Council Acts Fast To Save City Trees

Northville is losing one of its most prized and precious possessions — its trees.

Robert Freydl, a lifelong resident of the community and a graduate forester, told city council members Monday night that unless a comprehensive program of tree control is undertaken immediately, serious problems could result.

He volunteered to offer his services, without charge, one day a week to conduct a survey of the condition of all trees on city property and lining the streets.

The council listened attentively and promptly accepted Freydl's offer.

Councilman Richard Juday proposed that Freydl start his survey at once and that the council make provisions in its new budget for tree care. The city must approve its 1961-62 budget next month. The council agreed unanimously.

Freydl, who was invited to relate his tree story to the city by Councilman Richard Ambler, pointed out that the city had a good program for Dutch Elm disease control, but that other trees were dying of old age, decay and lack of proper attention.

He told councilmen that some trees had been killed by carelessness. At the Joe Denton park, Eaton drive and Fairbrook, several large trees had been killed when the pond was filled, Freydl stated.

"The roots of these trees were covered and they're suffering from lack of air and moisture", Freydl pointed out. He said there was one hickory "about 100 years old" that was definitely dying and would have to be removed.

In addition to loss of the trees — which Freydl called one of the greatest selling points for the community — he pointed to the dangers involved. "One bad wind storm could bring many of these trees down", he said, pointing to the possibility of injury to persons or property.

Mayor A. M. Allen recalled that the city had undertaken an extensive tree control program about 10 years ago. He said that the (then) village spent about $6,000 a year for two years and had planted some 200 trees.

"It's a never-ending problem", answered Freydl. He said that the city could save the heavy expense of tree removal by continuing a regular program of conservation.

After Freydl completes his survey he'll recommend trees requiring attention first. Where it is possible, city crews will trim the trees under Freydl's

New Store Opens Here

The company, owned by Louis Levenson, has stores in Ferndale and Detroit (at Grand River and Lahser).

The store will carry a line of cosmetics, vitamins and patent medicines and will also offer prescription service, Levenson stated.

A grand opening is planned in the near future.

The store is located in the building formerly occupied by Hocking-Gillies Shoes.

Township Rezoning Bid Up 3rd Time

After two appearances before the township zoning board without success C. J. Mulligan is taking his request for rezoning property to permit construction of a rest home to the board of appeals.

Mulligan was denied a public hearing by the zoning board in February and again April 11.

He is seeking to rezone 4.2 acres of land at 42565 Baseline road from R-1-E (residential estates) to R-4 (multiple family residential). He proposes to build a 50-apartment rest home, a project estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000.

The zoning board voted 2-1 against the public hearing in April on the grounds that the project would prove harmful to residential values and constitute spot zoning.

Through his attorney, John Crandell, Mulligan's appeal calls the denial unreasonable, says the property is not suitable for R-1-E development, that it is now being used for non-conforming use, that it would increase the value for tax purposes and that there is an urgent public need for such facilities.

No date has been set for the hearing.

THE PLAY'S THE THING — Dress rehearsal for Northville high school's all-school play, "The Night of January 16th", found cast members Phil Jerome, Racena Bailey, Don Busch, Richard Willing, Susan Phara and Jim Tuck (l. to r.) going through their lines. Sponsored by the Forensic club, the courtroom drama will be staged tomorrow night (Friday) at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Curtain went up on the first performance Wednesday night.

Library Study At Report Stage

The city-township library study committee is nearing the end of its three-month project and will probably prepare its conclusions next Monday evening, Chairman Edmund Yerkes stated.

An eight-member body, the committee was appointed by the city council and township board.

Areas of investigation outlined for the study group to follow include:

— should a library be maintained in the Northville community;

— what should be the area serviced by the library? — city only, township only, both city and township, any part of Novi, entire school district?

— should a library be operated as a strictly local operation or should it be a part of the Wayne county library system?; — what services should be provided?;

— housing of the library — size, cost, location, financing;

— what would be the cost of supporting the library and how should these costs be financed?;

— and how could the library be administered?

Presently, the Northville library operates under the Wayne county library system. Under a formula developed by the county it is financed from general fund monies of the city and township.

Under this formula the city is charged approximately $10,000 annually, while the township fee is about $2,000.

The committee, probing into the reasons for the wide difference in costs between city and township, heard an explanation of the county formula by Township Attorney James Little Monday night. He told the group that even if the township were to pay a larger sum to the county it would not reduce the city payment under the terms of the formula.

The committee is expected to submit its conclusions in writing to the city council and township board.

Members appointed to the committee besides Yerkes are Elizabeth Beard, Howard Fuller, Phelps Hines, Harold Schmidt, Kenneth Shrewsbury, Jr., Jack Stubenvoll and Mrs. Jack Swain.

Carnival To Feature Safetyliner

A special attraction that will be on tap for crowds at the Northville PTA Carnival May 5 is the Michigan State Police Safetyliner.

Both side panels on the mobile unit open into two exhibits running the full length of the bus. One side of the display demonstrates traffic safety, with accompanying narrations, and includes a continuous moving picture projector, an illuminated series of still pictures and the mounted, battered remains of an automobile in which six persons died.

The other side, also with public speaker narrations, has a series of slides and colored photographs of State Police work in the general areas of police protection, criminal investigation, mercy missions and rescues, and additional services. A large map with lights shows the location of State Police posts. There is also a display of State Police weapons.

Sergeant Michael J. Sibal, Safety and Traffic division, helped arrange the Safetyliner's visit to the carnival.

The bus, presented to the department by General Motors corporation, received exhibit equipment from the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents and Road Aid incorporated.

Chairman of this year's carnival program is Chester Lapa.

Scout-Recreation Center Proposed

If there was ever any doubt, it was settled Monday night. Northville has a definite need for a facility to replace the recently-sold scout building.

Meeting with representatives of local scouting organizations and recreation department the council learned that the building plays an important role in the operation of their respective programs.

In fact, the present building was called inadequate to accommodate the present and anticipated needs for scouting and recreation.

Monday night's meeting was called by the city council to discuss replacement of the scout building. Located at the corner of Dunlap and Hutton streets, the building is in the process of being sold. The site will become a part of the new Kroger supermarket project with plans calling for locating a Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit drive-in office at the corner.

Sold for $13,000, the council has stated that the money would be earmarked for facilities to replace the building.

Specifically, the recreation committee proposed that the city build a new scout building on city-owned property on Cady street directly across from the city hall park.

The council would not be hurried into deciding upon a site for the facility, but it did adopt a recreation committee proposal for proceeding with the project.

