She's Top Canner

A Northville woman walked away with a fair share of the Home Arts Department awards in the 1961 Michigan State Fair.

Mrs. Fred W. Cobb of 21355 Beck road, won three firsts in the canned meats with her canned veal, canned lamb, and canned chicken.

She also won three seconds for her canned beef, canned pork and for an entry in the canned meats (any other) category.

Four third prizes also went to Mrs. Cobb for her canned rabbit, canned ground beef and canned sausage, and for her luncheon set in the cotton bag competition.

Mrs. Cobb also took fourth prize for her needlepoint chair seat.

"I've done better in other years", admitted Mrs. Cobb, who was somewhat disappointed at her showing in the sewing competition.

Other Northville winners in home arts were:

Mrs. Mary Jane Soutey of 43757 Park Grove Court received third prize for a knitted child's sweater and two fourths for knitted mittens and an infant's knitted sweater.

Mrs. Francis E. Huggs, Jr., of 8637-Napier road, took first prize for her chiffon cake. She also took third prize for a cinnamon loaf yeast bread.

In College

Local Students OK

Of 95 Northville high school graduates polled, 37 percent boosted their high school averages by almost a quarter of a point in college.

The remainder averaged a decrease in their averages by over half a point.

Of the 37 percent who raised their marks, 43 percent were from the upper quarter of their senior class, 31 percent from the upper half and 27 percent from the lower half.

He added "although in many cases the extenuating circumstances are known to us."

Some of the factors, Quay pointed out, that must be taken into consideration when attempting to understand a student's success or failure in his transition from high school to college were these:

The social maturity of the student; the choice of college or curriculum; the choice of curriculum at the college or university; and the student's ability to adjust to a new environment.

Drop was 1.20 and largest raise .60.

From the smaller colleges (DeVry Technical School, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Stephens College, Alma, Vanderbilt, Michigan College of Mines, and Adrian) — of eight cases four up .47 and four down .42; largest drop was .75 and largest raise 1.20.

Of the total 77 averages within the first two years of college (mostly first and second semester freshmen) were used in the study. Some 55 of the 77 showed a decrease in their average by .59 while the other 22 were up .35.

These were among the conclusions reached in an 18-page study of Northville high school graduates "and their performance in a college or university atmosphere."

It was prepared by Gene Quay, assistant principal, and submitted to Superintendent Russell Amerman and the school board last month.

In his forward, Quay explained that the poll was made "to give some kind of a picture of the results attained by Northville students as they enter the college or university atmosphere" and was not intended to represent an exhaustive analysis.

Quay concluded with the hope that this kind of study would be continued in the future through the high school's counseling department.

Six major state universities and seven minor ones were represented in Quay's studies. School by school, this is what his report discovered:

Central Michigan University — of 21 cases in the report, eight raised their average by .18 and twelve averages dropped by .45. The largest drop was 1.09 and the largest increase was .35.

Michigan State University — of 33 cases, ten were up .28 and 23 down .59; largest drop 1.49 and largest raise .73.

Eastern Michigan University — of 15 cases, four were up .46 and ten down .47; largest drop 1.41 and largest raise .86.

Wayne State University — of five cases, all five were up .54 with the largest raise 1.04.

University of Michigan — of nine cases (and all, incidentally, from the upper quarter of their senior class), two were up .24 and seven down .94; largest drop was 1.56 and largest raise .30.

Western Michigan University — of four cases, two were up .32 and two down .80; largest drop was 1.20 and largest raise .60.

From the smaller colleges (DeVry Technical School, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Stephens College, Alma, Vanderbilt, Michigan College of Mines, and Adrian) — of eight cases four up .47 and four down .42; largest drop was .75 and largest raise 1.20.

The plan would include a general landscaping of the area and creation of a "park" atmosphere. A foot bridge would be constructed across the creek at the southern end of the property leading to the spring.

Councilmen praised the idea and promised full cooperation with the young men's group.

The site, owned by the city but now unused and a constant maintenance problem, is bounded on the east by the creek which meets South Main street at the southern end of the property.

It was suggested that the area would not be used as a picnic site, but rather as a park to enjoy for its esthetic value.

Composer Likes Band

Northville's fine band couldn't play for a more critical audience than it did Labor Day during its hour-long concert at the Michigan State Fair.

