

Tax Deadline? It's
Jan. 20, Feb. 15 - 29

The confusion that annually accompanies the deadline for payment of school and county taxes without penalty is back again — but for the last time.

A new law passed by the legislature in its 1959 session is responsible for the latest conflict.

It provides that school, county and township taxes must be paid by February 15. After that date a four percent penalty is invoked. After the last day of February the county takes over collection of the taxes and the penalty is increased by one-half of one percent per month.

Last year county officials reminded local municipalities collecting the winter taxes that January 19 was the final date for payment without penalty.

Because the penalty money stays with the local municipality collecting for the county and schools, it had been general practice — until last year — to waive the penalty.

The new law makes conditions more complex. Because the legislature did not adjourn until December 18, the new law does not become effective until March 18.

Consequently, three different deadline dates are being used in the Northville-Nowi-Wixom area for payment of taxes without penalty.

In Wixom the council has decided to follow the letter of the law. Taxes are due and payable before January 20 without penalty.

In Northville township the board has decided its custom of allowing taxpayers until the last day of February and then turning the books over to the county for collection and penalty enforcement.

In the city of Northville the council has decided that the "intent" of the legislature was to make February 15 the deadline this year. The prolonged session of the legislature could not have been envisioned, they reason. Therefore, taxpayers living in the city will have until February 15 to pay school and county taxes without penalty.

In Novi township the policy is not clear. Treasurer Ray Harrison wants to discuss the matter more thoroughly with the township board. He has been declaring January 20 as the deadline, but hinting strongly that there wouldn't be a penalty on latecomers.

Last year the city of Northville invoked the January 20 rule, only to rebate the penalties enforced because it caught so many taxpayers by surprise and brought so many complaints. The January 20 date has always been printed on the tax bill, but because it had not been enforced, few were aware of the rules. Next year there will be no confusion. February 15 is the date. Meanwhile, it's January 20 . . . or February 15 . . . or February 29!

First Baby
Deadline Near

The First Baby of 1960 in the Northville-Nowi area has already been born — we know that!

But rules for the annual area first baby contest provide that Friday (January 8) is the final day for reporting births.

So better hurry. If you're the proud parents of a new baby born in 1960, call this newspaper. Perhaps you were first in '60! To be eligible to win nine fine prizes offered by local merchants it's only necessary that you have a Northville or Novi mailing address.

Watch for the winner next week.

Woman Pedestrian
Killed on Novi Road

A 49-year-old woman pedestrian became the third and final Novi traffic victim of 1959 when a car struck her as she walked along Novi road just north of 12 Mile road last week.

Harriet Hoyt, 46045 Grand River, was pronounced dead on arrival at Northville Community hospital Tuesday night. She died of a neck fracture.

The driver of the car, Clarence W. Seebinder, 546 Pontiac trail, told police he was driving south on Novi road. He said he was passing another vehicle when his car struck her.

Seebinder was not held, but police are still investigating the accident to determine if there was any driving negligence on Seebinder's part.

Although the woman was walking on the correct side of the road, Police Chief Lee BeGole said she was wearing a black coat — which he said would make it difficult for any motorist to see her.

Mrs. Hoyt had moved to Novi from California only a few weeks ago. The unemployed woman had no immediate relatives in Michigan, only a few close friends in Walled Lake.

Board Studies Progress
Of New Ability Program

With most of the high school building program behind them, Northville school board members turned their attention at length again to the 3 R's Monday night.

High School Principal E. V. Ellison set off spirited discussion of academic issues when he presented reports on the new counseling program and relatively new plan of ability grouping.

The counseling program, strongly recommended by the high school curriculum study report, and enabled by recently expanded facilities and staff, was put into motion just this year.

Already, said Ellison, results have proved "impressive" and praiseworthy.

Five teachers in addition to their regular 6-class teaching schedule, carry counseling duties, he said. They are Diana Lantz, Paul Ausum, LaGene Quay and Mrs. Violet Bradford.

Administrative Assistant Dr. Kenneth MacLeod is counseling chairman.

Each counselor is alphabetically assigned approximately 125 students from all grades.

All students are included.

Counseling services cover areas of ability and performance testing, vocational guidance, personal counseling, college placement and scholarships.

The ability-grouping program is somewhat older, but is more extensive this year than ever before.

Begun as an experiment upon faculty suggestion two years ago, the program has undergone, and is still undergoing, revisions, Ellison said.

Superior students — in terms of ability and motivation — are given the opportunity to enroll in accelerated classes in English, mathematics, biology, chemistry or physics.

Accelerated classes exist for

Plenty of 'Sock'
In New Year

Northville police were pleased that the New Year week end was a safe one on Northville roads.

Things were not so calm at home.

Only one accident — caused by icy road conditions — was reported.

A car driven by Brian Douglas Coates, 27, of DeWitt, slid into the guard rail at Eight Mile and Novi roads New Year's day. Damage to the car was slight. Neither Coates or his passenger, Richard Zielasko of Novi, was injured.

But while accidents were of a minor nature, domestic casualties flared.

Police were called to referee three husband-wife hassles. One wife filed a complaint of assault and battery after her husband, reluctant to leave a New Year's eve party, socked her on the way home.

He was found guilty Saturday by Justice F. M. Bogori, fined $25 and costs and given two years open probation.

School Hopes Lights
Will Cut Down
Costly Vandalism

Spurred by recent incidents of vandalism at the high school, the Northville school board decided Monday night to install lights along the campus access road and parking lot.

Although talks with lighting consultants were in progress, costly pranks by vandals brought the board to quicker action.

Last week several outside doors and windows were smeared with paint and ink overnight, Principal E. V. Ellison reported. Other doors were jimmied.

If vandals had gained entrance, Ellison declared, the damage "could easily have amounted to $1,000."

It was thought lighting would help discourage future or more serious acts. The area will be illuminated from sundown to sunup.

Trustee Donald Lawrence moved to authorize installation of 19 lights and 15 poles at a monthly cost not to exceed $76 per light.

In other business the board renewed talk on the driver training program which, during recent months, has faced criticism from some members. Especially outspoken against program costs has been Secretary Robert Shafer.

Last summer the board agreed to money-saving revisions in the program. These included reduction of class and practice hours to the state recommended minimum, and reduction of the staff from two to one during the school year.

Previously students were getting 52 hours of classroom instruction and eight hours behind the wheel. This was cut to 30 hours classroom and six hours practice.

Since then Ellison reported, cost per pupil (excluding car costs) has been sliced from $55 to $36.60 plus state reimbursements.

In reply to questions about local obligations in the program, Ellison read an opinion from the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

He noted that Northville schools are legally required to continue the program.

By law, the report stated, all fourth class districts operating a public high school must offer driver education.

In addition, the school may not ask a driver education tuition by waiving the state reimbursement.

Other economy measures discussed earlier by the board, such as limiting instruction to the summer session were declared legal. But this idea was generally discouraged by the Department of Public Instruction on the basis that it might create hardships.

However, the board requested that Ellison check possibilities of setting up an exclusive summer program, or hiring — at a lower salary — a permanent part-time commercial instructor who would meet school standards.

Township Denies
Rezoning, Trailer
Park Requests

Two requests — one for rezoning of 58 acres on East Seven Mile road and another for creation of a trailer park on Gerald avenue — were denied by the Northville township zoning board.

The action of the board was reported to township board members at their monthly meeting Tuesday night.

