

Expect Biggest Vote Ever Here Tuesday

Presidential Race Top Drawing Card

Northville area voters are almost certain to set local voting records Tuesday when they go to the polls to name their choice for the highest office in the nation.

They will also select their choices for some two dozen other offices ranging from U.S. senator and governor down to county drain commissioner.

Three state constitutional amendments also appear on the ballot. While more voters will go to the polls than ever before in both the city and township, the turn-out will have to be exceptional to top the voting percentage of the 1956 presidential election here.

In 1956 92 percent of the registered voters went to the polls. The township had an 82 percent turn-out.

Registrations have bulged to 2,406 in the city (compared to 1,938 in 1956) and 1,898 in the township (1,641 in 1956). In the last presidential election 1,783 votes were cast in the city and 1,341 in the township, a record.

For city and township voters to match their "percentage" performance of 1956 more than 2,200 votes will have to be recorded in the city and nearly 1,600 must vote in the township.

Polls in all city and township precincts open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Voters still in line at 8 p.m. will be permitted to vote, but no voter can enter the line after the closing hour.

Voters in the city precincts one and two vote at the community building. Precinct three (Oakland county) votes at Amerman elementary school.

Township voters residing west of Sheldon road vote in precinct one, the basement of Main street elementary school. Township precinct two, lying east of Sheldon road, votes at the township hall on Franklin road.

Local election officials have issued an appeal urging as many voters as possible to go to the polls during the "slower" mid-day hours. The heavy registration is expected to keep the two-machine precincts taxed to the limit during peak voting hours.

While the hotly contested presidential campaign provides the greatest excitement, also important to the local voters will be the selection of their area representatives to U.S. congress and the state senate and house.

And although the majority of Northville city and township voters have perennially supported Republican candidates, the community is represented by a slate of Democrats. Congresswoman Martha W. Griffiths is opposed by Richard W. Morrell. Incumbent Democrats State Senator Raymond Dzendzel and State Representative Harvey J. Beadle are opposed by Republicans Weldon O. Yeager and Jack H. McDonald, respectively.

Morrell and McDonald are both newcomers, while Yeager was defeated by Dzendzel in 1958.

The race for seats in the state house is particularly keen where the line-up of Democratic and Republican representatives and new slates deadlocked at 55-55. City residents living in Oakland county have a different slate of representatives for congress and the state senate and house, as well as county offices.

Their 18th district congressional race is between Republican Congressman William S. Broomfield and Democrat James Kellis. For state senator (now held by Republican L. Harvey Lodge who is a candidate for judge of probate) Democrats S. Jerome Bronson opposes Republican Farrell E. Roberts. Democratic State Representative S. James Clarkson meets Republican Raymond L. Baker for the 4th district state house seat.

The slate of county races in the Oakland county area of the city are: Prosecuting Attorney, Incumbent Republican George F. Taylor vs. Democrat George J. Fulkerson; sheriff, Incumbent Frank Irons vs. Democrat Homer Hight; clerk and register of deeds, GOP Incumbent Daniel T. Murphy, Jr. vs. Democrat David S. Lees; treasurer, GOP Incumbent Charles A. Sparks vs. Democrat William K. Benson; drain commissioner, GOP Incumbent Daniel W. Barry vs. Democrat Roy J. Russell; and GOP Surveyor Ralph

Nixon Wins At Amerman

Vice President Richard Nixon was elected to the presidency Tuesday — at Amerman elementary school.

In a school election that included president, governor and the student council candidates, Nixon led the ticket — along with Glenn Delbert, who was elected president of the student body.

Nixon defeated Kennedy, 286 to 135, while GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Bagwell topped John Swainson, 266 to 170.

In the student council race Susan Muray was elected vice president and Bonnie McKinney, secretary.

A. Main vs. Democrat Stanley F. Dunn.

The three ballot proposals concern (1) state guarantee for school building bonds, (2) the four-cent sales tax, and (3) the con-con proposals.

The full slate of national, state and two county candidates from the two major parties is as follows:

Hearing to Consider Township Lot Changes

Northville township's zoning board will hold a public hearing next Wednesday evening (November 9) to consider an amendment to increase the minimum size of lots in R-1 residential one family districts.

Chairman Ed Sprunk announced that the board, which normally meets Tuesday evenings, will not meet next Tuesday because of the presidential election.

Specifically, Wednesday's hearing will consider making the following changes in R-1 lot sizes to:

10,000 square feet with 80 foot frontage when water and sewers are provided; 14,000 square feet with 90 foot frontage when either public water or sewers are provided; and 18,000 square feet with frontage of 100 feet when no public water or sewers are provided.

The hearing will be held at the township hall at 8 p.m.

HERE'S WHERE YOU VOTE — Dr. George Bennett and Mrs. William Milne, heads of the Northville Democratic and Republican clubs, respectively, may not agree on which levers should be pulled in the voting machine Tuesday. But both will tell you to vote regardless of your party preference. Polls open at 7 a.m. in what is expected to be the largest turn-out ever recorded here.

A Supermarket

These Women Know What They Want!

Never underestimate the power of a woman!

And when it comes to shopping — particularly for groceries — where can you find a better authority?

According to 237 of these experts residing in the community, Northville can use improved, or additional, supermarket facilities.

A petition, addressed to the city council, retail merchants association and the A&P and Kroger companies, was presented to the city council Monday night.

It contained the signatures of 237 women.

The petition read: "We the undersigned women, residing in the Northville area, are interested, both as a convenience and as a means to support our local community, in shopping at home.

"We do not believe local facilities for shopping have kept pace with demands, nor with the competing nearby communities.

"In particular, we believe that Northville needs a supermarket with modern shopping conveniences, selection and ample adjoining parking.

"We address this plea to our existing supermarket firms — A&P and Kroger (and any other interested grocery chain), the retail merchants association and the city council.

"In conclusion, we wish to point out that groceries are a basic commodity purchased every week. If we must journey to another community to find selection and convenient parking, it is probable that purchases in other stores will be made at the same time.

"Therefore, we believe that this is a problem worthy of the consideration of every businessman, taxpayer resident and the city government, which must depend on the well-being of local business for its taxes."

The idea of gathering petitions for a supermarket was conceived by Mrs. Gordon Forrer of West Main street. But she had plenty of enthusiastic help.

Mrs. Forrer read an article in The Record reporting that long-running efforts to build a new supermarket locally had apparently met with no success.

She engaged the help of several friends and set about knocking on doors, collaring women at bridge club and other meetings to collect signatures.

"Only three women turned us down," reported Mrs. Forrer. "One because she said shopping facilities were adequate and two others because they were afraid their husbands would not approve," she added.

She stated that typical reactions ranged from "wonderful, where can we get some petitions to circulate?" to "It's about time — I'm tired of being embarrassed when I run into so many other local residents shopping in stores out of town."

Mrs. Forrer and her helpers agreed that they could have obtained many more signatures, but they felt that their list was representative of the general feeling among local women.

The council had nothing but praise for the efforts of the women and pledged to do whatever it could to bring about improved supermarket facilities in the business district.

Mayor A. M. Allen referred to the possibility that the new city hall would be constructed on another site and that the existing city hall property might be made available for commercial use.

Copies of the petitions were scheduled to be forwarded to the local retailers association and Kroger and A&P officials in Detroit.

MRS. GORDON FORRER (right) is a determined woman who knows what she wants. In this case it's a supermarket and she was able to find 237 other women in Northville to agree with her. Mrs. Forrer, with help from several others such as Mrs. Donald Schwendemann (left), circulated petitions appealing for a new supermarket in Northville. The petitions were presented to the council Monday night.

UF Drive Creeps To Goal

Although the last count won't be known until all solicitors report, it appears that Northville Torch Drive collections will reach the $6,000 goal set here.

But chairmen agree, collections have been slow and the goal won't be topped by many pennies.

The 10-day "give once for all" fund-raising drive ended Friday with business contributions topping its goal, and door-to-door collections expected to do the same.

A. Russell Clarke, business chairman heading a 10-man team of UF solicitors, said they had collected $1,183 as of Wednesday with some donations still trickling in.

Their goal was $1,142.

Door-to-door contributions had climbed to $1,924.60 at the last tabulation and Mrs. Harold Wright, residential chairman, said she felt "confident that their goal would be reached" by the time all of her some 100 volunteers had reported.

The resident goal is $2,264. Mrs. James Kiefer reported $342.50 in school collections, short of the $400 goal.

No report was yet available on the anticipated $2,000 from government and "special prospects" contributions. This sum would carry Northville's $6,000 goal over the top.

