Auto-Truck Crash Kills Novi Woman; Accidents Injure 8

A Novi woman was killed and eight other persons were injured including a 14-month-old baby, in three separate automobile accidents in the area last week end.

Mrs. Carl Gordon, 55, a resident of Novi for the past 24 years, was killed when the car which her husband was driving skidded into the side of a truck at the Novi road C&O intersection Friday afternoon.

Her husband, past proprietor of the grocery store now called Nick's Grocery, 2206 Novi road, is reported in "satisfactory" condition at Harper hospital where he was transferred from Redford Receiving hospital.

Gordon, 60, suffered a possible skull fracture, rib fractures and multiple cuts and bruises.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole said Gordon's car was headed south on Novi road. As it came over the hill just north of the tracks Gordon apparently touched his brakes to slow the car. The car skidded completely around on the wet blacktop, smashed into the side of a truck headed north, and then slashed across the tracks — stopping broadside on the tracks, the chief said.

The impact threw Mrs. Gordon through a closed side window onto the pavement. Gordon, he said, was thrown out the rear door of the station wagon and he landed on the tracks.

A motorist, Ray Westlake of Commerce, ran several hundred yards down the railroad tracks to flag down an approaching freight train. The driver of the Wheaton Chemical Co. truck was Walter Remington of Lansing. He was uninjured. The truck had only minor damages — although a gasoline storage tank was ripped apart.

A family of five, including a 14-month-old baby, was hospitalized Sunday night in a two-car collision at the Wixom-Grand River intersection.

Injured were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Masters of Detroit and their three children: Allen, 4 months; Patricia, 3, and Donna Lee, 4.

Redford hospital personnel reported that children and the mother suffered only cuts and bruises. Masters, 26, was reported in "fair" condition Monday with head and possible internal injuries.

Wixom patrolman Edward Gidner said Masters had turned off the expressway and was headed south on Wixom road. As he approached the dark corner he apparently tried to speed across in front of a car driven by Earl Banks of Detroit, police said.

The Banks car smashed into the right-rear of Masters' car, flipping it over into the Wixom road ditch. Masters and his family were thrown from the car. (See picture on page 8).

Wixom Police Chief Frank Jadzinski said Masters was driving with a "restrictive" operators license which permitted him to drive only a truck used in his work. He has a long list of traffic violations, Jadzinski said.

Jadzinski said Masters will face court action when he is released from the hospital.

In another Novi accident Saturday night, two passengers in a car driven by Harold Weeks, of 700 Base Line, suffered minor injuries when Weeks' car crashed into the rear of another vehicle stopped on Novi road at Cottisford.

James L. Killion, South Lyon, and George Ulrich, Farmington, suffered cuts and bruises. They were treated at Atchison Memorial hospital.

Youth Confesses Beating Myers' Boy

A four-month-long investigation by Northville police ended Wednesday afternoon when a 17-year-old Wixom youth admitted he had brutally assaulted a Northville boy last May.

The confession was obtained by Chief Eugene King at 1:05 p.m. Wednesday, shortly before The Record went to press. Chief King stated that a 19-year-old Wixom boy admitted he accompanied the assailant and drove the car.

The Wixom youth admitted beating Mike Myers at 11 p.m. on North Center street near his home on May 29. The Myers' boy was slugged and badly beaten about the face. Knocked unconscious, he could remember little of the incident.

The city council had offered a $100 reward for information leading to the arrest of the guilty parties.

State Pays Race Money

City Manager John Robertson, who doubles as the city treasurer, rested easier this week after receiving an $18,000 check from the state.

The money was the first payment of the city's share of the state tax on mutual betting at Northville Downs.

The money covered the first eight days of racing.

Two weeks ago Robertson expressed concern over the fact that the returns were late in arriving. Although the funds are classified as "earmarked", it was feared that they may have been sidetracked because of the state's tight financial condition.

A prolonged delay of the funds would have placed the city in a financially embarrassing position.

Nearest estimates — based on the Downs' total mutual handle of $8,577,675 — place the city's total take this year at $90,000. Last year the city received $81,000. An increase of 12 1/2 per cent in the state take from racing accounted for the boost in funds to the city. Actually, the Downs had an approximate two per cent drop in betting over 1958.

Pretty Foreign Trio Moves Into Foster Homes Here

Our new foreign exchange students have arrived, and you couldn't ask for a prettier trio.

Rosemary McNeilly from Ireland is making her home with the Ed Welch of Northville. Petite Holland Antoinette Michelsen is staying with the Charles Tremor family of Napier road and Isolde Seiffert from Germany is living with the Robert K. Andersons of Willowbrook.

Tall, attractive Rosemary, 18, comes from Shawsbridge, just outside Belfast.

She has a brother, Henry, a civil engineering student at Queens university in Ireland, who is coincidentally, summering in Toronto, and a younger sister, Sheila. Her father is a jeweler and optician.

Rosemary hopes to study nursing when she returns home next year. Her hobbies are music, sports and handicraft.

Antoinette, 17, called Driebachen, a town in central Holland near Utrecht, home. She has an elder sister, Helene.

Her father is an aeronautical engineer.

Antoinette too hopes to enter the university upon her return to Holland, maybe to study sociology. Her leisure interests are reading and sports.

