

Township Vote 20%, City 15% in Primary

Northville voters followed the trend of the county and state in Tuesday's primary to nominate party delegates to the state constitutional convention. They stayed away from the polls in droves.

The township out-pollled the city by a total of one vote — 324 to 323.

But the township percentage, was considerably higher — a 20 per cent turn-out compared to a 15 per cent voter response from those registered in the city.

The nominees will now square off in a September 12 election. Elected delegates will convene in Lansing to begin the job of drafting a new state constitution.

Delegates will be paid $1,000 per month with a maximum earnings of $7,500.

Republican Anna M. Conklin, nominee in the 21st representative district, was the most popular vote-getter in both the city and township. She picked up 137 votes in the township and 96 in the city.

Northville township resident, George Bennett, outpolled all Democrats in Northville with 63 votes in the city and 62 in the township. He was defeated in the 21st district by George Montgomery, however.

Winners are indicated below in bold face type.

Traffic Problem Goes to Citizens

A public hearing to decide whether or not Grace street north of the Eight Mile road by-pass should be closed to traffic at the highway intersection ended in no decision Monday night.

The city council heard, both pros and cons to the idea from residents of the area.

The proposal was made three weeks ago by Grace street residents Sidney Frid and Charles Altman. They complained that speeding traffic down Grace street had become hazardous.

The council agreed to call a public hearing on the matter. Specifically, Altman and Frid asked that the road be blocked on the north side of the new Eight Mile road cut-off on a trial basis.

Several area residents opposed the idea. S. H. Robinson, C. Noble Dahlager, Fred Gots and Paul Terry spoke against the proposal. Some objected that it would divert traffic on to Hill street; others did not believe it was necessary.

Robinson proposed that a four-way stop be installed at Hill and Grace to slow down speeding traffic. The council promised to study the plan.

Gots, a resident of North Center, said the council should not consider this when it has not yet acted on the paving of North Center street.

Mrs. Howard Beller complained that Horton street had become a speedway for traffic and criticized the council for not posting signs diverting commercial traffic.

Finally, John Stuhenvoll, a resident of Grace street, suggested that a study committee of citizens be formed to consider all the traffic problems created by the cut-off in the Oakwood subdivision area. He volunteered to work on the study and was immediately appointed by Mayor A. M. Allen to head up a five-member committee.

Other citizens representing streets in the area will be appointed by the council.

Earehart Recovering

City public works employee Al Earehart is in St. Mary's hospital, Livonia, recovering from surgery he underwent Saturday for removal of his left lung.

Doctors are not admitting visitors at this time, reports Mrs. Earehart.

Missing Boy Sought Here

Northville police were still seeking clues Wednesday to the whereabouts of a 14-year-old boy missing from his home since early Tuesday morning.

The youth, Dennis Marco Phillips (alias Hattin), and a younger brother, Danny, ran away from their home at 461 River street about 11 a.m. Tuesday. The younger boy returned several hours later. He told police he had been separated from his brother when both boys fled from a man who left his car to pursue them as they walked along Northville road near Cass Benton park.

Danny, who stayed in the park until daylight, said he thought he heard a scream from the direction his brother had run, but police later investigated the area without finding any trace of the boy.

Dennis is described as five feet, four inches tall; weighs 92 pounds; and has a blond brush haircut. At last report he was wearing a blue sweatshirt, blue dress trousers over blue jeans and pajamas, and white tennis shoes. He was carrying brown, dress loafers.

Parents of the boy are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips.

Study Committee Plan: Scout Building on Cady

A recreation department study committee submitted its recommendations to the city council Monday night for a proposed new scout-recreation headquarters building.

The council had called for the study report after selling the present scout building at Dunlap and Hutton streets.

Although the old building is still being used by the recreation department, it is now owned by the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit. Plans call for the building to be torn down and replaced with a drive-in bank facility. Although no definite date has been set, the city anticipates it will vacate in the fall.

Kenneth Conley, recreation director, reported details of the building to the council.

Proposed site of the building is the city owned public works area on Cady street next to Oakwood cemetery.

Drawings made for the committee by Engineer Harold Penn show the 45 by 32 foot building nearly half-way back on the lot with parking in the front and facilities for ice skating, basketball and tennis in the rear.

The building would provide meeting rooms, game rooms and storage space for scout study were recreation committee members Luke Bathey, Al Jones, Richard Kay, R. D. Merriam and Ed Welch.

The council accepted the report and indicated that the suggestions would be considered when definite plans for construction were made.

Councilman John Canterbury pointed out that the city might wish to coordinate the design with the proposed new city hall. An architect has not yet been selected for the city hall building. Further, Canterbury added, the city is now exploring the possibility of obtaining federal funds to assist in its building program.

The city sold its scout building for $13,000. Estimates for construction of the new recreation building exceed $20,000.

At that time, a spokesman said the only change in his firm's plans was the timing. The only work that had been done thus far was the drilling of one well.

Their plans for a sewage treatment plant had not been approved by the state, but the spokesman stated engineers were working on a revolutionary new disposal plant.

Township Supervisor Frazer Staman said Tuesday that Thompson-Brown "might still have the option on the land." Officials of the firm could not be reached for comment.

Staman indicated that the developers were interested in purchasing their original plans under the township, but not under the village. He gave the reason that it was more expensive to develop within village regulations than township.

Attorney Bond told The News that his first line of defense would be the intent of the statute. He maintained the statute applies only to lands on the borders or boundaries of a municipality and is not intended to allow any "cutting" into a municipality, even crossing over major roads.

He said this is similar to the pending Olson case whose property abuts to the rear of that of Bert Welfare on 14 Mile road. Welfare won disconnection of 97 acres last year.

A second defense, Bond said, would be questioning the bona fide use of the land for agricultural purposes. It is zoned agricultural.

Village President Joseph Crupi said the village will fight the disconnection on the "merits of the case." And, he said, those merits seem to favor the village.

600-Acre Novi Site Wants Out of Village

Novi village was served a suit of disconnection involving over 600 acres on its western limits, once eyed by a Detroit developer for Lincoln Village, a fabulous $40,000,000 subdivision and commercial center.

Village officials promptly announced they would fight the disconnection. Attorney Howard Bond filed an immediate appearance in Oakland County circuit court and said the village would file its answer to the suit this week.

If successful, the disconnection would be the fifth in Novi since the village incorporation in the fall of 1958. A sixth case, involving some 180 acres owned by John Olson on 13 Mile road near East Lake Drive, is still pending in the courts.

