warren Peck, dean of the southwestern deanery and pastor of St. Thomas Apostle parish in Ann Arbor.

Citizens Pack Annual Meeting

Northville township's annual meeting is usually a drab affair. Last year less than a half-dozen citizens appeared to hear a report by the supervisor, treasurer and clerk.

Things were different Saturday. A standing-room-only crowd of more than 50 township taxpayers came to listen, and be heard.

Before the three-hour-long meeting was over, however, the taxpayers approved a one mill township levy for 1958 (same as last year) and approved a $3600 recreation program appropriation.

Township Clerk D. J. Stark, apparently prepared for a barrage of taxpayer questions, distributed a breakdown of the township's $221,761.86 collected in 1957.

Of the total $4,697.52 is township tax. His breakdown showed that major shares of the tax dollar go to the county ($56,636.53), Northville schools ($136,902.15), and Plymouth schools ($23,525.66).

Treasurer Roy Terrill's report for 1957 showed that the township spent $3,750.91 more than it received. Cash on hand totals $16,859.18, however. Another $15,000 in investments is held by the township.

A $21,160.24 bill for division of assets with the city was the largest single expenditure of the township last year.

Longest discussions of the meeting involved reassessment and the recreation program appropriation.

Some members of the audience suggested that the board throw out all new assessments. The board upheld the reappraisal program, however.

Recreation Director Stan Johnston explained the Northville program for children and requested that the township pay 40 percent of the $9000 cost of the program. He pointed out that this amounted to $600 more than last year's total but that the township participation had been 40 percent of the total.

Johnston upheld the program and pointed out that the cost was small compared to the expense of institutionalizing juvenile delinquents. He gained support from Clerk Stark, who said that he would favor recreation monies coming from the school, tax, but that he considered the money well spent.

Some criticism was also aimed at the township's building inspection program, but officials pointed out that it had been changed and improved in recent months.

Attending will be Myrl Douglas, Jayne Hammond, Diane Luchtman, Sharon Myers and Julie Older. Carolyn Wolfom has been named an alternate.

The girls will be sponsored by the women's auxiliary of the Lloyd H. Green American Legion post, the Mothers club, the Women's club, Northville Optimists and the Girls Athletic League.

Some 360 girls will attend the June 17-26 conference.

They will be offered guidance, instruction and actual experience in governmental procedures and its functions.

Selection to attend Wolverine Girls' State is based on leadership, civic pride, cooperation, fairness, honesty and good character.

After spending nine days in governmental instruction and governing themselves by democratic procedure, two girls will be chosen to attend "Girls' Nation", representing Michigan, at Washington, D.C., where they will learn how the nation is governed.

Heart Victims Can Learn To Simplify Housework

Women with heart disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, rheumatic heart disease and other circulatory ailments can now register for free "Heart of the Home" classes to be held in Livonia starting May 8.

The work-simplification classes are conducted by the Michigan Heart Association in cooperation with Wayne State university and are designed to show the homemaker how to conserve her time and energy while doing her various household tasks.

Lectures, demonstrations and slides are presented to show homemakers how they can simplify work in the preparation of meals, washing and ironing, bed making, and other daily housework.

Each homemaker attends four 2-hour lecture-demonstration classes which will be held on May 8, 15, 22, 29 from 1 to 3 p.m. in Rosedale Garden's Civic association building, 9611 Hubbard.

The course is available to any woman although those with a heart or blood vessel ailment will be given first listing. Homemakers may register for the free classes by calling or writing the Michigan Heart Association, Temple 1-8550. Homemakers are urged to register this week in order that they may attend the first class on May 8.

No medical advice, diagnosis, treatment, or examination is given in the "Heart of the Home" classes. The Wayne County Medical Society has endorsed the entire program and doctors of medicine will be urged to refer their patients to the classes.

The "Heart of the Home" program is made possible by the Michigan Heart Association through funds received from the United Foundation Torch Drive.

Troop 12 Meets For Last Outing

Ten girls went on their final outing last Wednesday as scouts.

They are members of Girl Scout Troop 12, under the leadership and guidance of Mrs. Edwin Langtry, who has been with them since they first banded together seven years ago.

They began as second grade girls and now that they are in high school they will disband. Mrs. Langtry felt that the years of scouting served its purpose well for the girls.

As a final treat the scouts used their treasury money for luncheon in a Detroit restaurant and then they went on to see the exciting new Cinerama production, "Search for Paradise". Besides their leader the girls were accompanied by Mrs. Stuart Campbell, former co-leader and current chairman of the troop committee.