Dark-haired and vivacious Isolde, 17, hails from Dusseldorf.

She has a younger brother, Wolfgang, 16, and a sister, Yuriko, 7. Her father works as advisor for a large farm.

Among her interesting hobbies are caring for her Schnauzer, "Peggy" and raising house plants. She has 150 indoor plants.

She hopes some day to teach Latin, English and French.

In their American homes, the girls find plenty of companionship.

Rosemary has three new sisters: Mary, Dorothy and the Welch's married daughter, Winifred, all about her own age.

Gail Tremor, a senior at Northville high, is Antoinette's adopted sister. What's more, the Tremors have a dachshund and horse, to Antoinette's surprise and delight.

Doggy-wise, the Andersons' pedigree "Wimbleton of Willowbrook" takes "Peggy's" place here for Isolde. She is also big sister to Andrea Anderson, 6; Jeff, 4, and Barry, 2.

The girls are hesitant about jumping to conclusions about us. They're a little surprised that America isn't so "modern" as expected; that we're not all millionaires because we drive those "fat" cars; that television is so nice, and that their new school is so beautiful.

City Awards Sidewalks, Paving Jobs

Northville councilmen awarded two bids for street paving and business district sidewalks this week.

A low bid of $18,649.50 for the paving of Fairbrook, First, Wing and Wing court and the Dunlap street municipal parking lot by the Oakland Paving company was approved by the council. Two other bidders were over $22,000.

The city's business district sidewalks are scheduled for replacement as soon as the retail merchant's association completes its survey of property owners to obtain approval of the program. Low bidder for this project was Edward R. White with 43c per square foot.

Merchants' President Roy Stone said this week that 60 per cent of the business district property owners had signed orders for the work. He expects 100 per cent participation, he said.

City Manager John Robertson will ask the sidewalk contractor to delay the project one week. The job is scheduled to be completed within 10 days after work begins.

Councilmen were elated with both bids, considered extremely low. The street and parking lot bid was $10,000 lower than estimates submitted by the city engineer.

The paving project will begin next week and is scheduled for completion in 30 days.

Councilmen made some last minute changes in the paving plans for Wing court. Councilman John Canterbury had objected to plans calling for a curb on both sides of the court. He said this would change grades of the sidewalk making installation of new walks necessary and increasing the cost of the project. After polling residents it was decided that curbs would be eliminated. This reduced bids by some $2700.

The Northville school district wants — and needs — the community building.

Board of education officials let this be known Monday night after receiving a letter from the city council suggesting that negotiations on the proposed sale of the building were dragging.

The building — owned by the city but under lease for one dollar a year to the school district — has been up for sale to the school system at a mutually agreeable price of $145,000. Technicalities have delayed proceedings during the past year.

Last week the city council — anxious to either sell the building and use the funds for a new city hall or convert the community building into a city hall — issued something of an ultimatum to the school board. Specifically, the council asked the board to make up its mind by September 1.

Board members were both surprised and agitated by the letter.

School Board President Nelson Schrader pointed out that the city council "is perfectly aware of the situation."

The school's "situation" is as follows:

— Legislation that will permit the Northville school district to purchase an existing building for school use does not become effective until 90 days after the close of the present session of the state legislature;

— legal opinions as to whether the board can purchase the building with present bond money (left over from the $3 million 1957 bond issue) are conflicting;

— even if present bond money can be used, it is still not legally clear whether or not a vote of the people is necessary to undertake the purchase.

The board itself is not entirely decided which route to follow. Advantages can be pointed out for submitting the question to a vote, even if it is not necessary.

But one thing was made certain Monday night.

The board still believes the community building is "vital" to the school program.

Pressed by Board Vice President William Crump's question: "If it came to a showdown, could we do without the building?" Superintendent Russell Amerman answered "yes, but it would be a hardship."

Board members smarted under the suggestion of the city council that the school was "stalling" until new facilities were ready and the community building wouldn't be needed.

Superintendent Amerman also answered the inference that the city was paying heavy expenses on the building by pointing out that only insurance, water and small incidentals came under city obligation. "The school presently pays $10,000 yearly for maintenance of the building," he pointed out.

The board decided to answer the city's request for a decision by September 1 with a reaffirmation of the school's desire to buy and the difficulties which prevent immediate action.

Northville Bank Sets New Hours

New banking hours, designed to provide better service for customers, were announced this week by the Manufacturers National Bank for the Northville office and all other suburban offices according to A. Russell Clarke, vice president of the Northville office.

Effective Monday, August 17, there will be an additional hour of banking Monday through Thursday when the office will open at 9:30 a.m. and, instead of closing at 3 p.m., will remain open until 4 p.m. Friday hours will continue to be from 9:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Clarke said "The new schedule for Northville and the extension of banking hours for the other Manufacturers suburban offices results in the same hours for all offices outside the city of Detroit."

Woman Drowns In 2 1/2 Feet of Water

A 24-year-old Detroit woman drowned in Walled Lake last week Wednesday at noon in 2 1/2 feet of water.

Mrs. Delores Polander was pronounced dead by Walled Lake deputy coroner W. R. Rech after dental sheriffs had administered artificial respiration.

