

Vote Improves But Turn-Out Still Light Here

About 30 percent of Northville's qualified electors cast their ballots in Tuesday's primary election. The turn-out nearly doubled the performance at the last primary in August, 1958.

Generally following state and county trends in selecting Democratic and Republican candidates, 445 township voters went to the polls while 641 city residents cast their ballots.

As has been traditional, Northville cast more Republican votes than Democratic. But in several instances in precinct two in the city, however, Democratic candidates outpolled the Republicans.

City and township votes followed the state trend in backing Democratic gubernatorial candidate John B. Swainson by a large majority. The same was true in the Republican race for U. S. senator where Alvin M. Bentley topped Donald S. Leonard.

For state senator from the 18th district Northville also backed the winner, incumbent Democrat Raymond D. Dzendzel. The same was true of Democratic Representative Harvey J. Beadle in the 21st district, although the local race was close with George N. Bennett of Northville.

On the Republican side, Nominee Jack H. McDonald won by a close margin over William J. Duffy in Northville. But Richard E. Morell won the nomination for U. S. Representative, although Northville liked Mrs. Gladys E. Smith.

In the Oakland county section of the city residents voted against the proposal to raise the tax limit by 1/2 mill for four years to complete the county court house project. Residents voted 93 No to 68 Yes and 94 No to 72 Yes on the two separate proposals to raise the limit and levy the tax. On this measure the Northville Oakland county residents were in step with the rest of the county.

For state legislators representing residents of Oakland county in Northville the nominees for the Democratic party were S. Jerome Bronson for senator and incumbent Representative S. James Clarkson. They were the Northville choice, too, but on the Republican side Farrell E. Roberts won the senate nomination and John A. Titus the representative nomination. Neither were picked by Northville Oakland county voters, however.

In the township the Democrats elected Mrs. C. E. Woodruff and Mrs. Manuel Perez as delegates to the county convention, while Republicans named Mrs. Rita Northup and Donald Robinson. City delegates were Democrats Alfred Smith, John Hlohenic and William Bingley and Republicans named A. M. Allen, Mrs. Beatrice Carlson and, as a write-in from the third precinct, Sidney Frid — something of a surprise.

Here is a run-down on how city and township residents voted with the nominees listed first.

WALK-WAY CONSTRUCTION—Erection of the special walk-way over the new Eight Mile road cutoff is proceeding ahead of schedule, a county official said last week. The $45,000 project is expected to be completed by September 1. Located directly north of the new high school, the bridge will enable people to walk from the high school to the school's athletic grounds and back without battling Eight Mile traffic. The bridge contract also calls for a fence to be erected along the north side of the cutoff from the walkway to Center street.

4 Fun Days Planned By Legion, Optimists

Better circle the dates of August 18 through 21 on your calendar right now!

Through the combined efforts of two Northville organizations, they'll be four of the biggest "fun days" ever celebrated locally.

On all four days the American Legion is sponsoring a "Homecoming" celebration — a carnival of games, rides, concessions and old-fashioned county fair contests.

Saturday and Sunday, August 20 and 21 the Optimist club will present its annual Rodeo — bigger than ever with more prizes and a troupe of professional cowboys. It marks the first time the Optimists have staged the event for two days. Saturday's performance will be in the evening and Sunday's in the afternoon.

Both the Legion and the Optimist celebrations will be held at the Downs.

The Legion's "Homecoming" is a new undertaking. Chairman Robert Miller says that it will have the atmosphere of the old county fairs with pie-eating contests, a the kiddies, bicycles for prizes, races, special prizes for visitors from the greatest distance, etc. In addition the Legion has contracted to have the Cook Shows carnival to provide rides, sideshows and games.

Working on Miller's committee are: James Madigan, secretary; L. W. Snow, Jr., John Goss and Otis Tewksbury, concessions; Michael Nash and Robert Wren, contests; Lewis Townsend, grounds; John Chedrick, police; and Bob Blough and Bob Colacitt, publicity.

Northville's Optimists have sponsored rodeos and junior horse shows for many years. This year, the event will feature professional rodeo performers only.

The two-hour show will be staged by the Double M ranch, owned by Marlin Morgan of Wixom who is vice president of the Michigan Rodeo association. Morgan promises the top cowboys from the Midwestern Cowboys association and the Ontario, Canada Cowboys association.

Some 80 cowboys will compete for cash prizes in Brahma bull riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, bare back bronc riding and steer wrestling.

In addition the rodeo will feature clowns and trick horses and mules and trick riding and roping.

The Optimists, who sponsor the annual event to raise funds for their numerous youth activities, are spending some $5,000 to obtain top talent, prizes and entertainment for the two-day event.

Among the prizes that will be given away are two power Go-Carts, power lawnmower, television set, camera and picnic table.

Chairman of the Optimist rodeo is Roger McClain. Other committee members are: Bill Taft, rodeo events; Monroe Weston, concessions; Dick Huston, program; John Canterbury and George Kohs, publicity, and William Milne, tickets.

Tickets to the rodeo are being sold by both Optimists and Legion members. There is no admission charge to the Legion Homecoming carnival.

Hospital Act Vote Predicted For Area

Tragedies Hit Nearby Communities

Separate tragedies struck homes of two prominent families in neighboring communities Friday.

William G. Nixon, 35, past mayor of Walled Lake, was accidentally electrocuted Friday afternoon, and James R. Sinclair, 16, son of the mayor of South Lyon, and Robert D. Rich, 16, were killed in an auto-truck crash.

Father of three children, Gay 9, Dawn 5 and Paula 3, Nixon was working in his backyard when the drill apparently short-circuited, knocking him unconscious, police said.

His wife, Virginia, pulled the drill plug from the socket and a neighbor administered artificial respiration, but Nixon was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Pontiac.

Funeral services were conducted Monday from the Walled Lake Methodist church. Burial was in White Chapel cemetery, Troy.

Nixon served as mayor of Walled Lake from 1958 to 1959. He was manager of the Richardson-Bird Funeral home, president of the Walled Lake Rotary club, and member of the Walled Lake Methodist church and Elks Lodge 810, Pontiac. He lived at 1765 Alton Circle, Walled Lake.

The two South Lyon youths were killed when their car smashed almost head-on into a truck on Pontiac trail, one mile north of the city. The truck driver was Truman Redford of Milford.

A witness told police the driver of the car, Sinclair was leaning toward Rich as if lighting a cigarette when the car smashed into the truck.

Sinclair was the son of Mayor and Mrs. Herbert Sinclair, 215 East Liberty, and Rich was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rich, 171 Woodland drive.