Former Resident Dies in California

A young man who spent his youth in Northville and Salem and seemed headed for a promising career as an actor and writer died recently after a lingering heart illness. The Record learned of the death of Murray N. Garnett, from his mother, Mrs. Ruth Reinstadler, 845 McFarlan, Flint.

She wrote: "We lived in both Salem and Northville for a number of years, later moving to Flint. When 20, Murray joined the Canadian air force and later the U.S. air force. While in Florida in 1943 awaiting overseas orders, he contracted a cold which later developed into bronchitis. This later caused a serious heart condition.

"After a medical discharge, he attended Pasadena Playhouse in Los Angeles for two years, then went to London to attend the Royal Academy of Arts. Soon after his arrival in London, the heart condition began troubling him and caused him to return home after spending many weeks in a London hospital.

"He had several serious heart operations — one in 1955 in which a plastic valve was put into his heart. None gave lasting relief. "Since 1950, he spent much of his time in the veterans' hospital in Los Angeles and Sawtelle, California.

"He was hospitalized last November and his condition gradually worsened until, as a last resort, they planned another very serious operation. It was performed on March 24. The heart condition was found to be worse than they thought and they did not complete the operation.

"He passed away on March 25 and was buried at Wadsworth general hospital in Los Angeles with full military honors.

"He had kept up his connection with the theater and between his stays at the hospital he worked on radio and television scripts and film cutting.

"His mother, father, Arthur Garnett, and brother, Mac Garnett, all live in Flint. His widow lives in Hollywood, and a sister, Laurel Karpus, lives in Norco, California." Mrs. Reinstadler said the family lived on Yerkes avenue during their stay in Northville. Her father was J. W. McFadden whose home was around Salem for many years.

Readers Speak Up:

REPORT CARDS FAR FROM 'B-PLUS'

Dear Editor:

Finally my blood is boiling enough to actually sit down and write a letter.

I read the PTA article in the Northville Record last week and actually read that we were in agreement, that Northville's report card system is B-plus! For your information there were only four persons who had enough gumption to say anything about the report cards in Northville. Two of these people were in agreement that the kindergarten cards were fine. The other two, including myself, were so very much opposed to the cards our grade school pupils get, we were quite put out with the lack of information in these cards and the unwillingness of people to even discuss our card situation. Dr. McCormick gave a report on five other card systems and also on grading student teachers. We who asked for this discussion were there to discuss OUR OWN SITUATION not some one else's. Also he was not in complete accord with our system. He found many things missing from the card and told us so. He also told us he preferred a card with a written report plus A's, B's, C's.

Is it any wonder PTA lacks attendance it should have when people are left up in the air and as dissatisfied as we were at the last meeting.

I would like to hear from anyone interested enough in our Report Card situation to sit down and write a card or letter on pro's and con's to this topic. Perhaps if a few more of you speak up we can start working together to remedy a few faults we know exist in our neighborhood school.

Sincerely yours for

"The Truth"

Mrs. John Gibson

A NIGHTMARE

To the editor:

I dreamed last night I was walking through the business section of Northville.

As I was window shopping, I noticed merchant after merchant putting up signs, then locking the door and, with a wistful backward glance, slowly walking away. I stopped one of these lonely looking merchants and inquired "What's happened?"

"Well," he answered, "You can't stay in business with no business." I agreed he was right and watched the lights going off and the doors being locked on down the streets. It was a pretty lonely sight. Then a woman hurried up to one of the locked doors and rattled the door handle.

"They're closed," I said and added, "For good."

She looked mad. "Well, of all things. I only wanted one small item. I forgot to get it while I was shopping at Southland today."

A man coming up behind her had overheard the conversation. "I should have stopped at one of those shopping centers on my way home from work like I usually do, but I forgot to."

I wandered further down the street. There was a small restaurant open and I went in for a cup of coffee. A man and woman were seated at the counter.

"Two coffees," the man said. Then to the woman, "That will hold us until we get to Fantasy Mile. After we do our shopping, we'll eat in one of their new restaurants."

I was still sipping my coffee when they left. I asked the owner how he happened to still be in business when everyone else had closed up. "Me?", he said, "I still got some hamburgers and coffee left. When they are gone — I'm on my way, too."

I paid my dime and went onto the street again. There was a man and woman walking in front of me.

"No, Herb," she said, "We won't spend a dime right now. Then when everyone else is broke we can buy what we want dirt cheap." I crossed the street wondering how these "new owners" would make out. Then I woke up — thank goodness!