Ed Welch, a member of the recreation committee, suggested to the council that the scout-recreation representatives be permitted to form a committee to set forth the facilities needed in the building.

It was proposed that these plans then be turned over to the council for consideration with an architect. At this date a site will also be determined.

Both scouts and recreation members agreed that joint use of the building worked smoothly.

Mrs. George Zerbel reported that there are currently 12 girl scout troops in the community — a total of 250 participants — with two more troops to be formed. She stated that meetings are now held in churches.

Welch envisioned the site as one that could provide a wading pool, badminton and other similar outdoor recreation facilities.

Members of the recreation committee attending the session besides Conley and Welch were Luke Bathey and Robert Merriam.

Councilman John Canterbury cautioned against haste in planning the new building to insure that adequate facilities would be provided.

But the council promised to act as promptly as possible to accommodate the two groups. There is a possibility that the old scout building will not be torn down as soon as houses on the block and would therefore be available for use this summer.

Mayor A. M. Allen had praise for the cooperation received from the interested representatives. He noted that it had definitely been determined that the facility was needed, that the two groups could operate together in the same building and that there was a willingness to cooperate with the city in planning the building.

The meeting was arranged by Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson at the direction of the city council.

Band Cops High Rating

Northville high school bandmen competing at the State Band Festival in Ann Arbor Saturday received the following numerical ratings from a panel of four college judges:

A pair of two's and a one for concert play and a two for sight reading. Bands are scored on a 1-5 scale with a one the highest possible rating.

Bob Williams directed the local musicians. Nearly 200 high school bands and orchestras — all winners on the district level — took part in the festival.

Committee To Study Grid Field

Northville Board of Education Monday night appointed a five-man committee to draw up specifications for facilities needed to equip the new high school athletic field for night football games.

Named to the committee were board members Edward Angove, James Kipper and Donald Lawrence, Director of Administrative Services E. V. Elison and high school Athletic Director Al Jones.

The board asked the committee to establish "minimal" lighting and seating needs and to check into other items that will ultimately be needed such as comfort stations and a concession stand.

Such information must be collected, board members agreed, before any fund raising projects can be initiated.

The board expressed the hope that funds for the project might be raised in a subscription sparked by one or more community groups.

In other action, the board okayed a proposal that will appear on the June 12 ballot asking voters to approve the transfer of funds from the 1949 debt service account to the 1957 Series A account. Bonds from the 1949 issue have already been retired; however, transfer of surplus monies requires a vote of the people.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Amerman informed the board that the County Tax Allocation board will review the school system's 1961-62 budget May 12.

Teacher resignations and contracts for new teachers also got board attention. Administrators estimated about 22 vacancies, some of which have already been filled. Teacher turnover, they noted, was less than in previous years.

Lawrence Is Candidate

Board of Education Secretary Donald Lawrence, whose three-year term on the board expires in June, has announced his candidacy for re-election.

Elected voters Lawrence to the board in June of 1958, giving him a 593-188 margin over Robert J. Herter. Sales manager for the heating and ventilating division of Evans Products company in Plymouth, Lawrence is married and the father of two sons and a daughter.

As of this week no other candidates had filed petitions to run for the single board vacancy. Nominating petitions must be turned in by May 13 at 4 p.m. They are available at board of education offices in the Main street school.

June 2 at 5 p.m. has been set as the deadline for voters to register for the June 12 election to be held at the community building.

Recruiting Good Here

Business Booms for Navy

The Navy likes Northville. In three years it's boomed into one of the liveliest recruiting stations in the area. And if it keeps growing — well, who knows, it could become the largest! With headquarters at the American Legion Memorial Home the Navy recruiting center was opened by EN-1 John Goss in June 1958.

It served Northville and Plymouth until 1959 when the Livonia area along Plymouth road to Middlebelt was added.

Today the Northville Navy recruiting station serves the complete Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Novi, Walled Lake, South Lyon, New Hudson and Farmington areas.

Working with Goss, who is the recruiter in charge, are Jack Wright, QM-1, and John Boggelin, MMC. Wright and Boggelin are canvassing recruiters whose duty it is to cover the entire area seeking out Navy enlistees.

Every year the local station has topped its quota — this includes recruitment of girls into the Waves and young seamen.

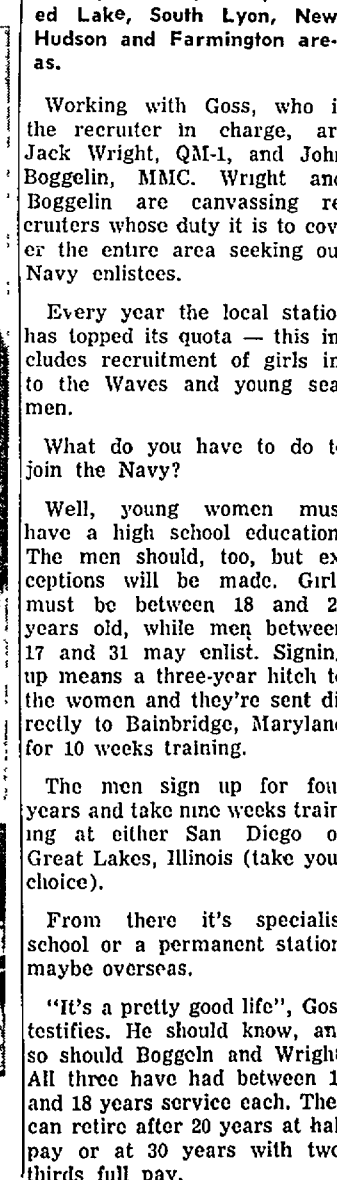

What do you have to do to join the Navy?

Well, young women must have a high school education. The men should, too, but exceptions will be made. Girls must be between 18 and 26 years old, while men between 17 and 31 may enlist. Signing up means a three-year hitch to the women and they're sent directly to Bainbridge, Maryland for 10 weeks training.

The men sign up for four years and take nine weeks training at either San Diego or Great Lakes, Illinois (take your choice).

From there it's specialist school or a permanent station, maybe overseas.

"It's a pretty good life", Goss testifies. He should know, and so should Boggelin and Wright. All three have had between 17 and 18 years service each. They can retire after 20 years at half pay or at 30 years with two-thirds full pay.

GETTING SOME PRACTICE — She's planning on going to the PTA Carnival May 5 so she's going to decorate a cake. Cake artist Mrs. Arthur Forth, a winner in competition at last year's carnival, twirls the icing in a practice run in the kitchen of her home at 21718 Kilrush.

