

School Calls 1900 Pupils, 88 Teachers

Twenty-three new teachers joined 65 returnees on the staff of the Northville public school system this week.

They'll greet an estimated record enrollment of 1,900 pupils as junior and senior high school students returned to class today (Thursday) and elementary youngsters await the year's first call Friday.

Two of the new teachers will share the duties of Ralph Redmond, Amerman elementary and junior high school art teacher who is scheduled to return from the armed services in January.

The full-in art teachers are Mrs. Fred Hartt of 15894 Northville road, who will teach in the junior high school, and Mrs. James Kipfer of 914 Ely court, who will handle the Amerman art classes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman, 239 High street, getting ready to begin her first full year of teaching high school English (she taught one semester last year) suffered a broken wrist when she fell in a high school corridor Tuesday. She, nevertheless, expects to be on hand for the first full day of classes today.

The other new teachers and their assignments are:

Mrs. Ruth Bowker Breyfogle of Kalamazoo, speech correctionist with five years experience in Huron Valley schools; Alexander John Callahan, Wyandotte, 1960 University of Michigan graduate, high school physical education; Nancy Mae Cort, Northville, 1960 Michigan State university graduate, kindergarten, Amerman school;

Mrs. Jennie E. Donnelly, Plymouth, 1960 Eastern Michigan university graduate, junior high English and social studies; Marilyn E. Eshner, of Dearborn, 1960 University of Michigan graduate, second grade at Main street school; Ronald Horwath, Bloomfield Hills, seven years experience at Shrine high school in Royal Oak, high school mathematics and coaching; Alexander Klukach, Warren, 1959 Eastern Michigan university graduate, sixth grade, Main street school;

Mrs. Frances Kontos, Plymouth, choral music and speech, graduate of University of Michigan, third grade; Richard S. Krzewinski, Bay City, 1960 Eastern Michigan graduate with two years U.S. Army service, high school shop and mathematics; Elizabeth Ann Lobbestael, Belleville, Eastern Michigan university 1960 graduate; high school business and mathematics; David Longridge, Northville, four years U.S. Navy service and 1960 graduate of Eastern Michigan university, junior high physical education and history and high school wrestling coach;

Daisy Mae Middleton, St. Clair Shores, 1960 music graduate of Eastern Michigan university, elementary music; Mrs. Maria Orlow, Dayton, Ohio, 1960 University of Michigan graduate, sixth grade at Main street school; Robert Edgar Prom, Northville, 1960 graduate of Eastern Michigan university with two years U.S. Army service, fifth grade, Main street school;

Rita Marie Salan, Plymouth, Eastern Michigan university graduate in 1960, fourth grade, Main street school; Mrs. Mable Schwartz, taught in Northville two years ago and in Dearborn, third grade, Main street; Mrs. Ebba Jo Sexton, Lexington, Kentucky, 1960 graduate of vocal music at the University of Kentucky with two years experience in Waverly, Ohio, elementary music;

Joel Soule, Northville, graduate of Wayne State university, junior high science and mathematics; Mrs. Marian Sullivan, Harbor Beach, librarian with previous experience at Harbor Beach, high school library; Mrs. Hildred Tornberg, Tigerton, Wis., Valparaiso university music graduate with experience in New Holstein, Wisconsin; Miss Elizabeth Pierce, Birmingham, graduate study at Oxford university, England, high school art.

SO LONG, MOM — Mrs. W. J. Marroni will have more goodbyes to say than the average Northville mother when her five youngsters return to school this week. Four of the Marronis will attend Amerman elementary, while the fifth, Tony, leaves Amerman to enter junior high school this fall. Left to right are: Julie, six, a first grader; Beverly, eight, third grade; Michael, nine, fourth grade; Louise, 10, fifth grade, and Tony, 12, a seventh grader. That's mother in the background. Junior and senior high school students return to school today (Thursday), while elementary grades report Friday.

Old Problem Plagues City: Library Rates Going Up Again

Northville's city council adjourned Tuesday night after 4½ hours with their agenda only half completed.

Yet the vacation-hit council (Councilmen Richard Juday and Earl Reed were absent) decided at least two major issues when it:

— concluded that next Monday night a resolution will be adopted to install sidewalk along both sides of the new Eight Mile road from Novi street to Center street, — decided to push formation of a library study committee composed of both city and township residents after it was learned that that local county library charges are on the rise again (see "Speaking for the Record", page 10).

A problem concerning the assessment of sidewalks was solved Tuesday night when City Attorney Philip Ogilvie told the council that four property owners whose lots are divided from the proposed walks by a strip of county-owned property ranging from 10 to 50 feet cannot be charged for the sidewalks. Instead, the improvement will be assessed to Oakland county.

The council directed the city attorney to prepare a new resolution naming Oakland county and other property owners along the cut-off for adoption next Monday. The city pays one-third the cost of new walk installation and the property owner two-thirds.

The council decided to appoint a library study committee after City Manager John Robertson revealed that the county library board proposed to adopt a new library formula that would shoot the city's yearly fee to $11,800. Last year the city paid about $9,000. Four years ago the charge was about $2,000.

Councilman John Canterbury proposed the study committee with the hopeful note that one of its recommendations might be to form a permanent community library advisory board.

The township will also feel the library rate hike (from $1,000 to $1,600 annually) and has indicated it favors the committee study plan. In other business Tuesday night the council postponed action on bids for overhead doors, steel beams and roofing for the city's new public works garage until next Monday's meeting. They also voted to return bids unopened to two contractors who answered city advertisements to pave North Ely drive.

The developers of the subdivision requested that the bids be turned over to them, but the city declined, deciding instead to urge the developers to take their own action to complete paving. A performance bond guarantees the work will be done, but the council has not been satisfied with the delay.

Township Calls Hearing

Sewer Assessment Left Up to People

The decision of whether Northville township will become a participant in the Wayne county plan to expand sewer facilities to the area will be tossed in the laps of township residents Monday night at a special public hearing called by the board.

Next week Township Supervisor George Clark expects to give his answer to the county. He'll base his decision on the reaction of the public at Monday's hearing, Clark said this week.

The township answer is certain to hold far-reaching consequences on the eventual development of the area.

Basically, the township problem is this: To meet state health department demands Wayne county must expand its Middle Rouge Interceptor Sewer with a line roughly paralleling the present facility. The $7 million project will be financed by 30-year county bonds and paid by individual benefiting communities on a contract basis with the county.

Northville township's share, based on a projected population of 8,000, is $101,170.49.

Acceptance of the plan would mean that the township would be guaranteed a share of the proposed sewer to accommodate the projected population figure.

Rejection would probably mean that the township would be entitled to just that portion of the existing interceptor.

The township is faced with the task of finding the money to pay for the project if approved. Clark estimates that it would require approximately $5,000 annually. This represents about one-half of the revenue received from the township's one mill tax levy.

Clark stated this week that he has had numerous residents protest the possible sewer charge. Several residents attended Tuesday night's board meeting to inquire — and mainly protest — about the project.