MISSILE MAN — Lovell Lawrence, head of the Chrysler missile division, addressed over 100 faculty members, high school science students and guests in Northville last Wednesday. Shown above, right, is James Madigan, president of the Teachers' club, and Lawrence. The missile expert spoke, using slides of missiles and a movie showing missile launching. He told of his part in building the Jupiter C, which sent the Explorer satellite aloft. One of Lovell's co-workers was Frederick Cline, of Plymouth, whose wife is a teacher in the Northville school system.

STARTING WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16

NO FINGERPRINTS were found Monday morning after Allen's Monument Works was broken into during the night. The thief or thieves entered through a back window, ransacked two offices, and got away with $15 in petty cash and an Iver Johnson revolver. Here, Trooper Clifford Murray, of the Redford state police post, dusts for prints while Northville Patrolman Eugene King and owner Malcolm Allen look on.

FIVE HOUR BLAZE — Northville firemen help battle a fire that completely destroyed Cavalade Inn on Northville road last Sunday night. Approximately 50 firemen stood a 12-hour watch to see that residents in the area were in no danger following the blaze. The dance hall and bar — a frame building — burned quickly, with a broken gas and oil line adding fuel to the fire. Smoke was so dense, firemen reported, that they were hardly able to get close enough to fight the blaze. Owner Walter Smith could not estimate the damage. The building was insured.

First Aid Textbook Now a 'Best Seller'

The new revised American Red Cross first aid textbook climbed into the 'best seller' class last month when the number of copies sold since it was published last September went above the 1,250,000 mark.

The text is primarily designed for use in classes taught by Red Cross instructors. Use of the new publication has resulted in shortening the standard Red Cross first aid course from 18 to 10 hours.

The 240-page volume incorporates all the latest first aid techniques, including the much publicized artificial respiration method for infants called mouth-to-mouth breathing. It is liberally illustrated with photographs drawings and colored plates.

Copies of the book are available at all Red Cross chapter offices, 75c for paperback copies and one dollar for clothbound.

DOES SPUTNIK PROVE NO GOD?

But a few days after the launching of the satellite was announced, Joseph Lewis, president of the "Free-thinker of America," stated that Sputnik disproved the existence of God! He said, "Sputnik broadcasts no discovery of God in the heavens. It confirmed the statement of the great astronomer Lalande when he said, 'I have searched the heavens and found no God...!'"

This great scientific achievement should prove to be a day of mental emancipation for all religionists from their superstitious beliefs... Well, now look who is talking! As one writer put it in answer to these statements, "This proves that the line between 'Freedom to think' and 'Freedom from thinking' is not too clearly delineated." We who live in what appears to be the end of the Age of Grace will see many marvelous things. In Daniel 12:4 we read two things about the time of the end, "Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge be increased." Then in Matt. 24:24 speaking again of the time of the end, "For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders inasmuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect." God said this almost 1900 years ago!

To Build Bridge For Grand River

Grand River businessmen in Novi and several other communities have won their struggle for a bridge to connect the severed portions of old Grand River near Kent lake.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced this week that contracts may be let for a bridge and roadway project early next year.

At present, Grand River dead-ends at the Kent lake outlet into the Huron river. A bridge that formerly carried Grand River over the waterway is now used by the Farmington-Brighton expressway.

Merchants have complained to Mackie for several months that the dead-end hurts business all along old Grand River, since motorists cannot use Grand River as a through route.

Mackie said studies will soon be made for the bridge project and for a new interchange between Grand River and the drive leading into Kensington park. The latter can be constructed within a few months, he said.

Mackie blamed the bridge bottleneck on "short-sighted decisions" by former Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, and noted that he himself was not in the department when original plans were made.

April Proclaimed 'Epilepsy Month'

Governor G. Mennen Williams has proclaimed April as "Epilepsy Month" in Michigan.

He pointed out that Michigan is the only state in the nation to draw the public's attention to this illness that is "misunderstood by so many people."

In issuing the proclamation the Governor asked for public understanding. He added that "the children and adults with epilepsy urgently need the acceptance and support of their fellow citizens."

According to the proclamation there are 1,500,000 persons with epilepsy in the United States, of whom 60,000 are in Michigan.

To Address Dems' Joint Meeting

Two high-ranking political leaders will address a joint meeting of the Plymouth - Northville Democratic club next week.

Martha W. Griffiths, U.S. congresswoman from the 17th district and State Senator John B. Swainson of the 18th district, will be the main speakers on April 18.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Amerman school multi-purpose room.