According to the zoning report, a request to have a 58-acre site across Seven Mile road from the State Hospital rezoned from R-1-E to commercial was refused. The request was made by Sidney Roberts. William Hukill, 10265 Gerald avenue, sought a building permit to create Hukill Trailer Park. The board refused permission after ruling that the plans submitted did not comply with the township trailer ordinance.

The board reported that Attorney John Crandell, representing Hukill, had threatened legal action because the township trailer park ordinance was too restrictive and "unreasonable."

In other township board business Tuesday night the board decided to have Attorney James Littell investigate the status of the Gordon & Scheurman sewer at Bradner road near Phoenix lake. Constructed two years ago for a proposed subdivision in the area, the sewer is now privately owned but will be turned over to the township on a "pay-back" agreement.

71,000 REASONS TO SMILE — City Manager John Robertson and Clerk Mary Alexander were much happier about the city's financial condition after the arrival of the check shown above. It's the state's delayed payment of the balance of the city's share of the Downs' 1959 racing revenues—$71,004.79 to be exact.

City Gets $71,000 'Purse'

The city treasury was boosted substantially last week with the receipt of a $71,004.79 check from the state.

The money, overdue by several months, completes the city's share of rebates for harness racing at Northville Downs during 1959.

Earlier the city had received $18,000 for a total tax income from the Downs of $89,000.

In addition to the track money the city also received some $900 in drivers' license fees from the state.

In November the city manager told the council that the city would be in "serious" financial trouble if racing revenues were not received by February.

Because the racing revenue was classified as "earmarked funds", the city received its money promptly upon the cashing of the Veterans' Trust Fund by the state.

In a notice of priority the state indicated that the $40 million realized from the fund would be allocated as follows:

- $24.6 million to school aid fund;
- $2.1 million to local governments for past due veterans' homestead tax exemptions;
- $9 million for racing revenue owed local units of government (Hazel Park, Livonia, Northville and Jackson);
- $6 million in driver license fees to local governments;
- and $12 million for grants to county, vendors, welfare relief in local governments and current month obligations to the Universities of Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State.

The state report noted that after the $40 million is paid out the state will still owe more than $53 million. Much of this is due local governments for intangibles and liquor license rebates. Both the city and township of Northville have state monies still outstanding.

Holcomb Industries Owner
Denies Backing Race Track

Two Northville residents whose names were published this week as backers of a proposed race track at Fenton, Michigan, have denied any connection with the promotion of the track.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Holcomb stated that their names were used by promoters of the Fenton venture "without permission and without any relation to the actual facts of the case."

According to Dr. Holcomb, vice president of Holcomb Industries, 4000 Grand River, the stock subscription list of the Grand River Enterprises was listed as containing the names of persons interested in backing the Genesee county raceway.

"This is a carry-over from an unsuccessful attempt to start a race track on our property on Grand River," Holcomb said. He added that the corporation was ousted from occupancy of its property because of failure to pay for leasehold rights.

The corporation originally sought to establish a track on the Holcomb property at Grand River and Meadowbrook then early last year attempted to establish a track on a site at Taft and Ten Mile roads.

The planning board voted against rezoning of this area as a track site following strong protests from Novi citizens and groups.

Discouraged by their reception in Novi, Walter A. Cox and B. F. Gregorie, racing promoters, last summer turned to South Lyon in search of a site. Again they were unsuccessful.

Finally, the promoters turned to Fenton where the people recently voted to permit establishment of the proposed track. Request for a racing permit was submitted to the State Racing Commission this week.

You Can Thank City
For Free Parking

Shoppers who found holiday parking in Northville unblemished by overtime tickets can thank the city council, as well as the police department.

It was intentional!

Without wanting to publicize the plan (for fear some might abuse the privilege) the council instructed the police to issue "courtesy" tickets during the holiday season. Actually, the police refrained from issuing parking tickets entirely.

The pat's over now, however. Motors on the streets are again operating and time limits will be enforced.

Meters have been removed from the parking alley south of Main street stores, but this is only "temporary" to permit repairs and installation of meters at all posts on the streets.

Law Increases
School Board
To 7 Members

A new law passed in the last session of the state legislature could result in a majority of new faces on the Northville board of education.

The new law requires that all fourth class school districts operating a full 12 grade program be required to have a seven-member board.

Northville, like other fourth class districts, currently has a five-member board. Terms of two members expire this June. The additional two seats will be added to the board at that time.

Thus the board of education will be conducting its biggest election ever held locally—with four vacancies on the seven-member body.

Novi will retain its five-man board of education until it becomes a high school district. When it becomes a high school district, it too will have a seven-man board.

A further requirement of the new law is that terms of office on the board shall be four years, instead of three. In the first election under the new system (which will be held June 13) candidates will have a choice of running for either a three-year or four-year term. The present two seats which expire in June will be open for three-year terms, while the two new seats will be for the four-year term.

In subsequent elections, voters will then elect not more than two new members each year for terms of four years. Under the seven-member board set-up, for three years out of four, two terms of office will expire and on the fourth year a single seat will be up for election.

Of the present Northville board membership President Nelson C. Schrader and Dr. Waldo T. Johnson will be completing terms of office this June. Schrader, who will be completing 10 years on the board, has indicated he will not seek re-election.

Other board members are: Donald B. Lawrence, whose term expires in 1961; and Robert H. Shafer and William B. Crump, whose terms are up in 1962.

Another provision of the new law has created some confusion and difficulties which, according to Northville School Superintendent Russell Amerman, have not yet been clarified.

Previously, school elections have been conducted by the authority of the state department of public instruction. The new law provides that school elections must now come under the state election commission, like all other governmental elections.

General election laws provide that petitions and other procedure connected with an election shall be conducted within the political subdivision.

It is not difficult to imagine the confusion this might invite with a school district, such as Northville's, which covers nine governmental areas (city of Northville, Northville township, village of Novi, Novi township, Salem township, Lyon township, Washtenaw, Wayne and Oakland counties).

Thus, the problem of adjusting school election procedures to conform with general election laws must be resolved by June.

One thing is certain, the new election system will not make local municipalities happy. The responsibility of the school elections now becomes theirs.

Step Right Up --
Get Tickets Here

An all-time record for prompt issuance of a violation ticket was set last week in Northville township.

Credit for the record must be shared equally by the violator and township officials.

It happened while Supervisor George Clark and Building Inspector Wilbert Petz were ticketing two occupied trailers for being on one lot on Gerald avenue in violation of the township ordinance.

While they were posting the tickets, a third trailer was driven into the lot. Having a good supply of tickets, it was no problem at all for the township officials. The driver promised to remove the new trailer the next day. He did.

BRIDGE BEGINS — Superstructure work is well underway on the new Eight Mile road bypass bridge over the C & O railroad. The above picture was taken looking eastward and the path of the road may be seen extending toward East Eight Mile road. Just beyond the railroad the highway also crosses Novi road. When completed it will block off the road at that point. Novi road traffic north of the bypass will be directed up east and west access roads to the bypass. Paving and completion of the road, which cuts a path up Carlyle between the high school and Amerman elementary school and finally through to Taft road, is scheduled for next summer.

'Billy' Home For New Year

A very special New Year's baby arrived New Year's day at the Northville road home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton H. Newton — their grandson, Billy Delp.

This was the first time Billy had been "home" since his birth October 20 at New Grace hospital.