"La Fiesta Mexicana" was one of the selections played by the band and in the audience from Lansing to hear it was the composition's author, Dr. H. Owen Reed.

According to Director Bob Williams, Reed said the piece was played not only correctly "but musically" also. Reed had many words of praise for the local band, Williams said.

Council Makes Appointments

Two appointments to the board of appeals and a committee to study traffic conditions in the Oakwood subdivision area of the city were named Tuesday night by the city council.

Sidney Frid and Ray Westphal were appointed to the board of appeals to replace Elmer DeKay and George Kohs who both resigned in recent weeks.

A five-member study committee was selected that will recommend to the council proposals for better traffic control on the residential streets bisected by the Eight Mile road cutoff.

John Stubenvoll was named chairman. Other members are Mrs. Stuart Campbell, Sid Frid, Ed Welch and Tom Wheaton.

To Interview Manager Candidates

The city council has proposed a schedule of interviews with four of six candidates under consideration for the position of city manager.

Two will be asked to meet with council members Saturday evening and two more next Monday evening.

The other two "prime" candidates of the 26 applicants will be scheduled for interviews as soon as possible, the council indicated Tuesday night.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie has been acting as city manager since former Manager John Robertson accepted a position in Ferguson, Missouri August 1.

Jaycees Propose Park

In a night that was otherwise rather hectic (see story on assessments) the city council was pleasantly surprised Tuesday by a Junior Chamber of Commerce proposal to undertake a beautification project in the city.

Jaycees Charles Ely, Jr., Karl Knuth and Eugene Maloney appeared before the council with a plan to beautify one acre of city property adjacent to the Ford valve plant and extending along South Main street to the Old Spring.

The plan would include a general landscaping of the area and creation of a "park" atmosphere. A foot bridge would be constructed across the creek at the southern end of the property leading to the spring.

Councilmen praised the idea and promised full cooperation with the young men's group.

The site, owned by the city but now unused and a constant maintenance problem, is bounded on the east by the creek which meets South Main street at the southern end of the property.

It was suggested that the area would not be used as a picnic site, but rather as a park to enjoy for its esthetic value.

Local Girl, 17, Killed

One 17-year-old Northville girl is dead and another critically injured as a result of an accident early Wednesday on Ford road near Lilly in Plymouth.

Both girls would have begun classes today as seniors at Northville high school.

Constance Stephanie Slater, daughter of Mrs. Irene Slater, of 40311 Sunbury drive and Victor S. Slater, of Indian River, died in Wayne county General hospital shortly after the 4:45 a.m. accident yesterday.

The other girl, Paula Nitzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nitzel, 317 River street, was listed as critical by hospital officials. She underwent surgery yesterday for head injuries.

Both girls were passengers, along with Joseph Thomas of 44126 Ford road, Plymouth, in a car driven by Ernest Mueller, of 6820 Canton Center, Plymouth, when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by James S. Carter, of 5757 Haggerty, Plymouth.

According to Wayne county sheriff's deputies, the Mueller car had just turned left onto east-bound Ford road from Lilly when the accident occurred. They said that Carter's critical condition made him unable to make any statement about the accident. He received knee, hip and head injuries.

Mueller's condition was called good by a hospital spokesman, who said he may be discharged soon. Thomas was not injured according to sheriff's deputies.

Funeral arrangements for Miss Slater had not been completed by press time. This information may be obtained by calling the Casterline Funeral Home.

Train Hits Stalled Car At Crossing

A 20-year-old Farmington man jumped from his car early Tuesday morning moments before a train hit it and pushed it off the track.

Ralph J. Garry, Jr., told Northville police that he was driving west on Seven Mile road enroute to work. He came to the crossing, saw the signal and stopped.

Noticing the train being some distance away, he started to cross when the car stalled. He could not restart it and was forced to jump. The train pushed the vehicle off the track into the eastbound lane of Seven Mile.

Damage was limited to the front of the car. Garry was uninjured but badly shaken up by the whole thing.

Police Chief Eugene King reported a quiet Labor Day weekend for the department. No accidents were reported on city streets.

Safety Talks

Chief Eugene King will make his annual safety lectures to the elementary students in Northville's public and parochial schools this Thursday and Friday.

Threaten Public Vote, Suit Against City

The solitude that usually prevails in the near-empty city council chamber was broken Tuesday night by the appearance of a standing-room-only audience that came to talk about special assessments for street improvements.

