More Voters Than Ever Sign Up Here

Following a state and national trend, it would appear that area residents will vote in record numbers November 8, presidential election day.

Registrations in the Northville-Novi-Wixom area hit an all time high this week as clerks in all communities reported heavy business on the final day.

In the city of Northville Clerk Mary Alexander estimated that 400 new voter registrations have been recorded since August.

The city's registered voter total is now approximately 2,400, Clerk Alexander stated

On Monday, the final day for registrations, some 100 registrations were recorded with 62 signing up during the final three hours between 5 and 8 p.m.

Northville Township Clerk Marguerite Northup reports an unofficial total of 1,950 registered voters with approximately 225 signing up tince last August's primary.

On Monday the township recorded 60 new voters - with the last registration being taken at two minutes before the 8 p.m. deadline

Novi Township Clerk Hadley Bachert was busier than any of his fellow clerks Monday signing up 173 new voters on the final day. Since August 2 Novi township recorded 525 new registra-

The 43rd National Automobile | The Auto Show will be the dedi-Show opens next Saturday in giant Cobo hall in Detroit preceded by a flurry of activity reflecting the community pride and excitement being generated by the event.

"National Auto Show Week" will start off in a big way Monday, October 17, with the visit of President Eisenhower and the big Industry dinner in Cobo hall.

Harry A. Williams, managing director of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, reported today that most of the vehicles and display materials for the elaborate exposi-Easy Terms tion have already been moved into Cobo hall.

A highlight of the show's main floor will be the 350 by 90 foot stage area. It will feature a carousel of cars including samples of each of the new models gliding over multicolored pools on a 750-foot submerged conveyor. A 100-foot long symbol of the show's theme, "Wheels of Freedom", will dominate one section of the area.

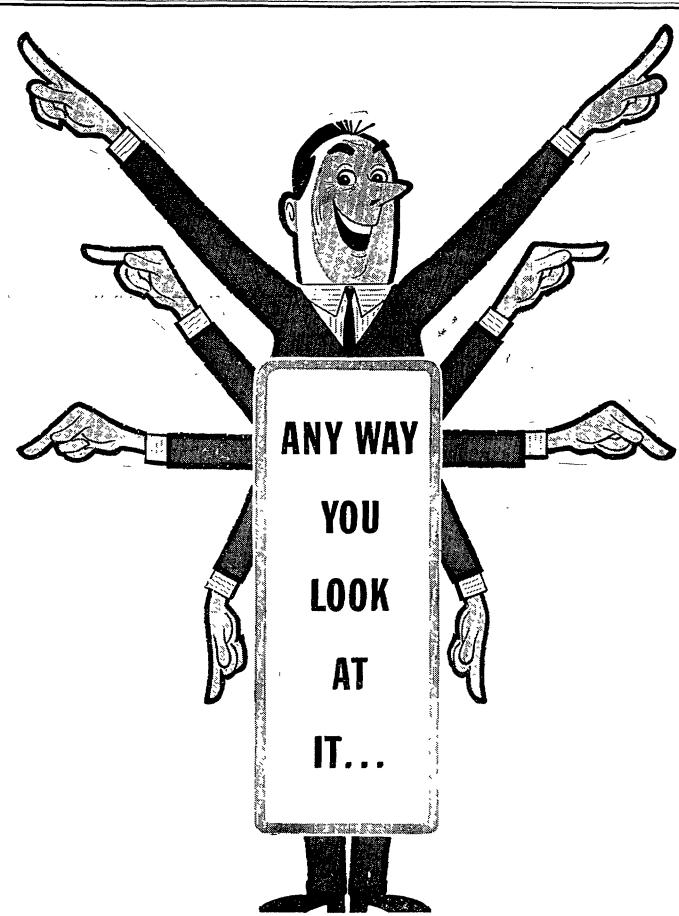

A musical revue of the same title created for the show will be presented in the center stage area four times daily. Starring in the troupe of 60 are singers Julius LaRosa and Betty Ann Grove, the June Taylor Dancers, the Ray Charles Singers, and Neal Hefty and his orchestra. Producer Tom DeHuff has also announced the signing of the Leonard Brothers, a specialty dancing act.

GOP Plans Candidate Night Here

The Greater Northville Republican club will sponsor a "meet your candidate" Tuesday evening, October 25 in the community building.

"Too often a candidate is only a name on a ballot," stated Club President Mrs. Martha Milne in explaining the purpose of the get-acquainted session.

