

Kindergarteners Reveal Their First Impressions of School

Mary Hanley, 4, at Main street elementary, likes the friends she made in kindergarten best of going to school so far. But asked how many friends she made, she said one, and asked that friend's name, she said she forgot it.

Sharon Schief, 4, at Main street elementary, likes the doll house and games best of all. Someday, she said, after she finishes college, she is going to become a cowgirl.

James Shoner, 5, at Main street elementary, doesn't like anything about kindergarten or school. He didn't like playing games or even taking the nap. Did he have many friends? "Yes, too many," he said.

Wendell Wegeng, 5, at Main street elementary, likes school for the games he plays, but most of all he likes the snacks Mom makes when he comes home. "When I was home, she never made me snacks then," he said.

Janet Moore, 5, at Amerman school, likes the playground more than the classroom. But still she says she likes her teacher. "She's good," Janet said.

Barbara Nicholson, 5, at Amerman school, likes playing with the colored toys. Red is her favorite color. She wants to be a mother someday and "get a baby" like her mother has at home.

Cindy Chisholm, 5, at Amerman school, has learned to count to five so far. She goes "One, two, three, five." She likes the games they play in the classroom best of all.

Ian Robert Dingwall, 5, at Amerman school, likes the cookie and milk time. But when he isn't eating cookies, he likes the games, especially "ring around the rosy".

Jimmy Harris, 4, at Amerman school, doesn't care much for the classroom. He likes the playground swings. He wants to be a cowboy someday like Roy Rogers.

Adult Classes To Start Soon

The younger set has no monopoly on education. It's back-to-school time for adults, too. Dr. K. M. MacLeod announced this week that registration for Northville Public Schools adult education program will begin this week.

Northville introduced the program last year and had a beginning registration of 100.

School Seeks Loan Until Taxes Paid

Northville board of education met in a special session last Wednesday night to initiate action that it hopes will enable the district to borrow $200,000 against anticipated local tax revenues.

E. V. Ellison, administrative services director for the schools, said the loan, approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission, would provide funds to meet school bills until December when local taxes start coming in.

Should the commission approve the local request at its meeting next week, the school board would then advertise for bids for sale of the bonds, explained Ellison. It is expected, he said, that the money would be available by the first of October.

This latest decision to borrow is the third in less than a month. In late August, the board passed two measures to borrow a total of $179,800 against state aid payments. These funds will be nearly depleted by mid-October, stated Ellison.

While the total figure — $379,800 in all — is a sizable sum for a district to borrow, Ellison was quick to point out that it should not be interpreted as an indication of school officials' failure to operate within their budget.

"There is no crisis," he stated. "The board has always been dead set against operating with a deficit, and right now we are operating well within the budget. An allowance has even been made in the budget for interest payment on the loans."

What it all adds up to, he continued, is a problem of timing. "We just cannot accumulate enough money by June to finance the school system until we start receiving tax revenues in December."

He cited the state's current practice of aid payments as another contributing factor. State aid currently makes up one-third of the district's revenue. It is paid in bi-monthly payments which Ellison said are generally for 75% of the promised amount. The remainder is received late in the spring.

In a regularly scheduled meeting Monday night members of the school board heard reports from administrators on the opening of school at the various buildings.

Save for minor difficulties, administrators agreed that things were off to a smooth start. An enrollment of 1,983 students — up 102 over June, 1961 — attended classes. The count will not be final until the fourth Friday, known also as D-Day. The greatest increase was registered at the high school, which showed a jump of 100 students. Fifteen more started classes in the elementary grades, 13 less in junior high.

Six courses are being offered this year, each running for a period of 12 weeks. But Dr. MacLeod noted that other classes would be formed if there was sufficient demand. One probability in this category is a class in stock marketing, Dr. MacLeod noted.

Classes definitely scheduled are: typing, beginning and advanced; art, ceramics and jewelry; shop, woodworking and metal; sewing; driver education for adults only; and cake decorating.

All classes except cake decorating, scheduled for Fridays, will be held Tuesday evenings from seven until nine. If also possible, that a class could be re-scheduled for another evening if it is more convenient for the majority of the class, Dr. MacLeod added.

Registration will be held next Tuesday from 7-9 p.m. at the high school cafeteria. Persons may also register during the day at the high school office.

Further information is available by calling Dr. MacLeod at William Hensch, FI 9-3400. Regular classes begin Tuesday, September 26.

Eight Mile Paving Lags

If the Wayne County Road Commission and the State Highway department can't settle on a starting date soon for the widening of Eight Mile road from the cut-off to Haggerty, the work can't be done this fall, says a spokesman for the county road commission.

He explained that a starting date is being discussed, but an agreement has not yet been made. He added that if the work does not begin within the next two weeks, it will be for late in the season to do the paving portion of the project.

The spokesman said that a starting date later than two weeks from the present would mean that work on the pavement would have to cease before it was completed because of the November 1 stopping date observed for the laying of pavement. He added that the work on drainage in the area may still be begun this fall even if the pavement work is not started.

Mustangs Host Plymouth Friday

LINE-UP for the season opener between old rivals Northville Mustangs and Plymouth Rocks looks imposing. The game tomorrow night at 8 o'clock on Ford Field will give the Mustangs a chance to break through the Rocks' winning streak. For the past two years, the Rocks have taken the Mustangs in the season opener. The 1959 score was 9-0, and last year's loss was 25-12. The Mustangs interrupted a similar two-game streak of the Rocks in 1958, when they won 6-0. The Mustang line, left to right, above, consists of Craig Bell, John Engle, Gary Nichols, Jack Dowd, Bob Hallam, Jerry Biddle, and Dan Brown. In the backfield, behind Quarterback Steve Juday are, left to right, Dick Bathey, Joe Hay and Tom Swiss. For coaches' comments, see story on page 7.

Honor New Voters Here Wednesday

There's been a change in speakers but all other plans remain the same for Wednesday evening's twenty-first annual "21ers Banquet" sponsored by the Northville Coordinating Council.

Professor Wilfred E. Binkley, Ohio Northern university professor previously announced as speaker, has been hospitalized and will be unable to attend.

William Schultz, chairman of the event for the Coordinating Council, announced that Dewey F. Barich, president of Detroit Institute of Technology, has been obtained to make the principle address.

The banquet, a tribute to new voting citizens, will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 6:30 p.m.

The guests of honor will be given a certificate of recognition as well as a Charter of Freedom booklet presented annually by the D.A.R.

Barich is listed in Who's Who in America and the Leaders in American Education. He has authored several books and magazine articles and is a frequent lecturer before universities and industrial associations throughout the country.

He will be introduced by Walter Couss of Northville.

Invitations have been sent to 75 new citizens, but Schultz stated that it appeared likely that approximately 30 would be able to attend.

The program is open to the public and tickets are available from Optimist club members, Coordinating Council members or at The Record office.

The Rev. C. Douglas Routledge, formerly associate pastor and director of young people's activities at the Calvary Baptist church in Plymouth, will be guest minister in the Northville church this Sunday.

Under Baptist procedure several guest ministers will be heard by the congregation before candidates are nominated by a pulp committee. The candidates for successor to Rev. Nieuwkoop are voted upon by the congregation.

The Rev. and Mrs. Nieuwkoop came to Northville in November, 1951 from Zeeland. During his 10 years here the Rev. Nieuwkoop has guided remodeling programs that included the addition of 10 new class rooms and general renovation of the church. Last year facilities of the church were increased by purchase of adjoining houses on Wing and Randolph streets and the construction of a new sanctuary with seating capacity for 360.

Besides being the author of two widely read Baptist booklets, the Rev. Nieuwkoop published a weekly column in The Record and other newspapers throughout the state.

The Nieuwkoops moved to St. Johns Wednesday.

Nieuwkoops Accept Post In St. Johns

The Rev. Peter F. Nieuwkoop ended 10 years service at the First Baptist church of Northville Sunday and will begin his new duties as pastor of the First Baptist church of St. Johns this week.