Mrs. Griffiths is a committee member of the house banking and currency committee and is also on the government operations committee. Swainson is minority leader in the state senate.

The group has asked all interested citizens to attend.

Earth movers and steam shovels, after a winter of hibernation, are on the move in Northville and Novi again. Here and there throughout the area, construction projects are underway — homes, schools, roads, stores.

Nowhere is the activity as great as along the northern outskirts of Northville. Within the past few weeks, the quiet countryside has been turned into madhouse of mud and noise.

High on a hill west of North Center, the new $1,850,000 Northville high school is already taking shape, only a few weeks after ground was broken.

North of the high school site, just past Amerman school, a handful of new model homes is now open for visitors. This is Northville Heights subdivision. Soon, it will stretch across many acres, which already are being groomed for summer-time construction.

Below, the school site, surveyors are sighting the lay of the land. Their data will go into plans for the new Eight Mile cutoff, which will run along Carlyle street, pass between the two schools, and hook up with Eight Mile near Taft road.

Rows of sewer pipes will soon be set into the ground along Hill and Walnut streets to carry sanitary and storm waste from the high school and subdivision into the city's sewer system.

It will be at least two years before the area settles back to normal. And by then, other sections of Northville, Novi and Wixom will be feeling similar throes of development as they make the transition from rural communities to modern suburbs.

CHANGING SCENE — Almost barren last year, this northern area of Northville soon will include the new Northville high (foreground), Northville Heights subdivision (left, not in picture), and a broad new highway (between the school and subdivision) as well as the present Amerman school (left, not in picture).

STORM SEWERS are currently being installed down Hill street from Northville Heights subdivision. Above is storm pipe awaiting installation along Carpenter street. A sanitary and storm sewer will be constructed from the new high school site down Walnut street.

ANOTHER PUBLIC INSTITUTION — the Plymouth State Home and Training school — is now being built in Northville township near the Wayne county training school.

Midgets to Try Out Saturday

Northville's midget baseball program will get underway this Saturday, good weather or not.

If the sun comes out, midget candidates will report to the Cass Benton park diamond at 9 a.m. for an organizational meeting and first practice.

If the day is bad, they will report instead to the scout hall at 9:30 a.m. for a meeting with Recreation Director Stan Johnston.

Boys between 9 and 13 are eligible for the midget program. Older baseball players will be organized into Class E and F teams after school ends in June.

The midget's first game will be played on May 3, several weeks earlier than last year. Johnston said the schedule was advanced to avoid playing two games a week later this year.

Northville will have two midget teams again this year. Both will play in the Livonia recreation league, which has been expanded to 22 teams in two leagues this year.

Last year, the midget Braves won their division title with a 14-1 record and went on to the state recreation playoffs. The midget Orioles placed third in their division with an 8-7 record.

The older Class E team went undefeated (8-0) in taking its championship, and the Class F nine had a 9-2 record for second place in its division.

He's Professor, Not Vet

There's more to the story of Dale Bray than appeared in The Record last week.

Bray was listed as a "veterinarian" in a report on the whereabouts of Northville's 1936 championship basketball team.

But his mother, Mrs. Starr Bray, 231 North Rogers, corrected that this week.

Bray, who graduated from Michigan State and received a PhD in entomology from Rutgers university, has recently accepted a position as head of the entomology department at the University of Delaware.

Spring Sports Begin Next Week

Game uniforms will come out of mothballs next week when three Northville high school teams take to the diamond, court, and golf course.

The Mustangs track squad is not scheduled for action until a week from tomorrow.

Northville's baseball squad will kick off the 1958 spring schedule next Tuesday at 4 p.m. when it meets South Lyon on the diamond at Cass Benton park.

Two days later, the schedule will move into full gear. The baseball, tennis and golf squads are all scheduled for action. (See schedule below).

Coach Al Jones' nine will be out to improve on its 4-6, fifth-place record of last year.

As was the case in 1957, the Mustangs seem strong on the mound but lacking in the batter's box. Northville will have Pitchers Jeff Goodrich, Cap Pethers and Joe Kritch as the backbone of its hurling staff.

Coach Ron Schipper expects the best tennis year yet. Some 23 try-outs, including seven lettermen, were working out this week.

"We won't set the world on fire," he said, "but it should be the best tennis year we've had since it was started six years ago."

His lettermen include Jim Hammond, Tucker Williams, Ed Wittenburg, Dave Janetzke, Dick Buckley, Bob Bake, and Dennis Fallon. Most of them have three years of varsity experience.

