

Petitions Protest Assessments for Paving

If the city council had vision of adopting a new approach to street improvements by initiating a proposed 20 per cent assessment program, the plan suffered a serious setback Monday night.

And the two individuals most responsible for the new turn of events are both former council members themselves.

Sid Frid, once a village commission member and currently the city council's representative on the Oakland county board of supervisors, presented petitions bearing nearly 300 signatures protesting special assessments to improve unpaved streets in the original city limits.

The action was initiated by Earl Reed, who retired from the council last month. Reed has always opposed special assessments for street improvement, contending that the council should continue paying the full amount from general funds.

Advocates of a proposed 20 per cent assessment plan have been Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman John Canterbury. Councilman Richard Juday stood with Reed against assessments, while new council members Richard Ambler and Beatrice Carlson appear divided. Ambler spoke in favor of the assessment approach, while Councilwoman Carlson stated prior to election that she opposed street assessments.

The petition action Monday night was sparked by an agreement reached with residents of the first block of Center street north of the new Eight Mile road cut-off.

Meeting with the council March 27 residents of the portion of the street across from the Amerman school generally agreed that they wanted the heavily-travelled street paved badly enough to share a percentage of the cost.

This alternative was the only road left open in the Center street instance. The school board had ruled that it could not (as owners of the property on the west side of Center) participate in the cost of the improvement unless owners on the east side were assessed to some degree.

And the city had said that it could not pave the street in the near future unless the school district would be willing to share the cost. Conversely, the school board's position has been that it could not share the cost unless a special assessment district was created to include property owners on both sides of the street.

Monday night's petitions did not object to the Center street residents participating in the cost of the paving, so long as they are willing — but it did object to the implication that the 20 per cent assessment plan would apply to unpaved streets located in the old village limits.

In presenting the petitions Frid also took the opportunity to fire a barrage of charges at the city.

He was particularly disturbed by the revelation Monday night that residents of many of the city's paved streets were assessed back in 1927 — thus destroying the myth that all streets have been paved from general funds.

It has been generally believed that a special assessment on approximately a dozen streets in 1927 was thrown out by the court and money returned to the property owners involved.

But a report made Monday night by the city manager — at the suggestion of Councilman Ambler — revealed that a compromise settlement was made. Property owners were obligated to pay $1.50 per foot for the paving, which amounted to between 20 and 35 per cent of the cost. Property owners not filing claim for the rebate paid 100 per cent.

Frid called the revelation of this case "just an excuse to change the rules" for the property owners who do not live on paved streets.

He asked the council "what do cities do without $100,000 from race tracks?" He further charged that "the cost of running the city has doubled in five years" and that it was understood when Northville became a city that "all the track money would be used for street improvements."

Frid's charges brought replies from the council before returning to the business at hand. City attorney Philip Ogilvie stated that taxes had been reduced after incorporation and he also challenged Frid's statement that the cost of running the city had doubled in the past five years.

(Note: The city budget was $275,560 five years ago; a budget of $349,135 is proposed for 1961).

Mayor Allen bristled at the charge that all track funds should be used for street improvements. He ordered the city manager to report at the next meeting what tax millage increase would be needed to pay for other services if all track funds were used for street improvements.

Councilman Canterbury chimed in to say that he would approve of that. "We've already discussed this possibility and it would take a 50 per cent boost," he stated.

Former Councilman Reed argued that the people on unpaved streets have "an equity in the streets already paved" and that it would not be equitable to assess them.

Councilman Juday said that Center street was a "special case" and should not set a precedent for other streets. "The school created the problem on North Center street," Juday pointed out. He said that Orchard drive, Walnut, East, High and North Center are the only city streets in dire need of paving and that many people do not want their streets paved badly enough to help pay for the improvement.

Juday continued by pointing out that in 1927 and 1928 there were no track funds available, so property owners had to be assessed.

Canterbury agreed that there is "unfairness on both sides" but stated that the city would be "perpetuating a mistake" to continue paving from general funds. He pointed out that people who have paid for their streets, that "this is the way 1927 assessment and in the city's new subdivisions — now must help pay for other streets. He added that even under the assessment plan the general fund still pays the major portion of the improvement and that the benefiting property owner pays only a small percentage.

Mayor Allen finally asked that the motion to adopt an initiatory resolution for the paving of North Center street be tabled.

"We'll talk to residents of Center street north of the first block and see how they feel," he added. The mayor concluded that if the people do not want to be specially assessed, and are willing to wait until the city has funds to pave the streets, that "this is the way it will be."

Flags Hail Loyalty Day

STARS AND STRIPES TIME — These eight students represent the four elementary schools in Northville, which were presented new 50-star flags by the Northville VFW post Monday. The occasion was Loyalty Day. On the left is Lawrence MacArthur, post chairman of the project. In the front row, left to right, are Glenn Delbert (Amerman), Claudia Whitehorn (Main street) and Susie Murany (Amerman). Second row, Frank Martin (left, of St. Paul's Lutheran school), Martin McNeice (Main street), Bonnie McKinney (Amerman), and Tom Krauter (St. Paul's). 'Really Big' Carny On Tap Tomorrow

Northville's biggest family fun romp of the year — the annual P-T-A Carnival — swings into action tomorrow night under three "big tops", the community building, junior high school and Main street elementary school.

With the accent on something for all ages, P-T-A planners have been working for months, getting all the attractions of a typical "carny" midway ready for the hundreds of youngsters and oldsters that turn out for the event each year.

As always there will be all the old favorites in booths — with full course portions will games of chance, tests of skill, kick-off the carnival. Meals will and other contests with plenty of prizes. To spice up the bill of fare this year, two new activities are on tap, a street dance sponsored by the Newcomers club and a makeup booth.

Main street in front of the community building will be roped off from 7-9 p.m. for the street dance. Dancing in the round is planned along with square dancing called by Sam Clark of Clark's Modern Squares on Seven Mile road. Bob Williams band will furnish the music.

Elsie Sedan is taking charge of the makeup booth where youngsters and oldsters that turn out for the event each year.

Annual Clean-up Street Wash Opens Drive

Man the mops and watch out for the hoses! Northville will launch its fourth annual Beautify Northville campaign Saturday with the traditional street scrub-down in the business district.

Valuations Up in City, Township

County equalization figures reveal an increase in assessed valuation in both the city and township of Northville for 1951 of nearly one million dollars each.

In the township the new county equalized valuation of real and personal property is $10,507,600 compared to $9,508,140 last year. The county equalization factor for 1951 is 1.027, down slightly from last year's 1.03. (The equalization factor multiplied by the local assessment equals the county equalized valuation).

Biggest increase in valuation in the township was in personal property (equipment and inventories) — a boost of $653,510.

