

County Got its Name from 'Mad Anthony' Wayne

NOTE: News Editor Jack Hoffman follows his articles on Novi and Wixom with a series concerning the early history of Northville. This is the first dealing with events leading up to the creation of the township.

Just as Dwight Eisenhower returned a hero after World War II, another general, dubbed "Mad Anthony Wayne", captured the hearts of Detroit citizens when he toured that rapidly growing frontier in 1796.

One year before his triumphant entry into Detroit, "Mad Anthony" (so called because of his gallant storming of Stony Point in 1799) almost single-handedly ended the bloody Indian wars of the midwest.

When the last chief had affixed his signature to the treaty that hot summer day at Greenville, Ohio in 1795, the Indians ceded the southeastern corner of the Northwest territory, together with 16 settlements including Chicago and Detroit.

The treaty was a victory. And the citizens of the United States, particularly in the frontiers of the midwest, viewed the victory as Wayne's personal triumph. Thus, when Winthrop Sargeant, secretary of the territory, and acting governor, established the county of Wayne by proclamation on August 15, 1796, his action drew wide popular support.

General Wayne, after leaving the Detroit area to report to President Washington, wrote a letter to the "Cure and inhabitants of the community". It read in part:

"I will with much pleasure, communicate to the president the warm sentiments of zeal and attachment which you have expressed toward the government of the United States; and I cannot permit myself to depart hence without assuring you that I shall always take a peculiar interest in whatever may contribute to promote the happiness and prosperity of the country to which my name has the honor to be attached."

The first boundaries of the county of Wayne included all of Michigan and parts of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. It contained an area of 75,000 square miles including the sites of Milwaukee and Chicago.

After numerous boundary changes between 1796 and 1822, Governor Cass established the present limits by proclamation on September 10, 1822.

The financial affairs of the new county were managed by three county commissioners appointed by the Court of Quarter Sessions. In 1818, the governor became the appointing power. Seven years later, the office was made elective.

Duties of the county commissioners were transferred to a board of supervisors in 1842. This body was authorized to examine, settle and allow all accounts and estimate the yearly expenses of the county. It was also authorized to repair county buildings, and to offer bounties for the killing of wolves and panthers. The supervisors were paid $1.00—later $2.00, and still later, $3.00 for each of the eight days of their sessions.

Wayne Townships

As provided under the Northwest Territory law of 1790, four townships were created within the county in 1798. They were, Detroit, Mackinaw, Sargeant and Hamtramck.

Wayne county was not entirely divided into townships until its present boundaries were established. Simultaneously, with the creation of the board of supervisors, on April 12, 1827, boundaries for the following townships were laid out: Detroit, Springwells, Hamtramck, Monguagon, Brownstown, Plymouth, Ecorse, Huron and Bucklin. The latter township went out of existence with the establishment of Nankin and Pekin in 1829. Pekin was later changed to Redford, and Dearborn was created out of part of Pekin.

Soon these townships were added: Greenfield, Canton, Livonia, Romulus, Van Buren, Sumpter, Taylor. Romulus was later renamed Wayne.

Plymouth Township

Plymouth township, according to historians, was named in honor of the first American settlement at Plymouth Rock by William Bartow, who located on section one in 1826. As originally created in February 1827, this township included all of what is now called Northville, Canton and Plymouth townships.

For several years, the northern half of the township was called Plymouth, and the south—

Annex Signatures OK; Election Date Awaited

Signatures on the petitions requesting an election to annex Northville Estates have been declared valid by Secretary of State officials, who inspected registration rolls in Northville and the township and village of Novi this week.

More than casual interest is now centered on the date of the election. Officials indicated that the date would be announced "within two weeks".

Because of the national census which officially begins April 1, Northville officials have expressed hope that the election would be held soon enough to have the population counted in the city, if the annexation is passed. In tax returns from the state the city should gain as much as $11 per person.

If it is necessary that the election be completed by April 1 to have the population credited (officials have not made this clear), then the election date would have to be announced within a week. Approximately 40 days are required to complete proper registration and election notices.

Specifically, the petitions request that an election be called in Northville and Novi to permit Northville Estates, a 120-acre subdivision in Novi township, and a 135-acre parcel in the village of Novi connecting the subdivision to the city limits, to become a part of the city of Northville.

The action was initiated by the Northville Estates Civic association.

The village section is included in annexation plans because it provides the connection to the Northville city limits necessary to gain admittance. It lies directly east of Northville Estates on Baseline and joins the city limits at a point 1,000 feet west of Taft road on Baseline.

All Kinds of Valentines

Sunday sweethearts will exchange gifts and affectionate cards, youngsters will give Mommy a school-made remembrance, and Dad will get up and prepare breakfast (?) and give his wife a fond embrace.

Why all the fuss? It's St. Valentine's Day, of course.

Historians aren't certain how it all began.

The name comes from three different martyrs whose feast day falls on February 14.

One Saint Valentine was a Roman priest and doctor who was beheaded about A.D. 269. The second, a bishop who is said to have been beheaded in Rome about A.D. 273, while the third was a little-known martyr in Africa.

The custom of the day seems to have no connection with the lives of these saints, excepting their feast day. The most reasonable explanation for the custom of exchanging cards of greeting and love is that Saint Valentine's Day is a survival of a February 15 Roman festival.

Whatever the reason, the habit has taken on new twists through the years — particularly in the content and style of Valentine cards.

The oldest known designs — dating back to 1790 — were frilly and heart-shaped and affectionate.

The first comic cards appeared about 1895. Gradually, Valentine cards have fallen into four categories: the traditional, conventional, humorous or contemporary or "studio".

The latter express affection in a negative manner — by being downright insulting!

According to Carl and Jean Johnson, who make a business of selling greeting cards at Johnson's Gift Shop, there's a marked trend toward returning to the old, frilly "traditional" card.

The conventional card is still the best seller, however. And, believe it or not, women are the top buyers of the new contemporary cards.

"Men are most apt to buy the traditional cards with affectionate phrases," Mrs. Johnson reveals.

Typical of the messages contained on the different card categories are:

TRADITIONAL —

Darling, there are many I keep within my heart, Fond memories of the happiness we've shared from the start, Memories of good times we've had, The thoughtfulness you've shown, And all the special pride I feel, Because you're mine alone.

CONVENTIONAL —

You can be very certain That this little Valentine Has lots of special thoughts of you Tucked into every line.

HUMOROUS —

The day that I metcha I sure was in luck 'Cause jeppers withoutcha I'd be a dead duck (picture of dead duck inside card).

CONTEMPORARY — (which shows a train conductor on outside)

The next train leaves in ten minutes (then on the inside of the card) Be under it!

Such affection could only come with true love.

BEST OF ALL—Traditional, conventional, humorous or contemporary —there's no substitute for this expression of affection. The lucky mother getting her Valentine gift early is Mrs. Douglas Simpson with Randy and Kathy.

20 Named To City Hall Committee

A 20-member committee will meet Tuesday night in an organizational session to launch a study for the proposed new city hall.

The members were selected Monday night by city councilmen. Specifically, the committee will be asked to:

- review the needs for a new city hall;
- express suggestions as to location;
- express preference as to design;
- determine the facilities that should be included in a new city hall;
- estimate the cost of the project.

The committee will be asked to complete its assignment by May 1.

The entire study of the committee is founded on the supposition that the city will sell the community building to the school district for an estimated $145,000.

The proposal will be placed on the June school board election. To acquire the building, the school board must first obtain approval of voters in the school district. The council does not need voter-approval to sell the building.

