

'New' March Starts Against 3 Crippleers

Northville's annual March of Dimes campaign will begin Saturday, General Chairman Mrs. Wayne McBride announced.

Called this year the "new" March of Dimes, the 1960 National Foundation campaign seeks to raise funds for the fight against birth defects and arthritis as well as polio — three major crippleers that affect one in every four U.S. families," said Mrs. McBride.

The drive will continue through January, reaching its climax January 28, with the traditional Mothers' March.

Roger Babson's Predictions for '60

No War, Dick-Rock to Win

1. Naturally, as I am just back from Moscow and Berlin, my first thoughts are what will happen to Berlin in 1960. My answer is definitely, "NOTHING WILL HAPPEN". Mr. K will make no more ultimatums; President Eisenhower will continue his peace talks. Therefore the Berlin situation will be just the same in 1960 and 1961 as it is today.

2. There will be no World War started between Russia and the United States in 1960. This does not mean that such a war will not come within 10 years; but just now neither country is ready for it. I am convinced of this after my recent visit to Moscow.

3. Airplane warfare with the dropping of bombs is a thing of the past. We are turning to rocketry with pinpoint precision. Our expensive air bases may gradually be vacated.

4. Moscow is Mr. K's "pride and joy". It is a beautiful city with broad streets and thousands of new apartment houses. Mr. K does not want it destroyed. Furthermore, he wants a reduction in armaments so that he will have money to raise the standard of living in Russia. I forecast he will have to do this in order to hold his power.

5. We first feared a "shooting war"; now we are in a "cold war"; but we will soon be in an "educational war". In 1960 the United States will expend far greater effort on education.

6. Along with the effort to improve education during 1960, I forecast that our teachers will be given a minimum salary of $5,000 and that schools of all states will receive federal aid.

7. I forecast that instead of spending so much money on new school buildings, municipalities will give more attention to discipline, promotions, and sifting, and to the teaching of mathematics, physics, and chemistry in both grammar and high schools.

8. I forecast that some of those who have gone into business will seek teaching jobs, which will be a major force in postponing World War III. School teaching will be a part of our national defense.

9. The Russians are afraid of China, which I hope to visit again in 1960. Hence, I forecast that more friendly relations will develop between China and the United States during 1960.

10. Space travel to the moon is largely for propaganda purposes and to take our minds off of the military phases of rocketry, submarines, and breaking the earth's crust. Only the fear of retaliation will prevent the Russians from starting a world war.

POLITICAL OUTLOOK

11. I will now forecast who the Republican candidates in 1960 will be — Nixon and Rockefeller.

12. The Democratic candidates cannot now be forecast. Senator Kennedy thinks he has the nomination "sewed up"; but Johnson and Symington, and even Stevenson, have large followings.

13. I forecast that relations with Russia will become far more important than the question of inflation.

14. The Republican slogan in 1960 will be, "It is always dangerous to swap horses going across a rapid stream." I therefore forecast that the Republicans will have at least a 50-50 chance of success in 1960.

15. In fact, on the basis of his slogan, I look for a Republican victory, though with a very close margin.

16. I forecast no reduction in taxes of any consequence during 1960.

17. I predict that present defense expenditures will be reduced and the money spent on rocketry, submarines, breaking the earth's crust, and education.

18. There will be very little reduction in foreign aid during 1960.

19. I forecast an attempt in 1960 to increase tariffs on goods imported from Germany, Italy, Japan and other cheap labor countries.

20. I expect 1960 to be a "do-nothing" year for our Congress. Both parties will be working for continued prosperity.

COST OF LIVING

21. I forecast no substantial reduction in living costs during 1960.

22. The newly imported cheap, low-priced automobiles are here to stay. Their importation cannot be checked.

23. Electric power rates will be lowered in 1960.

24. Clothing should cost less in 1960. In fact, most textiles and plastics will sell for less in 1960.

25. Soap and all forms of washing powder will sell for less in 1960. This applies also to "wonder drugs" and other chemical products.

26. Cost of wooden homes — due to labor — will advance in price during 1960. Cement and modern machinery will displace bricklaying. Hence, there may not be much increase in the cost of building fire-proof apartment houses.

27. The cost of electronic machinery should be higher because of the growing demand for automation to offset the rise in wages.

28. Steel products (especially stainless) — from the tableware used in homes to the steel used to build bridges — will be in greater demand in 1960.

29. The demand for most food products will increase during 1960. This should especially help the United Fruit Company, as bananas give the most nourishment, at the least cost, of any known food.

30. I forecast increases in rents, maintenance, and taxes. But supermarkets will compete with one another and the housewife should benefit therefrom.

REAL ESTATE

31. The price of city real estate will depend upon its parking privileges. Wise municipal officials will pull down old two and three story buildings to make parking lots and municipal garages much more plentiful.

32. The above also applies to suburban real estate. I forecast that new suburban zoning laws will require houses to have vacant adjoining lots sufficient for present and future parking needs.

33. The demand for modern stores and for centrally located apartments will continue to increase during 1960.

FOG FADES — One of the most dense fog conditions ever recorded locally hung heavily over the area throughout the past week end. Saturday, car lights (as shown above) were barely visible through the fog even during daylight hours. Despite the hazardous conditions no accidents were reported in Northville. But Novi had a dozen, including three persons injured.

Holiday Accidents Miss Us, But Not Novi

While U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts predict "no fog" for New Year's, driving conditions may still be made hazardous by freezing rain—a condition that many will remember from last New Year's Eve.

Fog, which hung heavy over the area during the Christmas holiday weekend, apparently made drivers more cautious in Northville. No accidents were reported.

Novi area drivers were not so fortunate.

Two persons were seriously injured, another suffered minor injuries and nearly a dozen non-injury auto accidents were recorded by Novi police. All of the accidents were attributed to the heavy fog and rain.

Northville Police Chief Eugene King cautioned all motorists to "drive with care" and help preserve the accident-free holiday established thus far in Northville.

He has a special warning for drunk and drinking drivers—they'll go to jail and receive stiff fines and/or sentences.

Injured seriously last Thursday afternoon when their cars collided on Grand River at Meadowbrook were George Ciot, 129 Wainwright, and Esther Birchfield, 24676 Taft road.

