

TAKING SHAPE — Kroger's new 16,000 square foot supermarket, scheduled for opening by "early fall", began taking form this week as walls rose into place. The site, shown in a picture taken from atop the Detroit Edison building, is bounded by Dunlap, Center and Hutton streets. The store will face south and provide parking for 150 cars. Entrances will be from all three streets. This week the Kroger company completed its sale of the Hutton-Dunlap scout building corner, to Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit. Although the bank has received federal approval for construction of a drive-in facility on the corner, definite plans have not been announced. It appears unlikely that the drive-in bank will be erected this year.

Tight Budgets Hit Area State Hospitals

Identical problems face both of the Northville area's state hospitals — lack of sufficient operating monies.

At Northville State hospital, operations will have to be conducted on $30,000 less than last year and at the Plymouth State Home and Training school, where the situation appears to be more critical, it will mean operating on a reduced staff with an increased patient load.

Behind it all is the state legislature's recent appropriations for mental health which have been cited by officials across the state as far from sufficient to carry on the normal course of business.

Both Dr. P. N. Brown, director of Northville State, and George Ebling, head of public relations at Plymouth State Home, concur.

Dr. Brown pointed up a fallacy which is prevalent in the minds of many people. He said it is true that Northville State hospital received more money in this year's budget than last.

But, he said, the appropriations do not provide for the three per cent pay raise accorded to the employees by civil service or the normal step increases in other areas.

by 47, which he said was one-third of the total reduction in the entire system of state mental hospitals.

Because nurses form the greater percentage of the staff, naturally the layoffs will be greater in that class. Ebling said this means patient care will be affected.

The patient load at the Five Mile road hospital will be increased by 317 around December 1. The Farmington unit will be closed in an economy move and the children there transported to the local facility.

Most of the staff will come along, Ebling said, but others will be laid off because they are involved in duplicate services in the two units.

The hospital's million dollar infirmary is expected to be completed by January, 1962, but Ebling said, it will not be opened until more money is coming their way.

Horse Show Next for JC's

Harness horses bid farewell to Northville Downs at the conclusion of the 38-night meet Saturday — but on August 12th and 13th horses of all breeds will return for the Northville Horse Show.

The event will be presented by the Shiawassee Saddle Club of Farmington and sponsored by the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Proceeds from the benefit show will be donated by the Jaycees to the fund for construction of a new scout-recreation center building.

The all-breed show will feature a total of 97 classes in two rings on both days.

Classes for Quarter Horses, Morgans, Arabians, Pintos, Appaloosas, Palominos, Tennessee Walking Horses, saddlebred, gaited and fine harness will be judged by Miller McAfee of Lawrenceburg, Kentucky and Larry L. Davis of Seymore, Indiana.

Some $3,000 in cash and premiums will be awarded winning entries.

The show has the sanction of the Michigan Horse Show Association and carries the approval of all state breed associations.

Added features will be the appearance of the Detroit Mounted Police drill team and, on Saturday night following the show, an outdoor square dance.

The show begins at 9 a.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. The Jaycees decided to sponsor the horse show after it was learned that the Optimist club would not present its annual rodeo this year.

The young men's group asked the city council if it might donate funds from the project toward the proposed scout-recreation building.

NEW OFFICERS of the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce haven't had time to rest on laurels of past accomplishments. Fresh from their Fourth of July program the group is now ready to launch a benefit horse show. The event will be staged August 12 and 13 at Northville Downs. Newly elected Jaycee officers shown above discussing details of their latest undertaking are: (l. to r.) Bob Norton, second vice president; Charles Ely, Jr., first vice president; President Walter Ribant and Karl Knott, treasurer. George Miller, Jr. is secretary.

Court Returns Rest Home Bid To Township

Circuit Judge Wade McCree has ordered the request for rezoning 4.2 acres on Eight Mile road for construction of a rest home back the township zoning board of appeals.

The action was taken after a suit was filed in Wayne county circuit court by C. J. Mulligan of 42565 Eight Mile road against the township of Northville for refusal to rezone his land from R-1-E (residential estates) to R-4 (multiple family).

A request for a hearing on the matter was twice denied by the township zoning board. Then a request for a hearing before the zoning board of appeals was also denied.

Mulligan, owner of Mulligan Construction company, proposes to build a 50-apartment rest home, a project he estimates would cost between $250,000 and $300,000.

The township zoning board has taken the position that the project would be harmful to residential values in the area and constitute spot zoning.

Mulligan's attorney, John L. Crandell, filed a 10-page, 29-point bill of complaint against the township naming the township and Wilbert J. Petz, building inspector.

Judge McCree ruled that the matter should go before the township zoning appeals board. If the request is again denied, Judge McCree set a September date for the suit to return to circuit court.

The zoners will meet next Tuesday evening at the township hall to consider the matter.

In other township business at the regular meeting of the township board Tuesday night the board informed residents of Ridge road, seeking to have a drain constructed to prevent flooding of the road and abutting land, that the county had proposed paying for half the job.

The remaining cost would be assessed against property owners. Residents attending the meeting protested to an assessment saying the flooding was caused by installation of a subdivision and road in the area years ago.

Supervisor George Clark told the residents that if they wanted the work done without an assessment they should list their reasons and present them to the board.

Mary Alexander Asks to Retire

The city council received official word this week of the resignation of an employee who would win the city's "most valuable" title hands down.

Mrs. Mary Alexander, city clerk, submitted her resignation effective December 31.

She notified City Manager John Robertson of her intentions last week. He informed council members by letter as his last official act before leaving Northville to take up his new duties as manager of the city of Ferguson, Missouri.

The council is expected to act on the resignation at its Monday meeting. Under the city charter, however, it is the duty of the city manager to hire a clerk. Mayor A. M. Allen indicated that the council would undoubtedly leave any discussion of a successor for Mrs. Alexander until a new manager was selected.

In years of service Mrs. Alexander leads all other employees. She started as an office clerk on October 7, 1934. A year and a half later she was named acting village clerk when Frederick Hodge, then clerk, died.

