

To Resume Building Sale Talks

The city council prepared to resume talks with the school board on possible sale of the community building this week after Councilman John Canterbury reported that his committee had finished preliminary studies on the matter.

Canterbury suggested that a meeting be arranged and told the council that the committee had the opinion of the city attorney that the building could be sold if the council desired.

Talks with the school board, currently using the building almost exclusively, have been held periodically during the past year.

In other matters aside from the budget hearing Monday night, the busy council decided to meet again informally next Monday to catch up on pressing city business.

The council heard a request from Andrew Torok, 328 North Center street, to install a septic field was granted by the council. Torok's home is located so that it is nearly impossible to provide lines to existing city sewer facilities. Councilmen allowed the use of a septic tank when it was pointed out that connection to the sewer would be highly expensive, if possible at all.

Torok joined Sam Bongiovanni, 320 North Center street, in seeking some relief from increased water flow down a creek behind their homes. The increased flow was caused by a subdivision in the northwest section of the city, they pointed out. They fear flooding and damage to property.

The council asked the city attorney to submit an opinion on the responsibility in such cases before reaching a decision.

Who Will be Guest At 'Jazz Unlimited'?

There's a note of suspense connected with a jazz concert that will be held at 8 p.m. in the community building this Friday night.

An as yet unnamed guest artist will join the high school dance band in its annual "Jazz Unlimited" concert.

"Jazz Unlimited" will be the last of two concerts presented by the high school band this week. The first concert was given yesterday by the mixed high school choir.

The choir featured 40 voices and was conducted by Leslie Lee, music director. The concert featured varied numbers with solos by both boys and girls.

Seek More Donors To Claude Ely Fund

Donations totaling approximately $400 started the Claude N. Ely Memorial Fund towards its goal this week. Committee members planning the annual award in memory of Northville's late mayor are seeking donations totaling $1,000 by the June 20 deadline.

Main concern of the committee has been to create wide participation. They emphasize that the amount of the donation is not as important as the number of people giving to the fund.

A. Russell Clarke, vice president of the Manufacturers National bank in Northville, stated that several organizations had already given to the fund and others had indicated they would.

"We feel it's much more desirable to have a long list of donations, as a fitting tribute to Mayor Ely, than to have fewer and larger individual gifts," Clarke pointed out. Donations to the fund are being accepted at the bank. Names of all contributors will be published in The Record at the conclusion of the drive. Individual amounts given will not be published, however.

The memorial award in honor of Mayor Ely, who died suddenly April 27, will be presented annually by a committee consisting of the mayor, president of the school board, superintendent of schools and two appointed members.

The organizational committee, consisting of Clarke, Russell Amernan, Malcolm Allen, John Canterbury, Nelson Schrader and William Sliger, has outlined the general character of the fund. It is expected that the money will be invested and interest used to make the annual award. The awards' committee will determine who receives the award on the basis of an outstanding contribution to the Northville community during the year.

HAVE A POPPY — Mrs. Arthur Carlson (left) and Mrs. Clayton Myers, Poppy Day chairmen for the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, respectively, trade poppies in preparation for their all-day sale in Northville today.

Poppies Go on Sale Today By Veterans Organizations

Representatives of Northville's veterans' organizations will work all day today (Thursday) to help provide funds for charitable activities of the groups.

For the VFW and American Legion Thursday is the annual Poppy Day sale. Both organizations will have salesmen throughout the business district.

Proceeds of the sale provide most of the funds for the welfare and rehabilitation work carried on by the two groups. The poppies are made by disabled veterans.

Chairmen of the sale are Mrs. Arthur Carlson and Howard Wright for the American Legion and Ernest Ash and Bebe Myers for the VFW.

Al Smith, Jr. is commander of the local VFW post, while James Madigan heads the American Legion.

Mrs. Carlson noted that although the Legion and VFW are separate organizations, their poppy sales are not in conflict.

"The Legion is for all veterans," she said, "while the VFW is for those who served overseas. It's not unusual for veterans to belong to both organizations."

Legion to Honor Deceased Members

The 17th district of the American Legion and auxiliary will honor their deceased members Sunday at the Riverside cemetery, Plymouth. Commanders and presidents of the Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Redford township, Redford Detroit and Rosedale Park posts and units will participate.

Services will be led by Robert Wilson and Mrs. Ruth King, chaplains of the district Legion and auxiliary. Marilyn Dunn of Ypsilanti will be the featured soloist.

James Madigan, commander of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147, Northville, and Mrs. Howard Wright, president of the auxiliary, will take part in the ceremony.

This is an annual function held in conjunction with Memorial Day. If weather interferes, services will be held at the Passage-Gayde home in Plymouth.

Professional Nurses Honored This Week

This is the week to honor the women in white.

Professional Nurse Week, from May 19-24, is being observed in the Detroit area and throughout the state.

In Northville, the week is commemorated by a display in the window of Mainville Drugs, depicting the work of nurses at Northville State hospital and in the city's hospitals, doctor's offices and schools.

New nurses at the state hospital will mark the week at an informal gathering Friday with Dr. Philip Brown, medical superintendent of the hospital.

Mustangs Fourth In W-O Track Meet

Northville relied on individual strength rather than depth Tuesday afternoon to take fourth place in the Wayne-Oakland league track finals at Milford.

But it was Milford that pulled down first-place honors and won its second league track championship in a row.

Dick Biery and N. C. Schrader proved themselves the class of the league in three events. Biery took firsts in the 440 and broad jump while Schrader captured the shot put crown.

Other points for Northville came from Spike Walker (fifth in shot put), Bill Yahne (third in broad jump), Hugh Crawford (two fourths in the 100 and 220), and the Mustang 880 relay team (third place tie).

Clarkston and Holly trailed Milford, with Bloomfield Hills, West Bloomfield, Brighton and Clarenceville finishing fifth through eighth in that order.

Board Airs Its Budget For Critics

Protests against Northville's proposed school budget quieted down this week after a citizens' committee spent more than four hours going over the lengthy document with school officials last Thursday.

After the item-by-item study, members of the group expressed general satisfaction with the $666,043 budget.

But they indicated they will continue to keep a close eye not only on school finances but on the entire tax picture in the Northville area.

The group — known as the Northville Township Tax Committee — was represented at Thursday's meeting by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Hollinger, Mrs. D. H. Clark and Alex Lawrence, a township trustee.

The meeting was called after several committee members appeared at a recent school board meeting and angrily suggested that the board had mismanaged school funds and allowed too many "frills" in the school system.

Superintendent Russell Amernan, Administrative Superintendent Kenneth MacLeod and School Board President Nelson Schrader were armed with a complete breakdown of the budget and several armloads of ledgers, cost estimates, audits, and miscellaneous papers relating to school finances.