In the city the new county assessed valuation is $11,206,752 — an increase from $10,166,291.

All of the city's increase in valuation is in the Oakland county section of the city where some 255 acres were annexed last year from Novi (including Northville Estates).

The Oakland county section of the city has a county equalized assessed valuation of $3,115,372 compared to $2,024,071 last year. In the Wayne county section of the city the county equalized assessed valuation is actually down slightly from $8,142,220 last year to $8,091,380 this year.

The state equalization factor in both the Wayne and Oakland county sections of the city is expected to be 1.19. The county factor in Oakland is 1.19 and will undoubtedly remain the same. The Wayne county factor is 1.03 but will probably be increased at the state level to about 1.19.

Final equalization of property is made by the state. Property owners then pay their school, county and township taxes based on the state equalized valuation of their property. City tax millage is levied against local assessed valuations.

Proceeds from the carnival — which total nearly $1,000 annually — finance P-T-A scholarships and other projects supported by the group.

Chet Lipa heads the 1951 carnival. Working with him has been his assistant, Douglas Simpson, and committee members, Edward F. Angove, Dayton Deal, Robert W. Bogart, Wayne McBride, activities and organizations; Donald B. Severson, game prizes; E. V. Ellison, tickets; John Steimel and John Goss, door prizes; Frank Cochrane, set-up.

Mrs. D. E. Schwendemann and Mrs. Anita Hallum, publicity and advertising; Ron Horvath and Alex Callihan, parking; Mrs. Herman A. Wedemeyer and Mrs. Bernard Bach, dinner.

Also helping out are treasurers William and Stella Stein, 1950 carnival chairman Ivan Ely, secretary Mrs. Wynn Wakenhut, P-T-A presidents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beerbower and school administrators.

Charles Freydl, Jr., is in charge of the street cleaning project. And while he has called upon merchants and businessmen to join in the clean-up, he also has invited all community-minded citizens to take part.

While firemen hose down Main and Center streets in the business district, the crew of cleaners will scrub away until the streets shine. Freydl asks that workers bring their own scrub brushes.

The street cleaning project is traditionally the kick-off of the local clean-up campaign.

And during the last three years the month-long drive has had tremendous success.

As proof the community has three first place trophies won in the national "Cleanest Town" contest.

Chairman of the 1951 campaign is W. C. Becker. Working with Becker as chairman of special events is Jack Swain, general chairman of the 1950 drive. Dr. George Moerke will assist with photography. Paul Palmer with the trash collection and Freydl the street cleaning event.

Becker emphasized that the annual campaign is an invitation to all residents to turn their attention to beautifying their community.

"If every resident just cleans and beautifies around his own home, it will have a tremendous impact," Becker pointed out.

In line for attention again this year will be the city-wide trash pick-up. Becker said that May 20 has been set as a tentative date for this project. Meanwhile, residents can be cleaning up attics, garages and yards — knowing that within two or three weeks a crew of volunteers will be around to haul the discards away.

The city's official tree, the flowering crab, will again be sold by junior high school student council members.

Becker also stated that the Joe Denton park would receive attention and emphasis in this year's campaign.

The city council got in the spirit of the annual drive Monday night by okaying plans for planter boxes at both entrances to the city parking lot behind the Methodist church.

In addition the council examined preliminary plans for landscaping Denton park.

Saturday's street cleaning is scheduled to begin at 7:30 a.m.

Re-zoning Passed

The city council approved two rezoning requests at separate public hearings Monday night.

Some 5 acres belonging to John Jones of Baseline road were rezoned to permit construction of an apartment project. Property owned by the Donald Wares, zoned C-1, was rezoned R-2-A, to permit apartment housing.

Supreme Court Rules Estates Annex Valid

Adelbert W. Hahn, Ex-Mayor, Dies at 57

Adelbert W. Hahn, a former village commissioner and president, died suddenly Tuesday evening at the age of 57.

He suffered a heart attack at his 548 West Main street home and was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Mary hospital one hour later.

Funeral services will be conducted from the First Presbyterian church at 11 a.m. Friday. Officiating will be the Rev. Lloyd G. Brasure and the Rev. Harold Fredsell. The body will be at the Dempsey B. Ebert Funeral Home until Friday's services.

Mr. Hahn was the owner of Hahn and Company, a mortgage banking and insurance firm in Detroit. His firm specializes in air travel insurance.

He was elected to the village commission in 1942 and was elected president of the village in 1944.

Mr. Hahn attended Albion college and was graduated from the University of Michigan school of business administration. He was a member of the Detroit Athletic Club, Meadowbrook Country club, a charter member of the Northville Optimist club, and attended the First Presbyterian church of Northville where he once served as a trustee.

Mr. Hahn was born January 9, 1904 in Fort Wayne, Indiana. He had been a Northville resident for 25 years.

Besides his wife, who was with him at the Hahn home when he was stricken Tuesday evening, he is survived by a son, John K. Hahn of Columbus, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Alice Lackey of Jackson; a brother, Gerald Hahn of Grosse Pointe; and five grandchildren.

The family requests that donations be directed to the Heart Fund association.

It took a year to decide, but some 235 acres formerly a part of the village and township of Novi have been officially declared annexed to the city of Northville.

In a suit brought by the village of Novi against the secretary of state and city of Northville the supreme court ruled that a March 28, 1950 annexation was valid and proper.

The decision came as a blow to the village of Novi which had incorporated a little more than two years ago to protect its borders against the possible loss of area by annexation (see Speaking for the Record, page 16).

It also prompted the filing of petitions Monday night at the Novi village council meeting seeking an election to incorporate the village into a city. The petitions were circulated by a dozen interested citizens and submitted by Russell But-ton, a former village councilman.

Specifically, the area annexed to Northville includes the 120-acre Northville Estates subdivision at the northeast corner of Beck and Baseline roads and 135 acres on Baseline east of Northville Estates and connecting the subdivision to the city limits at a point 1,000 feet west of Taft road.

The original annexation action was brought about by petitions filed by members of the Northville Estates civic association.

The subdivision, composed of some 40 homes in the $25,000 to $50,000 class, was in the township of Novi but not the village. To gain admittance to the city of Northville, however, the area had to abut upon the city limits. Thus the 135 acre parcel, lying in the village, had to be included in the annex effort.

The election vote favored annexation in the Novi area involved, 53 to 9, while city of Northville voters supported the bid, 289 to 144.

The Novi village council decided to fight the election in court on the advice of Village Attorney Howard Bond who contended that the entire population of the village should have been permitted to vote in the election.

Bond's contention was based on the provisions of the village home rule act. But the court ruled in a unanimous vote that its provisions do not govern the annexation of territory to cities, which is covered in the city home rule act.

