

Northville's First 12 Students Learned in Log Hut

(The establishment of schools and churches in Northville is reviewed in this week's article dealing with the early history of our area. Next week News Editor Jack Hoffman will conclude the series with the coming of the first railroad and some interesting background concerning the early struggles of Sam Little, first publisher of The Northville Record.)

As the children skipped over the grass on their way to school they didn't bother to make the three "safety checks" at the intersection.

But a few older boys stopped long enough to inspect the tell-tale marks of a wolf in the dirt path. Then grinning at each other, screamed "wolf!" and sped past the other youngsters in a dash for the school. With the electrifying shout echoing in their ears, the girls picked up their long wool skirts and fled in terror after the boys.

These were the ten youngsters who attended the first Northville area school back in 1827. Their school, a crude little log hut, was located at the west edge of what is now the city, on the Pitt Taft farm. The building contained several rows of wooden benches, table and chair for the teacher, and a few wall shelves.

Outside, a path curved several feet to the equally crude lavatory, a log shed with a single door.

The school fell far short of present day educational facilities, but it served the children admirably and it was a lifesaver for the impoverished settlers who paid tuitions by barter. Opened in the autumn of 1827, the first session concluded in February 1828.

Hiram Robinson of Farmington, who later moved to Novi near the Taft farm, was the first teacher. Robinson combined his teaching duties with a surveying sideline. He was hired often to survey farmlands in the Northville vicinity.

As more and more settlers moved into the wooded countryside, bringing along their large families, the necessity for a larger school became acute.

According to Mrs. Ida Hendryx, who prepared a manuscript on Northville school history, a public meeting was called in 1833. Trustees were elected and money appropriated for the erection of a new school house. This building was of cobble stone, laid in lime mortar.

Accommodating some 100 students, the new school was located at the corner of Hutton and Main streets. It remained standing until about 1923.

Earliest wages for the teachers were from $1 to $2 a week. School was in session six days each week, with an occasional Saturday afternoon holiday.

Several private schools existed during the second half of the Nineteenth Century. Betsy Shea conducted a "Select School", with a total enrollment of eight pupils. The Northville Academy was perhaps the best known of the private schools.

"Unlike those of the common district school" wrote T. R. Beal, onetime Northville Academy pupil, "its patrons were confronted each term with a 'rate bill' computed by adding all the items of expense for the term and dividing it by the total number of days which were taught, then charging each patron with the number of days his children had attended, a process which involved some perplexing fractions of a cent per day."

By 1849 the increasing population of Northville required a still larger school. The "New School Presbyterian Church" (now the public library) was purchased for $837 and converted into classrooms. The old stone school was sold to David Darnum for $67.

Ten years later, the city fathers decided to raise $5,000 for the construction of a two-story brick structure (just east of the junior high school) to be called the Union School.

Thus, shortly after the country boxed its head in thankfulness at the War's end and in sorrow at the death of Lincoln, the walls of the first Northville high school were built. The building was completed and ready for occupancy in September, 1865.

"There was nothing like it for miles around, and students came from every direction to take advantage of the opportunities it offered."

The fee for a single term of academic training was $5.20; for a junior course, $4.50; for intermediate, $4; and primary, $2.60.

Among the earliest students were: Spencer Clark, Emma Dubuar, Alice Hinman, Alice Johnson, Dean Griswold, Charles Harmon, Jervis Palmer, James Savage, Charles Sessions, Iva Bovee, Libbie Dubuar, Ida Hamilton, Malvina

Palmer, A. Randolph, Charles Booth, Arthur Brooks, Willie Slater, Willie Taft, Matti Lapham, Nettie Randolph, Emma Savage, and Leona Thompson.

William Osband was the first high school principal and teacher of ancient languages and science. His wife taught writing, drawing and bookkeeping.

Shortly after the turn of the Century, Northville again outgrew its high school and another was built facing West street (now closed) between Main and Cady. The old Union School then became an elementary school.

In 1916 the latter school building—Northville's first high school—was destroyed by fire. Immediately a new school was started. Overflow students were housed temporarily in the old high school and the library building.

The new school, now the junior high, was the first in Northville to contain a gymnasium. The new building cost approximately $75,000.

Methodist Church

Ministerial circuit riders gave impetus for a Methodist Episcopal Church here more than 125 years ago.

In 1834 the first regular Methodist service was held in Northville under the auspices of the Plymouth Mission, which served four townships. Marcus Swift and Lorenzo Davis were the first senior and junior preachers.

William and Sarah Dunlap deeded the property upon which the church was built between 1834 to 1839. The new church was dedicated in 1839 during the pastorage of Rev. James A. Kellam.

Novi Women Killed In South Lyon Crash

A Novi mother of two, her mother-in-law and a South Lyon school teacher were killed Monday in a head-on, two car crash.

Dead are Mrs. Donna Lou Kern, 29, of 162 Pickford in Novi; her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hattie E. Weitzel, 59, of the same address, and Mrs. Reva L. Richards, 50, of South Lyon.

The accident occurred Monday morning on Pontiac Trail near Silver Lake road about two miles north of South Lyon. State police reported that Mrs. Richards' car was attempting to pass another auto and that dense fog conditions hindered her vision. Her car crashed into the car, driven in the opposite direction by Mrs. Kern, enroute to Ann Arbor with her mother-in-law.

All three women were dead on arrival at St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Richards had just dropped her husband off at work at Michigan Seamless Tube Company and was enroute to New Hudson where she taught kindergarten in the morning. Afternoons Mrs. Richards taught music in South Lyon.

Mrs. Kern was driving her mother-in-law to University Hospital to have her eyes examined.

In addition to her husband, Robert, Mrs. Kern is survived by two children, David, 2, and Preston, 7 months; her mother, Mrs. Vida Lou Moore of Farmington; and one sister, Sandra Emerson of White Lake.

Mrs. Weitzel is survived by three other children besides Robert. They are: Mrs. William Clark of San Francisco, Calif.; Sergeant Donald E. Weitzel, now stationed in Tennessee; and Mrs. Frazier Milton of Lincoln. A brother, Wilbur J. Ferguson of Madison Heights and 12 grandchildren also surviving.

Funeral services for Mrs. Kern and Mrs. Weitzel will be held today (Thursday) at 1:00 p.m. at Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Walled Lake.

It marks the second funeral in the Weitzel family in 10 days. Services were held March 8 at Richardson-Bird for Mrs. Weitzel's husband, Elwood. Still on leave from the army to attend his father's funeral, Donald will remain for his mother's services.

Mrs. Richards is survived by her husband, Russell, and a son, Carl, 13. Funeral services will be held at Phillips Funeral Home in South Lyon today at 2:00 p.m.

Roy V. LeMaster Dies Suddenly In Naples, Florida

Roy V. LeMaster, on whose 105-acre Napier road farm a Northville area "oil boom" was started six years ago, died suddenly Saturday in Naples, Florida where he had been vacationing with his family.

Complete information concerning funeral arrangements must await the arrival of Mrs. LeMaster and her daughter, Betty, who are returning by automobile from Florida. The body is at Casterline Funeral home.

In instructions forwarded to Casterline's it was requested that contributions be made to the Shriners Crippled Children Hospital in lieu of flowers.

Funeral details may be obtained by calling the funeral home. Complete obituary details will be published in The Record next week.