Unanimous in its opinion that a new city hall is badly needed, the council is anxious to build a strong case for its proposed use of the funds in the event the community building is sold.

Tuesday night City Manager John Robertson will meet with the committee to outline its functions. The committee will then elect its own officers and set a schedule of meeting nights.

While the council has drawn a specific schedule for the committee to follow (earmarking the money for city hall use only), it has not indicated that the proposed building must necessarily be new. Various councilmen have speculated in the past of the possibility of purchasing the Detroit Edison building for municipal offices.

Just how complete the building is to be is also a matter for the committee to study. Cost will undoubtedly determine whether the building is to include facilities for a fire department, jail, etc.

Members invited to serve on the committee are: Charles McDonald, E. H. Smith, Robert Miller, John Kellogg, Clayton Myers, Mrs. Stuart Campbell, Alton Peters, Del Hahn, Sidney Frid, Charles Altman, Mrs. James Green, Mrs. William Milne, Paul Palmer, Al Smith, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, Wilson Funk, William Davis, George Kohs, Mrs. Harry Wagenschutz and Paul Folino.

Many of the members have held public office in the city or served on other community committees. They were chosen to give representation to all sections of the city.

Tuesday's meeting will be held at the city hall at 8 p.m.

Two Escape Injury As Car Crashes Into Gas Station

William L. Green and Bill Asher may not be very happy today, but no one will say they're not lucky.

A series of chance circumstances probably saved their lives when Green's pickup truck smashed into a gas pump at Asher's Rogers street service station Monday evening.

The pump, torn from the ground by the impact, burst into flames. Although damage to the pumps and a light will come to about $1500, according to Asher, both men, who were just feet away from the blaze, escaped serious injury.

Police report that witnesses told them Green drove up the service drive at about 30 miles an hour, sideswiped one set of pumps and careened into another, knocking it down.

Before the truck crashed, bystanders said, Green fell out. The driverless vehicle narrowly missed hitting Asher, who suffered minor cuts and scratches when it brushed him as he jumped out of its path.

Northville firemen quickly extinguished the flames. Fire damage to the truck was reported extensive. One pump and light had to be removed from the gas station, Asher said.

Green was taken unconscious to Community General hospital, but released later Monday night.

Attending physician Dr. L. W. Snow indicated, police said, that Green was asphyxiated. Police found that the truck had a faulty muffler, but also reported that a window in the truck was broken before the crash, allowing ventilation.

Green, who resides at 8762 Napier road, will be tried Monday morning before Judge E. M. Bogart.

LETTER FROM VICE-PRESIDENT — Thirteen-year-old Chuck Hummel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hummel, was a mighty surprised and proud boy last week when he received an answer to a letter he wrote to Vice-President Richard Nixon as part of a classroom project. Chuck shows his teacher, Michael Abbott, the letter in the picture above. Chuck had asked the Vice-President what he thought of a possible world-wide government similar to the United Nations. Two other boys in Chuck's class, Artie Forth and Forrest Mallette, wrote similar letters to President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev. Eisenhower did not reply personally, but sent some literature on the subject. Khrushchev has not answered. To see what Nixon had to say, turn to page 12.

Appoint Huston Butler To Police Department

The appointment of Huston Butler to fill a vacancy on the Northville police department was announced this week by Chief Eugene King.

Butler, 27, is a lifelong resident of Northville and served as a sergeant in the air force "air police" division.

He brings the department force back to six members.

Butler was chosen from 31 applicants, 23 of whom took written and oral examinations for the post. In examination results, Butler topped the list.

A graduate of Northville high school class of 1950, Butler is married and has three children. He and his wife, Carolyn, live on East Eight Mile road with their children, Stephanie 4½, Stephen 3 and Todd, 19 months.

For the past three years Butler has been a salesman for Schrader's Home Furnishings.

He will join the department on February 29.

Mothers' March Tops Last Total Despite Handicaps

Despite fog and flu, Northville mothers managed to top last year's collection for the New March of Dimes.

Mothers' March Chairman Mrs. Donald E. Robinson said solicitors had hoped for a better response, but added that "considering everything, we think we were lucky to do as well as we did."

Contributions totaled $1,078.78. Last year, Mothers' March collections netted $1,061.31.

The flu laid low eight mothers on the door-to-door team. Also, Mrs. Robinson said, the fog prevented doubling-back to call again on residents who were not at home, and made car routes in the township hard to cover.

A number of residents were out, attending public events, she said.

Due to expansion of the National Foundation's research and patient aid programs, driver leaders were hoping for a significant increase in donations.

This year, the New March of Dimes will go for arthritis and birth defects as well as polio aid.

Envelopes were left where residents were away. These are to be mailed with contributions, to Detroit headquarters.

Householders had a generally favorable response to the questionnaires presented by the Mothers.

These asked for family records of polio, arthritis or birth defects.

4 Band Students Win Top Honors

Four Northville high school students, who copped top honors at a district band ensemble Saturday, will compete in the state finals this spring.

The students, Sam Chizmar, Judy Gazlay, Karen Hill and Leslie Sheehan, won the right to compete in the finals at East Lansing by winning "number 1" ratings at the Michigan Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Wayne State university.

Chizmar was tops in a flute solo; Chizmar, Miss Sheehan and Miss Gazlay tops in flute trio; and Chizmar and Karen Hill tops in the bassoon-flute duet.

Nelson Havenstein, flute instructor at the University of Michigan, judged the flute solo event, and E. S. Kirk of Michigan State university judged the other two events.

Dates for the state finals have not been announced.

Miss Choquet, outspoken critic of the village government, indicated that "more than enough" signatures had been obtained to meet the legal requirement.

The petitions must contain signatures of at least one-quarter (about 450) of legal voters before they can be recognized by the council.

News Around Northville

Miss Ruth Knapp and companion, Miss Beatrice Camp of Ann Arbor, returned last week from a month's vacation in Hawaii. They flew to the west coast and sailed aboard the S.S. Matsonia, arriving in time to spend Christmas in Hawaii. During their stay they visited each of the islands and witnessed the eruption of the Krakatoa volcano.

Mrs. Crispin Hammond of Timberlane left Tuesday for a few days' visit with friends and relatives in Cleveland and Conneaut, Ohio.

Sixteen Northville families enjoyed an evening of square dancing Saturday at the community building. Everyone had a lively time, from two Grandmas right down to the youngest guest, a shade under one year.

Mrs. John Blackburn of Orchard drive was feted Sunday at a surprise birthday dinner given by her family. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Blackburn's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfe, and daughter, Priscilla, now teaching in Owosso. Also attending were daughters Gail Scheffer and Suzanne Young and their husbands.

The Roy Stones and son, Corky, left yesterday for a month's vacation in Hawaii. They expect to visit three of the islands. This is their first trip to the 50th state.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Straus of Beck road will join 15 couples in their square dance club Saturday for a Valentine potluck and square dance party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson of Detroit.

Don Merritt, Northville real estate agent, is still a patient at Community General hospital. Doctors report that is coming along nicely.

Area Workers Attend Cancer Training Session

Mrs. L. M. Eaton, Northville branch chairman of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, and Mrs. Oscar Hammond, service chairman in Northville, attended a bi-monthly training meeting of the western Wayne county unit last Thursday at the Livonia office located in the Newburg school.

Edward Tuescher, executive vice president of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, explained the change from the American Cancer Society, and the continued research and service. Other members of the Foundation staff bringing information were: Mrs. Bob Adams, administrative assistant; Mrs. Winifred Brand, director of public information; Mark Entorf, director of public education; Carol Ruppel, director of service; Ray Smart, director of field service, and his staff.