Paula Nitzel Still Critical

The condition of 17-year-old Paula Nitzel was listed as slightly improved but still critical by officials of Wayne County General hospital this week.

Miss Nitzel, daughter of the Paul Nitzels of 317 River street, was injured early last week in the accident that claimed the life of 17-year-old Constance Stephanie Slater.

The fatal accident occurred early Wednesday of last week on Ford road near Lilly road in Plymouth. Both girls would have begun classes last week as seniors in Northville high school.

The hospital officials said Miss Nitzel was still unconscious. She underwent head surgery last week in a trophine operation to relieve pressure on the brain.

Funeral services for Miss Slater, daughter of Mrs. Irene Slater of 40311 Sunbury drive and Victor L. Slater of Indian River, were conducted last Saturday at Casterline Funeral Home, the Reverend Lloyd Brasure of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Burial was in Rural Hill cemetery.

Survivors besides her parents are her sister Mary and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Slater, of Indian River. Miss Slater was a member of the First Presbyterian church and the Order of Rainbow Girls.

Delegates are paid $1,000 per month with a maximum payment of $7,000.

Both city and township votes were higher than the July primary — but not much.

In the city the total vote was 421 compared to 323 in the primary.

Area Elects GOP To Con-Con Posts

With just slightly more than 20 per cent of the voting population of the city and township going to the polls Tuesday Republican candidates for the constitutional convention carried heavy majorities in all precincts.

The Northville tally followed final results, too, in a surprising sweep by the GOP — especially in Wayne county's 18th senatorial and 21st legislative district.

In these areas, represented in the state senate and legislature by Democrats, Republican Weldon O. Yeager defeated Democrat George F. Montgomery in a nip and tuck race, 27,691 to 27,244.

Republican Anna M. Conklin defeated Democrat William J. Hahn more easily in the 21st district, 8,191 to 6,109.

In the Oakland county section of the city local voters also lined-up with the winners.

Republican George Romney defeated William A. O'Brien in the 12th senatorial district, 42,334 to 15,071, while Richard C. Van Dusen, GOP candidate in the 4th legislative district, defeated Thomas G. Kavanagh, 8,699 to 4,924.

Meanwhile, township officials were elated by the whopping support given their resolution to form a planning commission with broader powers.

It passed, 290-39.

For the con-con delegates the procedure now calls for a meeting October 3 in Lansing. A convention chairman will be chosen, rules adopted and the job of revamping the state's 53-year-old constitution will begin.

Delegates are paid $1,000 per month with a maximum payment of $7,000.

Both city and township votes were higher than the July primary — but not much.

In the city the total vote was 421 compared to 323 in the primary.

The township had 356 voters Tuesday compared to 324 in the primary.

Super Savings On Sidewalks

Northville's merchants will move out of their stores en masse Friday.

They're not evacuating — just moving to the sidewalks for the annual city-wide Sidewalk Sale.

The popular event always features the year's biggest bargains with prices cut below dealer cost in most instances.

It's a fun event, too. With their wares displayed side by side in front of their stores each merchant does his best to attract the biggest crowd with the best bargain. It's competitive and joke-provoking.

The sale starts at 9 a.m. and continues until 9 p.m.

Twenty-seven merchants will participate in the sale. They are: Apple Crest Farms, Brader's, D & C, Ellis Electronics, Ely's Lawn & Garden Center, Bill Foreman's

Fruits, Foreman Orchards, Freydl Cleaners, and Men's Wear, Freydl Women's Apparel, Guensey Dairy, Gun-Sell's Drugs, Lapham's Men's Shop, Lila's Flowers and Gifts, Northville Mothers' Club, Northville Electric Shop, Northville Hardware, Novels Lumber & Coal Company, Old Mill Restaurant, Sally Bell Bakery, Schrader's Home Furnishings, Sibley's Style Shoppe, Standard Fuel Oil, Stewart's Gifts and Art Supplies, Stone's Gamble Store, Tewksbury Jewelers, The Little People Shoppe and The Northville Record.

Inside the pages of The Record this week you'll find a host of advertisements listing the bargains you will find Friday. Pick out your favorites and hurry to town early!

Incidentally, if it rains Friday the sale will be held Saturday.

Council to Hear Assessment Plan

Monday night the sensitive subject of street assessments is scheduled to come before the city council again.

September 5 the proposal brought a roomful of citizens to the council meeting — the majority protesting the idea of a 25 per cent assessment for street improvements.

Spokesmen for the group even threatened court action or a local election to determine whether or not the general public favors assessments.

The city council has been considering the paving of North Center street from the Eight Mile road cut-off north to South Ely drive; paving Elm, East, High (north of Randolph to Walnut) and Walnut (Center to East) streets; and installing curb, gutter and storm sewers on Butler and Pennell.

But the council is split, 3-2, on the question of whether or not a 25 per cent assessment should be levied against property owners for the improvements.

In recent years the city has been paying for these improvements from general tax funds. Mayor A. M. Allen, and Councilmen John Canterbury, Richard Ambler favor the assessment approach on all such matters.

Work on Torch Drive

Want to Be Neighborly?

Local officials of the United Foundation Torch Drive this week issued an appeal for volunteers to help with the annual fund raising drive to be held next month.

Community Chairman Mrs. Hugh F. Conser, Sr., 16240 Northville road, said women interested in working on the one-day drive may contact any of the following: Mrs. Jefferson Baker, 145 Walnut street, FI 9-0286; Mrs. Thomas J. Ileslip, 51305 West Seven Mile, FI 9-0285; Mrs. James MacKay, 19450 Beck, FI 9-0389; Mrs. Richard Martin, 20173 Whipple drive, FI 9-1054; Mrs. C. C. Teasel, 16491 Homer, FI 9-3217; or Mrs. Conser at FI 9-1081.

Weather permitting, the women will call on residents October 18.

Pointing up services made possible by Torch Drive donations, Mrs. Conser explained that volunteers actually cooperate in neighborliness on a grand scale.

"If a family near you were in some kind of trouble and needed help, you would do what you could for them because it is the neighborly thing to do," she said.

"The Torch Drive," she continued, "is able to provide the most efficient means of solving health and community problems. It helps parents over their worries about babies, growing children and teenagers, provides homes for orphans, helps the aged and lonely to find contentment, mends broken homes — the list could go on and on."

However, all of these services, she emphasized, cost money, money that is made available through Torch Drive contributions and the volunteers who solicit these contributions.

University Women Open Fall Slate September 21

An invitation to join the American Association of University Women (AAUW) was extended to all eligible women in the Northville-Plymouth area this week by Mrs. B. William Secord, local branch president, Mrs. J. M. Hopkins, membership chairman.

The group's first fall meeting is scheduled a week from today, Thursday, September 21, at 7:45 p.m. in the Plymouth Community junior high school.

A social hour will precede the regular business meeting.

The association accepts as members all women who have earned an approved degree from any one of the 445 American colleges and universities which have met the AAUW standards. To meet these standards, a college must have:

- a high academic rating; provide basic foundation in liberal arts education; make adequate provision for women students; give significant recognition to its women faculty members; also maintain freedom in administrative and teaching bodies.

Membership in AAUW requires "liberal arts" as a significant part of the degree program. This means college degrees which are accepted for membership must include a reasonable amount of study in the fields of literature, languages, history, and science.

Being a member of AAUW provides women with an opportunity to associate with women college graduates who engage in a practical, constructive contribution to the functioning of democracy. The Plymouth branch provides a study-action program for its members covering an area of various fields including higher education, elementary and secondary education, international relations, social and economic issues, status of women, mass media and the arts.

Coordinating Council Objectives Outlined

Nine members of the Coordinating Council of Northville met in regular session last Thursday to complete details of the annual 21st banquet scheduled for next Wednesday evening at the Lutheran church.