LeMaster became well known throughout the area following the 5,000-barrel-per-day oil strike on his farm in January, 1954 by W. C. Taggart, millionaire Big Rapids wildcatter.

The strike touched off a flurry of activity attracting oil company representatives and lease-buying prospectors from all over the country.

The LeMasters moved to their farm at 9245 Napier road 19 years ago. He retired in 1951 after 37 years with the Ford Motor company.

A BIT OF IRELAND — Today Smiling Rosemary McNeilly is celebrating her first St. Patrick's Day away from Ireland. If she were back in Belfast, "there'd be no school and everyone would come from all Northern Ireland to see the rugby finals and go to parties and dances". How's Rosemary (an exchange student living with the Ed Welchies in Northville) going to celebrate St. Patrick's Day? "I'll wear green, of course. Then my girl friends at school are going to take me out to dinner — for pizza!" Rosemary happily posed in the center of a St. Patrick's creation at Lila's Flower & Gift Shop.

Tower Artists at Work!

They crawl around like ants on the trunk of a towering oak.

And like ants they perform a herculean task with the ease and precision of trapeze artists. They're the dozen men of the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company who are erecting the giant spheroid water tower near the city reservoir next to the new high school.

When completed the picturesque tower—which will look something like the shape of the 1910 dress styles—will stretch skyward, eclipsing all of the towering hills of northwestern Wayne and southern Oakland counties.

"It'll stand so high," predicts job foreman Russell Coryell, "that from the top you ought to be able to waive to Mayor Miriam in his downtown office."

Despite this height—some 136 feet in all—few workmen ever fall from the sides of the shapely metal structure, and in many cases the man who falls the greatest distance is hurt the least.

"Our company has been pushing a safety program for almost five years now, trying to cut down on the most common accidents, Coryell said. "The most common, I guess, is caused by falling sparks from the welders' torches. Everyone's required to wear glasses and these steel helmets."

"Falls? Sure we have them. But we have fellows hurt more just tripping over something laying on the ground than falling from the tower."

Work on the $86,000, 400,000 gallon tower is progressing rapidly. Coryell set the top construction time at 10 weeks, with the tower currently about half completed.

Briefly, this is how the tower is built:

Starting with the huge concrete base (about 240 tons of concrete), the workmen attach the first pre-cut steel sections, forming a cylinder. All sections throughout the tower are welded together inside and out—not bolted.

Once the initial sections are welded in place, sections above are "pegged" into place by steel pins. These pins are removed after each section is welded. Thus, like a giant puzzle, the sections are lifted into place by a crane, pegged and then welded. One of the 3/4 inch steel section may weigh more than 10,000 pounds.

When the foot of the tower and the long, steel arm reaching to the base of the tank are completed, workmen start the difficult construction of the tank itself. A derrick is attached to the top of the arm and the first section of the tank bubble is welded in place. When welding this belly section, the workmen must lay on their backs in a safety rig.

Simultaneously, with the construction of the bubble, a long narrow tube is erected inside the tank. When completed, this tube, which contains a ladder, is the passageway to the top of the tank. Through it public works employees will be able to reach the top of the tower, open a trap door, and replace burned out lights.

When the tank is completed, the derrick is lowered to the base of the tower through the tube and then out the door.

Contrary to many beliefs, water is stored only in the tank at the top of the tower, not in the room at the base. This room, large enough to contain some equipment, houses only two eight inch pipes reaching to the tank above.

A trap door is built in the inside belly of the tank to permit workmen to enter the tank itself—when empty of water—to clean it out.

The spheroid tank, according to Coryell, has several advantages over the more common "double ellipsoid" tank. It requires less maintenance and painting. And of course, he added, it prevents kids from climbing to the top to paint unsightly signs.

He Sells Enough for Bike; Transistor Radio is Next!

Salesmen in The Northville Record-Novi News "new subscriber" campaign began picking-up steam Saturday, the first report day.

More than 145 new subscriptions were recorded—but only one salesman reported enough to win a bicycle.

John Canterbury topped the field with 17 new subscriptions outpacing him to a new Evans Interceptor 300 bicycle. Actually, only 15 new subscriptions are needed for the bicycle, but John is still selling—hoping to earn a Motorola transistor radio by selling 10 more for a total of 25.

Some 83 men, women and children in the Northville-Novi-Wixom area have already signed up to sell subscriptions. More are expected to register this Saturday. All salesmen have until April 9 to earn a prize, and even if they sell less than enough to earn a bicycle or a radio they will receive $1.00 for each subscription sold.

Canterbury, a fifth grader at Main street elementary school in Northville, sold 13 new subscriptions the first day.

While most of the salesmen reported their sales to date at one of the offices in Northville, Novi and Wixom, a few failed to report at all.

Everyone is urged to report each Saturday so that new subscribers may start receiving their newspapers promptly.

Salesmen who have reported and their number of new subscriptions are:

Mrs. Mary Donovan, 8; Bill Sliger, Jr., 13; Curtis Hahn, 9; John Canterbury, 17; Larry Spangler, 12; Arnie Forth, 7; Mike Cayley, 6; Pat Caley, 1; William Pietron, 11; Linda Nolte, 3; Eric Stein, 5; Michael Hlohinec, 1; Bob Banks, 5; Bruce Dayton, 8; Jeff Mills, 1; John Tackett, 3; Don Thorpe, 8; Charles Hummel, 3; Steven Smith, 1; Chuck Konopski, 7; Jim Zayti, 1; Jerry Lyke, 3; Paul Sanford, 2; Rod Dahlager, 8; Jack Hoffman, 2; Roger Nicolay, 2; Leon Gross, 1.

Many of the salesmen signed up for the first time last Saturday and therefore have not yet reported any sales. More are expected to start this Saturday.

There's still plenty of time to earn a bicycle, radio—or both. Why don't you start calling your friends now and ask them to save their subscription for you! See full details on page 13.

Novi Voters Oust Three Councilmen

You'll Get Census Slip This Week

Advance Report Forms for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing will be distributed by Post Office employees this week to all households in this area, District Supervisor Jack H. McDonald announced today.

The Advance Report Form is a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form before the start of the house-to-house canvass gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit. The district supervisor urges all residents to fill out the form and have it ready for the census takers when they start their rounds on April 1.

The Advance Report Form contains seven questions about the household's dwelling. The household information asked for is name, address, sex, color or race, month and year of birth, whether married or single, and relationship to head of the household. The information required about the dwelling is the number of rooms, cooking facilities, plumbing, and whether rented or owned.

At every fourth household, the census taker will leave a Census Household Questionnaire which contains additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of a 25 percent sample of the Nation's population. Householders are requested to fill out the household questionnaire and mail it within three days to the local census district office. A pre-addressed, postage free envelope is being provided for this purpose.

The "sample" population questions include inquiries on country of birth, mother tongues of foreign born, schooling, employment, income and related items. The additional housing questions relate to rent or value of dwelling, heating equipment, water supply, and other facilities and equipment.

McDonald pointed out that information about individuals and their homes furnished to the Census Bureau is kept confidential under Federal law. Only statistical totals and averages are published.

In a surprisingly strong protest vote, three village councilmen were turned out to pasture Monday as three Novi Civic Improvement association members swept into office.

The newly elected councilmen are: Joseph Crupi, 41600 Nine Mile road; Dean Lenheiser, 45095 Mayo Court; and Miss Eugenie Choquet, 727 South Lake Drive.