Not that he wasn't eager. In fact he did his best to beat the clock. But he was a little too successful.

Billy's mother, Mrs. Robert (Rosemary) Delp, who has been living with her parents, the Newtons, expected to join her husband stationed in Germany late last October.

But Billy upset the works by arriving an amazing three months ahead of schedule.

At birth Billy weighed two pounds. He slipped to one pound, 10 ounces, but finally rallied to five pounds, nine ounces, which entitled him to go home at long last.

"As far as we're concerned he's not even here yet," says his proud grandmother, "his birthday should have been January 19."

If he keeps gaining at his present rate, he'll soon be big enough to accompany his Mom on an "air" flight to Germany.

On the basis of his record, everyone's sure he'll make it.

Saturday, Talbot Hopper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopper of Seven Mile road, returned to Cambridge, Massachusetts, where he is a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, enrolled in aeronautical engineering. He was home for two weeks' Christmas vacation.

Garret Barry, Northville real estate agent, has been confined to Community General hospital for the past several days. His condition is described as good.

Miss Kay Peterson of Detroit was the week end houseguest of the Arlo Haugers of South Wing street, and visited Mrs. June Gasser of Dubuar street during her stay.

Mrs. Arthur Verschaeve and daughter, Artura, of Clement road returned last week end from a vacation trip to New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Iandola of Nyack, New York were holiday visitors at the home of Mrs. Iandola's parents, the R. G. Nelsons of Napier road. They returned to New York this week.

Larry Gotts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gotts of North Center street, was home for New Year's day. Larry is pastoral assistant at the First English Lutheran church in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Elmer "Doc" Kator, 333 North Rogers street, will celebrate his 90th birthday January 13.

Professor to Discuss Maya Indians

Assistant professor of horticulture at Michigan State university, Carl D. Bailey, will be guest speaker at Friday's meeting of the Northville Woman's club.

In his talk, "The Gifted Maya," he will discuss the Indians of South America, a subject that has had special interest for him for several years.

His other hobbies include photography, and he is past president of the Bloomfield Hills Camera club. He has also collected fauna of the Yucatan peninsula for the University of Michigan and Michigan State.

Mrs. Kalin Johnson, chairman of the day, will introduce the speaker. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. in the library.

Larry Putnam Takes Bride

In a quiet ceremony, attended by close friends and relatives, Nancy Poff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Poff of Southfield became the bride of Larry Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Putnam of Novi.

The Rev. Edward Westcott, pastor, officiated at the evening service in the Redford Evangelical Lutheran church.

Nancy chose Gloria Seuer of Southfield for her bridesmaid. William Krist was best man.

Seating the guests were John Poff, brother of the bride, and Bob Pietras.

A reception for 200 was held in the Farmington American Legion hall. The wedding cake was made by the bride's aunt.

More than 100 friends and neighbors of the Albert Spaeths of Dunham road attended the Spaeths' New Year's day open house Friday afternoon. Guests came from Northville, Plymouth, Farmington and Birmingham.

All of the Robert Niemi family were home for the holidays. Mr. Niemi traveled from New York to join his family for a 10-day holiday visit. The Niemi's son, Bob, was also home from Michigan State university.

The Presbyterian church Bell Ringers, youth choirs and their directors and accompanists, were honored by the choir mothers at a tea Sunday in Fellowship hall. One hundred and fifty attended.

A New Year's day family dinner was hosted by Mrs. Laura Gotts at her Franklin road home. Twenty-four members of the Gotts family came from Northville, Ypsilanti, Plymouth and Ann Arbor. Attending from Northville were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gotts of North Center street.

YOUNG NINETY — One of Mrs. Edward M. DuBrule's favorite pastimes is reading. She celebrated her 90th birthday Saturday.

Two Celebrate 170 Birthdays

Two apparent subscribers to the idea that "life begins at eighty" saw the old and new years out and in with birthdays this past week.

Miss Mabel Burgess of East Main street celebrated her 80th birthday December 29.

Mrs. Edward M. DuBrule, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. M. L. Hoysradt of Waterford road, was 90 the second day of 1960.

Both greeted the event with special celebrations.

A dozen friends and relatives surprised Miss Burgess, daughter of one of Northville's pioneer physicians, with a birthday party at Hillside Inn last Tuesday.

Her niece, Mrs. Benjamin Stockwell of Grosse Pointe Woods hosted the luncheon. Another niece, her great-niece, Miss Gail Stockwell, presented Miss Burgess with a corsage.

Born in Northville, Miss Burgess is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Josephus M. Burgess. After his graduation from the University of Michigan, the Doctor set up practice in Northville and built the Burgess family home that still stands on East Main street. Her mother taught school in what is now the Livonia area.

Mrs. Du Brule was honored January 2 with a dinner party given by her daughter in her Waterford road home.

With the Hoysradts, she moved to Northville almost 25 years ago. Although born in Germany, Mrs. Du Brule came to this country as a child and her father Richard Mitchell was a Michigan pioneer.

Her interests, such as reading and playing cards, seem to keep her young and active.

Chief engineer at the new Plymouth State Home and Training school in Northville is newcomer Robert Alexander.

Alexander, his children, and wife, Barbara, moved here last summer from Battle Creek, where they had made their home for the past three years. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander are natives of Fowlerville and Holly.

Their children attend Novi schools. Daughters Diane, 13, and Cathy, 6, are seventh and first graders. Diane is enrolled at Novi Junior High, and Cathy, at Orchard Hills. Son, Bobbie, 10, is a fifth grader at Orchard Hills school.

Series of Recipes Will be Published In Booklet Form

Do you have a pet recipe that never fails to bring praise from your husband, wife, family or friends?

If so, it may be hovering on the brink of fame.

Fifty-two area cooks — men or women — will have a chance to immortalize their favorite dishes in print in 1960.

Through the new year, The Record will keep a kitchen diary. One recipe — with the chef's byline — will be published each week.

At the end of the year, the collection will be printed in booklet form and distributed in the Northville-Novl area.

Both plain and fancy ideas — for meats, soups, vegetables, beverages, cakes, pastries, etc. — will be welcome.

Starting the series off on a festive note is Mrs. Dan Boland's delicious two-tone Hollywood cheesecake. She served it New Year's eve.

¾ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Pre-heat oven to 375 degrees. Soften cream cheese. Blend cream cheese and eggs—adding one egg at a time. Stir in sugar and vanilla. Beat until well mixed. Pour into chilled graham cracker shell. Bake 20 minutes. Remove from oven, let stand 15 minutes or until crust forms on top.

SECOND LAYER
1 pt. sour cream
1/3 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Increase oven heat to 425 degrees. Blend together sour cream, sugar, and vanilla until well mixed. Spoon mixture over first layer. Return cake to oven for 10 minutes. Remove and let cool. When cooled, place in refrigerator. Serve chilled.

OPTIONAL TOPPING
For decorative color, a fruit topping of fresh, canned, or frozen cherries, blueberries, pineapple, may be used.

Asks Prompt Return Of March of Dimes Contributions

If you received one of the individual appeals for the New March of Dimes campaign being mailed to Wayne county residents, please return it promptly with your gift, Mrs. Wayne McBride, local campaign director, urged today.

In addition, school, canister and house-to-house collections will be taken up to assure maximum solicitation coverage. Fred Stefanski heads the school drive; Mrs. Fred Russell, canister, and Mrs. Donald E. Robinson is in charge of the Mothers' March.

