Fire Destroys Plant In Salem Township

A fire causing damage estimated from $500,000 to $700,000 completely gutted the Peerless Industries plant on West Territorial road in Salem township Tuesday.

The firm, located, about seven miles west of Plymouth, manufactures flexible plumbing supplies. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Fire departments from Salem, Superior and Plymouth townships fought the blaze that broke out around 1:45 p.m. Firemen concentrated on keeping the fire from spreading to the R. T. Sheehan plant next door after it became apparent that flames could not be extinguished. They remained until 2:00 a.m. Wednesday before the fire was completely out.

Russell Hoffman of Plymouth is president of Peerless and has opened temporary offices in the Schrader building in Plymouth. As yet no plans for the future have been announced. The plant had 40 employees.

Baptist Building Sent Back Again

The Northville board of appeals tabled a request by the First Baptist church to build beyond the city's set-back limitations in the third meeting held on the matter Tuesday night.

Board members voted to study the matter further and submit a written answer to the church after the issue became confused in procedure.

In its latest bid to add seating space to their church the group sought approval of a plan to build within 17 feet of the sidewalk at Randolph and Wing streets. The zoning ordinance limit is 25 feet. Earlier the board had denied permission to build within five feet of the sidewalks.

The latest request was submitted last week. Board members tabled the issue until they could make an on-site study. Tuesday they were not satisfied that the church had followed the proper procedure, although members pointed out that they had been told by city officials to come before the appeals board.

Finally, Appeals Chairman Elmer DeKay suggested tabling the matter. The board then adopted a motion calling for written instructions to be forwarded to the church. It was indicated that the church would be advised to observe zoning regulations, as well as parking requirements, and submit an architect's drawing of plans to the building inspector.

In the event the permit was denied the board indicated it would again consider the request.

A three page letter opposing the latest request along with an appraiser's estimate that the addition would lower property values directly across the street from the church 20 per cent was submitted to the board. The letter was signed by John Canterbury and Donald Hannabarger, who reside near the church.

Column on Child Guidance Starts in the Record Today

Edited by Glenn E. Smith, a nationally-known counselor in child guidance, the series will explore such topics as home responsibility, IQ, children's fears, and the curse or blessing of television.

Novi To Allow Signs On X-Way

It's definite at last: billboards and advertising signs will be allowed along the Farmington-Brighton expressway in Novi.

An ordinance to that effect was approved Monday night by the Novi township board.

Terms of the ordinance, which takes effect in 30 days:

- signs must be between 25 and 100 feet of the right-of-way.
- they can be no closer than 500 feet.

- they must be between 50 and 150 square feet in area and can be no more than 17 feet off the ground at the top.
- access must be from adjoining property, not from the expressway.

they may be illuminated, but must not swing, flash, or revolve. Originally, signs were prohibited along the expressway as they are in any Novi area not zoned for commercial or industrial use.

But when merchants argued that they needed the signs to attract business off the expressway, the zoning board wrote an ordinance allowing the advertising.

The county refused to approve the ordinance, however, and suggested keeping the expressway free of signs. The zoning board accepted this and passed the disapproval back to the township board.

'Thought It Was Joke,' Say Pals as Boy Drowns

Seventeen-year-old Jay Marshall Denny drowned in the Manning and Locklin gravel pit where he and five friends, all of Detroit, were swimming Sunday afternoon.

Wayne county sheriff's office speculated the boy drowned in the 15-ft. pond after becoming disabled by a cramp.

The boys reported they had been swimming and diving for some time before Denny dove in from a 15-foot embankment.

He didn't come to the surface immediately, the boys said.

When he appeared, he was bent in a crouching position, his legs still, just moving his head from side to side. He had a smile on his face, they said, so they thought he might be joking.

When he went down again, all the articles are just that—down-to-earth discussions of problems which concern every parent.

Though written in a light, friendly style, all are based on the research and writings of nationally-known authorities.

"The series was planned," Smith said, "for parents who rarely have an opportunity to talk with an authority on child guidance about some of the many—and perplexing—problems which center around their school-age children."

The first article—"Getting Your Child Ready for Kindergarten"—appears today on page 11.

Occasionally Record staff members will prepare companion articles and photo features based on discussions with parents, teachers and local authorities.

Comments from readers of the series will be appreciated and will be published if of general interest to other readers.

The editor of "Chats with Parents" is the author of widely-used textbooks in the guidance and counseling field. They include "Principles and Practices of the Guidance Program" and "Counseling in the Secondary School."

In addition, Smith and Dean Clifford E. Erickson, of the Michigan State University college of education, co-authored "Organization and Administration of Guidance Services."

Smith has spent more than 20 years as a guidance coordinator and student counselor, and is now in his eleventh year as chief of guidance services in the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

He is married and has a daughter, 15, and a son, 8. He lives in East Lansing.

Among the topics to be discussed in "Chats with Parents" are: "School—a New World for Your Child," "How Your Child Grows," "When Should Your Child Have an Allowance," "The 10 Mistakes of Parents," and "Should Schools Do Away with Grades?"

five friends dove in after him, but couldn't bring him up.

Northville police arrived at 7:30 p.m. and summoned State police skin divers.

The skin divers recovered Denny at 9:30 p.m. The boys estimated he had been in the water 3 hours.

There were no marks on the body to indicate foul play or injury from the dive.

The water is especially cold, police said, and think it might have induced the cramp.

There were several "no trespassing" signs on the gravel pit property, police reported, and a chain across the entrance road.