According to Rech, the woman apparently suffered a muscle cramp while swimming. There were no marks on her body, he said.

NEW FACES EVERYWHERE — Newcomers made friends this week. Our new foreign exchange students, just arrived Friday, met Northville high school, and the brand new campus welcomed them. Pictured (l.-r.) are Antoinette Michelsen of Holland, Mrs. Charles Tremor, Novi Judge Robert Anderson, Irish lass Rosemary McNeilly and Isolde Seiffert of Germany. Mrs. Tremor is Antoinette's American mother, and Judge Anderson is Isolde's dad for a year. Rosemary is staying with the Ed Welch.

Newcomer's Corner

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

THE RICHARD DALES' and Jimmy meet the neighbors.

Newcomers Richard and Anne Dales of Debra Lane got a cold reception from the weather when they arrived here this February.

The ice-capped yards and roadways couldn't have suited hockey-fan Dick better. Now that warmer days are here again he works out at the tennis courts.

Anne also likes a game of tennis now and then, but after parrying with 16-month-old Jimmy, at the end of the day she's just about had it.

In her spare time she's done beautiful work refinishing furniture. A black and white wood and straw oriental-type cabinet in the living room was made over from a very conventional business bookcase, the straw matting replacing the glass front panels.

Another item refinished now is a tea wagon.

The Dales moved to Northville from Oak Park and both are natives of Detroit.

They are members of Mayflower Congregational church.

Kaisers Open House for Benefit

The handsome handiwork displayed at the open house sale at the Martin Kaisers last Wednesday would have been a credit to nimble fingers and sharp eyes.

But the items — hand loomed towels, knitted goods, rugs, toys, ceramics and jewelry — were a triumph of personal struggle for a number of Detroit area handicapped persons who are blind or muscally disabled.

Although the sale was sponsored by the Easter Seal Society, all proceeds went to the individual craftsmen, hostess Mrs. Kaiser said.

Society therapists and other personnel represented their patients before local customers who browsed among the exhibits arranged around the Kaiser swimming pool.

Mrs. Kaiser, not directly associated with the Society, opened her home for the sale, she says, because "it is such a worthy cause".

"The therapists are dedicated people and an inspiration to talk with," she added, "It's no wonder their patients do so well."

She explained that the handicraft therapy was not only a morale booster for the disabled, but for some, a vital exercise treatment.

Similar sales are being held in other communities at various times.

smoothest ride!

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough going — and coil springs never squeak, never need grease! Try this velvet way of going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TREND magazine puts this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But the happiest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests — all documented by published opinions of experts and on-the-record facts and figures.

BEST ROOM — Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.* show that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars — more front seat hip room (by up to 5.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE — Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR® Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY — A pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.33 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES — Chevy's bonded-lining brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE — It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN — Any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

THE LABOR DAY WEEK END is almost here and so is a chance to get away for that final summer fling. It may be a bit crowded at hotels, motels and lodges so it's a good idea to think ahead and call ahead for reservations. It's so easy to do. And it can save you so much trouble, too — unless you enjoy riding around until late in the day to find a vacancy sign. So remember that resolution you made last summer and phone ahead now.

HUNTING FOR THAT SPECIAL ITEM? Here's a shopping tip that will help you find your quarry and save you mileage and frayed nerves, too. Let the Yellow Pages be your guide. This handy telephone directory can help you find just who has what you want — in the right size and color and at the right price — before you even leave your house. The Yellow Pages steer you in the right direction. So keep them handy and consult them often.

THE 1960 WINTER OLYMPICS don't open until February but telephone men have been on the job at Squaw Valley, Calif., since July of last year. More than 1,200 telephones will be in service there to accommodate some 35,000 visitors a day. There's also the complex job of providing communications for press and TV coverage. Whether it's a special event like the Olympics, your everyday service or our defense needs, the telephone company works constantly to bring you the best in modern communications.

REFLECTIONS OF MEXICO

Having been in Mexico for three extended periods of time, and now having returned from directing a tour of 21 people for 24 days over 3,000 miles of Mexico, I feel that I would like to share with the readers of The Record some impressions.

One impression is that Mexico has a history that is different than ours. Mexico was conquered by people who came for God, gold and glory.

In what is now the United States the subjugation of Indians was secondary to the task of settling in the New World. Cortez had tremendous ability as a conqueror. In all Mexico there is no statue to revere his name. To our country came political and religious idealists who gave an original direction to our national state and prepared the way for democracy.

How long the people of Mexico languished, ground beneath the feet of the ruling Spaniard! For 300 years no light of freedom could be seen.

Then came the names of Hidalgo and Morlos, and finally Benito Juarez, (a contemporary of Abraham Lincoln), revered as the Great Liberator. However, the Juarez constitution of 1859 was not enough.

There was a return to despotism and dictatorship until the Revolution of 1910-17. John A. Crow writes in "Mexico Today" that "The amazing thing is not that Mexico took a century (1810-1910) to overthrow the old order, but that she was able to accomplish it at all."

Now one can see the ideals of the Revolution being realized: schools, land usage, separation of church and state, political freedom, a larger portion of the nation's wealth for each person instead of the few.

