

ELECTION LINE-UP — Monday night's deadline for filing petitions for city offices in next April's election found six candidates running for two openings on the council, two candidates for justice of the peace, and only one candidate for mayor, Incumbent A. M. Allen (seated, center). The six council candidates are: (standing, l. to r.)

4 Democrats File in Township; Bingley Added to Council List

Four township Democrats decided to make a race of next April's election by filing petitions for the office of supervisor, trustee, constable and board of review.

One new city candidate filed for council bringing to six the number seeking one of the two vacancies. Deadline for filing was Monday at 4 p.m.

In the township Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, 2045 Beck road, will oppose GOP Incumbent Supervisor George Clark; Edward M. Cassel, 47191 West Main street, opposes GOP Trustee Alex M. Lawrence; Democrat Rockwood J. Gravelle, 19305 Gera'd avenue, will oppose Constable Chester A. Lipa, and George N. Bennett, 46050 Six Mile road, filed for the office of board of review, opposing Republican Incumbent J. R. Gibson.

Three Republicans will be unopposed on the township ballot. They are Clerk Marguerite Northup, Treasurer Roy Terrill and Harold W. Schmidt, who filed for justice of the peace, a four-year term to fill the vacancy of the late justice, Paul Schulz.

Only Mayor A. M. Allen will be unopposed for re-election on the non-partisan city ballot.

Latest city candidate to file was William J. Bingley, 101 East Base-line road. He became the sixth person to file for city council.

Bingley, 27, is an estimator in overhead lines for the Detroit Edison company.

In the race with Bingley will be Incumbent Councilman Ed Welch, Richard Ambler, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, Paul Folino and J. Bine Leavenworth.

Councilman Earl Reed will not seek re-election. Councilmen serve four year terms, while the mayor's term is two years. Other councilmen who have two years to serve on their terms are John Canterbury and Richard Juday.

Although the election is slated for April, the justice of the peace term in the city does not expire until July 4. Incumbent Justice E. M. Bogart will be opposed by Charles McDonald, an attorney. It is a four-year term.

Mrs. Woodruff, whose husband is the director of the laboratory at Maybury sanatorium, was the first permanent chairman of the Northville Democratic club and held the office for two years. She is Democratic delegate for township precinct number one.

Cassel, an attorney, is legal advisor to the Wayne county treasurer's office. He was an unsuccessful candidate for justice of the peace in 1959.

Democrat Gravelle was not a candidate in the 1959 election. He works as an independent sheet metal air conditioning contractor.

Bennett is an instructor at Highland Park community college in sciences. He is also a veterinarian. Bennett is presently chairman of the Northville Democratic club having succeeded Mrs. Woodruff. He ran for supervisor and was defeated by Clark in the last election.

The seven-week old Northville tank truck was given major credit for bringing the rampaging blaze under control and reducing the danger of the fire spreading to other areas.

While making a run to refill its tanks in South Lyon the pump truck skidded on slippery pavement and was overturned, receiving slight damage. (See story on this page).

Four new washing machines which had been delivered to the park Tuesday were salvaged from the inferno by residents at the park. Three other machines and a large commercial dryer which were in use could not be removed. A resident from the park said he saw the flames apparently shortly after the fire started. By then, he said, the roof was already ablaze. After calling the fire department which was already on the way to the scene, he helped remove the washers from the basement of the building.

The Clark's theorized that the fire started in the northeast corner of the building on the main floor level. The basement floors and walls are made of cement, the main floor, however, is made of wood.

Working in the bitter cold (in about 10 degrees) the firemen sprayed water from four tankers and a well put in operation by Clark.

No casualties were reported in the battle. One South Lyon fireman, however, said he had left home without putting on stockings and thought his toes were frozen.

Residents in the trailer court have used the building as a community hall for social gatherings. They recently held a children's Christmas party in the recreation area on the main floor.

In addition most of them relied on the laundry facilities located in the basement of the building.

Although the Clark's have not made any plans it was suggested the basement could be re-roofed and the laundry area replaced as soon as possible.

Annex Case Goes to Court

The state supreme court will hear arguments next week to determine whether or not 135 acres of annexed Novi village property will become a permanent part of the city of Northville.

According to City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, the court has scheduled the arguments for Wednesday. However, changes in the schedule could possibly move up the court session to Tuesday.

Sidewalk Assessment Brings Suit

It appears that Northville's first attempt to use its sidewalk assessment ordinance will result in a court suit.

The city council was notified through Attorney Dunbar Davis Tuesday night that three residents along the new Eight Mile road cut-off will object to the payment.

The objectors are: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chappell, 816 N. Center; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hicks, 810 Horton; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Terry, 825 Carpenter.

According to the notice from Davis, the objection was based on the fact that the property owners' land does not abut the new sidewalk.

Actually, the sidewalk is about 10 to 12 feet from the property line. Normally, sidewalk is on right-of-way of property, but approximately one foot from the property owner's land.

City Manager John Robertson stated that the walk was moved out to avoid expensive grading problems.

The council was advised by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie that the notice means that court action will be taken unless the city reconsiders.

Councilmen decided to make one change in the billing of the sidewalk work along the cut-off, but did not change its plan to assess property owners.

Specifically, the assessment provides that the city must bring the land to grade and that the resident must then pay two-thirds of the sidewalk installation cost.

The council decided Tuesday night to reduce the cost per foot to 35 cents, the contract obtained to install the walks.

An additional five cents had been added to the bills sent residents to cover the surveying costs. Councilmen decided that this expense should have been charged to the city.

The sidewalk ordinance was adopted last year and provides a formula for the city to share one-third cost of all new sidewalk during the first year following adoption of the ordinance.

In other business Tuesday night the council postponed its appointments to the economic development committee until the school board has had an opportunity to consider its representatives.

The council decided to devote next Monday night to consideration of selecting an architect for the proposed new city hall. In recent weeks councilmen have interviewed representatives of several different architectural firms.

Supreme court justices, after hearing the arguments, are not expected to hand down a decision on the case until April, Ogilvie said. In cases of this kind, one justice usually studies the arguments, writes a decision and submits it to fellow justices for their dissenting or concurring opinions.

Although the supreme court battle specifically concerns village property lying along the north side of Eight Mile road, it directly affects the adjoining 120-acre Northville Estates subdivision, which was part of the township of Novi until the annexation election last spring.