And those who spoke up were either steadfastly opposed to the council's proposed 25 per cent assessment plan or were fearful that they would not be given costs and other details before being caught in the assessment.

Court action or a public vote to decide whether or not the city should invoke special assessments were threatened by the citizen group.

"To further embarrass the council's efforts to attempt to improve a dozen streets this fall under the 25 per cent assessment plan, a petition signed by 14 residents of the Butler-Pennell area asked that their previous petition to install curbs, gutters and storm sewers by assessment be withdrawn. The petition called the assessment unfair.

Several residents then chided the council on its "good planning" asking why just one block of Orchard drive was being improved and why other streets were just partially paved.

Warming up to the occasion a resident of Northville Estates (newest area annexed to the city) jumped into the fray and reminded councilmembers that their streets would soon need maintenance.

"What percentage of your budget is set aside for street repairs", he demanded.

Residents of Walnut, East Orchard drive as well as several other streets, not now under consideration for improvement were at the meeting.

With Councilman Richard Ambler not arriving until the protesting crowd had departed the council lined up at two and two — Richard Juday and Mrs. Beatrice Carlson opposing assessments and Mayor A. M. Allen and John Canterbury in favor.

"If you insist on jamming this down our throats, we'll have to do something about it", said Sid Frid, a former village council member and open critic of street assessments.

He asked City Attorney Philip Ogilvie what procedure would be necessary to call for a public election of the matter of assessments.

Attorney Ogilvie said he was not prepared to answer and later pointed out that it would depend on whether the people wished to abandon the idea of assessments altogether, which are provided under the charter, or simply hold an "advisory" vote.

Walnut street resident, J. W. Baker, said he had not been able to get enough information concerning the proposed assessments. He criticized the council for installing sidewalks without informing property owners of the cost.

In this regard the council pointed out that property owners had been notified by first class mail of the assessment and a public hearing held.

(Confusion also surrounded the installation of sidewalks on East and Walnut. Original construction bids were refused. Later the council decided to do grading work with city public works employees. The paving contract was awarded to Paul Palmer on competitive bidding without advertising.)

Mrs. Peter Cucchetti of North Center street then asked the council why the residents beyond Hill street to Maplewood Center had not been polled on their opinion of paving. She said they did not want their street paved.

Mayor Allen explained that this is typical of the problems facing the council. He pointed out that Center between the cut-off and Hill needed paving and that the residents wanted the installation. "And another block beyond Maplewood we have a contract with the subdividers to pave the street within a year or two", Allen stated.

Councilman Canterbury pointed out to the audience that the council had a full agenda and that a public hearing on assessments would be held before any action could be taken.

He stated that he believed that "at least one person in this room now opposed to assessments will favor them once all the facts are explained". The audience laughed.

The full impact of the citizen attack on the council was not felt until several hours later, long after all but one or two members of the audience had left.

With Councilman Ambler then on hand another near-crisis for advocates of assessing took place.

Ambler explained that he was not in full accord with the vote taken last week in his absence.

He continued to favor assessments, but said that they should not be invoked unless (1) there is a definite need for the paving and/or the majority of the people on the street want it improved.

He said he was not convinced of the need on East, High or Elm.

Mayor Allen told Ambler that the council had considered these streets critically in need of paving and had received requests for paving from both residents and officials of the Lutheran school.

Finally, Councilman Juday proposed that the city go ahead with the paving of East, High and Walnut out of general funds "to get the job done before winter". He said that it couldn't be done in time under the special assessment approach.

He won Mrs. Carlson's support, but lost in the vote, 3-2.

Mayor Allen then lectured his fellow council members.

"It's time we stand up and be counted. We're not elected by the people to be led around by our noses — how can you possibly satisfy people who will sign three different petitions", he asked referring to the Butler-Pennell area.

"We're elected to do what we think is right and I believe assessments are fair. Years ago many residents paid 100 per cent on Cady — and I was one of them. So is it fair to these people that others go without assessments?"

Continuing, Mayor Allen turned to Mrs. Carlson.

"You're worried about the older people on pensions. Is it fair to them that we pave Center street out of our general tax funds and not assess the school or Michigan Bell Telephone company?"

The mayor was upset and clearly discouraged.