The casual tourist in Mexico is quick to say, "Mexico has a long way to go." But just stop to think how far the country has come up the ladder of an unkind history.

Another impression I have is of the people. Life in the country is hard. Sixty per cent live by agriculture, and there are still 1,000,000 wood plows. But talk to the farmer as he stands by his oxen in the field. He is friendly. There is hope for tomorrow. It will be better.

Industrialization is coming to Mexico. The cities are growing. Mexico City has 4,500,000 people. City life is taking on new dimensions. There is building, building everywhere. Adobe gives way to brick, and brick to steel. In the last 15 years I have noticed progress in Mexico, and the Mexican people are just like those of our own country—good, bad, and indifferent.

The world is shrinking because of the speed of communications, and because what affects one country affects another, but we are still not thinking very much in terms of our region, America. There is South America, Central America and North America. I like to think that we are all Americans, and that the same God watches over all.

Northville Man Gets GMI Degree

Dennis Craig Proctor, 124 East Dunlap, was among the more than 400 students who received degrees at the 32nd commencement at the General Motors Institute in Flint.

The Northville man was awarded a four-year engineering diploma. John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, delivered the GMI commencement address at Atwood stadium. James E. Goodman, General Motors vice president and chairman of the board of regents, presented the speaker.

The student body at GMI is made up of top flight high school graduates selected by GM plants for appointment to cooperative programs in either mechanical or industrial engineering.

Students alternate between periods of theoretical education in the classrooms and laboratories at the Institute and coordinated work experience at their plants.

DIGNITY IS NOT AN ABANDONED QUALITY...

In this world of informality, a little dignity stands out like a shining light — a bit of charm that delights. It is an especially desirable quality to the family in grief.

Quiet dignity is present always at the Dempsey B. Ebert Funeral Home. Whether it is respect to the loved one who has passed on, or a kindness to the sorrowing family — dignity is always kind.

Mustangs Sweep 2 In Class D Stretch

The Northville Mustangs galloped to two victories last week and moved to within a half game of second place as Class D competition neared the home stretch.

Northville now has a 11-5 record, compared to second place Elk's 11-14-1 record. Willow Run is on top of the league with 13-2 record.

Last week's wins included a 6-2 victory over Thurston and a 5-4 triumph over Plymouth Fisher Shoes.

Hurler Bill Boyd had a one-hitter going into the last inning when the Thurston battery came to life. Thurston rallied with four hits and two runs before the Mustangs came up with the third out. The victory was Boyd's third in five starts. Dan Steinbach was charged with the loss.

Playing with the first full-strength lineup since they boasted a 7-1 record, the Mustangs pushed across four runs in the fourth inning and added two more in the fifth.

Dave Hay captured hitting laurels for Northville with two bingles in three attempts. Joe Kritch added a long home run.

Bill Trotter hit a clutch, game-winning single in the bottom of the seventh to drive in Bob Starnes with the final run.

Joe Kritch, who yielded seven hits and struck out 14 batters, was credited with the victory. M. Wells drew the loss. He was nicked for nine hits.

Plymouth was out from 4-3 as the Mustangs came to bat in the seventh.

Dave Hay struck out, Joe Kritch walked, and Wade Deal popped up to start the inning. Then Starnes drove a hard bouncer through the third baseman's legs, scoring Kritch to knot the score. Trotter followed with his game-winning single to center.

In the field, Hay nipped a runner at the plate with a perfect throw from center in the first to cut off a Plymouth rally, while Catcher Deal threw out two men trying to steal second—both times with men on third.

Steve Juday continued his hitting streak, collecting two singles in four trips to the plate. Hay had a double and a single in three attempts. Trotter and Hugh Crawford also collected two hits each.

Kids to Splash Tomorrow

The Northville recreation department will wind-up its busiest season in history tomorrow with the fifth annual Water Carnival at Whitmore Lake.

Buses will leave for the lake from behind the Main street elementary school at 9:15 a.m. They will return about 4 p.m.

Officials have planned numerous games and swimming contests for the all-day event. Prizes will be awarded to winners.

Parents are invited to attend the carnival with their children. Everyone is asked to bring along his own picnic lunch.

A 25-cent fee for adults and children will be required to help defray expenses.

Kritch hit one of the longest drives of the year in the fifth only to have it curve foul by inches down the right-field line.

SMASH BASEBALL — Eric Peterson of the Braves (left) and Joe Hay of the Orioles were awarded trophies last week for being the top Northville hitters in the two leagues of the Class F division. The awards were made by Ken Conley of the recreation department. Hay collected 46 hits in 76 trips to the plate for a .605 average, while Peterson had 21 of 52 for a .404 average. The next two high batters were: Gordie Hammond, Orioles, .506, and Jack O'Dell, Braves, .351.

5 Local All-Stars Help Defeat Tigers

With two Northville boys carrying the explosives, the American League All-Stars bombed the Class "F" champions, 2-0 in a seven-inning contest at Livonia last Wednesday.

Joe Hay and John Mach scored both of the All-Stars' runs. Hay reached first and advanced to second on a throwing error and scored on a single by winning hurler, Mike Mancini. Mach scampered to first on a hit, advanced to third on another hit, and scored on an over-throw at third.