With Hollinger doing most of the questioning, the tax committee explored upwards of 150 budget items in detail.

Their questions touched on everything from heating systems and teacher's salaries to driver training and maintenance costs.

For the most part, they appeared satisfied with the explanations given by Amernan, MacLeod and Schrader. Afterwards, committee members agreed that the meeting was "good," "satisfactory" and "intelligently conducted."

"My husband and I are very satisfied," said Mrs. Hollinger. "Of course, there are other tax problems that need study, and our committee will continue to meet."

Mrs. Clark also agreed that the budget held up quite well under scrutiny.

"But we still are interested in introducing some economies so that teachers can be paid more," she said. "We don't want to risk losing our teachers because salaries are low."

Wilson said he is satisfied that Amernan and school officials will try to incorporate the group's suggestions for savings into the final budget. He said that differences between the committee and school board had been resolved and that it is now just a question of working out details.

Amernan agreed that the meeting was satisfactory and offered to answer any further questions by the tax committee.

CITY APPROVES BUDGET BUT HEARS COMPLAINTS

MAKE WAY FOR THE CUTOFF — The former Paul Terry home at 801 Carpenter is one of the first casualties brought on by the proposed Eight Mile cutoff on the north end of the city. The house is now up for sale, and must be removed. Right-of-way purchases are going ahead well, a county road commission official said, and construction is scheduled to begin this year.

Open House Friday For Kindergartens

Visitation day will be held in Northville elementary schools this Friday for children who are registered to enter kindergarten this coming fall.

The program is designed to acquaint children with their teachers and future classmates.

The future kindergartners will spend approximately an hour and a half getting to know the other children and familiarizing themselves with their future surroundings.

At a special registration meeting on May 12 some 79 children were registered for classes next fall. Richard Kay, principal of Amerman school, estimated that another 60 children were still unregistered.

Parents were urged to get their children registered as soon as possible.

To Meet Tonight On Novi Charter

Novi residents who subscribe to The Record were reminded this week that Novi's proposed village charter will be up for a second public hearing tonight (Thursday).

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Novi community building.

The village charter commission intends to go into the document in detail, taking up several matters that were not thoroughly discussed at the first charter hearing two weeks ago.

Named Inspector

Albert Williams, newly appointed heating and plumbing inspector for the city, has also been named plumbing inspector for Northville township by the board.

P-TA to Discuss 'Gifted' Students

The "gifted" child — whose ability often surpasses the challenge he faces in class — will come in for discussion tonight at the final Northville P-TA meeting of the year.

At the same time, officers for the coming year will be installed and a report on the May 2 carnival will be presented.

The meeting will begin tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the Northville community building.

The discussion of problems facing the gifted student will be led by Dr. Chester McCormick, an authority on the subject from Wayne State university.

Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, administrative assistant for Northville schools, will be on hand to answer further questions. He will be joined by Charles Yahne and Mrs. Louva Waterman, who both teach in Northville public schools.

Many educators currently feel that gifted students are not given enough opportunity to develop their abilities.

They'll Tally Ballots

Election inspectors for the June 9 school board election were announced this week by Superintendent Russell Amernan.

The inspectors are: Mrs. Harold Wagenschutz, chairman, Mrs. Emma Reid, Mrs. Clifford Winter, Mrs. Paul Schulz, Mrs. Claude Ely and Mrs. Charles Schoultz.

Northville's city council quickly approved a $289,900 budget for the 1958-59 Monday evening despite charges from two citizens that it was "too big" and didn't provide for major improvements needed in many sections of the city.

The attack on the budget came from Sidney Frid, 865 Grace, and his brother, Cy, of 515 Dubuair.

Sidney, a former commissioner during Northville's village days, was the first to protest at the budget hearing. He charged that the budget was the highest the city ever had and that it did not provide for any major improvements. Frid pointed to Walnut street and Orchard drive as city streets promised improvement.

"You're getting $90,000 from the track, raising the taxes and still not providing the improvements we had when we were a village," Frid charged.

The attack brought a quick defense from the council.

City Manager John Robertson pointed out that the new budget had some $60,000 in major improvements. He cited a contingent fund of $17,000 which will be used to improve Novi street, $10,000 for parking, $16,000 for public works and dump facilities, $4500 for fire truck payments and $3,000 earmarked for engineering of improvement projects.

The council also challenged Frid's statement that taxes were being raised. Actually, this year's millage of 11.5 will bring less than $2,000 more revenue than last year. Some taxes will be lowered; while others will go up under the reassessment program completed last winter, the council insisted.

Both Frid brothers stated that the city's police budget was "too large" and that "too much money has been spent in the downtown area instead of the residential areas."

They further charged the council was "serving the new subdivisions and forgetting the older residents."

Councilman John Stubbenvolt refuted charges that as a village more improvements had been provided.

"Prices were lower then, but even so the village had reached the end of the rope in providing improvements without raising taxes," he insisted.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie pointed out that residents had been given a 20 percent tax reduction when the village became a city. "How many cities can point to a reduction in taxes in 1956 and still there has been no increase since," he added.

Councilman Stubbenvolt sounded the warning that the city would have to raise taxes if streets were to be improved. "Progress on street improvement is negligible. We can't even keep up with maintenance costs," he stated.

But Frid was adamant. "The whole picture is bad, the school taxes are too high, too," he concluded.

The council voted unanimously to approve the budget. Specifically, it calls for $97,300 to be raised in local taxes and $192,600 from other revenues including an anticipated $90,000 return from the state for racing. The budget is based on a levy of 11.5 mills against the new city assessed valuations. Last year's millage was 19.5. The city's new assessed valuation is $8,609,780 compared to $4,984,915 last year.

Future Engineers to Hear Panel Discuss Prospects

Northville high school students interested in a career in engineering will have an opportunity to receive first hand information from a panel of five engineers representing the Engineering Society of Detroit.

The special program will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Community Building.

Arranged by the high school and the Engineer Society, the program is aimed particularly at students in the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades. Parents of students are also urged to attend the session.

Questions concerning requirements, opportunities and scholarships in engineering will be answered by the panel. In addition a movie entitled "The Constructors" will be shown.

Serving on the panel will be John Perdue, director of engineering placement at the University of Detroit; Robert Gore, electrical engineer, Allen Bradley company; Conrad Ladd, mechanical engineer, Atomic Power Development Associates; Dr. Donald N. Frey, chemical engineer, Ford Motor company; Elise McGough, civil engineer, past president of the American Society of Women Engineers.