Under the village charter the office was elective. Mrs. Alexander was elected to the post regularly until 1955 when the village incorporated as a city. Under the city charter the clerk is appointed.

Mrs. Alexander is best known for her keen memory and ability to rattle off the owner of nearly every piece

Missing Boy Found

Fourteen-year-old Dennis Marco Phillips, subject of a police search last week when his parents reported him missing, was found early last Thursday morning at the travelers' bureau in the New York Central railroad station in Detroit.

Notified about 1:10 a.m. that their son was at the depot, the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, of 461 River street, drove downtown to pick him up.

The youth and a younger brother ran away Tuesday morning. Danny, the younger boy, returned the next day without his brother or any knowledge of his whereabouts.

Area Communities OK Sewer Contracts

The expected signing of final contracts by some 14 communities and the Wayne county department of public works for construction of the Rouge Valley sewage disposal system brought predictions this week that the state health department ban on buildings in the area would be lifted promptly.

Since mid-June virtually all building has been halted in Western Wayne county — including even single house construction that requires a tap-in into the county interceptor sewer system.

For the past two years the health department has ruled that no new lateral sewers could be constructed within the area — thus halting development of any new subdivisions not planned before the ban order.

George R. Bingham, director of Wayne county department of public works and the man responsible for bringing about the contract signing so that the new sewer project can get underway, is hopeful that the 14 communities to be served by the Rouge Valley portion of the sewer will return the signed contracts by Tuesday.

The Wayne county board of supervisors is expected to approve the project contracts on the 10th. Bingham predicted that this action, along with verification of bonding procedure and advertisements for construction bids, would bring a quick lifting of the building ban.

The Northville township board approved the revised draft of the final contract Tuesday night. Mayor A. M. Allen has called a special meeting of the city council to consider the contract tonight (Thursday). He indicated that the county had complied with changes asked by the city and that the signing should take place without a hitch.

Construction on the $18 million sewer system is expected to get underway within three months. It will be financed by 40-year bonds with each participating community paying its share based on allocation of flow in the sewer system.

Building trade officials are already hailing the long-awaited lifting of the ban. They predict it will provide some 60,000 jobs.

Included in the project are the cities of Northville, Wayne, Garden City, Livonia and Plymouth, the village of Inkster and Nankin, Canton, Northville, Plymouth, Romulus and portions of Van Buren and Dearborn townships.

Northville township signed its contract Tuesday night — but with some reluctance. Treasurer Roy Terrill did so "against my better judgement".

Terrill criticized the county for not properly policing the use of the present interceptor sewer. He pointed out that the township now uses only nine of its 500 allocated taps and already the system is filled.

Under the new contract the township will purchase an additional 500 taps (approximately). This will give the township sewer capacity for 1,000 taps. Presently only one lateral sewer line with five taps exists in the township.

Cost to the township for the additional allocation — which represents about one-third the original proposal — will be $46,410 plus interest over the 40-year period. Annual payments will be made from the general fund. They will range from $2,000 to $2,800. Eventually, board officials expect that tap-in fees from users will reimburse the general fund for this cost.

The city will be buying an allocation to accommodate a potential population of 9,000. Cost will be approximately $17,000 with annual payments of about $8,000.

Savings-Loan Firm Seeks Branch Here

Application for permission to establish a branch office in Northville has been made by Detroit Federal Savings and Loan Association of Detroit.

Approval must first be granted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. A hearing will be held on the application in Washington, D. C., on September 20.

According to James C. Biegel, treasurer of Detroit Federal, no announcement as to possible location or plans for opening the local branch can be made until the hearing has been conducted and permission for establishment of the branch granted.

The application asks for permission to locate in the vicinity of Center and Dunlap streets. Main offices of Detroit Federal Savings and Loan Association are located at 35 East Grand River avenue. The firm has one branch, opened last September in Warren. Its assets total $10,000,000.

Adelbert Hahn, a former Northville mayor who died last May, was a member of the board of directors of Detroit Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Local Legion To Honor L. Alexander

Lisle H. Alexander, a former commander of Northville's American Legion post and the Legion's state adjutant and welfare officer since 1942, will be feted at a state-wide testimonial banquet here August 12.

Alexander, who now resides in Plymouth, announced his retirement as a state Legion official at the recent convention in Grand Rapids.

A graduate of Northville high school, Alexander was post commander of the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147 from 1922 to 1924. He was elected post adjutant and finance officer in 1924, a position he held until 1935.

In 1935 he was commander of the Legion's 17th district. Local arrangements for the banquet honoring Alexander are under the chairmanship of C. Oscar Hammond, who may be contacted for tickets.

Band to Play At Fair

The Northville high school band has again been selected to participate in the musical program of the Michigan State Fair, it was announced this week by fair officials.

The 118-member band, directed by Robert Williams, will present a half-hour concert in the music shell on Monday, September 4 from 2:30 until 3 p.m. The band has also been invited to march in the grand opening parade Thursday evening, August 31, as well as the daily parade at the state fairgrounds.

This year's state fair, the 112th annual presentation, will be held September 1 through 10.

Writer Turns Golfer

Head Down, Grip Firm...

by Don Horkey

The boss took me golfing the other day. His consensus after we toured this 18 holes was:

"Why don't you take lessons, Don?"

That's what I like best about him — his subtlety. But convinced he had my best interests at heart, I dragged myself over to see Bob Cole, the golf pro at River Tee golfing range at 34725 Grand River, between Meadowbrook and Haggerty roads.

He and Bob Shinn have operated the range for the last two years, giving lessons and advice anytime between 9:30 a.m. to 11 p.m., seven days a week.

I told Bob my troubles and he agreed to take a chance on me. He mumbled something about being completely insured and "nothing ventured, nothing gained."

So on a bright, early sunny morning, I took my first lesson from Cole's assistant, Ron Walker. This was an introduction lesson, you might say.

HERE Ron Walker shows us the correct grip himself. Notice the crease between the thumb and forefinger of his right and left hands both point to his right shoulder.

It seemed a little ridiculous, I thought, to become reacquainted with the driver when I have been playing golf on and off for over five years.

