WHAT'S THAT? — Thoughts of Easter morning seem to be racing through the minds of Twins Sherry Lee and Melinda Robin Ellison as they sit entranced by the tiny chick on Daddy's hand. Like hundreds of other Northville children, they're anxiously awaiting the visit of the Easter bunny Sunday. The girls, 3½-years-old, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Ellison, 552 West Dunlap.

Safety Comes First at Amerman

In a joint effort to provide maximum safety for children attending Amerman elementary school administrators, teachers and construction workers along the new Eight Mile road cut-off have established a series of precautionary measures this week.

The path of the cut-off, which follows Carlyle and continues westward between the Amerman elementary and new high school, cuts directly through the Oakwood subdivision area and adjacent to the school. Heavy graders and trucks travel the length of the by-pass continuously and have become a source of concern to parents, as well as school officials.

"We have had wonderful cooperation from the McQuestion construction firm in setting up safety measures," Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman stated this week. He said that the firm is starting its workers early in the morning and then stopping during the school lunch hour and concluding for the day when school closes.

"This means that there is a minimum amount of activity when the children are going to and from school," Amerman pointed out.

A gravel path along the extreme north edge of the cut-off has been made along Carlyle by the construction firm for children to walk on.

Those living on Baseline or further south follow this path to Grace where an officer directs traffic so they may cross the cut-off. At Grace and Baseline another officer watches traffic for the children.

A temporary "snow fence" has been constructed along the southern boundary of the Amerman playground to keep children away from the cut-off work area. A permanent cyclone-type fence will be constructed by the county when the project is completed.

In a note sent home to parents of "walking" students this week Principal Richard Kay of Amerman school informed parents of the safety precautions being taken. The note urged parents to have their children on time so that "stragglers" are not left without the help of officers at the crossings. Administrators and teachers remind the children of the traffic hazards daily.

Roads in the entire Oakwood area have also received attention during the past two weeks. Extensive grading and leveling have made the heavily rutted roads passable again and residents complained to the city council about road conditions.

Plans for a 1959 "Beautify Northville" program were discussed at last week's meeting of the Coordinating Council.

Ed Welch accepted chairmanship of the campaign.

Cancer Education Tops Crusade Here

With "kick-off day" for the 1959 Cancer Crusade just two weeks away community leaders for the annual drive met last Friday noon at a luncheon at the Dearborn Inn. Representing Northville were Mrs. L. M. Eaton, local chairman for the crusade, and Mrs. Oscar Hammond.

The area leaders heard Dr. Gerald Wilson of Yates Memorial clinic, a cancer detection center in Detroit, discuss the work of the clinic. He emphasized that some 40,000 persons have been examined at the clinic. Another speaker was a former victim of cancer of the throat, now cured.

The Cancer Crusade begins on April 8 and will continue throughout the month. Because Northville contributed to the United Foundation drive last year, no solicitation for funds will be made during the local crusade. But Mrs. Eaton and her committee of helpers plan to conduct a program of information and education to urge persons to have regular examinations so that cancer may be detected and cured in its early stages.

Activities of the Cancer Crusade include: Research Week, when special tours of the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research and other laboratories will be arranged; Service Week, when service facilities and the work of volunteers will be explained; Education Week, many high schools will feature the study of cancer control in science classes and special films provided by the American Cancer Society will be made available along with literature for schools, clubs, church groups and other organizations.

Rotarians Choose New Club Officers

Northville's Rotary club elected its board of directors for the 1959-60 year last week.

The officers do not take over until July 1.

First vice president and successor to President Douglas Lorenz is Dr. Walter K. Belasco. John Miller will become first vice president when Belasco takes over the reigns of the club.

Other members of the board for the new year are A. M. Allen, Dr. Pasquale Buoniconti, L. M. Eaton and W. A. Westerfield. As retiring president Lorenz will automatically become a member of the board.

Next Thursday night the Northville board of education will come to the end of a $3,000,000 bond issue when bids are opened for the sale of some $635,000 in bonds.

School officials are quick to point out that this does not mean, however, that the entire $3,000,000 will have been spent when the current program is completed. It probably won't.

Election Edition Next Week

A special "election edition" will be published by The Record next week with special emphasis on the candidates for city and township offices.

Pictures of all the candidates along with brief biographical sketches will be presented. In addition statements from the principle candidates will also be published.

A complete slate of Democratic and Republican candidates is running for Northville township offices with George Bennett and George Cleark heading the respective tickets as supervisor candidates.

In the city's non-partisan race eight candidates are running for two council seats and Aubrey French is seeking to oust A. Malcolm Allen, the incumbent mayor.

The edition will be sent to all residents of the city and township. Election day is April 6.

Township Electors Eye Annual Meeting

Township electors will become "township officials" on Saturday, April 4.

On that day, Northville township residents will join together at the annual township meeting beginning at 1 p.m. at the township hall.

During the meeting all business will be conducted by voice vote of the people-present. However, only persons qualified as electors may vote.

The townspeople have a right to make ordinances, receive reports of public officials, pass upon the performance of township officials, pass upon the transaction of financial affairs, and also consider and vote upon expenditures for the upcoming year.

Township Supervisor Mollie Lawrence, who will act as moderator, has full power to maintain order.

The school's building and improvement program began with approval of the bond issue December 18, 1956.

Biggest single project was the new high school, now nearly complete.

Specifically, the bond issue provided for the following:

An addition to the Amerman elementary school;

Site purchase and construction of a new high school;

Improvement of the old high school for junior high school use;

Purchase of a site for future school development.

The school board began using its funds with the sale of $500,000 in bonds. The first project was an addition to the Amerman school which cost approximately $250,000.

About the same time the school board paid some $88,000 for the high school site. And as the time came near for the construction of the high school the board sold its second series of bonds, a total of $1,850,000.

With this money work on the new high school began. The total cost of construction of the high school including mechanical and electrical contracts comes to $1,555,282. This total will probably approach $2,350,000 when everything — including fixed equipment, site purchase, landscaping and furnishings — is finally completed.