Each appeal contains an envelope which gives area residents a personal way to participate in The National Foundation's program of prevention and research. This year, funds will go to fight birth defects and arthritis as well as polio. These three crippling affect one out of every four families in this country.

"As leader of the fight against crippling diseases," said the campaign director, "The National Foundation needs more support than ever to finance its vital programs of patient aid and medical research and to train urgently needed disease fighters."

As funds become available to the county chapter, he pointed out, financial assistance will be provided to children through age 18 who suffer from arthritis or certain birth defects. As in the past, victims of paralytic polio will also be aided.

"Through the March of Dimes, the partnership of citizens and scientists produced the Salk vaccine," the director said. "Similar support now will, we hope, enable us to find answers to at least two more of the nation's major health problems."

A QUALITY OF NEWNESS

Christianity and the New Year have one important thing in common. Each begins with a quality of newness.

The passing from one calendar year to another is described in terms of ending an old year and beginning a new one. In somewhat similar language is the nature of the Christian life referred to.

The early followers of the Christian way, out of their own experiences, had this to say, "If any man is in Christ, he is a new creature, behold, old things are passed away and all things have become new."

And again, "forgetting the things that are past, I press on to the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Concerning the new year, Robert Beattie has put it this way:

"To leave the old with a burst of song,
To recall the right and forgive the wrong;
To forget the thing that binds you fast
To the vain regrets of the year that's past;

Is to have and to give a Happy New Year."

The challenging difference between the beginning of a new year and the beginning of a new life in Christ lies in the fact that in the first instance "newness" is conditioned by the calendar while in the second instance the calendar is conditioned by "newness."

Essentially there is nothing any more new between December 31 and January 1 than there is between any other two days of the year. Each has its similarity of 24 hours and its difference in the length of daylight and dark.

The suggestion of "newness" stems from the calendar which lists one as the last day of an old year and the other as the first day of the new year.

This mathematically-computed time, devoid of any moral purpose, has conditioned many in our secular society to use this occasion for revelry and debauchery.

On the other hand, Christianity, with its power to change life from the staid and sordid to the new and beautiful, motivates many spiritually-minded people to use this occasion for efforts to make our world better every day — thus, conditioning the calendar of time.

This chasm which exists between the "newness of the secular world" and the "newness of the Christian life," will it ever be bridged? Never, if to do so means compromise!

However, whenever men will begin to think soberly on the value of time and life and, coming to recognize that each is a gift of God, will arrive at the conclusion that both time and life will come into their rightful meanings only when used as God, the Creator-Giver, wants them used — then this chasm will be narrowed and "newness" will come to be synonymous with GOODNESS. An unknown author has penned these words:

"I asked the New Year for some message sweet,
Some rule of life with which to guide my feet;
I asked, and paused he answered soft and low,
'God's will to know.'

Will knowledge then suffice, New Year?'
I cried,
And, ere the question into silence died,
The answer came, 'Nay, but remember, too,
God's will to do'

Once more I asked, 'Is there no more to tell?'
And once again the answer sweetly fell.
'Yes! this thing, all other things above,
God's will to love!'

A FIRST — This Christmas display which decorates the front hallway at Amerman school is to become an annual project of Amerman students. The display — the theme may change from year to year — was three weeks in the making. Eighth grade students at the Main Street elementary school assisted Amerman pupils. The project, which was under the direction of Ralph Redmond, Amerman teacher, includes a gayly decorated Christmas tree — donated especially for display purposes, "stained-glass" windows, and the rocket display.

Anglers Start Chipping

Thousands of anglers "broke the ice" on another season of winter fishing this week as temperatures started falling.

From the time chips started flying until thawing temperatures arrive, these hardy harbingers of Michigan's winter sports season will be busy on thousands of inland lakes in the state.

Awaiting the challenge of these anglers of the iceways are perch, bluegills, white bass, whitefish, crappies, lake trout, walleyes, northern pike, muskellunge and others.

Come January 1, rainbow trout will become fair winter catches for the first time in more than 200 lakes designated by the Conservation Department. A few tips may be helpful for those planning to take advantage of this special winter season.

Rainbows feed along shoal edges in about 15 feet of water and occasionally make runs on the shoal. They travel well above the lake's bottom.

If perch begin to bite, chances are you're in a good spot for rainbows because the two are frequently found in the same areas. Bluegills and rainbows, however, seem to have little in common.

Lists of lakes open to winter rainbow fishing may be obtained from the department's Lansing office or any of its district field headquarters. Information and regulations covering other seasons and limits are included in the 1960 Michigan Fish Law Digest.

Fishermen might do well to heed a few tips and warnings by the Conservation Department before making their outings on the ice this winter.

All shanties must be identified on the outside by the owner's name and address. Letters must be of insoluble material and not less than two inches high.

Last winter's deep snow and freezing rains left many shanties firmly anchored in the ice. To avoid the problem this year, it is suggested that fishermen elevate their shanties with blocks of some type. Items used to do this must also be removed when the season ends.

Persons driving their cars on the ice are urged to use extreme caution since they may endanger other fishermen as well as themselves and their riders. Ice should not be taken at "face value", especially when it is to be subjected to the load of an automobile.

Fishermen are advised to be wary of thin ice near shorelines. Discolored ice is one reliable sign of weak areas. Tree branches or other suitable markers should be placed at large, freshly-frozen holes and other danger spots.

Fishermen are warned not to dump debris on the ice. Cans and broken glass left on the ice are washed upon shores during spring breakup, posing a hazard to bathers and causing unnecessary clean-up chores. Persons caught dumping litter on lakes face a $100 fine and/or 90 days in jail.

Cagers Clash Tomorrow

The "up and down" Mustangs will resume cage action tomorrow when they invade West Bloomfield, in a battle for third place in the Wayne-Oakland county league race.

Coach Dutch Van Ingen is confident that his squad can regain the poise it exhibited in nipping the defending W-O champion Bulldogs, 53-52 here last month.

Mustangs Ready for Lakers

The local squad has been practicing almost daily since its last game before the holidays on December 19. It was after that game with Farmington — which Northville won 47-41 — that Van Ingen predicted an improved Northville quieted during the second half of the season.

"If the fellows continue to work, he said, "we should be able to win at West Bloomfield."

Cager of the Week

HUSKY WADE DEAL, Northville's 6' 1" center, is playing his second season as a starter on the Mustang five this season. Coach Dutch Van Ingen switched the 200-pound football star to the center position from guard this year because of his weight. "What he lacks in height," Van Ingen explains, "he makes up with his finesse and ability to hold his own under the basket." Deal, who recently celebrated his 18th birthday, is a member of the student council and the "N" club. He plans to attend either Michigan State university or the University of Michigan next fall where he'll continue his football and basketball careers.

Coach Joe Wilkinson's cagers defeated Willow Run, 35-31, and Plymouth, 61-42, in their first two starts this season. The red-hot freshmen swept through an undefeated 10-0 season last season.

They Greet 1960 Twice

Fifty Echo Valley residents and their guests party'd in the New Year all over again Saturday evening.

Gathering at the one un-tenanted home in the estates, loaned for the occasion by builder Norman G. O'Neill, the party-goers enjoyed a full evening of snacks, dancing and entertainment.

All had high praise for Mrs. Evan

Henschell who took over the job of social chairman when a last-minute mishap cancelled the catering arrangement.