Both drivers are reported in fair condition at Northville Community hospital. Ciot suffered fractures of both legs and Mrs. Birchfield suffered a neck fracture, an arm fracture, a head cut, and multiple cuts and bruises.

According to Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, Mrs. Birchfield's car skidded on the slippery pavement into the path of Ciot's west-bound car. Both drivers were pinned in the wreckage. The cars were demolished.

Nelson Noland of Walled Lake was treated for a head cut later the same day when his car sideswiped another on Novi road just north of Nine Mile road. The driver of the other car was Carl Schmidt of Detroit.

An unidentified motorist escaped serious injury Saturday afternoon when his car skidded backwards into a railroad signal light on 10 Mile road as a freight train sped past.

Chesapeake & Ohio railroad officials reported that the driver apparently did not see the flashing light because of the fog. He applied his brakes, and skidded around and smashed into the signal — two feet from the tracks.

Several "near accidents" occurred early Saturday as Novi firemen fought a truck blaze on the fog covered US-16 expressway near the C&O crossing.

A truck load of new mattresses owned by the National Sleep Products company of Detroit was nearly destroyed before firemen put out the fire. Firemen said the fog was so thick that they had difficulty locating the truck which was reported to be "somewhere" on the expressway.

State Police assisted local police in directing traffic as firemen fought the blaze. Several cars nearly collided at the fire scene, police said.

The fire was caused by defective wiring at the rear of the truck, which was driven by Doyce Ward of Detroit.

Marlene Moves Out; Villa Taking Over

Northville's Main street had a vacant store this week, but the condition will be remedied soon.

The Marlene Dress Shop, one of a chain of Detroit operated stores, vacated its store at Main and Center streets Tuesday.

Mrs. Gladys Wallace, owner of Villa Dress Shoppe, 150 North Center, announced that she would move her business into the larger Main street location during the first week in January.

If, on the other hand, the entire Estates and a newly planned subdivision at Meadowbrook near Nine Mile that will build 140 homes around a 25-acre lake.

Much of the acreage is undeveloped farmland.

The move to jump on the "annexation bandwagon" started by Northville Estates Civic association will not delay the plans of that organization. Because much ground work (preparing, circulating and gathering petitions) remains for the newly proposed larger annexation, representatives of Northville Estates have decided to proceed at once with the filing of their completed petitions.

William R. Slattery, president of the civic association, stated that the petitions would be forwarded to the secretary of state in January. If the petitions are found to be in order, an election probably would be scheduled in March.

Several "hitches" remain, however, that could change matters.

The Northville Estates annexation plan is complicated by the fact that 135 acres of the total 255 lie within the village. Northville Estates itself is in the township, but not in the village of Novi. To gain attachment to the city boundaries—which lie 1000 feet west of Taft road north of Baseline road—the village area must be included in the annexation plan.

There is a legal question as to whether village property can be annexed by a city. City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, representing the Northville Estates group, maintains it can be done. Novi Village Attorney Howard Bond believes that village borders are protected against annexation.

The matter in which the secretary of state treats the petitions would be some "tip-off" as to the state's opinion. If the election were called and only residents of the village area to be annexed were instructed to vote (as well as the township area to be affected), it would give credence to Ogilvie's view.

If, on the other hand, the entire village was permitted to vote on the annexation, Attorney Bond would win—at least the first round.

Some hope remains that the village and city will conduct the annexation of the village portion by "joint resolution" of the two bodies. This is possible, if all residents of the land in question wish to be annexed to the city. No election in the village area would then be required and the law governing annexations from townships is clear and "court tested."

How the prospect of further village annexations will govern the Novi village council's thing on "giving away" any of its land remains to be seen.