The lands described in the latest suit lie about a mile south of the Wixom Lincoln plant and extend from Napier road on the west and going across Wixom road for an additional 207 acres. It has some small frontage on the southeast corner of the Grand River-Wixom road intersection.

Two separate suits were filed in Oakland County circuit court on July 12 and 13. The village received its notice July 18.

Owner of the lands is the Hickory Lane Land and Development company. Secretary of this corporation, is Andrew G. Brodie, of Birmingham. He did not name the other officers, other than stating there "are a lot of them."

Brodie said that one of the founders of the corporation is the late Roy Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell died recently.

An unspoken party in the suit is the Thompson-Brown company of Detroit, well-known land developers. They were responsible for the Kendallwood subdivision in Farmington township.

In November, 1957, Thompson-Brown had the township buzzing with excitement when it unveiled plans for its Lincoln Village — 2,000 homes with an estimated 7,200 population, a shopping center, an independent water system and a $300,000 sewage disposal plant and sewer system.

Seven months later, however, in May, 1958, the development firm announced a year's delay in the start of construction of the subdivision because of economic conditions.

At that time, a spokesman said the only change in his firm's plans was the timing.

The only work that had been done thus far was the drilling of one well.

Their plans for a sewage treatment plant had not been approved by the state, but the spokesman stated engineers were working on a revolutionary new disposal plant.

Four properties, totaling 399 acres, have been disconnected from the village under an old state statute. Disconnection is permitted under this statute if the property meets these qualifications.

The land is used for farming purposes only; the land is located on the boundary of the municipality; the land has not been subdivided or platted; and, the land covers 10 acres or more.

Sidewalk Bids Bounced

The city council Monday night hit a snag in its efforts to award bids for installation of new sidewalks on more than a dozen acres throughout the city.

Herman Perlongo of Plymouth and Paul Palmer of Northville submitted the only bids. Perlongo did not bid on retaining wall work. His sidewalk bid was lower than Palmer's but he told the council Monday night that he had made an error in his estimates and wished to increase his bid four cents a square foot.

The bids had been opened last week. A bid bond accompanied Perlongo's bid which City Attorney Philip Ogilvie said would have to be forfeited if Perlongo did not perform. The contractor said he would do the job under the bid terms, but that he would prefer that his error could be corrected.

Finally the council decided to throw out all bids and start over. Perlongo then raised the question as to whether the job could be advertised again within 45 days. The council asked the city attorney to submit a legal opinion on this.

Perlongo's sidewalk bid was approximately $5002. Palmer's was $6778 for the walks and $2,537 for the walls.

School Board Buys Bus, Awards Bid

At a special meeting Wednesday night, Northville board of education approved the purchase of a new school bus and awarded a bid for work on the Amerman school boiler.

The new school bus, needed to replace one retiring from service this year, will be equipped with an International chassis and a Thomas body. Total cost of the vehicle is $8,176.

A $10,440 bid from Howard Contractors, a Detroit firm, to convert the Amerman boiler from hot water to steam was accepted by the board. Architects for the conversion are H. E. Beyster and Associates.

It's Official Now: Hospital Closing Doors this Week

The miracle didn't happen.

Northville's Community General hospital closed its doors this week coming to a complete standstill as the last of its patients were scheduled to be discharged today.

Directors forecast the end last week. Monday night they carried out the formalities.

And as it turned out, the directors had no choice.

Monday night Board Secretary Rodney Kropf informed fellow board members that the hospital had been served with a notice to vacate within seven days for failure to pay rent.

The order was submitted by owners of the facility, Dr. H. L. Bergo and Abraham Farris. Neither of the owners could be reached for comment, so the fate of the building and its equipment is not known.

The decision to close down came about as the result of a resolution adopted by Directors A. M. Allen, president; Dr. L. W. Snow, treasurer; and Robert Anderson, Kenneth Fischer and Kropf.

Although doctors on the staff had held out a last ditch hope last week that funds might be accumulated to keep the hospital open, Dr. Patrick Daoust, chief of staff, admitted that it was wishful thinking.

Fourteen of the staff of some 25 doctors attended Monday's meeting and are determined to keep the staff active, Dr. Daoust stated.

"We need a hospital and we don't intend to slacken our efforts. Now we'll just have to start from scratch," he added.

Dr. Daoust reported that more contributions had been received from staff members towards the Tri-County Hospital Improvement Fund, which had been earmarked to purchase the hospital.

Community General hospital had 42 employees with a monthly payroll totaling nearly $10,000.

The hospital was draped with gloom as employees were notified that they were out of work.

"The employees have been terrific — even donating food and not knowing whether or not they would receive their pay," Mrs. Marion Weimer, who has been acting business manager, related. She said that she will remain at the hospital on a voluntary basis taking care of business details that will continue after the facility has been locked up.

The 24-bed hospital has maintained a high patient occupancy since both M.D.'s and D.O.'s have used the facility together. But board members point to a backlog of debts plus the loss of full Blue Cross plan membership as the reason for its financial failure.

Formerly Sessions hospital, the facility was purchased two years ago by Dr. Bergo and Farris but was leased almost immediately by a board of directors composed of area residents when it was learned that Blue Cross would not grant membership to a privately owned hospital.

But full Blue Cross membership was withdrawn after one year when negotiations to purchase the hospital and installation of certain improvements to the building were not undertaken.

Purchase of the hospital plus remodeling and new equipment reportedly cost Dr. Bergo and Farris some $150,000.

According to hospital directors, the facility could be purchased for $110,000 with a down payment of $20,000.

Death Wins Horseman's Last Race

Fate cheated Horace Markham of what probably would have been his last wish, seeing a horse race.

In his lifetime, the 81-year-old horseman owned, trained and drove harness race horses. He took up the reins for the first time back in 1909 when the Downs' oval was the race track for the Wayne County fair.

But three years ago, he was felled by illness and forced to stay away from the track, away from horses, away from the life he knew so well.

A few weeks ago, plans were made to bring Horace Markham back to the track. A special race — the Horace Markham race — was scheduled. As guest of honor, the retired horseman was invited to watch the festivities from the track's infield.

The race was run last night. It was a memorial race held only hours after the burial of the man for whom it was named.

Horace Markham died Sunday at St. Mary's hospital in Livonia. Funeral services were held yesterday morning from Our Lady of Victory church. The Reverend Father John Wittstock officiated. Interment followed at Rural Hill cemetery.