Mach collected two of the All-Star hits, while Gary Grys rifled a single to left.

Two other Northville all-stars helped throttle the Rosedale Tigers. They were Gordie Hammond and Dave Jerome.

The National League All-Stars, which included Northville players Eric Peterson, Chuck Bailey and Jack O'Dell, lost a 7-0 game with the Firemen Cardinals Sunday. The National Leaguers collected only one hit.

Pets, Dolls Steal the Show

After a delayed start (rainy weather postponed proceedings from Friday until Monday night) the Northville Recreation department's fifth annual pet and doll show was finally staged.

And it attracted a host of kiddies, hundreds of dolls, dogs of all sizes, guppies, hamsters, goldfish, — etc. Before judging proceeds got underway the kiddies paraded their pets — and decorated bicycles, wagons and cars — down Main street before congregating at the city hall park.

Nearly 70 cash awards were presented in 20 different classifications. The winners were:

Plumbers Bow As Batters Slump

Milt's Coffee Shop of Plymouth strengthened its second-place position in the Class E league last week with a 6-0 victory over the Northville Plumbers.

The Northville nine, which has been unable to find its batting eye in three of its last four games, was held to three hits last week.

With only one game yet to play, the Plumbers can do no better than third place and little worse than fourth place. On Monday they were tied with Wayne Ford for third place with a 14-5 record.

Livonia Recreation, which boasts a 17-2 record, is in first place, and Milt's is in second place with a 15-3 record.

Craig Bell was tagged with last week's loss to Plymouth. He gave up six hits. Dick Schryer was credited with the victory.

Plymouth scored two of its runs in the first inning, three in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Dodgers Take Knothole Title

The Dodgers of the knot hole baseball league padded their season record last Wednesday by bowling over the Tigers, 11-3, in Cass Benton park.

The victory gave the Dodgers a 10-1-1 record — and the knot hole championship.

Meanwhile, the second-place Yankees took it on the chin as the Giants tagged them with a 9-6 defeat. Dodger Jim Stubbs collected a Kerry Lueke hurled the victory for the Dodgers, while Ken VanSickle was nicked for the loss.

Tom Daniels carved out two hits in three attempts at the plate to take hitting honors for the Giants. Teammate Archie Forth added a long double for the winners. The Giants scored first but had to come from behind to win.

Bill French was the winning hurler for the Giants, Doug Dingwall was the loser.

Hot dogs and milk were served after the final two games.

Fastest Gun to Draw At Pontiac Agency

Nationally renowned gun expert
Joe Bodrie will put on an exhibition of lightning-like drawing, "gun juggling" and his famous western personalities gun handling methods at 7:30 p.m. August 18 at Berry &
Atchinson, 874 West Ann Arbor road in Plymouth. There will be no admission charge.

In national competition for gun drawing, Joe has been electrically timed at .17 hundredths of a second while drawing, cocking and hitting a target. As evidence of his claim to "The Fastest Gun Alive" he has 13
notches on his nickel plated Colt 45's — one for each of the 13 challengers to the world championship
he has defeated.

Joe spent several years in New York and Hollywood teaching many western film stars how to handle their Colts and shoot. Some of his most prominent pupils have been Hugh O'Brien (Wyatt Earp), John

methods of handling and firing weapons and was the star of the fa-and handle guns. In addition, Bodrie is recognized as a foremost expert on gun safety — proper handling and firing methods.

At the dealership, Joe will demonstrate: several speed drawing and firing techniques, re-enact a number of famous western duels, give some of the audience a chance to match their speed and reactions against his.

We're sure you'll find this one of the most fascinating and

The bride's ballerina-length gown of imported silk and chantilly lace had a rounded neckline and a full skirt dotted with rhinestones, pearls and sequins. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Geraldine Alex of Detroit, who is a niece of the groom, was the maid of honor. Support Your Library!

Babson Park, Mass. — I am a great believer in public libraries; I believe every city should support a good one. I am especially interested in the work of my friend Thomas Drier is doing to encourage such libraries. Andrew Carnegie showed wisdom in selecting public libraries for his gifts. Whether, however, he would make the same choice today, we do not know. Certainly, public libraries now have great competition from radio, television, and "paper back" books.

Radio and Television
I would not object to these new developments if they were putting out better material. The librarian can urge readers to take out good books; but listeners to radio and television get too much of the stuff which is thrown out on the air whether that good or bad. Is such material making our people softer, or harder?

I wish that cities would support their public libraries through paid advertisements in local papers. Working with the librarian, they could do much to improve their citizenry. Just think, one can get absolutely free the novels, histories, and life observations of the most prominent writers of the world; the life thoughts and life works of great teachers, preachers, scientists, bankers, merchants, manufacturers, and shopkeepers. The opportunity truly is terrific. For free material thereon, write Mr. Thomas Drier, St. Petersburg, Florida.

What Are People Reading?
We must encourage people not only to use their public libraries but to get the best reading material. In a recent trip to the Boston Public Library's periodical reading room, I found 35 per cent of the people there reading the funnies, 25 per cent reading about sports, 20 per cent accounts of murders and other crimes, 15 per cent features and ads; while only 5 per cent appeared to be reading editorials or other worthwhile material. According to ex-Governor Harriman who recently returned from Russia, a scheme like this makes Mr. Krushchev very happy.