Funeral services were conducted Monday by the Phillips Funeral home from the South Methodist church. Burial for the Sinclair boy was in the South Lyon cemetery, and for the Rich boy in Lapham cemetery on Brookville road.

Promoted

As a result of competitive tests, two Northville patrolmen have been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

Chief of Police Eugene King announced this week that Frank Heintz and Leonard Mazuchowski had been elevated.

Creation of two sergeant ranks was made so that there will always be one officer in charge during night hours when Chief King is not on duty.

The possibility that area residents will vote on a proposal to form a hospital authority became almost a certainty following an introductory meeting of representative officials last week.

Northville's Mayor A. M. Allen, acting as temporary chairman, has called another session for next Thursday and will propose that the dozen neighboring governmental units place the measure on the November ballot.

Joseph Wilkinson

Colt Coach, Joe Wilkinson, Dies Suddenly

Joseph Wilkinson, 40-year-old physical education teacher at Northville high school, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon four hours after undergoing surgery for gall stones at St. Joseph's hospital in Pontiac.

He had been a member of the Northville school system for the past three years. Highly popular with his players, Wilkinson's freshman basketball teams have been undefeated for two years, winning 29 straight games. He also coached winning junior varsity football teams.

Wilkinson resided at the home of Mrs. Clifford Winter, 230 North Rogers, during the school year. He had been in Northville last week end and stated that he wanted to have his surgery completed before football season.

Funeral services will be held at the Persley Funeral home in Pontiac at 3 p.m. today (Thursday). The body will be shipped to Walnut Ridge, Arkansas for burial.

Before coming to Northville Wilkinson had coached at Armada and South Lyon high schools.

Just two months ago Wilkinson's father died following surgery. According to Wilkinson's brother, Robert, who has coached at Clarkston and is now a principal of the junior high school, Wilkinson was described as "doing nicely" following the operation at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. He passed away at 1:45 p.m.

He is survived by three brothers and three sisters. They are: Albert of Pontiac, Cameron of Waterford and Robert of Clarkston; Mrs. Jessie Baldwin of Hiawatha, Kansas; Mrs. Virginia Dedman of Clearwater, Pa.; and Mrs. Ora Monroe of Walnut Ridge, Arkansas.

In a meeting called to explain the plan last Thursday at Saratoga Farms in Novi the community representatives heard Ken W. Gremore, executive director of Peoples Community Hospital Authority, outline the steps for forming a hospital authority and explain the advantages of such a program.

The group was also addressed by Calvin Monfils, administrator of Community General hospital in Northville, who emphasized the area need for adequate hospital facilities.

The meeting was attended by officials representing South Lyon and Lyon township, the village of Milford and Milford township, the village of Novi and Novi township, Salem, Wixom, Northville and Northville township. The city and township of Farmington are expected to send representatives to the next meeting.

While the group was not polled as to its opinion of the plan, interest ran high and Allen was urged to call another meeting with a smaller group composed of a single representative of each community.

At this meeting, tentatively scheduled for August 11 in Wixom, Allen will provide the officials with a model resolution each governing body would have to adopt to place the authority proposal on the ballot.

Action must be taken by September 1, deadline for submitting any issue for inclusion on the November ballot.

In general, the attitude of the officials was that immediate steps should be taken to gain a ballot spot and then a program undertaken to explain the plan to the voters.

Gremore reviewed the formation of Peoples Community Hospital Authority — first ever formed under the state act. From a union of five communities the Peoples Authority now serves 19 governmental units and Beyer hospital in Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Outer Drive and is constructing a new hospital in Trenton.

Gremore likened the formation of an authority to an old-fashioned "barn building bee" where residents work together to help one another.

He pointed out that, individually, most communities cannot afford to build and operate a hospital. Yet, together under the state hospital authority act, funds can be obtained to build a unit large enough to serve the needs of all the communities.

Gremore pointed to other advantages, such as purchasing savings for larger facilities and available federal aid. He explained that Peoples Authority tried to keep their units from becoming "too large" and located so that all residents of the authority area were within 12 miles of a hospital.

Monfils said a preliminary study of the area — from Farmington to Salem and Northville to Milford — shows a need for approximately 100 beds. He added that a modern hospital with adequate facilities costs about $20,000 per bed.

Specifically, a hospital authority may be formed by an approving vote of a majority of the qualified electors of two or more cities, incorporated villages or townships.

The authority is governed by a board of directors appointed by governing bodies of the participating units and further elected by the appointees on a population basis.

The authority then may levy a tax up to four-tenths of a mill (40 cents per thousand dollars of equalized valuation). For the average home owner this tax would amount to approximately $1.50 annually.

Under the act the authority has the right to plan, acquire, construct, improve, enlarge, own, maintain and operate one or more hospitals located within or without the boundaries of the authority.

Construction of hospitals is planned according to the center of population.

In many communities it will require a special meeting of the governing board after August 11 to introduce the resolution to place the issue on the ballot.

Cut-Off Sidewalks Arouse Residents

Sidewalk assessments for a proposed walk along both sides of the new Eight Mile road cut-off between Novi and Center streets brought a host of Oakwood subdivision residents to the city council's public hearing Monday night.

The walk, proposed by the city manager for the safety of school children going to the American elementary and high school, would be paid by special assessment under the city's new sidewalk ordinance.

Residents were told that they would be assessed two-thirds of preliminary costs — bringing land to within one foot of grade — but would not be assessed more than $200 for this work. The home-owner would also be assessed for two-thirds the cost of installing the sidewalk.

Two property owners, Lawrence Burnette of 830 Grace and C. N. Dahlager of 839 Grace, were represented by Attorney Dunbar Davis who stated that the proposed placement of the sidewalk rendered it illegal to special assess against the property owners. He pointed out that the walk would not abut his clients' property. In the case of Dahlager the walk is more than 50 feet from his property line along a lot owned by Wayne county. The walk would be 10 feet from the Burnette property line.

Davis cited two supreme court cases in Michigan, where, according to Davis, the assessment was declared illegal because the walk was seven feet, in one case, and two and one-half feet in the other, from the assessed property.

The council finally adjourned the hearing until September 5 to give City Attorney Philip Ogilvie time to review the cases cited by Attorney Davis.

The Dahlager-Burnette property lies along the north side of the new cut-off. Residents of the south side of the street expressed the opinion that they would rather have their walk moved some six feet further away from their property lines to save destruction of trees.

Few of the residents protested strongly on the assessment, but were critical of the conditions left by the county in constructing the cut-off through the subdivision. Earl Chappell of 816 North Center suggested that the city request that the county grade the embankment along the road so that walks could be installed. He objected to the city or property owners paying for grading made necessary by the county road builders.