Mrs. Essie Nierder, vice president, presided in the absence of President Herman Mochl-mail.

Emphasis was placed on the function of the council itself and the role it plays in community affairs.

Meeting the third Thursday of each month at the city hall at 8 p.m. the object of the council is to give member organizations an opportunity to discuss community needs and resources, as a unit, together with the relationship of various civic programs and organizations.

The council may then serve as an information organization, supporting and helping to promote community projects and suggesting a schedule of priorities.

In short, it brings together all area organizations so that general community improvement can be gained in a planned, harmonious manner.

Membership in the coordinating council is open to any organization in Northville or Northville township or Novi township.

A two-thirds vote of the council membership present is needed. Applications should be submitted at least one month prior to being voted upon.

Last week Mrs. Hurd Sutherland was elected secretary. Mrs. E. E. Adams, former secretary, has moved from the community.

Representatives attending last week's meeting were:

Mrs. Nierder, Woman's club; Mrs. Louise Cansfield, Methodist church; Ruth Knapp; D.A.R.; Mrs. A. C. Carlson, city of Northville; Mrs. Sutherland, Woman's club; Al Smith, Masonic Order; Ed Welch, Presbyterian church; Jack Ruland, Democratic club; and William Schultz, Northville township.

Past Matrons Plan Dessert Luncheon

NEWCOMER'S CORNER

"I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance."

— Samuel Johnson

TRUE TO FORM — Real Midwesterners, Mr. and Mrs. Curt J. Saurer, remained true to their pattern of living somewhere in the center of the country when they moved with their children, Curt III, 8, and Claire, 6, to their present home at 201 Ely drive, south.

America's midsection is a like it here. Mr. Saurer's job as a service engineer for the Diesel division of General Motors was the main reason behind all the moving. He has been with GM for over 12 years.

The Saurer household is a busy one. He still does some traveling, but it's more on a limited basis now which is one reason why the move to Northville was made.

Mrs. Saurer, a registered nurse, put on her white uniform this spring for the first time after eight years and is on duty two days a week at St. Mary's hospital and Eastlawn Rest Haven.

They have two children — Curt III, 8, and Claire, who was six last Monday. They are third and first graders respectively at Our Lady of Victory school.

When the family is together, especially weekends, there is plenty of entertaining going on in the Saurer home. Backyard barbecuing is a favorite sport of theirs with Mr. Saurer playing the dominant role.

"That's his job," Mrs. Saurer says. And she says it as if his cooking tastes pretty good.

KITCHEN DIARY

Cake Won First Prize

"Two-Egg Treasure Cake," this week's Kitchen Diary recipe, comes from a perennial winner in the Michigan State Fair's home arts department competition, Mrs. Fred W. Cobb.

Mrs. Cobb, whose cooking and canning mastery has been rewarded with ribbons at the past 11 fairs, brought home 11 citations this year, including one — a sweepstake in meat — which she just learned of Monday.

A home arts department official surprised her with the award when she stopped at the fairgrounds to collect her entries. "I thought someone else had won it," remarked Mrs. Cobb.

"Two-Egg Treasure Cake" won a first prize ribbon for the local homemaker two years ago Mrs. Cobb likes the recipe, she says, because the cake is inexpensive and can be whipped up in short order.

The Cobbs live at 21355 Beck road.

TWO-EGG TREASURE CAKE

Mrs. Fred W. Cobb

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/3 cup sugar
2 1/2 t. baking powder
1 t. salt
1/2 cup shortening
3/4 cup milk
1 1/2 t. vanilla
2 eggs (unbeaten)
Sift first four ingredients; drop in shortening. Add milk and vanilla. Beat at low speed. Add eggs. Mix and bake in two round layer cake pans in 375 degree oven about 30-35 minutes.

Librarian Logs 20,000 Miles

Travel Is Her Teacher

Northville's junior high students will probably be the best-informed people on New Zealand and the Fiji Islands before the school year is out next summer.

As the result of a two-month, 20,000 mile, journey to these colorful South Pacific locations and the gathering of a couple of suitcases of mementos, Miss B. Ione Palmer, the junior high librarian, can guarantee this.

Returning to Northville just three weeks ago, Miss Palmer had nothing, but the highest praise for the residents of the Fiji Islands, New Zealand, Tahiti, American Samoa and our 50th state, Hawaii.

Direct beneficiaries of her good fortune to make these travels will be the junior high student body.

Miss Palmer plans to have displays decorate the library and slides, films, books, and souvenirs available. When any class comes to the study on the South Pacific, she will be more than ready and willing to provide some first-hand personal assistance.

Miss Palmer made the journey mostly by plane and ship with six other companions. One of them, Dr. Ethel Alpert, professor of anthropology at New York University, was a travel-mate. Two years ago when Miss Palmer went around the world.

They traveled with one purpose in mind — to get "as near to the people as possible." They were studying the history, conditions and problems facing each country, island and people. A great deal of time was spent reviewing the Polynesian and Melanesian races.

To do this meant a lot of personal initiative on the part of the travelers. They visited museums, attended lectures, read books and other documents, and talked with government and tribal officials.

They did a lot of "mixing" with the people to get a true grasp of their way of life. This meant eating their food, sleeping in a bura (or a thatched-roof hut), watching their dances and learning something about their customs.

Miss Palmer recalled one visit to a village where a Fijian had a terrible toothache. But the missionary dentist was not expected back to the village for a couple of months yet.

So one of the travelers, a dentist by profession, extracted the tooth. It was performed on the porch of one of the native huts without any great quantities of anesthesia and in humid heat.

The extraction was a success, so much so that the man's wife insisted one of her bad teeth be pulled also.

One characteristic that Miss Palmer remembers was the friendliness and generosity of the people, especially the Fijians. There was nothing they would not do for a person.

Miss Palmer described them as well-mannered, pleasant-looking, almost difficult to believe that up to 100 years ago, the same people were the best-known savages of the area.

Cannibalism flourished then. But now, just to show the change that has taken place,

Thursday, September 14, 1961

Miss Palmer brought back with her a crude wooden fork used at that time to eat their main courses.

Among the souvenirs Miss Palmer carried back to the states was a grass skirt, a large handbag made from palm tree leaves, palm-leave mats used for everything from clothing to a table cover, bowls, shells, jewelry, books containing the history of the islands and one explaining the dances of the natives, and a dugout boat.

The boat is being shipped to Northville, Miss Palmer explains. She thinks this will be a real treat for the students.

There's much, much more and it would take Miss Palmer a great deal of time to show it all.

If there's one great lesson the group learned from its extensive travels, it's this: the building of friendly images of real persons in real countries is one of the first steps in building international understanding.

Watch Out Cyclists!

Bicyclists in the city were advised to sit down and learn the local traffic laws before mounting their two-wheel transportation by Police Chief Eugene King, who this week noted that cyclists are becoming a menace to motorists and pedestrians.

King said cyclists are ignoring traffic signals and stop signs and jeopardizing their own lives through careless operation.

The city vehicle code clearly spells out rules cyclists must follow, stated King. Riders are compelled to obey signal lights and stop signs and to ride as near to the right hand side of the road as possible, King added.

Minutes of the Northville City Council

A regular meeting on the Northville City Council was held at the City hall Tuesday evening, September 5, at 8:00 p.m.

Present: Mayor Allen, Councilmen Canterbury, Carlson and Juday.

Absent: Councilman Ambler.

Minutes of last regular meeting and of a special meeting held August 28 were read and approved.

Bills amounting to $71,303.33 from the General Fund, $1,598.97 from the Water Fund, and $4,584.84 from the other Government Fund were presented for payment. It was moved by Juday, supported by Carlson, that these bills be allowed and paid.

The Acting City Manager reported that he would meet with Mr. Kaiser, the Head Librarian of the Wayne County Library board, on Friday, Sept. 8 and after such meeting he would write the letter regarding the $14,550.50 bill for library services which the city has received, which they feel is exorbitant.