But the only way to start is at the beginning, Ron told me, and it sounded logical. He said right there in the grip and stance is probably the biggest cause of bad golf.

So the lessons started. Placing the driver before the tee, I gripped it with my left hand so that the shaft ran diagonally across the first knuckle of my forefinger and the last knuckle of my small finger.

That wasn't hard, I thought. Then I placed the right hand over the left so that the small finger overlapped the forefinger of the left. About 90 per cent of golfers use the overlap in preference to the interlocking of the fingers.

The three most important fingers on the right hand, Ron told me, were the first two fingers and the thumb. "They control the club," Ron said.

Here I had my greatest difficulty. The two hands should be close together. I did everything I could to do this and even Ron (as is shown in an accompanying picture) tried. We succeeded somewhat.

A very important thing to remember at this stage of the grip is this: the hands should be in such a position so that the creases between the thumb and forefinger both point to the right shoulder.

Now we were ready to address the ball, Ron said. After I said "Hello," Ron explained that the stance should be in a straight line of flight with the hole.

And that generally a "closed" stance is preferred in driving whereby the right foot is a half-inch to an inch back of a straight line from the left foot.

The stance should not be a wide one as if one was straddling a horse. The feet should not be apart any more than the width of the shoulders.

I struggled to keep my balance. My shoulders aren't very wide. Maybe that's why the long shaft on the driver. You can lean on it.

For the drive, the ball is

So there I stood — the correct, close and compact grip and perfect stance. I was anxious to get a crack at the old ball.

"Now the swing," I thought. But "Not yet," Ron said. "See you next week for the next lesson."

I'm still going around with my half-completed swing.

THE GRIP — River Tee assistant golf pro, Ron Walker, shows News Editor Don Horkey the correct grip — the shaft mainly in the fingers of the hand, hands close together and the crease between the thumb and forefinger of both hands pointing to the right shoulder.

"Just Can't Believe I'm Going"

Dream Trip Comes True

Two weeks from today Marjorie Wickes will be watching the Atlantic's salty her vantage point aboard the luxury liner.

Embarking from New York, she'll sail east across the Atlantic bound for the French port of LeHavre.

From the LeHavre waterfront, she'll set out for the train station, there to board a coach headed for Paris.

After Paris, next stop is Brussels and a reunion with relatives she has not seen since her childhood.

"I just can't believe I'm going," exclaims Mrs. Wickes. "It still seems like a dream."

Little wonder that the housewife and mother of five is excited. The last time she was in Belgium — her parents' homeland — was as a 9-year-old school girl. She moved there with her family from Proctor, Minnesota.

Discontent with conditions, they sold their home 9 months later, packed up their possessions and returned to the States.

That was back in the early 1920's. Since then Mrs. Wickes has heard from relatives in Belgium who seldom forget to include in their letters an invitation for her to come and visit them.

And now — in just two weeks — she'll be on her way to the old country.

"I'm going with my mother, Mrs. Philomena Perreman. If it weren't for her, I couldn't make the trip," explains Mrs. Wickes. "She's paying my way."

During the two months she'll be away, Mrs. Wickes' married daughter, Therese, will take over household duties at the family home at 120 Fairbrook. The Wickes have two sons, Tom and David, living at home.

Besides visiting relatives in Antwerp, Alter and other small Belgian towns, Martha Wickes said she and her mother would like to take a sidetrip to the shrine at Lourdes.

"And maybe see a little of Paris while we're there," she adds.

WOODEN SHOES — Memories of her days as a school girl in Belgium are revived by the wooden shoes held here by Mrs. August Wickes of 120 Fairbrook. In two weeks Mrs. Wickes, accompanied by her mother, will be on her way to Belgium to visit relatives and friends whom she has not seen since her family lived there in the early 1920's. Present plans call for a stay of about two months.

Two Northville residents were honored at Eastern Michigan university's tenth annual summer convocation last week.

Helen M. Batzer received a Bachelor of Science degree and an Elementary Provisional certificate, while Margaret H. Taylor was awarded a Master of Arts degree in education.

Betty Stremich, of South Center street, was in Kalamazoo last week attending a summer orientation for freshmen who plan to enter Western Michigan university for the first time this fall.

Mrs. Zenaide Larkins, 404 Eaton drive, plans to attend a 35th anniversary luncheon for Clair and Lena Reid, retiring supervising managers of Field Enterprises Educational corporation, this Saturday at the Statler-Hilton hotel in Detroit.

Kay Sterling, of 46005 West Seven Mile road, is attending the Methodist camp, Hudson Collins, in the Irish Hills this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jerome and their son returned to the family home at 419 Dubuay Saturday from a two-weeks' vacation. The Jeromes, traveling with a camp trailer, spent a week at Onaway State park on Black Lake and a week at Orchard Beach State park near Manistee.

Enroute home they visited with their daughter and son-in-law, the Reverend and Mrs. Richard Hooker, in Kalamazoo.

Earlier this month, Mrs. Herman Toussaint and her three daughters drove to Quincy to visit a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Landingham.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Frogner, 18651 Sheldon, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. William Stirling, of Ann Arbor, took a vacation trip around Lake Superior, followed by a stopover at Canada's Manitoulin Island.

Mrs. Gail Wilcox, 17th district president from Livonia, will act as installing officer.

At the auxiliary's annual meeting June 14, the following women were elected: Mrs. Howard (Hazel) Wright, president; Mrs. Paul Palmer, first vice-president; Mrs. Oscar Hammond, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Collacott, secretary; Mrs. Rex Holloman, historian; Mrs. Joanne Neuenburg, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. John Goss, chaplain; and Mrs. Fred Rieger, Mrs. John Steinel and Mrs. Carol Flynn, executive board.

Members of 17th district auxiliaries will be installation guests and will attend a social evening after the ceremony Mrs. Gertrude Hatchett heads the refreshment committee.

Newlywed Forbeses

Motor to Arizona Home

Before an altar lighted by glowing tapers and decorated with sprays of daisies, Linda McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McKinney, of 218

Lake street, and Jerry Forbes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tackett, of 288 Church street, pledged their marriage vows Thursday, July 20 at a ceremony in the First Methodist church.