Mrs. Hammond is asking for white cloth salvage, old sheets, pillow cases, table cloths or napkins, to be used in making cancer pads. Northville, working through the Plymouth office, provides pads and equipment for cancer patients. Other services, such as transportation, visiting nurse and information may be obtained by calling Mrs. L. M. Eaton, FI-9-1707.

Mrs. Wilbur Johnston, public education chairman of the Northville branch, is sending literature and cards to all known organizations in Northville, informing them of the change from the American Cancer Society to Michigan Cancer Foundation in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. She urges the use of films on cancer control in programs of clubs, industry and school classes.

In April there will be an education crusade, but the Michigan Cancer Foundation is included in the United Foundation Torch Drive and makes no independent drive for funds.

Garden and Woman's Clubs

They Speak to the Ladies

The state of wedded bliss got another thorough rubbing from dramatic reader Mrs. L. Hart Wright, who appeared before Northville Woman's Club Friday.

The Northville women loved it. With well placed wit she polished off comic comments on the domestic merry-go-round from the current Broadway hit, "Marriage-Go-Round".

Last year Mrs. Wright brought down the house with her dramatization of marriage and motherhood in a Highland castle.

In "Marriage-Go-Round" she assumed roles of a college dean of women and gentleman professor — two highly unseemly commentators — who pontificate on the nature of the sacred union.

Their theories, naturally, fall to pieces. Naturally, also, everything ends happily.

Mrs. Wright, director of theatre groups in Michigan and Oklahoma, has been voted on the club's agenda for six straight years.

She recently completed playing the part of Rummy in Shaw's Major Barbara.

As chairman of the day, Mrs. Crispin Hammond introduced Mrs. Wright, noting that quite a few club women and guests "I know are gainfully employed" somehow happened to make it for Mrs. Wright's performance.

The meeting has also come to be scheduled as a guest day due to the popularity of the effervescent actress.

"Marriage-Go-Round" is scheduled to come to Detroit later this year Mrs. Wright told the group. "We're eager to see it," Mrs. Hammond replied after Friday's preview.

Some 3000 mentally and physically handicapped children and adults in Michigan are learning the joys of gardening and being helped by it, Mrs. Alice W. Burlingame told the Northville Garden Club at its meeting Monday.

Mrs. Burlingame, gardening columnist for the Birmingham Eccentric and lecturer for the J. L. Hudson speaker's bureau, spoke to the club on patient rehabilitation values in gardening.

She has worked with a number of hospitalized and institutionalized persons in recent years.

The relatively new idea has caught on at Pontiac State hospital and is being started at DeHoCo, she declared.

So far, she told clubwomen, the "results have been outstanding".

For some it has stirred up dormant interests. Others get satisfaction from seeing results of their work. The work is kept simple, "but you have no idea the interest it has brought into patients' lives," she said.

She paid her audience a nice compliment too by pointing out that a Ford Foundation survey has found that 79 percent of those engaged in gardening are stable persons in their communities.

Mrs. Burlingame, who is now hoping to set up a television program on gardening subjects, also teaches classes in floral arrangement.

She studied floriculture at Michigan State university and is recognized as an authority in several areas of horticulture.

Mrs. Charles Walker was hostess for the meeting. Assisting her were Mrs. C. Ratliff, Mrs. T. J. Knapp, Mrs. R. G. Nelson, Mrs. A. Millington and Mrs. E. O. Whittington.

Teachers Exhibit in Crafts Show

Works of Northville art teachers, Roy Pedersen and Jack Van Haren, are included in the Michigan Artist-Craftsman exhibit at the Detroit Art Institute.

Pedersen, elementary and junior high art teacher, is showing three stoneware bowls. Van Haren, high school art teacher, is showing a stoneware bottle.

Both are members of the Three Cities Art club and will also exhibit works at the Three Cities Art show to be held at the Northville community building February 27 and 28.

Rosemarie Simonon, wife of another Three-Cities member was awarded the National Society of Interior Designers prize for her gold, silver and plastic pendant entered with jewelry and hand-weaving items in the Artist-Craftsman show.

Judges for this year's exhibit, which closes February 21, were Arthur J. Pulos, department of industrial design, Syracuse university; Adelyn D. Breeskin, director of the Baltimore Museum of Art, and Robert Turner, ceramist, New York.

To Begin Study On Superior Student

The Northville Citizens Curriculum study group will begin study of the academically superior child next Tuesday, February 16.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the junior high library.

The program will be devoted to election of officers and discussion of terminology used in reference to the able or superior child in all phases of school, kindergarten through senior high.

Interested persons are urged to join, and are welcome to attend the first meeting, committee spokesman said.

Copies of the Elementary Curriculum study report accepted by the Northville board of education are now available at the Record office for public circulation.

Change Story-Hour Time As "Rescue" Measure

"The children who come, love it," P-TA story hour chairman, Mrs. Al Meyers said.

The trouble is that not enough are coming.

The regular hour of the story sessions — held in past years every Saturday morning during school semesters — will be changed this week as a last ditch to try to save the program which has been faltering lately because of low attendance.

Some 12 mothers volunteer as readers for the story sessions which are designed chiefly for children 5-8 years old.

"Children this age enjoy and benefit most from being read to," Mrs. Meyers explained.

We have an average attendance of 10 to 20 youngsters," Mrs. Meyers said, "but a number of us feel that this isn't enough to make it worthwhile. With new families moving in all the time, we should have a great number coming."

It is hoped the new hour will enable more youngsters to come.

Most children keep pretty busy week end mornings with choir practice, scouts and recreation activities, she said.

"We'd like to try an afternoon hour before we give up."

Other ideas for rejuvenating the program now being considered are summer sessions and teen-age readers.

"Librarians tell us that children are always asking if there is a story hour during the summer months," Mrs. Meyers said.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. John Northup of Clement road announce the birth of a son, John Robert, on January 26 at New Grace hospital. The baby weighed six pounds, three ounces. Grandparents are Mrs. Rita Northup and Mrs. Harold Schultz of Detroit.

Girl Scouts

Girl scout leaders of Troop 223, Mesdames Hart, Froebel and Lanning, judged uniforms of troop members after their flag ceremony last week. Later, the girls discussed their second class badges and practiced square dancing. Tuesday the troop attended the Shrine Circus.

Proclaim U.S. History Month

Mayor A. Malcolm Allen proclaimed February American History Month in Northville.

"It is becoming more and more important for each resident of this great nation to have a true understanding of the history of these United States," the Mayor said.

The observance, sponsored by Daughters of the American Revolution throughout the country, will be celebrated locally by the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter.

The Northville-Plymouth chapter will distribute historical pamphlets containing notes on the lives of American presidents in area schools.

Nationwide, the organization is sponsoring an American history essay contest.

Historian for the local chapter is Mrs. H. W. Blomberg.

Barbara Rollings In 2-Act Ferris Play

Barbara Rollings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Rollings Jr., 43783 Park, is among the Ferris Institute students who will present a two-act version of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" at the college February 22, 23, 25 and 26.

The play, under the direction of Dr. Lyle V. Mayer, is being presented at the college as one of the activities of the second annual Festival of Arts, February 22 to March 6.

The Festival of Arts will include an art exhibition, the Winter Band concert, the Festival of Arts banquet, and a choral concert.

Miss Rollings played the role of Gertrude in Hamlet.