As the matter now stands the council will hear a report on plans and specifications from the acting city manager on September 18. If this report is approved, a date for a public hearing will be set with public notification of at least 10 days.

After the hearing, if the program still wins approval, a resolution of determination with specific costs and interest rates is set. The assessment roll is then created and filed with the clerk.

A public hearing must again be called to approve the roll. Again 10 day notice must be given. Citizens who believe they have been aggrieved can file a protest.

Because the residents of Pennell and Butler have asked that their petition for improvements be withdrawn it is unlikely that this project will remain a part of the proposed assessment. It was not considered necessary by the council and was included only because of the previous request.

NEW TEACHERS — Northville's public school system greeted 25 new teachers as classes opened today. All but two were on hand to meet Superintendent Russell Amerman last Thursday morning when the above picture was taken. Shown (l. to r., standing) are: Jack Kreiner, Robert Sharrar, William Mandt, George Sarkozy, Richard Norton, Dave Mohrhardt, Paul Mack, Donald Brown, Melvin Steinfield, Brian Dunn and Martin O'Shea; (seated, l. to r.) Mrs. Marion Petrock, Mrs. Carolyn Neff, Mrs. Emily Johnson, Mrs. Richard Norton, Carol Shau-man, Mrs. C. Nadine Eller, Priscilla Blackburn, Mrs. Anna Bessio, Carolyn Burkinan, Merce Stanley, Beatrice Jancheck and Mrs. Reva Shive. Absent when the picture was taken were Mrs. Mary Lengemann and Linda Alm.

FAST MOVERS — The William Epperson family drove through Northville's Village Green one week end and liked what they saw. In a matter of a couple of days, they bought a home. Here with their parents are Barbara, 15, Terry (left), 13, and Tony, 9.

When William and Evelyn (Lyn) Epperson make up their minds, they make them up in a hurry. Take their decision to move to Northville, for instance.

As Mrs. Epperson relates the incident, they were riding in the Northville area one week end, saw the Village Green subdivision and its new houses, stopped for a longer look, liked what they saw and signed purchase papers on Monday.

The home they bought is at 1039 Allen drive. They moved in a year ago April with their three children: Barbara, 15; Terry, 13; and Tony, 9.

Barbara will be a junior at Northville high school this fall. Terry starts freshman studies at the high school and Tony will be in the fourth grade at Amerman.

The family lived six years in Plymouth. The senior Eppersons are originally from Tennessee, near Memphis.

Bill Epperson, an employee at Evan's Products, is currently working for Whitehead and Kale in Wyandotte.

The newcomers belong to Allen Heights Baptist church in Plymouth.

Plan First Camera Club Meeting

This season's first meeting of the Northville Camera Club will be held next Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in the Employees' residence of the Wayne County Training school, on Sheldon road near Five Mile.

Beginners as well as the more advanced camera fan are invited to this open meeting. Presiding at the meeting will be the club officers: Joe Straub, president; Miss Mildred Young, vice-president; Miss Harriet Gibson, secretary; and Miss Lucille McLaughlin, treasurer. They point out that some of the advantages of belonging to a camera club are:

— It is a hobby, which, when pursued with active interest, must be fun.

— It is participation in a group, working learning things together, building an organization.

— Friendly rivalry develops competition which encourages the participant to work harder and do a better job.

Kitchen Diary

Start Your Day With Coffee Cake

Breakfast should be a tastier eye-opening meal if you follow these two coffee cake recipes offered by Mrs. Floyd Gregory, of 346 South Rogers street, for this week's Kitchen Diary.

The Gregorys say that spicy raisin is their favorite. Running a close second, however, is the cinnamon crunch recipe.

GRADUATING from Henry Ford hospital Saturday will be Mrs. Elinor Kroeger Pettis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kroeger of 10 Mile road. She is a 1958 graduate of Northville high. Services will be at 3:30 p.m. in the Rackham building.

SPICY RAISIN COFFEE CAKE

Mrs. Floyd Gregory
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 t. vanilla
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 cups sifted flour
1½ t. baking powder
1 t. soda
¼ t. salt
1 cup broken walnuts
1 t. cinnamon
1½ cups seedless raisins (light or dark)

Cream together butter and one cup sugar until fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla and beat well. Blend in sour cream. Sift together next four ingredients and stir well into creamed mixture. Spread half the batter into a greased square pan. Mix in the nuts, ½ cup sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle on the raisins, then spoon on the remaining batter and top with remaining nut mixture. Bake in oven 350 degrees for 40 minutes. Cut into squares.