The Reverend I. Paul Taylor officiated.

The bride's father escorted her to the altar. She was gown in alencon lace over slipper satin and tulle. A crown of daisies held her tulle veil, and she carried a Bible overlaid with a bouquet of daisies and a red rose.

Sam Chizmar furnished the musical accompaniment for the ceremony.

The bride's maid of honor, Mrs. McKinney, chose pale blue brocade for her daughter's wedding. She wore a pink daisy corsage.

About 60 guests, including those from Windsor, Ontario, Detroit and Kentucky, attended a reception given by the bride's parents at their home.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, the new Mrs. Forbes was wearing a yellow sheath and white accessories. They planned to travel to Kentucky and then on to Tucson, Arizona where they will make their home.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Northville High school.

Just a Little Bit Better

Two desserts that have found favor with Mrs. Earl L. Egbert's big family are her choices for this week's Kitchen Diary.

Mrs. Egbert — housewife, homemaker and mother of four girls and two boys — said cheesecake got a bigger reception than ever at the family home at 20910 East Chigwidden drive when she made it with this recipe. She includes directions for a graham cracker crust, cream cheese filling and sour cream topping.

Her second recipe — for sheet cake with a fruit or raisin filling — is especially handy, notes Mrs. Egbert, for big family eating or large scale entertaining.

Planning a Picnic Menu?

— Don't Forget Nutrition

Two courses are enough to serve at a backyard barbecue party.

Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State university, recommends some careful planning to make sure those two courses add up to a nutritious, as well as tasty meal. There should be more (than hot dogs, potato chips and pop.

Begin menu planning with a meat or main dish which can be cooked over the coals. With the meat, add a vegetable or salad or both, and bread. Second course is dessert and this can be simple, such as fresh fruits in season. Beverage might be milk, fruit juices or tomato juice.

Before guests arrive, complete all the jobs that can be done ahead of time, such as preparing the barbecue sauce, dessert, salad, beverage and bread. List on-the-spot jobs and assign them to guests or other members of the family who want to help. Be sure the barbecue equipment works, the serving tools are handy, and there is plenty of fuel. Plans must also include the clean-up. Attractive pottery with outdoor eating, but paper plates eliminate dishwashing in favor of a bonfire.

Parents' Practical Hints Help Child Master First "R," Say Educators

"Should I teach my child the alphabet before he starts to school?" "When my child doesn't know a word in his reading book, should I tell him what it is?" "I tell my child to 'sound out' words he doesn't know. Is that right?"

These are just a few of the questions parents ask teachers about their children's reading.

The first "R" is a subject about which parents are deeply concerned. They know that reading is a basic tool their child will need for success throughout his entire school and college career. They know that a youngster with reading disabilities is seriously handicapped in keeping up with class work, textbook study, and supplementary reading.

One of the questions most frequently asked by parents is "Should I help my child learn to read — and if so, how can I go about it?"

According to the Michigan and National Education Association, parents can do many practical things to help their children develop reading skills. If your child is curious and is making comments about letters, there is no reason why he should not become familiar with the alphabet before he starts to school. Playing with

Honored at MSU Summer Institute

Philip Simonton a Northville High school senior won honorable mention in the theater course at the conclusion of the third session of the High School Communication Arts Summer Institute at Michigan State university.

Dr. Fred S. Siebert, dean of the MSU College of Communication Arts, addressed the awards luncheon Friday, July 28, on "Ideas Make the World Go Round."

Wed in Novi

Novi Justice Robert K. Anderson officiated at four marriage ceremonies last Saturday.

One was a double wedding in which Paul Henry Cirka, of Southfield, was married to Donna Jean Piley, of Detroit, and David Anthony Convery, of Southfield, was married to Judith Ann Reinholz, of Detroit.

Each couple witnessed for the other.

In another ceremony, two Walled Lake residents, John J. Stoka and Margaret Frances Christian, exchanged vows with Theodore Sloch, of Dearborn, and Virginia Lubitz, of Milford, as witnesses.

Beatrice B. Cape and Raymond Edward Nedea, both of Detroit, were also married Saturday with Richard and Mary Lou Nedea, of Detroit, as witnesses.

More than 500 outstanding students from high schools across the nation attended the 14th annual institute for advanced instruction in such fields as printed newspapers, duplicated newspapers, yearbook editing, business management, advertising, television-radio broadcasting, basic and advanced forensics and theater, advanced broadcast news and advanced journalism.

Courses were taught by university staff and professional personnel. During each session students cooperated in putting out a printed paper and mimeographed publications.

A total of 150 outstanding students from high schools in 10 states participated in the third session, July 17-28. Awards were presented to 49 students.

The Institute is sponsored by the MSU College of Communication Arts and Continuing Education Service.

alphabet blocks is a good way for him to become acquainted with letters. You need not drill him or otherwise "force" learning.

Make books an important part of his life. Read to him every day; let him talk about the stories and ask him questions about the pictures. Ask him to point out pictured objects that are alike and different in shape and color. This activity helps him to observe small differences in the shapes of letters and words when learning to read.

Avoid baby talk. Speak to your child in "adult" language now, so he will recognize words he sees and hears in the classroom.

Give him a variety of experiences. Take him to the zoo, the park, or the airport. Tell him the names of animals and flowers.

From time to time, give your child simple, consecutive instructions. For example: "Pick up the ball, then bounce it, then put it on the table." Make a game out of it. Such activities will help your child develop memory skills and follow directions accurately.

Have your child's sight and hearing checked prior to entrance into the first grade and periodically after that.

If he wants to read aloud to you from his school book, listen attentively.

When he reads aloud to you, don't try to use teaching techniques, such as having him "sound out" words. Instead, enjoy the story together, discuss the plot, praise him for reading well.

Give him extra opportunities to read. Let him read the directions for a new game or for assembling model airplanes. Introduce him to the public library. Get a library card for him. Let him choose the books he wants, rather than the books you feel he should read. Buy books for him, too.

Let your child see you reading frequently.

If your child has been in school two years and has difficulty reading his school books, or has a strong dislike for reading, ask his teacher whether he needs remedial reading help.