At that time, residents of Northville voted to annex both the township and village property by a 2 to 1 margin.

The election was called as a result of petitions filed with the secretary of state's office by Northville Estates Civic association members.

The subdivision is composed of some 36 homes in the $25,000 to $50,000 class. Because residents of the subdivision refused to sign Novi village incorporation petitions, Northville Estates remained in the township, but not the village of Novi.

To gain "connection" to Northville city limits, the subdivision had to include the 135-acre parcel of the village which divides Northville Estates from the city. Northville's city limits until the election extended only to a point 1,000 feet west of Taft road.

In announcing its move to gain admittance to Northville the civic association stated that its residents feel closely related to the civic, religious, educational and business affairs of the city. The area is in the Northville school district.

Novi Attorney Howard Bond's petition to the supreme court challenges the annexation election on three points:

— that the petitions did not contain the proper number of village signatures;

— that the notice of election should have been made by the township and village (the secretary of state directed the township clerk to conduct the election for both the village and township areas);

— that the entire population of the village should have been permitted to vote in the election.

The real argument rests on the final point. Bond claims that the annexation laws are in conflict and that under the law which Novi incorporated all residents — not just those in the area of the village to be annexed — may vote.

Under the election rules set down by the secretary of state, only the residents of the city and village and township areas to be annexed were permitted to vote.

County Plans Personal Property Tax Reductions

In a move directed toward bringing about uniformity in assessing of real estate and personal property Wayne county tax officials prepared to announce an accelerated program for reducing assessments on personal property inventories this week.

City Manager John Robertson stated that the plan would reduce personal property assessments in Northville by an estimated $300,000.

In dollars and cents to the city this will mean a tax loss of $3,600 annually based on present millage, providing growth in local business inventories and equipment hasn't increased during the past year, Robertson estimated.

To the school district the assessment cut would mean a loss of nearly $10,000 in annual revenues from city taxpayers. The effect will be similar in the assessed valuation of the township.

Specifically, Wayne county is trying to reduce its personal property and inventory assessments to bring them in line with real estate assessments (see "Speaking for the Record", page 10).

Currently real property is assessed at between 40 and 45 percent of its considered value. Wayne county has assessed inventories as high as 90 percent and in recent years has reduced this to last year's level of 75 percent.

The state tax commission has stated that all assessing should be uniform — but Wayne county officials have moved slowly toward the 45 percent level to avoid catastrophic losses in tax revenues to local communities.

Manager Robertson told the city council that this year the assessment level on inventories will be reduced to 70 percent.

He said the county was also ready to adopt an accelerated plan for assessing machinery and equipment.

Previously, the county's system for determining the assessed valuation of machinery started at 90 percent of its value when new and was then reduced 10 percent yearly to 50 percent, and finally five percent annually to a minimum assessment of 25 percent.

The new schedule would drop in 15 percent levels from 90 percent until the 65 percent level is reached. At this point an annual five percent reduction will be made, Robertson said.

While the plan falls short of complete uniformity, it will be hailed by businessmen as a step in the right direction.

At the same time, it will present new headaches for city, school and township officials bent upon making their budgets stretch as far as possible.

Their millage levies will bring less revenue — and in the case of the school and township, millage cannot be increased. The city levies only 12½ mills and is permitted a limit of 20.

It's Black, But Drinkable

Your water full of black specks lately?

Sid Frid told city councilmen Monday night that the water in apartments he owns on Main street between Church and Park place is "filthy".

The city manager admitted that there had been a series of complaints lately, but said that it was not community-wide.

Chlorine, he stated, is supposed to remove these impurities. He added that an analysis of the water determined that it was safe to drink.

At the suggestion of Mayor A. M. Allen the council directed the manager to consult water authorities on what steps can be taken to eliminate the "specks".

Currently, the city is using a calcium chemical that frequently causes "rusting" of the water because of its cleansing effect on water pipes.

Township To Consider Plan Board

Northville township officials established a special committee Tuesday night at a board meeting to look into the feasibility of changing the zoning board to a planning commission.

Such a commission would have broader responsibilities in planning future development of the township.

The committee is to report back to the township board by July 1. Members of the committee are Clerk Marguerite Northup, chairman; Trustee Alex Lawrence, Gunnar Stromberg, Harold Putnam and Robert Shafer.

In other business Tuesday, the board voted to expand the zoning board from four to five members. The additional member will be appointed at a later date. Present members of the board are Stromberg, Ed Sprunk, Putnam and Ralph Gibson.

The township officials also appointed four representatives to the joint city-township library study commission. The new township members of this committee are Kenneth O. Shrewsbury, Jr., Howard Fuller, Harold Schmidt and Elizabeth Beard.

City members are Phelps Hines, Mrs. Jack Swain, Ed Yerkes and Jack Stubenvoll.

The library committee, an idea originating with the city, is directed to study the library operation with an eye toward improvement of future operation and then report their findings and suggestions to both the city council and the township board.

EIGHT MILE RD. INFERNO—Firemen battled a $50,000 blaze at a South Lyon trailer court for five hours early Wednesday morning in near zero weather. The building, a remodeled barn, was used as a pumping station, laundry room and a recreation area at the trailer court located off 8 Mile road near Pontiac trail.

Mobile Home Center Hit by $50,000 Fire

Nine pieces of equipment from four fire departments battled a $50,000 fire at the Country Estate trailer court on Eight Mile road for five hours in near zero weather early Wednesday morning.

South Lyon, Lyon and Salem townships and the Northville firemen answered the alarm at the barn used as a pumping station, laundry room and recreation area at the trailer park.

Owner Paul Clark said he noticed the fire about 1:30 a.m. when he made his nightly check in the laundry room located in the basement of the old barn.

"He said he thought the fire started in the northeast corner of the building where an oil furnace is located. Cause of the fire has not yet been determined."

Mr. and Mrs. Clark estimated the building to be worth about $20,000. The contents they said were worth over $25,000.

Heat from the flames which quickly spread through the entire frame building was so intense that firemen first feared that a trailer near the barn would also be set ablaze. Aluminum siding on the trailer was warped by the heat but there was no other damage. Main concern of the Clark's and the trailer owner was the $15,000 pump located in the barn which supplies the park with water.