Rosary was said Tuesday evening at Casterline Funeral home.

In addition to his daughter, Miss Mazzie Markham, with whom he had lived at 428 River street, Mr. Markham was survived by sons, William, New Hudson, and Forest, Wayne; sister, Mrs. Olive Ducharme, Farmington; 15 grandchildren; and 13 great grandchildren.

His wife, Emma, preceded him in death as did two sons, one daughter, three brothers, and six sisters.

Mr. Markham was a member of Our Lady of Victory church.

Fans, Betting Behind 1960 At Downs

Northville Downs attendance and mutual handle is still trailing the 1960 pace in reports that include through Monday night's meet — the 27th night of the 38-night schedule.

To date betting is down five per cent. The average nightly handle is $229,454, compared to $240,000 last year.

Attendance lags at a rate of about three per cent.

Despite heavy rains Friday night 5,953 fans bet $258,000.

On Saturday the $13,000 HTA Trot with a field of the nation's finest harness horses attracted 8,000 fans who bet $318,000. But officials noted that on the same night last year $321,000 was wagered.

Total mutual handle at the Downs over the first 27 nights was $8,195,270.

Long Hitch For DeKay

After 15 years as a member of Northville's zoning board of appeals Elmer DeKay has asked the city council to accept his resignation.

DeKay was appointed to the board in May, 1946. He now serves as chairman of the board.

His letter of resignation was read at Monday's council meeting. The council voted to send DeKay a letter of commendation for his many years of service to the community.

10 Manager Bids Received by City

Councilman John Canterbury, charged with the duty of compiling and answering applications for Northville's city manager vacancy, reported to council members Monday night that 10 inquiries have been received to date.

Within the next two weeks, when advertisements would appear in other official city manager publications, Canterbury estimated that the number of applications would double.

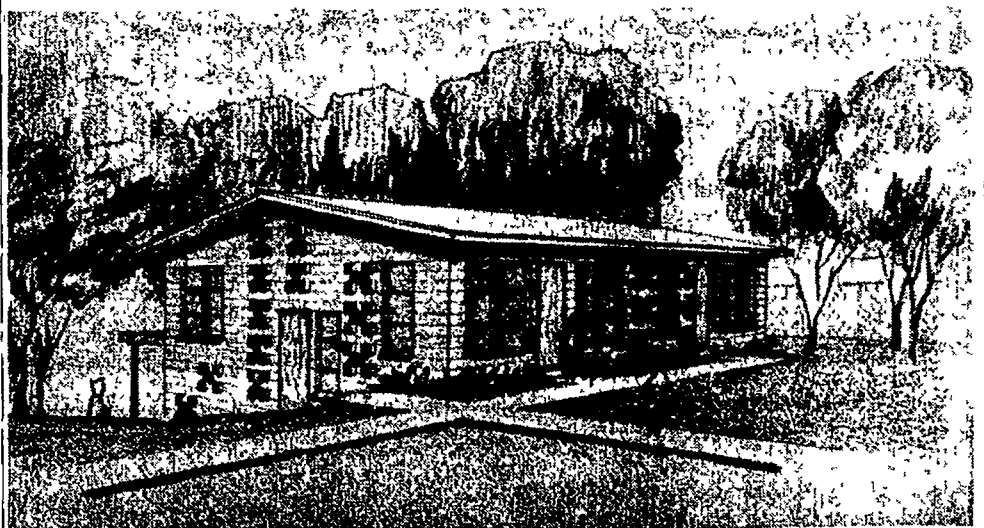

He turned over to fellow councilmen copies of information containing background material on eight of the 10 applicants. The other two arrived Monday and had not yet been compiled.

"After a complete list of applications is available the council is planning to study all data and then reduce the list to a smaller number who will be called for interviews."

City Manager John Robertson will serve his final day in office Friday. He takes over as manager of Ferguson, Missouri on August 7.

Robertson came to Northville five years ago from Ann Arbor where he had been on the engineering staff of the Michigan Municipal League. He served as the city's first manager.

Last week the council appointed City Attorney, Philip Ogilvie as acting city manager until a new appointment is made.

CITY ENGINEER Harold Penn submitted this drawing of the proposed scout and recreation building based on requirements outlined by a study committee. Proposed site of the facility is on city-owned property on Cady street next to the cemetery.

BIDS FAREWELL — John Robertson concludes five years as Northville's city manager Friday. He'll take over manager reins in Ferguson, Missouri August 7.

Michael and Dennis Reed, also the bride's cousins, were altar boys.

Mrs. Catherine Hoban, 330 Eaton drive, and the late John D. Hoban are parents of the bride. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Paulger, of Plymouth.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Daniel Hoban, the bride wore a white taffeta gown embellished with rose patterning at the neckline and fingertips and continued on the bouffant skirt. She wore a small, white gold heart, centered with a diamond, a gift of the groom. Her headpiece was a single, fabric rose, and she carried a cascading bouquet of white stephanotis and baby roses.

Maid of honor Mary Rich, of Plymouth, was attired in a street length, white organdy dress accented with a spray of orchid flowers on the skirt and complementing orchid cummerbund and sash.

Wearing an identical dress was flower girl Frances King, the bride's cousin.

Bridesmaids Nancy Nanry, a cousin of the bride from Jackson, and Carolyn Groom, of Plymouth, wore gowns styled to match the maid of honor's. Pink accents highlighted their dresses.

Bridal attendants' headpieces were lace, picture hats.

Another cousin of the bride, James King, was the ring bearer.

Joseph Bagnaso attended the groom as best man. Richard Kozara and Charles Nanry seated guests.

Mrs. Hoban chose a street length, blue lace dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Paulger wore a street length, pink lace dress and white accessories.

After the ceremony, members of the wedding party, the couple's immediate families, Father O'Neill and his mother, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Esslin, godparents of both the bride and groom, went to a wedding breakfast at Hillside Inn.

A reception later in the evening was held at the Knights of Columbus hall, on Schoolcraft road. About 250 guests attended.

When the couple left on their Ohio honeymoon, the bride was wearing a blue sheath with matching coat. She chose blue crystal jewelry accessories and wore a corsage from her bouquet.

The newlywed Van Cises are making their home at 861 Allen drive.