Arrangements for the program were handled locally by Walter L. Couse and Glenn Coley, chairman of the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Wixom Now a City
Wixom voted 323-43 Monday to accept its proposed city charter and to keep virtually the same government that guided it as a village.

Joseph Stadnik defeated Wesley McAtee for mayor, 302-126.

Persons interested in giving volunteer service at a day camp sponsored by the Easter Seal Society of western Wayne county have been asked to meet next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Easter Seal Center, 2545 E. Hyde Park drive, Inkster.

According to Cyril N. Frid, a Northville resident and member of the society's board of directors, D. James Greiner, a teacher of handicapped children in the Ecorse public schools, has been appointed camp director.

The camp is to be held at the Easter Seal Center from July 7 through August 1. Referrals of severely physically handicapped children throughout western Wayne county, are being received now from parents, teachers and public health nurses.

"Children between the ages of 4-12 years of age will come to the center two days each week during the camping period," says Frid.

"The program, with suitable adaptations to the physical condition of each child, will be set up to provide as nearly as possible the experiences children generally get from camping: nature study, cook-outs, group projects and games and even a modified form of hiking.

"Older children whose interests may be different will come to camp one day a week, separate from the younger group, for some of the same activities, with the addition of more advanced handicraft."

Frid points out that many volunteers, group leaders and helpers, craft, music or art instructors, kitchen helpers and transportation aides will be needed.

Navy Wife Knows How to Shop

When it comes to shopping, a young Navy wife from Northville rates a 21-gun salute.

With planned foresight and a careful eye for good buys, Mrs. Howard Meyer, Jr. manages to feed her family of three on a budget of $55 a month — without skipping steaks and roast beef.

How she does it was told recently in the Virginian-Pilot, a newspaper serving the area near the Norfolk navy base.

"It takes a lot of trying out, planning and scheming," says Mrs. Meyer, "but the secret lies in working out efficient shopping habits."

After experimenting with daily, then weekly shopping, Mrs. Meyer found that a trip to the commissary every two weeks is best. And cheaper, for commissary prices run somewhat lower than those in civilian stores.

Living in an apartment with little storage space and no deep freeze adds to the difficulty of bi-monthly shopping. Mrs. Meyer does it with precise planning — two weeks worth of menus at a time.

To help avoid monotony in meals, she keeps a record of her menus in a looseleaf notebook.

Since being married Mrs. Meyer has read up on nutrition and knows which foods give the most food value for the money.

After menus are made she makes out a market order by listing together the protein foods, the fresh fruits and vegetables, bread, cereals, dairy products, and so on.

Then she checks her list of "needed staples" from a list that she keeps hanging inside the cupboard door.

Living on an airman's salary isn't easy, so Mrs. Meyer allows $25 for bi-monthly shopping. That leaves $5 for bread, milk and a few miscellaneous items that might be needed between trips to the store.

When doing her shopping, Mrs. Meyer keeps her budget carefully in mind. She compares the prices, net weight and variety of fresh and canned fruits and vegetables. In buying meats she considers food and money values of less expensive versus expensive cuts.

After all the essentials are bought she may treat the family (including her son, Freddie) to some luxury item with the money that remains.

Airman Howard Meyer, Jr. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Meyer, Sr. of Eight Mile Northville.

Northville Girls Get Look At Life of a Student Nurse

What can I expect if I decide to enter a school of nursing? This and other questions were answered for students of Northville high school last Tuesday by Miss Joanne Brittin, R.N., of Michael Reese hospital medical center in Chicago.

Miss Brittin, a recent graduate of Reese's school of nursing, related her experiences as a nursing student, illustrating them with a film strip, "Caps 'n' Bibs".

The picture story, showing daily student life as a balance of study, recreation and practical experience, took the high school students through Miss Brittin's three years as an undergraduate student.

With her, they attended lectures and took part in such traditional milestones as the formal capping and candlelight ceremony. They "lived" in the nurses residence and "toured" all of the medical center's special units.

After the film showing, students had an opportunity to talk with Miss Brittin about nursing and related health careers.

Births

On May 19 at Mt. Carmel hospital a son, Bruce Alan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Alan Turner of 11 Mile road, Novi. Baby Bruce weighed nine pounds, two ounces at birth. Mrs. Turner is the former Carol Clemens.

Mrs. H. F. Wagenschutz played hostess to a group of her friends at a supper held last Sunday night.

WHO'LL IT BE THIS YEAR? These two young misses, Joan Fansom (left) and Carol Volkin, both of Detroit, were among the finalists in the 1957 Novi AMVETS beauty contest, but had to take a back seat to Queen Betty Wilson of Northville. Application blanks for the 1958 contest are now available from AMVETS or at the Record office. ## Outdoor Art Show in June To Include Northville Works Works by some of the best creative talent in Northville, Plymouth and Livonia will be on display June 7 at the second annual Tri Cities' art club outdoor show in Plymouth's Kellogg park.

In case of rain, the exhibit will be held on June 14. In addition to the framed easel exhibits of oil, water colors and pastels there will be the new feature of a clothesline exhibit showing unframed and matted sketches, and also a browsing corner of smaller pieces.

To arouse a feeling for the creative process among the viewers there will be continuous displays of artists working in oil, charcoal, pastel and water color. A ceramicist will demonstrate working with mosaic tiles, and an enamelist will do enamel jewelry making.

The purpose of the Three Cities Art club is to stimulate interest in original and creative art, and to promote an appreciation for it in the community.

Working with this as a guide, the exhibit committee has throughout the year arranged showings at cultural events, and sponsors a permanent rotating exhibit of paintings by members of the group in Plymouth's Dunning-Hough library.

Art teachers, professional artists, and qualified amateurs compose the members.

The committee arranging the outdoor show are as follows:

With Hill and Johnson in Europe

Inflation, Reds Plague Poland, Finland

EDITOR'S NOTE: Latest word from Attorney Cliff Hill and Carl Johnson comes from Poland and Finland. The two Northville residents are taking a six weeks' tour of Europe. Next week we expect word of their experiences in Russia.

Warsaw, Poland

Dear Bill:

This is a sad tale of a tired old city caught in a vise between the avarice of the Soviets on the north and the bitterness of the Germans to the south.

Eighty percent of this city was destroyed by bombs during the last war and only 20 percent has been rebuilt. The Russians built a large culture center which apparently is little used. Wreckage is still strewn everywhere and workmen struggle with crude tools each day in their task of reconstruction. There are many horse wagons. Surprisingly, there are more cars than in Russia.

This is no town for tourists — inflation is vicious here. The average workman earns 40 to 50 dollars per month. The manager of a restaurant showed me his pay voucher for April. It indicated earnings that totaled 48 dollars. His son is a lawyer whose largest month in two years was $110.