All three new members will be sworn into office Monday evening by Village Clerk Mary Wallace. After officially taking office, the new members and the two remaining councilmen will elect a village president. Councilman Walter Tuck has been the president for the past two years.

Two of the incumbents finished dead last in the eight member race. The third finished fifth. The vote was:

Crupi, 465; Lenheiser, 406; Choquet, 375; Donald Woodward, 240; Dieron Taffralian, 231; Ted Christensen, 224; Dirk Groenoberg, 196; and Russell Button, 191.

Only 49 percent of the qualified electors cast their ballots in electing the three new council members. A total of 1,679 persons were registered, but only 823 voted.

Drivers' License Fees Up; Tighten Motor Scooter Law

The cost of drivers licenses will go up 50 cents starting Saturday.

Both new operators and chauffeurs licenses and renewals will be effected, announced Northville Police Chief Eugene King.

The cost hike is part of a series of recent amendments to the state motor vehicle licensing act.

Other amendments include new restrictions on motor scooter licenses, King said.

Previous cost for a new operators or chauffeurs license, which includes motor scooter licenses, was $3.50. The new cost will be $4.

For renewals, the old $2 operators license charge will be raised to $2.50 and the $2.25 chauffeurs license fee to $2.75.

Motor scooter license regulations are also tougher.

A motor scooter operator must be 15 or older before he can apply for a special restricted operators license. Parent's signature must also be obtained for applicants under 18.

Under the new amendment, applicants are now also required to have passed a course in driver education.

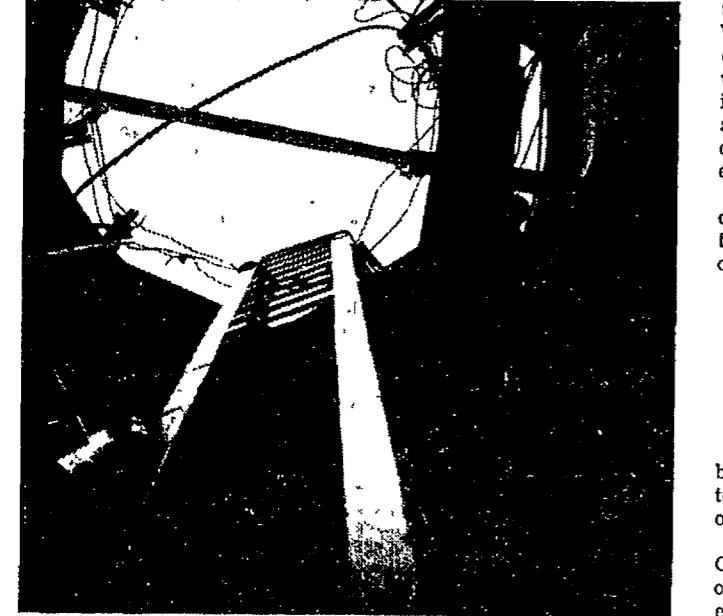

Another amendment restricts night driving of motor scooters.

Persons wishing to drive motor scooters between sundown and sunrise will now have to obtain a special night driving permit approved by his parents and police.

Other motor scooter rules are: For night driving scooters must be equipped with constant beam head and tail lights.

Scooter drivers may not exceed local traffic speeds, and must keep within 35 mph maximum at all times.

Scooters may not carry more than 1 person at a time.

INSIDE OUT—Construction of Northville's new water tower is about half completed. The picture above was taken from the inside of the structure looking skyward.

Old Scout Try Saves the Day At Girl Scout Birthday Party

The scout slogan "be prepared" saw plenty of action on the eve of the annual Girl Scout birthday party at the community building this week end.

For a few dark moments — unknown to more than 500 parents and scouts who had a grand time at the program Saturday night — it looked like the curtain might have to go up without a mistress of ceremonies.

Thursday afternoon while rehearsing her M.C. speech, Neighborhood Chairman Mrs. F. S. Jennings fell and broke an arm.

Troop Advisor Mrs. Robert Shafer was rushed in as a replacement, only to be laid low by a virus while preparing the lag ceremony.

It was Mrs. Edwin Langtry, council supply director, who finally mustered the last heav-ho, and delivered a poised and polished performance.

A camping theme was carried out in this year's celebration, chairmaned by Mrs. Glenn Diebert.

Some 250 scouts eating in two shifts sat down to a pre-program dinner.

Parents later filled gym chairs and bleachers for the program of song, talk and film.

Northville delegates to the triennial International Girl Scout Roundup and little roundup, Stephanie Brown and Mary Ebert, reported their experiences at the Colorado and Canada camps last summer.

Their talks were followed by a film on the roundups.

Troops also presented their birthday pennies — pennies from each scout equaling the years of her age — for the Juliette Low birthday fund for the advancement of scouting.

Leader Mrs. F. Sterner asked parents for volunteer help with the coming June day camp program.

And the girl entertained guests with Girl Scout songs.

Assisting Mrs. Diebert were Mrs. Wayne McBride and Mrs. John Taxis.

A.A.U.W. to Tour Northville High

Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. J. C. Robertson. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ray Collins, chairman, Mrs. J. M. Hopkins, and Mrs. W. H. Medlyn.

The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m.

The group will also sponsor a Senior Girls' tea Sunday from 2-4 p.m. at Plymouth high school.

Invitations will go to all area high school senior girls this week. The tea will be held in the high school auditorium.

World Goals Told Woman

The worldwide force of club women might have been a subtitle to Monday's program of the Northville Garden club.

Mrs. F. G. Garrison, chairman of international cooperation, Woman's National Farm and Garden association, Michigan division, spoke on her recent trip to Edinburgh as a delegate to the World International Cooperation Conference.

Women from most world countries met to discuss their common ideas and problems on world cooperation, she said.

Three goals that emerged from the talks, Mrs. Garrison pointed out were: to advocate and strive for better standards of living throughout the world; better education for children; and peace for the world.

The Association of Country Women of the World, of which the Northville branch is a member, has accomplished much toward these goals, Mrs. Garrison said, through establishment of teaching clinics in underdeveloped countries.

The clinics provide information for adults on sanitation and care of children.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Kohls. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. W. Johnson, Mrs. J. Northup, Mrs. C. Stephens, Mrs. Harvey Whipple and Mrs. D. H. Clark.

It was also announced that an April 11 workshop in preparation for the fall garden show will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Schulz.

Newcomer's Corner

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

—Samuel Johnson

NEWCOMERS of one month are W. W. Nichols' of Ely drive. They are (l-r) Betsy, Mrs. Nichols, Mr. Nichols and Randy.

One day not long ago the W. W. Nichols, then Detroiters, decided to explore the "headwaters" of 7 Mile road.

Coming upon scenic Cass Benton park, they knew that Northville was the end of the line as far as they were concerned.

A month ago the Nichols' and children, Betsy, 14, and Randy, 10, moved into a new home in Northville Heights.

Enrolled in ninth and fifth grades respectively, Betsy and Randy have high praise for their schools.

Their dad works for Creditors Service, Inc., Detroit.

Two activities occupy a large share of the Nichols' leisure hours: art and sports.

Betsy hopes to major in art in college. Randy, while equally enchanted with paint brush and easel, worries because he "can't draw animals" the way he'd like to.