Regarding the problem of pedestrians being unable to see the traffic lights at E. Main and Hutton and at No. Center and Dunlap streets, Wayne County Road Commission will change the reflectors on these lights.

The traffic problem at Base Line and No. Center street was the next matter discussed. Chief King reports that Wayne County Road Commission opposes putting any additional words on a "Stop" sign, and they feel such a sign is sufficient. The City Council has instructed Chief King to investigate what further steps can be taken to take care of this situation.

Councilwoman Carlson reported on her meeting with Mrs. Ida Cooke, regarding the alley which she wishes to acquire from the city in order to maintain it as part of her lawn. The city is unable to sell this property, and if they vacated same, Mrs. Cooke would be entitled to only one-half of it. It was determined that her request could not be granted.

A group of citizens were present to protest against the making of street improvements by special assessment.

A petition was also presented to the council containing the names of 17 residents of Butler and Pennell streets requesting that their names be withdrawn from the previous petition from that area in which they requested that their streets be curbed and guttered by special assessment.

After considerable discussion it was decided by the Council that any action upon the citizens' objections at this time would be premature. Mayor Allen pointed out that there were still several steps to be taken before any special assessments could be levied, and the persons affected by the proposed special assessments would be given adequate notice of the hearing to be held on same in order that they might voice their opinions at that time.

No action was taken with regard to the suggestion that an election be held on this question.

Councilman Ambler arrived at the meeting at this point.

Public hearing on the R-1-H classification of zoning was the next item of business, and there being no one present who objected to the passage of the amendment, it was moved by Ambler, supported by Canterbury, that this amendment be adopted. Carried.

Candidates for City Manager will be interviewed on Saturday, September 9 and Monday, September 11.

Moved by Juday, supported by Carlson, that Sydney Frid and Ray Westphal be appointed to fill the two vacancies on the Zoning Board of Appeals. Carried.

Moved by Allen, supported by Canterbury, that the members of the Oakwood Subdivision Traffic Study Committee be as follows: Sydney Frid, John F. Stubenvoll, Ed C. Welch, Clyde Wheaton and Wilma Campbell. Carried.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce presented plans prepared by their organization for improving the City Park at the foot of E. Main street as a project they wish to undertake. Council approved of their beautifying same, but expressed the opinion that they did not feel it should be developed as a picnic ground with a parking lot; in fact, they felt sure the County would not approve of an entrance to this area from So. Main street. The J.C. members present were agreeable to adopting the suggestions of the City Council regarding the project. The superintendent of the local Ford plant will be contacted by the city about this matter and the city will also see that the oil which is polluting the stream is eliminated. Council wishes to go on record as commending the JCs for this enterprise and will give any assistance they can to further this project.

Mayor Allen feels the city should have a definite understanding with the Wayne County department of Public Works, regarding the possibility of again overloading the intercept or sewer between Northville and Plymouth at Oakland County.

City Attorney Ogilvie, Mayor Allen, Supervisor George L. Clark and the Township Attorney

James Littell will meet to talk this matter over before taking it up with Wayne County.

Following disposition of all other matters on the agenda, the council again discussed the matter of special assessments. During this discussion it was moved by Juday, supported by Carlson, that in view of the time limitations the city should immediately proceed to solicit bids for the paving of Walnut street between North Center and East street, the entire length of East street, Elm street and of High street from Elm to Randolph, same to be paid for out of the General Fund of the city. Motion was lost.

There being no further business, meeting was adjourned.

Mustangs Meet Rocks Friday

THIS IS FOOTBALL? Yep, as any coach will tell you, one of the most important factors in maintaining a good football team, or, for that matter, any kind of a team, is keeping it in shape. And that's what is happening here, as Northville's

Mustangs make like overweight trackmen at the start of a practice session. Following this thincladsmanship, the grid-ders spend what seems like hours in body-building exercise before they begin the rough-and-tumble contact work.

"We certainly hope so," was all Mustang Football Coach Ron Horwath would say when asked this week whether his team would be ready for the season opener against long-time rival Plymouth.

But if hard work is what it takes to make a team ready, then things may not be as grim as they seem. For grimness is what the faces of local footballers showed at practice sessions where the word was WORK and fool-play was considered treason.

Horwath has been working his team hard, trying to drum in some of the experience they may lack with only 11 letter-men returning. Eleven is a football team, but it takes more than 11 to keep a team running, especially when you employ the two-platoon system as Horwath plans.

Up till this week, Northville's gridders have been concentrating on heavy exercise and heavier scrimmage. To make the scrimmage end of practice even tougher, Horwath sent his players against several Detroit area teams last Saturday, to see how they would stack up against the toughest kind of opponent they may meet this season.

"We didn't look so bad," he said of the week-end session, "but we didn't look so good either."

This week is being spent on drill, Horwath said, to keep down the possibilities of pre-game injuries and to sharpen up the timing of plays, especially for the backfield. Linemen continued bouncing each other and the blocking sleds around.

Horwath, who begins his second season with Northville at the home game tomorrow night, has been keeping a close eye on his ball-handlers. He's been watching to see whether the backfield he picked to replace the speed and knowledge that graduated last spring has developed any speed and knowledge of its own.

Except for fullback Joe Hay and quarterback Steve Juday, the backfield is new. Returning fullback Tom Swiss is still questionable because of a back injury suffered over the summer.

Horwath isn't so worried about the line. Although it's a bit light when compared to some of the teams the Mustangs will meet, his line has plenty of experience, because that's where eight of the returning lettermen are stationed.

Jerry Biddle, John Engle and Roy Rice, are back to fill the tackle positions, and Bill Hallam and Gary Nichols will be at guard. A newcomer, 6-foot-5, 300-pound Jack Dowd, will be bolstering up the line from center or tackle positions. Dowd, a transfer junior from Detroit's Catholic Central, was named CC's most promising lineman when he played there.

At Plymouth, Rocks' Coach Mike Hoben has been trying to work out his own troubles. While complaining about a small squad of only 41 ball players, and a series of injuries among his older, more experienced lettermen, Hoben still has room for optimism. His line is pretty good sized, and he has a number of sophomores who have everything but experience, he says.

But Hoben has one problem that's hard to lick. He has 12 players on the sick list with boils, the result of a staph infection. One of the 12 is all conference tackle Rick Sweet, who is hospitalized.

More on the optimistic side, Hoben also got a look at his gridders in extra-season scrimmage over the weekend. He sent the team against Holy Redeemer and Taylor Center.

"We held our own against both," he said, "but I wasn't as satisfied with the scrimmage as I could have been." He said that Taylor is larger than most teams in Plymouth's conference, and Holy Redeemer is as large as the average.

Hoben added that the team's main problem Saturday was with the basic mistake. This is what he is hoping to overcome in practice sessions by Friday night.

Game time is 8 p.m. at Ford Field.

Here are the starting line-ups for the game:

NORTHVILLE

LET'S TALK CARS...

Cowboy Drivers

The way an automobile is cared for and driven by its owner can increase its worth as much as several hundred dollars when it is traded on a new car.

Automatic transmissions, for instance, while practically fool-proof in the precision with which they are turned out these days by the factory, can require a costly major overhaul after as little as 10,000 miles of rough handling.

While high speed in itself is not necessarily hard on a car, constant rapid acceleration and braking is. It strains the transmission, wears out the brakes and tires and soon creates body looseness. If a road is rough and potholed — slow down. Bumpy railroad tracks, for instance, will do a lot less damage to your car's suspension and body tightness if driven over at 25 miles per hour than at 75 mph.

Does "cowboy" driving save time? To find out, two engineers recently sent two cars over the same route through a city, one driven carefully and the other by a driver "in a hurry."

The easy driver got 60 percent more miles to a gallon of gas — 19.2 miles per gallon compared with 12 — and lost almost nothing in speed for the economy. His average speed was 2 percent less and his time on the road 2 percent more. While the cowboy driver took 30 minutes to make the trip, the careful driver took 30 6 minutes.