Here are the prices: Maxwell House Instant Coffee $4 for one-half pound, Butter $5 per pound, a very good sweater $76, nylon hose (seamless) $12, necktie (average) $5, shoes $38, and suits, impossible.

I have seen no car agency of any kind or motorcycle shop and only one bicycle shop. Most of the people walk. When a Polish man or woman walks he goes into a half run that is impossible for an American to match in speed or endurance.

There are buses which never really stop but only slow down for people to enter or get out "on the run". The buses are continually breaking down, bad tires, overheating and just plain tired.

This is a Communist Peoples Re-

Miscellaneous items I shall re-member about Stockholm:

The sign on elevators "Hiss for Hogs", the one on fire hoses "Brand Slang", the store sign "Zoo for Muts".

The automats available along every street that vend many things: bottles of wine, bananas, shoe polish, neckties and hundreds of items.

The man at the Russian Circus we attended in Storch, who, when we asked what time it was, looked at one wrist, then the other wrist, then on his lapel, then pulled two watches out of two different pockets and then announced the time from all five watches in Swedish so we couldn't understand him.

The incident when a tax driver ran into a flower push cart, spilling the flowers all over the street and the passers-by each picking up one flower for his or her lapel and solemnly paying the dismayed peddler as though they had originally intended to procure a boutonniere.

The stark futility of trying to order a decent balanced meal where no English is spoken.

Well, see you in Moscow — Cliff

COME ON TO THE EXPOSITION — Northville Cubs and Scouts are out selling tickets nowadays for the huge Michigan Scouting Exposition at the state fair grounds in Detroit June 6-8. Above are Mike Stevenson and Mike Gredell of Pack 755. Northville Cubs and Scouts are now making plans to take part in the giant exhibition which is expected to attract more than 175,000 persons.

FAITH OR GOD!

Many people seem to have faith in their faith instead of faith in God. Recently I came across this article from the Journal of the American Medical Association. It reads, "Today, medicine and religion are drawing together more closely than ever before. No longer, as occasionally in the past do the doctor and clergyman find themselves in competitive roles. Instead the men in white and the men in black, aware of the relationship between faith and health, are joining forces in mutual concern for the 'whole patient.' We are all aware that the mental attitude of the patient has a lot to do with his recovery. Whether he has the will to live and can lay hold of the belief that he is going to get well has some strange power which we cannot explain. This, however, is a much different matter than a patient who has settled the matter of his sin by accepting the Saviour, and realizing his life is in the hands of the all powerful God. And, with that knowledge he trusts God to work the miracle of recovery. The one when coming from the hospital will praise the worth of faith, the real Christian will be praising the power and the goodness of God. Surely there is a difference!

Cub Scouts Visit 'Webelos' Camp

Northville Webelos got a real taste of their future scouting activities last Saturday when they attended "Webelos Day" at the Charles Howell scout reservation in Brighton.

Accompanied by their fathers, the Northville boys included John Blackburn, John Callaghan, Gary Davis, Ralph Hay and John Hinman.

Others were Kent Hunter, Mark Lipa, John Samuli, Tom Schoultz, David Schmidt, Dave Thomas, Bob Langtry, Bill Cargo and Dave Chabut.

Webelos Day, which over 2,000 people attended, was sponsored by the Detroit Area Council. The purpose of the outing was to give the Webelos, who will soon be regular scouts, a preview of the things they will do as scouts.

Among the activities studied were canoe safety, cooking, knot tying instruction, how to use a knife and sharpen a hatchet. Time was spent on both the rifle and archery ranges. The boys also learned principles of tracking animals.

An Indian dance presented by the Eagle scouts in the natural amphitheater climaxed the day. Before returning home the boys delved into a delicious barbecue dinner.

30 Building Permits Issued in 3 Months

Thirty building permits representing $163,470 in construction were issued in Northville during February, March and April.

Largest single issue went to the K & G Construction company with 12 permits for new homes in Northville Heights totalling $137,000.

Aside from the subdivision permits, February topped both March and April in building activity.

Trash Pick-up is a Huge Success

The Northville Record

THE OLDEST WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY — EST. 1863 Thursday, May 22, 1958—9

Northville's accumulation of trash is lighter by some 40 truck loads this week!

The all-out effort to help "Beautify Northville" with a huge day-long trash pick-up was acclaimed a success by Donald Hannabarger, chairman of the project.

"We had seven trucks with 47 volunteer helpers and picked up a total of 40 loads in the city," Hannabarger reported.

The effort is part of the month-long "Beautify Northville" campaign which previously included a scrub-down of the city's Main street by local businessmen.

Hannabarger had help from several members of the general clean-up committee as well as the Methodist Men's club, Optimist club, VFW, OLV, American Legion and Explorer Post 242. Trucks were donated for the project by W. E. Spess, Clifford Shoebridge, C. R. Ely, Green Ridge Nursery, Merle Farley and the city.

Although the crews may have missed a few loads left for pick-up, Hannabarger believes that the city was well canvassed. "Any items that were not picked up Saturday by our crews will be collected by the city," he added.

The "Beautify Northville" campaign is headed by John Canterbury with Joe Crupi as co-chairman.

ONE OF THE first of some 40 loads is shown above ready to be dropped at the dump. The trash-laden trucks were a familiar sight on Northville streets Saturday driving back and forth to the dump. Some 47 volunteer helpers worked on seven trucks.

EXPLORER SCOUTS of Post 242 pitched-in to help the "Beautify Northville" effort. The boys were assisted by Advisor Leon Bogolaitis and Russell Rimer.

One stop filled the truck at this corner. These volunteers learned that it doesn't take too many loads to acquire a set of weary arms and an aching back!

Take the wheel... get the Swept-Wing feel!

You spend a lot of time in your car—driving to work, shopping, taking trips. How your car rates on the road is important to you. So all we ask before you invest in a new car is this: Come in and take a "road rate" drive in a Swept-Wing 58

Dodge. Really compare it thoroughly on every count. We honestly believe it rides better, handles easier, responds quicker than any other car you've ever driven. But we'll leave the verdict entirely up to you. You be the judge.

YOU BE THE JUDGE! THINGS TO NOTICE IN THE SWEEP-WING 58:

The feel behind the wheel—You feel different because you sit differently. Low and snug and secure, completely in control, almost a part of the car.

The view around you—The glass area is tremendous. The visibility is outstanding in every direction—front, sides, rear.

The ease of push-button driving—Once you try Dodge Push-Button TorqueFlite you'll never be happy with outmoded lever types. Ladies love it.