Students to Present Exchange Slides

Seventh grade students will present a colored slide tour of Northville at Monday's meeting of the Northville-Plymouth branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

The students, with their teacher, Michael Abbott, have shown the slides and played tape recorded interviews with Northville civic leaders before a number of local organizations.

They were originally prepared for exchange with school children in Wolverhampton, England.

The potluck dinner-meeting will be held at 6:30 at the home of Mrs. Don Fowler.

KITCHEN DIARY

Recipe Sleuths, Families Love These Baking Ideas

As a mother of six and lunch packer for five, Mrs. Wilford Cogar says she almost has to "consult an encyclopedia" for new recipe ideas.

Since she appreciates a good recipe when she sees one . . . or invents one — a number of her dessert creations have won contest prizes — she was happy to pass these on to readers.

The rhubarb pie has a deliciously different tang due to the orange juice and coconut.

The butter horns, excellent for breakfast, have a "wonderful aroma" baking, says Mrs. Cogar, and the tuna-cheese-macaroni casserole will soon be in demand as a Lenten menu idea.

RHUBARB PIE

Mrs. Wilford Cogar

CRUST

2/3 cup lard
2 cups all purpose flour
1/4 cup milk
1 egg yolk
1 tbs. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. salt

Blend together lard and 1 1/2 cups flour. Set aside.

Mix milk, egg yolk, lemon juice, salt and remaining 1/2 cup flour to make a smooth paste. Stir into flour and lard mixture.

FILLING

4 cups cut rhubarb
1 cup, 2 tbs. sugar
2 tbs. melted butter
1 tbs. frozen orange juice
1 tbs. cornstarch
1 tbs. minute tapioca
1 tbs. grated coconut

Pour rhubarb into filling mixture of sugar, butter, orange juice, cornstarch and tapioca. Stir together until rhubarb is well coated. A few drops of red food dye may be added to brighten color.

Place filling in pie crust. Sprinkle with grated coconut. Cover top of pie with lattice crust. Brush crust with milk and sprinkle with grated coconut.

Bake at 415 degrees for 10 minutes. Remove from oven and cover top with tin foil. Reduce heat to 375 degrees. Bake for 25 minutes.

BUTTER HORNS

2 1/2 cups all purpose flour
1 cup cake flour
2 tbs. sugar
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 cup butter
1/4 cup lard
2 egg yolks
1 whole egg
1 tsp. almond flavoring
1/2 cup sour cream
1 pkg. dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup chopped nuts
1 tsp. cinnamon

Mix yeast in warm water. Add to flour, sugar, nutmeg, butter, lard, egg, almond, sour cream mixture to form dough.

Chill dough 2 hours in refrigerator.

After removing, roll 1/4 inch thick in brown sugar, nuts and cinnamon.

Cut into 3-4 inch squares. To make horn, turn corners in on diagonal. Let set half-hour. Bake at 350 degrees 17 minutes. Makes 1 dozen.

To vary, pecan, almond or other filling may be added to center of horn sprinkled on top with confectioners' sugar.

LENTEN CASSEROLE

4 cups cooked macaroni or spaghetti
1 can mushroom soup
1 tbs. butter
1 cup shredded yellow cheese
1 can tuna fish
2 boiled eggs

Cook soup, butter and cheese in saucepan until cheese is melted.

Place in casserole dish alternate layers of macaroni, cheese and tuna. Season to taste.

Top layers with slices of boiled egg. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes.

The Record will publish recipes of Northville-Novu area cooks every week of 1960. At the end of the year the recipes with the chef's byline will be published in booklet form and distributed throughout the Northville-Novu area.

Robinson Group Learns We Have Strict Meat Laws

Did you know that Michigan has one of the strictest ground meat and sausage laws in the nation!

Only 30 percent fat and no food coloring or water can be added to ground beef?

This along with many other informative facts such as choosing your meat by Federal grades, marbling, texture, bone color and color of meat were given by Mrs. John Ort and Mrs. Stephen Cherne at the January Robinson group home economics cooperative extension meeting at the home of Mrs. John Ort.

The group was served a dessert lunch by Mrs. Charles Davis, co-hostess.

Mrs. Russell Liimakka and Mrs. Robert Widmaier of Plymouth and Mrs. Russell Frid of Northville were guests.

The next extension meeting will be February 24.

99-Voice All-League Choir To Perform Here Tuesday

Northville will host an all-league choir concert here Tuesday.

The 99-member choir, which is made up of 12 singers from eight high schools in the Wayne-Oakland league conference, will perform in the new high school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Highlighting the concert will be presentations of "Onward Ye People" by Sibelius; "In Silent Night" by Braams; and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Ringwald.

Altogether, the choir will present seven numbers. In addition, singers from each of the eight schools will present a special variety number.

Each of the league choral directors will direct one number during the concert. Leslie Lee of Northville will direct the "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

The entire choir will be entertained at the high school Tuesday afternoon before the evening concert. Members will rehearse at the school and eat in the cafeteria.

Admission for the concert, which will be given at Clarenceville high school the following week on February 24, will be 50-cents for adults, 25-cents for students.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass. Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Still's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

FICTION

Our land is flooded with fiction — countless books that have been cunningly devised to invite the attention of the reader. These books are put on the market with striking jackets, beautiful bindings, or in colorful pocket editions. Circulars promise that these novels will hold your interest to the end. The action and the plot have been carefully designed to keep you in suspense until the last page. But when you reach the end of the book, no matter how entertaining or how interesting it may have been, you know that you have read only fiction. The story was not really true. These books may entertain, but they can't save.

Every seriously-minded person will come to the conclusion that he needs to know more than just to be entertained. We must find the information that will unequivocally tell us why we are here and where we are going.

NO FICTION

Only God's Word can give us the true meaning of life. What the Bible relates is not fiction, but fact; not the production of man's imagination, but the very truth of God, and the only truth that can save.

In his second and last Epistle the Apostle Peter declares: "For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of His Majesty." (2 Peter 1:16).

Peter places the Lord Jesus Christ in the center of his letter. The truth of the ages is centered in the coming of this Christ. He is the son of God who was mighty to save. Only by believing in Him can the story of our life have a happy ending.

What was written by the prophets and by Peter and the other apostles was written by the inspiration of God. "Holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." (2 Peter 1:21.) Therefore, we do well to take heed to what they have written as "unto a light that shineth in a dark place." (v. 19).

The Bible is not to be looked upon as a charm or treated as a mere centerpiece that might bring good luck. Many a person has gone to eternal condemnation with the Bible in his library.

That it might be a blessing to us we must read and hear this Word of God and receive it into our hearts. Jesus said: "Blessed are they that hear the Word of God and keep it." (S Luke 11:28).

Rev. David T. Davies Named to High Post

The Rev. David T. Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Plymouth, and president of the Community General hospital, was elected to the standing committee of the Michigan Diocese at the 170th annual diocesan convention last week in Detroit.

The committee is composed of three clergymen and three laymen. As a council of advice to Bishop R. Emrich, it represents the diocese in elections of bishops in all national dioceses and approves ordination of candidates for the diaconate or priesthood.

It also determines the amount of money local parishes may borrow for building purposes and approves sale of parish property.

Mr. Davies has just completed his third term on the executive council of the diocese which administers diocesan financial affairs between meetings of the convention.

He is presently serving as chairman of the diocese pension committee.

Plan Biggest Mailing For Easter Seal Drive

The 1960-Easter Seal campaign in western Wayne county and the nation will be conducted March 17 through Easter Sunday, April 17.