V.F.W., Legion Offer Free Ride, Ice Cream

Free rides and free ice cream will be two inducements offered by the American Legion post of Northville on election day, Tuesday.

With an assist from the Ford Motor company, the Legion will have two cars available all day long to drive area residents to the polls. Howard Wright and John Goss of the Legion post will serve as drivers. They may be contacted by calling FI-9-1069.

Again with help from Ford Motor company the Legion is setting up an ice cream stand near the Community Building and will offer free ice cream treats from noon until 8 p.m. for children and voting adults, alike.

VFW Post 4012 will have cars available between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m. Their phone number is FI-9-9828.

There's No Excuse For Not Voting!

Voters who plan to be away election day (Tuesday) have until Saturday at 2 p.m. to obtain their absentee ballots.

Both the city and township offices will be open from 9 a.m. until the deadline Saturday. City offices are open daily from 9 until 5 p.m., while the township offices are open from 1 until 5 p.m.

Township voters who are uncertain about the operation of the voting machine may receive special instruction at the township hall.

City voters will be handed an instruction ballot at the polls to help familiarize them with the voting procedure.

Blue Cross Withdraws Full Financial Aid

Community General hospital, struggling for existence and beset by a multitude of problems since its reorganization little more than a year ago, suffered a new and possibly final set-back Monday.

The hospital was notified by Michigan Blue Cross that its temporary Blue Cross participating agreement would not be renewed.

The agreement terminated Monday. It means that Blue Cross patients admitted to Community General hospital in Northville are entitled to non-participating benefits only. These provide up to a maximum total of $14 per day toward the charges for hospital services.

Local hospital authorities had not expected the action.

Meeting in emergency session Monday members of the board of directors voted to keep the hospital open and allow Blue Cross patients full benefits they would normally receive.

Adopting a plan of action, the board decided that the hospital would absorb the difference between the $14 Blue Cross payment and the actual charge to the Blue Cross insurance-holding patient.

Specifically, the board of directors agreed upon two steps to follow:

1. Contact Peoples Community Hospital Authority (see adjoining story) and discuss the possibility of that group taking over the local hospital;

2. If unsuccessful at Peoples, open negotiations with Blue Cross to determine whether Community General hospital can again qualify for full participation under the Blue Cross plan.

In a letter to the local hospital Bennett McCarthy, director of the Blue Cross Hospital Affairs Division, said the committee recommendation and the board of trustees action voting not to renew the temporary participating agreement was based on the hospital's failure to comply with certain basic requirements laid down a year ago.

The requirements included: — that the hospital board be actively engaged in the purchase of the physical properties of Community General hospital; — that there be definite improvement in the maintenance of medical records.

Also mentioned was the failure of the hospital to employ a certified public accountant to audit the books, the relatively high cost of operation and the failure to install a sprinkler system.

Community General has not had an easy time of it since coming into being a year ago.

The facility, formerly known as Sessions hospital and located at 520 West Main street, was purchased in the summer of 1959 by Dr. Howard Bergo of Northville and Abraham Farris.

Renamed and completely remodeled and re-equipped, the hospital was doomed before it opened. Blue Cross notified the new owners it would not accept a privately-owned hospital as a full-participating member.

Because approximately 60 percent of the patients in this area belong to the Blue Cross plan, Dr. Bergo and Farris gave up their efforts to operate the hospital and leased the facility to a "community board", composed of citizens representing Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Livonia and South Lyon.

The new group qualified for Blue Cross under a temporary one-year agreement — which expired October 31.

The hospital opened without funds and has had only $2,404 in direct monetary donations since it was opened.

Despite this Administrator Calvin Monfils told the board members Monday that during its 11-months of existence the hospital has "held its own". The patient average has been 15.7. The hospital's bed capacity is 23.

But board members recognize they are fighting an up-hill battle. In their meeting Monday they admitted that no progress had been made toward purchase of the facility, although efforts have been made to negotiate.

The board is headed by A. M. Allen. Monday's meeting was attended by Allen, Clifford Hill, Dr. L. W. Snow, Leland Smith, Russell Taylor and Walter Tuck.

Dr. L. M. Hotchkiss and Dr. H. L. Dyer, members of the hospital's medical staff, also attended.

Hospital Authority OK's DO's

Behind every cloud there is a silver lining, or so the saying goes

The board of directors of Community General hospital are more likely to believe that dark clouds follow silver linings just when they had received good news last week that might resolve the M.D.-osteopath problem in formation of an area hospital authority, the bad news (see adjoining story) fell, blanketing their enthusiasm.

For nearly six months A. M. Allen, president of the Community General board of directors, and Community Administrator Calvin Monfils have been spearheading a move with 14 area governmental units to form a hospital authority.

This authority would then provide hospital facilities to serve residents of the participating communities.

Initially, the group — which has held meetings in Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Wixom and Milford — sought to put the proposed authority plan on the November 8 ballot.

The question of guaranteeing joint use of the authority hospital by both M.D.'s and doctors of osteopathy and still receive accreditation of the American Hospital Association loomed as a stumbling block, however. Milford, Wixom and Novi, served predominantly by D.O.'s were especially insistent on this guarantee.

Schools Set Education Week Plans

Next Wednesday and Thursday nights Northville's public schools will open their doors to parents in conjunction with the nation's 40th annual observance of American Education Week, November 6-12.

A committee of teachers and P-TA parents charged with organizing the school open houses is inviting parents to take this opportunity to meet the teachers and administrators.

"Everybody Goes to School" is the theme spurring Wednesday night open houses at Amerman and Main Street elementary schools and Thursday night open houses at the junior and senior high schools.

Individual room meetings at Amerman September 9 are set to begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed at 8:15 by a general tour through the building. At 8:30 parents will be able to meet the special education teachers in the school's multipurpose room.

Main Street elementary's open house that same night will start with a general meeting at 8 p.m. Homeroom or classroom sessions are slated from 8:30-9:00.

Thursday evening's junior high school program will begin at 8 p.m. followed by homeroom meetings from 8:30 to 9:00.

Curriculum, counseling and testing are a few items that will be on tap for discussion at the senior high school's Thursday open house starting at 8 p.m.

Refreshments will be served at the close of each school's open house activities.

Roles Cast For Seniors' Class Play

That old refrain, "Oh, I'll never be able to memorize all these lines!" is filtering through the corridors of Northville high school once again as 22 seniors set their minds and memories to the dialogue of John Patrick's play, "The Curious Savage".

The hilarious, 3-act comedy chosen as this year's senior class play will be directed by Miss Florence Panattoni. It will be staged two evenings in early December.

Denny Templeton, Launa Darnell and Janice Campbell are student directors.

"The Curious Savage" contrasts life in The Cloisters, a rest home for the mentally disturbed, with the money-mad life of the outside world. Not to be overshadowed by humorous incidents are the play's truly poignant moments when the patients' problems are revealed in a sympathetic vein.

Sharon Hensch and Corinne Bertoni have been cast as Mrs. Savage. Lily Belle, Titus and Samuel, Mrs. Savage's three children, will be depicted by Barbara Rumley and Carolyn Langtry, Mike Adas and Dave Sprunk and Gary Kohs and John R. Alexander. Portraying Florence will be Connie Springer and Sharon Johnson.

In other roles are — Sam Chizmar and Don Lawrence as Hannibal, Gladys Clarke and Racena Bailey as Fairy May; Mike Goodrich and Dave Andrews as Jeffrey; Nancy Starkweather and Lonna Pelton as Mrs. Paddy; Uta Rosenbrock and Linda Bulmon as Miss Wilhelmina; and Dick Kernozek and Kent Frid as Dr. Emmet.

THEY LIKE SPORTS — Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Basel occasionally practice archery in the backyard of their home at 39710 Haggerty court. The August newcomers, pictured with their sons, Dean, 5, and Mark, almost 2, moved from Spring Lake near Lake Michigan. He is a resident psychiatrist at Northville State hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Basel — a psychiatrist and a teacher — are this week's sports-minded newcomers.

The Basels live at 39710 Haggerty court with their two sons, five-year-old Dean and Mark, almost two.

They hail from Spring Lake, a little town bordering Lake Michigan. The doctor had been in general practice there until August when the family moved to Northville. He's now a resident in psychiatry at Northville State hospital.

East Lansing was the Basels' home just prior to their year in Spring Lake. Dr. Basel, a graduate of the University of Michigan, worked on the staff of the Michigan State university hospital.

The canoeing, fly casting, sailing and archery enthusiasts were actually adjusting to native American soil in East Lansing. They had just returned from a two-year sojourn in Japan while Dr. Basel was in the Army.

Outdoor sports find ardent fans in the Basels but they have to take a back seat to the doctor's time-consuming profession. The couple still manages, nevertheless, to squeeze in some practice rounds at their backyard archery target.