Gale-Like Winds Rip Through Area

A raging wind storm swept down out of the north last Thursday afternoon on the heels of sweltering heat, leaving a wake of uprooted trees, broken branches, and dangling power lines in the Northville-Nowi area.

Although the storm left five dead in the state, no injuries were reported in this area.

Temperatures shot to a summer high of 94 shortly before the storm, skidded to 72 in less than a half hour, and then climbed back to the mid-eighties before evening.

Although weather stations followed the storm's path with precision-like accuracy and reported the storm's position periodically, many residents in the area were caught off guard.

In Northville police cars patrolled the city reporting damage to public works' crews working with county and Detroit Edison crews. Fallen trees were quickly sawed up and removed from streets and sidewalks.

Firemen were also called to stand by at the fire hall in case of fire caused by falling electrical wires. Frightened picnickers fled from Cass Benton and Kensington parks, boaters bucked rough waters in a race for shore, and motorists dodged falling branches as they made their way along area roads and highways.

Tornado warnings caused many a fearful eye to turn skyward where low blacked clouds churned to the southeast. No twisters were sighted in this area, however.

The storm, which brought only a sprinkle of rain, lasted little more than 20 minutes — but the reports of damage swamped area police departments for hours.

The Novi fire department, which answered a defective water heater call shortly after noon, was called back into action at 3:30 when power lines crashed to the ground in the orchards of Apple Crest Farms, 40100 East Eight Mile road, threatening fire.

Firemen and police stood by at the orchard for close to two hours as Detroit Edison crews worked frantically to repair the lines.

A tree limb struck a car parked at Apple Crest, causing more than $100 worth of damage. The car is owned by Northville Policeman Huston Butler. Mrs. Butler was working at the orchard sales depot when the storm struck.

Winds also toppled a huge tree, a utility pole and power and telephone lines on 11 Mile road just east of Taft road. Power to several homes in the area was interrupted.

At the corner of Monticello and East Lake drive, police stood by as county road personnel removed a tree which blocked the road.

Electrical power was cut in half in most of the Novi area north of Grand River. The traffic light at the 12 Mile - Novi road intersection was knocked out for nearly four hours — and close to 20 calls flooded the police department as a result of the traffic light failure.

Fire Chief Fred Loynes and several other firemen shut off all power in the Novi school when the weakened current threatened to damage electrical equipment.

According to Police Chief Lee BeGole, the only Novi area in which no damage was reported was in the southwest quarter of the village.

In Wixom, where residents first felt the wrath of the violent wind, electricity was knocked out repeatedly in scattered areas. A transformer was set ablaze, and falling branches made driving hazardous.

The rear panel and window of a car was smashed at Northville when a tree crashed to the ground on Church street near Main. Robert Groomes of Warren, owner, is manager of Hocking-Gillies shoe store here.

Windows and the porch roof of a large frame apartment house at 321 Main street, across from Community General hospital were damaged when the top of a tree snapped and crashed into the front of the building. The street was blocked while workmen removed the tree.

A large tree, uprooted off Randolph west of Linden brought down high voltage lines. Traffic was rerouted while workmen repaired the damage.

An estimated 20 telephones in the area were knocked out because of the storm. Bell Telephone officials reported. With but one or two exceptions, telephone service was restored to all of these homes by 10 p.m., officials said.

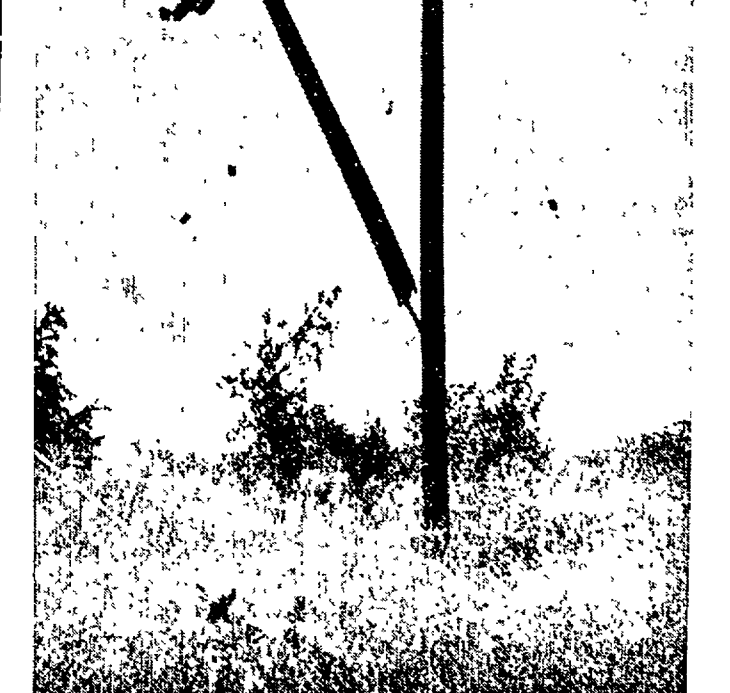

Detroit Edison personnel reported damage to Northville lines was minor. However, in Novi damage was "quite extensive". Most of the Novi damage, officials said, was concentrated between Nine Mile and 12 Mile roads.

Edison crews worked throughout Thursday and a good share of Friday before service was restored to normal.

South Lyon police also reported heavy damage in that community. Most extensive was the destruction of walls of a new elementary school currently under construction, police said.

The city of Northville must also give the county its answer. In general the council reaction has been less than enthusiastic, but the need for future sewer facilities is great enough to accept the plan.

As yet the council has not decided upon a plan for spreading the cost of the new sewer.

STORM'S WRATH — This broken utility pole typifies damage in the Northville-Nowi area resulting from the wind storm which swept through the area last Thursday afternoon.

NEWCOMERS to the Northville public school system teaching staff met Tuesday as final preparations were made for school opening today and Friday. The 23 new staff members are: (front row, l. to r.): Daisy Mae Middleton, Nancy Mae Cort, Mrs. Hildred Tornberg, Mrs. Frances Kontos, Mrs. Marian Sullivan, Elizabeth Pierce, Elizabeth Ann Lobbestael, Mrs. Jennie E. Donnelly, Mrs. James Kipfer, Mrs.

It hasn't been too long since members of the "fairer sex" pioneered for women's suffrage. Webster defines suffrage in a strict sense as the struggle of women to win the right to vote in political elections but it seems to us that the word has come to embrace more rights and privileges than the elective franchise.

Nevertheless, we were amused the other day by a male colleague's response to the unanimous approval recently given by the ladies' auxiliary of the VFW to "Resolution 69". This harmless bill (almost unknown) has already been introduced in the United States Senate — almost 70 senators are said to favor it — to have the Constitution say that women have the same rights as men in their status as citizens.

As the question of citizenship sees the measure and the auxiliary's support of it, "Before you know it men will have to start fighting for their own suffrage."