What Makes Character
Psychologists tell us that most of what we hear and read "goes in one ear and out the other." This may be good news to educators and parents, but not to those who sponsor radio and TV programs. It is said that less than 20 per cent of the possible television viewers see any given program, while less than 1 per cent remember it or the name of the sponsor.
Although I am a great believer in intelligent advertising of all kinds (except billboards), I feel that there is a tremendous waste of money in much of the radio and television advertising. Unsound material sent out over the air undermines American character, which is the real defense of the United States.

Needed: More Open Libraries and More Churches

When I was at Cape Canaveral in Florida a short time ago, I was astounded at the many billions we are spending on missiles compared with the 3 billion we are spending annually on Christian education. Furthermore, while these experimental missiles and anti-missiles are being sent up every hour of the day, comparatively few churches are open each day. The Roman Catholics set a good example in keeping their churches open; but of the 275,000 Protestant churches, only about 13,500 are registered as open every day. Those desiring detailed free information on keeping churches open should write the Open-Church Foundation at its National headquarters in Gloucester, Mass.

America was built by church people. New England was settled by the Pilgrims and Puritans; Pennsylvania by the Quakers; Virginia by people from the Church of England. The first thing built in each new community was a church, and the next a schoolhouse. Academies and small colleges followed. Krushchev hopes that we will kick down this ladder by which we climbed; but let us be careful not to do this.

Conclusion
Churches, schools and governments must realize that we are living in a critical period. We must not let these organizations become social clubs. We must all work to make harder citizens, anxious to render service rather than to get profits or security. We must not let our children become "softies." If they can no longer work in the cornfield or at the woodpile or kneel at the church altar, we must give them something to take the place of these great fundamental educators.

Band to Perform At State Fair

State Utilities Prepare for Atomic Electricity

MICHIGAN'S INDUSTRIAL development and its year-around vacation lure has helped bring atomic power to the state.

The state got a look into the future late in July when Consumers Power company officials outlined their plans for construction of an atomic-powered generating plant on a 600-acre tract in Hayes township, Charlevoix county.

It made a good show. And the utility says it likes what it sees in Michigan's future.

"We look forward to the future with great confidence," said James H. Campbell, senior vice president of the utility. "We believe that Michigan will continue to be an industrial leader and that its population will continue to grow and prosper."

Campbell said the utility thinks "that prudent foresightedness requires that we engage in the development of atomic-powered electric generating plants in order to meet the challenge in the future as Michigan continues to grow industrially and otherwise."

Northern Michigan's future looks especially bright to Consumers.

"The kilowatt-hour consumption in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula has been growing at a faster rate than in any other area in the system," Campbell said. "Numerous small manufacturing companies have located in the area. The growth of this territory as a vacationland, both summer and winter, is adding load in the territory."

Campbell cited the "improved economic condition of the area, and the impact of the Mackinac Bridge and the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Pioneering by another utility has helped pave the way for the Consumers project, at least in the mind of one key state official.

"I am convinced these things can be made safely," said State Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford, a member of a special committee established to study atomic power in Michigan.

Blackford and other officials recently inspected the Detroit Edison A-power plant near Monroe.

Consumers officials told the Public Service Commission they would incorporate "every possible safeguard to eliminate any known danger to the public, to our employees or to the equipment."

The utility thinks all of Michigan will ultimately benefit from the project, primarily because of the research that will be conducted.

"We believe that the construction of a boiling water reactor at Big Rock Point will be a sound means of meeting the growth of electric demand in the part of the state," Consumers President Dan E. Karn said. "It will also be an important step toward our goal of producing electric energy at reasonable cost by means of nuclear fuel."

The Northern Michigan plan will use a boiling water type of reactor. In this type of reactor, heat produced through nuclear fission converts water into steam. The steam then spins the blades of a conventional turbine-generator, producing electricity.

Consumers also participates in the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant project near Monroe, where Detroit Edison and other utility and industrial companies are working on a "fast breeder" reactor, which produces plutonium as a byproduct.

Campbell was asked by the Public Service Commission if the utility would seek an electric rate as a result of the development of the Northern Michigan plant.

"No," he said. "We have nothing of the sort in mind. This nuclear project alone will not give rise to an electric rate case."

The Consumers project makes Michigan somewhat of a proving ground.

"What we are endeavoring is to build an atomic plant of a comparatively known and tested design," said Consumers Attorney Don T. McKone, "but with features aimed to further bring us along the road of the production of electric energy by nuclear fuels on a commercial basis."

The Michigan utility has gone through what McKone calls "almost a complete process of evolution from a hydro plant company to a steam generation company."

McKone told the Public Service Commission "we may well be on the verge of a similar transition from coal-fueled plants to nuclear-fueled plants."

THE MICHIGAN Legislature appeared this year to be on the verge of passing legislation to prepare for the atomic age. But two bills on atomic energy died in the Senate State Affairs Committee.

One, sponsored by Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids). Another sponsored by Sens. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) and Lewis Christmas (R-Ann Arbor), would establish a radiation standards safety board. It would prescribe rules and regulations on atomic energy activities and promote "safety and progress".