Specifically, the provision on which Northville City Attorney Philip Ogilvie based his case — and which the high court ruled as proper — provides: "That territory may be attached or detached to or from cities having a population of 15,000 or less if a majority of the electors voting on the question in the city to or from which territory is to be attached or detached, and a majority of the electors from that portion of the territory ... vote

OFFICIALS of Wayne and Oakland county road commissions have announced that East Eight Mile road from the new cut-off to Haggerty will be resurfaced and widened this summer. Condemnation proceedings for right-of-way are expected to delay work until July.

8 Mile Paving To Start in July

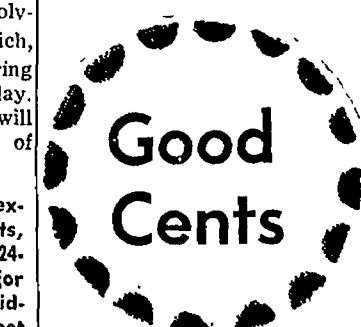

Construction on the re-paving and widening of Eight Mile road from Northville to Haggerty is expected to begin in late June or early July, according to Oakland and Wayne county road commission officials.

Both counties now are involved in condemnation suits which, it was indicated, should bring about no unnecessary delay. Bid-taking for the work will probably start at the end of this month.

The $450,000 project, exclusive of right-of-way costs, calls specifically for a 24-foot concrete road. A major part of the work will be widening the present 66-foot right-of-way to 120 feet which is called for on the master plan. Of this 120 feet, 60 will come from each side of the county line — the center of Eight Mile.

While the road itself will be widened only four feet, road shoulders will be extended from their present two-to-four foot widths to the normal 10-foot widths.

The improvement will make Eight Mile a major highway to and from Detroit with more direct and speedier access to Grand River and the James Couzens-John Lodge expressway.

Today, Friday and Saturday are big days for the penny in Northville.

Its buying power will zoom to new heights as local retail merchants celebrate one cent sale days.

Shoppers will find that when they buy a variety of items at regular prices for another penny they can purchase such values as shirts, garden hose, chairs, jackets, rakes, earrings, sweaters, watchbands, transistor radio, a can of beans or a hamburger!

Sound fantastic? Just turn to pages 11, 13 and 15 for more of the same. Then gather your pennies and hustle downtown.

Red Cross Blood Bank

Northville's annual blood bank, which in past years has drawn the praises of Red Cross officials, will be staged Friday,

May 26 at the First Methodist church.

Appointments for prospective donors are already being accepted. Area residents are urged to call either FI 9-2361 or FI 9-1330 for appointments.

All blood donated here is credited to the Northville community account through the Red Cross which acts as a banker in the blood program. However, the local branch will credit the blood to any group account specified by the donor. Blood is stored at the Detroit

Chapter house, 153 East Elizabeth. When needed the blood is released from the community account by one of three local officials. They are Mrs. A. C. Carlson, branch chairman, Mrs. C. C. Winter, blood bank chairman, and Mrs. Emma Reid, a board member.

There is no charge for the blood, although persons requesting blood are asked to secure donors to replace the number of pints received when the blood mobile comes to Northville.

During the past year more than 60 pints of blood were released from the community bank to Northville residents.

MICHIGAN IS NATURAL RESOURCES

Michigan's natural bounty has attracted industry since the days when beaver pelts were money. And it will continue to do so, for the whole foreseeable future.

Michigan remains rich in raw materials. Fresh water (what other states would give for what we take for granted!), salt, bromine, magnesium compounds, iron ore, lumber and pulp, oil, gas, cement, gypsum, sand, peat, copper—the list reads like the vital statistics of modern industry and commerce.

And with such assets—and with the raw materials of all the rest of the world so readily available by economical water transportation—Michigan will always be a good place in which to live and work, a great place for industry.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip these ads and mail them to people in other states with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

DISEASE in all its guises is heart-rending. While some forms badger all age groups, particularly distressing are those cases in which helpless children are stricken. The vitality of these youthful victims is ebbing; sometimes their lives are nipped in the bud.

In Detroit there is a group of 34 scientists and their assistants who are directing their allied talents to solving problems of very ill children. They carry on clinical and basic research in the laboratories of the Child Research Center at 600 Frederick street.

LAST Friday's mail brought a notice from the Child Research Center League, a women's service group which is holding its "Christmas in May" luncheon at Meadowbrook country club Wednesday, May 24.

LEND A HAND

News of the affair would have drawn a complete blank — we knew little of the Child Research Center, much less that it had a league — except for a conversation a few weeks ago with Mrs. Robert Regenhart of 44428 Cottisford road, who stopped by to drop off some literature on one of her latest interests, the Child Research Center. She belongs to the 21-member league that helps out at the center.

We asked Mrs. Regenhart how she first got acquainted with the center and its league. Through a personal friend, she replied, a friend who knew the center well — her child had leukemia. This mother became the league's first president.

JUST a year old, the league has its work cut out. Members staff the center five mornings a week; they help the doctors when they can and take care of children whose brothers or sisters are being examined. They work on money making projects, too, like the "Sound of Music" benefit night they sponsored not long ago.

"I'm up to my ears in red and green right now," commented Mrs. Regenhart, talking about the "Yule Shoppe" scheduled by the league for next November 30, December 1 and 2. Members and friends can learn more about the shoppe at the May 24 luncheon.

ABOUT THE CENTER

WHAT about the facility that has sparked these women? Historically, the building housing the Child Research Center of Michigan was erected as headquarters for the Children's Fund of Michigan by Senator James Couzens. Children's Fund research laboratories mapped activities vital to the welfare of children in the 1930's and 1940's.

The present center now makes use of these research facilities through the cooperation of the Children's hospital which inherited the building. It has also obtained affiliation with Wayne State university.

RESEARCH is the center's foremost concern, particularly "basic" research. What makes basic research so important? As explained by the clinic: "The frontal attack on dread diseases can succeed only after basic research, the painstaking exploration of many seemingly remote facts has placed new weapons in the hands of the clinical investigator."

For example, "Atomic energy could not be envisioned until the basic scientific problems of the nature of the atom had been solved in the decades of pure, 'impractical' inquiry. Then — but only then — it became an engineering problem to be solved by a concentrated effort."

"It is the same in medical science. Polio vaccine became possible only after many scientists had learned many fundamental facts about vaccines, cells and immunity, had learned to grow (in test tubes) human cells and animal cells which later proved capable of supporting growth of the polio virus so it could be tamed and mass produced."