An art graduate of Eastern Michigan university with certification in elementary education, Marie Basel taught five years in Ann Arbor, Saginaw and Traverse City classrooms.

Painting is her artistic forte but she hasn't dabbled in it recently for fear her youngest son might join her with devastating results.

Although the Basels have for a long time thought the Northville locale pretty — they drove through the area when he was studying in Ann Arbor — their future home naturally depends on the opportunities open to Dr. Basel after his residency at the state hospital.

Wherever they finally settle, they hope there'll be a navigable lake or stream nearby, preferably with fish in it.

Scouts to Camp Out

A weekend campout has been slated by Boy Scout Troop 731 for this coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday. About 20 scouts will go to Ralph Hay's cottage at Sandy Bottom near South Lyon. Jake Morgan is the troop scoutmaster.

Zoning Issues Tabled at Novi

Two Novi village zoning change requests were tabled Monday following a public hearing conducted in the council chambers.

Although the hearing was called for the specific purpose of considering a zoning change of approximately two acres of property at the southern boundary of Novi, the council and planning board also considered the request for a zoning change at the intersection of Novi and 10 Mile roads.

After a lengthy discussion, the planning board tabled a request to change two acres of property, located between Novi road and the C&O railroad near Northville's Village Green subdivision, from a C-2 classification to manufacturing.

Along with the tabling motion went a request that the village attorney be asked what jurisdiction the board of appeals has in the event the owner asks for a non-conforming use permit under the present C-2 classification.

Should the attorney indicate that the appeals board can act in this particular case, the Carlisle corporation, owner of the property, probably will appeal to that board for a variance in zoning.

Earl Wiseman of Northville, who is purchasing the property for use as a site for a lumber sales store, had preferred to keep the present zoning, but a clause in the zoning ordinance prohibits the outside storage of lumber. Such storage, Wiseman said, may be necessary at times it is this clause which Carlisle and Wiseman hope will be waived by the appeals board.

In other action Monday, the council unofficially agreed to grant Dr. James Taylor a change in zoning of a portion of his property at the southwest corner of 10 Mile and Novi roads to permit establishment of a gasoline station.

This request, tossed back and forth between the council and planning board several times during the past months, has been long in settlement primarily because the council took the position that rezoning of the entire parcel of property might invite an undesirable business to establish next to the proposed station.

Finally, Monday night the zoning change request was limited to 200 feet frontage along 10 Mile road and 165 feet along Novi road and the council informally agreed to the limitation.

The matter was then tabled, pending formal adoption at the next regular council meeting.

Six Local Youths Disrupt Quiet Halloween for Police

Other than corraling six Northville youths engaged in a rubbish throwing spree at the Bel-Nor drive-in, 575 Seven Mile road, police officials said the city experienced a relatively quiet Halloween night.

For their garbage tossing escapades at the local drive-in restaurant, David Bartski, 18, 22126 Beck road; James Sugrue, 17, 39737 Phillips road; Charles Klocke, 18, 45601 West Nine Mile, and John Klocke, 19, 48733 West Nine Mile, were issued stiff penalties by Justice E. M. Bogart in a Tuesday court session.

Bartski, Sugrue and John Klocke were each fined $35 and court costs and placed on a year's probation. Charles Klocke was ordered to pay $75, given a year's probation and told to stay out of Northville. Chief Eugene King said suitable punishments would be leveled against the two minors involved in the incident.

King revealed that the department may ban hayride parties from passing through Northville. He said the consideration was prompted by party-goers who threw eggs at people on sidewalks from the haywagon they were riding as it moved through the city.

Help Emotionally Disturbed

It's Christmas card time again. And, at a ridiculously low price, you can order unique, original cards and give support to Michigan's emotionally disturbed children at the same time.

Extreme in its simplicity, but deeply moving just the same is the card reprinted from a Nativity Scene drawing by a severely disturbed 11-year-old girl. This card is being offered in this special project to support the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children. This association is a state-wide organization devoting its full efforts to the many unsolved problems of planning for the state's disturbed children.

All proceeds from the sale of these Christmas greeting cards will be used for the work of the association. Cost of the cards has been kept to a minimum, only $1.00 per box of 10.

For those Christmas enthusiasts who wish their goodwill to go further than their own family circle, these cards are made available.

According to Mrs. Betty Ulrich, chairman of card sales in Northville, the cards are available at Northville State hospital and will be made available at Kroger's supermarket next week Saturday morning. The cards are on display at the Little People's Shoppe in Northville.

THANK YOU — for your confidence in me in 1960. I have made many people happy as buyers or sellers of Northville area property during this past year.

Grandpa and Grandma Stark are leaving for Fla. about Nov. 10 to enjoy a new granddaughter and a little rest through the dormant property sales period of the winter months. But even as we are leaving — we are also looking ahead with pleasure when again we will return "Home" to our many Northville friends in the spring.

When I return in early 1961, soon after Robert Cole has completed his last round of removing your snow (a fine and economical program), I will continue to extend to you my services with that usual "ZIP" that you expect and receive from me as YOUR real estate man. I would just love to work for you in 1961. Please keep me in mind.

Again — Thank You and a pleasant winter.

FIRE PROTECTION for Northville township took a definite swing upward this week with the delivery of this 1000-gallon pumper, which replaces the township's old converted oil truck (inset). Housed at the city fire station the pumper will be used primarily for township fires, but like city fire equipment, is available for use in city areas where hydrants may not be readily available. City firemen make township calls and the township pays for the service on the basis of calls made.

Shown with the new engine is the township board, rightfully proud of their new $16,000 purchase. Left to right are: Trustee R. D. Merriam, Clerk Marguerite Northup, Treasurer Roy Terrell, Supervisor George Clark and Trustee A. M. Lawrence, who made the final determination on the type of equipment to purchase. The old pumper, incidentally, is for sale.

Schrader's Celebrates In Two Stores

Schrader's Home Furnishings of Northville officially becomes two this week end with the opening of its second store in Plymouth.

The grand opening of the Plymouth store, located at 825 Pennington in the furniture section of the former Blunk's, Inc. store, is celebrating its grand opening this week.

Simultaneously, the Northville store will mark the event with free orchids to all women visiting the local store.

Nelson C. Schrader, owner, announced this week that Duncan Fry would be employed in the Northville store, replacing Syl Farmer, who has been transferred to Plymouth.

Fry will work with Harry Sedan, who remains in the Northville store.

Top State Democrats Rally Here Saturday

Northville will be visited by a full slate of the Democratic party's leading state candidates Saturday night — the first time either party has sent its complete roster of candidates to the community during the current campaign.

Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, candidate for governor, will head the list that includes U.S. Senator Patrick V. McNamara, Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, State Senator Raymond Dzendzel and Harvey J. Beadle, in addition to most of the administrative board candidates.

Everyone of the visiting candidates is an incumbent — with the exception of Swainson, who is seeking to move up from second in command and succeed Governor Williams, and T. John Lesinski, who is running for Swainson's old job as lieutenant governor.

The Northville Democratic club will stage a rally beginning at 7:45 p.m. at the Community Building. Preceding the rally, the club plans to whip up enthusiasm for the event by parading a caravan of cars through the business district.

Al Smith and Aubrey French are in charge of parade arrangements and invite the public to join the parade. It will form at the Beal street entrance to the Downs and eventually drive from South Main to the Community Building.

Other candidates expected to attend the rally are Lesinski, Secretary of State James Hare, Treasurer Sanford Brown and Auditor General Otis M. Smith.

Circuit Judges Theodore Souris, Nathan J. Kaufman and Judge of Probate James H. Lincoln will also be on hand.

While Swainson is expected to give the principle address, all candidates will speak.

Informality will be the keynote with refreshments and music accompanying the rally.

Master of ceremonies will be Dr. George Bennett, chairman of the Northville Democratic club.

Donald C. Young, Jr., 43773 West Nine Mile road, has been elected president of the Novi Civic Improvement association, replacing the outgoing president, John Begle.

Other association officers are: Kalin Johnson, vice president; Earl Dorsey, treasurer; and Mrs. Delores Olaf, secretary.

Elected to the board of directors were James Straus, Leon Doehot, Frank Bosak, Mrs. Claude Cruse and Donald Matzen.

Spaghetti On the 10th

Plans for the Northville high school band uniform fund spaghetti dinner have been changed.

The dinner will be held Thursday, November 10 — instead of November 11 as previously planned.

Mary Ann Weston of Paul's Sweet Shop will serve as chief cook.

The dinner will be served from 5:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. at $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children. All proceeds will go to the band uniform fund.