The new unit capable of handling about 1,000 gallons of water a day was installed about three years ago. Although the amount of damage to the pump was not immediately known, firemen suggested it could be repaired. In the meantime an auxiliary well and pump will be used to supply water to the park. Because the pump was outside the building and placed underground it was believed the main damage would be to the wiring.

"My husband came into the office about 1:30 and said there was a bad fire in the barn," Mrs. Clark recalled, "and I just started calling fire departments."

"It seemed like hours before I heard their sirens, but actually it was only a matter of minutes before the South Lyon and Salem departments were here."

The Northville department was summoned when the other firemen arrived and saw the fire was already well out of control.

Northville Fire Truck Overturns

The seven week old Northville township pumper truck, answering its fourth alarm, received slight damage while helping fight the fire at the Country Estate Trailer Park when it was overturned as firemen raced to South Lyon to refill its tanks.

Driving toward South Lyon on Pontiac trail, the truck overshot its turn into the subdivision south of town. Skidding on the ice-spotted highway, the truck missed the road, turned end-for-end and rolled over in the ditch on the west side of the road.

The rear wheels of the truck were bent, making it impossible to drive the truck. It was towed to Northville where it is now undergoing repairs.

Two firemen were riding with Chief William McGee at the time. They were Stanley Smith and Charles Buttermore. None were injured in the accident.

South Lyon Patrolman Grant Dale said the firemen were crawling out of the cab when he arrived at the scene.

The new pumper-type truck was given major credit for bringing the fire under control and preventing it from spreading to nearby trailers in the court.

The 1,000-gallon pumper was purchased by the township early in November at a cost of $16,000. See picture on Page 12

all sorts of things

By SHARON MAZANEC

We saw some good, substantial evidence this week to bolster the lately shaky theory that American families aren't doing things together "like they used to".

Travelling in Michigan's Upper Peninsula last week, your reporter puzzled at first glance over the roof accessories sported by so many cars wending their way along northern highways and byways.

These car top fixtures, it turned out, were just ski racks packed most often with not one, not usually two, but three, four and five pairs of skis. These slender and sleek pieces of sporting gear, it turns out, are transforming susceptible sportsmen of both sexes and all ages into daring groups of slaloming skiers.

(Slaloming, roughly defined by the ski novice, is coming down the hill in a zig zag pattern — like you saw in the Squaw Valley Olympic runs — rather than streaking uncontrollably to the bottom of the slope.)

Skiers were flocking to Indian-head Mountain in the Western reaches of the Upper Peninsula during the Christmas holidays. Even your reporter showed up — to watch. There whole families, dressed in the trim and rakish, nevertheless functional, ski attire were weaving along the snow-covered runs.

One adult skier, obviously a newcomer to the sport (he was practicing on the bunny run), lamented to a friend he met after returning to the top of the midget hill on the rope tow —

"It wouldn't be so humiliating if these kids half your size didn't come over and offer you a hand when you just lie on your back after taking a good spill."

GRASS IS GREENER — Moving into a home on a four-and-a-half-acre plot in Northville was the perfect cup of tea for outdoors-loving Rose and Roy Williams and their three youngsters. Ruth, 3, Mr. and Mrs. Williams (she's holding two-month-old Rita) and Roy Lee, Jr., 4, (l. to r.) live at 19233 Clement road.

Roy and Rose Williams' youngsters don't have to go very far for that pony ride all kids love so well. The family lives on a four-and-a-half acre plot completely outfitted with three "very human" Shetland ponies.

It's a hobby with the Williamses, raising and training Shetlands.

Marie, Lucky and Lady, the Williamses three Shetlands, have kind of a "sixth sense" when it comes to kids, says Mrs. Williams.

"The kids can have a big time with them, go out in the field and play with them and the ponies won't hurt them a bit," said Rose Williams.

Married Here

Sharon Lee Ryan of Garden City and Leslie Philip Thomas of Lewiston, New York were united in marriage December 27 by Northville Justice of the Peace E. M. Bogart. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshick of Garden City were the attending witnesses.

Now if it was a grown-up doing the same things, she added, the Shetlands might feel they were being abused; they're more patient and understanding with the little ones.

An affection for horses and ponies goes back to the couple's upbringing as farmers' children.

Roy Williams hails from Arkansas, his wife from Chelsea. The couple and their three children, Roy Lee, Jr., 4, Ruth, 3, and Rita, 2 months, live at 19233 Clement.

They moved to the area about a year ago when both were working in Plymouth.

Warm weather opens up a whole new avenue of outdoor recreation for the family.

You'll find them on the water or in the wood when the grass turns green, Mrs. Williams said.

For New Cooking Year

Consider Lamb In Meal Planning

While the new year is still young and resolutions are still in order, local cooks might take stock of the meat varieties they use in menu planning and consider serving more lamb to their families in '61.

Lamb is easy to cook, asserts the American Lamb council, and tastes best when these three rules are followed: (1) Cook according to the cut; (2) always use low temperature; (3) avoid overcooking.

Practically all lamb cuts are tender, notes the council, so they may be cooked by dry heat. Leg, shoulder, rib and loin are usually roasted. Chops from these cuts are broiled, pan-broiled or fried. Shanks, breasts, riblets, stew meat and neck slices should be cooked by moist heat by either braising or simmering.

Thick Lamb Stew with Parsley Noodles is a prize recipe recommended by the council. 1½ lbs cubed lamb shoulder

- 1 cup chopped onions
- 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon mace
- 1 cup stock or bouillon
- 1 cup diced carrots
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- 1 cup lima beans
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 8 oz. wide egg noodles (about 4 cups)
- ¼ cup melted butter or margarine
- ¼ cup chopped parsley

Combine lamb and onions. Cook over low heat until lamb is browned on all sides. Add flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, pepper and mace; blend. Gradually add stock or bouillon, and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add carrots, green pepper and beans. Cover and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, 1½ hours. Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Combine noodles, butter or margarine and parsley; mix well. Serve noodles with lamb stew. Served steaming hot this lamb and noodles dish promises a savory cold weather meal. Additional recipes may be obtained by writing the American Lamb council, 18 East 2nd Avenue, Denver 3, Colorado.

Importance of understanding the spiritual meaning of the Eucharist and of truly commemorating the life of Christ Jesus will be emphasized at the semi-annual communion service at Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians 5:8: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leav-en, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (241:27).

