

Jaycees' July Fourth Parade, Crowd, Weather All Good

After the long parade ended at Ford Field honored guests spoke briefly before afternoon games began. Seated on the stand with Northville Mayor A. M. Allen (shown speaking) are: (l. to r.) Councilman John Canterbury, Jaycee Fourth of July Chairman Charles Ely, Jr., Councilman Hart of Dearborn (representing Mayor Orville Hubbard), and State Senator Raymond Dziedzic.

This battery of Union soldiers is composed of Northville youngsters who decided they wanted to march in the parade—so they made uniforms and practiced marching. Led by "Uncle Sam" Cindy Coulter, the soldiers are Barry Deal, Jim and Randy Marburger, Gary Coulter, Frank Martin and Dave Yoder.

Bill Fiench didn't win the pie-eating contest, but it's easy to see he tried.

Kroger Manager Eddie Barnes had a hang-up Fourth in the company antique car.

This little tyke had the best view of the parade—plus built-in air conditioning.

The American Legion displayed two huge new 50-star flags atop the Record building.

City Manager Robertson Resigns

Accepts Position At Ferguson, Mo.

John C. Robertson, Northville's first and only city manager to date, submitted his resignation this week. August 1 he will become city manager of Ferguson, Missouri, a city of 22,000 near St. Louis.

The council was informed of Robertson's decision by letter. Because of the July 4th holiday, the council does not meet again until July 10.

Manager Robertson came to Northville November 1, 1956, nearly a year after the village had voted to become a city, and took over as first city manager.

Mayor A. M. Allen commended Robertson on the job he has done during his stay in Northville.

"I'm sorry he's leaving, but we knew when we hired him that it wouldn't be forever and eventually he'd move along to a larger community," the mayor stated.

It was Mayor Allen's opinion that the council would begin immediately to seek a replacement. He estimated that this might take two months.

The 35-year-old Robertson came to Northville from Ann Arbor where he was a staff engineer for the Michigan Municipal League. He resides at 908 Ely court with his wife, Jeannette, and three children, Kristin, Kirk and Carol.

He has served under two mayors and eight council members. In addition to his duties as manager of the city's business, Robertson has also acted as coordinator and contact man between the city and other governmental bodies and area businesses, such as the county, township and schools.

During his years in Northville the community has undertaken a reassessment program of property values, making assessments more equitable and eliminating a glaring difference between assessments in the Wayne and Oakland county sections of the city; two annexation votes involving Novi were staged; a $300,000 water improvement program was completed; and a public works building was constructed.

Crowds, Betting Lag at Downs

Northville Downs has never recovered from the bad start it had opening night when rain and cool weather held the normal big Friday crowd to some 4,000 fans and a $200,000 mutual handle.

Through the first 10 nights of racing (including July 4th) the Downs is six per cent behind last year's pace in mutual handle and three and a half per cent in attendance.

A big Monday night crowd helped bring the lag up from a 10 per cent dip. Nearly 7,000 fans — 6,959 to be exact — turned out the night before the Fourth holiday and wagered $306,566. On the Fourth attendance dropped to 4,540 with a handle at the windows of $210,470.

Even with one less racing night this year Downs officials had hoped that total attendance and betting might be up over last year. The 38-night meet includes one more weekend. But opening night weather all but eliminated that hope.

Last year the city of Northville reaped its biggest state tax returns from Downs' racing — $97,638.

A $300,000 improvement program that included complete renovation of the grandstands and installation of a new mutual department was also expected to lure a few additional customers.

Some officials point out, however, that the red hot pace of the Detroit Tigers has kept many customers away — either attending ball games at Tiger stadium or glued to their television sets for night televised games.

New Twist To Old Plot

Unlike the "good guys in television and movie yarns, Northville Police Chief Eugene King and American School Principal Richard Kay came out on the losing end of a topside tussle at the Downs Thursday night.

But justice didn't prevail this time, and the villains disappeared into the crowd.

While Thursday was hectic, Chief King said Northville emerged from the Fourth weekend without any serious incidents. Police were busiest, he said, regulating traffic at parade time Tuesday afternoon.

City Opposes Novi Zoning For Shopping

Disregarding the advice of its planning consultants, the Novi planning board Friday night voted five to one to rezone 24 acres on Novi road near Eight Mile road C-2 (commercial) to permit construction of a proposed shopping center.

But village council members, meeting in joint session with the planners, tabled action on the recommendation until its next regular meeting, July 17.

The request for rezoning came last month from the Pacific Development, company of Fenton, owners of the property. Located on the east side of Novi road, the parcel is directly across Novi road from Northville's city limits and is presently zoned R-1-F, small farms.

The vote by the planners came after nearly two hours of discussion in 90-degree temperatures in the second floor township hall council chambers.

Chairman Vincent Miklas gave planners, representatives of the development company, adjoining property owners and interested citizens in the audience an opportunity to be heard before calling for a vote.

He also presented a comprehensive report by Waring and Johnson, Novi's planning consultants, which claimed:

—that the Northville - Novi trading area population is insufficient to support such a center;

—the size and location of such a center would throw the commercial pattern for both the Village of Novi and the City of Northville completely out of balance and location;

—that the best use of the property in question is for light manufacturing;

—no sanitary sewers exist and such an establishment should be connected to a sanitary sewer;

—the area is adjacent to a railroad right-of-way and lies in the secondary manufacturing corridor running to the northwest from Plymouth to Wixom.