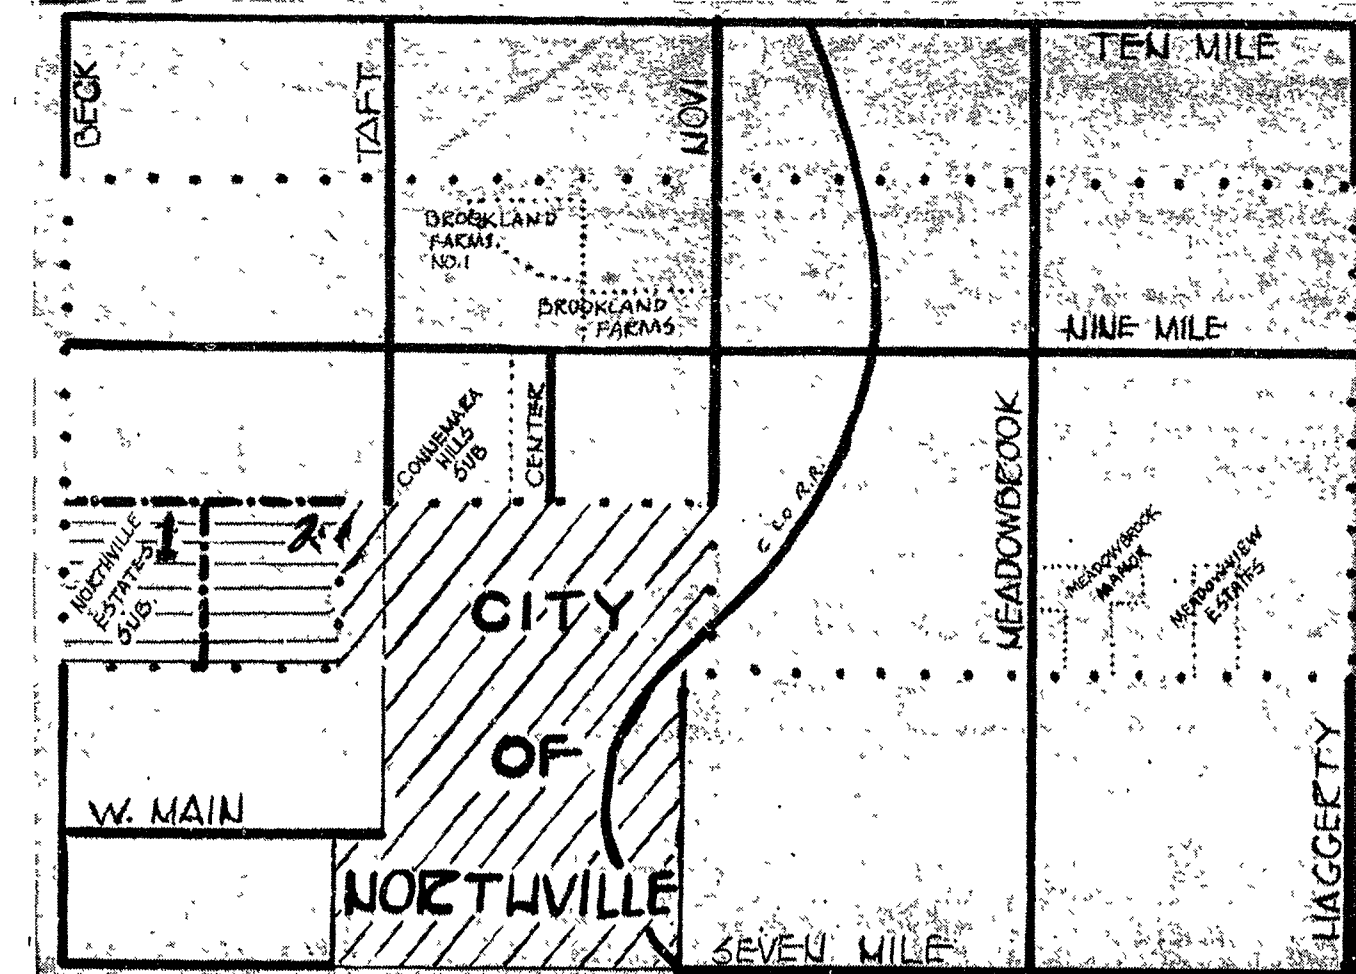

The Novi village council voted two weeks ago to table a motion not to oppose annexation of the 135 acres of village land between Northville Estates and the city of Northville. The motion was tabled pending a report by the manager as to the wishes of the affected village property owners.

Under normal procedure, however, if it is necessary to call an election for the entire 255-acre township-village area, it is probable that the election would be held in March. Residents of the area to be annexed would vote with a majority necessary for annexation. A similar election would be held in the city with a majority vote required to complete the annexation.

Meanwhile, the "larger" move to annex up to 9½-mile will progress presumably towards a spring election. Here again, the legal question as to whether or not village borders afford protection from city annexation remains. And within the sweeping annexation area lies one tiny part still in the township—Brookland Farms No. 1.

Presently, the city of Northville covers a 1½-square mile area. The proposed Beck-to-Haggerty-to-9½-mile annexation would boost this to more than seven square miles. The city of Plymouth, for example, has 2.02 square miles of area.

Novi contains approximately 30 square miles.

If present annexation plans are successful, the area contained within the dotted line in the map above — extending northward to 9½-mile and from Beck road on the west to Haggerty on the east — would become a part of the city of Northville. Residents and developers of the area are currently planning to obtain petitions to call for annexation of the 5½-square mile area to Northville. Meanwhile, the shaded area (marked 1 and 2) between Beck and Taft roads on the north side of Baseline is preparing to call for an election immediately. Officers of Northville Estates Civic association (shaded area marked 1) have stated they will send petitions to the secretary of state in January requesting an annexation election.

Rosemary McNeilly plays Christmas carols. Her foster parents are the Ed Welch of Northville.

Antoinette Michlielsen puts her wooden shoe under the tree. Her foster parents are the Charles Tremors of Northville.

Isolde Seifferot addresses Christmas cards with "Wimpy". Her foster parents are the Robert Andersons of Novi.

Exchange Students Tell of Christmas

"Christmas shopping? You usually see me downtown around 8 p.m. Christmas Eve," jokes Irish Rosemary McNeilly.

"Christmas baking is a point of pride with German housewives," says Isolde Seifferot.

"Our Christmas is quieter, more religious, and more of a family affair," adds Hollander Antoinette Michlielsen.

The girls — all exchange students at Northville high school — celebrating their first Christmas in America Friday compared notes on the holidays here and abroad.

Rosemary, trying hard to pick out

"something Irish" about Christmas in Belfast had to admit that "Christmas home is just like yours".

"Oh, we have plum pudding and the 'little folk to tell Santa who's been bad or good, but we have the same Santa, we sing the same carols and hang our stockings. We even have Rudolph the red-nosed Reindeer," she added somewhat apologetically.

"What's more, I think Christmas in Ireland is every bit as commercial as here. Most of our shops are open until midnight Christmas Eve."

What's a typical Christmas at the McNeillys?

Christmas day starts with church. Presents are opened and later the family gathers with relatives for Christmas dinner.

Traditionally, the children entertain their relatives with recitations, songs, dances and piano pieces.

"Of course they hate it," Rosemary laughs.

"I've done them all and I don't know which I hated most."

Like here, the large cities are decked out in holiday finery. In Belfast, the city yule tree is paraded from the docks to the city hall before being set up.

One of the nicest things about Irish Christmas is that it lasts two days.

The second day, well known as Boxing Day, "is just like Christmas all over again but without the presents," Rosemary says, and is celebrated at the "Circus" or "Pantomime" held annually in the Belfast Grand Opera house.

Highlight of the holiday season is the Queen's Christmas message which the McNeillys hear on TV. "I don't know anyone who misses it," she says.

In Germany, the holiday varies more.

Though the "Tannenbaum" is probably the most sentimental part of Christmas in Germany, the holiday baking and cooking is undoubtedly the most hectic.

"Weinachtsbachei" begins before Christmas with preparation of dozens of fancy cookies, cakes and buttery raisin bread.

For mother, Christmas morning is only a second beginning.

"She's in a fit the whole day, keeping an eye on the children and fixing the roast goose," says Isolde. "All the things you have to put in that poor thing!"

"But if she doesn't do it, father gets mad, and she can't risk that!" Nevertheless Hausfrau find enough energy to try to outdo each other in the quantity of their holiday baking.

"Last year mother won," Isolde smiles grimly, "and we were eating Stollen until Easter."

Although "commercialism" is gaining an ever stronger hold on Europe's Christmas tradition, according to 'Olde, certain old-fashioned religious customs and legends are still cherished in German homes.

One is the wooden manger that goes in the window. It is often passed down from generation to generation, she says.

Another is the Advent wreath hung in the house at the beginning of Advent, and decorated with fat red candles as the four weeks pass.

And besides Santa, German children wait for the winged curly-haired

"Christkind" who rewards them with presents.