Also included in the Lesson-Sermon is this passage: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (I Corinthians 10:16).

"THUS HE CAME"

Christmas is scarcely past — the trees are dry with death. The wreaths, tinsel, candles and all have been carefully packed away for another year.
Many carols were sung, and numerous stories of the Christ child have been dramatized, but the real reason for Christ's coming has been overlooked by many.

As the baby Jesus lay in His bed, wise men came from the East to pay homage. No longer is the Christ child in the manger as is often depicted on greeting cards, but when these notables from the East arrive, Joseph, the foster father of the Christ child has moved the family to a more commodious dwelling (See Matthew 2:11).

From their wealth they present Him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. The gold signified His kingship; the frankincense represents the fragrance of His perfect life, but who would bring myrrh as a gift to a child? Myrrh, used in the burial of the dead (See John 19:39-40) evidences the fact that this baby is born to die. Here is the wisest of wise men, who recognizes the necessity of the death of God's Son. Jesus Himself confirmed this by saying,

"The Son of man is come, not to be ministered unto, but to minister and give His life a ransom for many." And lest we forget, "without the shedding of blood, there is no remission for sin."

Many years ago the Prince of Wales visited our country. For several days he stayed. The press speculated as to why he came. Finally he left, and yet no one knew his purpose in coming to our country. How unlike God. When Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace visited this earth, God tells us that, "He came to seek and to save the lost." When a soul in humbleness, and repentance turns by faith to Jesus Christ, confessing Him as Saviour and Lord, it is then that the lost is found, and the sinner is turned unto his God. The wisest of wise men today, are those who come to God, bringing the gift of their own lives, and laying them down at His feet.

Welcome all wonders in one sight, Eternity shut in a span,
Summer in winter, and day in night, Heaven
in Earth, and God in man.

Great little one, whose all embracing birth,
Lifts earth to Heaven, stoops heaven to earth.

— Out of the Past —

ONE YEAR AGO . . .

A 17-year-old Wixom youth, accused of beating a Northville boy into unconsciousness last spring, has been placed on two years probation and ordered to make restitution of $118.

Joe Ashley, who lost his trailer home by fire, was given a box-full of tools and a pile of bedding by three anonymous local residents.

A crew of Northville Optimists baked enough cookies to fill nearly 200 packages for children at Our Lady of Providence school and the Northville State hospital.

Two persons were seriously injured, another suffered minor injuries and close to a dozen non-injury accidents were recorded in Novi as a result of heavy fog and rain.

Injured seriously when their cars collided on Grand River at Meadow-brook were George Ciot, 120 Wainwright, and Esther Birchfield, 24678 Taft road.

Novi police are searching for a "Santa Claus" thief who broke into the Wallace School of Horsemanship here Christmas eve and carried off $20 in silver.

FIVE YEARS AGO . . .
The resignation of Fred W.
Lyke, Northville township clerk, and Ralph Hay, Sr., township trustee, were accepted at the township board meeting. The board appointed Daniel J. Stark to succeed as clerk and Alex M. Lawrence as trustee.

After a two-year waiting period the 7 mile road cutoff extending from Northville road to Edward N.
Hines drive has been completed.

Notice of a new hearing on re-zoning the controversial St. Lawrence property for track use was formally given by the Northville City Planning commission.

Winners of the Christmas decoration contest were: Oren Nally, 540 Orchard drive; Bruce McAllister, 47033 Timberlane; Conrad Springer,
981 Grace street; Walter Brown, 234 Church street.

Detroit Edison company predicted during 1955 that the present 7,000 population of Novi township will double during the next few years.

The Christmas week end was the safest on record, at least for cars traveling in and through Novi township.

Not a single accident was reported by Novi police during the 3-day holiday week end, according to Police Chief Lee BeGole.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
Orson Atchinson was elected president of the Northville Exchange club.

Joseph Tremaine was installed as Worshipful Master of Northville Lodge 186, F.&A.M.

Northville varsity and freshman teams gave Clarenceville a double dose of defeat in the two basketball games on the local floor Friday night. Freshman score was 45 to 36, varsity 29-14.

Elected High Priest of the Union Chapter R.A.M. was Floyd Barnes.

The first Baptist church of Northville announces final installation of an electric carillon unit in the tower of the church.

A fire practically destroyed the Walled Lake Packing company when flames broke out in the men's locker room. The loss was estimated at $60,000 to $75,000 and is covered by insurance. Fire trucks from Milford, Walled Lake, Novi and West Bloomfield answered the call.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Northville is out of the depression.

The "corner" has been passed, and Northville with dynamic Detroit and the rest of the United States is definitely on the way out, in the unanimous opinions of Northville businessmen expressed this week to The Record as the village gets ready to start the new year.

Ponstford's store was awarded the Exchange club's first prize for the "best all-round" holiday window decorations this week.

The council, sitting in special session, unanimously rejected the once accepted bid of the H. B. Culbertson company to construct a new reservoir for Northville.

Alumni Lower Boom Of Coaches' Quintet

Northville's varsity basketball team had their day in court last Friday, handing their old coaches a 91-79 drubbing in a benefit basketball game staged at the Northville school gymnasium.

According to one of the luckless members of the coaches' squad, Athletic Director Al Jones, close to $80 was raised. All proceeds will be used for the purchase of athletic equipment for high school.

The "puffing" coaches managed to get a fairly close contest out of the first half, but by the second half, the alumni galloped far out in front.

Formerly Football Mentor or Ron Beer, who probably could have oxygen during much of the game, bombed the nets for 25 points to capture top scoring honor for both teams.

Schipper, now coaches at Jackson high school, flipped in 11 field goals and three charity shots.

Roger Atchinson, voted Northville's most valuable cager last season, fired nine field goals and six free throws to lead the alumni in scoring.

Northville's varsity basketball coach, Dutch Van Ingen, turned in some spectacular — if not unorthodox — shots, but the Holland Globe Trotter picked up more fouls than he did points, six to five.

Wrestling Coach Dave Longridge, who demonstrated some excellent holds, including one pin, grabbed runner-up honors for the coaches by scoring 19 points.

Chuck Shonta, coach-turned professional griddier, kicked one extra point, and proved beyond a doubt that his favorite battleground is the gridiron — not the basketball court.