The city of Northville planning commission also formally opposed the center in reply to a letter from the Novi planners concerning the proposal.

Northville Planning Chairman George Zerbel attended the hearing and was called upon by Novi Planning Chairman Miklas. Zerbel said he agreed with Novi's master planning for industrial zoning at the Novi road site and a shopping area in its business center on Grand River. He said that the Novi road center would hurt this development plan and also Northville's business district.

"We are fighting to maintain our central business district. You are in the enviable position of being able to plan for a central district. What will happen to this plan if you allow an outside district to develop?", Zerbel asked.

Kalin Johnson, Donald Matzen and William Templeton, property owners residing near the proposed center, also objected. Their reasons varied, but in general they agreed that there was insufficient information and planning, that both commercial and industrial zoning would hurt their property and that they preferred residential zoning for the property.

Another nearby property owner, Herbert Koester of Eight Mile road, wrote to the planning commission stating that he favored the project.

Attorney David Hoytler, representing the development company, argued in behalf of the project pointing out that it was not the function of the planning commission to consider whether or not the area could support a shopping center.

He further replied to the Johnson and Waring report by stating that a treatment and disposal plant would be designed under state health department regulations to serve the project. The engineers for the project pointed out that plans for such a treatment plant had already been discussed with state authorities.

Planner A. J. Heslip finally offered a motion calling for adoption of the commercial zoning. He prefaced his motion by stating that he did not believe the area was suitable for small farms or residential use—and that he realized that some people might be hurt by the development—but that he did not think the fact that the proposed project was on the community's southern boundaries had any bearing on the question.

Donald Fuller seconded the motion. Yes votes were given by Andrew Burgess, Burt Fisher and George Kovacs in addition to Fuller and Heslip. Chairman Miklas voted no.

The zoning request then went to the village council. President Joseph C. Crupi noted that the area had industrial potential and both Councilmen Walter Tuck and Dean Lenheiser expressed concern that they did not know specifically what stores would be included in the project.

Councilman Philip Anderson wanted more information concerning the proposed sewage disposal plant. Finally Councilwoman Eugene Choquet called for a tabling of the question until the regular July 17 meeting.

Publish Lutheran Paper Here

The Northville Record this week began publication of The Michigan Lutheran, a monthly tabloid newspaper published by the Michigan District of the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod.

The 38-year-old newspaper is the third largest publication of the Lutheran church and is sent to every member of the Missouri Synod throughout the state — a total circulation of 65,000.

In addition to state Lutheran news it contains news stories and editorials of national interest.

Managing editor of the newspaper is the Reverend Carl E. Mehl of Farmington. Other staff members are the Reverend Oscar A. Gerken of Warren, news editor; the Reverend Gilbert T. Otte of Detroit, feature editor; and the Reverend Raymond Schultze of Livonia, advertising manager.

The publication will be printed at The Record and mailed through the local post office monthly.

Moose Installation

The New Farmington Moose lodge, which includes members from the Northville-Nowi area, will enroll its charter class Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. on Grand River in Farmington.

Enrollment and installation of officers will begin at 8:30 p.m. State Moose officials will conduct the ceremony.

Applications for the charter class will be accepted until the last minute, L.R. Masters, state membership director announced.

MISSOURI BOUND — The John Robertson family will take up residence in Ferguson, Missouri around August 1. The Northville city manager informed the mayor and council this week that he has accepted the managership of the St. Louis suburb community. Pictured in their Ely court home are Mr. and Mrs. Robertson and their children, Kirk, Carol and Kristin.

Northville or Blackfoot, It's Still a Small World

An appropriate connection with Northville and the Fourth of July was discovered way out there in the nation's leading potato-producing region of Blackfoot, Idaho, a couple of weeks ago.

It was a huge bell — probably three-and-a-half feet in diameter and weighing some 500 pounds — cast by the now defunct American Bell Foundry Co., of Northville.

And with Independence Day celebrations barely over, word received about the discovery from a former Northville resident up to two months ago, Ralph Bidwell, is right in step. He is editor of the Blackfoot News.

His 11-year-old son, Roger, came across the steel bell in a vacant lot while playing Little League baseball.

His maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, live at 21060 Taft road. An aunt and uncle, Clara and Jack Farmer, live at 515 West Main.

His maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bidwell Sr., live at 26610 Johns road, South Lyon. Mrs. Bidwell is a South Lyon Herald correspondent.

And Roger has numerous aunts and uncles in the South Lyon-Northville-Plymouth area.

The American Bell Foundry company used to be located in the general vicinity of the present Foundry Flask and Equipment company on Main street by the Old Spring Well.

The bell foundry started operations about 1895 and after a fire and rebuilding in 1899, it continued through the mid-1920's in connection with the Globe Furniture company.

A Detroit concern came in at the start of the 1930's to occupy the now vacant machine shop in the basement of the bell foundry and they in turn were followed by Allied Products.

Allied Products was destroyed by fire four years ago.

The old bell foundry, according to long-time resident T. R. Carrington, who worked there for about a year and a half, used to send out five to 10 bells a week all over the country.

Which probably explains how Roger Bidwell found a Northville bell in Blackfoot, Idaho. A city employee there recalls that the bell was used for fires and the 9 p.m. curfew to warn children that they should be home.

For Editor Bidwell, the bell rang (pardon the pun) with a note of nostalgia. As he put it in his "Editor's Corner" column:

"We live in a small world."

Optimists Install Ebert As President

Dempsey Ebert was installed as president of the Northville Optimists in ceremonies last Wednesday night.