Since 1954 — that's when the center succeeded the Children's Fund Research laboratories — work has centered in three areas: heredity, chemistry and viruses. Significant contributions have been made, the clinic reports, to the understanding of inherited blood diseases; leukemia; the Rh factor and the blood group incompatibilities between the pregnant mother and her child; kidney disease and the nature of blood proteins; jaundice in the newborn as it relates to mental retardation and cerebral palsy in later life; the transmission of infectious diarrhea in newborn nurseries. A major division is also devoted to tissue culture experimentation.

LUNCHEON PLANS

Dr. Wolf W. Zuelzer, director of the center, and some board members will be at Meadowbrook May 24, said Mrs. Regenhart.

League women and friends will be treated to a parade of fashions at the luncheon. Styles from summer - time - to skitime will be shown with something for everyone from baby to grandma.

FESTIVITIES will start with a social hour and shopping at 11:30 a.m. followed by luncheon at 12:45 p.m. and then by a brief progress report of league activities during the past year. A showing of children's and adult's handmade clothes from league workshops is scheduled to close the afternoon.

Northville acquired five newcomers the day after Christmas when Harry and Audrey Weiser, with their three youngsters, Harry, Jr., 11, Renee, 7, and Kenneth, 4, moved to the Village Green subdivision from a home in Northwest Detroit.

It was actually a combination of work and play that brought the family here.

The Weisers had driven through the area often enroute to Whitmore Lake where they run their 16-foot boat powered with an outboard motor. But they began seriously considering a move to Northville while Weiser, a plumber for contractor Ben Glasier, was working on the Village Green project.

Now they're pretty well settled in the house at 589 Langfield, although there still is the lawn to put in. Harry, Jr. and Renee go to St. Paul's Lutheran school; Kenneth stays home with Mom.

They are all waiting for the weather to warm up so they can get back on the lakes for some boating, water skiing and swimming.

Full House Applauds Concert Here

A capacity crowd thoroughly enjoyed a Sunday afternoon concert at the Northville high school auditorium presented by the Scottish Rite Male Chorus and the First Presbyterian church Bell Ringers.

With the 25-voice male choruses leading off, the two groups alternated selections. The program opened with "Prayer of Thanksgiving" presented by both groups and concluded with the chorus, bell ringers and audience singing "Faith of our Fathers."

In between was an hour and a half of exceptional entertainment with both the chorus and bell ringers receiving prolonged audience applause.

The first four selections of the Scottish Rite chorus were "The Lord's Prayer" — referred to as its "signature" by Director Robert Jones — "Let There Be Music", "Sanctus" and "Laudamus".

The Bell Ringers, directed by W. G. Williams, presented nine selections.

A light touch was introduced by the chorus with the singing of "Oklahoma", "Seventy-Six Trombones" and selections from "The Sound of Music".

The concert was sponsored by the First Presbyterian Men's club and was arranged by Jan Reef, club president, W. G. Williams and James Cowie.

Kitchen Diary

Chicken Makes Savory, Price-Wise Casserole

Mrs. Earl Chappell, 816 North Center, has perfect menu partners for entertaining guests or feeding a family. Her Chicken A'La Larrabee, besides being a savory casserole, is a time-ly main dish with price-wise chicken as the main ingredient. Prepared beforehand, it gives the cook a few minutes to sit back and relax before mealtime.

For a tempting dessert Mrs. Chappell's Macaroon Pudding will fill the bill. She alternates layers of macaroons with layers of custard and tops the confection with whipped cream. Nuts and candied cherries may also be added, notes the homemaker.

Mrs. Earl Chappell

CHICKEN A'LA LARRABEE

Place alternate layers of chicken, eggs (chopped fine) and cracker crumbs in baking dish; add enough chicken broth to just cover; dot with butter. Bake 45 minutes in moderate oven. Serve from baking dish.

MACARON PUDDING

Theatre Guild Cast Rehearses

Casting for the "Philadelphia Story", Plymouth Theatre Guild production coming up May 11, 12, 13, and 14, has been completed, reports director Al Murdoch.

A light, bright comedy set in society doings, "Philadelphia Story" centers around young socialite Tracy Lord. Tracy (Betsey Gibson) is about to be married to staid, conservative George (Bill Moore). However, the arrival of a reporter-photographer team, Mike (Skip Lucas) and Liz (Loretta Young), kindles Tracy's doubts about the wedding. Then her ex-flame, Dexter (John Cannon), returns, and Tracy vacillates between the two.

Humorous touches are provided by Uncle Willie (George Hudson) and playboy father Seth (Matt Fortney). Sparking the interplay is star-struck sister Dinah (Hollis Haynes) and sarcastic brother Sandy (Nick Carpenter).

Strong supporting roles are those of Mrs. Lord (Effie Kuisel), the butler Thomas (Larry Schendel), Elsie (Petra Schneider), Mac (Bill Kamen), May (Marge Murawski), and Reverend Parsons (John Glanz).

Modern Art; What is It?, Ask Artists

Three Cities Art club will try to answer the puzzling question "What is Modern Art?" at its meeting Tuesday, May 9 at 8 p.m. in the Dunning-Hough library, Plymouth.

A film of modern art will be shown and discussed by John E. Van Haren, former Northville high school art teacher now teaching at Eastern Michigan university in Ypsilanti.

A specialist in the watercolor or medium, Van Haren has had paintings accepted for the Michigan Artists' show the past several years. He is currently included in the Michigan Watercolor society's traveling exhibit and has again been accepted to exhibit in this year's Michigan Artists' annual show soon to be seen at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The public is cordially invited by the Three Cities Art club to attend this third annual lecture in Art. Questions on all phases of art will be welcomed and answered by Mr. Van Haren.

Paintings by members of the club will be exhibited in the library.

Building Permits Up For First Quarter

Metropolitan area housing construction continued to lag during the first quarter of 1961, the Regional Planning Commission revealed this week.

Permits were issued for 2,033 dwelling units. In recent years, the planning commission reported, only early 1958 showed a lower total, with that period reflecting the general economic recession then taking place.

Only two-thirds as many housing units were authorized in the first quarter of 1961 compared to 1960. According to the commission, depressed economic conditions, relatively high financing rates and local building bans because of inadequate sewer facilities are responsible for this decrease.

All of the 10 communities with the greatest number of dwelling permits issued, showed decreases. Warren, which led construction in the first quarter with 568, last year was top with 832.

In Oakland county, some 711 dwelling permits were issued during this first-quarter period. Topping the list was Royal Oak with 125. Permits issued in area communities: South Lyon 3; Lyon township 2; Novi 8; Wixom 0; and Walled Lake 0.

A total of 448 permits were issued in Wayne county, with Livonia leading with 200 permits. Seven permits were issued in Northville, one in Northville township. Plymouth recorded 19 and Plymouth township four.