Adding the cost of the high school and the Amerman addition together, the school board comes up with approximately $400,000 on its hands.

Two projects, renovating the old high school and purchasing a new school site, still remain on the program.

Although the board decided to sell the entire $635,000 remaining, its not at all certain what will be done with the money. But the sale is not costing the taxpayers any more money.

As a matter of fact, it may save some money. As soon as the board decides how much of the remaining $400,000 will not be spent, the money will be invested. Naturally, it is earmarked by law for retirement of the current bond issue. The saving comes from the probability that the invested "surplus" will draw more interest than the school must pay on its own bonds.

Remodeling the old high school will probably cost nearly $200,000. As far as site purchase is concerned, the board is still very interested in the possible purchase of the Community Building from the city.

As soon as state legislation makes this purchase possible, it's considered likely that the city and school board will arrive at a sale agreement. This purchase price has been estimated at $145,000.

Another decision facing school administrators as they reach the end of the current building program is when to move into the new high school.

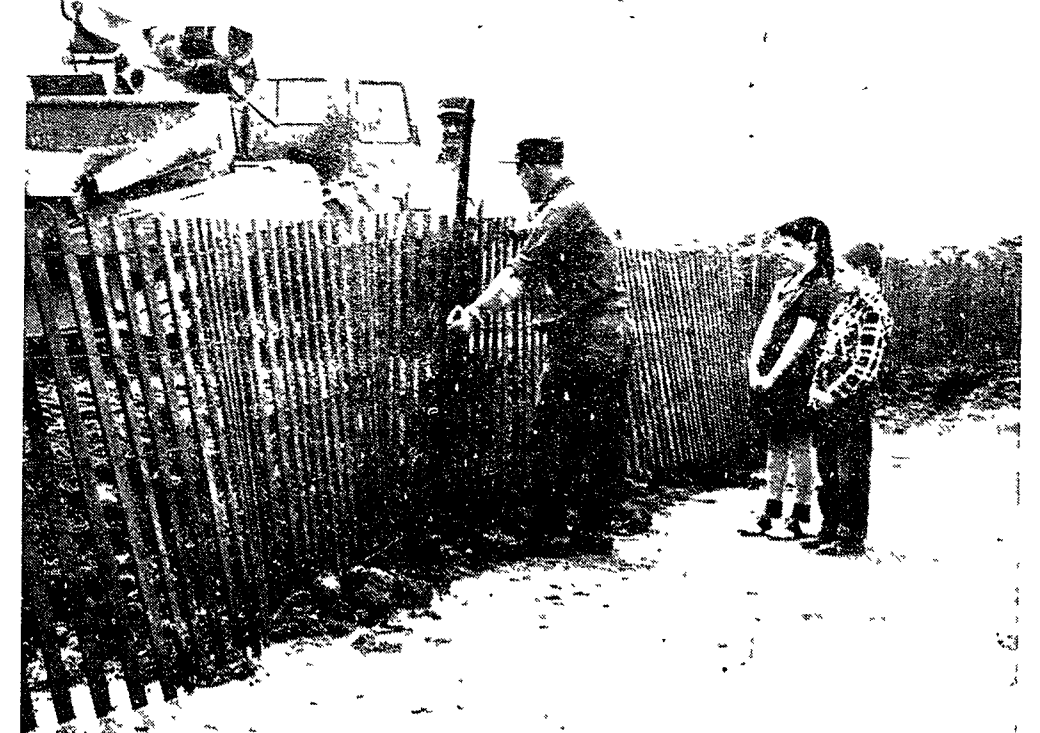

General contractors are scheduled to be done April 1. But countless installations remain, especially in the science laboratories.

According to Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman, it's still uncertain whether or not the new high school will be used this semester.

"We'll probably conduct graduation exercises there and perhaps acquaint the students with the building by taking the classes on indoctrination tours," Amerman said. He indicated that there would also be an open house ceremony to give residents of the school district a chance to tour the new school.

One drawback to delaying opening of the new high school is that it delays work on the old high school. Administrators hope that it can be ready for junior high school use by September.

The board is expected to make a decision on "moving day" in the near future.

FENCE GUARD — This temporary "snow fence" was erected for some 400 feet along the southern boundary of the Amerman school playgrounds to keep children away from the Eight Mile road cut-off construction area. Third graders Sandra Bongiovanni and Dale Steigerwald watch while Paul Revitzke and James Lower of the Northville schools' maintenance department erect the fence. The grader in the background is one of many moving earth to cut a path up Carlyle and between the high school and the Amerman school for the new by-pass.

SAFETY WALK — This gravel path along the north side of Carlyle was made to keep "walking" students from Amerman away from the cut-off construction. Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman reports that the construction crews have cooperated with the schools for the safety of the children. The work schedule has been arranged so that crews break for lunch at the same time as the school and stop work at night when school lets out.

MICHIGAN BELL

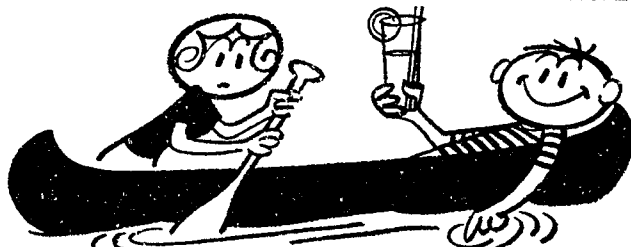

MICHIGAN GETS A GOING OVER these days! We bulldoze away its hills, dig trenches through its meadows and bore deep down into it. Doesn't seem to mind at all either, but not so our phone conversations and TV programs. Sometimes these come to a complete halt. And all because the underground cables that carry them have been accidentally cut by the excavations. There's an easy way to prevent this from happening and it saves a great deal of inconvenience. If you have some big digging to do, call us first—at our cost. We'll make sure that our cables won't get in your way.

of course.) When the design is perfected, these booths will become general.