The bride's parents would have celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on their daughter's wedding day had the late Mr. Hoban been alive.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Aus-Eckstein, 132 Walnut, had house-guests from Mishawaka, Indiana last week. Visiting were Mrs. Austin's sister, Mrs. E. A. Kurtz; her father, A. A. Ives; and her father's friend, William of Michigan's School of Nursing. While Judy was home on vacation, the family left their Connemara drive home to go on a camping trip to Manistee. They were joined one weekend by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christman.

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

MASTERFULLY DONE — Newcomers John and Gay Swallow have turned an 80-year-old house into a picturesque early American home since their move here.

Creating a little bit of the Early American East in the Midwest has been a year-long project for schoolteachers John and Gay Swallow. And the end still isn't in sight.

With the biggest jobs behind them — ripping out walls, re-locating a stairway and adding closets — the Swallows are applying the finishing touches inside and mustering up the energy to tack on a garage.

A lot of work? Yes, agrees Mrs. Swallow; but it — remodeling — is one of the newcomers' hobbies. Object of the face-lifting is an 80-year-old frame house located at 516 Novi avenue, "just one house from the Mill Pond," adds Mrs. Swallow.

We found it after spending six months looking for a house to remodel, says she, explaining that Northville was really the former Livonians' first choice. It's small, it's close to their jobs, and it makes a good sports.

When it comes to revamping a house and working with wood, John Swallow is just the man for the job. He teaches wood shop classes at Lola Valley junior high school and makes furniture as a hobby. Both he and his wife refinish antiques.

Swallow is a graduate of Northern Illinois university where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in education. His wife, who also has a Bachelor of Science degree in education, was graduated from Eastern Michigan university. She teaches kindergarten at Cooper school in Livonia.

The Swallows have a second home, their cottage on Ore lake five miles south of Brighton, where they go to enjoy water sports.

Therapy Blooms as Plants Prosper

HOUSEMOTHER HELPS — The girls often depend on their housemother Mrs. Eugene Keeler, (center) for gardening tips. She sees that vegetables grown in the girls' gardens are served with their meals.

Each budding flower and each sprouting vegetable brings a feeling of accomplishment, a sense of pride, to the girls who tend them at Wayne County Training School.

Gardening for them is a joy, not a chore. They look forward to those hours in the day when they can get out in the sun to care for the colorful flower beds that fringe their cottage and the vegetable plot nearby.

This small, yet significant, adventure in horticulture was initiated at the training school this spring. It's an experiment in therapy guided by the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association in cooperation with the school, which is a home for the educably retarded.

Four months ago, Dr. Pa-qual Buoniconti, medical supervisor; Roger Reger, psychologist and director of the school's special treatment center; and Mrs. Toni Dawson, occupational therapist, launched a volunteer program. They conferred with Mrs. D. Hurd Clark, garden club president, on the possibility of starting a gardening program at the school.

At that time the garden club was already midway in plans for "Therapy Through Horticulture" projects at Northville State hospital and Eastlawn Convalescent home. But Mrs. Clark and another club member, Mrs. R. J. Wright, went ahead, nevertheless, volunteering to help out whenever they had a morning or afternoon to spare.

After the training school turned ground for flower beds and plowed, disced and fertilized the garden plot, planting started.

"We bought some seeds," said Mrs. Clark, "and the training school greenhouse supplied plants and flowers."

"Even when we can't get out to the school, Mrs. (Eugene) Keeler, their housemother, helps them with their gardening. She does a terrific job!"

About 19 girls have worked on the project so far, said Mrs. Clark. Some work with the flowers and others, she explained, tend their own 9 x 10-foot plots in the big vegetable garden.

Mrs. Clark said the training school project has given her an excellent opportunity to apply horticultural therapy theory she learned while attending classes conducted at the state hospital by Mrs. Alice Wessel Burlingame, authority on horticultural therapy.

"Mrs. Burlingame visited the training school last week, and was very pleased with our progress," reported Mrs. Clark.

"We plan to make it a year-round project," she added.

"Later on we hope to teach some of the girls how to can vegetables. We're also going to teach them how to arrange flowers, and there will be a special table for them at our fall flower show."

Kitchen Diary

Secret's in the Filling

Nothing does more for bananas than a good banana cream pie recipe like the one volunteered this week by Mrs. Herman Krauter, of 373 Rayson street.

Made with golden ripe bananas smothered with a creamy filling, Mrs. Krauter's pie is a match for any created by the finest pastry chef.

The key to its special flavor is in the filling which is made with less sugar than that called for in most recipes.

A second suggestion offered by the homemaker is her recipe for a moist date nut bread.

BANANA CREAM PIE

Mrs. Herman Krauter

- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup light cream (or 2 cups milk)
- 3 T. flour
- 1 T. corn starch
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 t. salt
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1 t. vanilla
- 2 bananas

1 9" baked pie shell
Scald milk and cream in top of double boiler. Combine flour, corn starch, sugar and salt; mix thoroughly; add slowly to scalded milk and cook 15 minutes, stirring constantly. The mixture should be thick and smooth. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks; return to double boiler and cook one minute longer. Cool and add vanilla. Slice bananas thin and arrange in baked pie shell. Pour cream filling over them and top with meringue; bake 15 minutes at 325 degrees or until delicately browned.

DATE NUT BREAD

- 2 cups dates, pitted and cut
- 3 cups boiling water
- 2 T. shortening
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 4 1/2 cups flour
- 2 t. soda
- 2 1/4 t. baking powder
- 1 t. salt
- 2 cups nuts, chopped
- 2 t. vanilla

Combine dates, boiling water and shortening; let stand for several minutes. Beat eggs, add sugar. Add date mixture, blending well. Sift flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Stir flour mixture into date mixture. Add nuts and vanilla. Pour into two greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pans; bake about one and a half hours at 350 degrees.

"SPECIALISTS IN FABRIC CARE"

WELL KEPT — Planting, thinning, weeding and watering all went into this neat plot. There are 14 such vegetable patches separated by two-foot wide paths, in the training school's garden. Each girl cares for her own with help from Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Wright.

THAT'S THE WAY — Garden club president Mrs. D. Hurd Clark (standing) is a guiding influence in the branch's "Therapy Through Horticulture" work at the Training School.

THE MEASURE OF TRUTH

Truth has dimensions! Suppose I should describe for you the desk that I have before me as I write. I could say that it is 30" high, 59" long, and 33" wide. It is made of oak veneer and finished in natural color.