Katherine Nichols likes to sew and knit. Her husband enjoys painting and sports.

They are members of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church.

Novi Winners Give Views

The resounding victory for three out-spoken critics of the village council has given rise to many questions in the minds of observers who wonder "what now?"

Will the newly elected trio consider their election a mandate to "clean house?"

How do the two remaining council members—President Walter Tuck and Councilman Phillip Anderson feel about this turn of events?

And what is the status of the village manager, frequently criticized by the triumphant trio and their supporters?

The Novi News took these questions to the individuals involved and received these answers:

What do you interpret the results of the election to mean?

Joseph Crupi—"I think the vote was just a rebellion against the council, particularly on zoning questions."

Dean Lenheiser—"The vote is obvious. The voters wanted new councilmen."

Eugenie Choquet—"The people have been dissatisfied with the village government. I've said that right along."

Monday you will elect a president. Who do you think will be elected?

Crupi—"I really don't know. I suspect we'll try to get one of the three of us in there" (new council members).

Lenheiser—"I have no opinion". Choquet—"I don't know. I think Phil Anderson would be good, but of course it depends on how the others feel."

What about the village manager? Does this mean he must leave?

Crupi—"Fred is a good worker. I don't question his ability. I'm questioning whether he's gone down the lane following the council. I for one do not want his resignation tomorrow. Maybe the next day. I think I can work with him."

Lenheiser—"Well, I don't know how the rest of them feel. There has been a lot of talk against him. If the majority are dissatisfied, there is no alternative. You can't operate with someone you can't get along with."

Choquet—"I'm willing to replace him at the next council meeting, but I imagine the other members will want to wait and work with him for awhile I've worked with him before."

When Miss Choquet was asked if she intended to submit the petitions for "return to township" government she is presently holding she replied:

"If it's the wish of the people who signed the petition. However, I'm hoping for better cooperation with the township. If this isn't possible, then I believe we should return to township status and eliminate two governments."

Crupi and Lenheiser were asked if they would pursue the efforts of the Novi Civic Improvement Association (of which they have been members) to have the Nine Mile road property of Arthur Heslip rezoned back from industrial to agricultural.

Crupi—"I don't know if we could do it. It would only lead to a law suit. Frankly, I don't know."

Lenheiser—"I don't know what possibility there is of doing such a thing. I might make the attempt."

Here's what Councilman Anderson had to say after the results were in:

"I was a wee bit surprised—there was a lot of ill-feeling."

(About the loss of his fellow councilmen) "I was happy with the bunch, although they made a lot of decisions against my way of thinking. I have always been for more services that people can see and feel."

(About the manager) "I won't commit myself on that. I have disagreed with many of the things he has done."

(About electing a president) "I don't know. I have a lot of respect for Walt (Tuck) and I would vote for him if I knew it wouldn't burden him with something he didn't want."

Remarks by President Walter Tuck:

"I'm a little disappointed—surprised too. The council was well organized and everybody got along fine."

In answer to rumors that he planned to resign, the president said "I think I would have to be a better loser than that. I'm at least going to go along with them to see how things work out."

"I don't think I would want to be re-elected president. I think I could better serve the village as a councilman only."

76 Year Old Driver Fined $75 at Wixom

A 76-year-old motorist and a South Lyon driver were fined Saturday when they appeared before Wixom Justice of Peace William Welke.

Elmer C. Burlew, 76, of Wallied Lake was found guilty of reckless driving as a result of an accident at Wixom road and Pontiac Trail. He was ordered to pay a $75 fine or serve 30 days in jail.

Billy R. Williams, who police said has had eight moving violations and has had his operator's license suspended twice, was found guilty of speeding. He was fined $75.

However, Williams is appealing the case to Circuit Court in an effort to keep his license. He was released under a $100 bond pending trial.

Students Learned in Log Hut

The present church was erected in 1884 at a cost of $3,700. Rev. John M. Van Every became the first minister to preach in the new church.

Presbyterian Church

The first Presbyterian church of Plymouth, later changed to the First Presbyterian church of Northville, held its first services here in houses, barns, and schools about 1829. The formal organization of the church—ninth in the state—look place on November 28, 1829. Rev. Eric Prince preached the first sermon.

The first church building was erected in 1836 at a cost of $340. Daniel L. Cady donated the property. In 1846 a new building was constructed at a cost of $3,000. This building was remodeled in 1872, and on March 4, 1889, the name was changed to the First Presbyterian society of Northville.

The Rev. James Dabuar was the first regularly installed pastor.

A schism developed in the church about 1840 over the question of uniting with the "New School Movement." Twelve members withdrew, organized a "New School" church in 1845, and built the structure now used as a public library. The Rev. Sylvester Cochran was the first and only pastor of the new church which broke up four years later, with its members returning to the parent church.

Baptist Church

Formation of the Baptist church here took place on February 3, 1835. However, a church building was not constructed until several years later when the Dunlaps deeded the property to the church society. The Rev. Nathan Noyes was the first minister.

Members of the first board of trustees were Henry Knapp, David Gregory, Lester Sha, Merrill Randolph, Samuel Rogers, William Munn, and Ebenezer Pennell.

In 1859 the church building was enlarged, and in 1879 it was completely remodeled. A bell was placed in the church tower by Samuel and Daniel Rogers and Aldrich Knapp at a cost of $280.

Catholic Church

The first services for Catholics were held about 1880 in public halls and homes here. A church building that stood just north of the Edison building was used first by the Methodists, then the Salvation Army, and finally the Catholics. The latter group occupied it for only a short time before it was condemned.

In 1905 Father Hally of Milford purchased a house which stood on the site of the Edison building. A succession of visiting priests conducted services in this frame building.

It wasn't until 1923 that the Rev. Joseph Schuler was commissioned to become Northville's first resident Catholic priest. The site of the present church was purchased shortly thereafter and a frame building erected in the spring of 1924.

The church property at Dunlap and Center was sold to the Detroit Edison Company in 1927.

Lutheran Church

A small German congregation of less than 20 persons constituted the first Lutheran church some five or six years before the turn of the Century.

According to reports in The Record, the German Lutheran society, which held its first services in the homes of its members and in the Methodist church, had a "phenomenal growth" of 27 persons between 1897 and the first few months of 1898.

The first frame church building was dedicated July 3, 1898. The Rev. Charles Retz of St. Luke's Church of Detroit was the guest speaker. The local church pastor, Rev. R. Reinhardt, who organized the society, conducted the regular service.

Some of the earliest ministers were: Rev. Marlin Philipp, Rev. R. Baumgartner, Rev. J. Miller, Rev. Ernest Manske, Rev. L. Lorentz, and C. Eissfeldt.

Mach Salesmen Honored by Ford

Two salesmen of John Mach Ford Sales, Inc., Northville, will be presented Ford Motor Company's 300-500 Club award at a banquet in Detroit, March 21, honoring high-ranking Ford dealership car and truck salesmen of 1959 in Ford Division's Detroit sales district.

The local Ford salesmen are K. D. Mackenzie and H. R. Mackie.

J. O. Wardwell, Detroit district sales manager, said 3000-500 Club membership awards are presented for excellent retail sales performance and added that efforts of winning salesmen are of particular significance because they resulted in Ford leading all other makes in sales last year.