One wonderful thing about summer eating is the abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Tomatoes, peaches, blueberries, watermelon, summer squashes — they're all in season. Coming right from the garden or orchard to you at this time of the year, they taste good, are rich in food value and provide a kind of psychological relief from varieties neatly jacketed in tin cans. And right now they're inexpensive.

Frying chickens and peanut butter are also economical buys reports Marjorie Gibbs, Detroit consumer marketing agent.

One of the most perennial of all fads is dieting. Trimming excess weight demands self control and requires a good diet.

University of Michigan diet center specialists say that quick diets to lose (or gain) weight can be a menace to public health. They advise dieters to consult a doctor before embarking in a new regimen or to contact the American Medical association, the State Health department or the American Dietetic association. These groups will all answer questions about foods to help guard against quackery.

A clipping from the New York Times submitted by a reader reminds us of how condemning words may be when used to denote types or groups of people.

The Juvenile Delinquency Evaluation Project of New York City took a look at their Children's court to check its progress in rehabilitating youngsters with offenses against the law. The group found that the term "juvenile delinquency", originally conceived specifically to protect children in trouble had acquired a sinister meaning in general usage and covered too wide a range of offenses.

Homework, that bundle of assignments youngsters carry home from school with them, can be a problem for the students and their parents. Even if you have forgotten how to transpose fractions to percentages and can't quite remember whether "who or whom" is more correct and when, give your youngsters a good place to study.

A little quiet, a good light, and a good desk — no matter if it's made from polished mahogany or a slightly brused flush door from the lumber yard — may mean a brighter smile on your child's face when report card time rolls around.

Antoinette Tells Hollanders Of Her Stay in Northville

Almost two months ago Antoinette Michielien returned to her home and family in Driebergen, Holland. She had spent a year in America as an exchange student living with the Charles Tremors of Napier road.

Before Antoinette's July departure, she stopped in the Record office to talk about her American stay. She spoke of her classmates and friends, her family and experiences and promised to write when she returned to Holland. This week an airmail letter brought this message from Antoinette, who will enter the University of Utrecht this fall to study English:

Driebergen
August 27, 1960
Dear People of Northville,

If today you would happen to visit Driebergen (a small town in the center of Holland), you would probably meet a girl wearing bermudas and a U. of M. sweatshirt. She would offer you a ride on her bike and take you to a house surrounded by flowers. She is not an unusual girl and she does not live in an unusual house but she is the only girl in Holland who has in her room a picture of the graduating class of 1960 of Northville high school. She is also the only girl who sometimes uses the word "shut up" at home and drinks Coke with her supper.

Perhaps you can guess who she is, for it is you who have Americanized her.

It is more than a month ago that I left Northville, but time has not blurred any of the lovely memories of this wonderful year.

Being at home again made me realize even more how dear Northville — and its inhabitants is to me. I miss everybody an awful lot, in the first place my foster parents (the Charles Tremors) who adopted me as a daughter, and then, of course, the students and teachers, the members of the church and of the Rotary club, actually all the people in the town. I could say "thank you" to all of you, but that would not express how much this year means to me.

When I said goodbye to Rose-Marie (the Irish Exchange student) we said to each other "I'll see you in two years in Northville," and that gives you perhaps an idea of how much we enjoyed our stay.

Now I am back in my own home town. People ask me about the United States — the country, the customs and the people. I am proud when I tell about you and the community of which I have been a part. I have not only brought back souvenirs to my home country, I have brought back impressions and ideas which I want the people here to share. A better understanding between countries can only exist when there is created a better understanding between people. May this year of my stay in Northville have contributed to this.

When I think about Northville I do not only recall the parties, the hamburgers, and the A & W root beer stand, but I recall the moments that you exchanged a friendly word with me, that you made me cordially welcome in your house and that you made me feel at home.

These are the memories that I've brought back with me and they are very happy ones.

God bless you all,
Yours sincerely,
Antoinette

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

—Samuel Johnson

AN ACTIVE FOURSOME is the Edward Vahlbusch family, newcomers living at 48025 Rushwood lane. Mr. and Mrs. Vahlbusch, Elaine, 9, and Gretchen, 12, (standing), enjoy year-round recreation together. "Red" (the dog) and "Rusty" (the cat) live with the Vahlbuschs at their Echo Valley home. Mr. Vahlbusch is the new treasurer of the civic association.

When the Edward Vahlbuschs gathered up their family and belongings to move to Northville, they didn't neglect to bring along an intangible something called civic pride and interest. Their concern as citizens for the physical and social welfare of the community in which they live migrated with them from northwest Detroit to Northville.

Mr. Vahlbusch was named treasurer of the recently formed Echo Valley Civic association. His wife, active in community work in Detroit, plans to extend her interest here, she said. In the early part of July Mr. and Mrs. Vahlbusch (Edward and Edith) and their two daughters, Gretchen, 12, and Elaine, 9, set up household at 48025 Rushwood lane.

"Like almost all newcomers," relates Mrs. Vahlbusch, "we were always impressed by the countryside in our Sunday afternoon drives and knew we would eventually make our home here sometime in the future."

Sunday afternoon drives fit as readily into the Vahlbusch's scheme of doing things as a family as their longer excursions to different points in the United States and Canada. They enjoy year-round recreation as a foursome.

Mr. and Mrs. Vahlbusch met when she was a secretary in the Government's War Production board and he was a Chief Pharmacist Mate with the United States Navy. That was during World War II and they were both in Washington, D.C. They were married in Detroit, Mr. Vahlbusch's hometown — Mrs. Vahlbusch was from Ohio — and lived there until Northville beckoned.

They hope to make their home here permanently, says Mrs. Vahlbusch. Gretchen and Elaine are busy getting acquainted with their new friends and the countryside. Both girls have been Brownies and Gretchen is a Girl Scout (Elaine will join her sister soon).

Mr. Vahlbusch is a manufacturer's agent in the tool line and is also a member of the Naval Reserve.

KITCHEN DIARY

Spring Back Salad Brings

Don't let the name deceive you. "Spring Salad," this week's recipe courtesy of Mrs. Richard Ambler, is a colorfully attractive salad equally popular any season of the year. It's a green and red shimmering delight that might prove especially appropriate for the Christmas holidays (only 15 weeks and three days away).

For the time being, however, Mrs. Ambler says Spring Salad is her oft-called-upon answer for what to serve when women converge at her Carrington street home for an evening get-together.

And with the kids back in school and the club circuit showing the characteristic signs of the swing into fall activities, Spring Salad can be just what the hostess needs for her early or late afternoon entertaining.

SPRING SALAD

Mrs. Richard Ambler

- 1 cup milk
- 2 pkgs. Philadelphia cream cheese (3-ounce size)
- 1 pkg. lime or lemon gelatin
- 1 pkg. cherry gelatin
- 1 can (small) crushed pineapple
- 1/2 cup nuts
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 pint whipping cream
- 16 marshmallows

In double boiler melt marshmallows in milk. Add cream cheese, lime gelatin (prepared as per directions on package), pineapple, nuts and mayonnaise. Cool entire mixture; fold in whipped cream and place in mold to set until firm. Prepare cherry gelatin and add to first mixture. Cool. Serves about eight.