Optimists' State Governor Al Mix of Dearborn, conducted the ceremonies before a Ladies night gathering.

Other officers installed were Dean Lenheiser, first vice-president; L. W. Snow, Jr., second vice-president; William Kelly, secretary; Boyd Armstrong, treasurer; and Philip Wegeng, sergeant-at-arms.

Retiring president is Glenn Deibert.

District Lt.-Gov. George Kolts of Northville, also participated in the program.

SMALL WORLD — 11-year-old Roger Bidwell found a little bit of Northville on a Little League diamond in Blackfoot, Idaho, recently. It was this 500 pound bell cast by the old American Bell Foundry of Northville. Roger is the son of former Northville resident, Ralph Bidwell, now editor of The Blackfoot News.

CHAMPS AGAIN — This quintet of Northville High school cheerleaders remained true to the pattern set by last year's squad and came home with prizes galore from the Camp All-America cheerleading workshop in Hartland, Michigan. Responsible for the repeat championship performance were: (l. to r.) Diane McCollum, Vicki Stroh, Karen Peterson (holding team champion trophy), Etta Rutlan (individual best), Gayle Leedham and Dawn McCollum.

NHS Cheerleaders

They're the Winningest!

Northville high school has about the winningest cheerleaders in the whole United States. The five-girl team came home from a week-long stay at Camp All-America Friday with two mammoth-size trophies — team champion and first place outstanding individual — and headed back to the camp in Hartland, Michigan Sunday to vie for the grand championship cup which was won by Northville cheerleaders last year.

Coached by Miss Patricia Dorrian, high school English teacher, the winning quintet included: a sister-combination of Diane (junior) and Dawn (sophomore) McCollum, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McCollum of Novi; juniors Vicki Stroh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve W. Stroh; Karen Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Peterson; Etta Rutlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Rutlan; and sophomore Gayle Leedham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leedham.

Their spirit, leadership, fitness and cooperation won the team championship for the Northville squad. Etta Rutlan was the judges' choice for the most outstanding individual.

In addition to the trophies, Northville won first place in the most original cheer contest, third place in most original rhythm cheer competition and an honor banner for maintaining the best cabin during the session.

The camp session attended by the local team was the third of four held at Hartland. The girls won the opportunity to bid for the grand championship by topping all other teams in their session.

Camp All-America, a workshop for cheerleaders, is conducted by Miss Pauline Hess, president of the United States Cheerleading association (USCA), Michigan State university cheerleading coach and coach of the USCA precision team. It is attended by high school cheerleaders from throughout the United States.

Sing, Counsel for Exchange Program

Youth for Understanding Pair Fly South

Her family and a cluster of friends were out at Willow Run airport last Thursday night when Northville high school senior Carol Jones boarded a midnight flight bound for Miami, Florida.

That Carol's stomach may have felt like a throng of fluttering butterflies as she boarded the airliner wouldn't be altogether surprising. After all, not only was the 16-year-old school girl embarking on her first plane ride, she was also starting out on the first leg of a two-month ambassadorial assignment.

"Ambassador Jones", as we might call her, is not one of

Secretary of State Dean Rusk's new frontier diplomats, nor has she been tapped to travel with the Peace Corps. Her assignment, while much less pretentious, nevertheless promises to be as exciting and demanding as any the Government might dream up.

Carol is a singing ambassador, one of 67 who are combining vocal talents to spread goodwill under the banner of the "Michigan Chorale".

The chorale is a mixed ensemble whose members were selected from hundreds of applicants who converged on Ann Arbor last fall to audition for berths with the group.

Most of the singers are 1961 high school graduates except for a few, like Carol, who finish school next year.

Privately sponsored by the "Youth for Understanding-Teenage Exchange" program of the Michigan Council of Churches, the chorale's youthful voices are under the careful tutelage of Conductor Lester McCoy, who also conducts for the University of Michigan Musical Society, Ann Arbor.

Conductor McCoy's charges have logged hundreds of practice hours getting ready for their final, big assignment. On weekends and holidays throughout the winter the singers could be found either in the practice room in the Ann Arbor high school or in one of several cities where they performed for church and civic groups.

As of this writing, Carol, whose parents are the Al Joneses of 791 Horton, and her fellow ambassadors have spent a week in Bogota, Colombia. Their tour of duty next takes them to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. From Rio they'll jump to Fortaleza, Bello Horizonte, Campinas and then to Montevideo, Uruguay and seven cities nestled along the banks of the Uruguayan river. After concerts in Buenos Aires, Argentina, Lima, Peru and Mexico City, the singers will wing their way back to the states. Following an overnight stop in Dallas, Texas, they will return to Detroit Metropolitan airport August 20.

In each city, the chorale will give a series of concerts ranging from programs in factories and schools to formal performances in major music and opera centers. The singers' repertoire is as ambitious as the scope of their trip. It includes selections running from Bach to Stephen Foster to George Gershwin.

Chorale members will have a chance to practice diplomacy in homes as well as concert halls. In each city they will be the houseguests of Latin American families.

This year's tour comes on the heels of the overwhelming success enjoyed by the 1960 chorale. In keeping with the exchange idea, 121 high school students from Latin American countries came to Michigan to spend a year living and going to school here. The program will be continued during the 1962-63 academic year.

Tom McGuire left for Mexico City Tuesday to start his 55-day assignment as a counselor for the "Youth for Understanding" teenage exchange program of the Michigan Council of Churches.