Coach Merritt Meaker's golfers will meet Oak Park next Thursday before beginning a long league schedule the following week.

The Mustangs, who surprised even themselves by finishing in fourth place last year, will have Pete Gross, Fred Schwarze and Bill Chizmar returning from the 1957 first string.

The NHS track squad, out to equal or better its 1957 second-place standing, will be idle until April 25 when it meets Thurston in a non-league encounter. After another non-conference meet with Plymouth on April 29, the Mustangs will begin their season against Clarenceville on April 30.

SCHEDULE

Tuesday, April 15
Varsity Baseball: South Lyon, here, 4 p.m.

Wednesday, April 16
Junior High Baseball: Thurston, there.

Thursday, April 17
Varsity Baseball: Plymouth, there.
Junior Varsity Baseball: Plymouth, here.
Varsity Tennis: Clarenceville, there.
Varsity Golf: Oak Park, there.

TENNIS TURNOUT — Northville high school had no shortage of tennis candidates this spring, as some 23 potential net stars turned out for early sessions with Coach Ron Schipper. The tennis will open its season next Thursday at Cass Benton park against Clarenceville.

Softball, Girls?

Female Mickey Mantles in Northville may have a chance to show their stuff this summer.

Northville Recreation Director Stan Johnston was asked this week to line up a girls' softball team to play in the Wayne recreation league this summer.

Candidates must be over 18 years old or out of high school. Girls interested in forming a league were asked to call Johnston at Northville 576-J.

Atchison Co-Captain

Rick Atchison, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Atchison, 322 South Rogers, has received honors for outstanding performance on the varsity marksmanship team this season at Kemper Military school at Booneville, Missouri. In further honors, Atchison was elected co-captain of the Kemper varsity rifle team.

FRESHMEN INGENUITY—Northville high school freshmen won in competition with grades seven through 12 as top collectors in the annual Easter Seal campaign. The measure of their collection is this belt being worn by Teacher Russell Reimer. He consented to the freshmen class idea of having each class compete by building belts from each 50 cents collected. The longest belt is shown above by Karen Hill (right), freshman class president, and (l. to r.) Noel F. Geppert and Kathy Cassel. The campaign was conducted last Thursday and Friday and more than $100 was collected. The freshmen turned in $30.

Consultant Is One Answer To Community Problems

When small communities start to grow large, one of the first people they look for is a planning consultant or contractor.

The planner has basic control of the general design of the community. The architect is responsible for all the detail design of the various building complexes — cultural, business, government, and neighborhood centers.

But in addition to obtaining the services of a consultant, says an University of Michigan professor, small communities can use these approaches in meeting the growth requirements:

1. Join with other small communities with similar problems and pool their ideas;
2. Request advice from organizations like the Municipal League which have an interest in this problem;
3. Obtain the assistance of nearby educational institutions, where this type of service may be offered by extension planners; and

4. Engage a full-time planner — a somewhat expensive procedure in small communities, but one which has worked successfully for larger cities and counties.

Training professionals for the planning field is one of the jobs of The University of Michigan's College of Architecture and Design.

Courses give special attention to the needs of smaller cities and communities because more architects and planners actually work with small and medium sized cities than are employed by large metropolitan areas, like New York or Detroit.

U-M students project the development of existing communities or starting from the ground up on a hypothetical city.

DESIGN C-441-S. Four levels are featured in this home with charming Cape Cod exterior. The three rooms on the bedroom level have large wardrobe type closets. Down seven steps from the hall is the living room and kitchen with its built-in oven, counter top range and dining space by a picture window. On the third level are a play area, a mud room with shower and the garage. Five steps down, the basement level laundry provides space for the washer, dryer and other utilities besides a work and storage area. Floor area is 1196 square feet, cubic is 23,787 cubic feet. Says New Homes Cost Too Much Cost cutting can help supply the good low-cost housing the United States really needs, according to a Michigan State university specialist.

The selling price of the average house constructed is too high for the average income, contends Byron M. Radcliffe, director of the four-year residential building curriculum at MSU.

"The average income is around $5,000, limiting to $12,500 the price of a home a prospective buyer with this average income can purchase," Radcliffe declared. He pointed out that only 27 percent of U.S. houses built up to mid-1957 were at or below this price.

He said 44 percent of new houses cost $15,000 or more, taking an income of at least $6,000 before an FHA-insured mortgage could be obtained. Yet only one third of American families have this income.