Washtenaw county recorded a total of 191 permits. Ann Arbor led with 96 permits. No permits were reported in Northfield township and only one was issued in Salem township.

Planning commission officials point out that all these figures represent the difference between new residential building permits issued and dwelling unit demolitions.

Wixom Plant Hikes Output

Production figures for the Ford Motor Company's Wixom plant showed a boost in production for both the Lincoln and Thunderbird models during April.

April output of Lincolns was 3,134 compared to 1,316 during the same month last year.

The April, 1961 production of Thunderbirds was 9,891 compared to 8,594 last year.

During the first four months of the year the Lincoln production tops 1960, 11,110 to 8,850, but the T-Birds are behind last year, 30,760 to 31,325.

Thinclads Make It 4 in Row

Although Northville's track men made it four in a row in a triangular with Ann Arbor University High and South Lyon Tuesday, coach Ralph Redmond expressed concern over the laxity of his team.

Taking 10 firsts including a record tying time in the 100 yard dash by Jim Petrock, Northville added up 72 points against 53 for Ann Arbor and 11 for South Lyon.

Redmond laid the blame for his concern to the lack of some good competition, it mostly being an unexpected breeze for the Mustangs with the exception of the season opener against Milford.

Then, the weather has not been too conducive to strong efforts. Tuesday's meet was played in windy and chilly conditions.

Petrock was a triple winner, taking the 100 in 10.3, the 220 dash in 23.3 and the broad jump in 20' 10 1/2". Other first place winners included:

Tom Darling, the 440, in 54.6; Dick Bathey, high hurdles, 17.1; Dick Kernozek, low hurdles, 22.4; Don Biery, 880, 2:14; Phil Jerome, mile, 5:01; Mile relay (Jerome, Chips Ely, Jim Morris, and Biery), 3:52; and the 880 relay (Bob Turnbull, Petrock, Dave Filkin and Darling), 1:37.7.

Jerry Biddle came through with a 44' 4" effort in the shot put, good for second place. Bill Krist came in third. Filkin wound up second in the high jump.

Tomorrow at 4 p.m., Northville will be facing speed at West Bloomfield. Next Wednesday, it'll be Bloomfield Hills, strong in the distance runs.

Rout Clarenceville, 13-7

Mustangs Take 'Walkathon'

Coach Stan Golonka calls it the "most nonsensical" game he has ever seen. And you could hardly blame him.

Monday afternoon at Clarenceville, Northville scored ten runs in the fifth inning on ONE hit — a pinch single with the sacks loaded — six walks and three errors to take a 13-7 victory from Clarenceville.

Up to that time, the Mustangs were in jeopardy of losing their second game of the year. They trailed through most of the game as Clarenceville chalked up five runs in a wild second inning.

They used just one hit, also, wrapped around three free passes and three misuses by the Mustang infield. It was no fun being behind, especially under circumstances as these.

Northville's won-lost slate is 5-1 overall including an opening day win over South Lyon. Last Friday on home grounds, the locals outlasted Milford, 3-2, behind steady one-hit hurling from Tom Swiss.

But there was nothing steady about Monday's fiasco, except maybe the frequent walks batters were taking to first base. There were 15 in all, 10 for Northville and five for Clarenceville.

In that fifth inning, trailing 7-3, Steve Juday started off by getting on base via an error. Then with one out, Roy Rice, Danny Brown and Dave Hay each walked, forcing home Juday with run number one.

Swiss pinchhit then for Fred Steeper and sent a single to center scoring Rice and Brown. Then the parade resumed, Jim Juday, Joe Hay and Jim Anderson walking, sending across runs four and five in the persons of Dave Hay and Swiss.

Steve Juday, who led off the frame, reached base again on another error which opened the dikes for a pair of runs. The final three scored on a combination of passed balls and an out. All together, 14 batters went to the plate.

Northville had only four hits, two by Swiss and one each by Brown and Steeper. Brown lasted out the full game on the mound, giving up six hits and five walks while whiffing nine.

Against Milford, Swiss helped win his own game by slamming a first inning home run over the right field fence. That was one of two hits the Mustangs got, the other an infield safety by catcher strike, advanced to second on Craig Bell in the fourth inning.

Milford tied the game in knots, 2-2, in the top of the fifth. But in Northville's fifth frame, Dave Hay was safe when the catcher dropped his third Swiss gave up just three walks, exhibiting more of his good control, while slipping the third strike past seven batters.

Athletic Directors Meet To Hear Game Protest

A hearing on a protest by Clarkston of a game Monday with Holly only to find that one there knew the game was scheduled. And when it was played, the field was not properly laid out, there was only one umpire instead of the required two, and no official scorebook kept.

According to Northville athletic director, Al Jones, Clarkston showed up for its game, went on to defeat Clarkston.

Tennis Squad Gets 1st Beating

Cranbrook handed Northville high's tennis team its first taste of defeat this season, edging out the locals, 4-3, in a closely fought match Tuesday afternoon.

Northville meets Cranbrook in a rematch on the home courts in Cass Benton Park this afternoon.

Winners for Northville were Dicon Ornekian and Tom Long in the singles and the doubles team of Gary Kohs and Jim Jiggins.

Northville won three matches the past week. Clarenceville and West Bloomfield lost, 5-0, while Ypsilanti Roosvelt dropped its second match to Northville, 4-3, the same score as the first meeting.

Ornekian, Long, Kohs-Jiggins and Bill Chapple and Dennis LaRoque were the winners against Ypsilanti.

"What's the matter with the grown ups?"

Recreation Director Ken Conley says that if there's to be an adult softball league in Northville he must have names of players immediately. Northville will have its own league if four teams are formed.

If you're interested in playing on an adult softball team, send your name to Ken Conley, 302 Orchard drive, Northville.

Teacher Profile

Life Goes Not Backward

"Of children he said: You may give them your love but not your thoughts, For they have their own thoughts. You may house their bodies but not their souls, For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, Which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams. You may strive to be like them but seek not to make them like you. For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday."

Mrs. Ann Chizmar

The Prophet (Kahlil Gibran) So reads Ann Chizmar's philosophy of teaching. Anyone visiting Room 7 at Amerman school would find a wealth of learning taking place, everything from a collection of tropical fish, which the children have bought and raised, to a newly hatched polyphemus moth, on whose habits any of Mrs. Chizmar's second graders can expound.

Northville and Ann Chizmar are old friends. She has lived here since she was 10 years old and has always taught in local schools — kindergarten and first grade at Main street elementary and kindergarten and second grade at Amerman.

Mrs. Chizmar remembers when, about 25 years ago, Main Street school had a fire and classes were held in various local stores and homes. "We held recess in the alleys," she recalls.