BUSY RECRUITERS — In three years Northville's Navy recruiting station has more than doubled the area it serves. What's more the station has topped its quota every year. Responsible for the land office business are: (l. to r.) John Boggelin, MMC; John Goss, EN-1, recruiter in charge; and Jack Wright, QM-1.

Joan Baskins Is Wed In Candlelight Nuptials

Joan Katherine Baskins and Donald Arthur Valentine exchanged marriage vows Saturday, April 15 in an early evening ceremony at Church of Christ, Plymouth. Mr. Reeder Oldham officiated at the nuptials.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Beryl T. Baskins of 42801 Waterford road, Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Valentine of Bunton road, Willis, Michigan.

Her father escorted the bride to a candlelit altar framed with two large white and blue floral arrangements. She wore a full length gown of white embroidered net over tiered tulle, with a Queen Anne neckline and long pointed sleeves. A crown of seed pearls and sequins clasped her fingertip veil, and she carried a heart shaped bouquet of carnations centered with white roses.

Melvin Sims's a capella chorus from Detroit sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You".

Attending the bride was Maid of Honor Sandra Moase of 436 Randolph street and Bridesmaid Ardith Robertson of Plymouth, a cousin of the bride.

Both were attired in street length, blue silk organza dresses fashioned with full skirts, scoop necklines and cummerbunds centered with a single, fabric rose. Each wore a seed pearl crown and short, blue veil. They carried blue and white heart-shaped bouquets.

Wearing a white taffeta and chiffon dress, trimmed in blue was the flower girl, Janet Valentine, a sister of the groom.

David Lindemann attended

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Valentine

the groom as best man, while brothers Richard and Dennis Valentine ushered guests.

Mrs. Baskins chose an orchid silk sheath with complementing coat and accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Valentine wore a green embroidered linen sheath, matching coat and white accessories. Both mothers had white carnation corsages.

About 200 guests from Northville, Plymouth, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Willis and Hastings greeted the newlyweds at a reception in the church.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Mrs. Valentine wore a silk print sheath, moss green and white accessories and a white rose corsage.

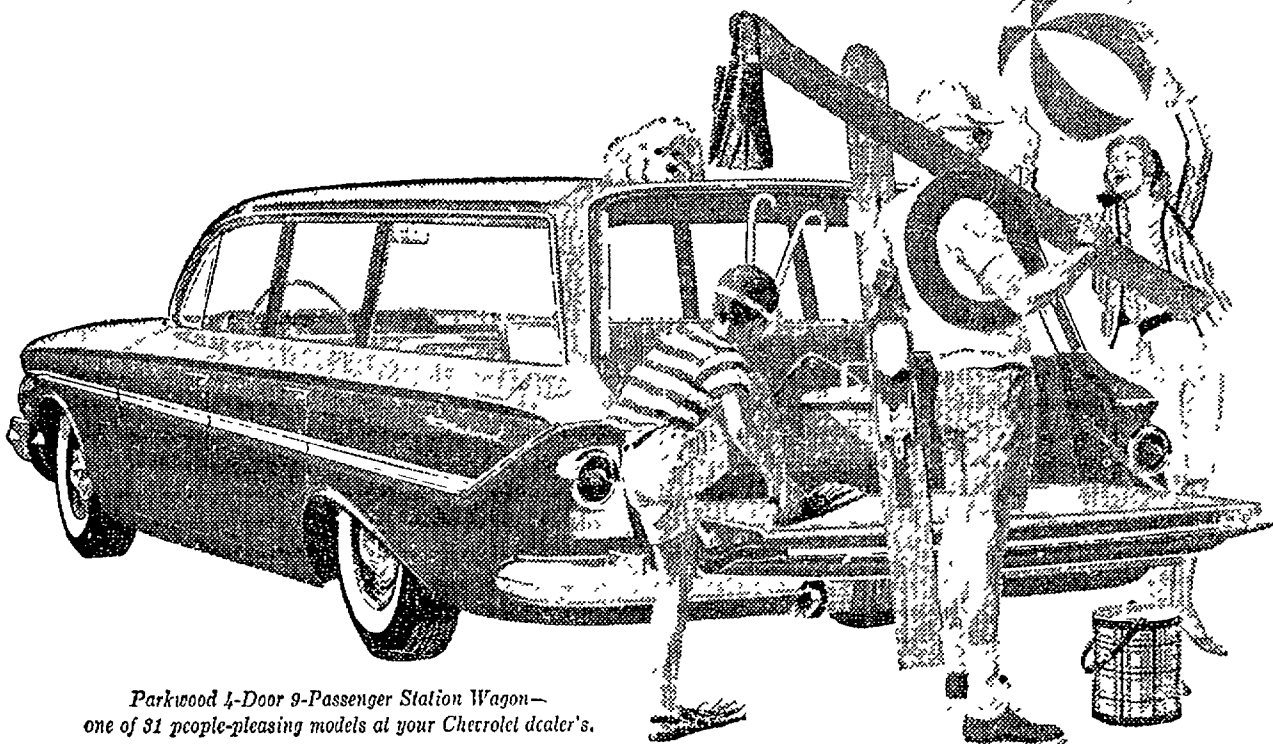

The newlyweds are both studying music at Eastern Michigan university. The groom is in his senior year and a member of Phi Mu Alpha fraternity. His wife is a sophomore.

They will reside at 1399 Pennington, Plymouth.

Northville Junior High school's library was steeped in Oriental culture for one evening two weeks ago when an Indian village was imaginatively transplanted there for a meeting of the Alpha Nu chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, international honorary organization for women educators.

Drawing on the experiences of her recent travels through countries of the Orient, Miss lone Palmer, junior high school librarian, presented the program.

An Indian home, four temples (Buddha, Islam, Hindu and Jain), a music hall, historical museum, flick show and feasting mart stood in the village. Strings of gaily colored papers, plants, candles and folk crafts of the Orient decorated the buildings.

An enactment of an animal fable from the Panchatantra opened the program. Fables, Miss Palmer explained, were used in India for religious instruction and for understanding human weaknesses. Mrs. Thomas G. Smith and Miss Diana Lance portrayed a jackal and a camel in the dramatic dialogue, "A Trickster is Punished".

Miss Palmer discussed Indian music and told how its beginnings are lost in beautiful, fanciful legends of gods and goddesses who were supposed to be its composers and patrons. She illustrated her lesson with a recording of native music.

Following reports made by chapter members on the main tenets of Oriental religions, the program closed with a prayer translated from an Indian lyric by Mahatma Gandhi.