All in all, Isolde concludes, the celebration is "quieter" in Dusseldorf.

Speaking for her hometown, Dreibachen, in the Netherlands, Antoinette Michlielsen agrees, although the Dutch holidays have their merry side, too.

Hollanders separate the serious side of Christmas from the merry-making by having two holidays in December.

On the first, St. Niklass day, December 6, youngsters await the visit of St. Nick, who rides an air-borne horse from Spain with his Negro helper, Swazie Piet, or Black Peter. Peter carried bad children back to Spain in his gunny sack.

For high schoolers, St. Niklass day is an occasion for satire — both on the Santa legend and on classmates and teachers.

Unlikely as it seems, last year petite and red-cheeked Antoinette entertained her classmates as Black Peter.

The shady side of St. Nikolaas day in high school involves the anonymous exchange of gifts between teachers and students.

The present are fittingly accompanied by a poem composed by the sender, which pokes fun at the receiver's faults or virtues.

"Christmas is strictly a family affair," says Antoinette.

Christmas Eve, candles are lighted on the Christmas tree, the family sings songs, Father tells a Christmas story, and Mother reads from the Bible. At midnight they go to church.

Christmas morning, church choirs split up and go caroling, stopping before the houses of the sick or old.

"It's so nice to wake up to Christmas carols," Andy recalls, "we have an old woman living next door, so we hear it every year."

ENTER A NEW YEAR

Not only do we enter a new year, but we enter a new decade. Some of our readers can remember writing 1880, 1890 and then the thrill of writing 1900 as a new century came into being. Still others will live to see the end of the 20th century and will write 2000, 2001, etc. We must now change the 5 to a 6 as we enter a new year and a new decade. What will it bring?

One thing is certain. We will drag the old with us. Actually we will be entering the new year not as though it were a clean page ready to receive the imprint of new resolves, high idealism, and disciplined practice, but we will enter the new year like a Roman army, dragging its impedimenta along.

Tennyson could write:
"The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true."
We won't do it entirely. We are not thoroughly prepared to "Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good."

Yet our hopes leap high. The whole world is rocked by the recent peace mission of our President. We peer into the new decade and we wonder if we can see the outlines of peace come more certainly into view. We just might try to give bold leadership to peace in freedom without fear. It's enough to take your breath away. Will the sound of the decade of the '60's

"Ring out old shapes of foul disease;
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace."
"Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be."

I wouldn't call for any silly little resolutions, like getting your hair cut once a month. It seems to me that the only way the wheel of progress will move in this new decade is for each of us, as John Q. Citizen, to use the powerful leverage that is available righteously without shame, faith without fear, and hope with no despair.

IT'S BETTER TO LIGHT just one little candle, sang students of Our Lady of Victory school at their Christmas play last week. A full house of parents and friends enjoyed the skits and songs performed in the church hall.

Novi School Board Minutes

The regular meeting of the board of education was called to order by the president, Mr. Heslip, at 8:05 p.m. on Wednesday, December 9, 1959. Present were Mr. Heslip, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Erwin, Dr. Morris, Mr. Crawford and Dr. Medlyn. Guests were: Mrs. J. Anglin, Mrs. W. Doan, Mrs. J. Dickinson, Mrs. Gerald Trotter, Mrs. Lester Ward, Mrs. C. Bentley, Mrs. W. Price, Mrs. Fried, Mrs. G. Ames and Rev. James Demas.

The minutes of the previous regular and special meetings were approved as published.

The treasurer's report which follows was approved as presented:

General Fund $ 7,710.21

Lunch Fund 1,704.55

Payroll Fund 3,251.67

1957 Building and Site Fund 193,267.75

1955 Debt Retirement Fund 26,769.62

1957 Debt Retirement Fund 221.42

1958 Debt Retirement Fund 53.86

Dr. Medlyn had determined that depreciation on the contents of the buildings is usually figured at 3.1 percent per year. Dr. Morris requested an outside opinion on the adequacy of insuring the contents at a figure much less than the actual value of the equipment. Dr. Medlyn is to obtain such an opinion.

The amount of credit on the black-top has not yet been determined. Dr. Medlyn will contact the architect in an effort to get this matter settled.

Mrs. Jack Anglin spoke as a representative of the Novi Mothers' club, regarding the problem of children who are reading below their grade level. She suggested that a part-time psychologist might be employed to identify the poor readers, also that a part-time or full time teacher be made available for remedial reading.

It was the consensus of opinion of the board that a special teacher be included in the budget for next year.

Rev. Demas was present to request of the board the use of two or three classrooms in which the Episcopal Mission might meet during the ensuing school year. It was moved by Mr. Crawford, and supported by Mr. Taylor, that the Episcopal Mission be allowed to use two or three rooms in the Annex of the Novi School until June 1960 on terms to be agreed upon with Dr. Medlyn. The motion carried.

Dr. Medlyn informed the board that two additional buses should be purchased for the next school year, and that he felt negotiations should begin in February.

Dr. Medlyn informed the board that the district would retain the five-man board of education until such time as it should become a high school district; it would then have a seven-member board of education.

It was moved by Mr. Erwin, supported by Mr. Crawford that the board of education election be held in June rather than in July. The motion carried.

The cafeteria at the Novi School is to be painted during the Christmas holidays.

Bids on kitchen and cafeteria equipment for the Orchard Hills building were presented as follows:

Gold Star Products $1,412.87

Canton China 1,831.00

A. J. Marshall & Co. 1,859.79

No action was taken on these bids; the board decided to visit an army surplus store to look at some cooking utensils before taking action on the bids.

The need for transportation of a few students to special education classrooms in Walled Lake or Farmington was discussed.

Communications:

The reply of Atkin-Ford Company to Mr. Carpenter's letter requesting action on the tile field was discussed. The board requested that Dr. Medlyn determine what action Mr. Carpenter has taken and what action should be taken by the board.

Mr. Erwin of the audit committee moved that current bills be paid, and the motion was supported by Dr. Morris. Motion carried. The bills included were General Fund bills, $2,968.90; Lunch Fund bills, $875.07; and 1957 Building and Site Fund bills, $2,388.01.

The meeting was adjourned by the president at 11:35 p.m.

Council Upholds Dismissal

City councilmen, by a vote of four to one, upheld the decision to dismiss Officer Roman Nowicki from the Northville police department last week.