Provide your child with a reliable home dictionary and encyclopedia. Encourage him to look up subjects that interest or puzzle him.

Encourage him to read more by subscribing to a children's magazine.

If he's a television fan, see which programs he prefers and give him books on the same subject.

Last Night At Downs

Sighting the greatest closing night in its 18-year history, Northville Downs plans to bring the nation's top four-year-old trotters back for the second time in its final program Saturday.

Assistant Racing Secretary Harry Peterson, filling in for Bill Connors, received promises from seven of the starters in the $13,300 HTA trot at Northville two weeks ago to return for the rematch.

An open date in the HTA series, due to the cancellation of the leg at Blue Bonnets track in Montreal, opened the door for the trotters to come back to the downs.

The probable starters include: Carline Hanover from Castleton Farm; Curly Smart's Lloyd's Demon, who finished second in the Northville leg of the HTA; Nike Hanover, the third place winner, from Dick Buxton's stable; Ed Schaefer's Lumber; Dan, Adrian Miron's Duke of Decatur; and Dr. Nicholas Derrico's Volo Men.

And there is a distinct possibility that Merrie Duke, the top four-year-old trotting horse of the year, will put in an appearance. Merrie Duke finished fifth in the $50,000 International Trot two weeks ago in New York City and then topped the nation's best in a $25,000 stake there a week ago.

Wolverine Set to Go!

With Northville Downs winding up its 38-night meeting on Saturday, harness horsemen and followers of the standardbreds are anxiously awaiting the start of the Wolverine Harness Raceway meeting on Monday, August 7.

The third segment of the Detroit-area campaign swings in to its richest phase of the Michigan season then with Wolverine sponsoring an eight stake program with a value of $72,000 in addition to the $20,000 tip finale of six Michigan colts with a value of $30,000 more.

The Wolverine meeting will bring the nation's finest two and three-year-old pacers and trotters to the area during Grand Circuit Week, September 11-15, and the top aged stars for the other early closing events.

Second Day Camp To Begin August 11

A special feature — a second day camp at Amerman School — will highlight the final week of the recreation program, Director Ken Conley said this week.

The camp will start Monday and run through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 11:5 a.m. It will feature arts, crafts and playgrounds.

Conley said the camp will be on a trial basis to see if there is enough interest in that area of the city to warrant the recreation department's setting up another one there next summer.

Wash 'n' Return

Ballplayers in the evening divisions (Classes D, E and F) are asked to wash and return their uniforms this week to Director Ken Conley at the scout hall.

Time to Decorate Pets and Dolls

Next Friday's the night for the recreation department's seventh annual pet and doll show which will just about wind up the department's summer program of activities.

Director Ken Conley said the parade begins promptly at 6:15 on Wing street and judging of floats, pets and dolls will take place after the parade.

He emphasized that floats must be mobile to be eligible for float judging competition and prizes.

Also next week, golf, tennis and archery tournaments will be held and on Wednesday, August 16, the annual water carnival at Whitmore Lake will be sponsored.

The categories for judging in the pet and doll show will be much the same as last year's, Conley said. They are: Floats — best decorated and most original; bikes — best decorated; dolls — biggest, smallest, oldest, largest collection, most unusual collection, largest collection of foreign dolls, best dressed and prettiest.

Dogs — largest, smallest, oldest, blackest, shaggiest, most varicolored, best behaved, friendliest, homeliest, best registered and cutest puppy.

Cats — largest, smallest, oldest, blackest, fluffiest cat, fluffiest kitten and cutest kitten.

General pets — most unusual and smallest.

The Detroit News-Novice tennis tournament starts on the local level Tuesday at 9 a.m. at Cass Benton Park. It continues through Thursday.

Two classifications, senior (15 and up) and junior (15 and under) for both boys and girls will be held. Registration takes place at the scout hall or on Tuesday morning before the action begins.

The archery contest is next Friday at 9 a.m. at Ford Field. Golf tournament is Monday, August 13. Participants are to meet at 8 a.m. at the scout hall for transportation.

Buses will load at 9 a.m. at Amerman and Main street schools for the water carnival August 16. The all-day affair will be at Whitmore Lake and swimmers are asked to pack lunches or bring money for lunches.

There will be swimming races, wading races, diving for prizes, watermelon diving, canoe races and spoon races. Boys and girls will race in separate classes.

Absorb 2 Beatings In A Row

Class D Northville Recreation took it on the chin twice last week. The Redford Merchants decimated them, 11-3, and Livonia Rec beat them, 9-1.

Roy Rice breezed through the first three innings against Redford before wildness caught up with him in the fourth. He walked five, allowed just one hit and combined with some lax play in the field, the winners scored six times.

The locals had three hits by Jeff Crawford, Rice and Bill Capple. Rice's knocked in two runs.

Livonia spread their runs out evenly through the game, getting at least two hits in every inning except one.

Northville scored its lone run in the third inning on a double by Fred Steeper, a single by Bob Nauman and Crawford's fly to right.

Bill Chapple and Dave Hay shared mound duties, allowing ten hits.

Win Class E Rec Title

Eric Peterson came in with heroics.

The first game of a double elimination playoff began last night against the Eastern division champs, the Redlegs, at the Class E title in the western division of the Livonia recreation league.

The final score was 5-4 over Bill's Market and it shouldn't have been that close. A throwing error let in two runs and set the stage for Peterson's flip of the coin last night.

The winner goes to the district playoffs in Detroit and then, who knows, the state finals.

Northville scored four runs in the third inning Friday to take a 5-0 lead. Dave LaRue and Gary Gryns had two hits in the uprising which also featured two walks and an error.

The locals scored their first run in the first inning when Joe Hay singled home Dave Jerome, hurrying effort to pace the Wednesday victory while Dave Jerome led the seven-hit attack against Novi. LaRue started that one with Peterson coming on in the fourth.

Sunday, Hay and Jerome starred in the Western division All-Star's 13-9 win over the Wayne Stars. Hay had three hits and Jerome scored four runs.