Republican candidates scheduled to appear are: Richard E. Morell, candidate for congress from the 17th district; Weldon O. Yeager, candidate for state senator from the 18th district, and Jack H. McDonald, state representative candidate from the 21st district

Keys to Understanding The Bible stand your own Bible better. Clip the articles this month and keep for future reference. You'll be glad you did Key No. I - Recognize the divisions the Bible. The main divisions are, of course, the Old Testament and the New Testament. The word Testament means covenant or agreement. There is then the Old Agreement and the New Agreement, Immediately you will recognize that we in this day are living under the New Covenant and not under the Old Covenant. There were laws which pertained to Israel under the Old Covenant that do not apply to us who are living under the New Covenant. Key No. 2 -Some words are used in more than one way and the meaning is not the same in all cases. For example, the word "soul" is used of the whole man in Genesis 2:7 where it says "Man became a living soul". Again of the whole man in Ezekiel 18:4 which reads, "The soul that sinneth it shall die" speaks of the whole man. However in Matt. 22:37 and I Thess. 5:23 it is used to denote something within man since it speaks of Body, Soul and Spirit. The meaning of the word must be determined by the context.

God's boundless love for man will e emphasized at Christian Science hurches on Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Doctrine of Atonement" will be the Golden Text from I John (4:10): "Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins." From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this will be read (19: 6): "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin and death by the law of Spirit — the law of divine Love.

THE NAME OF GOD IS HOLY

The third commandment reads — "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain."

The light view that so many take of this commandment is so vividly displayed by columnist Inez Robb in an article entitled "She is Scandalized By Our Language". 'The soap industry of America has just received a sizable order from me for thousands of pretty pink pellets approximately the size and shape of bonbons. From now on, I plan to carry a supply of these in my pockets for distribution to any American who is unable to make even a simple, declarative sentence without blasphemy. In no other civilized nation is blashemy part and parcel of the everyday speech of men, women, and even children. But we Americans are obviously unable to open our mouths without taking in vain the name of God and of His Son. It extends through every segment of our society to such an extent that it is impossible today, from the general conversational tone and content, to distinguish the drawing room from the dockside.

"Taxi drivers are notoriously short of temper and tough of tongue. But today any Ivy League senior can give him cards, spades, Big and Little Casino, and still beat him at the kind of language that was once associated with a logging camp. I had two experiences within 60 minutes just a day ago that convinced me that foul language is so much a part of the American scene that few people are even aware of the blasphemous inroad it has made or the abysmal moral tone it gives us.

"The driver of a cab in which I was riding became so enraged at another driver that he leaned out of the cab, spat at the other man and loosed a stream of language that sent me, as soon as possible, to wash out my ears with soap. When I demanded that he apologize immediately, the driver was more amazed than offended. '. . . lady,' he protested, 'no one else objects to my langwich.' He was so surprised by my reaction that he apologized without protest.

"Less than an hour later, at a party in a beautiful home, attended by the flower and chivalry of New York, I heard casual conversation that made the taxi driver's outburst seem rather pallid. An old-time fishwife would have blushed at the continuous references to the kennel coupled with appeals to the Almighty."

World War I Veterans Wake Up!

During the year 1949, a group of World War I Veterans (12 in all) held a succession of meetings in the Cleveland, Ohio, area in an attempt to start a new organization composed exclusively of men who served in the first World War.

Probably not one of the Veterans who attended the meeting in October, 1949, could have envisioned the forceful, fighting group that has sprung from that humble beginning in the past Today the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. number some 200,000 members, with 44 Departments and over 2,100 Barracks in every State of the Union. In addition, there are units in the far flung Philippine Islands, France, Ireland and Alaska. The newly-organized group stated emphatically that it was not their purpose to be antagonistic to any other Veteran society.

As a matter of fact, they outlined fully their determination to work in accord with other groups. Under the great National Commander Lew Brake, the Veterans of World War I were granted a National Charter by the United States Congress, thus placing the organization on a par with the other great Veterans' organizations of the United States.

Legislative Program: First on the Legislative program is a bill to grant a pension of at least $100.00 per month to all honorably discharged veterans of World War I.

The average World War I Veteran is 67 years of age and many thousands of these men find it extremely difficult to secure and hold down any kind of a position which will provide for them a living wage. They are in desperate need now and this is the time that a grateful government should come to their assist-Any World War I Veteran living in the Plymouth, Northville,

> If the insurance firm is a Michigan concern, or if it is from another state but licensed to do business here, the complaint can be handled by the Michigan Department of Insurance. But if the insurance company is from another state and is not licensed in Michigan, the unfortunate buyer is generally out of luck

> The moral of this report should be clear. The first step in buying insurance is to deal with a reliable insurance man in your community. The second is to be sure that the company from whom you purchase insurance is licensed with the Michigan Department of Insurance. This way you can help make sure that disaster doesn't strike twice.

has tucked two victories under its But no one wants to win

Neither team will be a "shu-in" tomorrow, although most prognosticators give the Lakers an edge labeled "the Wayne-Oakland game even though it will be Northville's nomecoming.

Both teams have a lot to lose tomorrow:

- West Bloomfield could slide into a first place tie - and possibly end the season in second place, not to mention "losing face" as it did in last year's upsetting defeat at the hands of Northville.

- A Northville defeat very likely would mean the end of a fouryear championship - and it might even mean a third or fourth place finish, and it would be especially hard to swallow here before an anticipated capacity crowd.

