Facing voters will be a proposal to increase the district's operating millage by 21/2 mills per year for the tax years 1958-1962. The tax hike would yield about $25,000 extra per year, Superintendent William Medlyn said. Otherwise, many school services will have to be cut, he added.

The school board had tried vainly for several months to find some other answer to its financial crisis. The decision to seek a millage increase was made reluctantly but "inevitable", Median said.

"Of the 31 Oakland county as tricts, only a couple have gone without a millage increase in the past five or six years," he said. "We were one of them — until now." Medlyn said the tight financial

ed served notice this week that it will continue its fight against annexation into the city of

Officials of the Baseline road plant have taken steps to appeal the July decision of Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams to the state supreme court. Judge Adams upheld the November 19 election that annexed some 220 acres of Novi township into Northville after Warren attorneys had claimed the election was not valid because the law nad been mismterpreted.

In its appeal action Warren Products sought, and received, the financial assistance of Novi township to the extent of $500. In a hastily called special session last Thursday R. T. Martin, Warren executive, asked the Novi township board for financial help in conducting the appeal. The board voted to back the Warren cause with $500.

Specifically, Warren attorneys filed a request for a new trial. Presumably, this was done as a delaying action to gain time for preparation of an appeal. August 31 was the deadline for filing an appeal. It is expected that the motion for a new trial will be denied and Warren attornevs will then be prepared with their appeal briefs.

Litigation over the 220 acres that includes the Warren plant has been boiling since 1956. An annexation of the area at that time was inoard. validated after Warren Products The convalescent home will be won a reversal by claiming vote fraud. The area extends from Basetroit women, Winifred Moran, Es- line to the 81/2-mile line and west telle Moran and Jean Frost. All from Novi road to a point 1,000 feet west of Taft road.

In addition to Warren Products the area includes Northville Lumber & Coal, the D & R Building company's new Yerkes Estates subdivision and several other residences. In the November 19 election residents of the area in question voted nine to five for annexation, while Northville voters approved the annexation 159 to 32.

In its appeal Warren Products is expected to contend that the law governing annexations from townships was mis-interpreted in conducting the local election. Because the entire area of the township is affected by the loss of valuation when part of its area is annexed Warren attorneys claim that all residents of the township should be allowed to vote.

"We think the statute is in error and that damage is being caused by the misinterpretation of the annexation law," Martin said this week. "As a portion of their tax base is removed, the remaining people in Novi township must pay additional taxes to support this loss of revenue," he added.

Martin admitted that the cost of the litigation surpassed any tax boost that Warren Products must pay by being in the city limits. He contended that it was the belief of the company that "rights of certain people are being circumvented" and that on that basis the company had decided to continue its fight.

Northville city councilmen offi-cially learned of the action at a regular meeting Tuesday night.
They instructed City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to take whatever steps were necessary to answer the appeal. Councilmen were visably provoked at the action and noted that the lingering litigation was becoming expensive to city taxpayers. Attorney Ogilvie informed the council that cases involving a point of law the city could not expect to recover expenses even though the supreme court upholds the election.

Although the Novi board had earlier considered financially supporting the suit, their action came as a mild surprise last week.

A peculiar twist is added by the ensuing village election in Novi. The proposed village borders do not include the 220-acres annexed to Northville. Should the supreme court reverse the election, this area would join Northville Estates and Brookland Farms No. 1 subdivisions as the only remaining "islands" of Novi township.

The supreme court is not expected o act on the appeal until its January session.

AT THE HOP - Among the Northville teen-agers who'll attend the first Saturday afternoon record hop at the Veterans' Memorial home this Saturday are Joe Gotro and Linda McKinney. Dr. George S. Sperit, scienof a institute of science in Cincinnati, said, "The only people bar-red from our school of scientific research in Cincinnati are atheists." The reason for barring them is not because they do not believe in God, but it is found that atheists do not think straight. Surely anyone so blind to the evidence of a First Cause which surround him could never be expected to think straight on deeper problems. It is no wonder then that the Bible says in Psalm 14;1, "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God." God is not engaged here in name calling but calls this man a fool because he is acting as a foolish man. He is unwise, impractical, unreasonable in view of overwhelming proof that God is. Since only one percent of our population claim to be atheists we are not too concerned, but we are concerned about the number who profess faith in a personal God and then live like atheists. They who live as if there were no God as though Christ had never died. These practical atheists give no thought to their relationship to God. How much more foolish then is the man who believes in God and yet ignores his responsibility to

S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A. Sings Again The adopt the Morthville Record The Oldest Weekly Newspaper in Wayne County – Est. 1868 Thursday, September 4, 1958–9

BARBER SHOPPERS enjoyed hamburgers and corn after a hearty work-out on the vocal Barracks was the chef. Special guest was Joe Sipots, a former quartet singer in this area, and now a member of the LaCrescenta, California chapter.