Mayor A. M. Allen agreed with Chappell and said the city would seek county cooperation. It was also suggested that the city obtain bids and award the contract to a single contractor to save installation cost.

In other business Monday night the council adopted the resolution to establish two special assessment districts in Oakland county portions of the city that have not yet paid for the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer facilities. Residents of the original city limits will be assessed one-half the cost on a per lot basis, while acreage in newly annexed areas will pay the full charge. The assessment is $100 per acre.

The council also adopted a resolution for special assessing improvements on Novi street from Hill to Maplewood and on Maplewood for 112 feet. One half the cost is being paid by developers of the abutting Yerkes Estates subdivision. The other half of the street lies along property owned by Donald Yerkes.

The council decided to assess Yerkes for 80 percent of the cost installing pavement, curbs, gutters, water, storm and sanitary sewer road builders.

Baker, Gillick Speak Vows In Double Ring Ceremony

Virginia Gail Baker became the bride of Robert Kaye Gillick Saturday, June 25 in an evening, candle-light ceremony at St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Livonia.

The couple exchanged vows in a double ring service before an altar decorated with white carnations and gladioli. The Reverend John G. Davies officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baker, 34011 Dorais avenue, Livonia. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gillick, 46075 Bloomcrest drive, Northville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a full length gown of crystal white silk organza delicately accented with seed pearls and appliques of alencon lace. The alencon patterning was repeated on the softly belled skirt which swept gracefully into a chapel train. A crown held her silk illusion fingertip veil in place. Carnations and stephanotis encircling a white orchid formed the bridal bouquet.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Betty Lou Baker. Bridesmaids were Lori Fitzpatrick and Ettie Ann Hirth, both of Northville. All three wore dresses of white silk organza patterned with pink floral insets. Their headpieces were pink veiled halos. White lace fans and feathered carnations made up the bridesmaids' bouquets, while the maid of honor carried an arrangement of turquoise feathered carnations and pink sweetheart roses against a white lace fan.

Serving the groom as best man was Geoffrey Hubbell of Plymouth. Seating guests were ushers Michael Green of Plymouth and Robert Mobus of Adrian.

Mrs. Baker chose aqua silk chiffon with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother, Mrs. Gillick, wore rose silk shantung with complementing accessories.

Following a lawn reception for 200 guests at the bride's home, the couple left for a wedding trip along Lake Michigan.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a white linen dress embroidered with pink flowers. Her accessories were pink.

The couple will reside in Plymouth where Mrs. Gillick is employed with Burroughs. Mr. Gillick attends Ferris Institute in Big Rapids.

all sorts of things

By SHARON MAZANEC

Vacations and summer are a pair of go-togethers which almost put to shame the old adage about "An apple pie without cheese." We can remain relatively dispassionate when listening to most narratives about vacation itineraries. It's even possible, to some degree, to build up an immunity against frequent exposure to travel brochures picturing some of the most beautiful and colorful scenery ever captured on celluloid. But when a steamship company operating a fleet of luxury liners drops a piece of stationery on your desk with a letterhead reading "Hawaii, Samoa, Fiji, Tahiti, New Zealand, Australia" — well, your imagination is aroused and the travel bug bites, hard.

From a San Francisco navigation company we have a note that today, August 4, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Ely, Sr., 247 West street, sail for our island state of Hawaii.

To tempt you further, an airline company reports its "idea of paradise" is Tahiti, and the rationale sounds pretty good — warm temperatures, inexpensive prices (lobster dinner for $1.04), no snakes or venomous land animals, no tourist taxes, fishing day or night for tuna, swordfish, dolphin, trout, or fresh-water shrimp, Rotary international meets every Monday, and no tipping.

Your reporter will still be one to attest, nevertheless, to the vacation assets of our own Water Wonderland. The state's natural beauty speaks for itself and special events calendared for August are numerous and varied.

Here's a sampling from the list compiled by the Michigan Tourist Council —

- 5-7—Trouttarama — Baldwin
 - 7—National Motorcycle Hill Climbing Championship — Muskegon
 - 12-13—Saugatuck Jazz Festival
 - 14—Cross Village Indian Pow-Wow
 - 20-21—Motor City Open Water Ski Tournament — Cass lake, Pontiac
 - 24-27—First Annual Antique Fair Petoskey
 - 31—33rd Annual Amateur Horse show — Castle park, Holland
- Free copies of the entire events calendar can be obtained by writing: Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 26.

Kukla and Ollie, Burr Tillstrom's famous puppets, will be in town with their creator this week through Saturday at the Detroit Institute of Arts. They're here to celebrate the 25th annual festival of the Puppeteers of America.

The occasion will also be Kukla's birthday; he was born in Detroit 25 years ago when Tillstrom came to a meeting which resulted in the formation of the Puppeteers of America.

Open to the public are daily puppet performances by leading American puppeteers and an exhibition of puppets by members of the association plus several drawn from the institutes world-famous collection.

The institute's air conditioned textile gallery will house the festivities.

Book-browsing in the Northville library (it was quiet and comfortable) we discovered an abbreviated way to get acquainted with the 1960 presidential candidates — read a book such as Eric Sevareid's "Candidates 1960".

Try to learn a little about the author if you read a biographical sketch; sometimes he betrays his own prejudices toward the subject, prejudices which could impair your objective judgment of the candidate.

Arts and crafts can be a rewarding and imaginative exercise of creative talent. (I'm still groping to find that hidden one). Two Northville girls, Marjorie Becker and Linda Edgerton, were cited last Sunday at the Third Annual Arts and Crafts exhibit in Farmington for their contributions to the show. Marjorie in the fine arts division and Linda in crafts. The exhibit in the Farmington Universalist church closes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Ingall
Salem couple celebrates 50th wedding anniversary

Salem Couple Marks 50th Anniversary

Sunday afternoon will be a very special time for Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Ingall of Salem township.

The Joy road couple will be celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary with friends and relatives at an open house from 2:00 until 5:00 p.m. at the Salem township hall.

What's more, their six children, who now reside from Oregon to New York will be home to lead the celebrating.

The Ingalls were married on August 3, 1910 and moved to Salem from Lenawee county in 1914. They have lived there ever since and Mr. Ingall now serves as township treasurer.

Actually, Sunday's open house will be a double celebration. August 21 marks the 25th wedding anniversary of the Ingall's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ingall, also Joy road residents in Salem.