This is the first drowning in the Northville area since a boy drowned in a creek near the State hospital two years ago.

City Adopts Pension Program

572 Bother to Vote Tuesday

Northville voters generally followed state and county trends in selecting Democratic and Republican candidates for November's biennial election.

But less than 20 per cent of the registered voters in the city and township bothered to visit the polls Tuesday. Only 301 of the city's 1887 registered voters turned out, while the township cast 271 ballots from a registration total of 1550.

In the city women outvoted the men by a slim margin, but in the township this was reversed. More Democrats voted in the township than Republicans, but city Republicans edged the Democrats.

Only 31 ballots were cast in the city's Oakland county precinct number three where 194 voters are registered. Precinct one showed the best voting average with 147 of a possible 833. Precinct two had 123 out of a registration of 860. More Democrats voted in precinct two than Republicans. This trend prevailed throughout the state because of the Republican slate that offered little competition for offices.

City and township voters supported their home candidate, George N. Bennett, Democratic candidate for state representative, but Harvey J. Beadle won the nomination. Beadle will face Rep. Sterling Eaton in a re-match at the polls in November. Lucas S. Miel won the Republican nomination for U.S. Representative and will face incumbent Martha W. Griffiths.

In the township Democrats elected Alice M. Woodruff and Erna Perez as delegates to the state convention. Republicans elected Marguerite Northrup and Donald Robinson. A. Malcolm Allen and T. R. Carrington were elected delegates to the Republican convention from the city, while Democrats did not officially select city delegates.

(Nominated Candidates listed first)

School Budget Up For Final Okay

The Northville school board will meet Thursday to approve its 1958-1959 school budget.

The Wayne county tax allocation board has approved the board's tentative budget estimate of $666,043 for operating funds and $212,893.75 for debt service retirement.

Decision on the new budget will finally determine the millage on the state equalized assessment of $21,000,000. The original 29.95 millage was based on the city assessment of $18,000,000.

Already scheduled for a berth on the new budget is a guaranteed annual $7,000 athletic department operating fund. The fund will be administered as a departmental budget.

Most of the $7,000 is expected to come from gate receipts. Any excess, the board decided, will go into the general school operating fund.

In addition, the board agreed to provide up to $1,500 for payment of debts accumulated by the athletic department under the old financing system.

A progress report by Principal Elroy Ellison on the new high school building showed construction 30-35 per cent complete. A joint meeting of the school board and the city council was held yesterday to discuss common problems connected with the building project.

One of the problems, water runoff from school drainage into North Center street, was thought adequately corrected by the building of a dam since initial complaints of flooded basements in the area last month.

The board accepted the bids of bus fuel oil submitted by C. R. Ely and Sons.

Superintendent Russell Amerman was expected to return Wednesday from vacation.

Tax Deadline Nears

City taxes for 1958 were about one-third paid this week as the total collections hit $35,000.

Local taxpayers have until September 2 to pay taxes without penalty. They are payable at the city hall.

Explorer Scouts Give David $40 Saved on Recent Trip

Northville Explorer Scouts did their second good deed for David Rochon this week.

The Explorers, members of Leonard Bogotaitis' Troop 242, gave David $40 that was left over from their recent trip to Yellowstone Park so he could have the medicine he needs.

The boys had promised that any extra money would go to David. The suspicion is that the Explorers didn't try very hard to spend that last $40.

Before going, the boys gave David another $15 from the trip money they had earned by washing cars and holding rummage and bake sales.

David had a brief respite from the pain of his brain tumor Tuesday. For the first time in days, he was able to sit up and eat without becoming sick.

But for much of the last week, he was plagued by the headaches and stomach pains that are with him almost constantly.

His parents have received a helping hand from still another quarter. The credit union at the Ford valve plant has assumed a number of their larger bills, and the Rochons can pay it back as they can afford it.

In the meantime, they can concentrate on the pills and medications that make their son's plight at least a little easier.

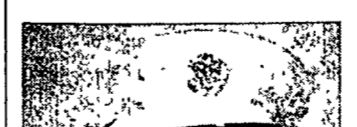

Braves Start Tournament Play

The Northville Braves will begin their quest of the state midgeet baseball crown next Monday.

The Braves will play Nankin in the first round of tournament play. Game time: 10 a.m. at the Wayne high school field.

The Braves nailed down the Livonia championship Monday and earned a spot in the state tourney. For details, see sports pages.

Seeks Clothes for Orphans

A/2c WILLIAM ALLEN

An appeal for used clothes for children at an orphanage on Okinawa arrived here last week from a Northville airman serving on the island.

The homeless children are mostly victims of World War II and of the many typhoons which lash Okinawa regularly, wrote A/2c William Allen, 44915 Thornapple Lane.

Living conditions for the children, who range from a year and a half to 15 years, is "depressing", he said.

Sole support for the orphanage comes from the chapel on his airbase, about three miles away, and from 14 airmen who each contribute $5 monthly and spend spare hours working at the orphanage.

Neither the Okinawan government nor any church sponsors the children, Allen wrote. Except for the

Compulsory Plan Applies To Full Time Personnel

Definite action aimed at making city employment more attractive and rewarding was taken Monday night by the Northville city council.

A retirement plan for all full time city employees was adopted and put into immediate effect. The compulsory plan means that all city employees, present or future, with 10 years service may receive a pension when they become 60 years of age. Retirement is compulsory at 65.