Personal hobbies have proved to be valuable assets in her teaching.

She collects children's books and now has a collection of approximately 200 books. All have been made available to her second graders in a most unusual reading program.

"Reading is an individual matter," says Mrs. Chizmar. "Children have their own individual rates of learning to read. I place emphasis on reading for meaning. Children can read to learn at the same time they are learning to read."

"I place emphasis on the use of trade books such as 'You Will Go to the Moon', 'Ann Can Fly', or 'I Want to Be a Doctor'. Here they can learn facts while they are learning to read. Also, I emphasize reading for enjoyment, books like 'The Cat in the Hat', 'Nobody Listens to Andrew' or 'The Snake that Went to School'."

In this "ever-reading" second grade, emphasis is put on reading simple books. The students are given one class period a day to choose books they would like to read. The whole supplementary reading program is maintained much like a miniature library, complete with "book cards" and "sign-out-slips". If a child wishes to take a book home to read, he also takes home a reading slip to be signed by the parent. Each book is then reported upon by the student.

The positive approach to reading text materials, supplementary books, as well as remedial work may be seen in this busy room, with children asking to play games using phonics.

Mrs. Chizmar's husband, William, is an engineer at Fisher Body, Livonia plant.

She left teaching only long enough to have her family of four, Bill, 19; Sam 17; Carole, 14, and Elaine 12.

Bill, a freshman at Adrian college, has his sights set on a teaching career. Sam's in his last year at Northville high school; Carole and Elaine are junior high students.

Ann Chizmar shares her time and talents with others around Amerman school. She's the one who usually volunteers to arrange faculty surprises, and you can always count on her to bake a cake for the enjoyment of all.

HERE, CHICK, CHICK! — Main street elementary third graders have been closely watching the weights of these four chickens the past three weeks. They came to the class as part of a science and mathematics project at the tender age of 12 days. The class keeps a detailed account of their daily progress. Feeding the chicks are Gale Stobbe (left), Dale Orphan, Eddie Hammond and Todd Butt. In the box — the children can tell, the photographer couldn't — is either Gunstinger, Rebel, Sugarfoot or Maverick.

SCHOLARSHIP THEIR GOAL — National Honor Society members at Northville high school want to earn enough money to be able to offer a college scholarship to a graduating senior, so they've scheduled a car wash this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Atchison's Gulf station on Main street. They will charge a dollar per car with 25-cents more for whitewalls. Getting some practice here for the big wash are (l. to r.) Paul Chadwick, Bob Galli, Sally Filkin, Lonna Pelton and Sharon Hensch.

READERS SPEAK—Novi School Board Member Says System Below Par

Dear Sir:

I have completed the first third of a three-year term on the school board, and I would like to take this opportunity to inform the electorate about my impressions of the Novi School system, its condition, and its future prospects.

The polite, reassuring, and non-controversial thing for me to say is that we have a very fine system and that it is getting better and better. This, however, my conscience will not permit me to do. I cannot offer any soothing platitudes or pious hopes for the future because, in spite of what some members of the board have said, our system is in my opinion, in a deplorable condition. At a time when the nation's resources are being mobilized to improve our educational system, Novi takes giant steps backwards.

1. The board refused to approve hiring a foreign language teacher. The stated reason was that it cost too much even though it was pointed out that the Federal Government would subsidize a large portion of this teacher's salary.

2. Over 40 per cent of our teachers do not have college degrees. Yet Novi does little to insure that our future recruits will be better qualified, or that we can hire a consultant to help them next year.

3. No other suburban school system runs a junior high program without art, music, home economics, shop, physical education, etc. Yet the Novi board does not seem concerned.

4. Our library shelves are bare of books.

Our school is far below par. Incredible as it sounds, the majority of the board apparently believes that the public is satisfied with the status quo, and that it is better to have a poor school system than to pay for an adequate education. Virtual-ly every time we have attempted upgrading our school, the vote has been Heslip, Irwin, Taylor — No; and McBride and Ambinder — Yes. Apparently, the majority places fiscal values above human values.

Arguments about the significance of education apparently fall on deaf ears. They forget, too, that poor schools retard the growth and cause others to leave; consequently depreciating land values. Depriving youngsters of an adequate education is surely an expensive proposition in every way. The present situation is shameful and the future looks bleak because virtually nothing is being done to overcome our deficiencies. There are two factors which might operate to change the picture. First of all we do have a core of dedicated, professional teachers who, with the school board, can help bring about change; but they need guidance and support from the school board. Second, we have the possibility of an irate citizenry who will indicate to the "go slow" boys that they are fed up with promises for a bright future and demand an excellent education for the present generation of school children.

Sincerely,

Walter J. Ambinder

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day Book Chapter Verses

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses

Monday	Luke	2	42-46
Tuesday	Titus	2	7-8
Wednesday	Romans	12	3-6
Thursday	I John	2	12-15

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

When someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," is it a compliment, or is it an accusation? Whether you like it or not, children do follow in their parents' footsteps.

Johnny learns that kindness and courtesy are virtues, because you are kind and courteous. He learns to love good books and music, because you love them. He learns, through your example, to speak truthfully.

And if going to church and church school regularly is also a part of your usual routine, Johnny will develop that habit just as he has these others.

Then it is a compliment when someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," for you are doing all within your power to lead him in the right direction.

IS IT A Compliment?

THE PERSONAL RETURN OF JESUS CHRIST

Never throw away any good five dollar bills because there happens to be a few counterfeit bills floating around. By the same token never disregard the teaching of the scriptures on the return of Jesus Christ to this earth simply because a few honest but deluded individuals have gone off the deep end on the doctrine by setting dates and making abnormal preparations. Such over-emphasis and fanaticism is being used by the enemy of men's souls to cause unbelief in this plain Biblical truth. Today I would like to set before you as simply as I can the teaching of the return of Jesus Christ to this earth and to give you the scriptures so that you can look them up in your own Bibles.

1. The promise of His return: Jesus promised it John 14:2-3. Angels promised it. Acts 1:11. Many passages in NT refer to it. Luke 17, I Thess. 4, Revelation 1:7 (over 300 verses in NT deal with this subject)

2. Certain signs (signals) which indicate the end of the age and the return of Christ. Four general signs: Matt. 24:6-7 — Wars and rumors of wars, famines, epidemics, and earthquakes. An increase of lawlessness. II Tim. 3:1-14. An age which clamors for peace. I Thess. 5:1-4. An age in which travel and knowledge increase. Daniel 12:4.

3. His return will be in two phases, separated by a period of seven years. I Thess. 4:13-18—Christ comes for His saints. Jude vs. 14 and Revelation 19:11—Christ comes with His saints. Christ comes as a thief in the night. I Thess. 5:2, Matt. 24:42-44.