The other Ingall children who will be on hand Sunday are: Mrs. Bennett McGlone of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. LaVerne Shafer of Findlay, Ohio; David Ingall of Plymouth; Harriett Ingall of New York City; and Mrs. Calvin Ellenwood of Monroe.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

—Samuel Johnson

OHIO GAVE UP Mr. and Mrs. James Tellam and their children (left to right): Jimmie, 5; Lori, 6, and Mark, 7, when the Tellams moved to Northville three weeks ago. "Flicka", the family's German shepherd, about to be a mother, is not pictured.

Ohio, Toledo and Reynolds Corners to be more geographically correct, had been home for all 26 years of their lives, when last September Mr. and Mrs. James Tellam began looking for a new home outside the Buckeye state.

The move was imminent. Mr. Tellam had accepted a position with Peerless Cement and as a technical service engineer for the company his work would take him each day to the Free Press building in Detroit.

In October, after a month dotted with visits to communities bordering metropolitan Detroit, the Tellams with their three children, Mark, 7; Lori, 6, and Jimmie, 5, decided to move to Northville.

They arrived three weeks ago and their initial move to 20133 Valley road will be followed in not too many months, they hope, by another to a new home in Hillcrest Manor subdivision, just three blocks away. For almost a year they've been working on plans for the new home. They expect building to begin soon.

Northville was their final choice, says Mrs. (Fay) Tellam, "because the town, the beauty of the countryside, most nearly approximates the surroundings in which we lived in Ohio."

The Tellams first met as students at Toledo university. He finished in June of 1959 after seven years of night school. Mrs. Tellam took a prolonged leave of absence to be a wife and mother.

Some area college will soon have the Tellams on its rolls when Mrs. Tellam resumes work toward her degree and Mr. Tellam goes along for more studies.

Right now, as she puts it, Mrs. Tellam is strictly a housewife with a bent for interior decorating and bridge. Mr. Tellam joins his wife in her interest in bridge and is taking up golf.

Mark, Lori and Jimmie are busy, too, says Mrs. Tellam. There's no scarcity of playmates or things for them to do, she explains, and they're very happy.

"The neighbors around us are lovely," Mrs. Tellam reports. The Harold Prices of Bloomcrest gave a Saturday evening dinner party for the newcomers.

Events out of the Past

ONE YEAR AGO

Novi's oldest and largest manufacturing plant—Novi Equipment Corporation—has been sold to Continental Motors corporation of Detroit and Muskegon.

A request by Gerald Taft for the annexation of 56 acres of his Northville township property into the city of Northville appears to have the blessing of both governments—with some reservations.

Northville can just about set its own date for receiving Detroit water.

"We're ready to talk now if Northville officials are interested in buying water from Detroit," Gerald J. Remus, general manager of the Detroit Water Supply department, said.

The possibility of Detroit water being available to Northville and Plymouth in the near future came about as a result of the sale of the county system to the city of Detroit system.

Agreement between the city and township of Northville concerning operation of the city dump was reached at long last as the township board approved a city-drawn contract.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Billy Adams is the new king of the turtle races in Northville—an undisputed title he clinched Friday in the second annual Turtle Derby sponsored by the Recreation Department and The Northville Record.

When electors of Chapman School District No. 7, Novi township, vote at a special election Monday, August 8, on annexation with the Northville Public School system they will also cast ballots on two related propositions.

A 60-pound boulder placed on the railroad tracks between Novi road and Nine Mile road brought a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train to an abrupt halt early Monday morning.

John Flannery resigned as Novi Civil Director, it was announced at Monday's Novi township board meeting.

Construction of the Paragon

Construction company's $100,000 plant addition was begun. A $75,000 office building also is being built.

From a story about Northville's famous spring well: The Detroit Times ran a syndicated comic strip, starting in 1923, called Nebbs. It was drawn by W. A. Carlson, and the locale of the strip was "a small community named Northville—famous for its spring water."

Naturally, Northville residents thought the strip was about their town. But they were mistaken. Carlson, the strip's creator, had never heard of the village.

At a convention of some sort, the Northville postmaster happened to meet Carlson and began talking about the strip. When finally the artist learned there WAS a Northville, he was quite surprised and interested. Soon, a postmaster, and the names of various local people and stores began appearing in the comic strip.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

The annual Saddle Ridge Rodeo and Carnival is scheduled for the Northville Fair grounds for five days.

S/Sgt. Wilbert C. Grimm of 311 Main street, was awarded the Silver Star and Oak Leaf Cluster for his action in combat prior to V-E Day, while serving with the 100th Division, division headquarters has announced.

Technician Fifth Grade Harry E. Larkin of the Ordinance Department was awarded a Bronze Star Medal for meritorious achievement in connection with military operations in connection with military operations in which he retrieved a submerged vehicle while under constant enemy artillery.

"Michigan housewives have done a big job for salvage," says Terry Bannan, chairman of the Wayne County Tin Can Salvage Committee. "But the job is still only half done—the need for tin is greater than ever."

Last rites were held for T. Glenn Phillips, a resident of Northville for 20 years in his home at 40311 Sunbury Road. Mr. Phillips was one of the first men to establish the professional practice of landscape architecture in the Middle West.

Two Northville boys were scheduled to leave for the armed forces. They are: Pete Spagnuolo, 113 Main street, and Orville Lyke, 34533 Base Line Road.

The process of rejuvenating the Old Northville Spring is in progress. Tuesday evening, a band of Rotarians led by Judy Lapham and John Boyce turned in to clean up what some folks called a "stinking mess".

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Wondering if he "might get into a mild argument with Glenn Richardson" over Mr. Richardson's claim that Burleigh Randall owned the first automobile in Northville, R. H. Porter of Detroit wrote to The Record in 1935:

"I am wondering if I can't get into a mild argument with Glenn Richardson over the time of ownership of the first auto in Northville."

"From '96 to 1904 I was in business in the place now occupied by Schrader Brothers. On our left was the old frame building originally occupied by Asa Randolph. During the years I was there this building was tenanted on the right by Shorty Gardner with his pop-corn and "salt-water" kisses. The left side was a barber shop.

"In either 1902 or 1903 the barber, whose name I do not recall, showed up one day in front of his shop with an auto which he said belonged to a relative, I think, brother, in Detroit. Being a near neighbor, he favored me with a very long ride. Starting in front of his shop we went all the way up Dunlap to Rogers and back down Main street to the starting point. My first auto rides and it was a thriller. Perhaps this experience with the borrowed rig whetted his appetite to the point of making the purchase of which Glenn speaks.

"I left Northville in the early spring of 1904 and I feel certain the purchase must have been made after my departure.

"Glenn, am I right or wrong?"