There are probably a dozen things I could say about this desk and be within the dimensions of the truth. However the moment I add something beyond the facts, I depart from the truth. The Bible is the Christian standard of truth on all subjects it touches. As long as ones statements and beliefs square with an honest handling of the Bible, they are true. When ones departs, they are not true. Jesus said in John 17:17 "Thy Word is truth. Contradictions of the facts revealed in the Bible are false and will one day be proven so. The reason the Bible can be accepted as an infallible guide to truth is because it is the Word of God. Though God used human authors to write the Book, the words are His. My friend, put your confidence in the Bible and you will never be disappointed. Use it to test what you believe on the beginning of the world and its end. Use it to make sure you are on the right path to eternal life.

1904 Sears It's Still in the Parade

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Mary Buffmyer, formerly of Walled Lake and now residing in Detroit, was one of many who enjoyed Northville's Fourth of July parade. But she was particularly impressed by the 1904 vehicle driven by Dr. A. A. Holcomb and "did a little research to trace its lineage. She submitted the following article and picture concerning the "motor buggy" owned by Dr. Holcomb.

Still propelled by its own power, this old model was an entry in the Northville Tri-County parade, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce on July 4th.

Owned by Dr. August A. Holcomb of Northville, it is Model H No. 33DD Sears, Roebuck and Company car made in 1904. Dr. Holcomb purchased the car in 1919 and has kept it in excellent condition. He derives great pleasure in displaying it to the public as on the occasion of the Northville parade.

The link-chain drive is attached to a sprocket wheel on the rear axle and a shaft extending from the motor.

tending' from the motor. The toy sized gasoline motor is concealed under a miniature hood in the front of the vehicle. Two carriage lights add decoration, if not illumination to the car. The wooden wheels have steel rims covered with a narrow band of hard rubber. Leather straps attached to the top and anchored to the dash hold the top in place.

We feel a great pride and admiration for the gleaming, high-powered cars of today — and we should. But we have a nostalgic yearning for the

Dr. A. A. Holcomb and his 1904 Sears, Roebuck model.

BUSINESS IS THERE SALES HOT as the WEATHER

Summer business is the most neglected, the most under promoted area in our whole merchandising system. There is no excuse for reduced sales effort. The business is there if you go after it — all summer long.

People spend more money on merchandise in June, July and August than in most other months — the department of commerce survey shows. Are you taking advantage of that? Are you planning special summer promotion?

It is just a matter of recognizing untapped selling opportunities. And it depends on how actively stores go after business during the summer months. Make your big promotion and advertising plans now!

The department of Commerce survey shows that 25% (26.8 billion dollars) is spent during June, July and August. Smart retail merchants are capitalizing on this. There is no replacement for the newspaper to promote sales. People buy and read newspapers all summer long.

LIBRARY'S BEST FRIEND — Rhea Wilcox, head librarian since 1946, keeps track of the local branch's permanent 14,000 book collection. Last year alone she supervised a circulation of 45,000 including volumes borrowed from other Wayne County Library branches and from the Detroit Public Library.

She Knows Library Value

Northville public library is annually with other school districts embroiled in a financial crisis. The moot question currently troubling city, township and school officials centers on future support of the $25,000 a year facility.

The problem crystallized early last month when a library study committee jointly appointed by the city and township wrapped up four months' work with a report recommending among other things that a one-mill tax be levied in the school district to pay for operation of the library.

Presently, the city, township and county pick up the tab for running the local facility which is a branch of the Wayne County Library system. The city this year paid $14,000, the township $1,500 and the county made up the difference.

Should the study committee's suggested one-mill levy be adopted, city and township would each contribute about $10,000 annually with other school districts communities also sharing some of the cost.

However, latest tally shows that the committee report has been endorsed by the city council, passed along "without comment" by the township board and tabled by the board of education.

Anxiously watching the progress of the report as it passes through official channels is a soft spoken, congenial woman who has ridden the crests of many minor crises with the library since her first association with it back in 1939.

Rhea Wilcox's retiring demeanor, while compatible with her role as librarian, in no way masks her staunch convictions concerning the values of Northville's public library.

For 22 years she has watched it grow and mature. Today the facility, under her supervision, circulates some 45,000 books annually. And it still continues to serve the community as a meeting place for civic and cultural groups much the same as it did in 1889 when Dr. Mary E. Lapham met with a group of women to organize a library association in the village.

The building, even with minor face liftings now and then, is still the same "Young Men's Hall." Dr. Lapham bought and gave to the Ladies' Library association in 1889 with the understanding that it should always be — and has been to this day — available one day a week to the Women's club for meetings.

Reading chairs and bookshelves have long since replaced the pews and pulpit that the white frame structure originally sheltered. The building was erected in the early 1800's when Northville and Plymouth were in the same township by a group of churchgoers that separated from a congregation of Puritanical souls who thought music "an instrument of the devil."

Establishing the "New School" so they could sing hymns and have music with their services, the rebel group did not return to the parent congregation until years later when their difficulties were finally resolved.

After its religious tenants vacated, the building served successively as a public school, the village opera house and a Salvation Army barracks.

The Ladies' Association supported the library until the state passed legislation in 1926 making it legal for a township to assist in providing free library service.

In 1936 when Mrs. Wilcox, then Rhea Lyon, moved to Northville with her parents the library was in its second year as a part of the Wayne County Library system. Willard A. Ely had arranged the affiliation during his term as township supervisor.

Mrs. Wilcox's long friendship with the library was born five years after the family's move from Grosse Ile.

"They were in desperate need of help," she recalls, "when the head librarian asked me to apply for a position. I went down to the Detroit Public Library, applied and got the job."

Though she had no training in library science, Mrs. Wilcox was nevertheless well prepared for her work with books. She had gone to school at St. Mary's Convent — now Marygrove College — in Monroe and had studied at Detroit Teachers College, which later became part of Wayne State university.

As a library assistant from 1939-46 she could actually have felt at home in any of the libraries within the county system. The collections at each branch grew according to a stereotyped pattern, she explained.

"During the forties we didn't buy our own books. Instead, they were ordered by the county, meaning that all libraries got the same books."

Then around 1946 — about the same time Mrs. Wilcox took over the head librarian's chair after passing a civil service promotional exam — the county set-up changed, and each librarian was given a budget and permitted to select books of his or her own choice.

The county library board and Northville township board that same year cooperated in completely remodeling and redecorating the interior of the local building.

When the revamping was done, natural colored monk's cloth drapes framed the tall windows, overstuffed chairs and love seats replaced their hard, straightback predecessors, the closed off balcony was opened and the walls looked brighter in their new pastel coats.