Gill Glasson, chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee of the Northville Rotary club, which sponsors the annual appeal to win public support for crippled children and adults in Northville, said that more than 2,500 homes will be reached in the year's mailing.

"It will be the most extensive, and, if we are to meet our community's needs, it must be the most successful campaign in our history," he said.

Contributions in response to letters accompanied by sheets of Easter Seals will be used to maintain and expand a variety of services for nearly 500 severely disabled children and adults in the area.

Glasson announced that two colorful stylized designs appear on the year's Easter Seal sheet, centered by a window sticker saying "Please Help Us! Easter Seals Help Crippled Children".

The appealing new pair of Seals are in subdued tones of red and blue. One shows a crippled girl and boy with a therapist, representing all youngsters and professional workers who receive and give care and treatment through Easter Seal societies across the nation.

The other Seal pictures the same children with the lily symbol of Easter Seal Societies which finance the rehabilitation services through campaign contributions. The sticker appearing in the center of the sheet shows the two children holding an enlarged reproduction of the smaller lily-symbolized Seal.

Glasson said that contributors to the Eastern Seal campaign are urged to help promote the appeal by using the 36 Seals on Easter-time mail and by displaying the sticker on windows or doors when contributions have been made.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

BIRTH OF AN INDUSTRY

In 1821, mysterious fumes burst from a creek. Mr. Bill Hart, a villager, decided to put them to practical use. Thus Natural GAS was used as a fuel to light an Inn in Freedonia, New York.

A "burning creek" and the ingenuity of man resulted in the birth of a new industry!

VERSATILE GIANT

Today there is no accidental discovery of Natural GAS — scientific methods and equipment, as well as trained men, are required to locate it.

Though you can neither see, smell, taste or feel it, today Natural GAS has skyrocketed into our fifth largest industry!

*Natural GAS is harnessed energy that produces both heat and cold. Call or write Consumers Power Company to learn how Natural GAS can serve you better in industry and in the home.

W-O Leaders Crush Northville At Clarenceville Friday, 69-55

"What can you do when you can't make a basket?"

That's the question Coach Dutch VanNingen asked as he reviewed the latest Northville defeat at the hands of the high riding Trojans who galloped to a 69-55 victory last Friday.

With this latest defeat, the Mustangs sank deeper into the league cellar, while Clarenceville regained undisputed position of first place in the Wayne-Oakland conference.

VanNingen points to game statistics in explaining Northville's last-place position.

The Mustangs attempted 60 field goals, netted only 22 baskets for a 37 percent average Friday. Clarenceville, on the other hand, fired 57 shots and hit 26 for a 46 percent average.

At the free throw line, Northville hit 11 of its 20 shots, and Clarenceville netted 17 of its 28 shots.

Individually, Forward Danny Brown topped the Mustangs in shooting with two baskets in two attempts. The next best record was by Guard Roger Atchinson who netted eight of his 19 shots for a 42 percent average.

Center Wade Deal, who failed to connect in seven attempts at the free throw line, hit 36 percent of his field goal shots. Other field goal averages were: Tom Darling and Larry Nitzel, 33 percent, and Steve Juday and Gary Morgan, 25 percent. Jim Patterson missed his lone shot at the net.

The season record is little different, although Northville has netted as many as 12 more field goals in its past four games than at the outset of the season. The problem is that the opponents also are improving.

Clarenceville, for example, netted only 19 field goals in its first victory over Northville as compared to 26 field goals Friday. Northville jumped from 16 to 22.

Another significant and somewhat ironic factor Friday is that the Mustangs outscored their opponents in the final quarter, 16-13. The local squad had been plagued with a fourth-quarter losing phobia throughout most of the season.

The Trojans, who flipped the ball around the court with amazing accuracy, grabbed a narrow 15-14 first quarter lead before starting its 22-point barrage in the second period. At the half Northville was down, 37-27.

Northville skidded to a low of 12 points in the third stanza, while Clarenceville added 19 more points to move to a 56-39 lead at the three-quarter mark.

Atchinson earned scoring honors for the losers by pumping in eight field goals and three free shots for a total of 19 points. Clarenceville Center Tony Giacobazzi led his team in scoring with 22 points.

In other league contests, the amazing Milford quintet continued its winning pace by beating Brighton, 49-46; Clarkston crushed West Bloomfield, 87-69; and Bloomfield Hills rolled over slumping Holly, 60-54.

Whew! No Relief in Sight

There's no relief in sight for the last-place Mustang quintet which lost its sixth league game of the season last week.

Tomorrow second-place Brighton, anxious to avenge an earlier 53-52 loss to Northville, will host the Mustangs at 8 p.m.

Saturday night arch-rival Plymouth will invade Northville for a non-league return match. In its first clash with the Mustangs this season, the Rocks were behind through the first three quarters before they jumped into the lead in the final frame to win, 44-41.

Plymouth had won two of its six league starts in the Suburban Six league up to Friday.

Freshmen Crush Lakers As Bell Hits 26 Points

Northville's forward Craig Bell pumped in 26 points for his squad Monday night as the freshmen rolled over West Bloomfield, 60-37.

Teammates Tom Swiss and Don Biery each scored 11 points in the lopsided victory which padded Northville's already bulging 24-game win streak.

In a much tighter contest Friday, Bloomfield Hills led Northville through the first two stanzas only to fall apart in the third quarter to lose 42-39. Swiss and Bell led their team in scoring with 15 and 10 points, respectively.

The freshmen will host Clarenceville here tonight beginning at 7 o'clock in the high school gym.

ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORTERS — Northville was losing Friday, but you'd never know it by looking at the faces of these staunch Mustang supporters. Throughout the cage season these hardworking high school cheerleaders shout their continuous encouragements even after some fans have lost interest in the dying minutes of a "lost cause". Varsity cheerleaders shown above (l-r) are: Karen Hill, Jay Wittenberg, Sharon Hensch, Sally Stroh and Mary Bell. Missing is Racena Bailey.

These Gals Never Give Up

Ask any high school basketball player and he'll give you the same pitch: the cheerleading curve is a strike every time.

He'll tell you that behind every winning team there's a screaming cheerleading section bubbling with pride; and behind every losing team there's a sympathetic cheerleading section which refuses to give up.

Northville players and coaches are quick to point out the value of a well-organized cheer. It's a morale booster, an opportunity for the fan to participate without stumbling exhausted on the playing floor.

The Northville girls who make up the varsity and junior varsity cheerleading squads spend more than two hours each week practicing under the direction of Miss Patricia Dorrian. This doesn't include the hours they spend dancing before the mirrors at home.

This past summer several of the cheerleaders spent six days at a special cheerleading camp in Indiana where they learned new cheers and formations.

The hours they have spent studying new cheers and steps have paid off, most fans agree. Traveling from school to school, they have picked up the unofficial title of "team with the most original cheers".

Last month at a cheerleading clinic in Webberville, the junior varsity squad was rated second in performance while competing with some 70 squads throughout the state. The varsity squad was rated third.

Who are the girls who lead the Northville cheers? They are sophomores, juniors and seniors; there are C+ or better in their studies; and they are top citizens of their classes.

On the varsity squad, they are Mary Bell, Racena Bailey, Sharon Hensch, Sally Stroh, Karen Hill and Jay Wittenberg.

And on the junior varsity squad they are Linda Deal, Patty Owens, Sarah Schrader, Nancy Starkweather and Susan Paharo.

Local Horsemen Honored At State Champions Dinner

Four Northville residents were among those honored Sunday at the official banquet for the state champions of 1959 of the Michigan Horse Shows association in Lansing.