Cubs Ride Engine

Cub Scouts of Pack 721, Den 7, rode on the Northville fire engine and picked up a few fire fighting fundamentals Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Horace Nelson and Mrs. Jack D'Haene are the boy's den mothers.

Police Wagon!

The city council voted Monday night to purchase a new station wagon to replace one of the police department's two cars.

The bid went to John Mach Ford Sales for $1,498.82, including the trade-in. It marks the first time the local department has used a station wagon.

Blue Cross Reduces Aid

Both of the latter admitted that doctors had been less than efficient in keeping their medical records on patients but pledged that this could be improved immediately.

Members of the board attending the emergency session favored approaching Peoples Authority first because admittance there would solve financial problems and probably provide for future expansion to new, larger facilities.

For several months representatives from 14 area communities have sought to form a hospital authority, which obtains its monies through a four-tenths of a mill tax levy voted by the people.

Northville's Community General hospital could be taken over by the Peoples Authority, although Northville is not a part of that authority. Eventually, however, it is probable that the residents would have to vote to become a part of the Peoples group if it were to operate the local hospital.

If negotiations with Peoples Authority fail, then the local board must meet with Blue Cross.

Specifically, board members know that the sprinkler system would cost $10,000, but they don't know where to obtain the money.

Secondly, they know Blue Cross is critical of the financial arrangements existing between the hospital and the owners, Dr. Bergo and Farris.

Certainly, if Blue Cross is to approve the local hospital definite steps toward purchase must be taken. Board members also believe that the present lease terms do not represent what Blue Cross would approve as an "equitable" arrangement.

According to records available to the local board, some $58,000 has been spent on the hospital by Dr. Bergo and Farris. Total obligations including these expenditures stand at approximately $120,000.

Currently Community General rent is $1,000 monthly, of which it has been able to pay about $1,200 monthly.

Administrator Monfils told the board members Monday that the hospital was able to meet current obligations. Prolonged existence without Blue Cross would be impossible, however, he said.

OK's DO,s

Last week it was announced by Peoples Community Hospital Authority — the organization after which the local proposed authority would be patterned — that after November 11 osteopaths will be permitted to practice in their hospitals.

The news was greeted by Allen and Monfils as the solution to their problem. Despite the set-back at Community General, it may yet lead to a hospital authority vote in April and the long-range solution to area hospital needs, Allen and Monfils believe.

Action by the Peoples Authority recommending admission of D.O.'s was taken by the Medical Advisory committee last week. The board of directors of that authority (which includes Beyer, Annapolis and Outer drive hospitals) will meet November 11 to amend their medical staff by-laws.

Kenneth Gremore, executive director of the Peoples Authority explained the action:

"The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals recently adopted the requirements of the American Hospital Association which now makes it possible for hospitals to admit Doctors of Osteopathy to practice on the Medical Staffs of Hospitals that are already accredited," Gremore said. All Peoples Community Hospitals are accredited.

"What all this means," Gremore added, "is that after the board okayes the by-law change at the November 10 meeting applications will be taken from osteopaths to use our hospitals. These doctors will go through the same screening process as medical doctors. Their credentials will be thoroughly checked to see that they measure up to our standards. Once they are okayed, they will be granted the privilege of using Authority hospitals."

Although still stunned by the Blue Cross action this week, it is anticipated that Allen and Monfils will continue the authority plan effort. If efforts to join the Peoples Authority fail (See other story), chances are the area authority plan will be continued. Area communities include South Lyon and Lyon township, the village of Milford and Milford township, the village of Novi and Novi township, the city and township of Farmington, the city and township of Northville, Plymouth, Salem, Wixom and Livonia.

THE FINAL KEYS

Today we close our little series on Keys for Understanding the Bible by giving you Key No. 10. Though the Bible is the inspired Word of God, yet not everything in the Bible stands on par with the words which God spoke.

In the Bible God speaks, men speak, Satan speaks and angels speak. God has, by the Spirit, recorded all that was said. We must be careful, however, not to give the same weight of truth to what men or Satan say as we do to what God has said. For example, in the Book of Ecclesiastes we have the wisdom of man recorded. Much of the reasoning is wrong, we should not accept the error as truth even though it is a part of the recorded Word. Key No. 11. We should not build doctrines upon types and symbols that are not intended to be types and symbols. One can really be lead astray with such use of the Word. Some see the cross every time wood is mentioned in the OT or Baptism at every mention of water. A good rule to follow is to stick to the types and symbols that are clearly identified as such in the Scriptures. No. 12, and last, One must be "born again" if he would have spiritual understanding.

Jerome Wins Third Place To Qualify for State Meet

Northville's fleet-footed cross country star, Phil Jerome, finished third in a field of more than 100 runners in the regional meet last week to qualify for the state championship races at Ypsilanti Saturday.

The state meet will be held at Washtenaw Country club beginning at 10 a.m.

Last week's contest, held at Farmington, included 105 runners from 15 Class B schools in the Metropolitan Detroit area. The Mustangs placed 12th.

Finishing behind Jerome in order were these five Northville runners: Ivan (Chips) Ely, Mike Adas, Mike Daleo and Dave Filkin.

Jerome's outstanding performance in the regionals, capped a short but brilliant racing career at Northville where cross country was introduced only last year.

Northville Coach Chuck Yahne, who has been pleased with his team's performance during these two "building" years, is quick to commend Jerome's hard work during practice sessions.

Hard work obviously paid off too. For Jerome sped to first place in a triangular meet, first in both West Bloomfield matches, first against Clarenceville, first against Riverside and second in a field of 35 runners in the Wayne-Oakland league match.

Although the Northville team's record this season has not been outstanding, it may be considered exceptional in light of the experience and strength of opposing squads.

Novi 11 Wins Over Dublin Here, 13-7

Maybe once in a season the home team pulls a game out of the fire. And sometimes when that happens, normally quiet fans shed all modesty and scream 'til their lungs hurt.

Happily, that's just what happened at Novi last Thursday afternoon.

Trailing a tough and heavy Dublin junior high eleven with less than 30 seconds to play, Novi recovered a fumble and raced to a 13-7 victory.

"It was a terrific game," Novi's elated Coach Gail Perkins said afterwards. "The boys played a wonderful offensive game, even though they were still weak on defense."

The victory, first this season for Novi, was especially pleasing to the coach because Dublin had won an earlier contest 12-6.

Dublin was confidently hugging the ball with the final seconds ticking away when the game's complexion suddenly changed.

Novi Fullback Tim Krug plunged through the Dublin line and crashed into the ball carrier, knocking the ball to the ground. Close behind was Halfback Mark Ross, who scooped up the ball and galloped 25 yards for the winning touchdown.

Krug then added an insurance point on a ground play.

Novi opened its offensive attack in the second quarter as Ross found a hole off tackle and raced 20 yards for the touchdown. Krug's first extra point attempt failed.

Coach Perkins named Krug, Ross and Quarterback Tom Bingham as the most outstanding players of the game.

Although Northville's junior high squad dropped a 7-0 squeaker to Cherry Hill here last week, Coach Alex Klukach had plenty of good words for his team's performance.

Playing a rugged eleven, the Northville eleven was knocking on the Cherry Hill doorstep when the game finally ended. This last and most impressive threat carried Northville from their own 25 yard line to the Cherry Hill 30.

Coach Klukach singled out Quarterback John Mach and Fullback Bob Williams as outstanding grid-ders.

Bill Davis, Northville right half, suffered an ankle fracture when a cleat caught in the ground during a running play.

Novi was scheduled to host Northville in a return game yesterday.

Grid Prize Finally Goes To 'Pro'

Well, it was bound to happen! Sooner or later the "amateur" football analysts had to be beaten by the "professionals".

And last week's winner of the football quiz was Al Jones, athletic director at Northville high school, and former head coach of the Mustang grid-ders.

Jones enters every week and is always close, but this was his first win this year.

Always loyal to his alma mater, Michigan State, he came out on top despite picking the Spartans to defeat Ohio State.

Jones actually tied with Teddy Bunker, 41007 Mooringside in Novi. Both missed just three games, but Jones' pick of the Lions-Rams score was closest.

Teddy is a 12-year-old eighth grader at Our Lady of Victory school and played on the school football team last year.

Five other contestants only missed four games in a week marked by upsets. The runners-up were Marilyn Bell, James Tuck (whose mother was a winner last week), Mike Hlohinec, Mrs. Harley Balko and William Stackhouse.

Most frequently missed games were the Pitt upset of Syracuse, Illinois' victory over Purdue, California's defeat of Oregon State, MSU's loss to OSU, Wisconsin's win over Michigan — and both professional games. Buffalo's win over Houston in the AFL league was a first-rate upset.