Careful drivers are poor service customers, but they are a pleasure to deal with when trade-in time comes around. It's Football time again, and we're having a Punt, Pass and Kick Contest. All you have to do is come in and register your boy.

Offer Wildlife Booster

Soil and water practices, designed to boost Michigan's wildlife potential and the recreational opportunities under a new wing of the Agricultural Conservation program have been submitted to the U.S. Department of Agriculture for approval.

The practices, drawn up by the conservation department's game and fish divisions in cooperation with the state's soil conservation service and agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, will be sent to county ASCS offices in Michigan following federal action.

Department game and fisheries men expect to meet with county planning committees in October to set up practices which will be best suited to each county.

Under a new law signed by President Kennedy in late July, the department of Agriculture will share costs with farmers for installing land and water conservation measures of special value to wildlife — birds, fish, and mammals. Before the law was enacted, many ACP practices had only incidental values for wildlife.

Federal ACP cost-sharing will cover 50 percent of each farmer's expenses (up to $1,500 for wildlife ponds), provided his county adopts the practices and has money available to help finance them. Each farmer will be required to pay for the balance of his costs; state agencies and private organizations cannot contribute to the farmer's share of the cooperative program.

This is a change from the conservation reserve system (Soil Bank program) which is being allowed to die as the present five to ten-year contracts expire. Wildlife practices currently being considered under the new phase of the ACP are quite similar to the practices of the Soil Bank program.

Generally speaking, they are expected to include habitat and cover plantings for upland game birds (G-1), marsh management practices beneficial to waterfowl and furbearers (G-2), and ponds which will serve the needs of fish and wildlife (G-3).

Farm wildlife ponds for fish and game will be allowed anywhere on farmlands after approval by the county ASC committee and the local SCS technician. Under the Soil Bank program, small water impoundments were restricted to croplands.

Broad authority of the new law will enable G-1 practices to vary for different parts of the state. That is, a food and cover practice may be developed for pheasants in southern Michigan while another practice may be set up for grouse in northern parts of the state.

Farmers may start the new practices in 1962 pending approval from their county ASC committees. These local offices will announce when farmers may begin signing up under the new program.

Michigan's bounty payments for foxes, coyotes, and bobcats will soar to an all-time high in 1961 unless claims slump sharply during the last five months of this year, the Conservation Department reports.

Through the end of July, the State's Game and Fish Protection Fund (hunting and fishing license fees) had paid out some $163,655 in bounty payments. This is more than $30,000 ahead of the January 1-July 31 payments for 1960, a year in which payments jumped to a record $228,730.

Payments for foxes rose $33,000 above last year's July 31 figure to account for the marked increase. Coyote and bobcat payments were down $1,000.

This year's big hike in bounty claims augurs more trouble for the Game and Fish Fund which ran some $16,000 in the red with its bounty appropriation for the 1960-61 fiscal year. The Fund's 1961-62 bounty appropriation is $30,000 below the previous one.

Opening the Biblical selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" are these verses from Exodus (20): "And God spake all these words saying, Thou shalt have no other gods before me. Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold."

This citation will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (pp. 199, 200): "When Homer sang of the Grecian gods, Olympus was dark, but through his verse the gods became alive in a nation's belief. Pagan worship began with muscularity, but the law of Sinai lifted thought into the song of David. Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind."

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

By the Rev. B. J. Pankow, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville

BREAD FROM HEAVEN

Manna! Wonderful bread! Bread from heaven! No doubt many of us have wished that we could have been present with the children of Israel in the wilderness when this bread fell from heaven. Imagine their delight when for the first time on an early morning, the dew having disappeared, they saw bread, small and round in shape, scattered in abundance upon the ground. "It is manna!" they exclaimed; for "manna" means "What is it?" Consider their great pleasure when for the first time they tasted this food which had the savor of waters made with honey. Of it Moses said: "This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat." (Exodus 16:15)

But do you know that God today offers us a Bread which is much more precious than the manna which the children of Israel ate in the wilderness? It is the true, heavenly Bread, namely Jesus, the Son of God, our Saviour.

ish the soul and give the promise of everlasting life.

Indeed, He is true God, Of Him St. John writes: "And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know Him that is true, and we are in Him that is true, even in His Son, Jesus Christ: THIS IS THE TRUE GOD AND ETERNAL LIFE." (1 John 5:20).

Jesus said of Himself: "I am from above; ye are of this world: I am not of this world." (St. John 8:23).

The Bread We Need

Oh, how much our souls need the nourishment that Jesus, the Bread of life, is ready to give to all of us. Without Him, our souls would starve and die because of sin. But Jesus came from heaven to give His life for the sins of the world. When he had completed His work of redemption, He returned again to heaven. Now all who believingly accept His sacrifice have forgiveness and life eternal. They shall never hunger or thirst. Jesus, and Jesus alone, is the Bread that satisfies the soul.

The Bread That Endures

All earthly bread and all of the material things of this life will perish, but the heavenly manna that we have in Christ Jesus endures forever in eternal glory. Jesus promises: "To him that overcometh, will I give to eat of the tree of life which is in the midst of the paradise of God. To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna." (Revelation 2:7, 17).

Lutheran Hour Program To Open 29th Season

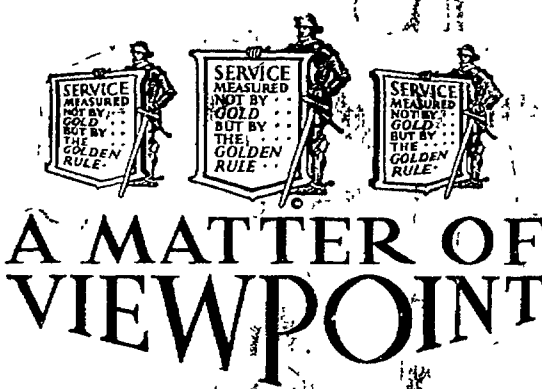

The 29th broadcasting season of The Lutheran Hour, worldwide radio ministry of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church of Northville and associated congregations, opens on Sunday, September 24, reports the Rev. B. J. Pankow. The opening broadcast will be heard on station WJLM, Dearborn, at 9:00 a.m.

"Tomorrow is Now," will be the topic of Dr. Oswald Hoffmann as he begins his seventh season as Lutheran Hour speaker. He will point out that the prophecies of Christ and men are coming true before the eyes of the world. "Let us now zealously reap the harvest," Dr. Hoffmann will say. "For there may be no tomorrow."

A special Lutheran Hour summer series, "Living Under God," which is based on the 23rd Psalm, concludes on Sunday, Sept. 17.

The Lutheran Hour, world's largest non-government radio operation, is broadcast by more than 40 Canadian stations, 600 U.S. stations, and 600 other stations around the world. It is heard in more than 100 lands by an estimated 30,000,000 persons each week, each in his own language.

The same spiritual blessings offered on these programs are offered each Sunday at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Pastor Pankow said.

To some funeral directors, the knight-and-shield symbol of the Order is simply the emblem of one of the older and more highly regarded of the several professional organizations in the field.

To members of the Order of the Golden Rule, the symbol is at once a challenge, a responsibility, and a source of justifiable pride. It is a challenge because the right to use the symbol demands the best that a man can offer. It is a responsibility because each member must so conduct himself that he reflects credit not only upon himself, but upon all other members as well. It is a source of pride because each member knows how carefully he was screened before his application for membership was accepted.

Most important of all, however, is the viewpoint of the general public—your viewpoint!

No matter where you may be, no matter what the time or circumstance, no matter how limited your means may be, the symbol is to you an assurance of service truly... measured not by gold, but by the Golden Rule."

It is with humble pride, and a spirit of rededication to the lofty principles of the Order that we announce now that we have again qualified, for another year, as the member of the Order in this community.

The Unquestioned Compulsion

Years ago there were many who disputed the novel idea of free and compulsory public education. The first truancy laws were opposed as infringements on liberty.