Tom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire of 240 Orchard drive, is one of three counselors in charge of 30 American students who range in age from 12 to 15 years.

A fourth-year seminarian at Sacred Heart seminary in Detroit, he applied for the assignment in January after hearing about it through a friend and was accepted after careful screening.

The students he and two other counselors will work with are living with families of Mexican youngsters who have come to America on the exchange.

Before jetting from Detroit Metropolitan airport this week, Tom briefly described some of the goals the council of churches hopes to accomplish through the exchange.

Foremost, among them, pointed out Tom, was genuine reciprocity between countries.

"We (students and counselors) hope to learn about and be able to understand the people," Tom explained. "We want to become a part of the country and to see it from the Mexican's point of view. By doing this, we hope to benefit ourselves and to bring back August.

some knowledge of Mexico's culture when we return."

Tom said he felt countries could best exchange ideas through young people. A future Catholic priest, he said he would like to do a little traveling and visit some of Mexico's missions during his stay. He returns home late in August.

All you're sure of is the FAITH you have in the pharmacist who filled it. When your doctor hands you his written prescription you receive it with FAITH in his knowledge and professional integrity.

The same is true of the pharmacist to whom you surrender that piece of paper in exchange for your bottle of medicine. You must receive that medicine with FAITH in your pharmacist's knowledge and professional integrity.

How can you have this FAITH? By knowing your PHARMACIST and his proven performance in serving you. Your PHARMACIST is the ONLY person legally responsible for the quality of medication he dispenses to you. Visit your family pharmacist, whom you know and TRUST.

"...in sickness and in health"—YOUR PHARMACIST SERVES YOU!!

THE GARDENS AT 91 - A half-acre plot of land receives scrutiny and care often reserved for the most lavish landscapes from 91-year-old Bill Tiffin, who lives with his sister, Mrs. Jettie Hamilton, at 24595 Wixom road. And in this plot of vegetables, potatoes, tomatoes, and watermelons, you won't find a weed because as Bill puts it, "He doesn't like to see things messy." A lifetime resident of the area, he and his brother operated a fruit farm at 10 Mile and Wixom roads for 50 years up to about nine years ago. He has a brother, Charlie, 82, in Wixom. One more thing: Detroit Tiger fan Bill says they could take the pennant "if their pitching holds up."

The spacious grounds of the Charles S. Crawford's home on South Lake Drive, Novi Village was the setting on Thursday, June 29 for the annual picnic of the Brownlee committee of the auxiliary to the Salvation Army in Detroit.

The committee dates back to 1914 when it was established as the only standing committee of the new auxiliary for the purpose of sewing for the children of the now Edwin Denby Children's Home (Salvation Army) in Redford.

Prior to this the children were housed at the Home and Hospital on West Fort in Detroit under the guidance of Major Mary E. Page, now 90 years old and and retiring in Marine City, and Colonel "Ma" Shepherd of World War 1 fame. The group met one day each week from October to May over a period of years and produced thousands of garments.

Mrs. William E. Brownlee who died at the age of 97 this spring, was the original chairman and Mrs. Crawford, who has been a member since 1920, has been the vice-chairman for many years.

Those present from Detroit were Mrs. Ada MacIntyre and Mrs. Helen Holmes, sew coordinators, and Mesdames Edla Houck, Cora Quine, Johanna de Swart, May DeWick, past auxiliary president; Helen Hoping, Martha Scheffler, Laura Atkins, Anne Germa, Winifred Campbell and Della Bergman.

Guests were Bessie Harrod of Los Angeles, Mrs. Charles Cannon of Farmington and Mrs. B. H. Gilchrist and Mrs. Smith of Detroit. Mrs. George H. Ploss of Detroit, auxiliary president, was unable to be present.

They attended graduation of their daughter Judy from the Wayne State University. Judy has accepted a position as a teacher in one of the Detroit schools.

Herbert Fisher is back home again on Beck road after a sojourn in the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Leon Dochot celebrated his birthday July 4. The guests of Mr. Dochot and his sister, Eugenie Choquet, were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Walheeg of Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tassio of Ferndale, also several neighbors and friends who called to wish Mr. Dochot a happy birthday.

KNOTHOLE SOFTBALL — These captains' teams are all Northville Optimist-sponsored. Kneeling, they are Rich Ording (left), Rich Adams and Jonathan Everhart. Standing, Steve Utley (left), Larry Bogart and Craig Smith. If you see two Cubs shirts, you're not seeing double. It's a manufacturer's mistake. Rich Ording's (kneeling, left) should read Colts.

12 Knochole Squads Start Diamond Play

The knotholers got off their double-pronged activities last week with both baseball and softball leagues registering lots of action.

In baseball, the Dodgers were only the only double winners with a 3-2 win over the Athletics and 7-6 over the Angels.

They scored all three runs in their first win in one inning. A long single by Dale Ashby drove in one run and a longer triple by Ken Sproule knocked in two more.

Bill Skelly was the winning pitcher and Ric Talbot, the loser.

In other action:

The Indians pushed across three runs in the last inning to beat the Yankees, 4-1. With the bases loaded, a mixup in signals between pitcher and catcher let a pop fly fall safely and before the dust cleared, there were three runs home.

Although getting just four hits, including a long two-run single by Robert Moe, the Angels blanked the Giants 5-0. Jim Beerbower was the winning pitcher, giving up two hits.

The Indians bit the dust when the Athletics won an 8-2 ballgame. Greg Reifers, Ken Shrewsbury and Bob Hubbard carried the big sticks for the winners.