Penalties Handcuff Wolves As Mustangs Claim 7-0 Win

Even after eating a steak and all its trimmings, little Willie Knox is still a midget among giants.

But the pint-size Negro, who weighs only 120-pounds — 135 pounds lighter than his heaviest Clarkston teammate — demonstrated Friday night why Coach Tom Taylor handed him a starting backfield position.

Flashing through the Northville defense like an elusive string of spaghetti, Knox almost single handedly led the Wolves to the doorstep of victory.

But fortunately for the Mustangs the Wolves were handcuffed by a mountain of penalties that cost them the victory. Northville won 7-0, and by doing so took a stronger hold of third place in the Wayne-Oakland league.

By losing, Clarkston all but lost its opportunity to finish better than fourth place.

Statistically, the Wolves were the strongest team on the Clarkston gridiron. Clarkston picked up 195 yards rushing to Northville's meager 63. In the air, however, the Mustangs compiled 79 yards (including a 46-yard pass-play TD) while the Wolves managed only 11 yards.

But the box score that made the officials the target of a chorus of boos and helped Northville to the victory was: penalties, Clarkston, 120 yards, and Northville, 50.

Neither team scored during the first half of the contest, although Northville came within seven yards of the Clarkston goal line at the end of the first stanza.

After failing to move beyond their own 34 in the opening series of plays, the Mustangs punted and covered a Clarkston fumble on the Wolves' 30. Nine plays later, Northville was camped on the Clarkston 7. Then Northville fumbled and Clarkston took possession.

The Wolves moved 10 yards on the first play, but picked up their first 15-yard clipping penalty of the evening.

Then, forced to punt, Clarkston turned the ball over to the Mustangs and picked up another 15-yard penalty for pass interception. On the next play, Clarkston covered a Northville fumble and began a drive to the Northville 40. Then another 15-yard penalty, a punt, and Northville took possession on its 28.

Northville moved backwards to the 26 and finally punted.

Northville Fullback Joe Hay intercepted a pass shortly before the end of the first half — and after another 15-yarder against Clarkston. Then the Wolves intercepted, sputtered backwards to their own 30 and punted.

The Mustangs were crouched on the Clarkston 29 when the half ended.

Midway through the third period, after first losing the ball on a fumble and then taking it back on a Clarkston fumble, Northville moved to the Clarkston 46.

Then Northville End Jim Pet-rock grabbed a pass over his shoulder from Quarterback Steve Juday and galloped past the Clarkston defense for the lone score of the game. Fullback Bill Troter booted the extra point.

Clarkston bounced back with its longest drive of the game. Starting from their own 36, the Wolves pushed to the Northville 5 with Fullback Knox leading the way. During this 59-yard drive, Clarkston was tagged with 35 yards in penalties, including a 15-yarder at the Northville 13.

Short of first down by only three yards, Clarkston lost the ball to Northville on the 5.

The Mustangs moved to the 17 and then kicked, on third down, to the Clarkston 47. The Wolves' quarterback tried to save time and to catch Northville off-guard by calling plays from the line, but the maneuver failed and Northville took possession seconds before the game ended.

Colts Win Easily, 25-7 At Brighton

Northville's junior varsity eleven lost no time last week in dumping the Brighton Bulldogs 25-7.

Halfback Jim Jiggins launched the Colts' offensive attack by crashing over for a touchdown after his team had marched to the five-yard line.

In the second quarter Quarterback Don Biery grabbed a Brighton punt and galloped 70 yards through a host of would-be tacklers to notch Northville's second touchdown.

The Northville quarterback came back in the third quarter with a brilliant 88-yard TD on a quarterback sneak.

To wrap up the attack and the victory Biery fired a pass to Halfback Gary Stobbe who raced unmolested for the touchdown.

Correction!

The Northville Colts defeated South Lyon two weeks ago 40-0, not West Bloomfield as reported last week.

Normally, Northville plays each of the W-O league junior varsity teams on the Tuesday following the Friday varsity game. However, since West Bloomfield does not have a junior varsity team, the Colts played non-league South Lyon.

Northville to Host Trojans Tomorrow

Sixth place Clarenceville will invade Northville tomorrow night in search of its second victory of the season.

Still smarting from last week's 26-14 loss to Brighton, the Trojans will face a Northville eleven out to demonstrate for the fathers in the traditional "Dads Night" contest.

So far this season, the Trojans have won only one game, although they tied with Clarkston earlier in the season. Northville, on the other hand, has won four, lost two, for a third place position.

Piloting Clarenceville tomorrow will be Quarterback Ronnie Blovet. With him in the backfield will be Jerry Dowdy and Bruce Freels at the half and Co-Captain Joe Nye at fullback.

Starting linemen include: Karl Blovet and Co-Captain Tony Giacobazzi, ends; Roy Page and Roger Richardson, tackles; Bob Prediger and Hason Wilson, guards, and Jerry Freels, center.

Other Trojans certain to see action tomorrow will be Quarterback Eddie Hanaford, End Denny Noricks and Halfback Ron Ridling.

Last year Northville raced against a spirited clock to wallop the Trojans 33-7 at Clarenceville.

After stumbling out of the starting gate, the Mustangs quickly recovered and took an early seven-point lead. Three of the Northville touchdowns resulted from Clarenceville fumbles.

The Trojans' lone touchdown, which spoiled Northville's shutout, came in the fourth period. Bruce Freels grabbed a kickoff on the Trojan 12-yard line, took cover behind a wall of blockers, and raced 88 yards along the sideline for the touchdown. The Trojans passed for their extra point.

The Northville victory wrapped up a league championship for the Mustangs and catapulted them into a fifth place rating in the Associated Press state Class B standings.

Scores of other W-O league and area games last week Friday:

West Bloomfield came up with its sixth league win of the season by dumping a stubborn Bloomfield Hills eleven 28-14; Holly strengthened its second place position (5-1) by crushing the cellar dwelling Redskins (1-5) 28-19;

Walled Lake downed Farmington 29-6; the Rocks of Plymouth wallowed Thurston 21-6, and Riverside swamped Whitmore Lake 35-7.

DEFY GRAVITY — Clarkston Fullback Darrell Williams and an official seemingly defy gravity in the picture above. Williams picked up nearly 10 yards in this fourth quarter end run, but the play was nullified by an offside penalty.

OUT OF THE FOG — As the Clarkston-Northville game neared the end Friday, a heavy fog drifted across the field, hiding much of the gridiron action from the fans. In the picture above, Quarterback Steve Juday swept around end and out of the fog for a substantial gain. The Mustangs edged the Wolves 7-0.

TWO CITIZENSHIPS

The Christian is a citizen of two realms—the kingdom of God and the kingdom of man. By the acceptance of Jesus Christ as Savior and Master, the Christian establishes his allegiance to the Christ-like God. He becomes a member of the fellowship which Jesus described as "the kingdom of God." Encumbent upon each member of this "kingdom" is the responsibility to follow God's commands, for He is the King.

Man is also a member of the kingdom of man. It is a commonly accepted fact that by virtue of his birth or naturalization a man is a citizen of a country. In this relationship he is subject to the rules and regulations of the government which is the object of his allegiance.

The kingdom of God receives its directives from God; the kingdom of man receives its directives from the consent of the governed. The kingdom of God, though in the world, is not of the world. The kingdom of man, on the other hand, is in the world and of the world. As a citizen of both kingdoms, this dual relationship presents the Christian with a perennial problem no matter of what nation he is a citizen. The responsibilities thereto are just as real and vital for citizens of "free" countries as for citizens of "enslaved" countries.

Jesus dealt with this problem when, in answer to those who sought to trick Him by asking—"Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?" He replied, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's."

It is clear that Jesus recognized that man's "kingdom" relationship—both with God and with man—involves responsibility. From His later encounters with the Roman government, we also know that He did not at all points agree with the government. In the presence of these differences, He neither compromised nor used any form of physical coercion to counteract the will of the government for His own advantage.

The power and procedure of the Christian witness in dealing with this problem of one's relationship with God and government has always been faithfulness in fellowship with the Christ-like God and faithfulness to the ideals and motivations which stem from such relationship. We have no way of measuring the impact for good in the history of our own country of this Christian witness borne out in the selections made by the individual in the privacy of the polls and, in turn, in the decisions made by those elected to office. However, by faith, we have reason to believe that these witnesses, when borne, have helped greatly to make our country a champion of democratic freedom.