Assisting Mrs. Henschell, who is chairman of the Echo Valley Women's Activity committee, were Mrs. Dave Forshee, Mrs. Douglas Straith, Mrs. J. B. MacKimm, Mrs. Mary E. Buelick and Mrs. Don Pegg.

Husbands pitched in too, says Echo Valley Civic association president, Heinz Hoffmann.

Besides the men who assisted in general preparations were Steve Mikhail and Evan Henschell, in charge of decorations and lighting.

With the success of their past activities, the Echo Valley neighbors have been encouraged to plan future group outings and get-togethers, says Hoffmann.

Group Backs More School Federal Aid, Public Information

Phi Delta Kappa International has asked its top officials to offer informed professional opinions to a public confused by today's school issues.

This decision was reached at the climax of a four-day biennial council ending December 31 at Columbia, Mo.

Representatives of the fraternity's 202 chapters authorized 'the international board and district representatives to speak for the entire membership on certain questions that made the 1950's a decade of "almost constant educational controversy."

Phi Delta Kappa membership includes the nation's leading school teachers, administrators, researchers, and college and university professors.

The move gives a new direction to policy of the 80,000 member, all-male organization, according to Fred Stefanski, who was the official delegate of the Delta Gamma Campus chapter located at Eastern Michigan university.

Stefanski is the assistant principal at Northville high school.

"Stepping immediately into its new role," Stefanski reported, "the council resoundingly approved a proposal to back the Murray-Metcalf Bill for increased federal support for education," the assistant principal said.

The council also established a commission to recommend governmental and other action to combat juvenile delinquency; established a citizen's award to be given to a lay person who makes significant contributions to the cause of free public education; and asked its chapters to organize lay-professional conferences on educational research to promote acceptance of proven new techniques in teaching.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO . . .

The largest field of candidates ever to seek office in Northville will compete for two council seats and the mayor post next April 6.

Ten candidates filed petitions before the Monday deadline.

Two cars collided at the Novi road-Eight Mile intersection on Christmas day, sending a total of 13 persons to the hospital.

Although none were seriously injured, one driver and his eight passengers from Corunna, and the other driver and his three passengers from Walled Lake were treated for cuts and bruises at Atchison Memorial hospital.

Novi village may lose 36.7 acres within its boundaries to Novi township if an effort by Attorney Edmund P. Yerkes to "detach" his 42580 Eight Mile road farmland from the village is successful.

Northville will be in step with communities throughout the nation as the annual March of Dimes campaign gets underway during January.

Heading the local drive is Fred Stefanski, assistant principal of Northville high school.

FIVE YEARS AGO . . .

At a congregational meeting held Sunday morning after the morning service, the Rev. John Otto Taxis, Minister of Education at Bethesda Presbyterian Church of Bethesda, Md., was extended a unanimous call to become the pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Northville, which has been without a pastor since Dr. Fredsell resigned June 30.

The Michigan Supreme Court has handed down a decree sustaining the right of the Northville Sand and Gravel Co. to excavate gravel from approximately 30 acres at the south east corner of W. Seven Mile and Beck roads and a 6-acre tract at the southwest corner of the same roads.

Prospects appear bright for the development of a 250-home subdivision on the Yerkes farm, which adjoins the northeast corner of Northville.

Lee BeGole, Novi police officer, was appointed director of public safety for Novi township, effective Jan. 1, according to Frazer Staman, safety commissioner.

Leo Harwood was installed as president of the Novi Board of Commerce.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO . . .

Tragic war news has once again reached into Northville homes. Information received by relatives here this week lists one Northville boy killed, four wounded in action and another previously listed as missing, listed as dead.

Killed in action were: Pfc. Frank Hunter and 2nd Lt. Elmer R. Kontz. Wounded were: S/Sgt. Elmer Balko, Pfc. Frank Light and Pfc. Earl Sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Denton learned that their son, Capt. C. G. Denton was captured by the Germans and then rescued shortly thereafter in a battle at St. Vith.

An INS story said Denton was tossed into a cellar with other officers of his unit. A German officer took his wrist watch.

"A medic," the story read, "got back to American lines with word of the capture and a rescue mission was sent up. A tank company rolled up to the front door of the command post and blasted away. When the firing was over, the house was gone but the cellar was still there and all the American officers came out."

"The first thing Denton did was walk over to the German with his wrist watch and jerk it away from him."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO . . .

Work was completed last week on the new Pere Marquette viaduct at Phoenix Lake and now all traffic between Northville and Plymouth is on the rebuilt Northville road, which is a part of the Middle Rouge Parkway.

Back home from college for the holidays were: U-M, Russell Atchison, Miss Wilma Rattenbury, Miss Marijane Denne, Robert Power, Robert Cousins and Warner Neal; Michigan State, Misses Martha Keeney and Arline Richardson, Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., Ward Van Atta, Herbert Berendt, and Jack McLoughlin and Elmer Perin.

Eastern Michigan, Misses Gertrude Deal, Bernice Clark and Catherine McKenna, and Ruth Roberts Richard Shipley, Robert Christensen, John Steencken, Paul Steencken, Melvin Sterner, Charles Carington and Kenneth Wilcox.

Chilly blasts and icy streets, that had prevailed for nearly a week, gave way Wednesday and early Thursday to a general thaw.

Naturalist to Speak At Wixom Elementary

Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, will visit the Wixom Elementary School starting at 9 a.m. next Wednesday.

Hopkins will present slides and movies when presenting his lectures entitled "Birds" and "Soils, Rocks and Minerals". He is one of three naturalists on duty at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

The appointment was placed by Miss Ethel Mugler, principal of the Wixom school.

The two best known of the parks of the HCMA are Kensington Metropolitan Park and Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Sliger

If we were to look back over the last decade to select a year of outstanding accomplishment for our area, certainly 1959 would rank high among the 10 years.

And judging from the current trend of events the early years of the new decade will bring developments that will decide anew what the physical, as well as economical, character of our community is to be.

These are exciting and perilous times. They call for great caution and sound judgment on the part of our leaders; understanding and faith by the electorate; and, above all, cooperation between political subdivisions within our community.

I do not believe that the importance of an informed electorate can be over-emphasized. In this area, the newspaper plays a key role. And, to the best of our ability, we intend to keep our readers "posted". Sometimes, in the informality of a column like this, it is easier to relate problems and the manner in which officials are trying to solve them.

Often before something becomes "news" the trend of the times can be better fashioned with the help of public opinion.

Thus it is our new year pledge to try extra hard in 1960 to report these trends. In turn it is hoped that our citizens will help mold the future by offering encouragement and/or criticism to our elected and appointed officials who must struggle with these important problems of growth.

Looking back quickly over the past year we can cite many accomplishments that substantiate the activity of the year:

— after passing a $300,000 water system improvement bond the city has completed the project with the exception of the erection of an elevated storage tower;

— North Center, South Wing, First, Fairbrook and Novi streets were paved;

— the city's "sanitary-fill", long a problem plaguing both city and township, has been fenced and placed under caretaker control;

— a busy council has passed a sidewalk ordinance, readied an all-important special assessment ordinance for consideration and is in the final study-stages of a new zoning ordinance prepared by the planning commission;

— Northville Downs has embarked upon two million dollar improvement program with an enlarged oval, new lights and many new barns in the track area;

— the school system opened a new two million dollar high school, remodeled the old high school for junior high use and is now "settling down" in its new facilities by reviewing suggestions for improvements and expansions in its programs of study;

— city-school leaders have "ironed-out" problems involving the Community Building and will take their solution to the voters this June for settlement;

— Novi, soon after becoming a village in late 1958, hired a manager and tackled the difficulties always associated with establishing a new government; already the sprawling area has adopted a zoning ordinance and formed 100-member citizens' development committee.