The Yankees bounced from their opening loss to whitewash the Giants, 7-0.

In Knochole softball, the Lions and Cubs were the winners while the Tigers and Panthers battled to an 8-8 tie called because of a time limit.

The Lions beat the Bears, 12-4, and the Cubs whopped the Colts, 10-6. A nine-run outburst in the first inning iced the game for the Lions while the Cubs had the benefit of 11 walks.

Win, 7-1, On 8 Hits

A neat three-hitter by Eric Peterson paced the Class E Northville Recreation team to its third straight win this week.

Before an eight-hit attack, the Novi Flyers bowed Wednesday night, 7-1. Last week, the recreation squad defeated Fisher Shoes, 12-2, and the Wayne County Training School, 9-2.

Peterson struck out nine batters in his first going performance. A five-run fourth inning sewed the game up.

Big hits in that inning were Peterson's triple, Danny Bishop's two-run double and John Mach's triple.

Mach, a strong-hitting third baseman, led the four-hit attack on WCTS. He had two hits. Joe Hay cracked out a triple and double against Fisher Shoes to show the way for the locals. Gary Grys and Ron Bradenburg shared pitching chores.

Birds Blast Off!

The Northville Orioles continue their winning ways, in Livonia's Class F competition last week.

They walloped the Twins, 12-3, behind strong two-hit pitching while Jim Mazel chucked a by, Jerry Island and a 16-hit, makeup game with the same attack in which every player got at least one.

Smith's Win Big, 22-6 —In Practice

It was a so so week for Smith Products' women's softball team — so good and so bad.

But the so good game didn't count. It was a 22-6 practice win over a DeHoCo team last Friday night.

Big home runs were hit by Jane Blough (she had a grand slammer), Joan Morrison and Joan Barber.

Last Wednesday, Ypsilanti Moore's Olds walloped the local girls, 23-3, with a hit barrage that neither starter June King or Sharon Mazanec in relief could stop.

They play their last home game at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow against Wayne.

'Twas a Sad Week—6 Hits in 2 Games

'Twas a sad week for Northville's Class D entry in the Livonia recreation baseball league. They were trounced twice, 8-4 by Plymouth Elks and 12-0 by Garden City.

The local boys got only six hits in the two contests. Four came against Plymouth, including a two-run double by Butch Willing and a home run by Steve Juday. Dave Hay allowed nine hits in a losing pitching effort.

Butch Rice and Tom Daniels got the only hits off Garden City pitching. Willing, started the game on the mound and was relieved in the fourth by Bill Elwell.

LET'S TALK CARS...

Beware Of These Drivers

Now that the weather is warm it's a good time to mention a certain kind of driver to beware of. He (or she) hasn't got a driver's licence. Never patronizes a service station. Doesn't buy gas. And disregards traffic signals.

You know the kind — curly hair, dirty clothes, big smiling eyes, bare knees — and going lickety split down the middle of the road. Their vehicles have three, sometimes just two wheels. It's a good thing for the rest of us they have no motors and can't go very fast.

If you have one or more of these culprits in your family then you must have had a few anxious moments. You've seen them career across a busy street without looking either way. Perhaps your muscles have tightened up involuntarily. We don't have to remind you to drive slowly down a residential street. You probably know the greatest danger is when you back out of your driveway or parking place. Because they may be in back of you and they're not so high that you can see them.

Children on bicycles and bikes invite tragedy almost every day. Especially when they're enjoying the warm weather after being shut in all winter. We're thinking now, too, of older ones in their teens who dodge traffic with their two wheelers.

We're reminded of a road sign put up in a small town by the local Lions Club. It said: "Our Children Aren't Careless — They're Just Care-free. It's Up To All of us to be Careful for Them!" Don't you agree?

And Expensive, Too!

Raising Thoroughbreds Is Tough Job

EDITOR'S NOTE: Area horsemen contend that our neighboring community of South Lyon is the horse capital of the state. They estimate that there are some 500 horses within a five-mile radius — and that these horses and ponies are championship caliber. The following article concerns the Peter Kosiba farm on West Eight Mile road, well known to Northville residents for its beautiful horses, rolling fields divided by white fences and immaculate white farm house and buildings. Kentucky isn't likely to lose its horse glamour overnight, but there's plenty of "blue grass" sprouts hereabouts to promise a future challenge.

One of the largest Michigan sprouts is growing in South Lyon's own backyard. It's the 80-acre thoroughbred breeding farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kosiba at 56191 Eight Mile road.

Currently, some 75 beautiful horses are kicking up their heels on the Kosiba farm while a couple dozen more are stretching their legs at the Detroit race tracks.

"With just a little more help from the state, breeding of thoroughbreds could become another major industry in Michigan," Mrs. Kosiba contends. "Thoroughbred breeding is still in its infancy here," she says, "but there's a bright future ahead."

According to the Kosibas, Michigan stands to lose its share of this rich industry unless the state government takes a hint from other budding horse states which are pushing the industry through subsidization.

Two years ago, they explain, the state passed a bill that will give Michigan breeders some $60,000 this year to encourage "homegrown" thoroughbreds. Although the Kosibas consider this only a token encouragement, they say it has proved its worth by the number of new thoroughbred farms popping up around the state.

How do you subsidize a horse?

Well, according to the Kosibas, the state kicks in an extra purse for winning Michigan horses, or it can adopt an entry preference for home-grown horses as was just done in Florida.