CINNAMON CRUNCH COFFEE CAKE

½ cups sifted flour
2 t. baking powder
½ t. salt
1 t. cinnamon
½ cup margarine
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
2-3 cup milk

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon together. Cream shortening, sugar and egg yolks. Stir in sifted dry

Mustangs Increase Their Contact

The weather may be hot and humid (and that's an understatement of the year) but you can bet that both the heat and humidity will increase on the Northville Mustang football field.

With the season's lid-lifter a week off (Plymouth comes here next Friday for an 8 p.m. contest), Coach Ron Horwath will be separating the squad into his good, better and best units. This will probably mean, Horwath indicated, more contact work, especially for the backfield men, than they've tasted thus far. The linemen have been bouncing each other around almost since practices started two weeks ago. For the backfield men, it's been mainly a matter of getting timing down on their running plays. Horwath said the team will probably employ the popular two-platoon system this fall. His reasoning makes sense. He doesn't have the size of men who can go both ways at a 100 percent clip. Resting one unit at a time will give a breather to his small team and yet, at the same time, maintain a refreshed eleven on the field all the time. Still, he indicated that probably at least three boys will have to go both ways. They are quarterback Steve Juday and linemen Jerry Biddle and Jack Dowd, the two biggest linemen Horwath has. Injuries are still keeping lineman Bill Krist and halfback Tom Swiss out of action. They are nursing knee and back injuries respectively. Horwath reported no new injuries from the team that is practicing now.

KEEPING his fingers crossed is Bill Krist. He injured his knee about mid-season last fall and it still bothers him, so much so that the senior lineman hasn't practiced with the rest of the squad yet. But he's hoping.

Gals Overcome Deficit, Cop State Class D Title

Northville's girls' softball team overcame a 4-0 deficit Labor Day afternoon to whip Boyne City, 8-4, and take the State Class D title in the Michigan Softball association tournament at Ludington.

enough hitting support from Pat Bubel, Jane Blough, Jayne Bittner, Clara Simpson besides chipping in herself. In the title game, Boyce City pushed across four runs their first time at the plate. And that was it. Northville took command, hacking away at the lead and finally grabbing the victory. King allowed just two hits. Their first win was 8-2 over Port Huron. While King was giving up just five hits to the opposition, Bubel and Blough were collecting three each to pace the win. Saturday night against Allegan, King and Blough had three hits each and Northville won its second game, 5-2. Sunday night, Simpson and Bittner slammed out four hits apiece as the local gals pasted Ovid, 13-2. Simpson and Bubel each had home runs, Simpson's coming with two runners on.

Preserve Shooting Starts

Michigan's six-month hunting season at shooting preserves begins Sept. 15 with pheasants and ducks the principal targets for pay-to-hunt sportsmen.

At nearly all locations hunters pay by the bird with the general price range from $5 to $10. In addition to ringnecks and mallards, a few of the preserves have exotic species such as chukars and Reeves pheasants for their customers.

This is the fourth year the team has been together. Members are Bubel, Bittner, King, Simpson, Jane Morrison, Jennifer Rattliff, Cora Billing, Sandy Walters, Joan Barber, Mary Lou Busch, Jackie Phillips, Jackie Couzens and Sharon Mazanec.

News Around Northville

Northville foot specialist Dr. Albert G. Kalin, of 22375 Hagerty road, served as a state delegate to the American Podiatry Association's 49th annual meeting August 24-29 in Miami Beach, Florida.

Miss Marguerite G. Steiner, of 139 Walnut, has completed her degree and certification requirements at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant. She was among 231 students who finished at the close of summer session.

A FINAL WORD

For nearly the past ten years we have enjoyed the privilege of writing in this column. I have received many comments of appreciation from those who were not members of the church. I have served.

We are grateful for the written and oral words of appreciation. We have been called to the First Baptist Church in St. Johns, Michigan and will be serving the Lord in that part of His Vineyard. I believe I can safely say that by means of this Column I have made the citizens of Northville without excuse before the judgment seat. No one will be able to say, "I have never heard the Gospel." I can say with the Apostle in Acts: 20:26-27 "Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God. What joy it will be in that day to learn of some who have come to know Christ as their Saviour through these columns. Also to be able to shake the hand of those who will say that they were helped along the pathway to Glory. These are dark days and uncertain days which give every indication that we are nearing the end of the Age. How glad we are that God lives and Salvation is still a present possibility for those who trust in the Saviour.