Nope, the orphan eggs were not abandoned on the Ledgerwood doorstep. They were just a few of the scores of eggs laid by the duck-tenants of a pond not far from the newcomers.

It's kind of a community pond, said Helen Ledgerwood, and residents close-by have been keeping an eye on the two mallards and four white ducks who live there.

The only pet to compete with the ducks at the Ledgerwood household is Gertrude, the family's Llewellyn setter, an October acquisition which Bart Led-

It has grown to a membership of 34. One of the original members is Jan Reef of Northville. Robert Jones, head of fine arts at Cody high school is director of the choir. Organist is Harry Bunnell. Proceeds from the concert, sponsored by the Presbyterian Men's club, will be used to help send youth of the church to summer camps.

Youths Arrested

Three area juveniles — two from Northville and one from Novi — were arrested by railroad police last Friday for placing a piece of scrap iron on the tracks near the Nine mile crossing.

The pair from Northville were truants, police said. They were handed over to Northville police while the Novi youth was released to the custody of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wyatt returned Monday from a week-end in Muskegon where they attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gallup. Mrs. Gallup is Mrs. Wyatt's niece.

Big Time Wrestling Saturday

An all-time wrestling favorite in Michigan who was once asked to run for the Texas state legislature will be headlining an all-star professional wrestling show at the Northville Community building Saturday night.

Sponsored by the Novi Odd-fellows, the program will feature six professional grunts and groaners in four big bouts. The first match will start at 8 p.m.

The main bout will feature Leaping Larry Chene and Percival E. Pringle. Chene has been pounding the mats for ten years, six of which he spent in the wide expanses of Texas.

It was there that he was approached by prominent political leaders to run for the state legislature. But Chene declined. His burning ambition is to make good in front of his family and friends in Michigan.

Chene has quite a following. Evidence of this is the 50,000 signatures he hands out annually. He is never too busy to stop and chat with a youngster.

In another top heavyweight bout, Louis Papineau will oppose Red Donovan. A mighty midger match will pit the Brown Panther against Pancho Lopez.

Golfers Have Rough Time

It was loss number four for Northville's golf team Monday afternoon as Bloomfield Hills won a 178-197 match at Meadowbrook country club.

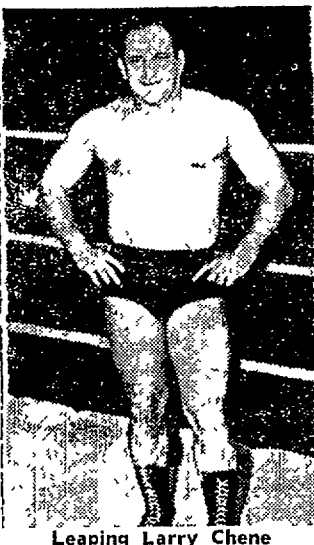

Captain Tom Slattery had a 43 to lead the Mustangs. Eddie Beard followed with a 48, Dave Zielinski 51 and Ron Richardson, 55.

Bloomfield Hills took a triangular from Northville and Birmingham Sea Holme High April 18. It had a 157 score while the locals had 179 and Birmingham, 180.

Eddie Beard led Northville with a 42 followed closely by Bob Boyle, 43, Captain Tom Slattery, 44, and Bob Hallen, 50.

Dave Zielinski led Northville with a 42 against Brighton and Ann Arbor University high. Brighton won with a 163 score, followed by Northville, 187, and Ann Arbor, 189.

Slattery shot a 44, Beard, 47, and Boyle, 54.

Walks, Errors Fatal

Four walks and two errors figured in the first downfall of the young season for Northville High's baseball team Monday afternoon. Bloomfield Hills took a 3-2 decision although getting only two hits.

Three of the walks given up by losing pitcher, Dan Brown, scored as the result of a passed ball and a muffed grounder that opened the dikes for the visitors. Two runs came in the fourth and the winning one in the fifth.

Northville wasn't exactly a menace at the plate, either, smacking out just four hits with three coming in the first inning when the Mustangs scored their two runs.

With one out, Tom Swiss, starting at first base, singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on a base hit by Steve Juday (who wound up on second after the throw to the plate.) Craig Bell promptly singled to send in Juday with the second run.

In other action during the week, Northville won two games, shutting out Clarkston, 4-0, and romping over West Bloomfield, 11-1.

Bell paced the win over Clarkston with a double and single to drive in three runs. Winning pitcher Swiss allowed three hits, struck out five and walked none.

The Hay brothers led the attack on West Bloomfield which featured 14 Mustang hits. Dave had a perfect 4-for-4 at the plate, driving in two runs and scoring once, while Joe had 3-for-4, scoring two runs. Bell was winning pitcher.

Jayvees Lose, 8-1

Northville's jayvee baseball team lost an 8-1 decision to Walled Lake last week to open their season. The locals scored in the first inning on a walk, two stolen bases and a wild throw.

Mustang Track Team Improving With Age; Win 3 Meets in Row

An ever-improving Mustang track squad took their third win of the season Monday afternoon, whipping Clarkston in a dual meet, 74 1-3 to 34 3/4.

Last Friday, Northville easily defeated Clarkston and Brighton in a triangular. Northville had 77 1/2 points, Clarkston, 40 1/2, and Brighton, 16 1/2.

Coach Ralph Redmond did some experimenting against Clarkston on a wet and soggy track and came out with some pleasing results.

Times are remaining steady or showing improvement through the three meets so far, but the thing that makes Redmond smile a broad smile is the good showing of the younger members of the team. Depth was considered the weak spot on the Northville team otherwise loaded with proven veterans.

One of these vets, Tom Darling was a triple winner against Clarkston. He took the 100 dash in 10.6, the 220 in 23.5 and broad jumped 19' 8 1/2".

Redmond's dash of experimenting found dashman Jim Petrock in the 440 with a winning time of 55 seconds, sophomore quarter miler Don Biery in the half mile, winning in 2:17.8, and halfmiler Phil Jerome in the mile, winning in 5:02.9.

Other winners were Jerry Biddle, shot put, 43' 9 1/2", Dave Filkin, high hurdles, 17.2, Dick Kernozek, low hurdles, 22.8, mile relay in 3:49.6 and the halfmile relay in 1:39. In the triangular with Clarenceville and Brighton, the Mustangs rolled up 10 first, seven seconds and three thirds for their easiest win of the young season.

Tom Darling was a double winner, taking the 100 yard dash in :10.9 seconds and the 220 dash in 23.3 seconds.

Both relays went to Northville, the one mile in 3:53 and the half-mile in 1:38.