HOW WILL YOU spend Easter Sunday? Whatever you decide on, you'll probably do it with your loved ones, for Easter belongs to the family. But perhaps one or two of your family will be out of town—never mind—you can still be with them, by Long Distance. The bargain evening rates apply all day Easter Sunday. Look in your phone book to see how little it costs to make your Easter complete with a Long Distance call.

OUTDOOR LIVING—two words that conjure up the summer ahead. And so do these: garden chairs, sunshades, beach balls, outboard motors, swim suits, tennis rackets, canoes, lawn mowers, yes, and jugs and tall glasses. These are the raw materials of summer pleasure. But where do you find them all? Easy! Look in your Yellow Pages. You'll find the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the dealers nearest you. You'll find the brand names you respect. With the Yellow Pages you'll be able to put your finger on just about all the things that'll help to make the summer ahead something to look back on for a long time afterward.

Northville City Council Proceedings

A regular meeting of the Northville City Council was held at the City Hall Monday, March 16, 1959 at 8:00 P.M.

Present: Mayor Allen, Councilmen Canterbury, Stuebenvoll and Welch. Absent: Councilman Reed.

Minutes of the last regular meeting and of Special meeting held Monday evening, March 9, 1959, were approved.

Bills amounting to $7,073.02 from the General Fund and $1,294.78 from the water fund were presented for payment. Moved by Welch, supported by Canterbury, that these bills be paid. Carried.

David G. Cameron, who was appointed Chairman of the Michigan Week Committee, notified the City Council that he would be unable to act in this capacity during the week designated. Mrs. Geraldine Soule was appointed to take his place as chairman, with Harvey Ritchie as co-chairman. Northville has been paired with Caro for exchange of mayors.

Communication was read from Mr. Kamego, of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., inviting the city officials to tour the new building on North Center which houses the dial equipment, and also to dinner preceding such tour. March 25, 1959, was the date set for this occasion.

Harold Penn, representing the Methodist Church, informed the Council that wind damage had been done to the Church tower, which is owned by the City, and asked that the City authorize repair of the damage. Mgr. Robertson was instructed to check into whether or not our insurance covers these repairs.

Oscar Hammond, Chairman of the Joe Denton Testimonial Dinner, reported that his committee had set May 23rd as the date for holding same. Councilman Canterbury moved that the following resolution be adopted: "Resolved, that the Council of the City of Northville endorses and desires to cooperate with the American Legion and the Optimist Club in their sponsorship of a 'Joe Denton Testimonial dinner' to be held May 23rd, 1959. Motion supported by Welch, and same was carried.

Under old business, a discussion was held as to whether or not to hold another election on the Water Bond issue. Mgr. Robertson reported that the bonding attorneys and the financial consultant both strongly recommended that the City hold another election on this issue. The soonest date after April 6th that such an election could be held is May 18th, 1959. Mgr. Robertson pointed out that $35,000 had been advanced from the General Fund to the Water Fund for improvements to the Water system that needed to be made without delay prior to the Feb. 16th election and that an additional $5,000 had been advanced since that time to pay for engineering fees. The General Fund must be re-imbursed in order to carry out its functions for the balance of the fiscal year, and in order to develop the new well a minimum of $25,000 will be needed.

Councilman Welch further discussed the desirability of softening the water supply, and it was decided to postpone any decision on this proposition until a later date. However, it was agreed that an election should be held on the Water Bond issue and it was moved by Welch, supported by Stuebenvoll that the resolution prepared by the bonding attorneys to hold another election on this issue on May 18th, 1959, be adopted. Carried.

An informal meeting regarding the procedure for selecting a new Police Chief will be held Mar. 30th. The next item of old business was the public hearing on the amendment to the Sewer rate ordinance as published in the Northville Record. There being no objections to its passage, it was moved by Canterbury, supported by Allen, that the amendment be adopted. Carried.

Atty. Ogilvie reported that Judge Gillespie, attorney for Warren Products, in connection with their appeal to the Supreme Court on the Annexation proposition, had been killed, which would probably cause a delay in the hearing until the June term.

Atty. Ogilvie also presented a resolution prepared by him per instructions from the City Council regarding the connection of the sewers to be installed in the Taft property to the Wayne County Interceptor Sewer. It was moved by Allen, supported by Stuebenvoll, that this resolution be adopted. Carried.

Mgr. Robertson reported that he had contacted the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. regarding the sidewalk which needs replacing on the north side of E. Main St., which the City feels should be replaced by them.

A notice will be published in the Northville Record warning dog owners who have not had their dogs licensed that a survey will be made by the Police Dept. to ascertain dogs which have not been licensed, and if a violation ticket is issued, a fine of $3.00 will be charged in addition to the license fee.

A meeting of the committee for establishing special assessments will be held Monday evening, Mar. 23, 1959.

DEATH TO CRABGRASS

HALTS is Guaranteed

Scotts' amazing new HALTS for crabgrass is explained by Roy Stone (right) of Stone's Gamble Store, to Northville Schools' Maintenance Superintendent Frank Cochran and Paul Rumley (center). It was applied Tuesday to the lawn of the Community Building.

Halts will work wonders on any lawn that suffered pretty badly from crabgrass last year. There's no sense using it if you had literally "nothing but crabgrass". In that case you'd better start a new lawn. And at the other extreme, if you had only a few patches of crabgrass you don't need Halts either. You can treat with Clout next summer.

Apply Halts with a Scotts Spreader — on established grass only, not on new lawns — any time until your lawn gets its first or second mowing. And assuming you want to plant some grass seed to thicken the lawn, you wait thirty days to give Halts a chance to do its work.

In addition to being deadly to crabgrass, Halts gives you an extra. It also provides long-lasting protection against grubs, chafers, cutworms and wireworms. And with these out of the way, moles, skunks, raccoons go elsewhere.

Special!