Because builders cannot control labor and materials prices, Radcliffe feels cost cuts in construction methods and techniques are the best answers in providing additional housing.

Some of his suggestions: eliminate the basement and save $1,500; centralize plumbing to save extra materials; use "tilt-up" walls, built flat on the slab and then put up into position as nearly complete as possible; use dry wall, ready-built windows and other such components whenever possible; cut material and time waste.

14—Thursday, April 10, 1958—THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

Students to Play in Concert

Two talented teen-age musicians from Northville will appear with the Michigan Youth Symphony in a concert this Saturday.

The concert, featuring works by Sibelius and Grieg, will begin at 2 p.m. in the Rackham building in Detroit.

Representing Northville will be

Marianne King, 1911 Woodhill, and Betsy Merriam, 18910 Beck road. Both will play the French horn.

Sponsored by the University of Michigan extension service and the U-M School of Music, the Youth Symphony is composed of select students between the ages of 12 and 22 from communities within a 150-mile radius of Ann Arbor.

Michigan Youth Symphony, now in its eighth season, was organized for the purpose of providing an opportunity for ambitious young musicians to work together in the study and performance of great orchestral music.

Its members have consistently won top chairs in the National High School Orchestra, and upon graduation from high school, have entered music schools of their choice with substantial scholarships.

Begins Practice Teaching At Western Michigan

Miss Sharon Teska of Northville is practice teaching during the spring semester at Western Michigan university in Kalamazoo, where she is a senior student.

She is teaching the second grade during the first nine weeks. During the second nine weeks she will work with the mentally retarded children.

Practice teaching one semester under the supervision of an experienced teacher is essential in order to receive a teaching certificate.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Teska, 215 Main, graduated from Northville high school.

Dads Plan Dinner

The Walled Lake Dads' Post will sponsor a roast beef dinner this Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m.

Good Grooming Is Important

Skin troubles, nail-biting habits, braces for teeth and poor posture are frequent problems for young adolescents.

Young people in the 11-to-14-year age group are becoming more and more interested in their personal appearance, according to Dr. Mary Lee Hunt of Michigan State university.

Clothes, to the young adolescent, begin to take on considerable importance. At this age many young people have formed good habits of caring for their own clothes — many have not.

Parents and teachers may help these young people by encouraging them to keep clean and well-groomed. They might help them follow good health habits so they will feel peppy and their skin and hair will be nice because of their good health.

"Betweeners" (between childhood and adolescence) need help to keep from slipping into bad health habits. Finicky appetites begin to appear, as well as wanting to stay up late at night.

With increasing wants, young adolescents need help in planning their wardrobes and buying clothes so they may always feel well-dressed, but are considerate of the family budget.

Girls to Participate In CMC 'Play Day'

Northville high school girls will participate with 300 others in Central Michigan college's annual Play Day on April 25 and 26.

Sponsored by Delta Psi Kappa, women's national physical education honorary, will be under the chairmanship of Kay Mosessner, Muskegon senior, who is president of the CMC chapter.

After a banquet on Friday night, April 25, the girls, representing 28 Michigan high schools, will take part in various team and individual coed games Saturday.

Miss Patricia Bubel will accompany the Northville group.

Matzen Elected To Tau Beta Pi

Lynn R. Matzen, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Matzen, 21937 Novi road, and a student in the department of electrical engineering at Michigan State university, has been elected to membership in the Tau Beta Pi association.

The association, an engineering honorary, recognizes superior achievement, noteworthy extra-curricular activities and high moral character.

Kite-Flying Is Fun But Play It Safe

Many air-minded youngsters have already rigged and flown their first kites of 1958.

A few suggestions are offered by Detroit Edison for keeping the fun in and danger out of the traditional springtime sport:

1. Always fly kites in open fields — away from overhead wires and away from streets and roads where traffic is an additional hazard.
2. Use a wooden kite frame because wood is a non-conductor of electricity.
3. Use "plain" kite-string and avoid all tinsel wire or cord that has any appearance of being metallic.
4. If the kite catches on a pole or tree, do not risk an electric shock or a bad fall by trying to retrieve it.
5. Never fly your kite during an electrical storm. Ben Franklin used a kite in his famous experiment, but he was lucky not to have been killed.

'Atoms for Peace' Now in Ann Arbor

The University of Michigan will show "Atoms for Peace" — one of the latest exhibits of the United States Atomic Energy Commission — at the museums building, Washtenaw and North University, from now until April 13.