There have been many more worthwhile accomplishments in the Northville-Nowi area in recent months, but of more importance now is what lies ahead.

Without aggravation from either side Northville and Novi are again peering at one another over annexation actions.

This spring will almost certainly see an election to annex 255 acres of Novi village and township land north of Baseline between Beck road and the city limits just west of Taft road.

The move to gain admittance to the city was started by residents of Northville Estates and must be considered a direct result of Novi incorporation action last year.

And while the Northville Estates annexation attempt has developed into a reality, a new wide-sweeping annexation move extending northward along Beck road to 9½-mile and east to Haggerty is being contemplated.

While the feasibility of such a large detachment from Novi is doubted by many, it is being strongly advocated by major landowners in the area.

Problems? Yes, there are problems connected to this network of plans that still remain to be realized.

It should, I believe, be considered worthwhile for Northville and Novi officials to sit down informally and discuss what is happening and why.

If Khrushchev and Eisenhower can bring the serious problems existing between our two nations to the top of the table, it seems reasonable that Northville and Novi should be able to do likewise.

Development of the bare acreage between Northville and Novi is dependent to a great extent upon the cooperation displayed between our officials. It can be retarded or excelled almost at their will.

Many similar problems of mutual interest loom between Northville township and city. Our present officials have already recognized this to some degree. Instead of talking in private circles about "what must eventually be", they believe the time has arrived for concrete planning by committees charged with authority.

In review, it should be apparent 1960 will be interesting indeed. By June we'll have elections on annexation, Community building purchase, a new seven-member school board (see page one) and, perhaps, a second Northville-Nowi annexation.

There will be plenty to write about.

It's Getting Tougher to Provide College Education

Have you a child, a relative or a young person in whom you are very interested? If so, you are doing less than your best for him unless you spend some time right now thinking about his college education.

Training beyond the high school level will become more and more of a problem for Michigan's people in the immediate future because of two factors. First, the population is growing at a rapid rate. W. M. Kiplinger in his "Boom and Inglation Ahead," estimates that Michigan will grow 43%, or some 3,157,000 people by 1970. Second, a steady increase in the percentage of young people attending college exists so that we have a higher percentage of a larger number enrolling.

College education takes money and public supported institutions require an ever increasing amount of it. Since this is the case, those interested in seeing their young people educated should be interested in knowing the financial problems involved.

There are very few who state they oppose college training, but there are those who think that too much money is spent on education. To evaluate this type of criticism each person needs to know facts of the situation. Listed below are some of the more common questions university administrators are asked with the answers they give.

It can be stated too, that university officials prefer to be asked questions about why things are done as they are done. An opportunity to answer precludes misunderstanding and the spreading of inaccurate information.

Why does the state operate colleges and universities?

Advanced education is made available by the state in the long held belief that such training benefits not only the individual, but all society.

Why do you build athletic facilities but not classrooms?

Athletic facilities can be built with little financial difficulty because they produce income. Profit from football, and basketball, the only other college sport that sometimes pays its way, is used to finance other physical training: baseball, track, swimming, fencing, golf, tennis and intramural sports. Such building permits an institution to offer better physical training for the entire student body than would otherwise be possible.

Why don't you raise tuition?

If the public supports the principle that education should be available to all at little or no cost, care must be taken that tuition costs do not automatically eliminate many students who come from poor families. In addition, the state and individuals in the state benefit in several ways from its colleges without direct cost. Research conducted at state institutions has proved of immense value. Institutions offer direct public service that is constantly used by Michigan's citizens and organizations.

How much does it cost for a student to spend a year in college?

A student needs between $1,200 and $2,000 per year, depending on his living level and the courses studied.

How much of the institutional expense is borne by the student?

Student fees make up about 20% of a university or college income. The state appropriates about 75%. The other 5% is made up of charges for services, utilities and incidental income.

Why do so many students drive cars?

This is a common question for university administrators. In answer they point out that a car is no longer a luxury, but often an economic necessity. More students live off campus than ever, driving from home to classes. A higher percentage are married. A substantial number of students must drive to work after classes or for the week end. There is less and less public transportation, so, remind college officials, if a student is to get around, he must have his own transportation.

Are buildings built "at no expense to the public" operated at no expense to the public?

That depends on the building. Dormitories, which are self liquidating, pay their own utility and maintenance. Buildings donated for institutional use are maintained at state expense.

Why aren't classrooms built on a self liquidating basis?

The understanding which existed over the years is that the legislature would provide money for operating expenses or capital expense and specify which is to be used for which. In general, student fees augmented by legislative grants have been used for operating. The state financial situation being what it is, there has been very little appropriated for buildings.

The legislature while not able to provide for capital needs, has not been able to come up with plans where the institutions can make long term commitments for loans to be repaid from student fees. Universities are unable to proceed without definite agreement for fear of making commitments which they cannot live up to.

There is much thinking about ways to solve this dilemma so that buildings can be built soon as they must be if campuses are to accommodate the growing student bodies.

Are buildings unnecessarily lush?

There is always room for argument on this point. Administrators take a firm stand that buildings are built economically as possible; to last a long time and be maintained for as little as possible. Some of the buildings approaching and over a century old support this claim. Visitors sometimes think a building "too fancy", but to reach a conclusion based on fact requires more than a superficial look.

Higher education is a problem which will become more acute. Educators have long urged that more people become more concerned with it. For the most part the public has been dealing with more immediate if not more pressing problems.

But time is going by, and if Michigan's young people are to receive the kind of education our position in the world demands, there must be some changes in the institutions which are to provide that education.

Best Anti-Inflation Buys

Babson Park, Mass. I don't see how buying Dow-Jones common stocks now can be a hedge against inflation. This is not to say that they may not go higher; but these stocks are already too inflated to be bought as "inflation hedges" by intelligent people.

Requirements for an Inflation Hedge

First, good inflation hedge characteristics must be based upon tangible and marketable assets and not on "good will" or temporary earnings. Second, these tangible assets should be land or natural resources such as oil, gas, minerals, water power, or woodlands. These usually go up in price as the dollar goes down in value. This assumes fair taxation and no harmful legislation. There is no hedge against an opportunistic Congress or a Communist government which takes title to private property without fair recompense.

Theoretically it would be wise for readers to go into debt and borrow money now, provided they made sure they would have the cash to pay the interest on the loan and pay up the loan at maturity. Otherwise, instead of making money, they could be wiped out completely.

If it is wise to borrow now in order to pay up with depreciated dollars later, then it is unwise to loan money now. This means: Don't buy new long non-convertible bonds or preferreds unless you plan to sell soon. They are not now a safe "permanent investment."

What About Life Insurance?

In a general way this reasoning applies to most life insurance policies if you buy today and then live twenty years or more while the value of the dollar declines. Actually, you should probably buy, say, double what you ordinarily would, to be sure of having the money to pay the premiums over the twenty or more years.

The insurance feature, of course, may offset the risk of inflation—your family could get a big sum if you should die within a year. Hence, I believe in simple life insurance, with no endowments or frills.