NOBODY TO CARE

Many people are unhappy and lead miserable lives filled with bitterness, suspiciousness and jealousies because they believe no one cares for them. Life to them is an endless burden, one day is like another, nothing to live for. The Psalmist expressed such a feeling when he said in Psalm 142:4, "no man cared for my soul". Do you feel like this? Perhaps you have never shared your feeling with others. Nevertheless, life is meaningless, useless, and you wait for the grave. Let me inform you friend, your attitude is based on a false premise. It's false because God cares for you. He not only said so (See John 3:16) but He proved it by sending His only Son to die that you might be forgiven and be reconciled to Himself (Romans 5:8). I believe that God values your soul so much and loves you so much, no matter who you are or what you have done, that if you had been the only person in the world, Christ would have come from Heaven's glory to die just for you. How can you say no one cares? Perhaps the reason you feel like you do is because you have spurned His love. Love must be reciprocal if it is to be enjoyed.

Machine Voting is Easy if You Follow Directions

Nearly all of the voters in the township, and some city residents, too, will be using machines for the first time in the April 6 election.

Four new machines have been installed in the two township precincts replacing the paper ballot for the first time.

While election workers are happy to demonstrate the use of the machines at election time, instructions are printed here to help prepare the voter.

There are three parts to each machine, a red, white and blue section. Red is for the amendments, white for party candidates and blue for non-partisan candidates.

Everyone is urged to vote all three parts.

In both Wayne and Oakland counties residents will have sections to make in all three sections. The white, or party candidate section, will include the election of two University of Michigan regents, one superintendent of public instruction, one member of the state board of education, two members to the state board of agriculture and six members of varying terms to the board of governors of Wayne State university.

land county will elect circuit judges, seven in Oakland and 18 in Wayne. Wayne county voters will also elect a county auditor.

The city's two mayor and eight council candidates appear in the non-partisan section, while the township's officials are elected on a party basis and therefore appear in the white section.

Voters may split their ticket for any of the parties, which includes the Democratic, Republican, Socialist Labor, Socialist Workers and Prohibition. For example, a voter could vote for one Democratic and one Republican regent for the U. of M. Likewise, in the township, a voter could select a Republican supervisor and a Democratic clerk, and so on.

First step in using a machine is to turn the switch lever (upper left hand corner) to the right and leave it there. This closes the curtain and unlocks the machine.

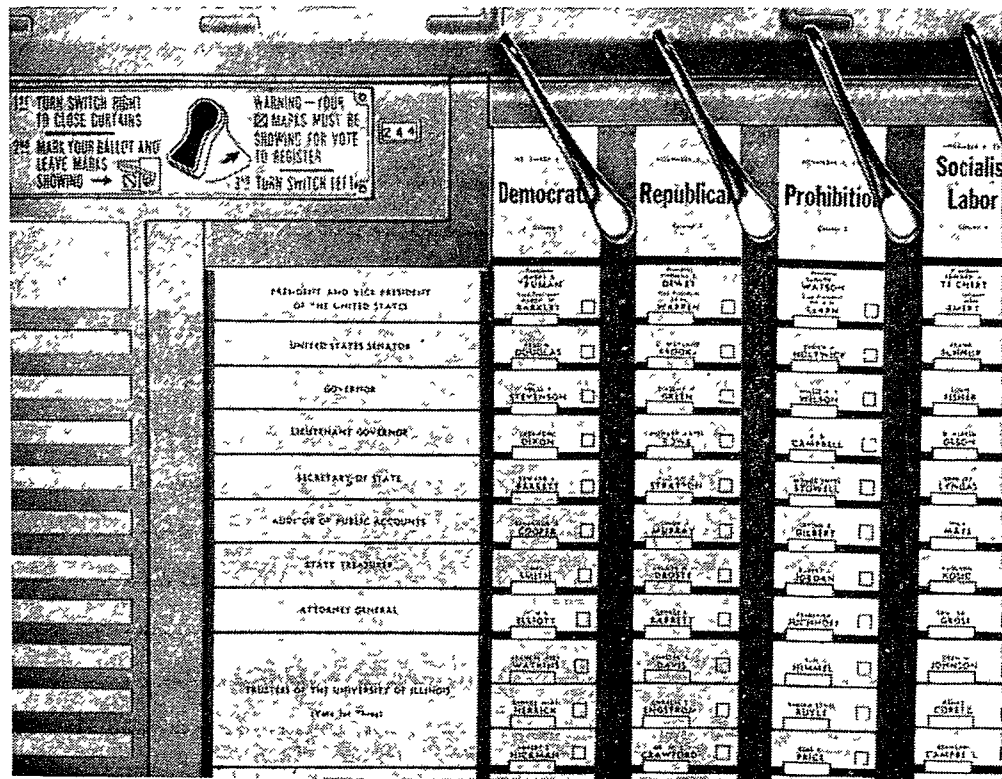

If you want to vote a straight ticket, turn down the top lever of your party choice.

To vote a split ticket, do not turn any party lever. Turn down the lever at the right of any candidate you wish to vote for.

The party levers do not affect the non-partisan ballots. These must be voted separately.

After you are through, check your vote again. Make sure that you have voted for all offices and questions on which you wish to voice an opinion. DO NOT PUSH BACK ANY LEVERS. The cross (X) will show you have voted.

Now go back to the lever at the upper left of the machine. Switch it to the left. This records your vote and opens the curtain.

The voting machine will be brand new to nearly all township voters. First step once you're inside is to switch the lever in the upper left hand corner to the right and leave it there. This closes the curtain and unlocks the machine.

The time for Plain Talk is NOW! These Candidates Serve No Pressure Groups seeking to repair their political fortunes - - at your expense

The issues in this election are whether the voters in the Northville area will continue to run their affairs in their own way or whether they will sell out to a machine whose ONLY interest in Northville problems is to make of them an organizational triumph for machine politics.

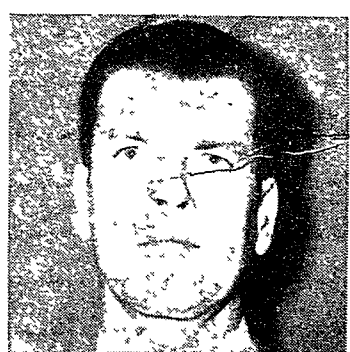

It's no secret that pressure group money from outside Northville is being spent to persuade local voters to turn their backs on their local government — a government that has served them so efficiently that today, as in the past, township finances are in the black — something the state and federal government has not been able to accomplish. But something they MUST accomplish if the taxpayer is to have any relief.