Under the plan all present city employees will be given full credit for prior service. Thus any full time employee of retirement age with more than 10 years service could retire immediately and begin receiving the pension.

Approximately 20 employees will come under the plan and contribute a total of $3500 annually to the fund. The city's share will be $7500, the extra amount being necessary to allow prior service of employees to be counted.

The action was hailed by all councilmen. Mayor Malcolm Allen called the pension "something that should have been done years ago."

Actually, the plan has been under serious consideration by the council for the past seven months. City Manager John Robertson had started preliminary investigation into a fringe benefit program for city employees prior to the 10 per cent wage boost given all employees last December. Most employees received another pay increase last month.

The new retirement plan is currently being used by some 60 other cities in Michigan. It is governed by state law and officially called the Michigan Municipal Employees Retirement system.

The program is designed to work in conjunction with an employee's salary. For example, an employee with 10 years service and an average final pay of $400 monthly would, at age 65, receive $42.50 monthly pension. Coupled with social security, benefits due man and wife at age 65, the retirement pension would total $205.30.

Using the same formula, employees with 15 years will receive $226.55; 20 years, $247.80; 25 years, $269.05; and 30 years, $290.30. Single or widowed employees without dual social security benefits in the same wage bracket would receive $54.30 less per month.

Like social security, the pension plan is paid from payroll deductions. The employee pays three per cent up to $4200 and five per cent of his earnings above that total.

The council voted to make the plan effective at the last pay day, August 2.

Councilmen have been pressing to bring the plan into being so that the city could compete with industry and other municipalities in hiring employees. They also point out that the program will give employees an incentive to remain at his job.

City Manager Robertson pointed out that the program is not a cooperative plan between municipalities, but that each city must support its own program. Councilmen gave careful consideration to future financing of the program to be certain it could be maintained. Actually, the council had already provided for a retirement in the current budget and had assumed the program would be more expensive.

The program provides that employees leaving city service may receive their accumulated contributions upon request. In the event of the death of an employee the accumulated withholdings go to the beneficiary.

"We've had more two-dollar bettors than ever, but fewer ten-dollar bettors", Carlo said. "People are short of money", he added.

During the first 30 nights this year the Downs has attracted 154,907 fans compared to 137,659 last year.

The money drop at the Downs will have its effect on the city, too. Last year state tax returns from racing totaled $90,000. At the current average, and with the two less nights of racing, the city will probably take a cut of between two and three per cent.

Fire Levels House Trips Up 2 Youths

An inferno levelled an abandoned farm house on 10 Mile Monday night and coincidentally brought the law down on a pair of Novi youngsters who were violating the township curfew.

The farm house, a long-time landmark, was located just inside Farmington township between Haggerty and Grand River.

William B. Crump

Crump Is Named To School Board

William B. Crump, 15 Nightblane road, was named Monday tonight to fill the vacancy on the Northville board of education. He replaces H. Adrian Willis, who resigned last week after announcing that he had accepted a position with the Daisy Manufacturing company in Rogers, Arkansas.

Attending board meetings will not come as a new procedure to Crump. He has been a regular spectator at nearly every board meeting in recent years and has taken an active part in school matters.

Crump served as vice-chairman of the citizens' high school curriculum study group and later chairman the same program for the junior high school.

He is married and has two children, Constance, 10, and Allison, five. Mrs. Crump, a former teacher, has also been active in parent-teacher school affairs. Crump is district sales manager for the May-Fran Engineering firm of Detroit.

The board wasted little time in giving Crump a title. After his appointment it was decided that he would also assume the office of vice president of the board, formerly held by Willis.

Downs Betting Off Meet Ends Saturday

Northville Downs current 36-night racing season seemed destined to fall short of last year's 38-night spring meet in every department except attendance.

With the final night coming up Saturday Executive Manager John Carlo conceded this week that the track's current $244,676 average mutual handle per night could not possibly come up to the $249,917 nightly average of 1957.

"We've had more two-dollar bettors than ever, but fewer ten-dollar bettors", Carlo said. "People are short of money", he added.

During the first 30 nights this year the Downs has attracted 154,907 fans compared to 137,659 last year.

WHICH ONE is glamor boy? Well, it's the one in the middle, James Kaler III, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Kaler, who have just returned "home" to Northville and Maybury Sanatorium, after a few years absence.

Once upon a time there was a fox named Raydie . . . "Imagine buying a fox!" says Mrs. James Kaler, "but we did . . . and we had a goose . . . and a greenhouse . . ."

Dr. and Mrs. Kaler are back in Northville after a 4½ years' stay in Kendallville and Richmond, Indiana, where the doctor was busy, first, as medical director and superintendent of his own, Smith-Ested hospital, and later, in private practice.

The Kalers lived in Northville some 2 years, while Dr. Kaler was Senior Physician in charge of the children's unit at Maybury Sanatorium. He is a Senior Physician once again.

They returned 3 weeks ago, with their own newcomer, James III, just two years old this June.

The doctor and his wife confess to being avid animal and vegetable enthusiasts, "but when the baby arrived, all the animals and birds had to go!" Mrs. Kaler said.

They did once own a fox named Raydie . . . and a goose named Gandy . . . an African-Chinese species, no less.

Raydie came to the Kalers' after he was plowed up with a nest of brother cubs in a farm field. "The poor farmer didn't know what to do with them, so he put them up for sale," Mrs. Kaler tells. "We bought him for 5 dollars."