Little Rose Marie Bogatinoff, of 29600 10 Mile road, Farmington, has been the guest of Stevie and May Slater of Illaire, Worm Farms, 40311 Sunbury, for the past two weeks.

Well known former Northville residents, the S. L. Braders, who have been living in Sherman Oaks, California, are moving to Tucson, Arizona.

Former city resident Harry White, now of New York City, has returned to his home after a month-long vacation spent with his sister, Mrs. Laura Morse of North Center street, friends and other relatives.

Their Worry Is "Weighty"

Did you ever hear of anyone losing 7,373½ pounds? Well, it'd be pretty hard, but when 249 members of the Detroit district of the national Take Off Pounds Sensibly (Tops) Club got together for their annual picnic in Lela Valley Park Saturday, they found that they had lost a total of 7,373½ pounds over an eight-week period.

The feature event of the picnic was the crowning of weight-loss queens from the 23 individual groups in the Detroit district. Mrs. Helen Gilliam of Detroit was Top winner, with her loss of 34½ pounds in eight weeks.

Rumer-up was Mrs. Maxine Brandt from Walled Lake, who had lost 33 pounds in the eight weeks.

Northville area queen, Arnela Rathbun, placed fifth in the district with her loss of 26½ pounds.

It's Scrimmage Time for Band, Too

THEY'RE NOT MIXED UP. It's just one of the many intricate formations you'll be seeing this fall when Northville's fine marching band thrills the fans with its halftime shows.

Northville's football team isn't the only group getting ready for the fall season. Practicing almost daily in the parking lot next to the football field is the Northville high school marching band with Director Bob Williams in charge.

Noted for their fine musical presentations, the band's marching has drawn many praises, too, for their sharp, precisioned halftime shows. The 105 member unit will be sporting new uniforms this fall. You've probably seen them at the July 4 parade but they'll never look the way they do when September 15 rolls around for the first football game and Northville's band takes the field. On with the show!

IN OUR CHURCHES

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Arnold B. Cook, Pastor
First Baptist Church of Novi

"A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver." Thus spoke the wisest man of his time. The value of choice and proper words cannot be minimized. If only we understood the "weight of words," we might be more careful of our language.

The disturbing, degrading effect of cursing in our present age, among both adults and youth does not speak well for our generation. Recently, a missionary from the Central Africa Republic, speaking in our church said, "The most appalling thing I noted upon my return to America, was the loose, wicked language of the people." He continued, "This is one thing we do not hear in our area of Africa — in fact, I have never heard a curse word among the natives."

Has America lost its conscience? What has happened to the reverential fear of God that characterized our nation of past generations? Do men no longer fear God? Can it be that ministers no longer warn of the judgments of God?

Just what is the diagnosis of this moral malady? According to the Word of God we learn, "That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit... all these evil things come from within, and defile the man (Mark 7:20-23)." But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart (Matthew 15:18). Thus it is declared by Scripture, that a corrupt speech is evidence of a more serious and deadly problem — a corrupt heart. Cursing is a soul destroying sin, so condemned by the ten commandments, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain (Exodus 20:7)." Empty, hollow excuses just will not pass. This is not just a mistake, caused by provocation, but however it occurs, this is a sin against the Most High God.

There is only one remedy for this — a new heart. This is precisely what Jesus meant when he said, "Ye must be born again." There is a need for a new birth (spiritual) that will give to man a new heart, out of which will flow ceaseless praise and thanksgiving to God. One of the first impressions seen in a young christian, is a difference in conversation. How blessedly true is God's Word, "If any man be in Christ he is a new creation: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." My friend, if you would be cleansed from a corrupt speech, remember, the heart is the root of the problem, and only when you receive by faith, Jesus Christ, into the heart and life, can there be a new creation. Perhaps you have tried and failed, reformed, turned over a new leaf, but all in vain. Give God your life. He can do more with it than you can.