Against that record, what does machine politics have to offer except a vaunted boast by party leaders that it can land Northville in the Democratic column? What do such claims have to do with local taxpayers' problems? Nothing whatsoever!

What About Taxes?

Thinking voters know they can't spend their way out of higher taxes. And voters who do not pay property taxes themselves can expect no hand-outs if township funds are wasted and the taxpayers busted.

Some people really believe the township raised their taxes this year. THE TOWNSHIP DID NOT RAISE TAXES — but the county did.

The Northville Township Board of Review LOWERED county valuations wherever it could legally do so and where inequities existed.

These Republican Candidates have a program

Their program is:

1. Local representation for all citizens.
2. Holding the line against higher taxes. These Republican candidates stand firm on this: that ALL taxpayers, whatever their party, should not be required to pay one dollar more in taxes than is absolutely essential.

All voters need to be reminded that governments can give nothing except what it first takes away.

Local Problems should be handled strictly by Local Voters through local representation

The Republican candidates are not subservient to pressure groups nor do they serve a puppet regime which takes its orders from outside organizational machine. This program of the Republican party should appeal to ALL VOTERS who think for themselves and who resent being led to the polling booth in groups like juveniles to the bathroom. But this is no time for smugness . . . Some Republicans can't seem to find their way to the polling booth at all.

Before you Vote, ask yourself these questions:

1. Do you believe in holding the line against higher taxes?
2. Do you think your local representatives should represent ALL the taxpayers or be the willing tool of outside political machines?
3. Isn't EQUAL RIGHTS TO ALL an issue in this election?
4. Isn't it true that the machine has offered no program except: "We're going to make Northville Democratic — We're going to take over." If you can say "Yes" to these questions, then in your own self interest you should vote for these candidates. You should VOTE REPUBLICAN.

In the privacy of the polling booth, make your own choice as a free American citizen

A&P Celebrates Century of Expansion

The nation's oldest chain retailer, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., known to most Americans as A&P, is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year.

Theme of the company's year-long celebration of the historical milestone is "Thanks, America," according to M. W. Alldredge of Detroit, A&P vice president in this area.

"We are indebted to our customers, whose patronage through the years has built our business," said Mr. Alldredge, "and we are placing major emphasis this year on a series of merchandising events which offer tangible evidence of our appreciation."

In launching the anniversary year, the A&P president and board chairman, Ralph W. Burger, challenged the company's 145,000 employees to seek new and better ways to serve the consumer. "In the highly competitive business in which we are engaged," he told them, "there is no standing still. We must continue to develop, to adapt, to change, to find the new way which is better than the present."

A&P has grown to seven divisions with more than 4,000 stores in a century of service to generations of housewives.

Stores in this area are under the overall direction of President Frank H. Bucher of the Central Western Division with headquarters in Detroit.

President Bucher, tracing the division's growth in a territory stretching from Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan to Memphis, Tennessee, said the company had adhered to basic principles of efficient, low-cost distribution and to the founder's philosophy: "Always do what is honest, sincere and in the best interest of our customers."

"To carry out that original policy," President Bucher said, "we consistently have made every effort to hold our operating cost to a minimum and to utilize every possible efficiency that will result in better quality at lower prices for the many families who depend on A&P for their daily food needs."

Mr. Bucher said a second factor in pushing A&P to the forefront is the fact that the company never has ceased to meet the challenge of changing times and the changing needs of customers.

A&P began in 1859 with a man, an idea and a shipload of tea. The man was George H. Hartford, 26, who had left his home in Augusta, Me. and had worked briefly in St. Louis before heading East again to New York City. His idea was to sell good tea, then the favorite national beverage, to New Yorkers at about a third of the retail price by buying an entire clipper shipload and selling it directly to the public, thus eliminating many in-between steps and costs.

The cost-cutting philosophy of the Vesey Street store was so successful that Mr. Hartford soon spread his activities beyond its confines.

Advertisements began spreading in national magazines such as Harper's Weekly announcing the fantastic tea values available by mail order from New York; "tea clubs" were being organized in cities up and down the coast.

Ten years after it opened its doors the original Vesey Street store had been outgrown and supplanted by a larger location next door, coffee had been added to the line (a few years later it would be christened Eight O'Clock), and Wells Fargo wagons were delivering the company's brands throughout the land.

Within a retail branch houses" in Boston and Philadelphia, and by the beginning of the 1870's, A&P stores were springing up in major cities along the eastern seaboard. By 1880, when the bustle was a standard accessory of feminine attire and horses pulled street cars, there were 95 A&P stores scattered from Boston to Milwaukee. Not only was the company recognized as the most efficient coffee and tea business in the world, but it had already been established as a symbol of the new chain-store concept. By this time, the company had added coffee and spices to its line of teas.

Founder's Sons Enter Business That was the year when George L. Hartford, 15, oldest son of the founder came to work for the company. Young "Mr. George" began as the chief cashier of the New York store, and for some years his most time-consuming task was the counting, bill by bill, of the chain's daily cash income.

But Mr. George had more on his mind than just keeping track of what came in. From the beginning he gave minute attention to the mechanics of the purchasing and retailing operation, and it was not long before this attention resulted in what, in retrospect, was an historic decision for the company.

It was in the 1880's the youngster happened to mention to a chemist friend that baking powder must consist of extremely expensive ingredients since its price was so high. "Not at all," answered the friend, "it's just alum and bicarbonate of soda." Shortly thereafter the back section of the company's main New York store was put to work making baking powder, which the company put out under its own name and sold at a fraction of the going price.

This venture heralded the beginning of A&P's manufacturing operation and subsequently the food-tasting laboratories designed to see that each item sold in A&P stores meets the company's high quality standards.