In time, Raydie established a loyal camaraderie with the big neighbor farm dog, Mickey. "That was unusual, because Mickey was trained to keep things like him away from chickens," Mrs. Kaler laughs.

The two voyaged nocturnally, to hunt rabbits together, and by morning Raydie would be "patting his tail" in the breezeway waiting to be let in so he could sleep off under the kitchen freezer.

Gandy was donated to the Richmond zoo, and eventually Raydie was left to his own wits in a game preserve.

Permanent successor to Raydie and Gandy and "our share of cats," is James III, a blond and blue-eyed fellow nicknamed glamor-boy.

"He's just IT!" laughs Mrs. Kaler.

"Just about average . . . pushed a toothbrush down the toilet and locked himself in, so we had to get a ladder to get him out."

Like mother, Jimmie likes parties. Mrs. Kaler enjoys entertaining.

About the greenhouse . . . the doctor set up his own in Indiana.

"We enjoyed the greenhouse probably more than any hobby we've had," Mrs. Kaler recalls.

It was mostly experimental. The doctor tested soil content and raised everything from seed. Mrs. Kaler raised begonias that were her "pride and joy."

Dr. Kaler already has a "big spot" around the doctor's residence for growing vegetables, but so far this year, nothing's growing, Mrs. Kaler reports.

"We like everybody here," De troit-born Mrs. Kaler concluded. "With family and old friends around, it's sort of like coming home after 4 years. We're happy to think we can be useful here."

SUCCESS, REAL AND APPARENT

A wedding anniversary is a day of memories, a day of taking inventory. Is the marriage a real, not just an apparent success? The world looks for home ownership, a late model car, good clothes, to evaluate a marriage on an anniversary day.

The story is told of one woman who waited until she was in her late twenties to marry, thereby "waiting till she had good sense to make a choice" as the saying goes. She had worked hard and had many friends. She thought she knew the man she was going to marry. He seemed a devout Christian. He had a good reputation as did the members of his family. After the marriage she observed that he had a stubborn spirit of disobedience to one of the Ten Commandments, even though he kept the others religiously. In fact, he was very exacting about most other things, so much so he was extremely hard to live with.

The woman's dream of a perfect marriage was shattered, but she overcame the obstacle and did her daily best. Many years later she says happily that she has applied the real test and found hers to be a good marriage. She says the test of a good marriage is "has being married to my spouse brought me closer to God? In her case, she maintains she had nowhere else to turn for happiness; so she found God quickly in that intimate union that is genuine happiness on earth.

Had her marriage brought happiness on a natural plane, she might not have turned to God with her whole heart and soul the way she did.

When is a misfortune a blessing? When one rises above it to God. What encouraging hope there is in this truth for all those who have severe crosses to carry in this life. Seek God sincerely and consistently and earth will eventually cease to matter except as it can be used to make spiritual progress.

The happy marriage is the ideal God intended. The unhappy marriage can still be an offering to God if the lifetime together is lived in hidden sacrifice without any kind of bitterness. Our own experience with men and women who made and are still making heroic sacrifices in a marriage where one spouse is disagreeable or worse, makes us hopeful that ever so many more people could do the same and thus preserve the sanctity of marriage.

Alexander in 17th Year as Legion Adjutant Lisle Alexander, former commander of Northville American Legionnaires, is now in his 17th year as Department Adjutant of the American Legion.

In this position he serves as secretary of the state organization, working full-time at Legion headquarters in the Veterans' Memorial building in Detroit.

Alexander has been adjutant, the army term for secretary—on a post level, also, serving the Lloyd H. Greene Post in Northville for 18 years. A charter member of that post, Alexander was also its commander for two years.

A resident of 210 Mill street in Plymouth, Alexander began as a charter member of the Northville post before the Plymouth post was organized.

Other Legion offices held by Alexander are past commander of the 17th District and department finance officer, which he held for five years.

In 1942 he resigned from the Plymouth Savings Bank to assume the adjutant position.

The Northville Braves have won the Livonia midget league "world series" and will enter the state-wide Michigan Recreation Association tournament next week.

The Braves won the tourney, spot with two wins — a one-hitter and a two-hitter — over the Rosedale Tigers.

Meanwhile, the first game of the series — a 2-1 decision for Rosedale — was wiped from the record books because of faulty umpiring. That leave the Braves with a still perfect 24-0 record for the year.

Craig Bell hurled Northville to its second win, 10-2 Monday. Allowing but one hit, Bell struck out 11 and was never in trouble.

Northville actually won it in the first inning when Bell drove in Dan Brown for a run and later scored himself on a passed ball. The Braves added three more in the second when Jim Juday singled with men on second and third.

The Braves added seven runs in a fourth inning outburst, highlighted by Ed Beard's single and Juday's double, both with the sacks full.

To win their first game of the series, the Braves had to come from behind with a five-run rally in the second after trailing, 3-1. Successive singles by Jim Juday, Dan Brown, Craig Bell and Mike Zayti combined with a single by Jim Riley and a walk to Tom Long for the five runs.

That was the ball game, but the Braves added four more insurance runs on combinations of singles and walks and stolen bases. Final score: 10-5, with 13 hits for the Braves.

Dan Brown gave up but two hits, and got out of a bases-loaded situation in the sixth by striking out two batters.

The first game ended with Rosedale holding the disputed 2-1 decision. Northville's lone run came in the third on hits by Zayti and Larry Angove.

The Braves had other scoring chances, but they were either thrown away by careless base-running or nullified by the protested calls.