There's No Stopping Our Net Squad!

Two easy wins boosted the Northville tennis squad's win string to four over the past week. Identical 5-0 scores were evident in the Clarkston win. The losers managed to win just six games in all five matches.

Winning the points for the locals in both contests were Captain Jon Rodgers, Dieron Ornekian and Tom Long in the singles and the double teams of Gary Kohs and Jim Jiggins and Dennis LaRoque and Bill Chapple.

This being the first year for league competition in tennis, Northville's opposition will mainly consist of inexperienced players. This was Northville will have a tough one tomorrow at Ypsilanti Roosevelt. The locals squeezed past Ypsi, 4-3, in the season opener. Roosevelt is considered a Class C tennis power.

Mustangs Honored

Danny Brown and Craig Bell were honored by their basketball teammates this season.

In voting among the players, Brown was chosen as the most valuable player and Bell, the most improved player.

TOP SPEED

I have been working at my real estate business about as fast as the dog with three legs that came in first at the dog track — but I still have a few jumps left to come to you for a listing.

BUT — if you are looking for a reasonable priced roomy home on nearly 2 acres, with 3 nice bedrooms, slick as a button throughout and close to town, you should jump fast to look through this one. Truly a low cost but beautiful country estate with a reasonable low down payment and easy mo. payments.

OR — IF you are looking for a large spacious older home on a real nice corner lot, location ideal for a professional man — (office-home combination) or a 3 or 4 bdrm. home with a dandy rented apt. along with it, you should see this one on Dunlap St. The down payment is low — the mo. payment is low. More at my office. Stop in today.

FLORA ATCHISON
Services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Schrader Funeral home in Plymouth for Mrs. Flora Atchison, 87, who died Saturday at Eastlawn Resthaven in Northville. A local resident since 1948, Mrs. Atchison made her home at 136 East Cady street. She leaves three brothers, Fred Van Atta, Northville, Roy S. Van Atta, Center Hill, Florida, and Homer R. Van Atta, Detroit. Her husband, Fred E. Atchison, preceded her in death. Mrs. Atchison was born August 27, 1873 in Salem township to James and Jane (Murray) Van Atta. She was a member of Third Church of Christ Scientist, Detroit. Reader at the funeral service was Mrs. Mary Y

HERE AT LAST — The long awaited new facilities for Northville public schools Resource Center in the Amerman school arrived just in time for this year's National Library Week observance, April 16-22. New furniture, special equipment and a collection of 1,200 books, including three sets of encyclopedias, are available to both students and teachers. Miss Margaret DeKett is in charge of the center.

Set Aside Week For Mental Health

National Mental Health Week on Friday afternoon (May 5) starts Sunday and continues through May 6. Two local mental institutions, Northville State hospital and Plymouth State Home and Training school, will open their doors to visitors at special open houses planned for the national observance.

General tours at Northville State hospital are scheduled Sunday and Thursday afternoons (April 30 and May 4). They will leave continuously from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Exhibits will be open until 5 p.m.

The public will have an opportunity to tour the Plymouth State Home and Training school on Friday afternoon (May 5) at an open house to last from 1 to 3 p.m. Tours will be conducted at 1 and 2 p.m. The Plymouth facility, a hospital for the mentally retarded, is located at 15480 North Sheldon road.

Much of the effort at Northville State hospital will be devoted to outlining the headway made in treatment and care during the last several years, reports Louis J. Schuldt, community relations director. Doctors, social workers, occupational therapists, psychologists, barbers, beauty, laboratory and x-ray technicians, pharmacists and food department personnel will be available to describe their work and how their skills relate to the total treatment effort of the hospital, he said.

With careers in mental health getting special emphasis this year, Schuldt noted that several departments had been invited to prepare individual exhibits in one of the gymnasiums to illustrate not only their specific work but how interested young people may prepare themselves for a career in a rapidly changing and most worthwhile field of endeavor. Exhibits will be set up in the gymnasium of the Occupational Therapy building.

A newly opened Snack shop will be in use on Sunday afternoon for the convenience of visitors. Young people 14 and over may tour; a nursery will be provided for those who are younger.

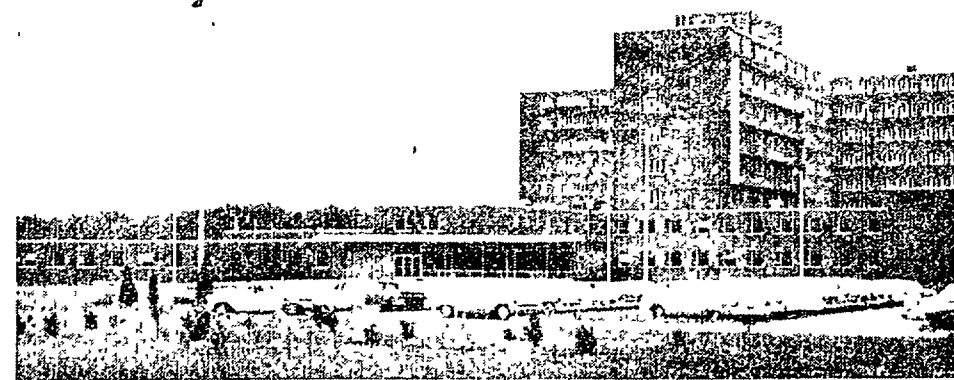

Invitations have been extended to high schools in the area to bring groups of students to the hospital during the week. A special program is being planned for them with hospital practitioners in various professions outlining and answering questions about career opportunities. They will also be able to take a tour and see the exhibits.

Service club members of northwestern Wayne county have been invited for a luncheon on Wednesday noon, May 3. Philip N. Brown, M.D., superintendent, will speak on the hospital's present efforts, its problems and its goals after the luncheon. A tour of selected hospital areas will follow.

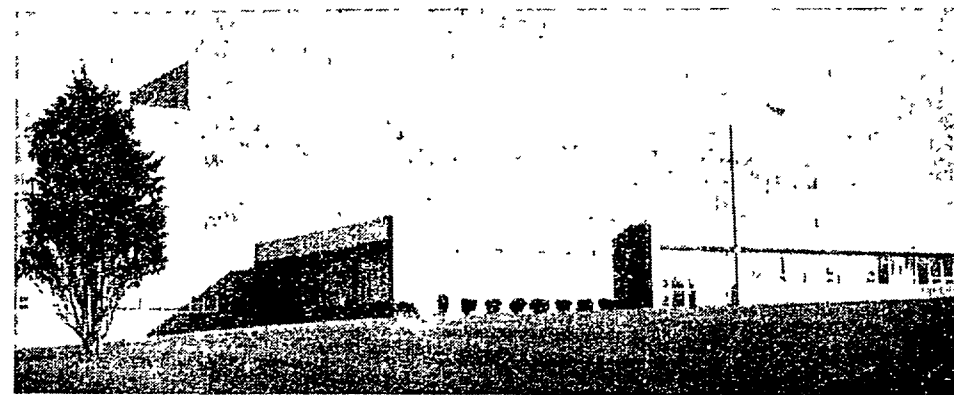

Schuldt expressed the hope that for each of the 2,100 patients in Northville State hospital, one interested citizen in the community will visit and become better acquainted with a modern mental hospital.