In 1888 a second son, John, joined his brother and father in the business and rounded out the triumvirate that was to lead the company in its formative years. Mr. John, seven years younger than Mr. George, was 16 when he came to work as a five-dollar-a-week clerk in the main store in downtown New York. But it was not long before he was working closely with his father and brother in broadening the company's line and in peppering the map with more and more red-and-gold-fronted stores.

But all this progress was to pale into relative insignificance in the years immediately following. For in 1912, Mr. John hit upon an idea that was responsible for the most important decision in the company's history.

At that time the individual A&P stores offered all the services that the other food retailers gave: A&P clerks took telephone orders, provided home delivery, gave away premiums and even chalked up charge accounts.

To Mr. John there was a more efficient way of doing a volume business. This was to strip away all the unnecessary services, to sell food over the counter and for cash. This way, he reasoned, huge savings could be achieved on overhead and prices would be reduced to the point where the customers would willingly forego the "extras."

Mr. John opened up such a store—right around the corner from the company's main outlet in Jersey City, biggest money-maker in the chain. So closely did he cut his cost corners on that original "economy store" that when it opened it did not have even a sign on the front. But, as it turned out, no sign was necessary. Within six months his nameless outlet was a most profitable shop, and the A&P around the corner had been run out of business.

In the late Thirties, the super market entered the scene. Beginning with 20 super markets in 1936, it pushed steadily upward, replacing service stores by the score. This transition to super markets continued at a steady pace (excepting war years) to a point where today most of the retail outlets are of the super market variety.

Today, A&P is the world's leading organization in the purchase and distribution of food. Behind each of its 4,000-plus stores lies a far-flung procurement and distribution setup.

In 1958 A&P opened 10 new stores in the area. Each store employs about 60 people, which makes for 600 new jobs.

In 1959, A&P has opened — or will — 12 more stores, which makes for 720 more jobs.

There are scores of warehouses, large modern bakeries, coffee roasting plants, milk plants, a salmon fishing fleet and canneries, a nationwide buying network, the world's largest cheese warehouse, food processing plants in the East and Midwest, coffee buying offices and hundreds of commodity specialists who cover America from the olive groves of California to the lobster beds of Maine.

Presently at the helm of A&P is Mr. Burger, who was elected to the presidency in 1950 only a year before the death of Mr. John Hartford. He was given the added responsibility of board chairman after the death of Mr. George Hartford in 1957.

Commenting on the anniversary, Mr. Burger said, "Age in itself should command respect. Few American institutions today were alive and thriving before the Civil War, as we were. If we allow ourselves a glow of pride on our 100th anniversary, it is because of what we have meant to America in the billions of dollars we have saved the American housewife in her vast food bills. Today, as a result of the combined efforts of the entire food industry, no nation in the world can move food to her people as efficiently as ours, and no nation's people eat as well as ours.

"But age alone is only a marker along the road. No organization can live in the past. We must consider today and tomorrow. The past is of vast importance, but only for what it can teach us and for the heritage of responsibility it places on our shoulders.

"Throughout our history we have become what we are through devotion to a single but fundamental principle: To serve our customers the best we know how. Whatever the changing needs and conditions of the times, we have always sought and found better ways of serving our customers. As we start our second hundred years, we are acutely conscious of our responsibility to perpetuate this heritage."

Trackmen Gang Up For League Meets

If numbers mean anything, Coach Charles Yahne can look forward to a championship track team.

More than 35 hopefuls puffed and groaned along the makeshift track behind the high school last week. It was the largest turnout for track in recent school history.

The coach, obviously pleased with the enthusiastic response to his call for early practice, was cautious in predicting the role Northville will play this year.

If all goes well, he said, "we can have a pretty good season."

A host of injuries plagued Northville last year, upsetting plans for a crack team. Nevertheless, the Mustangs still managed to place fourth in the league track meet, with Dick Biery capturing the 440 and broad jump titles and Nelson Schrader winning the shotput crown.

Northville lost three varsity track men through graduation last year. They are Biery, Bill Yahne and Dick Stuber.

Back from last year's team are: Bud Adas and Kent Frid, 440; George Berryman and Dick Ritter, mile; Roger Cheeseman, Hugh Crawford and Larry Nitzel, sprints; Ron Loyne, 880; and Nelson Schrader and Spike Walker, shot.

Bob Starnes, varsity baseball player last season, has switched to track this year.

Yahne said he hoped to uncover some good prospects from the many sophomore candidates.

Diamond 'Holes' Worry Al Jones

"I've got a lot of holes to fill, but if some of the boys come through we should do pretty good in our own division."

That's how Coach Al Jones analyzed the 1959 baseball season as approximately 40 boys announced their candidacy for the varsity and junior varsity nines.

Jones plans to build his team around seven veterans. They are: Bill Boyd and Wade Deal, catchers; Jeff Goodrich and Bob Stuber, pitchers; Roger Atchinson, first base; Bill Juday, second base, and Dave LaFond, outfielder.

The coach said several newcomers could earn themselves varsity positions if they play as well as "sideline scouts" report. Among these are Steve Juday, Bob Sample, Dave Hay and Jim Anderson.

On the debit side, five starters will not be back this season: Clayton Pethers and Joe Kritch were lost through graduation; Bob Starnes has decided to take up track, and John White and Gary Morgan are ineligible.

Northville is favored to repeat as champions of the southern division of the Wayne-Oakland league. A year ago, the Mustangs took seven of 10 games to capture the division championship.

Milford took the conference title, however, with a 10-0 record in the northern division.

Currently, baseball prospects are "working out" with the track team. Diamond practice will begin as soon after Easter as the weather permits.

Baseball Fever Spreading Fast

Baseball fever warmed up the chilly morning last Saturday as Northville boys jammed the scout hall to register for spring-summer recreation baseball.

Close to 50 boys signed up to play baseball and softball, City Recreation Director Stan Johnston reported.

The response on the opening day was the best ever recorded here, Johnston said. "It looks like we're going to have one of our best seasons," he concluded.

Boys may register for the baseball program, which will start next month, between 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. each Saturday until the season gets underway. Five age classes will be organized this year.