John Wallace, owner and instructor of the Wallace School of Horsemanship, received recognition for his winning of the Michigan open jumper championship with his young jumper, "Delayed".

His daughter, Suzanne, who is now a student at Stephens college, won the "Horsemanship of Fences" award along with the champion junior open jumper award. Suzanne was also reserve champion equitation rider and reserve champion in the Michigan Hunts perpetual challenge trophy award.

Sally and Bob Sample, whose parents reside on Chigwidden drive, completed the quartet of Northville competitors to be honored in Lansing.

Sally was equitation champion, while Bob was reserve champion "Horsemanship over Fences" and also winner of the coveted Michigan Hunts Perpetual challenge trophy.

Rodger Wasserman of Detroit and Barry Weiss of Birmingham were champion and reserve in the "Horsemanship over Fences" for youngsters 13 and under. They are both pupils at the Wallace school.

All of these youngsters have competed on the Junior Equestrian teams managed by J. P. Malley and sponsored by the Northville Optimist club. Sally, Bob and Suzanne are members of the national championship team, "The Top-notchers".

Spot Albino Squirrel

Don't be surprised if you see a white squirrel in the trees along Aspen Nature Trail at Kensington Metropolitan park off the US-16 expressway.

Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority of which the park is a unit, reports that a rare Albino Squirrel has been observed and is making its home not far from the Nature Center.

Colts Edge Trojans In First Overtime Battle

When the final buzzer clamped a cover on the roaring crowd Friday, Northville's junior varsity squad took up the chant over its 41-40 overtime victory at Clarenceville.

The victory — the third in a row — was not decided until the final seconds of the overtime period.

Clarenceville, which was attempting to avenge an earlier 52-38 defeat, threatened to overtake the Colts in the closing seconds of the fourth quarter after taking the short end of a 25-23 third quarter score.

With 50 seconds to play in the final stanza, Clarenceville's Forward Lowerson stepped to the free throw line with a chance of handing his team the lead. But he missed his first shot, made his second and the score was knotted at 34-34.

Seconds later Clarenceville hacked Northville's Dick Bathey and the forward flipped in 2 charity points. Then just before the buzzer, Center Dowdy of Clarenceville pumped in a field goal to tie the score again at 36-36.

In the overtime, the Colts were the first to score on two free shots by Center David Filkin. Dowdy failed to score at the free throw line, and Forward Dan Pattison netted a field goal seconds later to give Northville a 40-36 lead.

With 30 seconds to play, Dowdy flipped in a long shot to move his team to within 2 points of the Colts. Pattison then added another Colt free shot at the 18-second mark to ice the victory. Northville of Clarenceville shaved the lead to a single point in the final five seconds.

Forward Bill Chapple flipped in six field goals and a single free shot to lead the Colts in scoring. Teammate Tom Long was second high with 8 points.

Northville Clips Novi In Elementary Twin Bill

Northville swept two games Friday in a double bill with Novi's seventh and eighth grade basketball teams.

The local eighth graders won their half of the twin bill, 38-36, while the seventh graders rolled to a 52-24 victory.

Gordon Hammond was high-point man for Northville's eighth graders with 8 points, Jerry French was high for the seventh graders.

Both squads, with records of four wins and three defeats tucked under their belts, were scheduled to clash with Felrath yesterday (Wednesday) on the opponent's court.

CHA CHA, WALTZ OR BALLET? Whatever the step, you can be sure it was done in tune to the tom-tom of a basketball. When the music ended Friday, Clarenceville had outdanced Northville, 69-55. Name County after "Mad Anthony"

ern half was called South Plymouth, until the latter was separately organized in 1834 as Canton township.The first settlers to venture into the heavily wooded wilderness northwest of Detroit began to arrive about 1818. These hearty pioneers usually made their way to Detroit by schooner or steamer (including the Walk-in-the-Water, the Henry Clay, and the Pioneer) from Buffalo. Northville historian Charles L. Dubuier wrote: "The forest was cut back about a mile from the river, and in the woods the wolves held their nightly jubilee. From Detroit, the settlers found their way as best they could through the dense forest to their future homes."What kind of land, animals and adventures waited for the pioneers?Early accounts tell of elk, moose, wolves, bears, rabbits, otter, lynx, wild cats, beavers and muskrats that roamed the Detroit area.Between 1820 and 1830 the howling of wolves could be heard at the edge of Detroit. Bounties of three and four dollars were paid by the county — and historians write that much of the county taxes was used to pay for wolf scalps.Silas Farmer wrote in 1884:
"In 1824, and also in other years, myriads of wild pigeons made their roosts in the forests of the county. They were so numerous that hundreds could easily be killed with a walking stick.""As late as the fall of 1834, deer were abundant within a morning's walk, and black bears would occasionally perambulate the streets. Wild turkeys and quails were numerous up to about 1850."

On November 30, 1815, Edward Tiffin, surveyor general, wrote that in the whole of the Michigan territory there was "not one acre in a hundred, if there would be in a thousand, that would in any case admit of cultivation. It is all swampy and sandy." Detroit and the surrounding area was said to be extremely sterile and barren. Historian Farmer charged Tiffin and those who expounded his beliefs with possessing an "impardonable ignorance or knavery," pointing out that the state wheat crop in 1836 amounted to 26,000,000 bushels.And if that wasn't proof enough, he pointed to H. Berthelet who in 1821 raised a pumpkin that by all reports was six feet, eight inches in circumference, and after it had been picked, weighed 174 pounds and 12 ounces.Plymouth Settlement According to Dubuier, the first settlement in the township of Plymouth was made in the spring of 1885."The country was heavily wooded, and it was with considerable difficulty that the pioneer settlement was reached. The trail, which only by courtesy could be called a road, extended through a distance of some 15 or 18 miles from Detroit to a point on the Rouge, where a little settlement had been made and a mill erected by Luther Lincoln, who a year or two later erected a mill on the same stream at Plymouth."Beyond this limit of civilization the way through the woods was marked by blazed trees and the difficulties of clearing a passage for oxen and a wagon through the thick underbrush and around fallen trees and quagmire can be more easily written about than realized."(Next week read about the Plymouth township settlement at Waterford and Northville.)

READERS SPEAK:

Area History Appreciated

To the Editor:

The Northville Record is presenting a series of articles dealing with the early history of our area.
Speaking on behalf of our class
I would like to tell you how we are enjoying these well written articles.
News Editor Jack Hoffman has done a fine job in presenting this series.
It has helped us in learning more about this area and its history.

Sandy Hale

Class President 7th Grade, Sec. V

Referring to two articles appearing in the Northville Record of February fourth it is noted that "Time Runs Out For Clock Steeple". If the governing body of the Methodist Church Society no longer has any interest in the upkeep of the church steeple why not dismantle the clock and save it for use, as you suggested, in or on the proposed City Hall?
The clock was presented to the then village of Northville years ago with the understanding that the village was to be responsible for its upkeep.The donor of the clock was one of the early settlers of this community and if the clock was placed in or on, the proposed new City Hall it would serve as a monument to one of the hardy families of Northville's earlier days. Let's put that clock on the new City Hall.
W. A. Cook
242 S. Center StI am writing to tell you of my great enjoyment in reading Jack Hoffman's articles dealing with the early history of the Northville - Novi - Wixom - Walled Lake areas in the Novi News. It has been about 25 years since I was in that area, but I have preached in each one of those places and also in Farmington, Plymouth and others.
It has been very enlightening to re-think of the early days of the area where I was born and spent the early years of my life.
Keep on giving us the historical record.Rev. Ronald J. Button

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Sliger

Did you ever ask yourself who the most "important" person in the community might be?
It's an interesting question and one that would probably bring a variety of answers — depending upon one's definition of "important".