What About Stocks?

Neither railroad nor utility common stocks should be bought as inflation hedges because, during an inflationary era, operating costs could go up so that dividends would be reduced. At best, net earnings would lag behind any rise in rates; and most railroad stocks should be avoided for other reasons also.

Don't depend upon the most popular stocks of today. Fashions in stocks change as quickly as fashions in dress. A popular stock today is usually not a good inflation hedge. For reasons, write my friend Mr. Humphrey Neill, the great contrarian of Saxton's River, Vermont.

Companies With Large Acreage

Most industrial stocks are poor inflation hedges, as already indicated. However, industrials with large land or natural reserves or other tangible holdings should be the best of the industrials. The most sought after by wise investors are those with good managements—plus heavy depreciation charges and sufficient working capital.

I am not acquainted with all of Central America; but I once owned and operated a school in Guatemala City. Hence, I know of the constructive work of the United Fruit Co., which has grown to great importance with reportedly the largest acreage in the Americas, having sunshine, water, and a long growing season. It raises not only the finest bananas, but also cocoa, palm oil, cattle, and timber. The Company has a fleet of sixty steamships, oil reserves in Colombia, and large net current assets, excluding railways, buildings, and a complete wireless system. United Fruit stock, however, is only one such: there are several good industrials with large acreage. And land—whether the lot next to you or lands in other parts of America—should be the best hedges against inflation.

WHEE — David King didn't have to bail out of a plane to pull the ripcord of a parachute. He had his chance to do this and get a first-hand look at army jets recently when he and his sister, Beth, were special guests of the 127th air national guard wing based at Wayne Major airport. Major John Moutier, pilot whose jet crashed into the Kings' backyard injuring David and Beth last May, is shown holding the chute while David pulls the cord. Beth, 4, is shown enjoying the fun with her sister, Patricia (at right), and parents, Police Chief Eugene and Mrs. King. Behind David is his seven-year-old brother, Greg. The Kings were the guests of Col. Erick W. Kyro. Following dinner at the air terminal they were taken on a tour of the base. David and Beth still bear marks of the crash which sprayed flaming fuel over their bodies as they played in their South Rogers street backyard. Beth must undergo more surgery.

40 Years Later...

Forty years ago our fuel delivery system consisted of a wagon and two horses. Quite the thing in those days. Then, down through the years we improved our customer service until today, we have expanded our delivery system to a total of 12 Fuel Oil trucks. The second photo above was taken at our Bulk Plant in Northville. Forty years have passed and it is evident that we have expanded, increased our knowledge about Fuel Oil, and produced more services for satisfied customers. Why not call us today... let us take care of your fuel oil needs.

is designed with you, the householder in mind. During December, January and February the average home will use 57.7 percent of the entire heating cost. In just three short months you are consuming more fuel than during the other nine months of the year. Remember that Christmas bills, added doctor bills, car repairs, licenses, and insurance are always more prevalent during these months.

Therefore, the solution rests with the ELY INSURED BALANCED PAYMENT PLAN. We sincerely feel that paying as low as 8 percent of your entire heating bill during the month of January is much more advantageous than the high of 19.3 percent.

All the time you are making your regular monthly payments YOU ARE INSURED. SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Sliger

If we were to look back over the last decade to select a year of outstanding accomplishment for our area, certainly 1959 would rank high among the 10 years.

And judging from the current trend of events the early years of the new decade will bring developments that will decide anew what the physical, as well as economical, character of our community is to be.

These are exciting and perilous times. They call for great caution and sound judgment on the part of our leaders; understanding and faith by the electorate; and, above all, cooperation between political subdivisions within our community.

I do not believe that the importance of an informed electorate can be over-emphasized. In this area, the newspaper plays a key role. And, to the best of our ability, we intend to keep our readers "posted". Sometimes, in the informality of a column like this, it is easier to relate problems and the manner in which officials are trying to solve them.

Often before something becomes "news" the trend of the times can be better fashioned with the help of public opinion.

Thus it is our new year pledge to try extra hard in 1960 to report these trends. In turn it is hoped that our citizens will help mold the future by offering encouragement and/or criticism to our elected, and appointed officials who must struggle with these important problems of growth.

Looking back quickly over the past year we can cite many accomplishments that substantiate the activity of the year:

— after passing a $300,000 water system improvement bond the city has completed the project with the exception of the erection of an elevated storage tower;

— North Center, South Wing, First, Fairbrook and Novi streets were paved;

— the city's "sanitary-fill", long a problem plaguing both city and township, has been fenced and placed under caretaker control;

— a busy council has passed a sidewalk ordinance, readied an all-important special assessment ordinance for consideration and is in the final study-stages of a new zoning ordinance prepared by the planning commission;

— Northville Downs has embarked upon two million dollar improvement program with an enlarged oval, new lights and many new barns in the track area;

— the school system opened a new two million dollar high school, remodeled the old high school for junior high use and is now "settling down" in its new facilities by reviewing suggestions for improvements and expansions in its programs of study;

— city-school leaders have "ironed-out" problems involving the Community Building and will take their solution to the voters this June for settlement;

— Novi, soon after becoming a village in late 1958, hired a manager and tackled the difficulties always associated with establishing a new government; already the sprawling area has adopted a zoning ordinance and formed 100-member citizens' development committee.

There have been many more worthwhile accomplishments in the Northville- Novi area in recent months, but of more importance now is what lies ahead.

Without aggravation from either side Northville and Novi are again peering at one another over annexation actions.

This spring will almost certainly see an election to annex 255 acres of Novi village and township land north of Baseline between Beck road and the city limits just west of Taft road.

The move to gain admittance to the city was started by residents of Northville Estates and must be considered a direct result of Novi incorporation action last year.

And while the Northville Estates annexation attempt has developed into a reality, a new wide-sweeping annexation move extending northward along Beck road to 9½-mile and east to Haggerty is being contemplated.

While the feasibility of such a large detachment from Novi is doubted by many, it is being strongly advocated by major landowners in the area.

Problems? Yes, there are problems connected to this network of plans that still remain to be realized.

It should, I believe, be considered worthwhile for Northville and Novi officials to sit down informally and discuss what is happening and why.

If Khrushchev and Eisenhower can bring the serious problems existing between our two nations to the top of the table, it seems reasonable that Northville and Novi should be able to do likewise.

Development of the bare acreage between Northville and Novi is dependent to a great extent upon the cooperation displayed between our officials. It can be retarded or excelled almost at their will.

Many similar problems of mutual interest loom between Northville township and city. Our present officials have already recognized this to some degree. Instead of talking in private circles about "what must eventually be", they believe the time has arrived for concrete planning by committees charged with authority.

In review, it should be apparent 1960 will be interesting indeed. By June we'll have elections on annexation, Community building purchase, a new seven-member school board (see page one) and, perhaps, a second Northville- Novi annexation.

There will be plenty to write about.

It's Getting Tougher to Provide College Education

Have you a child, a relative or a young person in whom you are very interested? If so, you are doing less than your best for him unless you spend some time right now thinking about his college education.

Training beyond the high school level will become more and more of a problem for Michigan's people in the immediate future because of two factors. First, the population is growing at a rapid rate. W. M. Kiplinger in his "Boom and Inglation Ahead," estimates that Michigan will grow 43%, or some 3,157,000 people by 1970. Second, a steady increase in the percentage of young people attending college exists so that we have a higher percentage of a larger number enrolling.