Batting Title to Jerome

David Jerome, peppery first baseman for the Northville Orioles, won his team's batting championship this year with a .339 average in 22 games.

He collected 19 hits in 56 times at bat, walked 31 times, and was hit twice by pitched balls. He scored 32 runs to lead the Orioles in that department too.

Four-Run Rally Dooms E Team

A four-run rally in the sixth inning broke up a pitcher's battle last week and gave Wayne Ford Civic a 7-2 win over Northville in class E play.

Northville and Wayne both tallied in the first and fifth and went into the sixth with Wayne leading 3-2.

Then the roof fell in on Pitcher Cap Pethers. A bases-loaded doubled brought in three tallies and set up the fourth.

Northville scored its first run when Rog Atchinson doubled and came in on Wade Deal's single. Deal drove in the second run too when his sacrifice fly brought in Jeff Goodrich from third.

Throws No-Hitter Against Champs

Jerry French pitched a 4-0 no-hitter for the Giants over the Yanks last week, but the Yanks already had nailed down the championship of the Northville knot-hole baseball league.

In other final action last week, Daly Hill homered with one on to lead the Dodgers to a 5-3 win over the Red Sox. The Giants downed the Dodgers, 17-1, and the Yanks defeated the Red Sox, 8-4.

Final knot hole baseball standings

Yanks	9 3
Giants	6 6
Dodgers	5 7
Red Sox	4 8

In knot-hole softball action, the Cubs walloped the Lions, 45-3, the Lions then edged the Tigers, 6-3, the Bobcats defeated the Bears, 16-10, and the Panthers buried the Lions, 45-19.

F Team Wins - and Loses On Rallies in First Inning

Northville's class F team has found a sure-fire formula for success: score fastest with the mostest, and then hold on.

The "secret" gave Northville a split in four games last week, and both times the contest was wrapped up in the first inning.

Trouble was, the secret was leaking to Northville's opponents. Both losses were also decided by first-inning rallies.

Five runs in the first inning and five more in the second gave Northville all its runs in a 10-2 win over Clarenceville.

While Butch Willing and Bill Chapel held Clarenceville to two hits, Northville was knocking out 14 — including two each by Dave Hay, Steve Juday, Karl Karg and Dennis LaRocque.

A seven-run outburst in the first inning paved the way for an 11-2 victory over Livonia Police, as Pitcher Bob O'Leary was in trouble only in the second inning.

Northville collected the initial seven tallies on six hits, added two more in the third on three hits, and tacked on single runs in the fourth and fifth.

Clarenceville reversed things in its second meeting with Northville. Connecting for four straight hits, Clarenceville scored three times in the first and added two in the third and another in the fifth for a 6-3 win over Northville.

Northville picked up two counters in the fourth and another in the fifth, but was stymied from there on.

Another first-inning lead was enough for Bill's Market to nip Northville, 3-1 on the muddy Cass Elsewhere in the park, however, a number of trees did contract Dutch Elm disease and had to be removed. The state is inspecting the area for other infected trees.

Niles, Sholty Duel For Driving Honors

As Northville Downs enters the final days of its 36-night meeting, which closes Saturday, the finest racing of the entire season is expected.

And there's still the driving championship to be decided with Archie Niles Jr., who handles the powerful Drumbeat Stable stock, waging a tight duel with youthful George Sholty, who has a large public stable.

Going into the final week, George held a slight edge over Archie in total firsts but Niles was ahead in the rating system used by the United State Trotting Association. The duel is expected to go down to the final race on the final night.

Racing Secretary Bill Connors hopes to bring out Annette Sue, famed Ohio trotting filly with 14 straight victories.

Paragon Clinches Crown; Hard Luck Hits Bandits

The Paragon Steelers — defending champs of the Novi Little League — have clinched at least a share of the 1958 crown.

The Steelers walloped two opponents and ran their record to 16-3 while hard-luck National Bank dropped three straight and stood in danger of losing second place to fast-moving Fiberglas.

Paragon unleashed a 36-0 clobbering of Fiberglas in the highest-scoring and possibly the wildest Little League game ever played in Novi.

Jim Mazel allowed but one hit while his teammates were shelling Fiberglas hurlers for 14 runs in the third and 17 in the fourth. Darkness fell before the game could be completed.

Ron Rice had four for five, including a triple, while Tom Bingham hit safely in three of four trips and scored four runs. Mazel, who walked five times, and Jim Schingeeck each tallied 5 runs. Rice, Schingeeck and Jim Driscoll each tripled while Bingham and Larry Galvin added doubles.

Paul Pose had Fiberglas' only hit — a second-inning single.

The Steelers took it a little easier on Young Door, but won 16-3 anyway. With Dan Simonson allowing only four hits, the Steelers collected 12 — including three each by Bobby Jones and Rice and triples by Mazel and Galvin.

Fiberglas, after its shellacking at the hands of Paragon, got revenge on National Bank in a makeup game. The Sluggers came up with 16 runs in the last inning to down the Bandits, 18-11, after trailing, 10-2. Rose, with four for four including a triple and double, supplied the Sluggers' big punch and was aided by Ed Karschnik's two safeties. Ralph Caligiuri got the win.

For National Bank, Mike Gotro and John Harnden each had two hits, including a double. National Bank again had last-inning trouble when Mike Shott doubled in the sixth to drive in the tying and winning runs as Young Door edged the Bandits, 14-13.

The Bandits, ironically, had 14 hits, including three for four by George Simenton, while Young Door had but seven.