Shonta is a star defensive half-back for the Boston Patriots.

Little Fred Schwarze, who isn't so little anymore, showed fans that he hasn't forgotten how to score free

Barons Host Northville 5 Friday Night

Northville's varsity cagers will reopen their 1960-61 season tomorrow at Bloomfield Hills in an attempt to break a deadlock for third place in the Wayne-Oakland league race.

The Mustangs will carry a record of two wins and two losses to Bloomfield Hills — the same record held by Clarkston, West Bloomfield and Brighton.

Holly is leading the league with four victories without a loss, Milford is perched in second place with three wins and one defeat, Bloomfield Hills is in 4th place with a 1-3 record, and Clarenceville is in the cellar still looking for its first victory of the season.

Hurt in its pre-holiday games by a poor rebounding exhibition, Bloomfield Hills will go all out in its attempt to stop the Mustangs tomorrow.

The Barons' new head coach, Ed Wickert, who replaced Hal Troit, probably will start the same players he relied upon before the holidays. Of the five, four are lettermen from last year's squad which grabbed a three-way tie for third place with a 5-6 record. They are:

Bruce Billings and Art Treganza, guards; Doug Dedo and Fred Jaynes, forwards; and Bill Pettibone, center. Dedo is the only non-letterman. Roger Stewart is another likely starter at forward.

Last year the Barons clamped a lid over the Mustangs' net and walked away with an easy 51-38 victory. Northville flipped in 7 points in the opening quarter, added only 4 more in the second stanza.

In the second half, the Mustangs outscored Bloomfield Hills, 15-13 and 12-10. But the first-half damage was too great to save the game.

Roger Atchinson, since graduated, was the only Mustang to hit double figures. He scored 15 points.

Cager of the Week

HE'S 15, A 155-POUND SOPHOMORE, but Forward Craig Bell carries plenty of punch in his small frame — and his coaches are first to recognize his exceptional athletic abilities. Last year, Bell played basketball with Northville's championship freshmen quintet. He jumped to the varsity squad this season, skipping over the junior varsity five. Playing as a guard in the first three games this season, Bell scored only two points. Then Coach Dutch Van Ingen switched him to forward and Bell promptly scored 12 points against Clarkston and 18 points against the Trojans. Bell also is a varsity player with the Northville football and baseball teams. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bell, 530 East Baseline, Bell's favorite hobbies are water skiing and fishing. Scholastically, he carries about a B-minus average.

WINS DECORATION CONTEST — The Albert Spaeth family, 46840 Dunsany, in Northville Estates subdivision, became the winner of the first annual Christmas decoration contest sponsored by the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce this week. The Spaeths will receive a plaque for winning the contest. Decorations included a multi-colored string of lights along the edge of the roof, a blinking star attached to the chimney, multi-colored lights along the picture window, a colorful painting of an angel and star, done by Mrs. Spaeth, on the side of the garage, and two candles beneath the picture window. A ceiling-high Christmas tree was centered inside the window, and a decorated tree stood outside at the corner of the house.

"I'M NOT SURE IT'S SAFE" — Pogy, the dog, doesn't seem too sure the ride down hill will be safe, even though his owners, John (left) and Bobby Banks appear confident about the down-hill trip. The extra hours of romping with his masters came to an end for Pogy this week as the holiday vacation ended and schools reopened. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Banks, 41700 Thornapple Lane.

OUTLOOK FOR 1961

If you are concerned about what is ahead for us in 1961, then you are a perfectly normal individual. As we begin the new path of 1961 we begin with a great deal of apprehension. The unrest of nations seems to be increasing. Communism now has a foothold on the off shore island of Cuba. There is unrest in our own country between management and labor, between the white and colored races, government control and maintaining our freedom. There are those of course who would have us whistle in the dark, put on a fake smile if needs be, and say, "Oh! everything will turn out all right, it always does." That's a lie if ever there was a lie. Things didn't turn out well for those enslaved in the Iron Curtain countries; for those who died in the recent plane crashes, or for the thousands that died in auto crashes on our highways, or for the many who die of incurable diseases. If we will face the times in which we live squarely, we must admit that the cause of right is waning and the forces of evil are gaining. The only bright hope for 1961 is the visible return of the Lord Jesus Christ.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

The people of Michigan are proud of their state's industrial accomplishments. Its manufacturing plants produce everything from automobiles to xylophones. One reason is that Michigan has so much of what industry needs.

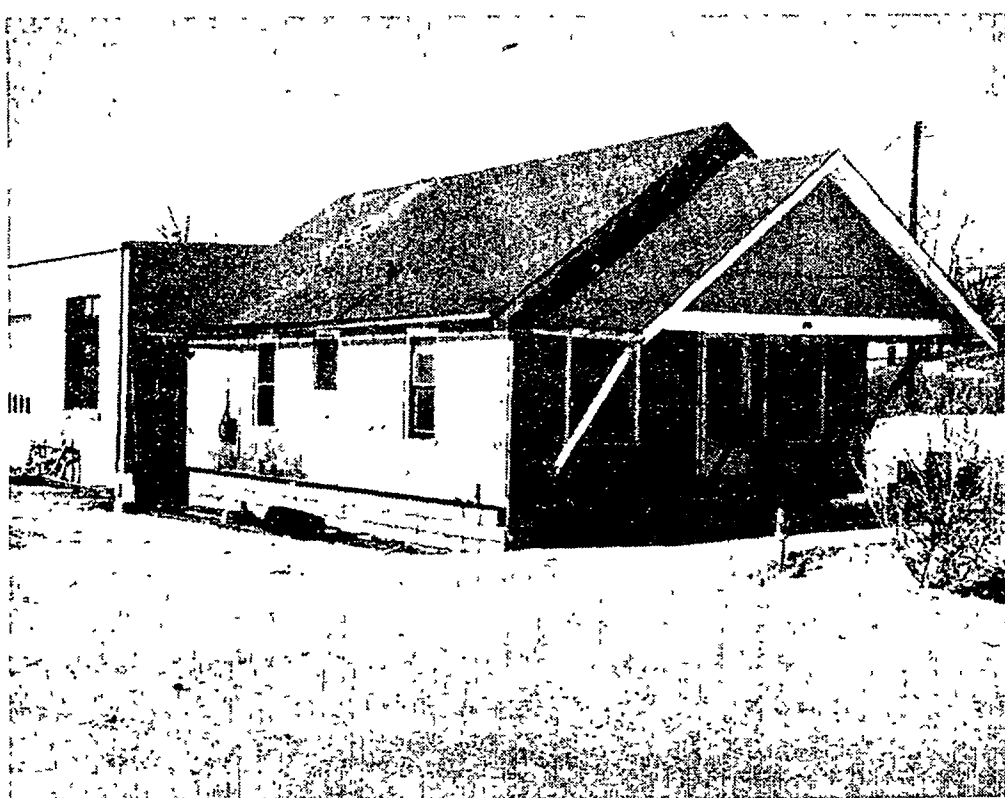

Michigan has abundant sources of both raw and semi-finished materials. Michigan possesses unmatched production know-how in both management and labor. Michigan has great market advantages. Michigan has livability! Water? Michigan is rightly named the Water Wonderland.