A Christian citizen, exercising his God-given franchise to vote in the coming elections, may do well to take with him to the polls a continuing conviction that one's relationship with God is of primary importance to one's relationship to government, that bigotry can only blind one to the fact that there is a difference between sectarianism and religion and that the future of all we hold dear rests, as in the past, with the integrity of the individual in matters of selection and service.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

RICHARD NIXON

Eight years' experience in the President's Cabinet . . . in The National Security Council . . . in the United States Senate

No other man in our history has been as well prepared for the Presidency as Richard Nixon. Working closely with President Eisenhower, he has learned first-hand the intricate duties of the Nation's highest office. As the most active Vice President ever, he has proven time after time, at home and abroad, that he has skill and the courage to solve any challenge that may arise.

Richard Nixon does not have to grow up to the job. He has lived with it for eight years. And because experience counts, Richard Nixon is America's chief hope in the critical years ahead.

HENRY CABOT LODGE

Seven years' experience as United States Ambassador to the United Nations . . . "America's Voice to the World"

There is hardly a man alive with a better working knowledge of Communism and its threats than Henry Cabot Lodge. As America's highly respected spokesman at the U.N. for the past seven years, the Communist challenge has been his primary concern. And time after time, in his forceful and articulate manner he has thwarted Communist attempts at world dominion.

There can be no more important issue than world peace. And once again, because experience counts, Henry Cabot Lodge is Richard Nixon's perfect partner for peace.

VOTE for NIXON and LODGE: they understand what peace demands

The next meeting of the Willowbrook Community association will be at 8 p.m. at Willowbrook Community hall, 10 Mile and Meadowbrook, November 8. Why not vote and then come to the meeting?

Last week was the 14th annual International Convention and Quilt Competition of Sweet Adelines, Inc. The affair was hosted by the southern Oakland county chapter at the Sheraton Cadillac hotel and Ford auditorium. Mrs. Tom Dukes and Mrs. John Jamieson are S.O.C. chapter members from Willowbrook.

While she was here the Radtkes entertained her with a trip to the Cinerama feature, "Windjammer" and dinner at the Commodore Supper club in Windsor.

Sunday the Radtkes entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Radtke, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Radtke and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Radtke at a dinner in honor of Mrs. John.

Irene McCormick, Barbara Coan and Fay Dukes joined Nora Blackwell for an evening of bridge Wednesday.

The Tuesday Pinochle club met at the home of Helen Waugh last week. Shirley Hurlburt won first prize, Helen Maloney second, Mary Jo Fritz third and Joyce Benjamin, booby.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bentley of LeBost drive are happy to announce the birth of a son, Bradley Robert, on October 17 at Mt. Sinai hospital in Detroit. His birth weight was nine pounds and two ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smetana and Mrs. Clyde Wigle, all of Monroe, Michigan.

Miss Doris Borror, a medical missionary from Awaji Island, Japan, and her friend, Miss Janet Kiel, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Errol Myers last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Errol Myers joined Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kenny of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mosher of Lansing for dinner at Carl's Chop House and the evening performance of "Windjammer" last Saturday.

The Mothers' club of Our Lady of Victory sponsored a very successful card party at Northland's "Hostess House" last Wednesday. Marge Williams, Joan Gould, Betty LeButt, Dottie Flattery, Dorothy Richmond, Virginia Barnes, Eileen Miklas, Marguerite Parent, Ruth George, Marty Ames, Marilyn Vykdyal, Phyllis Graham, Gwen LaBarge, Eleanor Foley and Joanne Jacques were among those who went from Willowbrook.

NEWS FROM THE American Legion

LLOYD H. GREEN POST 147
John F. Goss, USN
Post Reporter

American Legion urges flag display on November 11, symbol of national unity. A plea to have an American flag flying at every home in Northville on Veterans' Day, was voiced by Commander John Steimel of the Lloyd H. Green Post 147, in the interest of showing the rest of the world the unity of the American people. Every home throughout the land should display an American flag on Veterans' Day.

He pointed out that the eyes of the world, and particularly those of the forces of the world of communism, are constantly looking for any signs of internal weakness which might forecast the downfall of the United States.

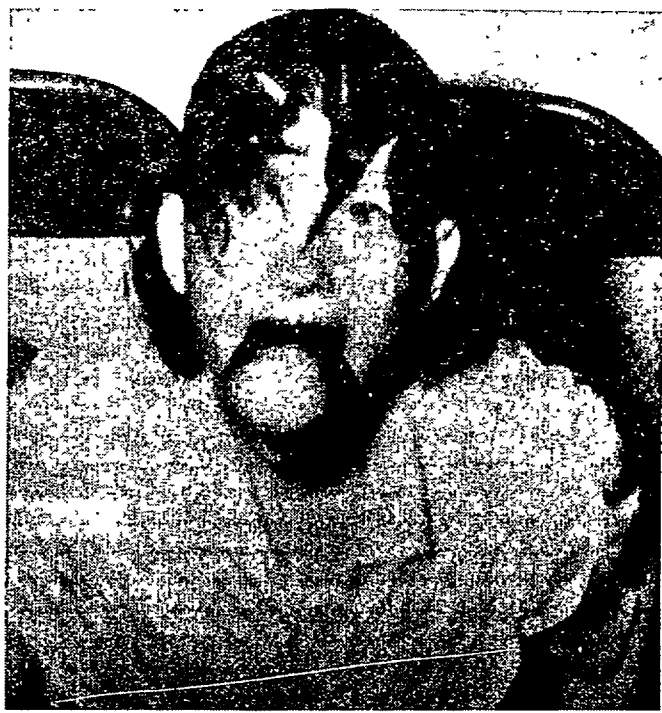

We here in Northville can do our part to help discourage any such thoughts about a weak, apathetic, dispirited American citizenry by flying the Star Spangled Banner on this patriotic holiday.

With the American flag displayed in front of every home and place of business we can make this observance of Veterans' Day an unforgettable demonstration of Americanism, and at the same time show our community's measure of appreciation for all American patriots who fought for the preservation of our priceless heritage.

To those who have been reluctant to display a flag because it contains fewer than 50 stars in the field of blue, Commander Steimel assured, no American flag is ever obsolete. Regardless of its age as long as it is in good condition, it may be and should be displayed on all appropriate occasions.

To observe Veterans' Day the Lloyd H. Green Post 147 will hold its annual flag burning ceremony, to destroy with respect all flags that are worn beyond use.

This ceremony will be held at 7 p.m. November 11 in front of the post home at 100 Dunlap street. The public is invited and urged to attend.

"I GOT IT!" — Libby Lou Cargo was the most determined "apple bobber" at the Recreation Department's Halloween party. Her head was completely submerged in water, but she came up with an apple!

Rummage Dollars to Go For New Band Uniforms

Another project to help boost collections for new uniforms for the Northville high school band is scheduled for November 18 at the First Methodist church.

NORTHVILLE LODGE
NO 186, F. & A. M.
REGULAR MEETING
Second Monday of each month
Leo E. Patterson, W.M.
R. F. Coolman, Secretary

The event will be an all-day rummage sale.
Mrs. J. B. Leavenworth is in charge, but can use plenty of help from the general public in the way of donated discards that may be sold at the rummage sale.

Anyone with items to donate may call Mrs. Leavenworth at FI-9-2322 or one of her committee members: Mrs. Fred Russell, FI-9-1661; Mrs. Charles Carrington, FI-9-1775; Mrs. Donald Severance, FI-9-0433; Mrs. Fred Hicks, FI-9-0560; or Mrs. Florence Orr, FI-9-0906.

Any member of the band will also pick up items or they may be left at the church all day Thursday, November 17.

The rummage sale is part of the program to raise funds being handled by the citizens' committee headed by Clifton Hill. The band members expect to net some $1,000 from the sale of candy, while other fund-raising projects plus the $5,000 donation of C. E. Langfield will make up what the committee hopes will be a $12,000 band uniform fund.

Art, Handcraft Exhibit Planned Here Sunday

Edgerton's Handcrafts at 671 Randolph and the Village Art Market at 630 Randolph (the Harold Hartley's) will hold a joint open house on Sunday from 3 to 9 p.m.

Police Find Ditched Trike

Northville Police Chief Eugene King reported that the department has custody of a wayward Evans trike that is waiting for its owner to come and claim it. The orphaned three-wheeler was found in a ditch bordering a field at the end of Elsmere road, Northville Estates. The trike is red and white with a black and white striped seat.

bit paintings by Mable Bacon, Stan Hench, Jessie Hudson, Viola Groen- enberg, Alice Woodruff and Catherine Hartley. Visitors will see ceramics by Roy Pederson and Kate Edgerton. Silver and enamel jewelry by Linda Kate will be displayed. The exhibit, in addition, will include mosaic tables, wall plaques, wood- working and photography.