Like his players, West Bloom, field's Coach Art Paddy is anxious to beat Northville and avenge last year's humiliating 26-6 defeat. And he's not forgetting that it was North-

But no one wants to win tomorrow more than Northville's Coach Ron Howarth. The Northville mentor, who replaced Ron Schipper, has nad more than his share of headaches in this his first season at Northville. First, he had difficulty rounding up enough good players to give his opponents some competition. Then he was hard pressed to instill some "good old fashioned spirit" in his players.

HER MAJESTY AND COURT - Northville high school students will vote today to determine who will reign during tomorrow's homecoming game here with West Bloomfield. Students will not know who has been elected homecoming queen until tomorrow afternoon at a pep rally at the school. Highlighting the homecoming festivities Friday will be the halftime ceremony in which the 1959 queen, Barbara Kruger, will crown her successor. The queen will be escorted to the dance by the high school mayor. One of the three pretty seniors (standing above) will be elected queen. They are: (left to right) Linda McKinney, Sharon Hensch and Yvonne Schingeck. The two girls not elected will parade with the queen as senior class representatives. The three girls (seated, l. to r.), Sharon Soubliere, sophomore; Dawne McCollum, freshman, and Linda Lepper, junior, will represent their classes and become the queen's court.

Officials of the city and township of Northville learned this week exactly how much it will cost if their communities are to participate in the Wayne county plan to expand the interceptor sewer

As most residents of the area know, the state health department has slapped a ban on building that requires new sewer facilities until the county adopts a definite plan for relieving the present

The county department of public works has come up with a $17,154,454 plan — the cost of which will be shared by the benefitting communities based upon their population and contribution already made to the present interceptor sewer.

Specifically, the city share is $173,595.48. The township share is $162,977.45.

These totals are some $60,000 higher than original estimates. But county officials explain that the old plan would have incorporated partial revenue financing from the system, thereby raising sewer rates. This way, the actual cost is the same because sewer rates will not be increased.

If this explanation has been interpreted correctly, it's of little satisfaction to township residents, who would not be affected by sewer charges - at least until they get sewers.

At any rate, under the county proposal the program would be financed over 40 years with no payment the first year. The next four years the township would be expected to make interest payments totaling $10,260 annually and the city $10,930.

Beginning the sixth year the payments would total $12,000 annually including interest and principle.

Naturally, the county is pressing hard to have the plan accepted. All new subdivision building is at a standstill in Wayne county until it is approved.

It's pretty much of a foregone conclusion that the city will come up with a means of financing - probably through a fee for new sewer tap-ins - to go along with the project. Sewer capacity is, of course, imperative to complete city development.

The plan is a hot issue in the township, however. And I would suspect that the township board has little else to do but turn thumbs down on the proposal, if the reaction of the citizens at the public hearing on the matter is to be considered.

With 100 residents jammed into the township hall, only a half-dozen raised their hands in favor of the county plan. So what are the consequences?

DPW Administrator George R. Bingham described the plan as a "now or never deal" this week. Profoundly hopeful that the entire area will go along with the project, Bingham nevertheless stated that there would be no pressure to force the assessment.

"If Northville township is determined to remain as it is, it's alright with the county," he said.

Apparently, then, this removes the threat of county enforcement of the plan. Township officials had informed residents that this was The majority of the residents at the public hearing on the sewer proposal expressed these views: - for several years payments for sewers (approximately $2 to $5 annually per household) have been made without benefit of sewer - until lateral sewers are installed within the township few residents can benefit from the interceptor:

- septic fields already installed are satisfactory;

- the 530 taps allocated under the present interceptor are enough for the township;

- taxes are already too high.

The new county sewer plan would give the township the right to have 2,100 taps on the Middle Rouge interceptor system.

County officials and some residents (apparently a minority) believe it would not be good business for the township to pass up this allocation.

They argue that this would stifle subdivision development in the township and possibly tempt land owners, eager to sell parcels for development, to seek annexation to bordering municipalities with sewer allocation to spare.

Bingham points out that the county plan is designed to make the program as painless as possible. He believes that there is already pressure for development in the township and that both water and sewers will be available to satisfy this development within five years - when the principle payments are due.

Presumably, Bingham believes that tapping fees applied to this new development could help offset the cost to a great extent. As the proposition now stands, however, it's unlikely that the township will have a change of heart.

It's difficult to predict what influence this decision will have on the future of the township. Some local officials believe that when the time comes that sewers are needed they will be available despite the county's "now or never" ultimatum.

I would hope they have not guessed wrong in their appraisal. While the position of the people is completely understandable, I cannot help but consider the many areas crying for sewer facilitiesready to pay almost any price-and wonder if this could happen in

He said an upswing in travel during July and August plus high expectations for fall and winter travel offset some of the early season lag, which he attributed to cool weather.

Favorable autumn weather could bring the dollar volume of the tourist business near the $650 million spent last year, Furlong said.