College education takes money and public supported institutions require an ever increasing amount of it. Since this is the case, those interested in seeing their young people educated should be interested in knowing the financial problems involved.

There are very few who state they oppose college training, but there are those who think that too much money is spent on education. To evaluate this type of criticism each person needs to know facts of the situation. Listed below are some of the more common questions university administrators are asked with the answers they give.

It can be stated too, that university officials prefer to be asked questions about why things are done as they are done. An opportunity to answer precludes misunderstanding and the spreading of inaccurate information.

Why does the state operate colleges and universities?

Advanced education is made available by the state in the long held belief that such training benefits not only the individual, but all society.

Why do you build athletic facilities but not classrooms?

Athletic facilities can be built with little financial difficulty because they produce income. Profit from football, and basketball, the only other college sport that sometimes pays its way, is used to finance other physical training: baseball, track, swimming, fencing, golf, tennis and intramural sports. Such building permits an institution to offer better physical training for the entire student body than would otherwise be possible.

Why don't you raise tuition?

If the public supports the principle that education should be available to all at little or no cost, care must be taken that tuition costs do not automatically eliminate many students who come from poor families. In addition, the state and individuals in the state benefit in several ways from its colleges without direct cost. Research conducted at state institutions has proved of immense value. Institutions offer direct public service that is constantly used by Michigan's citizens and organizations.

How much does it cost for a student to spend a year in college?

A student needs between $1,200 and $2,000 per year, depending on his living level and the courses studied.

How much of the institutional expense is borne by the student?

Student fees make up about 20% of a university or college income. The state appropriates about 75%. The other 5% is made up of charges for services, utilities and incidental income.

Why do so many students drive cars?

This is a common question for university administrators. In answer they point out that a car is no longer a luxury, but often an economic necessity. More students live off campus than ever, driving from home to classes. A higher percentage are married. A substantial number of students must drive to work after classes or for the week end. There is less and less public transportation, so, remind college officials, if a student is to get around, he must have his own transportation.

Are buildings built "at no expense to the public" operated at no expense to the public?

That depends on the building. Dormitories, which are self liquidating, pay their own utility and maintenance. Buildings donated for institutional use are maintained at state expense.

Why aren't classrooms built on a self liquidating basis?

The understanding which existed over the years is that the legislature would provide money for operating expenses or capital expense and specify which is to be used for which. In general, student fees augmented by legislative grants have been used for operating. The state financial situation being what it is, there has been very little appropriated for buildings.

The legislature while not able to provide for capital needs, has not been able to come up with plans where the institutions can make long term commitments for loans to be repaid from student fees. Universities are unable to proceed without definite agreement for fear of making commitments which they cannot live up to.

There is much thinking about ways to solve this dilemma so that buildings can be built soon as they must be if campuses are to accommodate the growing student bodies.

Are buildings unnecessarily lush?

There is always room for argument on this point. Administrators take a firm stand that buildings are built economically as possible; to last a long time and be maintained for as little as possible. Some of the buildings approaching and over a century old support this claim. Visitors sometimes think a building "too fancy", but to reach a conclusion based on fact requires more than a superficial look.

Higher education is a problem which will become more acute. Educators have long urged that more people become more concerned with it. For the most part the public has been dealing with more immediate if not more pressing problems.

But time is going by, and if Michigan's young people are to receive the kind of education our position in the world demands, there must be some changes in the institutions which are to provide that education.

40 Years Later...

Forty years ago our fuel delivery system consisted of a wagon and two horses. Quite the thing in those days. Then, down through the years we improved our customer service until today, we have expanded our delivery system to a total of 12 Fuel Oil trucks. The second photo above was taken at our Bulk Plant in Northville. Forty years have passed and it is evident that we have expanded, increased our knowledge about Fuel Oil, and produced more services for satisfied customers. Why not call us today... let us take care of your fuel oil needs.

Ely's Insured Balanced Payment Plan...

...is designed with you, the householder in mind. During December, January and February the average home will use 577 percent of the entire heating cost. In just three short months you are consuming more fuel than during the other nine months of the year. Remember that Christmas bills, added doctor bills, car repairs, licenses, and insurance are always more prevalent during these months.

Therefore, the solution rests with the ELY INSURED BALANCED PAYMENT PLAN. We sincerely feel that paying as low as 8 percent of your entire heating bill during the month of January is much more advantageous than the high of 19.3 percent.

All the time you are making your regular monthly payments YOU ARE INSURED. Yes, in the event the person who is making the payments dies or is killed during the period of his Balanced Payments the residence of the deceased will be furnished with fuel for the remainder of the heating season and any remaining oil payments will be paid by us. For CLEAN, DEPENDABLE MOBILHEAT fuel oil purchased the modern convenient way, try the ELY INSURED BALANCED PAYMENT PLAN.

WHEE — David King didn't have to bail out of a plane to pull the ripcord of a parachute. He had his chance to do this and get a first-hand look at army jets recently when he and his sister, Beth, were special guests of the 127th air national guard wing based at Wayne Major airport. Major John Moutier, pilot whose jet crashed into the Kings' backyard injuring David and Beth last May, is shown holding the chute while David pulls the cord. Beth, 4, is shown enjoying the fun with her sister, Patricia (at right), and parents, Police Chief Eugene and Mrs. King. Behind David is his seven-year-old brother, Greg. The Kings were the guests of Col. Erick W. Kyro. Following dinner at the air terminal they were taken on a tour of the base. David and Beth still bear marks of the crash which sprayed flaming fuel over their bodies as they played in their South Rogers street backyard. Beth must undergo more surgery.

READERS SPEAK:

Good Work, Chief

To The Editor:

The "Citizen" who wrote in regard to the recent upset in the police department seems to be like many disgruntled persons in our community. Just because the officer had many credits to his name doesn't give him the right to pull little tricks. Many good officers have lost their position because of "foolish mistakes". To me an officer should always be on his guard and best behavior. People are constantly watching them for those little mistakes. If one officer on the force can "smart out" at the Chief, why shouldn't all the officers try it? It could be quite a mess, couldn't it?

Northville, as a city, needs many more people with "backbone" and "nerves of steel" to speak up for right.

There are many organizations in Northville that could use some "speaking up" and reorganization. The Police Dept. is a good place to start.

This is just one small voice saying "Congratulations Chief King" for even daring to speak up against the angry people of Northville. They can be rough on you but stick to your guns. There are many of us who give you more credit than you will ever know. Northville needs more people like you.

THE MORAL LAW

I would like to begin a series this week on the Moral Law of God as found in the Ten Commandments. We shall be writing on each of the commandments during the next 10 weeks, so I trust you'll follow closely. They are found in two places in the Bible. In Exodus 20 and Deuteronomy 5. These commandments were first given to Israel at Mt. Sinai. The penalty for breaking any of these laws was death. Now since there has been a change in the dispensation and since we are not under Theocratic rule as was Israel, the penalty is no longer being carried out in this life for infractions of the majority of the moral law. However, the breaking of the moral law is charged up against the violator who will one day face these crimes before God in judgment. My purpose in writing this series is to refresh your minds as to the meaning of the moral law. In so doing we will have a clearer conception of what God demands by way of righteousness and what He classifies as sin. Our attempts to keep the law will never give us right standing with God. It will show us how sinful we are and lead us to see our need of a Saviour.