Edgerton's Handcrafts, at 571 Randolph in Northville, (a block from Hartley's Village Art Market), will have a display of objects in such varied fields as paper craft, mosaics, simple jewelry, leather projects and ceramics. And they have a plan whereby even the busiest Christmas shoppers can, by enrolling in a class, in two sessions of just two hours each, with their own hands and talent, make those gifts: "Quickies for Christmas", the Edgerton's call them, having the loving touch that is a quality of hand made goods.

Attends GM Conference

Dr. Kenneth M. MacLeod of Northville was one of 19 high school counselors from nine states who attended a General Motors - sponsored high school conference October 23-26. Purpose of the conference, the eighth annual, was to acquaint educators with GM personnel policies and programs relating to employment of both high school and college graduates.

The counselors visited GM technical center, GM Institute at Flint and one of Fisher Body division's plant facilities. They discussed with GM staff and divisional executives the corporation's personnel, college recruiting, industrial relations, job classification and apprentice training programs.

Program speakers were Charles A. Chayne, GM vice president in charge of engineering staff, and Dr. Harold P. Rodes, president of GM Institute.

Pioneering is Back-Breaking Work

With nearly two years of back-breaking work behind them, Northville's pioneering Wills' family are beginning to "see the light through the dark".

Now with their log house nearly completed, Mr. and Mrs. Jerre R. Wills and their four young children can look forward to a far less hectic winter.

The Wills and three of their children moved to Alaska early in 1959 with the now famous "Fifty Niners" caravan from Detroit. They soon parted ways with the main body of pioneers and settled on government-owned land near Kaslof, on the lonely Kenai Peninsula.

This land will become the property of the Wills once they have cleared it off of trees and turned the virgin land into a productive farm.

Not too far from their cabin — and the little house trailer they moved to Alaska from Northville is a productive vegetable garden which supplies the family with much of its food throughout the year.

"We are doing real well now," Mrs. Wills wrote two weeks ago. "We now have a two-year-old cow, 400 chickens, geese and rabbits — and our dog has four pups."

For meat, the Wills depend a great deal upon the game found in and around their property — which incidentally includes a large crystal-clear lake appropriately named Lake Reflection. Fish, venison, and even bear, are common table meats. Chicken, goose and rabbit offset the constancy these game meats.

The family's pet dogs are the only constant companions of the four young Wills' children, Cheryl, 5; Susan, 4; Lauri Beth, 2, and Cindy Lynn, 1. Cindy was born at Seward, Alaska, several months after the family settled on their 130-acre homestead.

For recreation, the isolated family must depend upon their own ingenuities, making up games for the children, swimming and fishing in their lake.

Mrs. Wills (Margie) swims a good deal, hikes through the beautiful countryside framed within a mountain range, and writes letter to the "outside world".

Although there's plenty of hard work in caring for four young children while using the barest of the common necessities of life, Margie seldom complains but enjoys telling about her household duties, especially cooking.

Her chief complaint is the lonely winter days and nights. Earlier this year she wrote: "From April 20 to June 5, I was back here in exile" "because the family's homemade road was impassable during the spring thaw."

Since Jerre works for a power company, his contacts with the "outside" remove most of the loneliness experienced by his 22-year-old wife. An enthusiastic hunter, he now can combine sport with "work" in supplying his family with meats. Occasionally, he and a friend will canoe down a nearby river to secure gamier meat such as bear.

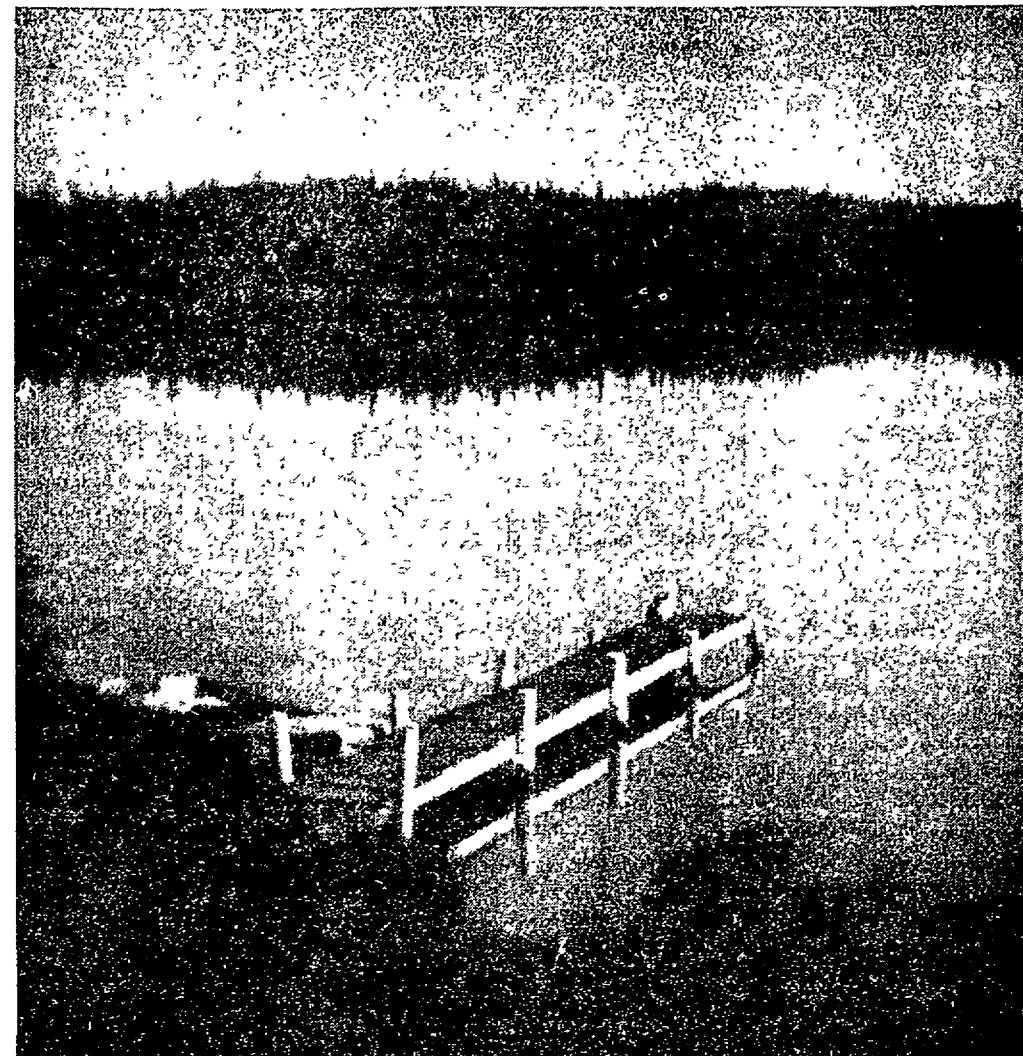

Bears are not uncommon on the Wills' property, however.

And homework, you can bet there's plenty of that. Clearing virgin trees and brush is no easy task, especially after a hard day's work as a linemen. There's the garden to plant, cultivate and keep up; piecing together a log cabin; building roads and keeping them passable; and tending in stock for the long winter ahead.

And that cold, lonely winter is close at hand. A letter dated October 6 concluded with this rather dismal note: "We've been having pretty nice weather, although it's a little wet. Tonight it's suppose to go down to 27 degrees and we had snow on the 25th of September."

CROPS ARE GOOD — Although he is a transplanted factory worker by trade, young Jerre Wills quickly learned about farming when he and his family moved to Alaska. Here in the wilderness of the Kenai peninsula, family survival is dependent a great deal upon home-grown foods. Above Jerre shows off some of the potatoes grown in his fertile garden which was carved out a dense woods.

LAKE REFLECTION — Northville's pioneering Alaskan family have a large beautiful lake on their homestead property which they have appropriately named Lake Reflection. Because the negative was in color, the picture loses much of its quality when printed in black and white.

Security
plus 3%

Yours in a Special Savings Account at National Bank of Detroit. All the big things people save for—homes, cars, vacations, their retirement years (and you could name a dozen more)—are certainly good reasons to save.

But another excellent reason, we think, is so you can get more "right now" fun out of life; so you can quit worrying about every nickel you spend on the day-to-day things you and your family enjoy.

The plan is easy enough: You split each pay check into three parts. Part One, you use to build up a reserve fund for the security of yourself and your family . . . to help you meet emergencies and take advantage of opportunities. Part Two, you budget for all normal living expenses. And Part Three, you set aside for fun!

The hard part is getting started on the plan and sticking to it. But any of the 66 National Bank of Detroit offices will be glad to help you build your reserve fund, show you how it can earn 3% interest in one of our special savings accounts. When can we get started? This week?