The Florida legislature, the Kosibas say, recognizes the tremendous value of the industry, and by adopting the preference setup, it stipulates that at least one race each day in that state must be for Florida-breds only.

By encouraging home-grown thoroughbreds the state can help the breeder, the farmer who raises the feed, and the property owners whose land will increase in value — not to mention the number of new jobs open to Michigan residents, the Kosibas say.

Why does the breeder need this encouragement or incentive?

Raising thoroughbred horses is no easy job, they explain, and it is an expensive job to boot.

Suppose you have a couple of good mares and are ready to pitch your spurs into the breeding ring. There's the all-important task of mating the mares with "just the right" stallion. Blood line, confirmation, racing records are all important factors to consider.

Once this decision has been reached, the breeder must plunk down from $300 to $10,000 for a single stud fee. Chances are you'll have to settle for a lesser-known stallion because the "big names" in the stud field are syndicated. A syndicated horse is one whose stud services are booked solid — usually for the life of the horse. Your chance of breeding one of syndicated stallions — the kind that have made big names for themselves on the race track — are next to impossible even if you have plenty of cash to dish out.

But after a study of available matches, say you come up with a pretty good choice. And say the match comes off. Now you've got eleven long months to care for your two mares until they foal. This is a critical period and you've got to take plenty of care with your horses.

Eleven months pass and your mares foal — two beautiful sucklings that are potential winners, you hope.

Now you've got a couple of babies on your hands that will take almost as much care and attention as a human baby. They've got to have penicillin, nose drops — the works to help them over colds and other minor but potentially dangerous illnesses.

Suppose your luck's still with you and your two colts don't have soft bones, weak knees, or splints after a couple years of pasture. Now they're ready for training. But it's winter in Michigan and unless you've got an indoor track you've got to shell out more money to send them to warmer climates for training. Sure, you can wait until the weather warms up, but by the time they've finished training the competitors are in peak condition and your colts are still breathing hard.

The training begins and your two horses don't "break down," they whizz around the track at record speeds every morning. Comes the big races, however, and you suddenly discover that you have a couple of "morning glories" on your hands. They're lightning in the morning but they slow down to a snail's pace in the afternoon — during the races.

You're unlucky but not alone. According to the Kosibas, who have had many winners, the percentage of horses who eventually make the track is small indeed when compared to the number of thoroughbreds that are raised.

But if you've caught the horse-raising bug, as have the Kosibas, a few setbacks won't completely discourage you. You'll start over from "scratch."

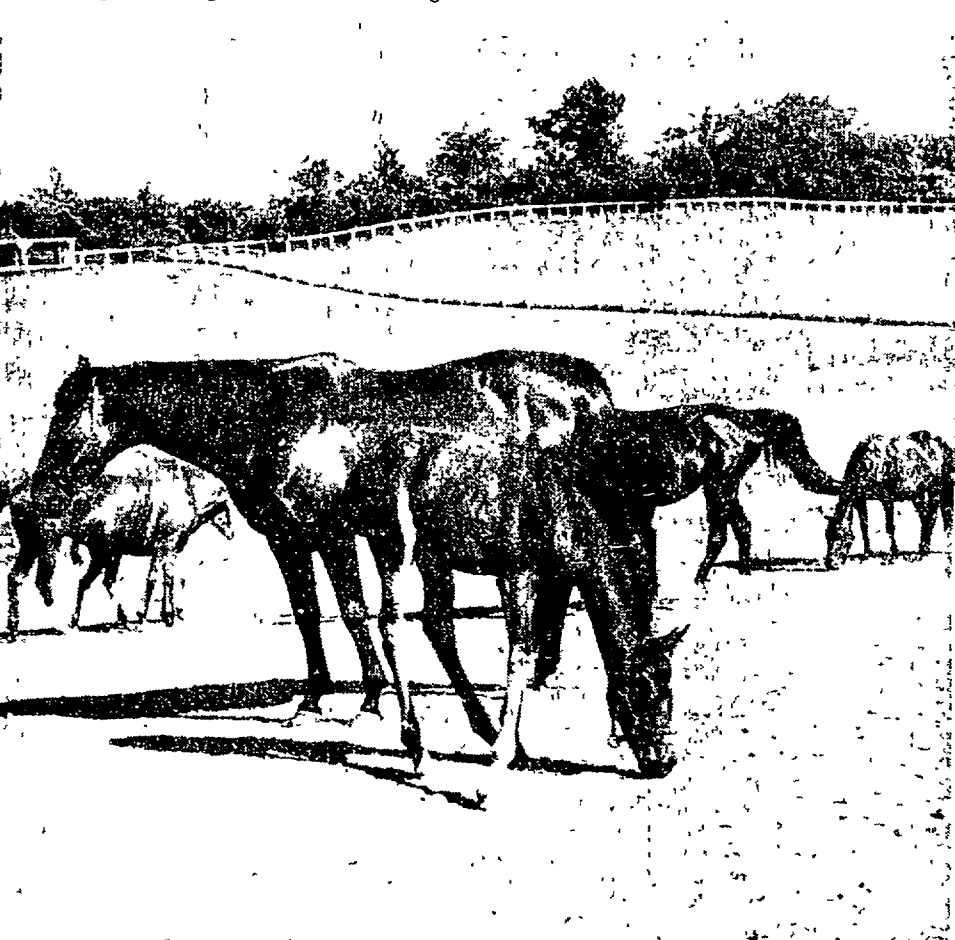

The Northville Record

The Oldest Weekly Newspaper in Wayne County

Thursday, July 6, 1961

NOW WHAT'S HE UP TO? Curiously brave under the protection of his mother, this young colt on the Grace Kosiba thoroughbred farm takes a close look at the camera. The colt is just one of the 17 foals that are kicking up their heels on the 80-acre farm — one of the largest thoroughbred farms in Michigan.