The council "cushioned" the action by permitting Nowicki to resign and thus receive three weeks' vacation and severance pay.

Nowicki was suspended by Chief Eugene King December 12. He had been reprimanded several days earlier for violating a department regulation that does not permit officers to enter local bars except in the line of duty.

The suspension—with a recommendation for dismissal—came about when Chief King charged Nowicki with insubordination following an argument which led to a statement by the officer that he did not respect the chief.

After hearing statements from King and Nowicki, City Manager John Robertson upheld the recommendation for dismissal on December 15. The discharged officer then exercised his right for a hearing before the city council.

Nowicki's hearing—held December 22—attracted a standing-room-only audience, the majority of which was apparently pro-Nowicki.

The council heard full testimony from both sides before dismissing the audience and principles to discuss the case and reach a decision.

Nowicki was represented by Attorney Charles McDonald, while Chief King and City Manager presented evidence to uphold their action.

The hearing remained orderly under strong control by Mayor A. Malcolm Allen. No one from the audience was permitted to speak. McDonald did all the talking for Nowicki. At one point Mayor Allen had to ask one member of the audience to sit down when he arose to protest a statement by Chief King.

At another point the mayor called for order when the audience burst into heavy laughter when Chief King told the council that Officer Nowicki had reportedly boasted he would "give Chief King a tough time and get his job in six months." The outburst also brought a rebuke from Attorney McDonald who reminded the audience that the hearing was a "serious matter."

McDonald based his appeal for Nowicki on the contention that the penalty had been too severe. He pointed to Nowicki's qualifications as a former member of the Wayne county sheriff's patrol and as an investigating officer for the secretary of state.

He also cited six specific cases in which Nowicki had proven his police ability. He said the officer had performed outstanding duty in the 1953 Jackson prison break, solving two cases in 1955, apprehending an escapee in 1956, capturing a pair breaking and entering the Kroger store in 1958 and questioning and solving robberies involving eight suspects in 1958.

"He's done many good things—and some bad. He's no angel. He's not as desecrate as he should be and I've told him he's wrong in what he has done", the attorney stated.

McDonald said he was not condoning Nowicki's action but that the penalty was too severe. He asked for loss of pay or suspension.

A petition bearing approximately 250 signatures was also presented by McDonald who pointed out that this was some proof of the officer's popularity.

In contradiction to McDonald's plea for Nowicki the petition said (in part) "we the undersigned know that there was no insubordination on the part of Officer Roman Nowicki." McDonald pointed out that he had not prepared the document.

After McDonald spoke on behalf of Nowicki the council asked Chief King to explain his reasons for recommending dismissal.

The police chief (named to succeed retiring Chief Joseph Denton eight months ago after taking competitive examinations with other members of the Northville department seeking the job) made the following charges:

—that the officer had for some time done as he saw fit when instructions given;

—that his attitude towards other employees was bad and that when he was asked to do things he seldom replied.

Chief King then recalled the details of the December 12 argument with Nowicki. He said that when the officer reported for duty he (King) asked him to see that a letter was mailed and Nowicki made no reply. The chief stated that he then asked the officer to give a letter to the sheriff's patrol officer if he came to the Northville office before Nowicki left duty, and to leave the same instructions for his relief if the sheriff's officer had not appeared.

Chief King stated that he then asked Nowicki if he had heard the instructions and that Nowicki turned and stated sarcastically, "yaz, sir".

At this point Councilman Earl Reed asked if it were not true that there had been animosity between King and Nowicki for six or seven years. Reed said that many people in town have that idea. "Didn't you give him reason to believe you would have a chip on your shoulder if you became chief?", Reed asked.

Chief King replied negatively saying there had been no animosity on his part.

He said that he had tried to work with Officer Nowicki and encourage him. He said that the officer had told him (King) that "I don't have any respect for you—never have—and I have nothing to fear from you."

The city manager was then asked to give his account of the dismissal. He briefly told the council how he had received a call from the police chief on the evening of December 12 relating the suspension of Nowicki. The manager said he went immediately to the police station and talked for 45 minutes with King. He instructed the chief not to discuss the matter with anyone and to have a full written report ready by Monday morning.

The city manager then informed the city council by letter of the circumstances. Monday the city manager telegraphed Officer Nowicki to appear in his office Tuesday morning (Dec. 15).

The city manager said that Nowicki considered the whole problem as one of personalities that went back many years and said he would not respect the chief. The officer cited two instances in regard to the handling of cases in which he did not feel he had received fair treatment from the chief. One concerned overtime pay and the second was the chief's disapproval of Nowicki's buying a lunch for an escapee being returned to prison.

The manager said Nowicki was unhappy with working conditions and stated that "something should be done."

The manager then stressed the importance of the decision and consideration that had to be given before acting. He called the morale of the police department "low" and described it as a "semi-military" organization in which discipline was all important.

He said that officers should respect their superiors—including the city council, manager and department heads.

"If they don't, it reflects in their work", the manager stated.

He then told the council that Nowicki had shown disrespect by stating that the exams for police chief "had been rigged" and that he had no chance from the beginning.

The manager reported that Officer Nowicki had reportedly accused other officers of "apple polishing" if they did clerical work in the office at King's direction. The manager pointed out that since Chief Denton's retirement the department had been one officer short and therefore it had become necessary for all officers to do clerical work.

Finally, the manager submitted department records which placed Nowicki last in three categories and "below average" in the other three in issuance of tickets and arrests.

He pointed out that the report covered 18 months going back one year before Chief King took office.

Attorney McDonald then asked Chief King if he wouldn't be willing to "take Nowicki back" if he would apologize and admit he was wrong. King replied that he could not answer the question. He said he had tried for six months to work with the officer without success.

In other testimony Nowicki's record of three reprimands (including the two invoked this month) were read before the mayor declared the hearing closed and called for the room to be cleared.

In effect the council's decision boiled down to a vote of confidence for the city manager and police chief. Councilman John Canterbury set the stage for this line of reasoning by pointing out that the council "must weigh the decision of the manager and chief and consider whether or not it was just". He added that he wished it "had never come up, it's severe, but we'd be doing more harm to the department and city if we over-ruled them."