A ride that's a glide—There's no sway on curves, no dip of stops. Torsion-Aire is standard equipment, too.

This power steering is different—No power steering is like Dodge power steering. It works full time, yet leaves you the feel of the road.

Horsepower and stopping power—You get up to 320 hp. You get new-design Total-Contact Brakes.

Foxy Freddy Finds Some Friends

Freddy Fox thinks all this business about collies not liking young fellows like himself is just so much nonsense.

Why, if he had believed it, he never would have found the best friend a two-month-old fox ever had.

You see, Freddy and his family were ousted from their cozy den in Novi by some unfriendly hounds last week. It was every fox for himself.

Freddy wandered about until Friday night when he stumbled wearily into the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Wardell Lyke, 46300 12 Mile. There, in the shadow of the garage, was a sleeping animal that looked for all the world like another fox.

Freddy snuggled up to it and dozed off.

But Freddy hadn't found a fox. He had found a dog — the Lyke's young collie, Teddy.

Teddy awoke in the morning, yawned, then felt something lying beside him. He nuzzled it curiously.

Suddenly his ears shot up straight. A look of doubt, astonishment and embarrassment spread across his face. He snarled.

But Freddy just rolled over and went back to sleep.

Teddy was thunderstruck. But his heart was won. He swallowed his canine pride, and decided to welcome the newcomer — fox or not — to his meager household.

Since then, the two have become fast friends. Teddy shares his water bowl with Freddy, and Freddy in turn leads Teddy through occasional games of tag and follow the leader.

When Teddy tires, Freddy explores the rain spot, sniffs at old tin cans, and chews on his collie friend's chain.

Freddy's only error came at chow time. He mistook Teddy for his mother. But as he maneuvered into position for breakfast, the startled collie boxed Freddy's ears, and that was that.

Mrs. Lyke and her daughters came to his rescue with a bowl of milk, however. And if Freddy ever thought about leaving, he forgot about it at the moment.

So he's stayed on, leaving the Lykes wondering what to do with him. They're going to wait a week to see if he stays. If he's still with them, they'll have to figure something out.

In the meantime, as he thinks back to the night those hounds foraged through his den, Freddy can chalk up one lesson to experience: if you can't beat them, join them — dogs included.

"Yeah, that's a fine bowl. But where's the food?"

"C'mon now, stingy. I get hungry too, 'you know."

"Me and my big 'feet."

"Pester, pester. Can't even eat in peace."

"Guy could get lost here."

"I'll teach him to sleep."

"Say 'please' and you can have your hole back."

"Okay, take that . . . an' that . . . you big brute."

"Hmmm . . . his own house, yet."

"So you're Jennifer. Well I'm Freddy."

It's Tourney Time for Mustangs

Biery Out To Defend State Title

Dick Biery will go after the state class B 440 title Saturday when he and N. C. Schrader represent Northville in the state track finals at East Lansing.

Biery, who has gone into the finals for three straight years, took a second place silver medal in the 440 at East Lansing last year.

The Mustangs pair earned a trip to the finals when they placed in the regional trials at Ann Arbor last Saturday. Biery took first in his 440 heat, while Schrader hurled the shot for a second place position.

Missing this year will be Northville's Bill Yahn, who had gone onto the finals in the 880 the previous two years. Yahn, plagued by a game leg all season, took a third at Ann Arbor Saturday but failed to qualify.

The regionals Saturday were somewhat of a disappointment for the injury-hampered Mustangs.

Last year, Northville placed in four events in the regionals. Biery won the 440 and took a third in the broad jump. Bob Wagenschutz captured the shot put, and Yahn took second in the 880.

All three went on to the finals, where Biery took his silver medal—the first state prize won by a Northville trackman in over a decade.

In the regionals this year, the Mustangs could place only Biery and Schrader but had near-misses in several other events.

The Northville 880 relay team (Roger Cheeseman, Hank Bathey, Hugh Crawford and Dick Biery) took a third—just out of the money. Cheeseman in the low hurdles and Hugh Crawford in the 220 took thirds in elimination heats.

In all, Northville sent 10 trackmen into the regionals, which included the best trackmen from 10 other schools.

The Mustangs will end their track year next Wednesday when they journey to Livonia for the Thurston Invitational.

They'll Be Off Monday at DRC

All dressed up and ready to go places.

That's the story at the Detroit Race Course as it awaits the beginning of 60 days of racing next Monday.

Fans of past years won't recognize the DRC grandstand at Schoolcraft and Middlebelt roads. Once covered with a somber green paint, the spacious grandstand now looks like a rainbow after a storm. Blending coral, pink, light and dark blue and a golden brown, the painters have produced a real traffic stopper.

As well as making it easy on the eyes, the DRC has made it easy on the legs with the installation of escalators. The moving stairs run from just off the paddock area to the grandstand mezzanine and clubhouse area.

On the racing side of the picture, the DRC will climax the Michigan thoroughbred season with the greatest week of racing the state has ever known.

Within the seven-day period of Sweep the Stakes Week, the track will offer the racing fans of Detroit and Michigan the $50,000-added Michigan Mile July 19, the $50,000-added Sweepstakes and the $5,000-added Michigan Futurity, a special event for Michigan-foaled two-year-olds.

Post time is 3 p.m. opening day, 2 p.m. on holidays and Saturdays, and 3:45 p.m. on week days.

ALL IN VAIN — Tucker Williams (foreground) and Jim Hammond (distance) both won their matches, but it wasn't enough to keep Plymouth from taking the match, 4-3, last week. Hammond also was the only winner when the Mustangs fell to Southfield and Oak Park, both by a 4-1 score.

Mustang Nine Wins Two As Season Nears Finish

Northville bounced back with two wins on the diamond this past week to move into a challenging position for the Wayne-Oakland league baseball title.

The Mustangs downed West Bloomfield, 4-1, last Thursday and defeated Bloomfield Hills, 5-0 Monday.

Northville now has won five of its last six starts and has a 6-3 record in league action. The Mustangs complete their Wayne-Oakland league schedule today at Clarenceville.

Joe Kritch continued his winning ways against West Bloomfield, registering the 4-1 win on the strength of a four-hitter.

The Mustangs punched out seven hits, including three in their four-run fourth inning. Walks to Jeff Goodrich and Wade Deal, and singles by Gary Morgan, Bill Boyd and Bob Starnes accounted for the scores.

Goodrich, in racking up the 5-0 victory over Bloomfield Hills, was near-perfect. The big hurler allowed but two safeties and walked only two men. He struck out eight.

Kritch paced Northville at the plate, slamming out a triple and double that brought in three runs.