AAUW Seeks New Members

Eligible area women were invited this week to join the American Association of University Women (AAUW) by Mrs. B. William Seccord, Northville-Plymouth branch president, and Mrs. J. M. Hopkins, membership chairman. The AAUW's initial fall meeting will be held Thursday, September 15 at 7:45 p.m. in the Plymouth Community junior high school.

A social hour will precede the regular 8:30 p.m. business meeting. "AAUW Through the Years," a skit directed by Mrs. R. R. Wisniewski, will highlight the meeting.

The AAUW accepts as members all women holding approved college degrees from a list of over 45 American colleges and universities which have met AAUW standards. High academic rating, a basic foundation of general liberal arts education, adequate provision for women students, significant recognition of women on the faculty and academic freedom in administrative and teaching bodies are basic qualifications of colleges and universities on the AAUW list.

Liberal arts as a significant part of the degree program is an important pre-requisite for AAUW membership. This simply means that college degrees of association members must include a reasonable amount of study in such fields as literature, languages, history and science.

Membership in the AAUW permits women college graduates to work cooperatively in practical, constructive contributions to the functioning of democracy. The local branch offers members a study-action program embracing higher education, elementary and secondary education, international relations, social and economic issues, the status of women, mass media and the arts.

Thirteen Michigan colleges and universities are included on the AAUW approved list: Albion college, Alma college, Central Michigan university, Hope college, Kalamazoo college, Marygrove college, Michigan State university, Eastern Michigan university, Northern Michigan university, University of Detroit, University of Michigan, Wayne

Nikoden-Marston Vows Exchanged in Florida

Shirley Jo Nikoden of Northville and Frank J. Marston of Tucson, Arizona exchanged marriage vows in a double ring candlelight ceremony Saturday, August 27 at the South Miami Lutheran church in Miami, Florida.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nikoden of Northville and Miami, Florida.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Masash of Tucson, Arizona.

Imported hand embroidered raised flowers detailed the bride's floor-length gown of pure silk organza over summer taffeta. The skirt of the puffed-backed gown swept gently into a chapel-length train. Her headpiece, a cap made from sprays of lilies of the valley, held a silk illusion veil.

Maid of honor Lynnette Ferrell, bridesmaid Helen Dyer and flower girl Debra Butt, all of Miami, were gowned in identical dresses of hyacinth silk organza and wore white cocktail veils.

Serving the groom as best man was George Moxon of Hollywood, Florida. Joseph Nikoden, Jr., the bride's brother from Arlington Heights, Illinois and E. Manuel Percheck of Miami, ushered.

Mrs. Nikoden wore a street-length dress of powder-blue silk shantung and a silk shantung hat for her daughter's wedding.

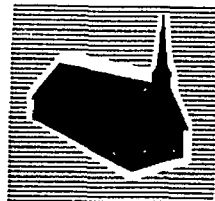

The groom's mother was attired in a street-length dress of aqua chiffon and white feathered hat. Following a reception in Miami's Biscayne Terrace, the newly-married couple flew to Nassau for their honeymoon. They will make their home in Miami.

Both attended the University of Miami, where the bride will receive a bachelor of education degree in February. The groom is a June bachelor of laws graduate.

Mrs. Frank J. Marston

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. Fr. John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

TRAINING OF CHILDREN IS IMPORTANT

Many parents realize what a tremendous responsibility they have the moment they hold their newly born for the first time. They have a consciousness that they are co-creators with Almighty God. They know that they are God's representatives here on earth in the training of the child. Each step in that training demands love and understanding and self-sacrifice on the part of both father and mother.

If a child is to grow spiritually, mentally and physically he must receive (1) the love and active interest of both parents, (2) a home with warmth, however humble, where harmony prevails, (3) good example, especially in the practice of charity, modesty and sobriety, and (4) the assurance that he is an important cog in the family machine.

We, as parents, should think and speak of him as "our" child, never as "my" child or "your" child. The responsibility is joint and will ever be that way. We must maintain a united front on matters of policy and discipline lest the child play one parent against the other. Any differences of opinion should be settled out of the presence of the child. We should help him to develop sound judgment in the choice of companions without imposing on him our own prejudices, ever realizing that some day he will have to rely on his judgment—that ours won't be available. We should strive (I know it's difficult) never to quarrel in the presence of the child. We should never speak ill of each other in his presence. Lastly we should never unload on a child our serious worries and troubles as adults—he will be a child only once.

Dr. Frank Fitt To Conduct Services Here

The Rev. Dr. Frank Fitt, pastor of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Presbyterian church for more than 27 years, will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church of Northville this Sunday and again September 18 and October 2.

On October 25 the Rev. G. Donal Wilmoth, associate pastor of the Redford Presbyterian church, will conduct services.

Announcement of the schedule was made by Mrs. L. M. Eaton, chairman of the interim pulpit supply committee for the Northville First Presbyterian church. The Rev. John O. Taxis, former pastor in Northville, assumed new duties last week as associate pastor at Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The Rev. Dr. Fitt will conduct three services Sunday—at the regular hours of 9:30 and 11 a.m. and college students' Communion at 8:30 a.m.

Retired nearly two years, Dr. and Mrs. Fitt reside in Ann Arbor.

Wanted: More Mustangs

Remember the World War II poster showing Uncle Sam pointing a long finger, over the caption reading, "Uncle Sam Needs You?"

Well, don't be too surprised if you see a similar sign around town in the next week or so. Only this time, instead of Uncle Sam, it'll be Northville's new coach, Ron Horwath, doing the pointing.

Varsity Football Coach Ron Horwath was far from pleased with the turnout for the pre-school practices. And what's more he probably wasn't joking last week when he and his assistants stated a plan was underway to "beat the school halls" in search of male students over 5' 6" and weighing more than 150 pounds.

"You don't suppose we could place a 'want ad' in your paper?" an assistant asked in a coated plea of seriousness.

For the first time in several years, the number one problem is not "who is going to play what?" but "Who is going to play?"

Thus, not only does Horwath face the frightening task of producing a squad matching the championship caliber of past seasons, but he may have to pick his strawberries from the smallest patch in the garden.

Only 36 players reported for the opening drill two weeks ago. Since then the total has jumped up and down with the bouncing antics of the temperature. Head and stomach aches and exhaustion are all part of the training—but when the number of candidates is already ebbing the problem becomes even more acute.

But while practice spectators wonder out loud why so few students are donning football uniforms, Horwath and his coaching cohorts continue to push their players, still hoping that Northville will be ready to defend its amazing record when the season opens next Friday.

The brightest part of this year's squad undoubtedly will be the backfield, the coaches agree, where Steve Juday is almost certain to draw a starting quarterback position.

Sharing the backfield limelight with the Northville junior probably will be quarterback Fred Steeper, Tom Darling, Dave Hay and Tom Swiss, halves, and Bill Trotter and Bob Nauman, fullbacks.