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

Birth of an Industry

In 1821, mysterious flames burst from a creek. Mr. Bill Hart, a villager, decided to put them to practical use. Thus Natural GAS was used as a fuel to light an Inn in Freedomia, New York.

A "burning creek" and the ingenuity of man resulted in the birth of a new industry!

Versatile Giant

Today there is no accidental discovery of Natural GAS — scientific methods and equipment, as well as trained men, are required to locate it.

Though you can neither see, smell, taste or feel it, today Natural GAS has skyrocketed into our fifth largest industry!

*Natural GAS is harnessed energy that produces both heat and cold. Call or write Consumers Power Company to learn how Natural GAS can serve you better in industry and in the home.

2nd Stipend

Northville's 1959 high school sa-standing academic record at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopper, 47733 West Seven Mile road, Talbott has been awarded his second scholarship for outstanding achievement — the $2,000 Lockheed scholarship stipend.

The 19-year-old Northville youth, who is majoring in aeronautical and astronautical engineering, received a $2,200 scholarship upon graduation from Northville high school. His fine academic work during his freshman year earned him this second scholarship.

Ronald Noland of South Lake drive pleaded guilty of furnishing alcohol to minors before Justice of Peace Robert Anderson Saturday and was ordered to pay a $100 fine or serve 60 days in the county jail. The fine was not paid.

Seventeen year old Frank Ash-bough of Detroit, who waived examination in justice court two weeks ago, pleaded guilty of larceny from a Novi service station in circuit court last week. He is to be sentenced Monday.

The Detroit youth, according to Novi police, had admitted he stole hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise during the past several months from stores, service stations and homes in more than a half-dozen communities.

The Charles Carringtons, formerly of Dunlap street, are now residing in their new home at 220 Hill street.

Indians Stop Yankee Bid For 1st Place

Three unearned runs in the first inning prevented the Yankees from overtaking the first-place Indians last week in the knot hole baseball league.

By losing 3-2, the Yankees were forced to settle for second place in the four-team race for the championship. In other games, the third place Athletics tripped the cellar dwelling Dodgers 5-3, the Yankees blanked the Athletics 4-0, and the Indians downed the Dodgers 7-3.

The Indians picked up their all important 3-2 victory over the Yankees by scoring all three runs in the first on four walks and two errors. They held on to win as the Yankees pushed across two runs on Norbert Parent's long double with two men on.

In another inning, Gary Becker was thrown out at the plate on a close play by a relay throw from Indian Shortstop Rick Richardson. Several other defensive plays were instrumental in the Indian victory.

Tom Daniels was the winning pitcher, and Parent and Mike Hlohenic shared the loss.

Bob Shettler banged a long triple to right center in picking up the longest hit of the Dodger-Athletic game. Other Athletic hits were by John Beerbower and Don Campbell. Bob Hubbard and Lloyd Moore had the only two Dodger hits.

Jim Biegert and Bill Davis were the winning pitchers, while Joe Bell and Jim Peterson shared the loss.

Hlohenic gave up only one hit and fanned eight batters as he pitched the Yankees to their 4-0 victory over the Athletics. Biegert and Davis were the losers.

Parent clubbed a long ball to left in the fourth and rounded the bases for a homer as the ball skipped by the left fielder. His homer drove in two other runs. Bruce Nolte singled and Dennis Matthews doubled to account for the fourth run.

Tied going into the last inning, the Indians rallied to score four runs to down the Dodgers 7-3. A long homer by Jim Daniels was the outstanding hit of the inning.

Indian Brian Tabor batted in two runs with a single to right.

A first-inning rally by the Dodgers was cut short when John Blackburn lined into a fast double play with the bases loaded.

Daniels, who retired the last seven batters he faced, was credited with the victory. David Wilder, Bell and Peterson shared the loss.

Lions Hand Bears 1st Loss In Knothole Softball League

The high-riding Bears were topped for their no-loss record last week as the Lions roared early and then hung on to claim an 8-6 victory in the Knot Hole softball league.

The victory pushed the Lions into a second-place tie with the Panthers on a 3-2-1 record. The Bears continue to lead the league with a 5-1 record. In last place, still looking for their first win, are the Tigers (0-6).

In beating the Bears, the Lions jumped to a speedy six-run lead in the first, added two more in the fourth, and then fought off the Bears, who scored three in the sixth and single runs in the first, third and fourth.

Dan Stoddard led all hitters with four singles. He also made the fielding play of the game, making a diving catch of a short pop fly with two men on base.

Stoddard was the winning pitcher and Stan Nirider the loser.

In an earlier game, the Bears ripped apart the Panther pitching staff, scoring 13 runs in the second to coast to an easy 19-8 victory.

Winning hurler Stan Nirider collected three hits, while Ed Beller, Bob Hicks, Bob Lanning and Jim Sanders each picked up two hits for the winners. Pat Cayley stroked three hits for the Panthers. Grant Gillespie, Barry Deal and Kim Marberger shared the loss.

Stoddard helped his teammates crush the Tigers 7-0, pitching a six-

Braves Edge Senators, 2-1 In 7th Inning

After losing to the Sox by one run in the seventh, 10-9, a week ago, the Braves bounced back to clip the Senators 2-1.

The Braves were tied with the Senators going into the last of the seventh when John Gibson tied off with a single, stole second and was finally driven home when Bob Tuck lined a sharp single to left field.

Gary Stobbe, who gave up only one run, was the hero of the game. The Senators opened the top half of the seventh with a triple to right to put the winning run within easy reach of home.

Stobbe swept aside the threat, however, fanning the next three batters in order.

The Northville Orioles split two games last week, picking up a forfeit over the Jefferson Giants and losing to the Madison Seals 7-0.

TAKE A TIP from 15-year-old Chris Boretti, large fish don't limit themselves to flashy lures; a simple hook and a tempting worm work wonders. If you don't believe it take a look at the giant pike Chris caught with a cane pole, hook and night crawler last week. Fishing from a boat with her mother and a friend, on Monahan lake, a private lake near South Lyon, Chris was tiring of fishing for pan fish and started pulling in her line. It felt heavy—then the fight started. Seven minutes later Chris pulled in this 28-inch, five-pound whopper. A sophomore at Northville high school, Chris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boretti, 24320 Border Hill, Novi.

Horsemen Leave Downs For 44-Nights at Wolverine

Michigan's harness racing picture swings into the final segment of the Detroit area campaign Friday when Wolverine Harness Raceway opens its 44-night meeting at the Detroit Race Course, Schoolcraft and Middlebelt.

Northville closed its 39-night season Wednesday.