Northville's big inning came in the third when Steve Juday and Rog Atchinson walked and were doubled home by Kritch. White walked, and an error brought him around to score behind Kritch.

Northville score dit first run in the first when Kritch doubled and was singled home by White.

Bloomfield threatened only in the sixth, but Goodrich bore down and left two Barons stranded on base.

Golfers Host League Meet Here Today

Northville will play host to the Wayne-Oakland league golf tournament today at Meadowbrook Country club.

Tournament play was scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m. and continue most of the day. The golfers will gather afterwards for an awards luncheon in the clubhouse.

One of the state's best high school golfers — Jim Badger of Bloomfield Hills — will hold top interest during the tourney. Badger was the state Class B medalist in the state finals last year.

Milford probably is the favorite for the W-O title, but the Mustangs warmed up for a crack at the crown Monday when they downed Thurston 171-202, for their best showing of the year.

Medalist Mike Eastland with 39 was joined by Pete Gross (43), Bill Chizmar (44), and Fred Schwarze (45).

In a busy round of matches last week, the Mustangs won two, lost one, and ended up in sixth place in the regional tournament.

Northville defeated University high, 186-194 but lost to Brighton, 163-186, in a triangular match at Brighton. Eastland and Schwarze shared medalist honors with a 40 each.

The Mustangs then downed Allen Park, 203-226, with Eastland and Chizmar each recording a 45.

And in the regionals, Northville placed sixth in a field of 10 teams as Chizmar shot an 86 to pace the Mustang foursome's 359.

Novi Sure Shots Start League Matches in Fall

The Novi Sure Shots rifle club is now in a league with teams from Plymouth, Wayne and Vickers.

Competition will begin next October, when the young marksmen start shooting twice a month through the school year.

Awards and trophies will be given to first, second and third place teams and members.

The Novi team, coached by Fred Loynes, Don Knodle and Homer Kent, shoots each Tuesday night in the basement of the Novi school. Upwards of 30 youngsters, ranging in age from 10 to 17, have learned to shoot with the club.

It follows strict safety regulations and is set up under rules of the National Rifle Association.

CELEBRATED JUMPING FROG?

The Parmenter boys, whose folks own the cider mill in Northville, have found a frog goldmine in the creek behind their house. Here with one of the whoppers are, in front, Bobby Parmenter, and Sandy Tabor, and in back, Ricky and Raymond Parmenter. The boys return the frogs to the creek almost as fast as they catch them.

Northville, Novi Set To Get in the Swim

Northville swimmers soon will be able to use a new $430,000 swimming pool at Lower Huron Metropolitan park near Belleville.

The public-owned pool will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. starting Saturday.

Free swimming periods will be held from 9 a.m. to noon daily except on week ends and holidays. At other times there will be a slight admission charge.

Lights will permit night swimming.

Summer activities at Kensington Metropolitan park, near New Hudson, two bathing beaches will begin daily operation June 7 and are already open on week days and week ends during warm weather.

Kensington is now more readily accessible to Novi and Wixom because of the recently-completed Grand River expressway.

PLYMOUTH SAVES YOU MONEY ON GAS...
MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN VICTORY PROVES IT!

New "Fuel-Saver" Choke that helped clinch title is standard equipment on all Plymouth V-8s

Pound for pound, Plymouth uses less gasoline than either of the "other two" cars in the low-price "3"! This was proved beyond doubt when a 1958 Plymouth V-8 was officially declared winner of the low-price car competition in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. Plymouth's competitors also entered cars with 6-cylinder engines (supposedly more economical) but Plymouth beat every car in its class—V-8s and 6s alike!

This title-winning Plymouth is exactly the same Belvedere V-8 with TorqueFlite Automatic Transmission that you can buy right off your Plymouth dealer's floor.

These tests prove that every Plymouth has built-in economy features not found in the "other two". For instance—one of the most important factors in Plymouth's smashing win is the new "Fuel-Saver" Choke that you get at no extra cost on all Plymouth V-8s. This ingenious device employs a triple-stage vacuum piston and a new thermostatic element to reduce the amount of fuel you use in warming up the engine. So it can save you even more on short-distance drives—the kind most people make.

Among the many other savings Plymouth gives you is the $140 you save on standard-equipment Torsion-Aire Ride. The "other two" charge up to that much extra for their best suspension systems.

So if you are dollar-conscious, better hustle over and talk terms and trade with your Plymouth dealer. He wants your business, and he'll go all out to get it!

SUBSTITUTES

Nearly everyone has heard the story of the carpenter who was asked to build a house while the wealthy owner took an exhausted tour around the world. A certain amount of money was designated to cover the cost of the building, so the carpenter decided he could pocket all the money he saved in the construction. He made every short-cut and substitution he could. He built the house of inferior materials and pocketed the difference in cost. When the owner returned he was well pleased with the appearance of the house and since the carpenter had been in his employ for many years he decided to give the house to the carpenter in appreciation for his many years of faithful service. The good news was not very well received for the carpenter remembered how he had cheated in the construction and had not profited at all, but had really cheated himself.

This story illustrates many experiences of our everyday lives. All of us are taking short-cuts, substituting inferior materials and deceiving ourselves in many ways. For instance, take note how we substitute good intentions for good deeds. It is so easy to make a good intention satisfy our conscience for something that we could and should have done. Again take note how we make our ideals and dreams take the place of real living. Every person has a high opinion of the kind of person he would like to be but so few are willing to pay the price of loyalty and discipline to actually become the kind of person he ought to be. Furthermore, we substitute appearance for character, glamour for integrity, and a busy round of activities for true devotion to great causes. We substitute devotion to ourselves and our own self-interests for devotion to great causes. We call attention to ourselves and inflate our own egos when we should be self-forgetting in the service of others. We try to elevate ourselves by knowing the right people instead of following the people who are right. We substitute the morals of the masses instead of following the truth. We make weak sentimentality take the place of honest sympathy, and token interest in others, such as sending a card, to take the place of a visit to a sick person.

All in all, the habit of substitution leaves a tragic vacuum at the center of life. If life would be satisfying and meaningful, nothing but the genuine best of ourselves in love, sympathy, gentleness, and goodwill should be used in our daily living. Let us be aware of substitutes in our human relations.

Student Minister Begins Duties

A young student minister began a summer-long stay in Northville this week as assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Fred R. Kolbe, a student at McCormick Seminary in Chicago, will serve with the church until August 10, conducting all phases of church work except those which require an ordained minister.

The 12-week program covers four major duties: preaching and assisting at Sunday worship, directing the daily vacation Bible school, assisting at sacraments and attending church meetings, and making pastoral visits and hospital calls.