Pupils Learn Fundamentals By Conducting Own Election

Elections aren't just for adults! The future voters of our nation can become just as excited and enthusiastic about our democratic system of choosing leaders as their parents.

This was effectively proven at a "political" rally conducted at Amerman elementary school last week when a slate of candidates for student council presented campaign speeches to their electorate.

But the program was more than fun. It helped the pupils with the fundamentals of voting.

Last week's rally was chairmaned by Jimmy Peterson, shown in the top picture below addressing the rally while the various "campaign managers" look on. In the lower picture the students "whoop it up" for their favorite candidates.

At right are the candidates and their managers with Miss Karin Watia (center), fourth grade teacher and student council sponsor. It was Miss Watia's idea to conduct the election to give the youngsters actual experience in the activity.

Candidates for the student council officers were:

Ted Budek, Glenn Deibert and Doug Dingwall, president; Donald Beller, Susan Jenesel and Susan Murany, vice president; Bonnie McKinney, Mike Reed, Peggy Tullikka and Susan Wendehoff, secretary.

The election was held Tuesday. The pupils also cast ballots for their favorite candidates for President of the United States and Governor of Michigan. For results of their vote, a story appears elsewhere in this edition.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Sliger

With all the furious campaigning it hardly seems necessary to remind residents again that Tuesday is election day and that everyone should vote.

But we'd feel negligent in our duty if we didn't.

A good job of alerting the public to the importance of voting has been done at all levels — local, state and national.

Congratulations for their efforts are due:

— C. E. Langfield for his full page advertisement urging residents to vote, regardless of their party preference;

— Michael Abbott and his junior high school students for their registration drive and "Where Were You?" film presentation last night urging intelligent voting;

— both the Northville Democratic and Republican clubs for their registration canvass and local rallies; — and the school teachers throughout our entire area who have taught the fundamentals of free elections by conducting mock campaigns and elections within their schools.

As a dyed-in-the-wool newspaperman it's difficult for me to admit that television, too, has contributed greatly to our current presidential election.

I have thoroughly enjoyed the "great debates" and believe that they have served to assist the voter in making an appraisal of the candidates.

There's no question but what they will become a fixture in future elections. We can only hope that the words and wisdom of the candidates will be the influencing factors on the TV-watching public, not the physical image and personality of the candidate.

I can envision future political conventions choosing their candidates on the basis of "TV screen tests".

One final thought. The debates did become repetitious and I believe ground rules should call for three only.

Nevertheless, the television industry deserves to be congratulated. Their "debates" made newspaper headlines.

Exodus from Large Cities

Babson Park, Mass. — The following rough analysis of the 1960 Census figures is intensely interesting to me. The figures show that the total population of the United States, including Hawaii and Alaska, is now about 180 million. This is 30 million over 1950.

For the first time since the original federal decennial census in 1790, all of our largest cities except one now show a decline. By "large cities," I mean those with 1,000,000 or more population forming the core of larger "metropolitan areas". Considering that the U.S. has been taking censuses for 170 years, this is an extraordinary event.

The above-mentioned "one exception" is Los Angeles, which shows a gain of over 20 percent. This is due to several reasons. Los Angeles found oil within its borders. It is also a center of the fruit industry, or at least it was until the inhabitants began to uproot trees in order to build subdivisions. Until the smog trouble developed, the Los Angeles climate was also superb.

Of all large cities in the U. S. Boston has suffered one of the greatest losses. My first job after graduating from M.I.T. was in Boston, which then had a population of 500,000. This increased to 750,000 in 1940 when the Boston Chamber of Commerce was forecasting a population of 1,000,000 for the city. Boston proper did reach 800,000 in 1950; but the number has since dwindled to 677,000.

Boston has lacked natural resources, with the possible exception of the fishing industry. Educational institutions and small factories have been its chief assets. Boston may still claim to be a great educational center, but it is rapidly losing its factories and mills.

The New England shoe industry has moved to the Central West where hides are plentiful; the textile mills are moving to the South where they are nearer the cotton and sheep. However, Southern California and Eastern Massachusetts ride at the head of the "electronics parade".

Union wages and restrictions are a handicap but the quality of New England workmanship is very high. The most revealing statistics of the 1960 Census concern the mighty force and growth of suburbia. Most people who have left the large cities have not moved to other states. Rather, they have moved primarily to new suburbs some 15 to 25 miles distant. This not only gives them better living conditions, but provides an entirely new social life.

Major factors causing this change are automobiles, telephones and television. These factors, plus airplanes, have raised havoc with the railroads as well as the large cities. The railroads now employ only 800,000 workers compared with 1,200,000 in 1950. Trucks are carrying the less-than-carload freight, while supermarkets and shopping centers are distributing the merchandise. Use of natural gas has doubled, while coal has suffered tremendously. The number of miners working in some areas of West Virginia is now only half those in 1950.

Since the census of 1950 the U.S. population has increased by 20 percent; housing by 70 percent. And almost half the expenditure for total new construction is now going into housing — practically all in the suburbs, and built mostly on credit amounting to $100 billion or more.

The most unfortunate figure in this 1960 Census is the amount being spent on borrowed money. These great mushrooming suburbs are built on borrowed money — not only the new houses, but also their furnishings and the automobiles. I estimate that the suburbs have also borrowed, since the 1950 census, over $100 billion for roads, sidewalks, water, gas, etc. One dollar out of every eight of take-home pay is apparently obligated for appliances and other things useful but not necessary. What would happen to these suburbs in case of a severe depression makes me shudder.

Michigan Mirror

Dick, Jack Eye State Vote

WHO WILL get Michigan's 20 electoral votes for president after the Nov. 8 general election?

Whether it's Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon or Democratic hopeful John F. Kennedy, the winner will have worked hard for the prize. Both have made Michigan a major target of campaigning — both in person and by delegation.

The political party's aim in an election is, of course, to elect as many of its nominees as it possibly can.

But since a coattail ride on the popularity of a ticket-leading presidential candidate counts just as much as a win by personal vote-getting power, the drums beat loudest for the man shooting for the White House.

A candidate for the Congress, governorship, legislature or any other office might, in other words, pick up votes through the appeal of a popular presidential candidate.

Rarely, if ever, would the reverse be true with the presidential hopeful picking up votes through the popularity of a local candidate.

At any rate, Michigan will have had a good look at both Kennedy and Nixon by election day. Each planned three or four visits to the state.

In addition, a flock of lesser lights from either party has made the Michigan tour.

Included in the prestige-laden group were United States senators of both political faiths, a fair number of U.S. representatives, several cabinet members and some relatives of the candidates.

Republican vice presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge missed one invitation to speak in Benton Harbor, but was to appear later. Democratic Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, who holds the nod for the number two spot on his party's ticket, had failed to schedule a Michigan visit two weeks before the election.

The multitude of distinguished visitors was a mixed blessing to Capital newsmen.

They haven't lacked for news to cover, but on some occasions, they have needed to be in more than one spot at a time.

Local party workers also have had their problems. They're the ones responsible for turning out a crowd of the appropriate size when a party bigwig drops by.

PERHAPS HENRY FORD, the father of the assembly line technique and best known for the car that bears his name, should also get credit for inventing the supermarket.

This interesting observation has been offered by a pair of Michigan State university men in University publication.

Stanley C. Hollander and Gary A. Marple contend that Ford's "commisaries" of the period of the 1920's incorporated many of the features of the modern supermarket.

A Ford commissary in Highland Park, Mich., sold $6 million worth of merchandise in 1926.

The average sales for American supermarkets in 1957 was $1.81 million, Hollander and Marple said. Ford emphasized rapid turnover, low prices, checkout cashiering, self-service, pre-packaging of bulk goods and many other features common in the markets today.

But, Hollander and Marple said, Ford actually had little influence on the supermarket of today.

In the face of protest from retail sales outlets who were competing with him, Ford refused to open his bag of tricks so that others could share in his merchandising methods and thereby missed a chance to affect substantially the course of retail marketing.

RED AND WHITE striped vests will be worn by certain Highway Department workers in the future but not for sartorial elegance.

The new vest was developed to provide workers who have to operate near busy highways with an easily seen covering to protect them from possible accidents.

State law provides that the familiar black and yellow checkered vest can be worn only by persons engaged in traffic control.

Some contractors had asked permission to outfit workers near traffic streams with the checkered vest. But the department had to turn down the pleas, though recognizing the need for a protective device of some sort.

Tests showed the black and yellow to be the best colors, but the department felt these would be too easily confused with the traffic directors. They settled on the red and white stripes as the next best thing.