But as our children return this fall to schools that will mold their growing minds—does a single parent complain?

I believe in sound religious education, as well. The molding of the character should keep pace with the molding of the mind.

Naturally I never want my government to exercise compulsion in this sacred area. And my Church, while it offers a complete curriculum of religious training, does so on a free and voluntary basis.

But I'm a parent! And, though I find that example and encouragement usually suffice, I'm not above telling Johnny, "YES, SON, YOU HAVE TO GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL!"

As a child begins to see the importance Faith has in our lives and in the strength of our nation... you'll be surprised how quickly this becomes an unquestioned compulsion.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Start Day Right

It's Better Breakfast Month

September is better breakfast month. Do you eat an adequate meal of the day. It starts breakfast each morning before needs food after fasting for 12 hours or more, and your system needs energy to work and not eat an adequate, well-balanced breakfast. Teenage girls are the greatest offenders of the "no breakfast" group. Breakfast is the most important meal of the day.

The basic breakfast pattern consists of fruit, cereal or egg, milk, bread and butter. This basic menu may be varied in many ways by adding meat, jelly or jam or coffee.

United States Department of Agriculture's nutritionists suggest you check the adequacy of your breakfast menus against this 3-point test:

1. It should contain protein, vitamins and minerals — materials needed to build and repair the body and help keep you healthy.
2. It should provide fuel for energy.
3. It should taste good.

All breakfasts should fulfill these requirements. How did the one you served your family today measure up?

Why not treat your family to orange pancakes and sauce — try them for breakfast or for a Friday evening supper.

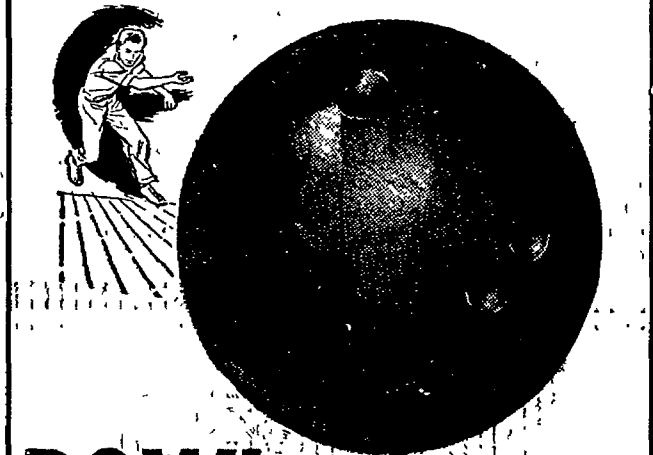

Light, fluffy pancakes made with pancake mix, evaporated milk and orange juice concentrate give a wonderful baked-in orange flavor. The smooth orange sauce is rich in the fruit flavor of healthful orange juice. Save leftover sauce for topping on ice cream, cake or pudding.

ORANGE PANCAKES AND SAUCE

Pancakes
1 egg
1 cup Pet evaporated milk
¼ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
1 cup plain pancake mix
Mix egg, evaporated milk and orange juice concentrate in a 1½ quart bowl. Add pancake mix all at once. Stir well, but do not overmix, as overmixing toughens pancakes. Small lumps in batter disappear during baking. Using a scant ¼ cup for each pancake, pour onto hot, lightly greased griddle or frying pan. Bake until bubbles appear on top and edges are cooked. Turn and bake until other side is brown.

Sauce
¼ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup Pet evaporated milk
½ cup sugar
Mix orange juice concentrate, butter or margarine, evaporated milk and sugar in a 2-quart saucepan. Stir and heat until steaming hot, but do not boil. Serve warm with Orange Pancakes.

THE HARDER THEY FALL — The huge elm tree pictured above, once located in the front yard of the Glenn Long home at 411 Baseline, is being removed by Wayne county work crews. Workmen guessed, after examination of the stump shown below, that the tree was about 175 years old. It was removed because it had been attacked by Dutch elm disease.

Lutherans Launch 'Preaching in Press'

The Lutheran Laymen's League, which has seen The Lutheran Hour grow under its sponsorship into the most widespread non-government supported broadcast in the world, on Sunday, September 24, launches a major new project, Preaching Through the Press.

Provocatively designed advertisements will appear in more than 225 Sunday newspaper supplements in the United States and Canada, reaching an estimated 70,000,000 readers.

"Preaching Through the Press tells in print the Good News of God's redeeming action in Christ," Harry G. Barr, president of the 129,000-member LLL, said. "As God has blessed the message of The Lutheran Hour, we pray that He will supply His power to this project."

He pointed out that the $100,000 project complements the Gospel-proclaiming activities of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod through the two other major media of mass communications — radio and television.

UF Names Peters Again

Appointment of 1961 Torch Drive community business chairmen for each of his five divisions was announced this week by A. Russell Clarke, Northwestern Wayne county co-chairman for community business.

Alton Peters, who has had a key role in the last Northville business campaigns, will head solicitation of local businesses in Northville this year.

Ebert Selected by Order

The Ebert Funeral Home has again been appointed as the member of the Order of the Golden Rule in this community.

The Order of the Golden Rule is an international affiliation of funeral directors having certain high ideals of service, and rigid ethical standards.

Membership is not permanent, and may be revoked at any time by the Order. Each year affiliation with the Order automatically expires, and the record of each member for the preceding year is then taken into consideration before he is again accepted into this fellowship.

We feel that Northville is to be congratulated upon having a funeral directing organization capable of being twice appointed to uphold the high ideals of the Order in this community.

The Symbol of the Order, by which one may identify the local member, presents a knight in full armor, supporting with his right hand a shield upon which is emblazoned the motto of the order: "Service Measured not by GOLD but by the GOLDEN RULE."

Completes Course

Robert J. Anderson, 41071 Mc Mahon, Novi, Michigan, has completed a course in Radio and Television Servicing and has been awarded a Diploma by the National Radio Institute of Washington, D. C. He finished the prescribed course of technical studies with creditable grades and is to be congratulated upon his achievement.

Attend 3-Day Conference Of Jehovah's Witnesses

Mr. and Mrs. John Badalutz, after hearing Kovalak's discussion and family of 45085 Mayo Ct., Northville, were in Milan last weekend where they attended the three-day Bible forum of Jehovah's Witnesses held at the high school. They were among a capacity crowd of 1,250 who heard witness minister Nicholas Kovalak, Jr. discuss the theme, "The Twentieth Century in Bible Prophecy."

The Badalutzes were particularly impressed with Mr. Kovalak's keen analysis of his subject and with the emphasis placed on the need for Bible teaching now in this twentieth century. Mr. Badalutz said that

"This modern world is as perplexed as a woodpecker in a petrified forest," began Kovalak. "Men have looked everywhere for a solution to the world's troubles but they have ignored the source of truth and light principles, the Bible."

Citing the 24th chapter of Matthew and the 3rd chapter of the 2nd book of Timothy, a proof Mr. Kovalak declared were now in the last days of this system of things.

SOMETHING NEW in nursery convenience is being introduced at Glenn C. Long Plumbing and Heating, 43300 Seven Mile road. It's a Hide-A-Bath! The baby bath is designed to be used in the bathroom. When not in use (above left) it occupies a space above the water tank of the toilet. It quickly unfolds into a dressing table and when baby is ready for a bath the top swings away to allow use of a vinyl tub (as shown by Mrs. Long above at left). The tub is filled by a hose from the wash-bowl faucet and drains into the toilet after use. The new innovation is manufactured by Anger Enterprises, Inc. of Detroit.

MICHIGAN IS LIVABILITY

Yes, Michigan is good living, unexcelled—with its combination of year-around recreation of all kinds, fine educational institutions, many cultural advantages and excellent public services.

Within the state's 36,000,000 acres of water wonderland, one finds facilities for outdoor relaxation unmatched anywhere. Michigan's cultural advantages also add a rich measure to the abundant life found here.