The Northville Record

THE OLDEST WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN WAYNE COUNTY — Thursday, April 27, 1961

Northville State hospital on Seven Mile road (above) and Plymouth State Home and Training school (below) both plan to observe Mental Health Week with open house programs.

REHABILITATION — To illustrate Northville State hospital's cooperative relationship with community agencies, Mrs. Ella Eifer, social service department supervisor and coordinator of the hospital's vocational rehabilitation program, discusses a referral of service to that program with Raymond Hinz, vocational rehabilitation supervisor, and Lloyd Meadows, director of the Jewish Vocational service research program.

Rehabilitation Is Big Part of Cure

One of the most vital areas in Northville State hospital's work is vocational rehabilitation. A full-time supervisor in this area is Raymond Hinz, 47033 Timberlane, who is associated with the South Wayne District office of the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Hinz has been working in concert with the Jewish Vocational service which is currently engaged in a research project to learn the feasibility of vocational rehabilitation for a perplexing group of patients at the hospital. It was thought at one time that departure of these particular patients from the institution was nearly impossible.

The Jewish Vocational service, encouraged by the hospital staff, applied for and in 1960 received a federal grant to study the rehabilitation potential of this group. Much of the first year was devoted to shaping the program, but first results are now beginning to show up.

Through vocational rehabilitation, patients who are vocationally handicapped because of their illness are referred for their preparation and return to suitable work. Business, trade, technical and professional programs can be authorized in community training facilities after they leave the hospital. Courses are available in blueprint reading, shop math, power sewing machine operation, basic electricity and algebra. There are also college programs, technical school programs, trade school programs, business college study, on-the-job training and a sheltered workshop.

Louis Schuldt, director of community relations, pointed to the importance of the Jewish Vocational service. Its services, its sheltered workshop and its interest in research "are invaluable in the total work of the Vocational Rehabilitation department at Northville State hospital".

The Vocational Rehabilitation department also serves as a field work training center for students from Wayne State university and Michigan State university who are earning Master's degrees as vocational rehabilitation counselors.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read (p. 315): "The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize this likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage, the liberty of the sons of God."
A selection to be read from the Bible states: "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure. Do all things without murmurings and disputings: That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world" (Philippians 2).

"South America Here They Come"

Sixty-eight Michigan high school students who will sing their way through South America this summer have been warming up for their coming two-month tour with some on-the-road practice during the past four months.

Known as the Michigan Chorale, the singing 'ambassadors of goodwill' are sponsored by the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw and Michigan Councils of Churches as part of their student exchange program.

Carol Jones, Northville high school junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jones of 791 Horton, is in the chorale's first alto section.

Since early November, Director Lester McCoy, who is also a conductor with the University Musical Society of the University of Mich., has been holding weekly rehearsals in Ann Arbor. As a prelude to the big trip South, the chorale — made up of seniors and juniors from 35 Southern Michigan high schools — has made several concert appearances. Most recent was its April performance at a convention of music educators in Columbus, Ohio. In January they sang for clergymen at the 22nd annual Michigan Pastors' conference in Ann Arbor and in February for worshippers at a Youth Week Ecumenical service in Ann Arbor. The singers went to Oxford, Michigan for a March concert, and sang at the First Baptist church in Adrian in early April.

Although the chorale is not scheduled to appear here, local residents may hear the group perform at a concert in Wayne sometime in June.

Ball to Benefit Disturbed Children

An urgent need for funds and facilities to care for emotionally disturbed children in Michigan has inspired a gala benefit, the Carrousel Ball, to be held June 3 at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel in Detroit.

The ball is the pet project of the Women's division of the Greater Detroit chapter of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

Mrs. D. Hurd Clark, 42150 East Seven Mile road, attended a luncheon hosted by Mrs. Roy A. Fruehauf, women's division president and ball chairman, last Thursday for members of the benefit's staging committee.

OBSCENITY IS SOMETHING "OUT OF PLACE"

Many times the question has been asked "How do you distinguish between what is obscene and what is not obscene?" The ordinary layman needs a guiding norm that he himself can apply in an instant with unshakable confidence.

Experts in many professions put the fact of sinfulness and the fact of shamefulness together and derive a definition of obscenity from them: what is "sinful" and "shameful" according to our community standards is obscene in books, magazines, shows, advertising and daily life.

Can it be right to take details and descriptions that ought to be reserved for scientific police studies and for the courts and expose them in books and magazines and newspapers to satisfy idle curiosity? Is it ever right to take every conceivable kind of criminal act, including those that ought to be cloaked with a veil of silence, and use them as an occasion for arousing the passions and even as an incentive to vice?

I say that there is a time and place for everything! The world seems to have lost a precious human quality: namely, the sense of the eternal fitness of things, the sense of a place for everything.

In its place, sex is God's plan for the love story of the human race. In its place, in the privacy of a Christian home and in a God-fearing life, sex is good and dignified and glorious. In its place, in the intimacy of deep and true love, sex is a human share in the creative power of Almighty God.

Out of its place, sex is lust and adultery and infidelity, a whole catalog of human sin and degradation. Out of its place, it is flaunted on the stage, screen and in public life. Let no one be deceived for long. Out of its place, sex can never be great art, great drama or great literature; life cannot contradict itself.

Stated most briefly, sex is a precious gift of God. In its time and its place, it is neither sinful nor shameful. Out of its place, it is obscenity. Clear-headed and straight-thinking adults can judge for themselves what is its proper place and what is out of place. And knowing, they can act.

IT'S FOR YOU

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Corinthians	12	12-21
Monday	Exodus	4	1-5
Tuesday	Matthew	6	1-4
Wednesday	Psalms	24	1-6
Thursday	II Corinthians	12	14-16
Friday	Genesis	49	48-49
Saturday	Matthew	28	18-20

When someone says, "It's for you," our minds begin to buzz with questions. Who is it? What do they want? Good News? Bad News? Work? Pleasure?