Effective prayer will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance."
Scriptural readings will include the account in Luke of the Master's parable about the two men, one a Pharisee and the other a publican, who went up into the temple to pray.
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 2): "What are the motives for prayer? Do we pray to make ourselves better or to benefit those who hear us, to enlighten the infinite or to be heard of men? Are we benefited by praying? Yes, the desire which goes forth hungering after righteousness is blessed of our Father, and it does not return unto us void."
The Golden Text is from Hebrews (3): "We are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mass production has taught us a new dimension in cooperation. Now three men operate the same machine around the clock. And as the wheels blow at the change of the shift one hand surrenders the lever to another while the wheels spin endlessly.
The same ready cooperation is becoming characteristic of the work of our churches. A Church School teacher moves to another city. There is another earnest Christian to take over her class. The term of an officer expires. There are equally qualified men ready to serve if elected.
Make willingness one of your virtues as you go to Church each Sunday. Volunteer for one of the humble yet all-important tasks that keep the wheels of spiritual progress forever spinning.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Slinger

Northville's city council is currently locked in debate over an issue that has simmered locally for several years. And, oddly enough, the matter has finally come up for definite action as the result of a ruling by the attorney for the school board.

The issue is assessments and whether or not they should be charged against property owners when the street in front of their home is paved or otherwise improved by the installation of curbs, gutters and storm sewers.

It appears that the majority membership of the council favors the special assessment principle. But until now the question has not been pushed, so sensitive has been its local history.

As a six-year-old city, Northville has always paved its streets from general fund monies. Many residents claim that this was part of the promise of advocates of city incorporation. Becoming a city won for Northville tax rebates from the state for harness racing at the Downs. With this money Northville would be able to provide residents with a low tax rate, more services and assessment-free improvements.

Beyond this, opponents of street assessments point out that it would be unfair to charge residents now after having provided the service from general funds in the past.

Why then do three of the council's five members favor assessments?

Let's go back to Northville School Attorney James Littell's ruling regarding North Center street.

Pressed by residents of the area to pave the street, both council and school board members promised action.

The city was willing to pave Center street beyond the new Eight Mile road cut-off if the school district would participate in the cost. Half of the street fronts on school property. Because school traffic is responsible for much of the heavy use of the street, board members indicated a willingness to cooperate.

But the city council, apparently still unwilling to introduce assessments to residents living in the "old section" of the city, introduced a plan that would have assessed the school district for the entire cost of its half of the street while paying for the residents' side from general funds.

"Not possible," ruled School Attorney Littell. His opinion to the school board left the door open to council members, however. It indicated that if "some assessment" were levied against one side of the street the school could rightfully participate even if the school's assessment were higher.

It didn't take Littell's ruling to forecast the problems the city was creating for itself in the matter of street assessments, however.

Under the city's old plan of no street assessments against residents of the original city limits the council would soon be faced with the unique situation of having to pave a street with "old" residents on one side and "new" on the other.

And City Attorney Philip Ogilvie has pointed out to the council that the basis for special assessments must be benefit derived—certainly not length of residency.

And can you imagine a resident paying for paving in front of his house by assessment plus contributing taxes to the general fund while his neighbor across the street goes un-assessed?

Obviously, there can be but one set of standards where individual citizens are concerned. In the case of new subdivisions, whether in the "new" or "old" city limits, it is provided that the builder must make all improvements.

All other streets are the responsibility of the city. In our neighboring communities — much richer in industry tax base than Northville even with its racing revenues — assessments for street paving are commonplace.

And instead of 25 percent as proposed locally, the assessment is up to 100 per cent in Farmington and nearly 70 per cent in Plymouth.

What does this mean in dollars and cents to the benefitting property owner?

In areas where curb and gutter already exist — such as the Walnut street area — the 80-foot lot owner would pay about $95 for paving.

Paving, curb and gutter would cost about $210 to the owner of an 80 foot lot. Where concrete is required (instead of asphalt) the cost would be about $300 per 80-foot lot.

These assessments may be paid over a 10-year period. One might argue forever the equities and inequities of assessments in Northville.

What seems most important is that we move ahead with a program that gives residents some promise that their streets will be improved — and approximately when.

It is more likely that such a schedule could be established, if assessments were applied to help finance the program.

The council has indicated that such a schedule would be determined by public necessity and position of the property owner.