Mayor Allen stated that he felt "an obligation to the citizens of this town—many solid citizens who are not in the room tonight". He continued, "if this decision of a third offense is not upheld what would be the effect upon our manager and chief in the eyes of other people and employees? This is the first time something has been done to correct a wrong and improve our department. How can we expect improvement if we are not willing to approve of it?", he concluded.

While Councilman Ed Welch supported this line of reasoning, Councilman Richard Juday pointed out that it would not be fair to assume that the council must "always" uphold the action of department heads.

"I still believe after this meeting tonight that Nowicki should be given another chance", Councilman Reed stated. "Maybe this would even help boost the moral of the department," Reed added.

Mayor Allen and Councilman Canterbury said that it would have the opposite effect, in their opinion.

Councilman Juday and Welch then suggested that the council find a way to uphold the decision but permit Officer Nowicki to resign and thus receive vacation and severance pay.

The motion was thus stated by Councilman Canterbury and supported by Mayor Allen. Allen, Canterbury, Juday and Welch voted in favor of the motion. Councilman Reed opposed it.

Area Man Killed In 3-Car Crash

A three car collision on N. Territorial road early Christmas morning took the life of former Northville area resident, Charles Leo Heintz, 27, of 4441 Plymouth road, Ann Arbor.

Heintz' car crashed head on with that of William Blazier, 38, of Plymouth, and was in turn hit broadside by a third car driven by Lawrence Bennett, 32, of Salem.

Blazier, driving east on Territorial between Ridge and Beck roads told Wayne County Sheriff's patrol that Heintz crossed the center line as he approached him driving west, forcing Blazier off the road before they crashed.

With the impact, Heintz' car swerved across the road to be hit by Bennett's oncoming car.

Heintz was dead on arrival at Wayne County General hospital. Blazier, also taken to Wayne County General, was held for x-rays, and examined for possible chest, leg and arm injuries.

Bennett, and Blazier's wife and five children travelling with him, were uninjured.

Although roads were wet and dark, police indicated that speed, more than road conditions, was responsible. Blazier and Bennett were driving at 45 and 50 mph, police said. Heintz' speed was not determined.

Heintz, born in Plymouth, April 8, 1932, leaves his mother, Gertrude, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stacey of Salem. He is also survived by a brother, Harold of Miami, Florida, and a sister, Mrs. Carlton Hardesty of Salem. His father, Leo Heintz, preceded him in death.

He had lived most of his life in the Northville area and attended Northville and South Lyon high schools. He was employed at the Unilam company, Saline.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Casterline funeral home, the Rev. Richard Burgess of the Salem Federated church officiating. Burial was in Lapham cemetery, Salem.

Heintz was a cousin of Northville policeman Frank Heintz.

S.R.O. Crowd Greet Santa

By Mrs. George Amis — Greenleaf 4-0830

The visit from Santa Claus last Saturday at the Teen club was an overwhelming success. Mary Ann Farrington, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Willowbrook association, deserves full credit for it.

The John Bauer family spent Christmas morning with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bauer in Toledo, and Christmas afternoon with Mrs. Ethel Newman and Miss Joan Newman in Muncie.

Mrs. Frank Crane of Toledo is the houseguest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crane. Mr. and Mrs. William Reiss and their children, Mary Ellen and Billy, spent Christmas in Detroit at the home of Mrs. Reiss' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Freeman.

Bruce Scott Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rasmussen of Malott drive, celebrated his fourth birthday on December 8 with a family party. The party guests were his great-grandmother, Mrs. Hulda Braysher; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Braysher, Sr.; Robert Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Petrak and their children, Chris and Carla, Alan Braysher, and Bruce's sister, Beth Ann.

Monday, Lori Kraus was hostess to the Do-It-Yourself club. Rose Van Ingen of Northville, a former art teacher, showed the members various ways to make Christmas decorations. Elaine Simonsen, Jean Brady, Marilyn Carr, Elaine Young, Jean O'Neal, Dolores Jennings and Gayla Fried were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Weiss have had Mrs. Weiss' father, B. C. Myers, of Eustis, Florida, as a houseguest. The Weisses and Mr. Meyers spent Christmas in Newberry, Michigan with Mrs. Weiss' sister, Mrs. Helen Berry.

Elaine Young entertained Jean O'Neal, Dolores Jennings and Lori Kraus with bridge and refreshments last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kraus and their daughter, April, of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Mary Stevens were guests at the Krause family home for Christmas breakfast.

The Tuesday Pinochle club had its Christmas party at the home of Betty Gardner last week. They presented gifts to the three new mothers who are members, Aldean Carter, Betty Gardner and Jean Cromer. Vivian Musselman and Esther Lippert were guest players. Helen Moloney won first prize, Jean Cromer, second, Vivian Musselman, third, and Helen Waugh consolation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kucinkas' son, George, came home for a 14-day furlough for the holidays. He likes the navy very much, but he was happy to be home with his family once again. On Wednesday he went to the new Northville high school where he saw many of his old friends and former teachers.

When he gets back to Great Lakes Illinois there will be a graduation review, which his parents and girl friend will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bunker and their children, Holly, David, Pam, Mary and Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ravanno were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bunker for Christmas dinner.

We speed the old year on its way and welcome in the new with every good wish for you and yours.

NOW... 500,000 Customers Hail Advantages of NATURAL GAS SERVICE!

Typical of these half million Outstate Michigan residents are Mr. and Mrs. AMBROSE F. SIKORSKI of Troy.

Left: Mr. and Mrs. Sikorski with daughters Renee, eight months, and Corinne, three. These young parents are especially pleased with the clean, economical, worry-free Gas heating in their new home.

Below: Charming Gas yard lamp welcomes Ambrose Sikorski to his recently purchased home at 226 Burtman in Troy, Michigan, where the Sikorskis enjoy the benefits of modern Natural Gas Service.

Consumers Power Company now has more than 500,000 gas customers. This represents a customer gain of 100 per cent since 1944.

While the number of customers has doubled, the use of Natural Gas in Outstate Michigan has increased 600 per cent. This is due in part to increased use in the home for clothes drying, cooking and other household purposes. Home heating has accounted for a large part of the increase and industrial and commercial gains have been substantial. It all points out the ever-increasing popularity of Natural Gas.

The unique qualities of Natural Gas—the instant, clean, silent, wonder-fuel—make it a popular choice of home designers and home builders. Home owners are enthusiastic in their praise and approval of this versatile, adaptable fuel. New home buyers, like the Sikorskis, are discovering a whole new world of personal comfort, convenience and dependability in Natural Gas.