While the additions of new bookshelves through the years have crowded out some of the library's homey atmosphere, its prestige and reputation have swelled in proportion.

"Other people from bigger cities come out here to visit the library and they're surprised that we cover so many reading phases," boasts Mrs. Wilcox.

"Local college students have even told me that their professors have said Northville has one of the nicest collections of children's books in the area."

How does Mrs. Wilcox decide just what books to order? By popular demand, keeping patrons in mind and reading book reviews, she explains.

"Twice a month I go to the headquarters in Wayne to look over displays of new books."

"I don't read too much myself. There's a lot of truth to the saying that librarians often read less than anybody else. My favorites are biographies and some non-fiction."

Asked to comment on the impact television has had on the public's reading habits, Mrs. Wilcox had this to say.

"Television has stimulated reading, particularly among adults. People will see a program on TV and come in asking for books with more information on the subject. Others see dramatic programs and want to read the original stories on which the plays or movies were based."

Satisfying library patrons is but one part of Mrs. Wilcox's job. With the help of her assistant, Kathleen Sprenger, she sends out overdue notices, catalogs new books, keeps tabs on the branch's 14,000 volumes and sends in monthly circulation reports and an annual report to the county.

Last week alone, 625 books were circulated.

Mrs. Wilcox, a widow whose husband died suddenly less than two years after they were married, is the library's hospitality hostess. Sitting behind a desk located near a bronze wall tablet that pays tribute to Dr. Mary Lapham, the library's founder, she extends the same friendly welcome to all. She greets many of the visitors by name. After all, you get to know a lot of people and make a lot of friends in 22 years.

CHURCH FIRST — Built in the early 1800's by a group of churchgoers who wanted to sing hymns and have music with their worship services, the white frame structure that today houses Northville's public library served as a school, opera house, Salvation Army barracks and "Young Men's Hall" before its final conversion in 1889.

MOVING MOUNTAINS

BY FAITH

Small Packages

The saying is true that some of the best things come in small packages. But in our day it is also true that some of the most powerful things come in little contain-ers.

Recently a shipment of cobalt was transported across our country. The size of the shipment was so small that it amounted to only 22 small capsules. And yet the power of the cobalt was considered so great that it had to be enclosed in two-ton armor.

The Power of Faith

Likewise, the faith in one single human heart can be of tremendous power. Jesus said, though that faith be but the size of a mustard seed, yet it would be power-ful enough to uproot a tree and transplant it in the sea. (S. Luke 17:6). He further states, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this moun-tain, Remove hence to yon-der place; and it shall re-

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville move." (S. Matthew 17:20). When Jesus said these words, he surely did not have in mind that his follow-ers should rove about reck-lessly demonstrating their faith by moving physical trees and mountains. If this were the case, then He would have given them the specific command to do so.

By this saying, that we can and should move moun-tains Jesus is describing the great power of faith. He is telling His disciples that no difficulty is so great in the Kingdom of God that it is insurmountable, unconquer-able. By strong faith and fervent prayer seemingly im-possible things can be ac-complished. Yes, Jesus, ac-tually adds: "Nothing shall be impossible unto you." (S. Matthew 17:20).

Indeed, there are moun-tains, massive and tremen-dous mountains that God wants us to remove through faith in Him. Let us discuss some of these.

What Mountains?

Certainly the first moun-tain is the mountain of sin. This mountain has been for-med and built up by so many transgressions of thought, word and deed that it reach-es to the heavens. This moun-tain is so much in our way; so bothersome, so great an obstruction, that it must be removed. It separates us from God and hides us from heaven. And this mountain of sin, pressing down upon us and looming over us, is so heavy that we cannot free ourselves from its weight. If it depended on us alone, this huge mountain would never be removed.

However, through our Lord Jesus Christ this dreadful mountain can be taken out of the way. Every one of the sins that make up this moun-tain has been paid for by His precious blood. The Pro-phet Micah exclaims that God will cast all our sins into the depths of the sea. (7:18). This sea is the mer-cy of God which will forever cover our sins. Now, for all who believe, the mountain of sin no longer exists. But if anyone refuses to accept the removal of sin through faith in Christ, he will be crushed forever by this mountain.

There are other mountains that our faith removes. There is the mountain of doubt, for example. The enemies of our soul would have us doubt the great Biblical truths of our faith, such as the doctrine of the Holy Trinity, the Virgin Birth and deity of Christ, the salvation from sin, death, and hell through the substi-tutionary death and resur-rection of Christ, the person and work of the Holy Spirit, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting. When these doctrines are called into doubt, our faith can overcome all objections through the power of the Holy Spirit. Thus, the moun-tain of doubt is removed.

Space does not permit us to elaborate on other moun-tains that our faith removes. Suffice it simply to mention them. There are the moun-tains of passions and vices, the unforgiving spirit, care and worry, fear and trepi-dation, and many others. All of these can be conquer-ed by faith.

Slipping or Gripping?

So often we don't make use of the power at our dis-posal; and our life becomes like a machine whose clutch is slipping. — All the power of the big engine is there, but the vehicle doesn't move.

We must learn to take hold of the power of God, literally grip it, clutch it. When we thus take hold of God by faith, we have in our possession the greatest power in heaven and on earth — a power that will move mountains.

My friend, are you moving mountains?

Employees Hold Outing

Approximately 500 persons connected with Northville State hospital attended the annual Michigan State Employees as-sociation (MSEA) picnic held at Waterford Bend park July 17.

Attending from outlying com-munities were Joseph Bartolac-ci, of Lansing, state MSEA pres-ident; William Cook, Ypsilanti, state vice-president; Marcus Tompkins, Ypsilanti, state di-rector at large; and Mr. and Mrs. Norm Miller, of Lansing.

Donald Erquhart and his com-bio and Russ Wright, of MSEA Chapter 23 in Detroit, furnished entertainment.

Margaret Cole, who works in the hospital laundry, won the portable television set, and Vel-ma Brockwell of the Nursing Service won the transistor ra-dio.