Best bets to nail down starting line positions are Jim Petrock, Dick Bathey and Craig Bell, ends; Dick Willing and Bud Long, centers; Walt Doan and Jerry Biddle.

After school practices began today, with several drills tentatively scheduled under the lights at Ford Field between now and the opener. Regular sessions are conducted on the field adjacent to the high school.

The Mustangs will open the 1960 season next Friday against the Plymouth Rocks. According to Plymouth coaches the turnout this season has been little better than here.

Only about 39 of the 50 who reported for the initial drills are still wearing uniforms.

Plymouth coaches explain that their job is one of rebuilding a squad which suffered heavily because of graduations. Most notable of the missing stars is Randy Egloff, an all-state quarterback last season.

Incidentally, one newcomer to the Rocks' line this season reportedly weighs 310 pounds.

PONY-TAIL CHAMPS — Two young Northville lassies walked away with ribbons last week at the Michigan State Fair pony-tail contest. Bonnie Ann Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hunt of 314 Debra Lane (left), won first place in the five to six year old group. Bonnie's pony-tail measured 28 inches from the crown of her head. Peggy North (right) won a third place ribbon in the 11 to 12 year old age group with a pony-tail 32 1/2 inches long. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin North of 320 Debra Lane.

SIGNS TWO-YEAR CONTRACT — Meadowbrook Country Club's golf professional, Paul Shepherd (right), has accepted a two-year contract. Shown with Shepherd is one of his two assistants, Len Morandy. Missing is Assistant Gary Wren.

CHAMPION 4-H HORSEMEN — Jackie George, 17, 9138 West Seven Mile road, was judged the champion horseman at the State 4-H Club Show in East Lansing. She won for her top skill in riding and handling her mount. Four-H club members from all over the state entered more than 175 horses in five different classes in the first day's activities. During the show, nearly 2,000 4-H club boys and girls will compete in demonstrations, exhibits and judging contests.

Signs New Contract

Paul Shepherd, hired last spring as Meadowbrook Country Club's golf professional, has accepted a two-year contract, President Linn Walter announced last week.

Shepherd came to Northville from El Caballero Country Club in Tarzana, California, to take the place of popular Chick Harbert, who resigned because of a difference with the management over a financial matter.

Walter said Shepherd has "gone over superbly" with the membership of Meadowbrook.

"His teaching ability is the talk of the club and he has shown himself to be a top player. Even though he has been too busy to play much in his first summer, he has been low professional once in a pro-amateur tournament and second low pro twice. He also has a 67 at Meadowbrook to his credit," Walter said.

Shepherd, who lives in Farmington, said his assistants, Len Morandy and Gary Wren, also will return next year.

Local Gals Lose Softball Tournery Bid

A narrow, highly disputed 11-10 loss to Boyne City last week ended Northville's women softball team from the state tournament at Coldwater.

The local squad, sponsored by Smith Products of Novi, were leading Boyne City going into the fifth inning. But a strong rally and a ruling by the umpire gave Boyne City the one-run edge.

The fifth inning dispute, which precipitated a storm of protests by Northville, followed a putout when two Boyne City runners left their bases to investigate the injury of one of their players. The umpire claimed the putout was illegal and the runners returned to their bases.

In other tournament games, Northville spotted the Genesee County Merchants 15 runs in the first three innings and then ate away the lead to win the opener, 17-16, lost to Ypsilanti Independents 9-7, and blanked Northgate 11-0 before dropping the final contest.

Betty Myers picked up the two Northville victories while June King was tagged with the two losses.

A PRETTY IDEA—Last year nothing but weeds would grow on the narrow strip of property, between the sidewalk and street, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Humphries, 127 South Rogers. Last spring Mrs. Humphries suggested that maybe flowers would grow in the hard earth. Her husband thought it was an excellent idea and began immediately to turn the drab, weedy ground into this beautiful garden. Now instead of looking out over a weed patch, the Humphries and motorists traveling along Rogers enjoy a colorful spray of asters, pansies, petunias and zinnias.

Invite Area Residents To Swainson Reception

Lieutenant Governor John B. Swainson, Democratic candidate for governor, will meet with citizens of this area Thursday evening (tonight) in an open house reception in the dining hall of Plymouth junior high school, Lilley road, south of Ann Arbor trail.

The reception will kick off Lt. Gov. Swainson's fall campaign and will be open to the public. State, county and federal office holders will be present to greet the general public from 8 p.m.

Lt. Gov. Swainson, his wife, Alice, and family, are expected to appear about 8 p.m. to receive guests in a reception line that will include well known Michigan personalities from throughout the state. Also invited are officials of the Democratic Organization in communities surrounding the Detroit area. There is a strong possibility that Governor Williams and U.S. Senator Philip Hart will attend. Candidates for Wayne county, state and national office will also attend.

Members of the Plymouth and Northville Democratic clubs, who are handling the arrangements for their favorite son, emphasize that this will be an opportunity for citizens to meet and talk informally with public officials about issues that will have to be decided in November.

Light refreshments for at least a thousand will be served buffet style. Campaign decorations and tables laden with literature will promote the evening's enjoyment, giving those attending a chance to join in the pastime of "talking politics" with John Swainson.

Today, a vast network of modern steel pipelines has changed all this. Clean burning with high heat value, Nature's miracle fuel is now being served at economical costs to consumers in every section of the country to bring Gracious Gas Living and Prosperity to millions of American homes, businesses and industries. *

Out-Of-Reach

Before the modern era of steel pipelines, there was no practical way of moving Natural Gas from the well to the market—so it was wasted. Consequently, local gas companies piped mains for domestic service. The turn-of-the-century housewife was delighted with gas convenience but could not afford its luxury. Gracious Gas Living was only for the rich!

*In 1870, a wooden pipeline 25 miles long was an accomplishment! At the beginning of 1959, the Natural Gas industry had enough miles of pipeline to circle the earth 22 times! In Consumers Power Company's area alone, there are 7,000 miles of pipelines.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO . . .

Next Tuesday qualified electors of the village of Novi will decide an issue that has become one of the hottest in the history of the community.

By casting "yes" or "no" ballots voters will determine whether or not Novi shall become a city incorporated with its same boards.

A record 750 Novi students will start first regular classes tomorrow at Novi and Orchard Hills school.

Larry Gotts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gotts of North Center street, began his duties September 1 as vicar at the First English Lutheran church in Grosse Pointe Woods.

A Northville men's tennis squad edged Livonia 3-2 in the first annual inter-city matches which were completed Monday at Cass Benton park.

The Northville board of education accepted the bid for purchase of $188,000 in tax anticipation notes of Manufacturers National Bank at a special meeting Monday night.

Northville merchants will celebrate the installation of new sidewalks in the business district with a special "sidewalk sale" September 25.

A holiday break-in at the junior high school — believed the work of children — resulted in some $25 damages to newly-painted and plastered walls.

More than 600 area residents toured the renovated Community General hospital last week end.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Agreement has been reached between the Wayne and Oakland county boards of road commissioners for joint construction of a new road to connect the two ends of Baseline road that now terminates at Griswold street on the east and Randolph street on the west.