This is the first in a series of advertisements to be printed as a public service by this newspaper, each advertisement to describe one of Michigan's advantages for industry. The series will show the attractions our state offers, what it personifies for industry; in reality, what MICHIGAN IS.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip these ads and mail them to people in other states with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

It was moved recently from a lot next to Allen's Monument Works on South Main street to its present location adjoining the new public works garage near the city's Gerald avenue landfill. The house will serve as office space for Superintendent Bud Hartner, a repair area for water meters, shower and dressing area for work crews and will also provide space for workmen to have their lunches.

Commander John Steimel, commander of the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147 announced this week that the date for initiation of new members into the post, will be held on Sunday, January 29, at 2 p.m. at the Methodist church.

On the same date just after the initiation of new members an initiation ceremony will be held for the officers of the newly formed Sons of the American Legion, he said. The Sons of the American Legion is made up of male descendants of American Legion members, or a son or grandson of any non-Legion veteran killed in action.

The public is invited to and urged to attend both ceremonies.

Just after our next regular meeting on January 10th, William Anthony of Livonia will show movies made in Michigan. These movies will begin at 9 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

'Witnesses' Plan Circuit Convention

Jehovah's Witnesses from this area will hold their semi-annual circuit assembly in Adrian February 3-5.

C. Carson Counce, presiding minister of the Plymouth congregation, said arrangements are being made for about 75 from the local congregation to attend. The total attendance from all 25 congregations will be about 1,500.

"The meeting's theme," said Mr. Counce, "will be, 'Be Taught by Jehovah'." This in effect means letting God teach us his way rather than asking Him to bless our ways, he said.

Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., district supervisor for Michigan, Indiana and Illinois, will give the key address, "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?"

Kris H. Knight, circuit minister and assembly chairman, has arranged a program with speakers from Adrian, Ann Arbor, Belleville, Chelsea, Flat Rock, Gregory, Jackson, Marshall, Milan, Monroe, New Boston and Plymouth (which includes Northville).

Ford Seeks Nominations For Its Citizenship Awards

Northville-Now area residents have an opportunity to nominate local residents for community service awards, the Ford Motor company announced this week.

Each year Ford conducts a program to honor its employees who have served voluntarily in civic, educational and charitable activities of their communities.

Employees may be nominated by their families, fellow employees or others familiar with their community activities. Nominations, which will be accepted by Ford's community relations department through February 1, may be based on services performed in the calendar year or over a period of years.

Ford began the Community Service Awards program in 1955 in 10 cities outside the Detroit area. The program was extended last year to Detroit and all other company cities.

Last year more than 200 community service awards were made and 1,425 nominations were received for almost 1,000 employees. Twenty-on persons were selected for the top prize, "Ford Citizen of the Year".

John S. Canterbury of Northville drew praise for his civic improvement service to the city, while Charles Wallace was cited for his outstanding work in civic improvement and youth work in Novi at the 1960 program.)

Community service award winners receive a mounted silver scroll with an engraved commendation from Henry Ford, II, chairman of the board. Each "Ford Citizen of the Year" receives a cast bronze bell engraved with the recipient's name and the symbolic figure of the town crier. All nominees for awards receive letters of commendation.

Among activities which qualify an employee for nomination are public services in elected or appointed capacities; participation in politics; citizens groups, such as P-TA, civil defense, traffic safety, city planning and neighborhood associations;

Youth and recreation programs, such as scouting, Junior Achievement, 4-H, Future Farmers of America, CVO and Boys clubs; community fund campaigns, and special projects by clubs, societies and church groups.

Ford plants and offices participating in the Detroit metropolitan area programs are in Northville, Wixom, Dearborn, Highland Park, Livonia, Allen Park, Lincoln Park, Wayne, Redford township and Brooklyn.

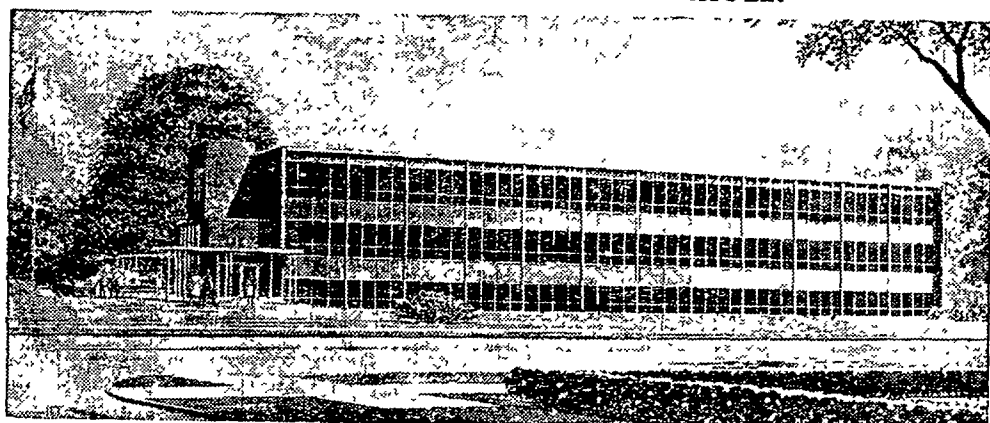

Snow Offers Fun Aplenty

SNOW FUN — For Northville adults, the city hall means meetings, city business and maybe a traffic fine, but for the younger tots of the community, it is a safe location to try out those new Christmas sleds. So beneath the steady drone of typewriters and shuffling of papers comes the gay, laughing voices of fun-loving youngsters. Older children find more thrill in scooting down the steep hills of Cass Benton park, which offers a variety of winter fun. For Pat Hall, 545 River street, and Edward Burton, 109 North Rogers, the wide-open spaces of the park are ideal for flashing across the snow on the back of a spirited horse.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Sliger

Last week the state tax commission issued a "stern warning" to all assessors of the state to "immediately begin assessing personal property and real estate uniformly".