WHY GO SOUTH? Tourists need not go south to see a thoroughbred farm. Northville has several in its own backyard. Currently, some 75 horses are stabled at the Grace Kosiba farm on 8 Mile road with two dozen more Kosiba horses at the Detroit race tracks.

This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" to be presented at the semi-annual communion service in Christian Science churches Sunday.

Paul's charge to Timothy, "Watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry" (II Tim. 4), will be included in the Bible readings.

A YOKED FELLOWSHIP

Among the many illustrations which Jesus used to describe what the Christian life and fellowship is like was to speak of it as being similar to the use of a yoke. Most everyone knew in Jesus' day that, as oxen were hitched to a plow or found pulling a cart, they were harnessed together by a yoke. This was a moderately-sized piece of timber which was placed across the back of the necks of the oxen and affixed by ropes so that it could not get away from the neck of either oxen. The end of the beam of the plow or of the tongue of the cart was then attached to the middle of the yoke so that, as the oxen moved forward, they pulled the plow or cart with them.

With this figure in mind, Jesus one day said to those gathered around Him, "Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me. My yoke is easy."

By the use of this illustration, it is as though Jesus were suggesting three things:
First, the relationship of an individual with Jesus, in its highest Christian meaning, is a matter of being "yoked" with Him. One thing that an oxen yoke does is to bring two oxen together in such a way that they can not be separated from one another as long as the yoke is affixed to their necks. It is good to know that, as one gives himself to Jesus Christ, he comes into a relationship from which Christ will never separate Himself.

Secondly, the purpose of an oxen yoke is to make it possible for two oxen to pull a load. The yoke of relationship with Christ, also has a purpose. That purpose is to help the individual to learn more about Christ. How else can any one expect to learn about Jesus except he be close to Him at all times.

And third, Jesus said that His yoke is easy. It is a significant fact that the weight of the oxen yoke on the oxen's necks loses its heaviness as the oxen put themselves into combined effort at pulling their load.

If and when the load of life becomes heavy for us, it is good to know that if we will pull along with Christ, in yoked relationship with Him, our load becomes easier and we are able to accomplish many things for the good of His cause.

Many a sincere Christian has been able to say out of his personal experience of of "yoked fellowship" with Christ:

"His yoke is easy; His burden is light; I've found it so, I've found it so!"
Have you? Why not try it and see?

Do you count the candles on your birthday cake? Why bother? Once you're past sweet sixteen, it doesn't matter how many candles you're entitled to. What counts is what you're doing with those years.

The years that are past have burned themselves out. Perhaps they have been all you've wanted them to be—but, if you're like most of us, maybe you could have made them a little better.

One of God's greatest gifts is the marvelous fact that it's never too late to begin again.

Birthdays remind us of the passing of time, of a new life. Celebrate your birthday by giving. Give something of yourself, by going to your church and taking part in its activities, especially those that help others. Next year, the added candle on your cake will burn with a special brightness!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Whitehall Open House Sunday

The two Whitehall Convalescent Homes at Farmington and Novi are planning big open house parties on July 9 and 16.

The Whitehall Convalescent
Home at Novi located at 43455
W. Ten Mile, 300 feet west of Novi road, is having their party on July 9. Whitehall — Farmington at 40875 Grand River, Farmington will be the host on Sunday, July 16. Both are from 2-5 p.m.

Shetland pony rides for the children will be provided and old fashioned pink lemonade, ice cream cones, coffee and cookies will be served from a circus style tent on the front lawn.

The public is invited, and special tours of both Nursing Homes will be provided for all those wishing to become acquainted with these community facilities.

Lloyd Johnson, owner and director of the Whitehall Convalescent Homes says, "We are hoping to have 700 or more people attend each of these affairs. This party is strictly for the enjoyment of our patients and their families and friends in this community."

The two Whitehall Convalescent Homes, had similar open house parties in 1958, but they are endeavoring to make these bigger and better affairs. Special invitations are being sent to local city and township officials and to all local clergymen.

Mrs. Ruth Madigan, administrator of the Whitehall Convalescent Home at Novi, says,
"We feel that many people know very little about the skilled Nursing Home serving their community until they are foreced to use the Nursing Home Service in an emergency. We hope that, through these open house parties, many people who would not normally visit a Nursing Home until they had a friend or relative who was a patient will attend and become familiar with our type of service."

The Whitehall Home at Novi has 40 patients housed in a 6,000 square foot building on 7 acres of land. The building was constructed in 1950 and was designed especially as a Nursing Home.

Many families in this area have been served by the Whitehall Convalescent Homes since 1951 when the original Whitehall at 40875 Grand River was started by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson. The Johnsons also own the Whitehall Convalescent Home at Ann Arbor, a 64-bed facility.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Slinger

The old Daisy air rifle plant in Plymouth began humming with activity again this week with the announcement that it has become the new headquarters for Distribution Service, Incorporated.

The distribution organization formerly operated two separate plants, one in Southfield and one in Oak Park. All operations will now be moved to the Plymouth plant.

D. S. I. distributes automotive training and promotional materials, as well as items for industrial, retail, wholesale and public service accounts.