Much more is expected to be heard about atomic energy in the future in Michigan.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

Northville voters generally followed state and county trends in selecting Democratic and Republican candidates for November's biennial election.

But less than 20 percent of the registered voters in the city and township bothered to visit the polls Tuesday. Only 301 of the city's 1887 registered voters turned out, while the township cast 271 ballots from a registration total of 1550.

The Northville school board will meet Thursday to approve its 1958-59 school budget.

The Wayne county tax allocation board has approved the board's tentative budget estimate of $666,043 for operating funds and $212,893.75 for debt service retirement.

It's definite at last; billboard and advertising signs will be allowed along the Farmington-Brighton expressway in Novi.

An ordinance to that effect was approved Monday night by the Novi township board.

An inferno levelled an abandoned farm house on 10 Mile Monday night and coincidentally brought the law down on a pair of Novi youngsters who were violating the township curfew law.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Northville citizens will have a chance to voice their opinions on whether this community should become a city when the village commission meets Monday night.

Death has claimed one of Northville's five owls, now known from coast to coast, but the four others still are languishing in "durance vile" at the village hall and growing fat under the care of Police Dispatcher Arnold Teska and his family.

The five young "hooters" found by Patrolman Frank Heintz in the steeple atop the Methodist church, have practically convicted themselves of a charge of sabotage.

Since their removal and incarceration, the village clock in the steeple has begun working again. It now strikes every hour, as it used to do before the owl invasion.

Rotarians and foreign exchange students returning to Germany gathered at the First Presbyterian church here Monday evening for a farewell banquet.

The deafening rumble of gravel trucks and other large vehicles down Northville's Main street will soon be a thing of the past.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

"Michigan's Biggest Little Fair!"

That's what they call the Northville Wayne County Fair, the 18th annual chapter of which will be unveiled here beginning on Wednesday, August 22 and lasting through August 25.

A Ford V-8 tudor sedan will be driven away by some unfortunate person from the fair grounds, according to plans now being carried out.

Because the thousands of dollars being released by the Depositors State Bank are enabling people to pay back as well as present taxes, upon recommendation of Village Treasurer John Litsenberger, the commission voted Monday night to extend time for payment of taxes without penalty from August 1 to September 1.

The Northville high school class of 1926 held its annual reunion at Island Lake Sunday. New officers elected are Delbert Campbell, president, and Mrs. Maurice Lapham, secretary. The reunion is now a yearly affair, class members greatly enjoying the opportunity to get together.

The Northville Community School Band played downtown Saturday evening, entertaining busy shoppers with an hour concert.

The Northville tennis players who entered the Detroit News Novice Tennis tournament and played at Riverside park, Plymouth, have all finally been eliminated, Alec Milne going as far as the semifinals.

THIS TREE WILL DIE — and there is little anyone can do about it. The once beautiful elm, located outside the main entrance to the William H. Maybury sanatorium, contracted Dutch Elm disease earlier this summer. Scientists are still searching for a cure for the disease spread from tree to tree by beetles.

Curb Beetle Invasion Here But Elms Attacked Elsewhere

One of the hungriest, most destructive fellows traveling about the Northville-Nowi area today is the tiny, unnoticed Elm Bark Beetle. He's not much bigger than a head of a pin, but he has a tremendous appetite. He will take his meals hot or cold, medium or rare — just so long as the menu reads "Elm tree". When he isn't gorging himself on the tender green stems of an elm, he is breeding a family of disease-carrying, chomping insects.

Despite his tremendous appetite for the elm tree, the Bark Beetle doesn't clean up his plate; he doesn't destroy the elm by eating it.

Unfortunately, the Bark Beetle doesn't bathe regularly or even wash his hands before sitting down to a table-full of tasty elm. It's his cleanliness that is so deadly to the elm tree, experts explain.

The Bark Beetle carries a fungus on his body which attacks the water-conducting tissues of the living elm.

As the fungus grows, it causes the tree to form gum residue which plugs the water conducting tissues. This condition, along with a poison that the fungus produces, causes the tree to wilt and die.

Many trees die in the same season that infection occurs. Some are killed within a few weeks. Only a few live longer than the second or third season.

Dutch Elm Disease was first found in the Netherlands — hence its name. The disease came to the eastern United States from Europe in 1930. It is now found in 18 northwestern and central states where native elms are grown. The Dutch Elm Disease is a killer of all species and varieties of elm trees.

The disease was first discovered in Michigan during the early summer of 1950. Since then it has spread westward across the state, leaving in its wake hundreds of dead and dying trees.

Two years ago, the city of Northville adopted a program of control to combat the disease in this area. Since the adoption of the program — recommended by the Department of Agriculture — the disease rate here has dropped considerably, city officials report.

Cy Boyer, chief of the bureau of plant industry for the state, has stated that the Northville program has been highly successful.

According to Lee Croteau, state inspector for the department of agriculture, no diseased, city-owned trees were found in the survey of the area three weeks ago. However, nine privately owned trees are "suspects" and samples of the wood from these trees are being analyzed.

If the trees are found to be diseased, the state will order the owners to remove the trees within 10 days. Under a state regulation diseased trees in controlled areas must be removed.