Kolbe is the first full-time student minister for the church. For the past four years, however, the church has been served by part-time summer student ministers.

Kolbe and his wife, Alice, will be officially welcomed to Northville shortly after they settle in their apartment at 410 East Main.

The welcome will follow an old southern custom — the "pounding party", in which guests welcome a newcomer to their community by bringing a pound of something as a gift.

The congregation and friends of the church will be notified of the time and place within a few days.

Kolbe began his duties with the Presbyterian church last Sunday when he was presented to the congregation and assisted at morning worship. Next Sunday, he is scheduled to preach at both morning services.

The program, which compares with a medical student's internship of a student teacher's practice teaching, was set up by Rev. Taxis and the church sessions in cooperation with McCormick Seminary. A complete report of Kolbe's work will be made to the seminary.

The student pastor's visit will give

Enjoy Vacation Atmosphere On Your Own Back Porch

Vacation minded homeowners have discovered that a screened in back porch gives their home a vacation atmosphere all summer long.

In most cases, screened in porches can be added to the rear of the home with very little effort. Post and beam construction has become very popular for such additions, where it is allowed by local building codes.

The porch addition usually has an entry from the living or dining area, and contains one or more doors to the rear yard. The porch may be used as an insect-free outdoor picnic spot for summer meals.

Sliding glass doors are often utilized for the entry way between the porch and the dining or living room. These tend to merge the pleasant features of the garden or porch with the indoor area.

Porches can be designed to blend with the architecture of any home, and usually cannot be distinguished from original construction.

VENTILATE DEAD SPACE

Installation of air vents in attics and crawl spaces under homes is essential in preventing moisture accumulation. When there has been paint failure in a home, they suggest that the reason might be inadequate ventilation not allowing moisture to escape.

MULTI-DUTY FENCE

Makes Life More Relaxed

RELAXED living is aided by a home improvement project with wide appeal — a fence that's easy to build, pleasant to look at and functional. Here's a backyard fence that is literally an outdoor closet! Every third panel is peg-board; the other two are a textured hardboard. Garden tools are readily hung on this versatile fence. When gardening time is over, the homemaker can pull up a chaise; place some cooling drinks on a shelf resting on peg-board brackets, slide some magazines or books into another bracket, and relax for a pleasant hour. The attractive fence (as well as the model) would also help "Beautify Northville".

Here's a Fence That's Both Useful, Attractive

A modern fence is more than a barrier. It can be many things: A contribution to the living-out-at-home movement; a contributor to the family's sense of privacy; and a convenient place for hanging outdoor equipment such as a garden hose, sprinkler, small tools and barbecue utensils.

The many-purpose fence can be both functional and decorative. A typical one can be made in an attractive style by using panels of peg-board on both sides of horizontal wood stringers so that the design is good and the ventilation adequate. The foot-wide 1/4" panels are spaced four inches apart on both sides of the fence in a criss-cross pattern that affords both privacy and a free movement of breezes.

Besides being a property divider and a place to hang outdoor equipment, a good-looking fence can add to the attractiveness of a property. It's an ideal project for the home handyman who likes to work out-of-doors in the summer while he improves the appearance and value of his real estate.

How do you hang the tools and garden hose on a fence? With peg-board panels and fixtures, there's no problem, as there are dozens of metal fixtures available to fit any of the holes. A nice thing about this perforated hardboard, too, is that you can convert your fence in a jiffy to a prop for outdoor relaxation. Shelves may be hung from brackets for magazines or cooling drinks.

No wonder these fences have become so popular! They're easy to build, easy to look at and pleasant to have around. For a free plan showing the construction of several attractive fences, write a postal card to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington, Chicago 2, Illinois, requesting plan No. AE-309.

The adoption of new methods for growing and handling of plants has been the principal reason for the great upsurge in June planting. Many millions of plants now are grown in containers where quality can be controlled scientifically. When the plants are transferred to home properties all one has to do is remove the containers and set the plants in the ground. This is one of the most significant advances in the growing and handling of nursery stock in the past 100 years.

The second reason for the great expansion of June and summer planting was originated by the landscape nurserymen. New methods for digging and wrapping have been developed.

Fourth Salk Shot Not Needed - Yet

Routine fourth shots of Salk vaccine are not necessary this spring because of the high effectiveness of the present schedule of three inoculations.

This was the consensus of a committee of advisors to the Surgeon General of the United States which recently reviewed progress in polio prevention.

The committee agreed that individual physicians might give fourth shots under special circumstances such as the beginning of local outbreaks of polio or to persons visiting areas where polio incidence is high. If the fourth shot is given it need not be administered sooner than a year after completion of the three-shot schedule.

Vaccine effectiveness is being maintained at levels of approximately 90 percent after three injections. Studies also show that substantial immunity continues for at least three or four years after three properly spaced shots are given.

SPEAKING for the Record

By BILL SLIGER

Although Northville has little industry to boast about today, Fred Van Atta, 136 East Cady, says it wasn't always the case.

Around the turn of the century this was a booming industrial area, says Van Atta, and he brought a book along to prove it!

At that time the village of Northville was credited with being the largest manufacturing center in Wayne county outside of Detroit and Wyandotte.

Van Atta is shown below with a giant 24-foot long lathe that is now located in Greenfield Village. The lathe was a gift from Van Atta to Henry Ford.

It was originally used at Meads Mill (now the park area) by a firm manufacturing land rollers. Later it was moved to the prosperous American Bell and Foundry plant located at the site of the recently burned-down Allied plant.

Van Atta came into possession of the lathe when he moved his Superior Churn company into the American Bell and Foundry plant. Earlier he had used the top floor of the Union Manufacturing and Lumber company, now the Ford Valve plant. For six months after Ford purchased the Union Manufacturing plant Van Atta continued to lease the upstairs space and it was then that he became acquainted with Henry Ford. According to Van Atta, Ford was a frequent visitor in Northville.

Later Van Atta leased the use of the huge lathe to Stinson Aircraft for turning nose sections of their airplanes. Finally he called up his friend Henry Ford and offered the lathe for the museum.

* * *

While we're reminiscing, below are two other photographs of Northville in the earlier days. The two pictures belong to Leona Parmalee of the Manufacturers National Bank. One is a scene of Northville Downs taken around 1910, while the other is the corner of Main and Center streets where The Record office is now located.

If Russians Should Attack ...

Babson Park, Mass. — Do you know the name and address of the Director of Civil Defense for your State? If not, write your State Governor today. After getting the director's name, write him to send you his literature on (1) What to do to prepare for an enemy's dropping a bomb near where you live; (2) How to protect against the fallout. Also write your nearest weather bureau.