The rich stakes, with a value of $72,500 before the added monies, slated for Wolverine will attract the nation's finest two and three-year-old and aged trotters and pacers.

But the stakes are only part of the Wolverine program. The management will stage rich overnight races every week end and also will present the $5,000 Governor's Cup Pace during the latter part of the meeting.

All in all, it stacks up as the finest harness racing program ever presented in the Midwest and President Frederick Van Lennepe and Vice President - General Manager Orlow G. Owen are looking forward to the most successful meeting in Wolverine's ten year history.

The customers won't have to wait long to see the stars perform for Wolverine's eight-stake program opens on the first Thursday (Aug. 11) and lists three in the first four weeks, climaxing the meeting with the traditional Grand Circuit meeting for Monday, September 12 through Saturday, September 17.

The stakes open with the historic Merchants and Manufacturers Trot on Thursday, August 11. Then follows the traditional Motor City Pace on Thursday, August 25. The Livonia Pace has the attention on Thursday, September 8.

Four new names and faces dot the official family roster at Wolverine, all well known harness racing figures from Michigan and the Detroit area.

Lloyd (Dutch) German of Northville, an official at Northville Downs ever since the track opened in 1944—presiding steward for the past 13 years—will move into the steward's stand at Wolverine as an associate to Presiding Steward John Broderick.

He, Broderick and Don Brown of Adrian, steward for the state, will have charge of the conduct of the races and the meeting.

Dick Wilson of Bloomfield Hills, who has been with Wolverine since 1950, has been promoted to the post of promotional director. Dick was named program director four years ago and now has the additional duties of promotional director.

Stan Schaefer of Northville steps into the new post of assistant to the general manager. He has been an aid to Vice President and General Manager Orlow G. Owen for the past several years and now will assist Owen with many of the details of the track operation.

Dick Frederick, Detroit, has been appointed publicity and advertising director.

They Just Act That Way Snakes Aren't Really So Bad

Few, if any, living things in Michigan's out-of-doors are disliked and feared by more people than snakes. Hence, many people feel that the "only good snake is a dead snake".

This is not true, of course. It would be purely speculative to weigh the import of the serpent's foot deed in the Garden of Eden in this type of thinking. Of more impact in advancing such anti-snake sentiment are the superstitions, myths and general misunderstanding which have since blossomed.

There are countless fallacies about snakes, many of which shroud them with a reputation of being evil, deadly or, at best, undesirable.

One fable has it that the hog-nose snake (puff adder) blows a deadly, or at least violent, poison. Although it does hiss and puff when excited, this is merely a bluff. Any misguided idea that the puff adder blows a poisonous vapor probably stems from some people becoming sick from nervousness and fright after coming across one.

Equally erroneous is the widespread myth that the milk snake suckles cows in pasture. This has made the snake somewhat of a scapegoat for cows when they fail to deliver their quota of milk.

It is also widely believed, but completely untrue, that snakes are "slimy" or that they "sting" with their tongues. On and on, the wheel of fiction grinds out so-called "facts" about snakes.

Such fallacies have clouded the generally beneficial role snakes play in the Balance of Nature.

Many snakes, including the poisonous Massasauga or swamp rattlesnake, eat large numbers of rats and mice which destroy grain and plunder the farmer's chicken house. Many feed on insects which attack gardens and pester humans.

The deadliness of a few poisonous species has done nothing to enhance the lowly status of snakes and, in effect, has branded most snakes with the "skull and cross-bones" seal.

If you shudder at the thought of meeting up with a snake, it may ease your mind to know that Michigan has only one poisonous species—the Massasauga or rattlesnake. And even this one, confined to the Lower Peninsula and Bois Blanc Island, is only mildly poisonous. There is no authentic record of a person dying in Michigan from a bite of a native snake. The Massasauga can produce some uncomfortable after-effects to those it bites if first aid is not properly and promptly applied. Whisky is no cure for snake bites as some people believe.

The rattler is identified by its namesake but, contrary to another false belief, its age cannot be told by counting its rattles. When aroused this snake vibrates its rattles which produce a "buzzing" or "hissing" sound. Massasauga has a thick body clothed with black or brown markings on a lighter background. It is a denizen of marshy areas and wet meadows but may range far upland in summer.

All of Michigan's other snakes are harmless.

NEWS FROM THE American Legion

POST 147

John Steimel, commander of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147, announced that the following named members will be in Detroit this week to attend the 42nd annual American Legion state convention:

John Steimel, Howard Wright, L. W. "Buz" Snow, Rex Holoman, Ray Altenberg, Oscar Hammond, Bob Collocott and Dave McElravy.

The convention will start Friday and run through Sunday. These days will be filled with meetings, contests, parades and the election of state officers for the coming year.

This is a very good opportunity for members who have never attended a Legion convention to do so. It's real close to home this year.

The commander would like to announce there will be only one regular meeting in August and it will be on the 9th. Also that the regular meetings in September will be the second and fourth Tuesdays.

Members, don't forget the Northville homecoming sponsored by our post. If you are not on a committee, please get in touch with the homecoming chairman Robert Miller. There will be a lot of work to do during the event and we will need every man we can get.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Sliger

Although it will call for some fast action, there's a better than even chance that residents of Northville, Novi and Wixom — as well as several other surrounding communities — will vote on a proposal to form an area hospital authority in the November election.

Details of this appear in a story on page one.

What exactly is a hospital authority?

Specifically, it is a corporate body composed of two or more cities, townships or incorporated villages or any combination thereof.

The right to form such an authority was created by the Michigan Legislature in 1945 by special act 47. The authority is formed by a resolution of the respective legislative bodies placing the proposal on the ballot and then a majority vote of the qualified electors.

If two or more governmental units approve the authority, it comes into being with a board of directors authorized to levy up to four-tenths of a mill against the taxpayers living within the confines of the authority.

The act provides that the board of directors be appointed on the basis of population — one director for the first 20,000 population from each particular unit and a director for each additional 40,000 (or fraction thereof) population and seven directors at large from the authority area to be selected by the appointed directors.

The authority then has the power to acquire, construct, improve, enlarge, maintain and operate one or more hospitals within or without the authority limits.

The best example of a successful authority is Peoples Community Authority, formed in 1945 with representation from Taylor, Huron and Nankin townships and the villages of Flat Rock and Wayne. Now greatly expanded, it has two newly constructed hospitals — Annapolis and Outer Drive — one soon to be opened in Trenton — and leases Beyer hospital in Ypsilanti.

While Northville has taken the lead in pushing the authority plan, it would not be the center of the proposed area. It includes the area from Livonia to Milford and Farmington to Salem.