The disease rate outside of the controlled city of Northville is increasing alarmingly, authorities declare. It is reaching the epidemic stage — particularly north of Northville, says John Miller, owner of Green Ridge Nursery.

Miller and state agriculture officials feel that most of the elms in the uncontrolled area eventually will be wiped out — and the tree will become as rare as the American Chestnut unless the disease is checked.

Because there is no known cure for Dutch Elm Disease, the state agriculture specialists and private arborists recommend the control program for checking the disease.

This method means cutting away dead bark of healthy trees where the beetles breed, spraying with DDT and removal of all diseased trees.

Preventative cure, however, is frowned upon by naturalists and bird lovers. These people contend that more harm is done than good by spraying trees. Birds eat the beetle and other insects sprayed with DDT and are subsequently killed by the poison.

Walter Nickells, naturalist and research scientist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, reports that he has a seven cubic-foot freezer filled with birds which have died of DDT poisoning in the Birmingham area this summer.

"I'm not a party waist or overly sentimental about bird watching," Nickells told the Record last week, "but I recognize the seriousness of spraying."

A scientist for 40 years, Nickells says insects are becoming immune to DDT and to overcome this immunity, foresters are using heavier concentrations. "It's a completely vicious circle."

Nickells points out that two factions of the Federal government are on opposite sides of the fence. The agriculture department recommends spraying, while the fish and wild life division, recognizes the danger of spraying.

"I think it's a losing fight. Most of the trees will eventually die. Meanwhile, they're killing all kinds of wildlife," Nickells argues.

There is no real proof that spraying is controlling the disease, he declares. Where the disease rate is down, he says, there just aren't many healthy trees left. Most of them have already died.

Miller, on the other hand, points out that more poison is used in a single application by orchard owners in the care of their trees than is used in caring for an elm throughout the year.

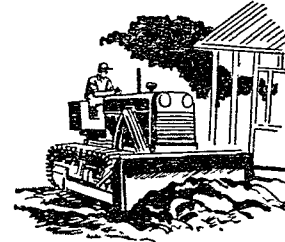

"Sure, we must take the blame for some of the bird problems — but our pinpoint method of spraying doesn't make a great difference to the bird population."

"Are we just going to sit back and let our trees die?"

Warns County Residents

Of Possible Polio Disaster

"Thousands of persons in Oakland county are inviting disaster," warned the Rev. G. Burton Hodgson, chairman of the Oakland county chapter of the National Foundation, "if they continue to neglect vaccination against polio."

Mr. Hodgson referred to the situation in Des Moines, Iowa, he said, a polio epidemic is now raging in full force. "Here's a city," he added, "where large numbers of people never got their Salk shots, because they thought it was too much trouble."

Set Dedication Services

St. Paul's Lutheran church of Northville will hold three dedication services Sunday, August 23 for its new Christian Day school now under construction. Services will be at 8 and 10:30 a.m. and at 3:30 p.m.

Displayed in attractive glass and wood cases, the minerals are from Michigan and many other parts of the world, including British Columbia, Africa, France, Nova Scotia, Mexico, England, Finland and Canada.

The collection was placed at the Nature Center by Perry Reynolds of 1312 Penobscot building, Detroit, and presented in memory of his wife "Millie".

Breaks Ankle

Mrs. John Donovan, 341 South Rogers, was confined to Atchison Clinic this week after suffering a multiple fracture of the ankle. Mrs. Donovan injured her ankle Monday while walking up the steps of a neighbor's house.

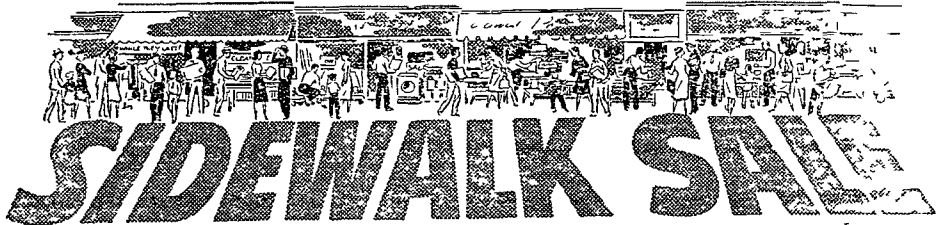

IF I DO THE BEST I CAN,
ISN'T THAT GOOD ENOUGH?
W.B.

There are two things wrong with the belief that, if a person does the best he can he will be able to go to Heaven. In the first place if one would make an honest evaluation of his efforts, he would find that he seldom does the best he can. In the majority of cases we could have done better if we had tried a little harder and been more zealous. So, if we were to be judged by this standard we would surely fall. Then, in the second place, this belief is erroneous because it carries with it the idea that one is going to be saved by his good works. If there is one doctrine that is plain in the New Testament, it is that man is saved by faith in Christ alone. Take your Bible and read Ephesians 2:8-9 and Titus 3:5. Salvation by works is a Christless religion. It depends upon self righteousness. God's plan of salvation is a hopeless, lost, bankrupt sinner coming to trust in the death of Christ for the forgiveness of sins and the hope of life eternal. Salvation is free! It is the gift of God to those who will repent and believe in Jesus Christ.