LET'S TALK CARS . . .
Berlin, Communism And Cars

Nikita Khrushchev recently told President Kennedy that Berlin had become a "bone in his throat" that was choking him. It's no wonder when you look at the figures for refugees from East Germany fleeing the Worker's Paradise through that beleaguered city.
Since 1945, some 4,000,000 East Germans — one fourth of the population — have fled to the West. Since 75% of these escapees are under 45, the age group most needed to boost production, the Communists may soon have to shut down numerous factories. Diplomats in recent weeks estimate the loss of another 100,000 would necessitate this.
What are they fleeing? Take the case of the Communist motorist. If he is fortunate enough to persuade the one dealer — the government — he needs a car, it will cost him three to four years of his wages. And what a car! No comfort, no accessories, no style. And performance that isn't comparable to the lowest-priced American automobile.
Repair garages and service stations, which don't offer oil or lubrication anyway, are so rare that motorists must carry do-it-yourself kits with them. Anti-freeze is tested by tasting it and other methods are equally antiquated.
There is one advantage though — you can always find a place to park. Last year, ALL SIX Iron Curtain countries produced 241,990 cars. The U.S. alone produced six million. More than two-thirds of the WORLD'S automobiles are owned in North America and they require only ten percent of the population's income to maintain them.
If you were an East German motorist with a choice, which side would you choose?

Presbyterian church choir members, their families and friends 'bid farewell to City Manager and Mrs. John Robertson and their three children a week ago Saturday at a potluck picnic held at the 446 Eaton drive home of choir director William G. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Luchman, of Orchard drive, have returned from a European vacation. Their itinerary included visits in England, Belgium, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, Italy, France, Monaco and Holland.

Special highlights which intrigued the Luchmans were the Swiss Alps and Glacier, St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, the French Riviera and Nice, a gondoler serenade in Venice, Stratford-upon-Avon in England, the Rhine cruise and the Louvre in Paris.

Quiet Magic

ALL-GAS HOME

Only the whisper of a fan is heard in the kitchen but it's music to the ears of the modern homemaker! This slight sound assures her that a tiny blue flame is performing REFRIGERATION magic in her All-Gas kitchen.

The handsome, modern Gas refrigerator quietly and dependably goes about its job of replacing ice cubes as fast as they are used, keeping meat and produce fresh and tempting for days, speedily chilling drinks and desserts. And because it is cooled by Gas there are no moving parts, thus reducing the annoyance of breakdowns and chance of costly service expenses. It saves time, trouble and money for the homemaker.

Handsome to look at, outstanding in performance and wonderfully economical — the Gas refrigerator is another example of the superior quality and outstanding efficiency of Natural Gas for modern housekeeping.

How Many Do You Know

Wild Flowers All Around

Most motorists driving along the roads and highways in the Northville - Novi - Wixom area either are not aware of the colorful plants along the roadside or are just not interested in "weeds".

Yet, these weeds that anger the farmer and the homeowner are often as lovely as the prize plants that are purchased and carefully grown in gardens and lawns.

The photographer for this newspaper last week drove along area roads taking pictures of wild flowers. Above are six of more than a dozen that he discovered in less than an hour. How many could you have identified?

Listed below are short descriptions of the wild flowers appearing above:

Chicory (Cichorium intybus) — A native of Europe and the Near East, it was brought here by the early colonists, who considered it a useful plant. It grows in a somewhat staggering style to a height of about three feet with a stem that zig-zags at awkward angles and a sparse display of raggedy leaves of no particular size or shape.

The root of this plant, dried and ground up, is the chicory of commerce that is used as a filler or flavoring agent in coffee mixtures. The leaves of the plant are used for salad in some countries.

Common Evening Primrose (Oenothera biennis) — It grows over most of temperate North America. It is easily recognized by its stiff stem one to five or six feet tall, its narrow, pointed leaves, and the terminal spike of yellow four-petaled flowers.

The individual flowers appear for one night only, but new buds open farther along the spike on succeeding evenings. This is not the flower, as many have guessed, that is described in Wordsworth's poem.

Pasture Thistle (Cirsium pumilum) — This wild flower is the badge of Scotland, but there are several hundred species scattered all over the Northern Hemisphere. They are notable, of course, for the sharp prickles that stick out from the leaves and other parts of the plant and also for the "thistle-down".

Most Thistles have purple flowers, but some species come in pink, yellow, cream, and white. Thistles are hardy plants and their prickles protect them from grazing cattle that cut down unarmored flowers in pastures.

Bouncing Bet (Saponaria officinalis) — An importation from Europe, this plant flourishes on railroad embankments, along roadsides, and in waste ground over most of the eastern and central sections of North America. It grows to a height of two feet or so on a thick stem with narrow leaves. The many five-petaled pinkish-white flowers grow in a round cluster at the top of the plant. Sometimes called Soapwort, the Bouncing Bet was used for washing purposes by rural England folk who worked up a lather by crushing the leaves in water.

Queen Anne's Lace (Daucus carota) — Viewed by an artist it is a lovely flower with leaves of a delightful design, but viewed by the farmer it is a disgusting weed. This plant flourishes all across the United States and Canada throughout the warmer months of the year. It grows to a height of from one to three feet and the flat-topped cluster of white tiny five-petaled flowers may be from two to four inches in diameter.

The yellow carrot that goes into a soup or stew is a lineal descendant of Queen Anne's Lace, and both are members of a famous family including caraway, anise, parsley, parsnip and celery.

Turk's-cap Lily — This flower is but one of many species of lilies which vary in color throughout North America. The stiff stem reaches height of two to five feet with narrow and pointed leaves, two to six inches long. This lily grows taller and blooms later than most.

The flower itself is orange-red and is spotted. Its segments curve sharply backward at the tips.

Novi Man Faces Trial For Murder

Earl Clifford White, 22, of Novi, charged with the shotgun slaying of his stepfather in New Hudson on January 22, is scheduled to stand trial between the 15th and the 25th of August when the Oakland County jury convenes, court officials said this week.