Livonia and Plymouth did not attend a special meeting called to discuss the plan last week, and it can be assumed they are not interested. Wixom, Milford, Salem, South Lyon, Novi village and township and Northville city and township have expressed interest. Farmington may also be included.

Directors of Community General hospital, especially President A. M. Allen and Administrator Calvin Monfils, are enthusiastic about the authority because they believe it answers the long-range need for the entire area. They point out that each individual community proposed for the authority could not afford to sponsor the construction of a hospital, but united in a single effort, could provide adequate facilities for all.

Even with an approved authority, however, it will take time. At an average cost per family of from $120 to $200 per year, the tax base represented in the area would not permit immediate construction, but would set the stage for an expandable unit within the near future.

Advocates of the plan point out, however, that the tax base within the authority will grow and additional governmental units are likely to join providing an adequate base for the issuance of revenue bonds for the purpose of planning, building and maintaining a modern hospital.

Roger Babson Prices to Hold

Boston Park, Mass. Now that fears of further drastic price inflation in the U.S. appear to have temporarily subsided, this is an opportune time to check the over-all situation with regard to wholesale commodity prices. I also venture a forecast on the outlook for a few selected groups.

Although commodity prices as a whole are at a relatively high level, it is interesting to note that very little of this price inflation has occurred during the past two or three years. The Bureau of Labor's over-all price index recently stood at 119.5, compared with 119.7 a year ago, 119.2 two years ago, and 117.4 in June 1957. Industrial prices also have been fairly stable, the 1960 June average of 128.2 comparing with 128.2 a year ago, 125.3 two years ago, and 125.2 for June 1957. Farm products prices are slightly under the year-ago level.

Despite the over-all price stability of the past several years, there have been wide shifts up and down in prices of many individual commodities. I expect such shifts to continue. Hence, it is vitally important to buyers and sellers to study and appraise the supply-demand ratios prevailing, or likely to prevail, in individual items. These ratios will largely determine price action of group members, whichever way the group itself may be moving.

I see nothing in the near-term picture, barring war, that could exert strong upward pressure on prices of industrial commodities. Supplies, for the most part, will easily suffice for requirements in the months ahead. However, allowance must be made for higher wage and transportation costs, not all of which can be absorbed by producers. Under the circumstances, I forecast moderately higher prices for industrial commodities sometime before the year is out.

Outstanding in the metals group is the fact that supplies, in almost all instances, are easily ample for prospective near-term requirements. Thus, a sustained price rise over the immediate future is unlikely. A fall pickup in business, and especially automobile production, could increase over-all demand for metals; but such an increase may not mature. The steel makers, however, face higher wage costs on December 1, and may have to pass a part of them along.

Some supply stringency is indicated in a few new-crop canned vegetables, particularly corn and peas. This could mean higher prices. Generally large plantings of feed and food grains last spring point to a sizable total outturn, barring serious crop damage. The new crops, plus generally big carryovers, should exert downward pressure on prices of most farm products over near-term months.

Prices of fed cattle may weaken further, owing to sizable marketings, but should recover moderately later in the summer. With pasture conditions generally good, ranchers are in no hurry to sell feeder cattle; but I forecast rather heavy runs by late summer or early fall, with some price weakness. Hog prices are working up to a summer peak — perhaps around $20 per cwt. The next broad move should be downward, though the fall or early winter low should be above that of a year ago.

Despite the over-all price stability of the past few years, the issue of further inflation is by no means a dead duck. Should the Democrats win the forthcoming national election, the groundwork for further price inflation will have been laid. If the Republicans should win, inflation might be held in abeyance. In either case, a small Korean-type war would be inflationary.

In conclusion, on the basis of available statistics I see little in the near-term picture pointing to further general price increases. Supplies for the most part are ample, and productive capacity in many instances is excessive. Such conditions are now not conducive to a price spiral in either the metals or farm products. But war or certain sudden deaths could quickly change the outlook.

State Plans Training for Pre-Hunters

Four hours of instruction should make safer hunters out of Michigan young people under a new program set up by the Conservation Department.

Some 500 voluntary instructors have been recruited to teach the rudiments of safety, survival and courtesy to those 17 years old and under before they take to the fields with a weapon in hand.

The program has been a long time in coming.

Conservation groups asked for a plan of this type many years ago. The Department was willing, but had no money to finance such an undertaking.

Legislative attempts to provide a program failed.

It was a joint effort by the department and interested citizens that finally produced the program—which is a start toward comprehensive instruction for all potential hunters before they get into the woods.

Conservation officers will train local outdoorsmen to teach the youngsters.

The lessons will come in this order:

First there will be an hour-long session devoted to reasons for hunting regulations and factors causing accidents. Then arms and ammunition—including bows and arrows—discussed. The third meeting will cover proper handling of firearms, and the course will wind up with hunter survival and ethics while in the field.

A written examination covering the entire course will also be given.

Cost of instructing the local instructors will be paid out of the Game and Fish Protection fund, which is kept solvent by the money paid for fishing and hunting license sales. Early plans called for a program entirely separate from the Conservation department's regular activities.

But shortages of funds, lack of personnel and numerous other factors made it far more expedient to start the program slowly by working through existing arrangements.

A possibility for the future is that the training for pre-hunters will be made mandatory by the Legislature.

Sixty-seven of Michigan's 83 counties registered a population increase between the census of 1950 and that of 1960.

The 1,438,730 persons gained in these counties—mostly through internal growth, that is an excess of births over deaths—compared with a decrease of 15,314 in the 16 counties that declined, an analysis of figures by Michigan State University sociologist John F. Thaden indicated.

Southeast Michigan led the growth parade with Oakland the top county followed by Wayne and Macomb.

"Never in the history of this state have so many new residents been added in a single decade," Thaden said in a recent issue of an MSU publication.

The population growth by counties for the entire state averaged 22.3 per cent, Thaden said.

It meant Michigan has more people living within its borders than live in the countries of Israel, Tibet, Iceland, Liberia, Lebanon, Costa Rica and the principality of Monaco combined, he said.

The total population of the state, according to late census figures, was 7,795, 182.

Highway safety in a travel-conscious state like Michigan becomes more important with each new mile of road that is built.

The Highway department says studies show the new freeways—four lane super-highways being constructed in a network throughout the state—are up to four times safer than the old roads they replaced. Accident figures for old roads were compared with statistics gathered for a similar period, usually about a year, when new highways were opened.

Only rural areas of the highways were studied.

One comparison released by the Highway department was for a period of 12 months on 156 miles of freeway, and for periods of three and six months on another 65 miles of new highway. A total of 212 miles of new highway was compared with 224 miles of old highway which it replaced.