The Bandits' hard luck popped up still again when they lost a 10-inning thriller to Fiberglas, 11-5. After leading until the fifth, the Bandits saw Fiberglas tie the score and then win on a six-run rally in the 10th.

Hughes' No-Hitter Not Quite Enough

The Walled Lake All-Stars bowed out of the state Babe Ruth tournament Saturday after moving into the district finals on two victories, including a no-hitter by Wixom's Jim Hughes.

Walled Lake got past Novi, 10-2, and Southfield American, 8-0, before falling to Birmingham American, 5-3.

Home runs by Mike Dargis, Cliff Humble, and Jim Broom gave Walled Lake its win over the Novi All-Stars.

Novi collected four hits — two by Tom Bingham and one each by Ron Rice and Ralph Caligiuri — but it wasn't enough support for Pitchers Mike Gotro and Jim Schingeeck.

Walled Lake's second win was Hughes' masterful no-hitter — an unusual bit of hurling in tournament competition.

Hughes homered the following day to provide Walled Lake's big spark, but the blow failed to stop Birmingham from taking the district title.

In other Wixom action, the Little League Orioles got past the Union Lake Indians 7-1, as Don Rickard struck out 10 and Rickard and Vic Burwell both homered.

In Babe Ruth play, Wixom lost to Wolverine Lake, 6-2, although Neil Salo gave up only four hits. In farm team play, Wixom fell to Glengary, 25-11, in a free-hitting contest.

M.D. Children's Camp Now In Session

Forty-seven youngsters stricken with muscular dystrophy are spending ten days at Camp Rankin, near Lexington, until next week.

Many of these children never have another chance to be outside and participate in the activities made available to them through the muscular dystrophy association.

The camp originated three years ago in this area and is now being duplicated in many parts of the country.

Two civic organizations, the P. I. lot club and the Probus club, of Detroit, have helped considerably in making the camp possible. The P. I. lot club donated $2000, raised at its annual May dance, and the Probus club donated a special swimming pool.

In Willowbrook:

Third Grade Has Hayride

By Mrs. George Ames — Greenleaf 4-0830

Mrs. Rella Bowers, who is a third grade teacher at Novi school, entertained her entire class of last year on Friday afternoon. The children met at her home in Milford to take a hayride to Kensington Metropolitan park. After swimming and refreshments they had another hayride back to Milford. Kathy Freytag, Nancy Schingeeck, Sharon Lee Joiner, Lynn Elkins, Bobbie Johns, Dick Bently and Rolf Ames attended from Willowbrook.

On Friday, August 1, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bamford attended the wedding of Miss Ruth McMaster and Mr. Warren Gram at Covenant Baptist church in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick have just returned from a week's vacation which they spent at a cottage at Gun Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Barlow came up from Cleveland, Ohio, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cromer, and to help celebrate the second birthday of their grandson, David Cromer.

Marty Ames took her children, David, Marilyn, and George, to spend the day with Mrs. Arthur Carr in Romeo on Monday.

The Thursday bridge club met at the home of Jean Cromer last week. Nancy Milliken won first prize.

This week we would like to introduce Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Holmes, who recently moved into their new home at 23787 Maude Lea Circle. The Holmes' moved here from Detroit, where Mr. Holmes is employed as an office manager by a Chevrolet dealer. They have a married daughter living in Garden City.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKean spent their vacation at a cottage at Houghton lake. Last weekend they drove to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McKean in Fenton, where they attended a family party to celebrate their own birthdays, and that of their son, Terry, who was two.

ICE-MAKER REFRIGERATOR FREEZER

It's Marvelous!
It's Motorless!
It's Noiseless!

Only refrigerator anywhere with ICEMAGIC!

Automatically replaces every cube you use — without trays! Like magic, the Ice-Magic runs its own water, freezes half-moon Ice-Circles, pops them out so they dry off and won't stick together. Then stores them in a handsome basket. Keeps 10 ordinary trays full!

Automatically defrosts itself! This is the refrigerator that defrosts like clockwork — a clock does the work while you sleep. You don't even need to empty the water — it all evaporates. Automatic temperature control, too — set it just as cold as you like it.

Automatic Ice Water! Optional tap gives you constant supply of fresh cold water — automatically! Separate-door freezer holds 70 pounds of frozen food. Both refrigerator and freezer have color-keyed interiors — beautifully fitted, too, with special compartments for special foods.

IT'S MOTORLESS! IT'S NOISELESS!
SO TROUBLE-FREE IT'S BACKED BY A 10-YEAR WARRANTY

A tiny gas flame does all the work — no moving parts to break down or wear out. Chances are, you'll never need a serviceman! Full 10-year warranty on gas refrigeration unit — plus full-year warranty on complete refrigerator.

Is Your Child Ready for Kindergarten?

This is the time of year when five-year-olds and their parents are looking forward to the opening of school. Happily for parents, most children look forward to going to school with joyful anticipation. It was not by sheer chance that the age of five or six was selected as an appropriate time for children to start school; it was based upon the observations and study of experienced child development experts which revealed that most children are ready to adjust to the shift from home to school at this age.

Dr. Arnold Gesell, for many years Director of the Yale University School of Medicine, relates the five to six age to school by pointing out that at this stage in his development the child is in the one period in his life when his behavior is as nearly perfect as it will ever be. This is the delightful period in the child's development when he is between the four-year-old age of experimenting with everything he can reach and the period which follows when his behavior is erratic and extreme. It is this period that Professor Helen Shacter describes in her interesting book, "These Are Your Children," as an age of conforming, a comfortable age.