Fresh Water to Become Scarce, Expensive

Babson Park, Mass., Most far better to learn to live off the vegetable products of the ocean, as we do its fish, etc. The plan which interests me greatly is to bring fresh water from Canada. Northwest Canada has three large lakes that drain the rainfall northward into the Arctic Ocean — which is very wasteful. Although it would be very expensive, great canals could be built for turning these streams and reversing their flow southward. Then this fresh water would be used to irrigate the dry plains of Montana, the Dakotas, Wyoming, Arizona, and New Mexico.

For further details, readers should write John Powers, Jr., of Homewood, Alabama. The Atomic Energy Commission may now be considering such a "peace" project for fifty years hence. In view of the projected increase in population and greater per capita use, the cost of fresh water and "soft drinks" will increase! To help with this problem the first step might be for cities to build a separate plant to distribute only salt water. Thus each house and industry would have two water bills to pay. Unless there is a World War III, homes and factories with successful driven wells will be in demand, as will those bordering non-polluted rivers, streams, and lakes. My reference to World War III concerns the danger from "fallout" when using water from streams, lakes, and uncovered reservoirs. Driven wells, moreover, are wholly dependent upon electricity for pumping. Hence, as a part of any "shelter" such as the Civil Defense agencies are recommending, there should be included fully charged storage batteries along with the food and other needed supplies. Fresh water may be shipped by tank cars or great pipes, or the fresh water may be frozen and shipped as frozen food in box ships. The purpose of this column now is to get readers thinking about what an economic revolution is ahead based upon a scarcity of fresh water. When I was a boy most homes had brick cisterns in their cellars. These were kept filled by the rain which fell upon the roofs. People who could not afford cisterns went to the "town pump" twice a day to fill their pitchers and pails. Each community would have several of these "town pumps" far, the convenience of the people. State Air Board Growth

Like Topsy, Michigan's Department of Aeronautics just grew. And unlike many other agencies of state government, the Aeronautics arm had to attain its maturity in a relatively short time. While many functions of government were young when the state of Michigan was young aviation itself was only born a few short decades ago. The state took a hand in the development and management of Michigan aeronautics in 1929 when the Board of Aeronautics was created by legislative action.

This agency presided over the birth and infancy of flying in Michigan, so to speak, and was still in operation through the adolescence of the new and precocious child. It also helps administer some of the programs of, and cooperates closely with, the huge and complex federal agencies which regulate and control aviation. If somebody asks you where the greatest concentration of state government workers is located, think twice before answering in what would seem to be logical fashion, "the Capital City of Lansing."

True, Lansing and Ingham county have more state workers than any other county in Michigan, on a head-count basis. But in little Luce county of the Upper Peninsula, a total of 8 percent of the population is on the state payroll. In Ingham county, only 3.3 percent of the total population works for the state.

The catch is that in Luce county there are only 650 or so men and women on the state payroll while in Ingham there are more than 7,000 people working for the State of Michigan.

This interesting comparison of where the state's work force is located came to light when the Civil Service Commission released statistics along this line recently.

While the weighmaster stations along Michigan highways are a familiar sight to most motorists, they probably get little more than passing attention from anyone but truck drivers. The Highway Department wanted to know if weighmasters had statewide jurisdiction to enforce the vehicle code.

Weighmasters are assigned to specific posts, but might sometimes be sent to another sector. The Attorney General said weighmasters can operate anywhere in Michigan, but can only enforce provisions of the vehicle code which concern their specific duties.

Naturally, the greatest number of workers were in counties where large state institutions are located. Total number of state workers is something over 31,500. A little-known though decidedly obvious police arm of the Michigan Highway Department is the Weighmaster section. A clarification of its role in the overall, law enforcement picture of the state came recently from the Attorney General. The state's lawyers say a weighmaster's jurisdiction extends over the whole state for purposes of performing his specific duties.

I have a granddaughter who lives at St. Thomas, one of the Virgin Islands. She has a cistern, but there is no rain to fill it. She drinks and uses water shipped by boat from Puerto Rico. Therefore, I urge my readers to consider the fresh water problem when locating their home. Select a state and city which has a good supply of fresh water. If possible, have a house which borders an unpolluted running stream or river. Such a location today is worth a premium over inland locations. Look ahead and speculate on the information given in this column. You can make money therefrom when and if you ever need to sell. If you wish to speculate, buy some such land — well drained — along with life insurance and good stocks. Man can always build more houses and develop more subdivisions; but only God can make more natural fresh water.