To businessmen in this area with machinery, equipment and inventories such a ruling will certainly bring cheers of joy.

While we agree wholeheartedly with the state tax commission statement that there should be uniformity in assessing, past performances by this body would not indicate that this is their belief. Somewhere in the statement it almost seems that the announcement should have contained an insert: "except in Wayne county".

First of all, let's look at the tax assessments and see what uniformity would mean.

Real estate is presently assessed at between 40 and 46 percent of its value.

In the case of inventories in Wayne county the assessment has been 75 percent. The assessor uses the depreciated value of machinery and equipment for his assessment.

Against these figures our city, school, township and county millage is applied. On top of this, county and state equalization boosts the assessments somewhat higher.

Uniformity would mean that personal property and inventories would also be assessed the same as real estate at around 45 percent — a fifty 30 percent reduction.

It doesn't take much imagination to see what would happen in the city of Detroit and many other heavily industrialized Wayne county communities if their revenues were suddenly cut.

It would affect every governmental unit, particularly school districts already levying their maximum millage to meet general operation expenses and bonded indebtedness for buildings.

In Northville, for example, personal property taxes represent about 20 percent of our tax revenues. For this to be reduced by 30 percent would be far less damaging than in communities where personal property revenues total 60 or 70 percent of the total.

It has been generally considered by Wayne county assessors that the state tax commission had taken a position, though not officially, that suggested "slow reduction" of the personal property assessments to the real estate level.

Once nearly 90 percent, the personal property level in most Wayne county communities has been reduced slowly in recent years. This year it is expected to drop at least another five percent.

This "go-easy" policy has been undertaken to avoid a budget calamity in local governments.

But let's read another portion of the release issued last week by the state tax commission (referring to areas not now practicing uniformity in assessing) —

"Presently, there remain only a few major islands of resistance in the state but these are creating great difficulty. Our commission is unanimous that immediate action is necessary and this is our final warning to assessors. The Commission recognizes that in some areas the mechanics of this program entails numerous adjustments with varied ramifications, however, in spite of the apparent difficulties a program of uniformity must be recognized and that the Tax Commission will insist upon it in the future."

Compare this with the experience of our neighboring community of Plymouth, which has adopted the uniformity rule of assessing. For two years Wayne county has "equalized" the Plymouth assessments up to the 75 percent level, and although the city fathers of that community have appealed the action to the state tax commission, their appeal has been denied.

So, unless the state's latest announcement reflects a new policy, we must assume that "uniformity" applies outside Wayne county.

Our Unemployed

Babson Park, Mass. — During the recent election campaign, the unemployment problem was discussed at length by both political parties. Naturally, the interpretations given to the jobless situation were presented in a light which would best suit the particular audience listening to each speech. Within the past few weeks, some projections of unemployment trends seem to bear out fears expressed during the election campaign. Government officials predict that a sharp increase in jobless workers may lie ahead.

Once a month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics releases its estimate of employment and unemployment. This is based on a mid-month survey by the Census Bureau in which approximately 35,000 households are interviewed in 330 selected regions throughout the country. The groups of households interviewed are rotated so that a given household will be questioned for four successive months during a given year.

The information obtained for the latest month is then compared with the preceding month's estimate of unemployment to derive a measure of the change which has taken place. The next step is to inflate the current data by the estimates of various population groups — viz., by age, sex and color. After the results of each step are weighted, the two steps are then combined.

Naturally, such a small sample leaves much room for error when the data are inflated to show an estimate of the total labor picture. Remember that only 35,000 households are interviewed out of a total of nearly 50,000,000 families in the country.

Furthermore, the personal interview method has certain natural pitfalls. More often than not the housewife answers the questions. She may not have an exact knowledge of the circumstance of each member of the household. Or the person questioned may be in a "bad mood" and thus unwittingly give inaccurate or incomplete answers. Local conditions and/or mass psychology could also contribute toward a distortion of answers given.

Aside from these "human" factors, unemployment figures should be adjusted by readers to take into account other distortions.

For example, workers who are idled by strikes are included as unemployed. These, of course, do not truly reflect the state of the economy's health. In addition, workers who are temporarily laid off because of seasonal curtailments in activity are counted as unemployed. I also question whether sick workers, and housewives and students seeking "extra spending money," should be included.

At the present time, the Government estimates that over 4,000,000 people are unemployed. Historically speaking, this is still not a very burdensome figure. Considering the growth in population, this represents only a little over 5 percent of the labor force.

Admittedly, there are "pockets of unemployment" in various sections which should receive help. Taking the country as a whole, however, the picture is more encouraging, especially when it is related to periods of normal business rather than war and super-boom times.

Readers of this column, therefore, should pay more attention to certain fundamental conditions which are threatening to make the unemployment problem worse than it now is.

I fear that too many workers, whether individually or through unions, are pricing themselves out of the market. This is evident in the trend toward increased automation which, though ultimately beneficial to labor, could in the meantime make for greater unemployment.

If wage costs increase much more, I fear that American will lose the race for world markets, and that foreign imports will cut deeper into domestic markets. Both of these conditions could contribute to joblessness.

Areas where unemployment is high should seek to create and attract new opportunities. This can best be accomplished by advertising local advantages, and, above all, by proving labor's willingness to work harder. Unless something is done, students now in colleges and high schools may be hard put to find a job later on.

Crises in Colleges Hurts Entire State

OF ALL THE CHALLENGES facing Michigan people, the crisis in higher education could be the most vital. Consider these points:

Most of the teachers for Michigan schools are trained in Michigan colleges.

The need for doctors is already pinching. It can easily become so great that existing medical training facilities will fall short of handling enough first-year students by 1970.

Michigan business needs well-trained leaders. Most of them will be educated in colleges and universities within the state.