Wardwell added that the average 300-500 Club member sold the equivalent of 100 new cars and 70 used cars in qualifying for the national honors, and that club members in the aggregate sold more than 3 billion dollars worth of automotive merchandise.

The Last Commandment

The last commandment says, "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's". This commandment forbids that craving for earthly things that uncontrolled desire to have everything that we see. This sin leads a man to a host of other sins. It causes repining and complaints against our lot in life and breeds an unthankful spirit within us. To covet what our neighbors have often leads to envy and what unbecoming behavior is attached to this evil. Covetousness may well become a disease that will ruin a home to satisfy a craving for what others have. Modern advertising is designed to make people covetous. It helps to breed the sin of dissatisfaction and the continuous craving for things we do not have. Thus we conclude our brief series on the commandments. I'm sure that everyone of us must plead guilty of sinning against God by the breaking of the moral law. The knowledge of our guilt is designed to show us that we need a Saviour. Christ came to save people who will acknowledge their sin and turn to Him for mercy and forgiveness.

ROTARY SPEAKER — C. E. Merritt, general counsel for Consumers Power company, will speak to members of the Northville Rotary club at their regular meeting next Tuesday noon. Merritt's subject will be the underground gas storage fields in the Northville area.

NICE GOING — Jim Tuck, Northville high school junior, will be after his fourth consecutive oratorical victory tonight and the state championship in the National American Legion oratorical contest. After winning local honors, Jim advanced through the district by defeating representatives of Ladywood and Bentley high schools. Next he topped contestants from Lansing Sexton, Flint, Berkly and Saginaw to win the zone title. Tonight he'll meet other zone winners from throughout the state in the finals at Ecorse. Thus far his wins have brought him a medal and $55 in cash awards. The national championship is worth a $4,000 scholarship. Contestants give a 10-12 minute oration on the constitution and then a 4-6 minute extemporaneous talk. Jim is shown being congratulated by James Madigan representing the sponsoring American Legion post, while Miss Florence Panattoni, high school speech teacher looks on.

Winter Fishing Activity Down

There has been a marked fall in fishing pressure this winter on some of Michigan's more popular lakes in the northern lower peninsula, the Conservation Department's recent aerial survey of fishing shanties indicates.

This winter's shanty count was down approximately 30 percent from last year on the 18 lakes surveyed. Although it represents a small sampling limited to one region, the survey could be a somber omen for the state's 1960 fishing license sales. "Snowballing" effects of these sagging sales, dating from 1954, have already put a stringent pinch compared with 285 last winter while Crystal lake's shanty count fell grams.

Showing the biggest decline in shanties this winter were Charlevoix, Crystal and Houghton lakes and Fletcher Floodwater. The sharp drop at the first two lakes was attributed to low smelt populations. Lake Charlevoix had 97 shanties from 373 to 173.

A puzzler to Department fisheries men was the decline from 648 to on many of the Department's pro-442 shanties on Houghton lake where fishing has been reported good. Also unexplained was the shanty count on Fletcher Floodwater which plunged from 560 to 332.

Modest increases were recorded on Burt and Black lakes, probably due to February's sturgeon spear-fishing season.

P-TA Eyes Science

The Northville Record

THE OLDEST WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY — EST. 1868 Thursday, March 17, 1960—9

Do we need a change in emphasis in teaching science to children?

How can we maintain a child's "natural" curiosity about the world around him?

How can parents help stimulate science interest in their children?

Is science study for a select few only, or does it have a place for all?

These and other questions about teaching science to children will be discussed at next Thursday's (March 24) meeting of the P-TA.

A former teacher of physics, science education, and chemistry at the University of Wyoming, Lawrence A. Conrey, will be guest speaker.

Conrey is at present assistant professor of education at the University of Michigan.

His will be the third in a series of four monthly P-TA lectures on special school issues.

Along with the talk, local elementary, junior high, and high school classes will exhibit science projects undertaken in regular classroom work.

The exhibit will be set up in the lobby of the community building and will open to visitors one hour before the 8 p.m. P-TA meeting.

Exhibits include grade school studies of the cat family and motors; a junior high display on animal conservation; and high school projects on seed germination, flame test for metals, solution conductivity, Archimedes principle, and coefficient of linear expansion.

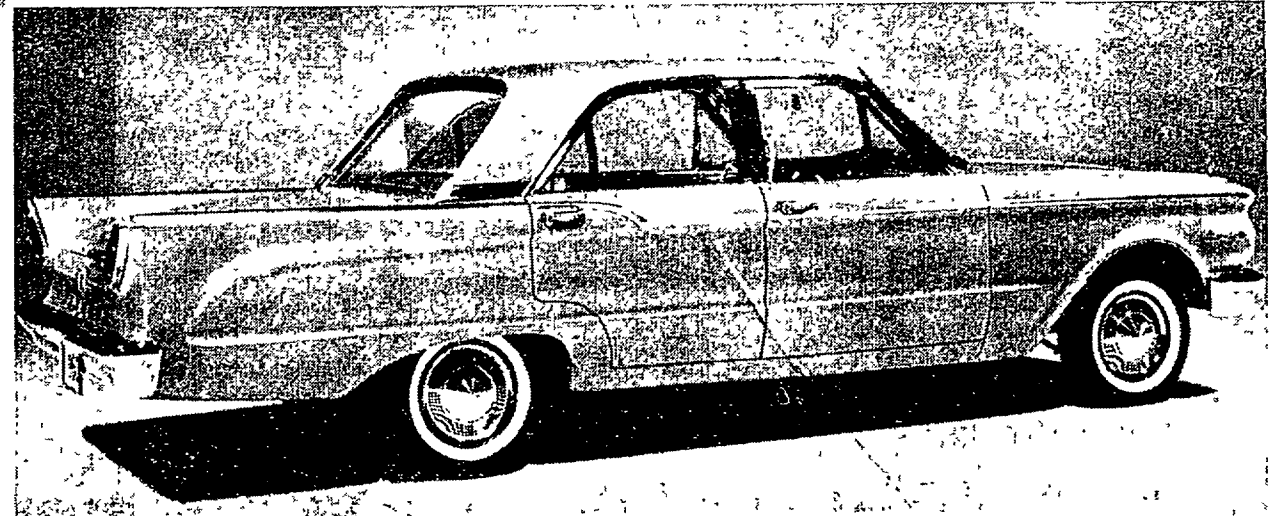

A P-TA committee will also present a report on Northville teacher salaries during the business meeting.

EXAMINING the details of a leaf in the study of plant families are Carole Tabor with microscope and Heidi Handorf.

Northville City Council Proceedings

A regular meeting of the Northville City Council was held at City Hall Monday, March 7, 1960, at 8:00 p.m.

Present: Mayor Allen, Councilmen Canterbury, Reed and Welch.

Absent: Councilman Juday.

Minutes of last regular meeting were read and approved.

Bills amounting to $24,001.19 from the General Fund, $157,520.00 from the Other Government Fund, $3,855.82 from the Water Construction Fund and $7,588.19 from the Water Fund were presented for payment. It was moved by Reed, supported by Canterbury, that these bills be paid. Carried.

Communication was read from the Northville Public Schools stating they had decided not to appoint representatives to the proposed recreation study committee.

Mgr. Robertson reported that Angelo Gadioli had filed an appeal in connection with his application to add to his bowling alley, which requires him to furnish parking space according to the Off-street parking ordinance. He also reported that the erection of the water tower has been started.