Admission is free, and the exhibit will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. week days and 2 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

A Week to Sing our Praises

MICHIGAN WILL SING its own praises to the rest of the world May 4-10.

This year Michigan Week takes on an added seriousness in the quest for new industry and more jobs to counter an economic situation which hit with hard-impact here than in other states.

It is the week each year set aside for the state to assess its progress in all phases of life.

Working committees have been appointed in industry, business, the arts, education and government among many others.

On May 5, the mayors and village presidents of more than 380 municipalities will change places for a day, to pick up new ideas and observe how the other fellow lives.

The program was started five years ago by the state Department of Economic Development with the slogan, "Michigan is a Great Place to Live."

The department has figured prominently in the controversy over whether taxes are driving industry out of Michigan and discouraging existing firms from expanding.

But once a year, the department organizes the week-long observance on the theory that it is hard to ignore a place where everyone is so proud.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS of the more conservative bent are trying to disprove the old theory that "Nothing Succeeds Like Success."

For 10 years, Democrats have held the governor's office and have later gained control of all other executive posts.

Republicans have brought themselves up short, charging that their party has been trying to emulate the formula of success of Gov. Williams and the Democrats.

Senator John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) said the party should come up with its own ideas and techniques — basing its appeal on the conservatism which made it great in the past.

The idea is not new. It was sounded by the late Senator Robert Taft, Ohio, and others.

On a national scale, it was repeated by Senator Knowland of California, who campaigned for governor on a platform containing the "right-to-work" proposal.

This idea, that a worker may not be forced to join a union to keep his job or obtain one, had been called political suicide.

Readers Speak Up:

Teacher's Day Too Long

Dear Sir:

After reading Roger Babson's column in your paper, week after week, I finally learned to avert eyes from even the headlines of his articles because his narrow, conservative, panacea-type solutions to the problems of the nation filled me with disgust. But, upon recommendation of your editorial, which expressed much approval of his words, I read his most recent column and now I don't know whether to laugh or cry. I laugh when I think that these are the opinions of someone who is supposed to be informed; I cry when I think that they are recommended reading for Northville citizens.

I am most concerned about his unwarranted attack on the teaching profession. After proposing the general idea that schools should be used in the summer, Babson tosses off the statement that "teachers will probably oppose any change in routine," as if teachers would oppose any change just because they are accustomed to some specific, set routine. He then proposes that teachers, "like all other professional people, . . . accept an 11-month job responsibility, a longer working day, and a longer work week."

Just what does Babson think teachers are doing now? As a first year teacher, I work approximately sixty hours a week, including classroom teaching, individual student conferences, teacher's meetings, preparation, and grading of papers. Experienced teachers tell me that this time will be shortened for me as I "learn" my profession, but as I observe them working the same hours I am working, I have my doubts.

Yet Babson says that teachers' incomes would be raised if they put in extra time each day and each week. Teachers have been working extra hours for years and there has been no prominent sign of community interest in fair wages. With a master's degree in my field of specialization, English, I now earn, approximately sixty hours a week, working about six hours a week, per week than I did when I worked for the local school system as a summer maintenance man for forty hours a week, no outside preparation, no committee meetings, and no worrying about how to help Johnny spell better, express himself clearly, or speak adequately. Teaching contains the great challenge to awaken, to build, to interest the mind of the student. Training, experience and skill are required for the job and it makes no difference whether a teacher has only himself (or herself) to support, or a family of six; salaries should be in agreement with the training and time that go into the job.

Many teachers would welcome an 11-month school position as many of them are forced to take other jobs, especially in the summer, to support their families. Other teachers would like some financial consideration for their summer school and night school attendance, which directly benefits their teaching. For years the teacher has been the community plodder, using his "extra" time in a thousands ways beneficial to his school and community, who have thus benefitted from his training and experience. Teachers have shown no lack of desire to work professional hours; they have done it for years right here in Northville.

I paid a doctor seven dollars for a ten-minute office call a few Sundays ago, and I don't begrudge the doctor a penny of it; I respect his training and skill that helps me protect my health. But this makes me feel that perhaps I should be paid for spending Sunday afternoon and evening grading themes, as I use my particular training and skills to help protect our nation's future by training the future's leaders.

Frankly, the more I write, the angrier I become. The public schools, especially here in Northville, have professional teachers who work professional hours. The

"It wouldn't be possible to pass the bill in Michigan right now but it would be a good campaign issue," said one leading Republican.

Senator Smeekens' idea: "I believe the voter should have his choice as between two parties, not a me and me-too choice."