It's for you! Commanding words that summon our immediate attention. And those words apply as well to the Church as they do to a telephone call.

The Church is for you! Its services of worship, its program of religious education, its comforting ministrations in time of spiritual crisis... all for you!

And the Church has a vital message—good news for a discouraged world. It has a glorious work before it—a happy fellowship for men, women, and children of noble purpose.

The Church deserves your support. It's for you!

Kay had received gratis from various people, as follows: Michigan Seamless Tube Co., South Lyon, many feet of pipe; Thomson Sand and Gravel Co., sand for kindergarten sand box; Northville Mothers club, $200 for playground equipment; Parent Teacher Association, $200 to be allocated to both elementary schools and the Junior high school. These donations were to help make playground equipment at the Amerman School. Mr. Kay was complimented on his initiative and on his bulletin to the faculty, announcing the acquisitions.
 Secretary Lawrence read the following communications:
 1. Letter from Michigan State School Board Association regarding the combined meeting of the State School Superintendents Association and the School Board Association, to be held at Cobo Hall, Detroit, on September 14-16, 1961.
 2. Letter from School Board Association regarding a conference at Wayne State University on April 14th. The topic to be discussed is "Some Personal Concerns of School Board Members".
 3. Read the following communication listing the amounts received from delinquent and current tax collections and in payment of 1960-61 tuition: Taxes — Current: Salem township, $6,470.88; Northville township, $50,000; City of Northville, $2,018.09; Lyon township, $4,834.36.  The Board of Education approved the proposed budget, as amended, and suggested that an item be included to indicate the amount necessary to pay faculty members during the summer, who are on the 12-month plan.
 Mr. James Littell, Board of Education attorney, entered the meeting at 8:30 p.m.
 West Street — It was moved by Mr. Lawrence seconded by Dr. Johnson that a resolution be passed indicating the School District's unwillingness to accept the vacation of West street conditioned as proposed by the Northville City Council and requesting that West street be vacated between Main street and Cady street without any limiting conditions, in accordance with the original understanding and agreement of the School District and the City of Northville.
 This resolution was passed unanimously.
 Go-Carts — Mr. Littell will study the problem of Go-Carts and power model airplanes using school playgrounds or parking areas for their respective activities.
 The question has been raised regarding liability of the School district in the event some person is injured as a result of go-carts or model airplane activity.
 Attorney-General — Mr. Littell will check with the Attorney General to determine the necessity of having a representative at the meeting to discuss the possible anti-trust violation in the purchase of bleachers.
 E. Report of the Superintendent — Insurance The Superintendent reported that he and Mr. Ellison had carefully checked all of our fire insurance policies with Mr. Charles Carrington, our Agent of Record, and that there will be no changes in the amount of coverage this year. However, rates are being substantially reduced.
 Bus Repair — Mr. Ellison was requested to outline his views on repair of school buses and trucks for the 1961-62 school year. Mr. Ellison stated that the mechanic who now does our work would be willing to work full time for us at $100 per week. He would drive morning and night and work on repairs during the day. No action was taken on the proposal.
 F. Committee Reports — Legislation — Mr. Kipper reviewed legislation pending in the State Legislature that will affect schools in 1961-62.
 Mr. Kipper suggested that school organizations, Boards of Education and interested individuals should write to key members of the legislature in order that proper support for education will be approved at this session of the legislature.
 President Shafer suggested that each member study the education bills and that the Board might want to consider a definite course of action at the April 24th meeting.
 Grounds — Mr. Crump stated that Mr. Jones and he will meet with the committee to discuss further the completion of the field event stations at the new football field.
 Airborne T.V. — Mr. Becker reported that he was still reviewing the material on air borne T.V.

your comfort is custom-made in an ALL-ELECTRIC HOME with flameless electric heat bedroom 67° bathroom 78° kitchen 73°

Why has the number of electrically heated homes in the United States tripled in the past three years? Why will more families choose them in the future? Because built-in electric heat gives each room its own heating system—with individual control. You keep every room at just the temperature you want, change it in a jiffy. Electric heat saves space, and is as clean and safe as electric light. And electric heat is so even, comfortable. You enjoy even heat from head to feet, all over the room in every room. Features like these make electric heat worth the extra cost. And that cost can be leveled out over the year on Edison's Budget Billing Plan.
 This most modern of all heating systems is available in All-Electric Homes—the homes that will still be modern when your children grow up. All-Electric Homes offer... ■ Total electric kitchen with built-in electric oven and range for cooking without looking. ■ Electric water heater that's flameless, cool to the touch, supplies lots of hot water over a long, long life. ■ At least two other important work-saving appliances, such as food waste disposer, dishwasher, refrigerator, freezer, washer, dryer. ■ Light for Living, with path-of-light switching and fixtures picked by experts for eye comfort, good looks and safety. ■ Certified Wiring with plenty of circuits and outlets for today's work-savers, plus extra capacity for tomorrow's. Includes circuit for electric clothes dryer.
 An All-Electric Home is a better investment, too. Should you move, an All-Electric Home with flameless electric heat will bring a better resale price than a similar home without a built-in electrical future. For information, mail coupon.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Siler

An editor's mail is filled with letters of all descriptions — many seeking news releases that in reality are camouflaged advertisements, others that are informative and contain excellent background information, once in awhile a note of praise (honest), and, perhaps more often, constructive criticism.

Following our recent publication of area officials we received about a half dozen calls or letters of appreciation — for which we are appreciative.

It proves that many people are definitely interested in their city, township, school, county, state and national representatives.

Along this line, a letter was recently received from Councilman John Canterbury proposing that some publicity be given the availability of city charter books.

According to city hall estimates, only about a dozen copies of the book have been distributed since it was adopted — December 13, 1955.

Charters are available, too, in our neighboring communities of Novi and Wixom.

They may be purchased (usually at a nominal fee) or merely examined for content.

Probably few people understand the basic structure and principles around which their respective charters were drawn.

It sets forth taxation procedures and powers, council organization and duties, elections and the general organization of the specific government.

Charters are continually undergoing amendments as they are needed, but these, too, are available and usually are inserted at the rear of the book.

Presently, the Northville city council is making a complete review of its ordinances preparatory to codification. Outmoded ordinances will be cast aside and duplication eliminated.

Available, too, are copies of the zoning regulations that set forth our residential, commercial and industrial areas — and provide just what can be done, where and in what manner so far as building is concerned.