The study showed that 378 accidents caused six deaths among 228 casualties on the new roads. There were 1,691 accidents, 33 deaths and 831 casualties on the old road.

That's a reduction of 78 per cent on accidents and 73 per cent on casualties.

The roads studied were in the following counties: Berrien, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Livingston, Genesee, Monroe, Ionia and Bay.

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES GO SO WELL WITH KITCHEN COUNTERS, offer so many installation possibilities. Sometimes they extend counters, sometimes fit beneath. And their time-saving operation frees you for family and community projects.

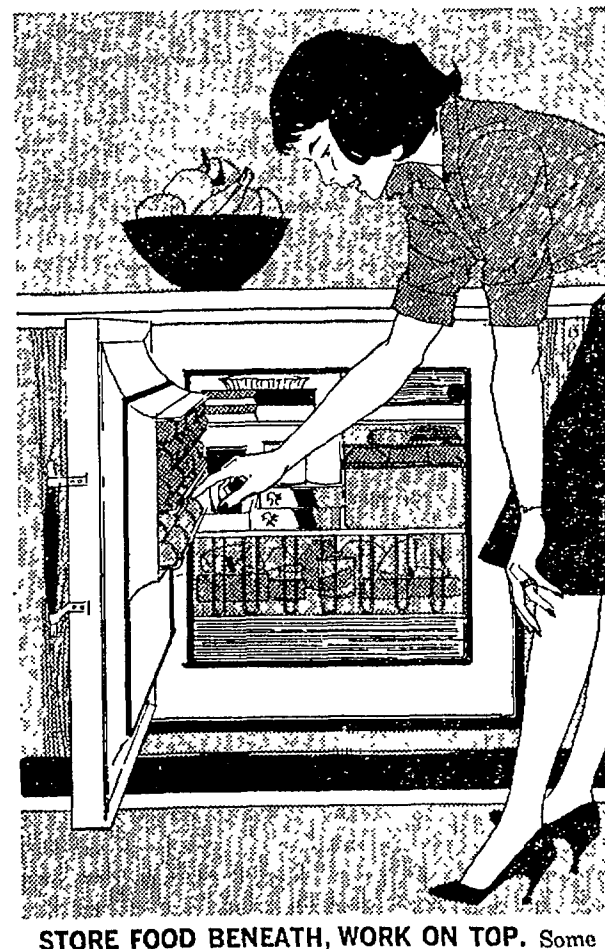

CLEAN, COOL ELECTRIC COOKING makes any kitchen a more pleasant place to be. Free standing range or built-in units, these electric workers again help make maximum use of kitchen countertop space. Your dealer has a wide selection of models.

WASHING DISHES SEEMS SIMPLE AS PUTTING THEM AWAY when you have a dishwasher beneath the counter—especially when it's teamed up with a food waste disposer. They're typical electric servants that cut housework to a minimum.

AN ELECTRIC WATER HEATER GOES ANYWHERE YOU WANT TO PUT IT! There's no flame, so it needs no flue. You can fill in unusable corner counter space, put it near hot-water-hungry washer, or see it disappear under a counter.

Three Fires Bring Action

Northville's fire department responded to three calls this week, two in the city and one to assist Salem township firemen.

Malfunctioning of a freezing unit motor in the A&P super market on Main street Wednesday morning filled the store with smoke. No major loss was reported.

Sunday, July 31, firemen extinguished a small fire, apparently set by youthful pranksters, under the porch of the Naomi Geraghty residence, 122 North Wing street.

A garage blaze in Salem, which threatened private homes nearby, was put under control the morning of August 1 by Northville volunteers assisting the Salem township fire unit.

OPEN NEW BUSINESS — A new photographic studio has opened in Northville at 137 East Main street, above the theatre. Operators of the new business are Frederic Young (left), 29 Meadowbrook, and Donald Zanger, 23 Meadowbrook. Called International Studio, the new business will specialize in family portraits and pictures of children and weddings. Eventually, according to owners, the business will include commercial photography for insurance agencies as well as modeling work.

Dust Off The Crutches

Seems the J. B. Leavenworth family of 588 Randolph street just can't keep their feet on the ground.

The youngest boy, Earl, cut his leg while at summer camp last month and was on crutches for two weeks. At the same time the youngest daughter, Carol, sprained her ankle.

The family was finally back to normal until last weekend "when once again they had to dust off the crutches. This time the father, a local telephone repairman and fireman, tore the cartilage in his leg and will be on crutches for about three weeks.

In the past years the other Leavenworth children, Lois and Jay, had to hobble on crutches because of foot injuries.

The injuries are bad enough, but the Leavenworths are now wondering if their neighbor, Roy Van Atta, from whom they borrow the crutches, has plans to charge a rental fee.

Attend State Conference

Six members of the Northville club of the Wayne County Home Extension, sponsored by Michigan State university, attended the Annual Homemakers conference last week on the university campus.

Attending were Mrs. Howard Atwood, Mrs. Floyd Gregory, Mrs. Harold Seden, Mrs. Andrew Orphan, Mrs. George Mairs and Mrs. Ward Schultz.

The state-wide conference included classes in all phases of homemaking as well as educational, political, religious and financial matters.

Fatherhood Theory Exploded

One of the common doctrines of apostate Protestantism is the "Fatherhood of God" and the "Brotherhood of man" theory. It sounds nice and it arouses a kindred spirit within us — but the truth is that God is not the father of all men. How do I know? The Bible says so. Jesus said of certain individuals in John 8:44 "Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do". Again in Ephesians 2:3 "— and were by nature the children of wrath—". Then in I John 3:10 "In this the children of God are manifested and the children of the devil". Alright, it's as plain as ABC. A—Some people are classed as children of God. B—Some people are classed as children of the devil. C—Hence all people are not the children of God and therefore cannot call God "Father". Sin has alienated man from God so that the only way to get into God's family and have God for a Father is to accept God's offer of salvation through Jesus Christ. Galatians 3:26 speaking to the Galatian Christians "Ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus". John 1:12 tells us that only those who have received Him have the right to become the sons of God.

NEW CLERK — Starting this week Northville's police department has a full-time clerk to handle all incoming calls. Mrs. Harvey Ritchie, shown with Chief Eugene King, will be on duty six days a week as communications clerk. She'll direct all calls to officers and will be in radio contact with the patrol car. Chief King requested a clerk for his department so that it would not be necessary to have an officer inside at all times. Previously, either Chief King or a patrolman had to answer all police calls. The department will be further expanded shortly when a second patrol car arrives.