Christ comes as visible as lightning. Matt. 24:27. The first phase is called the Rapture. The second phase is called the Revelation. (In Theology).

4. In His first coming He will: Raise these believers in Christ out from among the dead. I Thess. 4:16. Believers in Christ who are living at this time shall not die but be translated in a moment. I Thess. 4:17, I Cor. 15:51-52.

5. In the second phase of His return: He will bring the judgement of the wrath of God in the Battle of Armageddon. Rev. 19:11-16.

6. He then will establish his 1000 year reign of peace over the entire earth. Rev. 20:4-6, Isaiah 11.

I trust that you will take the time to look up these verses and study them carefully that you may be assured of this next great event on God's calendar.

When someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," is it a compliment, or is it an accusation? Whether you like it or not, children do follow in their parents' footsteps.

Johnny learns that kindness and courtesy are virtues, because you are kind and courteous. He learns to love good books and music, because you love them. He learns, through your example, to speak truthfully.

And if going to church and church school regularly is also a part of your usual routine, Johnny will develop that habit just as he has these others.

Then it is a compliment when someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," for you are doing all within your power to lead him in the right direction.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

— Northville city officials were "stunned" over preliminary tabulations of Northville's population figures. While a 17 percent gain was recorded, it was still a "below average" gain. One disturbing finding was that the Wayne county section of the city had a population decrease while the northern, or Oakland County part, rose by over 500 in ten years.

— Despite some lively disagreements, the city hall advisory committee completed its report and recommended a new city hall for Northville, preferably a two-level building on the present site of city hall.

— "Chuck" Shonta, Northville High's wrestling coach decided to try his hand at professional football and signed a contract with the Boston Patriots in the new American Football League.

— Nearly five months of study and debate by the Novi village planning board and council was climaxed with the adoption of the long-awaited village plat ordinance.

— An Oakland County official told Novi village and township officials that it would cost them $8,000 as their share for a preliminary study of the Rouge and Huron river watersheds if Novi wants sewers.

FIVE YEARS AGO

— The proposed 250 home, $3.5 million Yerkes Farm subdivision across Eight mile from Northville, moved a step closer to reality with an announcement from the Michigan Secretary of State okaying a special election for June 5 to annex the 70 acres in Novi township to Northville city.

— Judy Thompson, Northville High senior, won the district honors in the Detroit Times Tournament of Orators.

— Northville patrolman, Eugene King, used a tip, a poster and Record files to assist the FBI in nabbing a wanted man who had posed as a tree trimmer in Northville for a year.

— Verne Loeffler, Novi businessman and policeman, suffered what doctors termed a mild heart attack. He was listed in fair condition at Northville hospital.

— Northville High lost three baseball games in the past week. Brighton defeated the Mustangs, 5-3, Holly, 8-5, and CLARENCEVILLE, 1-0.

— Howard B. Williams, of Plymouth, was hired to fill a vacancy on the Northville village police force.

— Northville High's baseball team lost its opener, 4-2, to Farmington. Lister was the losing pitcher while striking out six men. Northville made five errors.

— Marilyn Jean Keck, 1945 graduate from Northville High, was one of 723 students recognized for outstanding scholastic achievement at the University of Michigan.

— Nine softball teams have signed up for the summer league.

— The Masters Feed Store began doing business recently at its new location on Dunlap street.

— Winners in the district spelling bee were Helen Stanford, eighth grader, and Lois Rossow, of the Grade school, both of Northville.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

— Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark, of Northville, traveled some 15,000 miles through 18 states, Mexico and British Columbia and visited 84 former Northville residents in their travels.

— Edward N. Hines was re-appointed county road commissioner, a post he has held since its inception more than 30 years ago.

— Three Oakland County judges ruled that there will be no state tax sale in the county.

— Work on the $20,000 community water reservoir began recently with 10 PWA men employed. The minimum wage for unskilled labor is 50 cents an hour.

— At the meeting of the Rotary club, painting of the club's signs on the village's outskirts was authorized.

— From the high school page: If you have been hearing strange and loud noises around town, don't mind, but don't ignore. You see, quite a few of the NHS students own model T Fords and are quite proud of the fact. Paul Beard owns a dilly called "Gertie" ... Don Armstrong has one with one fender more than "Gertie" and Alfred Cousins can go on for days talking how he bought his for $2. Scott Cole has a Ford Zephyr that has more trimmings than a hearse.

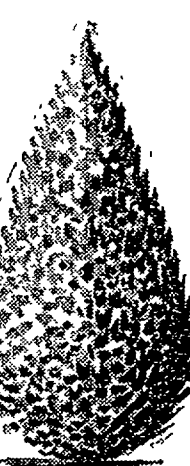

YWCA MODELS — Mrs. E. W. Lepper (left), 45229 Galway, and Mrs. I. Paul Terry (right), 825 Carpenter, select accessories for their modeling assignment in the gala dessert fashion show to be held at the Northwest Branch YWCA tomorrow (Friday) at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Terry is in charge of the models who will parade from the all-purpose room through the building and around tables overlooking the patio. Miss Esther Wagner of Demery's will be the commentator.

Signs of Spring

Yesterday's bare branches are tomorrow's buds and blossoms when spring bursts in Michigan.

The transition from gray winter to green spring is a joy to watch in the Water Wonderland, and perhaps nowhere in the world do people take so much joy in watching it.

Practically everybody knows about the Tulip Time Festival at Holland.

The Klompen dancers and Old World displays put on by the people of Dutch descent in the city on Lake Michigan commemorate a proud heritage for many of the people in the area.

But the miles of multi-colored tulips mark the celebration for what it truly is: A festival of Spring.

Tulip Time is scheduled for May 17-21 this year. May and June are the months when spring has reached its peak, and most of Michigan makes the most of the season which not only denotes the end of winter but also is the harbinger of the state's fabulous tourist and resort season.

The State Tourist Council lists 42 events and celebrations on its May and June calendar, copies of which are available on request.

Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, the "twin cities" of Southwest Michigan, celebrate spring with a Blossomtime Festival which is a tribute to the area's fruit-growing industry April 28-May 6.

This event includes celebrations that are virtually sure to appeal to the tastes of practically everybody.

On tap are a jazz seminar and concert, an art exhibit, a Mozart opera, an air show, the traditional Grand Floral Parade May 6, the blessing of the blossoms and 125 miles of marked "blossom trails."

In the Traverse City area, a similar festival which accents the blossoming of the cherry trees is scheduled for the latter part of May, depending on when the trees bloom.

Whatever form the celebration takes, spring is the thing in Michigan.