Workers and executives who live well, will work and produce well—thus livability is a great asset for industry. In Michigan, no worker or executive is more than a few minutes from a favorite spot for recreation by way of the nation's best free-ways.

Hunting, fishing, water and winter sports, great professional and amateur sporting events, and just plain loafing at a cottage or one of scores of state parks—all these are part of the good life people find in Michigan.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together we can assure a greater future for all of us.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

This ad is one of a series published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

Allen, Juday Represent Northville at Convention

Members of the Michigan Municipal League will listen to an array of outstanding guest speakers at its 63rd Annual Convention, September 14-16, at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island.

The list of prominent speakers includes Ambassador deLesseps S. Morrison, United States Representative on the Council of the Organization of American States; Governor John B. Swainson; John A. Hannah, president, Michigan State University; Hugh Mields, Jr., congressional liaison officer, Housing and Home Finance Agency; Ed Johnson, executive secretary, League of Wisconsin Municipalities; Dr. James C. Piller, professor of finance, and Dr. Robert H. Pealy, Assistant Director, Institute of Public Administration, both of The University of Michigan; William Jewell, Regional office of the Area Development Administration; and Elmer White, Executive Secretary, Michigan Press Association.

The theme of this year's session is "Meeting the Challenge of Constitutional Revision", and the opening day program will be devoted exclusively to the subject of constitutional revision including the reports and recommendations of the League's Con-Con Committees which have been meeting the past several months to study the sections of the Constitution affecting local government. The committees are on home rule, local judiciary, fiscal problems, local government structure, general government, and eminent domain.

John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University and a Constitutional Convention candidate, and Mayor Louis C. Miriam of Detroit, will be the keynote speakers. They will devote their talks to the significance of the Constitutional Convention. Governor John B. Swainson has been invited to address the delegates at the opening luncheon and to direct his attention to the Constitutional Convention, and local units of government.

The banquet speaker will be the Honorable deLesseps S. Morrison, U.S. Ambassador to the Organization of American States. Ambassador Morrison has recently returned from the successful conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay, which organized 20 North and South American nations into an economic and social alliance. Ambassador Morrison was the four-term, reform mayor of New Orleans and former president of the American Municipal Association.

Mayor A. M. Allen is Northville's delegate to the convention. Mr. and Mrs. Allen will attend with Councilman and Mrs. Richard Juday.

Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson also indicated that she might be able to attend at least part of the meetings.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

Some 23 new teachers will be among the 88 who will greet over 1,900 students in the Northville school system this fall. Over 700 students will attend Novi schools this week. Five new teachers join the staff.

Driving conditions are expected to get back to normal September 30 with the expected opening of Novi road. Paving will be completed this week.

A public hearing for Northville Township residents was scheduled for this week to decide whether the township will participate in the Wayne County plan to expand sewers.

Paul Shepherd was signed to a two-year contract as the professional, at Meadowbrook country club.

A new 27-home subdivision, Taft Colony, is underway in Northville Township, near the intersection of Main and Clement roads. It is being developed by the John Northrup company of Northville and Earl McIntosh, Jr., of Detroit.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Drivers are warned to keep a sharp eye on their parking meters in Northville. A full-time policeman to check the meters and hand out violation tickets has been hired by the city.

A surge of enrollment has pushed Northville school's enrollment to over the 1,800 mark.

Northville's search for a city manager is bringing results. Some 15 applications have been received, thus far, reports councilman John Canterbury, in charge of the search.

Donald L. Johnson, 23, of Plymouth, was killed and two others injured when their car careened off a road and hit a tree. Johnson was a member of Northville's American Legion and the Presbyterian church. The injured men were William A. Gaab, Jr., and Dennis Curl, both of Northville.

Northville sat tight this week following Novi Township's avowed intention to carry Northville's annexation suit as far as legal channels will permit. In question is 82 acres of Novi lands which were voted to be annexed to Northville in an August 7 election.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, passing through Novi, attempted to stop a runaway truck with his own car and failing to do, drove ahead to warn motorists. Police said the emergency brakes on the truck apparently gave out and started the vehicle rolling down Grand River. No one was hurt.

Atchinson's Gulf Service copped the Michigan Inter-county baseball title by defeating Plymouth Cloydale, 2-0. Now they go to Youngstown, Ohio, for the national sandlot tournament.

Lisle H. Alexander, a member of Northville's American Legion, was named the department adjutant and welfare officer of the state legion.

Paul Carter, former Northville High principal, has been named the elementary school curriculum director in Birmingham.

Novi school teachers are: Superintendent Donald Archambeau, eighth grade; Mrs. Mary Ann Atkinson, sixth and seventh; Mrs. Edna Hill, fourth and fifth; Mrs. Clara French, second and third; and Mrs. Rowena Salow, first and kindergarten.

Grandpa Harry German, 61, and former mayor of Northville, will be one of the big attractions at Farmington's gala day, September 16-17. He and his "all stars" will play a local team. Having pitched for 49 years in over 1,000 games, he lost only one of nine games this year.

The last remnants of the old interurban street car system from Detroit to Northville recalled fond memories for many people here. The tracks were torn up this week.

Northville will have to "farm out" its grade school pupils for the first two months of the year. Construction on the Main street elementary building isn't completed yet, necessitating a switch to the American Legion.

The Rev. Ronald Button will preach his farewell sermon at Novi Baptist Church Sunday.

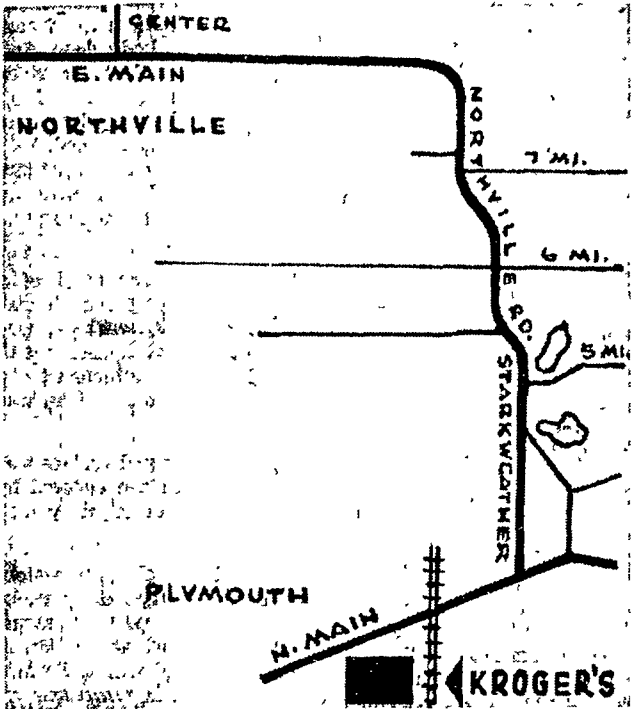

Northville councilman Fred W. Castator announced his candidacy for the county auditor's office in the September 15 primary.

Northville sat tight this week following Novi Township's avowed intention to carry Northville's annexation suit as far as legal channels will permit. In question is 82 acres of Novi lands which were voted to be annexed to Northville in an August 7 election.

SPEAKING for the Record

by Bill Sliger

"How's business?"

Not a day passes on the Main street of any typical U.S. town that this question isn't asked by one retailer or another.

And a typical answer might be "people just aren't buying." There could be another reason, however. "Merchants just aren't selling!"

Two different surveys conducted recently by William and Mary and Western Reserve universities seem to bear this out.

Students participating in the experiment were given $35 each with instructions to spend it all "if they were asked to."

They were also instructed to ask for an item of low-dollar value, but to allow themselves to be switched, traded up, or sold additional goods.

The students were told to answer "no" to the clerks who said simply "is there anything else?"

But they were instructed to agree to all suggestions by clerks (up to $35).

At William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia the worst report by a student was $100 spent without a single suggestion for additional purchase by the clerk.