Hearing of an argument between his mother, Mrs. Victoria Thompson, and his stepfather, White borrowed a neighbor's 16 gauge shotgun and drove to the New Hudson Inn. According to the authorities, he saw his mother and stepfather walking out of the Inn and shot his stepfather in the chest at a range of ten feet.

The spiritual foundation of divine healing will be emphasized at Christian Science-services Sunday.

Included in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" is the account in Matthew of the healing by Christ Jesus of the man with the withered hand.

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 51) describes the basis of Jesus' healing mission in these words:
"Jesus was unselfish. His spirituality separated him from sensuousness, and caused the selfish materialist to hate him; but it was this spirituality which enabled Jesus to heal the sick, cast out evil, and raise the dead."

The Golden Text is from Zachariah (4): "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts."

Archdeacon Sunday Guest at St. Paul's

The Very Reverend Charles D. Braidwood, Archdeacon in charge of the Northern District of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, will be the guest preacher at St. John's Episcopal Church, 574 South Sheldon Road, Plymouth, next Sunday August 6th. The hours of the services are 7:45 a.m. and 10 a.m. with the Holy Communion celebrated at both services.

Archdeacon Braidwood holds a Master of Arts Degree from the University of Michigan and for some years served as a teacher in the High School of his native town Lapeer. He studied for the ministry at the Episcopal Theological Seminary, Cambridge, Massachusetts, graduating with a Bachelor of Divinity Degree.

Following his ordination, he was called to be rector of Grace Church, Lapeer, where he served continuously until his appointment to be Archdeacon by the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Ph.D., S.T.D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Mich-igan. This will be his first visit to St. John's Church, Plymouth. The Rector of the parish, the Rev. David T. from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. Fr. John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

Many times the avoidance of sin demands that we be silent; sometimes other reasons advise it. In St. Matthew we read that Christ, when questioned, held His peace. Many people are perfect strangers to silence except when they are fast asleep. Millions of people in the world never experience the inner calm and peace that come from spending one hour, a week silently in church; never experience the quiescence that comes from spending two or three days a year at a retreat house, conversing with God alone. And yet a short period of the self-discipline would help their souls decidedly.

Quiet and even solitude were in special favor with Christ. "He Himself was in retirement in the desert and in prayer." Our modern life is far from solitude. Our modern inventions and machinery of every sort, while very useful in their way, do not further the spirit of quiet and peace.

St. Matthew reports our Lord as having once given us the advice to enter into our room, and there, having shut the door, to pray to the heavenly father without anyone knowing of it. The detail about shutting the door reminds us of holy reserve, where we are careful not to allow distractions to spoil our communion with the Divine, or, we may look upon our "chamber" as our mind, and our "door" as our ear,
both of which should be shut,
as it were to irrelevant matter.

The opportune love of isolation, practiced by our Savior, is imitated by those of His followers who retreat into solitude for a few days to attend more earnestly to their soul. "He went away and hid Himself from them."
Our modern society with its hustle and bustle of rapidly moving distractions, forces the spiritual person to devote himself to periodic self-examination, reinforced by the aid of earnest and sincere prayer.

A true Christian is reti-cent whenever there is no good reason for speaking, such as charity, or utility,
for, not to mention etiquette,
Christ said we must answer, for every idle word. "Of every idle word men speak, they shall give account on the day of judgement."

Reticence is a virtue to be treasured, for it preserves us from many sins and faults which otherwise we might experience. It also teaches us to look upon silence as a guardian standing at our side always ready to warn us and keep us from mistakes and blunders.

the martian question

Something to think about . . . If there are intelligent creatures on some other planet, your son and mine may one day meet them!

What sort of people would you hope these "Martians" to be?

Believers in God . . . or atheists?

Men and women with spiritual ideals . . . or materialists of the Kremlin vintage?

Warm-hearted, friendly, with a Christian sense of values . . . or ruthless, indifferent, dedicated only to self?

WOULDN'T IT BE HEARTENING to find on that planet a world of churches . . . of faith . . . of folks at worship and at work for the Truth revealed to them by God?

Something to think about . . . Next Sunday! In this world! Which isn't yet all we want Mars to be!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship.
It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and ready your Bible daily.

Lions Enjoy Last Fling

This was their last fling at school grounds. They would be on a feverish pace with the first exhibition game set for Friday, August 10, with Cleveland at Detroit.

A handful of the players seemed to know what to do with a golf club. Tackle Harley Sewell jokingly told others that he had only four clubs and no putter. He said he'd probably use his driver to putt.

Then on Friday, they padded up at Cranbrook and the grunts and groans echoed through the air.

The story was different with star defensive back, Yale Lary. He poked his first ball into the pond way down the first fairway. His second ball was on the right of the fairway, again even with the pond.

Lary was one of 11 players still not signed to 1961 contracts, as of last Thursday. But one observer said there was no worry, that they would come around in time once practice began and the itch to play got the best of them.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

For a city to be located in two counties has few (if any) advantages and numerous disadvantages.

Northville residents have known this from past experiences with different assessing practices in Wayne and Oakland counties that, until corrected, resulted in school tax inequities.

There's another odd twist connected with the multi-county status of the school district that concerns the library.

Kenneth Shrewsbury, a township resident and member of the recent city-township library study committee, brought it to our attention.

He called it the principle reason for the committee's recommendation that the school district be the contracting organization for the library.

While all city residents may use the library without an additional fee (regardless of whether they reside in Wayne or Oakland county), the Oakland county residents of the school district must pay a $10 annual family fee.

Shrewsbury points out that this discourages assignments at the public library by the school system.

"As far as I'm concerned, the committee wasn't trying to bring the township's share of the cost up to the city's," Shrewsbury declared. But he calls the present library set-up in contradiction with the school district.

Under the committee's proposal residents of the school district would be asked to vote a one-mill levy earmarked for library support. The school board would then be the contracting agency, but not the administrative arm, Shrewsbury added, giving all students and adults within the district equal library privileges.

A set of rules for employees of a carriage and wagon works back in 1872 were recently uncovered in Boston.

One can't help wondering what sort of an impact they would make at company union bargaining tables of the modern day auto industry:

1. Office employees each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks. Wash windows once a week.

2. Each clerk will bring in a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day.

3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to your individual taste.