Add to this the nation's critical overall need for more highly trained scientists and engineers and the simple fact that better educated people are needed every day to keep a complex society operating.

There is obviously ample reason for concern over higher education.

The challenge faces all the people, not just the leaders of state government or educators. Not only do taxpayers finance a major part of the cost of higher education, they also must want to improve educational facilities before action will be taken. It is their attitude on higher education which will be reflected to the Legislature at the time decisions are made.

One indication of expected growth in higher education came recently when Michigan State University President John A. Hannah addressed a group of newsmen and their wives on the East Lansing campus.

After explaining the plight of higher education in general, of which MSU is typical, he discussed specifics there.

"Our enrollment is increasing faster than we had expected. Though we are becoming more selective, Michigan State has an obligation to open its classrooms and laboratories to the qualified youth of this state," Hannah said.

He predicted enrollment at MSU would hit 30,000 by 1966 or 1967.

The number of students at the school has topped 20,000 for the past few years. Hannah noted the increase in students taking advanced study — working toward master's or doctoral degrees — as one of the more critical areas.

"Graduate enrollment has doubled in the last few years," he said.

Working from projections based on present enrollment trends, Hannah said the make-up of the MSU student body when its numbers reach 30,000 would be about one-third freshmen and sophomores, one-third juniors and seniors, and one-third graduate students.

MICHIGAN'S participation in federal medical care for the needy aged will get a close look from lawmakers during the 1961 session of the state Legislature.

Michigan was one of the first states to come under the program passed by the "bob-tail" or post-party conventions session of Congress.

A special session met in late summer to spell out the qualifications and procedures by which those over 65 years old could come under the program if they wish.

Sen. Lloyd A. Stephens, R-Scottville, chairman of a joint committee of both houses appointed to study Medicare said recently at least three changes will be recommended to the next Legislature.

Expansion of the program was the major point of the committee's proposals.

They would add nursing home care, skilled home nursing and liberalize the income test which is applied to couples wishing to come under the program.

Apparently there is bi-partisan support for the changes.

STATE ELECTIONS officials are taking a long look at the practices of local people in charge of voting.

Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery says that each of Michigan's 83 counties will be scrutinized as soon as experts from his division of the Secretary of State's office can get to it.

They started in Oakland county.

Montgomery says the purpose of the inspections is merely to make sure that local officials know how to comply with laws governing elections, and that they are putting the knowledge into use.

Novi Traffic Violations Take Jump

Although the approach of winter usually means a decrease in police activity, the Novi police department handled a record number of cases during the month of November.

According to the monthly report submitted to the council by Chief Lee BeGole, traffic cases set a record for November, with 161 actual traffic tickets issued — or 21 more tickets than were issued during the previous month and 119 more than were issued in the November of 1959.

A total of 164 complaints, including traffic violations, were handled by the department, the chief reported. Of these, 139 were closed and 25 remain to be solved or checked.

The breakdown included: 15 serious crimes or felonies; 44 misdemeanor crimes; 36 safety and traffic complaints; 67 non-criminal complaints; and two general accident cases.

Other activity of the department included: 10 automobile assists; 169 car investigations; 2,038 property inspections; 20 liquor inspections; and 154 verbal warnings to motorists.

Court costs and fines for the month totaled $1,839.

The report also stated that the recently established Youth Protective committee is functioning properly, with several local juvenile cases being successfully handled; that a gun bureau was established within the department, that attempts to secure a drivers license bureau are underway; and that a number of traffic surveys on village roads have been completed.

Who's First

Friday at 5 p.m. is the deadline to report the birth of First Baby, 1961.

The annual contest offers a list of nine prizes from area merchants to parents residing in Northville or Novi who have the first baby of the new year. Births should be reported to the Record office.

Winner of the contest will be announced in next week's edition.

Sales Tax Jumps to 4%

Northville-Novu area residents, along with citizens throughout the state, found themselves digging a little deeper into their pocketbooks this week as a result of the increased sales tax.

The tax, which jumped from 3 to 4 percent, became effective January 1.

Although the method of collecting the tax is different in many communities, most business places in this area have adopted a "mathematically accurate" taxing table.

In computing customer taxes using this table, merchants charge no tax on purchases of less than 12 cents. Here's how they charge taxes on purchases over 12 cents:

Purchase	Sales Tax
13 to 37 cents	1 cent
38 to 62 cents	2 cents
63 to 87 cents	3 cents
88 to 1.12	4 cents
1.13 to 1.37	5 cents
1.38 to 1.62	6 cents
1.63 to 1.87	7 cents
1.88 to 2.12	8 cents
2.13 to 2.37	9 cents
2.38 to 2.62	10 cents

About the only stores using a different system are those which make a great many sales of less than one dollar. Dime stores are among these, although the Northville's D&C store is using the mathematical table.

Under state law, merchants must pay 4 percent tax on monthly business. They can collect the tax from their customers any way they choose.

Fined Here

Donald Graham, 437 North Center, was found guilty of reckless operation of a motor vehicle in court action December 27. Graham, whose car struck a tree at the corner of Beal and Main streets on the night of December 24, was fined $25 and court cost by Justice E. M. Bogart.

A Plymouth man, Lester Johnston, of 16453 Bradner, was ordered to pay a $50 fine and cost after being found guilty of driving under the influence of alcohol. Johnston appeared in court last Friday, December 30.

The Northville city council voted Tuesday night to take prompt action on the state police recommendations for installing safety measures on the Novi road leading to the new Eight Mile road cut-off.

The curve, in use two months, has already had two accidents (coincidentally on the same day) in which cars turned over.

State police recommendations to Oakland county and the city include widening of the roadway on the curve, installation of a large, reflector-type warning sign at the bend in the curve, an overhead street light in the vicinity of the curve and approaching speed limit signs.

OLV Rolls to Easy 23-8 Victory Here

Our Lady of Victory's junior high quintet rolled to an easy 23-8 victory over a Northville squad last Thursday in the preliminary benefit contest at the high school gymnasium.

Coached by Clifford Bunker of Novi, the OLV five led throughout the entire game. The quarter scores were 7-4, 12-7, 18-7 and 23-8.

Center James Luffs took scoring honors for OLV with 14 points. Guard Jim Bertoni was second high with 7 points.

The OLV quintet is a member of a CYO league. Youngsters participating in the city recreation program made up the Northville team.