The company expects to handle hundreds of thousands of shipments per day.

Highly successful in its field, the firm anticipates an expanding business in surroundings that offer more than double the floor space formerly available.

The move comes as a great boon to Plymouth. An idle plant without equipment produces little tax revenue and no employment.

More significant, however, is the story behind the move.

Negotiations started more than a year ago with Harold Guenther, then mayor, making the contact. Later a community development corporation was formed with a number of civic leaders devoting time and energy to win the industry for Plymouth.

One of the leaders in this effort was a Northville township resident, Frank Arlen.

It's a fine example of what can be done by an active development group working together for the welfare of the community. For several years Northville leaders have recognized the need for such an effort here. And despite preliminary steps to institute a formal group, the project remains anchored.

About every two months we mention it editorially — as we shall continue to do until appointees are finally called together and organization begun.

The job may be more difficult for Northville — without as much industrial area available. But a preliminary study indicated that there is potential — and a very definite need.

And living right within our own boundaries we have individuals experienced in such efforts and willing to help.

State Bear Kill Up

Daniel Boone had nothing on hunters, kept bears from denning Michigan nimrods when itning up early and helped comes to bringing home the due the high tally.

Final figures comprising the box score for the 1961 Legislature showed about a quarter of the bills introduced finally passed.

In fact, there were 1,077 measures introduced, 681 in the House and 396 in the Senate, and 258 of them made it past the pitfalls of the lawmaking process.

Without considering the quality of the legislation, its sheer quantity is formidable.

Perhaps as many as 100 of the bills created major controversy before their passage. These ranged from the routine appropriations bills, which always bring strife, to highly specialized measures that would affect only a small portion of Michigan's population.

A lesson in the results of the 1961 session might be that whatever the amount of sound and fury, the lawmaking process goes on.

While attention focuses on the battles over dollars and the anguish of special interest legislation, a great deal of attention each session must be devoted to the relatively minor housekeeping measures and routine operational bills.

Boaters beware! This is the warning sounded by safety experts who site the growing number of powerboat registrations in Michigan as a potential danger to life and limb, if used unthinkingly.

Nearly 370,000 boats have been registered in Michigan under the federal numbering system, state officials report. And the number of watercraft authorized for use on Michigan waterways is growing at the rate of about 500 a day. The flow of registrations is expected to taper off by mid-summer, however.

Water safety, like safety on the highways, is the business of the man behind the wheel or rudder, as the case may be.

State Police files on water accidents show an alarming number of drownings and injuries are directly traceable to improper handling of the watercraft. Even the fisherman who stands up in the rowboat is still a major threat to himself and those with him.

Add to the ever-present dangers around the water, the threat from water skiers, skin divers and other new aquatic activities, and the conditions are becoming ever more dangerous.

Food faddists were on the receiving end of a warning by state Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis recently.

Miracle foods or food supplements are not magic cure-alls for what ails you, Heustis said. Instead, indiscriminate use of pills, capsules or concoctions can actually aggravate an existing condition or produce a brand-new ailment, he said.

A major part of the problem is that a general run-down feeling can often be traced to emotional strain, fatigue or simply not relaxing enough. People in this condition are prime targets for the colorful, but not always completely honest advertising promoters, Heustis said.

Economic Influences

Babson Park, Mass., Business year of depressed business. Stocks quickly rebounded, and again investors were looking forward to several years of prosperity when, in late 1871, the Chicago Fire occurred. This was followed by the great Boston Fire in 1872.

Then came the sinking of the S. S. Lusitania and our entrance into World War I. All went well with the economy until after the War when soaring interest rates and commodity prices brought on another collapse. This was quickly corrected and the stock market continued to advance until it reached an all-time high in 1929.

Then came the business collapse in Europe with the continued withdrawal of gold, climaxed by the very sudden failure of the Austrian Credit-Anstalt. This caused startling repercussions throughout the world. There followed several years of real depression.

Beginning in 1938 there was another recovery in business lasting throughout World War II, but this did not help the stock market much until 1942. With the exception of several relatively brief adjustment periods, our country has enjoyed good business for about 23 years.

The preceding one hundred years teach two lessons:

(1) That there has always been an economic race between inflation and production. These inflations were of different kinds — stock market, commodity, political; but they always gave business a "shot in the arm".

Fortunately, increased production absorbed this ... the great era of railroad building; opening of the South and West to farming; and finally increased commodity production due to inventions and advertising, accompanied by the electrical, chemical, and automobile eras.

(2) That when each prosperity period came to an end, it was from an unexpected event — a great fire, an earthquake, or the failure of some banking house or large corporation. In wartime, inflation always has been resorted to. We expect it will occur again to provide funds for the "cold war".

This should mean higher prices for stocks, commodities, and real estate. Yet the period of inflation we are now entering may be absorbed by the "space era", which is an unexpected event on the optimistic side.

Up to this time the Supreme Court had decided questions only between the States. Suddenly, in the early 1900's, it issued its "Northern Securities" decision. This took the zip out of the stock market until the first World War began. After the closing of the New York Stock Exchange for several months, the following year the Pullman Strike — first serious labor strike — occurred and cast fear and gloom over the stock market. This was accompanied by a series of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures.

Again in 1897 business steadily improved and permanent prosperity was prophesied, accompanied by stock splits, mergers, and large security offerings. Suddenly, in 1903, there came rumors of great quantities of "undigested" securities ... accompanied by the investigation of large life insurance and traction companies. The crash came just following the San Francisco Earthquake.