The best report was a student who asked for a $3.99 item but who left the store as the result of suggestions by the clerk with $28.96 worth of merchandise.

The total result: with $1645 to spend the students asked for items that cost a total of $184.05; they actually spent $252.79 and returned $1208.16 unspent!

The Western Reserve survey in Cleveland was confined to men's wear items only.

Results of this survey showed that the worst report was $4.50 spent for the item requested without an additional suggestion from the clerk.

The best report was $19.55 spent when a $4.50 item was requested.

The average report by a student was a purchase of $8.80 when a $4.50 item had been requested — leaving the average unspent amount at $26.20.

The total report by all the Cleveland students was $392.82 spent out of a possible $525.

Next Wednesday night the Northville Coordinating Council will sponsor its 21st Citizenship Banquet at the Lutheran church.

Chairman Bill Schulz is afraid that many people are under the opinion that this tribute to new voting citizens is a "closed" affair open only to the 21'ers themselves, their parents and active members of the Coordinating Council.

Actually, the banquet is a tribute by the total community honoring new citizens — those who have reached voting age for the first time or are newly naturalized.

Members of the Optimist club have tickets. They are also available at the Record office. If you haven't attended before, it will be well worth your time.

A last minute switch in speakers for the banquet was necessary when Professor Wilfred E. Binkley of Ohio Northern university was hospitalized.

Fast work by John Canterbury and Walter Couse saved the day, however.

The new speaker, who will be introduced by Couse, is Dewey Barich, president of Detroit Institute of Technology.

Food Chains OK

Babson Park, Mass., The New York Stock Exchange roughly divides into 50 groups the approximately 1500 stocks which are listed thereon. The electronics and the oils are the most active, but the retail stores have shown the most steady progress. This group includes the supermarkets, of which there are about 25 large chains.

A successful supermarket must have three requirements:

(1) It must be located in the center of a growing population, (2) it must have a very large parking space, (3) it must be financed slowly out of its own growth.

This means that a successful supermarket is more or less of a monopoly after a sufficient number of successful years.

As our population increases it becomes constantly more difficult to secure a sufficiently large and central location. Furthermore, these locations are constantly becoming scarcer and much harder to find near residential sections.

At one time we thought that "off street" parking lots would satisfy city shoppers.

Unfortunately, however, women with children do not want to travel from an "off street" parking lot to the supermarket.

They insist on parking directly on the land of the supermarket where a boy can wheel the purchases to the woman's car and where there is no time limit or parking fee.

Food is the most important of all commodities. The farmer should receive more than he does, but his price is not for him to determine. The party who makes money on food is the middleman, who buys when and where food is cheapest.

Another commodity that has had a steady increase in demand is electricity. Hence I like supermarkets as a speculation and the cumulative preferred stocks of public utilities for steady income.

To keep track of your investment, buy the common stock of the company which supplies your electricity and bills you each month.

Shopping centers are popular at the present time. But only the ones properly located have been successful. Merchants located in these shopping centers are doing much better than the downtown stores. Many of the old-fashioned city stores which have no parking facilities are making most of their money today from their suburban branches that have limited parking facilities. Therefore, the shopping center has its limitations.

If a shopping center is too large, it becomes less desirable to many women shoppers. Many shopping centers today are doing 74 of their business on Friday and Saturday. Then the father, mother, and children all go together and make a day of it. All of this brings us back to the value and convenience of the supermarket which is properly located in a residential district and which has already purchased a large amount of land that will permit free parking for many years to come.

Young married couples are learning that by living close to a modern supermarket they can get along without cooking. The father can get his own breakfast; lunch is a simple meal; and a freshly baked already-cooked complete dinner may be secured from the supermarket.

As a result, the small houses surrounding the supermarket have almost doubled in price. This increase in demand comes primarily from living so near a supermarket. But, of course, the supermarket is gradually buying houses adjoining its land.

A young married couple should first put their money into simple life insurance, which can now be bought very cheaply. Next, always have a reasonable deposit in a local bank for emergencies. The best plan of all, however — both for the convenience and as a good investment for appreciation — is to own a small house next to the land for a supermarket.

Furthermore, if a family decides to move to another city for business reasons, there is always a good demand for such property. In short, I am bullish on good supermarkets and the neighborhoods in which they are located. But one should avoid newly organized supermarkets.

Who Owns State Water?

Who owns the commodity that makes Michigan the Water Wonderland? Nobody does. And everybody does. And the right to use water is determined by where it is found, why it is there and how it is used.

Michigan's problem is not one of water rights for survival, as is the case in some arid southwestern states.

There is not even much of a problem in getting enough water for drinking, washing, watering crops and livestock and related purposes, although these factors enter into Michigan water law.

Ground water and surface water in Michigan are covered by different sets of legal principles.

Diffused percolating waters which can be tapped by wells, and underground streams, though unimportant in Michigan, are ground water. Surface water is found in watercourses, such as lakes and streams and diffused surface waters, such as rain or melting snow, running freely over the land or standing in puddles.

The rule of "reasonable use" governs ground water. The right of landholders to sink wells and pump water is recognized in Michigan courts.

Wasteful, malicious or other unreasonable use of ground water can be prevented by the courts under the currently accepted interpretation of the law.

The place where conflict occurs in use of Michigan water is when a body is used for recreational or agricultural purposes.

The so-called "Riparian Doctrine" governs use of this water. Only owners, of land in contact with surface water sources have the right to use it. They don't own it, and they can't move it outside its natural watershed.

Riparian owners must share their rights with other riparian users, and upstream owners cannot hold back waters except long enough to build reservoirs.

The doctrine can be summed up: "Use the water, but pass it along or leave it substantially undiminished in quantity and quality."

People who don't own land with riparian rights gain access to water through public lands bordering on water. They also have the right to travel on, or fish in lakes where surrounding land is totally owned by private individuals, if the lake has an inlet and an outlet.

When the state sells any of its land bordering on a watercourse, it reserves the right of ingress and egress to posterity, also.

The days of paying for higher education in Michigan at so much a head may be numbered. For some time legislators have tended to look further than "just numbers" when making appropriations. They try to consider to some extent the cost of the training as well. But it's a difficult problem to deal with. Educators and lawmakers have long complained that there was really no accurate way to compare the cost of educating a medical student at Wayne State university with a liberal arts freshman at Western Michigan university.

So formulas used at various times really boiled down to little more than a complicated head-count basis for budgeting.

All this may be changed due to work of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents. The organization recently announced through its executive director, M. M. Chambers, that accurate figures should be available soon to tell exactly how much it costs to educate one student for one hour in any given institution.

The figures will be kept current and permit close comparison of educational costs among the universities and colleges. Chambers said the figures will be made available to "an interested public in order to inform the people just how their education dollars are used."

There will likely be two other, and possibly much more valuable results of the uniform cost studies.

First, legislative committees will be better able to stop slicing education's "appropriation pie" into segments based on enrollment. Second, accurate cost studies should eliminate competition between the various schools for disproportionate shares of budget money.

Probably most people have never stopped to wonder how it is they happen to know when there's an election coming up.

News outlets do such a thorough job of publicizing impending issues that little else in the way of general notice would be required in most cases. The law, however, spells out how impending elections shall be publicized in detail. There is sound reason behind the law.

Election notices which must be published by local clerks before general elections are specific reminders, according to Attorney General Paul L. Adams. They provide exact data as to location and hours of balloting. They also provide a complete list of contests and issues as the voter gets a chance to see the entire election picture rather than be overwhelmed by a few of the "hotter issues."

Adams says people are expected to know that there is a general election in November of every even-numbered year, because that is spelled out in the law, as are certain other elections.

In special elections, however, Adams said, the notice is even more important. People can't be expected in any other way to know about an election that is set by administrative decree. Adams' rundown on election notice law, and reasons for it, came in an opinion issued to clarify the form which published notices of upcoming elections must take.