Letters have been sent to 20 or more organizations regarding allowing a representative of the City to talk to them about the March 28, election on annexation. Only six have replied.

Mgr. Robertson stated he felt the Council should consider paving the first block off Main Street on Orchard Drive this year, because of the heavy traffic due to the Catholic School and Church being located there.

Public hearing on Special Assessment Ordinance was next on the agenda. Sydney Frid asked if this ordinance would apply to the unpaved streets in the old part of town, and Council stated it was not the intention to have the provisions of same apply to these streets unless there are reasons why the governing body feels the property owners should participate in the cost of paving because of unusual expense involved in certain areas. There being no other questions or objections raised to the passage of this ordinance, it was moved by Canterbury, supported by Welch, that the Special Assessment ordinance be adopted. Carried.

A resolution was presented for consideration regarding the dangerous state of repairs of the Methodist church tower and the fact that it has been a noted landmark of the City and should be continued as an asset. Because the tower and clock is the property of the City, the Council will pay not to exceed $4,000.00 toward the demolition of the old tower and erection of a new one with the clock installed in same, the Methodist Church to acquire title to the new tower and clock and same shall thereafter be maintained by them. It was moved by Reed, supported by Allen, that this resolution be adopted. Carried.

Atty. Ogilvie was instructed to prepare a legal document setting forth these stipulations.

Under new business, appointment of a committee on arrangements for Michigan Week was first item. Mgr. Robertson was appointed temporary chairman, with the understanding that he will appoint his own committees.

Mgr. Robertson recommended the adoption of the reciprocal Heating Code by the City, by reference, with such changes and additions as would make it applicable to the City of Northville. It was moved by Reed, supported by Canterbury that this resolution be adopted. Carried.

Moved by Canterbury, supported by Reed, that the revised Zoning Ordinance be approved for public hearing and published in the Northville Record, hearing to be held April 11, 1960. Carried. On March 21, 1960, this Ordinance will be further discussed with the Planning Commission and with Messrs. Benicke and Krue.

Mgr. Robertson stated he felt the City Council should consider the hiring of a bookkeeper on a part-time basis. He was authorized to investigate this proposition.

No further business appearing, meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Mary Alexander, Clerk

WHO OWNS IT?—These fire eaten timbers once held together a cozy little fishing shanty on Wall Lake. But last Friday, a fire of undetermined origin reduced it to rubble, destroying all evidence of ownership. So Novi police must wait until someone calls in to report his shanty destroyed before they can close their files. Anyone knowing the owner is asked to call the police at FI. 9-2444.

Spring Sports Practices Start Monday Afternoon

Scores of Northville athletes are expected to turn out Monday afternoon for the initial spring sports practice sessions.

Monday's orientation practice will be the first this season for all sports except track. Some 40 track hopefuls answered Coach Ralph Redmond's call last week.

Spring schedules will be announced next week, Athletic Director Al Jones said Monday.

Redmond admittedly is "in the dark" over the caliber of his candidates because he doesn't know the boys. But the coach added that he was mighty pleased with the turnout—one of the largest in the school's history.

Last year, under Coach Chuck Yahn, about 35 boys were on hand for the first track practices.

Jones, who will pilot the varsity ball club again this year, anticipates a stronger turnout this season than last. With several lettermen returning, plus a number of outstanding junior varsity players, Jones envisions a "solid" team except on the mound.

The pitching staff, he admits, probably will be the weakest link in an otherwise strong squad.

Jones will be assisted this year by Dick Rusche, high school biology teacher.

M. F. Meaker, who coached Northville youngsters to a record of 8 wins, 3 losses and 2 ties, will be back at the reins this year.

Although he'll have a big building job this season, Meaker lost only one player through graduation last year—Bill Chizmar.

Coach Ron Schipper will be back in the driver's seat as Northville netters start swinging Monday.

Schipper has indicated Northville should have a good team this season with eight veteran players back. Only Dennis Fallon and Scott Adams were lost through graduation.

Stan Galonka will coach the junior varsity baseball team this season.

2 Lake Quintets Clash Tonight

Two Walled Lake cage squads will clash tonight in a championship battle for men's division tournament crown.

St. Mathews Lutheran, winner of the regular season title with sizzling 12-1 record, will take on second place St. Williams Catholic beginning at 8:30 in the Walled Lake Junior High school.

The two teams gained the playoff finals by clipping Walled Lake Methodist and Commerce Methodist last week.

St. Williams' starting lineup will be Jerry Shinski, John Yesh, Bill Keenen, Phil Hunter, and John Fairbanks, while St. Mathews will floor Jerry Long, Jack DeCov, Don Nissen, Don McKelvey and George Spencer.

THE DENTIST'S OFFER

Recently an offer to give a copy of the "Age of Reason" by Thomas Paine to the first 30 persons writing in was made by a Michigan Dentist in the Open Forum column of the Detroit Free Press.

The Dentist did not believe anyone to be in a position to judge the truthfulness of the Bible in its claim to be the Word of God until he had read Thomas Paine's book.

Whether this Dentist is an atheist or an infidel or a communist I do not know. This much I know, that I would not want to be that Dentist when he comes to the Judgement Seat before Almighty God.

I would not want to be guilty of even attempting to destroy the faith of 30 people who might follow the path of this infamous American infidel.

I would a great deal rather give out 30 Bibles or books that strengthen one's faith in the Bible.

For the sake of argument let us blind ourselves to the world of proof and say there is no God, no hereafter, that all there is, is in this life. Tell me, which class of people have the happiest life and contribute most to the happiness of others?

How many hospitals have infidels built? How many aged have they cared for? What contribution have they ever made to the well-being of others? What comfort can they give in sorrow and in death? The answer is none! I challenge this Dentist to show me one man that has been helped by believing the "Age of Reason" and I will show him a hundred for his one that have been helped by faith in the Word of God.

If I were this Dentist I would carefully read the account of the death of Thomas Paine. These are his exact words when he was dying. "I would give worlds if I had them, that the 'Age of Reason' had never been published. O Lord, help me! Christ help me! O God, why must I suffer so much? But there is no God! But if there should be, what will become of me hereafter? Stay with me, for God's sake! Send even a child to stay with me, for it is hell to be alone. If ever the devil had an agent I have been that one."

I have written this Dentist on a previous occasion and have warned him repeatedly with these words "Five minutes after you die you will know that you are wrong."

But it will be too late! What is there to be gained by such a futile course?

And now a word in closing to a host of people who believe like saints but act like infidels. They say they believe the Bible. They confess that they believe Jesus died for their sins and that He arose again and I believe they do. But they have never put that faith into action by a personal surrender to Jesus Christ. A head knowledge is not sufficient! An intellectual belief is but the first step but alone is profitless.

The Bible requires a personal committal of one's self to Jesus Christ in absolute surrender to Him as Lord and Saviour.

When you stand in judgement whose side do you want to be on? The side of Christ or the side this Dentist represents?

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

Northville planning commissioners remained in exactly the same position they had been one week ago when it came time to rule upon the proposed rezoning of Cady street.

On a motion offered by George Zerbelt the board decided to postpone a decision two weeks until they can confer with authorities of the company proposing to construct a supermarket on Cady street.