But this week being the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, I'd like to nominate the scoutmaster for this title.

He's a very ordinary man, yet extra-ordinary.
His true value lies in the very fact that he is ordinary, like any other Dad. Thus he creates in his youngsters no "unreal" or "character" impressions.

He's extra-ordinary because he takes time to help give our youngsters a fuller life and prepare them for a better manhood.
For half a century he has helped mold the character of American youth.

"Most important?"
I'd say so. A scoutmaster, teacher, or any counselor of youth, measures up to this title by any criteria. For if they have done their job well, they are "best paid", too. Not monetarily, of course, but by the inner satisfaction that comes from arousing the enthusiasm and comradeship of boys.

The scoutmasters of our area deserve our deep appreciation.

News that the old city clock was coming down from the Methodist church brought Claude Morgan running to our office. Just two weeks ago he had stated in our weekly "Opinion" column that he dearly missed the sound of the chimes of the old clock.

"I can remember when we used to swim and fish at Ambler's pond as young boys and hear the clock strike telling us when it was time to come home," he related.

Morgan fears that something might happen to the clock. "You newcomers don't appreciate it," he added.

He's so sincere that he said he'd contribute $100 toward restoration of the clock somewhere.

I think the city council is sympathetic to the viewpoint held by Morgan and many other longtime residents.

All the council wants is a new city hall in which to mount the clock. Meanwhile, it will be properly stored.

The city council has taken a dim view of Michigan Bell's latest rate increase.

The subject came up at a recent meeting when Councilman John Canterbury read a letter from an irate citizen protesting a card received from the telephone company which offered local customers South Lyon and Walled Lake telephone directories — if the postcard was returned.

As the card pointed out, the two areas are within the local free-calling area, but the listings would not be included in the Northville book.

The letter to Canterbury read in part: "It has been my feeling for a long time that Northville has been gerrymandered by the Michigan Bell Telephone company into a position where we have the fewest number of useable free service calls and the highest rate possible." The card suggesting that local users did not need the listings already within the limited free-calling area, was apparently the last straw.

This subject is a favorite of Canterbury's. He was unwilling in his protest to the last increase, saying that it was too severe on the Northville user who has a more limited free-calling area than some of our neighbors.

Now, he has backed a motion to send a letter to the Michigan Public Service Commission pleading the Northville case and asking that the commission consider this before approving the manner in which the new $4 million increase is levied.

You can start digging out those short-sleeve sport shirts, cotton slacks and dresses.

The robin has returned! My neighbor, Edward Mollema, spotted one in his yard Saturday.

Soapy Spars with Labor

LABOR DOMINATION of his administration is one of the long-standing accusations leveled against Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Events during the last half of his sixth term have focused attention on the question of labor influence on Williams.

The Governor and organized labor have been on opposite sides of major issues.

Some say it is a deliberate thing, contrived to refute claims his administration is controlled by labor.

Others insist there have been honest differences of opinion.

An early inkling came when Attorney General Paul L. Adams announced his plans for fighting a suit by Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle to force a reapportionment of the Senate.

Democrat Adams split his staff into two teams to argue both sides of the use-sales tax suit last year. Democratic leaders, who favor reapportionment, had expected Adams to do the same on the Scholle suit. He didn't, but took a stand against Scholle.

Many capitol insiders say Adams' stand on reapportionment was one reason he was bypassed when there was a vacancy on the Supreme Court.

Most obvious Williams-labor split this year was over a "compromise" plan for calling a constitutional convention.

Williams endorsed a plan that would have convention delegates elected from both Senate and House districts.

Scholle said he would go all out to fight this compromise, contending selection by House districts would be the only way population centers could get fair representation at a convention.

Williams said he had to differ "with my good friend Gus" in order to give Michigan a chance at a new constitution. Scholle said the principle involved left no room for compromise.

Future differences are expected over the matter of what tax questions will go on the November ballot.

Williams has indicated a willingness to get the sales tax increase proposition before voters, a proposal he kept off the April 1959 ballot.

Labor leaders have expressed no desire of having the sales tax question on the ballot. If the sales tax does get on the ballot, they also would like a corporation profits tax on the ballot as an alternative.

BALLOT WORDING for the November tax referendum shapes up as a major issue of the 1960 Legislature.

Should it be a clear choice between an income tax or sales tax increase?

Between the sales tax increase and a corporation profits levy?

Or all three?

Or a single proposition that would hike the sales tax and prohibit adoption of a personal or corporate income tax?

Intra-party splits complicate the issue.

Senate Republicans have been heading in one direction, House Democrats in another, and House Republicans in still another. Senate Democrats have been on the sidelines through most of the discussions.

Williams will be the single most important factor in the question.

He had enough lawmakers behind him to keep the tax question off the ballot last April. He'll play a major role this time around.

MERGER MOVES will be tried again this year as the Legislature and Governor continue their efforts at streamlining state government.

A half dozen reorganization proposals were adopted last year. A like number may be tried again this year.

The expected brevity of the 1960 session may prevent action on all proposals to be made by a citizen advisory group on reorganization.

Among proposals to be considered is one that would create a department of financial institutions, consolidating the corporation and securities commission and the banking and insurance departments.

A state commerce department would take over the duties of the economic development department, the tourist council and commissions promoting farm products.

The labor department, workmen's compensation department and other labor-related functions would be consolidated by another reorganization proposal under discussion.

WHAT HAPPENED to Michigan's aroused citizenry?

This is a question planners of the Citizens for Michigan movement were asking at the start of the year's second month.

American Motors President George Romney, CFM founder, came close to running for office because he feared citizen apathy might undermine Citizens for Michigan. He still has hopes of recruiting the 100,000-plus citizens he says he needs to make his movement effective, although only about 2,000 had signed up by the end of January.

Citizen support will be sought in the coming months by the Michigan Chamber of Commerce and both political parties.

One group of men — the planners of Michigan Week — have had no trouble recruiting citizen participation.

At last count there were about 6,000 people serving on committees for the May 15-21 observance.

Can Reds be Right?

Babson Park, Mass. — I thought that a previous column of mine had covered all the facts gathered on my trip to Moscow, but here are a few more things worthy of thought.

America's God
My recent release on "Khrushchev and Christianity" has caused readers to ask me just what Mr. K. thinks is America's "God". I must reply: "The Automobile". Although the first automobile was built only during my lifetime, yet America today has more money invested in autos than in all the churches, hospitals, school houses, and homes of mercy built since Columbus discovered America in 1492.

It has been said that 90 percent of the women of America spend more on lipstick than they contribute to their church. Furthermore, I am told by cosmetics experts that lipsticks are but one of the offshoots of the automobile. Even John D. Rockefeller, Sr. told me personally that automobiles built the magnificent Rockefeller fortune; that when he was at his prime, he considered selling only kerosene.

America's Missionaries
When I was a boy, my mother was much interested in foreign missions. I even helped pack barrels of old clothes for the missionaries, who were then our real ambassadors. Now the ladies of most churches get together once a month to talk foreign missions — and collect perhaps $300 for the cause; yet the value of their automobiles and furs represent $500,000! The whole setup seems cockeyed to Mr. K.