Washington and News Releases

Every department in Washington is showering newspaper editors with "releases" about Russia to make people "war-minded". But you will find very little instruction as to what to do in case Russia should decide tonight to strike us. Presumably, the reason is that preparation for war temporarily boosts business and employment; while the only sales the Civil Defense people can help are those of the manufacturers of shovels and a few needed dugout and hospital supplies.

I am a fairly intelligent man, but I did not know until yesterday that when the radar at our national border signals an "alert", all radio broadcasting stations except two must shut down. This alert means that Russian planes are coming and can reach you in 15 minutes. The two operating stations are 640 and 1240 kilocycles on your radio dial. Mark these two numbers on the wall near your radio — all newspapers should carry them on their radio page until every man, woman and child know them by heart.

Evacuation vs. Shelters

I don't place much confidence in Evacuation Plans. The theory is that on sharp short blows of whistles, horns, etc., lasting 3 minutes, the city should evacuate. Those in automobiles may be able to do it; but I am too dumb to imagine a city of 50,000 or upwards being able to do so. Besides, where would the people go? How could the near suburbs house or feed them? What is the Federal or State Civil Defense organization doing to provide sufficient shelter? If I should be caught without an automobile in any city when the "alert" was sounded, I would not try to get out. I would go to the nearest building or home and ask to go to the basement. Every basement should be a limited "shelter"; but I understand that to have one bomb-proof and fallout-proof, it should be built into the cellar or yard with concrete blocks and covered with 3 feet of dirt. Shelters against fallout should be kept stocked with drinking water, canned food, old clothing, toilet conveniences and a battery radio. For particulars write to the Federal Civil Defense at Washington, D.C. for their free booklet on "Home Shelters for Family Protection in an Atomic Attack, TM-5-5". Let me add the sad fact that less than one percent of American homes have sent for this booklet.

Bomb Hits vs. Fallout

The force of an atomic bomb is many thousand times that of the largest TNT bomb ever made. It not only has a terrific powerful explosion, but it creates a heat of 5,000 degrees F. It crushes; it burns; and often injures for life. Most sensible people would rather be killed outright by such a bomb than left alive but injured.

The bomb, however, directly affects only a small area of, say, five miles. With the fallout the situation is very different. This is the dispersal of the mushroom cloud made by the explosion of the bomb. This may travel 20 to 50 miles according to the winds and weather. The Civil Defense has not yet succeeded in waking us up to the need for escaping from this deadly dangerous fallout in the air. Before closing this column, let me publicly render thanks to Mrs. Bell Land, director of civil defense, Crystal River, West Florida who awakened me to the situation.

Money Spent on Backyard Shelters Should be Tax-Deductible

Congress is wise in spending billions for missiles, submarines and radar systems; but with all this protection, one or two Russian bombers could streak through. This is no reason for us to get faint hearted and compromise with Communism, but it is reason for us to spend much more money on shelters and on educating families to make their own shelters. The newspapers should encourage this.

Furthermore, money spent on such shelters should be deductible for income-tax purposes. This would cost the government nothing. And a great mass movement to build shelters would increase employment all over the nation, and not only in those cities where missile, automobile, and airplane plants are located. Let us teach our children self-survival.

State to Seek New Funds with Income Tax

A STATE INCOME TAX is being pushed by economists and government leaders.

The new levy is expected to be the key point of the search for more money during the 1959 legislative session, hard on the heels of a heated election year.

Income tax, long thought to be the fairest levy possible, remained as a theory for Michigan until the legislative tax study committee came up with a tentative report a week ago.

"Even as a flat rate tax, it is the most equitable and progressive levy," said the report.

Experts working with the committee said that the heaviest tax burden now falls on low-income groups, while the income tax is spread with equal impact over all income groups.

Other sections of the report, however, said that low-income groups, which now pay a disproportionate share of the state's revenue, benefit most from the services the state offers.

The report pointed to welfare and other items aimed directly for the benefit of the indigent.

In Michigan, the constitution requires uniform taxation rather than allowing a graduated tax schedule, similar to that used in computing the brackets of the federal income tax.

The way around that, lawmakers of the committee said, is to levy a uniform tax by rate and provide exemption, either $600 a year like the Federal government or $1,000 a year, like some states.

Republicans, cognizant of the state's financial crisis, appropriated extra money for the legislative budget because they anticipate a longer session in 1959 to handle tax problems.

The income tax has drawn theoretical — but not necessarily political — support from key figures in both the Democratic and Republican parties.

The timing of the legislative study took them off the hook in an election year.

Several years ago, an income tax proposal came before the legislature with a $10,000 exemption and reductions of the sales tax on food, but failed to get out of committee.

The only outspoken advocate of the income tax in recent years has been Senator Frank Andrews (R-Hillman), who said he considered it "the fairest and most sensible tax available."

Whether it becomes law in Michigan and the details of exemptions and the rate will be the questions posed to the lawmakers next winter.

NO MASS LAYOFFS in state government because of the economy budget are expected to materialize.

Most state agencies plan to allow vacancies to exist when workers retire or resign, but threats of discharges of up to 1,000 public employees have practically evaporated.

The lifeline of most agencies is the lump sum flexibility of the 1958-59 budget.

In past years, money was earmarked for half a dozen different functions of each department — so much for salaries and wages, contractual services and supplies and special projects.

The new budget allows agencies to transfer funds from the contractual services and supplies account to the salary account, for instance. In past years, agencies ran short in some accounts and would end up with surpluses in others. But they were not allowed to balance out the money to spread over their entire operation.

Now they can. It will mean less money turned back unsent to the treasury, but it will also mean a lower deficiency bill — deficit spending and surpluses within a single department.

CONSUMERS Power Company is seeking $15,300,000 electric service rate increase for the first time since 1950 for more than 800,000 customers in 61 outstate counties.

The company said that living costs have jumped 18 per cent since its last rate increase.

Wage adjustments and expansion of service during that period, plus the need for further development to meet "the growing demands of the economy" were cited as major reasons.

Luckily, emergencies are rare. But it's so comforting to know — especially at night — that the phone is in easy reach.

Your extension phone helps you in everyday ways, too. When the phone rings and you are reading in bed, house cleaning or dressing the children, a bedside telephone is a wonderful help. It saves you endless steps.

Each handy, step-saving extension telephone costs only $1.10 a month*. To order yours, just call our Business Office.

*Plus 10% federal tax.

P.S. Save money by ordering a kitchen extension when you order your bedroom phone. The installation charge of $2.25 covers ANY NUMBER OF EXTENSIONS if installed at the same time. Extra one-time charge for color and for "spring" cords.

Homes today have handy phones—where you work, where you relax, where you sleep