With the public announcement of the appointment of a principal this week, the Rev. B. J. Pankow, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, reported that spadework on St. Paul's Lutheran elementary should begin sometime in April with completion set for September.

Although it was one of the briefest meetings in recent years, the city council still made a big decision Monday night.

An assessment ratio for inventories of 80 percent was adopted by the council to settle the complex, and frequently confounded, problem.

In a short meeting Tuesday night the Northville township board decided to study a $1,000 library bill from Wayne county before approval.

FIVE YEARS AGO
Petitions are being circulated this week for a special village election to vote on incorporating Northville as a city.

Fulfillment of the growing need for a larger church for Our Lady of Victory parish may be accomplished next year, according to present plans for construction of a building with a seating capacity of 500 persons. Fr. Anthony J. Heraty, pastor, said this week.

The village zoning board of appeals Tuesday granted Richard Benicke and Robert Krue of Detroit, developers of the subdivision on the Yerkes farm, permission to build about 50 percent of the houses in the project with a minimum space of 17 feet on the sides of each residence.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO . . .
Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Balko of Base Line Road received word from the War Department Sunday to the effect that their son, Lieut. Elmer Balko was wounded in France February 11.

"Relatives by Affection" is the name of the play which the senior class of Northville high school has chosen to be given May 3 and 4.

Once again the Northville high school basketball team will participate in the district finals which are to be held in the Ferndale high gymnasium this week end.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

"Natural" Nuisance

To early Americans, Natural GAS was merely a phenomena. They dedicated it as a shrine or left it burning for sightseers. After the discovery of oil, producers classified Natural GAS a nuisance and ignited it — another example of man's wastefulness due to ignorance.

"Rainy Day" Surplus

Today Natural GAS is carefully guarded against waste or loss. In the summer, surplus supplies from highly productive wells are stored in underground pools (depleted oil and gas fields) near points of mass consumption. This assures a dependable, adequate supply of Miracle Fuel for winter months. *

* Michigan Gas Storage Co. (a Consumers Power Co. subsidiary) has storage fields near Marion, Michigan where Natural GAS is put back in the earth under a pressure of hundreds of pounds per sq. in. and withdrawn as needed in winter when GAS consumption is highest.

Report of Special Committees:

Mrs. Jean Angle and Mr. John Swain reported for the Curriculum Study Committee, which is now reorganizing for the purpose of studying the academically superior child. The Committee has proposed that a series of articles be written by the Committee regarding general school curriculum problems, for publication in the local newspaper, with comment to follow by the school administration. The administration is agreeable to this plan, providing time enough is allowed for good mutual planning of the articles to be published. The Board feels that this plan has merit, if the articles are presented in a factual manner.

A list of names was also submitted for approval for membership on the Committee. Mr. Shafer moved they be approved, supported by Mr. Crump. Motion carried.

Report of Auditing Committee:

The Auditing Committee approved bills and payrolls for payment as follows: General Fund Bills, $12,828.46; Payrolls, $54,605.02; Building and Site Fund Bills, $4,021.59; Cafeteria Account Bills, $2,161.36. 2. Teachers' Salary proposal: Miss Panatoni, the Chairman of the Teachers' Club Salary Committee, explained the operation of a new salary proposal and offered to answer questions regarding it. The proposed schedule involves three steps, or levels, ranging from a beginning salary of $4,500 for the B. A. and $4,800 for the M. A. to a possible $7,200 for the B. A. and $7,500 for the M. A. Provision is also made on these levels for added 'graduate credits and for the Ph. D. A fourth level is provided for M. A. degrees earned on a career basis. This level begins at $7,800 for the M. A. and attains a maximum of $11,000 for the Ph. D.

2. Dr. MacLeod had prepared, at the request of the Supt., a report on the approximate cost of this program if instituted this coming year. His report shows that, under this plan, a net added cost of $33,500 to the district would be entailed.

The Board felt that the plan suggested had great merit but took no action at this time, while agreeing to give the matter every consideration.

3. Mr. Cady, of Price Brothers Company, Michigan Flexicore Division, presented a film regarding his product, which is pre-cast concrete for construction purposes.

4. Mr. John Miller of Green Ridge Nursery, presented a plan for landscaping the high school site. He also asked the Board what further work they would like him to do on the north side of the building and on the slopes north of the access road. Mr. Lawrence suggested that a committee be appointed to work with Mr. Miller and Mr. Ellison on these landscaping problems, and Mr. Schrader appointed Mr. Lawrence and Dr. Johnson to this committee.

5. Paving at Amerman School: Board instructed Supt. to refer this matter to the school's attorney for an opinion.

6. Athletic Site: Mr. Penn, of LaPorte and Penn, engineers for the high school athletic site, was present to further explain the plans for the playing fields to the Board, and was authorized to proceed with plans and advertisements for bids for construction.

SPEAKING

for the Record

By Bill Sliger

The Northville board of appeals will be faced with an interesting problem when it meets tonight to hear a request from Angelo Gadioli.

Owner of Northville Lanes bowling establishment, Gadioli is badly in need of additional alleys to meet the demands of his growing business.

He owns enough property next to his present site to add five or six more alleys to his modern 12-lane building. But his request for a building permit to construct the addition was denied by the building inspector.

It's unlikely that Gadioli was surprised when his request for a permit was turned down.

Gadioli can't provide offstreet parking for his addition. Under the city zoning ordinance (standard for most communities) minimum parking requirements are set forth for anyone constructing a new building or adding more floor space to an existing building.

The purpose of the ordinance is obvious. It is reasonably new, and probably came 20 years too late, but is designed to prevent any further construction without regard to parking facilities.

The requirements of the ordinance are minimum. Most businesses that rely on traffic (such as a supermarket) would automatically provide more parking spaces than the ordinance requires.

And Gadioli wants parking, too. He recognizes that it's highly desirable—and if he could provide offstreet parking he would. But thus far, he has been unable to acquire (at a price within reason) any property near his building.

The ordinance, however, provides an 'escape' for anyone caught in Gadioli's situation.

Under the ordinance he must provide five off-street parking spaces for each new alley. So, if he adds five alleys, that's 25 spaces. The ordinance states that if off-street parking property is not available, the builder may contribute to the city parking fund instead.

The cost per parking space for such a contribution (as established by the city council) is $600 per space. This is slightly more than half the actual cost of acquiring and constructing an improved parking space in the business district.

To Gadioli this would mean an outlay of $15,000 in addition to his building cost.

He objects to this procedure—probably for several reasons. To begin with he would "own" nothing for his $15,000; secondly, the city parking it did eventually provide would not necessarily be near his business.

Gadioli is not without backers in his position—especially among the businessmen. Some say the ordinance "stifles" business growth. Others believe it should apply only to "new" buildings. They argue that he owns the land adjoining his alleys and should be able to build "on land for which he has been paying taxes".

There's a story on the other side of the coin, too.

Special consideration given Northville Lanes must also be available to other businesses. Thus, if the parking requirement is waived for one existing business, it should be for others. And then, what about the new business (like the hamburger stand at the corner of Center and Dunlap) that provided the necessary parking under the ordinance when it was constructed?

Can it now (as an established business) expand its size to cover the parking space without worry of providing more parking?

Everyone concerned wants very much to see Northville Lanes expand and continue to prosper in Northville. Successful commercial businesses are too few in number and every effort to encourage existing or new business should be made.