Zoning requirements bring about more heated debate than probably any other single facet of community government. Cases in point exist today (and rather strongly) in both the city and township of Northville and the village of Novi.

A better understanding of these problems is certain to result from an examination of the basic rules. They're available at your clerk's office.

Speaking of planning, we're reminded of the fine job turned in by the city council, planning commission, board of appeals and city manager in handling the approval of the Kroger project.

Programs of this magnitude require careful groundwork and many details come up for examination before the various governmental bodies. The council was charged with the responsibility of ruling on the sale of the scout building; the planners had to give site approval; the board of appeals had to grant certain variances; the city manager had to coordinate the procedure.

Because on occasion the public (as well as this newspaper) has suggested that "feet dragging" was employed on other projects, we point out now that both attention to details and accommodating promptness were employed to bring this important project into being.

The work of George Zerbel and his planning commission deserves special praise

Bull Market End

Babson Park, Mass., After fifty years of study of the stock market, I tender a list of signs for the culmination of a bull market, and offer an important final conclusion.

1. I like to notice the number of shareholders of the larger corporations. When the number of shareholders begins to decline, it means to me that we are nearing the end of the bull market... that the insiders are selling out.

2. I watch the level of brokers' loans and the degree of market activity. There is a steady rise in both of these preceding the culmination of a bull market.

3. I like to watch the published percentage of total borrowing by members of the New York Stock exchange. When it is 6% or more, the stock market is in a vulnerable position.

4. A prolonged period of tight money with low bond prices and large stock transactions usually points to the termination of a bull market. Of course now, with President Kennedy attempting to control the money market, this situation is not so significant.

5. Although the Dow-Jones averages may continue to go up for some time before the bull market culminates, this does not mean that the stocks you hold will go up any further. Therefore the table of New Lows which appear in the daily newspapers should be watched and compared with the general averages.

6. Never wait until the movement in the stock market appears on the front page of your daily newspaper. The news paper's city editor determines when the stock market news should appear on the front page. It is always well to be acquainted with that man and find out how he stands with his holdings.

7. The relation between stocks and bonds is worth watching. As a rule, bonds begin to decline first. As long as the bond yields are falling, there need be little fear of the bull market's culminating.

8. All the talk about mergers, consolidations, etc., should be read. Naturally, the directors of a company are in the best position to get company news. As long as the company is earning good money and its prospects are good, directors are not interested in consolidations or mergers.

Hence, these news items about consolidations may be good signals that a bull market is culminating. In the case of the death of a large stockholder, this is usually a signal that the stock will sell off.

When you make up your mind that the bull market is culminating, you should not be too anxious to get out at the top. When deciding to sell, enter an order to sell "at a fair market," rather than a fixed brokerage houses always balance the relative number of orders to buy or sell and the prices at which the orders are to be executed. As these brokers compare notes, when they go out to lunch, the game is stacked against those who are depending on "fixed" selling orders.

Conclusion: In the long run, we must not forget Sir Isaac Newton's "Law of Action and Reaction" pronounced in 1687 and translated into English in 1729. Since the beginning of time, every period of prosperity has gone too far and has been followed by a period of reaction. When we were on the gold basis, the investor could forecast this change; but now we are on a political basis instead. President Kennedy, the Federal Reserve, and Congress can extend the present bull market — but they are simply delaying the final evil day by so doing.

Finally, always be prepared for some unexpected event. Such an event usually marks the immediate culmination of a bull market.

Prisons' Mental Cases

Mentally ill men in Michigan prisons need help they are not getting.

A program is underway that would shift some of the people in mental institutions to the Howell Tuberculosis Sanatorium. The mental patients would be shifted in such a way as to make room at the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane for dangerous psychotics from the prisons.

But what the Corrections experts would really like to see is a separate unit for psychiatric care.

They would prefer to have this diagnostic and treatment center, which would take care of chronically ill as well as mentally and emotionally disturbed inmates, in the Detroit or Ann Arbor area.

There are several reasons why this location is preferred. It would be close to the research facilities of state universities. It would be near the metropolitan areas of southeast Michigan where many offenders are apprehended. It would be centrally located to most of the prisons and mental institutions of the state.

Ideally, the diagnostic and treatment facility would serve as a reception center for screening of all convicted felons.

While Michigan's corrections system has many urgent needs, the lack of adequate facilities and staff to care for mental cases seems to be the most critical.

Warden William H. Bannan, of State Prison of Southern Michigan, recently warned legislators during budget hearings that the discipline situation at the Jackson institution is currently more explosive than it was just before the infamous 1952 riots.

The supervisory staff is better able to deal with problem situations now, but mentally ill persons at large in the general prison population constitute a tremendous hazard.

Getting state money for a diagnostic treatment center is just one of the problems for the Corrections Department. It would cost more than $18 million.

Until such a facility is provided, the department faces a tough job in keeping professionally competent people staffing existing diagnosis and treatment units within the prisons.

"The state Corrections Department believes that proper treatment of the psychotic, the emotionally unbalanced and the chronically ill would be an investment that would pay off in a reduction of the number of returns to the state's prison system," a recent report on the situation said.

Non-stop driving, especially on superhighways, increases the chance of an accident, the state Highway Department believes.

In fact, monotony is increased by the very ease of driving on the four-lane freeways that are part of the interstate highway system in Michigan.

One weapon in the fight against fatigue is the so-called "rest area" being included in contracts for new freeways.

These parking areas along side rural sections of the interstate system, where motorists can stretch their legs and otherwise make themselves alert for more hours of driving, cost from $60,000 to $80,000 each.

About 100 rest areas are now planned for the state's freeway system. They will be about 35 to 50 miles apart.

Federal law prohibits commercial service facilities within the highway right-of-way on interstate routes, but the rest areas are expected to keep drivers more alert and less likely to have an accident.

Indications are that the common "gas station" may be one of the most risky businesses in Michigan.

While motoring miles continue to increase, and multitudes of super-service stations thrive by selling gasoline, oil, other products and service to customers, the bankruptcy rate for this most familiar of business ventures is appalling.

Homer V. Lundberg, Dowagiac, who operates Small Business United, Inc., says all firms of this type need to thrive is their chance to get going on their own.

In an appearance recently before the state Senate Taxation Committee, which was studying property taxes, Lundberg mentioned the plight of the gas stations.

He said there was a 37 percent bankruptcy rate among service stations last year.

The roughly 200,000 small businesses, employing an average of two workers each, should be considered as a vital part of the overall picture when the talk turns to business taxes, Lundberg said. And lawmakers would do well to think twice about the 9,600 or so gas stations in Michigan, he said.