What Cash Crisis?

If you want to be a millionaire come to Michigan.

Among favorable reports on the state coming to light recently is one that shows we have more millionaires than even the proud state of Texas.

An analysis of federal income tax returns by Dr. Roger L. Bowlby, economist with the Bureau of Business and Economic Research at Michigan State university, shows that Michigan, with only 4.5 percent of the total taxpayers, has 6.2 percent of those declaring gross incomes in excess of a million dollars in 1957. Only four states, New York, Delaware, Pennsylvania and California can boast of more millionaires.

Michigan taxpayers showed incomes totaling $14.2 billions in 1957, and paid $1.84 billions in federal personal income taxes. This tax was 5.4 percent of the national total though Michigan's population only represents 4.5 percent of the United States population.

These higher than average incomes and tax payments are not due entirely to Michigan's higher proportion of millionaires, but also because the average individual earns more in Michigan. The state has a much higher percent of the taxpayers in the middle income brackets from $4,000 to $10,000 than the country as a whole: 52 percent to 43 percent.

Personal income figures for Michigan indicate that when the 1959 federal taxes are all paid Michigan will again be near the top, according to Dr. Paul A. Herbert, chief of the research division, Michigan Economic Development department. Michigan increased incomes by $9,600,000 in September over August, according to a report in Business Week magazine of November 28, while all of the neighboring states showed a decline.

Michigan has the largest gain in the nation for that month and for the 12 months ending with this September. Only one state, California, showed a greater dollar increase in personal income.

This data on the state's prosperity was part of the favorable news which Michigan's Industrial Ambassadors, the citizen group created by the Michigan Economic Development Commission as a sales force to sell the state as a good location for business and industry, received at their December meeting in Detroit. At that "sales training" session, Dr. Herbert cited figures from the November 10 issue of Sales Management magazine showing that Michigan metropolitan areas and other major cities will be much larger and more prosperous in 1965 than they are today. Compared to cities throughout the United States, Michigan cities will generally grow faster and will be relatively more prosperous.

Among the highlights cited by Dr. Herbert were: The people of Michigan's 13 largest cities are expected to show a growth of 135 to 173 percent in net effective buying income in 1965 as compared with 1958. Growth of cities in the neighboring states in buying income during the same period will range from 106 to 141 percent.

By 1965 all but one of the 13 metropolitan areas and potential metropolitan areas in Michigan will have improved their ranking as compared with all the Metropolitan areas of the country based on net purchasing power. On the other hand, only 4 of the 12 large cities listed for Illinois will improve their ranking; only 5 out of 14 of those in Indiana; only 1 out of 20 in Ohio; only 2 out of 14 in Wisconsin.

Kalamazoo, according to Sales Management's tabulation, will grow fastest of the 13 major Michigan cities listed—117 percent in population and 173 percent in net effective buying income.

Other Michigan cities gaining in rank over 10 or more metropolitan areas in other states will be Bay City, Benton Harbor - St. Joseph, Muskegon, Jackson, Ann Arbor and Battle Creek. Not a single city in the other East North Central states will equal Kalamazoo's record. Rockford, Illinois comes closest to these Michigan cities by advancing over 8 cities.

The index of growth between 1958 and 1965 in net effective buying income of the Michigan cities listed is shown as 173 percent Kalamazoo, 152 percent Ann Arbor, 150 percent Muskegon, Benton Harbor - St. Joseph, 149 percent Jackson, 147 percent Battle Creek, Bay City and Flint, 146 percent Detroit, 145 percent Lansing, 142 percent Saginaw, 141 percent Grand Rapids and 136 percent Port Huron.

Michigan as a whole will increase its net effective purchasing power by 146 percent by 1965, more than any other state in the U.S. except Nevada. Illinois will increase only 131 percent, Indiana 135 percent, Ohio 125 percent and Wisconsin 131 percent.

Estimates of the United States bureau of the budget, indicate Michigan has grown, is growing, and will continue to grow in population at a rapid rate. Figures vary from a total of 9,400,000 to 11,000,000 consumers by 1970. This in itself is a large state market.

When to this is added the growth in the number of consumers in the surrounding states, it makes the east-north-central states the greatest regional market in the United States. This region will have 21 percent of the nation's entire population by 1970, over 4 million more than the second largest region, the middle-Atlantic states. It will have grown faster than any other region, a million more people than the Pacific region, the second largest growing area by 1970.

Best Wishes for a Happy New Year

Here's to a New Year filled with happiness, good health and good fortune for you and your family. And here's a warm "Thank You" for your loyal patronage and good will.

NORTHVILLE HARDWARE

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—Wednesday, December 30, 1959—3

Roger Babson

Forecast for 1960

34. I forecast that those building a "single" house for their own occupancy will also provide an apartment for rent.

35. I forecast that large commercial farms should be profitable in 1960; but many operators of small farms, not properly located for suburban growth, will sell to some adjoining farmers.

36. Small farms on well-drained land and near enough to a city for future suburban developments should be held. I forecast such farms should some day sell for triple their present price.

37. Seashore property should be held. The government can print more bonds and corporations can split and declare stock dividends to make more stocks; but only God can make seashore property.

38. I forecast that real estate taxes will increase during 1960. Wise are property owners who make their rentals "PLUS ANNUAL TAXES".

39. As the Russians gradually move westward like a glacier, taking ownership of all property, wise people in Europe will sell their present property and businesses and move to the United States.

40. I forecast that revolutions in mining will continue during 1960, and you may find that you are living on a valuable iron deposit, if not on a gold mine!

INVESTMENT OUTLOOK

41. For the first time in the 40 years that I have been preparing these Annual Outlooks, I shall not take a position on the Dow-Jones Average for 1960. I am, however, inclined to believe that the stock market in general will hold up at least until after the election. Then there may come a break, whichever party wins the election next November.

42. I forecast 1960 will be the year to buy good bonds. United States Government Bonds yielding 5 percent are a great bargain. Anyone buying them is bound to make money. I also like all non-taxable bonds and also some taxable but convertible bonds.

43. I forecast some chemical stocks will still be a buy in 1960, although they yield little income and are good only as growth stocks.