If you are to help your child get ready to start school, whether it be in kindergarten or the first grade, one should bear in mind some of the attributes which the child takes to school with him. Remember, too, that each child is just himself and will not fit every description or prediction of the so-called typical child.

Though the beginner is usually more independent than his doting parents think, his self-reliance may be destroyed by thoughtless parents. One thing he confidently expects is that someone will be at home to greet him when he returns from school. It is important that he learn from experience before he reaches school age that when he goes away from home for play or to do an errand someone will be at home when he returns. The importance with which he regards having someone at home waiting for him is indicated by his regular habit of dashing into the house and calling his mother before his last foot is over the threshold. Knowing someone will be at home gives him a feeling of confidence and self-reliance.

Pre-school children should be encouraged to play with other children, to exchange visits with playmates, to learn the give-and-take of sharing their possessions so that when they enter school they will have already learned how to take turns and to cooperate with others in achieving the aims of the group.

By the time the child is ready to enter school, he should be able to dress himself from the skin out. The difficulties encountered by small children with clothing can be simplified by careful selection of clothing designed to lessen the dressing task. Small hands and clumsy fingers can operate a zipper much better than a button. Outer garments and footwear should be plenty big so that two or three inches of growth and three to six pounds increase in weight won't make their getting on and off become difficult.

All of these helps for the child—developing his self-reliance, helping him to learn how to live with other children cooperatively, making it easier for him to wait on himself—make for a happier child at school as well as a better adjusted one. This kind of help will place more responsibility upon the child and can be an important factor in the initiative he shows in learning the fundamental skills of reading, writing, and numbers when the time for that arrives. The happy child is more easily motivated to learn than is the insecure and unhappy child.

If you have a question about your child and school, send it a self-addressed stamped envelope to Educational Features, in care of The Northville Record.

Michigan Fights Loss of Water

MICHIGAN WILL FIGHT to the last drop Chicago's plan to divert more water from Lake Michigan.

"In view of the exceedingly low levels of the Great Lakes at the present time, this basin needs every drop of water that belongs to it," Attorney General Paul L. Adams said.

Adams became the rallying point for Michigan's fight shortly after he was appointed to fill the vacancy created when Thomas Kavanagh was elevated to the Supreme Court.

THE LATEST BATTLE centers on Chicago's proposal to increase its diversion of Lake Michigan water by 1,000 cubic feet per second.

But Adams fears other governmental units will be encouraged to increase their diversion if Chicago is allowed to take more water out of Lake Michigan without returning it.

Adams said the "future prosperity of the Great Lakes Basin is in grave danger of deterioration" unless the Great Lakes states insist upon adherence to a firm principle against diversion.

ALREADY, ILLINOIS' DuPage county water commission has given indications it intends to take water from Lake Michigan and divert it to several communities, said Adams. And then, instead of returning the water to Lake Michigan, it would discharge the water into the Illinois Waterway.

SEVERAL YEARS AGO there were rumblings that some communities in Ohio were planning to dig canals or pipelines from Lake Erie to get water for industrial and agricultural uses. But Adams said he has been assured by Ohio officials they will not "countenance any such diversion."

Adams said the day may come when it will be impossible to halt all of the demands on Great Lakes' water — "unless the Great Lakes states insist at all times that there be no invasion of the Great Lakes Basin by areas and by persons who form no part of that basin."

"IN ITS AVID and insatiable desire to literally steal the water from the Great Lakes Basin so that it may cheapen the cost of sewage disposal, Chicago is seemingly blind to the great injuries which its efforts cause to the millions of people in the other Great Lakes states," Adams said.

ANOTHER MICHIGAN waterways problem has been occupying Adams' attention lately.

The specific problem is centered along the Huron river between Ann Arbor and Rockwood—but the outcome of its solution will have an effect throughout Michigan in the years ahead.

Michigan's Health Commissioner, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, has asked Adams if the state has power to order municipalities to alter their sewer and water supply systems.

Heustis wants to work out a regional solution to pollution problems along the Huron river.

The health commissioner said it is "generally impracticable and perhaps even unlawful" for communities to seek independent solutions in the face of the multiple use being made of the river for sewage treatment, water supply and industrial wastes.

The "Water Wonderland" is destined to have more such problems ahead, state health officials say. That's why they're anxious to get a ruling from Adams soon.

Geography, limitations of natural resources, extensive population growth and conflicting uses all are part of what Heustis says is a "complicated problem."

A SHOWDOWN is nearing on another complex problem involving conflicting uses of Michigan's natural resources.

The Conservation Commission is faced with a decision on whether copper mining should be allowed in the upper peninsula's 55,600-acre Porcupine Mountains State Park.

Arguments on the matter were heard in June and July. Since then, Michigan State University has been studying the tourist and "wilderness" aspect of the arguments against the mining. The Michigan Economic Development Department has been looking into the economic values.

Sportsmen, campers and naturalists have opposed the proposal. Upper Peninsula lawmakers have been vocal in support.

The immediate issue is a request by the Bear Creek Mining Co. for leases on 933 acres of park land and 5,260 acres of Lake Superior bottomland.

But the touchy problem of where to draw the line between economic and outdoor interests is the one that really worries the commission.