AIRPLANE PASSENGERS cannot demand that the pilot stop and let them off at the next corner.

That's why Michigan, in its "Guest Passenger Act" imposed severe liabilities on the pilot — until the 1958 legislature made the changes.

The bill, which legislators considered a mistake after any chance of reserving themselves was gone, gives the pilot of an airplane a better break than the driver of a car.

The driver can be held liable for damages if he carries guest passengers. The pilot can be held responsible only for negligence.

VOTERS will write the final chapter for the 1958 legislature next November long after the lawmakers have gone home to campaign for re-election.

They have made the issue clear for the man who steps into the booth and pulls the curtain next November 4.

The question will be whether he wants more economy and less government or expanded services from state government and expects to pay for them in taxes.

Republicans in the legislature have gone through the mental torture of self-examination and are pinning their hopes next November 4 on economy.

The Republicans who head the committees who will determine state spending for next year have taken heart.

They make their decisions from behind stacks of telegrams and letters encouraging them to cut out "some of the frills" in state government and keep taxes at the present level.

"You've got a lot of courage and we're for you in your campaign for economy," said one letter to a GOP finance leader.

The other side of the coin shows the increased pressure for services.

Education is the major item. Universities and colleges claim that their academic programs will be damaged if the proposed reductions from current appropriations stand.

only thing they lack is professional pay.

I would like to write a couple of more pages commenting on Babson's "extra-curricular nonsense" and his prefab schoolhouses but I have covered the statements that I felt were most unfair and unrealistic and will save any more words for Babson's next attack on education, which will probably come along in a few weeks.

One final statement. Northville is no more or no less guilty than any other community in this matter of teacher's salaries. Greater guilt begins to come when statements such as Babson wrote last week are praised in local editorials.

Jesse S. Hise, Jr., Teacher
Northville High School

EDITOR'S NOTE: We offer Teacher Hise a B-Plus for rhetoric and a D-Minus for reading. In his sensitivity over teachers' work schedules and salaries he chose to completely ignore the important points of Babson's column.

1. That we are faced with the impossible task of building more schools than we can afford;

2. That existing facilities must be put to more use and teachers provided with more productive hours;

3. Finally, to place our tax money where it will do the most good — into capable, devoted teachers.

We trust that Teacher Hise's disregard of these issues is not representative of his profession. If so we cry, too, for the students who must someday leave the classroom and face the hard truth.

Nasser and Oil

Babson Park, Mass. — Usually I do not comment at length on foreign affairs. However, recent developments in the Middle East could have far-reaching effects upon U.S. business. Therefore, I think readers may be helped to know my reaction to these happenings.

Nasser's Stock Is Rising

The formation of the United Arab Republic, consisting of Egypt, Syria and eventually, Yemen, is a feather in the cap of President Nasser of Egypt. It will enhance his bargaining power with both East and West. The new Republic is born of the traditional Arab hostility to the State of Israel and of Nasser's fear of the power of the feudal Arab Kings of Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Jordan.

This new Union means that Nasser may have nearly absolute power over both Egypt and Syria and perhaps over Yemen as well. It means that he can exercise a greater control over shipments of oil and other goods through the Suez Canal and that he can stop, at will if it becomes desirable, the flow of oil through Syrian pipelines to the West.

Will There Be A Single Arab Oil Empire?

Many observers believe Nasser's dream is to create a united Arab oil empire. To do this, the Egyptian leader must break the power of the feudal Arab Kings. Nasser is still a popular figure in the Arab world. He has tangled with Israel, Great Britain, and France and come out fairly well. Although he has not been able to better the lot of the average Egyptian, he has captured the imagination of the masses. It is just possible that he may break the power of the Arab Kings and effect, for a time at least, a single federation of all the Arab states. This would be due to their common interests in oil and their common fear of the State of Israel.

However, for the moment, Nasser's dreams of an oil empire have been jolted by Iraq and Jordan, whose Kings have proclaimed a separate Arab Federation. To such it is possible that King Saud of Saudi Arabia may eventually adhere. In agreeing to form this federation with Jordan, Iraq may defect from the Baghdad Pact which binds her to the West.

No Early Stability in the Middle East

Nasser will drive hard bargains with Europeans and American oil interests operating in those areas over which he can exercise some control. During the next few years, tensions in Arab lands will be high. The flow of oil to Europe may again be cut off or be slowed to a trickle. Certainly, it will cost more!

There will be no early stability in the Middle East. The two chief Arab factions will jockey for position.