Our real missionaries today are the heads of the U.S. Embassies all over the world (let me say that all were very helpful to me during my recent trip to Berlin, Warsaw and Moscow). But most of them were selected for their very important positions because they contributed large sums of money to the political party which won the last national election — whether or not they can speak the language of the country to which they are assigned. Mr. K. feels this is most inefficient. How Khrushchev Selects Teachers When Mr. K. wants teachers, he pays what is necessary to get the very best. I have been told that top professors get about $40,000 per year in terms of our dollars — and prestige. They are the leading men in every large Russian city. They live in the best suburbs, have the best tables at restaurants and private boxes at the opera. Their children are looked up to as are those of our richest families. Yet some of our universities pay more for a football coach than for the head of the physics department.

While in Moscow getting facts on education, I was asked what is meant by our term "eggheads". When I tried to explain that this is what our scientists and other men of learning are called, I was not believed. I was then asked if it is true that any American manufacturer will get a better reception at Congressional hearings than university presidents; and if we allow an average of 30 students to a classroom while Mr. K. insists that 17 must be the maximum.

Can Democracy Compete?
I believe democracy is the ultimate form of government. History shows that no dictatorship has very long existed. But I am far from certain whether our present form of democracy can survive. There will inevitably be more rapid basic changes due to the constant leveling down of those who now have property and the building up of those who have not. The masses are on the move and will continue to be. However, the desires of our people must change from glorification of wealth and so-called "success" to love for unselfish service and trained efficiency.

Mr. K.'s apparent objective is to eliminate private property, but he is not alone. Six means to this end are now being employed in six different countries: (1) By confiscation in Russia; (2) by nationalization in England; (3) by taxation in East Germany; (4) by public executions in China; (5) by unwarranted price and wage legislation in Cuba; and (6) by labor-union demands and inflation as in the U.S. Meanwhile, let us expend more time and more money developing our children's character, health, education and other fundamentals which cannot be wiped out by another World War.

Novi School Board Minutes

The regular meeting of the board of education was called to order by the president, Mr. Heslip at 8:15 p.m. on Wednesday, January 13, 1960.

Present were Mr. Heslip, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Erwin, Dr. Morris and Dr. Medlyn. The only guest was Mr. Frazer Staman of the Hartford Insurance Co.

The minutes of the December 9, 1959 meeting were approved as published.

The treasurer's report of fund balances which follows were approved as read:

General Fund	$5,126.11
Lunch Fund	2,010.57
Payroll Fund	432.00
1957 Bldg. & Site	190,820.08
1955 Debt Retirement Fund	26,769.62
1957 Debt Retirement	221.42
1958 Debt Retirement Fund	48.88

There was a discussion of possible means of transporting a couple of students to the special education classroom in Farmington. It had been determined that transportation by taxi would be too expensive. There was still a possibility that volunteer drivers might be available.

Dr. Medlyn reported that he hoped the district might be able to claim $200 per child transportation allowance from the state. This amount, if available to us, might not be forthcoming until the end of the fiscal year. It would be paid to the district, who would reimburse the parent.

Mr. Frazer Staman was present to discuss the recommended insurance for contents of the Orchard Hills school. A blanket coverage of $24,000 at 90 percent co-insurance was recommended.

It was moved by Mr. Crawford, supported by Mr. Taylor, that the board take a 90-percent co-insurance policy with blanket coverage of $24,000 on the contents of the Orchard Hills building, and of this amount, $12,000 is to be taken with Frazer Staman, and $12,000 is to be taken with Frank Watz-Novi Realty Co. Motion carried.

Improvements in the Novi School cafeteria as to painting and lighting were reported to the board by Dr. Medlyn. It was moved by Mr. Crawford, and supported by Dr. Morris that the current bills be paid; these included General Fund bills in the amount of $6,688.99, Building & Site Fund bills in the amount of $24.30, and Lunch Fund bills in the amount of $706.05. The motion carried.

The meeting was adjourned by the president at 11:40 p.m.

IN YOUR OPINION

Each week our reporter asks six residents to voice their opinion on a different question. This week the question is: What do you do to relieve the routine of the regular work-day life?

Mrs. Kenneth Cook, 44239 12 Mile road: "Playing pinochle and having luncheon is relaxation for me. There are four or six of us (women) who do this often, and then we have a club of eight women who meet every month for pinochle and luncheon."

John Jamieson, 23871 West LeBost: "I get my relaxation by hunting during the deer season. I also find I can relax as a radio dispatcher for the Novi police department"

Dr. Kenneth MacLeod, Baseline road: "I like to read late in the evening. Depending upon my mood, I can relax by reading periodicals on education (MacLeod is assistant superintendent of schools in Northville), a magazine or a Book-of-the-Month. Sometimes I read an entire book in an evening."

Arthur Schnute, 738 Grandview: "I don't have many hobbies—but I love to read books, magazines and newspapers for relaxation."

Dan Parkinson, 27110 Taft road: "After working all day, I get more relaxation tinkering on a car or doing other odd jobs around the house than I do going to a movie. In the summer time you can't beat going out on Lake Huron in a boat — away from everyone, all alone."

J. F. Sterling, 44536 Chedworth: "I'm interested in restoring classic automobiles. There's an organization of Classic Car Clubs of America for restoring big, expensive cars of the 1925 to 1940 era. I buy them in a sad state of repair and then work on them and finally trade them. I have a 1940 Lincoln Continental and have had two Continentals and two Packards."

OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON

January 27, 1960

Dear Charles:

This is just a note to thank you for your letter of December 17. I am always glad to hear from young Americans, particularly those interested in the world around us.

There are so many separate peoples of widely differing backgrounds and ways of life, living under different systems of government and of law, that it would be most difficult to secure agreement upon a single world government. However, although the United Nations is not a world government, it does provide for cooperation among the governments of the world and for the development of a world moral and legal order. Because of your interest I am enclosing some material describing the activities of this organization and I hope you will find it useful in your schoolwork.

With all best wishes,

Sincerely,

Richard Nixon

Motorists Fined On Driving Charge

Two motorists were fined for reckless driving by Judge E. M. Bogart this week. A third will be tried on the same count later this week.

Mrs. Frances Mary Winkleman of Farmington, whose car ran the curb in front of the Northville public library last week, was fined $50 and costs, and ordered to pay $17.50 for city property damage and towing fees.

Mrs. Winkleman, who was taken unconscious from the car and treated at Community General hospital, claimed she had had a "blackout", police reported.

John Neistadt, 19, of Webster, Wisconsin, pleaded guilty to a reckless operation charge for speeding. He was fined 50 and costs.

Dennis Fraser, 17, of West Six Mile road, will appear in court today on charges of reckless driving. Fraser hit a fence and tree Tuesday afternoon after losing control of his car on a Horton street curve.

HONORING OUR PARENTS

The sacred institution of the home is based upon this 5th Commandment. It says, "Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee." Without obedience to this command, a home becomes 4 walls and a roof. This is the first commandment of God which should be taught to the child by the parents. The learning of subjection to God and to the powers of government have its roots in this commandment. If a child has not learned to obey their parents, he doubtless will disobey the laws of the land and disregard the laws of God. Generally this commandment means that we are to reverence, to obey and sustain them. Responsibility of teaching this to the children lies of course with the parents. They must teach them not only the words but must by their own behaviour command respect and obedience. Parental delinquency often makes this commandment a bit hard to keep. In such cases honor would be to keep silent of the shortcomings of such parents. Disobedience to this command is a sin against God. Notice the promise of future earthly blessing attached to this commandment. Young people, you may be writing your own future by obedience or disobedience.