THE ACROBATIC ACRO-PUPS of Claude and Jeanne Arwood will be entertaining children of Hawthorne Center, and nearby hospitals August 11. The Arwoods, former circus acrobats, bring their shocking pink poodles retinue, Boots, Tinsel, and Be-Bop, and three terriers, Cotton, Bunkie and Dinah. The poodles are dyed of course. They have appeared on television and in entertainment spots across the nation. Sponsored by a dog food company, the troupe will also visit hospitals in Farmington and Detroit.

Hey! Whyn'tcha Get A Horse

Detroit, Stanley Wisniewski was just driving along Friday. He dutifully brought his vehicle to a halt before the stop sign at Edward Hines and 7 Mile road.

But before Stanley could gas up again, he received a rude jolt in the rear.

It was Gordon Keith Bray of Farmington, contemplating.

Bray says he took his eyes off the road for a moment to look at some horses, and didn't realize Wisniewski was so close.

The price of contemplation these days: $50 in auto damages for Wisniewski; $75 for Bray.

Work Published In Poetry Digest

A poem by Harold S. Hartley, former Northville PTA president, was published this month in the nationally-circulated "Poetry Digest".

The poem was inspired by a visit to Garelick's Gallery in Detroit, one of the leading art galleries in the Midwest. It reads:

Garelick's Gallery
There autumn's golden snowflakes stain
The canvases of scarlet rain
Whose trees in triumph spilling, stand
Like flaming fountains on the land,
And cruising clouds are notes that lie
In white andantes of the sky.

There too, on truth's stark
tapestries,
Sweep colors screaming fear,
disease,
Atomic murder, gray despair—
A people in polluted air,
Whose darker children, mounting night,
Raise flowered agony toward light.

Tomorrow will in paintings see
Gay oceans of humanity
Whose laughter breaks on endless shores
Of peace, pure rivers, open doors;
And stunted on the sky's blue porch,
Day holds the new world's stainless torch.

A Northville air reservist is among nearly 800 from Michigan who flew from Selfridge Air Force base Saturday to Bakalar AFB in Indiana, to begin an annual two-week tour of active duty.

He is S/Sgt. Eberhardt F. Fretter, a member of the Selfridge-based 403d Troop Carrier ("Boxer") Wing, Michigan's only volunteer air reserve flying unit.

John W. Funk of Northville has completed two weeks active duty training at the Tooele Ordnance Depot in Tooele, Utah, with 147 members of the 422nd Ordnance Battalion from Dearborn.

The men arrived by plane at Tooele on July 6, and returned July 19. The 422nd is an organic unit and its mission is to provide direct support ordnance service for field armies.

Readers Speak Up:

HIS STREAM STILL A MESS

To the editor:

So Novi Ordinance 42 states that no one can build a cement or steel swimming pool and fill it with nice clean water without first paying $22 and shall not use it unless adequate health measures are taken periodically to prevent the spread of disease according to standards of the state and Oakland county health departments.

Yet when the new expressway went through and we had water over our heads, I was told by the health department they could do nothing about it. When I also pointed out that, besides the health problem, someone could drown in it, I was laughed at over the phone.

Yet, if you have nice clean water, put a fence around it!

The health department was here in June. I was not home. I called him back, only to be told that we did not have a health problem, and that anyway it would be a civil suit.

As long as no one has jurisdiction over the fill-in or dams in this natural stream, we have figured out a way to cover up this slime and muck. That is to make a lake out of it. We will put in a real dam.

(My neighbors and we wish to thank The Novi News for the letter you printed last spring: "Do not bring the fire truck down Taft road—you won't get through." The road was fixed that same week.)

Thank you,

New Veterinarian In Northville

Veterinarian, Dr. A. T. Heslip and his wife, Mildred, are newly established in Northville to doctor your sick animals, large or small.

Dr. Heslip is a June graduate of Michigan State university. His wife, a registered nurse, formerly worked at Northville State hospital.

She, along with other vet wives, the doctor says, received her "Ph.T." (Push Hubby Through) degree at graduation, the culmination of a short assistant's course in animal care and surgery.

Being a nurse, Dr. Heslip says, Mrs. Heslip is more than competent. The Heslips have bought the building formerly occupied by Burrells Excavating service at 51305 Seven Mile road. His clinic will occupy the downstairs.

The doctor says he will have a mixed practice, that is, the treatment of large and small animals.

Teen Dance Saturday

A mid-summer record dance for all Northville teen-agers will be held Saturday night at the community building.

Sponsored by the Northville recreation department, the dance will begin at 8 p.m. and last through 11:30 p.m.

Ika Hartmann and Mike Gall, two new exchange students from Germany, are expected to attend the dance and meet more of their future classmates.

Alone With Him

It is little wonder that most Christians live on such a low spiritual plane when so little time alone with Him. Yes, we pray for things, and we pray when we get into trouble and need help, but how little we seek the fellowship of just being in His presence. A busy Pastor was alone in his study on a Saturday evening. The week past had been filled with so many interruptions. Saturday had been such a hectic day, and he had retired to his study to be alone. Before long he heard little footsteps coming up the stairs. The Pastor called out—"Don't come up here, stay down stairs." But the patter of little feet continued to climb the stairs. Again the father, this time with somewhat of a raised voice said, "I told you to stay down and not to come up here." The little one just kept coming until she reached the top of the stairs and appeared in the doorway of her father's study. "Nancy, what do you want?" "I don't want anything daddy, I just came up here to be with you!" What a lesson is taught to us by this child. How pleasing it would be to the Lord to come into His presence, just to be with Him.