Meaker Tees Off Using Crystal Ball

Northville linksters finished second in the Wayne-Oakland league tournament last year, despite predictions that they would be lucky to take fourth or fifth place.

The surprising finish was particularly pleasing to Coach M. F. Meaker whose crystal ball indicated a league title was "just a year away."

Northville's first 1959 match is still more than two weeks away, but Meaker's beginning to wonder if his crystal ball wasn't a little too optimistic. His doubt stems from the fact that only two — not three of his starters will be back this year.

Meaker hoped to build his team around Bill Chizmar, Mike Eastland and Fred Schwarze. (He lost only Pete Gross through graduation.) However, Schwarze, who captured second medalist honors in the league tournament last year, has taken a job and will not play this season.

Disappointment was tempered somewhat a week ago, when 18 students announced their candidacy for the team at a formulative meeting. Nearly all of the candidates are 10th and 11th graders, the coach said.

The first official practice will take place shortly after Easter. However, Meaker said he still does not know what area course will become "home ground." Last year Brae-Burn was the Mustangs' home course.

How will Northville do this season?

"Well, we were figuring on taking first, but now — we'll do the best we can," Meaker predicted.

Pins Title Hopes On Racket Veteran

All hopes for a 1959 tennis championship are balanced atop a single racket.

And holding that important Northville racket is Dennis Fallon, the only varsity letterman on Coach Ron Schipper's young squad.

"We've got a lot of interested kids — mostly reserve lettermen," the coach said this week as candidates headed for the courts in Cass Benton park. The success of the '59 season depends a great deal upon how well these fellows play, he added.

The only real strength in the team this year, Schipper pointed out, is in the arm of Fallon. He should have a real good year, the coach said.

How will the team do this year? "We won't set the world on fire, but we should do pretty well in the league," Schipper said. But then there are only two other teams in the league, he added. They are Clarenceville and Bloomfield Hills.

Returning reserve letter men who are making their bids for positions on the Northville squad are: Scott Adams, Bill Scherkey, Mike Janichick, Don Lawrence, John Rogers, Mike Goodrich and Karl Karg. Jim McCarthy, freshman, is another strong candidate.

Last year, the Mustangs won their second tennis championship in a row. They won the doubles title and went on to the state tournament before losing.

SPEAKING

for the Record

by BILL SLIGER

Before getting into the subject of this week's "Speaking" column I'd like to "set the stage" with a brief statement of this writer's philosophy concerning the function of a community newspaper.

Essentially, it is a business. And, like every other business a newspaper must make money to be successful. The similarity to any other commercial enterprise stops at this point, however.

If the newspaper is performing its job properly, it becomes to all its readers "our newspaper". Each subscriber has an interest in the paper which carries with it the right to criticize.

It is my belief that a good newspaper should reflect the character of its community. The front page, the inside news stories, the pictures and advertisements should create a personality portrait that gives the newcomer or visitor a real impression of the community.

Naturally, the news stories should convey an accurate and impartial report of the activities of the community—from the city government, schools, clubs, accidents, deaths and social functions to the births and deaths of its citizens.

What about editorial policy?

This is a grave responsibility, often easier to overlook than meet squarely.

In my opinion an editor should not "dodge" important local issues if, by reason of his attention at meetings, he has been able to draw strong personal conclusions.

How ably and fairly these conclusions are made and presented is, of course, dependent upon the editor.

The responsibility is there, however, and so long as an editor feels qualified to give an opinion it should be written. I must confess, there are times when it is impossible to do more than present all the facts and let the reader reach his own conclusions. An editor must try to recognize his limitations in these instances where an opinion may not be justified.

In the case, however, where local residents must make important decisions at the polls and their only knowledge of what takes place at city council meetings is from hear-say or news stories, I feel obligated to state my views.

They have been gathered as a regular witness at every city council meeting during the past 32 months.

Now the subject.

April 6th the city is going to lose one good councilman. It is my sincere belief that it would be catastrophic if we were to lose it two.

Councilman John Stubenvoll is not a candidate for re-election. He had previously retired from council service after 13 years only to be called back to duty by appointment when Mayor Claude Ely died suddenly last April.

Stubenvoll will be difficult to replace. His ability to analyze a problem and state his position clearly is unsurpassed. His knowledge of city problems is probably unmatched and he possesses the courage the council must have to carry out many needed projects.

If I were to appraise our council, I would place Councilman John Canterbury on the same high level as Stubenvoll. Like Stubenvoll, his term of office expires April 6. And while his service as a councilman may be shorter, his keen ability, energy and record of performance during the last four years are certainly outstanding.

His amazing background of governmental experience makes him a rare asset, indeed, for our community.

Besides education, it includes top consultant positions to local governments in several states and the U.S. Bureau of the Budget; chief of management planning with the U.S. Navy Finance Center; director of organization and management for the U.S. Marshall plan; work as chairman of a citizens' league in Cleveland to improve the financial administration of the city; and finally, in his present capacity as material control manager for the Ford division.

And, more important, Canterbury has shown a deep interest in the community of Northville. Only last week the result of his efforts as chairman of the "Beautify Northville" drive were reflected in the winning of first place in a nationwide clean-up contest.

As a member of the council, he has been fair and impartial in all matters. What's more, he doesn't hesitate to make his position public at the council table even though it might be contrary to special interest groups making requests before the council.

I sincerely believe that Canterbury has always acted with the best interest of the entire community in mind in reaching any decision.

His habit of examining all sides of a proposal may often aggravate citizens, or even fellow councilmen, eager to pass a project through; but this re-examination has proven invaluable to the welfare of the community in many instances.

And no one would deny that projects assigned to Canterbury always get done.

I believe that the citizens of Northville should be genuinely thankful that Canterbury is seeking re-election. He deserves to be returned to office.

No War Threat--Yet

Babson Park, Mass. — To read what some of the very best columnists are writing today you would think that the United States is on the brink of war with Russia. Furthermore, these men should be better informed than I am. However, I do wish to add my "two cents worth" to what they are writing.