The new road or cut-off is planned to start approximately 1,300 feet east of the Griswold-Baseline corner. It will bear north-sufficiently from the Wayne-Oakland county line to avoid the steep grade that would be encountered if the two ends of Baseline were to be connected on a straight line.

Eleven residents of Oakwood subdivision and one from Novi township attended to talk the Northville city commission out of closing North Center street between Baseline and Hill streets during school hours as a safety measure to protect children going to the new Amerman elementary school.

Reactivation of the fund-raising program for the proposed St. Mary hospital which the Felician Sisters plan to build in Livonia moved a step nearer this week with release of a financial report of the project by Sister Mary Columbine, newly appointed administrator.

Thirteen large maple and box elder trees were cut down this week on South Center street between Cady and Edward Hines drive as a preliminary step in the paving of the street by Wayne county this fall.

Exactly ten years from the day that VFW Post 4012 was organized the mortgage on the new post home was paid off. This event occasioned the two-day celebration to which all Northville was invited and which was climaxed by the mortgage burning ceremonies held Monday in the present post home.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Three Northville boys, Norman D. Sanford, Charles G. Holman and Charles S. Wolf are among the 16 men called to service September 13. Three Northville high school girls, Florence McCluskie of Grace avenue, Joanne Tuck of East Dunlap street, and Virgie Stanley of West Eight Mile road attended Girls' State at the University of Michigan last week.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Balko on Base Line road is a happy place with the arrival of both their service sons, Sgt. Harley and Lt. Elmer from overseas duty.

Serving aboard the USS Canberra at the time she was hit off Formosa and during her subsequent voyage back to Boston was Lloyd Coleman whose home is at 42099 Neeson street, where his wife and their two small children reside.

Pvt. Pete Spagnuolo was home for the week end from Fort Sheridan, Illinois, visiting his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spagnuolo of East Main street, and his brother, T/5 Joe Spagnuolo, who is back from 32 months overseas.

The Joseph Dentons have had word from a senior officer of one of their service sons, Capt. Carl, to the effect that Carl left Munich, Germany early last month for France, enroute to the States and home.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Gus Smith of Novi may be 77 years old. He may walk four miles to work every day. But when he gets there he has no difficulty at all picking 27 bushels of plums out of Frank Hamilton's 12-foot trees between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Only four regulars were among the 39 high school boys who turned out for the opening football practice at the fairgrounds Wednesday afternoon.

Regulars back, all linemen, are Charles Strautz, tackle; Essie N. rider, end; Herman Toussaint, tackle; and William McGee, guard.

With some experience on the line is Robert Bray, a center; Alvin Bauman, a tackle; Leonard Young, Thomas Gregory and Robert Lyke. In the backfield no regulars came back, but Jack Junod, Donald Himes and Gerald Trotter have had some experience. Coach Ted Watts said, David Hay, who played substitute in the line a year ago, is trying out for a backfield post this year.

Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, wife of Ray W. Labbitt, Record advertising man, will begin a household hour over station CKLW, Windsor.

Seven hundred and twenty students answered the ring of the school bell Tuesday morning constituting a record first day attendance.

Wellington Roberts, civic leader, former university professor and civil engineer, who lived here for 17 years, died early last Friday morning at University hospital, Ann Arbor.

The Marvin Sloan homestead, three miles out of Northville on the West Seven Mile road, burned to the ground after Mr. Sloan's frenzied telephone call for the fire department, brought the Novi truck rather than the local one.

Old Postcard Recalls A Little Northville History

A small piece of Northville history popped up last week when Mack Burns of 22047 Novi road left a postcard in the Record office which dated back to 1893.

The card reads: "Yourself and ladies are cordially invited to attend a private hop in Richardson's Hall, Thanksgiving night, November 30th, 1893, 9 o'clock. Tinham's Orchestra, B. C. Stark, B. G. Filkins, Floor Committee. Bill 50c".

Burns found the card inside the wall of a house at 512 South Main several months ago while repairing the kitchen.

According to Mrs. Maude Bennett, 116 High street, one of the two living children of the late T. G. Richardson, the hall referred to in the card was located above her father's dry goods store where Gamble hardware is presently located.

Richardson, who operated a number of stores in Northville after his arrival here from Holly in 1883, gave up his businesses with the arrival of the streetcar. Mrs. Bennett explained, because "he thought the streetcars would carry all the business to Detroit."

One of the stores Mrs. Bennett's father operated was a dry goods and shoe business in the Freydl building, which he had built.

Richardson, who died in 1936, had four children, Ray and Glenn, both dead, Mrs. Bennett, and Mrs. Charles (Lida) Murphy now of St. Petersburg, Florida.

Less is known of the other three men mentioned in the postcard, although Tom Carrington, an oldtimer himself, recalls that Tinham's orchestra was directed by John Tinham. Tinham, according to Carrington, was a life-long resident of Northville, was an excellent fiddler, and a great horseman.

B. C. Stark (Burt) and B. G. Filkins (Ben) were well-known Northville residents, Carrington said.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Silger

Whether we like it or not, the direct cost of Wayne county services in Northville is going to continue to climb.

The spiraling library service charge has brought screams of protest from the city council in the past. In the last five years it has jumped from $2,000 to $9,500 annually.

The council can brace itself. This year under a new formula not yet adopted the proposed charge to the city will be nearly $12,000.

In the township the direct charge will go from about $1,000 annually to $1,600.

City Manager John Robertson and Township Supervisor George Clark heard details of the proposal from the county library board last week. The board, incidentally, is chairmaned this year by Northville's Mrs. H. F. Wagenschutz.

Eventually, says the county, the cost will be borne 100 percent by participating communities. The city is now at the 87 percent level, while the township is just over 50 percent. Townships under 25,000 population, however, are protected by a provision that sets a limit of two-tenths of a mill. Under its present valuation, this would put Northville township's ceiling at $2,000 annually.

County communities will be hit by rising costs in other areas besides libraries. The county has hinted that townships may be charged for sheriff department calls.

Last year the city started paying for its police teletype service for the first time.

Why the shifting of costs?

Wayne county is burdened down with welfare expenses, which now total about 60 percent of its budget. A great portion of this expense is for patients hospitalized in county institutions and a large percentage of these patients come from Detroit.

It's also true, however, that Detroit has many of its own facilities — such as a public library — and has paid toward the support of county libraries in outlying communities.

Wayne county officials have taken the position of "first things first" and have let it be known that the sick and the needy will receive care.

So as this responsibility grows, more shifting of costs to local communities is certain to take place.

It's difficult to find a solution to this problem of mounting costs. Certainly our community leaders will give serious thought to re-evaluating the need of county services.

And the community of Northville could take another look at these county services through the joint eyes of city and township officials. In certain instances a program of cooperation at the local level — such as now practiced in providing fire protection — might be our answer.

Roger Babson

First Hand View

On the Atlantic Ocean — When readers see this column, I will be leaving New York City on the Cunard Steamship "Mauretania" to make my annual 'check-up' abroad.