44. There will be failures by the thousands among those companies now issuing electronics stocks. Electronics issues have become a popular fad. There is also unemployment ahead for many who are now working in electronics factories.

45. I forecast that the stocks of electric power companies, but not those of large cities, will be in greater demand in 1960.

46. Of all stocks, I forecast that United Fruit may be most in demand in 1960.

47. I predict that only a few railroads will be popular during 1960, such as Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and perhaps Southern Pacific and Atchison. I am bearish on Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, New Haven, and all short lines except for the Norfolk and Western, my "pet gravity road". I also fear a short railroad strike.

48. Failures will continue to increase during 1960.

49. I forecast that the huge national roadbuilding program will give an uplift to business as it progresses.

50. There will be no marked changes in money rates during 1960. Inflation will gradually continue, but may not be serious during 1960.

The best investment policy during 1960 will continue to be a well-diversified portfolio with one-third in stocks for possible growth profits, one-third in bonds for safety and income, and one-third in cash in order to have funds available for investment in the severe and sudden drop in the stock market which will come some day.

CONCLUSION

The three handicaps to American business in 1960 will be increasing installment purchases, the unfair demands of labor union leaders, and President Eisenhower's physical condition. The three hopes for America are our churches, our schools, and our praying parents.

With the year coming almost full circle, we once again have the pleasure of extending the greetings of the season to our many good friends and wonderful patrons. May you all enjoy this last, but best, part of the year in health and happiness.

READERS SPEAK:

BIGGEST UF DRIVE RESULT OF HELP

The Editor
The Northville Record

Permit me to use this means to publicly acknowledge valuable contributions to the success of the 1959 Torch Drive made by thousands of your readers.

Despite the effect of the steel strike in western Wayne county communities, our 7,500-some volunteer solicitors and countless thousands of contributors produced more money than ever before. They have the gratitude of the 195 Torch Drive agencies and those who benefit by their services.

The business people who donated valuable window space for the display of Torches and Torch Drive posters as well as the numerous Boy Scout Troops which made the distribution of this material deserve a hearty "thank you".

Many local police departments also made special arrangements to assure the security of funds in transit to Torch Drive Headquarters. The fact that no problems arose points up the importance of their help.

This by no means exhausts the long list of those whose help has been so important. However, this letter may reach people who otherwise would not be recognized. I hope their joy during this holiday season will be enriched by the inner satisfaction which comes from contributing to the welfare of their fellow man.

Sincerely yours,
United Foundation
Wm. Humphrey Jones

BEST MAN FIRED

To the Editor:

I am a citizen of Northville and being a citizen, I would like to voice my opinion on your (the city) decision of Friday the 11th, through this letter.

I am very much against what has happened to one of your officers and the way you have treated him. As far as I am concerned you just fired one of the BEST men on your force. You are no better than he, and it is considered in my book a dirty, rotten trick to play on anyone just before Christmas and the holidays. Do you people ever stop to think of his feelings? If you haven't you certainly haven't a brain in your head. In fact I don't think you have one anyway. The only thing you use that so-called head for is just a hat rack.

I would like to sign off with saying if you're smart you'll get your best man on the force back. If you don't, you're sunk, you're lost.

To the Editor:

I'd like to congratulate you on the unusual picture of the Churches on the front page of last week's Record. It speaks volumes and we who are privileged to live in this community can truly say "you go to your Church and I'll go to mine, but let's walk home together".

ONE THING'S CERTAIN — You can bet your bottom dollar that the "oldtimers" scored more aches and bruises than points as the East throttled the West, 43-29, in the preliminary comedy here Monday night. Later the 800 laughing fans howled with delight as the famous Harlem Magicians basketball squad (below) spun an array of comedy routines while grabbing an easy 73-38 victory over the Northville All-Stars. The games were sponsored by the recreation department. Proceeds will be used to repair the scout hall.

JOE ASHLEY celebrated Christmas this year "just sitting" and thinking of the friends he has made over the 75 years of his life. The old man, who recently watched his small house trailer burn to the ground, has a lot of friends — some he may never know. Last week three anonymous local residents presented Ashley with a box-full of tools and a pile of bedding to replace the tools and linen he lost in the fire. Obviously touched and finding it difficult to speak, Ashley went home to think. He came back this week with part of a poem he recalled learning as a lad of 14. It reads: "True friends are like diamonds, precious but rare — false ones like autumn leaves found everywhere."

Wixom Youth Draws Probation For Meyers' Beating

Seventeen-year-old Robert Korthas of Wixom, accused of beating a Northville youth into unconsciousness last spring, has been placed on two years probation and ordered to make restitution of $118.

Circuit Court Judge Chester O'Hara handed down the sentence after receiving a recommendation from the county probation department. The youth's trial was held in October.

The case came up before Judge O'Hara as a result of an appeal filed by Korthas' attorney, E. E. Juntunen of Walled Lake, who protested his clients' trial last summer before Northville Justice of the Peace E.M. Bogart.

Justice Bogart had sentenced Korthas to 90 days in jail, ordered him to pay a $100 fine and make restitution of Mike Meyers' hospital bills. Juntunen contended Korthas appeared before Justice Bogart without legal counsel.

According to Northville Police Chief Eugene King, Korthas and a 19-year-old companion admitted beating Meyers. Korthas' companion pleaded guilty of aiding in the beating and was fined $25 and $5 costs.

New Brownie troop leaders are Mrs. John Taxis and Mrs. J. J. Leavenworth. The 26 girls in their troop (number 210) were invested December 8.

DISREGARDING GOD

"Do you believe in God?"

"Oh sure!" would be the reply of Mr. Average Man; and yet day in and day out God is not in all of his thoughts. Psalm 10:4 says, "The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God; God is not in all of his thoughts." This Mr. Average Man may be a very fine citizen. He may even have a high standard of morality. But he lives his life, he does his planning and God is not in all of his thoughts. This is not at all in the plan and the purpose for which God has created man. God intended that He should be the very center and purpose of our earthly lives. "All things were made by Him and for Him" and man misses the whole purpose of his existence when he seeks just to please himself. No wonder there are so many unhappy people in this world. We have so many people living aimless lives who have no other ambition than to provide food and comfort for their physical bodies. Friend, if such has been the character of your life, I urge you to discover the secret of life through Jesus Christ with God the Heavenly Father as the center of all your interests.