Speaking of the Dutch, a group of state legislators who claim descent from the low countries have formed their own "Klompens Klub" which they hope will someday rival the enjoyment which all Michigan citizens get from similar nationality groups.

The Irish and their St. Patrick's Day rites perhaps can claim more attention than any of the other nationality groups represented among the law-makers.

Polish, Italian and numerous other "mother countries" are represented, however.

The Kompen Klub may even steal a march on the other nationality groups by having a more effective organization to start with than any of the others.

Founded by Rep. Reimer Van Til, R-Holland, with assistance from several other lawmakers, most of them from the west Michigan area, the group aims to do more than just parade its heritage for others to see.

In announcing the Klub, Van Til said it would not only seek to promote the virtues of Hollanders, but would also work to promote better government. The Holland lawmaker carefully pointed out, however, that members of the Kompen Klub intend to "have a bit of fun" while carrying on their activities.

Days of the dominating male may be numbered if a Michigan State university social scientist is correct.

Dr. Ruth Hill Useem, a research consultant in sociology and anthropology, said women are capable of handling practically any job that is open to men in modern society.

Technology and organization have produced a system where sheer brute strength is no longer the chief need for survival, Dr. Useem said.

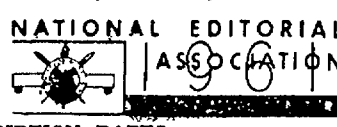

While she did not predict an immediate return to the kitchen for the American male while wife goes out to earn the groceries, her view is that not only are women going more into the market place, but men are taking more and more of a hand in the management of the home.

Males are also "invading" the formerly feminine fields of hairdressing, nursing and elementary and secondary teaching, Dr. Useem said.

As this change in the pattern of society takes place, man has at least one consolation: He no longer has to worry about being tied to a set of apron strings, because they could well be his own.

Read Fine Print

Babson Park, Florida, I believe in insurance: — life insurance, fire insurance, accident insurance, and especially in the "Blue Cross" and "Blue Shield." If I were not a statistician, I would be selling insurance.

I own property a few miles north of here which got sad treatment from "Donna." I am now down here settling up my losses with the insurance company. These losses were first on the house, which (after some dicker) we agreed would be $400. This included leaks in the roof, windows and screens broken, and other damages. The insurance adjuster finally gave me a check for the damages. When looking at it, I saw it to be for only $300. When I complained he courteously asked: "Have you read the fine print of your policy?" I replied that I had not; but upon doing so I learned that the insurance company can make a deduction of $100. In fact, if the loss had been only $100, I would have received nothing!

I next showed the insurance adjuster where my beautiful palm trees had been torn out. These had cost me $75 or more each. We agreed that my loss on the valuable trees, shrubs, etc. was at least $900.

But when I asked for a check to reimburse me, the adjuster inquired if I had read the fine print in my policy which specifically exempted the insurance company from all such losses!

But this was not all. I also suffered the loss of fifty feet of concrete wall eight feet high attached to my house. Surely, I expected to be reimbursed for rebuilding this wall; but for the third time the adjuster asked: "Have you read all the fine print?" Upon doing so I found that the fine print on the policy held the insurance company absolutely exempt from responsibility for damages involving the destruction of any walls!

It is not the fault of the insurance companies if you and I fail to read "the fine print." Furthermore, if all of these exceptions were not specifically spelled out, the premium which I paid would have had to be much higher. It is the old

Minutes of Northville City Council

A regular meeting of the Northville City Council was held at city hall Monday evening, April 17, 1961 at 8:00 p.m.

Present: Mayor Allen; Councilmen Ambler, Carlson and Juday. Absent: Councilman Canterbury.

Minutes of last regular meeting, Canvasser's report and of the special meeting of April 10, 1961 were read and approved.

Bills amounting to $10,450.21 from the General Fund, and $1,026.65 from the Water Fund were presented for payment. It was moved by Ambler, supported by Juday, that these bills be paid. Carried.

Students from Mr. Meaker's government class were present and were welcomed by the Mayor.

Councilman Carlson reported that she had obtained the information regarding the head of the different scout organizations which she had been requested to get. Mayor Allen stated a special meeting would be called for Monday evening, April 24, to which the Recreation Committee and the representatives of the Scout organizations would be invited, to discuss the problem of procuring a substitute meeting place when the Scout building is no longer available.

The problem of speeding on North Center street was brought up by Councilman Juday, and Chief King reported that signs had been put up, but have been taken down by someone as fast as they are put up. They have also written tickets for this offense. It was suggested it might be a good plan to paint "School Zone — Slow Down" on the pavement; also it was suggested that perhaps an overhead yellow flasher could be installed on Baseline road. This matter will receive further study.

Councilman Ambler suggested that Robert Freydl be invited to the next council meeting to discuss the tree situation in Northville with the council.

Mr. Freydl is connected with the Wayne County Forestry Service.

SPEAKING for the Record

By Bill Gilger

The state supreme court decision upholding the annexation of Novi village property (plus the Northville Estates Novi township area) to the city of Northville turns the clock back two and a half years.

For it was then that Novi leaders argued for village incorporation to protect its borders from annexation.

There were other reasons for village incorporation but certainly protection against annexation was the most convincing and must have swung many votes.

For at that time Novi was still smoldering from the annexation of the Ford Motor company's Lincoln plant by Wixom.

The latter maneuver was accomplished first by Wixomites incorporating as a village, then continuing the incorporation process a year later and becoming a city.

Thus Wixom, apparently fearful that village incorporation did not provide protection against annexation, took the step that assured preservation of its designated limits.

Meanwhile, Novi was minus an industry and a choice tax plum.

So in September, 1958 it was not difficult to pass the village charter and elect a council. But in September, 1959 a proposal to incorporate as a city was soundly defeated.

It had been proposed not to protect against annexation, because Novi believed it had already gained this security through village incorporation, but to eliminate duplication of village and township government by replacing both with a single city government.

Novi's information concerning the invincibility of village borders was given in good faith, but without the test of the supreme court.

So the community stands on the very spot it has tried so desperately to escape — with both township and village government and stripped of its protective armor.

Township and village officials must now ponder this new turn of events. What does the future hold for Novi?

Will there be other areas seeking attachment to the cities of Northville, Wixom or even Walled Lake?

For Novi it would seem that this is the time for calm and studied appraisal. Both township and village officials, who have contributed their best efforts over many years to help mold a better Novi, should set aside their differences and decide together upon a course to follow.

This is not to suggest that a change in its present status is necessary for Novi. But a consolidation of effort and purpose could very well rally a new spirit and comradeship that would become stronger than any law — that would draw its borders where the people themselves wish them to be.