Situation In Berlin

Without doubt the Berlin situation is serious. Unless Khrushchev backs down on his threat, we could be in World War III within a couple of months; but I definitely doubt such an event, and here is my reason. No nation will start a world war with intercontinental or other missiles until it has in production a workable anti-missile. This is a very important statement; but I make it without any reservation.

Naturally, work on such an anti-missile is highly "classified", which means very secret; but it would be extremely difficult to keep such tests secret. Russia could perhaps make her tests in Siberia; but even these might be discovered and tracked by means of their electric waves which would travel around the globe. Each of the "big four" nations has listening posts. These are distributed through out the world. Hence, all tests of anti-missile missiles by any nation would be discovered.

When World War III May Be Expected

Let me repeat that at present no nation has such anti-missile missiles in production. No nation will dare fire an intercontinental missile at any other nation until it has an anti-missile missile. On the other hand, whenever Russia or Germany, or perhaps the United States, has such protection which its enemy does not have, we should be prepared for World War III. Hence, I urge readers to follow every news item on anti-missile missiles; but don't get excited over what else is said about Russia or Germany or our United States.

There is a good possibility that World War III, if it occurs within a few years, will be started by Germany. Not only has Germany the most to gain or lose, but Germany has the best scientists. Germany was first to start her laboratories working on anti-missile missiles. While Russia and the United States have been wasting precious time and a billion dollars competing in sputniks and circling the moon, Germany has had all her physicists and chemists at work to protect her against Russian missiles.

Seeking Anti-Gravity

For some years I have been much interested in the work of the Gravity Research Foundation, of which Mr. George M. Rideout of New Boston, New Hampshire, is president. This Foundation was the first to print and distribute anything regarding "Anti-Gravity". Physicists smilingly referred to it in their lectures, but never in print. Finally, in answer to the offer of an award of $1000, two men in June 1958 won one of the Foundation's essay contests. They were Giuseppe Cocconi of the astronomical department of Harvard university and Edwin Salpeter of the Nuclear Laboratory of Cornell university. The technical subject of their essay was the "Anisotropy of Inertia". In simple layman's language this refers to "Anti-Gravity".

Up to the present time all "anti-missile" work has been done on the basic assumption that both the Newtonian Mechanics and Einstein's General Relativity are unchangeable and that these especially apply to Gravitation and Inertia. If it can be shown that this basic assumption is not true, an entirely new aspect and approach must be made to anti-missile studies. I believe that both Russia and Germany are making such anti-missile studies. I sincerely hope that the United States will cease ridiculing anti-gravity, especially in connection with anti-missile missiles.

You Pay As You Go

MOTORISTS PAY for their own highways in Michigan.

They pay slightly under a half-cent a mile in gasoline taxes to the state and slightly under a quarter-cent in Federal taxes. This amounts to 6c per gallon at state level; 3c per gallon at federal. Then add 3 percent state sales tax.

In addition, there is the weight tax paid by buying annual license plates.

Motorists paid an estimated $138,000,000 in state gasoline taxes last year, a husky sum, according to any standard.

The Associated Petroleum Industries of Michigan, Inc., said the average car traveled 14 miles on each gallon of gas last year. Average consumption was 731 gallons.

William Palmer, association executive secretary, advised motorists that the tax they paid in state gasoline taxes can be deducted from their Federal income tax.

"Motorists may be surprised at how much gasoline taxes they paid last year," he said.

The traditional average of 10,000 miles a year per car shows a $42.86 state gasoline tax and $21.43 in Federal gasoline tax payments. The Federal tax cannot be deducted.

Palmer warned that the averages are merely guides, and that actual mileage and gasoline consumption should be used in computing the tax.

If a motorist drove 5,000 miles in a year, the averages show he paid $32.14 in total gasoline taxes. This ranges upward to $128.57 if he drove 20,000 miles.

JOINT OPERATION of a television station by education and commercial interests was pioneered March 15 with the first programs of WMSB-TV and WILX-TV.

They share Channel 10 with a unique combination of academic and commercial interests.

Michigan State university (WMSB-TV) broadcasts on the channel during afternoon and some evening hours, with the commercial side of the operation taking the rest of the schedule.

VOTERS WILL DECIDE April 6 whether to give the legislature power to keep state and local governments operating in time of war disaster.

Under the plan, any government wiped out by an enemy attack could be immediately replaced by legislative act to function until orderly processes are restored.

The resolution does not cover the odd prospect of a bomb landing on the capitol during a legislative session and wiping out the legislature.

MOMENTUM IS gathering behind a proposal to reduce the number of state employees, now about 30,000, by refusing to fill vacancies as they occur.

The bill would leave vacant 50 percent of the vacancies the first year, 25 percent the second year, until the present payroll is cut 20 percent.

There are expected to be changes in the proposal to protect smaller agencies in which vacancies would hamper operations.

POLITICS IS getting its annual mid-term workout in Michigan.

Republicans are jubilant at the thought that the state's financial crisis will torpedo any chance Gov. Williams has for his party's 1960 presidential nomination.

Democrats, certain that Williams will leave the state scene after 12 years at the helm, are playing musical chairs for the top spot on the 1960 state ticket.

At present, it seems that Paul D. Bagwell, the Michigan State university professor who gave Williams his best run in six years, is the top Republican candidate.

Democrats are taking a close look at Secretary of State James M. Hare, who led the ticket in 1958, and Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, the personable young man the party feels has a great future. Frank Blackford, another personable young man who has held numerous government positions during the past 10 years, is said to have gubernatorial potential.

WISEST REMARK yet concerning Michigan's business climate might have been made last week by Walter Wichtman president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, at the 10th anniversary of Farm Bureau Insurance companies. Previous speakers had referred somewhat bitterly to Michigan's reputation for having a poor economic atmosphere. Mr. Wichtman remarked in an off-hand manner that he is proud of Michigan and that he loves living here. When it comes to economy, he said, he thought farmers feel the same way about the state as they do their farms. It is nice to be here — but it's nicer to know they can afford to own it.