Other prizes were donated by the following merchants: Brad-ers Department store, Greens Automotive, A&P Store, Little Peoples Shoppe, Spagy's Gro-cery, Cloverdale Dairy, Sally Bell Bakery, Ritchie Brothers Laundry and Cleaners, North-ville Hardware, D&C Store, Gun-sell's Drug Store, Northville Shoe Service, Ellis Electronics, Freydl's, Laphams Men's shop, Northville Ddug Store, Stone's Gamble Store, Power's Dis-cout, Vern & Morris Sinclair Service, Lila's Florist, John-son's Gift Shop, Shrader's Home Furnishings, Kroger's, Tewks-bury Jeweler's, Biddle's Sin-clair Service.

Local MSEA Chapter 41 ex-tended thanks to those who do-nated gifts and to all others whose combined efforts made the picnic possible.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LET'S TALK CARS

We All
Buy the Image

Did you ever stop to think of what it is that makes people buy one product rather than another? Or why one business prospers and another fails?

According to the psychology experts, it's the public's mental "image" — or mental picture — of a product or business that accounts for its success or failure. Sometimes a good image of a business or product can be built up by clever advertising propaganda to bring overnight success.

Often this is the case with a new product, introduced to the market with an expensive advertising splash. But the image never lasts unless the product delivers the satisfaction it promises — unless the picture of promised satisfaction is REAL. This is true of all advertising that doesn't represent the facts. Its cost represents wasted money.

Our basic attitude in running a car dealership is to create the kind of establishment that we would want to do business with IF WE WERE THE CUSTOMERS. Customers want honest treatment, truthful guarantees, good service and fair value in everything. Give them that and you'll keep them.

We hope, in talking honestly to you about the car business in this column, that we can convey to you a true picture of our business. Should you decide to patronize us, we don't intend to waste our advertising dollars by not following through with the satisfaction we promise.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE-YEAR AGO

— Northville city officials frowned on the "weedy" outlook of the city. One councilman complained at a meeting that all he could see were "weeds everywhere and pointed out that while both the city and residents should be more responsible in this regard, the city should set the example. The DPW promised prompt action.

— A final vote on a sewer assessment district was postponed a week by the Northville council. The affected area is the Oakland County portion of the city where the Wayne County Middle Rouge interceptor will be extended.

— Northville school board approved borrowing $100,000 against anticipated state aid.

— A Detroit boy was awaiting trial in circuit court after he was captured by Novi police for the thefts of several hundred dollars worth of merchandise from local merchants.

FIVE YEARS AGO

— An electrical experiment designed to keep undesirable fish out of the hatchery water supplies was completed this week in Northville. Results were not yet completely available.

— A 21-year-old Northville man, Rubin Caudle, was killed in a car accident, nine days before his wedding.

— "No comment was the only comment of Novi Township officials regarding the August 7 annexation election. The City of Northville is proposing to annex land between 8 and 8 1/2 mile roads for a high school and subdivision.

— Novi school superintendent Dr. William Medlyn issued a plea this week for consolidation of the various Novi school districts. "We must plan now for the population increase certain to come," he said.

A public hearing on Northville's city manager ordinance is scheduled for July 30. If it passes, the city hopes to have a manager by October.

— Two 16-year-old escapees from Boys Vocational School gave Novi, Detroit and state police a busy time chasing them down. Novi police were first called in when a local resident reported his house had been broken into. Further investigation found a stolen pickup and car in Novi. The boys were finally caught in Detroit.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

— The largest crowd ever to witness harness racing in Michigan crowded Northville Downs over the weekend. Some 11,500 fans jammed the place Saturday night. The betting amounted to over $128,000, another record.

— Over $600 was collected during the Cancer prevention drive in Northville, reported Mrs. Walter Couse, general chairman.

— Northville is undergoing a rapid growth in building. Many homes are going up in the Oakwood subdivision while on West Main street, a wing to Sessions hospital (now Community General) is nearing completion.

— Two students from Northville, both veterans of World War II, are enrolled in Western Michigan's summer courses. They are James Beall and Howard Rodgers.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

— Northville and other communities were angry this week over the Wayne County coroner's insistence of taking bodies to Detroit and performing the autopsy there. After a local man was killed, the county took the body from Northville to Detroit for the autopsy. The local undertaker said that the same autopsy could have been performed by him in his own establishment.

— One of Northville's leading contractors, Alex Johnson, died in a car accident this week. In 1931, he built the Neal building which houses the Record office.

— Dr. C. D. Brooks scored an ace on the 207 yard eleventh hole at Meadowbrook CC.

— Prompt action by the Novi fire department prevented a fire in the basement of the Robert Hunt farm on 11 Mile road from consuming the entire structure.

Easter Seal Center Gets Plenty of Use

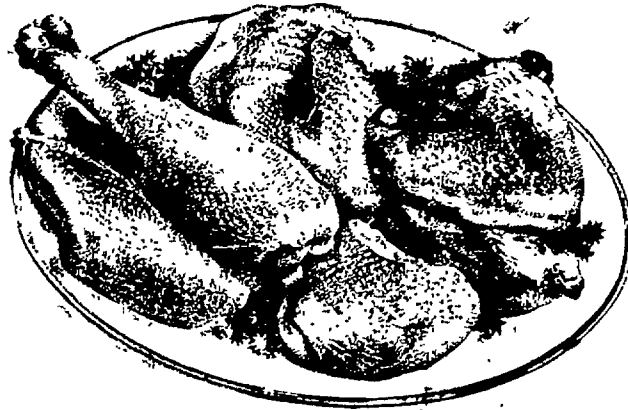

The report of services given by the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County during the month of June to physically handicapped children and adults shows that 282 individuals used the resources of the agency during that period.

Group activities involved 58 individuals who attended one or more of the clubs meeting regularly at the Easter Seal Center, the Career Days arranged by the Society for physically handicapped high school students or the meeting of the Parent Group at the Center. A total of 198 conferences were involved for planning, setting up and administering the services.

The Summer Day Camp for crippled children is now in operation at the Center five days a week through August 18th. The Day Camp and all the other agency services are financed through contributions received from the distribution of Easter Seals at Easter time.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

A most important and difficult job is now facing the city council of Northville.

Selecting a new city manager is a responsibility requiring great study and care. For the individual chosen must possess rare talents that go far beyond book learning. He must have patience, diplomacy, determination and, perhaps most important of all, devotion to his chosen profession. He cannot be interested in making money or rapid progress — both come very slowly in the business of city management.

For Northville councilmen the task of selecting a manager is doubly difficult by reason of the fact that they will be choosing only their second manager — and on the first time out they hit the jackpot.

John Robertson, who will leave for Ferguson, Missouri after five years in Northville as the city's first manager, turned in a most remarkable performance.