Readers will remember that two years ago Mrs. Babson and I went to South Africa and reported on the unbelievable social conditions there. Cape Town is a beautiful city; but the segregation laws are terrible. My associate, George M. Rideout, visited the West Coast leading into Central Africa, and is not surprised at the revolution going on in the Belgian Congo. Last year we visited the Scandinavian countries and West Germany, East Germany, Poland and Russia. Our reports on these have been published by this newspaper.

The world is ruled by feelings rather than by figures, and I have learned that it is impossible to know how people feel without mingling with them in their own country. I have been especially anxious to visit France, which is the controlling link between the East and the West. Spain is now of no consequence; England seems primarily interested in looking after itself; but France, under the dominant leadership of Europe's strongest man, Charles DeGaulle, can swing us all either to the left or to the right according to his exercise of foresight and courage, and by strength of the wealth of French foreign holdings.

West Berlin and Cuba

I have had a feeling, as readers know, that Khrushchev will forget West Berlin for the present, in the hope that the lush plum of Cuba will fall into his lap. Whether I am correct or mistaken in this thought will be ascertained by my talks with influential German people.

I am also anxious to learn whether the so-called "West German Boom" has reached its peak. Now that American bankers are urging U.S. investors to send funds into Germany, I am suspicious. I want to learn whether the money which we send over is being used for constructive industrial development, or whether the Germans are now selling their stocks to us and using the funds to buy United States securities. Manufacturers in the United States now suffering from German exports are anxious to know whether this foreign competition will become more intensive, or whether it will gradually decline. Germans with whom I expect to talk are already complaining about gradually increasing wage and other costs in Germany. This is very important from our standpoint, and I hope to bring back an impartial report thereon.

For nearly 100 years, the Belgians have controlled the Congo and its rebellious province of Katanga. With the United Nations upholding the Lumumba, the people of Belgium are outraged, bitter and angry.

I am told they feel that they have been betrayed by their allies. They feel that the Lumumba regime in Leopoldville is only a "front" for the Communists. Readers realize that the United States and Britain have joined with Russia — through the United Nations — in ordering Belgian troops out of the Congo.

In this affair, President DeGaulle of France will be an important factor as he lived for many years in Elizabethtown, Africa. He probably knows the African situation better than any other leading statesman.

The Katanga province is now a source of abundant cheap copper. Doubtless the handling of labor there is rather ruthless, and the district is handicapped by its distance from the sea and transportation costs. There are two stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange which will be directly affected by what happens in Katanga. These are "Roan Antelope Mines" and the "Rhodesian Selection Trust". Before the Congo revolution, these were selling at 4½ and 2¼, respectively. They have since fallen to around 3 and 1½, respectively.

Whoever ultimately controls the Congo, these mines must be kept operating. It seems absolutely impossible for the natives to carry on these great copper developments. To close them down would be suicidal to the Congo. This means that either the Belgians must change and take a more constructive attitude, or else these mines will be operated by the Russians or by some appointee of the United Nations. This is another matter which I wish to learn about on my trip.

Minority Parties Keep Trying

MINOR PARTIES in Michigan politics can't win. They only lose. But they continue to play the game.

Only one independent — that is, a man who was neither a Democrat nor a Republican has been elected to the Legislature since the two parties became dominant forces in politics, but the minor parties continue to nominate and vote for candidates.

This year, at least five of the minority groups are expected to have states before the people.

Two of them have never been on the ballot before. Another, the Prohibition party, has been a relatively powerful minority group for many years.

Two Socialist factions, the Socialist Workers party and the Socialist Labor party, are continuing campaign efforts.

The new groups on the ballot are the Independent American party and the Tax Cut party.

In past years, at least 20 minority parties have appeared on the ballot at one time or another. The Prohibitionists have consistently polled the most votes, hitting a high of 14,249 votes for governor in 1948 when Democrat G. Mennen Williams first took office.

First minority party to get on the Michigan ballot was the Liberty party, which made the grade in 1841.

While it is easy — and not uncommon — to brand the minority parties as "crackpots", "radicals" or with some other derogatory term, the groups are not necessarily anything but good Americans with particularly strong ideas on certain issues.

The Prohibitionists, for example, no longer hope to win an election but hope to promote temperance ideals among all parties.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery says the minority parties will be welcome on the state ticket as long as they can qualify under the election laws for a place on the ballot.

The two major parties seldom expect strong opposition from any of the smaller groups, though at particular times in particular areas a single candidate might pose a threat to the Democrat or Republican.

But as long as they can get on the ballot, it speaks well for the free choice system in the United States.

CHANGES IN FARMERS' way of life will get a close inspection if a Michigan State university professor of Rural Sociology gets his way.

Prof. Charles R. Hoffer, president of the Rural Sociology Society, said just because there are fewer farmers now than in the past does not mean studies to improve their relations with city folks are any less important.

In fact, with a smaller segment of the population feeding an ever larger segment, the studies increase in importance, he said.

Hoffer said the term "rural population" includes much more than just people living on farms at the present time.

"Towns, small cities and the ever-increasing rural-urban fringe areas logically and actually come within its purview," Hoffer said.

A pioneer in the field of Rural Sociology, Hoffer said the changes that are taking place in rural life throughout the world demand that more and more studies be made.

MICHIGAN YOUNG MEN eligible for the draft but physically unqualified for military service aren't getting particularly healthier, but their selective service registration cards might make it appear so in the future.

The familiar "4-F" designation is going to be limited to those who would fail to qualify for the draft under any circumstances.

State Selective Service headquarters had announced that many of the registrants currently classified 4-F will be put into a new bracket which will be for men who could serve in some capacity in the event of an emergency, but who aren't likely to be needed unless world conditions call for a drastic step-up in inductions.

Not Forgotten

To the Editor:

The passing of Mrs. Jeanette Lawrence will leave a deep void in the hearts of her many friends and acquaintances. One of my daughters was fortunate to have been in her girl scout troop, and they had many wonderful times together.

Jeanette's sunny disposition and willingness to give of herself for the happiness of others was always very much in evidence. As is so often the case, a person of her stature must pass on before we realize that we have neglected to express our gratitude enough. I know I speak the silent thoughts of many of the mothers of the girls in that scout troop. She will live on in the hearts of many, many people forever; the good that she has done in her lifetime, particularly in the lives of her girls, will never die.

Chiroprody is the art of treating minor diseases of hands and feet. The name is gradually being changed to podiatry, so as not to confuse the profession with that of a chiropactor, who practices therapy based upon adjusting body structures.

Last Saturday, Edward Shigley of the Oakland county prosecutor's office, a retired Pontiac police captain, spoke on "Criminal Law for Police Officers".

ORPHAN FLOWER — For more than a week, a large maple tree on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lemmon, 439 Dubuar, proudly displayed a sunflower on its lappel. A seed, which apparently settled in a crack of the tree trunk, sprouted and produced the pretty blossom above. But the orphan flower, lonesome in its peculiar surroundings, withered and died shortly after this picture was taken.