But encouragement must also be within the limits of what is best for all businesses—individually and collectively.

Tonight the board of appeals has a great deal to consider.

Watch Japan Grow

Babson Park, Mass. — The recent signing of a new treaty between the U.S. and Japan may one day be reckoned as a major turning point in our history. By this treaty we have raised our mortal enemy of less than 15 years ago to a new position of prestige in the world community. This should further spur Japan's spectacular postwar recovery, and also help protect U.S. interests in the Far East.

Unparalleled Progress

At the end of World War II, the economy of Japan lay in ruins. Tokyo itself was a pile of rubble and nearly 50 percent of the nation's industry had been destroyed. Thanks to the enlightened leadership of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and to the amazing capacity of the Japanese themselves, the economic life of the country was quickly restored. Instead of being submerged by her conqueror, Japan regained full sovereignty and then achieved economic progress matched by no other nation.

Japan's gross national product has more than doubled during the past short ten years. There has been a 400 percent increase in industrial production. While per-capita income at $270 per year is very small by U.S. standards, it is the highest in all Asia. Since prices are still low in Japan, this sum will purchase three times as much goods and services as in the U.S. If Japan can escape war in the next ten years, I predict she will double her present living standards.

Great Strategic Value

Although much smaller than Red China in population, in territorial size, in natural resources, and in military might, Japan possesses the most concentrated and most readily usable industrial power potential in the Far East. That, plus her location, makes her strategically important to us, or to the Communist bloc.

Japan stretches some 2,000 miles across the principal approaches to East Asia. Opposite her islands lie the southeastern extremities of Russia, the cruelly partitioned land of Korea, and the middle east coast of China. If you look at your globe, you will see that the "Land of the Rising Sun" occupies a geographical position relative to East Asia similar to that which Britain occupies relative to Western Europe.

Expanding Securities Market Japan's ancient culture has been derived mainly from China, but her modern culture is largely Western and American. She is bound to the Free World by ties of strategy and economy and has good reason to steer clear of the Soviet camp. Thus Japanese postwar growth is now following traditional capitalistic lines, for the most part.

A significant aspect of that growth has been the development of a very active securities market. The rising need for venture capital is being met as the high yields and low prices of Japanese securities attract funds from all over the world. In my opinion, however, the advantages Americans can gain by buying Japanese stocks and bonds are outweighed by currency exchange problems, taxes, and other restrictions. Nevertheless, this phase of Japan's development will bear watching.

Dream of World Leadership

The Japanese are ambitious, resourceful and hardworking. They have not abandoned their old dream of world leadership, but they may have learned the folly of trying to conquer by arms. With nearly 100,000,000 people compressed into 142,644 square miles, they must export or die. As they struggle to exist, their skill in finance, craftsmanship, industrial management, and commerce pose a more immediate threat to our U.S. world trade position than do current Russian policies.

Certainly world trade will become increasingly competitive and it will do us no good to hide behind tariff walls. Already Tokyo is the world's largest city. Some day the world's economic center of gravity — which moved from London to New York in the forefront of this century — may pass to this oriental capital. Other large cities, in order of rank, are: London, New York, Shanghai, Moscow, Mexico City, Peking, Buenos Aires, Chicago, Berlin, Sao Paulo, Leningrad, Calcutta, Tientsin, Rio de Janeiro and Paris.

The Williams' Era

POST-MORTEMs have started on six-term Gov. G. Mennen Williams' long reign in Michigan, even though he has more than nine months left in office.

An expectedly partisan review was offered by Williams himself just minutes before he announced he would not be a candidate for a seventh term.

"The face of Michigan has changed," Williams said.

The GOP-controlled legislature must share credit and blame for accomplishments and failures of the Williams era.

It killed his plans for tax revision and some social reforms. It authorized his spending programs and other social reforms, though often reduced scope.

Republican Representative Louis Cramton of Lapeer was the father of the Fair Employment Practices Commission that Williams sought for so long.

Republican Senator Frank Andrews of Hillman worked long and hard with Williams for government reorganization.

Two mistakes by Williams stand out in the minds of his intimates.

It was Williams' decision that kept the sales increase proposal off the April ballot in 1959. He was convinced an income tax would be more adequate and equitable. A referendum then may have headed off the 1959 cash crisis and put an end to the state's recurrent financial woes. This, from the state's standpoint, may have been his biggest mistake.

From the standpoint of his political career, his major mistake may have been the decision to go for a sixth term when in all probability he could have been elected to the U.S. Senate. Philip A. Hart would have been available for the governorship, and, if elected, would have been able to provide continuity of state leadership for the party.

Party unity, very possibly the Democrats' greatest asset in recent wars, is threatened by the upcoming primary battle.

But on the other hand, Democrats say they are ready to base their election hopes on issues, not personalities.

Williams himself said "it is obvious that no man can, or should, occupy highest office indefinitely."

Greatest contribution by Williams from a political standpoint was revitalization of a fading state political organization.

"The state now has a real two-party system, with all the good results of competition for the confidence of the voters," Williams said.

Republicans, who do not have a single major statewide officeholder, would say the pendulum swung too far. Some of them claim 12 years of Williams will leave the State dominated by organized labor.

Much was said in the immediate days following his swan song about Williams' record of accomplishment; his scandal-free administration, his penal reforms, his building programs, and the state's overall progress in education and mental health.

But many tests are yet ahead for the Williams administration.

Williams has a 29-point legislative program for his final year in office. Only a handful are expected to win approval.

Next to a corporation profits tax, perhaps the best known of Williams long-sought proposals is the "seal of quality" bill. Williams, reared in the city, has devoted much of his attention to problems of agriculture.

He is convinced a special seal for high-standard products would help in farm marketing. The legislature for more than a decade has disagreed.

Election statistics tell the story of the Williams era in Michigan. He started with an upset win, struggled past two close ones, asserted himself with two smashing victories, and then had his victory margin shaved by a man who is the probable GOP candidate again this year.

The Williams tide: 1948 — Williams upset Gov. Kim Sigler, who on the eve of the election predicted he would win by 300,000. Williams had a plurality of 163,854 out of 2,113,122 votes cast. Democrats also elected the lieutenant governor and attorney general.

1950 — Republicans sought to derail Williams with former Gov. Harry J. Kelly — and nearly did. Kelly was declared winner on the basis of the first unofficial count. But Williams scored a thin 1,154 vote recount victory out of the 1,879,382 votes cast. Republicans won all other administrative posts.

1952 — A recount was demanded by Republican Fred M. Alger, but was called off when Williams' margin increased early in the recount. Williams won with a margin of 8,618 out of 2,865,980. He was the long winner on the Democratic ticket.

1954 — Williams asserted himself as the Goliath of Michigan politics by defeating former state police commissioner Donald S. Leonard by 253,000 votes in a victory that swept the entire Democratic state ticket into office. The voter turnout was 2,181,000.

1956 — A record 3,049,651 turned out, and Williams got a 382,500 plurality over Albert E. Cobo. Again, Williams' entire ticket swept into office.

1958 — Paul D. Bagwell breathed new life into the state GOP organization. But Williams and the entire state ticket won again, Williams getting a plurality of 147,444 out of 2,312,184 votes cast.

Both Secretary of State James M. Hare and Lieutenant Governor John B. Swainson, two Democratic primary opponents this year, won by greater margins than did Williams.