And he did it through expert use of the aforementioned qualities plus one other ingredient — an integrity that makes no compromises.

For those doubters — and some still exist who believe any manager's salary would be better spent for garbage collection — it is not difficult to list a few of the accomplishments under manager government.

These include a complete reappraisal program of the city's assessed valuations, equalization of assessments between the Wayne and Oakland county sections of the city (something that "couldn't be done"), a $300,000 water bond issue, a more equitable and accountable system for charging the township for fire protection, acquisition of federal funds for paving Center street between "Baseline" and the cut-off, sale of the community building and a start towards constructing a new city hall.

Naturally, the city manager cannot be credited completely with these accomplishments — but he was charged with the responsibility of laying the groundwork, preparing details and providing the council with full information.

But really, the physical accomplishments of our departing manager need not be mentioned. They stand recorded.

What does matter, so far as we are concerned, is that Manager Robertson leaves for his successor an office that has established its policies on the highest level. One set of rules applies to everyone under the same circumstances with special privileges to none.

And wherever he has gone as the representative of Northville throughout the county and state, he has left an impression of our community that reflects integrity and highest standing.

Five years ago when John Robertson arrived in Northville it is undoubtedly true that he dearly needed the community to gain experience in his chosen field of endeavor.

But as he leaves, it is the opinion of this writer that it has been Northville that gained most by the association.

You Need Hobby

Babson Park, Mass. Some readers may think this subject is a little out of my line, but so many of my friends have died of heart disease this past winter that I can honestly call hobbies a real investment.

A hobby is something which takes your mind off what is troubling you. You may have difficulty sleeping, or you may not have a good appetite, or you may be worried about the trend of the stock market or some unfortunate family affair. The cure is to get your mind on something else. An interesting hobby will do the job. Such a hobby, however, must be a "game" to you which will hold your interest, not a chore.

One of the most popular hobbies indulged in by professional men — such as doctors, lawyers, ministers, and politicians — is stamp collecting; the late F. D. Roosevelt was a great stamp collector. It combines knowledge of geography with a possible chance for profit. Those who desire the latter, however, should confine themselves to stamps of one country, preferably those of the United States.

You cannot think of anything else when you paint. It often keeps you out-of-doors, and your paintings are always in demand by friends and relatives.

Carpentry and crafts require a workshop somewhere in the house and the purchase of some machinery, which any hardware store will provide. Some executives make furniture for the older members of the family and others make airplanes for the kids, who love to watch.

Among other hobbies let me mention golf, photography, leathercraft, flower making, wood carving, Indian lore, shell collecting, rug making, bead work, glass etching, jewelry, weaving, mosaic panels and carpentry of all kinds. My hobby is gardening — both vegetables and flowers. Once each year "hobby" shows take place in all the larger cities. For information about these, write Hobby Show Office, 343 South Hill Street, Los Angeles, California. Also, you might subscribe to a hobby magazine in which you would find advertisements relating to the special hobby you are following or considering. Just reading an issue of a hobby magazine may take your mind off your troubles.

Those who have bought stocks on borrowed money are inclined to get nervous and unsettled when the market goes against them. They are unable to sleep and cannot do their best work. They even buy more stocks when they should sell, and vice versa.

These people are in desperate need of a hobby which would take their minds off the stock market and give them a clear judgment as to whether to buy, or sell, or just hold.

As a temporary short-cut to "peace and plenty," many such worried people take drugs called "tranquilizers." These drugs give only temporary relief; while a good hobby would be much more useful and non-habit-forming. Every brokerage office should have magazines on "hobbies as well as the Wall Street Journal and similar papers on the stock market.

Every reader of this column should have a hobby. Executives and others who are to be retired at 65 years of age should have a hobby before the time of retirement. Otherwise, they will be left with nothing to do, which leads to deterioration and early death.

One more thought: If I were a young man looking for "profession," I would sell my hobbies.

Michigan Mirror

Open Con-Con to Keep Public Informed

Half the battle to insure an open Constitutional Convention this fall is won.

Michigan's two major political parties have stated that the public's "right to know" should not be abused after the delegates meet in Lansing Oct. 3.

Their statement came in response to a resolution from the Michigan Press Association and a request that they take a stand on the open meeting issue. Newspapers of the state believe strongly that all sessions of the Constitutional Convention, as well as all meetings of committees concerned, should be open to the public and, of course, to representatives of news media.

They were gratified to learn of the official reaction of the political parties.

George M. Van Peursem, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, wrote MPA:

"The interest of all citizens can best be served by making all deliberations open to the public. If the voters are to make an intelligent final judgment, they must be kept fully informed along the way. They must understand completely the thinking of the delegates in arriving at a final determination.

"The delegates are responsible to the people who elect them and the electorate must be given an unobstructed view of the manner in which the responsibility is being discharged."

Gov. Swainson and the Democratic party came out officially for an open Con-Con. Referring to "tyranny wrought by rules prohibiting full public consideration of all matters pertaining to all people," the Governor added: "As the vehicle of the people, the Convention cannot deprive them of their right to consider any matter properly brought before the delegates."

Final phase of the open meeting battle will take place after the Convention convenes. This important body has the power to establish its own rules; and presumably the power to close meetings if its members choose to do so.

Individual contact with delegates before the recent election indicates that many of them favor open meetings, so perhaps a ruling to this effect will follow.

Mr. "Average Man" will be winner if the proceedings are as open as possible. Newspaper people feel that the question is not one of "freedom of the press," but of freedom of the polls.

Con-Con is the most important political question to face Michigan people in 50 years or more. Among delegates nominated are many outstanding Michigan citizens. Pressures, temptations, propaganda, appeals of all sorts will assail the delegates from all sides.

At such times of stress there is frequently a temptation to "get away from it all" by deciding in secret what course shall be followed. Such decision making away from public view is certainly simpler for the law-maker, and sometimes more efficient. It precludes pressures, reduces wasted time and eliminates embarrassment.

It also deprives the individual of his right to know what is going on in his government and makes it more difficult for him to fulfill his obligation as a citizen to be fully informed. This is the major difference between policy making for the public and for a private business.

As long as public business is really public business there is no short cut for letting the public in on deliberations. There can be no alternative. A new and better Constitution for the fundamental law of the state can come neither from a circus nor series of secret sessions. The public which approves or rejects the Constitution created by the coming Convention can concur with intelligence only if voters understand the reasons and the reasoning involved.