Gathering for their yearly evening of backyard barber-shop harmony at the Walled Lake home of Roy Crites, were representatives of 50 Detroit-area chapters of the notorious "Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber-Shop Quartet Singing in America".

Gentlemen of "the Sharp Keepers" quartet from Detroit; "the Cordoroys" of Milford; the Dearborn "Wolverines" and a newly formed group from Utica serenaded guests with "I Want a Girl", "Honey", "Son of the Sea", "Chicago Town", "Uncle Joe" and old favorites.

There are some 80 chapters of the "Society" in Michigan, and 40,000 members throughout the United States, including chapters in Guam, Puerto Rico, Alaska and Hawaii, Crites

Host Crites is himself a 15-year member of the Redford chapter, and has been its treasurer for the past 10 years. Each chapter does its own arrangements, Crites says, often they write their own songs. The S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. was formed, according to Crites, in 1934, when an attorney walked into a Tulsa, Oklahoma barber shop for a shave. He started humming, the story goes, when in walked a policeman, then a farmer, and along with the barber, picked up the tune in typical "B.Q." four-part harmony.

Today many members are professional businesmen. There are women's groups, too, such as the Royal Oak-Farmington area "Sweet Adelines" chapter with "the Cracker Iills" quartet. The groups hire out their talents for entertainment, singing at banquets, P-TA meetings, and the like. They also do benefit performances, such as their Christmas program to help needy families.

No previous musical knowledge is necessary.

Anybody who likes to sing is recruitable material for the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Crites assures.

"I STAND AT THE DOOR AND KNOCK"

Standing cannotes patience, firmness, unswerving allegiance. Knocking cannotes insistent. The rhythmic tapping signifies eagerness for admission. Standing might be said to represent the eternity of God; knocking, the ever-present reality of God seeking admission into human life.

Christ is knocking at the door of our lives and of our world. He knocks at the doors to those compartments of our will and conduct which we refuse to surrender. As long as there are un-Christian motives and purposes Christ will knock. That is the way of our Lord.

Happily there are agencies and persons who stand for God and work in the immediate present for the abundant life which Jesus came to bring. Foremost among these agencies is the Christian Church. With all of her faults the Church has not gone under. In the words of a great Church leader, "The Church is an anvil which has broken many a hammer." More and more, people are turning to the Church.

How blessed our lives would be if we possessed the qualities of standing and knocking, God-like patience and stability and great concern for people. Christian living is the

A biographer of Roland Hayes, a great singer, showed good judgment when he titled his book, "Angel Mo' and Her Son Roland Hayes." Her influence was inspiration, challenge and direction. Through his godly mother the singer seized upon the conviction that he had a heavenly vocation to fulfill.

When Roland Hayes was about to leave Boston for a European tour these were her words to him, "Jes' remember this, you are the continuation of my desire. When I go, if you've been dutiful, all the best in me is going to double up in you and become a bulwark of strength. I never could do very much of myself, and now I'm ol' I can't do nuthin' more — but I always prayed the good Lord that I might do somethin' good through some my children."

The role of Christ and of Christian character is to stand at the door and knock. Knocking, knocking, who is there?

Waiting, waiting, grand and fair.

St. Mary Hospital Going Up Fast

CROSIER PLAN - First comes the cross. Construction on Livonia's St. Mary hospital has progressed so well that its crosier-layout framework is nearly all up. The 174-bed institution, run by the Felician Sisters, is being built at a cost of more than $3,000,000. It will serve residents of Livonia, Farmington, Redford township, Northville, Plymouth and Plymouth township, Wixom and Novi.

Here's good news for the residents of Northville and the surounding communities.

Construction of St. Mary hospi tal, being built by the Felician Sisters at Five Mile and Levan roads, s far ahead of schedule and may open late in 1959 instead of early 1960, Sister Mary Columbine, administrator of the hospital, announced. The second floor of the fivestory man of the sale, wishes to thank building is being poured this week and it won't be long until the entire framework of the five-story structure is finis Sister Columbine added that while ing, books, toys, jewelry and small the preliminary plans call for a household articles, may be left at fivestory structure that the founda tion has been tested and prover The sale benefits the hospital strong enough to add five more stories when they are needed.