Gas Station Thieves Find Easy Prey

Northville police were investigating a break-in at Shay's service station, 19091 South Main, this week involving a theft of $72 from the station cash register. Police said the unknown thief or thieves had entered through a poorly secured back door, taking only money and doing no other damage.

Novi resident Paul R. Hensley of West Nine Mile road, was fined $50 and court cost by Justice E. M. Bogart, Hensley speeding north on Center street failed to stop at the Baseline intersection, skidding across it and nearly hitting a Northville police car traveling south on Center.

A runaway Farmington boy was returned home by Northville police after he was spotted at 5:45 a.m., Tuesday, walking near the Hines park. The youth told Sgt. Frank Heintz, who was on a routine patrol of the area, that he had left home with three other boys and after getting separated from them had slept in the park all night. Chief Eugene King said the Farmington boy would be referred to the Wayne county juvenile court for violation of Michigan's new juvenile curfew law.

John T. Crachie of South Rogers, spent the Labor Day week end in the Plymouth jail following a disturbance he created in the Old Mill restaurant on Main street. Crachie smashed a water glass and threw two salads against the restaurant wall Friday night. Justice Bogart found him guilty of disorderly conduct, fining him $35 and costs and ordering him to reimburse the restaurant.

Questions School Expenses

The last election held by the school board requesting extra millage was won by one vote, 201 yes to 200 no, and that was not too long ago. School board members Walter Ambinder and John MacBride might not be aware of this due to the extra services they are requesting for our schools. I would like to see the best money can buy for our schools, but it must be remembered that the taxpayers are now already overburdened (it has hit the saturation point).

It appeared that Ambinder and MacBride were not aware of a $23,260 deficit and were disturbed why the public has not been informed of these conditions — to the contrary the public was very much informed of this school deficit, but are taking a wait and see attitude as to any indication for extra millage.

Reading, religion and nationality are closely related, yet Ambinder and MacBride feel that a remedial teacher is needed at a cost of $7,500 per year and a part time elementary curriculum consultant at $2,500 per year, but they want to eliminate questions concerning parents' religion and nationality.

Ambinder and MacBride claim that 10 to 15 percent or 113 pupils are in need of a remedial teacher. If this is true, this teacher would either be over or under worked, because a class of 113 would be too large, and if divided by per day school hours 16 children would not be large enough.

It's not uncommon to find certain percentage of children suffering from reading disability — because there are two classes of children; one class with a high I.Q. and the other class is gifted with creative minds. Both classes are needed in our society. Ambinder and MacBride certainly must be confused between reading, religion and nationality. To eliminate religion and nationality is endangering the basic point of education. The teacher must know the child's background in order to give proper attention to the child's educational needs and guidance. Reading is something that a child must like and it must start in his home and encouraged by his parents, then in kindergarten is where the basic educational groundwork is instilled in a child's mind.

This letter by no means is written as an offense toward anyone, but purely my own opinion.

'Sorry Folks, Bikes Gone'

The Northville police department was forced to turn away a dozen or more parents and children Saturday who came to the fire hall expecting to participate in a bicycle auction.

According to Police Chief Eugene King, six of the nine bike's his department expected to auction were claimed by their owners shortly after the story of the upcoming auction appeared in the newspaper.

The three remaining bikes were sold shortly after 1:30 Saturday. King said that in the future, all bikes picked up by his department, which are not claimed by the owners within 30 days, will be sold each month.

The William Schulz residence (above) at 47010 West Main street will be open for inspection September 16, 17 and 18 along with two other homes constructed by the John Northup company. The open house inspection is planned to introduce the new Taft Colony subdivision of 27 homes in Northville township which will be developed by Northup and Earl MacIntosh, Jr., of Detroit.

'Taft Colony' to Open Soon

A new 27-home subdivision to be known as Taft Colony is underway in Northville township directly north of Bloomcrest subdivision and bordering on Woodhill.

The development of 28,000 to 38,000 homes is being constructed by the John Northup company of Northville and Earl MacIntosh, Jr., of Detroit.

According to Northup, Taft Colony is planned for 96 home sites upon completion. Only 21 of the 56 acres are being developed initially.

Four homes are now being planned in Taft Colony and plans call for two models to be ready for public inspection by November 1.

Meanwhile an open house inspection of three Northville homes constructed by Northup will be held the 16th, 17th and 18th of this month.

The homes are the residences of the John Northups, 47000 West Main street; the William Schulz, 47010 West Main street; and the P. G. Malloy, 21237 Summerside Lane, Northville Estates.

The homes will be open for public inspection on Friday, September 16 from 6 until 9 p.m.; Saturday from noon until 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 until 6 p.m.

In conjunction with their new development the John Northup company is also introducing a new idea in home planning which they call a "guide cost analysis". Originated by William Schulz, who is associated with Northup and Chester Lipa and P. G. Malloy in the local home building firm, the plan permits the home buyer to determine the size and price of the home most suitable to their needs and means.

According to Northup, the new idea permits builder and buyer, once they have agreed on style and size, to proceed without fear of variance in price estimates.

The Religious Issue

We have heard a great deal about the Religious issue in the coming Presidential election.

Whether we like it or not, it is there to stay and will play a great part in the final tally. The religious issue in your life, my friend, is of importance too.

There are many people who live as though there were no God, no Judgment, nor life after death. To them "Religion" is something a person can, or cannot, be interested without any great consequence. We must however be prepared to meet God in the judgment at the close of this life. We have lived in God's world, partaken of the common graces of life and endowed with a mind and intelligence that we may in turn bring glory to Him. We will not deny that we have failed miserably and with a long record of sinning failures we are in no position to stand before God to give an account. God has provided a way whereby we may be acquitted in this judgment even though we have sinned. That is the good news heralded by Jesus Christ saying that though repentance and faith in His sacrificial work on Calvary we can be made right before God. This offer of pardon and grace behooves your investigation. We will be glad to assist you at any time to know more about it.

Navy Offers Program For Vets

Northville's Navy recruiter, John Goss, this week announced a new re-enlistment program for former regular navy and naval reserve personnel.

Openings in 57 ratings are available in aviation, deck, construction, precision instrument, engineering, electronics, ordnance and administrative, to those who are qualified.

Goss said the openings result from the Navy's need for 25,000 men — above the normal quota — because of the addition of two added attack carriers and supplementary ships to the sixth and seventh fleets.

Northville veterans, who held one of the 57 open ratings, may re-enlist in the regular navy in the rating held at time of discharge or release to inactive duty providing, the elapse time is less than four years for former regular navy men, and less than two years for former naval reserve personnel.

The three, Hank Kruper, Joe Bordeaux and Bill Budzinski, were bound over to recorders court last week following examination. All were returned to jail when they failed to post individual bonds of $5,000.

Novi, Detroit and state police arrested Bordeaux after following a girl friend to a cottage at 1349 East Lake drive two weeks ago. The other two men were subsequently arrested in Detroit.