4. Men employees will be given an evening off each week for counting purposes; or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.

5. After 13 hours of labor in the office, the employee should spend the remaining time reading the Bible and other good books.

6. Every employee should lay aside from each pay day a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

7. Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, or frequents pool and public halls or gets shaved in a barber shop, will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.

8. The employee who has performed his labor faithfully and without fault for five years, will be given an increase of five cents per day in his pay, providing profits from business permit it.

Midyear Outlook

Babson Park, Mass., The laymen whom I meet and talk with often express confusion as to the true nature of business and financial conditions, having been bombarded with conflicting reports from the optimists and the pessimists. Therefore, I think it would be helpful to readers to have a brief survey of economic developments through mid-year 1961.

The outstanding feature of financial conditions over the first six months of 1961 was the sharp upsurge in stock market activity. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average rose from 616 at the beginning of the year to an all-time high of 706 in the middle of May, before trailing off to 684 at midyear.

Although part of the increase in investment interest was in anticipation of some improvement in general business later in the year, inflation psychology and speculative enthusiasm heightened buying impatience.

Bond prices were on the upside until late in this period as easy credit conditions in the banking system sustained demand for them. Tax-exempt bonds proved to be the exception, however, with prices depressed by the huge volume of new offerings.

Industrial production continued to decline during January and February, then in March regained the ground lost in those two months. Thereafter, output from the nation's factories expanded sharply. The breadth and vigor of the business upturn were indications that the fourth economic recession since World War II had run its course.

Notwithstanding pump-priming measures initiated by the Government, the business rebound was largely the result of natural curative forces. It has been my experience that over-exertion, colds, and indigestion respond best to "rest treatment", usually without my having to resort to pills. So, too, the recessionary period provided the needed rest for the economy to appear to correct such imbalances as excessive inventories and debt, and unduly high price and cost structures.

The biggest source of disappointment during the first half of 1961 was the lethargic pace of consumer spending for goods. Monthly retail sales figures dawdled along at rates below those for the year-earlier period.

This, however, may have been a blessing in disguise, since consumers were building up future buying potential by adding to their savings and paying off their installment debts.

New construction expenditures continued the generally sideways trend of 1960. Commercial, industrial, and public utility outlays for new construction were at record rates, but these were offset by the low levels of new home building and highway construction.

However, housing starts began to edge upward after the beginning of the year, and road building took an upward spurt in the spring.

Real estate prices were generally steady during this period. Suburban property values held firm because of residential, commercial, and industrial developments in outlying areas made accessible by new highways.

Urban real estate values, however, remained under the handicap of traffic and parking problems. Farm land prices continued to rise aided by prospects of increased usage of agricultural products through foreign-aid programs.

Budget Squeeze Hurts 35,000 Mentally Ill

Thirty-five thousand Michigan citizens need all the help they can get.

They are the mentally ill men and women in the state's institutions where care is given to persons with problems ranging from major personality deviations to complete disassociation from reality.

Michigan will spend $76 million in the current fiscal year, which started July 1, to take care of mental health needs.

Tragically, all of the mental patients in the state don't get the kind of care they should. The Mental Health Department is handicapped by what it terms an unrealistic budget.

Legislators determined that $76 million was the proper amount and suggested administrative belt tightening so that the department could live within its appropriation. Mental Health wasn't the only field which claimed it was short-changed by the appropriating committees of the Legislature.

Politicians are divided on the appropriations question with some saying nobody got enough, others saying the need is for economy in government instead of more money and a third group saying that it would have been wise to increase the operating money in at least some areas of government.

Politicians are not so divided when it comes to pressure to keep taxes down. They must chart their courses according to their feeling for the people in their home areas.

But practically all those who believe some increases would have been in order say Mental Health, and possibly higher education, should have been considered for more money.

The problem of the mentally ill is probably the more acute of the two.

In addition to the 35,000 institutionalized mental patients in Michigan, another 4,000 are convalescents either at home or somewhere else where they can be handled on an out-patient basis, another 2,300 or so are awaiting treatment and about 200 inmates at Southern Michigan Prison, Jackson, have been called dangerous psychotics.

Keep in mind that these figures represent only the mental cases under the auspices of the state, not private hospitals and sanatoriums.

Because of overcrowding, inadequate staff and lack of money, the patients already being treated are unable to get the competent, professional care they need and the backlog of patients waiting for admission continues to grow.

Of all the areas of state government activity, the care of mental patients should be among those getting top priority, simply because people with mental problems need help so badly.

Plague! The word which strikes terror in many countries of the world means little to most Michigan residents.

But "plague" of a sort, Cholera, swept the primitive frontier town of Detroit in 1834 and estimates are that one-eighth of all the people living in what was later to become the Motor City of the United States died of that plague that summer.

Even the territorial governor, George B. Porter, was felled by the sickness and died.

It all seems remote in these days of alert public health officials, sanitary living and wonder drugs. The cause of the plague in 1834 was as common then as inside plumbing is now: open air drains wherein ran all manner of pollution.

The open drains of Detroit in that era would be enough to make the present day Water Resources Commission throw a fit.

But the deadly germ that killed the people of Detroit well over a century and a quarter ago was at least partly responsible for today's modern sewage systems. After the plague hit a second time, the open drains in Detroit were ordered closed over. Piped sewage systems were here to stay.

If the legendary Paul Bunyan were alive today, he'd have some "organized" competition from the State Highway Department.

While the road builders aren't serious lumbermen, they do make use of the trees that have to be cut when clearing right-of-way. Not for the old "corduroy" roads and not for bridge pilings as might have been done in times past.

Today's highway builders simply saw the logs up into convenient lengths and sell them to anybody who will buy.

There is not a great deal of lumbering done in the course of road building, but enough so that a single project earlier this year netted the Department nearly $4,000. That one sale consisted of some 86,000 board feet of logs cut into 12, 14 and 16 foot lengths.

Present-day Paul Bunyans will want to know that the trees cut to produce the logs were Sugar Maple, Basswood, Hemlock, Yellow Birch, Black Ash and Elm.
